Holiday Cage Tournament Starts Monday

Night Area Teams Will Compete in Sixth Annual School Basketball Event

Eight teams will battle for the Chelsea Holiday Tournament beginning next Monday, Dec. 27.

Three nights of basketball, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday night games scheduled each beginning at 4:30 p.m., will basketball fans an opportunity to observe local high school teams will battle for the Chelsea Holiday Tournament beginning next Monday, Dec. 27.

In order to complete the final drawing, the following notices were posted in the participating stores:

"By order of the Prosecuting Attorney for Washtenaw County, commencing with the Gifts A-Plenty drawing this week, it will not be necessary for the winner to be present and entry may be made by postcard or other paper bearing name and address and sent to participating merchant, or by using the handy entry slips provided."

Miss Caudill was not present when her name was announced in the participating stores.

Similar programs have been held without similar restrictions in Tecumseh, Plymouth, Ionia and other Michigan cities as well as in many other states.

RALPH RAIROD, JR.

Raiford Takes Position as Scout Exec.

Ralph Raiford, Jr., of 5029 Portage Lake Rd., Dexter, has resigned as manager of Duncer's Department Store in Chelsea to join the Portage Trails Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

He will begin his new duties as a member of the Council Executive Staff in mid-January. Announcement of Raiford's appointment came at 8:30 p.m. yesterday.

The Scout office announced that Raiford will be assigned to serve Scouts in the Livingston County District which currently has 1,200 registered Scouts and adult leaders.

A native of Big Rapids, he graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1927 with a degree in chemistry. He was subsequently employed as a metallurgist by the Dodge Motor Co. in Detroit and as chemist for a private corporation in Milwaukee, Wis.

Since 1934, he has been assigned to the Highway Department's Testing and Research Laboratory in Ann Arbor as a chemical testing engineer.

Gifts A-Plenty Program Hits Legal Trouble

The Chelsea "Christmas Gifts A-Plenty" program officially closed Friday evening, Dec. 17, when the fourth and final name was drawn. Winner during the final week was Barb Caudill of 13600 Old US-12.

The program nearly closed earlier than scheduled when the publisher of "The Chelsea Standard," received word that the Hon. James R. Breakey, Jr., Circuit Court Judge, and William F. Delhey, prosecuting attorney, interpreted the contest as a lottery and were ordering it to be stopped. Lotteries are illegal in Michigan.

According to Michigan law, a lottery must have the following elements: a prize, an element of chance and a consideration. Judge Breakey and Prosecutor Delhey interpreted the requirement that the person whose name was drawn be present to win as being a consideration.

In order to complete the final drawing, the following notices were posted in the participating stores:

"By order of the Prosecuting Attorney for Washtenaw County, commencing with the Gifts A-Plenty drawing this week, it will not be necessary for the winner to be present and entry may be made by postcard or other paper bearing name and address and sent to participating merchant, or by using the handy entry slips provided."

Miss Caudill was not present when her name was announced in the participating stores.

Similar programs have been held without similar restrictions in Tecumseh, Plymouth, Ionia and other Michigan cities as well as in many other states.

Thomas Murphy Retires from State Highway Dept. Job

Thomas D. Murphy of 330 W. Middle St. will retire Jan. 1, after 32 years of service with the Department of State Highways.

Murphy, a chemist with the Highway Testing and Research Division in Ann Arbor, has been em- ployed in that capacity since 1934.

A native of Big Rapids, he graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1927 with a degree in chemistry. He was subsequently employed as a metallurgist by the Dodge Motor Co. in Detroit and as chemist for a private corporation in Milwaukee, Wis.

Since 1934, he has been assigned to the Highway Department's Testing and Research Laboratory in Ann Arbor as a chemical testing engineer.

 day night, 78-72. Have good shooters in Stanford and Shukuit. Conklin, 6-0, lead their line attack.
 John — Won 2 and lost 6. In the suburban Detroit area sole league. Have had trouble starting. Have a team consisting of 10 sophomores and 1 freshman. Won 2 and lost 1. Defeated earlier in the season. Defeated Dundee, Frt. MacMall with outside scoring coming.

Milan — Won 0 and lost 5. Have had trouble getting started. Potentially a strong team. May use the tourney to get unwound. Have good rebounding and scoring in Arnold Petrosky and Ulysses Clark and Tom Wojciech. Have had problems with errors and sluggish starts.

Chester Coach Terry Pokela commented that it looks like a very balanced tournament with Dexter possibly being placed as the favorite because of its record but with Stockbridge, Brighton, Lincoln, Chelsea and St. Mary all capable of grabbing the title.

PEACE AT CHRISTMAS

Through the years, the everlasting beauty of Christmas sparks the spirit of mankind with joy anew and rekindles the hope for true peace in the world.

May the deep meaning of His life be remembered to give us guidance toward a common goal of brotherhood and love. It is with thanks for the gracious considerations of our many good friends that we extend our sincerest wishes for a most joyful Christmas to everyone.

Corpsman Weir Wants His Gifts Sent to Those in Saigon

CORPSMAN JAMES WEIR

Dec. 5, 1965
Dear Mom and Dad—

It was really good hearing your voices again Friday night. I hope all is well there. . . . I hope Chelsea won the game and Mary enjoyed herself.

I've been thinking about Christmas and I've thought of the most wonderful Christmas present anyone could get me—a box of cookies, candies and a fruit cake for the patients in the hospital in Saigon.

Last year I spent a lonely Christmas over there and know what it's like, so I'd like to share my Christmas with them. I'm going to personally send a "California Fruit Pack" to them with a Christmas card full of "thanks" and would heartily suggest the same of everyone over here.

Forget me this Christmas—I've got my family with me—remember me instead with a gift to them! I know it may be a little late but they won't care. I know, it's better late than not at all.

The address of the hospital in case you no longer have it is:

Commanding Officer

U. S. Naval Hospital

Code 40

Care of APO

San Francisco, Calif. 90218

This will put it in charge of the Red Cross lady who distributes games, food and cheer to the wounded in the hospital, OK?

I am also including a special Christmas card just for the wonderful staff at the hospital. I know quite a few of them. As yet, I don't know if any corpsmen were killed or injured. One report had five hospital patients injured with flying glass, so it's entirely possible that some doctors, nurses and corpsmen, were hit. God, what a nightmare!

It may sound stupid, but if I were single I would volunteer to go back over to Saigon. At least I would be accomplishing something. But I'm not single; I'm married with a family and responsibilities so that's out! They come first!!!

Please remember my suggestion for Christmas.

Love,

Jim

Corpsman Weir's suggestion to his parents to send a gift to the hospital in Saigon where he was stationed for 13 months a year ago, is entirely separate from the recent request of Michigan's Governor George Romney for Christmas gifts "for every Michigan serviceman in Vietnam." Weir's plea is for the patients in the U.S. Naval Hospital regardless of their home state. His emphasis is on the fact that he knows, from his own experience, how much the gifts from the United States mean to the patients and he'd much rather have them remembered than receive a gift himself.

Mrs. Weir and their son, Jimmy, two years old, recently returned to Coronado after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rogers, in Grand Rapids and her husband's parents here.

Corpsman Weir's enlistment will be concluded in 1967. Currently, he is expecting to be stationed at Coronado until February, 1968. His address there is HM3 R. J. Weir

Red Cross Adult
Swim Classes
Will Start Jan. 12

The winter series of the Red Cross Adult Swim classes will start Wednesday, Jan. 12, at 7 p.m. at the Ann Arbor High School, Washtenaw County Chapter officials announced today.

Sections for the non-swimmer, intermediate swimmer, swimmer, and Senior Life Saving will again be taught by Red Cross volunteer instructors each Wednesday evening for ten weeks.

These co-educational classes are open to anyone at least 18 years of age in the county. However, registration will be limited. As with all Red Cross classes, there is no charge. A small custodial fee is required by the Ann Arbor Recreation Department and will be collected the first evening in the high school gymnasium, directly adjacent to the school pool. Program arrangements provide that participants bring along their suits, towels, caps and locks.

Registration for any of the groups may be made by calling the Red Cross Operations Center at 662-5540 not later than Jan. 11.

NIGHT OF CAKES
 In Ireland, Christmas Eve is often called the Night of Cakes. This name is based on the custom still practiced, of baking special Christmas Eve cakes spiced with caraway seeds.

Until about 566 A.D., the use of evergreens for decorations at Christmas was forbidden by church authorities.

Native Son L. J. Kalmbach Lauded By 'Adopted' City

Leland J. Kalmbach, who has been affiliated with the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. at Springfield, Mass., since 1948, was described in recent publicity regarding major developments of the company as a "sustaining influence in Massachusetts' Mutual's leadership in the insurance industry and the Springfield community." He is now the chairman of the board of Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co.

News of Kalmbach's successful career is of interest to Chelsea friends and relatives—he and his wife, both are natives of Chelsea and graduated from Chelsea High school. They still maintain a home here—the former home of Mrs. Kalmbach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Alber, at 415 S. East St., and recently returned to Massachusetts after spending some time here. Mrs. Kalmbach is the former Letha Alber.

