GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

The problems of aging in 1965 are not those of 10 years ago, or even five years ago. Our Michigan citizens who are 65 years of age and older have become an increasing proportion of our society, bringing with these sheer numbers new and challenging problems. We have experienced a population explosion at the top of our age scale as well as the bottom. Where only 15 years ago there were 462,000 Michigan citizens 65 years and older, representing 7.2 percent of our total population, today there are more than 700,000 representing about 8.5 percent. If brought together, these Senior Citizens would totally populate Oakland county, our second largest county.

At the same time these citizens are passing that special year that marks the entrance to their "Golden Years" with the promise of longer lives than ever before as a result of modern scientific, economic and social advances. Where at the turn of the century life expectancy at birth was 47 years, today it is more than 70 years and increasing steadily. While these elderly men and women are not an isolated, separate part of our society, they have special problems requiring full attention of our public and private resources. We have made demonstrable progress in the health care field, tackling their pressing health needs, living standards and productivity. Michigan ranks among the leading states in these endeavors.

We have not stood still. There have been significant improvements in the Medical Assistance to the Aged state program in the past two years. MAA coverage has been extended to 15 percent more senior citizens, broader care for MAA patients and a free choice of hospitals have been made possible. Nursing homes have been included under MAA and other major improvements have been made.

Because of these legislative and administrative improvements, many more Michigan older people are eligible and are receiving better medical and hospital care benefits than two years ago. Of the 32 states having a Kerr-Mills program, Michigan ranks among the top three in benefits paid under this program.

Other major improvements for senior citizens have also been secured. Higher payments under Old Age Assistance to 5,000 persons, while reducing local governmental costs; broader use of low-cost nursing homes and county hospitals; expanded foster home care programs and rehabilitation of senior citizens transferred out of state institutions;

more local councils on aging and referral centers; vigilance in state inspection of nursing homes; an expanded older worker placement program to attack hard-core unemployment of older workers.

Adding it all up, I believe Michigan has made significant progress in the past two years in solving some of the acute problems of our senior citizens. But this is an era of rapid change when needs are growing at an incredible pace. The fields of health care, housing, taxation, welfare, education, research and community level action all present opportunities for continued improvement.

I have made recommendations to the legislature based upon an extensive study made during 1964 by task forces appointed to work with the Michigan Commission on Aging to take a 10-year look at our situation.

Tax Relief
 I am convinced tax relief on the homes owned and occupied by our senior citizens is desirable. Varying proposals have been made, including one for property tax deferral which I submitted as part of a statewide program of tax reform in 1963.

I have recently appointed a blue-ribbon committee headed by Alfred Pelham of Detroit to examine this question of tax relief and report its recommendations to me in time for action in this regular legislative session. If these recommendations cannot be developed in time, I will submit a program at a special session for this purpose.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Important People

To Michigan Servicemen in Vietnam. This is sort of an open letter which I hope will find its way into your hands. Dickey Chapelle, a woman reporter who has been working in your part of the world until early this year, addressed the Michigan Press Association about what's going on there. One of her main points was to the effect that we at home don't understand enough about Vietnam to really appreciate the importance of the fighting; and that Americans there are very discouraged with this lack of understanding.

A lot of people here do care what's going on in Vietnam. The number grows every day. Maybe some of the fine points are hazy to us, but more and more people are concerned about the basic issue. And more and more people are appreciating what you are doing. There is a clearer understanding all the time of the problems you face, the handicaps you must overcome and, most importantly, of the significance of your activities.

While I can't speak for anyone but myself, I'm eager to pass on to you and all our servicemen my personal gratitude for what you are doing for our country and to tell you that I am sure there are thousands of others in Michigan who feel the same way.

This letter is sent in appreciation of your efforts, with thankfulness you are doing so well; and with the best of hopes that you will soon return safely in the pride that you made an important contribution to our country's existence.

Relatives or friends of servicemen are requested to send this letter to Vietnam. Or better still, their personal message expressing their appreciation.

Too Young To Drive
 Parents of teen-agers can provide some insight to legislators on a matter likely to be proposed this year.

Pressure is mounting for a change in the driver licensing law to make 17 the minimum driving age. The Michigan Driver Education Association, a group of teachers, recently joined in support of this proposal and many would say they should be experts on the matter.

James Sando, president of the driver education teachers' group, said the members believe 16-year-olds "cannot be expected to cope with complexities of present-day driving conditions."

Other voices supporting the 17-year minimum driving age say it would help keep auto insurance rates down because the younger the driver the greater the risk and higher the rates.

Since currently the 16-year-old motorist comes under special provisions where driving rule violations are concerned, some say he should lose either this special privilege or the right to drive.

A teen-age driver's tendency to have a carload of friends with him, thus magnifying the impact of any misfortune, brings many safety officials in to support the 17-year limitation.

Opponents of the change come largely from the "you can't blame them all for the actions of a few" school of thought.

Since parents of teen-agers will be those who hear the complaints if such a change is enacted, they might be wise to form an opinion on the matter and convey it to the lawmakers.

Underground Mail
 State Building Director, Adrian N. Languis, reports a conveyor belt freeway system, complete with electronically controlled intersections on the principle of highway interchanges, will be installed under the proposed complex of new state office buildings in Lansing.

The system will be used to replace the present messenger-mail service between state agencies. Mail going from the Supreme Court Building to the Capitol, for example, would be placed in electronically marked baskets on the conveyor and travel along the freeway underground, next to a series of pedestrian tunnels, until it reached its destination.

Languis said the system was expected to save the state thousands of dollars a year in personnel costs, in addition to providing faster service than is now possible.

Thursday, March 2, 1961—

Publicity in city newspapers recently concerning an Illinois girl, blind since birth, who has overcome her handicap to the extent that she has earned a high school teaching contract brought to the attention of several Chelsea residents the fact that the girl is a niece of Mrs. Carl Schlosser and a cousin of the Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery teacher, Mrs. Raymond Schairer. The girl is Barbara Winters of Princeton and Normal, Ill. Miss Winters has been hired to teach English and Social studies to students with normal eyesight in a junior high school at Palatine, Ill.

Miss Josephine E. Walker, who lived her entire lifetime at 230 E. Middle St., died Thursday night at Colonial Manor Nursing Home. She had been a patient there the past two weeks. Miss Walker was 57 years old. She was a former employee of Chelsea Milling Co. and Federal Screw Works.

Mrs. LaVerne Haffley, 28-year-old mother of four, died suddenly at 10:45 a.m. Friday as she was shopping in downtown Chelsea. The former Vera J. Ganzhorn, she was married to LaVerne Haffley July 5, 1960.

A surprise party in observance of the birthday of Walter Bauer was arranged by Mrs. Bauer and held Saturday evening at the Bauer home. Euche was the evening's entertainment.

Approximately 125 fathers and sons attended the annual banquet in their honor Thursday evening at Bethel Evangelical and Reformed church. The evening's speaker was the Rev. Robert Richards, pastor of the Saline Methodist church.

Approximately a dozen students at Chelsea High school are taking part today in the fourth annual Michigan Mathematics Prize contest. The test is being held in the faculty dining room. Next Tuesday, March 7, an all-day testing program for juniors will be given in the high school library. This is the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test.

One of the most enjoyable social events ever held by St. Paul's church was their annual get-together, which was held Thursday evening in their church hall, with 220 partaking of a potluck dinner at 6:30. The tables were laid with white cloths, white and lighted with red, white and blue candles. A trumpet solo, "God of Our Fathers" was played.

Thursday, March 1, 1951—

Mary Ann Haffner, who was stricken with meningitis last Saturday morning, died at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at University hospital, Ann Arbor. A sophomore at Chelsea High school, she had attended classes last Thursday but remained home Friday because she was not feeling well. She was taken to the hospital Saturday morning after becoming unconscious and never rallied.

Announcement by the Chrysler Corp. two weeks ago that the Sylvan township "mystery project" was to be used as a proving ground for their trucks and passenger cars has failed to stop rumors about the 3800-acre tract of land and its ultimate use. Lending support to a rumor, that "Chrysler is turning the area over to the Army this week" residents of the community report that Army trucks and jeeps have been seen entering the project. Spokesmen for Chrysler in their public relations office would say only that Chrysler has for some time been working with the Army in developing and testing military vehicles and will go on doing so.

