Watershed Council Plans To Be Studied

Area Residents May Help Decide Council Function

Proposed by-laws of the new Iron River Watershed Intergovernmental Council will be discussed next Wednesday evening in room 1 of the County Building at 5 p.m.

This will be an opportunity for the committee to decide how they want the Council set up at the organizational meeting to be held on May 3 with the Water Resource Commission.

The present Watershed committee has been able to act only in an advisory capacity. It may propose and promote, but it has no legal basis for control, management or construction. The new organization may form a legal entity with these powers as it is expected to lead toward a district organization, according to Robert Spencer, executive secretary of the commission.

The Michigan Water Resources Commission on March 25, issued an order establishing a Huron River Watershed Council, under the provisions of the Michigan Public Acts.

The governments which have combined their efforts to petition for this action are, in addition to Chelsea and Dexter villages, Lima, (Continued on page two)

Senior Girl Scouts Tour Washington

Eleven girls of Senior Girl Scout Troop 77 enjoyed a trip to Washington last week. They were accompanied by Mrs. E. J. Sutter and Mrs. Leslie Eisenbeiser who served as chaperons and drivers for the two cars in which the trip was made.

The trip was financed with money earned by the troop by means of bake sales, proceeds of the Girl Scout calendar sales and additional dues during the winter. While in Washington the famous cherry blossoms were in bloom. They happened to arrive in time to witness dedication ceremonies for the much publicized Jackie Kennedy garden and hear Mrs. Lyndon Johnson speak at the ceremonies.

Another coincidence which added to their enjoyment of the trip was the fact that Michigan's Senator Philip Hart happened to be speaking on civil rights matters when the Chelsea group visited the Senate.

Other highlights were a visit to Arlington National cemetery where they witnessed the changing of the guard.

Selected to make the presentation Wednesday, April 21, at the A. D. Mayer Agency office were Mike Grob, center, who is a Star Scout, and Gary Larson, at right, also a Star Scout, who is senior patrol leader of Troop 425. Mrs. Mayer's son, Daniel, is registered as an assistant scoutmaster of Troop 425 and her late husband was very active in Boy Scout work for many years and was a recipient of the Silver Beaver award, the highest award a volunteer may receive.

African Safari

Adventuresome Twosome Reaches Capetown

By Pat Merkel and Fritz Wagner

Editor's Note: Fritz Wagner and Pat Merkel of Chelsea, are touring the African continent on motorcycles. The following letter has been received from them which should be of interest to their friends in the Chelsea-Dexter area. They left Chelsea Oct. 4 and are now preparing for the return trip home.

Capetown, South Africa
April 21, 1965

Dear Folks:

Here is our last article. I suggest that if this is to be published you should do so at once. We are looking for a ship and should be home in a month or so. We are home in a month or so.

Our African adventure is very close to the end. We have made Cape Town, South Africa, our final destination in Africa. Since our last letter we have traveled more than 3,000 miles through some of the wildest country in east and central Africa. Our last letter closed as we were about to leave Nairobi, Kenya so it is here that we will take up our trip for you, again.

The trip from Nairobi to Ndola, Zambia was one of our hardest journeys. It's a 1,300-mile stretch of dirt, gravel and sometimes mud road. Any repairs must be made by the traveler for there aren't any service stations. However, gas is available at fairly even intervals, eliminating the need for carrying a reserve supply over a week. We had a number of flat tires and a few minor accidents due to slippery mud. Fortunately, our speed was slow and no damage resulted.

Camping became impossible because of the weather and we had to take to native schools. They would usually find a place for us along with a bowl of mashed corn.

Our only stop on the trek was the world famous Ngorongoro Crater near Chrusa Tanzania, one of East Africa's main coffee centers. The crater contains the greatest concentration of animals in Africa and must be one of the world's most beautiful game reserves. We couldn't afford the tourist prices so we stayed with a group of African college students and visited the park with them. We had a fine time with the boys and saw a wide variety of animals including lions, buffalo, elephants, zebras, hippos and many others.

It was our pleasure to witness a black rhino charge AT US!! Luckily our vehicle was faster than the charging rhino and we escaped without injury.

After two days of game watching we packed up our gear and continued down the Great Northern Road that would eventually lead us to Ndola, Zambia.

We were very happy to reach Ndola and take a much-needed warm, clean, bath.

After a day of rest and cleaning our equipment, we were off to visit a few of the local copper mines, for Ndola is situated in the heart of Africa's copper country. We made our first tour with a mine public relations director. He took extra time to explain various operations that most tour leaders would not have done. First, we took a look at the surface operations in which the ore is crushed almost to a powder, heated to a molten state and poured off into copper ingots.

Our greatest experience at the mine was going underground 2,600 feet below ground level. The temperature was terrific! For every 132 ft. the temperature rose one degree F.

All the manual labor in the mines is done by black Africans, mostly Bantu, while the supervision is carried out by whites. Actually mining is rather simple.

