sored pancake supper Monday evening at the Chelsea High school cafeteria. Proceeds of this supper, as well as other projects of the

AFETERIA STYLE: More than 500 persons attended the Kiwanis-sponsored pancake supper Monday evening at the Chelsea school cafeteria. William Rademacher, general chairman of the committee had worked out a plan to serve cafeteria style pancakes proved exceptionally successful, speeding service and elim-
and other patrons are being assisted by (from right, behind)
Don Turner, Kiwanis president-elect; James Daniels, Lancaster and William Collins.

and Rev. John Fall appear to be taking their role as cooks seriously at the Kiwanis-sponsored pancake supper Monday evening at the Chelsea High school cafeteria. Special planning and cafeteria service proved a big help in serving, with very little delay, to people who attended.

Varsity Grid Team Loses at Blissfield

The Blissfield-Chelsea game last night on the home field, for the victors by a 24-20. It was a non-league game ending the league season. Chelsea ending the league Oct. 30 in fourth place with record and an over-all season of 3-4-1.

Field's Bob Anderson started at quarter by scoring on a stack play with runs of six yards and kicking six points to bring his team to lead at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter D. scored for Blissfield on a pass, the extra point at- taining.

The next kick-off, Chelsea's quick run up the middle edge for 90 yards and a touchdown. He passed to Dick for the extra point. The Chelsea had the ball at 73 yards on eight plays from 15 yards out on a back snort. The pass try at halftime, with Chelsea in close for a score as an out way. Blissfield 20-13.

Chelsea received the second half and moved down to Bliss- field yard line before being on fourth down by three. Blissfield took over and yards for the score on a center by T. Eisenmann. The point attempt was not in the third quarter on a

JV Grid Team Finishes Season Still Undefeated

The Chelsea Junior Varsity foot- ball team ended their 1964 season last Tuesday night with a de- cative 27-7 win over Stuckbridge. Their win over the Panthers was the highlight of an undefeated season.

The Bulldogs opened their first quarter with a 51-yard touchdown by Bob Taylor on their second play from scrimmage. The extra point attempt was good by Jack Risner. Quarterback Bill Harvey scored a TD midway in the quarter but the point attempt was not good. Toward the end of the quarter Taylor scored again and Risner's kick was good.

Just before halftime, Harvey hit Allen with a pass for an 87-yard touchdown. Risner again kicked the extra point.

Although the Bulldogs didn't score in the second half, both the offense and defense did a fine job and the entire team got to play. Stockbridge's only score of the game was made in the third quarter on a two-yard plunge.

1964 was a fine year for the Junior Varsity and the 1965 season looks as if it could be equally successful for the Varsity with many fine players moving up from JV.

The Young Bulldogs scored 209 points during the season while holding their opponents to a total of 32. Their total rushing was 1,598 yards while they gained 363 yards in the air.

Some of Chelsea's leading scorers for the season were Bob Taylor averaging 14.0 yards in 30 carries; Danny Allen averaging 22.5 (Continued on page eight)

Rev. Schnake Resigns Post At St. Paul's

The Rev. Paul M. Schnake, pas- tor of St. Paul's United Church of Christ the past five years, has submitted his resignation in a let- ter read to the congregation fol- lowing the Sunday morning serv- ice by Theodore Faist, Church Council president. A special con- gregational meeting to take formal action on the resignation is sched- uled for Nov. 29.

In his letter, the Rev. Schnake explained that he has been selected as administrator of the New Glarus Home at New Glarus, Wis., a new institution for the care of the sick and aged sponsored by the Benevolent Society of Wisconsin, a branch of the United Church of Christ. Eventually, the Rev. Schnake says, the Bene- volence Society and the Home will be a part of the Wisconsin Confer- ence of the United Church of Christ.

Excavation for the first of three units of the new institution is now in progress. This first unit will provide facilities for the care of 48 persons.

The Rev. Schnake has long been active on various boards and com- mittees for similar institutions. While he served as pastor of his former church at Caseyville, Ill., he was chairman of a synodical committee planning for the care of the aged, and the South Illi- nois Synod has since then pro- vided two new homes for the aged.

In his letter of resignation the Rev. Schnake stated he will be leaving here at the end of the present school semester so as not to interrupt the school year for the children in the family.

CHRISTMAS SEAL MAILING: Girl Scouts of Troop 82, as one of their community service projects this year, stuffed Christmas Seal envelopes for the Washtenaw County Tuberculosis Association. Christmas seals help support research at the U. of M. Medical Center on two special projects — treatment of asthma and a pulmonary functions laboratory. Christmas Seal funds also help provide continuous faculty health and physical examinations and tuberculosis testing teams for the skin tests given ninth grade students in March. Chest Fund Nears Goal at Closing Date

Chrysler Corp. Employees Nearly Double Contribution To Boost Total

With today Nov. 12, originally set as the closing date of the Chelsea Community Chest cam- paign for funds, Charles Cattell and Jack Patrick, co-chairman of the drive, are confident that when all returns are in the campaign will have reached the 100 percent mark. The goal is $16,200 and totals from industry alone early this week had reached $10,300.

The total includes a contribu- tion of $2,552 from Chrysler Corp. and Chrysler Proving Ground em- ployees which is a 72 percent in- crease over their last year's amount. Last year's total from Chrysler was $1,045.

Chrysler employees this year contributed or pledged $1,802 and the Chrysler Corp. added $750 to bring the figure to $2,552.

Spokesmen for the Community Chest Board of Directors commended the Chrysler Corp. and em- ployees who call Chelsea their home for their "civic-mindedness and generosity."

Chrysler employees also contrib- uted to Community Chest campaign funds in other communities where the employees reside.

