Pay at the Top
 Total cost of top-level state administration will jump sharply next year at the Strategic Services Commission's recommendations are accepted by the legislature.

Under the 1963 Constitution, the Commission is responsible for recommending pay levels for all executive and appointive positions which are not classified, plus the few elected posts.

The present salary levels for these posts range from $16,000 for the head of the Licensing and Regulation Department, to $30,000 for the Governor and Mental Health Director. This top figure is also authorized for the unclassified Superintendent of Education.

Legislators and the Governor have previously discussed raising the salaries for these top 20 posts. Another 70 or 80 positions are involved in the Commission plan because each of the department heads has one or more deputies not classified by civil service.

Currently the nearly 100 posts involve an expenditure of $1,221,000. The recommended changes would boost this by $220,000. Only two of the 20 department heads would remain at present levels, $20,000 each for the elected Secretary of State and Attorney General.

Highest paid under the Commission plan would be the Mental Health Director, a psychiatrist, at $35,000.

The Commission says the boosted rates will be necessary to get and keep good people in the top positions which do not offer the job security provided by civil service status.

Local Help
 Rapid growth of the state's major colleges and universities is frequently mentioned while another largely unnoticed, despite their increasing importance, is the need for community colleges as new links.

The other side of the coin is that legislators might feel the limit is a mandate for spending rather than a ceiling.

Sen. Bernard O'Brien, Detroit Democrat who heads the Insurance Committee whose activities at least partly prompted the limitation, said he planned to ask for $5,000 before the ceiling was set.

Under normal circumstances, even routine committee business, even this would be a relatively high figure. He didn't indicate whether he would keep his committee expenditures within his intended request in view of the higher level set by the leadership.

Spending by legislative committees has frequently been criticized in many quarters. Study trips near and far have been used and abused often enough to have earned the derogatory name, junkets.

Whether the $10,000 spending limit will do much to improve the image of committee study is questionable. Previously each committee asked for specific appropriations for interim work such as the various trips.

Only if the limitation is used as a guideline, maintaining careful scrutiny of individual sizeable expenditures, can the image of committee work hold any hope for improvement.

STEP SAVER
 A clothes dryer saves the average housewife twenty work days of eight hours each and forty miles of walking each year.

The $10,000 annual spending limit would apply to all except the important Appropriations Committee, by far the busiest of the working units in either house.

Sen. John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, said he foresaw the problem that the public would assume the entire $10,000 allowed was being spent by every committee. This would be a very high figure for most committee activity in past years.

The pace of legislative activity has quickened some in recent days. But, although more bills are being passed on the floor, items of major concern remain bottled up in committee.

Measures recently passed by the House include:

Reappointment of county boards of supervisors on a population basis.

A 2.5 percent hike in the limit rate on the sale of alcoholic liquors to Specially Designated Distilleries.

A requirement for commercial vehicle license plates to be issued between February and May.

Users to close their offices Dec. 21, 22 and 23 when these dates are Fridays.

Proposals recently passed by the Senate and received in the House include:

Authorization for honorary state scholarship certificates for students otherwise ineligible because of lack of financial need.

A requirement for the approval of the Banking Commission for a bank to change locations.

Increased barber license fees from $15 to $25 with annual renewals set at $10, up from $8.

While a road program has been spent on highways, other measures of relatively minor significance, many important bills dealing with present needs have yet to see the light of day. Included in this category are the future budget, fiscal reform, traffic safety, county home care, further implementation of medicare, consumer protection, and anti-water-pollution measures.

The major elements of the bipartisan tax reform package developed last year by Governor Romney and legislators of both parties has been reintroduced. It is not expected, however, that the majority party will change its time from last year when they refused to even consider these bills which are designed to reduce tax burdens on poor families and low yield businesses, and to reduce property and sales taxes.

House Democratic members of the House Town and Counties Committee, by majority party leaders, county home care legislation designed to strengthen and streamline county government, has experienced great difficulty in that committee. The bills that he have introduced such bill to the House Town and Counties Committee which normally considers such measures.

More than a month has gone by since the majority party killed the Governor's budget bills, and promised similar bills of their own could be introduced. Yet, no new bills have been introduced giving rise to speculation that not much more legislation on the spending of more than $2 billion dollars contained in the total budget.

Since April 1 is the deadline for reporting bills from committee in the House of origin it is expected that the new few weeks will be spent largely in committee meetings with a minimum of floor activity.

The new 1966 Michigan Road maps are available. State Representative Thomas G. Sharpe, the Howell announced that he has a limited supply of the new maps for distribution and will be glad to send them to anyone upon request. Write Representative Sharpe, House of Representatives, Lansing.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb's preacher come by the country store Saturday night and set for a spell with the fellers. He reported they was a big shortage of labor in the preaching business, said it was getting harder to find a preacher nowadays than it was to find a carpenter or plumber.

Set Donittle was of the opinion this might be on account of most carpenters and plumbers was now operating under the Great Society plan, a 35-hour week, double pay for overtime and fringe benefits for themselves and family from the cradle to the grave.

The good Parson was agreed with Ed up to a certain point, advised it was hard to find men to work in the Lord's vineyard at the Devil's pay. But he allowed as how a young man had to get acquainted with the Spirit to choose the preaching profession and in the generation pointed with other things, like demonstrating and telling the Government how to run the war in Viet Nam.

Clem Webster said he had saw in the papers where a preacher in France had come out with a dictionary on cuss words. This preacher, according to Clem, claimed he had studied human nature a long time and had decided a feller had to cuss a little onet in a while to let off steam.

Zeke's preacher said he was agin this theory. He reported he had knowed men that had let the little things in life pile up and git out of control and that let off steam with some fancy cussing. But this was bad, he said, and when a feller gits riled up he can snort in several languages and git the steam valve down with some cussing.

Personal, Mister Editor, I'd have to agree with Zeke's preacher. I ain't never been much of a feller to cuss, and I'm getting too far along in years now to git upset enough over things, even the Congress, to cuss about it.

But the good Parson said he wasn't shocked none at this French preacher for advocating the cussing theory. He told the fellers that cussing was human and had their weaknesses just like everybody else. For instance, he said, he had one preacher friend that would drive clear across the state to preach a sermon, but wouldn't walk across the street to hear one. He reported they was a old saying, that no preacher was getting along as well as he said he was, or as bad as the other preachers claimed he was. He said it wasn't a bad profession and told the fellers with a smile if any of them felt "anointed", he would help 'em git located.

It was mighty nice, Mister Editor, to have the Parson drop by for a spell.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

5 Pinckney Youths Nabbed After Wild, Destructive Spree

Youths Accost Banquet Volunteer, Try To Force Entry into Car

Five Pinckney youths ranging in age from 16 to 21, under the influence of alcohol, were picked up in Chelsea after committing several unlawful acts in Dexter last Saturday evening between 9 and 10 p.m.

