Primary Election Set Sept. 1 for Candidates Seeking Fall Election

Primary Importance Overlooked By Many in Failing To Cast Ballot

sday, Sept. 1, voters will be upon to make a vital decision what candidates will be on November ballot. Statistics that only approximately one-as many voters bother to these candidates as go to in November. In other words, ndful of persons choose the and women whom the majority on at the regular election. Voters who fail to participate in the primary, deny themselves the opportunity of attempting to put the candidates they on the ballot.

sentee ballots are available township clerks until 2 p.m. rday, Aug. 29, for those voters who will not be in the vicinity vote on Sept. 1. Republicans listed on one side and Democrats on the other. Township s remind voters that you can split your ballot!

ndidates for governor, United s Senator, Congressional representatives, State senator and sentative, and County Prosecutor, Sheriff, Clerk, Treasurer, ister of Deeds, and other such ers will be decided upon on ocrat and Republican tickets, well as judges for the new Court of Appeals and Probate Court on non-partisan ballot.

ectors will vote for three t of Appeals judges.

ters do not have to designate party they belong to when vote in the Primary, nor is it ssary that they be considered mber of a particular party—just important that they do ify to split their ballot as may do in November.

mediately after the primary tion, Sept. 1, registration will be open for those who failed register and want to vote in mber.

r those who may feel the Pri-s are not important, some es from a public opinion re-her Louis Harris might be d. He says "the bloodless wars litics are the primaries."

ay people don't quite under-d that primaries are played eeps, Harris writes in "Polit-Issues and Business in 1964," publication by the Foundation for Research on Human Behavior at the University. "People each other up and blood flows and the scars are made forever."

Harris recalls the Dewey-Stassen debate of 1948 as an indication of the long-range effects possible in primary contests.

The two Republican candidates were neck-and-neck for the nomination coming down to the Oregon primary. With the outlawing of the Communist party one of the issues, Dewey won by a mere 9,000 votes, and with it won the nomination.

"Dewey then went to sleep and lost the election," Harris charges. "Stassen might have beaten Truman to become president. If that had happened Eisenhower might never have been president, and Kennedy might never have come along the way he did. The whole history of the world would have been different if it were not for 9,000 votes in an Oregon primary in 1948."

Chelsea Milling Holds Annual Family Picnic

The annual family picnic, sponsored jointly by Chelsea Milling Co. and the employees, was held Sunday at Dexter-Huron Metropolitan Park with approximately 300 present.

Following the dinner, two teams were selected for a softball game which ended in a tie.

Winners of prizes in the various age groups for whom contests and games were provided are as follows:

Under three years—Penny Hunt, Bradley Knickerbocker.

Ages 4 to 6—Penny Hunt, Ricky Pickell; balloon contest, Wendy Walz; watermelon eating contest, Douglas Walz, Vickie Push.

Ages 7 to 9 — Whistling contest (while eating crackers), John Stinehelfer; sack race, Douglas Pickell and Barbara Taylor; baseball hitting, Chuck Walz.

Ages 10 to 13 — Baseball hitting, Robert Stoker; sack race, Robert Stokes and Mary Gaken; broad jump, Junior Borders.

Model of New Church To Be Unveiled

At St. Paul's United Church of Christ next Sunday, unveiling of an architect's model of the proposed new church will take place during a special program following a brief church service at 9 a.m.

There will be no church school on that day.

The architect, Andrew James Smith of Tecumseh, with the Church Council and the building committee are co-operating in presenting the preliminary plans — floor plans, general elevations, etc. —in order that members of the congregation may have an opportunity to gain an idea of the thinking and planning to date.

In addition to the unveiling of the model of the proposed new church which is to be constructed at the south edge of the village on Old US-12, a series of colored slides will be shown. These will include views of famous European churches as well as new developments in church architecture.

A later meeting is scheduled, on Sept. 20, to formally consider plans for further procedure in the building program.

Members of the building committee are George Knickerbocker, Mrs. Louis Burghardt, Julius Blaess, Carl Mayer, Howard Flintoft, Mrs. Henry Karner, Lawrence Gorton, Ernest Guenther and Paul Schaible, Jr.

Vandalism Reported On Rural Mail Boxes

Vandalism aimed at rural mail boxes is occuring in several areas serviced by the Chelsea Post Office, it was learned this week.

Instances have been reported of the destruction of mail and damage to mail boxes.

Postmaster Carl Mayer warns that such vandalism is punishable by substantial fines and imprisonment.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Breitenwischer and family, of Houston, Tex., left Thursday after spending two weeks here as guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer.

WILL APPEAR IN PARADE: Jackson American Legion Zouaves, are seen here as they will appear in Saturday's evening program at the Chelsea Community Fair and in the afternoon parade. The rifles they use in the drills are standard World War I Enfields weighing 9½ pounds. They perform their drill exhibitions at the rate of 300 steps per minute which is almost three times the regular military marching cadence of 120. For parades the Zouaves use the regular military cadence, featuring a variety of colorful formations and maneuvers.

125th Anniversary Painting Job in Believe It Or Not

Chelsea has again gained national (and international) recognition because of the 125th anniversary project of painting the headquarters building in three minutes and nine seconds.

King Features Syndicate, Inc., has included a replica of the picture taken at that time (1959) in its Ripley's Believe It Or Not series.

A clipping of the Believe It Or Not item, taken from the Indianapolis Star, Indianapolis, Ind., was given recently to Rolland Spaulding who was active in the organization of the big "painting bee" during the 125th anniversary celebration. The clipping came from relatives of Mrs. P. G. Schaible, Jr., who live in Indianapolis.

Methodists Install Storm Windows On Sanctuary

First Methodist church recently completed the installation of storm windows in their sanctuary. The new windows cover the large stained glass windows on the east and west and the Rose Window on the north.

A plan providing for major items of building improvement was initiated by the Church's Board of Trustees under Robert Rudd, then the chairman. A percentage of the church budget is set aside each year for such church care. The present Board of Trustees with Charles Cameron, chairman, authorized the work.

The windows, installed when the present building was erected, are made with a stained glass type no longer available. Covering them with storm windows will preserve them so that piecemeal glass replacement will not be necessary.

In addition it is anticipated that the storm window installation will allow more economical heating of the sanctuary.

The cost was approximately $1,500 and was the first step in a long-range program.

Fishing Trip Film Shown to Kiwanis Club Members

Don Turner, program chairman for the Aug. 24 meeting of the Kiwanis club, showed pictures of a fishing trip in the vicinity of Hightstown, N.J., take last spring by a party of Chelsea men.

Included in the party were Norbert Merkel, Earl Whitney, Ralph Guenther, John Pierson and Turner.

During the business meeting, Wallace Wood, Jack Fowler and Paul Niehaus were elected delegates to attend the state Kiwanis convention at Lansing, Sept. 27-29.

Alternates named are Don Turner, C. A. Rogers, P. G. Schaible, Sr., and James Liebeck.

Elementary Pupils New to District Must Register Early

New residents of the Chelsea School District who have children who will be in kindergarten through fifth grades this year, should register the children next Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday—Aug. 31, Sept. 1 and 2—at the office of South school on Pierce St.

Elementary Principal Sylvester Wojcicki points out that children in grades kindergarten through the fifth, new to the district, who are not registered by Sept. 2 must wait until Thursday, Sept. 10, before they may come to school.

Principal Wojcicki also announced that a hot lunch program for the elementary children will begin on the opening day of school, Sept. 8.

Children must bring their money for the week's hot lunches on the first day of each week. Cost of the lunches are 35 cents per day—a total of $1.75 per week.

Since there will be only four days of school the first week — Sept. 8 through Sept. 11 — parents should send $1.40 on Tuesday, Sept. 8 for those who are to have hot lunches.

This applies to children in grades 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Bus runs at the beginning of the school year will remain on the same schedule as last year when school opens; kindergarteners' transportation for the first week, however, will be the responsibility of parents. This is customary procedure until bus routes for the kindergarteners may be arranged.

$5 per child.

Parents also are reminded that the book fee for children in kindergarten through the fifth grade is $ per child.

3 Loans OK'd By Education Fund Board

Chelsea Area Community Educational Fund applications of three members of the June graduation class of Chelsea High school have been approved for the coming school year, it was announced this week by Dr. J. V. Fisher, president of the board of directors. Each of the three requested the loan of $300, the maximum in individual loan for the school year.

