

DISTRICT WINNER Mary Jill Flintoft, who walked away with top honors at the District Spelling Bee in Chelsea Wednesday, April 6, points to the word "abattoir" (a slaughterhouse) which was the winning word. Miss Flintoft is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Flintoft of 610 S. Main and a student at the Chelsea Junior High school. She will be a contestant at the Metropolitan Area Spelling Bee at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, May 11, on the stage of The Detroit News auditorium in the WWJ-TV building, Detroit. Runner-up in the contest was Molly Brown of Dexter.

Take a minute to tell someone how mighty Michigan is in size.
—Its rivers and streams would reach one and a half times around the world.
—Its public roads and streets would go around the equator four times.

—Its shoreline is longer than either the U. S. Atlantic coastline or Pacific coastline.
—Its total land area of 30,494,080 acres is larger than Greece, larger than Switzerland and Portugal combined, and nearly five times the size of Belgium.

—Its area includes 57,000 square miles of land and nearly 40,000 square miles of water surface. In land and water area combined, it is the largest state east of the Mississippi and ranks tenth in the nation.

—Its population is almost eight million, ranking it seventh among the states in the 1960 census.

Bill Introduced Which May Erase U.S. National Debt

United States Representative W. V. (D. Ann Arbor) has introduced with others, a bill which, if passed and implemented, could over a period of years repay and erase the U. S. national debt.

The bill requires all revenues received by the Federal Government from private corporations for lease rights for exploitation of shale oil reserves on Federal lands, to be utilized only to reduce the national debt.

Some 1.1 trillion barrels of oil, having a wholesale value of more than $2 billion, are estimated to be contained in the shale (soft marlstone rock) embedded close to the surface in extensive areas in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah. Most of this land remains in public ownership.

This reserve is believed to be the largest known deposit of hydrocarbon fuels in the world. (By comparison, only a third of a trillion barrels of oil are believed available from all conventional oil wells yet discovered in the U.S.) The total revenues expected from the mining of the shale, more than a third of a billion dollars, at the customary 12 1/2 percent royalty rate, could repay the one-third trillion dollar national debt.

Up to this time, commercial mining of oil from shale has been prohibited by an executive order promulgated in 1930. Furthermore, up to this date profitable extraction of the oil has not yet been considered technically feasible. But recent research has made it clear that in all likelihood oil soon will be producible from shale as economically as from conventional wells.

Thus in the near future the shale reserves can be expected to yield untold wealth. It would like to see the new wealth derived from publicly owned lands be earmarked to reduce the public debt," Vivian said.

The Coast Guard's International Ice Patrol is 52 years old this year. They have a total of 10 icebreakers.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Henry Werner spent from Wednesday until Monday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lyons, at Kalamazoo. Her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Werner and sons, Henry W. and Paul D. joined her there Friday morning and remained to spend Easter there. The Paul Werners, enroute to their home at Alexandria, Va., brought Mrs. Werner to her home here Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Salyer and daughter, Kristal, had as their Easter dinner guests, Mrs. Salyer's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Howard and their son, Alton; also another uncle, W. F. Wiseman of Lucasville, O.

Jesse R. Nodine of 19204 Service Drive off Jackson Ave. has recently returned to his work at King Seely Corp. in Ann Arbor after recuperating from surgery which he underwent in January.

Mrs. Frank Carmer of Brooklyn and her son, Elmer, and daughter, Miss Wilmer Carmer of Jackson, called on Mrs. Joseph Wright, of 734 S. Main St. on Monday afternoon.

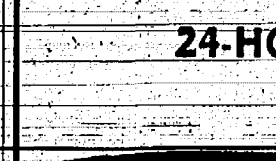

Mrs. Joe Merkel has returned home after spending two months in Huntington Beach, Calif., visiting her daughter, Mrs. George (Gloria) Gauthier. The Gauthiers have seven children. Mrs. Merkel reports that the flowers were blooming and everything was green when she left California.

Friday Deadline Set for Signing on ASCS Programs

Mrs. Carolyn Stump, office manager, Washtenaw ASCS county office wishes to remind producers that Friday, April 15 is the last day to sign-up for the 1966 Feed Grain and Wheat Programs.

Basically both programs are the same as in 1965. The programs are designed to further the goals in reducing surpluses of wheat and maintaining farm income.

Growers who participate in the wheat program will receive the minimum requirements of 15 percent of the farm wheat allotment will qualify for price support loans on their wheat crop and for marketing certificates worth about $1.30 a bushel on 45 percent of the wheat produced.

Growers who participate in the Feed Grain Program will earn price support and diversion payments and will also be eligible for price support loans on the feed grains produced.

There is no cross compliance between feed grain and wheat. Producers who have overplanted their wheat allotment can still participate in the Feed Grain Program.

Producers who intend to overplant on their feed grain can still participate in the Wheat Program if they have stayed within their wheat allotment.

Signing an application is the first step in getting into the program. If you intend to participate in either of the programs an application must be signed by April 15.

Mrs. Stump also wishes to urge producers participating in the 1966 Feed Grain and Wheat Programs to get a measurement of their fields if they are not sure of the acreage in the field.

The cost of the measurement service is $5 per farm plus $10 a day for the measurer.

This county ASCS office will be open every day the week of April 11 from 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Reducing surplus: Thinner Samsam.

Dept. of Mental Health Begins Recruitment Drive

A recruitment campaign was inaugurated today in Southeastern Michigan by the Department of Mental Health and area news media.

The goal is to obtain non-professional people to fill vacant positions at the seven state hospitals for the mentally ill and mentally retarded in the seven-county area.

Openings are now available for male institution workers, cooks and janitors; male and female attendant nurses; typists and stenographers. There are no specific education or experience requirements for any of the positions listed except for typists and stenographers who must be high school graduates.