After his graduation from high school Kalmbach enrolled at the University of Michigan, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and to Delta Sigma Pi, a professional fraternity. He was graduated with honors in 1923.

Before joining Massachusetts Mutual Kalmbach had held positions with Cleveland Life Insurance Co., and Lincoln National Life Insurance Co., of Fort Wayne, Ind., where, at the age of 36, he was promoted to a vice-presidency.

His father, the late John Kalmbach, was a Chelsea lawyer and served at one time in the Michigan state legislature.

Three major developments of Massachusetts Mutual in recent weeks have served to place Kalmbach in the lime-light. As board chairman, according to information received here, he is regarded as one of the best known and most knowledgeable executives in the giant insurance industry. A civic-spirited man, Kalmbach has been one of the major forces in sustaining Massachusetts' Mutual's continued growth in the industry as well as in the Greater Springfield community.

He is active in industry and civic groups, and currently is a member of the board of the Life Insurance Association of America, an association of life insurance companies with about 90 percent of the total assets of the entire industry. Kalmbach served as the association's board chairman in 1904.

LELAND J. KALMBACH

Active for many years in University of Michigan affairs, Kalmbach was instrumental in the founding of the Presidents Club of the university and served as first chairman of that club's executive committee. He also is a former chairman of the university's Development Council and in May, 1902, received the fifth annual Business Leadership Award of the University's School of Business Administration.

A fellow of the American Society of Actuaries, he also is a former member of the board of governors of the American Institute of Actuaries and has served as chairman of the executive committee of the Medical Impairment Bureau.

He serves as a director of New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., and Sheraton Corp. of America and formerly was a member of the finance committee of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

In addition Kalmbach has received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from American International College and an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree from Springfield College for his contributions to education and community life.

An ardent golf enthusiast, he is on the board of governors of Augusta National Golf Club, Augusta, Ga., and has played golf with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, a personal friend, and other well known personalities such as Bob Hope and George Gobel.

Kalmbach has also served as a trustee of the Eastern States Exposition Corp., and the United Fund of Greater Springfield.

The three recent major developments of Massachusetts Mutual, previously mentioned as having been announced by the company, include an agreement to sponsor financially a considerable portion of a planned $25 million Springfield Central Business District development program.

The other two "developments" are announcement that Massachusetts Mutual in late October, had $1 billion insurance in force and that in early November, the company passed the $1 billion level in outstanding mortgage loans. The latter milestone was reached with announcement of the completion of a $11.2 million transaction in New York City.

Massachusetts Mutual, listed the 10th largest in total assets of the nation's more than 1,600 life insurance firms and among the 40 largest business organizations of the country, is headed by Kalmbach and the company's president, Charles H. Schaaf.

When Kalmbach was elected president of the company in 1950

he became the youngest man in the nation ever to head a major insurance firm. At that time he was 49 years old.

He became board chairman of Massachusetts Mutual Insurance Co. in 1962.

Mr. and Mrs. Kalmbach make their home at Somers, Conn.

Their son, John, is married and lives in New York City.

Leland Kalmbach has two brothers and a sister—Dr. Ronald Kalmbach, a physician in Lansing, Lloyd Kalmbach, now of New York, and Ethel, widow of Hollis Freeman, who lives in California.

Unique Holiday Message Started Greeting Cards

Christmas Cards Tell of Changes in People's Lives

It was the "Golden Age of Christmas." The personal exchange of good wishes, visiting homes to toast a friend's good health, carol-singing, bringing in the Yule log and great family dinners were all in vogue.

A new book was published that year. It told of Christmas goose and plum pudding, of happy family-parties, it presented, and made immortal, Ebenezer Scrooge, Bob Cratchit and Tiny Tim. The book was Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," and the year was 1843.

Appropriately during this "Golden Age of Christmas," the now universally popular custom of sending Christmas greeting cards began.

The very first card authorities now agree, is the celebrated Cole-Horsley, designed and printed in London in 1843. Only a dozen of the original 1,000 copies are known to exist, and two of these, including the only unsigned and unposted specimen, are part of the Hallmark Historical Collection.

When not on display in museums and similar institutions, the collection is filed in a specially constructed vault at Hallmark Cards in Kansas City, Mo.

Sir Henry Cole, a wealthy London gentleman, and founder of the Victoria and Albert Museum, asked

The tradition of exchanging Christmas cards is a charming part of the joyous holiday, and it has a history of its own.

One of the most interesting parts of that history is the way that greeting cards serve to record changing social customs, manners and fashions through the years, points out Miss Esther Mooney, curator of the Norcross, Inc., greeting card collection.

For instance, an English card of 1892 shows the formality existing between parents and children during the Victorian era. Here, a little girl kneels solemnly at her mother's knee, sedately offering her a Christmas bouquet, what she wish.

"May your life be a Merry Christmas."

Modern cards take a livelier, more light-hearted approach. Even earlier, greeting cards began to reflect an easier sort of filial relationship. Declares a 1930 card: "cheers a Merry Christmas and you, Dad!"

Careful drivers never know when they save their own lives.

his friend, John C. Horsley, noted artist and member of the Royal Academy, to design the now-famous card as an unusual means of expressing his kind wishes to friends at the holiday season.

may you and your loved ones have a merry Christmas, and enjoy all the traditional festivities and delights of this glad time.

Customs Vary In Different Countries

Celebrating the happy holiday of Christmas is an almost universal custom, and many of the traditions belonging to the day are universal, too.

Gift giving, trees and brightly glowing lights are holiday habits that have found their way to almost every corner of the globe.

Along with the similarities in the way people observe Christmas go just as many differences from country to country, from city to city, from family to family, holiday customs vary, sometimes just enough to show the touch of individual imagination, and sometimes so greatly that it seems hard to believe the same day is being commemorated.

Fun and Feasting . . .

It's traditional to receive gifts during the Yuletide season, but the time is not always December 25, and the gift-giver is not always Santa.

One of the earliest Christmas giving takes place in the Netherlands according to the Book of Knowledge. Here, the children receive their gifts from St. Nicholas on December 5. The date, appropriately enough, is called St. Nicholas Eve, in honor of the real St. Nicholas, a fourth century bishop.

Christmas gift giving in Italy comes on January 5, which is known as Epiphany Eve. The traditional gift giver is Befana. Legend says that Befana misdirected the wise men, and now she seeks to atone by going about the world doing good to children.

In Scandinavian countries, gifts are given on St. Lucy's Day, December 13.

The time for gift giving in Puerto Rico and Spain is January 6, the day when, traditionally, the wise men came to Bethlehem.

Gifts Giving . . .

A merry, hearty feast is traditional at Christmas, but the ingredients are not always the same. Norwegian might serve instead of turkey and trimmings, codfish and pickled pork, while baked carp is a favored Christmas delicacy in Austria.

Christmas dining customs change with time, too. History describes a "traditional" Christmas feast of seventeenth century Quebec, a feast that would be considered somewhat unusual today.

Before each dinner, the feast was placed a bowl of birch bark or polished basswood and a spoon of bark. The diners supplied their own knives, and there were no forks.

Into the bowl went first the appetizers—cornbread and a boiled mixture of eels, salmon and beans. The soup course was a rich meat broth, thickened with nuts. Vegetables included corn, peas and baked squash.

The main course featured roast venison and squirrel pies, with baked wild pigeons, partridges, blackbirds, owls—all served together.

Dessert consisted of cake of maple sugar or sunflower seeds and nuts, topped with a sauce of boiled dried berries.

He who lives at high tension usually blows a fuse.

SONIC CHRISTMAS PARTY Olive Lodge 156 A&F&M and OES Chapter 108 had their annual Christmas party Saturday night. Approximately 75 persons attended the party, including Santa Claus, who passed out treats to the youngsters. Pictures were taken and refreshments were served.

YOUNG CITIZENS

Senior Citizens attended their Christmas card party at the former House on Dec. 15. A Christmastrab-bag was held. Everyone brought refreshment snacks, which were served with coffee. Mrs. Mary Burg provided a beautiful Christmas tree and was the hostess for the party. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Dec. 28. All Senior Citizens are invited.

NORTH LAKE EXTENSION

North Lake Extension Study group held their annual Christmas party on Dec. 15 at the home of Carl Lesser with Mrs. Clarke Ottoman co-hostess for the occasion. A short business meeting was held and a lesson on "Christmas Crafts" was given by Mrs. Norma Lesser. Mrs. Alvin Lesser had charge of the Christmas story and gift exchange. The next meeting will be Jan. 15 at the home of Mrs. Edwin Mullis of Island Lake Rd. A film on the Sherwin-Williams Paint on "Home Decorating" will be shown and narrated by a company representative.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Crofoot entertained at a pre-Christmas party Saturday evening at their home in Hamburg. Trimming the Christmas tree was the evening's entertainment, with the guests bringing hand-made tree ornaments to help with the tree-decorating. Further carrying out the theme of home-made decorations, cranberries and marshmallows were hung and placed on the tree. Guests at the party included Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cotton of Elkhorn and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Eaton of Ann Arbor. Mr. Eaton is a University of Michigan student. A buffet supper was served. Mr. Crofoot is employed as a writer at The Chelsea Standard. Chairman of the kitchen committee was Mrs. Harry Prudden.

