CIRCUS TIME: This scale model replica of a famous circus side show and menagerie tent are on display week and next in the showroom at Palmer Motor and families are invited to visit the display at any time. Constructed by Charles Spencer of Chelsea, a member of the National Circus Model Builders' Association, the model is named the "Spencer Brothers Circus." He says that while he has no brother in the project he is following circus tradition by naming his circus with the addition of the word "Brothers."

—a practice used by oldtime circus men in dodging unwanted visitors (particularly bill collectors) by referring them to the non-existent "brother." At left is an exact replica (1/4-inch scale) of the 1920 Ringling Brothers side show with its posters displayed across the entire front of the tent advertising the side show features. It is 7 1/2 feet long and 4 feet wide. At the right is the scale model of the menagerie tent, wagons, animals, etc., as exhibited in 1938 by the Al. G. Barnes circus. Included among the appurtenances are a calliope wagon, hot dog wagon and animal cage wagon. The menagerie tent is 12 feet long and 5 feet wide. A Gollmar Brothers four-mirror circus wagon, described as "the most beautiful in the world" was copied in miniature by Spencer and he was invited to exhibit it as part of the big Circus Model Builders display at the World's Fair in New York. The wagon will remain at the fair until Oct. 1. Spencer's hobby by time of the past five years has gone into the building of circus models and equipment. He said it will take him 20 years to finish an entire circus, complete with wagons, equipment, performers, animals, etc.

Registration Deadline Date Approaching
Area residents are reminded that Aug. 3 is the final date to register for September primary election and anyone who has not registered recently should check with their township clerk to see that their registration is in order. It is pointed out that many residents who live within the Chelsea village limits erroneously believe they are registered for all elections when they register with the village clerk. Registration with the village clerk is for village elections only. For all other elections — school, township, county, state and national — registration with the clerk in the township where the voter resides is required. Chelsea residents must be registered with George Wynans, the village clerk, for village elections. Those living in Sylvan township must register for all other elections with Richard Korn, while those in the eastern part of the village which is in Lima township must register with the Lima township clerk, Duane Luck. Notices are printed in this issue of The Standard pointing out the address of each of the area township clerks and the times when they will be available to receive registrations.

School Board News Stand on Bond Issue

Room-High School Addition Plans Will Be Submitted Again in January

At a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education held last night, the regular position of the board was reaffirmed, in the 10-classroom addition to the high school, according to a statement issued by the board.

Rec. Program Heads into Final Week

Attendance at recreation activities the past week was listed by Director Alan Conklin as 901. This does not include certain evening activities such as softball, etc., on which an accurate count is not possible. Swimming was canceled Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning because of weather conditions, total participation for the week being 209.

Library's Second Story Hour Set Next Wednesday

The second of three story hours for children, sponsored by McKune Memorial Library, will be held next Wednesday, July 29, at 3 p.m. at the library. The "story lady" is Stephanie Wagner who will be teaching kindergarten at Bellevue in the fall.

Council Briefs

The Rev. Paul M. Schnake gave the invocation at the Chelsea Village Council meeting Tuesday evening, July 21.

George Stauch, candidate for nomination as the Republican candidate for the office of Washtenaw county sheriff, was present at the meeting to express his views regarding the office of sheriff.

Lengthy discussion of the 1964 budget and all categories within the proposed budget.

Discussion regarding village parks but no official action taken; however, a work "bee" is planned at Veterans Park for Thursday, July 30, beginning at 6 p.m. Council members and the Chamber of Commerce are to participate and anyone willing to assist will be welcomed. Work to be done includes rebuilding the footbridge over the creek; cutting up a fallen tree; cleaning the creek bed, etc.

Discussion regarding village parking lots. Plans were discussed for proper painting of the new parking lots to provide the maximum number of spaces for parking.

Discussion of the storm sewer situation in the Pierce and Grant St. area. No official action taken. Survey maps of the area are not available and the engineering firm of Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout are investigating the possibility of obtaining topographical maps from the Government.

Discussion pertaining to extremely contaminated condition of Letta Creek Monday evening. Samples were taken and chemical analysis are being obtained. Police Chief John Palmer and Conservation Officer Donley Boyer are investigating in an effort to learn the source of the contamination.

Motion approved to authorize the transfer of the Tavern and SDM license with dance permit from Howard Miller to Harold and Maggie DeMint.

Village Council meetings are held the first and third Tuesdays of the month in the Council room on the second floor of the Municipal Building. Interested citizens are welcome to attend.

Three More Scouts Attending Jamboree At Valley Forge
In addition to the three Boy Scouts mentioned last week in the list of those from this area who left Monday, July 13, for the sixth national Jamboree of Boy Scouts at Valley Forge, N.Y., were three other Chelsea boys — Kenneth Reinhardt, official representative of Boy Scout Troop 476, and Paul and Wayne Stahl, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Stahl of Half Moon Lake, who are attending in an unofficial capacity.

Reinhardt is the son of Scoutmaster and Mrs. Alvin Reinhardt.

Winning Golf Drive Hits 23" from Cup

A report of the Kiwanis sponsored "Hole-In-1" golf tournament held Friday and Saturday at the Chelsea High school athletic field, stated the project was a success; a detailed report, however, will not be available until next week.

The list of prizewinners at the event is as follows: men golfers division — Harry Cotterman, first prize, a $25 U.S. Savings Bond, for closest to the hole (1 ft. 11 in.); Mike Marsh, second prize $10 cash, (4 ft. 10 in.); and Charles Davison, third, $5 (5 ft. 4 in.).

Non-golfers men's division: Edward Harok, first prize, $10 for hitting the ball to within 28 ft. 3 1/2 in. of the hole; Lloyd Heydloff, second $5 cash, 28 ft. 5 1/2 in.; and Chandler Rogers, third, $3, 120 ft. 4 1/2 in.

Women golfers division: Gandy Schunna, first, $10, 7 ft. 5 in.; Peggy Sutton, second, $5, 15 ft. 3 in.; and Virginia White, third, $3, 20 ft. 9 in.

Children's division: G. Hitts, first, $5, 3 ft. 7 in.; Tim Marzke, second, 3 ft. 10 in.; and Tom Gardner, third, $1, 5 ft. 5 in.

At the Kiwanis meeting Monday evening Chandler Rogers was again "remembered" in recognition of his efforts at the Hole-In-1 tournament. He was presented with a "non-golfer's cup."

The program at Monday's Kiwanis meeting, held in the social center of the Methodist church, was in charge of Paul E. Niehaus who introduced the Rev. and Mrs. Karl Keefer of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Keefer, well known as Laura Gillette Keefer, exhibited and lectured on the 50-state flags of the United States — one for each state.

A guest at Monday's meeting was Herman Walkoff of the College Park Kiwanis club of Detroit.

School Board Briefs

Motion to continue non-payment of mileage to board members for meetings was passed.

Determined to advertise for bids to be submitted for August meeting regarding annual borrowing of $100,000 for operation of schools until taxes and state aid come in later during the year.

Recommended and approved to purchase Student Accident Insurance from the Old Republic Insurance Co.

Paul Marj and Donald Alber appointed to vocational education committee. The board approved the formation of a common committee with Dexter and Manchester to hire a Vocational Education director for one year to survey the potential of the districts to use the new federal aid funds in this area.

Arwell, Inc., was retained for exterminator service. Completion of partitions at north elementary was discussed. It was determined to contact the architect for best approach to meet the state fire standards.

Resignation of Richard Donley accepted. Mr. Donley plans to accept leave to further his educational training during the next few years.

Motion passed to charge $5 a semester for the use of school band instruments unless the student had an instrument of his own. These monies will be placed in a fund for repair and replacement of instruments.

Discussion was held on future needs of the district as to the number of pupils and the space required to accommodate these pupils. It was stated that the district will need to look forward in the next decade to widening the elementary system and replacing the junior high school facility. This will have to be done as time and money are available after completion of the Senior High School classroom addition to be voted on again in January, 1965. The High School addition has been determined to be of first importance at this time.