Applicants are to be at least 18 years of age and able to pass basic Civil Service examinations. The new salary range, effective July 1, for institution workers is $4,348 to $4,573; typist-stenographers $4,401 to $4,711; cooks $4,591 to $5,262; janitors, $4,701 to $5,345; and attendant nurses $5,178 to $5,450.

The change of the recruitment drive is Ivan Estes, Department of Mental Health personnel director and personnel officers at the state hospitals.

"Salaries and attractive fringe benefits are not the only considerations for our nearly 12,000 employees," said Department of Mental Health personnel director Ivan Estes. "A major consideration is the satisfaction of knowing their services are contributing to the care and rehabilitation of less fortunate fellow citizens."

Further information and application forms may be obtained by contacting the personnel office at any one of the hospitals either in person or by phone: Hawthorn Center, Northville, 349-3000; Howell State Hospital, 546-3270; Lafayette Clinic, Detroit, 983-5400; Northville State Hospital, 349-1800; Plymouth State Home, 439-1500; Pontiac State Hospital, 453-1500; Pontiac State Hospital, 606-8140; Ypsilanti State Hospital, 182-5700.

USDA Maintains Defense Board for Possible Disaster

"If the United States ever suffered a nuclear disaster, the American farmer would be dependent upon to supply the food and fiber needed to keep the economy going. One of the greatest problems he might face would be radioactive fallout," stated John Trustad of the Soil Conservation Service and a member of the Washtenaw County Defense Board.

Trustad said that monitoring services would be needed immediately after a nuclear disaster to determine the intensity of radiation on local farms. These services would be needed later to determine when radiation has decreased to a point where farming could be safely resumed. Expert personnel and special instruments are required for this type of work.

Under the direction of USDA State and County Defense Boards, an emergency radiological monitoring program is set up to function immediately if needed in a national emergency. Trained monitors are ready to aid in handling the radiological problems that would exist following a nuclear accident or attack.

Some of the problems which might arise under nuclear emergency conditions are the detection and measurement of radiological contamination of farm lands, hay, vegetable crops, stored crops, forage, and water, and the protection and handling of farm animals.

The Soil Conservation Service will advise and assist in the proper use of water during an emergency, and the Farmer's Home Administration member will help the farmer in any credit problems that may arise. The County Extension agent, moxides, education on survival practices and protective measures for the farmer, his family, and his livestock.

The board members also advise farmers regarding programs of USDA agencies that are not represented on the board. This might include, for example, assistance in rural fire defense or in the protection of livestock and crops against radiological or biological warfare.

More than 3,000 county defense boards are operating throughout the nation, and they work closely with county civil government authorities.

The county defense boards receive direction from the USDA State Defense Board.

Farmers can look to their local USDA County Defense Board and to Civil Defense for guidance in a national emergency.

Winter 4-H Projects Will Be Evaluated at District Levels

The county Spring Achievement program has been traditional in the Washtenaw 4-H program; all winter projects were exhibited and evaluated and dress reviews were held for knitting and clothing project members. This year there are major changes.

There will not be a county-wide Spring Achievement. All 4-H projects will be taken to county 4-H shows, Aug. 1-5 for exhibiting, evaluation and fair premiums. The Spring Achievement was cancelled by the Extension Office and the county 4-H Council as a result of evaluating the duplication of time and expense from having two exhibit shows and the conflicts with the community schedules.

Winter 4-H projects of sewing, knitting and woodworking will still be evaluated at district levels during April; the change is that there is no big county-wide exhibit. There will still be Dress Reviews; this year four district reviews with selections of participants for a county-wide review.

At all district evaluations 4-Hers will show their project to teams of leader judges. The member will discuss the project and receive an A, B, or C rating and ribbon.

Woodworking - electrical clubs have scheduled various times for club exhibits and evaluations. On April 11, the Pleasant Woody Kilowatts Club, Andy Luckhardt, leader, will be evaluated at Pleasant Lake school, 7:30 p.m. The Busy Dozen Club of Ann Arbor, Ray Fiehnor, leader, will hold their evaluations and display on Saturday, April 23 at Pittsfield Township Hall. At the Lima Community Hall on April 30, 1 p.m. Parker's Corners 4-H Craftsmen, Ray Schairer, leader, will present their articles for evaluation. The public may attend the evaluation sessions.

Clothing-Knitting district programs take place during the next two weeks. On April 14, 4-Hers from Ann Arbor, South Lyon and Whitmore Lake will take their knitting and sewing projects to Dixboro Methodist church, 3:30 to 6:00 p.m. for evaluation. This district will have a Dress Review program at Slauson Junior High, Saturday, April 16, 8 p.m. Mrs. Harvey Sanderson of Ann Arbor is district chairman.

Two districts will be holding their evaluations and Dress Reviews on Saturday, April 16. Mrs. Simon Girbach of Ann Arbor, chairman of Saline-Manchester District announces that 4-Hers in this area will have project evaluations from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Saline High school and the Dress Review program at 8 p.m. at Saline High.

Chelsea Woman's Granddaughter Weds In Jackson Ceremony
Jane Anne Hawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldine F. Hawley, 425 Seymour, Jackson, and Ronald Charles McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. McGee, 2221 Fairview, Jackson, were married Saturday, April 9.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Joseph Wright of 734 S. Main St., Chelsea. Mrs. Wright attended the wedding ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Carl Bevier in St. John United Church of Christ in Jackson.

Other area residents who attended the ceremony are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beutler, Mrs. Rza Feldkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Beutler of Ypsilanti and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Beutler of Detroit.