CHS Athletes Honored By Kiwanis Club at All-Sports Banquet

CHS Alumni Banquet Must Have Help

If there is to be an alumni banquet at Chelsea High school this year, volunteers must come forward at once to help make arrangements for it. This statement was made yesterday by Robert Merkel, last year's Alumni Association president.

He said George A. Staffan, chairman of a nominating committee appointed last year to present a slate of officers for the 1965 banquet, reports that he and his committee could find no one willing to take office so the committee is asking for volunteers to work on a committee to make the necessary arrangements.

If a sufficient number of persons offer to help a planning meeting date will be set. Such a meeting necessarily must be held soon. Anyone willing to help with the project is asked to contact Staffan as soon as possible.

Although approximately 2,000 graduates are listed, the average attendance at alumni banquets varies in the neighborhood of two and three hundred. It will be disappointing to these regular supporters of the project as well as to classes of graduates who plan reunions if the annual banquet is canceled—which it must be, Merkel and Staffan pointed out, unless a volunteer committee is secured at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reissel presented a handsome cake to Sister Angela of the St. Louis School of Boys for her birthday Saturday afternoon. A gift of candy and kisses for the boys added to the festivities.

Khariar is an important lumber and rice center in Central India and has a population of approximately 5,000.

Gen. Dwight Beach Named To Command Korean Forces

Announcement has been made by President Lyndon B. Johnson that Gen. Dwight Beach has been named to command the U. S. Army in Korea. He will be both as commander of the U. S. forces in Korea and commander-in-chief of the United Nations Command.

The announcement also states that the president has nominated Beach for the rank of full general. General Beach will replace General Hamilton H. Howze, who is retiring July 1 after holding the Korean Commands since August, 1963.

General Beach is now commander of the U. S. Army Development Command, Fort Belvoir, Va., a position he has held since August, 1963.

Korea is not an entirely new assignment for General Beach. He was chief of staff of the Eighth Army there from November 1964 to April 1965 and had served in other capacities in Korea since December, 1963 until his appointment as chief of staff.

Watershed Council Plans...

Webster, Scio, Ypsilanti, West Bloomfield, Van Buren, Superior, Green Oak and Berlin townships and the cities of Ann Arbor, Belle Isle, Wixom and Ypsilanti.

The voluntary co-operative council will carry out such functions as studies of water resources of the Huron River Watershed, including investigations of water quality and reliability of water supply, and reports on such things as trends in water use and availability.

It will make plans for development and management of water resources, and recommendations concerning the creation of a river management district in the Watershed area.

One of the important functions of the Watershed Council would be promoting the formation of a district which could acquire, construct, operate and finance water storage and other river control facilities necessary for river management.

Of much local interest is the Mill Creek Reservoir Study being conducted. A hearing on it was held at Lima Community Hall a few weeks ago. This study is but a portion of the over-all Huron Basin Study. Conclusions of the Corps of Engineers thus far on the Mill Creek situation is that water should be added to the Huron River during drought periods and that ground and surface waters of the Huron River Basin will not be adequate to supply the long-term water needs of the growing population in the Basin.

The Corps notes that a Mill Creek Reservoir could provide significant control of flood waters in the lower Huron River segment.

Legislative Wrangling

Things seem more lousied up the legislature this year than usual. This is probably not the case. It is just that there are more things to be mixed up about, so the confusion looks worse.

A record number of bills were introduced, more than could be properly processed if legislators worked until Christmas, then took half that day off. Most of these bills will lie in committees to be considered next year, but probably to die.

The basic issue is the measure of the Governor's strength measured against that of the opposition Democratic party. Democrats have the power to push anything through the legislature they wish. Leaders understand party discipline very well and know how to exercise it.

The only thing which keeps them from writing their own ticket completely is the threat of a Governor veto. It takes two-thirds of the elected members of each house to override such a veto. Even if the votes can be mustered, the time element can delay or defeat vetoed measures.

Watch the jockeying in efforts to reorganize state government. This is a basically important issue and one which can be important for a long time, once resolved. If the legislature does not come up with a plan to group all the state's boards and commissions under 20 or fewer departments by Dec. 31, the Governor can proceed with his own plan.

The balance here means that Gov. Romney can get some of what he wants, even though the Democrats don't want to give it, in return for not vetoing the arrangement. On the other hand, if he demands what the Democrats think is too much, they will take their chances with a veto and proper status in the community from being in a higher tax bracket. They ain't nothing, said Ed, that fixes up a feller's status like a high tax bracket.

