Schools Ready For Record Enrollments

Bus Schedules To Remain Same As Last Year

All Chelsea public schools will begin school Sept. 7 with record enrollments expected in new grades.

Kindergarten children have all been notified where they are to report for classes. Children in grades through five will be directed to their rooms.

Sylvester Wojciecki, elementary school principal, emphasized that children who are new to the district this year and who have not been registered prior to Sept. 7, will not be brought to school on opening day. The faculty will be busy with the routine and the first day of school to get time to register new pupils, he said.

He reminds parents that the $5.00 fee for children in kindergarten through the fifth grade, will be brought to school on opening day. He said, too, that the lunch program will start at both schools on the opening day, the price being 35 cents per child or $1.75 per week. The milk for this year is two cents per quart.

Classes at the elementary schools will start at 8:30 a.m.

High school and junior high school students should be at their respective schools by 8:20 a.m.

Charles Lane, high school principal, points out that high school students are to assemble in the school auditorium at 8:20 a.m.

Principal Alan Conklin of the Junior High School said the Junior High school gymnasium will be place for students there to assemble at 8:20 a.m.

Bus schedules will remain the same as last year for the beginning of the 1965-66 school year.

Bids Received On St. Mary's New Church

Bids were received from five general contractors Wednesday, Sept. 1, on construction of the new St. Mary's Catholic church.

"The building will be designed to hold approximately 400 people," the Rev. Fr. P. Maliszewski said, "and will incorporate the liturgical changes made by the Church recently."

The building site of the new church is on the north side of Old US-12 between Main St. and Freer Rd.

The Rev. Maliszewski said more detailed information as to the architecture and size of the new church will be announced as plans become more definite.

Junior High Building Questions Answered

Q. What are we voting on at the Sept. 13 school election?
A. There are two issues. The main one is a building program providing for a six-room and library addition to the South Elementary school; 10 rooms at the High School, including language laboratory, commercial and special education rooms; and a new Junior High School consisting of 36 rooms (including two for industrial arts, two for music, one special large group instruction room and a complete all-purpose gymnasium). There is also a library and a cafeteria designed for serving food previously prepared in the high school kitchen. Cost is $2,300,000 for this over-all building program for all levels of the school system.

Second subject to be voted on is a swimming pool for the high school at a cost of $325,000. This facility would include shallow and deep swimming areas, would be six lanes wide and when not used by the school pupils, would be open to the public.

Q. Why are we voting on the question of building this co-

Eleven Queen Candidates Seek Crown

Weather conditions permitting, the annual Children's Day parade on the opening day of the Chelsea Community Fair was scheduled to be held last night. The parade was to be led by Cindy Schumm, the 1964 Community Fair Queen. It was also planned to have a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the fairgrounds with Miss Schumm cutting the ribbon to signal the official opening of the 1965 fair.

Miss Schumm also has been assigned the honor of crowning the 1965 queen following announcement of her selection at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Fairgrounds Arena program.

Mrs. David Rowe, chairman of the queen contest for the sponsoring Jasecs Auxiliary, said Miss Schumm and this year's queen candidates will appear at the fair tonight (Thursday) and Friday in addition to the Saturday program.

An innovation this year will be the naming of a runner-up. Mrs. Rowe said. Out-of-town judges will select the winner and the runner-up, in accord with contest rules.

Judges are James Smith, assistant manager of the Liberty St. branch of the Ann Arbor Bank; (Continued on page seven)

15 Floats Enter Gala Parade Slated Saturday

Special Features Scheduled for Each Day of Fair

Today is Dexter Day at the Chelsea Community Fair. In addition to entertainment previously announced, the program will include a close-order mounted drill team from Clear Lake Camp where horseback riding is a specialty. The riders at tonight's demonstration are all children and the drill calls for them to ride to music.

The Clear Lake Camp drill will be given following the pig scramble. The pig scramble, in turn, is featured following the fair stock sale scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Another special feature of Dexter Day at the fair is a water polo contest between Dexter and Chelsea fire departments.

Farmers' Day, Friday, will feature a lightweight tractor pulling contest at 4 p.m. and a heavy-weight tractor pull at 7:45 p.m. A total of $200 will be given in prizes in the tractor contests.

Don Johnson of the Washtenaw county agricultural extension office will be master of ceremonies for the Farmers' Day programs.

The pony pull, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Saturday, will be put on by the Monroe Pony Pulling Association.

Other highlights Saturday are the free horse show under the chairmanship of Merle Sibbey. He announced last week that the show will be divided into four events being scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. and the remaining seven events to be held following the afternoon parade.

The complete program for today's events and for the remainder of the week appear in the full-page of fair events (page 12) in this issue of The Standard.

A gala parade will highlight the Chelsea Community Fair Saturday, Sept. 4. Parade time is set at 2 p.m.

The customary parade route, proceeding up East St., turning left on E. Middle St., following S. Main St. to Old US-12 and continuing to the fairgrounds, was announced by Parade Chairman George W. Atkinson.

In case of rain, Atkinson said the parade will be postponed until the rain stops. The fire whistle will be blown when the rain has stopped as a signal for the floats to be brought to the Junior high school.

Judging of the floats will begin at 1:30 p.m. Names of the judges will remain top secret until the winners are announced. All are prominent citizens of the Chelsea community, according to Atkinson.

Atkinson said the floats will appear in the same order as the entries were received. Following is the announced line-up for the floats: Junior class, Freshman class, Boy Scout Troop 429, sophomore class, The American Legion, the Chelsea Fire Department, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, St. John's Station, Boy Scout Belles 4-11 club, Rogers Corners Herdmen 4-11 club, Blue Ribbon Florists 4-11 club, Kiwanis Club, senior class, the Wide Awake 4-11 club and the Chelsea Co-op Nursery School.

Three bands from the Chelsea schools and the Waterloo Band will furnish the music for the parade.

Antique cars in the parade from Ann Arbor, and Chelsea will be on display at the fairgrounds after the parade.

Parade participants should go to the following places to assemble for the parade: horses and mounts, buggies and wagons line up on Park St., facing East St., farm machinery will be lined up on East St., facing Park St., floats should be taken to Park St., between East and Madison St., antique cars will queue up on the south side of Park St., between East St. and Madison St.