The bride wore a silk linen floor-length gown with lace applique trim. A pearl and crystal crown held her veil of illusion, and she carried an arrangement of pink roses and lilies of the valley. An heirloom cross of gold, which had belonged to her great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Connors of Jackson, for whom the bride was named, was also worn by the bride.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Victor J. Morrison, Linda A. Piper, and Nancy M. Garvey, who were attired in medium blue floor-length gowns and short veils and carried bouquets of white carnations flecked with blue.

The brides' brothers, John W. and Frederick J. Hawley, and William E. Morris, Jordan E. Evanoff, and Victor J. Morrison attended the bridegroom.

This Graduation give him the newest timepiece

ACCUTRON "412" Smart styling in a 10K gold filled case. Aligned tested marks. Water-resistant, shock-resistant, alligator strap. $125.00

since 1664

That was the year they put the balance wheel into the watch and started watches ticking. Now the tick tick is obsolete. After 300 years, it's been replaced by the tiny Accutron tuning fork which keeps time through vibrations. The result: a very faint hum and the most precise wrist timepiece ever. Accutron guarantees average monthly accuracy within 60 seconds. We'd say this is the perfect gift of time.

Cancer Worker Saves Her Own Life with Pap Test

An American Cancer Society Crusader from Wyandotte who became a block captain in the annual April American Cancer Society Crusade discovered that the first life she saved was her own.

Last April, 1965, Mrs. Martha G. Bastin, 28-year-old housewife and mother of four children read the kit of materials supplied by the American Cancer Society in preparation to becoming a block captain.

One of the leaflets said that every adult woman should have a regular checkup and that part of this should be the painless Pap test which can detect cancer of the uterus when it is invisible.

Mrs. Bastin says, "I felt I couldn't ask my neighbors to do this unless I had it done myself."

She went to her doctor in Wyandotte and asked for the check-up and the Pap test. The Pap test found malignant cells, but there was no other evidence of cancer.

A simple biopsy of tissue was taken and confirmed the diagnosis of cancer. But it was cancer in such an early stage that it could be cured with virtually 100 percent certainty.

Mrs. Bastin entered Wyandotte General Hospital in May, and her cancer was removed by surgery. There was no evidence of the spread of the disease.

April is National Cancer Control Month. This year the American Cancer Society has announced a stepped-up five-year attack on the six major forms of cancer including cancer of the uterus.

Other sites of cancer, which cause 48 percent of the cancer deaths in this country, many of which could be cured if detected early and properly treated, are colon and rectum, breast, mouth, lung and skin.

April 18-23 has been proclaimed Cancer Week in Chelsea. April 23 will be Tag Day in Chelsea.

Physical Education Class for Adult Women Will Start Wednesday

A physical education class for adult women will begin next Wednesday, April 20, at 7 p.m. The two-hour weekly class will continue for eight weeks.

All area women interested in participating in this course, offered under the sponsorship of the Chelsea Area Recreation Commission, are asked to call Commission Director Al Conklin, 475-5151 beginning Monday, April 18, to register. Registration in advance is essential for this class as enrollment will be limited to 40.

Mrs. Nancy Piehl, high school physical education instructor, will teach the class. Emphasis will be placed on individual sports, including tennis, golf, and group activities such as volleyball and softball. The group will meet at the high school gymnasium and go outside if weather permits.

Registration fee for the class will be $4.

CHEESE TIP
You can save meal preparation time by preparing cheese toppings in advance. Grate several cups of cheese at once. Store in plastic bags in the refrigerator and use as needed in casserole dishes or for toppings.

St. Paul's Church Members Hold Passover Communion

Described as a "most interesting and meaningful experience," the Passover Communion service at St. Paul's United Church of Christ Thursday evening was attended by approximately 175 people—members and friends of the congregation.

Those who participated were seated at tables in the dining room of the hall where they were served the bitter herbs, horseth (apple sauce), matzo and red wine symbolic of the meal served when Christ instituted the Lord's Supper.

Easter observance began with a 6:30 a.m. sunrise service with the entire church filled again with members and friends—and followed by breakfast at 7:30 a.m. sponsored by the Senior High Fellowship.

At the breakfast, Jess Meininger, the church council president, assisted by baking, buttermilk biscuits for which the packaged mix was contributed by Chelsea Milling Co.

The overflow attendance at the 10:45 a.m. service was marked by special music by the choir and a brass ensemble. Howard Flintoff was the tenor soloist.

The choir and ensemble number was entitled "As 'T' Began To Dawn," by G. Martin.

The brass ensemble included Tim Meininger, David Blass, Russell Maeder, Collins and Mike Funderburgh. The latter also played a trumpet recessional at the conclusion of the service entitled "The Trumpet Tune and Air" by Purcell.

The Rev. Warner Siebert pastor of St. Paul's said the recessional played by Funderburgh was exceptionally beautiful and practically the entire congregation remained seated until he concluded playing. Microphones and a public dress system were used in church hall which was used to seat the people who could not be accommodated in the church itself.

Many of those who attended mentioned that this was the first Easter service St. Paul's would attend in the present church which observed its centennial fall and is being replaced by new church building on Old US-24 to be completed before the end of this year.

