 Public awareness must improve substantially if needs of higher education in Michigan are to be met in years ahead, according to members of the new State Board of Education.

Signs of Times
 Supporters of a universal sign language may soon be one step closer to this goal.

An experimental traffic sign of the type which is standard in Europe has been used in Lansing for over a year. It is designed to warn motorists that they are going the wrong way on a one-way street.

Bearing a large red bullseye with a white bar across its center, the square sign carried the legend "Do Not Enter." The European version of the sign bears no legend because of the many language differences.

First sign of this type was installed at a Lansing intersection in the summer of 1953. Since then, similar signs have been placed at several other crossings in the Capital City's one-way street system.

The sign is hung over the intersections facing away from the normal traffic flow and is enclosed in an illuminated box to be effective at night when the possibility of driving the wrong way is highest.

Highway officials said the Lansing installations were the first of this kind in the nation. Current plans call for expanded use at other intersections throughout the state if its deterrent effect can be proven effective.

In Europe, traffic signs are basically of a standard variety for most instructions to the motorist. They rarely bear any lettering as do signs in this country. There has been considerable effort aimed at adopting the silent, self-explanatory European system in the U.S.

About Your Social Security
 If a worker in your family or some member of the family should inquire at the nearest Social Security office to see if benefits can be payable, Robert A. Kekoa, Social Security District Manager, Ann Arbor, advises.

The Social Security Administration can help to partially replace income lost caused by the death of the head of the family.

Nine out of ten young American children—and their mothers—do not count on survivors benefits to help the family together if the winner dies. Survivors' benefits may be payable to young children when a working mother dies, although the father is the family's primary source of support.

The average benefit paid to widowed mother with two children is about $193 per month. The benefit payable to a family with two children is about $254 per month.

If you want to know more about Social Security for the family of deceased workers, visit our office at 1355 N. Main St., Ann Arbor. The people there will be glad to help you and give you any information you need.

April 10 Set as Starting Date for Township Officers
 Lansing — Secretary of State James M. Harro has reminded township officials that their terms of office started on April 10. The new Michigan constitution, which established township offices, took effect on that date.

The act provides for township officers to be elected on April 10. The act also provides for township officers to be elected on April 10. The act also provides for township officers to be elected on April 10.

THE LETTERBOX
 Dear Editor:
 There will be some who complain that schools are costing too much. Admittedly, it seems so sometimes.

But we are directly on the path of the future city that will extend from Detroit all the way to Chicago. Already, many people talk of a continuous city from Ann Arbor to Jackson within the foreseeable future.

Drive along the expressway and you can see that the visionaries are right. The Ann Arbor-Jackson City is forming now. You can easily see it.

Chelsea can't stay out of this growing center if it tries. And I doubt that many of us really want to stagnate.

If the school construction as proposed costs $2 million—and it apparently will not, as that was a high random quote—it will be worth it. In 20 years, the school district may well have five times its present number of children to educate.

We must anticipate the future, not as a hole-in which we are pouring money, but as an opportunity to develop our children into educated and well-trained people who can meet the challenges and become integral parts of the dynamic world in which they'll live.

 East Lansing — Mass siting and demonstrations as means of fighting a wrong for seeking a "new town" have been criticized by Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Republican member of the House of Representatives.

Ford, speaking at Michigan State University's winter term commencement, said he "seriously questioned the social merit of thousands of people moving to a new town, a public waste."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:
 DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 I see by the papers where the red roofs reached a all time high in February and that unemployment in the nation was now pushing the 5 million mark. I'm trying mighty hard to get in the mood to be my brother's keeper in spirit with the Great Society, but I got a bunch about half of them folks on relief and a third of them that ain't employed wouldn't work in a pie factory if the pie was all flavored strawberry and the house was from 10 till 2.

I recollect, for instance, that last year the Congress passed a law again bringing in Mexicans and workers from them other latin countries to help harvest the fruit and vegetable crops in Florida, California, and other states. The Congress claimed it was putting our own folks out of work. Furthermore, they raised the minimum wage scale for this kind of work.

We not get the report that when our own workers was brought in they refused to do "stoop" work in the fields and took off for the nearest city, like Miami, where they was now unemployed and on relief, while a heap of the fruit and vegetable harvest rotted in the field.

I'm mighty afeared, Mister Editor, that afore the Great Society can be a big success, we're going to need a law requiring some of them folks that was unemployed and on relief to "stoop" a little to earn their keep. It might be a good idea for the Congress to pass a "stoop or starve" bill.

