WASHINGTON

As one of the World War II veterans who benefited from the United States G.I. Bill, I am personally aware of the value of this kind of legislation. My own professional career was aided by the education benefits available under the legislation. I personally doubt whether I could have achieved a doctoral degree without the initial boost of G.I. Bill benefits.

Today, we are reminded daily of the sacrifices which our service men are making in Vietnam. I support the provisions of educational and other benefits for these men, comparable to those provided earlier for our other veterans. Moreover, I believe that it would be wise, as well as beneficial, to provide educational benefits for all veterans, whose education was interrupted by military service, including service in a war theatre.

Past experience has shown that the benefits to the nation as a whole far outweigh the small cost of providing G.I. Bill allowances to veterans. A good case could be made that the entire cost of the program is made up by the increased earnings power of veterans who receive training under G.I. Bill legislation. Similar legislation was enacted to benefit the veterans of the Korean conflict.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Judge Not
Predictions were made almost before the 1953 state constitution was adopted that changes would be required in several sections, including one regarding judicial vacancies.

Now, less than two years after the new basic document took effect, one of the most influential provisions of that constitution is calling for a change in this area.

A six-month period recently turned up nearly 400 temporarily disabled persons, two permanent disabilities and two deaths of on-the-job state employees. Michigan has 32,500 civil service workers.

The commission set its training division to work on ways to cut down this high accident rate.

More Tax Income
Michigan's Revenue Department boasts it is doing its job in a unique way.

While most state agency operating costs go up in some proportion to the services rendered, the Revenue Department says it is spending less to bring in more money.

During the last fiscal year, Commissioner Clarence W. Lock said his department cut its costs to 50 cents per $100 in tax collections.

"Smaller" Job
Auditor General of Michigan as part of the executive branch will be just a memory when the new state government reorganization plan takes full effect.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:
DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
The fellows at the country store Saturday night was in a complaining mood and, general speaking, didn't have a good word for nothing or nobody.

First, off, Ed Doolittle, that is still wearing his Goldwater button, reported he had saw in the papers where they was going to remodel the west front of the Capitol in Washington.

According to this piece, said Ed, the Capitol architect claimed the west front was getting in such bad shape the vibrations from jet planes was liable to start it tumbling down.

It was a strange thing, allowed Ed, that the White House and the Capitol was always tumbling down under a Democratic administration.

He said he could recollect when Franklin Roosevelt remodelled the east front of the Capitol at a cost of several million dollars, then Harry Truman come along and had to have a front porch on the White House for another few million, and now Lyndon has got to patch up the other front of the Capitol for some more millions.

Ed claimed he spent 8 years in Washington and never spent a dime for repairs.

Personal, Mister Editor, I don't know if Ike was letting things go to pot around the house or Harry and Lyndon was working on the "Make America Beautiful" program, so I didn't say nothing.

Zeke Grubb reported he had saw a ad in a magazine for a new book called "Teach Your Wife to Be a Widow." It was wrote by some fellow that is a expert in family money matters and the ad said, on account of wives general out-throw their husbands by several years, over husbands ought to teach his old lady how to carry on.

Zeke allowed as how he was getting mighty tired of this "drop dead" attitude towards old men

The better part of his present responsibilities are being transferred into the treasury department. Another segment has already been assumed by the legislative auditor general. Still other portions will be taken over by other departments.

The treasurer's office will take the important duties relating to property taxation, county auditing and plat act administration.

Under the old constitution, the Auditor General was an elected official with three primary functions: auditing state agencies, auditing county governments, and administering certain land and tax laws.

In the latter category he examined subdivision plats of towns, cities and villages; and filed petitions for delinquent tax land sales in each county. He also supervised the audit of Michigan's race track pari-mutuel operations.

He served on the State Administrative Board, Municipal Finance Commission, State Police Pension Board of Review, Corporation Tax Appeal Board, and the State Employees, Judges' and Probate Judges' Retirement Boards.

Most likely, a division within the new treasury department will be created to fulfill the main functions of the now defunct Auditor General but it is unknown whether this title will remain in use.

Nearly everybody thinks of sin in terms of what other people are doing.

Looking for a place to roast spareribs? Try apple jam mixed with orange juice and a dash of ground ginger. This is sweet and tends to be easily placed on the ribs and about 20 minutes before they are finished baking.

Sweet potatoes can be baked just like white potatoes. Serve with butter, salt and pepper. The foil jackets in which they have been baked.

Zucchini and yellow squash can both be cut in chunks and serve together after boiling. If desired, add some onion and plentio for color and flavor.

When your menu plans call for fish, why not skewer some shrimp and scallops, brush with melted butter to which dill weed has been added and broil them for support?

Helen's Favorites:
Corn Oysters (Makes 24)
2 cup canned, cream-style corn
3/4 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
2 eggs, slightly beaten
Fat for frying
Mix and cook dry ingredients. Add eggs and corn. Heat fat in a large heavy skillet for 3 minutes. Drop corn mixture by teaspoons into hot fat and fry until golden brown on both sides. Serve hot as a meat accompaniment.

All persons will be admitted free to the Michigan State Fair until 6 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 29. The day of the Summer Service Fair runs from Aug. 27 through Sept. 6.

CHELSEA VILLAGE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

July 20, 1965
Council Room

Regular Session.
This meeting was called to order by Pres. Haselschwardt at 8:00 p.m. Trustees present: Bollinger, Chapman, Crouch, Schauble, and Weber. The minutes of the July 6, 1965, meeting were read and approved.

A discussion was held with Mr. Dreuge, representing the Village Tavern, regarding the location of the property immediately adjacent to their west property line.

Pres. Haselschwardt informed Mr. Dreuge that a committee would be appointed to investigate the matter, and would contact him in the near future.

Mr. Robert Daniels, representing the Industrial Development Commission, spoke to the Council regarding the possible need for a zoning "use district" within the Village, namely "Light Industrial" to accommodate certain types of industry in areas not particularly suited to heavy industry.

Mr. William Wood, representing United Dynamics Company, discussed with the Council the possibility of a desire to locate an electronics assembly plant in the present "Highway Service District."

Motion by Chapman, supported by Bollinger, that Applied Dynamics Company be permitted to use the premises described as the Chelsea Service Company, located at 3231 Chelsea-Manchester Road for the manufacture and/or assembly of electronic computers for a period of one year. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A request was entered by Mr. Joseph Eschbach of 614 Garfield for a variance to build a garage on his property to within 10 feet of his south property line. A letter stating no objection to the proposed variance was submitted by the adjacent property owner.