Reports of the three principals as to space requirements were given as follows:

Yield Reported 'Satisfactory' But Widely Varying Throughout County

The peak of the 1964 wheat harvest here was reached the past week-end — Friday to Sunday — but the customary long lines of trucks waiting to unload were not in evidence as in former years.

At Blaess Elevator at Four Mile Lake, all committed storage wheat is already stored or in the process of being stored. Wheat is being taken in for buying and selling on the open market in line with customary procedure; however, much less wheat is being offered in this way than in former years.

Many farmers in this area who did not sign up under the 1964 Wheat Diversion program, in common with many farmers of the entire county and state, are holding their wheat, apparently following a "wait and see" policy in hopes that the price will reach a higher level than the present quotation — $1.42 for No. 1 wheat, as of yesterday morning.

Only 20 percent of Washtenaw county farmers signed up under this Government program by the deadline date of May 22. This percentage was also the average throughout the state.

Mrs. Carolyn Stump, Washtenaw ASCS office manager, states that participants in the 1964 Wheat Diversion program are being notified that their payments are ready. Those persons being notified should go to the county ASCS office and sign their papers for final payment.

As of noon on Friday, July 17, 86 persons had been notified that their farms were in compliance. Others will be notified as payments as computations can be completed.

On Tuesday, July 21, 35 contracts had been paid out. Mrs. Stump said yesterday, total payments amounting to $7,155. She said approximately 200 farmers of the 500 in the county who signed up have now been notified to come to the office for their final payment.

Mrs. Stump explained that there appears to be considerable misunderstanding as to the procedure for obtaining the government credit certificates issued to farmers who signed up for the 1964 Wheat Diversion program and also diverted the required acre as agreed.

The certificates are not issued at the elevators — they must be secured direct from the county ASCS office.

Mrs. Stump said the general information on the method of government payment to farmers under the program "70 cents for general milling and 25 cents for export" is computed on a per-acre basis and the combined total here averages approximately 47 1/2 cents for each bushel. In addition, the average of about $8 per acre is paid for the required percentage of land diverted.

The wheat the farmer was to dispose of under this plan may be sold at the prevailing market price

—The farmers who did not sign up got only the market price for the grain they sell — the price of wheat is the lowest in many years — and apparently many believe it can go no lower and they stand a chance to get a higher price by holding it. Some have indicated they would prefer to use it for feed rather than sell it at the low price it now brings.

Don Johnson, Washtenaw county Agricultural Extension director, said yesterday that the price being paid for wheat at this time puts it on a competitive basis with corn and other feeds for the first time in many years.

Because of the cereal leaf beetle quarantine now in effect in many Michigan areas including Sylvan and Lima townships, farmers are required to fumigate or treat any grain transported outside of the quarantine areas. The premium grade malathion used to treat the wheat must be administered under the supervision of representatives of the Department of Agriculture at Detroit or the Washtenaw county office at Ann Arbor. Farmers using combines find this inconvenient, and for this reason, together with the low price of wheat, fumigation is in hopes conditions will change.

Because of unfavorable weather conditions — exceptionally dry weather last fall and heavy rains in the early spring — this year's wheat crop is described as "variable." Yield per acre in many areas has been described as "poor," test weight, however, has been "satisfactory" in most instances and the local wheat has been remarkably dry.

Pet Show Held Friday

At the pet show held at the South Elementary school playground Friday in connection with the Chelsea Recreation Commission summer recreation program, Betty Belser was awarded first place for having the largest pet and Brian McGinley placed first for exhibiting the smallest pet.

In the "biggest pet" division Sarah Schinke placed second, and in the "smallest" category, Bill Herring was second; Linda Hafner, third; Mark Houley, fourth; and Marie Houley, fifth.

Marsha McGinley placed first; Cindy Feible, second; and Tim Carl, third, in the "smartest pet" division.

Other divisions and the placings in each are as follows: Funniest — David Dettling, first; Tim Hinz, second; Pam Carl, third; Sue Morrison, fourth.

Three More Scouts Attending Jamboree At Valley Forge

In addition to the three Boy Scouts mentioned last week in the list of those from this area who left Monday, July 13, for the sixth national Jamboree of Boy Scouts at Valley Forge, N.Y., were three other Chelsea boys — Kenneth Reinhardt, official representative of Boy Scout Troop 476, and Paul and Wayne Stahl, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Stahl of Half Moon Lake, who are attending in an unofficial capacity.

Reinhardt is the son of Scoutmaster and Mrs. Alvin Reinhardt.

The Rev. and Mrs. Donald Baacke and daughter, formerly of Sugar Grove, O., are now living at 158 Park St. Mr. Baacke has enrolled at the University of Michigan for graduate study, and Mrs. Baacke, the former Audrey Haab, will teach at North Elementary school in the fall.

FANGHO-LOPEZ who appears to weigh much more than his 98 pounds because of his well-developed muscles, was one of the featured midweight wrestlers at the all-sports event at Chelsea High school gymnasium Saturday evening. The wrestling program was sponsored by the Chelsea Fire and Police departments. Children at the event were intrigued because some of them were taller than the midweight wrestler.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

This week I'd like to report to you the results we have made in the state and local government area, and then also summarize some of our other accomplishments. The 1964 Legislature has written an excellent record of achievement for itself in other areas of concern in addition to the ones we've already touched upon.

State and Local Government: Special mention should be made in the area of state and local government opportunity and responsibility. Admittedly this year we did not do all that could have been done to strengthen state and local government. The people of Michigan, by adopting our new state Constitution in 1963, spelled out a mandate for such things as state government reorganization and county home rule. Specific bills to accomplish these two vital steps were considered but not adopted this year. Legislative committees are working on these problems and the confidence that sound legislation in these two areas is just around the corner.

Despite the fact that reorganization and home rule bills were not adopted in 1964, along with the important areas of improving annexation procedures and providing for a legislative auditor, much sound progress was made to strengthen state and local government. Some reorganization of state government in line with the new Constitution was adopted in such areas as highways, elections, the new appellate court and education.

In local government, we adopted the uniform city income tax law with the fair and equitable provision to share the taxpaying ability of the non-resident and we guarded against a hedge-podge of new local non-property taxes by declaring a moratorium on the new taxing privileges of local government until sound and reasonable approaches can be developed.

We provided for the 18 mill tax limitation and fixed allocation among local government units. We provided for fairer and more equitable local tax assessment methods, and provided a sliding scale of local reimbursement for taxes lost under the job-creating exemption for tools, dies, jigs and fixtures.

We provided for local government relief of some welfare costs by the A.D.C. bill and other welfare formula changes. We provided for more complete coverage of costs of crippled and afflicted children, and in other hospital care cases.

These are just some of the specific ways in which local and state government were strengthened by actions of the 1964 Legislature.

By way of summarization, let me quickly mention some of the other matters of concern dealt with by the legislature this year:

—Minimum wage, long needed in Michigan, was finally accomplished on a sound basis that takes into account both the concerns of the employer and the worker. The bill will cover 100,000 persons immediately, and 250,000 in three years.

—The child abuse law will require physicians and hospitals to report all cases of child abuse.

—Congressional apportionment and election dates were handled to keep pace with continuing court decisions in this "new and developing area of law."

—The new vote-on-each-candidate-for-each-office system will require voters to learn more about the candidates and the jobs they seek, reduce blind partisanship, and should result in better government without eliminating straight-party voting if the individual voter wants to cast his ballot that way.

—Prescriptions will be demanded for paregoric, thus striking out at drug addiction.

Traffic safety programs include restoring our state police freeway patrol, adopting the uniform brake code, prohibiting drugging on public streets, putting photos on drivers' licenses to tighten up on the privilege of driving, making school buses safer, adopting a more stringent chemical test law to crack down on drinking drivers.

These are some of the major achievements of the 1964 Michigan legislature and the entire state can be justly proud of the legislative record we've written this year.

The teen-age girl has been consistently revealed as the least well fed member of the family, according to Michigan State University nutritionists.

Candidate Roundup

Only a sudden, unexpected surge in the conservative voice at the polls, Sept. 1 could provide a change from the near certainty of a Romney-Staebler gubernatorial contest in November.