The loans are interest-free if repaid within 12 months and after that up to 18 months the interest rate over-all is three percent.

All three of the students have indicated that they believe jobs next summer will permit them to repay the loans before the interest-free year is up; they will then be eligible to borrow up to the maximum amount for another year, if necessary.

Additional funds are available for others who may wish to avail themselves of this assistance for further education — either for college or for learning a trade or profession.

Information regarding procedure for procuring a loan from the foundation may be secured by contacting Rolland Spaulding.

Area Townships To Name Candidates At Party Caucuses

Township caucuses and primaries for naming candidates for the Nov. 3 election are scheduled for the coming week.

Most of the township caucuses are being held Saturday but Freedom township, where only a Republican caucus will be held, is holding the causus Monday, Aug. 31, at 1:30 p.m., in the Freedom township hall.

In Sylvan township, the Democrats are holding their caucus at 7 p.m. Saturday and the Republicans at 7 p.m. Monday. Both will take place at Sylvan Town Hall.

The primaries, to select candidates for state and county offices and for the U. S. Senate and Congress, are to be held Tuesday, Sept. 1. Polls will be open in all township halls from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Sharon township has scheduled its Democratic caucus for 1 p.m. and the Republican caucus for 2 p.m. Saturday.

15 Floats Enter Parade Slated For Saturday

All Floats Are To Be Ready for Judging at 1:30

George Atkinson, Community Fair parade chairman, has announced the line-up for Saturday's parade which is scheduled for 2 p.m.

All floats are to be in place on Park St. for judging at 1:30 p.m. and the fire-truck siren will be sounded at 1:55 p.m.

Atkinson said that in case of rain—the parade will be held up. When the rain stops, one blast on the fire siren will be the signal to get floats to their starting places. The parade will begin one-half hour after the siren has sounded.

The parade route will be the same as has become customary in the past — East St. to E. Middle St., then to Main St., south on Main St. to Old US-12 and west to the Fairgrounds.

Atkinson reminds float entrants that all trailers must be fastened to the vehicle drawing it with nuts and bolts or with a wired pin to prevent its accidental detachment while in the parade.

Five bands are expected to march in the parde, these include the Chelsea High School Band, Chelsea Junior High Band, Zal-Gaz Grotto Drum and Bugle Corps of Ann Arbor, Waterloo Band and Dexter High School Band.

Other special attractions are the French Dukes, an Ann Arbor drill team which has appeared in many parades in Michigan and Canada; the Jackson American Legion Zouaves; an Ann Arbor unit of the Michigan National Guard; and a turbine powered car from Chrysler Proving Ground.

Floats will be assigned places in the parade in accordance with their listing as received.

The list is as follows: Wide Awake 4-H Club; Chelsea Fire Department; Freshman Class; Blue Ribbon Florists 4-H Club; Junior Class; Sophomore Class; American Legion; Junior Chamber of Commerce; Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery; Girl Scouts; Senior Class; Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H Club; Merrie Maids 4-H Club; Chelsea Chamber of Commerce; and Kiwanis Club.

Atkinson has arranged to have horses, buggies and wagons assemble on Park St. between Main and East St. and facing East St.

Farm machinery is to go to the east side of East St., facing toward Park St., while new cars and trucks are to line up on the west side of East St., facing Park St.

Floats are assigned to the north side of Park St. between Madison and East St., facing East St., antique cars are to line up on the Queen of Fair Will Be Chosen Saturday Evening

Today is Dexter Day at the Chelsea Community Fair which got underway yesterday with the annual Children's Day program sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Chelsea.

The evening program today will feature the introduction of Chelsea and Dexter village officials and Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees officials of both communities and their wives.

Also a special feature is a waterball contest between firemen of the Dexter and Chelsea Fire Departments.

Another feature which has always proved popular, is the appearance of the Waterloo Band. The group will give a concert on the grandstand stage at 9 o'clock.

Judging of exhibits was to start at 9 a.m. today.

Queen candidates are to be introduced on stage at 9:30 p.m. tonight. As of yesterday, 11 girls had been registered as queen candidates.

The girls are listed as follows, together with the float they represent — Janice Stephens, ninth grade; Anita Wenk, 10th grade; Mary Nyies, 11th grade; Sandra Osborne, 12th grade; Drinda West, Girl Scout Troop 77; Cindy Schumm, Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H club; Donna Brand, Blue Ribbon Florists 4-H club; Grace Kushmaul, Merrie Maids 4-H club; Susan Hines, Wide Awake 4-H club; Kathy Foster, American Legion; and Wanda Schiller, Chelsea Fire Department.

The Jaycees Auxiliary, sponsor of the queen contest, pointed out yesterday that all queen candidates should be registered at once.

Queen candidates will appear on the stage at the Fair again at 7:15 p.m. Friday and at 7 p.m. Saturday. The judges are three out-of-town people whose identities will not be made known until after the judging of the queen candidates has taken place Saturday night.

The girl selected as queen will receive a number of gifts in keeping with the custom of several years past.

Among other features of today's program is the fat stock sale at 7:15 p.m., followed by the pig scramble at which FFA members may catch a pig to keep as his own, the only provision being that he promises to give one of the pig's offspring for next year's scramble.

Friday, designated as Farmers' Day will feature tractor pulling contests at 1 p.m. and at 8 p.m.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Last week I held a meeting in my office with Detroit officials regarding juvenile problems in that city. Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, three members of the Detroit Common Council, Detroit Police Commissioner Ray Girardin, Detroit Judge James Lincoln and other state officials and legislators attended the meeting.

We have co-operated in establishing a Committee of Ten to seek immediate and long-range solutions to Detroit's juvenile problems.

I tried to point out that one of our needs is for more than a sporadic, crisis-to-crisis communication between the City and the State. We must work together toward solutions of problems which are of equal concern to us. I think that the Committee of Ten is a method by which we can meet both our short-range need for immediate solutions and our long-range need for better co-operation and communication.

There is a desperate need for prevention of delinquency and rehabilitation of delinquents at the local level. If we just talk about institutions, we'll never get ahead of our problems—because Detroit can produce delinquents faster than anybody can build institutions to house them. In this regard, Michigan is increasing the number of beds available for delinquents by 80 percent in the three-year period from 1963 to 1965.

The Committee of Ten will consist of five state officials and five others named by Mayor Cavanagh. I have suggested that the Committee submit a report within one month on these points:

(1.) A specific catalog of the 250-300 hard-core juvenile offenders now on the streets of Detroit—who they are, their offenses, their ages, and, insofar as possible, the kind of treatment they require. The total should be broken into categories, so that all will have a better idea of what we need to do—together—to protect the community and rehabilitate the juveniles. For some, institutionalization may not be necessary.

(2). A careful evaluation of available space in existing institutions — city, county and state — which could be used for housing the different kinds of juvenile offenders. The Committee should also investigate the possibilities of the City or State acquiring other existing facilities, not now used for juvenile offenders, and converting them to such use.

(3). Since we must consider program, as well as space and since program means staff — the committee should also investigate what possibilities there are for City, State or Federal financing of the additional trained staff personnel which would be required.

The Committee of Ten will be headed by co-chairmen, one appointed by the Mayor of Detroit and one by myself. I have named State Controller Glenn A. Allen Jr., as co-chairman for the state.

Other state representatives on the Committee will be Gus Harrison, Director of the Corrections Department; R. Bernard Houston, State Social Welfare Director; Dr. Robert A. Kimmich, Director of the Department of Mental Health; and Sam Rabinovitz, Executive

Costly Problem

One of Michigan's most pressing problems; the mental health picture, poses some statistics well worth pondering.

Approximately one-sixth of Michigan's general fund is spent for direct care and treatment of mentally ill and retarded patients. In the current fiscal year this will amount to more than $100 million.

Additional funds will be spent this year for new and expanded mental health facilities, but experts in the field say much more could and should be done.

Indirect costs of mental illness are also great when computed in terms of work absenteeism, welfare costs due to homes broken by this problem, and legal costs arising from behavioral irregularities.

Perhaps even more staggering are the personal figures involved in records of mental and emotional illness.

The Michigan Society for Mental Health estimates 180,000 school age children are in need of psychological attention, while only about 30,000 are actually receiving such help.

There are about 800,000 persons all told in Michigan with some form of mental illness, but only 37,000 of these are in state institutions, according to Society officials.

Some relief for the imbalance between need and existing care is being provided through the relatively new community mental health facilities, but the Society says there is considerable room for improvement.

