Vince Desmond, speaker for the evening, sportscaster, scout and ...sently director of Group Sales ...d Special Events for the De...it Tigers, was introduced by ...Rademacher. His theme was di...ted at the athletes assembled, ...ressing that competition was es...tial for them in their studies ... well as on the playing field. ...e emphasized that a player or a ...dent must be coachable, that ...e must take orders and that he ...st follow them in order to be ...ccessful.

...He stated that due to the influx ...players into the minor leagues from both the top and the bottom—those who have been sent back by the major leagues and those coming up—only one out of 1,720 makes and stays in the major leagues.

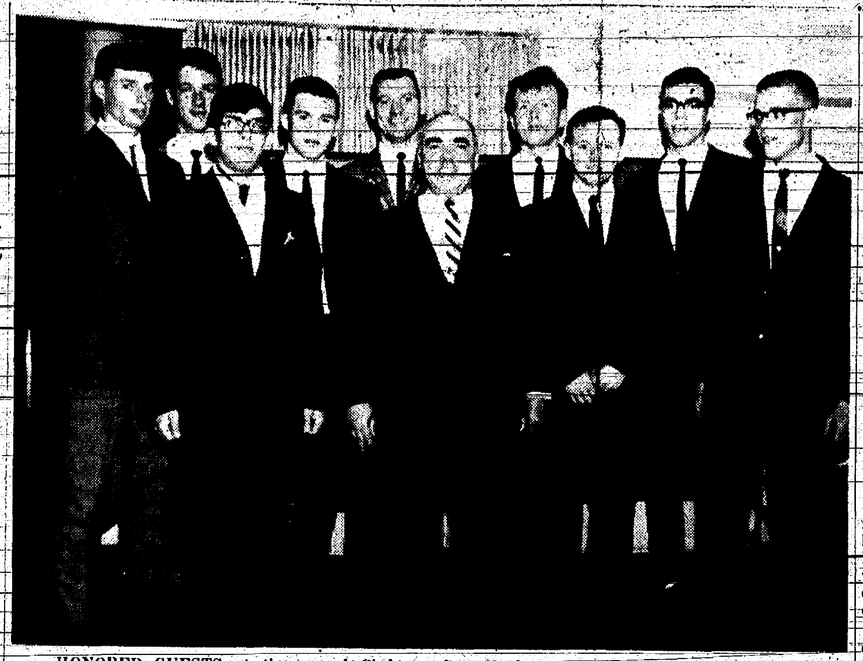

The Detroit pitching staff has a much increased potential this year, according to Desmond and Norm Cash has corrected a batting fault of the past two seasons and is expected to bat around .290 this season. Dick McAuliff is described as an exceptionally hard worker and steadily improving shortstop and Al Kaline, since his foot surgery, looks like he will have a good year, according to Desmond. The Tigers also have an excellent group of secondary players in all positions and for the first time in 12 years there are challenges and competition for every position and the season potential looks good, Desmond concluded.

The board meeting of the Kiwanis Club was scheduled for Wednesday evening at the home of Gene Miller.

The spring divisional meeting for Division VI was held at South Lyon Monday afternoon and evening. Lt. Gov. William K. Davis of Division VI, Governor of Michigan District Harry Eisenheimer, and secretary of Michigan District Frank Staiger presided over the sessions. Immediate past president Don Turner, President Floyd Fowler, first vice-president Paul G. Schaible, Jr., second vice-president Clare Warren and secretary Paul E. Niehaus attended the sessions.

Bowling chairman George Staffan announced that the Michigan District Kiwanis Bowling Tournament is to be held at Caberfae Lanes at Cadillac on April 30-May 1. Chelsea will bowl at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday at 7 p.m.

Monday, May 9 is to be Kiwanis Presidents Exchange Day at Chelsea, with President Ronald R. Taylor of Farmington to have charge of the program here and on the following evening, Tuesday, May 10, Chelsea president Floyd Fowler will have charge of the meeting of the Farmington Kiwanis Club to be held at Botsford Inn at 6:30 p.m. in Farmington.

CMU Band To Perform at High School

The Central Michigan symphonic wind ensemble will perform at Chelsea High school tomorrow, Friday, April 22, at 1:30 p.m. afternoon assembly. The public is invited to attend.