Motion by Bollinger, supported by Schauble, to pay the Village share of the Chelsea Recreation Program in the amount of $1,000.00. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Weber, supported by Chapman, to authorize and direct the clerk to issue checks in payment of bills as submitted. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Bollinger, supported by Crouch, to adjourn the meeting. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Meeting adjourned.
Approved: Aug. 17, 1965.
Howard Haselschwardt, President.
George Winans, Clerk.

ling, Burg, Chapman, Crouch, Schauble and Weber. The minutes of the July 20, 1965, Regular Session were read and approved.

A discussion was held with Mr. Lacy and Mr. Morrison of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company regarding a proposed ordinance to regulate the utility companies doing business within the Village. Several proposals for changes in the ordinance were submitted. Trustees Burg and Schauble were instructed to meet with the Village Attorney, John Keusch, for further study of the ordinance.

Motion by Chapman, supported by Bollinger, to appoint Mr. William Chandler as an alternate representative for the Village of Chelsea on the Huron River Watershed Council. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A discussion was held with Mr. Robert Wagner representing Dana Corp. regarding tentative plans for the possible expansion of their manufacturing facilities. No official action was taken at this time.

A discussion was held with Mr. Mitchell Pickelsheimer regarding the possibility of relocating the fire siren, presently located on Van Buren St. A committee and Homer Nixon were instructed to investigate.

Complaints have been received by the Police Dept. regarding speeding near the High School ball field. Police Chief John Palmer was instructed to investigate.

Reports have been received that cars have been parking on the grass and play areas at Plover Park. Signs have been ordered and will be posted for several "No Parking" areas and notice of available parking immediately across the street from the park.

Motion by Bollinger, supported by Weber, to hire Mr. Price Carpenter as a full-time Public Works Dept. employee effective July 15, 1965. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

RESOLUTION
BE IT RESOLVED AND IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED, that the Village of Chelsea hereby make application to the Michigan State Highway Dept. for placing a banner above M-52 between E. Middle St. and Park St. stating "Chelsea Community Fair Sept. 1-2-3-4-5". Said banner to be placed on August 20, 1965 and removed on Sept. 10, 1965.

The Village of Chelsea agrees to save harmless the Michigan State Highway Department and the Michigan State Highway Comm. against any and all claims for damages arising from operations covered by this permit.

Motion by Crouch, supported by Bollinger, to approve the above Resolution as read. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Homer Nixon reported that as an item of interest, the Village consumed just under 1,000,000 gallons of water on Friday, July 23, 1965. This is the most water ever used on any one day. Mr. Nixon also reported that this amount of water was slightly less than one half of the capacity of the village water supply.

Motion by Schauble, supported by Chapman, to authorize and direct the clerk to issue checks in payment of bills as submitted. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Burg supported by Chapman to adjourn the meeting. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Meeting adjourned.
Approved: Aug. 17, 1965.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I have been told there are pitfalls in buying the most active stocks on the market. Why would this be?

A. People who buy stocks fall into two broad categories—short-term traders and long-term investors.

A successful short-term trader is one who is so well-versed in the market that he can analyze what is causing the activity and thus deduce whether the market is likely to go up or he can sell at a profit. He might find special advantage in buying stocks in which there is a lot of buying and selling activity. But this takes a high degree of knowledge of the market.

On the other hand, a long-term investor—said that includes most of us—should think of stocks in exactly the same terms he would of any other merchandise. And bearing this in mind, you will find that popular merchandise—whether dresses, cars, or stocks—will demand the long price.

Consider cars for moment: When Ford's Mustang was introduced, it was practically impossible to get a "bargain," or a special price, on it. The reason for this was that the Mustang was new, it was different. People were ordering new Mustangs faster than they could be built. Thus there was no need for dealers to offer special prices. At the same time, other cars just as good were likely selling at a lower price. This is where the bargains lay.

In precisely the same manner, you frequently will find that the most active stocks—the ones getting the publicity at the moment—will settle back on a par with others when the spotlight of popular attention swings in another direction. Your "better bargains" are likely to be in good-grade companies not in the limelight at the moment.

I will say that sometimes there is an occasional stock that is very active because the long-term value has been recognized and the future increase in value seems assured. But I urge you to make sure of this before you buy.

Q. What is the difference between a broker and an investment counselor?

A. Briefly, a broker's function is to give you investment advice, impart special information or knowledge about stocks in which you might be interested and to advise you about planning your complete investment program.

Many brokerage firms have investment counselors on their staffs who are able to advise their customers or to pass information along to customers through the individual brokers also on the firm's staff.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Dianne Stagner, Eric Dunkel

Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church at Ann Arbor was the setting for the marriage ceremony uniting Dianne Elaine Stagner and Eric Dunkel. The candlelight ceremony took place at 7:30 p.m. Saturday with the Rev. Richard Preiss officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stagner of 1220 Crosby Crescent, Ann Arbor. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Roy Chance of 539 Sixth St., where he made his home, and Marion C. Dunkel of Monrovia, Calif. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Dunkel of 323 S. Main St., Chelsea. His mother is the former Muriel Martin, formerly of Chelsea, and a niece of Mrs. John Warren and Norma Schiller.

Soloist for the ceremony was Peter Johnson of Ann Arbor, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O, Perfect Love."

Before the ceremony Steven Jewell of Ann Arbor, played the trumpet solo, "Sonata in C Major."

The bride entered the sanctuary in a floor-length gown of cloud white silk organza. The bodice, with a scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves, was trimmed with appliques of imported chintilly lace. The controlled bell-shaped skirt featured a wide border of matching lace at the hemline and a Watteau train in court length extending from an organza Dior bow. Appliques of lace were also used on the train. Her bouffant elbow-length veil of silk illusion was held in place with a silk-organza Dior bow, centered with a small fabric rose. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white gladiolus and white roses center with a corsage of the white roses.

Mrs. Thomas Hutchins of Ann Arbor was matron of honor and the bridesmaids, all of Ann Arbor, also wore Mrs. Daniel Stagner, the bride's sister-in-law, and Mrs. Leonard Schwartz, Jackie Schneider and Mary Lou West.

All five attendants wore floor-length gowns of aqua linen with scoop necklines, short sleeves and sheer-sleeve skirts. Their hairpieces were bows of imported matching lace, roses and ribbons.

Carried French colonial bouquets. Karen Dianne Gilmore of Monrovia, Pa., a cousin of the bride, wore a flower girl, wearing for the occasion a floor-length gown of white dotted Swiss material over aqua. She carried a basket of flowers matching the other attendants' colonial bouquets.

Daniel E. Stagner, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers included George Napier, Allen Pitzemaier, Robert Peters and Thomas Hutchins, all of Ann Arbor.