Clem Webster was wondering why country editors hadn't thought of this idea many years ago. But Clem allowed as how the answer to many of life's big problems was so simple, like just overlooked 'em. He said it made him recollect about the feller that had been falling out of bed all his life. When he got old and it was getting hard on his bones and his roommates, he final went to see a doctor. This doctor solved the problem in 60 seconds. He told the old man to sleep on the floor. Incidental, Mister Editor, all the fellers at the store was subscribers in good standing to your paper and they said to tell you they are mighty anxious to keep up the good relations with the editor, such as putting in the good items and leaving out the bad. Josh Clodhopper, that gits caught once in a while fer driving too fast, was special anxious fer you to follow the Golden Rule in these matters.

And speaking of the Golden Rule, I see by the papers where one of them fellers from the Internal Revenue Service was telling a sub-committee of the Congress the other day they was trying to get form 1040 so simple a taxpayer could fill it out in 30 minutes. This feller's heart might be in the right place but his head has got stuck in a crack. Ed Doolittle says it takes him a hour to find his old lady's Social Security Card.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where a feller that runs a weekly newspaper in Georgia has come up with an idea that could spread all over the country and change the course of newspaper history. He has announced that from now on he ain't printing news items about folks that don't subscribe to his paper. He allowed as how he was getting dad-burned tired of somebody giving him a news item and then borrowing a neighbor's paper to see if he printed it.

I presume, Mister Editor, he's talking about good news items. Seeing as how he is so riled up over the matter, I reckon, if one of his non-subscribers gits in jail, he'd print it on the front page. I bring this item up at the country store Saturday night and all the fellers was agreed with this new editor from Georgia. Ed Doolittle figured if all country editors would take up this policy it would double circulation immediately. Furthermore, claimed Ed, with this big increase in circulation, the editor could double the price for advertising and git the proper status in the community from being in a higher tax bracket. They ain't nothing, said Ed, that fixes up a feller's status like a high tax bracket.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where a feller that runs a weekly newspaper in Georgia has come up with an idea that could spread all over the country and change the course of newspaper history. He has announced that from now on he ain't printing news items about folks that don't subscribe to his paper. He allowed as how he was getting dad-burned tired of somebody giving him a news item and then borrowing a neighbor's paper to see if he printed it.

I presume, Mister Editor, he's talking about good news items. Seeing as how he is so riled up over the matter, I reckon, if one of his non-subscribers gits in jail, he'd print it on the front page. I bring this item up at the country store Saturday night and all the fellers was agreed with this new editor from Georgia. Ed Doolittle figured if all country editors would take up this policy it would double circulation immediately. Furthermore, claimed Ed, with this big increase in circulation, the editor could double the price for advertising and git the proper status in the community from being in a higher tax bracket. They ain't nothing, said Ed, that fixes up a feller's status like a high tax bracket.

Clem Webster was wondering why country editors hadn't thought of this idea many years ago. But Clem allowed as how the answer to many of life's big problems was so simple, like just overlooked 'em. He said it made him recollect about the feller that had been falling out of bed all his life. When he got old and it was getting hard on his bones and his roommates, he final went to see a doctor. This doctor solved the problem in 60 seconds. He told the old man to sleep on the floor. Incidental, Mister Editor, all the fellers at the store was subscribers in good standing to your paper and they said to tell you they are mighty anxious to keep up the good relations with the editor, such as putting in the good items and leaving out the bad. Josh Clodhopper, that gits caught once in a while fer driving too fast, was special anxious fer you to follow the Golden Rule in these matters.

And speaking of the Golden Rule, I see by the papers where one of them fellers from the Internal Revenue Service was telling a sub-committee of the Congress the other day they was trying to get form 1040 so simple a taxpayer could fill it out in 30 minutes. This feller's heart might be in the right place but his head has got stuck in a crack. Ed Doolittle says it takes him a hour to find his old lady's Social Security Card.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Thursday, April 27, 1957—Five Girl Scouts of Troop 77 have contributed many hours of work as a community service project in assisting the librarian at McKune Memorial Library during the 1956-57 school year. Although the work at the library was not a requirement, all five girls have earned First Class Awards in Girl Scouting this year. The five girls are Diane Worden, Kathy Sutter, Cindy Schumm, Carol Haffey and Sandy Erstein.

Mrs. Theodore Bahnmiller was the surprised guest of honor at the Mother-Daughter banquet held last night at the Methodist church. She was selected for the honor because of her 50 years of service as the church's cradle roll superintendent. Mrs. Bahnmiller was revealed as the honor guest during the program, entitled "The Face in the Mirror," which told her life story. Notes and telegrams were read from family members and friends and a scroll was presented her from the church.

An early morning explosion in the boiler room at Chelsea High school tore off the entire front of the big heating boiler, shattered the windows at the east and south sides of the boiler room, which is a separate building at the west end of the high school property, and bulged out floor-to-ceiling steel window frames on the south sides of the fireproof frames. In spite of the damage to the gas-fired furnace, it continued to operate. The mishap was discovered when H. T. Moore, chief custodian at the high school, arrived at 7 a.m. An auxiliary boiler beside the damaged one, was put into use and the heating system continued to function without interruption. Students attended classes as usual.