Attempt To Avoid Striking Dog Causes 2-Car Crash on I-94

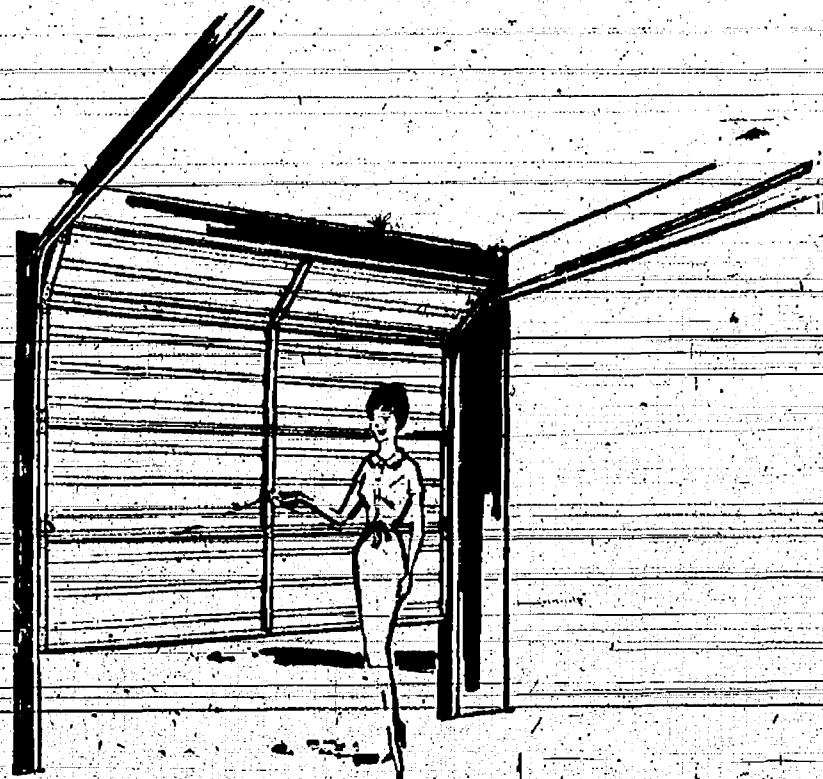

An accident in the eastbound lane of I-94, one mile west of Kalamazoo Rd., sent one person to the hospital Monday. The accident occurred at 9:45 a.m.

A 1965 Pontiac, owned and driven by Max Avery Miller, of 182 N. Main St., Chelsea, was traveling at approximately 40 miles per hour, according to Washtenaw County Sheriff's Office when Jimmy D. Jones, 25, of 11101a Saginaw, slammed on brakes of his 1966 Chevrolet, avoid hitting a dog.

The vehicle attempted to stop skidded 74 feet, hitting the car in the rear and pushing it feet. The dog was struck and killed.

Marie C. Miller, a passenger in the car driven by Miller, taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor for treatment of injuries.

Questions & Answers

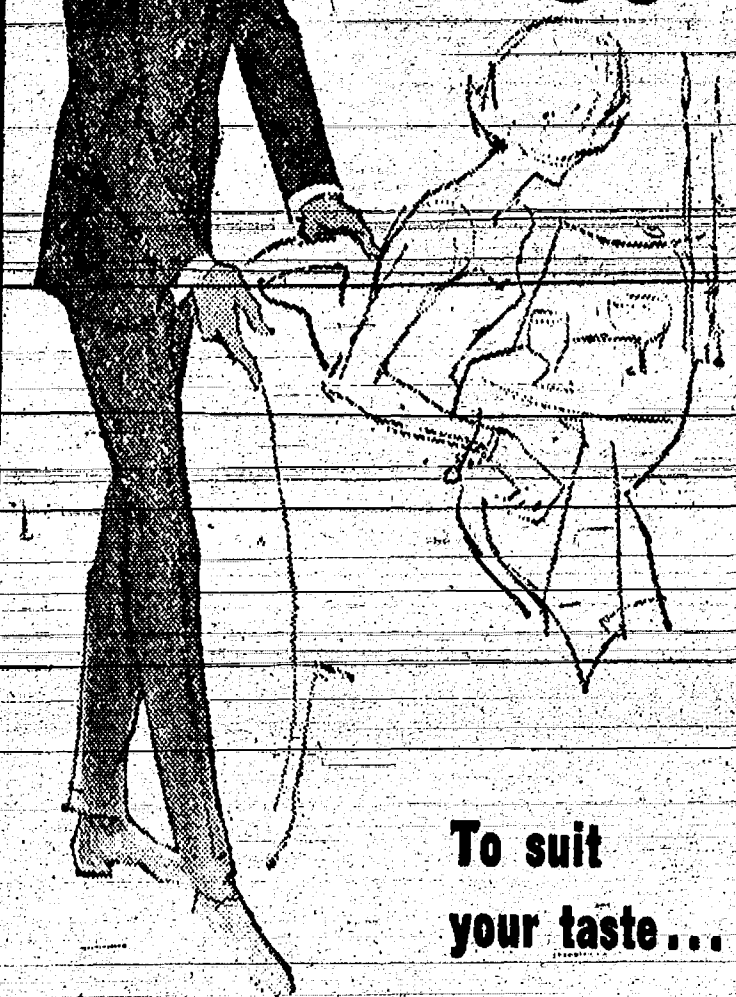

Can anything be done to eliminate the cooking odors of cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, and the like?

Distribute over the vegetables in the pan as many slices of stale bread as may be needed to cover the food completely, and cover the pan. The bread will absorb the odors, or at least most of them.

"The Place To Go for the Brands You Know"

THE COUNTRY PULPIT:

You Must Be Born Again!

If you were to ask your friends and acquaintances how to get to Heaven, you would probably receive as many answers as the number of friends you asked. Someone would suggest that you keep the Golden Rule; someone else that you live up to the Ten Commandments; others would advise you to pray, or give to the church and the poor, or "just do the best you can, and be content."

But when you are dealing with something as important as your eternal life and Heaven, you want something more than just the opinions of men. You want the truth! You want an authoritative answer! You want to know what God's Word has to say about the way to Heaven. When we open the Word of God, we read, "Jesus said, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God." (John 3:3, 7). How different this is from what friends may have told you.

What does the term "born again" mean, you ask. This is an important, and because so many persons have never realized that this is the only way to go to Heaven, they have gone into eternity lost—bound for Hell, not Heaven. Now let us see what being "born again" means according to the Bible, the Word of God.