At 9:15 p.m. Dexter Police Chief Robert Taylor and officer Robert Auxiliary Police Officer Edward Mullan for help to back him up at 3842 Central St., where five youths had kicked in the back door and had beaten up Lawrence Maudry. By the time the officers arrived the attackers had fled.

The same five then apparently headed for Dexter High school where they pushed around the PFA students who were assisting at the Dairy Banquet. When William Dunavin, v.o.-ag. teacher, was summoned, the youths used foul language and smashed two panes of glass in the front door, using their fists.

Police who had been summoned just missed them again but they put out a radio broadcast of the youths and their 1950 or 1951 light blue Pontiac. The youths had been observed leaving the school, going towards Ann Arbor.

They were apprehended in Chelsea by car 33 shortly after the call was sent out. Chief Taylor, and officers Hunawill and Monahan drove to Chelsea along with an assist from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Two of the youths were taken to Joseph's Mercy Hospital for medical attention where police upon arrival found them seriously cut on the forearms. One 16-year-old had 10 cuts from his hand to his elbow and the wounds required 50 stitches to close. He admitted breaking the glass at Dexter High school with his fists.

Chris Campbell, 21, David Bennett, 18 and one other youth who gave his age as 17 were jailed. The other youths were released to their parents and they along with the other youth, who turned out to be 16 and not 17 as he had stated, were petitioned at court and turned over to Livingston County Juvenile authorities. Trial dates for Campbell and Bennett are pending.

Campbell was one of the three arrested on a charge of assault and battery when they brutally beat Freddie Henes on Main St. a few months ago.

They are also believed to be the youths involved in the following harassment of a Dexter woman but since charges were not made by the woman they could not be booked for that part of the night's offenses.

It would seem that Dexter residents have more to fear from earth hoodlums than from marauders, after a terrifying experience which a Dexter area woman went through last Saturday evening at approximately 9:30 p.m. in the front driveway at Dexter High school.

The woman, who wishes to remain anonymous for fear of reprisal against her family or further harassment to herself, said she was going to her car after helping at the Dairy Banquet, when five youths drove up and said "Hello, Baby," and other similar remarks. The woman told them to go on and leave her alone and then entered her compact-sized convertible. Two of the boys then left their car and tried to open the doors, which she had locked and pointed on the windows.

Brightened, the woman leaned on the horn button to attract attention but to no avail. The boys then went back to their car and then turned back and again proceeded to try to force open the doors and yelled obscene remarks to her. They kept asking her to lay off the horn but she kept it blaring throughout the entire ordeal.

After repeating their described actions several times they backed their car into her's until the bumpers touched and pushed her car back several feet. They then got out of the car and proceeded to yell at her to stop blowing the horn, all the time using much profanity. The woman felt sure they were intoxicated.

Finally, two of the youths who were apparently alarmed at the constant horn blowing, tried to get the leader to go and as a last resort held him and motioned her to go on. She quickly sped to the Dexter Police station but could not find an officer.

In desperation and a near state of shock she drove around and around Dexter and finally spotted a Washtenaw County Sheriff's Dept. car.

She had taken the license number of the boys' green Pontiac coupe and when police later apprehended them, she refused to sign a complaint out of fear.

Police assured her they didn't need her complaints as they had them on two other counts.

USDA Agencies Monitor Area Fallout Strength

"Most Americans know about the destructive power of nuclear explosions, but a fewer number know about a material called radioactive fallout," stated Mrs. Carolyn Stump, chairman of the Washtenaw County USDA Defense Board.

Mrs. Stump stated, "An explosion of a nuclear device would cause radio-active contamination many miles downwind from the primary area. There is no way of knowing in advance where fallout may land."

"However, even though fallout may be hazardous if it is present in large amounts, it will not cover the world and kill everything," she emphasized.

Mrs. Stump said that radioactive fallout is produced when a nuclear explosion occurs at or near the surface of the earth. Tons of soil are sucked up into the mushroom cloud and each particle becomes radioactive.

She added, however, that knowledge about the effect of fallout on farms is still incomplete. The effect could differ from situation to situation, depending on such factors as wind and weather at the time of the explosion.

"USDA agencies have certain responsibilities for monitoring radioactive fallout and determining its location, strength, and danger to humans and animals," said Mrs. Stump.

Applications Ready For Draft Deferment Qualification Test

Application forms for the new Selective Service College Qualification test will be available starting today at all Michigan local board offices, it was announced today by Colonel W. J. Myers, deputy state director.

The tests will be given May 14, May 21 and June 3 at 32 examination centers in Michigan. Application forms and information bulletins describing the test may be obtained by selective Service registrants at any local board office. Applications must be postmarked no later than April 23.

The qualification test may be taken by any Selective Service registrant who is presently enrolled in college or in a high school senior or graduate and hasn't previously taken the test. It is recommended that the test be taken by any registrant who intends to request occupational deferment as a college student. Test results will be reported to the student's local board.

The three-hour written examination will provide local boards with evidence of the relative qualifications of registrants for college study or of their aptitude for continued college work. Colleges will also be asked this spring to report on class ranking of male students as a measure of achievement.

Examination centers in Michigan will include colleges located at Adrian, Albion, Ann Arbor, Benton Harbor, Burton, Spring Lake, Rapids, Dearborn, Detroit, East Lansing, Flint, Grand Rapids, Highland Park, Hillsdale, Holland, Houghton, Ironwood, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Marquette, Mt. Pleasant, Muskegon, Port Huron, Sault Ste. Marie, Traverse City and Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Alfred Bommer, 321 East St., Chelsea, returned Tuesday from Florida, where she has been vacationing since January 7. During the past months she traveled to St. Petersburg, Clearwater, Tampa, Hollywood Beach, Lake Wales and other spots. Mrs. George Hartman, 3210 Broad, Dexter, accompanied Mrs. Bommer.

Reports Sought On Car-Killed Female Deer

Lansing — Motorists who have run-ins with deer in Michigan between now and the end of May are urged to report their highway kill of female animals to local conservation officers.

Their co-operation is sought to provide the Conservation Department with an important side next this year's deer productivity.

Conservation officers and game men will follow up reports of car-killed female whitetails by autopsying the animals for embryo counts. This information, in turn, will be carefully weighed with results of other Department field studies to work up recommendations for the 1966 deer hunting season.

The Department's special appeal for reports from motorists is made even though there is a new pulley which causes deer to become tangled in wires in order to keep animals they have killed.

Department officials explain that this system, by itself, will not provide a good enough reading on the fawn-carrying rates of does during late winter and spring.

The reason is that most drivers will not care to keep deer they strike down at this time of year. Consequently, they will not be required to report highway losses.

Pharmacists Promote Poison Prevention

LANSING—Pharmacists across Michigan are launching a two-prong attack against accidental poisoning, announced Neal J. Van Haften, president of the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association. In outlining the problem, Mr. Van Haften stated that nearly half a million U. S. children under five years of age are accidentally poisoned each year. Approximately 500 of these victims die.