Recent figures indicated slightly over 17,000 persons in the state are being served in community psychiatric out-patient clinics. Each is hard pressed to meet the demands for service at this time.

The chief sources of relief for this problem lie, according to Society spokesmen, in future community action and greatly expanded and improved programs for children needing institutional care.

Dynamic State

Michigan's contribution to world progress, primarily through industry and education, will be the spotlight next May when the 12th annual Michigan Week is observed.

More than one billion dollars in industrial and agricultural products are being exported from Michigan annually, one of the factors considered in deciding on the theme, "Michigan: Dynamic in World Progress" for the May 16-22 event.

Woodward C. Smith, vice-president of Central Michigan University who has served in various capacities for several previous Michigan Weeks, heads the 1965 promotion.

Continuing the tradition, the Governor formally announced the theme for 1965, Smith and his major planning committee were busy with Michigan Week activity for some time before this, however.

Research by the Greater Michigan Foundation, the sponsoring agency, shows about 1,000 Michigan industries and businesses are engaged in foreign trade and investments.

This volume of activity means that eight out of 10 manufacturing workers in the state are employed by companies involved in foreign trade.

Another major contribution to world progress is being made by Michigan's colleges and universities, which are involved in assisting educational institutions in many nations and in training students from all over the world on state campuses.

Measures Interest

Some indication of the continuing growth of tourist interest in Michigan is evidenced in the requests for maps and information reaching state officials.

One aspect of Michigan's varied information services which is a good measure of the total picture is at-the-scene highway tourist centers.

Highway officials note that the number of tourists stopping at these information centers in the month of July alone was up by nearly 10,000 over last year.

Strategically located at Ironwood, Menominee, Sault Ste. Marie, Port Huron, Monroe, New Buffalo and Mackinaw City, the roadside centers are easily accessible to most travelers either at their point of entry or the very popular stopping places.

The Mackinaw City station, for example, gave good indication of the popularity of that region during July. Of 99,741 requests for information at the seven stations in July, some 40,873 were made to the Mackinaw City station.

Information activity during the first seven months this year has led highway officials to predict they will serve about 300,000 visitors in 1964 as compared to 280,000 last year.

SHIPS ON TOUR

Three nuclear-powered surface warships, the carrier Enterprise, guided-missile cruiser Long Beach and guided-missile frigate Bainbridge are making a first in a history making two-month tour around the world. This is the first time a cruise of this type has occurred since President Theodore Roosevelt sent 16 warships of the Great White Fleet around the world in 1907, which took more than a year.

ON MILITARY PAY

Congress has approved a bill to raise the pay of every member of the armed services except draftees and lowest-ranking enlisted men. For most servicemen and service women the bill would be the second pay raise in a year. Congress enacted a $1.2 billion raise last year, putting it into effect October 1.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where they was building some Army barracks at Fort Jackson in South Carolina and the low bid come from a large local contractery. The second low bid was from a small contracter in another state and it was $97,000 higher than the low bid. The clerks in one of them Guvernment agencies named the Small Business Administration throwed out the low bid and paid the $97,000 difference to the next bidder. They claimed the low bidder was too big to qualify fer the bidding. The taxpayers lost $97,000 but after all, Mister Editor, it ain't nothing but money and don't belong to nobody but us.

Then I was reading this piece where the U. S. Treasury said they could save $35 million in a year on their printing bill if folks didn't object to $2 bills. Personal I think the taxpayers would stand fer a heap of objecting to save $35 million. Farthermore, a $2 bill would come in mighty handy these days fer buying a dollar's worth of anything. I hate to say it, Mister Editor, but I've got down to the place where I'm willing fer the wimmen to take over the Guvernment and try running it fer a spell. They couldn't do no worse.

A statement like that would've got me hung to the nearest tree 50 year ago, but wimmen has been coming along fast. I recollect when I was a boy they would say a feller was about to "commit matrimony," and you'd hear tell that a feller had put on the "matrimony harness." You don't hear that kind of talk no more, and in them wedding writeups in the papers you have to look in the fine print to see if the groom was present fer the event.

They say wimmen own 85 per cent of all the wealth in this country, and I was noting this piece in the papers from the Census Bureau where 23 million out of the 43 million homes in America now has a wife bringing in a regular paycheck. It could be that the wimmen would look after our dollars a little better in Washington and I'm in favor of giving 'em the chanct.

But I don't aim to put this item on the agenda at the country store Saturday night. Most of the fellers there was old fashioned and still claims a woman's place was in the home. Some of 'em don't even know they has took the word "housewife" out of the dictionery. I recollect back during the last war, when the OPA took the tax off rubber tires on baby carriages, the wimmen bombarded the Congress and got it took off the carriages too. I allowed at the time as how it proved the power of wimmen. But Ed Doolittle claimed the Congress was just playing it cozy and was trying to keep new taxpayers coming along. The only way wimmen will ever git a fair hearing at the country store, Mister Editor, is to let my old lady set in on one of the sessions.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

BIBLE VERSE TO STUDY

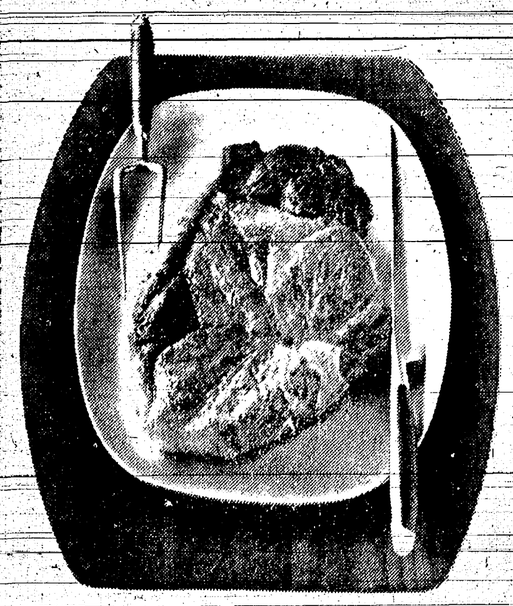

"And he buried him in a valley in the land of Moab, over against Bethpeor: but no man knoweth of his sepulchre unto this day."

1. To whom does this verse refer?
2. Where is it found in the Bible?
3. Who were the Moabites?
4. Was the land of Moab a part of the "promised land?"

YOUR VOTE COUNTS

Every election time some of us stay home from the polls simply because we think: "What does one little vote matter?"

Here's what—

One vote elected Rutherford B. Hayes as president.

One vote put the congressman in office who was responsible for the one vote that elected Hayes.

One electoral vote put Jefferson in the president's chair.

One vote did the same for John Quincy Adams.

Here's a clincher — Hitler's reign resulted from — you guessed it — one vote.

Chelsea Teacher Takes Part in Olivet Education Workshop

George Marshall, Chelsea High school teacher, was one of 80 participants in the 21st Michigan Economic Education Workshop at Olivet College.

Jointly sponsored by the Olivet College Community Education department Michigan State University and the Michigan Council on Economic Education, this workshop's aim is to improve economic education in schools and universities.

Theral T. Herrick, executive director of the Michigan Council on Economic Education, was the workshop director.

The workshop staff points out that if America's free competitive economy is to survive, every citizen must have a knowledge of how the economy works and how it compares with other economies. Unfortunately, they say, many adults have never been exposed to formal education in economics and many of the students in our schools today are still not receiving even elementary instruction in this most critical subject. The simple fact is that a large percentage of the teachers in our elementary and secondary schools are not prepared to teach economic education.

Visiting guest lecturers at the workshop included; Howard J. Stoddard, chairman of the board Michigan National Bank; Lewis Lloyd, economist, Dow Chemical Company; Gerald Cummings, instructor of economics, General Motors Institute; Dana Rose, assistant vice president, Michigan Bell Telephone Company; George Kaufman, economist, Federal Reserve Bank in Chicago; and many other notable persons in their respective fields.

Recreational Planning for Federal Aid

Lansing — All-out efforts are being made by the Conservation Department to come up with a preliminary recreation plan for the state which could put Michigan in line to receive more than $1 million in federal funds early next year.

Hopefully, the money would be provided under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Bill which reportedly is an odds-on choice to pass Congress in the next few weeks.