Barring a GOP primary upset by Ferndale auto-dealer George N. Higgins over Gov. George Romney, the spotlight then focuses on who will hold down the No. 2 spot on the Michigan ballot in the first election under the team principle.

Under the new constitution, the Lieutenant Governor candidate for each party will be nominated at convention and run on a ticket with the gubernatorial nominee just as the President and Vice-President run as a team.

Previously, nomination to the No. 2 slot was by petition or filing fee just as for Governor and other offices. This system resulted in the 1963-64 situation where the Governor was a Republican but a Democrat held the Lieutenant Governor's chair.

Three men have openly announced interest in the Republican nomination. On the Democratic side, open availability remains a big question mark.

Hoping for the Republican nod are former Lt. Gov. Clarence A. Reid of Detroit, House Speaker Allison G. Crockett of Kingston, and State Sen. William G. Milliken of Traverse City.

Reid was the party's nominee in 1962 but was bested by Democrat T. John Lesinski by just over 3,000 votes. He previously served as presiding officer in the Senate in 1953-54.

Closest to Romney's moderate Republican views is Milliken, now completing his second term in the Senate. Green is generally viewed as a conservative but was instrumental in gaining House passage of Romney's programs during the past two years.

Green has served seven terms in the House, four of them as majority floor leader and this past term as Speaker.

Romney has given no indication as to which he prefers, if any. He did no team campaigning with Reid two years ago.

Elimination of two present Democratic Administrative Board members from the No. 2 possibilities list by their entry in Congressional races left only one prominently mentioned candidate.

State Party Chairman Zolton A. Forester has denied aspirations for the post, however, and there has been doubt expressed about his acceptability to Neil Staebler.

Forester's selection as state party chief has been vigorously opposed by Staebler.

Candidates for the No. 2 spot will be chosen by the parties in mid-September, after the primary vote.

Thus, many Democrats are looking to the Congressional contests for other prospects for Lieutenant Governor.

In several districts, incumbent Democrats will be pitted against each other. To a loser in one of these combined districts may go the spoils of the Lieutenant Governor's slot on the state ticket, say several Democratic leaders.

Cleaner Plates

Annual issuance of license plates will be resumed next year if Secretary of State James M. Hare and two State Senators have their way.

The resumption of annual plates, abandoned in 1959, will be formally proposed in the legislature next year by Sens. John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, and Robert VanderLaan, R-Grand Rapids.

Hare said he fully supports the idea and hopes Michigan citizens will express their sentiments on the matter when the time comes.

Michigan's 14,000 blind residents are being short-changed on state services, according to one expert in the field.

The state's lag has also resulted in failure to use four-fifths of the federal matching funds available for blind aid, says Dr. Edward Fitting, supervisor of services for the blind.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where the feller that runs the Clayton County Journal in Georgia has got indicted for bootlegging. I ain't meaning to throw no rocks at the newspaper profession and it could be he got in such a state of poverty he had to get in the bootlegging business to keep his newspaper going. Actual, if they find him guilty, the Judge had ought to make his advertisers serve his sentence. A heap of merchants don't believe in advertising and maybe he had more'n his share of them kind.

I recollect when I was a boy hearing my Grandpa tell about some famous newspaper feller named Henry Grady fixing up one of them kind of merchants real good. When editor Grady called on this merchant for a ad one week the merchant run him off, claimed nobody read ads in the paper. Editor Grady went back to his office and fixed this feller up a want ad. "Wanted, live cats, will pay good price for your paper I had ought to get took into the profession and be eligible for all the benefits thereof, as they say in official language. But I have a few handicaps in this business. I use little words on account of I can't spell the big ones, and I don't know but two punctuation marks, the comma and the period. As a general rule, I was chewing this piece, and when I pause to spit, I just put in a comma or a period and start going again. If you have any trouble with punctuation, Mister Editor, just git you a wad of tobacco and try out my system.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

THE Golden Years

JUST WHAT DOES IT TAKE TO BE RETIRED AND RICH?

HERE IS A rich retired man, reaching for his Golden Years and worrying mightily that he won't have enough money to keep them. The more they have, the more they worry—and the less they get. "My wife and I are both 65," says the rich man, "and we want very much to—
1. Settle in the Southland, near water;
2. Buy a home for under $14,000;
3. Buy a new car before we go;
4. Buy a 16-foot runabout boat;
5. Buy a piano (both can play it);
6. Have enough left to live on comfortably.
Will our resources allow us to do this?"
The answer is yes.
These are their resources:
A mortgage-free home, appraised at $14,000.
Savings & loan account of $11,000.
U.S. Government bonds worth $10,975.
A pension of $310 a month for life for the man, and $105 a month for life for the wife if he dies.
A $1,000 paid-up life insurance policy.
An $800 paid-up life insurance policy.
A $5,000 life insurance policy with premiums payable to 85.
Blue Cross and Blue Shield for both man and wife.
A health-accident insurance policy that will pay $100 a month if the man becomes disabled.

month if the man becomes disabled at home.
This man can handle his dream in several ways and still get it. In fact, he could blow most of his savings and be reasonably safe with only his home and pension. But a conservative plan would allow him to change his mind and splurge later on if he wished. He should spend no more for his retirement home than the net he gets from his present home, which probably will be about $12,000. That's enough house for retirement.
He should switch his $11,000 into a savings & loan in the new town where he will live, but make sure he gets at least a 4 percent return on it. Accounts are insured only up to $10,000, so he might split the money into two accounts—one in his wife's name and one in his own.
He should consider a quality second-hand car instead of a new one because he'll have plenty of time to tinker with it in retirement.
He should leave his paid-up insurance policies as is, for burial expenses or a nestegg. He should convert the $5,000 policy into a paid-up nestegg or a monthly-pay annuity, but in any case into something that will stop premium payments now.
As for the income health policy, why? This is more for the working man than for the retired one. He should by all means continue the Blue Cross-Blue Shield, or something equivalent.
New GOLDEN YEARS 36-page booklet now ready. Send 50¢ in coin (no stamps), to Dept. C578, Box 9, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N.Y.

As you ready your car for vacation, don't throw loose objects on the ledge behind the rear seat, warns safety officials. These objects not only obstruct vision, but may also be a hazard in event of sudden stops.

GOOD BRAKES NECESSARY!

Be sure your car is set for safe driving and safe stopping. Come in soon and let us check your brakes—put them in "tip top" condition.

$29,349 U.S. Judicial Training Grant To Help Judges Give Equal Treatment

Congressman George Meader (R-An Arbor) announced Monday that a $29,349 judicial training grant has been awarded by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to help Michigan judges assure equal treatment to all persons accused of crime.
The grant was made to the Institute of Continuing Legal Education of the University of Michigan Law School, Wayne State University Law School and the State Bar of Michigan.
The first of two training sessions will be held Aug. 16-19 at Mackinac Island; Associate Justice Potter Stewart of the United States Supreme Court will be one of the noted speakers. The second session will be held early next year.
The training program has been endorsed by the Supreme Court of Michigan and several of the Michigan Justices will serve on the faculty.
Trainees include: (1) all persons who conduct criminal court hearings in Michigan; (2) selected personnel from municipal, superior and common pleas courts; and (3) selected criminal trial lawyers.
Instruction will aim at increasing the judges' sensitivity to their obligation for providing reasonably equal treatment for all defendants. The program will seek to give judges a sense of personal responsibility for affording equal opportunity at each stage of the judicial process.
Special emphasis will be given to augmenting the resources of the indigent defendant. Problems of arrest, detention, arraignment, trial, judgment and sentence will be considered.
Co-operating in the program is the Office of the Court Administrator of the Supreme Court of Michigan and the President's Committee on Delinquency and Youth Crime.