Public Education
The first phase of the program is an educational effort long supported by pharmacists in which the public is made aware of the dangers of accidental poisoning. In fact, National Poison Prevention Week, proclaimed this year by President Johnson for the week of March 20-26, was originally inspired by a pharmacist to draw public attention to the problem.

Two years ago, during Poison Prevention Week, Michigan pharmacists initiated a program where by snake symbol "Warning" labels were distributed to parents of young children. The warning labels were designed to be attached to containers of hazardous substances by joint parent-child action, thus educating both to the presence of potential poisons. The program met with wide success and received national and international acclaim. The labels are now available nationally through participating pharmacies.

Antidote Kit Now Available
This year, the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association is launching a program, not aimed directly at public education, but designed to reduce the severity of a poisoning incident once it has occurred. A Poison Antidote Kit (PAK) is available from participating pharmacists as a "public service" of the pharmaceutical profession.

New York — A British doctor warned girls they should wear ski pants to work instead of short skirts. The general remark by American women was "Ski pants won't attract as many eyes."

Poison Antidote Kits (PAK) are now available in this area at participating pharmacies. The PAK, a sturdy plastic box, contains two widely recognized antidotes for use in cases of accidental poisoning. Your pharmacist can provide you with a PAK for your home.

Parents should ask their family pharmacist for a PAK and keep it on hand for use in case of a poisoning emergency. The PAK contains Syrup of Ipecac, which is to be given when it is desirable for the patient to vomit. In most cases, such removal of the poison from the stomach is the proper treatment. In some cases, however, for example when a gasoline product has been swallowed, vomiting should not be caused. In such cases, the other product in the PAK, Activated Charcoal powder, is to be administered.

Call Doctor First
Before either antidote in the PAK is given to the patient, the doctor or hospital poison information center should be contacted for specific instructions. The parent should have the poison container at hand when calling for instructions, since important label information may be needed. The ready availability of PAK in the home can be a life-saving factor in the first few minutes after a poison has been swallowed. Reports the association, physicians have lent their endorsement to the program through their professional societies.

Mr. Van Haften concluded by stating that the MSPA intends for this public service program to be supported by pharmacists on a year-round basis. Parents, too, should recognize the year-round aspects of poison prevention by educating their children to the hazards of poisoning and by obtaining a PAK from their family pharmacist for future emergency use.

Woman's Club Views Fashions Of Yesteryear

The Woman's Club of Chelsea met Tuesday evening at the McKune Memorial Library with 19 members and three guests present.

Mrs. Robert A. Livingston presided at the business meeting.

The program was presented by Mrs. Jess Meininger and Mrs. G.P. Felsing on "Our Changing Styles." A designer-identification game was played and a comparison of the changing styles and history of the changing styles and history of how a basic dress can be dressed up by use of different accessories was also given. Costumes dating from 1900 to the present, showing how the trends change and how many of the styles have returned to the fashion scene, were brought by the members.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Thomas Mackenzie and Mrs. William Travis. The next meeting will be April 12. The theme will be "Lilac Time."

Open House Reception To Honor John Myers on 60th Anniversary

An open house honoring Mr. and Mrs. John A. Myers of 412 Wilkinson St., Chelsea, on their 60th wedding anniversary will be held Sunday at their home.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Myers invites friends to come to the Myers home between 2 and 5 p.m.

John A. Myers and Sarah Jeanette Hennon were married in Bendon on March 24, 1906. The justice of the peace who married them had to fight his way through six-foot snowdrifts all the way from Frankfort, Mrs. Hennon recalled.

The fall of 1915 they moved to the Herman Fretcher farm on Freer Rd., moved into Chelsea the fall of 1918.

Myers was the foreman on the DUR, the street car line running from Jackson to Detroit, for many years.

Nine children will help the Myerses celebrate their anniversary. They are Mrs. Joseph (Leona) Sealey of Ann Arbor, George of Harbor Springs, Stewart of Chelsea, Jay of Livonia, Earl of Saline, Mrs. Jessie Welch of Dexter, Clifford at home, Mrs. Melva French of Chelsea and David of Grass Lake. The Myerses also count 27 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren.

Sunday, March 20, the Myerses were surprised after the Sunday evening services at the Chelsea Baptist church, of which they are members. An anniversary cake, decorated in pink and white, jello, punch and coffee were served. Members of the congregation presented the Myers with a hand painted Biblical picture.

County Hospital Auxiliary Board Plans Annual Meet

The regular meeting of the Washtenaw County Hospital Auxiliary Executive Board was held March 16 at the hospital. One of the important items of business was the planning for the annual meeting and election of officers on April 26. Members are urged to come to the hospital at 1:30, not only to choose the officers for 1966-67 but to show concern for the sure continuation of the work and purposes of the Auxiliary.

The program will be a panel discussion of the Medical and Therapeutic Program of the Washtenaw County Hospital led by Dr. Edwin Smith and Dr. Ralph Brandt.

The need for a new Washtenaw County Hospital, which has been recognized for the last seven years or more and which will be more pressing with the implementing of the Medicare Program, has been pointed out by Auxiliary spokesmen. In the Medicare planning there is no provision for beds for the recipients of the Federal funds, and an already great shortage of beds exists in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, University Hospital and Washtenaw County Hospital. He added that the help offered by the Rehabilitation and Physiotherapy departments at the Washtenaw County Hospital is outstanding and is not equalled in any other county in Michigan, nor is the work of the Sheltered Work Shop and Arts and Crafts programs.

Speakers on this need for expansion of the County Hospital both in number of available beds and rehabilitation programs can be made available by calling the Hospital or Mrs. H. B. White, President of the Auxiliary.

Organizations are invited to come to the hospital for their meetings, tour the building and hear about the program. Call the hospital for arrangements.

Producers of canned vegetables are setting out to recapture some popularity lost to their frozen neighbors, the carton and plastic bag variety. How? One producer plans to bring out a line of canned corn, peas, and lima beans—in butter. It's expected buttered vegetables in the can will still be cheaper and thus even more competition for the frozen variety of vegetables.

Trend Continues to Fewer Births in 1965

Lansing — There were 8,485 fewer registered births in Michigan during 1965 than the previous year, according to provisional statistics released by the Michigan Department of Public Health.

The figures, compiled by the Health Statistics and Evaluation Center, showed 105,483 births in 1965 as compared to 113,968 in 1964. In 1963, 177,636 births were reported.

Cumulative comparisons of the figures show decreases for every month in 1965, with January showing the lowest birth rate. Since a high peak of 207,277 births in 1957, the state has experienced a fairly steady downward trend, according to the center. Previously, the birth rate had rapidly shot up from a low of approximately 120,000 in 1945.

SURFING IN HAWAII, as shown in the above photo, is included in the many colorful scenes to be shown in the Kiwanis-sponsored travel-adventure series in the sixth and final program of the current season, Saturday, March 26. Willis Butler will be the narrator. The program will begin at 8 p.m. at the Chelsea High school auditorium.