God is holy and cannot look upon sin (Habakkuk 1:13). Therefore, no person, even if he has committed only one sin in his life, can reach Heaven because of that sin. God says, "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23). Not only that, but everyone who is not "born again" has sinned by not accepting Christ's plan for their safe arrival in Heaven.

Since we have seen that everyone is a sinner—some worse than others, of course, but all sinners in the sight of God—we need that every sinner is condemned (John 3:18) and under the penalty of death, "for the wages of sin is death" (Romans 6:23). But being a righteous Judge, He must exact a penalty for the death penalty, for their sins; and so He gave His Son for their salvation. He sent the Lord Jesus Christ to pay the death penalty for the sins of sinful men. He is their only hope. There is no other way to go to Heaven, for there is no other name under Heaven given among men whereby we must be saved (Acts 4:12).

Yes, someone had to pay the death penalty for our sins, so that we would not have to pay it ourselves. The only way we could have eternal life was through death, the death of the Lord Jesus Christ. God's Word says "Christ died for our sins" (1 Corinthians 15:3). That is the truth that we would not have to die for them. This is truly good news!

Now we can see what being "born again" means. When we have faith believe that Christ died for our sins, God reckons that we have suffered the penalty for them and died for them in the Lord Jesus Christ. So then, we "being dead to sins... live unto righteousness" (1 Peter 2:24); we have a new life to live, cleansed from our old sins and their penalty. We are truly "born again" to a new spiritual life!

If I were to extend my hand with a gift in it for you, all that you would have to do to possess it would be to take it—accept it from me. So it is with salvation and eternal life. God offers you an escape from the penalty of sin by the death of His Son on Calvary. If you accept Christ as your substitute, believing that He paid the penalty for your sins, you will be immediately saved—"born again."

You say, "How simple! I can't believe it's that easy." Yes, God made it so simple that even a child can be saved. So simple that you can be absolutely sure you are saved.

But more question: What does the new birth mean? God "But as many as received Him (Christ as their Savior from sin), to them gave He the right to become the sons of God" (John 1:12). What a marvelous truth! When a sinner is born again, he is accepted into God's family and he has all the rights and privileges of a son of God. With this new birth the sinner receives a new life and becomes a new creature.

In this new life the Christian forsakes his old habits of sin, and lives to obey and please God and Christ who died for him. Truly, the Christian, born again through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, has the hope of Heaven, which is eternal life in the presence of God forever. "I will give unto them eternal life, and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of My hand" (John 10:27).

But, "how shall ye escape, if ye neglect so great salvation?" (Hebrews 2:3).

Just A Minute...

By the Rev. James A. Craig

G. B. Shaw had the capacity to say the sharpest barbs with what people preferred to call wit. Yet, even if one did not always appreciate his humor, he could also express some significant thoughts in precise language.

On one occasion he wrote that "Man can climb to the highest summits, but he cannot dwell there long."

For the Christian and the Christian Church the week after Easter is the time to reflect on what he wrote. Easter is the summit of the Christian experience. The disciples in their writings after the event make Easter the point to which all other events led.

We're a long time struggling to get to that summit and we descend from it quickly. Once Easter is past we mark time till the end of school, the beginning of summer, and the annual vacation.

What can happen while we're at that summit is to get a good view of the landscape. We can see where we've been and where we have to go. We can get a sense of our direction, perhaps a glimpse of our goal.

The struggle of the climb, even the joy at succeeding, can soon disappear, but the discovery can never be completely forgotten.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

A HELPING HAND

Sometimes we are prone to criticize the individual who is "always" having his name in the paper. We say, for example, that "Joe will do almost anything to see his name in print."

Usually what we are talking about is the fact that Joe gives of his time to direct or work in behalf of civic and charitable projects, that he belongs to clubs and organizations which do worthwhile things, and that he makes some worthwhile contribution to the community in which he lives.

Granted, perhaps some individuals may put forth time and effort for the "publicity" involved, but such instances are not so numerous as sideline commentators would make us believe.

Before we criticize another's good intentions, it would be wise for each of us to analyze our own contributions to our community and to our fellow man. How often have we turned away when someone was obviously in need of a helping hand?

BIBLE VERSE TO STUDY

"He brought him to Jesus."

1. To whom does the "he" in the above statement refer?
2. Who did he bring to Jesus?
3. What was his name changed to?
4. Where may this verse be found?