★ Traffic Safety - 1965 Legislation

Last year traffic accidents in this state resulted in 2,425 deaths and 145,000 injuries, costing Michigan residents nearly $1 million per day! Confronted with such alarming statistics, it is not surprising that the Michigan Legislature has taken steps to improve traffic safety. The following measures were passed by the Legislature:

- Bring drivers 17 and younger under the point system by authorizing probationary courts to handle juvenile traffic offenders in the same manner as adult violators.
- Require the cancellation of the license of a minor under 18 upon the written request of the individual signing his application.
- Require school bus drivers to be over 24 and have a chauffeur's license, and require anyone driving a vehicle with a manufacturer's rated seating capacity of 12 or more to have a chauffeur's license.
- Make it a misdemeanor for anyone who has never had a driver's license to operate a motor vehicle on a public highway.
- Require the Secretary of State to prescribe the form for traffic violation tickets and to require the record of conviction is a part of the driver's license.
- Make it a misdemeanor for a school bus driver to operate a school bus without a valid license, less than a charge of "reckless driving" under the new law.
- Appropriate funds for a 200-man increase in the State Police to provide more effective enforcement of traffic laws.

 Unfortunate consequences of teen-age drinking are seldom considered by the legislators. Especially if the warnings come from parents, school authorities and other officials.

The one group getting short-term gain from this law violation now hopes that perhaps teen-agers will listen to its plea for a realization of the hazards. This group is the alcoholic beverage industry.

The trade publication, "Michigan Beverage News," is conducting a campaign aimed at persons under 21 who might now or at some future time be tempted to participate in teen drinking parties similar to those which have caused such official frustration this summer.

By circulating a leaflet entitled "The Choice is Yours," the Detroit-based publication hopes to "tell teen-agers in honest terms what could happen if they are caught drinking or even with alcoholic beverages in their possessions."

The leaflet is being distributed through church groups, schools, libraries, civic and community organizations and retail outlets.

Teen-agers are warned that reckless acts now may jeopardize their admittance to college, a military career or future job prospects. It emphasizes the law and the fact that violation could produce a criminal record.

"What is needed most is education, we feel," says publisher Ken Davidson.

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission had hoped to publish a similar pamphlet on its own but did not receive funds for this purpose and has endorsed the leaflet prepared by the Beverage News.

The thought-provoking message on the four-page leaflet is a simple and yet complex one: "Is taking a little drink worth risking all your hopes for an honorable and rewarding career?"

Who Audits Whom
 Some accomplishment was recorded by the legislature this year in the continuing implementation of the still new state constitution but gaps still remain.

One gap which fortunately involves little time-pressure is the enactment of laws relating to the new job of legislative auditor general.

Democrats control both houses this year and best guesses indicate future elections will find them in the majority in at least one house. They appointed Albert Lee to this new position.

One attempt to spell out the legislative auditor general's duties was made this year but the governor's veto ax fell on it.

"Gov. George Romney said the bill as written would have given this new officer much broader powers than were intended in the constitution. He also used his line item veto to withhold from the legislative auditor general 17,869 designated for race track audits, which he also said was outside the province of the job."

Veto of the main bill had little effect on the continuing operation of Lee's department. It simply meant the Democrats will have to do some work to meet the governor's objections.

Very specific language is used in the constitutional section dealing with the legislative auditor general.

In a single paragraph the constitution provides for a certified public accountant to be appointed by the legislature to an eight-year term. It prohibits the appointee from being named or elected to any other state public office during or for two years following his term.

The constitution designates that

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows at the country store has backslid and Saturday night come out 100 per cent again the anti-poverty program. They was for it at first on account of they figured the handouts would start at the bottom and they might get a slice of the pie. But now, they allowed, it was plain they was running this project upside down and was starting at the top and would run out of money long afore they got down to the poor folks.

First off, Ed Doolittle reported he had saw in the papers where teachers for the anti-poverty program in New York City was drawing $250 for a 25-hour week. This movement was bound to spread, perched Ed, and at $10 a hour the teaching profession would soon be cured of poverty. In the same piece, said Ed, it reported nurses for the country was now getting $0 a hour. That, claimed Ed, would eventual take care of the nursing profession.

And Zeke Grubb reported, he had saw where Government agencies was spreading out their surveys, investigations, public polls and studies so's they could take on several thousand workers and get 'em off the poverty list. For instant, said Zeke, he was reading where the U.S. Public Health Service has made a survey amongst 7,000 men and women from 18 to 70 to see which had the broadest beam. He said the official name of the project was "Operation Seat Breathe". And according to Zeke, they found the ivorite woman had four-tenths of a inch more seating capacity than the average man. Zeke told the fellows he was discussing this item with his old lady and she claimed it wasn't worth a drink on account of it didn't say if the wimmin was with or without girdles. Anyhow, claimed Zeke, it probable took a heap of people to make the survey and got 'em off the poverty club. He said he was looking any day now for 'em to start taking the national census ever year instead of ever 10.

Josh Clodhopper reported he had took note where President Johnson's brother-in-law, a fellow named Antonio Taylor, was now touring South America for $75 a day and expenses as a "consultant." Josh was of the opinion this "consultant" business would open up a heap of new opportunities for the poverty folks.

I ain't too shore, Mister Editor, but what the fellows at the store don't represent a good cross-section of grass roots opinion in the country. For that reason, I'm thinking about sending the results of our vote to Washington. It would probable git as far as the assistant-to-the-assistant letter opener in the White House basement. Incidental, the vote was unanimous on account of Clem Webster, that is very outspoke for the Great Society, was absent Saturday night.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

 Important gain has been made so far this year in one area of traffic safety, but it has been almost totally offset by a worsening in another area.

"Highway fatalities" have dropped, but unfortunately the number of injury accidents has climbed to an alarming degree, reports State Police Commissioner Frederick E. Davis.

In the first five months of the year, Michigan motorists recorded 56,618 traffic injuries as compared with 51,780 in the same period of 1964. The number of accidents also jumped from 108,000 last year to 125,000 this year.

