Community Chest Record Shows Continuous Increase in Need

This year marks the 10th anniversary of the Chelsea Community Chest, and a review of annual campaigns for funds compiled by this year's campaign committee shows a steady increase in the amount of funds collected by local and national agencies who are interested in the benefitting groups. Committees point out that this year, as well as an increased awareness of the needs of the unfortunate or underprivileged members of the community, a significant percentage of the citizenry fall into this category the entire community would suffer adverse effects. For example, they point out, if a contagious disease strikes a community and no measures are taken to halt its spread, the entire community would be endangered. By the same token, if the "diseases" of misfortune, etc., of the few are ignored, the well-being of an entire community could become affected to its detriment. "Insurance" against this can be provided by a modest contribution from each of the "healthy" or fortunate citizens, to the Community Chest fund. The goal for the fund has been arrived at by the Commu-

ity Chest Board of Directors and committees through thorough study of the requests for funds and resulting allocations of amounts considered to be Chelsea's fair share. Collections and payments made by Chelsea area people in the early years of the Community Chest program, the campaign committee points out, show "a very big hearted community which actually contributed more than could be used—there were not at that time, the agencies and social organizations in operation to do the job, even with sufficient funds."

Not only have the needs increased with increased population, but also a more effective social service program has been developed throughout the nation. In spite of much higher standards of living by the majority of people, records of the Community Chest show that it is becoming more difficult to raise the funds necessary for the budgeted amounts. A reserve fund set up in the early years of the Community Chest was not used to make up the difference in the amounts collected and the goals set, since it was obvious "to Chest officials and directors that if this were done, the fund would, in a few years, no longer exist. Interest from the fund was used last year to pay campaign expenses, so that every cent collected could be paid to service agencies. The reserve fund, meanwhile, remains as an emergency disaster fund available immediately should Chelsea be faced with a crisis. Chelsea's Community Chest Board carefully reviews all agencies requesting funds to determine that the funds are needed and effectively used. Through this study of the various needs, the Board has stated the opinion that all possible effort must be made to raise the additional funds needed to pay 100 percent of the budgeted amounts this year. For purposes of comparison, the campaign committee quotes the following figures on collections during the past nine years, together with the total amounts paid to benefitting agencies. In 1955 (the first year), $11,897 was collected with $7,430 requested by charitable agencies. In 1956, $12,943 collected and $7,950 paid to benefitting agencies; in 1957, $13,670 collected, $10,700 paid; in 1958, $13,931 collected, $12,986 paid; in 1959, $13,076 collected, $12,807 paid; in 1960, $14,370 collected, $13,910 paid; in 1961, $14,012 collected, $13,008 paid; in 1962, $14,425 collected, $13,691 paid; in 1963, $14,770 collected, $14,957 paid; and for 1964, $14,891 collected and $14,966 paid. As these figures show, there was an excess in early years which was put into a reserve fund which now amounts to $10,000. Each year an expense of approximately $500 is included in campaign costs to cover administration and materials.

For several years past, with the exception of 1963, less than the required amount set as the campaign goal was collected—as a consequence, the amounts paid to benefitting agencies was a percentage of the budgeted amount, figured on the basis of the over-all percentage of the campaign goal that was actually collected. Jack Cattel, campaign chairman, has announced that the campaign this year gets underway with the annual "kick-off" on Oct. 22. The goal for this year is set at $16,200, approximately $1,000 lower than last year.

Bulldogs Lose To 'Very Good' Dundee Team

Face South Lyon League Contest Friday in

Chelsea Bulldogs, in the football game at Dundee last Friday, made only one score in the second half, losing to Dundee by a score of 26-7.

Chelsea scored in each of the quarters, Dundee's Chuck Ellison scored for two touchdowns. Dundee's Larry Gregory scored two. The extra point was good only on Ellison's touchdown and on Gregory's fourth quarter.

Chelsea's touchdown was a joint effort of Mike Kushmaul and Dickson with Gary Dresch kicking the point.

Chelsea had eight first downs as compared to Dundee's 16 and a total of 175 yards while Dundee's total was 287 yards. Chelsea's standout on offense was Chuck Ellison, who had a 25-yard run. Dave Kominek was the defensive standout.

Chelsea's Owen Wireman, Gary Lee and Tom Wojciecki on defense, and Dickson and Dickson on offense, were Chelsea's stars in the Dundee game.

Commenting on the game, Coach Carl said, "They were a good team and made every break they had for a touchdown. We are a little down—but we know that they were good and this is another week and another team with South Lyon just barely defeated Chelsea on a fake field goal which gave them a 9-6 victory over South Lyon. South Lyon's front line anchored by a 250-lb. center.

