Senator Philip A. Hart's

REPORT from WASHINGTON

★ Voting Rights Bill Opposed By Some in South

The witness was a heavy-set, gray-haired man who announced he was representing Louisiana Governor John J. McKeithen. His statement was that he was a member of the Citizens' Committee for the Constitution, and he was not a member of the Citizens' Committee for the Constitution. He was not a member of the Citizens' Committee for the Constitution. He was not a member of the Citizens' Committee for the Constitution.

At the time, the cameras had recorded him chuckling proudly about the prison yard he had built on a swampy island to contain whatever "outside agitators" came to see him. He was not a member of the Citizens' Committee for the Constitution. He was not a member of the Citizens' Committee for the Constitution. He was not a member of the Citizens' Committee for the Constitution.

Before long, Perez was citing documents to prove that in 1930 the Communist Party advocated voter registration of all Negroes as the first step toward an independent black nation in the South. His conclusion: "The purported Voting Rights Act of 1965 is designed to implement the Communist Party plan and would provide its greatest impetus."

"This bill is undoubtedly a hand-in-glove deal with the very mass action demonstrations which form part of the Communist revolution, a conspiracy."

And he warned that anyone who voted for the bill would be accommodating this Communist conspiracy.

THE SPRINGTIME ULTIMATUM

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Brakes on U-M
An important challenge to the authority of the new State Board of Education has come early in the unit's existence.

The board was first elected last November under terms of the new state Constitution.

A number of important decisions awaited the formal organization of the eight-man unit.

One of these, and the first on which a decision was made, was the question of whether the University of Michigan should expand and continue to operate its Flint branch.

Apparently leaning toward the recommendations of several studies that Michigan's future expansion in higher education should be in the form of new, autonomous colleges, the Board said the U. of M. should meet its present commitments at Flint, but initiate no more.

Behind this decision and the forthcoming results of it lies the question of whether the Board will really be an effective unit as created by the Constitution.

The Constitution gives this Board power to serve as the "general planning and coordinating body for all public education, including higher education..." but sets some limitation on this power.

Power to advise the legislature "as to the financial requirements" in connection with higher education is given to the board.

In the one-paragraph section creating the unit, however, the Constitution exempts higher education institutions from the Board's control of "leadership and general supervision" over public education.

Another portion of the document gives the various boards of the separate colleges and universities.

fer teaching the maintenance departments how to order spare parts. It could be sorted along the lines of West Point and Annapolis. And if them Cadets at the Air Force Academy don't get that exam situation straightened out, we might use that installation for a spell and call it Catalogue College U.S.A.

And in case you missed it, as a Washington column writer has reported a new nation has sprung up in the world. It is called the Republic of New Atlantis.

According to this column writer, they was this small island off the coast of Jamaica with 20 people living on it. They were already independent but they declared it official and built themselves a stachouse 8 by 30 feet out of bamboo poles. Things was pretty shaky there for a while. They ousted their President and installed his wife, and three times the stachouse was blown down by the winds, but now they have got everything stabilized and the President has wrote to our State Department in Washington to git on the foreign aid program. This column writer was of the opinion they'd be took care of.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where one of them Government agencies named the General Accounting Office, that calls itself the GAO for short, was complaining to the Congress that folks in our military needs to take a course in Sears & Roebuck or somepon.

The GAO claimed the maintain-er departments of our Army, Navy and Air Force don't know how to use the Government catalogues for ordering parts. For instantly they reported, a Army unit in south Florida was needing four pairs of generator brushes that cost $3 a pair. On December 11 some feller in the maintainer department sent in a order for the whole generator assembly unit. The next day another feller in the same department, unbeknownst to the first one, duplicated the order. On December 29 they received 16 complete motor generators that cost $38,102 instead of the $12 worth of parts they needed.

Furthermore, claimed the GAO, the military never sends nothing back they just hide their mistakes in the warehouse and put in a new order. One of our Congressmen, taking note of this system, allowed as how if the Navy would order a anchor and git a battleship by mistake, they would just hold a big launching ceremony and put the battleship in dry dock.

In the last two years, claimed the GAO, the military has ordered $13 million worth of spare parts they didn't need and can't never use. Of course, Mister Editor, it was mighty fortunate it ain't nothing but tax money, but it would seem we might be better off to swap our program of turning off lights in the White House for one calling on the armed forces to set up a training school.