Bids Opened On Area Lake Level Project

Bids for the Portage-Bass Lake level project were opened Aug. 31, by the Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner John C. Patterson and Livingston County Drain Commissioner Clair Miller.

The project involves the damming of several creeks and the widening of the Portage River to provide reservoirs in Livingston County and in Washtenaw County.

Such reservoirs, according to S. engineers, would restore rapidly declining water levels in Whitmore Lake, Portage Lake, Patterson Lake and practically the lakes in the Huron River basin. Two years ago the U.S. Public Health Service mapped out alternative proposals for water quality control in the Huron basin.

On June 20, 1964, the River Watershed Interagency Committee wrote the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers their tentative preference for a combined use of both ground surface sources within the Huron River basin to provide for municipal and industrial water.

With the request for a study, the Corps settled on the Huron River site for the following reasons:

The peak flows of Mill Creek always coincide with flood flow of the river. A flood-control reservoir at Mill Creek would reduce the flood level approximately 10 feet.

The Mill Creek drainage is significantly larger than other tributary of the Huron River.

The topography of the Mill Creek watershed lends itself to reservoir storage at any of alternative sites. Also, the soil is "self-sealing," allowing minimal loss of water due to seepage in the ground water table.

CHS Band Spends Week At Camp

Chelsea musicians combined camping and music in a week-long musical holiday.

One hundred Chelsea High School band members, accompanied by six chaperons, spent Aug. 22-28 at Clear Lake Camp in Oxford.

The musicians rehearsed marching, playing and also by sections, under the direction of Chelsea Directors Bruce Galbraith and Martin Gurvey.

A special instructor, Toad England, who is in charge of the percussion section of the University of Michigan Marching Band, worked with the drum section.

Special Friday dinner guests, Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Charles Cameron and Principal and Mrs. Charles Lane, viewed a marching band concert.

Chaperones accompanying the band included Mr. and Mrs. William F. Storey, 216 Jefferson; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Severn, 221 Jefferson; and Mr. and Mrs. Herman T. Ashley, 883 Argonne.

Homer Kuhl, 4002 Chelsea-Manchester Rd., acted as camp nurse. Mrs. Galbraith and Mrs. Gurvey accompanied their husbands.

Swimming, tennis, badminton, canoeing and organized recreation filled out the campers' daily schedule.

Why is it one sometimes has such prankish thoughts in church?

Junior High Building Questions Answered

school board selected this, unanimously, as the best of 10 sites initially considered.

Q. Why are we building a new junior high, anyway?

A. Because existing facilities are inadequate for the present junior high program. The engineering firm of Hafferty, Wilding, O'Neill & Lewis Associates, Inc., has recommended that the building be abandoned. Delay is costly. The citizens fact-finding committee has projected a 58 percent growth for the next 20 years.

Q. What is the term of the bonding period?

A. 20 years. This length period spreads the costs of the schools so they are paid by the people who get the most benefit over a period of time.

Q. If the school district assessed valuation continues to increase, what happens to the rate of taxation?

A. It is reduced. For example the levy for buildings in 1950 was 12.41. With the approval of both issues Sept. 13 the total levy for buildings and the pool would be 9.34 or three mills less than were levied in 1950.

Q. Is the assessed valuation likely to increase?

A. With our industries expanding right now, it seems safe to state YES, considerably. Of course, the industrial expansion will bring more residents to the area, probably, to further add to the valuation.

Q. Then, if this occurs, we could pay off the school debt before it comes due?

A. Yes, or the levy per citizen would be reduced as the valuation goes up, as in the building experience described above.

Q. Recognizing that there is a variation in township taxes within the school district, what is the average cost per $1000 of assessed valuation for the $2,360,000 issue?

A. The average total cost will be $12.00 per thousand of assessed valuation; the low per thousand is $8.36 and the high per thousand is $14.44.

Q. What is the average cost per $1000 of assessed valuation on the $325,000 swimming pool issue?

A. Average cost per thousand is $1.75; the low per thousand is $1.23 and the high is $2.12 per thousand.

Q. Who may vote on the bond issue?

A. (a) U. S. Citizen, 21 years of age or over, (b) Resident of Michigan for at least six months, (c) Resident of school district for at least 30 days, (d) Be registered in township in which he lives, (e) own property assessed for taxes within the school district, or be the lawful husband or wife of such a person.

Q. Are there two ballots?

A. Yes, the three-point building program is on one ballot and the swimming pool is on another.

Q. Where do I go to vote?

A. To the old (present) junior high school. Go early and walk through it before you vote and you will understand the need quite clearly.

Q. When is the bond issue election?

A. Sept. 13, 1965.

Q. Where can I get an absentee ballot?

A. From Robert Foster, secretary of the Board.

Q. What is the average cost per $1000 of assessed valuation on the $325,000 swimming pool issue?

Airplane Ride Causes Fatal Heart Attack

A Dexter resident for the past 23 years, James B. Lobdell, died Friday shortly after returning from a 10-minute airplane ride with his son and pilot friend. Lobdell, 59, of 9058 Huron River Dr., was dead on arrival at Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti, after suffering a heart attack at 5:50 p.m. Friday, Aug. 27.

He had taken the plane ride to Milan with his son, Gary, 18, and pilot friend, Frank Noye of Ann Arbor. Noye told deputies that Lobdell was nervous during the flight and suffered the fatal attack after they had walked back to the office building at McKean Airport, Ypsilanti township.

Food does not come from straw. It comes from the land and from nature, and there are hostile elements in nature, along with the blessings of bounty.

City living has taken too many people away from the facts of the land. In the interests of their own welfare, they must broaden their understanding of what makes America's food abundance possible.

The government task force report is a healthy sign that this is happening and that common sense is once more returning to the land.

Southern Counties Gain Total of $115,000 From State Land Sales

Lansing—Twenty-six southern Michigan counties stand to gain slightly more than $115,000, following the Conservation Department's sale of tax-reverted state lands during the week of Aug. 9.

The money, representing total bids offered at five public auctions last week, will be routed into each county's coffers as quickly as heads and other papers can be processed on the parcels which were sold.

Leading last week's sales list was Genesee county where $20,800 worth of state lands were auctioned off. Sales of parcels in Saginaw county drew the second highest receipts, totaling $10,455.