Older Adult Group Enjoys Christmas Party

The Christmas party of the Older Adult group of the Methodist church was held Saturday, Dec. 18, in the social center of the church with 40 present. Tables were decorated in candles, angels and other Christmas decorations by Mrs. Rae Lillie, chairman of decorations, assisted by Mrs. Lyman Adams.

The opening prayer was given by the Rev. W. A. Johnson of the Methodist Home. Mrs. James Craig presented corsage and buttonhole to the Rev. and Mrs. Johnson in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving day.

The primary department of the Methodist church sang Christmas carols for the group. Devotions were given by Mrs. Mabel Foster on the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem. Mrs. Craig showed the group an advent wreath that her sister had brought from Germany.

Mrs. Raymond Schalver read a Christmas story, "The Birds' Christmas Carol," by Kate Douglas Wiggin. Mrs. Loring Bates read a poem that Mrs. Walter Vlary brought, entitled "The Little Christmas Donkey." Mrs. Rae Lillie read a poem written by the Rev. Lloyd Merrell from the Methodist Home. The Rev. and Mrs. Merrell could not be present because he is in the Mercy Hospital in Jackson.

Mrs. Loring Bates and Mrs. James Craig were in charge of the program. The next meeting will be Jan. 15.

Landscapers Urge Winter Tree Planting

If your yard needs a large tree or two to give it a more established look, plant them this winter.

Winter months are an excellent time to transplant trees that are 15 to 20 feet high and three to four inches in diameter at chest height. This is the advice of Joseph Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State University.

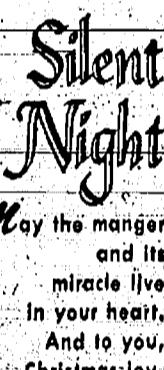

He explains that trees are moved more easily in the winter because a ball of earth can be frozen around the root system and then the tree can be moved by a mechanical lift into a new hole without damaging the roots. This eliminates wrapping the roots in burlap, a necessary step during warmer months.

Cox advises selecting the spot for the new trees now while the ground is still soft and then bedding it down with straw so the tree will not freeze. This will make it easier to dig the planting hole for the new tree.

Planting trees in the winter saves costly labor and also utilizes help year around in the nurseries.

Builders who want a finished landscape for new construction will find winter transplants both efficient and economical.

Ava MacDougall, W. N. Frisinger Wed Here at St. Barnabas Church

White altar flowers, pine sprays and red bows decorated St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Ann Arbor Monday evening, Dec. 17, when Ava Lillian MacDougall and William Nathan Frisinger exchanged wedding vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah F. P. MacDougall of Cassidy Rd., Chelsea. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Max Frisinger of Ann Arbor. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Smucker of Chelsea's St. Barnabas Episcopal church. Approximately 150 guests witnessed the 7:30 p.m. ceremony. George R. Hunsche provided organ music.

The bridal gown consisted of white, floor-length peau de soie styled with a controlled bell skirt. The fitted bodice was re-embroidered with alencon lace which dipped to points on the sleeves and extended down the back of the bodice to a peau de soie bow, from which the chapel-length train descended. A slightly scooped neckline and fingertip sleeves completed the bodice of the gown. The bridal fingertip veil of two tiers of illusion was attached to a lace covered taffeta pillbox decorated with oat pearls. The bride carried a sheaf of white carnations centered around a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Diane Edwards of Chelsea, wore a floor-length forest green velvet gown with a boat neckline, long sleeves and a fitted bodice. The skirt had a white lace bow at the waistline with streamers which fell to the floor and an A-line skirt. Her green veil was attached to a dark green velvet pillbox headpiece decorated in front with a white lace bow. She carried a round colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums entwined with red ribbons.

The bridesmaid, Miss Nancy Huelsberg of 20930 Sager Rd., wore an identical gown and headpiece and carried a bouquet similar to that of the maid of honor.

The junior bridesmaid was the bride's niece, Miss Alyce MacDougall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacDougall of Lansing. She wore a floor-length empire styled green velvet gown with cuffed sleeves and a green velvet bow at the waistline. Her headband was also of the forest green velvet.

David Whittaker of Ann Arbor was the best man. James Frisinger, brother of the bridegroom, Robert MacDougall, brother of the bride, and Paul Frisinger, a cousin of the bridegroom, seated the bridegroom at the head of the new-treasured.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. MacDougall selected a navy and light blue print two-piece jacket dress of peau de soie. Her accessories were in navy and she wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Frisinger chose a beige wool dress with brown lace embroidery on the sleeves and beige accessories. She also wore an orchid corsage.

Assisting at the reception at St. Andrew's following the wedding were Miss Mary Frisinger, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Sherry Frisinger, cousin of the bridegroom; Miss Sandra Sharrard; Miss Kathy Taylor; Miss Chris Taylor and Miss Linda Stephens.

For traveling, Mrs. Frisinger selected a two-piece suit of light blue wool with navy accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The wedding trip will take them through north-central Ontario, Quebec City, Montreal, Maine, Vermont and Connecticut. The couple will be at home at 13730 Rustic Drive on North Lake after Jan. 5.

Mrs. Frisinger graduated in 1962 from Chelsea High school. She is a senior at the University of Michigan majoring in English, and is a member of the School of Education student council.

The bridegroom graduated from Ann Arbor High school and the University of Michigan. He will receive a master's degree in engineering in April. He is a member of the Ulrich Ski Club at the University of Michigan.

Democrats Meet Last Wednesday at Sylvan Town Hall

Warren Smith, professor of economics at the University of Michigan, addressed approximately 50 persons at the Sylvan Township Hall on W. Middle St. on Wednesday, Dec. 15.

Topic of his speech was the increase of the Federal Reserve interest rate. He discussed the origin and makeup of the Federal Reserve system. Economists are divided on whether or not the increase will check inflation, he reported.

Members of the Washtenaw County Democratic Committee, county democrats, and other interested persons attended the meeting. Christmas cookies and coffee were served after the meeting.

Zotkin A. Ferency, state Democratic chairman and the scheduled speaker, was unable to attend the meeting.

DEATHS

Truman M. Lehmann

Dies Sunday Morning
At Ann Arbor Hospital

Truman M. Lehman, a life-long resident of Waterloo township, Jackson county, died Sunday morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, following a brief illness. He was 88 years old.

Born June 11, 1877, in Waterloo township, he was a son of Henry and Emma Musbach Lehmann and was married Aug. 19, 1919, to Nina Kalmbach. They made their home at 247 Francisco Rd.

He had farmed and also was employed for 18 years at Federal Screw Works and then for 18 years at Central Fibre Products Co., Chelsea, before his retirement several years ago.

Surviving are his widow; a daughter, Mrs. Austin Artz (Nadine) of Grass Lake; two brothers, Clarence and Hazen Lehmann, both of Chelsea; four sisters, Mrs. Victor Moekel (Jone) of Waterloo, Mrs. Arthur Wahl (Aurie) of Manchester; Mrs. Walter Bohne (Eva) of Grass Lake, and Mrs. Rue Whipple (Catherine) of Jackson; and three grandchildren.

A son, Arnold Lehmann, died Feb. 13, 1958. Three brothers also preceded him in death: Emory, of Munith, who died April 27, 1965; William Henry died June 15, 1954; and John died Jan. 7, 1944.

Mr. Lehmann was a life-long member of Salem Grove Methodist church where funeral services were held at 2 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday). The Rev. George T. Nevin officiated and burial followed in the church cemetery.

Arrangements were in charge of the Burghardt Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Salem Grove Church Memorial Fund.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Martin Hechler of 4439 Kalmbach Rd., returned home Wednesday from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, where he underwent an operation for the removal of his larynx.

We take this opportunity to wish everyone a

Saturday at the Sylvan Town Hall. The goods were contributed by many civic, church and social groups to needy families by the Chelsea Social Service.

Food, Toys Given for Needy

A helping hand was once again extended Saturday when the Chelsea Social Service bestowed Christmas boxes of canned foods and mixes, pur- tos to 30 needy area families at the Sylvan Town Hall. Approximately 100 children benefitted from the distribution.

Distributing the goods on behalf of the Social Service were Mrs. David Colquhoun, assistant director, assisted by Mrs. William Travis, Mrs. Louis S. Abel, Mrs. Edwin Eaton and Patrick Merkel. Mrs. Louis Ramp, director of the Social Service, was present during the distribution.

Mrs. Gerald Blough reported that she took many card samples to the pediatric floors of the University of Michigan Hospital for the children to cut out, read and so on.

Mrs. Ellenwood donated a 16-piece set of party dishes to the Auxiliary.