Cattell and Patrick, in report- ing campaign results, said the over-all total tabulated from all sources, to date, is approximately $13,000.

A new practice this year — that of sending letters to adjacent rural areas and including self-ad- dressed return envelopes — brought in a total of $350. Cattell and Patrick said anyone who received one of the letters and who has delayed sending in a contribution is asked to do so at once so tab- ulation may be completed. They said, too, that any rural area residents who did not receive one of the letters and would care to make a contribution may mail it in to Chelsea Community Chest in a plain, envelope. Contributions of any amount, small or large, will be appreciated, the co-chairmen said.

Parents are asked to meet with the teachers in their classrooms on the following schedule: those whose surnames begin with the letters A to F, from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.; G to M, 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.; N to S, 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.; and those T to Z, 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Since it is necessary for a par- ent to visit several teachers, both teachers and parents are asked to limit the length of their discus- sions. If a serious problem seems to have developed, parents and teachers are asked to use the open house time to schedule a separate longer conference. If this proced- ure is followed, it should reduce the length of time parents have to wait in line.

Church of Christ Names New Pastor

Succeeding Murray S. Hudgins as pastor of the Church of Christ, 13861 Old US-12, is C. Arthur Peddle, who has served the past 4 1/2 years as pastor of the Church of Christ at Ypsilanti.

A native of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, he graduated from Hard- ing College, Searcy, Ark., and has served congregations in Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky and sev- eral congregations in Michigan. He has been preaching the past 22 years.

Mr. Peddle is on the board of di- rectors of the Michigan Christian Youth Camp at Attica, Mich., and is serving as its publicity director and arts, crafts and recreation di- rector.

He has made two film-strips and written the script for them on the topic, "Can I Understand the Bible?"

Mr. Peddle is assisting with the publicity program of the Michigan Christian College at Rochester. He has done extensive work in youth activities at many levels, has done audiovisual work on a large scale, and was a gym and swimming in- structor in college and at the YMCA.

Mr. Peddle, with his wife, Georgina, and their five children, ranging from five to 17 years of age, will make their home at 130 East St. and the children will at- tend Chelsea schools — they are Arthur, Rose, Georgina, Jenny and Jack.

Second Kiwanis Travelogue Scheduled Saturday Evening

Stan Midgely, who will appear here Saturday in the second of the current series of Kiwanis-spon- sored travelogues, will describe a long and humorous journey from south to north in California which he has entitled, "My California."

The presentation has been named a "chucklelog" because of the many laugh-provoking scenes in- cluded such as wading birds chas- ing out after waves and running right back again; turtle races at Joshua Tree; Jumping Frog Jubi- lee at Angels Point, and many others.

Skiing, trout fishing, surf fish- ing, mountain climbing, "suicidal" driving on the Hollywood Freeway and other action shots provide en- tertainment for those who enjoy sports while visits to various com- munities and the featured Tourna- ment of Roses parade at Pasadena will be especially satisfying to those who enjoy the colorful sights which abound in California.

As related by Midgely the photo- graphic tour includes stops at many places of Southern Cali- fornia including the cities of Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, San Diego and La Jolla. Then up the Carmel San Simeon Highway — 100 miles along the coast where the moun- tains meet the sea.

Next is Monterey, and on to the publicity program of the Michigan Christian College at Rochester. He has done extensive work in youth activities at many levels, has done audiovisual work on a large scale, and was a gym and swimming in- structor in college and at the YMCA.

Mr. Peddle, with his wife, Georgina, and their five children, ranging from five to 17 years of age, will make their home at 130 East St. and the children will at- tend Chelsea schools — they are Arthur, Rose, Georgina, Jenny and Jack.

Encyclopedia Salesman Tries Tricks

Unscrupulous encyclopedia sales- men have again invaded Chelsea, their target apparently being new- ly-married couples and young par- ents of small children.

One couple, becoming suspicious after they had signed a paper on which the salesman later entered the figure, $771.81 as the amount due on the contract, took the mat- ter up with an attorney. Since the attorney entered the picture and contacted the firm named on the contract, no further effort has been made to obtain payments from the couple.

Another, newly-married young woman was approached about 10 days ago by a salesman using the same sales talk. She happened to be a relative of the couple and had heard of their experience. When she asked him if he was "selling encyclopedias," he left at once.

The so-called salesman gained entrance to the couple's home (parents of a young child) by telling them he was "making a survey" among young people in order to learn how many might be interested in a set of encyclopedias. He said that at this point he was definitely not selling anything — he was only interested in plac- ing in their home. Free of charge, a set of the books so it would be con- venient for other young people to see and examine them. All he asked, he told them, was that they write a letter for publicity pur- poses saying how they liked the books and that they be willing to show the books to other couples.

18 Winners Tops Weekly Grid Contest

Don Proctor won first prize in this week's football contest in the adult division with his prediction of 18 wins out of the possible 20 in the high school and college and pro games listed. His prize is $7.50 cash.

Second-place winner is William R. Hiney who correctly guessed 17 of the winners and also cor- rectly guessed the number of points in the "tie-breaker" game — the N.Y. Giants vs. Dallas Cow- boys. The tie-breaker game was won by the Dallas Cowboys team, 31-21. Total points in that game was 52.

George Knickerbocker, who also designated 17 winners, guessed in- correctly on the number of points in the tie-breaker game. His guess was 45 points.

In the junior division, for those 16 years old and younger, the first-place winner, Gregg Howard, 10 years old, and the second-place winner, Scott Foster, 16 years old, each guessed correctly 16 of the 20 winners. Foster, however, list- ed 21 points for the tie-breaker game which was farther from the correct number (52) than Howard's guess of 34 points.

First and second-prize winners in the junior category also win cash prizes of $7.50 and $2.50, re- spectively.