Organized in the fall of 1950, the wind ensemble has distinguished itself as one of the top university concert groups in the midwest. At present, it is one of three concert bands on the campus of Central Michigan University and is in constant demand for high school assemblies and community concert series. It is purposely kept at a small number of players to insure musical clairty when it performs.

Professor Norman C. Dietz, conductor of the symphonic wind ensemble, is in constant demand as a guest conductor and adjudicator. On Feb. 20, Prof. Dietz conducted the AA-A-B band in Chelsea, sponsored by the Lansing Conservatory of Music, and the facilities of Chelsea High school impressed him so favorably that he expressed an interest to perform in Chelsea as part of his spring tour.

In addition to his activities as clinician and guest conductor, he had composed numerous works for wind instrumental groups which have been performed by many groups throughout the U. S.

Jan Blankenship, a graduate of the Eastman School of Music and a member of the Central Michigan University faculty, will appear as piano soloist with the wind ensemble.

Mrs. Clarence Trinkle, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Wheeler and son, was in Saline Sunday to call on her sister, Mrs. Lillian Dieterle who is in the hospital there.

Return to 2-Party Political System Urged for Village

C. of C. Hears Local Pastor Urge Action To Assure Continued Progress

The Chelsea Chamber of Commerce Tuesday heard the Rev. John Smucker discuss the need for a two-party system in Chelsea village politics.

He began by referring to an "Action-Course in Practical Politics," an eight-week discussion course sponsored by the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce.

The Rev. Smucker said that the two-party system has been an important factor in helping the American democratic process remain a viable system, and that invidividual citizens should help to develop a two-party system in their local communities when none exists. Although high school civic classes may study the importance of the two-party system, they may take as their example the system they see employed in their local communities, he said.

"At the battle at Antietam, 23,000 Americans died on Sept. 17, 1862—a tragic breakdown of the American political system," the Rev. Smucker said. Although there were also other causes for the Civil War, he said that the breakdown of a political system augers ill for this community or any other and for our nation.

"A viable political system can be the 'steam venting' process for the people in a community and could and should be in existence everywhere," he added. "Then there would be no reason for 23,000 dead."

Dr. Augenstein, a professor of biochemistry at Michigan State University, was quoted as having said that "one percent of the population are decision-makers; nine percent work in forming decisions; 13 percent are 'interested' and 65 percent don't care."

"This may well be the situation in Chelsea," the Rev. Smucker said, "but from a standpoint of what makes democracy work it need not and should not be."

"The Independent Party,' which is now in office, is a good party with good officeholders and has been very helpful to the community," he continued, "but many people—including our former village president, Robert Daniels, has encouraged people to establish an opposition party."

The Rev. Smucker suggested that the persons in the Chamber of Commerce be divided into two parties, but said that this is not the best way to organize an opposition party because politics is a serious venture. He said that he felt that something should be done now before some insignificant issue explodes to rouse people.

One point of concern he mentioned was the issue of village planning. The Independent Party has already indicated an interest in village planning the Rev. Smucker said, and they are doing a "reasonably good" job.

However, he mentioned that Chelsea is a fourth class village under the 1908 Michigan constitution and the issue of whether or not Chelsea should become a city may become a legitimate concern now. He said that there is no reason for a village like Chelsea to be swallowed up as a suburb of Ann Arbor or Jackson, but that if local citizens don't mobilize now they may lose the political structure to effectively prevent this possibility.

Unless a viable political structure is developed here, Chelsea may not be able to keep within its own range the decisions which either it will make regarding its future or someone else will make for it.

A charter referendum to develop for Chelsea a city government will allow more leeway for millage allotment. As a fourth class village, Chesea is restricted in village allotment, he added.

The Rev. Smucker is the vicar of St. Barnabas Episcopal church in Chelsea.

Controversy Develops Over Board's Decision Not To Rehire Teacher

Teacher's Group Demands Full Public Hearing

A dispute over whether or not a first grade teacher should be rehired has involved the Chelsea Board of Education in a controversy which may lead to the recall of six of the seven members of the board.

The imbroglio resulted from the decision of the School Board not to offer a contract renewal to Mrs. Steve (Barbara) Segal, first grade teacher at South Elementary school.

School board members stated that the decision not to offer the contract renewal was made upon recommendation by Elementary School Principal Sylvester Wojcicki, who made the recommendation to them after observation and evaluation of the teacher's performance.

Mrs. Segal, on the other hand, contends that the evaluation which resulted in the decision not to renew her contract was based on a 15-minute visit by Wojcicki on a day when she was ill and that she was never told that her work was not satisfactory.