'Here's Hawaii' Travelogue Saturday Closes Out Season

Traditional luau, fishing scenes on the Kona coast, the famous Waikiki Beach and, perhaps most important of all, the people of Hawaii in their homes, at work, at worship and at play will be featured in the sixth and final program of the Kiwanis-sponsored travel and adventure series. This final program, with Willis Butler as narrator, will take place at Chelsea High school auditorium Saturday, March 26, beginning promptly at 8 p.m. Title of the program is "Here's Hawaii."

Geographically, all four major islands—Kauai, Oahu, Maui, and Hawaii—are explored, showing the most important tourist sights on each.

Historically, "Here's Hawaii" starts with migrations of early Hawaiians more than 1,000 years ago, showing their awesome gods and the missionaries who came in 1820 to constitute what historians say is the most important single influence in Hawaii's development.

In contrast, the audience will see Hawaii as it is today—a booming crossroads of the Pacific and a strategic military command post for almost half of the earth's surface.

While this is his first appearance in a Chelsea travelogue series, Willis Butler, a former network broadcaster and lecturer at Northwestern University's famous School of Speech, is today consistently rated as one of America's most popular speakers, season after season, from coast to coast.

He has been making motion picture organizations such as the United Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, the Chicago Film Commission, the International Film Foundation, Northwest Orient Airlines, and NBC.

Plans are already under way for another "Travel and Adventure" series to be presented next fall and winter. Each of the five series of programs sponsored by Chelsea Kiwanis, to date, has been a "sell-out." Tickets are customarily sold in advance.

New Withholding Tables Will Be Distributed Soon

Detroit—New tax withholding tables and instructions for the 65 or 70 million persons who will be affected by the tax adjustment act of 1966 are en route to IRS Regional Service Centers for labeling and mailing. A. M. Stoepfer, Detroit District Director of Internal Revenue Service announced today.

Although new withholding rates will not become effective until May 1, IRS is expediting information to give employers and employees maximum time to adjust to the new withholding system. It is expected that IRS Service Centers will complete labeling and mailing of the Employer's Tax Guide and Employee Fact Sheet (Document 5642) to all employers with 255 or less employees by the end of March. Employers in this category total approximately four million and have on their payroll 30 million employees.

All employers with 256 or more employees (14,000 with a total of 40 million employees) should obtain their entire supply of Document 5642 from their nearest IRS District Office early in April. Stoepfer said, to make it as easy as possible for both employers and employees to comply with the withholding provisions of the new act, IRS has included in the Employer's Tax Guide not only the new tax tables but a one-page Fact Sheet with sample tables and a new W-4 for employees.

Rep. W. Vivian Introduces Bill For Eye Research

U. S. Representative Weston E. Vivian announced today that, in conjunction with other members, he has introduced legislation in the House of Representatives which would establish in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, a National Eye Institute and industry research on blindness and visual defects. In introducing the bill, Vivian commented:

"Approximately one-half of our population suffers from some form of mild or severe eye trouble. Many of these afflictions stem from causes yet undiscovered by medical science. In fact 80 percent of all cases of blindness are claimed to result from diseases whose causes are unknown."

More than a million of our citizens are considered functionally blind—inability, for example, to read newspapers even with the aid of eye glasses. An estimated 75 million Americans have sufficient impairment to need to wear glasses at least one person in three out of every four households in the country.

"Throughout the world, there are approximately 10 million persons who are totally blind. Many Americans believe, incorrectly, that the main cause of blindness is accidental injury. The fact is that accidents account for only about one case of blindness in 20."

"American medical science and its practitioners have brought dramatic health improvements decade after decade," Vivian said.

"The human population may witness a drastic reduction in the incidence of diseases of the eye in the coming decades. I hope that the Congress will enact this legislation in the present session," Representative Vivian concluded.

Is it possible to cook a cracked egg in water?

Yes — and with nary a king's horse or a king's man involved. To make the egg whole again, simply add a few drops of lemon juice or vinegar to the water in which it is to be cooked. Then cook the egg at a bare simmer, as all eggs cooked in water should be done.

Congressman Wes VIVIAN Reports from WASHINGTON

It has now been almost a year since the 1965 Palm Sunday tornadoes struck the Midwest, including Southern Michigan. The first order of business was, of course, to care for the injured and the homeless. Then followed the months of cleanup and reconstruction, some of which is not yet completed.

In the week following Palm Sunday, I wrote and spoke with Dr. Robert M. White, who was the director of the Weather Bureau and that time, was in charge of the reconstruction of the area.

Supplemental Medicare Application Blanks Available at Post Office

Postmaster Richard Schaefer announced today that application blanks for supplemental Medicare benefits are available at the Chelsea Post Office.

The application blanks are being made available as the Social Security Administration seeks to contact 41 million senior citizens before March 31 deadline imposed by the Medicare law.

President Johnson has proclaimed March as "National Medicare Enrollment Month." He urged all federal agencies and all citizens to cooperate in enrolling senior citizens in the program.

Initially, some two and one-half million blanks were distributed to nearly 34,000 main post offices throughout the 50 states. Additional forms are available as needed.

Through direct mailings and other means, the Social Security Administration has had contact with 10 of the 19.1 million citizens who will be 65 or over on July 1. Of the 16 million who replied, less than one million said they did not want to sign up for the supplemental program.

The supplemental program costs $8 a month and provides for doctor bills and other benefits. Everyone 65 and over is eligible for the basic hospital benefits under Medicare.

A copy of the application blank is displayed on the lobby bulletin board of the Chelsea Post Office. Senior citizens who reach 65 before 1966 face a two-year delay if they do not sign up by March 31. The application forms are pre-addressed to the Social Security Administration in Baltimore, Md.

COOL ROOM FOR PLANTS

Most house plants will do well in daytime temperatures between 65 and 75 degrees, but like it cooler at night—between 50 and 55 degrees. Porous clay pots whose walls absorb less heat, will help keep plant roots cooler. In overheated houses, it's a good idea to keep plant collections on tables with wheels, which can easily be moved to cool locations at night.

During World War II the largest number of men training at Parris Island Marine Corps Recruit Depot at one time was 19,280.

National Wildlife Week at Metro Park Nature Center

This is National Wildlife Week and the theme this year is "Save America's Natural Beauty" including air, water, trees, animals and everything under foot.

LEE CURTIS

Lee Curtis, a resident of Dexter and a naturalist with the Nature Center at Kensington-Metro Park, is the featured attraction of the week.

Because of the modern freeway system many Washtenaw county residents are less than an hour's drive from Kensington Park where the Nature Center registration books show that many visitors come from Ann Arbor, Dexter, Saline, Whitmore Lake and Ypsilanti.

One of the key attractions at the week-long event, according to Curtis, are the Canada Geese that make their home in the park. These geese nest on the islands of the Whiting Lakes and they are so friendly they invite visitors to feed them along the park's winding paths.