Salaries were upgraded in several posts to meet the demands of individuals who were sought to fill the jobs.

The question of whether this bigger government will also produce better government still remains to be seen. Estimated cost to date is nearly $1.5 million over and above what was appropriated last year for 1955-56 fiscal year legislative operations.

4 Stars for Gen. Beach

His duties as Eighth Army chief of staff.
Prior to World War II he served with various horse-drawn field artillery units.
Shortly after Pearl Harbor and the beginning of World War II, General Beach was transferred to the Southwest Pacific where he organized and commanded the 187th Field Artillery Battalion horse pack and later tractor unit. After converting to tractor, his unit in the 41st Infantry Division participated in campaigns in the Southwest Pacific area from Australia through New Guinea to the Philippines and Japan. In the Philippines he became Executive Officer of the 24th Division Artillery. General Beach participated in four amphibious assaults at Aitape, Maffin Bay, Wakde and Palawan and in the follow-up phase of amphibious operations in Biak and Zamboango. He also participated in overland operations at Davao.
Following Korea, General Beach was assigned to the United States Continental Army Command as the Director of the Office, Special Weapons Development. He was then assigned to the Department of the Army in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Military Operations as the Director of Guided Missiles. In January 1959, during General Beach's tour as Director of Guided Missiles, the United States Army placed the first free world satellite (Explorer I) in orbit, and in May 1958 accomplished the first missile intercept of very low altitude aircraft.
General Beach commanded the 82d Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, N.C. from June 1959 to April 1961. In May 1961 he returned to the Pentagon as the Deputy Chief of Research and Development. He was designated Commanding General, United States Army Combat Development Command, on Aug. 20, 1963.
During his service, Gen. Beach has been both a student and an instructor at the United States Military Academy, the Field Artillery School, the Command and General Staff College and the Army War College. He has also attended the Amphibious Training School, the Armed Forces Staff College, and the Infantry School Airborne Course.
General Beach is married to the former Florence Clem of San Antonio, Tex. They have five children, Mrs. Donald Jackle (Ann), Lt. Dwight E. Beach, Jr., who graduated in 1958 from the U. S. Military Academy, Mrs. Richard Guthrie (Cynthia) and Lillian and Florence Beach.
General Beach is a native of Chelsea. His parents were the late Dr. Edward and Agnes Amanda Beach. His brother, David A. Beach, who is employed at an Ann Arbor bank, lives at 237 Jefferson St., Chelsea.
Another brother, Kenneth O. Beach, lost his life during World War II while serving in the South Pacific.
General Beach graduated from Chelsea High school, attended the University of Michigan from 1920 until 1928, and graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1932. During his more than 30 years as an officer in the U. S. military service, he has received many citations, decorations and awards. Among these are the Silver Star, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal, Air Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster and many others.

May Fellowship Day Slated By United Church Women

United Church women of Chelsea area will participate in the nation-wide observance of May Fellowship Day on May 7 at 1 p.m. at the Salem Grove Methodist Church.
"People, Poverty, Plenty" is the response of United Church Women to the call of the National Council of Churches for "concerted action by the churches in support of public and private measures on local, state, and national levels, directed toward the elimination of poverty."
"The twin facts of massive poverty in the midst of affluence and national resources for the first time in history sufficient to eliminate poverty, make the continuance of poverty in this country ethically intolerable to thoughtful people," says the president of United Church Women of Chelsea, Mrs. Ben Donaldson.
May Fellowship Day is a focal point in a two-year major emphasis on the assault on poverty. Efforts this year are directed toward discovering the extent and nature of poverty both in the country generally and especially in the local community. The fact and action guide, "One-fifth of the Nation," by Elma Greenwood, is being widely used by small groups of church women meeting on an interdenominational, inter-sect basis in preparation for the observance. The observance in many cities will include a first-hand report by a council committee on "Poverty in Our Community." The second year's emphasis will be upon action of the local community, preferably with other community groups, to eliminate poverty.
To see what one does not want to see, to see what one does not understand, to understand when one does see, comes as a challenge at a time of unprecedented opportunity. United Church Women is entering a period of closer unity with the National Council of Churches, which offers greater resources and wider channels of service. United Church Women are seeing more clearly how interwork are connected with the political and economic life at home and abroad. Moral consciousness and economic possibility now converge to launch our nation into a "War on Poverty." The Economic Opportunity Act presents possibilities for community action by citizens who have come to a new understanding of those conditions that trap persons in the never-ending poverty cycle.
Mrs. Stevens Rice of Ann Arbor, who is a member of the Ann Arbor City Committee for Equal Opportunity, will act as a resource person. Mrs. Raymond Schairer will moderate a panel made up of Mrs. Judson Gohm, Mrs. Harold Powers, Mrs. Walter Wolfgang, and Mrs. Ben Donaldson. Mrs. Henry Karner is chairman this year. Her committee is made up of panel members and Mrs. Leslie Eisenbeiser and Mrs. Leon Sanderson. Mrs. Rice is also a member of the County Board of Supervisors, Ann Arbor Youth Commission, the Washtenaw County Welfare Committee, and the Probate Court Committee.
A nursery will be provided for small children during the program. Host church women will serve a light following the program and dismissal time is planned for 3 p.m.