At the reception which followed at the VFW Home at Ann Arbor, those who assisted included Mrs. Howard Peters who poured punch; Mrs. William Stagner of Southgate, who mixed coffee; Wanda DeSautel who cut the wedding cake; and Mrs. George Jones who was in charge of the guest book.

Others who assisted are Mrs. Pauline DeSautel and Mrs. Luther Stagner. Following a short wedding trip the couple will reside in Ann Arbor.

Both the bride and bridegroom graduated from Ann Arbor High school and attended Eastern Michigan University. The bride is now employed at King-Seelye-Thornos Co., Ann Arbor, and the bridegroom is employed at Bahr Machine Tool Co., also at Ann Arbor.

Methodist Home Matron Reports on Trip to Europe

Tuesday evening, Aug. 17, Mrs. Byron Hahn reported on her recent trip to England, Switzerland and Paris. The Main Lounge at the Methodist Home was well filled with members and friends of Mrs. Hahn, who has been a matron at the Home for some time.

Leaving the Detroit Airport July 26, she arrived in London the following day where she was met by her son, Philip Hahn. With careful planning, they were able to visit many famous places, including the Tower of London, seeing some of the seven traditional ravens; much was too gruesome to enjoy. But after waiting in line for a long time, she was rewarded by seeing the Crown Jewels. A journey to Windsor and the castle followed the next day. Saturday, July 31, was a high point in the trip. She journeyed by train to Coventry, where that evening Philip Hahn gave a concert on the organ in that famous Cathedral.

Philip Hahn was selected to play in the National Competition for Organists, playing at St. Albans Abbey in England. Out of 40 finalists, Hahn placed fourth. He played concerts later in Copenhagen, Hamburg, as well as in the Coventry Cathedral. Hahn remains in Europe for three more concerts. He is College Organist and Professor of Music of the Iowa State College, at Cedar Falls. A tour of the Cathedral was most inspirational to see the restoration of the infamous bombing of World War II.

Sunday, Aug. 1, they both flew to Zurich, Switzerland. A thrilling trip on a cable car took them up Mt. Pilatus, where the views in all directions were breathtaking. Geneva pleased Mrs. Hahn as much as any other city visited. The flowers, beautiful buildings, cleanliness and its historical importance added to its charm. From her hotel window she could watch the fountain rising 400 feet from Lake Geneva. They enjoyed a boat trip around this famous lake, seeing castles and many snow capped mountains. Lake Geneva is famous for its brilliant coloring.

Saturday, Aug. 7, they flew to Paris for a brief stop. They took a morning tour of modern Paris, seeing many cathedrals. Sunday, Mrs. Hahn flew back to the States. She has assembled a fine scrapbook of pictures which members at the Home may enjoy.

Mrs. Daniel D. Mayer

Diane Lee Hayes, Daniel Mayer Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

Diane Lee Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aldwyn Hayes, of 5600 Stoffer Rd., became the bride of Daniel Dwight Mayer, son of Mrs. Alfred Mayer of 737 S. Main St., and the late Mr. Mayer, at a candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist church Saturday.

The Rev. George Nevins performed the double-ring ceremony. Soloist was Miss Marilyn Pajot who sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Clare Warren served as organist.

The former Miss Hayes entered the church in a satin gown de sole gown of her own design featuring an empire waistline and chapel-length train. Embroidered appliques of rose-petalled Swiss lace trimmed the neckline, sleeves, and hem of the gown as well as the bride's mantilla. She carried two white princess roses in a bouquet of trailing ivy.

Attired in gowns also designed and fashioned by the bride were her five attendants. Audrey Hayes as her sister's maid of honor wore a deep rose floor-length gown with empire waistline and floating back panel. A matching satin rose trimmed with dewdrop pearls secured her circlet veil. Pink roses formed her old-fashioned bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Carol Cameron, Martha Disbro of Wayne, Lynne Garlock of Grand Ledge, and Holly Newell of Drummond. Their gowns, and headpieces, similar in design to that of the bride, were in medium and light shades of pink. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of white roses encircled by carnations to match their dresses.

Mrs. Hayes wore a beige lace sheath with matching jacket for her daughter's wedding. She chose garnet accessories and a corsage of garnet gladioli. Mrs. Mayer wore a plumbe silk dress, classic dress with a Christian Dior can of variegated velvet. Her corsage was of green cymbidium orchids.

Peter Flintoff served as best man. Groomsmen were Edward Lashon, James Grau, Stephen Sindling of Princeton, N.J., and James Johnson of Chicago, Ill., Ronald Haub and Roy Lange assisted in seating the guests.

A reception was held in the social center of the church immediately following the ceremony. Assisting at the reception were Miss Carolyn Miller who poured punch; Miss Pat Blaznek who served coffee, and a cousin, Mrs. Robert Raab of Mason. The wedding cake was baked for the occasion by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Lester Barth of Webberville.

Mrs. James Grau, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book. Miss Gayle Schnales.

Sandra J. Karner, George Mayer Exchange Vows at St. Paul's

The Rev. Warner Siebert officiated Friday evening at the 6 o'clock wedding ceremony uniting Sandra Jean Karner and George William Mayer. Approximately 150 relatives and close friends of the couple were present for the service at St. Paul's United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Harry Nelson of Dundee, an aunt of the bride, was the organist. She also played the accompaniment for the soloist, Lynette Lucas of Ann Arbor, who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Karner, 119 Cavanaugh Lake, and Carl Mayer, 235 W. Main St., and George Mayer, 235 W. Main St., and George Mayer, 235 W. Main St.

The bride's gown was an ivory organza with short sleeves, with detachable capelet. The detachable lace bodice had a small round neckline and a small round skirt.

The bride will be teaching at Roxley High school in Flint. They left after the reception for a 10-day trip in Canada.

The couple graduated from Chelsea High school, the bride continuing her education at Central Michigan University and Michigan State University. She is a member of Alpha Tau Sorority.

The bridegroom, a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, graduated from Central Michigan University.

Pre-nuptial parties in the bride's home were given by the Misses Sally Benedict and Lynette Lucas, and Mrs. William Howard, all of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Warren Daniels and Mrs. Lyle Haselwerdt of Cavanaugh Lake; Mrs. Edward Laut, brother-in-law of the bride, of Cavanaugh Lake; Mrs. Joseph Krenning and Mrs. Whitman Jones, both of Ann Arbor; and Mrs. Jack and Miss Carol Mayer of Chelsea.

Mrs. Geoffrey Fox entertained the bride and her honor attendants at a luncheon at her home at Cavanaugh Lake. Other guests at the reception were Mrs. Jack Carter, Mrs. Harold Karner of Dundee, and Mrs. Harry Nelson.