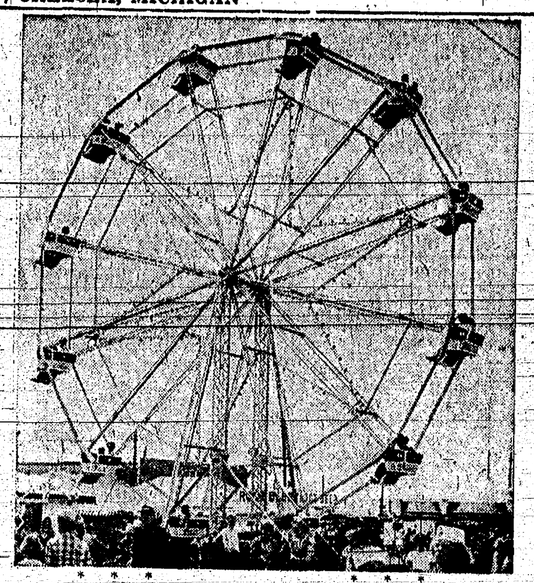

It calls for making funds available to states on a matching basis to underwrite their planning, acquisition, and development of recreational lands. To qualify for these funds, each state must formulate a comprehensive plan which will document its leisure-time needs and spell out ways to meet them.

In shaping such a plan for this state, the Department has made a $70,000 grant to Michigan State University for carrying out a needs-and-demands study which will project future trends in recreation.

Also, the Department will soon undertake an inventory of all publicly-owned water frontage in the state to measure and pinpoint the quality and potential of these holdings for recreation. It will supplement a survey already completed which classifies some four million acres of state forest lands according to their uses.

With the prospect of more federal money in the offing, Director Ralph A. MacMullan has cited the need for increasing the Department's recreational staff as part of its "be prepared" approach to handling the expansion of recreational facilities.

He reports the Department will soon bring before the Conservation Commission a proposed policy statement describing its responsibilities in recreational programming.

Ferris Wheel Still Remains One of Most Popular Rides

No midway in America could be considered complete without two traditional rides, the ferris wheel and the merry-go-round, the two oldest in history yet regarded as the most popular of all devices. While the merry-go-round was the first, making its debut at the Worlds Fair in Paris, France, in 1874, the Ferris wheel dates back to 1893 when the promoters of the Columbian Exposition, otherwise known as the Chicago World's Fair, were looking for a really outstanding attention getter.

George Washington Ferris, an engineer, designed what originally was to be a vertical merry-go-round, yet so huge it could carry 36 people in one car and each carrier as large as the now obsolete street cars. It could carry 2,160 persons on just one trip.

The axle or hub measured 33.5 inches in diameter and was 44.6 feet long. This was by far the largest single piece of steel ever to be forged in all times up to then and the ride took nearly a full year to construct.

The ride was an instant success, in fact it grossed more than one million dollars at an admission of 50 cents per person, truly an exorbitant figure when most attractions at that time could exact but five cents for their own rides.

After the Chicago Fair it was dismantled and taken to St. Louis, Mo., celebrating the anniversary of the Louisiana Purchase. Later it was sold for junk as there were no more large Fairs in the immediate future.

A bridge building concern later developed a way to make the wheel portable, using spans like those found on many of our present day bridges, using bolts instead of welding, and today's Ferris wheel like the one coming with the Gooding Amusement Co. to the Chelsea Community Fair can be erected or dismantled in less than three hours.

Tax Fighter Goes After Court Post

BY PATRICK JARVIE
EASTERN MICHIGAN NEWS BUREAU

FLINT — A judge who has been called a "one-man army" against city income taxes is seeking election to the new Michigan Court of Appeals.

Judge Donald R. Freeman, a member of Flint's Municipal Court, successfully led the fight against an income tax that would have put an additional burden on the paychecks of city residents and those who live in the suburbs.

FREEMAN

It was Judge Freeman's contention that such a tax was illegal, and his group not only defeated it in an election, but also carried a fight to the Michigan Supreme Court after the Flint City Commission had passed it over the voters' "veto."

Judge Freeman's fight not only was successful, but the voters were given a sudden windfall — the refund of more than two million dollars after the court victory.

Judge Freeman's entire career has been marked by his fighting for the rights of the average consumer and voter.

He has been a constant foe of consumer frauds and juvenile delinquency, and has been honored for his work in both fields.

Voters who would like to see this kind of a judge on the new Appeals Court bench are urged to cast their ballots for Judge Donald R. Freeman, who seeks election in the primary Sept. 1.

These voters can find his name on the non-partisan ballot and can help promote this man — a judge who is known as a fighter for the people.

ARE YOU 'THE RIGHT MAN' WE ARE SEEKING IN YOUR COMMUNITY?

If you are this man, you can substantially increase your income by working full or part time as our representative in your own community—introducing to your fellow-citizens an outstanding plan for retirement income. ☐ To people who are thinking of and/or planning for retirement, this type of insurance is of extreme interest—for it supplements Social Security payments and assures greater financial independence after retirement. Because its benefits are so readily apparent, this program practically sells itself—as evidenced by the fact that in the last year, retirement-minded citizens across the nation bought policies of this kind valued in billions. ☐ The man we are seeking to represent our fast-growing, Michigan-based company must be of good character and reputation in the community, sincerely interested in serving his fellow-citizens and willing to work hard. If you think you are our "right man," please reply to the address below, enclosing a brief biography covering your educational background and business or professional experience and also a small photograph of yourself which cannot be returned.

BILLIARDS GAIN POPULARITY: Recognizing that billiards is rapidly becoming a family recreation across the entire nation, Chelsea Lanes has installed four pocket billiards tables in the area formerly used as lunch room facilities. The game has already attracted the interest of many area young people since installation of the tables at Chelsea Lanes and it is believed many others will avail themselves of the opportunity to play and develop their skill in the game made available for them in a well-supervised play area. An indication of the growing popularity of the game is the fact that one firm reported selling 20,000 of the billiard tables for home installation during the Christmas season last year.

Guests at Monday's meeting, held in the social center of the Methodist church, were John Merkel, Dr. Bruce Stubbs and Dean W. Fowler, who is home from Anchorage Alaska, where he is stationed for military service.

Kiwanians discussed plans for a booth at the Community Fair and final arrangements for the Kids' Day project held yesterday in connection with the Chelsea Community Fair.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Lillian Lingane, formerly of Chelsea, has been moved from Northwest Convalescent Home to Ryan Convalescent Home, 1802 Chapin St., corner of Pleasnat St., in Jackson, and is permitted to have as many visitors as she wishes.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Adam Alber were her granddaugher and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Spicer and four children, of Lake Orion. They were accompanied by three children who are friends of the family. The Spicers brought a picnic dinner which all enjoyed at the Alber home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beutler were in Flint Saturday to attend the wedding of their grandson, Rodney A. Beutler, and Donna Jean Seymour. The ceremony took place at 2 p.m. at the Court Street Methodist church. The bridegroom, an Airman E3, USN, is stationed at North Island, San Diego, Calif. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Beutler of Ypsilanti. The Walter Beutlers were accompanied to the wedding by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Butler of Ann Arbor.

Samborn Urges Senior Citizens To Help Public

"Despite the healthy condition of the State General Fund, I can find little genuine satisfaction with a tax system which forces our older citizens who are on a fixed income to either oppose needed educational advances or vote themselves an even more unbearable tax burden."

Speaking before the residents of the Chelsea Methodist Home Monday night, Albert J. Samborn, candidate for State Representative from the 51st district, called for a realistic approach to fiscal reform and an easing of the staggering burden on the property-tax payer. The veteran broadcaster and newsmen also encouraged his audience at the Methodist Home to "get into the flow of community activity and politics, and contribute your years of experience to the important decision-making which affects us all." Samborn told the Senior Citizens that they should be a vital part of the "citizens lobby approach to representative decision-making." He added, "Not only is your 'special interest' of importance, but your wealth of years of decision-making can help in serving the public interest on the middle ground of reason."

Samborn again expressed his intention of forming a "citizens lobby," representative of the 51st district, to assure, as he put it, "decision-making in the middle ground of reason where we find the public interest."

Samborn seeks the Republican nomination for State Representative from the 51st district in the Sept. 1 primary election.

California Vacation

Mrs. J. B. Casey returned last week from an eight-day visit to California where she joined relatives of her nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Woods Karpinski of LaJolla, for a visit to see the Karpinskis' daughter, Maya Luisa, born July 21.

The baby is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elwyn Karpinski of LaJolla and Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Fernandez, also of LaJolla.