Incidental, I received the letter you forwarded to me from that good lady saying she has took note that the fellers at the store discuss the situation in the nation and world wide but they never put nothing about community gos-

There will be a meet Thursday, April 15, with Dundee, at Dundee, which will also include the Chelsea Junior High track team, the first meet for them.

Unfortunately, the man who thinks he can control strong drink is usually the one who can't.

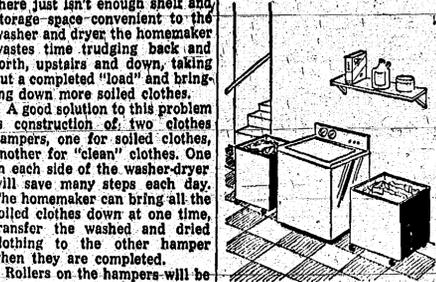

Bear hunting with dogs is the wildest, most exciting, strenuous, uncertain, sociable, individualistic form of outdoor exercise that has ever been carried on in this part of the world. Bear hunters assemble by the score, with their dogs, taking up all the best facilities in a northern town.

Once the dogs give tongue the hunters scatter, tear around the countryside on foot and in cars, knowing that any one man's chances of being in at the kill are rather slim.

The bear turns on the hounds from time to time. Hounds that are more game than wary do not last long. A bear does not hug a dog to death; he knocks it flying with forepaws that can splinter a pine stump.

IN THE OPEN

By Lee Smits

When the Conservation Commission holds its July meeting it will be urged to prohibit bear hunting for two years in the Lower Peninsula of Michigan. One of the leading advocates of this move is Carl T. Johnson, of Cadillac, a member of the Commission, founder of the Michigan Bear Hunters' Association.

Carl Johnson keeps eight Walker hounds. Each member of the pack is a capable cold-trailer, vocal in hot pursuit, steadfast and vociferous holding a bear tread. The MBHA lists 10 bear packs in the state.

The first bear pack to run in Michigan was brought from Tennessee by Hack Smithdale. The Tennessee hounds encountered serious porcupine trouble. Michigan hunters used Airdales as tree dogs at first, but discovered that Airdales never learned to leave porcupines alone.

Bear and bear dogs constituted the agenda when Carl and I got together recently. We checked the following information:

The black bear has no enemies except man and other bears. A male will kill any cub it can catch. A big black bear is as heavy as a medium grizzly. Carl Johnson has killed bear weighing more than 500 pounds, although he now declines to shoot a bear except to save a hound. About the heaviest bear known in Michigan was Fritz, a lodger at the Traverse City Zoo. Fritz, who was 25 when he died, weighed 650 pounds. Traverse City has a portly male bear whose estimated weight is 825.

There have been four authenticated instances of persons killed by bear in Michigan and Ontario in the last 100 years.

The most dangerous bear is one that has lost its fear of many by coming to feed at garbage dumps.

Bear breed in their third year. Twin cubs are common, triplets not uncommon, quadruplets rare and quintets have been recorded.

A bear's diet is as varied as a human being's. Occasionally a bear learns to kill farm stock. The Michigan Bear Hunters' Association is pledged to take care of any nuisance bear on short notice.

Mr. Smits's column is presented through the courtesy of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. Mr. Smits will be pleased to answer any questions sent in.

License Plate Color Schemes Stay Conservative

Lansing—Although such sophisticated colors as "azure, chartruese, mint, and burgundy," have gained popularity in recent years, license plates for the most part have stuck to the basic colors, with black and whites predominating down through the years.

"With the pastels and other colors being favored by car owners, perhaps we should adopt 'persimmon and sea mist' for next year's license. Have jokingly commented.

"We've been rather conservative in our license plate color schemes," Have said. Since Michigan began issuing license plates before 1910, the most popular color has been black, with white the second most popular color.

The two have been used in combination the most times, too. No less than 16 times, the combinations, counting silver and gray, were used on Michigan plates.

Yellow and blue, colors of the current batch of plates, were used twice before.

"A few years ago we decided to honor the state's universities and we're following the pattern," Have said.

Tourist Council Predicts Record Summer Business

Lansing — A record summer season appears to be in sight for the Michigan travel industry, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

This prediction of things to come was voiced Thursday at the opening of a two-day Tourist Council meeting in Lansing.

William T. McGraw, council director, said more than 65,000 requests for Michigan spring-summer vacation planning literature were received during March, an increase of nearly 45 percent over the same month last year.

More than 10,000 of the March inquiries resulted from the largest spring-summer advertising program in the 25-year history of the Tourist Council, McGraw said.

The council allocated about $200,000 this year to advertise Michigan's warm weather travel-vacation advantages. This compares with an expenditure last year of about $145,000.