Area Dairy Farmers Cited Saturday at Annual Banquet

Dairy farmers from throughout Washtenaw county celebrated at the Dexter High school Saturday night for the 11th annual awards presentation.

KAREN WHEELER

Miss Linda Mast, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Mast of Dexter, was selected from a field of 12 entries to become the 1966 Dairy Princess.

Other contestants were Janet Krumm of Manchester, Karen Robinson of Ann Arbor, Betty Sedinger of Milan, Penny Eisenberger of Chelsea, Mildred Hausman of Saline, Judy Wheeler of Whitmore Lake, and Gail Grebach of Saline.

Judging the beauty contest were Dr. Wayne Ziegler, a field man for the American Dairy Association, Mrs. Lewis Frost, program director for the Washtenaw County Dairy Council, and Mrs. Susan Taylor, 4-H agent for Lenawee county.

The featured speaker of the evening, Dr. Sylvan W. Kiefer, director of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station, was introduced by Warren Huff, a member of the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University.

Conservation Dept. Nursery Trees Ready For Spring Planting

Victor Horvath, area forester for the Michigan Conservation Department, has announced that trees and shrubs from the Conservation Department's Southern Michigan Forest Nursery are now ready for delivery.

It is a good idea to phone the nursery several days ahead of planting time to give the nursery crew time to package the trees and have them ready to load in cars or trucks.

Gelman Forms New Science Book Publishing Firm

Ann Arbor — A new subsidiary to publish scientific books was announced today by President Charles Gelman of the Gelman Instrument Co.

Because our subjects are highly specialized, we will seek authors anywhere in or outside of the United States, Ann Arbor Science Publishers, Inc., books do not compete sales-wise with those of any other Ann Arbor publisher, commented Lewis.

Larger, Fewer Dairy Herds Is Modern Trend in State

The trend toward fewer and larger dairy farms may be coming faster than even the most brave predicted.

Recent figures by the State and Federal Crop Reporting Service showed the number of milk cows in Michigan dropped seven percent in 1965—from 673,000 to 626,000.

While in St. Louis, Mrs. Schauble also visited Eden Seminary, the United Church of Christ publishing house and other church facilities.

Furthermore, the number of dairy herds has dropped to about 30,000—compared to about 52,000 in 1959.

C. Ray Hoglund, Michigan State University agricultural economist, says this trend will mean increased emphasis on management, not just long hours of hard labor.

As an indication of the improved efficiency of Michigan dairymen and their dairy cattle, the total milk production in 1965 was 5,672,000 pounds from slightly more than 400,000 dairy cattle.

Mrs. Schauble Attends USS Exec. Council Meet in St. Louis

Mrs. Paul G. Schauble, 170 Orchard St., was in St. Louis, Mo., March 14-16 to attend the Executive Council meeting of the two-million-member United Church of Christ.

Before becoming head of Gelman advertising and public relations in 1962, he was a newspaper reporter, editor and advertising manager, and did public relations and publications work with Wyandotte Chemicals and Chrysler Corp.

TO PROTECT THE GUILTY

A prisoner in a state penitentiary wrote a crime story and sent it to a magazine editor with this note: "The facts in this story are true. Only the names have been changed to protect the guilty."

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT OK'd

A teacher received this very cooperative note from a boy's mother: "I hereby give you permission to give James capital punishment when he misbehaves."

Six Chelsea Residents Attend 1966 Legislative Seminar

Six Chelsea residents were among the 1,800 Michigan church people who last week attended the 1966 Legislative Seminar at Lansing Civic Center and the Michigan Capitol building.

Sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches each year to help church people know how to make their civic influence felt in the best way, the seminar has grown in popularity not only among church people but among the legislators. Legislators were the guests at the luncheon, sat with constituents from their area, and approximately 60 or 70 were introduced.

Gov. George Romney made a strong appeal for churches to make their desires known but also to forget their task of developing moral and ethical citizens who want to be involved and stand up for what they believe.

Representatives from three local churches, including the Rev. Robert Wagner of the Rev. James Craig, Ray Schalter, Herbert Pearson and Miss Richard Reed, attended the seminar.

The morning schedule was a panel presentation, "Why Join A Political Party?" by Mrs. Elly Peterson, chairman of the Republican Party of Michigan, and Zoltan Perenyi, chairman of the Democratic Party of Michigan.

Before luncheon the bumper crop of churchmen who were forced out of the First Methodist church of Lansing when the congregation passed 1,000, divided into 14 discussion groups where experts talked for a few minutes and then everyone had their chance. The discussion groups attended by the local delegates concerned Civil Rights, Church-State Relations, the Legislative process, Mental Health and Youth.

After the luncheon the group descended upon the House and Senate galleries in the Capitol where the sessions were abandoned while the legislators either caucused or talked with the home-town visitors.

The group this year will leave in mid-June for five weeks of study at the University of Ryukyus on Okinawa, where MSU has had a technical assistance program since 1951. After the end of classes, the group will tour Japan for two weeks.

The Fuerstenaus own 100 acres and rent an additional 70 acres in partnership with his father. They have a herd of 105 registered Holsteins, milking about 85 cows.

Fuerstenau, 34, serves as secretary of the Richmond MMPA Local, and he and his wife are active in a number of farm, community and church groups. They have a daughter, Sue, and a son, Jimmy, 4.

William Bahnmiller Buys Registered Bull

William F. Bahnmiller, Chelsea, recently purchased a registered Aberdeen-Angus bull from Steven Cartter, Ann Arbor.

When a little boy came home from school dragging his book behind him, his mother asked what kind of a day he had. The boy sighed, "I had another bad day at the principal's office."

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

"Love," Michelangelo said, "is a concept of beauty . . . A friend of virtue and of gentleness."

In a few words he says a lot about something that gives quality to living. He expressed beauty in painting, his particular gift. "We can express it in living, our common gift."

If love speaks of beauty, virtue and gentleness then we have too often failed to hear. Its voice is lost in the staccato sounds of war, absorbed in the mute presence of ugliness; overcome by the noisy spirit of evensness. It is unborn in the silent presence of selfishness. It is obliterated in the clamor of people's desire for violence.

Love, if it speaks at all, speaks of anything but destruction. It calls for us to escalate our service to people and countries, not to deplete them.

Love speaks of feeding the hungry, not destroying their crops. Love speaks of clothing the naked, not burning their villages. Love speaks of slaking the thirst of the parched, not of isolating them from relief.

Love speaks of teaching the illiterate with books, not guns, not burning crosses; with gentleness, not with night raids, not with sporadic violence, not with force.

Indeed, love speak of lives turned in new directions, as Michelangelo said, of beauty, virtue, and gentleness. St. Paul asked us to let it be genuine.

That is, real.