May 20 Deadline Set for Compliance In Wheat Program

Washtenaw county is one of 25 counties in Michigan that will be using a new method for determining compliance with farm programs. This method involves taking the farmers' certification on the 1965 Wheat Diversion and Food Grain programs instead of making farm visits to measure the acreages. In compliance by certification, the participating farmer will simply report to the county office the number of acres he has planted and or diverted under each program. Lyndon, Dexter and Augusta were scheduled for April 28, Webster, Northfield and Ann Arbor today, and Salem, Sylvan and Lima tomorrow, April 30.
Scio, Superior and Sharon township farmers may go to the office on May 3, Freedom, Lodi and Pittsfield on May 4, and other non-local townships are scheduled for May 5 and May 6.
Producers who have signed to participate in the Wheat Diversion program only their acreage, May 20, 1965 to certify their acreage. Those participating in the Food Grain program only have until July 12 to certify their acreage.
Producers participating in both the Wheat and Food Grain programs have until May 20 to report their wheat acreage, but have until July 12 to report their diverted acreages for both programs and planted feed grains.
Each Community Committeeman will be furnished a list of all participants who have not reported to the county office their acreage. The community committeeman should then contact the producer personally or by phone and remind him that he has only one week to report his acreage. If the producer does not report within the limits set, he will be considered to be out of compliance and ineligible for program benefits, unless failing to file a timely report was due to reasons beyond the operator's control.
The Community Committeemen will be asked to come to the county office to indicate the farms to be spot checked, this is to be 25 percent of all farms signed in both programs. Also to be included in the spot checks are the farms of all ASCS Committeemen and employees.
In cleaning up debris on your lands this spring, make sure your burning site is a safe distance from buildings. If possible, use an incinerator. Otherwise, dig a fire line around your burning area and stand by with a shovel and water can to be combat-ready in case things get out of hand.

ple in theory. Holes are drilled into the rock, explosives are set and the rock is blasted away. The copper ore is then dumped down through shafts to the base level where it goes into a primary crusher. From this base level it is then transported to the surface for refining.

We spent a week in the copper country visiting mines and chatting with various people about mining. Actually we were offered a job at one of the mines but we felt that the money wasn't good enough to warrant our staying.

Time was beginning to catch up and we were off again this time to the south-east corner of Zambia and the Kariba Dam on the famous Zambezi river.

Our first view of the dam was a fantastic and awesome sight. We had a clear view of the dam and could see water pouring out of its gates, falling gracefully down hundreds of yards and exploding into a roar of mist and torrent. This dam holds back the water of the world's largest man-made lake, Lake Kariba.

Our evening was spent with the headmaster of Kariba high school. He explained how the dam was built and told us some interesting happenings during its construction. The next morning we had a closer look at the dam and the surrounding area.

Around noon we headed off to the opposite end of the country and Livingstone Falls. Five miles from the falls mist could be seen rising from the base where 75 million gallons of water were flowing every minute. The hour of day arrived and darkness was creeping upon us but still we had to see the Falls.

Our first view that evening was of the eastern cataract. As we stepped close to the falls, the noise increased so much that I couldn't hear Pat when he spoke to me. We were both so amazed at the sight that we sat down in the rain forest and enjoyed the falls in their natural beauty just as they were when David Livingstone found them.

With no place to stay we went, once again, to the local high school where the headmaster arranged for us to stay in the dispensary. The next day we traveled through the rain forest on our cycles. The mist from the falls was so heavy that we were forced to wear our rain jackets.

After two days at the Falls we headed on for Salisbury via Bulawayo. Bulawayo is the second largest city of Southern Rhodesia. Mining is its source of livelihood. Among some of the minerals mined are gold, tin, coal, asbestos and emeralds.

Dear Editor:

Last week in The Chelsea Standard the front page contained an article regarding a child who has been hurt, this indeed was a sad thing.

Spring comes and with it children eager to run, play and sometimes in their eagerness they forget the rules set up for them by their parents to protect them from harm. Also with spring comes the abundance of cars, motorcycles, cars and motorcycles, etc., containing people who too, are eager to share in the warmth of spring and in their own eagerness forget rules made for them, by laws to protect themselves, people's property and human lives.

Last Thursday an incident on Taylor St. brought this to mind, children happily at play and a young man with a motorcycle. Fortunately nothing came of this combination but it so easily could have. The young man on the motorcycle raced up and down the street and when he came to the dead end, raced around, brought the front wheel of his "bike" up off the street as far as it could go, nearly falling off and raced back down the street. A citizen called to him when he once again came up the street, this time going up the bank at the dead end, which is kept mowed and neat, and still to no avail.