Prizewinners must call at The Standard office on or before Tues- day, Nov. 17, to claim their prizes in the Nov. 5 contest.

Interest in the contest increases each week, a larger number than ever having entered the Nov. 5 contest.

The weekly contest is sponsored by The Chelsea Standard and the 20 co-operating merchants whose ads appear on the contest page.

Thomas Elisele is announcing open house Saturday and Sunday at the Van Buren East apartment building which is nearing comple- tion.

One of the two-bedroom apart- ments will be furnished for the open house to give an idea of the attractive settings possible. Apart- ments in the building, however, will not be furnished when they are leased to tenants.

Located at 148 Van Buren St., the new multiple dwelling facility built by Elisele, has one three-bed- room apartment at the east side of the building which is already occupied by Elisele and his family.

In addition to the Eliseles' apart- ment there are four single-bed- room apartments and eight two- bedroom units. All feature ample closet space and other conven- iences.

All people of the community are invited to the open house. The Eliseles are asking people to call either Saturday or Sunday be- tween the hours of 2 and 8 p.m.

Albert Slane Dies After Friday Fall

Albert J. Slane, 45, discovered lying on the floor of the base- ment rest room of The Pub at 113 S. Main St., at 9:35 p.m. Friday night, died Sunday morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Ar- bor.

A Chelsea Police Department re- port states that patrons who were questioned after Slane was taken to the hospital by ambulance told officers that they heard a noise on the stairway and upon investi- gating found Slane apparently un- conscious, on the floor.

The officers were on routine pa- trol when they noticed the ambu- lance at the rear entrance to The Pub and upon investigation found that Slane was being brought up from the basement on a cot. They were told the ambulance had been called to take the apparently in- jured man to the hospital.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

★ Committed To Serve All the People

The voters, by their decisions in Michigan Nov. 3, demonstrated massive support for Michigan's unparalleled record of progress under Republican leadership of state government.

I would like to thank all those who recognized this record of progress and have entrusted us with the responsibility of leadership once again.

We are in a position in Michigan to build on the progress which has been made in the past two years.

We have adopted a new constitution; we have established fiscal integrity and have greatly stimulated our economic growth; we have a solid basis for achieving full employment for all citizens; we have encouraged and expanded citizen participation in their state and local governments; private enterprise and individual responsibility and voluntary co-operation in neighborhood, the community and the state.

We have made record strides in partially overcoming deficiencies in education, mental health, youth and many other human needs and established a solid foundation for meeting these needs more adequately in the future.

Michigan is in a position to continue its great progress. This may not be an easy road.

It will require continued dedication to public interest government.

It will require public officials of both parties who will put the public interest ahead of any special interests, including partisan interests, where the public interest is paramount.

In a telegram I sent to my opponent, Congressman Staebler, I included the following: "All of us elected on Tuesday, Democrats and Republicans, are now charged with a public responsibility of serving the people of this state as public officials. May I urge you and your party associates to recognize this primary responsibility on the part of those Democrats elected to state office on Tuesday, that is not shared by others."

"I assure you and your fellow Democrats and all the people of Michigan that I will strive to the best of my ability to discharge my responsibility as a governor of all the people of the state and will encourage Republicans elected as public officials on Tuesday to accept their primary obligation as public officials."

"We must all recognize that Michigan will benefit only when public officials approach their public responsibilities on the basis of their obligation to the total public and not to one party or the other."

"If we are to maintain our record of progress it will require continued encouragement of voluntary cooperation and individual responsibility, as well as governmental concern, leadership and action."

The voters have told us once again that they want their state government to be free of party partisanship and bickering. I will do all in my power to see that this mandate is carried out.

Our only commitment is to serve all of the people of Michigan.

Sheriff's October Report Lists One Fatal Accident

Sheriff George A. Petersen, in a report of activities of the Sheriff's Department for the month of October, states that a total of 1,112 complaints were answered during the month.

The list of activities continues as follows: 477 civil papers served; 173 arrests made; 101 warrants closed; 66 traffic violations cited; 131 accidents investigated (71 involving property damage, 60 personal injury with 103 injured); and one accident in which a fatality occurred.

It was pointed out that the department's cars were driven a total of 57,484 miles during the month and that a total of 5,810 meals were served to County Jail inmates during October.

The Dog Control Division picked up a total of 85 dogs and answered 93 complaints.

The Driver's License Bureau issued a total of 1,372 licenses which included 70 duplicates, 222 chauffeur renewals, 857 operator renewals and 223 originals. Fees collected amounted to $3,715.00.

Michigan State University agricultural economists say an integrated urban-rural extension program would produce a complementary, rather than competitive working relationship between urban and rural groups.

New Courts

Nine men elected to newly-created posts in the Nov. 3 election will have their work stacked up when they take office formally at the first of the year.

Even before the election it was estimated there would be 200 cases filed for consideration by the new state Court of Appeals as a matter of right; a new appellate procedure under the 1963 Constitution.

In addition to these criminal cases granted automatic right to appeal, many more cases will come before the new court as it attempts to handle some of the heavy load now burdening and slowing the judicial process in the Supreme Court.

Each voter helped select three judges from three state districts, but the bench members will serve the state as a single unit under court rules set down by the Legislature and Supreme Court this year.

Court sessions will be held in Lansing, Grand Rapids, Marquette and Detroit with three-member panels. The central office will be in Lansing.

Holding monthly sessions nine months of the year, the new court will handle most appeals except those dealing with the validity of legislative acts, constitutional questions or major legal principles of statewide concern, and "significant public interest" problems involving governmental units.

A substantial weakness in the system is the political involvement in driver licensing," said Harv.