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 82

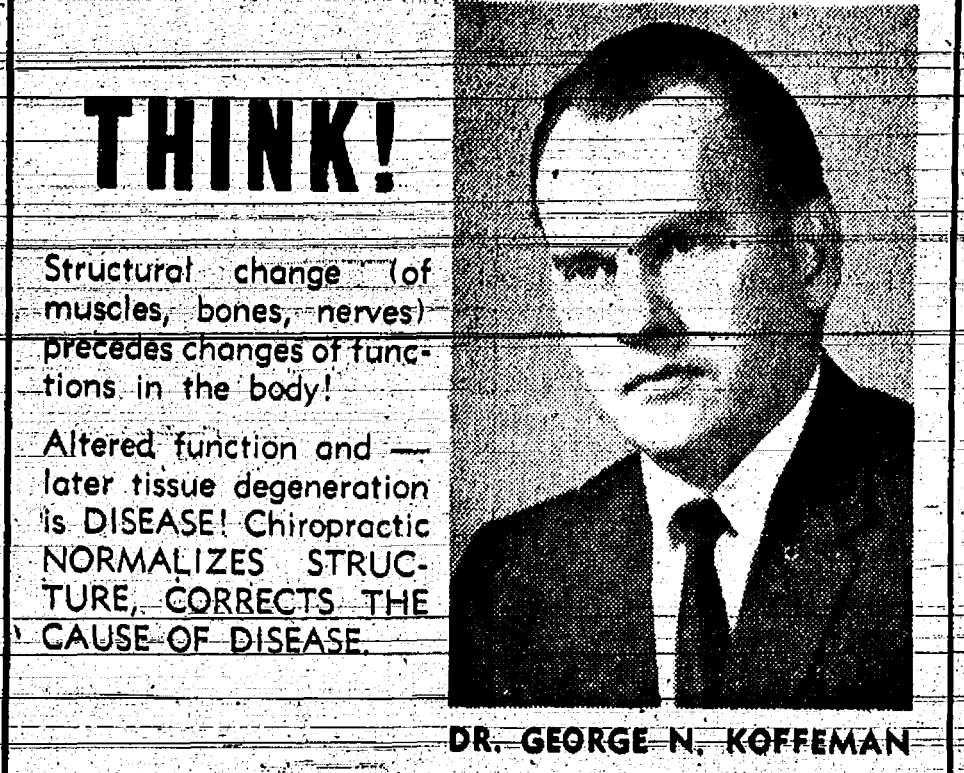

Girl Scouts of Troop 82 met April 12 at the First Congregational church. A hike from 1 to 4 p.m. near Waterloo Rd. was enjoyed by all.

A game called "Jelly Beans" was played.

A compass trail was laid by Mrs. Jacob's group of Deborah West, Cynthia and Pamela Buyer, Debbie Knickerbocker and Cathy Crouch.

Following the trail was Dianne West's group with Vickie Prator, Cathy Clark, June Ewald and Linda Haffner.

The hike began on Bear Hill and ended at Hollow Hill. Scouts closed the meeting by singing "Peace."

MAN WAS MADE TO WALK ON HIS ALL FOURS

Although man stands on two legs, his skeleton was designed for four. The result is some ingenious adaptations, not all of them successful. In all this evolution the most profound skeletal changes occurred when we went from a four-legged to a two-legged mode of locomotion. A four legged animal is the bridge that walks. Its skeleton is built like a cantilever bridge: the backbone is the arched cantilever; the vertebrae of the forward part of the backbone are slanted backwards and those of the rear are slanted forward, so that the thrust is all to the apex of the arch; the four limbs are the piers or supports; the trunk and abdomen are the loads suspended from the weight-bearing arch; in front the main bridge has a drawbridge jointed chain (the neck).

When all this was up-ended on the hind limbs in man, the result was a terrific mechanical imbalance. Most of the advantages of the cantilever system were lost, and the backbone had to accommodate itself some how to the new vertical weight-bearing stress. It did so by breaking up the single curved arch into an S-curve. We are born with a backbone in the form of a simple ancestral arch, but during infancy it bends into the human shape. When we begin to hold our head erect, at about the age of four months, we get a forward curve in the backbone's neck region; when we stand up, at about a year, we get a forward curve in the lower trunk; in the upper trunk and pelvic regions the backbone keeps its old backward curve.

We achieve the above at a price. To permit twisting and bending, Nature changed the shape of the vertebrae to that of a wedge, with the thicker edge in front and the thinner in back. This allows the vertebrae to pivot on their front ends as on hinges, like the segments of a toy snake. On the other hand, it also weakens the backbone, particularly in the lower back region, where the wedge shape is most pronounced. Heavy lifting or any other sudden stress may cause the lowermost lumbar vertebrae to slip backward and sideways along the slope of the next vertebrae. This brings about great pain and stress, as it changes shape of the intervertebral disc. This in turn makes pressure on the nerve and blood vessels that come out from between the vertebrae.

The Chiropractor is a specially trained professional man to take care of these conditions of slipped vertebrae. These conditions can happen in the neck, thoracic region or lower back or pelvis. It can bring about stiff neck, dizziness, headaches, bristling in the shoulders and arms, and many other symptoms. In the thoracic region it can bring about heart trouble, stomach trouble, lung and bronchial trouble, liver and gall bladder trouble, and many other conditions. In the lumbar region we have low back and leg pain, kidney, constipation, female and prostate troubles, bed wetting and many other conditions.

This will introduce to you why man's body becomes weakened in his daily toils. I will explain in different articles each week how the Chiropractor finds and treats the causes.

SPORTS CORNER

REPORT from LANSING
State Representative
Thomas G. Sharpe

The Michigan House of Representatives is faced with consideration of some 300 bills on the floor. All of the items on the seven-page calendar must be disposed of by April 22 or die for the lack of action.

This mountain of legislation dictates a rapid schedule that must average about 25 bills a day. Each bill is debated twice on the floor—once during General Orders when unlimited debate is allowed and then again on Third Reading when debate is controlled and final action is determined. As a result, the 25-bills-a-day average actually consists of 50 separate deliberations.

So far, with the April 22 deadline for passage of House bills just around the corner, the average has not been met and it is expected that several bills will die on the calendar and others will be sent back to committee. Usually during the last week of this period the rules are suspended and all bills are automatically transferred from General Orders to Third Reading, thereby eliminating one step in the process and perhaps keeping more bills alive, but with less consideration on each one.

Some of the more significant items currently on the calendar include:

- Several traffic safety measures including two motor-vehicle inspection bills and a requirement for renewal examinations for persons whose licenses have been suspended.
- About 10 so-called "consumer protection" bills dealing with retail credit, selling practices and insurance. Some have said that these concerns are already well covered under existing fraud statutes. Others have pointed out that consumer protection may well turn out to be consumer destruction if the measures undermine our credit system.

LIB ON FOREIGN AID

President Johnson asked for $3.30 billion in new foreign aid funds and proposed a major legislative revamping to put the worldwide program on a five-year basis. The funds were broken down into $2.47 billion in economic assistance and $917 million for arms aid.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

A few days ago I signed into law a bill which should have been a reason for rejoicing throughout Michigan but particularly in the northern part of the State.