MMPA Observing 50th Anniversary

Michigan dairy farmers is proud record of the Michigan Producers Association (MMPA). The bargaining-marketing co-op was founded May 23, 1916, by a group of farmers who lived in Howell. They met on the premises of Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station, and because they had no adequate guarantee that they would be paid for their milk, they decided to market their milk themselves and to take what the dairies offered.

Guarantee of market and guarantee of pay to member farmers are services that MMPA has failed to provide.

They are part of a total marketing service for which MMPA members pay less than 2 percent of their milk income. By arranging for milk delivery to dairies or milk processors, MMPA professionals and elected officials bargain milk prices.

They represent nearly 10,000 Michigan dairy farmer members and highly complex things as Federal Milk Marketing Order programs, promotional programs and national and state legislative matters as well. Far and away the largest dairy farmer co-operative in Michigan, MMPA actually provides the marketing muscle that enables several smaller co-operatives to function effectively. It alone is not MMPA's major accomplishment, however.

A 50-year record of service to dairy farmers, particularly in marketing milk and bargaining for it, is. Along the way in coming the record there were battles, and there will continue to be at least at the bargaining

"The men who fought for and built MMPA were successful because they were right; because they were doing something that dairy farmers could not do individually and alone, and because no decent alternative to a farmer-owned, farmer-controlled cooperative like MMPA was ever offered," said MMPA President Glenn Lake, who has headed the organization since 1955.

"MMPA has consistently used its size and its strength in a responsible manner that is responsive to the needs and wishes of its members," Lake said.

Milk marketed through MMPA in fiscal 1965—more than three billion (B) pounds of it—brought more than $127 million to Michigan dairy farmers. More than $19 million went to dairy farmers during 1965 because of MMPA bargaining ability to win and maintain premium prices over Federal Order minimums on bottling milk.

"The structure of the Michigan Milk market today is naturally bigger and more complex than it was 50 years ago," Lake said.

"So is farming more complex and so is practically everything else. One thing that hasn't changed, though, is the fact that MMPA members have milk they want to sell, and dairies have customers who want to buy it. Competition and the cost-price squeeze affect both groups.

"Throughout out 50 years of service, MMPA has remained just what it started out to be: A democratic organization through which dairy farmer members can speak with one voice in the market place," Lake said.

MMPA actually reached its maximum size in the mid 1950s when membership exceeded 17,000 dairy farmers. Since that time there has been a sharp reduction in the number of farmers producing milk for the market all over the United States including Michigan. Despite some very recent reductions in Michigan, plenty has remained available for state needs.

At the time MMPA was founded, and for many years thereafter, milk was sold in population centers of the state that were separate markets insulated from each other.

Now, for all practical purposes, all of the Lower Peninsula of Michigan is a single market served by MMPA and regulated by two Federal Milk Marketing Orders. Virtually complete conversion from milk carrying cans to farm bulk tanks and huge tanker trucks, plus the modern network of Michigan superhighways, brought about this change.

MMPA history is the story of farmers uniting to market their milk. Here are a few highlights of that history:

—In 1916, MMPA was founded and began bargaining farmer milk prices in Detroit, the state's major market.

—By 1924, the Association had grown in strength to the point where Delegates voted to sell only milk produced on the farms of members.

—During the 1920s, there were a number of "investigations" by government groups and non-government groups concerned with the retail price of milk.

—MMPA continued to function as marketing-bargaining agent for members throughout the difficult economic times of the 1930s.

—During the 1920s, 1930s and 1940s, there were several federal, ulation of dairy farming and dairy retail pricing, none of which survived. Like all other commodities, milk and dairy products were regulated by Office of Price Administration regulations during World War II.

—Attempt to destroy MMPA as the effective bargaining-marketing voice of Michigan dairy farmers were made in the 1930s and 1940s by an offshoot of the United Mine Workers, and in the 1950s by a group backed by organized labor and calling itself the Fair Share Bargaining Association. None of these groups could offer the sound programs of service available through MMPA, and all failed.

—In 1951, the first Federal Milk Marketing Order became effective in Michigan.

—In 1950, the first "Superpool" premium price arrangement on class I (bottling) milk was worked out by MMPA. Under Federal Milk Marketing Orders, a market-wide "pool" is established and dairy purchases are audited by the Federal government. A "superpool" is a marketwide pool superimposed on a Federal Order pool to account for negotiated premium prices on bottling milk above the Federal Order price.

—MMPA services to members, all carried out in support of the bargaining-marketing activities of the Association, have developed as needed over the years and now include butterfat check testing, quality assistance and field service, advertising and information, milk transportation, data processing, membership activities, and others.

MICHIGAN MILK PRODUCERS ASSOCIATION IS CELEBRATING ITS 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF SERVICE

What is Michigan Milk Producers Association? What does it do for its members? What does it do for you?

Michigan Milk Producers Association was founded by a handful of Michigan dairy farmers in 1916. Today, MMPA has more than 9,000 members and last year marketed over $127 million worth of milk. In fifty years, MMPA has become one of the largest dairy cooperatives in America. What is responsible for this remarkable growth? Service. Outstanding service to its members—and to consumers as well.

THE PURPOSE OF MMPA
The main purpose of the founders of Michigan Milk Producers Association was to assure members a fair return for their milk through price negotiations with

GUARANTEED MARKET AND PAYMENT
All MMPA members are active dairy farmers—shipping large quantities of milk to market every day. Because of the perishable nature of milk, even one day without a market can be costly. MMPA, therefore, guarantees every member a market for his milk, every day of the year—providing it meets health standards. What's more, MMPA guarantees each member full payment for his milk at all times.

DISASTER AND QUARANTINE PROTECTION
Dairy barns and herds are essential to the dairy farmers income. If a member's barn or milking facilities are damaged by fire or windstorm, MMPA pays that member up to 75% of his milk income for a 90-day recovery period. The same financial protection is guaranteed any member prevented by disease from shipping milk.

TESTING AND FIELD SERVICE
MMPA professional testers check regularly to make sure each member is paid on an accurate basis. MMPA's professional field men call on members regularly to help them with individual problems and to help keep them informed about current quality standards, health department regulations and marketing facts.

FIFTY YEARS OF SERVICE
Many changes have taken place and much has been accomplished in fifty years. Today, MMPA stands as the modern marketing arm of Michigan dairy farmers. Its major purpose still is to serve the dairy farmer members who own and operate it. And the result is to provide you, the consumer, with an uninterrupted supply of fresh, wholesome milk.

We measure our success in terms of our service to our members and to you. And we think we have reason to celebrate.

Survey Finds Many Ideas on How To Reduce Traffic Toll

Lansing — Michigan citizens have some definite ideas about how to reduce the highway traffic toll, a new public opinion survey reveals. They include raising the minimum driving age from 16 to 17 requiring drivers 65 and older to pass a physical exam when their license is up for renewal.