The Department's other land offerings earned the following amounts for these counties:

Allegan, $2,140; Berrien, $3,075; Calhoun, $4,515; Cass, $300; Eaton, $2,055; Gratiot, $2,200; Hillsdale, $1,085; Huron, $915; Ingham, $425; Ionia, $1,050; Jackson, $5,065; Kalamazoo, $2,480; Kent, $15; Lenawee, $100.

Montcalm, $5,050; Monroe, $10,435; Muskegon, $11,140; Ottawa, $1,580; Sanilac, $3,465; St. Clair, $6,595; St. Joseph, $3,400; Shiawassee, $4,400; Van Buren, $885; and Washtenaw, $3,075.

TEAR GAS FOUNTAIN PEN Sale Prohibited By Law

Reports of sale and purchase of tear gas fountain pens at some public gatherings in Michigan, principally annual county fairs now being conducted, brought a warning from the State Police that it is unlawful for private individuals to possess or carry such projecting devices on the person for protection purposes.

Conviction of violation of the state's concealed weapons laws is a felony punishable by a fine not exceeding $2,500 or a jail term of five years.

The law also prohibits unauthorized sale of the devices.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank my friends, neighbors and relatives for their visits and cards during my stay in the hospital and since my return home. I would also like to thank the Chelsea Fire Department for the box of fruit.

 The Memorial Library evening hours are now on the fall schedule. Beginning Monday, the library will be open Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7 until 9 p.m.

Congressman Wes

VIVIAN

Reports from

WASHINGTON

During the summer the library remained open only one evening a week (Friday). The library hours remain the same throughout the year—Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 1 noon to 5 p.m. and evening hours from 7 until 9 p.m.

Last week, the United States House of Representatives approved basic amendments to the Immigration and Nationality Act, which controls immigration into this country.

The changes will do away with the old national origins quota system, substituting much more rational and humane guidelines based on family relationships and on work skills. The main emphasis now will be the reunification of families. The number of immigrants entering the nation will not significantly increase, but the exorbitant delay in admitting qualified immigrants will be noticeably decreased.

Each week I receive here in Washington requests for aid from constituents trying desperately to bring a parent or child to this country. The amendments passed today will make it much easier for our citizens to bring loved ones to join them.

An important safeguard is a requirement from a person seeking to enter without the sponsorship of a United States citizen family member, that the Secretary of Labor must certify he will not displace any American worker. This provision will reduce the possibility that immigration could cause unemployment. It is applicable to all immigrants, including those from Western Hemisphere countries.

Since the end of the Second World War every United States President supported revisions in our out-dated immigration laws. As we all know, our country was built by immigrants, trailblazers from the four corners of the earth. The current reform of our immigration code states as national policy that personal worth and dignity shall be the critical factor in judging who shall come to our country to live, not solely national origin. This concept is basic to our American traditions.

The reforms enacted last week were long overdue. I am proud to have had the opportunity to have a role in enacting them.

Lake Level Project . . .

The reservoir would significantly enhance fish and wildlife habitat.

Philip McCallister, chief of the Corps Planning Section, estimates that the Mill Creek reservoir would cost "just short of $20 million."

McCallister emphasizes the connection between low-flow augmentation for water quality purposes and adequate treatment of sewage.

The Public Health Service asserts that adequate sewage treatment low flows for water quality purposes," McCallister states. "Although many municipalities are improving or expanding sewage treatment facilities, we would like to pin down what is meant by 'adequate.'"

FREEZER TIP
 If your freezer stops running and you know it will be off for some time, take several steps to keep food from spoiling: keep the freezer closed; move the food to a locker plant; or add dry ice.

Also listed as problem areas were projected planning for water impoundment, recreation areas, and increasing variation in educational offerings between smaller and larger districts.

The Reorganization Committee recommended establishment of a county-wide committee to continue to study the one-district concept. A study of co-operative programs which might be carried out without forming a county district was also proposed.

Ted Faist Injured In Garage Accident

T. E. (Ted) Faist, Jr., 130 Clarendon Court, received leg injuries Saturday when an automobile on which he was working leaped forward and pinned him against another car.

The injury occurred at Daniel Motor Sales, Inc., 118 N. Main, where Ted is employed. The accident happened at 10 a.m.

The automobile jumped forward while the car was in gear.

He was taken to Ann Arbor where he was treated at St. Joseph Mercy hospital for cuts and punctures on his right leg. No bones were broken and Ted returned home Saturday after treatment.

GRASS WHIPS IN HAND. Chelsea Boy Scouts last week returned a favor. Last winter the Chelsea Community Fair Board stored canoes for Troop 425 free of charge. The Scouts gratefully told the Fair Board to call them if they ever needed a helping hand. The Fair Board needed help last Tuesday. The next day painters were scheduled to paint the board fence around the arena in the grandstand area. The grass had been mowed, but the mowers couldn't reach the grass directly under the fence.

One of the Scouts heard of the problem and within two hours a work crew was on hand. Using grass whips, bare hands and plenty of elbow grease, the workers had the fence ready for painting by nightfall. Visitors to the fairgrounds will notice that the fence now has a new coat of paint. Boys who did the trimming job are, from left, Jim Craig, Mike Grob, Jim Juergens, Bruce Parks, Chuck Patrick, Dave Pickell, Bob Pickell and Ron Morley, all of Troop 425.

County School District Plan Abandoned

Plans for reorganizing Washtenaw county's 17 school districts into one have been abandoned.

The 18-member Washtenaw County Intermediate School District Reorganization Committee Monday night voted to re-align the county's primary districts into adjacent K-12 districts.

Under this plan, the Braun, Trains Lake and Superior Town Line districts will go to Ann Arbor and Kimmel will go with the Willow Run District.

The single-unit plan was defeated primarily because of the time limitation. A completed plan must be presented to the State Reorganization Committee by December.

Other reasons cited for the negative reaction from most school board members throughout the county, the fact that there is currently an allowable minimum of 50 districts for the State of Michigan.

The committee expressed concern with the increasing delimitation between the "have" and "have-not" areas of the county.

Also listed as problem areas were projected planning for water impoundment, recreation areas, and increasing variation in educational offerings between smaller and larger districts.