Unfortunately the bill, in the form and at the time it reached my desk, held little reason for celebration.

I'm speaking of the measure which purports to permit refinancing of the Mackinac Bridge.

A year ago, this would have been landmark legislation. Today, it is a dead letter before the ink is dry. It is neither good legislation nor bad, neither sound nor unsound. It is merely meaningless at present.

I signed this measure with reluctance and regret; reluctance, because it raises misleading hopes which cannot be fulfilled in the immediate future; regret, because it represents an opportunity missed and a responsibility ignored.

A year ago, when I first proposed legislation to refinance the Mackinac Bridge, timely and realistic action could have secured two important objectives. The bridge tolls, which erect a damaging economic barrier between our two Michigan peninsulas, could have been eliminated. And the state could have saved more than $1 million every year in needless interest payments.

But the legislative leadership, in its wisdom, did not act. Instead it wasted a year pursuing the will-o-the-wisp of federal funds to pay off the bridge obligation—an illusion which evaporated like so much swamp gas.

Time and interest rates wait for no man, not even for the Michigan legislature. During the wasted year, Michigan not only lost $1 million in interest payments, but also lost the chance for future savings through refinancing in the immediate future, due to rising interest rates in the bond market.

The people of Michigan should understand that currently this bill does nothing. It neither saves money nor reduces tolls. Its unrealistic ceiling on interest rates for new bridge bonds is self-defeating. It virtually guarantees that no new bonds can be sold until there is a drastic reversal of nationwide economic conditions. It is "stand-by" legislation only.

The residents of both peninsulas of Michigan need more than "stand-by" legislation—they need "move-ahead" legislation. I signed this measure in the hope that a future legislature will have the vision and determination to transform it from an empty expression of intent into a vehicle for meaningful action to meet an urgent public need.

In the meantime, this statute will stand as a monument to legislative indecision, inaction, expediency, and wishful thinking. $1 million of the people's money

Farmer, Poet Marshall Penn Keeps Busy in 'Retirement'

DISPLAYING PROUD ARAUCANA rooster, H. Marshall Penn of 1956 Old US-12 explains that hens of this breed lay eggs in Easter hues—blue, green, pink and olive-drab. The birds, mostly white, have tan and deep rust colored feathers around the neck and across the back. Unusual in the United States, bluish eggs are fairly common in the markets on the west coast of South America, where the Araucana chickens, named after an Indian tribe, originated. Penn started raising Araucanas in September, 1964, when he got his start from Ivan N. Cuthbert of East Ann Arbor. Cuthbert organized the Araucana Club for breeders in the United States.

GREENS GOLD—baggies weighing over a ton. Australian crocodiles are called and measuring up to 25 feet. At "green gold" because of the value $2 an inch for quality hides, such of their hides. Big game hunts in a trophy would be wasted on a tropical northern Australia have wall.

While area residents fussed about last week-end coloring chicken eggs for Easter, one local resident had the problem solved.

He is H. Marshall Penn, who solved the problem by letting the hen do the work.

His hens lay green eggs.

Known as the "Easter egg chickens," his Araucana chickens originated in South America. Pure Araucanas are extremely rare, if not extinct, but a strain of chickens of Araucana descent has been developed which produces eggs of blue, green, pink or olive drab shades.

Trademark of the pure Araucana is a "rumpless" or tailless silhouette and feather "whiskers." Although the tailless silhouette was lost in developing the Easter egg breed, the feather whiskers remain.

Shell color is determined by the chemistry of the hen, and no relationship exists between the color of the egg and the chicken, neither does feed affect the egg color. Each hen lays an egg of the same color every time, and the shell color goes completely through, even to the inside of the shell.

Penn collects about 10 green eggs a day, which he sells to health stores, along with goat's milk. The eggs, rich in minerals, taste like ordinary white or brown hens' eggs.

"The best thing about these green eggs," Penn says seriously, "is that you don't have to wait for them to ripen before you can eat them."

Then he chuckles, "That was a foul joke."

Those comments typify Penn's sense of humor and ready wit, attributes that have stood him in good stead through difficult years.

A youthful 76, Penn was born Nov. 10, 1890, in Atchison, Kan. After graduating from high school he attended the engineering school at the University of Kansas in Lawrence. Penn explained his interest in engineering by saying that the Andean region of South America had always held a special magic for him. And he thought he could some day go there as an engineer. Unfortunately, the death of his father during his freshman year forced a change in Penn's career. He dropped out of the University of Kansas to attend Kansas State Teachers College, a "less expensive school" where he attained a life diploma.

Teaching school in 1913-14 gave him "less money and more worries"—a total grand yearly salary of $540. He taught in Kansas City, Kan., Kansas City Mo., and Coffeyville, Kan., before leaving the teaching profession to work in a railroad shop where the pay was better and the worries fewer.

"Then Uncle Sam said, 'I want YOU!' and I spent the next 12 months with the Pioneer Infantry in France. That was in 1917-18."

By the time the depression hit, Penn and his wife, Marie, had three sons—Marshall, William and Henry. Penn left his children with relatives in Kansas while he tried to earn enough money to support his family. He walked eight miles a day to the three barber shops where he occasionally found a customer. In those days, the best haircut was 50 cents, but one barber started a price war by dropping the price to 20 cents. People had no money for shoe shines and some weeks Penn counted his weekly earnings at less than a dollar. He was able to supplement his income by odd jobs and cleaning at Frank Gillette's Drug Store, Grace Paulsen's Dress Shop and Rimes & Hildebrand Department Store, whose loyalty helped put his children through college.

"Money was scarce through out the depression, and everything was obtained at great sacrifice," Penn related, "but I decided to buy some musical instruments to occupy the boys during the summer months."