The bride's father, Mr. Henry Karner, and her mother, Mrs. Lyle Haselwerdt, were at a dinner, following the ceremony, at Weber's Supper Room.

Tour of West
Mrs. N. H. Miles and three children just returned from a trip to Tacoma, Wash., where they visited their son, John, who is now in the U. S. Army Security Unit at Fort Lewis, and his wife, Sue, who were celebrating their first anniversary.
Mrs. Miles, who is serving in the U. S. Army Security Unit at Fort Lewis, expects to be released from her tour of duty in the near future and to return to this area.
The family's week out West they enjoyed very much. They visited the world-famous Mt. Rainier, the God That Was, the Indian Village, and the spectacular views of the Cascade Range. The family also enjoyed the scenic beauty of the National Park, the splendor of the Grand Canyon, and the family found the trip very rewarding.

Mrs. Ronald F. Warren

Mary Ann Hanson Becomes Bride of Ronald Warren

Mary Ann Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hanson, 515 Howard Rd., and Ronald F. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Warren, 220 Congdon St., exchanged wedding vows Friday evening before the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John P. Bradley in St. Mary's Student Chapel, Ann Arbor. Approximately 200 guests were present for the ceremony and for the reception which followed in the Chelsea High school cafeteria area.
The bride's full-length wedding gown was of white tulle with a full skirt and a full-length train. The gown was accented with a large bow at the back. The fitted bodice had a scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The bodice was accented with seed pearls and the neckline and extended down the front of the gown. A wide band of identical lace formed a cummerbund effect at the waistline. Matching lace applique also was used on the plateau-style headpiece of organza petals which held her tulle veil of silk tulle. The bride's bouquet was a cascade arrangement of stephanotis, ivy and miniature carnations encircling a large white orchid with golden-colored thyme.
Pamela Morette of Fremont, was maid of honor. Her full-length gown was of pale yellow sheer nylon dotted Swiss material over yellow tulle. A wide satin cummerbund was finished at the back with a large bow and flowing sash. A scoop neckline and short sleeves were features of the fitted bodice. Her costume was completed with a circular yellow veil held in place with a circle of matching satin with bows at the back.
The bridesmaids, identically gowned, were Susanne Lofquist, Dorothy Brown and Carol Dancer of the Chelsea area, and Nancy Salchow of Detroit.
The maid of honor and the bridesmaids carried bouquets of large white daisies centered with yellow.
For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hanson wore pastel blue linen with re-embroidered detail accenting the waistline. Her accessories were in matching color.
The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of multi-shaded blue eyelet with a medium blue cummerbund. She chose white accessories.
Mrs. Hanson and Mrs. Warren

Club and Social Activities

BETA SIGMA PHI
Beta Sigma Phi ended its summer activities with a steak barbecue, Aug. 24, at the home of Wanda Snyder. An executive meeting followed during which plans for the coming year were discussed and committees chosen.
At a previous meeting an Exemplar Group formed including all members except those new members who have not belonged for the required four years. These new members reviewed Ritual of Jewels.
New officers for the combined group are: Janet Longworth, president; Ruth Beuerle, vice-president; Charlotte Bentley, secretary; Wanda Snyder, treasurer.
Opening the year will be a meeting on Sept. 14. Miss Bernice Blackmore will give a program on ceramics.
At this time, members will begin knitting mittens to be distributed to needy children through the Beta Sigma Phi convention at Jackson.

SENIOR CITIZENS CARD PARTY
The Senior Citizens regular card party was held Wednesday, Aug. 18. Thirty members were present. Mrs. Gladys Klump, Mrs. Alma Bannister and Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Lesser served refreshments.

JAYCEE AUXILIARY
Jaycee Auxiliary held its membership meeting, Aug. 17 at the J. C. Hall. Mrs. Robin Wright, Mrs. Elton Guenther and Mrs. George Ellenwood were co-hostesses.
Guests included Mrs. Richard Dussan, Mrs. Richard Irwin, Mrs. Ed. Akin, all J.C. wives. Mrs. Merle Louch was special guest speaker. As last year's Chelsea March of Dimes chairman she explained the procedure in which the March is carried out. This was a valuable meeting since the Auxiliary will handle the 1966 Chelsea March of Dimes.
On Aug. 21, the J. C. Auxiliary sponsored a Street Dance for Chelsea area teenagers, at the Public parking lot in Chelsea.
The next membership meeting will be held Sept. 21 at the home of Mrs. Daniel Marney. The meeting will be preceded by a progressive dinner.

Mrs. Toby S. Berk

Lynn Marie Lipphart, Toby Berk Wed Saturday in Ann Arbor

The marriage of Lynn Marie Lipphart, daughter of U. of M. Professor Alfred Lipphart, and Mrs. Lipphart, 101 Orchard St., Chelsea, and Toby Steven Berk of Ann Arbor, son of Mrs. Harry Berk and the late Mr. Berk, was solemnized Saturday evening at Beth Israel Congregation on Hill St. in Ann Arbor with Rabbi Harold S. White officiating at the candlelight ceremony.
The bride's gown was a silk sheath with a chapel length Watteau train edged with Swiss lace. Her bouffant veil was attached to a pearl headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.
The matron of honor, Mrs. Lee Bergman of Ann Arbor, and bridesmaids Janice Wood of Chelsea and Phyllis Alpern of Philadelphia, Pa., were gowned alike in coral color and their bouquets were matching coral colored roses.
Richard Bergman of Chicago, Ill., was best man and ushers were Ron Alice and Steven Loevy of Chicago, and Lee Bergman and George White of Ann Arbor.
A reception immediately followed the ceremony and at 9 o'clock guests were entertained at a buffet at the Grotto Club of Ann Arbor.
For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lipphart wore a gold silk sheath style dress with a lace top. Her corsage was a brown orchid.
The bridegroom's mother chose for the occasion a powder blue sheath with beaded collar detail and had a pink orchid corsage.
Mrs. Samuel Bohnet, grandmother of the bride, complemented her black silk suit with a corsage of pink camellias.
The bride was honored at a number of showers in the weeks preceding the wedding. Three miscellaneous showers were given: one at the home of Mrs. L. Frisk, Ann Arbor, with Mrs. D. Walker of Lansing, as co-hostesses; one by Mrs. Clarence Wood at her home in Chelsea; and one at the Seneca Hotel in Chicago by Mrs. N. Brown, Mrs. M. Libin and Mrs. N. Libin.
A noon brunch was held at the North Shore Hotel in Evanston, Ill. with Mrs. M. Shorr, Mrs. W. Pliner and Mrs. Freda Berk as hostesses, and a personal shower given by Mrs. Nell Gates and Mrs. T. Ingram of Ann Arbor, took place at the home of Mrs. Gates.
The bridegroom's mother was the hostess for a rehearsal dinner at Weber's Ann Arbor.
The new Mr. and Mrs. Berk will reside in Lafayette, Ind.