The Reorganization Committee recommended establishment of a county-wide committee to continue to study the one-district concept.

TODAY'S INVESTOR
 BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
 Chairman, Board of Trustees
 National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I have been told that "dollar-cost averaging" is a good way to buy stocks. What does this mean and what are its advantages?

A. The theory of dollar-cost averaging involves buying stocks on a regular basis over a period of time, and it is one with which I am familiar. Basically, the idea is that if over a period of time you regularly put the same amount of money into a certain stock, regardless of whether the price has gone up or down since your last purchase, you will wind up paying a lower average cost per share in the long run.

Say, for instance, you invest $400 in the stock of Company A in January and receive 10 shares. Your cost per share is $40. In July you might decide to invest in that same stock again and find that the price per share has risen to $80. Your $400 will now buy about 6.66 shares. Now, instead of having paid an average of either $40 or $80 per share, you will find you own about 16.66 shares of Company A at an average cost of $48.20 when the going price is $60.

On the other hand, say the price per share has dropped to $20 when you decide to buy again in July. You will get 20 shares for your $400 and will now own 30 shares at an average cost of $26.67 per share, instead of your original per-share cost of $40.

I do have one word of caution: it's not necessarily a good idea to buy a stock just because the price has come down, even though it improves your dollar-cost average. A little study of the stock between your first purchase and a possible second one can provide the answer.

When a stock drops, look at the earnings; if they are down too, it might be a good idea to stay away for the time being. Though this may not necessarily be a reason to sell your first purchase. The dip in earnings, and in the cost, may be a temporary thing.

We usually think of dollar-cost averaging as being purchases of the same firm's stock over a period of time; actually, you can do the same thing even more effectively by buying a variety of stocks on a regular basis. This is one of the basic rules of sound investing advocated by the National Association of Investment Clubs. Buying of stock on a regular basis, whether the market as a whole is up or down. This is one cornerstone of a successful investment program.

Q. I have heard that it is a good practice sometimes to buy convertible preferred stock. What is meant by "convertible"?

A. Convertible preferred stock is a preferred stock that the buyer can exchange for another security (usually the common stock) of the same company, at a set rate.

For instance, you might have a preferred share of a company, bought for $100, with an option of converting it into two common stock shares. When this preferred share is issued by the company, its common stock might be selling at $40 a share. Preferred share investors would hope that the company's business would grow and the common stock become worth more in time, in which case it might be to their advantage to convert to common. If the common rose to $50 or more, and appeared fairly sure of staying there.

There is some "income" insurance in convertible preferred stock. If a company isn't prospering, you are more likely to get a dividend on your preferred stock. On the other hand, if the company does prosper and its common stock price reaches a point where you would be financially ahead in converting, you will have had a greater income than you would have had in buying common stock in the first place.

Convertibles may have a call date, by which time the preferred stock must be converted into common stock or be redeemed. Frequently, such preferred stock will sell for less than its face value for several years. When the call date approaches and at which time a stated price will be paid for the stock by the company, the market price will generally rise, because buyers see a chance to make money in converting in a fairly short time.

Have you a question about your investing? Mr. O'Hara will be glad to answer it. Write to: T. E. O'Hara, National Association of Investment Clubs, Box 1050, Detroit, Mich. 48231, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

HIGH-SPEED RAILS
 The Senate has passed the Administration's $90 million, three-year program to develop and test a high-speed rail system. The money would be used over a three-year period to try a plan that would determine whether high-speed intercity transportation can take passengers and vehicles off the highways.

U.S. DEFICIT
 The federal government ended the fiscal year on June 30 with a deficit of $3.5 billion, $2.8 billion below the estimate of six months ago.

Swimming Pool Would Serve Both School, Community

The swimming pool you're asked to vote on as the second building proposal at the Sept. 13 election is another step toward making the Chelsea School District, in the words of Board of Education member Don Alber, "as good" in every regard as any school system in the state.

Initial interest in the pool was spearheaded this summer by the Chelsea Jaycees and other groups interested in having a community pool.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Mattie Miller entered St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor today and is to undergo surgery tomorrow (Friday).

"Community" use aspects of the proposed indoor pool are important. When not in use by students, the pool would be available all year around for individual as well as group swimming by the community at large, the School Board emphasized at its Thursday night meeting. During school hours, it would be used for swimming and water safety classes, plus competitive sports. (Seating would be provided for about 250 persons.)

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Howard had as their guests for the past 10 days Mrs. Howard's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wireman, and Mrs. Howard's brother, W. F. Wireman, from Lucasville, O. On Friday they were joined by Mrs. Howard's sister, Mrs. Vance Minix and Mrs. Lennie Whitaker, also of Lucasville. Mrs. Howard's entire family was with her until Monday. Sunday they all had dinner with Mrs. Howard's niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Salyer of Chelsea.

The planned pool is 45 by 75 feet (or six lanes wide). Shallow end is 3 1/2 feet, deepest point is 11 feet.

The $325,000 cost of the facility would amount to .62 mills per $1,000 of assessed valuation or about $5 a year for the typical homeowner.

Location would be just east of the high school gym on high school property. Though the planned new junior high includes a gym and plenty of playground space, a pool located at the high school would make it easy to include swimming classes in the junior high physical education program.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Los Angeles should teach us that we are dealing with social disease at an advanced stage. The gloomy statistics on family breakdown, overcrowding, crime, illiteracy and unemployment have been building up in plain view over the years, and it is to our shame that it takes something like the Los Angeles riots to give the statistics flush-and-blood reality.

Evaluating the present machinery for dealing with urban problems is difficult since it is still relatively new and untested, and since the problems for which the machinery is set up are already nearly out of hand. Generally speaking, the basic machinery—schools, training programs, welfare and other governmental agencies, private and voluntary groups—does exist; what we need now is the knowledge, understanding, financial muscle, and most of all, the personal commitment and involvement to make the machinery work.

If the machinery is to move effectively, we need a massive improvement in the public's understanding of the demoralizing conditions facing the nation's slum dwellers. With this understanding must come a sense of emergency which will energize not only government agencies but businesses, churches, unions, neighborhood groups, civil rights organizations, into facing up to the dreary, urgent task of overcoming centuries of prejudice, discrimination, and disadvantage.