With Mrs. Penn on the violin, Henry on the clarinet, William playing the cornet, Marshall on the trombone and Penn on the saxophone, the family literally made beautiful music together. The boys became so proficient that Marshall was selected for the high school band at 11 and Henry at 8. The music also lifted their spirits and made those tough times easier to bear.

The Penns moved from St. Joseph to Ann Arbor in 1942, where Marshall and William both earned master's degrees at the University of Michigan. Today, Marshall directs the Lincoln University band in Jefferson City, Mo., and William directs the Howard University band in Washington, D. C.

During World War II, Marshall directed the 92nd Division Band in Italy. One of the clarinetists was Henry. A combat band, the instrumentalists rehearsed between battles.

After the war, Henry studied engineering at the University of Genoa in Italy, but was sent home, along with other American citizens, when trouble broke out in Greece. Today Henry is an agent for American Airlines and lives in San Francisco, Calif.

The Penns moved to their 140-acre farm on Old US-12 in 1950. Today most of the acreage is rented out and Penn concentrates on raising his chickens, his part-time job at the Congregational church in Chelsea, and writing poetry.

Penn began writing poetry regularly during those depression years when "there was nothing to do but worry." The poetry has bubbled forth through the years, until it now fills "boxes and boxes" and seven slim volumes which Penn has had printed. The walls of their home are decorated with vivid water-color paintings by Mrs. Penn illustrating his poetry.

When he was a mere 65, Penn enrolled in a creative writing class at the University of Michigan. The year before, he studied Spanish at the University. Penn, who studied German and Latin in high school, still occasionally writes a verse in German or recites orations by Caesar, Cicero and Virgil.

A deeply religious man, Penn recently had his membership in the Seventh-Day Adventist church transferred from Inkster to Jackson. His religious poetry reflects the beliefs of his church, including the second advent of Christ.

Other poetry is written in a more secular vein, such as a poem entitled "Evolution Proved" which was written during the famous Scopes trial in Tennessee in 1925. Clarence Darrow, a famous defense attorney, was defending a high school biology teacher by the name of John Thomas Scopes who taught the theory of evolution to his students in defiance of a statute passed by the Tennessee legislature. William Jennings Bryan, three-time defeated Democratic candidate for President of the United States, volunteered his services for the prosecution. One of the verses Penn wrote was:

"We've seen Bill Bryan spark-plugging with the donkey; Forfeit three times the Presidential race; And later steeple-chasing with the monkey, In vain attempt to nose in second place."

Nearly everyone who knows Penn has an anecdote to relate which illustrates his wit. But most of his poetry is more philosophical, including comments on variety of topics, such as:

"If mortals would behold the things of beauty, Observe the Christians who perform their duty."

On sunsets: "Time is the measure of mortality. Eternity, of immortality."

On growing old: "Old age is but the extra moments lent. That one might know the saving power of truth, And in conviction turn him to repent."

The errors of neglect in days of youth.

His favorite poem is entitled "Life."

"Life is rhythm, life is rhyme; There is no age, there is no time. We call it day, we call it night When shadows flee or chase the light."

The pattern once again repeats As cold pursues, or flees the heat: In chanting seasons we may hear The four part harmony called a year.

The little streams whose foundations hide Among the rocks on mountain side.

Cascade down through vale to plain And wind their way to bring main.

To this inevitable destiny, All streams lose identity, White frothy mingling all their worth.

With all the waters of the earth, In some vaporous mist they rise And roam in clouds across the skies.

Back to the lands from whence they came To sift them down in snow and rain.

This process runs through every kin, The cycle ends when it begins.

Infant incident with sage, Youth is just as old as age."

Inspiration for his rhymes comes from birthdays, anniversaries, new experiences such as airplanes, flights, or the opportunity for some good-natured teasing.

"I can express exactly the way I feel through my verses," he said. "People appreciate reading my poems so much and they don't cost me anything."

Just words. The verses occasionally come

Hoodlums Harass Frank Manor Family

Dexter police and sheriff's officers were called to the Frank Manor home last Friday night when someone dressed in a racoon coat was trying to frighten them around 9:30 p.m.

Later the same evening, another vandal continued the harassment when at 1 a.m. someone attempted to enter the home through a wire door.

GOOD BREAKFAST

An adequate breakfast should include one-fourth to one-third of the day's protein needs. Choose from lean meats, eggs, milk, or cereal and milk to help start the day right.

To him instantaneously, others take from two hours to two weeks to form, Penn says. But once he has the poetry written, he remembers, word for word and takes pleasure in reciting the words.

He's not the only poet in the family as proved by this tribute penned by his son Henry as a Father's Day greeting:

"Makes life gay, Brings out the sun, A poet and a scholar, Regular as a Hamilton."

His wit is quick and never bends. A problem never bothers. Let's drink a toast to all the men.

Like my model father, The first letter of each line spells out Penn's name, Marshall.

The Hi-Light

Edited by Students of the Chelsea High School Journalism Club

For the first time in the history of Chelsea High, a literary magazine will be published. It will include original essays, songs, poems, short stories, and art work. The magazine will be exclusively a student publication. All entries will be original work submitted by students.

Selections to be published will be chosen and compiled by the Journalism staff. These selections will be sent to the printer on or about May 15 and hopefully will be returned May 26.

Tina Lindauer was elected literary editor of this magazine. If successful this year, it will become an annual publication.

A petition is being circulated among the students for a proposed Teen Center. Many neighboring communities have had teen centers in the past, some of which have met with failure and some with success.

In the drivers' education class the school has received a new Ford Fairlane 500 XL and some students will be starting the driving phase of the course during spring vacation.

Registration is now taking place for the high school students. They will be able to sign up for their next year's classes and find what they scored on a national placement test.