LET'S GO! MICHIGAN STATE FAIR AUG. 27-SEPT. 6 DETROIT

THE COUNTRY PULPIT:

DEAD OR ALIVE?

W E ALL HAVE THOSE DAYS when we feel more dead than alive; but did you know that you could really be dead and still retain consciousness? Many dead persons walk among us, thinking they are living, and fooling other people into believing this also. No, I'm not talking about hoodooism or magic, but a real plain fact of life. The person next to you may be dead right now and neither of you know it. You yourself may be one of these "living dead" persons and never have had this fact exposed to you.
How long will you live on this earth? Seventy years, eighty, ninety? Whatever it is, how does it look to you in comparison with all the years this earth exists? Just before you came, 2 Minutes; and the thought of time without end continuing after you are gone? Wouldn't you kick yourself for all kinds of a fool if you woke up after your physical life was over and found that you had wasted your brief span on earth and had nothing but conscious death to look forward to forever?
There are two kinds of death: physical, which involves separation of the soul from the body, and spiritual, which is the separation of man's spirit from God. When the first man and woman turned their backs on God, they brought sin and death into the world for themselves and all who should come after them. Man is born estranged from his Maker, with an inherently sinful nature. Little babies are born completely selfish and uncivilized creatures, who have to be corrected and trained by their parents for many years.
God does not condemn any man to eternal separation from Himself; man condemns himself when he rejects the provision God has made to reclaim him from death through the process of rebirth. Briefly this is how God's Word tells us this is made possible: When a man is convicted of a desperate lack in his life and a sense of his own worthlessness, he may go to God and ask for regeneration. But on what grounds? This is the crux of the whole matter. God pronounced the sentence of death upon sinners; but because He loves us, He took human form and nature upon Himself, became a man in the person of Jesus Christ, and paid the penalty of our sins by dying on the cross. Now come to Me, He says, confessing your sin and your willingness to accept Christ as your Saviour, and I will not only forgive you, but I will give you a new heart, a new nature, and you will be born into the family of God. A drowning man who refuses to grasp the rope thrown from shore dies through his own fault. God throws you a strong and sure lifeline. Grasp it and live.
—Pastor Elmer S. Steenson.

Kiwanians Hear About Water Plans

The Kiwanis Club held a meeting at the Congregational church on Monday, Aug. 23 at 6:15 p.m. Delegates to the 48th annual Convention of the Michigan District Kiwanis International, scheduled for Sept. 19-21 at Detroit's Statler-Hilton Hotel, were elected.

Kiwanians elected as delegates president Don Turner, first vice-president Floyd Fowler, and second vice-president Paul Schaible Jr. Alternates include M. W. McClure, Paul Schaible Sr., and the Rev. Edwin Weiss.

President Don Turner introduced Robert Heller and H. C. Powers, members of the Mill Creek Reservoir Research Council, who spoke on flood control, recharging a river during minimum stream flow, future water needs of the down-river area, and recreational possibilities of the future. Heller and Powers suggested a more economical and feasible method of getting water to the cities east of Chelsea by the continuance of water pipes from Detroit.

Chairman of Kiwanis Day Al Heller said that participants should meet at the Village Parking Lot on E. Park St. at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 1 to assemble for the annual parade to the Fairgrounds. All children entering the parade receive free tickets at the gates of the fairground for rides by the Go-King Company. At the fairgrounds area, there will be games, entertainment and prizes.

Four Kiwanians will attend the annual Lt. Governor, nominating Conference for Division 6 at Belleville on Aug. 31.

Balmers Injured...

The accident occurred about 9:30 p.m., Balmer said; he described the Audritsch car as "fish-tailing" across the highway and colliding almost head-on with the car he was driving.

The Balmer car is described as a total loss and Balmer said the other car also was practically in the same condition.

Balmer said that Audritsch and a man riding with him apparently were not seriously injured.

Justice Courts Hear

Area Fishing Violations

Conservation Officer Donley Boyer has reported the following offenses this past week.

Richard Lee Schotte, 281 and William D. Ferguson of Grosse Ile, appeared before Justice of the Peace Earl Dolezky of Dexter Township for fishing without a license on North Lake. Both were assessed $13 fine and costs.

David Inman, 37, Lancaster, Calif., was ordered to pay fine and costs of $13 for fishing without a license on Columbia Lake by Sylvan Township Justice Chandler Rogers.

Victor DiDomenico of Bayonne, N.J., paid $13 for a similar offense committed on Pleasant Lake. Edward Tatro of Garden City pleaded guilty and was fined $13 and costs for fishing without a license on Half Moon Lake.

THE LETTERBOX

★ The Fable of Sea Shell City ...

Dear Editor,

Once upon a time in the quiet town of Sea Shell, there was an overcrowded school system. It was so overcrowded, in fact, that they began holding classes in the local Methodist church.

And the School Board, though slow to act because they did not want to incur the ill will of the citizenry, did nevertheless propose a well-rounded building program to the voters. It was planned for both the present and future needs of the school district's pupils.

But, many people went around saying, "They don't need all those buildings" with the implication "What's good enough for grand-mother is good enough for the grandchildren." And they did not consider the facts that not only was the area many times more populous than it used to be, but that educational needs had become much more complex, due to the complicated world of today.

And, by a narrow margin—maybe it was only one vote—the good people voted against the long-range building program.

The following year, instead of using two rooms part-time in the Methodist church, four rooms were used full-time. And many people said, "See, we still have our schools. What's wrong with having a school in the church?"

The next year, the overcrowding continued, since the School Board had decided by this time to go along with whatever the people wanted.

And the additional overflow of pupils went into the basement of the Congregational church. After all, people were getting used to the idea of children going to school in church, anyhow, by this time. Who cares where the kids go to school, anyway?

One day, it occurred to the Sea Shell School Board that they could save a lot of money—and this, they decided, was the primary goal of having an educational system, according to the expressed wishes of the voters—if all classes were held in the churches.

So, the idea was proposed to all the local ministers. They all took the matter up with their respective governing boards who agreed to co-operate, as it was obviously their Christian duty.

And a great deal of money was saved. The existing school buildings and real estate were sold, and taxes in Sea Shell were almost eliminated for some time.

But, after a few years of this, the churches ran out of space, and they were glad, anyway, because many parishioners had developed frayed nerves and irritable personalities because they couldn't feel their churches were their own, you know.