Donald Alber is Chelsea's new Civil Defense director, having been appointed by Village President M. W. McClure to replace Willard Guest who resigned. Guest, who was appointed to the post last July, said he was forced to curtail all outside activities for the sake of his health and because of increasing business demands. Alber said he has recently received some new information, including posters and pamphlets on certain phases of civil defense. He plans to call a meeting soon of all committee members and make plans for future activities.

The Rev. H. Lenz, of Salem Grove Methodist church, was pleasantly surprised Sunday when about 75 members of his congregation and friends gathered at the church basement for a community dinner, the occasion being his 69th birthday. Immediately after the church service everyone joined in singing "Happy Birthday to You." A short program followed the bountiful dinner. All departed wishing the Rev. Lenz many more happy birthdays.

 Thursday, Feb. 28, 1931—

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Barth was celebrated with a delightful party given Sunday at their home in Lima township by their daughter, Mrs. A. I. McMullen of Detroit, and their son, William F. Barth, of Dearborn. After the presentation of a German song, "We Thank Thee, Oh God," by Mrs. Gertrude Barth, Mr. and Mrs. Barth were the guests of honor. (Continued on page four)

'65 CHEVROLET

These great performers are the lowest priced models at our One-Stop Shopping Center

Top to bottom: Chevy II 100, Corvair 500, Chevelle 300, Chevrolet Biscayne. All 2-door models.

Each of these beauties is the lowest priced in its line. But the ride doesn't show it. Or the interior. Or the performance.

That luxurious Biscayne is as roomy as many expensive cars, has color-keyed interiors, plush vinyls, fine fabrics, full deep-twist carpeting.

Chevelle, America's favorite intermediate-size car, has clean new styling, wide doors, roomy, tasteful interiors and Chevrolet easy-care features.

Chevy II got a lot smarter for '65, but stayed sensible! Still family-size, easy to handle, economical, and the lowest priced Chevrolet you can buy.

Or get a sporty rear-engine hardtop in a Corvair Sport Coupe or Sport Sedan for fun in the months ahead.

Chevrolet, Chevelle and Chevy II are available with the Turbo-Thrift Six for fuel economy, quick warmups, quiet idling. It's light, efficient, smooth and spirited.

Corvair's air-cooled rear-mounted Turbo-Air Six delivers the best balance and traction for this size car.

So be practical. Only you will know. Because it sure won't show!

provided by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Child Study Club.

Blacktopped the parking lots at the fire station and the Mill storage area.

Made a study of sewer and water rates.

Established an additional use district for village zoning. (Transitional residential, office district).

Entered into a contract with Consumers Power Co. for purchase of certain electric distribution property and for furnishing wholesale electric power.

Removed approximately 25 dead and diseased trees.

Approved installation of 1,130 feet of 8-inch water main along N. Main St.

Purchased new sanitary-sewer cleaning machine.

Participated in the Chelsea Recreation program.

Approved an ordinance regulating bicycles and their operation within the village with the village to begin licensing effective July 1, 1965.

Completed the updating and revising of the Village Zoning Ordinance.

Council representatives have been very active in the area planning meetings held in Ann Arbor and at the Council room. Area representatives from the surrounding townships have co-operated in over-all planning for the immediate area.

Approximately $4,000 has been received to date from merchants toward their contributions to the construction of the parking lot located on Park St. This $4,000 has been invested in savings certificates at the Chelsea State Bank.

Invested an additional $3,000 from the Public Works Building fund account in savings certificates.

ates. Total Building fund monies invested to date is $8,000.

In the area of industrial promotion Council has participated in these ways:

Activities involving industrial promotion are co-ordinated through the council sub-committee of "Economic Development."

Realizing the economic growth of our community is based primarily on industry and industrial expansion, the committee has been involved in the following activities:

- (1) The publishing of two brochures promoting Chelsea as an industrial area.
- (2) collecting and summarizing of data on all available industrial sites in the community.
- (3) Working with existing industries in the areas of company-community problems and land acquisition.
- (4) Collection of growth and expansion data on existing industries.

The "Economic Development" committee has held several meetings with representatives of several companies interested in new plant locations.

Approximately 500 feet of new curb was constructed.

Approximately 3000 feet of sidewalk was replaced, a small amount of which was in the business district.

The following streets were dug out and provided with a proper base and coated with one layer of blacktop: East Park, Congdon from South to Summit, Taylor from Lincoln to the South end, South St. from Main to Grant, W. Middle from the County yard to the Methodist Home entrance, Cleveland from W. Middle to the Railroad tracks, and approximately 150 on the east end of Jefferson.

Alleys sealedcoated — between East and Madison and between Main and East.

Streets sealedcoated — M-52 (partial) and Wilkinson St.

New storm sewers were laid in Congdon, South, W. Middle, sections of East, Park and Jefferson and a short section located in the alley between East and Madison. Several catch basins were constructed in connection with the storm sewer program.

Where necessary new copper water leads were connected to homes located on the streets under major repair and at the request of the Chelsea Fire Department, several new fire hydrants were installed on these same streets.

Tentative plans for 1965.

Construct new streets for Dewey, Howard Rd., Harrison and possibly E. North St. An accelerated program of sidewalk repair and replacement. Continued tree planting, complete water main construction. Beginning adequate storm sewer construction program. Continued program for acquisition of new, more efficient equipment for the public works department. Continue up-dating the present village ordinances and zoning. Plans are being considered regarding cost of construction of sanitary facilities for Veterans Park. The street light system will be improved in several areas of the Village.

Continued negotiations will be held with Washtenaw County Road Commission regarding the feasibility of a major improvement program for Freer Rd. Village engineers are investigating possible solutions for the immediate repairs of both sections of Freer Rd. Improvements are being considered for Pierce Park.

East African Adventures...

young and energetic people are all very intelligent teachers, and at the same time possess the ability to cope with the African student in an understanding way.

After five days of traveling,
I had a motorcycle accident near Makale, Ethiopia. Fortunately,
I was unharmed, but my motor cycle was not able to continue our journey. The night had come upon us, and we were 10 miles from the nearest village.
We hooked up a tow-line and Pat pulled me the 10 miles to Makale. We arrived in this small town about 8 p.m. and asked if any Peace Corps people were stationed there. An African stu dent directed us to a small house; we knocked, and two friendly faces invited us in. As things turned out, Pat and I stayed four days here while we repaired the cycle. After the cy cle was repaired, we started off again toward Addis Ababa, the capital of Ethiopia. We remem ber this day very well because Thanksgiving day had just ar rived. As fortune found us again, we had a wonderful tur key dinner with 35 Peace Corps
Volunteers in a town called Dessaye, Ethiopia.

We arrived in Addis Ababa without any more difficulties a few days later and roomed at the Peace Corps Transit House for one week. During this week we told by the British Embassy and the American Embassy not to travel south, because of the recent holdups and killings that have happened in the southern district of Ethiopia and the northern frontier district of Kenya.

Because of the warnings, we checked the possibilities of fly ing from Addis Ababa to Nai robi, Kenya. The fare amount ed to $200 each. We decided this was too much to pay so Fritz and I pointed our cycles southward and we were off.

The road was asphalt for 100 miles and the remainder being 200 miles of gravel road and sand track. Our first night stay in a United States Army Post
in Neghelli, Ethiopia. The post was staffed with five enlisted men and one Colonel Rooks. The Colonel fixed us up with the tastiest meal that we have come upon in Africa. They had just shot a Gazel, a small ani mal about the size of a large lamb and prepared filets for us.
The flavor that this piece of meat gave was just terrific;
even better than a filet mignon.

While in Neghelli an English chap found us and asked for a lift on our cycles to Moyale, Kenya. Pat decided he would take him on his cycle, so off we were the next day. The road we traveled on was so bad that the English chap said, "An English chap would not walk on a road
like this," but we drove on it.
After rock trails and swamps,
we arrived in Wachuli Wells, population 100. Here we lodged in a Tukul, a clay hut with a grass roof. We had afternoon tea in a local tea house, but words will never describe our experience. Daybreak was peer ing at us and we were motoring
again.