The power to supervise their respective institutions and control direct the expenditure of the institutions' funds. It specifically says these powers shall not be limited by the authority given the Board of Education.

Influence on legislative budgeting then appears to be one of the only areas in which the state board might be effective in getting its decisions followed where higher education is concerned.

As one observer of the Flint situation noted, cooperation among the state colleges will usually be weak where the interests of one is at stake.

The Michigan-Flint decision by the Board will be closely watched by officials of other institutions facing similar policy questions in board consideration. If U. of M. authorities decide to disregard or over from the board recommendation it is well assured other colleges will feel free to do the same in the future.

Hard to Replace
The search is on for a successor to State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

This position is filled by gubernatorial appointment. Childs has served at the pleasure of three chief executives, having been first appointed by G. Mennen Williams in May, 1952.

His retirement this summer is of his own doing. It was he who set 55 as the mandatory retirement age for state police officers.

A successor for the soft-spoken, calm-appearing Childs apparently will be somewhat unique among state departments in the past few years. Most vacancies which have occurred have resulted in a nationwide search for talent in the area.

Romney Should Run
Agreement between the chiefs of the two major political parties in Michigan is rare at best. On one important question, however, they recently expressed basically a single idea although the conclusion was based on different reasoning.

Republican State Chairman Mrs. Elly Peterson and Democratic chief Zolton A. Ferency both feel that Gov. George Romney should seek a third term in Lansing next year rather than run for the U. S. Senate as has been mentioned a possibility.

The governor's chair would be a more logical position from which to seek higher, national office in 1968. As a junior Senator, Romney would be just one of many novices who might have higher goals.

Difference between reasoning by Ferency and Mrs. Peterson comes in their views on whether the gov-

Gov. George Romney has indicated he will rely on the battery of top-ranking officers now in the department to replace Childs.

With responsibilities in fire prevention, civil defense, and civil and criminal processes as well as the all-important traffic law enforcement, the department is an important one to have an experienced, well-qualified man at its top.

The Michigan State Highway Department has started marking and surveys for the modernization of 23 miles of M-92 in Washtenaw county. The project is scheduled to be placed under contract in 1963. This project will be part of the modernization of 8.4 miles of M-92 from Stockbridge in Ingham county through Jackson county to Territorial Rd., north of Chelsea in Washtenaw county.

error's chair should be a stepping stone for Romney or simply a place to be.

Ferency contends Romney, soon to be 58, started his political life too late to be realistic about presidential aspirations. Mrs. Peterson says the governor has been successful in many fields and therefore has the qualities necessary for the nation's top officer.

Despite agreement that Lansing is the place for Romney to spend the years 1966-68, the Governor is not famous for taking other people's advice where his future was concerned.

The U. S. Senate seat now held by Patrick V. McNamara might look good when the 1966 election rolls around, particularly if the incumbent fulfills the persisting rumors that he will not run again.

The Senior High School Library will join the Audio-Visual Department and Language Laboratory in an open house Wednesday evening April 26, from 7:30 until 9 p.m. at an open ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Service awards will be presented to the women who are working in the school libraries as volunteers. The Audio Visual Department will demonstrate the latest AV equipment in the schools available for instructional purposes.

Chelsea along with the rest of Michigan, and the entire midwestern part of the country, experienced a wintery snowstorm the past week-end. About four inches of snow fell. Along with the snow the mercury dropped from the low 70's to the low 30's. The biggest drop came between 5:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday when it went from 50 to 30. Rising temperatures took care of most of the snow and spring was back "on the job."

Deputy Harold Owings, Jr., arrested Ernest L. Carpenter, 22, of Munith on a drunk and disorderly charge. As he and his father, Harold Owings Sr. were taking Carpenter to Ann Arbor, Carpenter drew a pearl-handled jackknife with a three inch blade and held it at Owings Jr.'s throat. The deputy's father saw this action out of the corner of his eye and with a quick movement brought his fist up and hit Carpenter in the mouth knocking him back into the rear seat and the knife away from his son's throat. The elderly Owings was cut on the back of the hand in the struggle. The deputy stopped the car, disarmed Carpenter and handcuffed him. The rest of the trip was without incident.