Finally, the church members, town and rural people, young and old alike, petitioned for a change. And they built four elementary schools, two junior high schools, and a high school, with a swimming pool in every one of them. For the town had continued to grow, and more schools were needed than before.

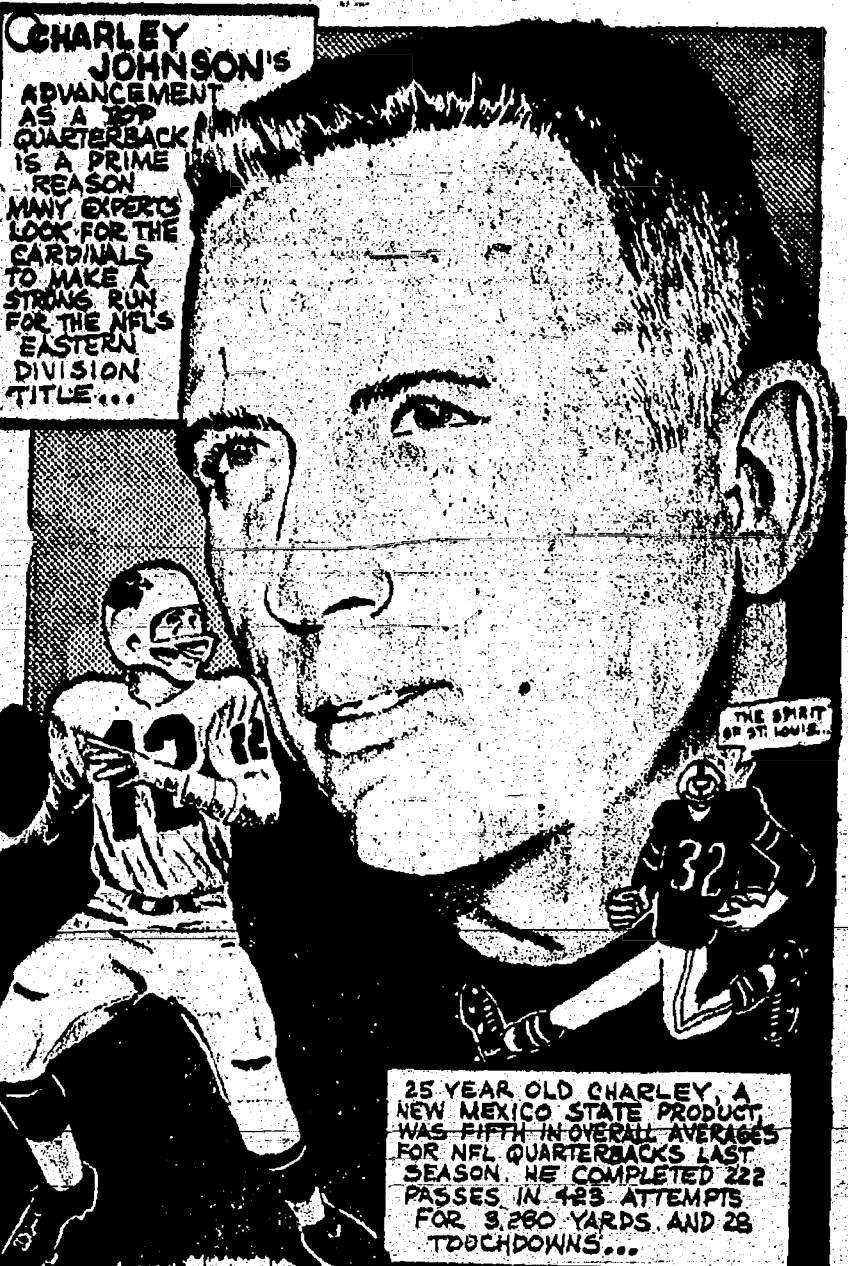

Taxes were very high. But, no one complained, because they had learned that they were victims of their own folly. Churches were churches. Schools were schools. And qualified teachers were again coming to the town of Sea Shell.

Sincerely yours,
Ed Lewis

These fisher-folk all have good reason to hope. The outlook for fishing in Michigan is brighter right now than it has been since human pressure reached its peak a few years ago. Many factors built up the pressure—more people with more leisure time, more improved highways, more pollution, more draining and filling for resort development.

Under the direction of Howard A. Tanner, chief of the Conservation Department's Fish Section, an expansive program of management has been launched for the improvement of fishing, which has more followers in Michigan than any other form of sport.

A million fishing licenses are issued annually. No licenses are required on the Great Lakes and connecting waters. Dad takes out a license. Mom and the kids are free riders. There is fishing of one kind or another in our state at all seasons. Therefore, the million fishing licenses represent a much greater number of hours outdoors than the various types of hunting licenses, totalling little more than a million and many of them duplications one persons taking out two or more licenses for small game, deer, bear.

Marine Corps Tells Changes in Recruiting Policy

Marine Corps recruiters have announced some changes in the Marine Corps recruiting policy. Effective immediately the Marine Corps has a two, three, and four-year enlistment program. A man may join for three or four years at the age of 17, however, he must be 18 or older to enlist for the two-year program.

On the four-year enlistment the applicant can be guaranteed aviation school before enlistment if he qualifies. Priority for other formal schools will be given to men on four-year enlistments who score 48 or higher on the Armed Forces Test.

The height requirement has been changed to a minimum of 62 inches and a waiver may be granted if the man is 60 inches.

Former Marines, gunnery sergeant and below, who are otherwise qualified and whose date of discharge or expiration of active service is less than one year old may be reappointed to the grade held on discharge.

Anyone interested in obtaining additional information about the U.S. Marine Corps may contact Sgt. Jim Cox or Sgt. Don Lentz at the Marine Corps Recruiting Office located in the Ypsilanti City Hall.

POULTRY FLOCKS GROWING

The small poultry flock is rapidly on the way out. Michigan State poultry experts predict the average size of commercial egg-laying flocks will be 20,000 birds by 1980. And, they speculate that new developments will mean it will be a one-man operation.

Dr. Papo Chosen Alternate Delegate to Medical Governing Body

Dr. Michael Papo of Chelsea is one of seven alternate delegates to the 1965 Michigan State Medical Society House of Delegates in Detroit, Sept. 18-21.

Of the eight physicians selected to represent Washtenaw County Medical Society as delegates, one is from Ypsilanti and the remaining seven are all of Ann Arbor.

In addition to Dr. Papo, the only physician outside of Ann Arbor among the seven alternates is Dr. George S. Sayre of Ypsilanti. The House of Delegates is the policy-making body of the Michigan State Medical Society. Speaker of the House of Delegates is James J. Lightbody, M.D., of Detroit, and the vice-speaker is Louis F. Hayes, M.D., Gaylord.