Announcement of the birth in the San Diego Union, a newspaper published there, commented that the baby's great-grandmother, Sra. Rafael Fernandez-MacGregor, and a great-aunt, Sra. Rodolfo Maza, both of Mexico City, also were visitors and explained that Sra. Fernandez-Macgregor is the widow of the man who was involved for many years in the border negotiations between the United States and Mexico and who, during the last Roosevelt administration went to Washington, D.C., as the envoy of the president of Mexico for the signing of a treaty culminating that work.

Mrs. Casey made the trip to California by jet plane. Enroute home she stopped in Chicago for a two-day visit with her brother, Dr. Robert W. Karpinski.

"JAYCEES OFFICERS CONFERENCE: Present for a Michigan Jaycees District V Officers Conference Tuesday evening, Aug. 18, at the American Legion clubhouse at Cavanaugh Lake were the Chelsea Jaycees president, Ed Aiken, at left, Ric Creswell of Tecumseh, District IV vice president; Merritt Martin of Saline, United States Jaycees vice-president; Mel Willet of Adrian, 1963 District IV vice-president; and Dan Maroney of Chelsea, District V vice-president. Officers were present from Jaycees chapters at Ann Arbor, Brighton, Chelsea, Dexter, Howell, Milan, Manchester, Saline, Ypsilanti, and Whitmore Lake. Creswell, Willet and Martin were special guests at the conference. At the conclusion of group conferences, Willet spoke on the subject of the 10 basic principles for chapter development. A highlight of the meeting was the decision for a Labor Day district project — providing free refreshments for motorists from 3 p.m. until dusk at the I-94 rest area near Baker Rd. Ken Noble of Chelsea and Don Cheatham of Dexter were appointed to serve on a liaison committee of 11 to carry out the project.

Jaycees Attend State Summer Board Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Maroney, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Steinaway, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Branham, Chelsea Jaycee President Ed Akin and Vice-President Arthur Stoll were at Alma Friday and Saturday to attend the State Jaycee summer board meeting.

Maroney is Jaycee District V vice-president.

Highlights of the two-day meeting were an executive committee dinner Friday evening; a men's board meeting Saturday morning; a men's luncheon Saturday noon; and a key man's luncheon for all state officers and local presidents, sponsored by the Mott Foundation.

Ed Akin and Daniel Maroney were among the 200 officers who attended.

The program presented at the key man's luncheon pertained to school system improvement, particularly in the areas of juvenile delinquency problems and adult education promotion.

Workshops Saturday afternoon stressed the following subjects — governmental affairs, ways and means, public relations, records and recognition, chapter and individual development, first timers' forum, youth and sports and membership orientation.

It was announced that the Jaycees' national convention in 1965 will be held at Buffalo, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. George Knoll attended the wedding of the latter's niece, Nancy Miller, and Thomas Rosel at the North Parma church Saturday afternoon. They also attended the wedding reception held later in Jackson.

French Dukes Will Appear in Giant Parade

and a band concert by the Chelsea High School Band at 7:30 p.m.

Highlights of Saturday's Fair events include the appearance in the afternoon parade of a special competitive drill team from Ann Arbor, called the "French Dukes."

The 20 young men in the group are Ann Arbor high school students, outfitted in military style uniforms. They have appeared at Elks' conventions in Baltimore and Detroit and have won two national and four state championships.

The Jackson Zouaves, who will be in Saturday's parade, also will appear in the evening program at the fair.

The present American Legion Zouaves Drill Team is composed of World War I, World II and Korean War Veterans of the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force, and all are members of Richard F. Smith Post 29 of Jackson.

Membership in the Zouaves is voluntary and engaged in as a hobby. All of the men on the team have regular full time occupations, representing a cross section of business and industry in Jackson.

The Zouaves perform their exhibition, an intricate series of close order drill formations, interspersed with rifle manuals, at an amazing cadence of 300 steps per minute; nearly three times the regular military marching cadence of 120.

William Blaess, Chelsea Community Fair president, said yesterday that if the distribution of registration cards is any indication, there should be a greater than ever number of exhibits of all kinds at this year's fair.

The restaurant in the old Red School building on the grounds is a busy place — meals and short orders are served all day from 7 a.m. until midnight all four days of the fair.

In charge of the restaurant are Mrs. Fred Klink, Sr., and Mrs. Donovan Sweeny, assisted by Mrs. Viola Lindow and Mrs. Jo Bresten and many volunteer workers.

Proceeds of the restaurant project helps defray Fair expenses.

If the weather is favorable, this year's fair is expected to draw a record number of visitors.

1965 Wheat Program Signup Underway at ASC Office

The signup for the 1965 wheat program is now underway at the ASCS County Office, Max M. Kalmbach, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee, has announced. The signup will extend over a period of about five weeks, he said —from Aug. 24 through Oct. 2. Applications to take part in the program may be filed any working day, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The chairman emphasized that wheat program is not automatic —the signup is the first step to qualifying for any of the program's benefits. Participating farmers can get about the same returns from the 1965 program as they received from the 1964 program, and may get more by using new options that will enable many producers to adapt the program more closely to their farming operations.

Growers who are interested in any of the program's new provisions should ask how these would affect their operations at the time of signing up.

These new provisions include substitution of wheat for feed grains or feed grains or feed grains for wheat in the diversion program, the establishment of an oats-rye base for the farm, and overseeding the wheat allotment and storing the excess under bond.

In general, growers will qualify for a price-support loan and for marketing certificates by keeping within the farm wheat allotment for the participating farm and for any other farm in which they have an interest, keeping within all other allotments set for the participating farm, diverting an acreage equal to at least 11.11 percent of the farm allotment to an approved conserving use (in addition to the farm's conserving base), and meeting other overall provisions of the program.

Loans will average $1.25 per bushel nationally. Domestic certificates will be worth 75 cents per bushel (on as much as 45 percent of the allotment's normal production); and export certificates will be worth 30 cents a bushel (on as much as 35 percent of the allotment's normal production).

To qualify for diversion payments, the participating grower will also under produce his allotment by at least 10 percent and devote those acres to approved conserving uses. These payments will be based on 60 percent of the county price-support loan rate and the normal yield for the farm.

Lyndon Democrats Will Meet Candidates Saturday Evening

John McGill, Lyndon township Democratic Committee chairman and candidate for the Democratic nomination as county clerk, announced yesterday that a "meet-the-candidates" gathering will be held at Lyndon Township Hall following the Democratic caucus scheduled to take place at the hall Saturday evening.

All Democratic candidates have been invited, those having indicated they will be there including William Dannemiller and Elwyn Fatchett, candidates for state senator from the 18th District; Gerald Faye and Weston Vivian, candidates for Congress in the Second District; Brian Lavan and John Desh, candidates for state representative from the 51st District; and others.

Among the latter are Juanita M. Mansfield, seeking nomination as register of deeds, and Arthur Sinsar, seeking nomination as county treasurer.

Also expected are Douglas Harvey, seeking nomination as sheriff candidate; Richard Nash, drain commissioner; and Edward Jones, county surveyor.

Representatives of Senator Philip Hart and Neil Staebler, seeking the Democratic nomination as candidate for governor, are also expected to be present.

THANK YOU

The cards, gifts, flowers and calls I received and the good wishes expressed by my friends and neighbors on the occasion of my 90th birthday helped make the day a very enjoyable one. I deeply appreciate all these remembrances and say "thank you, sincerely" to each of you.

Mrs. Robert Stephen Walters

Linda Fisher, Robert Walters Exchange Vows at St. Paul's

Linda Ann Fisher and Robert Stephen Walters of Ann Arbor exchanged nuptial vows at a 4 o'clock ceremony Saturday afternoon before the Rev. Paul M. Schnake at St. Paul's United Church of Christ.

Donald Bussler was the soloist for the occasion. He sang "O Perfect Love" and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Eugene Fisher and the late Mr. Fisher, was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Joseph V. Fisher.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Walters of White Plains, N.Y.

The bride's floor-length wedding gown was fashioned of cloud white organza over taffeta with a fitted bodice. Appliques of Venise lace accented the shallow scoop neckline and a band of matching lace at the waistline extended down the front of the skirt. Controlled skirt fullness at the hipline extended into a full chapel train with a flat Dior bow adding back interest. Her elbow-length bouffant veil was of imported silk illusion and was held in place with a pillbox headpiece of organza matching her gown and trimmed with appliques of lace and tiny seed pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of Duchess roses and ivy.