This amount provides for an enlarged swimming program which has been requested by clubs and organizations. The enlarged swimming program will require additional help for supervision for which the budget, as adopted provides five dollars a day. The enlarged program will also require increased transportation allowance.

Zing into spring! Chevrolet Impala

People who buy other big expensive-looking cars get one thing you won't (big expensive-looking payments)

It looks like a big car. And is—by almost any standard you want to apply. Width? Nobody builds a car as much as one year wider. Length? It grew three inches this year. Roominess? Every closed model's got three inches more shoulder room, front and rear, and more leg and foot room up front too. Luxury? Nice little touches like the look of mellow walnut across the Impala's instrument panel. And big touches. Like the fineness of the same Body by Fisher workmanship that makes some of America's most expensive cars look so expensive. How about the ride? Chevrolet engineers took the Jet-smooth one and smoothed it out even more this year. Also made it more stable by widening the wheel stance. Price? That's where Chevrolet fall way short of the other big expensive-looking cars. But we wouldn't have it any other way. Would you?

One last question: How soon can you make a good spring buy on a Chevrolet? One last answer: Just as soon as you can get down to your Chevrolet dealer's.

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

The term "fiscal reform" has been widely used—yet little or nothing has been said or written about how it would affect you as a taxpayer.

Let's not kid ourselves—the net result will cost you money.

A flat rate five percent income tax is now before the legislature, with a $600 exemption per person. Under this, a family of four earning an annual income of $7,500 would pay $255. This same family now pays an average of $165 on the present sales tax. The single person earning $7,500 would pay $345 on the present sales tax. He now pays about $255 on the new income tax.

Even if the sales tax were completely repealed, and we have no guarantee that it would even be repealed, the family of four would pay an additional $100 a year in income taxes. The single person would pay an additional $245. If the sales tax remained unchanged, the family of four would pay an additional $255 in state taxes each year, and the single person $345. Generally, the higher the income bracket, the higher the tax would be.

All agree that any tax reform program must have two basic objectives: (1) Making our tax burden more equitable, and (2) raising the necessary revenue to meet the many pressing demands for state aid and services. It is certain to require a state-wide income tax.

Although the majority party has been sponsoring every conceivable type of increased expenditure, it thus far has refused to tackle the problem of revamping our tax structure or viewing the overall perspective of receipts against expenditures.

We have yet to receive assurance that our ever-rising local property taxes will be reduced. We have yet to receive assurance that the over-all tax program will not require continuance of some, or all of the present four percent state sales tax.

All in all, the net result is bound to be considerably higher taxes for you.

The men were arrested on April 7 and said they were practicing their dogs. However, they were carrying guns, Boyer said.

School Board Briefs

1. It has been in recent years and is the policy of the present Board of Education to hold an operational millage election separate from a school board election. It is felt that it is grossly unfair to the candidate and the district as a whole to make that candidate form a position on school finance without having had some encounter with it at the meetings.

2. The other item of note pertains to the approval of the Board to authorize the architect to develop working drawings for the proposed addition to the High School. The board voted in late November last year to go ahead hoping to pass the issue at the February election. This would have saved considerable construction time. The issue lost. Therefore, the $9,000 (not $12,000) which was authorized is committed but not to be paid until such time the addition is made. The $12,000 figure includes the $3,000 fee of the architect for construction supervision. It was felt by the Board that the building was a minimum request and cannot be made smaller in any appreciable manner, so the plans are waiting until such time the electorate sees fit to pass that particular issue.

IT'S TEAMWORK

Riding a bicycle built for two is a simple matter of teamwork. And, it's fun, too. We don't often think of things in exactly the same light, but teamwork keeps things humming in the local business community. In one way or another, each of us "sells" a particular product or service in the local market. And, in return, we buy the things we need from our friends and neighbors. It's a good arrangement. It works smoothly because we need each other, because whether he sells a product or a service, the individual local businessman is concerned with the "long pull." He plans to do business tomorrow as well as today. He knows that his business depends upon such things as quality service and guaranteed satisfaction.

Whether you aim to buy or to sell, you'll find smoother sailing when you do business in the local community.