About 4,500 inquiries were prompted by council publicity activities and the remaining 1,500 resulted from field promotion efforts.

McGraw said requests for spring-summer literature are now coming at the rate of more than 1,000 a day.

The spring-summer advertising includes 125 advertisements in national and regional editions of 44 leading magazines and newspapers. This includes eight full-page-size ads in five magazines.

McGraw estimated that spring-summer advertising will reach more than 35 million magazine and newspaper subscribers and their families in the United States and Canada, with particular emphasis in the midwest.

Dowagiac Band Will Present Guest Concert Monday

Spring vacation week will be a busy one for members of Chelsea bands. On Monday, April 19, the Dowagiac High school band, directed by E. E. Bowling, will present a concert in the high school auditorium, at 9:30 a.m. This fine band is taking a trip to New York during their vacation, and will make a stop here in Chelsea to present this free concert. All school children and all adults are invited to hear this concert. Band members are especially invited to attend.

On Wednesday, April 21 the high school band will travel to Elkart, Ind. as special guests of Selmer, Inc., makers of musical instruments. The band will spend the day touring the Selmer plant, learning how musical instruments are made. Band members will be invited to learn how a sheet of brass is changed, and added to until it becomes a cornet, trombone or saxophone.

State Universities Train Many of Elective Officials

Ann Arbor — State universities have played an important part in preparing the men and women now holding high elective office in the states and the national government.

A survey compiled by the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges indicates that 50 percent of the governors, 60 percent of the U. S. senators, and 49.2 percent of the Congressmen are alumni of state colleges and universities.

The University of Michigan, according to the survey, numbers among its alumni one current governor, three senators, and 15 congressmen. The governor is Donald S. Russell of South Carolina. The senators are Lester Hill, Alabama; Philip Hart, Michigan; and Clinton Anderson, New Mexico.

Ten of Michigan's 17 congressmen are alumni of the university of Michigan. They are Representatives Raymond F. Cleveland, Gerald Ford, Charles C. Diggs, Robert P. Griffin, Martha W. Griffiths, James Harvey, Edward Hutchinson, Lucien N. Nedzie, James G. O'Hara, and Weston E. Vivian.

Congressman Wes VIVIAN Reports from WASHINGTON

In the last two weeks the House of Representatives has passed three very significant bills: the Water Resources Planning Act, the Older Americans Act of 1965, and the Medicare Bill.

Members of the League of Women Voters in the Second District were strong supporters of H. R. 1111, the Water Resources Planning Act. It will authorize the creation of Federal-State river-basin commissions and planning councils in order to foster greater conservation and more efficient use of fresh water. Such planning and coordination will help our efforts to clean up Lake Erie and the Raisin and Huron Rivers in the Second District.

The Older Americans Act will establish an agency within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare which will combine existing Federal programs for the aging and sponsor research and provide information useful to the elderly.

If passed by the Senate as expected, beginning in July of 1966, senior citizens will be eligible for 60 days of hospital care plus subsequent nursing care for each illness; these benefits to be financed out of increased Social Security payroll taxes. No doctor fees will be paid out of this fund.

In addition, all persons over 65 will be eligible to enroll in a 100 percent optional supplementary program that will pay for physician's and surgical services wherever performed including the home or doctor's office, diagnostic x-rays, lab-tests, necessary surgical dressings, and medical equipment and aids. This part of the program will be financed by a premium payment of $3.00 by the individual participant and an additional $3.00 a month by the Federal Government.

A third section of the bill will provide an increase of 7 percent Social Security Old Age and Survivor benefits.

The most important and historic bill to pass the House in the last two weeks is H.R. 6075, popularly known as the Medicare Bill; it carried by a vote of 313 to 115 last Thursday evening.

The Bill, when originally introduced in 1967 contained provisions for limited hospital and nursing care benefits for persons over 65, financed by Social Security payroll taxes.

It became evident early this year that with increased Democratic majorities elected to the Senate and the House of Representatives, a bill providing hospital care for the elderly under Social Security almost surely would pass. Groups which previously had opposed such legislation providing health care for the aged, now changed tactics and instead submitted alternative versions.

One of these was the so-called ElderCare Bill sponsored by the American Medical Association; it stressed medical and surgical as well as hospital care.

The leadership of the House, agreeing that such benefits were needed, then incorporated the AMA ElderCare concept into the Medicare Bill.

H. R. 6075 will provide added financial security for millions of Americans. Benefits will, of course, add immeasurably to the financial security of most senior citizens. Many such citizens also will be relieved to know that they will no longer be forced by ill fortune to burden young sons and daughters with unplanned hospital and medical expenses.