The issue came to a head at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education. A large group, estimated at approximately 60, came to the Board of Education meeting at the Chelsea High school. Because of the size of the group, the meeting was held in the High school cafeteria.

According to Leonard Soloman, president of the Chelsea Federation of Teachers (CFT), of which Mrs. Segal is a member, members of the school board were asked by himself and others present at the meeting why Mrs. Segal was dismissed. The Board of Education, Supt. of Schools Charles Cameron and Principal Wojcicki all replied that they had no comment and a prepared statement from the Board of Education was read.

After the statement was read, members of the Chelsea School Board retired to the Board room at the High school to continue their regular monthly meeting business. The citizen's group continued their meeting in the High school cafeteria and decided to take the matter to the State Teacher Tenure Commission in Lansing and also to start petitions for the recall of six of the seven school board members, according to Mrs. LaVerne Polkinghorn, teacher of special education at the Junior High school.

The school board members which the group will seek to have recalled are Luther Kusterer, president; Dr. Clare Warren, Robert Foster, Robert Taylor, Donald Irwin and Donald Alber. Charles Lancaster, the board member not included in the recall action, made a motion at the Tuesday evening meeting to reconsider the action at a later time. According to President Soloman of the CFT the parents present expressed the desire that Lancaster be exempted from the recall action because they believed he offered his motion in sincere good faith.

In order to recall school board members, petitioners must get signatures from 25 percent of the voters in the school district who voted in the last general election in which a governor was elected, according to Soloman.

If the members are recalled, special elections will be held to fill the vacancies on the Board.

A "Committee for Barbara Segal" composed of teachers under the chairmanship of James LaGoe and including Ivan Kemp, Wesley Cowell, Mrs. Tom Stock and Tom Kopec of the Chelsea Federation of Teachers and Miss Mary Weber of the Chelsea Education Association, has been formed. Mrs. Segal is also being supported by a citizen's committee headed by Harold Salyer, who is also president of UAW-CIO Local 437. The CFT has backed her efforts, according to Soloman and will help pay for legal fees involved. Mrs. Segal was retained Bernard Fieger of Detroit, who is a lawyer for the Michigan Federation of Teachers, as her legal counsel. The executive board of the Chelsea Education Association, composed of Robert Benedict, Carolyn Hindelang and James Hortmeyer, have also written a letter to the Board of Education requesting that she be granted a public hearing.

Teacher's Statement . . .

Mrs. Segal taught the first grade in Freeport, N.Y. before coming to Chelsea. She is a graduate of Hofstra University in Hempstead, N.Y. She made the following statement to teachers and to the community in a letter dated March 25:

"On March 7 I was informed by Mr. Cameron that my teaching contract for 1966-67 would not be renewed. I feel that this dismissal is unfair and arbitrary. Below are listed some of the reasons for my contesting this unjust dismissal.

"1. No indication was given by my supervisor, Mr. Wojcicki, that three months after receiving a glowing evaluation I would receive a very weak one. He never came into my room to offer any criticisms or suggestions. Furthermore this last evaluation was indeed unexpected because last year's evaluation (from my principal in Freeport, New York) was very complimentary. The year be-

Board's Statement . . .

The following statement was issued by six Chelsea Board of Education members upon learning of a recall movement aimed at removing them from office for their refusal to reconsider the dismissal of a first-year probationary teacher.

The demand to grant a public hearing and to reinstate the teacher involved was made at last Tuesday night's regular board meeting by a group of Chelsea teachers accompanied by several area residents and two lawyers reputed to be legal counsel for the Michigan Federation of Teachers, a union group.

"The six men involved are Luther M. Kusterer, president; Robert G. Foster, secretary; Robert K. Taylor, treasurer; Donald C. Alber, Donald M. Irwin and Dr. Clare M. Warren, trustees.

"The six men had this to say in reply to recent charges:

"We are proceeding on the assumption that the electors of this school district prefer to have the duly constituted Board of Education continue to administer the affairs of this district and carry on the business of educating their children to the best of our ability, in agreement with well-established principles and practices and in full accordance with the laws and regulations governing the educational process.

"Our right and capacity to do this has been seriously threatened by a number of events culminating in a challenge of our authority to remove from our system a first-year probationary teacher whose services have been considered unsatisfactory.