In order to win we must go around or through the center.

Kiwanis Club Travel Series Sold Out

The Rev. Chester Loucks of Ann Arbor, who is Washington county chairman of the student exchange program—Youth For Understanding—was the guest speaker at the Oct. 5 Kiwanis club meeting. The gathering took place in the dining room of the Congregational church where future meetings of the club are to be held.

The Rev. Loucks introduced two exchange students—Annette Posner of Stragans, in Sweden, and Wolfgang Tonne of Stuttgart, Germany—and he said both students spoke during the program period. M. J. Anderson was program chairman.

Kiwanis guests present included George Sillwell of Lansing, Clarence Hanselman of Dexter, and Charles Sayre of Jackson.

The Rev. Loucks also is a Kiwanian.

A report given by Dr. Clare Warren, chairman of the 1964-65 Kiwanis-sponsored travelogue series, stated that the project is another "sellout." William Collins was the ticket chairman.

Lake Cottage Destroyed By Flames

A four-room cottage on Glazier Rd., Cavanaugh Lake, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin late Saturday afternoon. Chelsea firemen responded but the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be done to save it.

The cottage was owned by George Talbot of Detroit, and had been closed for the season with the electricity shut off.

Fire Chief James Gaken said it was not known whether anyone had entered the cottage illegally prior to the fire; he said, however, that where houses are known by neighbors to be closed up, no activity families are away; if any activity at all is noticed by the neighbors at all they should report the matter at once. If automobiles are seen at once, if automobiles are seen at once.

Annual PP&K Contest Set Saturday

Approximately 100 boys have signed up to participate in the annual Punt, Pass & Kick (PP&K) contest here Saturday.

Sponsored nationally by the Ford dealers of America and the National Football League, the contest to be held here is sponsored jointly by Palmer Motor Sales and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Lytle Christwell is the general chairman and a committee of Jaycees will be assisting him Saturday.

The PP&K contest will be held at the Chelsea High School athletic field beginning at 10 a.m.

First prizes in the 8, 9, and 10 year old groups will be a football warm-up jacket; second prize a place kicker tee; and third prize, a regulation football autographed by famous football players.

Boys in the 11, 12 and 13 year groups will receive plaques for first, second and third place awards.

Each boy competes against other boys in his own age group in the three football skills of punting, passing and kicking (using a kicking tee). There is no body contact; no special equipment needed.

Points are awarded for each foot the ball travels in the air, and points deducted for each foot the ball lands to the left or right of a center line. (Measurements are

Fortune Industries Adding to Plant

For the second time within a year Fortune Industries, Inc., at 11770 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., is enlarging its manufacturing space by 8,500 square feet for a total of 17,000 square feet.

The second building, identical in size to the one completed last December, is 50 feet wide and 170 feet long.

The two new structures are across the road from the original plant on a 12-acre site purchased from Elmer Schardt.

The new building is rapidly nearing completion—the roof is already on—and Leonard Fortune, president and principal owner of the firm, said this week that completion is expected by the end of the month.

Fortune said the enlarged area is required to handle the company's rapidly expanded business of manufacturing preformed abrasives for use in deburring and finishing metals. The abrasive product, as produced by the firm, is used to replace tedious manual labor in industries making die castings, bus-ness machines, aircraft, missiles, screw machine products, and many others; in fact, anyone in the metal industry is a potential user of the abrasive, Fortune explained.

When Fortune began his business in 1953 he worked alone for approximately three years; now the company employs 32 men and occupies a total of 33,000 square feet of space—the two new buildings on the south side of the road and the original buildings located on the north side of the road. The newest building now under construction, is the sixth addition since 1957.

Council Briefs

The Rev. Harold Bilotta, pastor of the Assembly of God church, gave the opening invocation at the Village Council meeting Tuesday evening.

Discussion was held relative to the installation of 1,130 feet of eight-inch water main on Main street north from North St., in accordance with plans submitted to the State Health Department Aug. 2, 1962.

Discussion of problem of low water pressure in the south and west of the village, Trustee Duane Crouch directed to investigate and report to the Council at the next meeting.

Trustee Paul Bollinger was instructed to look into the matter of a new sewer cleaning machine after discussion of the need for the equipment.

Proposed construction of 110 feet of curb and gutter and 140 feet of sidewalk on McKinley St. The new construction would reconnect the section removed for the recent construction of the new culvert across the street adjacent to North Elementary school.

Public Works Superintendent Parker Brown was instructed to install, as soon as possible, the proposed curb and gutter; however, it was decided to wait until next spring for construction of the sidewalk to allow for compaction and settling of the filled-in area.