The 150 members of the House of Delegates are elected by component medical societies throughout the state. Doctor Lightbody explained that "The statements of policy expressed by this democratic group are a cross-section of medical opinion. Any member may introduce any number of current problems for consideration."

The annual meeting of the House of Delegates will open the six-day Centennial Session of the Michigan State Medical Society in Detroit, Sept. 18-24. On each day, special sessions will focus on medicine's role in such aspects of human activity as religion, business and industry, communications, science, the voluntary agencies and government.

"The Centennial will recognize that today's medical care is the work of many hands, many minds and many hearts," declares Oliver B. McGillicuddy, M.D., Lansing, MSMS president.

REPORT from WASHINGTON

★ Consumers Should Know About Doctor Fees

There is a growing controversy in the medical profession about how doctors should earn their money and because the consumer is directly affected—it appears that Congress may have to intervene. Basically, the question is: should doctors be allowed to make money by selling the products they prescribe? Until 1955, this was no problem. The American Medical Association clearly forbade its members to profit from the sale of any medical supplies. Income, the code said, should come "only from professional fees." But the rule was relaxed and since then, the following medical enterprises have begun to flourish throughout the nation: 1. Ophthalmologists who sell eye glasses. Once patients went to ophthalmologists (eye physicians) only to be examined. They then could shop around to optical shops where the lenses would be ground and the frames selected. Now often the doctor merely says, "Come back in a week and pick up your glasses." The patient is seldom disposed to argue. And there is evidence that the consumer is often charged a good deal more for the glasses. 2. Doctor-owned pharmacies. Increasingly, doctors or groups of

Gov. Romney Reports

The responsibilities of individual involvement and participation in the governmental process are unending, not only for those who are elected representatives but for you as citizens. Take this year, for example. We have concluded what has been, in most respects, a fruitful legislative session. Yet the work has just begun. We enter the fall season with many important tasks awaiting us, all of which will require the understanding and the active participation of you as responsible participants in our state's political process. Let me cite just one of the noteworthy jobs ahead. This is the resumption of the legislative session to deal primarily with our state's tax system and the revenue requirements of the near future. If you have been keeping abreast of this situation, you are aware that we have been attempting for some months to arrive at a tax reform program that will command bipartisan consideration. I am still confident that we will find such a program and that it will receive the support it will need if we are to revamp our tax system and also produce the financial resources necessary to meet the explosive needs ahead. Success of this venture will depend importantly on your understanding and your willingness to stand behind this administration on such an issue. I could cite many other forthcoming programs, such as the difficult task of reorganizing the executive branch of state government, that will require more than the usual activity and co-operation for this time of year. But I want to direct your attention to the local elections before held in your community. Too often people get excited only when these are national and or statewide elections. However, it is essential that everyone become informed on local candidates and issues and then vote. An intelligent vote at the local level can be of the greatest benefit to you. Your local officials and judges are closer to your problems and deal with them on a daily basis. I call upon each of you to remain active in the coming months—informing your legislators of your desire to see fiscal reform become a reality this year and voting in any local election your community may be conducting this fall.

Drivers Test To Be Given Next Monday

Michigan motorists will have a "second chance" Monday, Aug. 30, when the National Drivers Test will be rebroadcast by the CBS Television Network. Program time is 10 p.m.

The tremendous response to the May 24 program has prompted the network to present the show again, providing the Labor Day weekend.

Michigan had one of the best participation records of any state in the televised test according to Gerald W. Shipman, executive secretary of the Michigan State Safety Commission. Shipman added: "Perhaps the most thought-provoking figure is that in the first test averages put 46 percent of all viewers in the 'poor' classification of drivers."

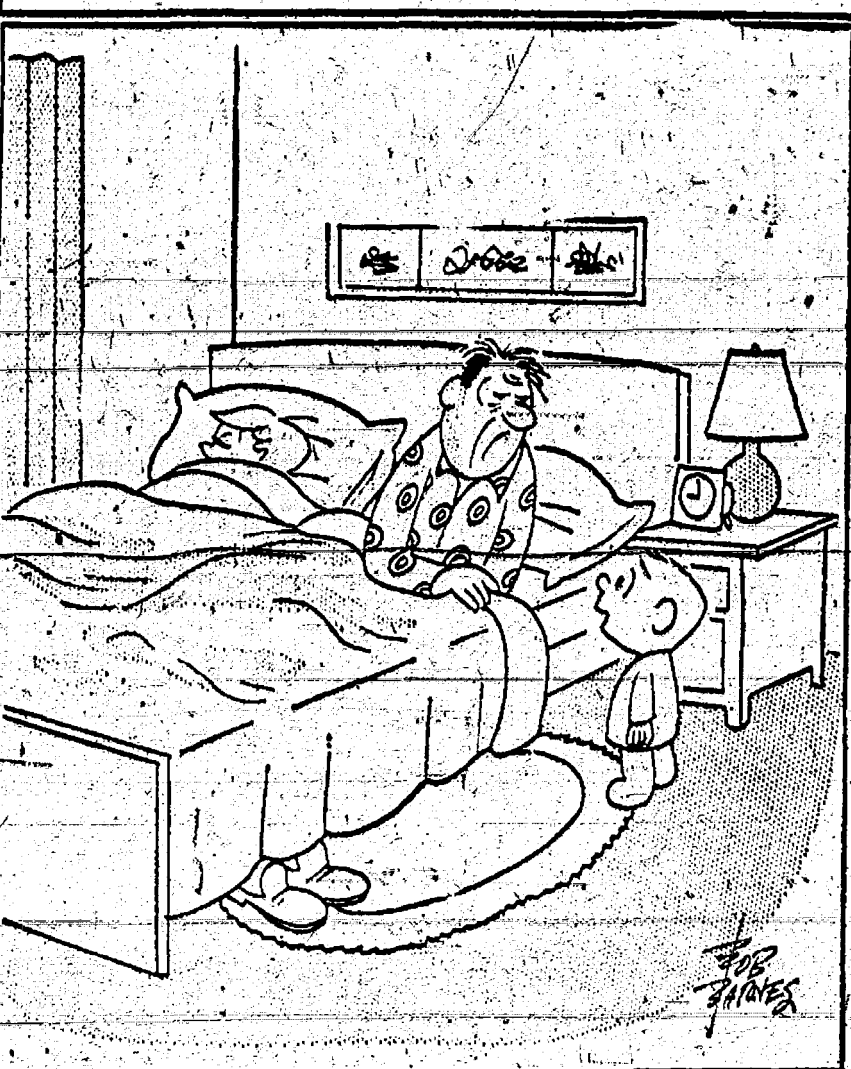

Local and area safety councils, labor groups and the State Safety Commission plan to distribute test forms used during the program. Viewers, projected into a "driver's seat" situation, will keep score as they face driving conditions demanding knowledge, judgment and skill.