The Chelsea police were called and asked to check the street, not only to protect property but children and yes, perhaps the young man on the motorcycle himself. This was not done at least for one hour and a half, and in checking we found the police car at the home of the officer on duty at that time. Thank goodness nothing bad came of this situation but if a child had been hit then what?

May I plead to all children, young people and adults please be careful with your enthusiasm for spring so that it will not become the spring of a great tragedy in your life.

Chelsea Citizen.

Dear Editor:

Long overdue, the new Junior High School finally will be built. By acting with dispatch, the Board of Education can have this first new building started this summer and in use by the fall of 1966. The high school and elementary additions could then be ready for occupancy by the following year. First, of course, voter approval must be obtained in a June or July election. This approval is anticipated due to the interest shown in the new building program.

It's time to get on with the business at hand. There's been an extra $3,500 returned to the building and site fund from a bleacher suit, for example. This would make at least a token down payment on a site for the new Junior High. Such action would require consideration and preparation, of course.

Don't misunderstand. This is not an advocacy of haste. But it is a suggestion of our need for action, without needless delay. That's the only way the new school building may be occupied a year from this fall.

The problem of buildings must be solved as soon as possible. For the school districts, policymakers have more important things to do. After all, it's what you do inside those buildings that counts the most.

If our schools can get the obvious things, such as buildings, out of the way first, perhaps there will be more time to solve the difficult problems, such as education.

Respectfully,
Edward E. Lewis

Just A Minute...

By the Rev. James A. Craig

"Wars and rumors of war." That's the way it's been and how it shall be. We are involved in war because it's an inescapable fact of the Bible. We can quote scripture and feel good.

The text was written after Roman legions destroyed Jerusalem and flattened the Temple. The author was trying to illustrate that no matter what men may do, the rule of God will be supreme.

We have slight conviction about God's rule in history, but much about our waging war. In some way we count God as on our side. In this text, however, the wagers of war are the enemies of God. There is little comfort we can get from that.

God's rule will be supreme. That message of Century One is true also in Century Twenty. And, try as we might, to find holy sanction for war, the Bible offers little help.

Our wars are our own. We can't blame anyone else. God's "no" to the might of Rome is His "no" to us. But we, shouting "peace," while firing missiles, hear only a distant rumble and think it nothing but another battle. Perhaps it is—but one only beginning.

Today Troop 47 showed their badges. Mrs. Slocum and Mrs. Leach signed our books. We had the collector badge, den pal, pet home and health and safety badge. Patty Eisele brought treats. We talked about going to camp and the court of awards.

"Why are Chryslers
so popular

"DRIVE ONE!"

You'll discover a Chrysler adds up to solid value the smaller cars can't match. Its 124-inch wheelbase gives you the extra heft you need for a big-car ride. It's powered by a big 383 cu. in. V-8 that you'd pay extra for on the smaller cars. You'd think performance like this would cost a lot. But it doesn't. Nearly half our Chrysler models are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars, comparably equipped. Small difference to pay for a mighty big difference in your driving. No wonder it's the most popular Chrysler in history.

See us. We deliver.

The club's spring dinner, which concludes the year's meetings, will be held Tuesday, May 11, at 6:30 p.m., at a Jackson restaurant.

Episcopal Women Sunday School Teachers' Course

Episcopal Church Women of St. Barnabas church held their monthly meeting Thursday evening, April 22, at the church. The group's president, Mrs. Fred Meyer, opened the meeting with a devotion service.

On the agenda during the business session were plans for various projects. It was explained that a five-week Sunday school teachers' training course for all interested Chelsea area people will be held at St. Barnabas church Thursday mornings from 9:30 until 11 a.m., beginning May 6 and continuing through June 3. The Rev. Tom Cooper of Ann Arbor is to be the instructor.

The course will be of interest to "anyone who wishes to learn the joy of working with children," according to the announcement made at Thursday's meeting. There is no charge for the course. Babysitting will be provided.

Other plans announced were an ingathering of used books and comics (in good condition) for children to 12 years of age at U. of M. Children's Hospital; a rummage sale May 14 and 15 at Sylvan Town Hall; and an ice cream "festival" on the church lawn June 12 from 3 until 8 p.m.

The used books and comics for children should be brought to the church or donors may contact Mrs. Fred Meyer of Wilkinson St. Those who wish to contribute items for the rummage sale may contact Mrs. Robert L. Foster, Mrs. Fred Meyer or Mrs. Louis DeLoe, all of Wilkinson St. They will arrange for pick-up if necessary.

The ice cream "festival," to which the public will be invited is to be a departure from the former ice cream "social" sponsored by St. Barnabas church. To be served during the afternoon and early evening are ice cream, pie and cake and coffee and pop.