About 10 miles from this vil lage, Pat had a flat tire. We had an extra tube, so we changed it.
Our air pumps failed, so Pat
had to limp in on a low tire.
That day's journey was not too bad, except for the few times we lost the "trail." The only way to find where the trail had gone was for one of us to stay put while the other circled around in front. We did this four or five times, and luckily we re found the road. The three of us arrived in Moyale, Kenya about 4 p.m. and headed directly to the police department, where we met the chief inspector. His first words to us were, "It sure is a long way back to Addis Ababa boys." After we dis cussed the matter further, he agreed to let us stay on the condition that we charter an airplane out of the area as soon as possible. We agreed to the condition, so we stayed in Mey ale, Kenya.

During the next week we made arrangements with the Royal Air Force to fly our cy cles to Nairobi for us and we chartered a flight to Isiolo, Kenya 400 miles south. While being visitors to Moyale, Kenya,

the District Commissioner al lowed us to lodge in a vacant guest house, while we ate all of our meals with the Kenya Army.
Fritz and I made many friends in this army camp and also learned a few words of the Swa hili language. Our plane arrived one week later, and we were air borne for the first time in Africa.

Traveling with us in the plane
was a Captain of the Kenya Army. When we landed in Isiolo, he took us with him in an awaiting landrover to the head quarters of the First Kenya Rifles. Here in Nairobi, Kenya, we met the Commander, and at his request we had dinner with him at his table, and were furn ished sleeping accommodations in a four-bedroom, furnished house. The Commander also ar ranged for us to ride in a con voy to Nairobi the next day.

Nairobi was a welcome sight to see. This modern city is built in a valley and contains many new buildings. Many peo ple of varying cultures inhabit this fascinating city. In our ap praisal, Nairobi is like any other large city in the United States containing large stores,
many people and numerous au tomobiles. The people of Nai robi are very friendly and cour teous and enjoy the new faces that visit their fair city.

Since Christmas was only two days away we thought that we would go to Mount Kilimanjaro for the occasion. After check ing the train rates our decision was to go by train to Voi and to hitch-hike into Tanzania.
The cost was eleven shillings
($1.64) for the 200 mile journey, via third class. We did however make one great error. When we checked the schedule we thought the trip took five hours but ac tually it took 12 hours. What a trip. Three people on a seat made for one person; people sleeping on the floor and in the luggage racks and chickens climbing and jumping all over.
Toward the end of the trip the conductor felt sorry for us and put us into a second class com partment.

Arriving in Voi we found a police station to sleep in. The next day we stopped at a Sisal estate for a tour then on to Moshi, Tanzania at the foot of Mount Kilimanjaro. We found some T.E.A's (Teachers for East Africa) and spent Christ mas with them. It really did not seem like Christmas as we know it, because the tempera ture was 80 degrees on that spe cial day.

The day after Christmas we were off again. This time Mom bassa, the major port of Kenya

on the Indian Ocean. Mombassa really struck our hearts. It is a very pretty city with some of the nicest beaches in the world.
We stayed in the Roman Cath olic Cathedral with some Irish priests. After four days we re turned to Moshi for New Year's evening and then back to Mal robi.

We expected our cycles to be at the air base so we hitched out to the base, walked through a fence and on to the opera tions room. We started talking with the officer in charge and telling our conversation two police wardens in and ar rested us. We were held for three hours for being American spies. We finally convinced the inspector after much question ing and returned to the city without the cycles. Our cycles not being there we had no other choice but to go on the road to Uganda hitch-hiking. So back on the road for the 400-mile journey to Kampala.

Our first night was spent in a horticulture station experi menting with the plant pyre thrum. The next day we hitched to Kampala, the capital of Uganda and stayed with some teachers we had met in Moshi, Tanzania. Kampala is built on 11 hills and is located a few miles from Lake Victoria. While visiting Lake Victoria we had the pleasure of sailing on this fine lake, which was surrounded by fine white beaches.

After visiting Kampala we headed to the Murchison Falls National Park. While hitching into the park, three chaps stopped and gave us a lift into and around the game park. We saw many hippo, crocodiles and elephants. While driving across an open field a white rhino came upon us and walked with in two inches of our vehicle. He ran about and made fake charges at us while we photo graphed him. Our two days stay was much fun and exciting, but we both hated to leave the park with such a short visit.

Pat and I next hitched to Fort Portal, located on the Congo border. We met Congole se refugees and carried out small conversations with the aid of my broken French. While Pat was visiting the city, he had the pleasure of meeting Prince Charles, the second son in line for the throne of that district of Uganda. The Prince escorted Pat around the palace and the beautiful gardens that surround
the King's home.

The next day we headed to Queen Elizabeth National Park.
Upon reaching the park en trance, we were forced to wait transportation to the lodge which was four miles inside the game area. A local tractor from the lodge was returning, so we hitched a ride on the tractor for the four miles. We were unable to find any transportation around the park, so we returned to Kampala the following day, and then back to Nairobi. While hitching back to Nairobi the next morning, the Chief Engi neer of the Owen Fall dam picked us up and gave us the grand tour of the dam. The dam has six gates with a total area of 96 feet by 144 feet.
Through this small opening,
water flows at the rate of 1,200 tons per second and reaches a total distance of 100 feet be fore falling back to its stream level. The hydro-electric plant has eight generators and a max imum capacity of 10. The Owen Fall plant supplies electricity
as far east as Nairobi, Kenya
and as far west as the Rwen zori Mountains.

After leaving the Owen Fall dam we were given a lift by a coffee taster and his wife. His job is to sample each grade

of coffee for its particular taste.
He then recommends to the purchaser what coffee tastes best for the given price. We visited his coffee office where we were shown how coffee is sampled and graded. Fritz and I were also informed that Kenya coffee produces the world's best coffee, while the United States
buys poorer grades of coffee from South America. We also learned that the instant coffees contain very low graded coffees,
therefore the inferior taste.

The next day after a pleasant sleep at the railroad, Sleik Tem ple we headed out to Eastleigh Air Base to pick up our waiting cycles. After a few days of completing arrangements for our trip south, we were off
again.

We are back in Moshi, Tan zania. The weather in East Africa has been superb. No rain,

No SNOW. The temperature has ranged from 75 to 100 de grees throughout all of our journey. We are both golden brown, and are often taken for local natives. Will write again further south.

Just A Minute...

By the Rev. James A. Craig

Lent usually is tied up with Spring. Snow on the ground doesn't quite fit in the picture. Lent comes every year. We're all used to it, like Christmas. Many people will celebrate it in particular ways. Many will not.

Lent has been thought of as the "doing-without-season." We take some sort of pride in the fact that we are able to get along without something we don't need anyway. It's kind of nice to suffer, even slightly.

We're just not used to doing without, even for the brief span of six weeks. It's an unaccustomed role for most of us. We'll usually avoid it.

Lent is not a period for "doing without." It is not a season to avoid cake in order to lose weight. Nor is it to stop smoking either to save money or reduce the threat of cancer. Nor is it to break any of the habits we lack the will to break at other times of the year.

It is a time for looking closely "at the life you lead." All the rest is nonsense, pretending to be pious.

For us to tie Lent to "giving up" makes us miss the point. The point is getting something, not losing it. What you can get is a picture of what you can be. None of us is like Mary Poppins, "practically perfect."

But maybe YOU can be.

Beef Tour Slated Next Wednesday

The annual Washtenaw County Beef Tour will be held Wednesday, March 10. First stop will be at 8:30 a.m. at the Talladay farm on Judd Rd., one-half mile west of Hingham. This stop will feature high corn silage and high moisture silage fed in fence line to 250 head of Oklahoma Herefords and 100 head of Holsteins. The feed is weighed daily and the cattle are weighed monthly.

The second stop will be at the Fred Schettgen farm, 10715 S. Main Rd., Milan. Here 65 Holsteins and 10 Herefords are fed silage and ground ear corn with an auger feeder.