Christine Fisher, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her floor-length gown was white Venise lace over azure blue taffeta. Style features included a bateau neckline, cap sleeves and blue taffeta at the waistline ending in a flat bow at the center back. Her headpiece was of matching azure blue taffeta trimmed with a tiny fabric rose, velvet leaves and a circlet of veiling. She carried white fugi mums and blue stephanotis with ivy.

Bridesmaids, in costumes matching that of the maid of honor, were Barrie Fisher, a cousin of the bride, Diane Gary of Riker Rd., and Mrs. William O. Muenchinger of Ann Arbor.

The bride's mother, wearing an azure blue silk dress and matching accessories, and the bridegroom's mother in light blue brocade trimmed with satin, and using white accessories, each had a corsage of philanopsis orchids.

G. K. Walters of Houston, Tex., assisted his brother as best man. Ushers included James Wyllie of Port Huron, Daniel Heeke of Marysville, and Glenn A. Wilt, Jr., of Tempe, Ariz.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors and at 7:30 in the evening out-of-town guests and relatives were entertained at a buffet supper at the Fisher home on Freer Rd.

Susan Steger was in charge of the guest book. Others who assisted included Mrs. Paul Anderson of Ludington, Susan Cryderman and Meredith Menzies, both of Ann Arbor, and Kay Runciman.

Following a four-day trip to Chicago, the couple now resides at 929 Greenwood, Apt. 1, Ann Arbor. For going away the bride wore a light blue two-piece dress with black patent accessories. Her corsage was a single white philanopsis orchid.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school and the University of Michigan School of Nursing. She was a member of Gamma Phi Beta social sorority. She is now employed as a graduate nurse at University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom, a graduate of White Plains High school, White Plains, N.Y., received his bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Michigan and is studying for his doctorate in political science. He will be a teaching fellow in the political science department at the University of Michigan this fall.

The bridegroom's parents entertained at a rehearsal dinner held Friday evening at Schuler's restaurant in Jackson.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride included a linen shower given by Mrs. Kenneth Runciman and Mrs. Armin Schneider; a miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Dudley Homes; a miscellaneous shower by Diane Gary and Mrs. William Muenchinger; and a cookware shower by friends in Scarsdale, N.Y.

40th ANNIVERSARY HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schairer of Ann Arbor were guests of honor at a dinner held Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer in observance of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Guests at the dinner, in addition to the Schairers, were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lindauer.

SHRINKING SILHOUETTES

The TOPS group known as Shrinking Silhouettes, honored one of their number at a personal shower held Aug. 19 at a beach party at Independence Lake. There were 13 members and seven guests present. The shower is given members in recognition of reaching a certain goal in weight loss.

At the Aug. 19 meeting Mrs. Elmer Schneider was designated "queen" for the day for having registered the greatest weight loss since the previous meeting.

The Aug. 26 meeting was to be held at the home of Mrs. Chris Fitzsimmons and the Sept. 2 meeting is scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Roy Couch, 3415 Porter Ave., Ann Arbor.

Members are planning to participate in the Chelsea Community Fair parade Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Pommerening

Open House Reception To Honor Pommerenings' 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Pommerening will be honored Sunday when their family hosts an open house reception in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Their family includes a daughter, Margaret, of Ann Arbor; and a son and his family, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Pommerening and sons, Robert, Richard, James, John and Thomas of Seattle, Wash. All will be present Sunday.

The open house, to which all their friends and neighbors are invited will be held at the Pommerening home at 11490 Old US-12, East, from 2 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Pommerening were married Sept. 2, 1914, at the home of Mrs. Pommerening's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Kuebler, in Freedom township. The late Dr. Frederick Meyer, pastor of Bethel church at the time, officiated at the ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pommerening are descendants of pioneer families in this area.

Mr. Pommerening's parents, August and Matilda Wruck Pommerening came to Ann Abor from Germany and he was born there 71 years ago. His mother, now 96, still lives in Ann Arbor.

The Alvin Pommerenings made their home in Ann Arbor following their marriage, moving to Chelsea in 1943. They have retained active membership at Bethlehem United Church of Christ, Ann Arbor, throughout their married life.

Mrs. Pommerening, 72, is the former Helen Kuebler, a daughter of Christian and Margaret Staebler Kuebler, and was born in Freedom township.

Mr. Pommerening has been a real estate broker, specializing in farm lands, for the past 46 years.

While the Pommerenings' 50th wedding anniversary occurs next Wednesday, Sept. 2, the open house is being held Sunday, Aug. 30; their son and his family, who are spending this week here, will return to Seattle the first of the week.

You spend too much money on carpet to make mistakes.

Make no mistake. Our special Lees carpets are extraordinary values!

Carpet requires a healthy investment of money. The mistakes you make you'll have to live with a long time. So don't make them.

Don't make the mistake of economizing with cheap carpet. You'll be replacing it (or kicking yourself) very soon.

Don't make the mistake of buying on hearsay. What was good enough for Aunt Millie may not be good enough for you.

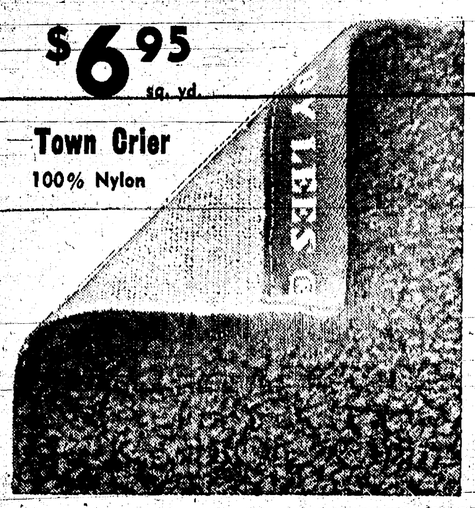

Don't make the mistake of buying only on looks.

A pretty face can fool you in carpet, too. You can't tell how good the yarns are. And the dyes. And the back.

We sell the finest carpets made: Lees. We're trained to install them properly. We stand behind every Lees carpet we sell. So does Lees.

If you are about to buy a carpet, we urge you to come in and inspect these fine Lees carpets. (The price difference? How much face yarn. How thick, how dense the weave.)

REPLACING NARROW BRIDGE: Ready to be be installed on McKinley Rd., is this huge culvert which will replace the portable footbridge and the old narrow vehicular bridge over Mill Creek. The culvert is 60 feet long, 14 feet 3 inches wide and 8 feet deep. It had been planned to have the culvert completed early this summer but work was delayed because of the prolonged strike of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. workers — a gas line under the foot bridge had to be relocated. Walter Lewis, maintenance superintendent of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, who is in charge of installation of the new culvert, said traffic will probably need to be detoured no longer than one day when the old bridge is removed and scrapped. The portable footbridge will be dismantled and reserved for use elsewhere. Six men and a mobile crane will drop the huge pipe in place — either the end of this week or early next week, if weather remains favorable. Traffic will be permitted as soon as the pipe is covered with sand and gravel and head walls and guard rails are in place. Standing in the opening of the pipe are Cheryl Wilkerson, daughter of Bill and Ruth Wilkerson (left) and Bonnie Alber, daughter of Robert and Geneva Alber of Jackson who was visiting the Wilkersons.

4-H Club State Show Starts Aug. 31

Michigan's State 4-H Show has become more than an agricultural fair for youth. It's an educational event covering many areas that extend beyond the farmer's line fence and into the urban areas of cities.

Nearly 3,000 young people — the cream of Michigan's 4-H crop — will visit Michigan State University for the 49th annual State 4-H Show, Aug. 31—Sept. 3. Washtenaw county will have about 150 members with entries in the statewide exhibit.

This year's program will be different than in previous years. Effective with the 1964 show there will be market livestock classes in beef, sheep or swine. According to Ralph Morrow, extension animal husbandman at MSU, the decision was reached because the number of county market livestock shows and sales has increased significantly in recent years. Then too, county market programs are stronger at this time of the year than is the show and sale at State Show.

Educational events make up the core of the activities for 4-H'ers. In addition to dog care and training exhibitions, tours to the Michigan Department of Agriculture laboratories, poultry research building, and foods-nutrition action exhibits will keep youth abreast of new projects in agriculture science.

Co-Op Hunting Program Open For Enrollment

Lansing — Southern Michigan landowners have another chance to do a good turn for themselves, sportsmen, and wildlife management by enrolling in this fall's co-operative hunting club program.