No official action taken on the proposed bicycle ordinance but the proposal was discussed at some length.

Discussion of matters related to a meeting held with Washtenaw County Civil Defense Director Gerald Miller. It was reported that new radio equipment is available to the village for police and Civil Defense on a basis of matching funds available from Civil Defense headquarters. No official action was taken by the Council.

Trustee Bollinger was authorized to contact the tree removing contractor for estimates on tree stump removal. This action taken following discussion of requests for removal of the stumps left after the tree removal program.

The meeting was concluded with action authorizing the use of Pierce Park on Sunday, Oct. 11, for the annual Jaycee barbecue.

Fire Department Open House Well Attended

Chelsea firemen were gratified with the attendance at the Fire Department open house Sunday afternoon, initiating Fire Prevention Week.

Fire Chief Gaken said approximately 400 persons, including children, visited the fire station during the afternoon.

"Smoky, the Talking Bear," delighted the children while giving advice about fire prevention and safety practices.

Slide pictures of local fires and a film on fire prevention were of special interest.

Jaycees Preparing To Serve 1,500 Persons at Annual Outdoor Event

Chelsea Jaycees are preparing to serve 1,500 persons at their annual chicken barbecue scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 11.

General Chairman Lyle Christwell reports that plans are completed for the big event and Henry Orting, a charter member of the Jaycees, with Edward "Buzzy" Baczinski and Joe Doering, will again be in charge of charcoal broiling of the chicken halves on pits set up at Pierce Park. The three are considered experts.

On the committee with Christwell are Arthur Stall, Robert Beekie, Gene Shoemaker and Kenneth Noble.

The chicken barbecue is customarily set for the second Sunday in October when many visitors are in the area for the color tours sponsored by the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce.

Motorists may eat their lunch at the park or have it boxed to take along and enjoy at one of numerous picnic spots marked throughout the color tour area.

The meals will include a chicken half, cole slaw, potato chips, hot buttered roll and hot coffee. Milk and soft drinks will be available extra.

It was pointed out by committee members that additional facilities will be used to provide fast, efficient service.

Door prizes are being provided again this year. At the 1963 barbecue the first prize was a transistor radio awarded to Edward Beissel of Chelsea.

Maps of the color tour routes, chosen for their variety and scenic beauties as well as color, will be available at the park.

First Kiwanis Travel Film Slated Saturday Evening

Chelsea Kiwanis-sponsored travel and adventure series opens its fourth season at the Chelsea High School auditorium Saturday evening, presenting Dr. Charles Forbes Taylor and his travelogue entitled "Bible Lands."

Described as a masterful presentation, "Bible Lands" represents a lifetime of work. Dr. Taylor begins his narration by taking his audience to Bethlehem and the historically rich areas of Nazareth, the Judean wilderness, the River Jordan, Jerusalem, Cana, Samaria, Galilee, Capernaum, Bethesda, Bethany, Gethsemane, Emmaus and many others whose names are familiar to Bible students.

Dr. Forbes, now an American citizen, was born in England and began his life-long career of appearing before the public when he sang to an audience of 1,000 at TOM SMITH, just six days before his 14th birthday, brought down a 90-pound doe with a bow and arrow on the first day of the bow and arrow deer season, Thursday, Oct. 1. He credits his success to the archery lessons he received this past summer in a Chelsea Recreation Program class taught by Thomas Kopec, Chelsea Junior High school shop teacher. Tom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Jr., 6693 Lingane Rd., observed his 14th birthday on Tuesday. He is president of the Junior High Archery club known as "Flying Arrows." He got the doe in the Pinckney Recreation Area.

IN THE OPEN
By Lee Smiths

They laughed at me as I hunched down, studying sharply outlined tracks in the mud.

"I said I was stumped. They said, 'You're kidding.'"

"I said, 'Nope. Looks like a house cat, but there can't be a house cat back here.'"

"What about a bobcat kitten?"

You have to be older than I am to pass the stage where you are bothered by being caught off base by some easy wildlife question.

Bill Laycock, regional game supervisor at Marquette, and Lloyd Schemenauer, district game biologist at Newberry, were tagging moose on a look-see safari into the northeast corner of Luce county—in a jeep. They took the jeep through and over terrain that would challenge a mountain climber in top condition. Now and then a power which was put into service. Now and then I concluded that we had come to a permanent stop and were in for a 20-odd mile hike back to Newberry.

We saw something interesting in mid-May. Brush looked as though it had been sprayed with a killing chemical. They told me there would be no blueberries. What effect will this have on the black bear? He depends largely on blueberries to start storing fat for the long winter sleep.