Mrs. Judson Goltra reminded members of the United Thank Offering ingathering at St. Barnabas, scheduled for Sunday, May 2. Mrs. Goltra, hostess for Thursday's meeting, served refreshments during the social hour following the business session.

Mrs. William Willard is to be the hostess for the next regular ECW meeting to be held at the church Thursday, May 27, at 7:45 p.m.

SUGAR COST

Strange as it may seem, the cost of sugar is less today than in George Washington's time. Then, a pound of sugar cost at least $2.75 while today a pound of sugar costs about 25 cents.

CAN FOR TRINKETS

Don't discard those empty coffee and shortening cans. They make ideal trinket cans for children's rooms when painted with bright, shiny enamel. They're also handy paint buckets. Clean can thoroughly before using or painting.

FOR BIG ROOM

You can make a large room seem smaller and more intimate by painting it in a deep shade. While warm colors are preferred, a cool wall color can achieve the same result if it is accented with warm colored accessories or furnishings.

Skateboard Hazards

Bring Sharp Warning From Health Dept.

Dr. Otto Engelke, Director of the Washtenaw County Health Department, warns that many fractures, sprains, and dislocations have resulted from skateboard accidents in the last few weeks. The Health Department is in the process of assessing the potential risk of the skateboarding fad. Preliminary investigation indicates that since April 1, the University Hospital Emergency Department has seen at least 15 fractures and sprains—particularly broken and sprained ankles. It was reported that most of these were injuries to college students—Statistics are not available from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at this time.

Saline Spoils CHS Baseball Team's Debut

Chelsea's baseball team opened their season with a home game Tuesday, April 27, after several canceled games due to weather conditions. The team lost to Saline by a score of 5-2. It looked as if they would chalk up their first victory of the season after taking a lead of 2 to 1 going into the seventh inning, but misfortune struck as Saline scored four times with four walks and three singles.

Saline opened the scoring in the third on a walk, a fielder's choice, fly-out and then a two-base error by Barry Visel. Chelsea scored their two runs in the sixth inning when Dennis White walked, went to third on a single by Gary Dresch and then scored on a single by Barry Visel. Oren Wireman then singled for his third hit, allowing Gary Dresch to score.

WINDOW SHADES

Window shades in so-called neutral colors may not be neutral at all. Home economists point out that white, beige and gray are derived from red, blue or yellow—the primary colors. Homemakers who want a blended color scheme are advised to take a piece of decorating material to the store and match it with the "neutral" shades.

SAVE ROOM

If there's no more room in your vegetable crisper, buy poly-packed produce. It doesn't need the added protection of a crisper to stay fresh. But be sure the plastic bag or wrapper is ventilated before storing the produce in the refrigerator.

You can't fill a barrel beyond its shortest stave. Likewise, you can't reap from your farm a yield greater than can be produced by the one plant food in shortest supply.

The 16 staves in this barrel represent 16 essential elements scientists know are necessary for plant growth. A deficiency of any one plant food will limit yields long before the deficiency is severe enough to be observed in your field. Could a deficiency of any one of the 16 plant foods be limiting your yields?

Give your crops all the plant food they need for abundant growth. Use PELLEFORM with TREL. Clean, green pellets of uniform size have maximum water solubility. TREL, Smith-Douglass' exclusive formula of trace elements, is added.

There's a grade of PELLEFORM with TREL for every crop and soil.

Safety Patrol Youth Chosen For Washington Award Trip

Thirteen-year-old Michael Schnaidt, of 650 Island Lake Rd., will represent 95 Chelsea-area safety patrolers at the AAA National Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D.C., May 6-9.

Michael, a patroler at St. Mary school, will be the guest of Automobile Club of Michigan during its annual all-expense-paid trip to the nation's capital.

He is captain of St. Mary's patrol group and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Schnaidt.

His selection as one of the Michigan group followed his nomination for the honor by a representative of Automobile Club of Michigan who was invited to speak at the first meeting of the patrolers at St. Mary's school last fall.

Sister Ann Sepaphim had mentioned at that time that she believed no representative of St. Mary's school had ever been selected to attend the national event.

He will be among 130 Michigan patrolers representing 65,000 fellow patrolers at more than 2,600 schools. Each patroler has spent about 180 hours at street corners protecting classmates during the past year.

Michigan youths will join 25,000 patrolers from 20 other states and the District of Columbia upon arrival in Washington May 7. They will march in a five-hour morning parade down Constitution Ave., annually the longest parade in Washington.

The parade pays tribute to the safety efforts of the nation's 850,000 patrol members. Seventy-five bands and 80 floats will be featured. Automobile Club of Michigan's patrolers will carry "Bring 'em Back Alive!" banners—a safety slogan familiar to this state's motorists and pedestrians for the past four years.