Various committees reported on their progress with the March of Dimes Drive. The Mothers' March will be on Feb. 1 and any volunteer marchers are most welcome.

Scientist Discover Secret Of Tiny Bird's Energy Source

There are many bird watchers in the Chelsea area, particularly as winter approaches and they begin stocking their feeders located in spots where the birds may be seen as they stop for their "free-meals."

An article which recently appeared in a bulletin published for distribution in metropolitan and state-park areas proved of special interest to these people.

The article is related particularly to the migration of birds and asks the question, "How do birds weighing less than one ounce store enough energy to fly 600 miles without stopping?"

Among birds which spend their summers in Michigan and Ohio and then go south for the winter are the red-eyed vireo, the bobolink, wood thrush and the tiny ruby-throated hummerbird.

These birds leave the southeastern part of the United States and fly directly across the Gulf of Mexico to Yucatan, a distance of approximately 600 miles over the open sea.

Scientists studying this phenomenon have learned that after reaching their "point of departure" in the southern part of the United States the birds have been known to remain there a week to feed and that they may store their own weight in fat in the one week; this fat being chemically different than that ordinarily produced, it is evidently converted directly into energy for the long flight.

This "fattening" of birds was discovered by examining the bodies of birds which had been killed by striking television towers in Michigan and others in Florida. The fat was deposited in masses under the skin and in the abdomen.

Catching some of the migrant birds in mist nets as they arrived in the tropics confirmed the scientists' belief that the birds stored up fat before leaving the United States to use as fuel for their long trip since their weight at the end of the 600-mile flight was approximately the same as when they left their breeding grounds in Michigan and Ohio.

Because of this ability of birds to store up their own weight in fat in one week and burn it up in the space of a 24-hour flight, national health officials are reportedly becoming interested in bird migration studies. Knowledge of fat metabolism in migrant birds might help provide some answers to the problem of obesity in man and thus play a part in the fight against heart disease.

Information relative to the recently-gained knowledge of the rotation of fat storage in migratory birds was compiled for the park service by Elliott Gramer, Trailside Naturalist at the North Chagrin Museum of the Cleveland Metropolitan Parks. He is a graduate student in biology at the University of Georgia.

James Hanson Listed On CMU Honor Roll

James W. Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur H. Hanson of 545 Howard Rd., was one of 716 Central Michigan University students to achieve a cumulative average of B or better for the spring semester 1964-65. The announcement was made by Dean of Students C.M. Pike, Jr. Central Michigan University is located in Mt. Pleasant.

Twenty-nine of the students had 4.0, all A averages for the semester. Other Washtenaw County students with cumulative averages of B or better are: Rose Marie Wandel, junior from Ann Arbor; Paul Wm. Wright, sophomore from Ann Arbor; Mary K. Grannum, junior from Bellevue; Sharon E. MacLeod, freshman from Manchester; Donna Sue Cutler, freshman from Milan; and Anna M. Belcher, junior from Ypsilanti.

Hanson is a sophomore this year, but the announcement concerned grades earned while a freshman at the University.

BOLLINGER SANITATION SERVICE

INVESTOR

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I am thinking of buying some bonds. The ones my broker has recommended are debentures. Would you discuss this and other types of bonds I might get?

A. First a word about corporate bonds in general: A bond is a blank or IOU. The issuer is a borrower and the purchasers are lenders. The issuer sells the bonds and promises to repay the principal at a specified maturity to pay a set rate of interest in the meantime.

Bonds are a less speculative investment than common stocks because the corporation is pledged to pay the bond interest first, before it disburses dividends on any of its stock. But because your risk is smaller, your rate of return is usually limited and does not have the possibility of dividend increases or price appreciation that might occur on the common stock of a thriving corporation.

Bonds have another built-in "insurance" feature lacking in common stocks: if the corporation should go out of business, the bondholders have claim to its assets ahead of the stockholders. This is because bondholders are creditors, whereas stockholders are the owners of the company. Now as to the various types of bonds:

Mortgage bonds. In issuing those, the corporation pledges specific assets it owns that are to be sold to pay off the bonds if the company is not able to meet its obligations on them. Such assets might be a building or land, for instance.

Collateral trust bonds. These are secured by collateral, such as bonds or stocks in other companies, or by notes.

Debenture bonds. These are secured only by the general credit of the issuing corporation, and no specific assets have been pledged as in the case of the others discussed. This, however, doesn't mean that a debenture necessarily is a poorer risk. A corporation able to sell debentures is usually in such good financial condition and its credit so good that such bonds constitute a preferred risk. Indeed, the debentures of a solid corporation might be more desirable than the mortgage bonds of a less-seasoned corporation.

Q. Our investment club is eight years old. A few weeks ago we took in two new members. They insist that they should have equal voting power on all club business, including (and especially) new investments. We older members say we have more rights since we have far more at stake. Who is right?

A. Bluntly, the older members, The experience of the National Association of Investment Clubs with thousands of investment clubs suggests that on all business having to do with the general club operations or policies—election of officers, acceptance of new members, etc.—the members have one vote each.

But, to borrow from author George Orwell, NAIC believes

"all are equal, but some are more equal than others" when it comes to the purchase and sale of club securities.

There are good, solid reasons for this. In the first place, the older members have much more at stake. In the second place, they probably have had much more experience watching and taking part in stock transactions.

And this "more equal" idea applies to new purchases, even though the new member's money goes into new investments on an equal basis with the others. The club is not divided up on a basis of money as it comes in, but on a basis of total holdings.

Have you a question about your own or your club's investment program? Mr. O'Hara will be glad to answer it. Write to T. E. O'Hara, National Association of Investment Clubs, Box 1050, Detroit, Michigan 48231, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Oklahoma Governor Urges Water Conservation Action

Action on water conservation use must be taken now; action which "should have begun on a realistic basis two decades ago," stated the Honorable Henry Bellmon, governor of Oklahoma, in a talk on "Government and Water" before the Chamber of Commerce International Water Conference in Washington, D.C., on Dec. 9.

He discussed these questions: What is America's water problem? How serious is it? What could be our objectives in meeting the problem? What is the role of government and the citizen in water use and conservation efforts?

He said "... there is no single water problem, but problems of varying kinds. Further, these problems are not national in identity but instead regional, state or local in scope and extent."

Gov. Bellmon then listed considerations that generally apply to our multiple problems:

1. "Our problem is not simply providing an adequate amount of water but assuring its quality and availability to users.

2. "In defining pollution standards tolerances account must be taken of the uses to which water is to be put.

"The purpose of standards of water quality criteria should be to prohibit water usage but help assure its efficient and economical use.

3. "Anticipated population growth with broadening urban concentration in all our states and the attendant increased industrial and agricultural uses make it imperative that pollution abatement endeavors be designed to enable the frequent reuse of water.

4. "Every state in the union has municipalities with inadequate, obsolete, or non-existent sewage treatment facilities.

5. "Pollution is an emotional subject that has great political implications which can have the effect of leading to wasteful false starts and unproductive endeavor stemming from uninformed and unrealistic approaches to the problems involved.

6. "Private enterprise will bear a substantial part of the cost of alleviating our present problems and in future actions."

In discussing pollution he noted that "... public-industrial, agricultural, and governmental water use, as well as natural pollution causes, has created critical problems in most of our nation's 50 major river basins." He said that we should think in terms of "useable water" rather than absolutely "clean water" or distilled water as our objective.

Gov. Bellmon believes that an overall effort to solve the nation's water problems will require a large amount of governmental involvement; "that each governmental entity assume principal responsibility for those areas of jurisdiction in which it is best suited to provide leadership," and that what a particular governmental body can do will depend on its capabilities with primary authority at the state level.

There are orderly steps which should be followed in water resource planning, he noted. These include the classification of a stream based on water use; the development of water quality criteria consistent with the established uses; and the establishment of cleanliness standards based on current knowledge and an awareness of the costs involved.

In conclusion he listed the specific steps he felt the administration of a state might take to develop an active water resources program.

Judge Chandler A. Rogers claims to have been born in Texas longhorn-Rio Grande territory near the Alamo according to the Kiwanis reporter Paul Niehaus. He graduated from Chelsea High school and was employed in New York City by Dr. Royal S. Copeland, originally of Dexter and Chairman Earl Doletzky points out that the ASC county and community farmer-committee are in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, acreage allotments, the National Wool Program, the Sugar Program, commodity loans, storage facility loans and the Cropland Adjustment Program.

Donald Pierce Injured When Car Leaves Road

Donald F. Pierce, 28, of 12172 Jackson Rd., was injured at 5:45 a.m. Monday when he lost control of his car while reaching into the back seat for his hat. His 1963 Chevrolet Corvair ran into a ditch on the south side of Jackson Rd. in front of 7080 Jackson Rd. in Scio township. The vehicle was thrown back onto the road and into a ditch on the north side, where it rolled over and came to rest on its right side, then skidded 210 feet from the point where it had first left the road. The top, sides and front of the vehicle were damaged.