Senator Philip A. Hart's REPORT from WASHINGTON

★ To Those Who Won't Be Going to the Moon ...
"Isn't it ironic," newspaper article commented several days ago, "that while we are spending billions of dollars to get to the moon, the moon is delivering a benefit here on earth that has gone unused for generations?"
The article then went on to speak glowingly of the proposed Panspermia project to harness the tides for electric power.
Space exploration is dramatic, and it is only natural for advocates of other programs to link up to the moon shot in an effort to get their own projects off the launching pad.
In recent months I have heard arguments, for example, that if we can go to the moon, why can't we also (1) eliminate poverty and hunger in the nation or (2) wipe out water pollution or (3) develop a silent policeman.
Well, why not indeed? At least on the first three items where there is some possibility of success.
The moon shot and our impressive defense structure have been made possible largely because of the huge research and technological complex that has applied itself to these problems.
Do we need another mammoth research structure for community needs? Not necessarily. Maybe we can use the one we have. Maybe it can do two jobs.
Perhaps the team that devised the ingenious water-purification system for spacecraft could also find a cheap and totally effective sewage disposal system for a suburban community.
And couldn't the techniques that built a remarkable communications system for our air defenses also come up with a data processing system that could link together all the nation's libraries so that students in Ann Arbor might be able to draw information from the Library of Congress or MIT?
If automated highways are truly a part of the future, would we save money by building in the necessary components now in our interstate road program?
If automation is going to idle thousands, shouldn't we try to anticipate what industries will be hit and what can best be done to cushion bad side-effects?
There are some of the best technological solutions to air pollution, mass transportation, farm surpluses and low-cost, but sturdy housing? Local, state and federal agencies are spending money on all these problems; but at the same time many are troubled by the uneasy suspicion that there might be a better, cheaper way to attack each, if we only knew what it was.
The problem of channeling our research efforts troubled first President Kennedy, then President Johnson. In January, President Johnson proposed the creation of a blue-ribbon commission to pin-

Governor Romney To Give Address at George Meader Day Picnic

Governor George Romney will be one of the principal speakers at a George Meader Day picnic and ox roast Saturday, Aug. 1, at Delhi Park, west of Ann Arbor.
Governor Romney will make a major address during the afternoon. His date of arrival at the picnic, which begins at noon, has not been set.
Lionel N. Berek, president of Seaway Corporation and general chairman of the George Meader Day, said that invitations to attend the Meader event have been sent to Arthur Elliott, chairman of the Michigan State Republican Committee; Mrs. Wendell Hobbs, vice-chairman of the national Republican committee who is a candidate for United States Senate nomination; James O'Neill, member of the State Board of Education; and Edward Means, both also candidates for the nomination for United States Senate.
Invitations have also been made to former U. S. Senator Homer Ferguson, now a judge on the United States Military Court of Appeals in Washington, and former Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield. Congressman Meader was an aid to former Senator Ferguson on the Truman War Investigative Committee.
"We have had enthusiastic response to George Meader Day," said Berek. Members of committees in Washtenaw, Livingston, Lenawee, Monroe and Wayne counties are selling tickets to the affair.
Berek is general chairman of the George Meader Day Committee. County chairmen for the event are: Lenawee county, Charles Figg, Morenci, former director of the State Department of Agriculture and chairman of the State Fair Board; Livingston county, Herbert F. Schott, Howell, businessman; Monroe county, Brower D. McIntyre, Monroe, president of Monroe Auto Equipment; Bernard E. Harkins, Ann Arbor business leader; and Edwin "Bud" Schrader, Plymouth.
Congressman Meader has served in the Second Congressional District during the past 14 years. He is seeking nomination for an eighth term in the Republican primary Sept. 4.
DEBT CEILING RAISED
The House has passed a bill to set the national debt limit at $324 billion. This is a $3-billion increase over the present limit. The House debated only three hours before sending the bill to the Senate. In the rollcall vote, Republicans voted solidly—154—against the measure.
Premium awards will total $15,000 for domestic and agricultural competition at the Ionia Free Fair, Aug. 10-15.

Real Beetle Quarantine Extended

Survey of the cereal leaf beetle established on June 22, 1964, has necessitated a revision of the quarantine. The Michigan Department of Agriculture, Director G. S. McIntyre, approved a revision of the quarantine effective July 9.

The revision involves areas in counties not affected by a beetle quarantine. The areas added consist of the township of Clare county; the townships of Warren, Genesee, and Ingham in Midland county; the townships of Denmark, Tuscola, Vassar, Arbutus, and Tuscola in Tuscola county; the townships of Elba, Lapeer, and Metamora in Lapeer county; the township of Lima and Saline in Washtenaw county; and the township of Saline in Washtenaw county.

The quarantine means that hay, straw, and other plant litter, small grain, field corn, and sweet corn, harvested machinery, and other equipment, must be certified to be free of beetle by inspectors. Department of Plant Industry inspectors will inspect and certify. Certification is required by inspection, treatment, fumigation, or other means.

Persons and persons affected by the quarantine may obtain information from the Department of Agriculture or from the local county extension agent.

Following is a list of counties currently affected by the quarantine, either wholly or in part: Alcona, Barry, Berrien, Benzie, Calhoun, Cass, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Chippewa, Clam, Clinton, Emmet, Genesee, Gratiot, Hillsdale, Ionia, Isabella, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Kent, Lapeer, Leelanau, Livingston, Mecosta, Midland, Monroe, Montcalm, Muskegon, Oakland, Ogemaw, Oshtemo, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Tuscola, Van Buren, and Washtenaw.

More than 275,000 non-campers in the state forest campgrounds in Michigan during 1963, and $415,000 into the state treasury.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Robert White and sons returned Sunday after spending a week at Albert Lea, Minn., visiting relatives. The former's mother, Mrs. Laurine White, accompanied them to Minnesota and remained to spend this week.

John Hanna had a surprise visit Tuesday evening from a sister, Mrs. Martha Wardrow of Motherwell, Scotland. It was the first time they had seen each other in the 34 years since Mrs. Wardrow returned to Scotland to make her home there. She and Mr. Hanna had come to America from Scotland in 1922 with other members of their family. Mrs. Wardrow is visiting in Detroit, having arrived last week at the home of a son, Peter Wardrow. Mrs. Wardrow, her son and his family and another brother, Harry Hanna, who lives in Detroit, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanna and the latter's mother, Mrs. Nellie Flood.

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Brock, former Chelsea residents, left Sunday morning for their home at Boynton Beach, Fla., after spending the week here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fox. On Monday, July 13, approximately 45 friends attended a get-together in their honor, held at the Legion Home at Cavanaugh Lake. Planned by friends as an opportunity for the Brocks to see as many people as possible during their brief visit here, it turned out the affair took place on their 44th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bertke and daughter, Maria, plan to leave next week to return to their home at Tucson, Ariz., after spending the past three weeks with relatives and friends here and at Manchester. Mr. and Mrs. Bertke are staying at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trolz, 16421 English Rd., Manchester, and Maria is at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Trolz, 305 W. Main St., Manchester. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Trolz entertained at an open house reception at the Trolz farm on English Rd., honoring Maria who graduated in June from Quincy High school at Tucson. Approximately 80 guests attended, including relatives and former classmates of the honor guest.

Have you tried going to church, and leaving your problems there, each Sunday, recently?

TOUR FARMS

These two Branch county farms will host the State Farm Management Tour on Wednesday, Aug. 5. Visitors will see a highly productive cropping program and hundreds of hogs at the Dean Pridgen farm (above) near Montgomery at 9:30 a.m. That's Pridgen on the right talking to a hired worker. A noon luncheon will be served at the Quincy High school. The afternoon stop will be at the modern dairy farm of Leo Sanderson of Quincy. The tour is sponsored by the Co-Operative Extension Service of Branch county and Michigan State University.

Mechanized Dairy Operation Feature of State Farm Tour

Leo Sanderson of Quincy wasn't about to stop farming after a fire destroyed dairy buildings two years ago.

Instead, Sanderson rebuilt a highly mechanized setup for 100 cows which visitors may view during the State Farm Management Tour in Branch county on Wednesday, Aug. 5.

Sanderson asked Michigan State University agricultural engineers for help in designing his new dairy setup. They recommended a loose housing system making extensive use of pole barns. The result is a setup for 100 cows costing slightly over $35,000.

The 90-cow Jersey dairy herd has averaged 425 pounds of butterfat and 8,154 pounds of milk during the past five years on Dairy Herd Improvement Association testing.