Fishing Regulations Told for Area Lakes

The season is open until May 1 for spearing fish or killing them with bow and arrow in non-trout streams and rivers, according to Don Boyer, conservation officer.

In this area, this means that gar, pike, carp, bream and suckers may be taken from the Huron, Saginaw and Raisin Rivers. On May 1, all of these except the Huron are closed to spearing and bow and arrow fishing. But certain lakes open for this kind of fishing from May 1 until Aug. 15. They are Half Moon Lake and Chain Four Mile, Portage and Chain, Horseshoe, Silver and Sugar Lake. Lakes in addition to the Huron River.

Burning Permits Required for All Outdoor Fires

Fire Chief Al Lavalli in Dexter or James Caken in Chelsea should be contacted before fires are lit as the law requires that a burning permit be obtained to do any burning when the ground is not snow-covered. Permits may be obtained free from them or a Forest Fire Officer, either by calling personally or by phone.

Do not burn on a dry, windy day.

A fire break sufficient to stop the spread of fire should be constructed around the area to be burned. This may be a plowed furrow or other similar break.

"If your fire gets out of control, call the nearest Fire Department at once," cautioned conservation officer Don Boyer.

The safest time to burn is in the early evening. Brush burns readily at this time if tightly piled, and the wind usually goes down considerably.

Never leave a fire unattended at any time.

False alarm fires caused by persons failing to get permits are costly to the taxpayers. Help prevent unnecessary fire runs by talking things over with your fire chief, suggested Boyer.

In Manchester, the fire chief is James Kensler.

Confirmation Class Members Honored at Dinners, Parties

The 14 members of the confirmation class at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rogers Corners, received their first Communion at Easter Sunday services at the church. Their parents also attended the Communion services.

The class of 14 young people were confirmed the previous week on Palm Sunday and following the confirmation service, they were honored at dinners or open house receptions by their parents.

Michael Wackenhut's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Wackenhut, held open house in his honor.

Mr. and Mrs. George Prinaing, honoring their son, Paul, entertained at a dinner at their home. Among those present were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stangor, of Three Oaks, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prinaing of Gregory; his godfather, Paul Bristle, with Mrs. Bristle and their daughter; also a great-aunt, Mrs. Christina Bristle of Ann Arbor. ### MERCY

It is comforting for the Christian to rely on the mercy of God, yet we should never forget that God is just as well as merciful. We have never been granted license to knowingly do wrong. Because we know that we can seek forgiveness, we are not free to plunge into a wrong act with the idea of making proper amends tomorrow.

When we do wrong, we turn our back on God, or so we believe. This we cannot do. God is everywhere. What we actually do is shut our eyes to God's truth and to our own heritage as Christians and believers.

In the days of the Old West, the Calvary had its share of "Winter Soldiers." They signed up for duty with the arrival of winter, only for the food and shelter provided. With the arrival of spring, they vanished with the wind.

We cannot turn our back on God, nor can we seek God's mercy if we are "winter soldiers" in the army of salvation.

The folks who live on interest rarely worry about the troubles of the man who has to live on a fixed wage.

Just A Minute...

By the Rev. James A. Craig

Some people have been busy lately trying to explain Easter's mystery. They base their conclusions on the examination of a linen shroud, in which, it is said, Jesus was buried.

The results of their study have been published. They decided he was only in a coma, not really dead. Doesn't that simplify things? It is no longer necessary to puzzle over the wonder of an empty tomb. No longer does that dark hole in the rock claim our questioning gaze.

The theory has some interest.

Some people will cling to it with frantic relief. For them it offers an explanation that frees them from the burden of belief.

For some the theory is another in a series of explanations of something they never believed in. All it does is further confirm their faith that Easter is false.

Others will find it a challenge to their faith. It will add further uncertainty about an event they can only affirm, not prove.

Now after Easter, the last group will have something to go on and live by. The skeptics will still search, longingly, for something to hang on to. The relieved won't think about it for another year, having successfully gotten through the last Easter.

Even so, to each the empty tomb

—the Risen Lord—offers new hope and new directions.

Non-essentials take up too much time in life, but why be different from everybody else?

Tiger Team To Log 25,500 Miles in Air

Detroit — The Tigers will fly approximately 25,500 air miles during 1965 to meet their American League engagements.