The Supreme Court reserved for its own deliberation those special categories as well as any appeals sought from decisions of the intermediate court.

With three separate court sessions each month, in effect, it is anticipated appeals can be handled much more rapidly than at present.

The four locations for hearings also were viewed by the Supreme Court as a means of lessening costs of court procedures to litigants.

Internal organization of the Appeals Court has been left largely to the nine judges sitting on it, but the Supreme Court retained for itself final determination in the event the case load gets too heavy for even this new unit to handle.

Flaw in Fee

Michigan motorists would be more uniformly good drivers if each met the same qualifications for licensing, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

This may sound like a contradiction of present law which sets standards for motorists, but Hare says other factors currently influence driver licensing.

His proposed answer to the problem of licensing is to put this responsibility into the hands of a state agency.

"A substantial weakness in the system is the political involvement in driver licensing," said Harv.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I was reading a piece by one of those Washington column writers where the Government has spent $5,280 to get a book wrote and printed for baby-sitters. I bring this item up at the country store Saturday night and all the fellers was agreed that baby-sitting has got to be a important matter amongst this generation of parents, but they were curious how anybody could think up $5,280 worth on baby-sitting. This column writer said they was for sale and to send 25 cent to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C.

Ed Doolittle took up a collection and he was getting our order off immediate for this book. I'll give you the latest in baby-sitting, Mister Editor, just as soon as we get this volume and it can be digested by our scholars at the store.

Bug Hookum was lamenting we was living in a age when everything was a big deal, from $5,280 worth of tax money on how to kill house flies. For instant, Bug said he was reading the other day where the telephone folks has announced a invention where, if two people was talking and wanted to get a third feller on the line, they could press a button and dial his number and all three of them could talk. Bug claimed he could recollect 50 year ago when you could call a neighbor on the party line and get 10 listening in, and you didn't have to press no button.

Josh Clodhopper reported he had saw where the U. S. Department of Public Health estimated Americans took 16 billion aspirin tablets in 1952. Josh was of the opinion if things didn't slow down the figger would get to 20 billion in a couple more years.

Zeke Grubb allowed as how he was just taking it on the chin and wasn't fussing with no aspirin. He told the fellers that the harder he worked the behinder he got but they was a few corners he could cut and he was saving 'em for a rainy day. For instant, he reported, he painted his house in 1952 and they raised the tax valuation on his property 5 per cent, and in 1952 he Painted his barn and they hiked it another 5 per cent. First off, he said, he had throwed his paint brush away to avoid the evils of temptation, and farthermore, if things come to the worst he would just take the roof off'n the barn and git 'em to lower him back to the ground. He said he made to walk the last long mile on this earth even-steven if he had to tare the place down and backmail his Congressman into giving him one of them free Army tents they give to folks in a disaster area.

Personal, Mister Editor, I think Zeke is trying to do it the hard way I aim to keep on taking a few aspirins to deaden any Government pains as possible.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Rising costs were noted during 1953 in all types of Michigan hospitals, including federal, state and county institutions, the survey showed.

Total patient care expenses last year in the state were $638.2 million, a hike of $28 million over 1952.

The rising costs in the past two years were attributed largely to increased salaries, medical specialization and advanced technology. This evaluation was made by Association Executive Director Allan Barth.

"Many hospital specialists and technicians today are performing jobs that were unknown 10 years ago but are commonplace today,"

Items Taken from the Files of The Chelsea Standard

4 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Nov. 10, 1949—Republican Vice-President Richard M. Nixon conceded the presidential election at one o'clock Wednesday to the Democratic candidate, Senator John F. Kennedy. The popular vote had continued throughout the night on a 51-49 percent basis.

At 8:15 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 6, large snowflakes fell for some time in the Chelsea area. During the night sufficient snow fell to cover and cling to trees and bushes for several hours during Sunday morning before it melted away.

Chelsea High School football team won the Washtenaw Conference championship for 1950, the second successive year. The team roster includes Dan Ellenwood, Richie Wood, Alton Nixon, Jerry Ringe, Danny Mayer, Homer Nixon, Charles Waller, Ed Lauson, Al Schauer, Larry Kramer, Ken Larson, Dave McLaughlin, Mike Marsh, Jim Maynard, Don Blalock, Daryl Keizer, Tom Dunlap, Tom Eisenbeiser, Dudley Holmes, Robert Riemschneider, Don Sexton, Don Brooks, Don Wilson, Stan Hand and Paul Schramm. Alan Conklin is head coach and Truman O'Doherty, line coach.

In the 14 Years Ago column (Nov. 21, 1940): at a joint meeting of the Women's Auxiliary and Ladies Aid of St. Paul's church, plans were completed for the merger of the two societies. Officers of the new society, to be known as the Women's Guild, are headed by Mrs. Otto Lucht, president.

14 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Nov. 9, 1939—George Thomas English, 86, a resident of this community since 1882, died Wednesday after several months' illness. He had been a continuous member of Lafayette Grange for 57 years.

The Village Council passed an ordinance Monday prohibiting the parking of house trailers within the village limits except in licensed trailer parks.

The close of the 1950 football season sees Milan in first place and Chelsea in second place in the league. Other placings in the league, in order of standings, are U. High, Flat Rock, Dundee, Roosevelt, Lincoln and Saline.

Hare's office currently administers the production and distribution of driver licenses, but examinations are given and fees collected locally, frequently by politically elected officials.

"Certainly a staff of civil servants performing the same chores would be under less pressures to favor the applicant," said Hare. "In short, under our present system it is almost impossible to keep the driver licensing examinations out of the sphere of political influence."

Costly Care

If you think hospital costs have risen in the past two years in Michigan, your observation is correct.