At noon, lunch will be served at the Pittsfield Grange Hall on S. Ann Arbor Rd. A short business meeting will be held to elect members to the Livestock Council to replace Harold Guenier, Max Ross, Les McCalla and Lloyd Grau. Following this, Willard McLeod, district extension agent in livestock marketing will discuss a "Blueprint for Livestock Production."

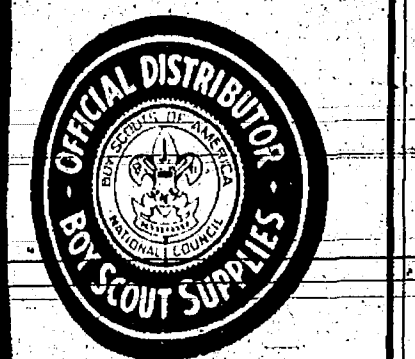

The afternoon will be spent at the Kappler Packing Co., 1791 Dhu Warren Rd. The stop will feature a guided tour of their new facilities as well as discussions on carcass grades and carcass qualities.

Dr. Hugh Henderson, beef specialist from Michigan State University will discuss the cattle and swine at each stop.

That evening, the Livestock Banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Chelsea High school. Waldo Johnson of Adrian will present "Riding High in India," a narrated film of his travels in India.

Throughout the county from the livestock show to the business places.

The simple life, praised in one verse, is not so simple this day and time.

Residence Requirements Changed for Postal Department Jobs

Postmaster Donald G. Bachman Sr., of Ann Arbor announced that on Feb. 24 the requirements of his Civil Service announcement for Substitute clerk-carrier positions was amended so that persons regardless of their residence may apply for this examination. Applications will be accepted from both men and women, regardless of their residence, who indicate willingness to accept appointment in the Ann Arbor Post Office, until further notice.

To apply you must be at least 18 years old (or 16 if you are a high school graduate). Eligibles will be placed on a single register and will be offered both clerk and carrier positions, as vacancies occur. Since carriers may have to drive collection trucks and similar postal vehicles, persons wishing appointment to this position must pass a special road test before appointment, in addition to the written test, and must be at least 18 years of age. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for equal employment opportunities, in rating, order, without regard to race, color, creed, sex, or national origin.

These postal clerk and carrier positions offer a starting pay of $2.48 an hour, automatic annual increases, night pay differentials, liberal vacation and sick leave plans, low cost insurance benefits, generous retirement plan, a uniform allowance.

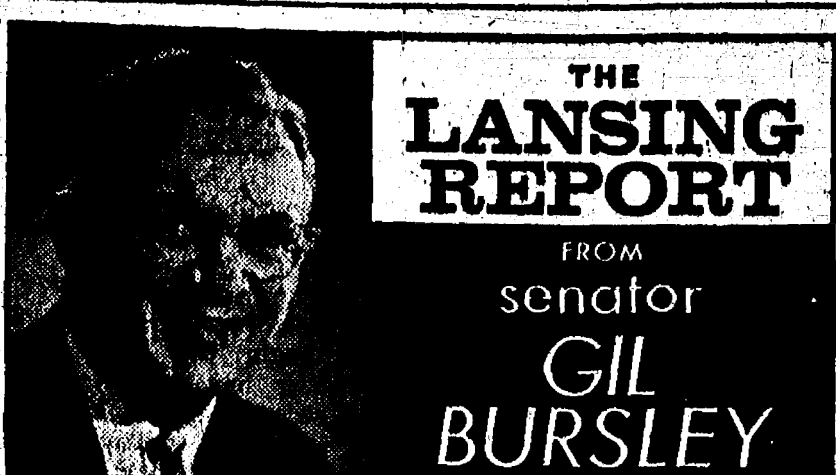

Complete information and application forms may be obtained from the Ann Arbor Post Office, any Post Office where the announcement is posted, or from the office of the Executive Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Room 123 of the Federal Building, Detroit, 48238.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rowe and Mrs. Mary Burg attended the funeral, Monday, of Mrs. Lillian Lingane, at St. John's Catholic church, Jackson.

The Rev. R. A. J. Livingston's mother will arrive Saturday, from Arlington, Va., for a week's visit with the Livingston family. The senior Mrs. Livingston is taking her first jet airplane trip at the age of 85.

Mrs. Walter Vicary and daughter Mrs. Annabelle Woolley, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. Vicary at Cedar Knoll Rest Home. They combined their visit with a treat for the staff, nurses, aides and patients in Unit 4, as a small and quiet remembrance for the Vicary's 60th wedding anniversary of March 2. Mrs. Vicary was pleased to find a card for the occasion, containing the same verse of Scripture used on their wedding certificate, Ruth 1-16.

★ Your Opinion Wanted, Please ...

The legislature has an unusual number of controversial bills before it. Some of them have been defeated regularly in prior sessions but because of the 50 percent turnover in legislators this year former voting patterns mean nothing and some of these proposals may pass.

What is your opinion on these subjects?

As your state senator I may be voting on some of these measures and I would like as much expression of opinion as possible from citizens in the Dexter-Chelsea area.

I would appreciate it if you would take a few minutes to indicate your views on the following form, clip it and mail it to me at the State Senate, State Capitol, Lansing. I would also appreciate any additional remarks you may wish to make on a separate sheet.

DO YOU BELIEVE:

That the voting age should be lowered to 18? ☐ Yes ☐ No

That greyhound dog racing with pari-mutual betting should be allowed in Michigan? ☐ Yes ☐ No

That liquor should be sold on Sundays providing local communities vote to allow it? ☐ Yes ☐ No

That bounties paid for foxes and coyotes should be eliminated? ☐ Yes ☐ No

That Michigan drivers should be required to have their vehicles inspected annually for safety purposes? ☐ Yes ☐ No

That Michigan drivers should be required to carry (compulsory) liability insurance? ☐ Yes ☐ No

That 16 & 17 year old drivers should be subject to the point system for traffic violations as adults? ☐ Yes ☐ No

That Michigan drivers should agree to blood tests if they are suspected of drunk driving as a condition ("implied consent") to being licensed to drive in Michigan? ☐ Yes ☐ No

That Michigan should have "total fiscal reform" now as advocated by Governor Romney? ☐ Yes ☐ No

That the state should pass legislation regulating and controlling the air pollution menace? ☐ Yes ☐ No have their children the fruits of their life's work. Often, savings or fixed incomes just aren't enough to cover the necessities during their final years. Old Age Assistance and MAA are available to maintain health and a minimum standard of living. But by accepting these helps, pride and dignity suffer. I believe we should eliminate this practice. I recommend that the legislative provisions of the MAA and OAA Acts be repealed.

Next week I would like to discuss such important problems as health care, housing, employment and the like with you.

Livestock Banquet Set Wednesday

The Washtenaw county Livestock Banquet will be held Wednesday, March 10 at 7:30 p.m. at Chelsea High school.

This annual event is sponsored by the Washtenaw County Livestock Council to highlight the importance of the livestock industry in the county.

Following a roast-beef dinner, Waldo Johnson of Adrian will present a program, "Riding High in India," featuring a narrated film of his travels in India. Johnson is widely known for his programs of far-away places.

To complete the program, door prizes, contributed by county merchants, will be given to lucky ticket holders.

Tickets are available from all county banks, elevators and many other business places. Also, all Livestock Council members including Leroy Holter, John Brooks, Lloyd Grau and Loren Koenigster of Chelsea; Bill Nixon, Art Ditzelky and Harold Guenther of Dexter; Max Ross of Saline, Herb Dibble of Ann Arbor and Les McCalla of Manchester.

TURKEYS QUIT MLF

Turkey has pulled out of the proposed multinational nuclear fleet. The State Department was aware of Turkey's lack of enthusiasm for about two months. Turkey borders Russia, and officials speculated that Moscow's stiff opposition to MLF might have influenced their decision.

where in Michigan who won awards chose Adrian College and three more Siena Heights College.

This year we hope to continue this program for those students who started last year and to triple the number of new awards to something approaching 4,000 for the school year 1965-66. We also hope to give certificates of recognition to meritorious students who aren't covered by cash awards. The certificate system, in use in Illinois where "honorary awards" are presented, is of some value. It gives the student a further recommendation if applying for admission to a school in another part of the country and even more important it serves as a real credential to the student who wants to find a job and start earning a living. Already this year there have been more than 17,000 applicants for scholarships so the popularity and need for the program is well documented.