Kiwianians Give Biographies At Monday Evening Meeting

Four Kiwanians presented brief resumes of their life history at the Monday evening meeting of the Chelsea Kiwanis club at the Congregational church.

Gene Miller was born in Detroit, later moved to Brooklyn, Grass Lake and Chelsea, where his father taught school. The family later moved to Paw Paw, where Gene graduated from High school in 1954. He graduated from Western Michigan College in 1958 and the University of Michigan Dental School in 1962. After his marriage in 1962, he spent two years with Uncle Sam in Washington state before coming to Chelsea in July, 1964. The Millers have one child, Karen Marie, 21 months old.

Jack Wellnitz was born in Adrian, graduated from Chelsea High school in 1947, and was married in 1950. He has been employed by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for 18 years. They have three sons: Jack, 12, Barton, 10, and Gary, 8, and one daughter, Jennifer, 16 months.

Judge Chandler A. Rogers claims to have been born in Texas longhorn-Rio Grande territory near the Alamo according to the Kiwanis reporter Paul Niehaus. He graduated from Chelsea High school and was employed in New York City by Dr. Royal S. Copeland, originally of Dexter and Stanley Gill, Superior, first alternate, one-year; Charles Braun, Ann Arbor, second alternate, one year.

The election was held at a county convention Dec. 10 at the County Building, Ann Arbor. Electors were farmers chosen as convention delegates at recent ASC community committee elections throughout the county.

Chairman Earl Doletzky points out that the ASC county and community farmer-committee are in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, acreage allotments, the National Wool Program, the Sugar Program, commodity loans, storage facility loans and the Cropland Adjustment Program.

The ASC county office at Ann Arbor is headquarters for the county committee, and serves as the farmers' legal contact for business connected with participation in the programs administered by the committees.

Donald Pierce Injured When Car Leaves Road

Donald F. Pierce, 28, of 12172 Jackson Rd., was injured at 5:45 a.m. Monday when he lost control of his car while reaching into the back seat for his hat. His 1963 Chevrolet Corvair ran into a ditch on the south side of Jackson Rd. in front of 7080 Jackson Rd. in Scio township. The vehicle was thrown back onto the road and into a ditch on the north side, where it rolled over and came to rest on its right side, then skidded 210 feet from the point where it had first left the road. The top, sides and front of the vehicle were damaged.

By federal law doctors and nurses of the U.S. Public Health Service became the Coast Guard's "medical arm" in 1914.

Deer Causes Another Auto Accident in Sylvan

A deer apparently caused another accident early Sunday morning in Sylvan township. Glen Earl Helm, 17, of 17487 Helm Rd. Chelsea, told Washtenaw county sheriff's officers that he lost control of his car when he tried to miss a deer as he was driving on Sylvan Rd. one mile south of Old US12 at 2:55 a.m.

According to the sheriff's officers, the 1968 Chevrolet struck the bank at the edge of the road and was damaged on the front and sides. The driver received minor injuries. Speed of the vehicle was listed at 60 miles per hour.

Legion Christmas Party

Approximately 72 persons attended the Christmas turkey dinner Saturday evening. The dinner, attended by members of the American Legion and Auxiliary, consisted of turkey and the trimmings, with salads, vegetable and dessert dishes brought by the members.

Santa Claus appeared to present gifts for the children who attended.

Ann Arbor Western Kiwanis meeting Tuesday noon.

The next meeting will be at the Congregational church at 6:15 p.m. Dec. 27.

Famous People Call Yule Their Birthday

A young farmer's wife in England gave birth to a son in 1804, for the entire United States. In 1821, a baby girl was born in the Massachusetts village of Oxford. In 1865, the wife of a militant Christian crusader gave birth to her fourth daughter. And in 1883, in Paris, an artist's model bore a baby boy.

What did these four births have in common? In each case, the child was born on Christmas Day, and grew up to become a famous person. According to the Book of Knowledge, these well-known "Christmas babies" were Clara Barton, Evangelina Booth, Maurice Utrillo, and Sir Isaac Newton.

Clara Barton, Civil War nurse was born on Christmas Day in 1821. It was her warm thoughts of Christmas that led her, when she set off to visit her brother, a prisoner during the Civil War, to offer to take presents not only to him but to the prisoner relatives of all her Oxford, Mass., neighbors.

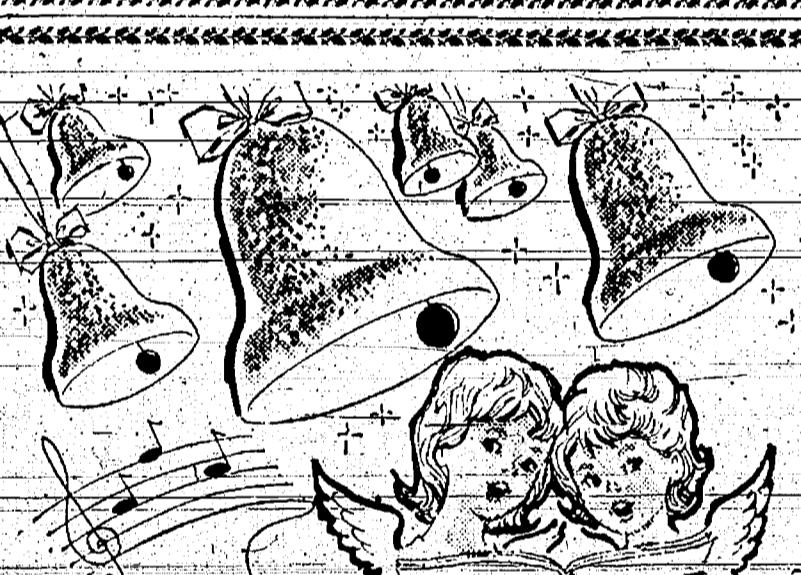

Subsequently, Clara Barton was instrumental in founding the American Red Cross and served as its president for many years. In Salvation Army.

Born on Christmas Day in 1865, Evangelina Booth was the fourth daughter of the Salvation Army founder, William Booth. By the age of 23, she was head of the Salvation Army in London, and has toys.

May the miracle of the Christ Child be upon your home and in your hearts this Christmas Day. May the good Lord bless and keep you and your loved ones.

Peace Corps Volunteers Change Race Relation Views

Ann Arbor — A number of Peace Corps volunteers from the United States changed their views about race relations during a two-year teaching stint in Ghana, Africa.

Assistant professor Raphael S. Ezekiel of the University of Michigan, who spent two summers interviewing the teachers in their secondary schools, says the attitudes of many of the volunteers became liberalized regarding race and minority relations.

Ezekiel's research was done with Professor M. Lester Smith, University of California, as part of an international study for the Peace Corps. The findings will be presented in a book to be published by John Wiley & Sons.

"Some volunteers found that the distinction between races had become a fairly irrelevant concept," Ezekiel says. "The importance of a category began to melt in the face of experience. For two years they had acted in a warm, nurturant fashion with young African students, to whom they had reacted as individual people."

They also became acquainted with the enormous difference within groups, Ezekiel points out. The volunteers "began to see that labeling and emphasizing differences between groups served to obscure reality and lessen the richness of their own lives."

An interesting occurrence placed the volunteers in the role of being the butt of innocent stereotyping by small children, he says. "The Ghana children would wave at the volunteer teachers, and, without malice, call out an expression meaning 'white man, white man.' Such an experience may have increased the volunteers' sensitivity, Ezekiel points out, to the feelings of a man who is seen only in terms of his group label.

Other reasons given for the liberalized attitudes "evidenced" by Peace Corps workers include:

A concern that segregation gave America a bad image abroad. Self-consciousness about being treated kindly in Africa by Africans. The volunteers "wished to think of the reception those Africans would meet in their home towns."

At the time, Ghanaian newspapers were carrying stories and pictures of Birmingham — police dogs lunging at demonstrators.

The race problem became salient as the volunteers thought about returning home.

The teaching volunteer often said he "would be a changed person when he returned to America," says Ezekiel. "He said he would find racism statements too wrong-headed to be tolerated" when interviewed during the second summer in Africa.

"The student expected often to engage in tutoring or other activist work. Several girls reported they could no longer envision bringing up their children in a segregated society. They would insist upon a multi-racial environment," Ezekiel explains.

Study project director, Professor M. B. Smith, also found that the volunteers, compared during training, and near completion of the two-year stay, evidenced a "decrease in authoritarianism." This friends.

Christmas Cards Are Quite Recent Holiday Custom

"Merry Christmas!" The custom of extending holiday greetings to friends undoubtedly goes back many years, but the Christmas card as a means of expressing those greetings is a relative newcomer to Christmas traditions.

Christmas cards had their beginning only 122 years ago in England, but despite the comparatively recent start, saying "Merry Christmas" in card form was a custom that quickly caught the public fancy.

The wish-to-say, "Merry Christmas" to friends and neighbors is strong, and the ways of expressing it are many. Today's edition of this newspaper, for instance, is one big "Merry Christmas" card in which businessmen of this community offer special greetings and words of appreciation to their customers and friends.