A survey by the Michigan Hospital Association showed 1953 patient care costs in state short-term community hospitals averaged $42.66 per day. This was over $3 above the national average and $2.33 more than the average daily cost in Michigan the previous year.

Rising costs were noted during 1953 in all types of Michigan hospitals, including federal, state and county institutions, the survey showed.

Total patient care expenses last year in the state were $638.2 million, a hike of $28 million over 1952.

The rising costs in the past two years were attributed largely to increased salaries, medical specialization and advanced technology. This evaluation was made by Association Executive Director Allan Barth.

Juvenile Court Ups Board Rates For Foster Homes

An increase in board rates for juvenile court wards placed in foster homes licensed by the court has been announced by Judge John W. Conlin. The new rate, which will become effective on Jan. 1, will be $20 per week per child.

The decision to increase the board rate followed a study of increased living costs since the present rate was established many years ago. It represents also some recognition of the tremendous service foster parents contribute to the children they care for and to the community which has ultimate responsibility for the welfare of these children. In making the announcement, Judge Conlin stressed the service and devotion which foster parents give to children who, through no fault of their own, must live with substitute parents.

Foster families are still critically needed by the court, and interested families are encouraged to call the court to discuss this.

Foster homes are used for children whose natural parents can not provide for them. The court, meanwhile, endeavors to work with the child's parents to improve the conditions which made it necessary to place the child away from his own family. The work of the court is directed toward prevention and rehabilitation.

One of the most vital links in the process of rehabilitation is the foster home, said Mrs. Helen Rutledge, director of the Foster Home Development Project at the court. No amount of money could fully compensate for the far-reaching influence a foster home may have at a critical time in a child's life, she pointed out. However, the increase in board rates she continued, should offer a realistic and tangible recognition of the service these dedicated foster parents give.

New foster homes, especially for teen-age children, are still very much needed. Anyone who is interested or who would like to have additional information may get in touch with Mrs. Helen B. Rutledge, director, Foster Home Development Project, Washtenaw County Juvenile Court.

COUNTY GOVERNMENT DAY: The group of high school students shown in the above photograph were representatives of 17 high schools assigned to participate in County Government Day last Thursday as "county extension directors" appointed from their respective schools. At left in the center group of girls is Dwayne Gesterle, Chelsea High school senior. Donald R. Johnson, Washtenaw county extension director, at far left, told the group about the duties of his office when he met with them in the Supervisors Room in the County Building. The annual event in which the students learn about all departments in the county is sponsored by the American Legion with the aid of Circuit Judge James R. Breakey, Jr. and Julius W. Haab, county superintendent of schools. More than 400 students participated. (Ann Arbor News Photo).

High School Students Take Part In Annual County Government Day

Forty-eight high school students from this area were among the more than 400 from 17 schools in the county who were in Ann Arbor last Thursday for the annual County Government Day, a project sponsored jointly by the American Legion, Circuit Judge James R. Breakey, Jr., and Julius W. Haab, county superintendent of schools. It was the 12th annual observance of the day.

Eleven students from each participating school were chosen to fill county elective offices, and 13 were named for appointive offices. The student mock officers spent the major part of the morning visiting county department heads and observing the transaction of their duties.

They had a luncheon at noon at the Ann Arbor American Legion Home, sponsored and served by the members of Legion Posts and Auxiliaries of the county.

Principal speaker at the luncheon was State Senator I. Gilbert Bursley.

In the afternoon the students attended a criminal trial with Circuit Judge James R. Breakey, Jr., presiding.

Preparation for the annual County Government Day begins several weeks before the actual event. Civics classes and government classes take up the study of county government, learning about the duties of the various elective and appointive offices and then choose representatives to attend.

League of Women Voters material is given among the information sources teachers have used in discussing county government.

Chelsea students who took part in the County Government Day are Bob Allen, Beverly Arnett, Vicki Blacklaw, Phil Boham, Judy Bollinger, John Bowling, Rose Curtis, Gary Dresch, Audrey Hayes, Don Hinderer, Paul Huber, Tom Johnson, Jim Knott, Greg Kuhl, Bill Ledford, Dwayne Gesterle, Dave Priest, Alyce Riemenschneider, Lee Satterthwaite, Charles Schmunk, James Scott, Linda Schiller, Wanda Schiller and Ed Windell.

High School Principal Charles Lane and James Bedford were faculty advisors for the Chelsea group.

Representing the Chelsea American Legion and Auxiliary were Merle Burt, Jr., and Herman Reed, both past commanders, and Mrs.

Julius Eisele, Mrs. Irwin Klumpp and Mrs. Leon Fox.

Teacher, David Miller, accompanied them.

Those students who attended are Rebecca Mast, Bill Ratliff, Dennis Eagleberger, Barbara Brushaber, Dan Wheeler, John Given, Duane DeVoe, Sandra Ratliff, Dallas Winkler, Richard Barkley, Bill Howard, Sharon Scheffer, Glenn Seleska, Margaret Baylis, Marvin Winkle, Pricilla Clayton, Karl Wire, Ruth Nonnemancher, Mary Zink, Sylvia Schneider, Edward Lobdell, Barbara Hartman, Paul Crews, and Jonathan Chaffee.

Telephone Directories Out Today

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. announced it will begin delivery of its new and improved Ann Arbor Ypsilanti area telephone directory in eight communities beginning today.

Nicholas J. Prakken, manager here, said it will take some 10 days to deliver 120,000 copies in Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Whitmore Lake, Willis and Ypsilanti.

Prakken said all local customers will receive the enlarged phone book which will consist of the following:

—An Ann Arbor alphabetical list;

—A blue section with separate alphabetical lists of Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Saline, South Lyon, Whitmore Lake and Willis;

—An Ypsilanti alphabetical list;

—A Yellow Pages section containing "out-of-intercity" classified list of business customers in Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Whitmore Lake, Willis and Ypsilanti.