Patrolers from 105 Michigan communities chosen to make the trip will converge on Detroit by bus May 6 from Muskegon, Kalamazoo and Saginaw. The three buses from these points will join a Detroit bus at the Veterans Memorial Building that afternoon in a Greyhound caravan to Washington.

They will spend May 7 and 8 seeing the sights of Washington and will be returned to their homes by Sunday, May 9.

As a highlight of this year's trip, two Three Rivers youths will receive the AAA Gold Lifesaver medal. Recipients are Donald Brunner, 12, and John Abel, 13, both of Barrows school. Altogether, 13 youngsters from across the nation will receive the gold medal for actually saving a fellow student's life.

Since the national patrol program was launched in 1932, the traffic-death rate of children between five and 14 years of age has been cut in half. The death rate of other age groups has nearly doubled.

"In 1932 there were 325 children killed in Michigan traffic. Last year the total was 97," says Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club's director of safety and traffic. "The diligent effort of safety patrolers has undoubtedly played a major role in this reduction," he added.

Brownies...

TROOP 247—Brownie Troop 247 spent March in preparing for the Father-Daughter meeting, making flags from "Girl Scout" countries and then in making our "Beaver-Bags" for our plates and cups to be used in our cook-outs.

We were able to take advantage of nice weather in April and so were able to do our knife practice in Pierce Park. Mrs. Glenn Allen of Garvey Rd. invited us out to her home Saturday, April 10 and we were able to hike, cook hot-dogs and get in some "whittling." During spring vacation, we spent a day at Portage Lake and hiked and made "Sonnemores." We also made some interesting things from plastic bottles.

As a service project for our sponsor, we washed windows in the room that the Congregational church lets us use.

Our 11 "fly-ups" are working hard on their laws and promise so that they may become Juniors next fall.

State Parks To Receive Books For Summer Use

The State Library has begun shipment of 9,500 books to 50 state parks and recreation areas in Michigan for use in camp libraries this summer, according to Genevieve M. Casey, state librarian.

The popular summer program, now in its 17th year, is sponsored jointly by the State Library and the Conservation Department.

Available in the park manager's office, the collections are keyed to the reading interests of all age groups and include many books about the outdoors and Michigan history.

The Sugar Loaf Lake park manager's office, now under construction will receive approximately 350 books—100 for adults and 250 for juvenile readers. An open house will be held at the Sugar Loaf Lake office prior to its official opening next month.

Portage Lake state park has taken advantage of the library service for several years.

Offering book service for the first time are Mears state park at Pentwater and Porcupine Mountains state park at Ontonagon.

Library Concludes Season's Story Hours for Children

The final morning story hour for the current season for pre-school children was held yesterday morning (Wednesday) at McKune Memorial Library.

The morning story hours, with Mrs. Russell Bernath as "story lady," were begun on an experimental basis Nov. 9. The project proved so popular that it was continued each Wednesday with the concluding session held yesterday.

Total attendance for the six months is listed as 498 children. Mrs. Bernath acted in the capacity of "story lady" as a public service.

4-H Clubs

MERRY MAIDS

Officers of Merry Maids 4-H club for the summer sessions are Janet Boylan, president; Terri Blacklaw, vice-president; Martha Ewald, treasurer; and Barbara Boylan, secretary.

Plans were completed for work to be done at the summer meetings.

Refreshments were served by the club's leader, Mrs. Daniel Ewald, at whose home the organization meeting was held Wednesday of last week.

VFW Auxiliary Presents Flags to Many Area Groups

An American Flag that is flying high, waving the Stars and Stripes in nature's windy skies can bring many a lump to the throats of the American people.

The Veteran of Foreign Wars (VFW) Auxiliary has a patriotic duty to our country. It has as one of their many projects, the purchasing of our American flags, and donating them to any civic, church, schools or public meeting place that are in need of one. One of the main objectives is to make the pledge to our Nation's flag meaningful.

Over the past few years Chelsea Auxiliary No. 4076 has purchased and presented the following local places and people the American flag as part of their community projects: the new Chelsea Fire Department hall; St. Louis School for Boys auditorium; Methodist church; Education Unit; Knights of Columbus meeting hall; Chelsea High school gym; 24 class room size flag to the public and Catholic school; 18 Girl Scout and Boy Scout groups and the Howlett Nursery school.

Memorial day is coming soon. Our nation's President proclaimed May 1, as Loyalty Day. Can we see the residents of Chelsea show their patriotism by displaying their flags that day or any day the weather permits? To fly our National Emblem in tribute for all our departed servicemen, who gave their all to preserve this right, to make this a better place for all who remain behind. April 25 at the church service held at the Waterloo EUB church Mrs. Ray Franklin, president; Mrs. Ken Platt, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Klink, chaplain; and Mrs. Mac Packard, Americanism chairman, presented the Rev. Silvernail a large flag to be used in the Sunday school building. Others are to be presented soon to the fourth and fifth grades at South School, and troop flag to Mrs. Robert J. Girl Scouts.