Sanderson, college graduate and a former school teacher, returned to the home farm in 1938 and entered the dairy business. The farm, composed of 316 acres, has been owned by the family for 96 years. Sanderson operated on a 50-50 basis until purchasing the farm in 1964.

Part of the success of the dairy farm may be traced to the efficient production of crops. Crop values of $72 per tillable acre are well above the average. Heavy use of fertilizer based on soil tests helps keep yields high. Corn yields are kept high with minimum tillage, 20,000 plants per acre and wheel truck planting.

Heifer replacements are raised right on the farm. Calves are housed in individual stalls for three months following a birth. They receive whole milk for a month and are then shifted to a milk replacer.

The morning stop on the 16th annual State Farm Management Tour is the Dean Pridgen hog farm near Montgomery. The tour is sponsored by the Michigan Co-operative Extension Service.

Paul Bunyan Restaurant Gets Publicity

Walter Ernst's Paul Bunyan restaurant and his 20-foot fiberglass image of the mythical giant woodsman, Paul Bunyan, made a feature story in a national magazine this month.

The magazine "Advertising Sales and Promotion" told of how the novelty feature standing beside the restaurant on Jackson Ave. and Zeeb Rd., attracts patrons who want to pose for pictures with the likeness of Paul Bunyan.

The author, Arnold Marquis, told how Ernst, while in the neon sign business, struck upon the idea of what he hopes to develop into a chain of Paul Bunyan eating places.

On a camping expedition with 12 Boy Scouts, Marquis explained, when the cook in the wilds of Rainy Lake District of Canada goofed off, Ernst pinch-hit for him. The Scouts dubbed him "Sawdust Sam" after the famous cook of Paul Bunyan lore, and they swapped stories they'd heard about the fabulous fictional woodsman. They also "clamored for giant portions—the kind the lumberjacks used to eat"—and this sparked Ernst's idea.

He uses lumberjack language on his menus and sends a mailing sample along with his customers. Ernst has on display a giant chicken that is to be wired and set outside to "tell" undecided stoppers about the "giant servings" inside. A huge pair of rubber boots also sets inside the restaurant. Although they're meant to be looked at, lots of people use them for waste paper! Ernst has put them out on loan a few times—a group of Boy Scouts in Detroit borrowed them for a woodsman-type display, a while back, and during Michigan's District Library publicity committee who made a window display with them—filling them to capacity and then some to show that like the old woman in the shoe, the library had so many "books" it didn't know what to do.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Harker and children, Kevin, Mark, Gregory, Denise and Susan, left Monday after spending three weeks here visiting Mrs. Harker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelly, and Mr. Harker's mother, Mrs. Ivah Harker and other relatives and friends. They have been living at Tucson, Ariz., since leaving Chelsea two years ago but are now moving to Covina, Calif., where the two girls—Denise and Susan—are registered to enter special public school oral education classes for the deaf when school opens in September.

Through 1963, more than $5 million worth of improvements had been completed under Michigan's state park bonding program. These include additional campsites for 8,450 people, picnic areas for 4,000 more recreationists, expanded parking for 1,500 cars, four new lake impoundments, and a number of other facilities.

A good rule of thumb for catching big bluegills is to fish deep in hot weather, and shallow in cool weather, according to the Conservation Department.

Sgt. William Schrader Has Narrow Escape When New Chute Fails

Master Sergeant William Schrader, now stationed in Iran, sent his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Schrader, a photograph taken during jumping maneuvers at Fort Bragg, N.C., shortly before he left for overseas service. Sergeant Schrader had a harrowing experience after jumping from a helicopter at 1,850 feet.

He said: "I was jumping with a new type chute which is steerable. The chute did not open. . . . I tried to shake it out, but no good. I saw other jumpers in the air above me and the had gone out before I did. Then I pulled reserve and it opened good."

By that time, Schrader said, he was "only 400 feet from the ground" but he landed safely and "was just a little shaky."

Schrader's wife, the former Leona Moore daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Moore, and their young daughter are living in their home near Fort Bragg while he is overseas.

Lawrence J. Weber, formerly of Chelsea, died Saturday at the University of Michigan Medical Center. He suffered a skull fracture on Saturday, July 4, when he fell 20 feet while at work razing a house and had been hospitalized since. His home was at 183 Lumley Ave., Jackson. He was 61 years old.

Born in Sylvan township Feb. 11, 1903, he was a son of John and Pauline Kirchner Weber.

Funeral services were held at Our Lady of Fatima church, at Michigan Center at 10 a.m. Tuesday and burial followed at Mt. Olivet cemetery, Chelsea.

The Rosary was recited at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the C. K. Wetherby Funeral Home in Jackson.

Survivors of Mr. Weber are his widow, Edna M.; a sister, Mrs. Loreta Doll of Chelsea; a brother, Otto Weber of Manchester; and several nieces and nephews.

Two sisters, Cecelia Weber and Genevieve Weber Dagwell, preceded him in death.

John Alber Family Moving to Southfield

Mr. and Mrs. John Alber and daughters, Mary Kay, Sharon and Denise, are moving tomorrow to make their home at 30326 Rock Creek Dr. in Southfield. They are making the move to be nearer to Mr. Alber's work. He is purchasing agent for the Jim Robbins Co. at Royal Oak.

Mr. Alber has been a Chelsea resident all his life and he and his wife have made their home here since their marriage 16 years ago. They are members of St. Mary's church.

The girls will enter schools at Southfield in September — Mary Kay in the 11th grade; Sharon in the ninth grade; and Denise in the fifth grade.

The Albers have sold their home at 757 S. Main St. to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Davis. Mr. Davis is with Chelsea Milling Co. Mr. and Mrs. Davis and their two children will be moving into the house at once.

one room to be shared by speech correction and remedial reading groups.

Junior High Principal Conklin, regarding space at the Junior High school said all rooms will have classes at the Junior High school for the first time this year. All rooms will be in use full time except the visual aids room and the typing room which will be in use 3 sessions a day. The band room has to be used for a sixth grade class which causes seventh grade band and chorus to be held in the gymnasium. The eighth grade band will be transported to the high school.

High School Principal Lane, regarding space at the High school pointed out that there will be an increase of approximately 60 students this year. All classrooms will be occupied all day except the art and home economics rooms which will be free two periods a day. The audiovisual room will be used all day for classes, pushing its normal use into the auditorium. The teachers' cafeteria will again be used full time for special education. It was pointed out too, that there are no areas which can be partitioned off to provide additional space. In 1965-66 there will simply be more people in each class. There can be no enrichment or improvement of the program. Lane stated that if the class size were to be improved the learning conditions for the students it would necessitate a switch to half-day sessions.

Elementary Principal Wojcicki gave an outline of the new educational TV programs in which Chelsea elementary schools will be participating this year. This is meant as a supplement to the classroom teacher and not a substitute, he explained. To be used are such subjects as music, art and science this year.

Michigan Open Tournament Set Aug. 14-16 at Lakeland

The top professional and amateur golfers in Michigan will be on hand Aug. 14-16 at Lakeland Country Club, Winans Lake, Brighton, when the 44th Michigan Open Golf Tournament gets under way.
Qualifying trials will be held July 27 at Lakeland and Cascade Hills, Grand Rapids, to narrow the field to about 180 contestants seeking $6,000 in prizes and merchandise.
The tournament will open with single 18-hole rounds on Friday and Saturday, followed by a 36-hole wind-up Sunday, Aug. 16.
Tournament Chairman Art Meyers of Lakeland said the host club will be well prepared with parking facilities and refreshments for the public attending the event, one of the state's outstanding sports attractions.
Among winners in recent years are John Barnum of Grand Rapids, a four-time winner, and Walter Burkemo of Detroit Golf Club, a three-time champ. The tournament last year was won by Phil Wiechman, Holland-American Legion Club pro, who edged out Burkemo in a stirring finish at Atlas Valley Country Club, Flint. John Barnum placed third.
A new threat this year is Ted Krohl, new pro at Franklin Hills, former World Open champion. He ranks ninth in money winning on the national PGA tour.
A pro-amateur tournament will follow the Michigan Open at Lakeland, Aug. 21.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

FOR
General Primary Election
Tuesday, September 1, 1964

To the Qualified Electors of the TOWNSHIP OF LIMA (PRECINCT NO. 1)

COUNTY OF WASHTENAW, STATE OF MICHIGAN

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, City or Village not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can give no names for registration during the time intervening between the Thirtieth day before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of said election.