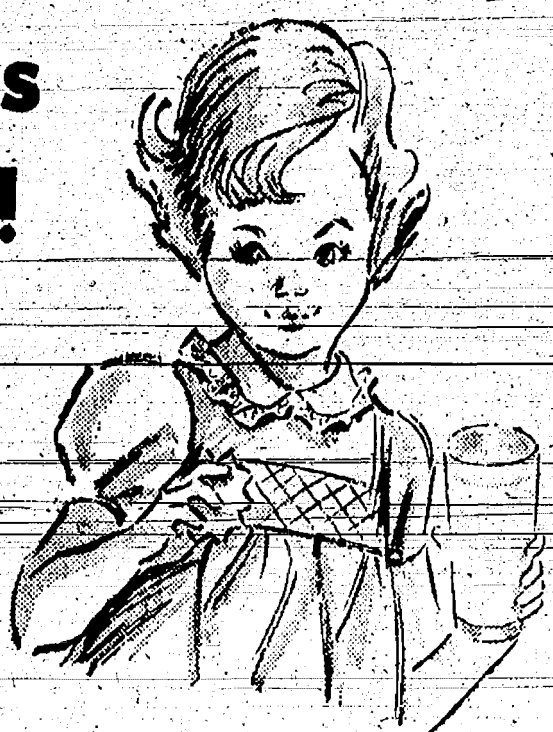

This new area directory, Prakken said, consolidates directories serving these eight communities. Each customer in the eight exchanges will receive the identical directory.

This will make more listings—both alphabetical and Yellow Pages available to more customers, Prakken explained.

AGRICULTURAL EXPORTS

Agricultural exports from the United States in 1963 broke all records at $5.6 billion. They represented one-fourth of our total exports of goods and services and one-fifth of our total farm production, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. These exports last year were enough to fill more than a million freight cars or 4,600 cargo ships.

Hunting Violations Soar in October number of hunting violations and their disposition were listed last week by Conservation Officer Robert Simrak, 28, of Dearborn.

their car, pleaded guilty before Justice Jerome A. Lamb at Saline and such was assessed fine and costs of $17.30.

LeRoy Thompson, 31, of Detroit, picked up by Conservation Officer Boyer Saturday in Saline township, pleaded guilty the same day of killing a hen pheasant. He was assessed $50 fine and costs.

Beverly C. Kishbaugh, 37-year-old Adrian man, was arrested Nov. 1 in Saline township for carrying an unloaded gun in his car. He was assessed $18 fine and costs before Justice Doig on a signed complaint of a farmer on Scio Church Rd., Lima township. He was trespassing on the man's farm. He was charged with hunting on Oct.

10 without a license and was ordered to pay $18 fine and costs.

Boyer said several deer have been illegally killed, and then left where they fell. In one instance, discovered Sunday morning, the deer had been partially dressed and then left to spoil.

Boyer was called to the Oscar Lindauer farm where a large buck, injured by hunters, was discovered in the pig pen. Lindauer had moved the injured deer on a stone boat to get it out of the pen. It had been shot with a .22 rifle, Boyer said.

An investigation is under way in the shooting of an 11-point buck near Manchester. There was a witness to the shooting which occurred on English Rd. in Manchester township.

Approximately 10 deer have been killed - illegally or by cars - in the past two weeks. Those killed and left to spoil are a waste of natural resources, Boyer said. Those killed by cars and reported immediately can often be salvaged for use by institutions and the county jail.

Reports Wanted On Deer Killed Wearing Collars

Lansing - If you kill a collar-marked deer in Michigan this November, don't hide the fact for fear you've done something wrong.

Instead, tell Conservation Department field men all about it - the place where you shot the animal, whether it is a doe or buck, and the band number on its collar. Better yet, have your deer examined at one of the Department's roadside checking stations.

These biological checkpoints are located at the Straits of Mackinac and near Birch Run on I-75, Alma on US-27, Howard City on US-131, and White Cloud on M-37.

The story behind all this is tied to a Department research project on deer movements. Self-marking devices set out in northern deer yards and southern farmland areas have "collared" several hundred whitetails during the last few winters.

Now, the Department is turning to hunters for reports on these tagged whitetails to form a clearer picture of deer comings and goings, which, in turn, will help shape better management of the animals in northern range.

Time was when we mined gold in Michigan. In a 15-year period late in the 19th century, the Ropes mine in Marquette county produced $850,000 worth of gold.

As has been pointed out frequently by village and police department officials, residents should be on their guard in dealing with door-to-door salesmen. If they are unknown to them, personally, or if they fail to properly identify themselves or continue "sales talk" after being told the householder is not interested, the police department should be notified at once.

The young mother, speaking of her experience in the encyclopedia episode, said "Those salesmen just pick out the young people because they think they can fool them - the older, more experienced people would know better and wouldn't be deceived."

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

★ Consumer Spending Trends . . .

It is a common observation and a correct one, that ever since World War II American consumers have been spending an increasing proportion of their incomes on services, and a declining proportion on goods. It is widely assumed that this is an inbuilt trend which is bound to continue in the future.

Some economists have gone further, and concluded that consumers have no very great desire for more goods and are therefore increasingly turning to services as a way of spending their rising incomes. This raises the spectre of what will happen when people also run out of desires for more services. Will economic growth eventually slow down because consumers don't want more of anything—either goods or services?

Surprising Stability
In a recent speech Assistant Secretary of Commerce Holton calls into question the whole basis for these assumptions and fears. It is true, he points out, that the fraction of total consumption spending going for services has risen since 1947 — from 61 percent in that year to 41 percent in 1963.