The jeep barely missed a grouse scuttling across the road. It flew into a tree. Spruce grouse, fool-ten. Nearby, also in a tree, was a young one. There they sat, mother and offspring, raving at us as we stood 10 feet away. Were these birds ever undisturbed? Grouse, in the old days, were just as foolish. I have never seen spruce grouse in numbers.

Now and then a truck, with a towering load of logs, rocked past us on the narrow road. It was hard to believe it could reach the mill without capsizing.

We think of Michigan lumbering as something in the far-off past. Actually forest products, in terms of income and employment, are probably as important as in the days when sawmills roared in every town north of Town Line 20. Although they tell me there isn't a lumber camp operating in Michigan, not one skidding team, nary a loading team.

Pulpwood is the chief harvest

Kiwanis Quotes
"No man can produce great things who is not thoroughly sincere in dealing with himself."

taken from what were cut over, burnt-over deserts 40 years ago. The cutting is done on a "sustained yield" basis so that, with rigorous fire prevention, the north woods country promises to keep its beauty, its usefulness as game cover, its commercial value, as the years roll on.

We passed hunting camps and signs pointing to hunting camps. The deer hunter who dreams of getting into really wild country in Michigan is headed, in all likelihood, for disappointment.

The joys of the wilderness would be enhanced if a hot bath were available after a long day of hunting. Finnish settlers introduced the sauna, that cleanses and refreshes far better than anything available in town. Nowadays a considerable percentage of camps in the north have a sauna where the bather sits above a pit while water poured on the hot stones envelops him in a cloud of steam. A cedar bough serves as a bath mitt. To wind up a sauna bath, you are supposed to pop out, rosy and steaming, and roll in a snow bank.

We were looking for wolf signs, but saw none. Bear tracks were frequently visible and there was every indication of a good deer population. Deer tracks everywhere, including a lot of fawn tracks, no larger than a quarter.

No outdoor expedition is complete without something totally unexpected, the unprecedented, the incredible. Two instances this time—Bill Laycock and Lloyd Schemenauer both reported an occasional mocking bird in the Upper Peninsula.

Another incredible. First time I ever heard of Ellsworth Hager, research biologist. His boss, H. D. Ruhl, chief of the game division, told me how El exercised his cat-and-mouse game with him, three, four miles in the cool of the evening. El Hager is at the Cusino Wildlife Experiment Station.

Bill Laycock showed me a color slide of El Hager, holding a full grown, very much alive adult coyote. El had run down the coyote on snowshoes in deep snow, examined the critter, ear-tagged it and turned it loose.

Pep Pills Solve No Problems...

PEP PILLS (amphetamines) impair judgment, says the Harvard Medical School. A study of 78 male students, who took a calculus test after being given the pills, showed that they overestimated a significant degree the number of problems they actually solved correctly, although it had no effect on their ability to solve the problems. Harvard says this stresses the need for "cautious generalization" concerning the benefits of drug-induced changes in mental performance.

LOS ANGELES city fathers are urging residents to grow "fireproof" plants. In hopes of averting brush fires such as have ravaged some areas of the city in recent years, leaflets on creeping rosemary, purple rockrose, woolly yarrow, and other fire-resistant flora are being distributed.

THE LETTERBOX

Dear Editor:

The big question of the day is how much punishment the farmer is going to take before he gets made to do something about the prices he gets for his products. Many of us have reached this point. I have watched with disgust.

While some farmers walk hand-in-hand with the Farm Bureau and the MMPA down the road to financial ruin, they pat him on the back and tell him what an efficient farmer he is and at the same time have their other hand taking his money for dues. If they are able to think for themselves let them do it now. The farm bureau will never be able to get you a fair price for your cattle, milk or grain, because most of its members are non farmers. With the membership made up of mostly consumers, the farmer members will never get anything but a bill for his dues.

The MMPA is a far bigger threat to the freedom-loving farmers than the Farm Bureau because they bleed the farmers every month for a fantastic sum of dues; with our money they are building the biggest milk monopoly ever heard of. When they can control the milk and the transportation of it, what farmer is fool enough to think he's going to get more for milk?

The NFO (National Farmers Organization) is the only hope for the farmer today. Our organization is made up of ONLY farmers. Our goal is to get contracts with the processors that guarantee cost-of-production plus reasonable profit. Now is the time to fight for these contracts. Our NFO holding action on all meat is working even though a few greedy farmers still sell cattle. They're fooling no one but themselves. There are some farmers who cry about low prices but are too scared to join the NFO and do something about it.