"We believe that since our antagonists have chosen their course of action as they have, all Chelsea District residents are entitled to know the true facts and to be fully informed of all circumstances.

"The first pertinent fact is that, pursuant to a Michigan State law given effect in July of 1965, an election was held in this district at the demand of the Chelsea Federation of Teachers and The Chelsea Education Association to determine which organization was to serve as the exclusive bargaining agent for Chelsea Teachers. The Chelsea Education Association, otherwise known as the CEA, won the election by a narrow margin. The CEA was certified by the State Labor Department as the legal exclusive bargaining agent in our district.

"Under the terms of this statute the Board is under strict obligation to refrain from bargaining in behalf of any teacher with any organization or group other than the CEA. We intend to uphold

Cancer Tag Day Slated Saturday

Chelsea will observe National Cancer Week with a "Tag Day" Saturday, April 23.

On that date, volunteers will stand on the four main corners of Chelsea's business district from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. to accept contributions and "tag" donors.

Assisting in the 1966 drive, whose local chairman is Mrs. Henry Karner, will be the following volunteers from these organizations:

Mrs. Charles Lancaster, Mrs. Eldon Gorton, Mrs. Frederick Weber and Mrs. Larry Chapman from the Chelsea Child Study Club.

Mrs. George Tedrick, Mrs. Richard Harvey and Mrs. Robert Schaeffer from the Modern Mothers Child Study Club.

Mrs. Duane Landwehr, Mrs. Ron Eder, Mrs. Edson Whitaker and Mrs. Albert Notten of the Kinder Klub Child Study Club.

Mrs. David Luick, Mrs. Clarence Snyder, Mrs. Gary Bentley, Mrs. Donald Alexander, Mrs. Robert Koch, Mrs. Ralph Trinkle, Miss Ruth Beuerle, Miss Lynn McMannis and Mrs. David Longworth of Beta Sigma Phi.

In Washtenaw county last year, the average number of patients assisted per month was between 30-40 persons between the ages of 14 and 80. The Washtenaw unit provided 8,768 dressings, purchased a new back-brace, two breast prostheses, dentures for a Chelsea patient, a trapeze, adjustable walker, paid for speech lessons and ambulance service, rented an intra-tracheal suction pump, oxygen pump and alternating pressure mattress. The total cost of these services in Washtenaw county last year was $7,141.40, an increase of $436.70 from the previous year.

The Washtenaw Unit of the American Cancer Society is located at 215 N. Ashley, Ann Arbor, in half of a duplex. The office is staffed by volunteer workers from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, 52 weeks a year.

The volunteers cut, package and distribute dressings free of charge and loan equipment, such as beds, wheel chairs, bed pans, etc. to any cancer patient, regardless of income bracket.

Now [illegible] the end of his [illegible] term, Romney looms as unbeatable as Williams during his [illegible]

Democrats have been [illegible] looking for a giant-killer. Understandably for the Democrats [illegible] are few party vote-getters [illegible] Romney as beatable as Republicans appraised Swainson in 1962. There has not been a [illegible] willing to come forward.

Privately, many of the popular, known office-holders have said Romney can be defeated. They just are not willing with their present [illegible] and wish to remain there. Privately, most of those who become declarants will admit Romney is still too popular for them to risk defeat.

The only one apparently willing to try, Party Chairman Zolton A. Ferency, met with little enthusiasm for his candidacy back last summer when he first made his interest known in small circles.

As the party's official hatchetman, the chairmanship usually doesn't lend itself to candidacy. When the proven vote getters started backing out, however, more and more party people started looking to Ferency as a man who has had some successes in chipping away at the golden image of the present chief executive.

Many Jobs

High school and college graduates going into the labor force this year should find many good opportunities awaiting them.

One indicator, state civil service employment, will have the welcome mat out for these newcomers even more unusual. This area of job potential has traditionally been viewed as a fertile field for youth just completing school.

The good times which have opened new jobs in private industry have proved somewhat of a headache to the state civil service operation. It has been considerably harder to fill even the normal amount of vacancies occuring in a given year.

This problem has been magnified considerably because many state employees left the service in the past year for other jobs in private enterprise. Turnover in 1965 reached 16.3 percent as compared to about 10 percent each of the past several years.

The 1965 figure represents more than 5,500 people. Of course this includes some losses for retirements, deaths and other causes for leaving the labor force.