Notice is Hereby Given That I Will Be at My Home,
5800 Old US-12, RFD 2, Chelsea, Michigan, Any Day until August 3, 1964, and on

Monday, August 3, 1964 - Last Day

The Thirtieth day preceding said Election

As provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954.

From 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m. on each said day for the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said TOWNSHIP, CITY or VILLAGE as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefor.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct of the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

Elector Unable To Make Personal Application, Procedure

SEC. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration for any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

Unregistered Persons Not Entitled To Vote

SEC. 491. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote. (As provided under Act 116, P. A. 1954.)

Transfer of Registration, Application, Time

SEC. 505. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved thereto, and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made within the (30) days next preceding any election or primary election, (unless such 30th day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday in which event registration shall be accepted during the next full working day), provided that no such transfer shall permit any person to vote in any Township, City or Village in which he had not resided (30) days next preceding any election or primary election.

Transfer of Registration on Election Day

SEC. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from one precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village shall have the right to make application to have his registration transferred on any election or primary election day by executing a request over his or her signature for such transfer and presenting the same to the election board in the precinct in which he is registered. Upon receiving such request the inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and if the signatures correspond then the inspector shall certify such fact upon said request and the applicant for transfer shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of street in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

YOUR MICHIGAN
LAW

Attorney General FRANK J. KELLY

(This is a public service article explaining the general terms and provisions of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

Buying on time is a two-way street. Frequently consumers purchase items on finance contracts from companies they know nothing about. Somehow, a curious, double standard has arisen in the minds of consumers. This double standard concerns information.

Anyone purchasing an item on an installment contract expects to and does give the seller considerable information about himself. It is standard practice for a seller to inquire fully concerning the consumer's financial affairs. Probably all of us at one time or another have had to provide information to a seller of merchandise concerning our age, marital status, children, salary, employment, housing, etc.

From complaints made to my office, it appears that consumers do not take advantage of their right to make equally detailed inquiries about the company or person selling them merchandise. If consumers would find out before signing how long the company in question has been in business, where the main and local offices are, how long the company has operated in the consumer's area and to whom they have sold in the area, much trouble could be avoided.

Consumers should always insist on full information — the seller does.

Sate Senator Thayer
Files Nominating Petitions

Lansing — Michigan Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Thayer (R-Ann Arbor) filed nominating petitions for Congressman from Michigan's Second Congressional District on Wednesday, July 15.

Thayer filed petitions containing the maximum permissible number of signatures with State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery.

Thayer will oppose Rep. George Meader in the Republican primary election September 1.

Mrs. Peter B. Olmsted of Ann Arbor, petitions chairman for Senator Thayer's campaign, said the number of signatures filed was four times the amount needed to qualify for a place on the ballot.

Both Saturday and Sunday, July 25-26, will see the final two days of the Rock and Mineral Show at Muskegon and the Water Carnival at Three Rivers.

Michigan's Dawn Patrol meets at Sturgis, Sunday, July 26.

A highlight of the following week will be the annual Miss Michigan Pageant at Muskegon beginning Tuesday, July 28, and concluding with the final selection of the new Michigan Beauty queen Friday, July 31.

John B. Desch Announces Candidacy for Legislature

John B. Desch of Lakeland announced today his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Representative in the new Legislative District. Desch was born in Sugar City, Idaho, and attended Lafayette College. He has been an active legislator since 1947 when he became vice-president of the Brown Fence and Hardware Co. of Adrian, a longtime member of the rural community center, and a farm supplies hardware.

Since 1957 he has acted as an independent manufacturer's representative engaging in sales, engineering and marketing activities for various manufacturers in Lansing and Detroit.

Bursley Files Required

Submitting Petitions for Senatorial District

Representative Gilbert E. Bursley today filed the required petitions for the Senatorial District which is composed of Washtenaw county and the eastern half of Lenawee county. Bursley filed four times the required number, or 1,400, which is the legal maximum. Bursley circled petitions in every township in Washtenaw county and in Lenawee county as well.

In a statement, Bursley said: "I am proud to represent the people of this district. I have served in the Michigan State Legislature for the past two years and have been re-elected in this district. I am confident that I can continue to serve the people of this district with honor and integrity."

Not knowing the answer is only as hard as admitting not knowing it.

Chelsea Teacher Seeks Nomination For County Clerk

John D. McGill today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Washtenaw County Clerk.

McGill was born in Drayton Plains, May 10, 1932 and has lived in Washtenaw county since 1955. He received a BS degree and secondary teaching certificate in 1959 from Eastern Michigan University. He is a 1950 graduate of Wayne High School, in Wayne.

He served in the U.S. Marine Corps from 1951 to 1954 with an honorable discharge. While in the Marine Corps he spent a year in combat in Korea. Presently McGill is teaching physics and math at the Chelsea High School where he has been a member of the faculty since 1959.

Morenei Attorney To Seek Primary Congressional Nod

The Republican primary election in the Second Congressional District is now a three-way race. C. Ralph Kohn, city attorney in Morenei, Lenawee county, has announced he is a candidate for the office held since 1950 by Republican Rep. George L. Meader of Ann Arbor.

"I am entering this race because I feel that the incumbent congressman has lost touch with the thinking of his constituents. His voting record on economic and social legislation is not in accord with the forward-looking program that the Republican Party must have to recapture the imagination of the electorate," Kohn said.

His prepared statement made no reference to a third Republican, State Sen. Stanley G. Thayer of Ann Arbor who announced his candidacy for Congress last February.

Kohn has been the city attorney in Morenei since 1952 and a practicing attorney for 14 years with offices in Morenei and Hudson. He is a graduate of the University of Detroit law school.

He was a delegate to the Republican national convention in 1960.

He served with the Marine Corps in the South Pacific in World War II, attaining the rank of captain. He is a member of Our Lady of Mercy Catholic church, Morenei.

Kohn, 44, is married and has three teenage daughters. His home is at 403 Main, Morenei.

Meader Blasts Coalition That Rams Through Cotton-Wheat Bill

"The American farmer and the American people were given one of the 'rarest deals' in recent history by the Democratic administration," Congressman George Meader told Saline township Republicans in a meeting Tuesday night, July 14.

Under gag rule, in a session lasting until the wee hours of the morning, a nefarious coalition of northern Democrats and southern Democrats rammed through the House of Representatives two bad bills, the cotton-wheat bill and the food stamp bill.

In unprecedented arm-twisting, vote-trading and low appeals to sectional interests—the South got a cotton textile subsidy; northern metropolitan Democrats got their long sought food stamp plan; and Secretary of Agriculture Freeman got his stranglehold on the wheat farmers—who in a referendum a year ago overwhelmingly repudiated essentially the same subsidy—rigid control—wheat program.

"These measures could not have become law on their merits."

"The American people and the American wheat farmer are the losers."

Opinion Survey Being Conducted On Dogs in Parks

Questionnaires are being passed out to a random sample of state park visitors in Michigan to get their thinking on how dogs should be handled in these public recreation areas.

The opinion survey, which runs through Labor Day, is prompted by a growing number of complaints against dogs and the conservation department's deferred parks to bar these pets from state parks during the peak vacationing season.

It is designed to find out if visitors think current controls are adequate, or whether they favor stricter regulations over dogs. The questionnaire's choice of stronger measures calls for restricting dogs to certain parts of campgrounds, or completely closing state parks to the animals during the busy May 1-Sept. 30 season.

Present park regulations require that dogs be kept under the immediate control of their owners on leashes not longer than six feet. Also, bathing beach areas are out of bounds to dogs.

Michigan Has Second Best Deer Season

Michigan's 1963 firearm deer season goes into the record books as the second best in the state's history—with a kill of 124,000 whitetails, final figures of the Conservation Department show.

Topped only by the 1962 harvest of 162,000 deer, last season's take was up nearly 50 percent over the previous year, according to results of the Department's annual postcard survey of licensed hunters.