However, the explanation lies not in an unprecedentedly high share spent on services in 1963 — but in an abnormally low share going for that purpose in 1947. If the comparison is carried back to 1929 the fact emerges that the proportions spent on goods and on services have remained unchanged. In both 1929 and 1962, 59 percent of consumer spending went for goods and 41 percent for services. The stability of the breakdown is surprising since per capita incomes, even after allowance is made for the change in the purchasing power of the dollar, doubled over the interval.

As time goes on the price of services tends to rise relative to the price of goods. But this cuts two ways. We have to pay more for the services we do buy. We are also given an incentive to buy goods which serve as a substitute for the services.

Cross Currents
The automatic washing machine takes the place of the laundress and frozen foods take the place of the kitchen maid. The television set (a good) takes the place of a trip to the movies (a service).

All sorts of cross currents have been at work affecting the mix of consumer spending. Since 1929 an increasing proportion of after-tax income has been spent for physician's services, about the same proportion for dental, and a smaller proportion for burial and funeral expenses. Much more, relatively, is spent for interest on personal debt and much less on shoe cleaning and repair. Surprisingly, a smaller part of after-tax income now goes for foreign travel than was the case in 1929.

Apparently over the past 35 years things have pretty well balanced out and the two broad categories — "goods" and "services" — have taken unchanged fractions of our family incomes. There is no evidence here that we are getting fed up with either goods or service or that consumers are likely to change radically the way they divide their spending between the two.

Altar Society Will Meet at St. Louis School

St. Mary's Altar Society meeting for November was held Wednesday evening at St. Mary's school with the president, Mrs. John Keusch presiding at the business session. She expressed appreciation to the committee who assisted during the recent 40 Hours Devotion at St. Mary's saying the program was a success and the efforts of Altar Society committees contributed to the success.

Mrs. James Gaken, who is the society's contact lady, asked members to keep a record of any community service volunteer work they engage in and the number of hours they devote to each. She said her annual report requires this information. She mentioned particularly such work as the Chelsea Community Blood Bank and the Community Chest.

Mrs. Gaken also announced that the next Washtenaw County Deanery meeting will be held Dec. 13 at St. Alexis church at Willow Run.

The evening's program included a guest speaker, James McNiven, student advisor at the Catholic International Student Center at the University of Michigan. He explained the program for entertaining foreign students for the day on Thanksgiving Day, a project being sponsored in Chelsea by at least nine area churches.

Appointed as the altar committee for November were Mrs. Wallace Wood and Mrs. William Hitchingham.

The December refreshment committee includes Mrs. Carl Lentz and Mrs. Mark McKernan.

The December Altar Society meeting is to be held at St. Louis School for Boys. Instead of an exchange of Christmas gifts among Altar Society members each member is asked to make a cash contribution and the total will be presented to the nuns at St. Louis School to use as they wish.

Each member also is asked to bring one Christmas tree ornament for decorating a tree at the school. The ornaments will be left at the school to have on hand another year.

At the close of Wednesday's meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Arnold Steger and her committee.

Incorrect Identification
Joanne Schneider was the winner of second prize in the "most typical of Halloween" category at the Kiwanis Halloween party. Her name was incorrectly given in the list submitted for publication last week.

TOM POWER and Scott Smith, Chelsea High school seniors, have been given recognition for devoting more than 100 hours to transporting patients at the University of Michigan Medical Center to and from church services. Called chapel escorts they arrive each Sunday morning well before the 9:30 a.m. service to call for patients in wheelchairs, beds and stretchers and take them to the chapel. They stand by until the final hymn is concluded, just in case someone has to leave early. After delivering them safely back to their rooms or wards, the boys escort patients to and from a second service at 10:30 a.m. The boys learned of the need for chapel escorts through Mrs. Robert Power, mother of Tom Power, who is a nurse at the hospital. He began as a volunteer in 1962 and Smith joined him last January. Smith (at right) is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smith.

Tales of Uninspected Meat Sold in County Branded Totally False

Dr. George Bowler, Public Health Veterinarian for Washtenaw county, stated today that complaints have been received by the City Health Department from persons solicited for a "food plan," indicating that some meat sold in Ann Arbor and Washtenaw county is not government inspected.

Dr. Bowler said, "By using this approach, the salesmen attempt to convey the impression that uninspected meat is sold here, whereas they emphasize that their products are government inspected."

He went on to say, "The City Health Department wishes to clear up the confusion that has been created by this approach by saying that all meat sold in Ann Arbor and Washtenaw county is inspected by some governmental agency—either federal, county or city."

Any person purchasing meat from local dealers may be assured that it has been inspected.

Hunters Should Sign With Conservation Dept

Lansing—One of the things that hunters should do when they reach their destination, northern Michigan is to let the nearest Conservation Department or district office know they'll be staying.

This simple step will be a time-saver for Department men in finding registrars and if emergencies develop at hunting grounds, they'll be able to find out where the hunters are staying on state-owned lands. They'll be able to find out where the hunters are staying on state-owned lands.

For the same reason, all hunters are required to post game cards at their camps. These cards, which must be filled with each hunter's name and address, are available free at the dealers and the Department's district headquarters.

Hunter Stop-Overs Urged at Deer Checking Stations

Lansing — Michigan hunters who get their deer this season can learn more about the animals they've shot and give the Conservation Department a big assist in managing whitetails by stopping at the way home at a roadside checking station.

Game biologists at these stations will tell hunters the age of their deer and examine the animals for other information, including antler development. Within a few minutes, co-operating sportsmen will be back on the road, equipped with some facts sure to come in handy when they recount their tales of success at work or around the neighborhood.