County Officials Attend Meetings at Mackinac

Washtenaw County Clerk Lucille M. Smith, who is secretary of the Michigan Association of County Clerks, was in charge of arrangements for the annual meeting of the association held at Mackinac Island. The sessions ended yesterday (Wednesday).

Other Washtenaw county officials who were at meetings on Mackinac Island during the conferences are Circuit Judge William F. Ager Jr., who appeared on a panel on arson cases before the National District Attorneys Association on Saturday, and Prosecuting Attorney William F. Delhey, who attended the annual meeting of the Michigan Prosecuting Attorneys Association Monday and Tuesday and the National District Attorneys Association Wednesday through Saturday. He is on the board of directors of the Michigan group and the program committee of the national organization.

Michigan State Fair Opens Friday With Many Features

"Come early and stay all day," Michigan State Fair officials are urging the public this year.

There's so much to see and do at this year's State Fair that the visitor could return everyday and never run out of fun and excitement. The fair opens Friday evening, Aug. 27, and runs through Labor Day, Sept. 6.

As always, agriculture and industry will be well represented at the fair.

The state's farmers will be competing with their best livestock and crops. Automotive and other industries will have extensive exhibits.

In the Community Arts field (it was called Home Arts until this year), there'll be prize-winning exhibits of painting, baking, needlework, hobbycraft, fine arts plus a Food Show and Fashion Show.

And while the men are looking over the animals and watching the judging, the women will have an opportunity to see cooking and other demonstrations in the new Community Arts Building.

Entertainment, as always, will be big at this year's fair. Music Shell shows will star the Supremes, the Singing Group which has made "The Detroit Sound" internationally famous, and ballad singer Jack Jones with the Jimmy Wilkins Orchestra.

An Honors Band made up of the top high school musicians in the state, will play concerts in the Music Shell Friday through Sunday, Sept. 3-5. Guest soloist will be trumpeter Carl (Doc) Severinsen, assistant director of the TV Skitch Henderson Orchestra.

In front of the grandstand, meanwhile, the Barnes and Carruthers Circus will perform three shows daily from Saturday, Aug. 28, through Friday, Sept. 3.

All of these entertainment features are free to State Fair visitors.

The Jole Chitwood Thrill Show, with daredevil drivers, will perform in front of the Grandstand Saturday through Monday, Sept. 4-6. Auto races are scheduled on Sunday and Monday. These are extra-charge events.

Other entertainment highlights of the fair will be strolling musicians throughout the grounds; shows in the Coliseum Grove featuring acts from theatrical and dance schools; round and square dancing in the Old Timers' Grove; Avenue A-Go-Go, with music and features for the teen-upt set; children's contests and features such as the TV Fair Circus; and, of course, all the fun and excitement of the shows and rides on the Gay Midway.

In the Coliseum, 15 free horse shows are scheduled, with beautiful Appaloosas, giant Clydesdales and Percherons, Arabian and Morgans, and a host of ponies stepping through their paces. The Detroit Mounted Police will perform at each horse show except on Labor Day.

Here's the schedule of special days at the fair:

Friday, Aug. 27—Grand Opening Day, with downtown Detroit parade at 8 p.m.; ribbon-cutting at the Fairgrounds at 6 p.m.

Saturday, Aug. 28—Veterans Day. Special programs featuring drill teams, the firing of a Civil War cannon, a memorial service, and a jet flyover. All veterans and members of veterans groups and auxiliaries admitted free until 8 p.m.

Sunday, Aug. 29—Religion Day. Sunrise service at 8 a.m. in the Music Shell with U.S. Judge Luther W. Youngdahl as speaker. Everyone admitted free until 8 a.m.

Monday, Aug. 30—Old Timers' Day, with special events, awards and contests. All senior citizens admitted free until 3 p.m.

Tuesday, Aug. 31—Children's Day. Reduced prices for the kids on the Midway.

Wednesday, Sept. 1—Beauty Queens' Day, with preliminary judging in the Miss Michigan State Fair contest.

Thursday, Sept. 2—Salute to Agriculture Day (although every day at the fair is Agriculture Day).

Friday, Sept. 3—Teachers' Day, special ceremonies and presentation of awards. All educators admitted free to the Fairgrounds until 3 p.m.

Saturday, Sept. 4—Governor's Day, honoring Governor Romney.

Sunday, Sept. 5—250-Mile Race Day.

Monday, Sept. 6—Labor Day, with special salutes to labor.

LASTING

An easy and sure way of preserving quality of bread, sponge and angel food cakes is to store them in plastic bags. When well packaged, bread will keep in the freezer for 6-12 months, cake for about 4 months.

Your Social Security

Employees who in working for an employer receive cash tips of $20 or more in a month will receive Social Security credit for this part of their earnings as well as for regular wages. Robert A. Kehoe, Social Security district manager in Ann Arbor, reported this week.

Coverage of cash tips received in employment after 1965 is included in the amendments to the Social Security Act recently adopted by congress, Kehoe continued.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1966, an employee is required to submit written reports covering the actual amount of his tip income to his employer, no later than the 10th day after each month in which he received cash tips of $20 or more.

Kehoe stressed the importance of making these reports on time, and of including all of his tips during the month. Otherwise the employee will have to make his report directly to the District Director of Internal Revenue, incurring at the same time a penalty equal to 50 percent of his Social Security tax on the tips.

The usual Social Security tax on employers is not due on tips received by employees. However, the employer will deduct the worker's Social Security tax on tips from Regular Wages due on tips employed. The employer is not permitted to make deductions from tips he may be holding for the employee.

If the wages in the employer's possession are not sufficient to cover the amount of the tax, the employer may furnish the employee additional funds to cover his tax.

Kehoe pointed out that if the employer has been unable to collect all of the Social Security tax due on an employee's tips by the 10th day after the end of the month in which the tips were reported to him, the employee will have to pay the remaining tax due directly to IRS.

Kehoe emphasized that an employee receiving tips should keep accurate records of this income, as well as copies of his reports to his employer so that his Social Security earnings record will be correct.

Federal income tax withholding will also be made on tips the employee reports to his employer. Anyone having a question about Social Security is invited to write, phone, or visit the Ann Arbor Social Security office located at 1355 N. Main St., Kehoe concluded. The telephone number is 663-8541 Ext. 448.