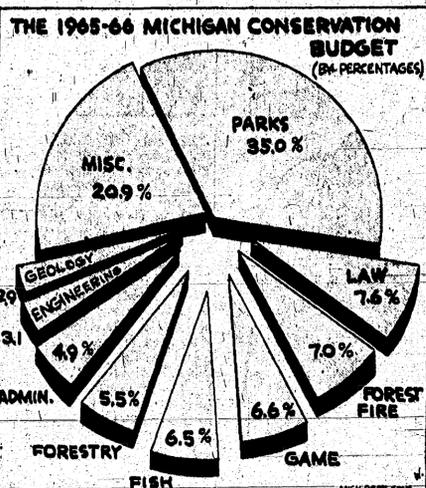

I am proud that this bill is the result of a joint effort by the legislators of both political parties who, with few exceptions, recognized the need for health protection for the aged and finally combined their ideas in meaningful legislation to meet that need. I am sure most families in the Second District will welcome the added security H. R. 6075 will provide.

State Police Destroy 'Weed' Worth $635,500

Michigan State Police officers have destroyed $635,500 worth of marijuana in the incinerator at Michigan State University in East Lansing. The estimated value of the 205 pounds was based on the number of average-sized cigarettes that could have been rolled from it.

The marijuana was seized by Detective Kerr and Cpl. Thomas Krusnak, now at the Gaylord post, in an old schoolhouse at Lake Odessa in 1959. The seizure resulted from a tip given to the officers.

Two of three Mexicans involved in smuggling the dope were apprehended and convicted in Michigan. A third subject, a cousin of the other two, was later apprehended by federal agents on a smuggling charge in Texas and convicted.

Have any idea what it would cost to do a sound job of managing Michigan's natural resources during the 1965-66 fiscal year? The Michigan Dept. of Conservation, which is about $32.1 million, if that figure sounds high, consider: Management of state forests generates about $70 million of new income for Michigan each year; spending by state park visitors totals almost another $50 million annually. And they're just part of the conservation picture. As this pie chart shows, a big slice of the $32.1 million appropriation sought from the State Legislature this year would be used for state park development and maintenance. The next largest category—miscellaneous—contains more items than can be shown here. A few of them cover wildlife research, payments of bounties and taxes for state lands, recreation resource planning, engineering, and nuisance animal control. Increases are recommended for Law—to boost enforcement coverage, mostly in southern Michigan; Fish—to intensify work on Great Lakes sport fishing, step up lake and stream inventories, improve maintenance of access sites, etc.; Game—to construct wildlife floodings, improve deer ranges; Forest Fire Control—to replace worn-out and obsolete equipment and spread remote areas with roads and bridges; Geology—to expand geologic mapping and land use investigations, accelerate water resources studies.—Mich. Dept. of Conservation

'Bridge-Spanners' Patrol Training For Summer Girl Scout Roundup Trip

The "Bridge-Spanners" is a local patrol that is in training for the roundup. This is Patrol No. 4 in the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, and they will go to Idaho in the summer of 1965. They are as follows: Margaret Beal from Sa-Kathy Foster, Chelsea; Patty Higgins, Ann Arbor; Mary Horsfall, Northville; Pan Lemox, Howell; Mary Ronk, Ypsilanti; Dianne Rodgers, Wayne and Pam Sekeres, Ann Arbor, who is assistant patrol leader. Each of the other girls have specific jobs that she will do at Roundup.

Each patrol in the Council prepares a demonstration, which will be presented at Roundup. Aprons, flags and other articles are made by the girls to go along with their patrol's name and demonstration. The "Bridge-Spanners" has a flag made from a deer hide with the map of Michigan enlarged and it shows the Upper Peninsula united together with a bridge. The location of each girl in the patrol is indicated by a dot where they come from. This drawing is also on the girl's aprons, the colors are dark brown and yellow. All of these projects are made by the girls themselves and will go with them to the "big one" next summer.

Demonstrations are a must, and this patrol has taken theirs from the Chippewa Indians from Michigan. The girls have all made the Indian costume, a sack type of dress and a head band, both decorated with bead work. These designs are carried through right down to the moccasins that they are also making from the hide of deer. While the girls are dressed this way they will be demonstrating the art of making Indian "mats" which were used in the Indian dwellings. Dyed husks of corn were used. Red and yellow strips were braided together and then sewn to form the mats. Moccasin making will also be shown and how they decorated them. Drums were made out of barrels cut in half and covered to add to the demonstration. Marracas were made to add to the background music, in an Indian beat. Both instruments were decorated, but not too fancy because the Chippewa's used ordinary designs, nothing real fancy. Pamphlets will be handed out to tell a little about what the girls are doing and they will tell a little about the Chippewa Indians and how they lived and settled in Michigan. All of the girls will take part in this demonstration. At one Roundup the girls from Detroit assembled a car. This is just one of the many smart ideas that will be put on there.