Through the help of hunters, Department game men will be able to size up the herd's condition, finding out at the same time those areas where winter food shortages have held down deer production and growth.

Sites of the Department's roadside stations will be at the Straits of Mackinac, and near Bivert Run on I-75, Alma on US-27, Howard City on US-131, and hike Cloud on M-37.

Deer will be checked through the Straits station Nov. 15-22 and Nov. 28-29. The other stop-over points will be open Nov. 15-17, Nov. 21-22, and Nov. 28-29.

Happiness adds up to different things for every person.

Michigan... after bowling, beer is a natural

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your ease in the home room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that life in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy it and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of our personal freedoms.

Michigan...beer goes with fun, with relaxation

Here are three kinds of tigers. We sell two. (Have you priced a tiger lately?)

The quick ones are ours. Pontiac Le Mans, top left. Pierce, 250 or 265 hp optional. Pontiac GTO, above. Ferocious. Comes with 335 hp, bucket seats, Hurst floor shifter, dual exhaust, heavy-duty springs, redline tires. The whole package. That other tiger? A puzzled cat. Checked out a "sporty" car, found it doesn't come with tigers at that stripped-down price. Look around. See.

Community College Needs Cited During Education Week

American Education Week which has been observed all this week and ends tomorrow, focuses attention on all areas of education from the beginning of school through college.

Particular attention at this time might be directed to the efforts being made by a group of Washtenaw County citizens to bring a Community College to this county to fill in the "gap" left between high school graduation and a four-year university education.

It is estimated that 6 out of 10 Washtenaw county graduates qualify, want, and need higher education, but not necessarily the kind that is now available here.

Semi-professional training in such fields as electronics, industrial technology, electricity, commercial art and any number of other areas is not available within the county. This means added expense to students who should be able to get their education near home.

A Community College (sometimes known as a Junior College) would serve either as the first two years of a normal four-year course for those students who do not quality or do not want to go immediately from high school into a four-year college or it would service students who want to take a shorter term of training in the semi-professional fields. It would be available to adults—even to those over 21 years of age who had not completed high school.

The United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare has announced that 10 years from now 8 million students will be clamoring at the doors of colleges, not only for education, but the financial means to pay for it. This figure is nearly double the present enrollment.

Between now and 1980, the college student population will require the building of more college facilities than were built between the landing of the Pilgrims and 1950.

Landscaping Plans Discussed By Library Friends

Friends of the Library, at their November semi-annual meeting, discussed plans for a proposed landscaping project for improvement of the grounds at McKune Memorial Library.

Among other matters discussed were adult classes and the president, Jack Merkel, expressed the opinion that strictly educational classes apparently were not popular in locally-sponsored courses because of proximity of the University of Michigan where credits toward a degree may be earned. Merkel pointed out that apparently courses offered under sponsorship of the Friends of the Library should be those which might be in the category of fun or entertainment — recordings of music and drama; art appreciation; bridge, etc.

Plans were made to offer such classes after the holidays. Classes in strictly educational courses offered this fall by the Friends of the Library were canceled because of insufficient registrations.

Other matters touched upon at the meeting were plans for a concerted membership drive and the current promotion of a campaign to establish a community college in the county.

The meeting of the Friends of the Library was held at McKune Memorial Library Monday evening, Nov. 2.

To get down to it, it is a pity money doesn't grow on trees.

ULTRA-COLOR TELEVISION

Model M 951 AWD

You Get All This When You Buy GE

EXCLUSIVE: NEW SYNCHRONIZING SYSTEM — Improved (G-E patented) synchronizing circuitry, combined with a unique noise canceller is highly immune to interfering signals and/or variations of transmitted signals, resulting in "rock-solid" stability and true color fidelity of the picture. In normal color sets, this type of interference would cause picture instability, i.e., pulling, tearing, as well as color hue variations.

COMPACTRONS . . . Though similar in appearance to ordinary television tubes, each compaction replaces two or three tubes of the ordinary variety. Compactrons make a difference inside the set . . . a difference that can be shown in terms of lower service costs, fewer tube replacement problems, and a better picture . . . all through Compactionized circuitry.

KEYED AGC . . . Retains optimum picture quality regardless of signal strength. Automatically, the weak signals are amplified, the strong signals are dampened to maintain constant picture quality. The "keyed" system minimizes airplane "flutter" and picture "fading" in weak signal areas.

SYSTEM-CONTROLLED PICTURE POWER . . . Just as using "the right tool for a job" will give the best results, the right amount of high voltage designed for a specific chassis and circuit will give the best picture — neither too much nor too little. All GE color TV sets have a REGULATED SYSTEM-CONTROLLED voltage supply generating 24,500 volts specifically designed to balance the requirements of the circuit and picture tube used. The result . . . a picture with sharpness, crispness, and brightness that is just right!

Announcements from Tri-State College at Angola, Ind., state that Guy Devine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Devine, of Dexter, formerly of Chelsea, has been appointed to the sales staff of the 1965 Modulus, the college yearbook published by the student staff.

Devine, a student in the Department of Electrical Engineering, is a 1961 graduate of Chelsea High School.

High School Principals Confer with Freshmen Students at U. of M.

High School Principal Charles Lane is in Ann Arbor today for the 38th annual freshmen-principal counselor conference at the University of Michigan.

Most important function of the conference is to allow representatives of high schools which have freshmen at the U-M to review the progress of the students by conferring with both the University and the student.

Principal Lane will confer with Susan Schroen and Victor Parks, 1964 Chelsea High school graduates who are freshmen at the University.

The program also aids the University in maintaining close relations with the secondary schools of both Michigan and surrounding states, and works especially to keep these schools informed on U-M policy and procedures concerning admissions and counseling of freshmen students.