Since the explosive summer of 1963, legal barriers to equal rights have tumbled at a record rate, and legal safeguards of equal opportunity have been built up. But legal victories do not eliminate prejudice and they have a hollow ring for Negro masses who are ill-equipped to meet the demands and stresses of an urbanized society, and the fight for equal opportunity is entering a new and more difficult phase.

First, citizens gripped by a determination to provide every American with full opportunity to overcome past inadequacies and achieve human dignity; second, equal determination on the part of those provided such opportunity to convert it into equal human dignity by accepting the duty of equal responsibility and the conduct that earns respect and destroys prejudice; and third, determination on the part of all of us to restore profound respect for law and those who enforce it.

Those of us fully familiar with the priceless advantages of being American have the greatest responsibility. On our part, there must be a compelling commitment to end injustice and attack the roots of social and economic disorder, including the hopelessness of life in the slums.

Such a commitment would impart hope to the millions of Negroes already boxed into crowded, inadequate housing. Such a commitment would provide the education, training and economic opportunity indispensable to responsible parenthood and wholesome family life. Such a commitment would result in urgent attention to the children and youth who are growing up without hope and without motivation, direction or responsibility.

You can often judge the intelligence of an individual by his, or her, gullibility in believing rumors and reports.

Balmer Sells Antique Cars At Auction

Two vintage Michigan automobiles will soon be leaving Chelsea. The pair were auctioned off last Sunday, Aug. 29, at Balmer's Brake Service, 140 W. Middle St. Ted Balmer, former owner and restorer of the autos, said a huge crowd was present.

One antique was the famous 1911 Ann Arbor, built by the Huron River Manufacturing Co., and believed to be the only of its kind still in existence. The other, a 1910 Oakland, was the 11th car built in that year by the Oakland Motor Car Co. of Pontiac.

The Ann Arbor netted $4,500 and the Oakland $1,800. Balmer found the Oakland in a junk yard. The Ann Arbor car was purchased from a Wheeler family near Dexter around 1950 for $50. He said it had been shoved off in a corner.

He has restored five antique autos. Each costs between $1,000 and $1,500 to restore and takes about two years. Many have the Ann Arbor car had to be built, he said, because no other cars exist from which he could get original parts.

Stripped down, the old engine, springs, and transmission are re-paired or replaced. The body is painted and upholstering is recovered or cleaned.

The Ann Arbor, originally a dark olive green, now sports a two-tone brown paint job. It has green wooden spoke wheels. The Oakland is bright red with black trim.

The upholstery in the Ann Arbor, except the front seat and top, are original. The original side curtains are found in the trunk, a narrow wooden drawer that pulls out of the back.

The Ann Arbor contains many advanced features. For example, Balmer pointed out that in the 1940's auto manufacturers started to put mirror reflectors behind the headlights. This fancy auto had mirror reflectors back in 1911. And by taking out the two rear seats and lifting off the top, the buggy becomes a pick-up truck.

This classic has a wooden body, metal hood, galvanized fenders, a long brass-bull horn, and acetylene lights.

The purchaser of the Ann Arbor, B. E. French of 100 Underdown Rd., Barton Hills, Ann Arbor, said this was his first antique car. It started out as a group purchase, he said, but when plans to purchase the car as a group fell through, he went ahead and bought it to keep it in the Ann Arbor area.

Cystic Fibrosis Chapter Opens County-Wide Drive

"Give A Child A Breath of Life" is the theme for the annual fund raising drive of the Washtenaw County Chapter of Cystic Fibrosis. Direct mail appeals are being sent to county residents this week. The goal of the drive as announced by the president, Mrs. Robert Starling of Saline, is $4,000.

The Chapter this past year has provided aerosol tents and equipment to many new patients in the area and also helped to pay the salary of a laboratory technician at the University Medical Center.

The C. F. Clinic at the University Medical Center, under the direction of Dr. Burton Perry has more than 60 Cystic Fibrosis children under its care. The three-fold program of the National Headquarters, of care, teaching and research, is making remarkable strides in its effort to find the final control of this dread disease which claims the lives of many of our children.

The Foundation has established a network of Care, Research and teaching Centers throughout the United States. Chapters support the local clinics. Research has improved methods of treatment and prolonged the lives of fibrocystic children. More research is needed to find even better ways to care for patients.

Officers of the Washtenaw County Chapter include Mrs. Robert Starling of Saline, president;

Vaughan Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Cecil Nesbitt, recording secretary; Cecil J. Nesbitt, treasurer; Mrs. Peter Frenzel, corresponding secretary, all of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Montagne of Chelsea are members of the Board of Trustees.

Vegetables Add Good Taste, Color To Dining Table

Ann Arbor—By using imagination and flair in the way you serve vegetables, you can make your meals more attractive in taste, color and texture, say dietitians at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Peas and spinach—good sources of certain nutrients—can lend their natural color to the table. And with the addition of sauces and seasonings, they bring extra sparkle to a meal.

Carrots and beets can perk up the look and the taste of a meal, particularly if served with mint or orange glaze.

Cucumbers, usually eaten raw, take on a novel taste when cooked and served with sour cream or melted butter. And corn gains far more "eye appeal" when prepared Mexican style with green pepper and pimiento, or when baked as a scalloped corn dish.

The U-M food specialists suggest dressing up tossed salads with such greens as romaine, escarole and endive as a welcome addition to the familiar iceberg lettuce.

And if you really want to break away from the meat-and-potatoes routine, surprise the family some evening with okra, kohlrabi, parsnips or others of the less frequently used vegetables.

Vegetables are a "must" for good nutrition, but they also offer countless opportunities for taste treats and attractiveness.

Just A Minute...

By the Rev. James A. Craig

There is an almost eerie, yet somehow sacred, stillness in the early morning at a mountain lake. It's a time before the world's inhabitants wake up and intrude themselves, crudely demanding, on a landscape that was for thousands of years before they came.

The crisp clearness of the air; the cool clarity of the water; the curved contours of the mountain, all caught in the pale brilliance of post-dawn, offer serenity and perspective.