The greatest portion of the loss, however, was to other job opportunities despite an average six percent pay hike due state workers this July.

Almost all the familiar names are on the ballot this fall in the non-partisan judicial races because of a change in the Constitution.

The 1963 Constitution provides that incumbent judges can gain ballot placement simply by filing a form indicating the desire. Previously a judge was required to file petitons each time he sought a new term.

With the filing deadline still some time away, all the judges in the state circuits whose terms expire this year and are legally eligible to run are doing so. Some are ineligible because they will reach the mandatory retirement age of 70 this year.

Non-incumbents must still get on the ballot via nominating petitions or a filing fee so most of these candidates will not be known until closer to the deadline.

The change in the nominating procedure for incumbent judges was seen mainly as a way to keep judges out-of-partisan-political activity after they were once nominated and elected.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where them Russians has come out with a new five-year plan for "economic development." Amongst the things they was promising the Russian people by 1971 was color TV sets, stretch socks, and a "adequate supply of baby foods."

The story was wrote from Moscow by a reporter named Vincent Burke and he said they didn't make no perfection about the housing shortage, about families of six and eight living in two-room apartments in the cities, and two whole families living together in 3-room houses out in the rural parts of the country.

I brung this matter up at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle was of the opinion the Russians was always putting the cart in front of the mule, like encouraging the baby business before they git 'em space to live.

Furthermore, claimed Ed, them five-year plans in Russia was all the rage, said it made him recollect when ole Khrushy was over here a time beating his shoes on the United Nations table. He was bragging to reporters you could buy a can of American beer in Moscow for 15 cent in American money. The only trouble allowed Ed, was they didn't have no American beer and no American money.

Zeke Grubb announced he aimed to write his Congressman and see if we could git a five-year plan out our ways. Zeke reported he ain't never saw a color TV set and all he knows about stretch socks was when his old lady darned his two pair and added a half-inch patch to the heels. Wimmen folks, claimed Zeke, invented stretch socks back during the depression, one patch and a half a inch to the sock.

Clem Webster reported, gitting away from the Russians and back to the wimmen folks, he had saw where the Census Bureau had give out the figgers that in 1965 they was 8,000 marriage licenses issued that wasn't used. He was wondering if out of that 8,000 they was more men or wimmen that had second thoughts about the matter.

The fellers was about even devided on this question. Ed guessed 7,000 of them was men. He claimed a woman would put on a bathing suit and never go near the water but when she got that wedding dress ready she meant business. On account of my old lady might see this piece, I give the fellers the diplomat approach of Dean Rusk and guessed it half and half and fifty-fifty.

They ain't no way of finding out who backed out, but it is a sad story, Mister Editor, fer love and matrimony when 8,000 couples failed to git in the finals.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

The Glendon Swarthouts, roving Caribbean correspondents, write that the two days' voyage from Trinidad to Curacao was the most dangerous they have yet experienced. The Cottica slipped out of harbor at four in the morning in a convoy of four other ships bound for England. The ship was accompanied by a heavily-armed corvette until noon of the first day, then it left the convoy and proceeded alone in the opposite direction on a course mapped out by the British Admiralty. Every man on the ship volunteered for watch duty; fifteen men were constantly on the watch. Swarthout's hours were from seven to nine in the evening and one to three in the morning. They slept in their life-belts, with passports and money at arm's length. The ship's black-out was perfect—not a sliver of light escaped the ship at night—it was rigorously checked before they sailed.

Alsen, corresponding secretary, Manchester.

ANCIENT BUTTER

The history of butter reaches well back into the history of mankind. Yet it was not until the mid-1800's that butter, prepared and packaged as we now recognize it, became a familiar sight in the marketplace. Prior to that time, butter had been a homemade product.

Council Briefs

The Chelsea Village Council met Tuesday evening in the Municipal Building.

A public hearing was held regarding the rezoning of property as requested by the Chelsea State Bank. No opposition was voiced and the rezoning request was approved.

Bids were received for a police patrol car and the village agreed to accept the low bid of Palmer Motor Sales in the amount of $[illegible].

A petition was submitted by Cameron Buchanan requesting that action be taken to permit the building of a mobile home community. A request was submitted by Edwin Oram requesting permission to move his present trailer park to a mobile home site. Plans were also submitted by Oram regarding the possible addition of the two more buildings to his present apartment building to make a total of 51 units. Buchanan and Oram were both advised that any zoning request would be contingent upon a mobile home ordinance or its equivalent now under study by the Village Council.