The U. S. Naval Academy was established in the fall of 1845.

Smelt Run Expected Late This Spring

Lansing — Lower Michigan's smelt-dipping season, like spring itself, will be a little late this year, according to field reports of the Conservation Department.

From the way conditions look now, the prolonged spell of colder-than-usual weather will set back all but a smattering of the region's first smelt migrations until April 15 at the earliest.

In most years, these small, silvery fish begin trickling into Great Lakes tributaries and minor inland streams of the Lower Peninsula around April 10. With water temperatures warming up to touch off full-scale invasions, the fish usually provide top action for dip-netting sportsmen about April 20 in this part of the state.

Although Lower Michigan's smelt runs may fall behind schedule this spring, the Conservation Department fisheries men advise sportsmen not to become over-anxious. They point out that many net-welding enthusiasts make the mistake of starting and ending their spring outings before the action is at its best.

In the Upper Peninsula, where smelt migrations normally get underway later than in downstate Michigan, this spring's dipping season is expected to line up closely with the timetable for other years. With more time left for conditions to improve in the upper region, its upstream movements of smelt should start in earnest around May 1, with heaviest runs taking place between then and about May 10.

When they do hit their peak this spring, the state's smelt runs should be at least as good as they were a year ago, judging from latest catch figures of commercial fishermen.

As in the past, sportsmen will have the best chances of filling their nets and wash tubs with these fish in streams that empty into the northern third of Lake Michigan, including those of the Green Bay region. Sizable smelt runs may also be expected in streams and cuts which drain into Saginaw Bay.

Other good smelt waters include northern Lake Huron streams and Lake Michigan tributaries along the southwestern side of the state. Complete listings of waters open to this springtime sport in Michigan are available free from the Conservation Department's Publications Room in Lansing or any of its field offices.

The Department reminds resident sportsmen that they need regular $2 fishing licenses to take smelt upstream from the Great Lakes with standard hand nets. Non-residents are required to have annual ($5) or temporary ($4) license for dipping smelt in all Michigan waters, including the Great Lakes.

Sportsmen with special $3 licenses may catch smelt with gill nets not longer than 50 feet during April and May in Great Lakes waters open to commercial fishing. Mesh size of these nets must measure between 1 1/4 and 1 3/4 inches.

More than $208,000 was spent last year by private companies and the State Highway Department to construct firebreaks and clean up burnable debris along railways, power lines, and roads.

Applications Sought for Orientation Course in Speech Therapy

A girl from Chelsea High school may be selected as one of 12 high school girls being offered a close-up view of an unusual program this summer. Applications for a week-long orientation program in the field of speech and hearing disorders will be offered by Western Michigan University's Speech and Hearing Clinic July 18.

This unique career program was announced by Mrs. Rosemary Irving, a graduate of Western's professional training program in speech pathology and audiology, who is speech therapist in Chelsea Public Schools.

Mrs. Irving reported the July 18-23 program will bring the girls selected in close touch with this very much needed and challenging profession. In addition to talks with WMU professors, the girls will see and hear speech therapists at work and participate in other activities intended to stimulate their interest in choosing a career helping children and adults with speech and hearing problems.

Professional speech therapists are much in demand by school systems, hospital clinics and by universities, according to Mrs. Irving. All participants will be awarded an all-expense scholarship by the Psi Iota Xi Sorority chapter in Niles. Enrollment in the program will be limited. Applications will be accepted from local girls who will be in their senior year of high school in September, 1965. Further information about this program may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Martha Grant, counselor, or Mrs. Irving at Chelsea High school. This program has been endorsed by Charles Lane, high school principal.

First Quarter Traffic Deaths Down 22% Over Last Year

Michigan traffic deaths provisionally totaled 884 for the first quarter this year, a sharp reduction of 104 or 22 percent compared with 988 in the same period of 1964, according to a State Police report.

March deaths numbered 117, which was 42 or 26 percent less than the record high of 159 for that month set last year.

March was the fifth month in a row to show a decrease compared with the same months a year earlier. February's 120 deaths were 89 less and January's toll of 147 was a decrease of 23.