Serenity in that such moments are rare enough when blaring horns and bland conversation don't prohibit the sheer joy of being alive. Serenity in the memory of tranquility that brings new vitality to a person too often rushed.

Perspective comes from the new insight that understands the world as it is. It comes from the knowledge that mountains can be climbed, rivers sustained, the "whole realm of nature" controlled.

Perspective also helps one to see oneself in relation to his surroundings and marvel at his power.

No wonder Thoreau so loved Walden. No wonder governments have parks.

The wonder is whether or not we shall be wise enough to preserve what we have received. There is some doubt.

You probably never think of a beauty shop as a rest stop, but isn't it pleasant to consider it this way? A shampoo is oh, so relaxing. Having someone else arrange the curls means you must spend a few more do-nothing minutes. Then sitting under the drier is like a "pause to refresh"—time to think or read when you can't hear what goes on around you. Spose some of the sparkle in a woman's eyes when she leaves us with her hair at its very prettiest should be attributed to the rest she got!

Auto Injury Record Still Not Good

Lansing — Secretary of State James M. Hare said he was encouraged by Michigan's six-month traffic safety mark in fatalities, which placed the state 37th in the country for deaths per million driven.

"I'm happy with this phase of our safety program," Hare said. "But he dimmed his optimism somewhat by citing some less encouraging aspect of the program."

"We are all prone to judge the success or failure of any traffic program by the number of people killed on our highways. But this is only one side of the coin. Accidents, personal injuries, and property damage are also very important. And they continue to rise."

Hare, who is chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission, said the National Safety Council reported Michigan's more than 4-million drivers had compiled a record of 42 deaths for every 100 million vehicle miles driven during the first six months of 1965, a "pretty good record and a decline of six percent."

"Although this is still much too high, it is an improvement over last year's horrible record, which had as constantly around a mark of five deaths per 100-million vehicle miles."

Hare said the rosy picture "pales even more when considered in the light of accidents, personal injuries, and accident costs."

"What we can't seem to get through is that $1 million a day is being frittered away because of our carelessness on Michigan's roads," Hare charged.

During the first half of 1965, Michigan enforcement officials reported 68,880 personal injuries as a result of traffic accidents, an increase of nine percent over last year's total of 63,348.

"This is rather tragic when considered in the light of the number of persons who are permanently disabled or badly hurt in Michigan accidents."

Death rate of 21.0 per 100,000 population also showed Michigan in a good light, 32nd in the country.

Neighboring Great Lakes states had varying records. Indiana was 20 percent over last year and Ohio was 17 percent increased. On the other hand, Wisconsin had a nine percent drop and Illinois was one percent under 1964 totals.

State Police Plan Extra Patrols for Holiday Week-End

Special holiday traffic patrols will be operated by the Michigan State Police during the 78-hour Labor Day week-end, Commissioner Frederick E. Davids announced.

The patrols will be in effect from noon Friday, Sept. 3, to midnight Monday, Sept. 6.

Traffic accidents during the Labor Day period in Michigan in 1964 killed 20 persons. The hourly rate was one death every three hours.

Urging vigilant motorists and pedestrian attention to safety rules, Commissioner Davids noted that the recent July 4 toll of 21 in the state was held to less than half of the 48 deaths for that holiday in 1964.

Pass days have been cancelled for State Police uniform personnel and assisting again will be 124 members of the National Guard. They will serve as second men on two-man patrols.

State Police records for the Labor Day week-end show tolls of 46 in 1940, the all-time high, and seven in 1944, the low.

Hunting Licenses, Deer Permit Applications Mailed to Dealers

Lansing — Distribution of Michigan's 1965 hunting and trapping licenses and application forms for antlerless deer permits was started this week by the Conservation Department.

First mailings were made to Upper Peninsula dealers who are expected to have licenses and permit applications available with shooting and trapping rules by next week. The same forms and licenses, covering the state's deer, small game and fur-bearing seasons, should be in the hands of Lower Michigan dealers by early September.

Hunters planning to apply for some 228,000 antlerless deer permits available for 56 special areas will then have until Oct. 1 to send completed entry forms to the Conservation Department's Lansing office.

As in the past, they must buy five-year deer hunting licenses in order to get permit applications.

Other forms are also scheduled to be shipped this week to Department facilities and a small number of dealers in southwestern Michigan so that sportsmen may apply to take part in this fall's archery and firearm deer seasons at the Fort Custer Military Reservation near Battle Creek.

These applications should be available sometime next week at license dealers in the Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Jackson, and Grand Rapids areas and at Yankee Springs recreation area, the Department's Plainwell, and Inlay City district offices, its Detroit information office, and the Allegan and Barry state game areas.

They also may be requested through the Department's office services unit in Lansing. To speed the handling of requests, persons writing in for application forms are urged to enclose self-addressed envelopes for return mailing. These forms by groups rather than as individuals, if at all possible.

Deadlines for applying to hunt at the Fort Custer site are Sept. 15 for archers and Oct. 15 for firearm hunters.

For archers, two eight-day hunts are being offered at Fort Custer, with each one to be limited to 500.

Hunter Ability To Identify Teal Will Be Tested

Minneapolis — The short September season on teal adopted by most states in the Mississippi and Central Flyways is an experiment in species management, according to the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

State and federal wildlife specialists hope to learn more about people as well as ducks from this experimental season.

Blue-winged teal are among the most abundant of North American ducks. In recent years, their breeding population has averaged about 4 million. Since the blue-wings migrate earlier than most ducks, hunters do not have an opportunity to harvest many of them.

But blue-winged teal are also known to suffer a relatively high rate of natural mortality. One answer being sought is whether these teal can sustain additional hunting harvest without detrimental effects to their population levels. Additional hunting harvest may only substitute for part of the natural mortality.

A second goal, directly involving the hunter himself, is to determine whether hunters can accurately identify and shoot teal without ill effects to other duck species.

A number of different hunter surveys will be used by the Bureau to evaluate the experimental season. These include hundreds of observations of hunters in the field by state and federal law enforcement officers and biologists; the examination of thousands of duck wings submitted by cooperative hunters; and a mail questionnaire directed to holders of the special teal hunting permits.