In the air continuously since 1957, the club has booked 49 flights for the coming season, according to Charles C. Creedon, traveling secretary. Thirty-six flights will be with United Air Lines and the other four with Delta Air Lines, including the trip from spring training at Lakeland, Fla., to Atlanta for a week-end pre-season series with the Milwaukee Braves and on to Kansas City for the American League opener April 12.

Most of the trips will be chartered, using DC-8B planes, but jet planes will be used for three flights to or from the Pacific Coast.

The contracts with the two air lines will cost the Tigers about $85,000, Creedon said.

The Tigers' only other travel during 1965 will be two bus trips, from Baltimore to Washington and Detroit to Cleveland.

Orioles Will Be Tiger Guests at Capuchin Dinner

Detroit — The Baltimore Orioles have accepted an invitation to attend the 24th annual Capuchin Charity Guild Baseball dinner at Cobo Hall, Saturday, May 22.

Baltimore will be the opponent of the Detroit Tigers, all of whom will attend the banquet in a body, at Tiger Stadium that afternoon.

Lee MacPhail, president and general manager of the Orioles, said he and Hank Bauer, club manager, are "happy to co-operate in this gala event" and have promised the appearance of all their players.

Among the Baltimore celebrities are Brooks Robinson, voted the Most Valuable Player in the American League in 1964; Wally Bunker, acclaimed by The Sporting News as the outstanding rookie pitcher in the league last season; Boog Powell, the hefty home run hitter; Robin Roberts and Detroit's Milt Pappas, two of the winningest hurlers.

The Rev. Quentin Hamrick, head of the Capuchin Charity Guild, said tickets for the dinner, one of the highlights of the baseball season and the largest of all baseball fetes, are now on sale at the Capuchin Monastery, 1740

TV Film Feature Tells Story of Rookie Pitcher

Detroit — The story of a rookie pitcher in the Detroit Tiger minor league organization, filmed by the Canadian Broadcasting Corp., will be presented as a feature of its "telescope" series over CKLW-TV on Friday, April 23, at 9:30 p.m.

The film shows 19-year-old George Korince of St. Catharines, Ont., pitching for Merritt of the Niagara District Junior Baseball League under the watchful eyes of Cy Williams, Tiger scout, and Bob Prentice, one of his sub-scouts, with CBC cameramen on hand.

It follows Korince through the procedure of signing a professional baseball contract, his departure from family, relatives and friends for spring training and his experiences in the Tiger minor league training camp at Tigertown in Lakeland, Fla.

In the process, the film provides a revealing look into the highly organized and systematic routine of instruction and competition at the training base where regulations are strict, facilities excellent.

ROYAL BOYCOTT TO END

London — Queen Elizabeth II has ended the 29-year British royal boycott of the Duchess of Windsor. The Duke has undergone eye surgery and the Queen visited her uncle when the doctors allowed him to have visitors. Queen Elizabeth was only 12 when the Duke, the former King Edward VIII, left Britain to marry Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Timber operators accounted for only $390 in forest fire damages to personal property in Michigan during 1964.

GROWING HIGHWAY HAZARD. Another slam-bang season has arrived for Michigan motorists and deer. Unless the trend of the last few years is reversed, scenes like this will be repeated 15-18 times every day throughout the season during the April-June period. At this rate, the springtime repair bill for cars and trucks hitting deer will total $3,000-$3,500 daily. Since deer along highways are unpredictable at best, it's all up to drivers to steer clear of accidents with these animals. The best advice the Conservation Department can give them is to slow down at night and whenever they see white-tails, or pass through posted deer areas. Another safe-driving tip is to watch out for deer you don't see. For every animal you spot and avoid hitting, there usually are more nearby, ready at any moment to dash in front of you.

The NATIONAL OUTLOOK

By GEORGE HAGEDORN

Acceleration and Stimulation . . .

As the first quarter of 1965 draws to a close, the indications are that the business rise which began four years ago is continuing without loss of steam. In fact, it seems to be accelerating.

Of course, unusual and temporary forces have helped to produce this result. The after-effects of the automobile strikes of October 1964, and the anticipatory effects of a possible steel strike in May, 1965, have contributed an exceptional stimulus to economic activity. But it now appears that, even when a reasonable allowance is made for these transitory factors, the first quarter will show a stepping-up of previous growth rates.