Adverse weather and driving conditions which affected speed and volume of traffic are believed to have had significant influence on the monthly death tolls in the first quarter. Because of the variance between weather factors in the first quarters of 1964 and 1965, April is expected to provide a fairer evaluation of the trend.

Despite the reduction in deaths, however, more complete figures for the first two months this year showed that the 10,389 injured in 25,017 accidents in February were respective increases of six and 19 percent over that month a year ago, while January's 12,275 injured in 28,171 accidents were increases of 12 and 17 percent, over January 1964.

Estimated mileage for January, according to latest available information, was three billion, about the same as in January a year ago, while the death rate of 4.9 per 100 million vehicle miles was decreased 14 percent on the comparative basis. Rural traffic volume in February, according to highway department figures, was down 3.8 percent, the first decrease since November, 1961.

They say there's plenty of "luck" involved in fishing. And, this may be true. But it may be equally true that experience, concentration and just plain "know-how" contribute to the chances of becoming an "expert" angler.

There is no substitute for experience in most things. If you have a house to build, you want it built by a professional carpenter. If some appliance or item in the home is in need of repair, you wouldn't think of calling "just anybody."

By the same token, if there is something you want to buy, you're much better off to do business with someone you know, not perhaps, with someone who is "just passing through."

Auto Sales Boom Sets New Record In Tax Collections

Lansing — A $10 million increase in revenue collections over 1963's previous high mark... a true barometer of the record-shattering year enjoyed by the automotive industry... was reported by the Michigan Department of State for last year.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, total collections from vehicle licenses, titles and registrations, driver licenses, and other sources rose from a peak of $104 million in 1963 to another all-time high of $174.4 million last year. Vehicle licensing accounted for $74.1 million of the total amount.

Sales and use tax revenue collected by branch offices of the Secretary of State amounted to $180 million to account for most of the other revenue handled by the Department, Hare said.

In 1964, total vehicle registrations were over the 4-million mark for the second straight year. The 4,257,621 licenses issued represented more than a quarter-million increase. This included a high of 3,323,151 passenger car licenses; a rise of more than 175,000 over the previous year and the third year passengers ran over 3-million.

Tax revenue collected by the Department of State, Hare said, is used on the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund and for the construction and maintenance of roads and in the state's general and school aid funds.

Record Snowfall Reported in Northland

Crystal Falls — The State Highway Department district office here reported recently that snowfall in the Copper Country area has reached an all-time record: A total of 284.6 inches of snow has been recorded thus far this winter at the U. The previous record was 282.2 inches established in 1949-50 at the Houghton County Memorial Airport.

TORNADO SAFETY RULES

TO KNOW WHAT TO DO WHEN A WARNING IS RECEIVED, OR A TORNADO IS OBSERVED, MAY MEAN THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH!!

- I There is no universal protection against tornadoes except caves or underground excavations. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave, or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. If should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas, or debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.
- II If you are in open country:
  1. Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour.
  2. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.
- III If in a city or town:
  1. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!
  2. In homes: The southwest corner of the basement usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame houses. People in houses without basements should find shelter, preferably in a storm cellar, although a depression, such as a ditch or ravine, can offer some protection. If doors and windows on the north and east sides of the house are opened it may help to reduce damage to the building.
  3. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.
- IV If in school:
  1. In city areas: If school building is of strongly reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with large, poorly-supported roofs!
  2. In rural schools that do not have strongly reinforced construction, remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.
- V If in factories & industrial plants:

On receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for shutting off electrical circuits and fuel lines if the tornado approaches the plant. Workers should be moved to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.
- VI Keep calm! It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "just in case."
- VII Keep tuned to your radio or television station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio and television stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

TORNADO INFORMATION

WHERE TORNADOES CAN OCCUR:
Any place in the United States at any time of the year. They happen most frequently in the midwestern, southern and central states from March through September.

HOW OFTEN DO THEY OCCUR:
The records show that the average number of days with tornadoes varies from about 12 per year in parts of the Mid-West to less than one per year in the Northeastern and far Western states.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A TORNADO:
Usually observed as a funnel-shaped cloud, spinning rapidly, and extending toward the earth from the base of a thundercloud. When close by, it sounds like the roar of hundreds of airplanes.

TORNADO "WEATHER":
Hot, sticky days with southerly winds and a threatening, ominous sky. However, many such days occur without tornadoes.

CLOUDS:
Familial thunderstorm clouds are present. An hour or two before a tornado, topsy-turvy clouds appear, sometimes bulging down instead of up. The clouds often have a greenish-black color.

PRECIPITATION:
Rain, frequently hail, preceding the tornado, with a heavy downpour after it has passed.