Additional facts will be obtained by recoveries of leg bands from thousands of waterfowl banded in recent years in the United States, Canada and Mexico, plus annual breeding ground population surveys which measure the effect of the season on population levels.

Combined information from these sources will determine whether similar teal seasons will be permitted in future years.

No "Mistake" ducks will be allowed, the Bureau has warned. Teal season hunters are cautioned, "Give waterfowl a fair deal—shoot only the teal."

Three Men Pay Fines for Hunting, Fishing Violations

Conservation Officer Donkey Boyer reported the following arrests for hunting and fishing violations.

Patrick R. Setowski, 27, of Wayne, was arrested Aug. 22 for fishing without a license on North Lake. He appeared before Justice Chandler A. Rogers, Sylvan township justice of the peace, on Aug. 28, pleaded guilty and paid $13 in fines and costs.

Victor F. Dibonencio, 30, Bayonne, N.J., was arrested Aug. 22 for fishing without a license on Pleasant Lake. He forfeited bond of $13.

Fred T. Jones, 35, Ann Arbor, was arrested Aug. 26 for hunting grey squirrel during closed season. He appeared before Ann Arbor Municipal Judge Francis L. O'Brien on Aug. 30. He pleaded guilty and paid fine and costs of $17.30.

Veterans will be admitted free to the Michigan State Fair until 3 p.m. on Veterans' Day, Saturday, Aug. 28. The fair runs from Aug. 27 through Sept. 6.

STYLE TIPS for Men Only!

LENGTH OF TROUSERS...

You can wear your trousers too long and they can definitely be too short.

The trousers should not break at the cuff. This looks untidy and causes extra wear on the pants. Also, if they are too long they soil easily from rubbing against the shoes. Standing — you should have no sock showing, with the cuff just grazing the top of your shoes.

THE LETTERBOX

Dear Editor:

We hear so often remarks like, "It was good enough for us when we went to school, it should be good enough for now."

We must pause, and consider that times are not the same as when we went to school. Our children of today are literally being thrown into a very fast changing world and way of life. For them to hope to cope with it, they will have to be well prepared. We, as the older generation can help in this preparation by providing adequate and modern school facilities.

Mrs. Lytle Haselswerdt.

Dear Editor:

In view of the fact that we shall soon be voting on the question of a swimming pool in our school system it should be of interest to know the results of a swimming test given to a representative group of Chelsea High school students.

As you know the Chelsea High School Band (104 members) attended a band camp at Clear Lake near Oxford, last week. A standard swimming test, featuring the four basic swimming strokes, was given to all members of the band who desired to swim. Less than 30 people could pass the test in its entirety which allowed them to swim in deep water. The others, qualified as intermediate swimmers or beginners (these classes of swimmers included some students whose homes were on lakes), and did not allow them to go into deep water.

It seems reasonable to expect all of these students to know how to swim.

Perhaps we all should recognize our obligation to provide a place where adequate swimming instruction may be given to all persons of the community.

Upper Peninsula Public Bear Hunts Set Near Brimley

Lansing — Lower Michigan will be closed to all bear hunting this fall, but sportsmen throughout the state can get in on some real brush-busting action in the Upper Peninsula where at least two public hunts have been scheduled during the region's Sept. 1-15 and Oct. 1-Nov. 5 early bear seasons.

Sounding its call to arms is the Michigan Bear Hunters Association which is lining up organized brush chase to take place in the Brimley area Sept. 4-6 and Oct. 1-3.

Anyone interested in these outings should contact the MBHA at Central Lake, Mich.

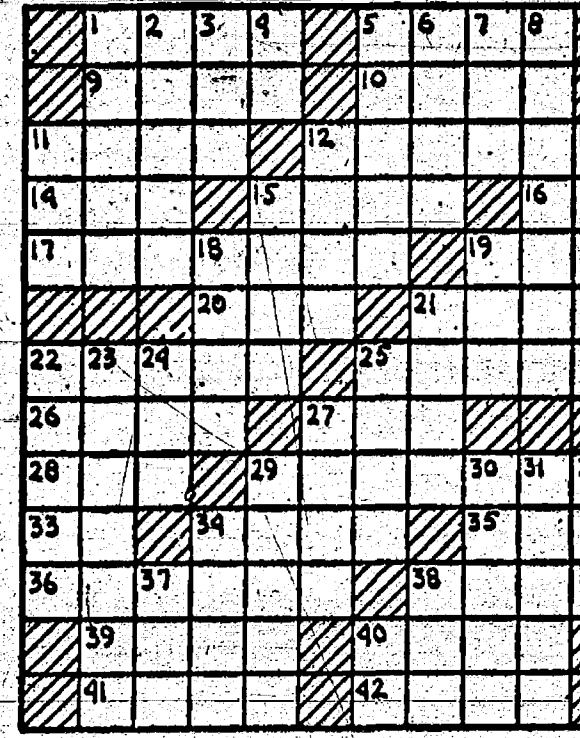

Hunters making preparations for the Upper Peninsula's fast-approaching Sept. 1 opener may now purchase their 1965 bear hunting licenses at Conservation Department district offices throughout the state and at a number of northern field offices, including the Cushman wildlife experiment station at Shingleton.

Bear licenses are also available at these dealers: Russell Reader, Lake City; Top O' Lakes Sporting Goods, Manistique; Harry's Sporting Goods, St. Ignace; Todd's Friendly Service, Brimley; Federal's Department Store, Detroit; and Izzy's Ski and Sport Shop, Iron Mountain.

Driver Improvement Activities Hit New High

Lansing — Driver improvement activities of the Michigan Department of State continued "briskly," climbing to new three-year highs with actions through July 31 totaling more than 30,000.

Through July, Secretary of State James M. Hare reported that hearings by D-I officials numbered 30,518—a hike of more than 5,000 over last year and a climb of 7,000 over 1963.

Cancellations, revocations, suspensions and other driver restrictions based on the point system were almost at the 20,000 mark. This is two months ahead of 1964 pace. It compares with 10,000 in 1964 and 11,000 in 1963.

Other actions, such as instructions and warning letters, also increased over 1964. They totaled nearly 60,000 over the previous two years.