If readers are the kind of farmer who wants to be in debt the rest of their life to the FIA or PFA, etc., and have the Federal Government tell them when to breathe, then we don't want them. But, if they want to fight for their rights and freedom as far as they wish, now is the time to act. NFO neighbors need their help. They had guts enough to stand up to the meat processors and demand a fair price. Have you? Through the farmers are few in numbers, we have the mightiest weapon of all our production. We must make them realize that.

We have had members killed by cattle truckers recently, and beaten up by stockyard owners. The courts have thrown injunctions at us. We are going to work even harder, but we need you and your production to win a fair price.

For time or place of meetings, or information about joining this organization, the NFO asks farmers to call Pinckney 878-8993, or see any one of the members.

Arthur Bentz
Pinckney RR 1.

THANK YOU

We wish to publicly express our thanks and appreciation to members of the Methodist-WSCS and all ladies of the church who have so graciously prepared and served meals at our meetings so many years.

PLASTIC traffic markings are simplifying municipal maintenance problems. Flexible, reflective vinyl plastic strips, arrows, letters and numerals coated on one side only with a pressure-sensitive adhesive are easy to apply to paved surfaces, replacing conventional painted traffic markings. According to J. W. Neff, Laboratories, Stockton, Pa., no special tools are needed, and "Presslabs" can be applied rapidly, creating ANIMAL population increases cause physiological changes that alter birth and death rates, according to Pennsylvania State University. In a study of mice, the growth of the population resulted in an increase in the secretion of hormones which interferes with antibodies, vital in the body's fight against infectious diseases. This raised the morbidity, or disease and death rate, in the mouse population.

HUNTING FOR BIG-TIME SPORT: Thrills a minute accompanied by the stirring sounds of hounds hot on the trail of northern Michigan's "King of the Forest." That's the taste of excitement which hunters will savor with the start of the Sept. 1-15 bear season in the Upper Peninsula. For most of these rugged sportsmen, the things that really count in this sport are the heart-pounding action of the chase, the strategy-making to tree one of these burly animals, and the swift-footed teamwork of men and their dogs. And don't sell short the kicks they get from recounting their day's doings around the campfire at night. These are the moments to remember which will bring them back for another series of cross-country pursuits during the Oct. 1-Nov. 5 bear season above the Straits and the Oct. 3-5 hunt in the northern Lower Peninsula.

MAN POSES AS DOCTOR
Detroit — A 29-year-old man had posed as a doctor for four years before he was tripped up after he applied for an insurance policy and no doctor's certificate could be found by the insurance company. County Treasurer Office Revenues Continue Climb

Information released this week by County Treasurer Sylvester Leonard indicates that the treasurer's office this year will turn over to the General Fund approximately $50,000. This figure shows a steady increase the past four years, more than doubling the net income of 1961 which is listed as $24,888.30.

Leonard points out that there has been no increase in the staff of the county treasurer's office in the past 20 years while the volume of work is many times greater.

For purposes of comparison, the figures for the past three years were quoted for the various divisions.

In 1961 delinquent tax interest accounted for $7,275.70 while in 1962 the figure was $10,041.62.

Safety deposit box inventory fees were $617.48 in 1961; $890.08 in 1962; and $737.30 in 1963.

Income from tax certificates was $2,174.48 in 1961; $2,293.50 in 1962; and $2,409.00 in 1963.

On tax collection fees the figures are $31,116.71 in 1961; $35,376.06 in 1962; and $41,873.90 in 1963.

Earned interest on the general fund during the three years listed are $24,875.00 in 1961; $30,291.67 in 1962; and $36,777.39 in 1963.

Costs of office supplies, etc., and salaries, as shown in the figures quoted in the report are $41,171.00 for 1961; $43,015.00 in 1962; and $44,379.00 in 1963.

* New Name for Price-Wage Controls

The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, an international body of which the U.S. is a member, recently issued its second report on policies for price stability.

An earlier report dealt with policies for restraining wage increases and this one deals with prices, profits, and other non-wage incomes.

These reports reflect chiefly the concern of the European nations with their mounting inflation, although reference is made to the experience of the United States.

In Europe the effort to restore price stability has taken the form of "income policy." This rather vague term refers to government intervention — by admonition or by regulation or by various subtleties of pressure — in the private wage-price determining mechanism.

To Appease Unions
A report released in 1961 by the OEEC (predecessor to OECD) had caused some eyebrow raising by concluding that, while wage increases could be and have been an independent cause of inflation, the same was not true of business pricing policies.

This exonerating of business made labor unions around the world unhappy and apparently the new report is intended to appease them by pointing out ways of regulating prices and profits.