During the first three quarters of 1964, the quarter-to-quarter increase in the annual rates of gross national product was uniformly $9.8 billion. In the last quarter, largely as a result of the automobile shutdowns, the increase slowed to $6.2 billion. This suggests that about $3.6 billion of growth was postponed from that quarter.

Big Gain Expected
We do not at this writing have any official figures on gross national product for the first quarter of 1965. But the Secretary of Commerce has announced that he expects it to show "one of the largest quarterly increases of the post-war period." His remark is being interpreted as indicating that the increase over the last quarter of 1964 will be in the neighborhood of $18 billion.

Even if we assume that $3.6 billion of this is catch-up from business lost in the previous quarter, we still have a quarter-to-quarter growth of over $14 billion. Some part of this may be the result of stockpiling of steel and hence reversible later in the year. But while we don't have complete statistics on this point, reports indicate that inventory accumulations have fallen short of expectations. At current levels of activity, steel is being used up at a rate which prevents stockpiling to the degree that steel users would have desired.

Tax Cuts Ahead?
Economists are busy revising upward their projections for 1965 as a whole. The previously anticipated downturn in the second half of the year is now regarded as less and less likely.

All this euphoria could be wrong of course. We would not like to promise a "new era" of recession.

WEDS DOOMED MAN

AWARDS WORKERS
Reading, England — At 68, Alfred Goswell, owner of an electrical contracting business, decided to retire. He gave his company to the four workers who had served him so faithfully over the years. Goswell said he had saved enough money to live comfortably and he thought the workers deserved to run the business for themselves.

Railroad engines sparked 174 forest fires which swept over 1,573 acres in Michigan during 1964. Of 26 railroad lines operating in the state, only 10 were responsible for these fires.

Homemaking Classes Set For Disabled

The Michigan Heart Association has completed final arrangements for a two-day labor-saving homemaking class, April 20 and 21, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Ann Arbor Community Center, 825 N. Main.

Ann Arbor, Dr. James Blodgett, M.D., Detroit, president of the Association announced today.

In announcing the free classes, Dr. Blodgett said, "While everyone can benefit, these instructions will be especially valuable to persons with heart and circulatory ailments, or physical handicaps of any kind."

The classes are presented by Mrs. Alice Epple, consultant in Homemaker Rehabilitation for the Heart Association, an agency supported by the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti United Funds, through the Michigan United Fund.

TROOP 170
Troop 170 of Girl Scouts met Thursday, April 15 at the Municipal Building with Kathy Grob furnishing treats.

The girls will be going camping at Linden on April 24 and 25. Each girl is asked to bring $1.00. Dianne Snyder, scribe.

Fashion Notes

The gathered skirt for the new jacket suits are very smart. Some of the jackets are shorter in the front in order that the gathers below the waistline show.

The coat dress is often made of basket weave material and buttons up the front to the neckline.

Some of the bathing suits being shown this season are truly vulgar and I do not believe that the majority of young girls will wear them. These suits seem to emphasize the navel. One with a fish net top in black is cut down very low in the front waistline. There will be publicity-seekers who purchase such suits but the girl or woman of good taste will pass them by.

NEW Patterns for Spring

Armstrong Vinyl is made by a unique process of design reproduction called roto-gravure. This modern method of color printing can photographically duplicate the beauty of virtually any pattern and color in an wonderful, low-cost vinyl floor covering. Because of this modern method of manufacture, every styling in Vinyl Accolon is outstanding in beauty, depth of color, and pattern dimension.

Armstrong Vinyl is made to give long, satisfactory service. Its heavy base is vinyl-treated to give the floor covering extra body and resistance to moisture. The colorful printing inks that make up the pattern are vinyl, too. They're brighter, crisper, and have exceptional fade resistance. To further seal in the beauty of design and color, the entire surface is covered with a thick coat of tough, clear vinyl. This forms a rugged wearing surface which resists scuffing and the punishment of children's play.

LEGISLATIVE BILLS PILE UP: Representative Thomas G. Sharpe (R-Howell) ponders the mounting stacks of proposed bills and resolutions. A record-shattering 1,708 poured into the legislative hopper prior to Wednesday's midnight deadline. Countless more tax and appropriation measures, not subject to this deadline, will run this total even higher. "I only hope," Sharpe commented, "after party leaders return from their European cruise in May, that the Michigan legislature can finally settle down and do the job they were sent to Lansing to do last January."