Through mid-September, the Conservation Department is taking applications from farmers who want to pool their adjoining lands into clubs where controlled public hunting will be allowed during the 1964 shooting seasons.

Under this program, often referred to as the "Williamston Plan," co-operating clubs set their own hunter quotas and keep gun pressure at the desired level by issuing a limited number of tickets.

In this way, each club member plays a lead role in providing sportsmen with places to hunt and promoting an orderly harvest of game while curbing hunter trespass problems.

Enrollment applications are available from the Department's game section in Lansing.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION

by M. L. Woell

★ Lower Priced Wheat, Higher Priced Flour

"I am puzzled by your remarks concerning wheat farmers' income, which you say has been shrunken by government programs now in effect," writes an editor whose newspaper regularly carries this column.

"You say wheat sold for $2 per bushel last year, but this year is bringing farmers only $1.16 to $1.80 — also that the price of flour has jumped and soon will be reflected in the price of bread," the editor wrote.

What bothered him was — if the farm price of wheat was down compared to last year, how come the price of flour and bread were up?— and what did government programs have to do with all this?

The answer is— everything.

By enacting the same Wheat Certificate plan which farmers had refused in nation-wide referendum, the Congress turned loose on farmers an economic chain-reaction with many not-so-apparent side effects. Higher priced bread is part of it.

Last year millers paid $1.00 for a bushel of No. 2 hard red milling wheat on a typical August day in Kansas City. This year on the same date, that same type of wheat sold to mills for $1.53½ per bushel. Many factors entered to make it that high compared to Michigan farm prices, supply-demand for this particular kind of wheat and transportation differentials are involved.

To this year's base price of $1.53½, the miller must pay the government another 70 cents per bushel for a "milling certificate" as required under the new wheat program. This brings his per-bushel price to $2.23½ or roughly 25 cents more per bushel than last year.

People often forget that it takes more than 100 pounds of wheat to produce 100 pounds of flour. It takes 141 pounds of the raw wheat to make 100 pounds of the finished product.

Last year at this time, flour was selling at $6.17 per hundred weight. On the same day this year, it sold for $6.80 — a difference of 63 cents.

Somebody is going to pay the difference. You are. And that is today's example of how government interference with the market can cause farmers to get less for something that will cost you more.

Some of the current movies are convincing the meekest of us that we really could become great actors and actresses.

Water Toll Hits 226 for Sharp Jump

Michigan's water toll for the year has increased to 226 deaths in 439 accidents the State Police report. Another 157 persons have been injured.

Deaths increased 42, or 23 percent, over last year's toll of 184 through the nearly comparable period ending Aug. 15. On the same comparative basis accidents were up 47 or 12 percent, over last year's figure of 392.

The breakdown on drownings in accidents on which official reports have been received includes 104 swimmers or waders, 25 boat passengers, 2 boat-operators, 19 who fell from bridges, banks, docks, or piers, nine who fell through ice, three who attempted to rescue others, two skin or Scuba divers, one water skier and one who fell into a caisson.

Official reports have not been received on 38 drownings.

Michigan State Fair Celebrating 115th Anniversary

Lansing — Michigan's biggest agricultural exhibit of the year gets underway Friday, Aug. 28, as the gates of the Michigan State Fair at Detroit swing open for a full two-weeks.

The 1964 State Fair marks its 115th anniversary of exhibiting livestock, agricultural products and handicrafts of Michigan farms. Augmenting the exhibits are the midway attractions, big-name entertainers and auto races.

While the state fair begins in Detroit, at least 10 county fairs will be in progress at communities throughout the state during the week-end of Aug. 29-30, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Also scheduled throughout the week-end is the International Arts Festival at Interlochen and the continuing Art Exhibit at Saugatuck.

At Wayland, the Cowbell Festival and Community Fair concludes on Saturday, and a horse-pulling contest is scheduled at Germfask on Sunday.

Copies of the Michigan Calendar of Events are available free of charge by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 48926.

Treasurer's Office Publishes Folder On 'Tax Facts'

A pamphlet, entitled "Tax Facts," prepared by the office of County Treasurer Sylvester A. Leonard to answer amny of the questions commonly asked, is now available free on the first floor of the County Building at Ann Arbor. A total of 10,000 copies have been prepared for distribution with the co-operation of Gerad Roberts, account examiner in the treasurer's office working with the Conservation Department and the state auditor-general's office.

The pamphlet is written in a form easily understandable by the average layman, explaining current taxes, delinquent taxes, tax sales, privileges of former owners in recovering property vested in the state, tax-reverted land sales, certain so-called soldiers' exemption and other details.

The pamphlets explained who in Washtenaw county collects the taxes, when and for what purpose, and when they are due in each locality. It tells the penalties for not paying taxes on time and how the boards of review operate.

Delinquent taxes are explained; how you can lose your property if you fail to pay your taxes for three straight years; how you may get your property back, if the state acquires title to it through a default in tax payments; and, in a final section, how some veterans may be eligible for up to $2,000 in tax free property.

It was pointed out that future taxpayers also may find the book interesting, classes studying courses in economics might want enough copies to supply the entire class.

REPORT ON RUSSIA

U. Thant, Secretary General of the United Nations reported that the Soviet Union is sticking to its decision not to pay the $52,600,000 it owes for United Nations peacekeeping operations. He said that Khrushchev seemed sincere in his desire to strengthen the United Nations, but his approach to the problem was different from other member states.

County Goals Conference Slated Wednesday, Sept. 3

Population forecasts indicate that as many as 800,000 people will be living in Washtenaw county in 1980—or well over 100,000 more people than live here today.

How and where will this influx of people be housed? What will Washtenaw county be like in 1980? Will the people of the county be happy with the changes that will occur in the next 10 or 15 years? What goals should be aimed at so as to insure that the future will bring the greatest benefits to the county as a whole, including both the rural and urban sections?

These are some of the questions which will be discussed at an all-day, county-wide conference on "Washtenaw Development Goals: Cities, Villages, Townships and County" sponsored by the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission. The date is Wednesday, Sept. 30. The place is the Michigan Union in Ann Arbor, and registration time is 9 a.m. The conference will be open to all interested citizens.

One of the features will be a panel discussion in the morning session on "What's Important in Shaping Our Future. Environm and Who Should Decide?" Key ficials from throughout the co have been invited to particip in this panel.

At the afternoon session, of the main items will be the sentation of design alternat for residential goals. According Robert D. Carpenter, County P ning Director, "many people become disillusioned about type of residential environ that is emerging, here in Was naw county and thoughout U. S. The question is whether developers have given the cons er what the consumer really w —or simply produced a pro which the typical buyer acce because there were no reason alternatives."

If growing Washtenaw count to become a better place to development must be directed ward some agreed upon goals, ward some picture of what the ture environment should be

The Sept. 30 goals confere should act to stimulate public bate on this important subject.

EMMA GOODWIN, Township Clerk

Study Continues on Portage, Base Lakes Dam Project

A joint committee from the Washtenaw and Livingston County Boards of Supervisors last Thursday directed the drain commissioners of the two counties to pursue the Portage and Base Lakes dam project which is now in the engineering stage.

The joint group and representatives of the state Department of Conservation, the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority, and the University of Michigan, reviewed and approved the work of engineers to date on a plan to place a dam approximately 500 feet downstream from the outlet of Portage Lake.

Ray Smit, project engineer from the Ann Arbor firm of Ayers Lewis Norris and May, said the dam will have two functions: to control the lake levels and to avoid property damage from flooding.

The dam is sought by property owners on Portage and Base lakes who suggested in their petition to the county the dam location now under consideration.

John Flook, Washtenaw drain commissioner, pointed out that the dam project was first brought up in 1947, after severe floods that year. A lake level was established by the Circuit Court in 1949, but it has never been maintained because of a lack of control such as a dam.

Previous dam proposals have never been implemented because of the dissention among the petitioners and other factions concerned, Flook said.

Pieter G. V. Thomassen, attorney for the lake property owners, who petitioned during the last year, said that the petitioners representing ownership or 1,100 parcels on the lakes want a dam for three reasons, flood control, health, and for maintenance of the lake level. he said that in addition to providing flood control, the dam would increase accessibility from the river into Base and the chain of lakes during low flow periods.