The report is equivocally worded throughout and carefully avoids any firmly stated recommendations. As we read it, it seems to say that there is probably no very good economic case for controls of profits and prices; but that such controls are unavoidable since wage restraints are necessary and labor would not accept them without parallel restraints on profits and prices.

(Don't blame this column if other observers interpret the OECD document differently. It really is a thicket of double-talk.)

This is a peculiar position for a working party of international economists to take. One would have thought that they would expect themselves to correct biased and unsound economic reasoning. Instead they have simply shrugged their shoulders and gone along with it.

Double Talk
Certainly the post-war experience of the U. S., Britain and other countries with direct controls illustrates abundantly their distorting and growth-suppressing effects on the economy. But the OECD report seems to wobble back and forth in its attitude toward government intervention in the price field.

Thus at one point the report recognizes that . . . a comprehensive and detailed system of price control, in the strict sense, is neither practicable nor desirable. But then a little later: "Some countries feel that price supervision cannot be effective unless the government is known to possess reserve powers to intervene in the last resort."

Inflation has been dormant here for some years but if and when it wakes up we will probably hear discussion of a U. S. "income policy" although perhaps under some other name. We already have an approach to such a policy in the Administration's wage-price guidelines.

When the problem comes up let's hope we have some clearer thinking to guide us than is contained in the OECD treatise.

Homeowners Association Discusses Constitution Plans
Members of the newly-formed Sorensen Homeowners Association held their second meeting Tuesday evening and heard reports on the progress of the constitution committee.

The evening's program also included discussion of various topics of special interest to residents of the area.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Dresch, Jr., on Chandler St.

It was announced that the next meeting will take place Nov. 10. That meeting will be held at St. Barnabas church.

At the close of the business meeting Tuesday Mrs. Dresch served refreshments.

* 'If You Can Keep It'

It is high time someone explains the difference between a "Democracy" and a "Representative Republic."

It is high time that farmers and other minority groups realize the dangers they face from those who would twist our nation into a new form of government where mass votes control.

Without thinking, many of us have been to blame for this transition. We have all been so proud of our "democratic way" — we have stressed the importance of the individual — and rightly so. But what happens to individual rights when mobs control?

The term "democracy" as it is being used in America today, refers to a form of government in which the power of the vote is vested directly in the people.

The word comes from two Greek words, "demos" meaning "the people" and "kratos" meaning "to rule." And the people ruled directly in the small city-state of Athens on a one-man, one-vote basis. It worked because at that time all of the citizens could gather in the marketplace and minority groups were unknown.

But our United States of America is not a "true" democracy and never was intended to be. Our Constitution calls for a representative form of republic, with built-in checks and balances against mob rule or abuse of power by persons or privileged masses.

When the first Constitutional Convention adjourned in Philadelphia in 1787, a citizen asked Benjamin Franklin what sort of government had been established. Franklin replied, "We have given you a republic — if you can keep it."

The Convention had spent much time over the issue of whether voting power should be in direct proportion to population. The Convention rejected this idea as dangerous.

James Madison, one of the men who helped draft our Constitution, pointed out why such a government was rejected. He warned that an area holding a decided voting power over the rest of the country could "ride rough shod" over the rights of people in areas of lesser population.

Yet, the United States Supreme Court has now ruled that voting should be in direct proportion to population. So far, Congress has not seriously challenged the decision.

Said Franklin: "We have given you a republic — if you can keep it."

Quentin Smith Wins Washtenaw Open Tourney

Quentin Smith who now makes his home in Ypsilanti, became champion of the Washtenaw Open Golf Tournament at the Municipal Golf Course in Ann Arbor Monday. This was his first tournament since he joined the professional ranks last spring. Although only in his early twenties, he has played golf for more than eight years, principally at the Verners Country Club at North Lake. After he gained professional status last spring he played in pre-qualifying events at the Canadian Open Tournament at Montreal and the Western Open at Chicago. The late-season Washtenaw Open Tournament was started by the late Bob Applegate, then pro at the course, and revived by pro Willie Mustard after being dropped for a year. Smith, defeated Robert Williams, one-up, to win the title. At the end of nine holes Smith was down one; he won holes 10 and 11 with a three on each; tied Williams for the 13th and then won on 14. The two golfers tied with a birdie on the 15th and Smith lost the 16th when Williams scored a birdie. Then Smith won the 17th with an eagle and kept his one-up lead through the 18th on which he and Williams again tied. Par for the course is 71 and Williams shot that; Smith, however, recorded a 70 to become the champion. Two other area golfers, Arthur Clemes Jr., and Mike Marsh, were defeated in the second round, the former by the new tournament champion. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith of Chelsea.