TIME OF DAY:
Mostly between 3 and 7 p.m., but they have occurred at all hours.

DIRECTION OF TRAVEL:
In most cases they move from a westerly direction, usually from the southwest.

LENGTH OF PATH:
Usually 10 to 40 miles (the average length is 16 miles) but they may move forward for 300 miles.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATOR

The public school administrator is, in a sense, a businessman — a businessman in charge of our most important industry. He must be a combination personnel director, legal expert, architect, building maintenance engineer, accountant and public relations man. Above all these, however, he is an educator.

The main concern of the school administrator is quality education for the boys and girls of his district. His philosophy of education will govern the quality of instruction throughout his school or school system. He must give his teachers a sense of direction, then oversee and evaluate their teaching methods.

The administrator's position is an important and often difficult one. He must maintain the respect and cooperation of his teachers, his school board and the community. Too often he becomes the scapegoat for everything that goes wrong within the schools — from a losing football season to inadequate buildings.

To be effective, the administrator must have the support of his community. All education is expensive. Good education is more expensive but poor education is the most expensive in the long run. Even the very able executive will be held back if there is no money for a good teaching staff, necessary supplies and adequate buildings.

The role of the administrator is extremely complex. He must act as a professional leader for his teaching associates; he must run his school system efficiently and economically, and he must guarantee educational opportunity for the students under his jurisdiction.

Just A Minute . . .
By the Rev. James A. Craig

Huge, brilliantly colored "bunnies" decorate some store windows. Eggs, made of plastic foam and all colors of the rainbow, nest attractively in shredded cellophane grass.

All sorts of candles are on sale to surprise the children on Easter morning. America's celebration of the most important Christian holiday is underway. It will soon reach its peak.

With all the color and stuff it is too easy to lose track of the week we are in and what the Sunday that comes stands for.

The egg is a Christian symbol of uncertain origin. The bird breaking through the shell came to stand for Christ's breaking through the "shell" of death. It was a symbol also of a new life in a new world.

The colored Easter egg adds even more to the meaning. Color, usually bright, adds a lightness and happiness to the day. The meaning once was to demonstrate the Christian's joy at the battle won by Jesus Christ.

You'll be getting things ready this week. That's what Lent is for.

While you're at it, get yourself ready, too—for the new possibility in life that Jesus Christ makes possible.

Moon Phase Determines Easter Date

Ann Arbor — Every spring for the last 1,640 years people have checked the calendar for the date of Easter.

The reason is that this holiday, which falls this year on Sunday, April 18, fluctuates between March 22 and April 25, depending on the phases of the moon. University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh says.

To understand this fluctuation, one must recall that the church fathers, gathered in the Council of Nicaea in 325 A.D., decreed that Easter was to be kept on the Sunday following the first full moon that comes after the vernal equinox.

This year the vernal equinox came on March 20. Thus the full moon of April 15 places Easter Sunday on April 18.

Says Professor Losh, "Perhaps one good reason for choosing the full moon for reckoning Easter was to enable the pilgrims to the Holy City to have the advantage of moonlight for safe travel."

In 1948 Easter came on the possible day, April 25, and it happened again in 2038 A.D. The time Easter fell on March 22, the earliest possible date, was in 2285 and will not come again until 2285.

Next year Easter will be April 10.

SUNDAY'S SERMON
REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
THE AGED

THE ADVANCES of science and modern medicine have combined to increase "life expectancy" considerably in our lifetime. Today, we not only have more young people than a generation ago; we also have many elderly men and women with many years of living yet ahead of them.

The care of the aged among us has been given attention by the Government and by many institutions. We have learned more and more that an individual's useful years are not ended merely because that person reaches the age of "retirement" or becomes old enough to qualify for social security.

Centuries ago, the Psalmist wrote that he had been young and was grown old, yet had he not seen the righteous forsaken nor his seek begging bread. Today, as a nation and as individuals, we should cooperate to make the Psalmist's words the expression of the aged among us.

Let us acknowledge the right of the elderly to be useful and let a sense of obligation and responsibility lead us to cherish with love and needed care the aged and the infirm.

DO YOU KNOW WHY JESUS REALLY DIED?

The Bible says that He died for our sins. If you have never received Him as your own personal Saviour, then His death and resurrection, as far as you are concerned, was in vain.

Listen to What the Bible Says:

"Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand; By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain." For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; And that He was buried, and that He rose again the third day according to the scriptures." I Cor. 15:1-4.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

Many Dexter and Chelsea residents clipped and mailed me the questionnaire which appeared in this column a couple of weeks ago. The 10 questions I posed appeared in five newspapers as well as being included in a direct mailing of several thousand.