William Besenik, spokesman for owners of 16 properties on the Huron River downstream from the proposed dam site, said the river people were concerned over the riparian rights and their ability to get from the river into the chain of lakes. This group feels that there are more acceptable alternate plans such as a drainage ditch from Portage Lake to the river, he said.

He said, "We feel that the Portage Lake people are trying to prevent others from using their lake. We are being forced to challenge this. This is an important part of Washtenaw county."

Smit outlined plans for a mechanical operation in conjunction with the dam which will allow larger boats than now can negotiate the waters to go from the river into Base and the lakes beyond. He said the dam will enhance the scenic area if it is properly implemented.

He pointed out to the river group spokesman that "as you locate the dam farther away from Portage Lake, you lessen its ability to control the lake level."

Flook said that Thursday's meeting was held only for the supervisors and the other affected governmental units to see what is being contemplated. The lakes and river group spokesmen were invited to make statements after six persons from the river group appeared at Tuesday's session of the Washtenaw board to protest the dam location.

The drain commissioner said that the location determination will be made by the two boards of supervisors which are acting on the petition of the lakes property owners. The specific site now under study is being considered because it was proposed in the petition, he said.

Flook further pointed out that a public hearing will be held after the completed project proposal has been approved by the two counties. He said at that time any affected person will be entitled to question the validity of the entire project.

Free Lessons in weaving on hand looms will be given in the Home Arts Building at the Michigan State Fair which opens Friday, Aug. 28, through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

RANGER PROGRAM'S COST

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has stated that the total cost of the Ranger program to study the moon photographically will be $260,000,000. The Ranger 7 mission alone is $28,000,000. The development program started in 1960. The agency asked for and was authorized to spend $10,800,000 in the current fiscal year.

Daily free lessons in cake-decorating will be given in the Home Arts Building at the Michigan State Fair, Aug. 28 through Sept. 7, by Richard V. Snyder, author of four books on the subject.

Archers May Hunt Deer at Fort Custer

Lansing — Archers have until Sept. 15 to register through the Conservation Department for hunting deer this fall at the Fort Custer Military Reservation near Battle Creek where whitetail concentrations are the highest known in Michigan.

Pre-registration is required to hunt there on week-ends and during the first 10 days of the general Oct. 1-Nov. 5 archery deer season. For each of these days, free hunting permits will be issued by the Department to the first 300 sportsmen who apply for them.

To spread sport among as many hunters as possible, each permit will cover one day only.

During the balance of the season, up to 300 archers a day will be able to get onto the reservation without permits.

Permit applications may now be picked up at license dealers in the Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, and Jackson areas and Department field offices in the Fort Custer vicinity. They are not available at the military reservation.

Anyone asking for these forms through the Department's Lansing office should end pre-stamped, self-addressed envelopes with their requests to insure prompt return mailing.

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

A new wall switch offers a choice in lighting the house. With the three position switch the lights can be off, on dim, or on bright.

They're off, of course, when the room is not in use or during the day. They're on dim for an intimate atmosphere, softening the shadows. They're on bright when looking for an article desperately needed, but not seen.

The three position switch is too much like our religious faith.

It's off when it's not needed. During the time when we can see clearly where we are going, or are not using the "room," who needs it? Maybe going through the motions enough to let God know we're still interested is sufficient. Otherwise it's off.

On dim. There are times when you feel sort of content with everything. It's like sitting in front of a camp fire taking the edge off a chill. Then religious faith can give you a warm comfortable feeling like—"God's in His heaven, all's right with the world."

On bright. Walking along a dark street the corner light looks extra bright. When suddenly we can't see so clearly ahead; when the cozy warmth of a comfortable faith fails us, then we need the bright light to find what is desperately needed. Then the faith has to deliver full wattage.

The three position switch is inexpensive. The cost of Christian faith is you.

OAS AND CUBA

The Organization of American States has imposed strong diplomatic and economic sanctions on Cuba. The American foreign ministers approved a diplomatic break and trade embargo against Cuba and cleared the way for the use of armed force against the Castro regime if it continues subversions against other republics of the hemisphere. The foreign ministers' conference was called at Venezuela's request.

Something for Everybody Promised at 115th State Fair

There'll be something for everybody—and more of it than ever before—at the 115th Michigan State Fair, which will open Friday night, Aug. 28 and runs through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

State Fair officials expect, for the third straight year, more than a million visitors to the 10-day and 11-night extravaganza of entertainment, agricultural and livestock exhibits including great horse shows, displays of the homemaker's arts and youth and children's activities.

And, after the general admission to the Fairgrounds is paid (children 12 and under are free when accompanied by an adult), all but a few of the attractions of the 164-acre Fairgrounds will be free.

The State Fair's schedule of free entertainment is loaded:

—Programs at the Music Shell from morning through the evening will feature big-name stars such as Count Basie and his band, singer Nancy Wilson, the New Christy Minstrels, the Jimmy Wilkins Band, Hitsville, U.S.A., an array of top recording stars, and others.

—In the Coliseum, before the Horse Show events, Grand Old Opry singing stars Faron Young and Buck Owens, and others will perform country and western music.

At the Grandstand three shows daily will feature Castle's International Circus, with clowns, acrobats, aerialists, animals and other specialty acts.

—All over the State Fairfrounds there will be strolling bands offering music from many lands from noon to midnight: Hawaiian, gypsy, ragtime, Balkan, Polish, folk music, Jamaican calypso, square dance, Dixieland, and Greek-Armenian.

Of special appeal to teen-agers will be the Teen-age Fair, with shows and exhibits aimed at them. And there'll be a "We Love You, Beatles" Day, Sunday, Sept. 6 with Beatlemania in the Music Shell.

For the younger children there will be the free TV Fun Circus in the Theater for Children, featuring such TV stars as Captain Jolly, Ricky the Clown, Poopdeck Paul, B'wana Don, Bozo the Clown, Johnny ginger, and Sagebrush Shorty. There'll be shows in the Children's Puppet Theater featuring TV puppet star Howard the Turtle.

The Kiddie Farm area will be a big attraction for the children, and it will be the scene daily of the Junior Jamboree, a big free give away for kids 12 and under, with drawings for junior size Corvetts, puppies, dog food, hams, blouses and candy.

Great attractions each year, of course, are the Horse Shows. This year there will be 15 performances in the Coliseum at which prize horses and their riders will be judged. Free, of course.

The traditional features of the State Fair will be bigger and better than ever, too, including the big Midway, featuring the W. G. Wade Shows, with international rides and other entertainment. There also will be a Junior Midway, designed especially for the kids.

Almost 5,000 head of purebred livestock will be shown—sheep, swine, cattle and horses. The agcultural exhibits — everything from bees to prize crops—have a bigger entry list than ever.

Home arts exhibits, offering the finest efforts of Michigan's homemakers in needlework and other handicrafts, home baking and canning, will be in a new home this year, the fine $600,000 Home Arts Building, just completed, except for its auditorium.

In the Home Arts Building, too, will be an invitational art exhibit featuring some 50 oil and water color paintings by Michigan artists.

With the exhibits, the Home Arts Department has planned a continuous program of demonstrations of such fascinating arts as ice-carving, cake decorating, wig weaving, handweaving, gourmet cooking and china painting. There will be fashion shows and a cookie bake-off.

Every day will be a special day at the State Fair:

Friday, Aug. 28 — Grand Opening Day, with gates opening at 6 p.m. the Grand Opening Parade will start at 8 p.m. in downtown Detroit.

Saturday, Aug. 29 — Veterans Day and International Day.

Sunday, Aug. 30 — Religion Day, annual Sunrise Service at 8 a.m. with Dr. Robert Bruce Pierce, speaker.

Monday, Aug. 31 — Beauty Queens Day, with the state's loveliest girls competing for Miss Michigan State Fair.

Tuesday, Sept. 1 — Children's Day, with contests and events especially designed for the small fry.

Wednesday, Sept. 2 — Old Timers' Day, with a host of special events for senior citizens.

WE DESERVE FULL-TIME REPRESENTATION IN WASHINGTON

During the first five months of this year our present congressman missed 49 per cent of the roll call votes because he was not in attendance.

In contrast, Stan Thayer, as Majority Leader of our State Senate, has been an "overtime" lawmaker in addition to running up a near-perfect attendance record at the Capital in Lansing.

As Governor Romney's chief supporter in the Senate, Stan Thayer has helped develop the outstanding record of bringing Michigan from $83 million in the "red" two years ago to a $48.8 million surplus today.

We Need Leadership of this type in Washington!