A discussion was held with Brooks Godfrey representing the architects for the Junior High School. Discussion centered around dedication of the roadway to the village from the Junior High school site. No action was taken.

Motion was made to table a [illegible] request from Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout until the May 3 meeting.

A report was given by Trustee Chapman regarding the creation of a village planning commission.

Bids for the 1966 street program were submitted and the following low bids were accepted: For excavation, sand and gravel — Hall-Rod Mills, $3,683.80; for bituminous aggregate — Ayling & Cunningham, $10,656.47; for bituminous coat program — Thompson, McCully & Washtenaw Asphalt, $6,437.50.

An agreement was reached with the Washtenaw County Road Commission for prime and double-seal of Freer Rd. within the village from Trinkle Rd. to Chelsea-Dexter Rd.

Discussion held regarding the proposed mobile home ordinance. No official action was taken.

A report was given by Trustee Crouch regarding wage and fringe benefits of area municipal employees. A motion was made to authorize a five percent wage increase to all full-time regular village employees.

A motion was made to authorize a 10 cent per hour, six-month merit increase in wages to Ellsworth Petsch, effective May 15.

The 1966 budget was analyzed for first-quarter expenditures.

The Council wishes to thank village residents for their co-operation in the requests for trees to be planted in the village.

Residents of the village are requested to submit in writing any requests for sidewalk repair in front of their residences. Requests should be submitted to Clerk George Winans.

The annual spring clean-up, at which time the village will pick up discarded items from the curb, will be Monday and Tuesday May 9-10.

George A. Staffan has been appointed Michigan Week Chairman for Chelsea.

A motion was made to pay bills and to adjourn.

WATERLOO

Bill Levan is a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. Mrs. Anna Walz is a patient at Foote Memorial Hospital, Jackson.

Hugh Gaddis has returned home from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, after spending several weeks there following a heart attack.

A shower honoring Dawn Silvernail Bernard will be held at North Waterloo EUB church Friday, April 22 with members of the Village church also invited. Miss Silvernail was recently married to Donald Bernard. They are making their home in St. Clair Shores.

The Memorial committee of the Village EUB church will meet Sunday morning immediately following the worship service.

Most of us would be better off if we worked less, made less, and spent less.

LAST-MINUTE INSPECTION: Members of several area 4-H clubs held "sneak previews" Saturday in preparation for the Chelsea-Dexter Combined Dress Revue scheduled for Saturday evening at Chelsea High school. The girls, modeling the garments they have sewn are, from left, Marilyn Hinderer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hinderer, modeling a wool dress; Brenda Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Higgins, modeling a gingham apron; Nancy Koengeter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Koengeter, modeling a wool floor-length coat and satin and organza floor-length gown; and Char Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Charles Powers, modeling a wool suit. All are members of the Wide-Awake 4-H club, whose leaders are Mrs. Powers and Mrs. Hinderer.

Teacher's Statement...

fore that I had graduated on Dean's List with an A in student teaching. Obviously, there is an inconsistency somewhere.

"2. During my evaluation conference of Feb. 24 with Mr. Wojcicki, a fellow teacher, Mrs. Eisele, was brought in to contribute to my evaluation and thus act in the capacity of a supervisor—which she is not. Thus it appears that the Scott Foresman Reading Tests, which are supplied as a diagnostic tool, in this case, were used to evaluate a teacher's performance.

"3. Mr. Wojcicki observed me on Feb. 15; at this time I informed him that I was ill, so ill, in fact, that I left that noon with a temperature and remained home the next day. I took the liberty to invite Mr. Wojcicki to observe me again when I was functioning more normally. He refused to consider by request and I therefore feel that I was observed and evaluated under unfair circumstances.

"4. Because I was upset about my evaluation and quite concerned about my children's performance, I discussed my feelings with some of my colleagues. Mrs. Cresswell volunteered to meet with one of my reading groups to 'test' their ability. She found that they were reading very well i.e.—they retained their vocabulary and could use phonetic analysis when confronted with new words.

"5. Many of the children in my class entered from kindergarten with specific problems. Some of these children were 'just passed on' because of brothers and sisters entering kindergarten. All of these students have shown marked improvement during the year.