I will share with you the tabulated returns this week and next. On the question of lowering the voting age to 18, the over-all return from more than 2,000 respondents in Lenawee and Washtenaw counties was 77 percent against. In the Dexter and Chelsea area alone returns ran 79 percent against lowering the voting age.

A proposed constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18 has just been reported out of committee in the Senate. The opinion of such a large sample of the voting public will thus be of especial value to me in discussions with fellow Senators.

The most one-sided vote among the 10 questions was on subjecting 16- and 17-year-old drivers to the point system for traffic violations the same as for adults. Here 98 percent of voter favored such a measure with Dexter and Chelsea residents expressing the same percentage response.

I am happy to report that Senate Bill 134 which places 16- and 17-year-olds under the point system passed the Senate overwhelmingly and is now in the House for consideration.

On the question of Sunday liquor where local communities vote to allow sales, Dexter and Chelsea opinion was almost 5 to 1 against and in the area as a whole, the vote was 2 to 1 against Sunday liquor.

Senate Bill No. 20 which would have permitted Sunday sales has been referred back to the Liquor Committee and has little chance of passage. Similar legislation is still under consideration in the House of Representatives. I will do what I can to defeat Sunday liquor sales as I do not believe such a move to be in the public interest.

Legalizing greyhound dog racing was opposed by 62 percent in the entire area and by 72 percent in Saline. Oddly enough Dexter-Chelsea showed a majority in favor of dog-racing. This was one of the few cases where some differences of opinion was expressed between different areas.

Last week the Senate passed a workmen's compensation bill which I opposed on several grounds. I feel its provision for bringing agriculture under the workmen's compensation law was not carefully worked out. I am also opposed to a bill which increases the tax load on Michigan business by some $60,000,000 annually and will discourage establishment of more job creating industry. We do need improvement in workmen's compensation laws and benefits but I believe a much better law could be worked out.

As a readiness factor in beating the clock with forest fires, Conservation Department field workers each year build and maintain hundreds of miles of roads to give fire units quick access into remote, high danger areas.

HALF-PAST TEEN

More Than Half of Tax Returns Come From 100 Cities

Detroit — The 100 largest metropolitan areas of the U. S. accounted for well over half of the individual income tax returns filed and income and tax reported, the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

The 100 areas involved in the study are those, within the 50 states, having the largest population.

Some two-thirds of salaries and wages as well as capital gains were attributable to these large metropolitan areas.

State and metropolitan area data for 1959, 1960 and 1961 individual income tax returns are available in a new supplementary report to the Statistics of Income series which the Revenue Service issues. The data in this supplement include many tables that have never been published before.

For each of the 50 states, detailed information is shown for the years 1960 and 1961 for such items as adjusted gross income, source of income and loss, exemption and income tax.

Also included is information on standard deductions and itemized deductions, including separate figures for state and local sales taxes, contributions, interest paid, total taxes paid, and medical and dental expenses.

The table concerning state and local taxes presents the number of returns by size of deduction for these taxes classified by States. For example, there were 18 million returns on which deductions for state and local sales taxes were claimed. Over 10 million of these returns claimed a deduction between $50 and $150.

For each of the 100 largest metropolitan areas, as defined by the Bureau of the Budget for 1959 and 1961, there is included material on many aspects of income and its sources, tax, and exemptions.

One table presents the number of returns in each specified income and it sources, tax, and exemptions.

One table presents the number of returns in each specified income class. The 100 largest metropolitan areas accounted for over 70 percent of all returns with adjusted gross income of $10,000 or more.

The publication "Statistics of Income, State and Metropolitan Area Data for Individual Income Tax Returns, 1959, 1960, and 1961" is available for 50 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

The Girl Scout law number six says that the Girl Scout is a friend to animals and this will be the girl's Easter service. There was no regular meeting because of the swimming party at the YWCA in Ann Arbor. The troop invited Kadette Troop 98 to go along with them. We would like to extend our thanks to Troop 82 for inviting us on the hike April 3. We discussed the craft which we will teach on Brownie Day on May 3. At our next meeting we're scheduled to make potlashes. Linda Merkel, scribe.

KITE FLYING HIGH
Atlanta, Ga.—Two high school students were taking advantage of the wind by seeing how high they could fly their 28-cent kite. When they got it up 2,600 feet, they ran out of cash to buy string. Interested bystanders financed 2,500 more feet of string. Tying their kite to a small tree, the boy went home to do their homework, leaving their kite hanging at 5,100.