Detroit Fined For Coon Hunting Out of Season

Conservation Officer Donley Boyer was called at midnight Saturday to investigate a report of shooting on a Maple Rd. farm and apprehended Clinton C. McMillan, 55, of Detroit, who was in the woods with coon dogs out of season. The coon season opens Oct. 20. Boyer pointed out that it is not permissible to train dogs but it is illegal to be carrying a gun before the opening date of the season. McMillan appeared Tuesday before Dexter Township Justice of the Peace David Doig and was assessed $23 fine and costs with the alternative of spending four days in jail. He paid the fine and costs.

Pinckney All Stars, Hamburg Helcats Will Meet Oct 10

One of the Pinckney All Stars five league games will be played Oct. 10 at 8 p.m. on the Pinckney athletic field, complete with the band and cheerleaders. Their opponent is the Hamburg Helcats. The former alumni teams now boast of several professionals on both teams. A former Philadelphia Eagle and a Detroit Lion are among Pinckney's players, and Hamburg has four college and professional men in their lineup. Pinckney is interested in bringing Dexter into the league but so far no Dexter sponsors have shown interest. Funds benefit Pinckney athletic equipment.

NEWS HOLLYWOOD

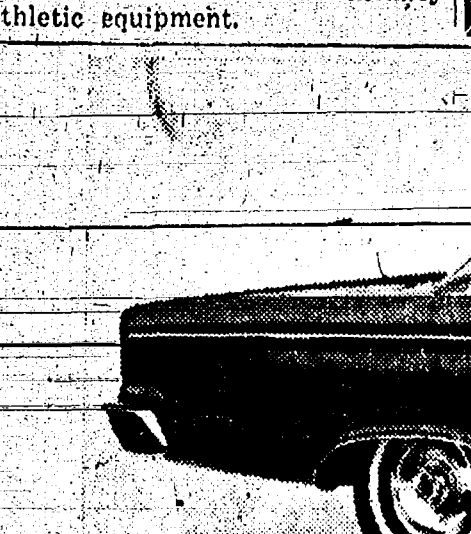

A new television series entitled "Mickey," co-stars Tim Rooney, 17, with his father, Mickey Rooney. Debut was Sept. 16th on ABC-TV. Buddy Hackett, TV comic-makes his Broadway debut in a musical, "It's a Wonderful Life."

Film Revue...

"KISSES FOR MY PRESIDENT" Following the recent conventions, one might find this fictional story relaxing. It's about a poor fellow whose wife happens to be the President of the United States. Picture this lady President as Polly Bergen-Fred MacMurray as her blundering husband and there's a team for laughs. Not only is MacMurray miserable in his fancy chintzy bedroom, but amusingly provoked at the untimely interruptions every time he finds a moment to embrace his wife. It's not a bit funny to Mr. MacMurray, as the "First Man," leading tours of the White House nor is he amused to find his picture among the portraits of former First Ladies. In a nutshell, the picture seems to say this wouldn't be a funny situation if it should ever happen.

Just A Minute...

By the Rev. James A. Craig

Watching leaves fall and trees turning to skeletons of their Summer selves we are suddenly aware of a day's shortness and its vaguely warm promise.

Fall days are a special time of year. New and renewed activity; the end of Summer's doldrums; a picking up again of suspended activity left since Spring.

In a way the Fall is like our church life. It, too, has its days of promise, remembering better days past and expecting some to come, drawing the best from what we have. It, too, feels in quiet pleasure the warmth of a Sun driving the chill from a troubled heart and mind.

It knows the excitement and vigor of a refreshing breeze bringing with it new enjoyment for the day.

Above all, the Christian faith helps us to see life in its lonely loneliness and its bare essentials. The Christian Church lives in the Autumn — between the seasons.

Each day with its hope — each with its pleasure — each with its reminder that it is to be prepared for and lived in.

"This is the day which the Lord has made, rejoice and be glad in it." (Psalm 118:24).

Children Learn How

CROP Funds Help

Children of the Waterloo EUB church who attended Bible school last summer, took up a special collection for CROP (Christian Overseas Relief Program) and during the past week they received a reply telling them how the money was being used.

Wilson Radway, a former state CROP director, is now serving in the Material Aids Department of Church World Service. In the story he tells of Greek community development, speaking particularly of the change wrought in a few years in a small village formerly called in Greek by a name meaning "Mud."