"6. Though Mr. Wojcicki only remained in my room for 15-20 minutes on the Feb. 15 evaluation, he felt through this observation that my performance was not satisfactory enough for rehiring. (He had not observed in my room between November and February.) If he were able to make his judgment from that short observation period, it was his responsibility, as my supervisor, to come into my room after his observation, to offer assistance or suggestions for the benefit of the children. He has not. If he had not based his decision on the 15-minute visit, but rather on other sources (previous to the Feb. 15 visit) and had already felt there to be 'something wrong,' then it again was his responsibility to come into my room and offer assistance, if necessary. He had not.

Since Mr. Wojcicki had not communicated any concern to me, I had to assume that the evaluation of November 26 stating that my "... lessons were well planned and taught expertly" still held.

"7. A conference was established for Monday, March 7, at which Mr. Cameron, Mr. Wojcicki and I were present. Knowing of my concern over the matter, and my desire for a fair and impartial hearing, recommendations were made to the Board by Mr. Wojcicki on March 1, before the facts were even in. At the so-called fair hearing with Mr. Wojcicki and Mr. Cameron, I was handed a note informing me that my contract would not be renewed because Mr. Wojcicki had already made his recommendations to the Board.

"8. In the written evaluation of Feb. 25, Mr. Wojcicki states that I did not exert enough "leadership" in the classroom. When I asked for a definition of the term 'classroom leadership,' he could not supply one."

The following statement was made by Schuman on behalf of the CFT:

"The Committee for Barbara Segal and the Chelsea Federation of Teachers, in my opinion, have taken all possible steps to contact the Board of Education and the superintendent concerning Barbara Segal's case. We have written letter upon letter requesting merely that this teacher be given a just and equitable hearing. In each case we have been rebuffed and we therefore found it necessary to take this matter to the community. It is my hope that the citizens of Chelsea will defend the right of an individual, in this case a teacher, to a fair and just hearing of that person and a decision reached upon the merits of the case. We do not feel that this has taken place. Once again, all we were asking was for a fair and equitable hearing in which a conclusion may be drawn from all of the evidence presented.

"In my opinion the way in which the Board handled questions by concerned parents, teachers, and citizens was an affront to this community. We are determined to carry this matter as far as necessary to achieve a just and equitable settlement."

Personal Notes

Mrs. Annabelle Woolley and her mother, Mrs. Walter Vicary, entertained at a birthday dinner Thursday evening, April 14, at Schumm's restaurant. The event honored the birthdays of the former's daughter, Mrs. Fremont Boyer and grandson, David Carl. Fremont Boyer was also a guest.

The Frank Dyers honored the Ted Dyers with a dinner last Wednesday evening. Guests for the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dyer and Linda; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Melchert and children, Steve, Kerry and Kathy Jo of New Hudson; and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trahaut of Berkley. After dinner Ted Dyer showed films of the Lompoc Valley in which acres of irrigated flowers are grown. He told the guests that it rains in the Valley only once or twice a year. Other films included pictures of cactus blooming in Arizona and huge rock mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Trinkle of Manchester visited Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Trinkle.

Three Chosen To Attend Boys' State

Candidates for the 1966 Wolverine Boys' State have been selected to represent Chelsea High school in East Lansing, June 15-22.

This year three juniors were selected for the honor. They are Robert Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of 6693 Lingane Rd.; Tim Meininger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joss Meininger of 101 Arlen Lane; and Tom Kern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kern of 622 S. Main.

The trio were selected from among a group of junior boys nominated for the honor by the High school teachers. This year Smith and Kern were selected by the American Legion and Meininger by the Chelsea Chelsea Kiwanis Club.

The purpose of the American Legion Wolverine Boys' State is to develop the responsibility of leadership; to provide the advantages of citizenship; and to promote good sportsmanship according to information received from the American Legion.

Although Boys' State is primarily a Legion sponsored program, other civic organizations are also invited to send delegates. The delegates report back to their sponsoring organization upon their return home. Enrollment is limited to 1,250 boys.

As soon as the boys reach the campus of Michigan State University in East Lansing, they are assigned to a city and to one of the two political parties, the Federalist or Nationalist. Both affiliations remain throughout the week-long session. (The political parties are in no way connected with existing political parties in Michigan!)

These mythical political subdivisions will function for seven days under the basic laws of the State of Michigan using the Constitution of the State of Michigan and the Constitution of the United States as a basis for political activities. The Caucus and Convention System will be used in the nomination of candidates for city, county and state offices.

The three boys selected to represent Chelsea this year have been active in a variety of high school organizations.