Former EMU Dean of Men Speaks at Kiwanis

James M. Brown, Mont Poudre Foundation Consultant, spoke to Kiwanis club Monday evening on the topic "It is 'Much Better To Build A Boy Than To Mend A Man.'"

Brown, EMU Dean of men for 35 years and long-time friend of High School Principal Charles Lane, was introduced by Lane. Brown expressed his regret that the school bond issue had been defeated last week, and told Kiwanians that it is "our duty to give the best possible education to all children." Brown's talk on "Our American Heritage" was called "inspirational" by those who heard him.

Vice-President Paul Schaible Jr. presided at the meeting, and the program was in charge of Ed Lewis. Key Club guest Tim Piesman was introduced by Lloyd Heydhauf.

Visiting Kiwanian, Will Parsons, of Dexter was introduced by Louis Burghardt. Ann Arbor Eastern guests included Paul Roeder, Jess Morley and James Mutt. Ypsilanti Kiwanians present were Jack Wilber, Carl Barnett, George El-Hitt, Don Toddie and Ronald Isbell.

Truck Weight Restrictions

The Washtenaw County Road Commission deems it necessary to preserve the roads under the jurisdiction of this Board and by virtue of the applicable sections of the Michigan Vehicle Code, being Act 300, Public Acts of 1959 as amended, we impose springtime axle load restrictions effective 6 a.m. Thursday, March 4, 1965.

The allowable truck loadings are as follows:

MAXIMUM ALLOWABLE GROSS AXLE LOADINGS
Spacing Between Axles	Concrete	Black-Top & Gravel
9 feet or over	13,500 pounds	11,700 pounds
More than 3 1/2 feet, but less than 9 feet	9,750 pounds	8,450 pounds
When less than 3 1/2 feet the combined weight shall not exceed	13,500 pounds	11,700 pounds
Maximum load on any wheel shall not exceed (pounds per inch of tire width)	525 pounds	450 pounds

MAXIMUM TRUCK SPEED

No truck, tractor or tractor with trailer, nor any combination of such vehicles with a gross weight loaded or unloaded in excess of 5,000 pounds shall exceed a speed of 45 miles per hour, which shall be reduced to 35 miles per hour during the period when reduced loadings are being enforced.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Don't Give Up On "Busy" Parents

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "Money seems to be a big factor with parents these days... so much so they spend more and more time trying to make 'ends meet' and less and less time with their own children, teaching them many of the important things about life they need to know now, as well as preparing them for the future. My question is this: what can a teenager do to supplement the training received in public and religious schools to give them additional guidance that parents fail to give?"

OUR REPLY: There is no real substitute for parental guidance, and no excuse for parents to become so "busy" they don't have "time" to give their children the guidance and help they need. "I don't have time" is just another way of saying "I don't want to be bothered."

A good relationship between parents and children depends upon "communication." Such a relationship is difficult to establish if children are "afraid" to take problems and questions to parents; if parents are hesitant to discuss "delicate" matters with their children. The first step toward achieving a good relationship can be made by the parent who shows a willingness and inclination to talk—and to listen. The teenager who thinks parents are too "busy" or just aren't interested, may be surprised at how parents will come "through" in response to a particular question or a particular problem.

No one has a ready answer to every teenage question, every teenage problem... but no one can possibly be more concerned than the responsible parent.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION

★ Prescription Oranges

How would you like to see oranges sold on a prescription basis? According to Cuban refugee Professor J. Perez Sabido, this is one of the "great advances" made in Cuba under the Communist dictatorship of Fidel Castro.

Before Castro, he said, oranges were sold on the street already peeled and iced, at three or four for a nickel. "Today they are available only through pharmacies on a doctor's prescription."

Speaking to the 7th annual Freedom Conference sponsored by the Michigan Farm Bureau, Professor Sabido noted that Cuba today is a food-short area even though it was a largely self-sufficient country only a few years ago.

"Ration cards had to be issued within three years of the Communist take-over," Sabido noted, adding that prior to the Castro regime, Cuba exported large quantities of sugar, coffee and other foodstuffs.

Great coffee drinkers, Cubans consumed an average of 15 pounds of coffee per person each year, but have been cut back to a ration of 2 ounces per week. "Coffee is not generally available anymore, except that which is sold on the black market at $6.00 per pound," Sabido says.

Due to the slaughter of breeding stock and gross mismanagement of farms by political and military managers, there is a ration now of eight ounces of meat per person, and some forms of vegetables have disappeared entirely from the market.

"All of this has been done," says Sabido, "by the people who were going to free the masses from Yankee imperialism" but all they have freed them from is their food and clothing.

Although he rests his power on the usual Communist slogan "Land for the masses," Sabido says that land reform programs in process when Castro took over have now been reversed by the formation of state-owned farms supervised by politically appointed managers.

Production has lagged to an alarming degree on both these big farms and on the smaller individually owned farms where the combination of unskilled management and lack of incentive has converted a country of agricultural surplus into a country of food shortages and rationing.

Queen of Kitchen Sought in Contest By Detroit Edison

Entries are now being accepted for the fourth annual Detroit Edison Co. cook-off to select the "Queen of the Kitchen" among women who work.

The grand prize is a new deluxe range. The "Queen" will have her choice of six models from nationally known manufacturers.

The special second prize will be an open hearth smokeless broiler-rotisserie complete with shish kebabs attachment, and the third award will be a seven-speed blender.

The cook-off is held each year in co-operation with the Central Business District Association's annual Salute to Women Who Work Week which begins on March 21 this year.

The contest is open to any girl or woman working full time who lives in southeastern Michigan.

Each is invited to submit a recipe for a one-dish meal that can be cooked in an hour or less. The recipe should be sent to Electric Living, 2000 Second, Detroit, Mich. 48225, or to the local Edison office.

Deadline for entries is midnight, Friday, March 5.

Each entry must include name, address, telephone number and occupation. The contestant must be able to compete in the cook-off which will be held in Edison's Electric Living Kitchen in Detroit on Thursday, March 25.

Professional home economists and cooks and employees of Detroit Edison and members of their immediate families are not eligible.

Home economic experts from newspapers, radio and television will serve as judges and select the 10 most interesting and promising entries.

The 10 finalists will be announced Monday, March 22, and will compete in the cook-off for the top prizes three days later. The finalists will be guests at the gala Salute to Women Who Work Week banquet at Cobo Hall on March 23.

Marion Ryan, director of the Electric Living Department at Edison, said the recipes of the finalists will be published in a handsome booklet again this year for general distribution free of charge.

Each year trucks pay more than $3,100,000,000 in highway use taxes (Federal, State and local) enough money to build a four-lane super highway from New York City to Chicago, on to Los Angeles and down to San Diego.

School Board Briefs

At a special meeting Feb. 24, 1965 a motion was passed to honor the request of Rockwell-Standard to present an award to the outstanding student in the industrial arts program.

Board member sent to meeting to review the budget of the Intermediate School District. He was instructed to vote against the use of $10,000 allocated to hire a county-wide vocational education director at this time.

Discussion on principal's and superintendent's salaries.

Secretary instructed to send letters of appreciation to local organizations who so very actively supported the bond issue as presented and defeated the second time Feb. 24.

Election for spring election on operational millage postponed until further consideration.

Considerable discussion as to plan of action after the very disappointing defeat of the millage bond proposal. Special meeting was set for Monday, March 1 for further consideration.

At a Special meeting March 1, the item of business discussed was future action for the Chelsea Public Schools in the wake of the defeat of the Feb. 24 $240,000 high school bond issue. Conclusions of this meeting were:

(1) The same bond issue shall be presented for approval close to Sept. 15, 1965, as soon as legal time has elapsed.

(2) A date was set to meet with the principals of the Chelsea schools to determine the exact plan for next year with the increased enrollment. There can now be no extra space available by the next school year.

(3) All efforts will be made to have a site selected for the Junior High school so the electorate will be reassured that this need is being acted upon.