Through assistance and advice of Chris Keyhayias, director of a CROP program known as "The Canadian-American Program," the little town was helped to help itself with the result that irrigation drainage and general sanitation were provided and the village name was changed to St. Nicholas.

Continuing support has brought further improvement including agriculture programs followed by increased production and later the learning of methods of food preservation, canning and storage.

The former Communist leanings of the people have been overcome as the people learned that the CROP and World Service projects seek only to help them help themselves with no strings attached.

Detroit Upsets N. Lake Residents By Bagging Goose

Alcoe T. Skinner, 65, of Detroit, caused considerable consternation last Thursday at North Lake, when he began shooting at Canadian geese that lake residents have been feeding the past summer.

Deputy George Miller responded when residents called the Sheriff's Department and took Skinner into custody and retrieved the goose he had killed. The bird weighed 12 pounds.

Skinner was turned over to Conservation Officer Donley Boyer who took him before Dexter Township Justice of the Peace David Dole where he was assessed fine and costs totalling $25 for shooting the goose out of season. The season opened yesterday (Wednesday) at sunrise.

When Skinner was arrested he told Boyer he "thought" the season opened Oct. 1.

4-H club work is administered by the Co-operative Extension Service and supervised locally by the county extension agents.

County Appointments Made By Board of Supervisors

It was recently announced that nine persons have been appointed or reappointed to boards and commissions by the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors. All appointments are effective Jan. 1.

New appointments are Ann Arbor Planning Director Ray Martin and James Gallagher as members of the County Planning Commission for three year terms.

Those renamed are J. Martin Rempp, Board of Auditors, one-year term; Herbert Loeffler, Board of Auditors, two-year term; Robert Tefft, Board of Appeals, three-year term; Byron Sable, Board of Library Trustees, four year term; H. L. Frisinger, Board of Road Commissioners, six year term; Leigh Beach and David A. Dole, County Planning Commission, three-year terms.

The appointment of a sealer of weights and measures was deferred after the board accepted the resignation of George P. Smith, effective at the end of this year.

Another chapter was written last week in the squabble among Livingston County Democrats when Edward Rettinger, county Democratic chairman and Hamburg Township clerk, was found guilty by a jury of refusing to reveal township election records to two other Democrats.

The charge arose from one of several incidents between party factions led by Rettinger and Martin Lavan, former Democratic county chairman.

On Aug. 29, the Saturday before the primary election, Brian Lavan, representative from the 51st District, and the son of Martin Lavan, and John McMillan, Democratic candidate for Livingston county clerk entered Rettinger's office at Hamburg Township Hall and asked to see absentee voter records.

An argument ensued and a telephone connection was ripped from a wall, Lavan and McMillan claimed that Rettinger ordered them out of his office and declined to reveal the requested records.

Rettinger had pleaded not guilty to the charge, which is a misdemeanor and carries a maximum sentence of 90 days in jail or $100 fine.

The Brighton Justice of the Peace Eric G. Singer has deferred Rettinger's sentencing until Oct. 14.

Speaker at the afternoon session is to be John L. Henkel of Ann Arbor, who is a teacher and counselor at a high school in Wayne.

Robert Reusink, youth leader of the Adrian Congregational church, will be in charge of the evening service.

David Frisinger Commended

David Frisinger, Chelsea High school senior has been honored "for high performance" on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST) given last spring. He is one of the 39,000 students throughout the country who are being awarded "Letters of Commendation" to call attention to their high academic achievement and "outstanding performance" on the qualifying test.

John M. Stalnaker, president of National Merit Scholarship Corporation, said, "Although they did not reach the status of Semifinalists in the current Merit Program, they are very capable students."

The Semifinalists and Commended students together constitute about 2 percent of all high school seniors. This certainly signifies noteworthy accomplishment by all these bright young people.

"We urge the Commended students to make every effort to attend college; and to develop to the fullest their promise of future achievement. By doing so they will benefit both themselves and the nation."

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation gives recognition to two groups of students who achieve high scores on the NMQST. The Semifinalist group is composed of the highest-scoring students in each state and in U. S. territories. Some 14,000 Semifinalists take a second examination to establish further their eligibility to become Finalists and to receive consideration for Merit Scholarships.

Diane Warden of Chelsea High school is included among the Semifinalist group. It was announced two weeks ago.

Announcement of the naming of David Frisinger as a "commended student" in the NMQST program was made this week by Charles Lane, Chelsea High school principal. Frisinger is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Frisinger, 13450 Jerusalem Rd.

The "commended students" were among high school juniors in approximately 17,000 schools who took the NMQST last March. The test is a three-hour examination that covers five separate areas of educational development. It was the first step in the tenth annual Merit Program.