The survey was conducted by the Michigan State University Department of Communication in cooperation with MSU's Highway Traffic Safety Center. It was financed by a $40,000 grant from the Chrysler Corporation Fund, a non-profit organization. A scientific sampling of Michigan residents — who termed "traffic safety" second only to "crime" as a statewide problem — showed broad support for a variety of new traffic laws. Outside of the Detroit area, "traffic safety" generally "noised out" "crime" as the No. 1 problem in the survey responses.

The survey showed: Three-fourths of Michigan residents favor raising the minimum driving age from 16 to 17 years. Three-fourths endorsed physical exams at license renewal time for drivers 65 and older. Ninety percent favor the idea of requiring annual vehicle inspections if the fee is charged; 80 percent still favor it even though a $2 fee may be charged. Two-thirds of Michigan residents favor having a driver take a written test every three years, when renewing his driver's license. Nine out of ten would like to see driver education for all beginners, regardless of age. Dr. Verling C. Troidahl, associate professor in MSU's Department of Communication, who directed the survey, said it is the "only one with which we are familiar" that bases public opinion about traffic safety on scientific sampling of people to assure a representative sample of the state. "I feel that our results are reliable guides" Troidahl said. "If we were able to ask every Michigan citizen the same questions, the odds are 100 to 1 that the results would be changed no more than four percentage points from those we obtained."

SEARCH BEGINS TO DETERMINE MICHIGAN PRODUCT OF THE YEAR
Participation from every county and nearly every community in the annual competition to select Michigan's product of the year and its agricultural development of the year and its agricultural development of the year is predicted by Judd Perkins, Muskegon, chairman of the Michigan Week product and agriculture awards committee. Following a final committee meeting in Lansing rules and regulations were announced for competition in both categories, which starts with the selection of county winners, goes on to regional contests and concludes with presentation of the two state awards during Michigan Week, May 15-21. County Michigan Week organizations will start immediately accepting entries of outstanding manufactured products and agricultural achievements. John Calkins, executive assistant in the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Lansing, is deputy chairman of the state awards committee. Harry Richert, industrial development department manager of the Detroit Board of Commerce, is executive secretary. Perkins, who is director of public relations for General Telephone Co. of Michigan, said three deadlines have been established. All county entries must be in by Monday, April 11. County winners must be submitted for regional judging by Monday, April 25. Regional winners must be submitted to the state awards committee by Thursday, May 5. Guidebooks with full details on the two award programs are being supplied to all local Michigan Week chairmen, to chambers of commerce and to county agricultural extension agents. Sixteen regional awards chairmen will help the county Michigan Week organizations promote entries and later will supervise regional contests. The product-of-the-year competition is open to companies, business enterprises with manufacturing facilities in Michigan. Each entry must be a consumable product, available for sale to general public through normal distribution channels — not made in Michigan. It must be a relatively new product with a record of outstanding development. Eligible for the agricultural development of the year award are farmers, agricultural and cultural associations, food processors and all other groups of individuals located in Michigan who are actively engaged in developing, processing or manufacturing agricultural products. An agricultural entry may be a product, a process, or a market research program significant to Michigan agriculture or to farming in any area of the state. The 1965 product-of-the-year award was won by the R. J. Strom Computer of Monroeville, Pa. The agricultural development of the year award went to Andy March of Paw Paw for fruit juice processing development. The 1963 product-of-the-year award was won by Chelsea's home, portable camping house. Chemicals from the tree imp the wetting and flow properties. ## Tiger Plans Call for 40 TV Appearances

Detroit—Six television stations have been selected to carry 40 of the Tigers' games in 1966 and 29 radio stations picked to air all 162 games on the schedule.

Broadcast plans for the coming season, announced by James A. Campbell, executive vice-president and general manager, disclosed that the Tigers will televise 13 night games this year and put heavy emphasis on week-end viewing. Twenty-nine games are on Saturday or Sunday and three more on Friday night.

The 40-game TV schedule includes only 11 home games, all on Saturday afternoon. The 13 heavy with teams expected to battle the Tigers for the pennant—eight against Baltimore, six each against Chicago, Cleveland and New York and four against the defending champion Minnesota Twins.

For the 14th consecutive year, Station WJLB-TV (channel-2) will be the originating station for the television network which the Tigers operate themselves. Sponsors include Pabst Brewing Co., Sun Oil Co. and Hygrade Food Products, with others to be added.

George Kell and Ray Lane, a new TV team last year, again will be at the microphones.

Station WJR (760) will originate the radio broadcasts for the third straight year with a sponsor lineup which includes: The Stroh Brewery Co., Pure Oil Co., General Cigar Co., National Bank of Detroit and the B. F. Goodrich Co.

Ernie Harwell, marking his seventh season on the air for the Tigers, and Gene Osborn, in his second year, will be behind the radiator mikes.

As part of the nation's first computerized soil testing program, complete analysis of a soil's nutrient needs may be computed in a matter of minutes. If you take a minute to check our list of winning vehicle identification numbers, you may know how it feels this week.

The contest is in its last week. So hurry. Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification sign. Then look for the winning numbers listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Bulck dealer. He has a list of 72 winning numbers posted in his showroom. If you see your vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past six weeks. Every week 72 winners were posted on the showroom wall.

You may have missed your number before.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Bulck to have a winning number.

Contest Rules: Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Wisconsin only. If they prefer, send a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

SPEND $1 TO MAKE $200 — Dr. L. S. Robertson, Michigan State University soil scientist, shows how one dollar's worth of zinc sulphate per acre, properly applied with other fertilizer, can produce beans worth $200 an acre (left). This compares with the crop grown in zinc deficient soil (right) where no marketable beans were produced. Zinc is also expensive, says Robertson, bean growers can't afford not to use it. The MSU extension specialists estimate that zinc applied to all Michigan bean acreage would mean $4 million worth of extra yields for Michigan farmers.

In one respect, the unfortunate outbreak of tuberculosis involving more than a dozen children in one Michigan nursery school has been fortunate for it alerts us to the fact that in spite of many medical advances, tuberculosis still remains a lively, ever-present threat. Although largely suppressed through modern medicine, the pasteurization of milk and the inspection of meat, tuberculosis dwells among us more than we suspect. 1,500,000 Michigan residents—one person in five—carry the germs within their bodies, according to Leslie Harkus of the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

Further, once the germ is present, it remains a full-time threat, since no way has yet been found to "pasteurize" people. The germ lurks, ready to strike when the body is weak or conditions are right. Latest complete figures 1964 show 3,047 Michigan residents treated in the one-year period with 2,196 of these new, active cases, and 253 of them among rural people. ANYONE can get tuberculosis and since it is a disease freely transferable between humans and livestock, farmers are especially concerned.

They, along with health officials, rejoiced at the passage of Michigan's new state-wide, uniform meat inspection law which will be another strong link in the anti-TB chain. Right now, only six tuberculin "reactors" are found for each 10,000 cattle tested—six one-hundredths of one percent. But ANY reactors are too many in the eyes of health officials.