REFINISHING

If you are refinishing woodwork, make sure all traces of wax have been removed and that any still-glossy surface has been sanded. Otherwise, the new coating will not adhere firmly. If you are going to use enamel or semigloss, remember to apply an undercoater first.

Council Briefs

Meeting was called to order by President Haselschwardt with the invocation by the Rev. James Craig.

Permission was granted to Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for the placing of underground conduit for additional telephone facilities. Conduit is to be located primarily in the business district.

Request approved for Mr. and Mrs. Leon Chapman, 609 N. Main St. for a variance to construct a small utility building to within two feet of their south property line. A letter stating no objection to variance was submitted by adjacent property owners.

A variance was granted to Leor Meabon to place a standing sign to within 58 feet of his east property line.

At a meeting held with the Fire Department, township supervisors and members of the Village Council it was agreed by all that insurance coverage for fire department personnel was an essential part of the initial cost of the operation of the fire department and the expense should be shared by village and township involved.

Motion to authorize the purchase of adequate insurance policy to cover fire department personnel from the Nationwide Insurance Co., in the amount of $490, $490.

A discussion regarding an estimate for repairs of Freer Rd. from Washington St. north to the New York Central railroad tracks, which was submitted to the Council by Village engineer Peter Kurzy, to grade the road, lower the road bed where necessary, approximately six feet in some areas, grade open ditches on both sides, provide 10 culverts under driveways, provide gravel base and double seal. The approximate expense listed at $5,000. Further investigation ordered.

Gravel only and double sealing of Freer Rd. at an expense of $2,500 was not recommended since it would not hold for any length of time.

A report was given regarding Industrial Development Committee activities by Trustee Chapman.

Motion approved to pay bills as presented.

Decorate With Tape

Want to try something different in the decorating line? Use Pressure Sensitive Masking Tape. Just remember that the surfaces must be clean where you intend to use it. To start, why not try two-toning. All you have to do is use masking tape and paper to cover the lower half while painting the upper half. Remove when the paint is "set," wait for the painted half to dry and harden thoroughly, then apply a strip of tape along the edge where colors meet. Next, paint the bottom half in a second color and remove the tape as soon as possible.

Be Fire Safe

Resolve this year to make your home safe from fire. A home safe from fire depends on two important factors: good family habits about fire and its hazards, and good construction. Good habits include care with matches and smoking, good housekeeping to get rid of rubbish, and proper use of electric fuses, appliances, and extension cords.

Unselfishness is a rare virtue, not to be expected too often.

Father-Daughter Program Readied By Girl Scouts

The Juliette Low Father and Daughter evening will be Friday, March 12, in the Chelsea High school, 7 to 8:30 p.m.

All Girl Scout troops are involved in the program with Troop 77, Seniors, as hostesses for the evening with Troop 58 in charge of refreshments.

There are to be art and craft displays, small flags of all countries where there are Girl Scouts and Girl Scout Guides. These flags have been made by the Scouts at their meetings. Other features include a song fest, a puppet show, a kit on "The Growing Up Tree," a tribute to leaders and an explanation of the Juliette Low penny collection box.

The program is held in connection with Girl Scout Week, March 7-13.

Fire Contracts Reviewed With Area Supervisors

A meeting was held Monday night at the Chelsea Fire Hall to review fire protection contracts signed by the surrounding townships—Sylvan, Lima, Sharon, Freedom, Dexter, Lyndon, and Waterloo. Those attending included representatives from the Village of Chelsea, the Chelsea Fire Department, and a full representation of township supervisors.

The contracts, signed in January of 1964 were discussed at length, including a suggestion for improvements on billing procedures. Also suggested and agreed upon was a notice which will be sent to the supervisors within a week following a response to a fire in their townships. Such a notice will include exact location of the fire, who reported the fire, and number of man-hours spent at the fire.

Further discussion included the increasing problem of fires along the New York Central railroad tracks and possible ways to relieve the townships of full financial responsibility of these fires together with suggestions for prevention.

A final item of business was the apparent need for a new type insurance policy to cover volunteer firemen. This would include life and dismemberment insurance, health and accident benefits, and compensation. Such a policy would cover volunteer and auxiliary members while in performance of duties. It was agreed that this insurance policy should be purchased.

Girl Scout Week Starts Next Monday

By Kathy Foster

March 7 which is this Sunday will begin the 83rd year that Scouting has been in existence. The second week in March, starting March 7 and continuing through March 13, will be Girl Scout Week.

Each day has a different symbol concerning Scouting. They are called the Seven Service Days. Sunday is Girl Scout Sunday, Monday is Homemaking, Tuesday, Citizenship, and Wednesday is Health and Safety day. On Thursday International Friendship is practiced, Friday is the Girl Scout Birthday, and The Arts are thought of, and on Saturday Out-of-Doors.

The Brownies and Girl Scouts will attend church as a group on March 7 in uniform. On March 12 the girls and their fathers will attend a "Tea" at the high school cafeteria. A varied program is being planned for the fathers, by the girls of the different troops. March 15 is the date for the senior Girl Scout banquet. The girls' mothers will accompany the girls to Tappan High school where the event is to be held.

During this week girls all over the country will be remembering their founder, Juliette Low in a very thankful manner. She held the first meeting in Savannah, Ga. in 1912.

This year's theme in Scouting is Girl Scouting... A Promise in Action. This saying ties in very nicely with the quote of Lord Baden-Powell, he once said "As powder is to shot, so is spirit to action." And that spirit is what has really created that miracle of millions of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides. During the week of our birthday, all of the girls feel very proud to be able to say that, "I am a Girl Scout, and I'm proud to be one."

If you ever have the chance to do something for the Scouts, big or little don't disappoint us or ourselves. We appreciate any work, volunteer or otherwise. So help us have a real nice birthday.

Personal Notes

Monday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowe were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lingane and sons, Richard and Dennis, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lingane of Jackson.

On the night of the blizzard last week, Mrs. Orville Tompkins and her two daughters were visiting at the Rev. Livingstons while Mr. Tompkins and the two boys Brad and Chris kept the home fires burning at Joshi Lake. About 2 o'clock the next morning Mrs. Tompkins and the Livingstons drove to the hospital where at 8:10 a.m. the Tompkins' baby boy arrived.

Enthusiastic Director Finds 'Oklahoma' Production 'Fun'

One of the busiest men in town these days, after working hours, is Paul W. Schultz, director for the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "Oklahoma."

The demanding job of directing choruses, actors and dancers for the production which the Chelsea High senior class is presenting March 28 and 29 isn't a strain at all, Schultz says. "I have never seen the cast of a play or musical as enthusiastic about learning their parts, music and directions as the members of this cast. This enthusiasm is one of the main things which makes me forget the time it takes to direct a play such as this."

Before joining the school district this year as vocal music director, Schultz had graduated from Central Michigan University, received his Bachelor of Music Education degree in 1961, Master of Arts degree in 1964 and had served as second lieutenant in the U. S. Army Infantry.

Schultz, his wife, Jean, and son, Billy, 3 years old, formerly lived in Mt. Pleasant. The family moved to Chelsea last summer and now resides at 622 Arthur St.

Piano accompanist for the play will be Mrs. William Tite of Chelsea.

PAUL W. SCHULTZ

Members of the Chelsea High school band along with some kind string players will make up the orchestra.

"Oklahoma" has a superior director, an enthusiastic cast and some "darn good music," to present to their audience, according to all who have previewed the rehearsals.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Because the American elementary school reaches the greatest number of our citizens for the longest time, it is responsible for laying the groundwork for healthy intellectual and personality growth.

Elementary school gives the child his first glimpse into the worlds of the social studies, art, science and literature—and it gives him an awareness of the vastness of information about these worlds. Here the child learns to read and use libraries. He learns to make judgments and identify fact and truth from fallacy and half-truth. He learns the power of his mind and becomes familiar with his talents and his shortcomings.

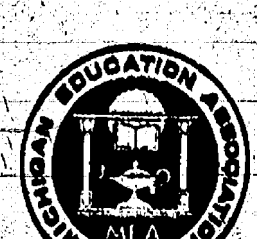

Elementary school helps the child develop his personality and teaches him to work and cooperate with others. It strives to give him independence and self-confidence.