Buck kill was the highest since 1951, jumping to 74,770 as a record 502,000 sportsmen took to the state's fields and forests. Last season's antlerless deer take rose to 49,380, an increase of 50 percent above the year before which places it second to the 1952 total.

Included in the antlerless figure are 11,000 buck fawns and white tails with sub-legal spike.

State-wide, nearly one of every four hunters took home a deer. In the Upper Peninsula, more than 30 percent of the hunters were successful. Also scoring in the kill column were 25 percent of the hunters in the northern Lower Peninsula and 12 percent in the southern Lower Peninsula.

Compared with the 1962 season, buck kill edged up from 17,800 to 19,700 above the St. Ignace, Mich. St. Ignace's fast-growing herd to notch that region's new high in kill for the third straight year.

Last November's special season in 46 trouble areas produced an antlerless harvest of 12,790 animals in the Upper Peninsula and 36,570 in the northern Lower Peninsula.

An estimated 51,660 deer licenses were sold last year, shattering the record of 468,623 set in 1960.

Samborn Files Petitions, States Campaign Theme

After filing petitions in Lansing to qualify as a candidate in the Sept. 1 primary election, Al Samborn of Dexter said that his campaign to become the Republican candidate for state representative from the new 51st district would emphasize this theme: "To the greatest extent possible, local control of public affairs is best; but local control of public affairs is possible only to the extent that individual citizens are willing to give time and do labor to meet the responsibilities that go with local control."

"I'm going to be saying again and again that local control is real, regained, or lost forever by the individual voter. When he fails to show up at the polls, when he fails to take part in local public affairs—to accept responsibility—he loses a bit of control."

Samborn said that in his 17 years as a newsman, covering events and dealing with individuals charged directly with responsibility in public affairs, he has developed a belief that it is almost impossible to classify a man or a group as conservative, liberal, or moderate.

"The number, variety, complexity, of issues in a fast-changing scene frustrates any attempt to simply fix a label and be done with it. I prefer to take matters issue by issue—you name the issue, I'll tell you where I stand."

Samborn said that he stands firm on the principle of community control of community schools. He offered the public schools as an example of where local control of public affairs has proven effective and to be a great strength. He cited the Chelsea area as an example of individuals meeting responsibility.

"Interested individuals worked hard to provide a loan fund so that no Chelsea graduate seeking to learn a trade or to attend college would be denied that opportunity because the boy or girl doesn't have the money to study and learn beyond high school. While this program was being established in Chelsea, a college-attending loan fund was being established at the state level."

"I have no quarrel with the scholarship loan program at the state level—the need exists and there are not many communities with programs such as Chelsea's, which I think is an excellent example of responsibility being met at the local level."

Samborn said that the names of the Vote-Samborn-to-Lansing Committee would be made public next week. He described the group,

Douglas J. Harvey Seeking Democratic Bid for Sheriff

Douglas J. Harvey of 1580 McCarthy St., Ann Arbor, this week announced that he will seek the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Washtenaw county. He is the first person to announce his bid for the Democratic nomination for sheriff in the September primary election.

The incumbent, Sheriff George A. Petersen, is seeking re-election on the Republican ticket.

Also seeking the Republican nomination is George L. Stauch who was defeated by Petersen when he sought nomination two years ago.

Harvey, a native of Ann Arbor, attended schools there and during the Korean War served aboard the destroyer USS Purdy. After four years in the navy he returned to this area and served on the Ann Arbor Fire Department before being appointed a patrolman with the Ypsilanti Police Department in 1956.

During six years' service with that law agency Harvey was the only patrolman assigned to the county vice squad made up of officers from state, county and city police forces.

He also served as a fee deputy with the Sheriff's Department for seven years and was appointed a regular uniformed deputy in 1962. He served in that capacity until this year when he resigned to become a member of the plant protection force at the Chevrolet Motor Division's Willow Run plant.

He is a member of the Washtenaw County Law Enforcement and Security Association.

In announcing his candidacy Harvey stated that a "multitude of considerations entered my thinking. Perhaps the most weight was given to the fact that the turnover of personnel in the department has had far-reaching effects on all citizens of Washtenaw county. . . . If I were elected, I could reduce, if not almost eliminate the problem. Having served the Sheriff's Department, I know one of the major reasons for such a large turnover is lack of security in employment. Police officers should not be subject to abuse within the department and yet there is presently no recourse for an officer should he 'step on someone's toes' except to take the abuse or resign from the department."

Harvey advocates "placing the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department under Civil Service" saying this would "create a degree of efficiency on the part of all as a result of promotions being given on the basis of ability and not personality."

He stated, "I am not suggesting that civil service will be a cure-all for the department, but I am convinced that it must be instituted in order to solve the great number of problems which presently exist in that department."

He lists the problems "which result from rapid turnover" of personnel as "citizen abuse, inaccurate assessment of criminal situation, mishandling of juveniles and lack of respect as well as low morale in the Department."

Harvey, who is 32 years old, is the father of three children. He is the youngest person to seek nomination and election to the sheriff's office in Washtenaw county.

Leaf Analysis Tells Fertilizer Needs Before Symptoms Appear

Michigan State University horticulturists advise fruit growers that a leaf analysis is the best aid in determining fertilizer needs.

In their new Extension Bulletin 449, Leaf Analysis, A. L. Kenworthy and R. P. Larsen say that leaf analysis can determine shortages or excesses of nutrients before symptoms are visible. An analysis may show a need for fertilizer not being used.

Established as the country's first leaf analysis program in 1953, this service is similar to the MSU soil testing service except that leaves are analyzed instead of soil. The program is self-supporting in that charges for samples submitted are prorated according to the kind of analysis made on each leaf.

For a copy of this new bulletin contact your county extension office or write to: Bulletin Office, Box 231, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

WATERSHED APPROVED
The Tebed-Erickson watershed in Bay county became the 31st application for federal watershed assistance approved by the Michigan State Soil Conservation Committee. The Bay county area covers 12,000 acres and is being sponsored by the Bay county soil conservation district and Bay county drain commission. Three of the 31 watershed projects have been completed and others are in various stages of operation, according to Russell G. Hill, extension specialist in soil and water conservation and secretary of the Michigan Soil Conservation Committee.

The Genesee soil conservation district has been named the most outstanding in the state for 1963, according to Russell G. Hill, extension soil conservationist at Michigan State University.

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

The Main Street was unusually quiet the other night. It may have only seemed so since we have been so much on the move lately.

During this season people come and go, glad for the vacation, but glad also to be home again. Trips are long planned for eagerly taken, thankfully ended when home is in sight once more. But not everybody travels. At least not away from home. Yet everybody travels.

An ancient once called us "pilgrims upon the earth." More recently Stephen Grellet wrote "I expect to pass through this world but once . . . I shall not pass this way again."

That trip, which none of us planned, all of us take. The Psalmists of Israel knew that and they knew more than that.

They knew that even though they were far from home they had another home. They knew that though they traveled by themselves they were never alone. They knew that though nothing seemed to be going right, there was a rightness beyond their understanding.

Moffat translated it in one of the Pilgrim Psalms "Our help is in the Eternal who made heaven and earth."

A spiritual says it a little differently. "He's got the whole world in His hands."

A friend is someone who does not fail to support you when the "gang" begins to pick the carcass. They are few.

CHELSEA VILLAGE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

July 7, 1964
Council Room

Regular Session.
This meeting was called to order by Pres. Haselschwardt at 8:00 p.m.

Invocation by the Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski, and the Rev. Robert Livingston.

Trustees present: Bollinger, Burg, Chapman, Crouch, Weber and Wood.

The minutes of the Regular Session of June 16, 1964 were read and approved.

A request was entered by Miss Judy Livingston, representing the United Christian Youth Council of the Chelsea area for the use of the Municipal Parking lot on Park St. from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. for community-wide program by the Peace Caravan visitors. The request was granted.

A discussion was held with Mr. William Rademacher, Attorney representing Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Boyer and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Fahner, regarding the storm sewer problem in the Grant St. and Lincoln St. area.