Dr. Ronald Scott of the Animal Health Division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports delight at the enactment of the new meat inspection program in that it will tie in with an excellent "trace-back" system now an adjunct to regular livestock testing. "If a meat inspection counters a carcass with diseased conditions, all handlers are checked back to the farm of origin, where full tests are made," he said.

But all concerned must remain alert. "Livestock and poultry diseases continue to be a serious problem," Farm Bureau members wrote to their annual policy statements. "We urge provision of adequate funds for research necessary to eradicate or control these diseases."

WHAT MANY HAVE WANTED A funeral procession happened to be passing by as an armored truck pulled up at an intersection. Since the truck driver couldn't get around the procession, he joined it.

An onlooker, impressed by seeing the money truck in the center of the funeral cortege, remarked, "What do you know? You can take it with you after all!"

Special Service Fees Increased By Postal Dept.

Increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and COD rates will become effective March 26. Postmaster Richard Schaubles said today.

The cost of operating these five special services now exceeds revenues by $60 million annually. The fee increases will narrow the cost-revenue gap by $36 million, based on business handled in fiscal year 1965.

Fees for money orders, registry and COD were last changed in 1961; insurance and certified mail in 1957. The fee changes, announced in the Jan. 11 Federal Register and confirmed in the register on Feb. 25, are put into effect under the existing administrative authority of the Postmaster General.

Increases include the following: Money Order Fees — Domestic and international money order fees will be increased by 5 cents.

Insurance Fees — The minimum fee bracket will increase from $10 to $15 and the minimum fee will be 20 cents instead of 10 cents. The revised insurance fees will be as follows: $0.01 to $15, 20 cents; $15.01 to $50, 30 cents; $50.01 to $100, 40 cents; $100.01 to $150, 50 cents; $150.01 to $200, 60 cents.

Registry Fees — The present 60 cents and 75 cents fees will be combined into a single fee at 75 cents for values up to $100. Registry fees for articles valued in excess of $100 will remain unchanged.

COD Fees — The present 40 cents and 50 cents fee brackets will be combined into one fee bracket at 60 cents for amounts up to $10. There will be no change in the fees covering items valued above $10.

Certified Mail — The fee will be increased 30 cents from the present 20 cents per item to 50 cents.

Losses incurred in the operation of special services are paid from funds drawn from the Federal Treasury. The fee increases will shift a substantial portion of the special services cost borne by the public to the users of these services.

Michigan farmers spend more than $50 million a year on fertilizer, an MSU soil scientist reports.

Huron Watershed Council Annual Meet Set April 21

The annual meeting of the Huron River Watershed Council will be held Thursday, April 21, during the day. F. O'Brien, executive secretary of the state Water Resources Commission, will speak, according to John Dillon, vice-chairman of the council, who presided at the March 17 meeting held in the Ann Arbor city hall.

Not enough delegates were present to constitute a forum.

Lima township's delegates, Mrs. Harry Denham, was not eligible to vote due to difficulties encountered in counting the mail-in vote on Lima's eligibility for council membership.

Lodi township residents, who are concerned about the possibility of the proposed Mill Creek Reservoir, were present to inquire about council membership for Lodi.

New executive secretary, Jerome Fulton, a graduate student in the Natural Resources School at the University of Michigan, was introduced.

A communication in condemnation of the proposed Mill Creek project from the Village of Chelsea was read.

Delegates from Van Buren township, Edward Staelton, requested council assistance. His township desires a continuation of pollution and stagnation checks, particularly during the summer months on Ford and Edison Lakes, even after the completion of the new Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti sewage treatment plant. The Wayne county township wants monthly reports during the summer season and every three months the rest of the year.

George Katona, a Hamburg township delegate, requested council assistance in having the outlet from the sewage treatment plant at the Boys Vocational School at Whitmore Lake moved to a different, faster moving section of the Huron River than is presently used. Hamburg's economy is partially dependent on the summer resort business, which is largely dependent on the quality of the water in area lakes—Base, Strawberry, Gallagher and others in the Huron River chain. Concern was expressed over the possibility of extensive algae growth in the future due to the extension of the services of the vocational school plant to Whitmore Lake and Green Oak townships.

Delegates from Newport, Monroe county, John Chasica, expressed concern for the future quality of Lake Erie.

The question was raised as to just what the Huron River Watershed Council can do to help with the type of river management problems presented; delegates felt that the council could and should be more than just a debating society.

Robert Kaercher, Dexter township, questioned whether a sewage intercepter system might not be a solution to the problems discussed; some delegates felt that it was not a question of whether, but rather, when, such an intercepter would be considered a necessity.

Former Chelsea Pastor Authors Magazine Article

Springfield, Mo. — "The Day the C. A. Preached," an article by the Rev. Harvey J. Mepplink, pastor of Parkway Assembly of God, New Cannon Ave., Norwalk, is featured in the April issue of "Advance" Magazine, ministerial periodical of the Assemblies of God.

The Rev. Mepplink, 34, Christ's Ambassadors (youth) president in the Southern New England Assemblies of God District, recounts in his article he counfited a youth in his congregation to preach at the church's youth day held annually in April.

"When I approached the C.A. about the possibility of his speaking, he responded with the usual 'I will try, but you'll be sorry answer,'" according to the Rev. Mepplink.

"The sermon was delivered with care, and I can wholeheartedly say, yes, the results were lasting," he writes.

Ordained in 1957 by the Michigan District of the Assemblies of God, the Rev. Mepplink accepted the pastorate of First Assembly of God, Chelsea, Mich., where he served until July, 1960.

He accepted a call to be assistant pastor of Calvary Temple Assembly of God, Springfield, Mo., and served there until July, 1962. The following fall he came to Norwalk.

The Rev. Mepplink and his wife Jean, have three children, Debbie, Denise and David. They reside at 262 New Cannon Ave., Norwalk. "Advance," produced under direction of the Assemblies of God executive presbytery, 16-member high policy body, is edited by Miss Gwen Jones of Springfield. The periodical is distributed as a service to the more than 15,000 ordained and licensed ministers of the denomination.

Many self-cleaning ovens are equipped with a heating element that makes 840 to 920 degree temperatures possible. A Michigan State University home economist says anything splattered on the oven is decomposed by the intense heat. Safety features such as automatically locking oven doors are included with the cleaning device.

Amendment Helps Senior Citizens on Tax Exemption

The Michigan legislature has passed an amendment to the Senior Citizens Tax Exemption law, which will qualify a few more citizens who are 65 and over. The amendment took immediate effect. Residence requirements include having lived in Michigan at least five years out of the last 10 years. Dwellings on land of another are now accepted. Trailer coaches are not allowed unless located on land owned occupant.

Persons who are living in cooperative apartments are acceptable if they are liable for taxes on the law. Persons believing they are eligible should see Supervisor-Mark Hoffman or Assessor-Thom Smith or come to the Board of Review meetings on April 1 held in Sylvan Township Hall or Municipal Building. This amendment does not affect those who have already filed an exemption.