Gold, Frankincense, Myrrh Make Suitable Gifts for Infant King

In New Testament history, St. Matthew describes the first of all Christmas gifts — gold, frankincense and myrrh. After the wise men had knelt at the manger, he tells us, they opened their treasures to select these special offerings for the newborn Babe of Bethlehem.

To the modern mind, gold is instantly recognizable as a treasure, but the value of frankincense and myrrh is not so readily apparent, nigh."

NATIVITY SCENE IN BAS RELIEF adorns a marble pulpit in the Church of Santa Maria Novella at Florence, Italy. The early Renaissance work was completed and placed in the church only after a court dispute by two families, both of whom claimed the rights to the pulpit.

In the Dominican church of Santa Maria Novella at Florence, Italy, stands a pulpit of white marble which bears, in bas-relief, scenes from the story of Christ's life on earth — the Annunciation, the Nativity, the Presentation in the Temple.

Like many a building in famous Florence, the cradle of the Italian Renaissance, this ancient church is rich in the treasures of art and history, and both art and history combine in the story of the white marble pulpit, a story that lives across the years.

The pulpit first was placed in its present situation, on a column of the west aisle, in 1448. Early Renaissance theories of art are reflected in the bas reliefs. For instance, the Nativity scene presents little figures with the warmth of humanity, rather than that a sculptor of an ornate era or a sculptor of an earlier era might have chosen to create.

Families "feuded" Full of very human feeling, too, is the story of how the pulpit came to be created — the story of a "feud" between two great families.

The Rucellai family undertook to have the pulpit designed, executed and placed in the church, and Filippo Brunelleschi, the first great architect of the Italian Renaissance, was commissioned to do it.

Brunelleschi is best known for his design of the octagonal ribbed dome of the Florence cathedral. Among his other works are the Pazzi chapel, the churches of San Lorenzo and Santo Spirito and the Pitti Palace, all in Florence.

Designing the pulpit for the Rucellai family may have been one of Brunelleschi's last works, for the Florentine architect died in 1446, two years before the pulpit was completed and placed in the church.

Maestro Lazzaro, history says, was the sculptor chosen to execute Brunelleschi's design.

The "Christ Kind," or Christ Child, is the gift giver, and the culmination of the fair on Christmas Eve is a visit by the Christ Child to the balcony of the historic church, the Frauenkirche. Days of group caroling by the children precede this event.

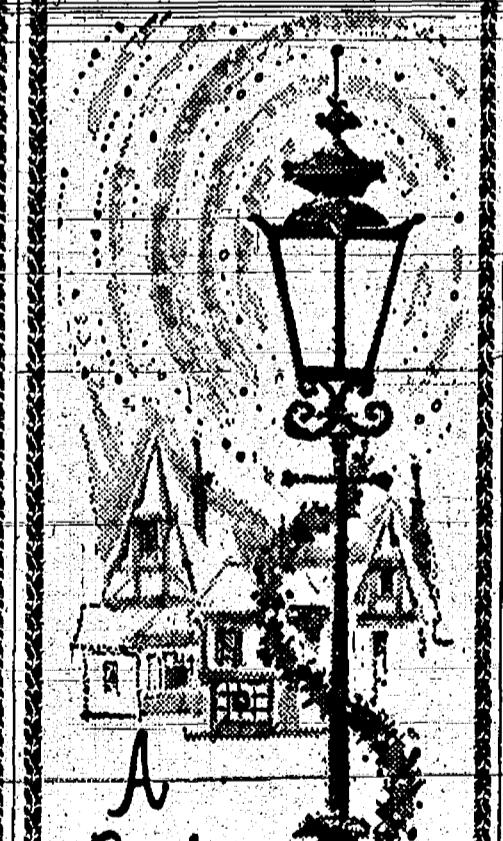

For instance, the chapel within

Distinguished Scholar Had Doubts About Now Famous Christmas Poem

"Twas the night before Christmas
when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse."

With these lines begins the familiar poem, "A Visit from St. Nicholas." Today, this poem is a treasured part of the lore of Christmas, often quoted and published at the Yuletide season.

Surprisingly, the poet who wrote it was far from proud of his work.

A distinguished Biblical scholar and professor of divinity, Dr. Clement Clark Moore wrote the poem for the amusement of his children at Christmas in 1822. A visitor to the home at the time noted and had it published a year later in the Troy, N.Y. Sentinel.

The poem appeared anonymously, because Dr. Moore felt it should not be associated with "undignified" work.

For more than 20 years, he refused to take credit for the poem.

In 1844 the poem was published and, for the first time, credited to its creator, Clement Clark Moore.

The first U.S. naval ship christened by a woman was the sloop-of-war Concord, launched in 1828.

Lt. Jerry Piatt Blasts Demonstrators; Wants To Rejoin His Unit in Vietnam

Two Chelsea area men who have been stationed in Vietnam are one in a new assignment and the other recovering from admiring for the U.S. fighting in that country. Neither know the other's story was to appear at the same time in this issue of The Standard.

Navy Hospital Corpsman R. James Well, now stationed on the USS Campania in the Mediterranean, and Marine Lt. Jerry Piatt, who had hand and eye injuries when a land mine exploded in a jeep in which he and five other men were riding, are the two servicemen.

Separate stories about the two men follow.—The Editor.

Marine Lt. Jerry Piatt, now spending a month's convalescent leave with relatives here while recovering from wounds received in Vietnam, was asked about the military situation there and his impressions of the opinions of servicemen with whom he had come in contact. His response was that American military men in Vietnam apparently believe strongly that what they are fighting for is vitally important to the entire world.

Explaining more fully, he said that his opinion is based on the fact that his unit is composed almost entirely of volunteers, which should prove his point.

Lt. Piatt was a helicopter pilot with the 23rd Marine Corps Helicopter Squadron and was stationed at Marine Mountain Air Base near DaNang. His injuries were sustained Oct. 27 during an attack on the base by the Viet Cong. He and five other men were in a jeep returning to the base late at night when the vehicle was blown up in a mine explosion. The driver was killed instantly and the others, including himself, seriously injured. His injuries included burns on his face and arms and injuries to his eyes from the flying debris. His right foot was broken and he suffered various cuts and bruises.

On Dec. 1, while at Bethesda Naval Hospital, Lt. Piatt was presented the Purple Heart award.

In discussing his experiences he said all helicopter pilots realize they are easy targets because cause of their slow speed and low altitude while taking off or landing; evidently he would have been less surprised if he had been injured whiel in his helicopter than he was while riding in the jeep.

After being wounded, Lt. Piatt was given first aid in Vietnam and then flown to the Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md., stopping enroute first in the Philippines and then in California. He is to return to the hospital at Bethesda at the conclusion of his leave Jan. 7.

During his stay in this area he is spending some time at the homes of his five sisters and his brother, K. R. Piatt and family, at Waterloo.

His sisters are Mrs. Howard Wahl (Betty), Mrs. Glenn Erskine (Minnie Mae), and Mrs. Phyllis Haas of Chelsea; Mrs. Charles Brown, (Mary Lou) of Ann Arbor; and Mrs. Marvin Johnson (Shirley) of Eau Claire. His mother, Mrs. Harriet Piatt, a former Chelsea High school teacher, is a patient at Cedar Knoll Rest Home. His father, Kenneth R. Piatt, Sr., is deceased.

Lt. Piatt first joined the Marines in 1958 at the age of 17.

Eating Wild Mushrooms Is Garden Roulette

PEOPLE who pick and eat wild mushrooms are playing a deadly "garden variety" of "Russian Roulette," warns the American Medical Association. Only a true expert can determine whether a wild mushroom is safe or poisonous, and even experts are sometimes fooled by varieties that look alike. The AMA says people who enjoy eating mushrooms should stick to commercially grown varieties.

Claims of commercial cloud seeders that seeding can increase rainfall have been confirmed by a University of Chicago scientist. However, says Roscoe E. ANIMAL FOSSILS at least 720 million years old have been discovered by a Dartmouth College geological team in the Canadian Arctic. The fossils, older than any heretofore known to paleontologists, are expected to help clear up part of the mystery of how advanced forms of life evolved. Early Roman Had 'Practical' View On Gift Giving

"Christmas is getting too commercial!"

This modern complaint, while it may have force, is somewhat lacking in originality.

"I hate the crafty arts of giving presents," said the witty Roman poet Martial, who lived and wrote from about 40 to 104 A.D.

"Gifts are like hooks."

His complaint was expressed in a series of poems written for a wealthy patron, at the time of the Saturnalia, the pagan festival from which came many Christmas customs.

Martial, however, was not always averse to presents. After listing a large number of small gifts, such as toothpicks, figs, napkins, which had been delivered to him, he pointed out that it would have been much easier for the messenger to bring him "five pounds of silver plate."