Red Cross Named Tornado Disaster Relief Agency

Governor Romney last week designated the American National Red Cross as the Official Disaster Relief Agency in connection with the tornadoes and severe storms that struck many parts of Michigan Sunday night, April 11.

He urged that any contributions for relief of disaster victims be made to local Red Cross chapters.

The Governor pointed out that the Red Cross is the recognized disaster relief agency and has demonstrated in the past its ability to meet emergency food, clothing, shelter and medical needs in family and individual rehabilitation.

"Red Cross assistance to meet the immediate needs, not losses of disaster-stricken persons includes food, clothing and basic maintenance, repair and rebuilding of dwellings, household furnishings, long-term medical and nursing care, and occupational supplies and equipment."

"I urge that all citizens and agencies, both public and private, within the State of Michigan give the Red Cross their full support and co-operation," Governor Romney said in the proclamation.

"I further urge that all individuals, groups and organizations wherever located, desiring to make contributions for the relief of disaster victims, send their contributions to their local Red Cross chapter."

"All such donations will be used by the Red Cross in the human task of caring for the needs of our people who have suffered loss in the disaster and who are unable to rehabilitate themselves without assistance."

Michigan lawmakers are reminded that when and wherever snow is off the ground, the provisions of the Michigan Department of Conservation Department's field offices or field stations should be turned in before turning in any other bills.

State Road Crews Ready For Spring

Lansing — The Michigan State Highway Department is gearing up for spring. That means a lot more than just revving up the pace of construction on projects now underway costing a total of $110,000,000, including about 265 miles of roads and 130 bridges, separations and similar structures.

There's everything from picking up from the sides of more than 9,200 miles of highways debris scattered during the winter to the launching of a $4 million special safety program to make the highways safer.

Howard E. Hill, acting director of the State Highway Department, said the program is like "spring housecleaning while building new additions and landscaping and all the other things we do around the house this time of year."

"The difference of course is that our Department's work is continuing on a multi-million-dollar-a-month scale and it affects the living of not only everyone in Michigan but the thousands of tourists who will visit the state in the coming months," Hill said.

Among the projects Highway Department personnel or county road commissions under contract with the state will begin in the next few weeks are:

—Edge-marking with paint (as a safety measure) approximately 3,400 additional miles of highways, and re-painting every mile of center marking needing brightening.

—Patching pavements damaged by winter freezing and spring thawing. (Reports indicate there's no extraordinary damage, Hill said.)

—Clearing ditches and culverts along roadsides wherever needed to insure drainage.

—Sprucing up the Department-operated 1,950 rest areas, roadside parks and picnic table sites.

—Refurbishing signs and replacing or repairing reflectors.

—Spreading seed, fertilizer and weed killer.

The scope of landscaping activities is indicated by the volumes of materials that will be used between April 15 and June 15.

Highway Department crews will spread or spray:

—600,725 pounds of fertilizers.

Fire Marshal's 1964 Report Shows New Annual Highs

Michigan's 88,175 fires in 1964 claimed 282 lives, both totals being new annual highs, and caused an estimated $55,064,904 in property damage, according to the annual report of the fire marshal division of the State Police.

The monetary loss, fourth worst in the last 24 years, was $4,088,065 less than in 1963. It included $31,835,518 on buildings, and $20,887,014 on contents. Fires involving motor vehicles, aircraft, boats, unheated machinery, grass, etc., accounted for $2,342,371.

The deaths were nine more than in 1963 and included four firemen, 197 other adults and 81 children. It was the first loss of a fireman since 1961. Not included in the fires which resulted from auto and toll were 30 deaths attributed to fires which resulted from auto and aircraft accidents.

The fires were 1,330 more than the previous high of 86,845 in 1963. Fire categories included dwellings, 20,797; auto, 14,999; house trailers, 620; schools, 372; dry cleaning plants, 217; bulk storage plants, 177; theaters, 69; aircraft, 61; grass, 27,819; and miscellaneous, 23,155.

Of 2,920 incendiary fires, 890 were set by adults and 1,430 by children.