The teacher is the child's idol during the elementary school years. Aware of this responsibility, the elementary school teacher works hard to set a good example for her students. She knows that everything she says and does makes a lasting imprint on the minds and memories of her pupils.

The young child is a delight. He is bold, and honest, and fun. The elementary school works to preserve these good qualities while it equips him with the tools for a satisfactory future life.

Lowell Spikes Honored Sunday on 25th Anniversary

An open house and reception was held Sunday afternoon, Feb. 28, from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Spikes, 3200 Sharon-Howell Rd., in honor of the couple's 25th wedding anniversary.

The celebration was given by Mr. and Mrs. Spikes' children, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Spikes of Ames, Ia., Miss Karen Spikes of Pontiac, and Douglas, Phillip and Marjorie, all at home.

Mrs. Ray Bell and Miss Janet Bird helped with the serving, and Miss Marjorie Spikes had charge of the guest book.

The wedding cake was made by Mrs. Bernard Kemmer and was cut by Mrs. Ruth Sadt.

Major Marjorie Sadt, ANC, sister of Mrs. Spikes, arrived in New York Sunday after two and one-half years in Hielbron, Germany. Just a little too late to attend the celebration. Major Sadt has been in the Army Nurse Corp for 20 years and after a three-week stay in the Chelsea vicinity will be stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.

About 100 guests attended the open house and reception from Detroit, Owosso, Clare, Mt. Pleasant, Jackson, Milan and Chelsea.

St. Mary's School Association Meets
St. Mary's School Association met Tuesday, March 2, at the school with 28 parents and all four Sisters present.

Committee reports for the smorgasbord were all favorable.

Mrs. Don Schrader reported that the hot dog luncheon on February 24 was a success and that another luncheon is planned for March 18. Chairman Mrs. Norman Quigg and her committee, Mrs. Alex Roskowski, Mrs. Don Eder, Mrs. Don Mshar, Mrs. Don Proctor, Mrs. Darold Fischer, Mrs. John Thompson and Bernadine Koch.

At next month's meeting, plans will be made for the parish picnic.

The banner was won by Sister Rose Sharon's third grade edging out the first grade by two points. There was a tie between rooms three and four; fourth and fifth grades and seventh and eighth grades.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Martin Tobin and refreshments were served in the kitchen by Mrs. Richard Kalmbach and Mrs. Vincent Stahl. The April refreshment committee is Mrs. Paul Hankard and Mrs. Donald Mshar.

ENGAGED: Mr. and Mrs. Roland R. Zeitz of Cardiff, Ont., Canada, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Mary, of W. William St., Ann Arbor to James J. Hafner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hafner of Chelsea. Miss Zeitz is employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Ann Arbor, and Mr. Hafner, a graduate of Chelsea High School is employed at the Chrysler Proving Grounds. The couple plan a summer wedding.

Booklet Answers Women's Questions on Social Security

A new booklet, "Answers to a Woman's Questions About Social Security," is now available at the Ann Arbor social security district office. Robert A. Kehoe, social security district manager, announced today.

Written from the woman's point of view, the booklet may, however, find wide readership among the male population, as well. It provides answers to questions such as: "Can a working woman collect both her own retirement benefit and also a full wife's benefit?" "If the husband of a working woman dies, can she be paid anything based on his work under social security?" and "Under what conditions can the husband of a working woman be paid benefits?"

It also points out that children of a working woman can be paid monthly benefits at her death, even if they continue living with their father, and even if he is working.

The social security protection provided non-working wives is described in a separate series of questions and answers. There is also a section on the woman's role in the social security program as an employer of household help.

Women have always had an important place in the social security program, Kehoe pointed out, noting that a woman was the first person in the country to receive a monthly social security retirement check 25 years ago. But, Kehoe said, there is more need than ever for a woman to know about her social security protection.

More than 24 million women are working today, more than ever before in our history. Nine out of 10 women can expect to hold jobs or work in their own businesses or professions during some part of their lifetimes and earn credit toward social security benefits. Those who are not working should know about the protection they have as dependents or survivors of the family breadwinner.

Copies of "Answers to a Woman's Questions About Social Security" may be obtained by writing or calling the social security district office, or stopping in to pick one up. The Ann Arbor social security office is located at 1355 N. Main St.

Tuberculin Test Slated for 9th Graders

The annual tuberculin testing program, sponsored by the Washtenaw County Health Department in co-operation with the Washtenaw County Tuberculosis Association and the County Medical Society, is slated March 8-17 for 9th grade students and the adult school personnel of all public and parochial schools.

Ninth grade students in Chelsea public schools will be given request cards this week. These cards must be signed by either parent or guardian and returned to the school in order for the student to participate in this program. Testing date in Chelsea will be Wednesday, March 10 with results of the tests to be read Friday, March 12.

This year two tuberculin skin tests of different sensitivity will be offered again. These tests will indicate whether the person has been exposed to tuberculosis germs. No charge will be made for this service.

The results of the skin tests are read two to three days after the tests are given. A positive skin test does not mean that a person has active tuberculosis. It does mean that further studies are needed. Arrangements for further examination of individuals with positive tests will be made by the Health Department.

Last year 1,721 ninth grade children (about 60 percent of the Washtenaw county 9th graders) were given skin tests. Also tested were 438 adult school personnel.

Parents are requested to sign the request slip if they wish their child to participate in the tuberculin program.

GIRL SCOUTS
TROOP 47—Girl Scouts of Troop 47 met Tuesday, March 2 in the Municipal Building.

The girls sang "the growing-up tree" and practiced for the Juliette Low Father and Daughter program and made identification tags for the fathers who attend the Juliette Low program.

The girls made invitations to give to their fathers inviting them to the program.

THE LETTERBOX
To the Editor:
As a parent of one of the children involved in the beatings by the three high school boys I would like to make clear a few points.

The younger boys went to three different schools—each attack was separated each one was more severe than the last. It was not a "knuckle sandwich" but the high schooler repeatedly kicked at the boys in the head and back along with jumping with both feet on them. Also, it might be added, only one of the boys knew the younger ones ever so slightly. The young ones were asked, "Which way to Dexter?"

Brownies...

TROOP 143—Brownie Troop 143 met Monday, March 1, at St. Paul's church. The meeting opened with the Brownie "Promise" and the Brownie "Smile" song. The girls worked on their tote bags. Janie Knott furnished refreshments. Trudi Sanderson, scribe.

TROOP 247—Brownie Troop 247, on Saturday, Feb. 27, attended the play "King Midas and the Golden Touch," presented by the University of Michigan Speech Dept. After the performance all stopped for ice cream cones. Drivers and chaperones for the trip were Mrs. Glen Allen, Mrs. Fred Belsar, Mrs. Ralph McCulla, Mrs. Arthur Schiller, Mrs. Gerald Smith, Mrs. William L. White and Mrs. Duane Crouch.

Officers for February were: Sharon Schiller, president; Diane Akin, secretary; Denise Smyth, treasurer, and Chris Duerr, scribe.

In the month of February the girls learned new games, more about a Junior Troop, the patrol system, camping over-night, badges and the uniform. The third graders visited Mrs. Slocum's troop and mothers were entertained. Seventeen girls have registered for day camp this summer.