Mr. Gregory Aubell, representing Finkbeiner, Pettis and Strout, informed the Council that a proper survey of the area would require topographical maps and elevation information to prepare an extensive survey and report concerning the storm sewer problem. An estimate of this cost for the survey is to be presented to the council as soon as possible. No official action was taken at this time.

A request was entered by Mr. Charles Winans of 750 Book St. to build a garage to within three feet of his south property line. A letter was submitted by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Haselschwardt, owners of the adjacent property, stating no objection to the proposed variance.

Motion by Burg, supported by Chapman, to grant the variance to Mr. Charles Winans as requested. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A request was entered by Mr. Paul E. Harker of 754 Flanders for a variance to build a garage to within 7'6" of his east property line. A letter stating no objection to the proposed variance was submitted by the adjacent property owners Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mshar.

Motion by Wood, supported by Bollinger, to grant the variance to Mr. Paul Harker, was requested. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Trustee Wood reported on the completion of the blacktopping of the parking lot by the new mill storage bins and the new fire station. Parking in the two new lots will be unrestricted.

Motion by Burg, supported by Bollinger, to pay $50.00 to the Chelsea Fire Department as the Village share of advertising and expenses incurred for the Fire Department Open House. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Chapman, supported by Bollinger, to advertise for a full-time Public Works and Landfill employee. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A discussion was held regarding the village parks. New playground equipment has been installed at Pierce Park. The equipment has been supplied by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Chelsea Child Study Club.

Motion by Weber, supported by Crouch, to authorize and direct the clerk to issue checks in payment of bills as submitted. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. Gen-

MSU To Host Nation's Farm Co-Operative Leaders

Three thousand delegates to the American Institute of Co-operation will come to Michigan next month. The event is the 38th annual meeting of the Institute to be held at Michigan State University, Aug. 9-12.

Most of the delegates will be officials and directors of hundreds of farmer co-operative organizations throughout the country. Visitors are also expected from a dozen foreign countries.

In addition to the co-operative leaders, nearly 1,000 "youth scholars" will also attend. These teenagers, representing some 15 national youth groups will come as guests of local co-operatives across the U.S.A.

Theme of the 1964 meeting "Dynamic Dimensions for Co-operatives." The program will include representatives from business, government and education. Keynote speaker for the event is Dean C. B. Ratchford, Extension Division, University of Minnesota.

Dr. George Dike, agricultural economist at MSU is general manager of arrangements. Glen North Branch, president of Michigan Milk Producers' Association is national vice-chairman. AIC, Michigan co-operatives serve as official hosts to the delegates expected from more than 30 states.

Meeting adjourned.
Approved July 4, 1964.
Howard Haselschwardt, Pres.
George Winans, Clerk.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

★ Competition — Then and Now . . .

Gardner C. Means is an old soldier in the war against so-called industrial concentration. For some thirty years he has been telling the same story—the decline in competition as a dependable regulator of our economic system.

In a recent presentation before a Congressional Committee he starts, characteristically, with a description of the American economy of a century ago. It was an economy of family farms and small enterprises.

He sums up with the remark that, in that period, "National economic policy could be decided on the basis of a body of economic theory which assumed that all production was carried on under conditions of classical competition."

The remainder of his statement is devoted to arguing—on the basis of statistics on the size and number of business firms—that this assumption no longer applies.

What Is Competition?

Just what is meant by "classical competition" is not clear. Some definitions set up theoretical forms which never have applied, and never could apply, in practice. But the implication is that competition, as the word is understood in common parlance, is less intense in the jet age than it was in the horse-and-buggy days.

But a more realistic reflection on the commonly known historical facts should convince us that the very reverse is true. Competition is a matter of having a wide variety of choices open to the customer—choices as to what he will buy and who he will buy it from. Our grandfathers and great-grandfathers had far fewer choices in that respect than we do now.

In the essentially localized markets of a century ago there were, as a practical matter, few choices available in most purchases. If a farmer needed a plow, he had it made in the local blacksmith shop. He could not spare the time, and had no means of transportation, to travel around comparing products and prices. The housewife had one local general store in which she could make her purchases—she could not go from shopping center to shopping center before making her decision.

The same technological developments that led to mass production in large firms enormously expanded the choices available to consumers. Once each producer competed only with each other; now they compete with petroleum, natural gas, water power and nuclear energy. Railroads have to compete with truckers and airlines. Frozen foods compete with fresh and canned foods, plastics compete with lumber and metals, television competes with movies. The reader can fill in many other examples from the experience of his own lifetime.

VITAL ISSUE

The question of whether competition is more, or less, intense than it used to be is a matter of more than academic interest. The rise in our standard of living during earlier periods indicates that competition was then a reliable economic regulator and protector of the consumer. It follows that it is capable of doing an even better job under modern conditions of wider choice.

The "Decline and Fall of Competition" is a dramatic story as Professor Means tells it. But it is myth, not history.

New Publications

Available from MSU Extension Service

Michigan State University's Co-operative Extension Service and Agricultural Experiment Station have released a number of new publications which will be of interest to Michigan residents. The new pamphlets include:

E-419—Leaf Analysis Program for Michigan Fruit Crops.

E-439—Michigan Corn Production Insect Control.

T-294—Changes in the Real Wealth Position of Farm Operators, 1940-1960.

RR-8—The Michigan Farm Credit Panel: Cash Flows and Use of Credit, 1961.

RR-12—Participants in the Land Market—A Profile of Renters, Buyers, and Sellers in Lower Michigan.

RB-1—Michigan Communities: Social Organization and Change in Local Areas.

RB—The Black Bear in Michigan.

These MSU publications may be obtained free from county offices of the Co-operative Extension Service or by sending a postcard (listing the number) to the Bulletin Room, Box 231, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

State Fair Entry Dates Are Approaching

Exhibitors should submit entries early as possible this year for the Michigan State Fair which will run from Friday, Aug. 28, through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

That's the advice of Charles Flyg of Morenci, chairman of the Michigan State Fair Authority, who said all indications point to a record number of livestock, agricultural and home arts entries.

Here are the entry deadlines: July 31, Home Arts; Aug. 7, Livestock, horses and agriculture; and Aug. 14, Junior Show.

The premium book—the handbook of information for all exhibitors—has been split into three sections this year: livestock and agriculture, horse shows, and home arts. Prospective exhibitors should indicate which section is desired when requesting a premium book from the Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3.

Home arts exhibits will be in the new building this year, which should be completed except for the auditorium area.

Livestock judging and horse shows again will occupy the Coliseum day and night for the entire State Fair.

Country Carnival Sponsored Friday By 4-H Junior Leader Club

The Washtenaw County 4-H Junior Leader Club will sponsor a "Country Carnival" on Friday, July 24, from 5 to 11 p.m. at the Rural Activities Center on Ann Arbor-Saline Rd. This event is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

Included will be an old-fashioned ice cream social, cake walk, pony rides, hay rides, and many other fun events. A special free attraction will be the "Old MacDonald's Farm" which will feature all kinds of baby farm animals.

Proceeds from this event will be used to sponsor exchange trips and other educational activities for Washtenaw County 4-H members.

Michigan Farmers Plan Tour of Europe, Russia

More than 50 rural leaders will become American ambassadors soon. The group will leave New York late in August to participate in Michigan's third "People to People" tour.

Farmers, teachers, bankers, veterinarians and businessmen will form the group. Their purpose is to help build world understanding. They will visit a dozen countries, including Russia and Poland.

Tour leader for the group is John Donahy, farm management specialist for the Co-operative Extension Service at Michigan State University.

"Don't consider yourself as tourists," Les Davis of the National People to People program advised the group. "As ambassadors of the U.S.A., people will judge you on the impressions you give." Davis noted. The group met for a briefing session with tour leaders on the MSU campus early this summer.

Emphasis on the tour will be to meet and talk to people with a minimum of mere "sight seeing." The group will visit farms, villages, schools and factories and have meals with farm families. "You'll find it one of the most rewarding experiences of your life," Davis told the group. You'll learn that people are much the same the world around."

The Michigan delegation will leave New York on Aug. 31 and return Sept. 20.