"Fantastic hair does everything for you" is what Helen Gurley Brown says. Helen is the author of "Sex and the Single Girl" and "Sex and the Office." If she's not an authority on the subject of "how to get your man" at least she's made a million sounding as if she is, and that's good enough for most women. This is the time of year when parties, planned and impromptu, are on the agenda of most career girls. If you have to choose between the time and money to get a new dress or a haircut, Helen says, "Get your hair done and forget the dress." We go along with Helen.

AIRMAN JEROME R. COMBS

Airman Jerome Combs Chosen for Training in Aircraft Maintenance

San Antonio, Tex. — Airman Jerome R. Combs, grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Coral I. Combs of 221 North St., Chelsea, Mich., has been selected for training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., as an Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Combs of Niles and was a frequent visitor in Chelsea.

The airman, a 1963 graduate of Jackson (Mich.) High school, recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

The effectiveness of the Friday night press was evident in the final statistics as the Bulldogs intercepted 10 South Lyon passes and out-rebounded the Lions, 39-22.

Tom Wojciecki led with seven interceptions and Dan Parsons picked off three more. Don Salyer and Mike Tarasow gathered 10 rebounds each to keep the Bulldogs in possession of the ball.

The Bulldogs ran up a quick 10-2 lead in the first quarter before South Lyon opened up.

The full-court press was not as effective in this quarter as Chelsea players were still adjusting to the play of their South Lyon man.

David Clark scored six points to maintain the lead and the quarter ended with Chelsea leading, 14-13.

In the second quarter the lead was stretched to seven as Wojciecki, Clark and Tarasow hit six points each and held South Lyon to a total of eight points. Half-time score gave Chelsea the lead, 28-21.

The Bulldogs continued to harass the Lions in the third quarter.

Wojciecki poured in nine points and

Bulldog Cagers Hand Defeat to South Lyon

Rapidly Improving Team Employs Full Press To Trounce Lions, 62-49

Chelsea cagers trounced South Lyon Friday night, 62-49. Chelsea's smashing victory resulted from a pressing man-to-man defense throughout the game.

It's nip and tuck in the Southeastern Conference with all six conference teams counting one win in nursing one loss.

"Unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord"

While humble shepherds watched their flocks, a heavenly glory shone upon them, as herald angels sang of a Holy Child. Far to the East a Star shone, guiding the wise men in their search for Him. Across the years the sacred message shines for us today, ever renewing in our hearts all the joy and wonder, the hope and promise of that Holy Night, so long ago.

As we worship in spirit at the blessed manger, we wish for all a truly joyous Christmas, rich in meaning, with faith ever deeper...with inspiration ever greater.

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

The children's countdown to Christmas is approaching its end.

The excitement of the final moments will surpass anything yet launched from Cape Kennedy.

All of the lessons that parents have been trying to teach about the spirit of giving will go out with the discarded wrappings.

Right now they (and some others) will be thinking about what "I got." It is a benevolent selfishness, though not one to get overly disturbed about.

What we need to think about more is the spirit of giving extended beyond the circle of family and friends and employees and employers and people who give us personal services of one kind or another.

We need to think in terms other than carefully wrapped packages with cheerful bows with bright colored tags.

It only we could see to the hills of Appalachia where Christmas brings a basket and another day of poverty; if we could only see to the cities and towns, north and south, where Christmas dawns on another day of bigotry, suspicion, and prejudice; if only we could see to the struggling boundaries of countries African and

Asian, South American, whose political instability and difficulty is lived out in the lives of the people.

All these things,

And what have we to give?

Nothing less than the compassion

Christ brought with His coming;

the skills of a well developed technology; the dreams of what the world is meant to be; the vigor to perform and, hopefully, the humility to serve.

This year what will your gift be to the world God cared enough about to risk His Son for?

Merry Christmas.

1. Paul,

Lights Have Long Been Part of Christmas Scene

Since the Star shone on Bethlehem, lights have been a part of Christmas celebrations. Today candlelight services are traditionally held by many churches at Christmas.

Something unique in the way of Christmas lights are the "luminaries" used to decorate the city of Albuquerque, N.M., at Christmas.

Outlining the borders of streets, sidewalks, yards and even the roofs of homes, the luminaries shine everywhere. Made of paper bags, weighted down with sand and lighted from within by a candle, thousands of luminaries all over the city offer a soft light.

More than 50 percent of this year's Kalamazoo College graduates went to graduate schools.

Greetings

May the happiness of the holidays be with you always.

Real Smokers Would Rather Fight Than Quit

Ann Arbor — Cigarette smokers would rather switch than quit. And, despite scientific date on health hazards, smokers apparently would rather fight than quit.

Associate Prof. Ross Wilhelm, business economist at the University of Michigan, cites figures which indicate that smokers have little brand loyalty and that almost nothing will stop them from smoking.

"Despite the fact that last year the U.S. Public Health Service issued a warning that cigarette smoking is a health hazard, the consumption of cigarettes will reach an all-time record high this year," he points out. "Over the broad sweep of the record of cigarette sales, events such as the Public Health report have had only a minor impact on total sales."

After a temporary drop of 5.6 percent in sales during the first five months after the report, the decline was nearly made up in the balance of the year which finished down only 2.4 percent, Wilhelm says.

The older the smoker and the higher his educational level, the greater the probability of his having stopped smoking, he adds.

The U-M business economist, who discussed the subject on his radio program, "Business Review," produced by the University Broadcasting Service, says the switch to filter tip cigarettes has been one of the most dramatic consequences of the several health scares. Filter brand sales have risen from a negligible portion before the health reports to more Indeed, all of the growth in cigarette sales in recent years has come from growth in the sales of menthol cigarettes—now about 10 percent of sales—and filters."

Cigar consumption, given almost a clean bill of health by the Public Health Service report, has risen steadily. Cigar sales rose 26 percent between 1963 and 1964, the year of the health report. Pipe tobacco sales also increased 16 percent in 1964.

Judging from the temporary effect of the Public Health Service report on long-run smoking behavior, it seems likely that actions such as warnings on packages and advertising codes will have no effect on the smoking behavior of people," Wilhelm suggests. "This is little more than political window dressing."

If the Federal government really wanted to take action to discourage cigarette smoking, it could do this through the tax system and the prices of cigarettes. The main action in this regard would be to cut or eliminate the excise taxes on cigars and smoking tobacco while keeping the taxes on cigarettes high. This would result in lower cigar and smoking tobacco prices and thus serve as an incentive for people to switch.

"But even if such taxes were cut, it seems likely that this would not be terribly effective in reducing the smoking of cigarettes. Lower cigar and pipe tobacco prices would not encourage women to switch, for example,

"Indeed, the simple truth is that there seems to be little anyone can do to cause people to stop cigarette smoking. The sales of cigarettes are one of the most stable of all industry sales and even depressions do not influence them very much. It is extremely difficult to alter consumer behavior even when strong appeals such as health are used."

CHELSEA VILLAGE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Dec. 7, 1965
Council Room
Regular Session.

This meeting was called to order by Pres. Pro-Tem J. V. Burg at 8:00 p.m.

Invocation by the Rev. John Fall of the Chelsea Methodist Home, Trustees present: Bollinger, Chapman, Crouch, Schable, and Weber.

Absent: Pres. Haselschwardt. The minutes of the Regular Session of November 16, 1965 were read and approved.

A petition was submitted by Lynn and Bilda Kern and Donald and Alice Knoll for possible annexation of land to the south of the present Village limits. The Council will take the matter under consideration, and an informal hearing of the interested parties will be held at the Regular Session of the Village Council to be held on January 4, 1966. A committee was appointed to investigate.

A request was entered for village water service outside the present Village limits. Village policy dictates that no water can be sold outside the municipal limits. Request was not granted.

Trustee Chapman informed the Council that a two inch water service has been installed under M-52 at Pierce Park to allow for proper flooding of the ice skating rink.

A discussion was held regarding the purchase of new Christmas decorations recently installed. Total purchase price of $756.00. The Chelsea Chamber of Commerce requests that the Village enter into an agreement to pay one half of the total price.

Motion by Chapman, supported by Weber, to approve the expenditure of $378.00 as the Village share of the new Christmas decorations. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A discussion was held regarding the Village landfill site with no official action being taken at this time.

A discussion was held regarding the need for repair of the garage floor in the Municipal Building. Trustee Bollinger was instructed to proceed with any necessary repairs.

A petition was submitted by the Chelsea School District to annex the site of the North Elementary School to the Village. The Council will investigate.

A discussion was held regarding the possible purchase of a used UHF radio unit for use in the Auxiliary police car. Police Chief John Palmer was instructed to investigate.

Motion by Schable supported by Crouch, to authorize the clerk to issue checks in payment of bills as submitted. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. General Fund: $9,390.81.

Motion by Crouch, supported by Weber, to adjourn the meeting. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Approved: Dec. 21, 1965.
Howard Haselschwardt, Pres.
George Winans, Clerk.

THE LANSING REPORT

SENATOR
GIL BURSLEY

It seem fashionable for politicians to talk about all the benefits they have provided for the senior citizen.