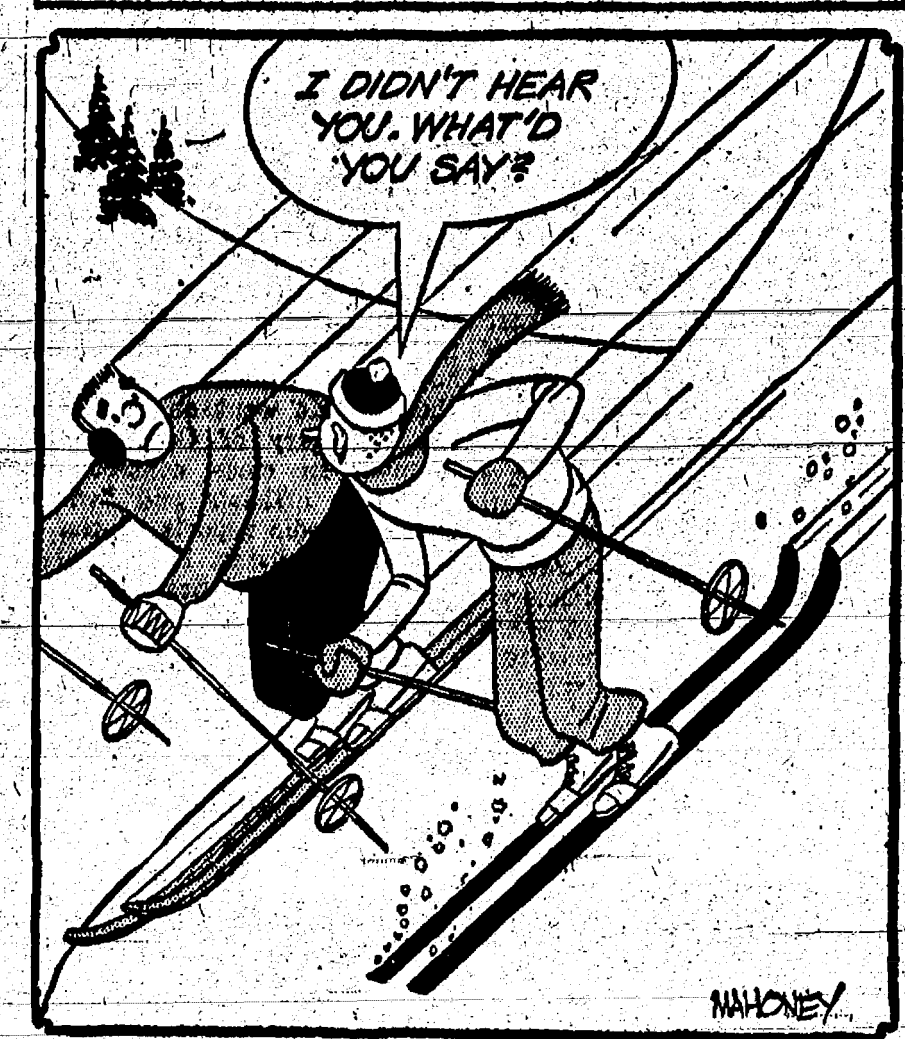

Plans are being made for the troops part in the Father-Daughter program on March 12.

Chris Duerr, scribe.

THE DODGE BOYS

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

* Voluntary, with Maybe Some Coercion . . .

The British Labor government has announced its plan to set up national price and wage review boards. The function of these bodies will be to examine and, if necessary, criticize, private decisions and agreements on prices, wages and related matters.

For the time being it appears that the British government will rely on voluntary compliance with the judgments of the review boards. But the word "voluntary" seems to mean simply that these boards will not drag transgressors before the courts. Instead, the government hopes that "persuasion and the pressure of public opinion" will be enough to insure compliance.

The announcement also states that if this system doesn't work, the government will turn to "other methods" — presumably specific regulations enforceable as the law of the land.

Policeman in View

What this apparently means is a system of government intervention in private economic decision-making — with voluntary compliance by the parties concerned if possible, but with the policeman standing rather prominently in the background, in case he is needed.

We can leave our British cousins to wrestle with their own problems, but the semantics of the word "voluntary" should be of some concern, especially in the light of tendencies evident in our own country.

The American government has set up guide posts, based on productivity statistics, as criteria against which to judge private actions in the setting of wages and prices. These do not have the force of law and it is difficult to see how they could be made precise enough to be embodied in legislation. Nevertheless the President has stated that, with the help of his economic advisers, he will keep a close watch on wage-price developments and call public attention to actions which threaten the public interest.

In his message on the balance-of-payments deficit, the President announced that he will ask leading businessmen to devise voluntary methods by which the outflow of investment funds may be checked. He went on to say that the Secretary of Commerce will "remain in close contact" with corporate officials and "will request periodic reports as the basis for appraising their contribution to our balance-of-payments targets."

Pressing Problem

The problem to which both the British and the American actions are addressed is a very real and pressing one. It is the problem of reconciling prosperity and growth at home with a reasonable balance in the nation's international payments. An upward thrust of wages and/or of prices would make such reconciliation more difficult and perhaps impossible.

One may concede and applaud the complete sincerity of the Johnson administration in preferring cooperation to coercion as the means of achieving the desired results. It nevertheless remains true that private decisions (guided by market forces) will be subject to review and criticism by government officials.

Granting the best of intentions on the part of government officials, it could turn out that the dividing line between government intervention by suggestion, and government intervention by decree, is a distinction with only a small difference.

Charles Trinkle Seriously Injured In Farm Accident

Charles Trinkle suffered leg and hand injuries early Wednesday morning and was reported "satisfactory" following surgery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Sheriff's deputies said Trinkle climbed up in the silo at his farm at 9631 Trinkle Rd. at about 7 a.m. to unplug silage that was choking the mechanism.

Deputies said Trinkle's leg became caught between the auger and a piece of angle iron. They said "chunks of flesh" were taken off his right leg and all of the skin scraped off the fingers on one hand.

Band Members Win Honors At Solo, Ensemble Festival

The annual Solo and Ensemble Festival was held two Saturdays, Feb. 13 and Feb. 20, at Garden City.

Students participating would play a solo or ensemble (duet, trio or quartet) and receive a rating from a judge who was a performer or instructor of the instrument he judged.

Ratings for the students were from one to five, with one being highest.

Results in the Senior division were as follows:

One rating: Mike Funderburgh, cornet solo, and Barry Visel and Mike Funderburgh, cornet duet.

Two ratings: David Blaess, trombone solo; Mary Ellen Ashley, cornet solo; Marilyn Miller, saxophone solo, and Carolyn Wilkerson, Sandy Johnson and Shari Stoffer, flute trio.

One ratings in the Junior division: Gina Funderburgh, flute solo; Sandy Knoll, piano solo; Sarah Lindauer and Lynn Ferguson, flute duet; Sarah Lindauer, Put Stoffer and Barb Bauer, flute trio; and Judy Sanderson, Dorcen Kuhl and Jo Ellen Tison, woodwind trio.

Two ratings, Junior division: Crystal Impola, clarinet solo; Jim Rich, cornet solo; Karen Leach, cornet solo; Mike McKelghan, cornet solo; Crystal Impola and Virginia White, clarinet duet; Sue Gunther and Lynn Visel, flute duet; Debbie Kuhl, and Susan Knickerbocker, clarinet duet; Sarah Storey and Sandy Knoll, clarinet duet; Pat Gilbert, Tom Tibb and John Hepburn, clarinet trio; Carole Sharrard and Karen Lehman, flute duet; Connie Taylor, Roxanne Shears and Janna Wade, flute trio; Barb Bauer and Shelley Balze, woodwind duet; and Richard Marshall, Shelley Balze, Mike Grau and Jo Ellen Tison, clarinet quartet.

Three ratings, Junior division: Pam Czarnecki, flute solo; Jacquie Bailey, french horn solo; Ryan Smith, cornet solo; Karen Leach and Ryan Smith, cornet duet; Lynn Ferguson and Barb Schiller, woodwind duet; David Conklin, Marsha Johnson and Ron Bush, cornet trio; and Diane Stoffer and Dorcen Kuhl, woodwind duet.

It could be said that politics is the art of being elected and statesmanship is the art of governing a nation.

Humane Society Funds Campaign Hits $44,000 For Shelter Addition

The Humane Society campaign has raised in excess of $44,000 with hopes of raising $20,000 more. The drive will continue for about another month until the breaking of ground for the building addition. The planned addition is to the Humane Society of Washtenaw County animal shelter on Cherry Hill Rd., near Dixboro. It will provide 80 percent more capacity for its size and the society will be able to handle 40 more dogs and 30 more cats.

Local committee members for the Society are Mrs. Dudley Holmes, Mrs. William Marsh, Mrs. A. D. Mayer and Mrs. Robert Wagner. Anyone wishing to contribute to the drive should get in touch with the committee.

Actual cost of the proposed addition will be known when the bids are opened and accepted. Ground will be broken, sometime in the early spring.