This attitude implies the senior citizen is sitting back with his hand out and threatening to throw his vote to the biggest Santa Claus.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

Actually most senior citizens would like nothing better than the opportunity to continue in some manner as productive members of society.

Persons covered — Employers, employment agencies and labor unions.

Employers — Employers shall not refuse to hire or otherwise discriminate against any individual because of age. Employment agencies are also forbidden to conduct business under a name which expresses, directly or indirectly, any limitation or discrimination as to age.

Labor Organizations — Labor organizations shall not discriminate against any individual nor segregate or qualify membership so as to deprive such individual of employment opportunities or adversely affect employment conditions because of such individual's age.

Government Contracts — All contracts of the state or any of its political subdivisions shall contain a provision prohibiting contractors from discriminating against any employee or applicant for employment to be employed in the performance of such contract because of such person's age.

Advertisements and Publications — No employer, employment agency or labor organization shall print or publish, or cause to be printed or published, any notice or advertisement relating to employment or membership indicating any preference, specification, or discrimination based upon age, nor follow a policy limiting employment or membership on the basis of age; nor utilize in recruitment or hiring of individuals any employment agency, placement service, training center, or labor organization known to discriminate against individuals because of their ages.

Qualifying Provisions — The act does not prohibit a refusal to hire where the refusal is based on law, regulation, the requirements of any federal or state training or employment program, or in the selection of individuals for an apprenticeship program or an on-the-job training program intended to have a duration of more than four months.

The act does not prohibit a refusal to hire because of age when based on a bona fide occupational qualification as determined by the Civil Rights Commission.

Retirement systems of policies which are not used as subterfuges to evade the act are not prohibited nor does the act preclude varying insurance coverages according to an employee's age.

How To File A Complaint — Persons who believe they have been discriminated against because of their age can file an application for a complaint in person or by mail with any office of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

Merry Christmas from your state senator to the citizens of the 18th senatorial district.

The weather will play an important part in the development of Michigan's future peach yields. Peach trees are particularly hampered by cold injury. Severe winters can reduce bearing peach tree acreage.

PACK 415

Pack 415 held its monthly Pack meeting at the high school cafeteria on Dec. 14. Den 5 opened the meeting with the flag ceremony. Songs were sung under the leadership of Carmer Slocum, neighborhood commissioner, and games were played led by Cas Case. The following awards were given: Wolf patch, Timothy Haas; bear patch, Christopher Nelson; Webel patch, Thomas Forner and Robert Heydlauff; gold arrows, Timothy Haas, Christopher Nelson, Carmer Slocum; silver arrows, Timothy Haas (2), Joseph Nelson (1) and Christopher Nelson (2). Christopher Nelson received a one-year service pin. Terry Ellerwood and his mother, Mrs. Wesley Ellerwood, and Victor Steinbach and his parents were inducted into the pack when Terry and Victor received their Bobcat pins.

Den 5 put on a skit. Cubmaster Don Fritz then introduced the committee for the next year consisting of committee chairman, Donald Pierson (new); secretary-Albert Forner (old); treasurer Willis Heydlauff (old); cubmaster, Don Fritz (old); assistant cubmaster, Cas Case (old); institutional representative, Max Hepburn (old); committee men, James Phinney (old) and Raymond Steimbach (new).

The next committee meeting will be held at the Willis Heydlauff home on Jan. 4 at 7:30 p.m. and the next pack meeting will be held at the high school cafeteria on Jan. 25 at 7 p.m. Den 5 retired the flags.

DEN 14, PACK 435

Den 14 of Pack 435 held a den meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Buchholz. Cub Scouts wrapped their dad's presents and opened the presents for Mrs. Buchholz. Mrs. Buchholz brought the treats. Danny Boham, scribe.

DEN 17, PACK 435

Den 17 of Pack 435 met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Bob Shears. Meeting opened with the pledge to the flag. The Scouts finished Christmas gifts and the meeting closed with the living circle.

Dairy Records To Be Studied at County Meeting

The Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Service will present a dairy records meeting Tuesday, Jan. 4, in Room 1 of the County Building in Ann Arbor. Sessions will begin at 10 a.m. and are scheduled to end at 3 p.m.

The importance of maintaining production records was stressed by Donald R. Johnson, County Extension Agricultural Agent, when he announced the meeting.

Topics to be discussed by Paul Wilkes, dairy extension specialist in charge of testing programs, include information included in a DHIR or owner sampler record; how a farmer makes maximum use of a production record for feeding, culling, breeding and sales; and what a TMT record is.

Johnson said the TMT record is new and may well become the most widely used test in the near future.

Dairy farmers who are on a test are requested to bring their herd books. Sample copies will be furnished for farmers not on a test.

Herd health records and telegram records, two "tools of the trade" available to all dairymen, will be discussed.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

Sounds of Music

At times the rambling farm home near Climax in Kalamazoo county, seems ready to burst from music that fills it and escapes through windows and doors. The music rises and swells, trembling in the air, stirring visions of carnivals, churches, parades, and Christmas Eve.

Almost every driver is aware of Michigan's school bus law—that requires stopping for a bus that is taking on or discharging school children. Often though, there is some confusion among drivers as to the letter of the law and the best practice to follow.

The Michigan State Safety Commission reminds that there are a few basic points to remember about the school bus laws and they stress these:

(1) You (the driver) must not overtake, or meet and pass, any school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge passengers.

(2) When you see the red, alternately flashing lights on the front and rear of the bus you are expected to bring your car to a full stop at least 10 feet away. You should remain stopped until the bus resumes motion or until the operator has deactivated the flashing signals.

(3) When you do resume motion, check carefully for children loitering beside the road or heedlessly dashing across.

Some other points to keep in mind about school buses and their precious cargo, might be these: because of their passengers, school busses have a recommended route speed of 35 mph. Even on the highway they are limited to 50 mph. Expect the operator to go slower and he'll appreciate your courtesy.

The bus will stop for all railroad crossings. After stopping, opening the door and observing, the operator will then move carefully across the tracks. Again, your patience as the driver following the bus is both a courtesy and a necessity.

By observing the laws Michigan motorists can make the task of transporting thousands of school children a safer experience. Your strict attention to details when following or approaching a school bus will keep you alert and school children alive.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scouts of Troop 170 spent most of their meeting time Thursday, Dec. 16, at McKune Memorial Library where they decorated a Christmas tree. After finishing the tree they returned to their meeting room in the Municipal Building and completed plans for a Christmas party Tuesday morning, Dec. 21, at the home of Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser.

Mrs. Eisenbeiser and Susie Eisenbeiser furnished treats for the Dec. 16 meeting.

Early in the year I learned that many village, city, county and township officials were not fully familiar with the various Federal programs operating to provide financial and technical assistance to local units of government. To make sure that our officials in the Second District were aware of the financial and other assistance available to them, we organized the conference.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman spoke at the conference about Department of Agriculture programs devoted to the development of rural communities. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz spoke at a luncheon about the relationship of local governments to the Federal government. Undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare Wilbur J. Cohen discussed the programs administered by his department, to help local communities build hospitals, water and sewer treatment plants, the Public Health Service and other HEW programs. Federal officials also described the prospective programs of the new Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Small Business Administration, the Economic Development Administration and the Department of the Interior.

The response to the Conference has been very encouraging. We are now working closely with a number of officials who are concerned with providing our citizens with a variety of services. Village President William Wall, of Dexter, is in the process of applying for Federal funds to supplement the funds to be raised by the sale of bonds for a water treatment plant to remove much of the high iron content from the village water supply. Monroe County Drain Commissioner Don Burton has been appointed to co-ordinate efforts to construct water and sewer facilities in a number of communities in the county. Burton has applied for federal funds to defray the cost of initial planning for these projects. Monroe county is also eligible for Federal aid under the Economic Development Act, and my office in Washington is working to make certain that County applications receive every possible consideration from the Washington agencies responsible for the allocation of the $200 million scheduled to be spent during the next fiscal year.

In Livingston county, Green Oak Township Supervisor Herbert Munzel has zeroed in on the Farmers Home Administration. Herb is working with my office to arrange aid for a subdivision in the township in developing a new source of water to supplement the presently decreasing supply.

We are in the process of helping Supervisor R. D. Merriam, of the Township of Northville in Wayne county, obtain a Department of Interior fish hatchery which is scheduled to be declared surplus. The Township of Northville, jointly with the City of Northville, intends to obtain the hatchery in order to sue the land, located in both the city and township, for recreational use. We are negotiating with the Department of the Interior and the General Services Administration to obtain the hatchery property at one-half its market value.

The Federal Government cooperates with state and local governments in a great many ways. As the U. S. Representative from the Second Congressional District I believe it is important to assist our local officials in their dealings with Washington in order that our citizens receive the benefits of Federal programs to the very fullest extent possible.

GLENN'S APPOINTMENT

In a White House announcement, President Johnson has appointed former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., a retired Marine Colonel, as a member of the National Air Museum Advisory Board. The board advises the President on how to memorialize the development of U. S. aviation and also collects objects for museum display.