Smith plays the French horn in the High school band, played football with the Junior Varsity team for two years, manages the baseball team and is a member of the Catholic Youth Organization.

Meininger plays the cornet in the band, is a member of the brass quartet which recently was awarded a one rating in state competition is one of 15 members of the state Hi-Y Council and a member of the Youth Fellowship of St. Paul United Church of Christ.

Kern has played the forward position on the varsity basketball team during the past year, played on the Junior Varsity and freshman basketball teams, and is going out for baseball this year. He is a member of the First Methodist church of Chelsea and the Key Club.

National Library Week Displays

National Library Week, April 17-23, will be observed at the McKune Memorial Library with special displays. All area residents are invited to visit and become acquainted with the facility during this week.

Available at the library will be special bookmarks provided through the Washtenaw Area Libraries System and special reading lists, as well as a display of gardening books.

The library, which is open 36 hours a week, 12 noon to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday, relies heavily on volunteer help. The McKune Memorial Library Board is a "working board" and each member has a job in addition to their duties as a board member.

Support for the library comes from the village, seven townships, penal fines, library fines, gifts and state aid.

One feature of the library is an obituary file maintained by Hazel Jones. The file contains more than 5,000 cards from 22 different cemeteries, and has been a valuable source of information for research.

Another feature of the library is the historical room, which contains old scrapbooks, letters, photographs, Chelsea High school papers from 1922, bound volumes of The Chelsea Standard from 1890, old maps, GAR records, albums, and other historical material.

The library was started in February, 1932, by the original Chelsea Child Study Club, which later became the Woman's Club of Chelsea, with 22 donated books and 100 loaned from the State Library. After several temporary locations, Mrs. E. J. McKune bequeathed her home on S. Main St. to the library as a permanent library and as a memorial to the McKune family. The new library was opened to the public on June 29, 1959.

Lutheran Women Hear Nurse from African Mission Post

Miss Kay Suthr, former nurse of the Lumano Lutheran Dispensary in Zambia, Africa, addressed the Lutheran Women's Missionary Society Alpha Circuit at Darlington Lutheran church, Ann Arbor, last Friday.

Miss Stuhr, who presently resides in Winona, Minn., served for two years at the dispensary, which serves the natives of the African bush.

The ladies of the Alpha Circuit, which includes congregations of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod in Ohio and southeastern Michigan, also voted to support three mission projects with their Mite Box Offering. These projects included assistance to foreign church workers training in the U.S., scholarships for girls studying at Dr. Martin Luther College, New Ulm, Minn., and a synod-wide mailing program to dispense late news from the mission fields.

Officers elected by the Circuit are: vice-president, Mrs. Charlotte Liechty, Bowling Green, O.; secretary, Mrs. Donald Ruffer, Ann Arbor; laywoman for the Spiritual Growth committee, Mrs. Norman Zarend, Monroe; pastoral advisors the Rev. J. A. deRuiter, Wayne, and the Rev. G. Backus, Toledo, O.

If tile walls in your bathroom or kitchen have seen better days, or the cement adhesive is darkening with age, you may cover these signs of distress with a fresh coat of enamel. Make sure the surface is thoroughly clean to insure longevity of the coating.

Board's Statement . . .

this legal responsibility and continue to act in good faith.

"The CEA and Board representatives have entered into negotiations to develop a master contract concerning wages, hours and other conditions of employment. These negotiations have been proceeding on an amicable and satisfactory basis and we believe, both parties anticipate a mutually satisfactory settlement in the near future.

"The second pertinent fact is that according to the provisions of a second Michigan Statute, the Michigan Teacher's Tenure Act, the Board must make certain decisions annually in respect to the tenure status of its teaching staff. In granting tenure to a teacher, the Board places him under the protection of the statute, which, as a practical matter, makes it extremely difficult to remove a teacher from the system who may later fail to live up to acceptable standards of performance.

"In recognition of this, the Michigan legislature wisely provided that all beginning teachers shall serve a two-year probationary period on an annual contract basis and remain always subject to dismissal at the discretion of the local School Board. Such probationary teacher dismissed for unsatisfactory service in the Board's opinion has no recourse. This is law and it is clear.

"In the discharge of this obligation the Board accepted the recommendation of its elementary school principal as to the competency and performance of one first-year probationary teacher. This individual was not considered to be satisfactory based upon due observation and evaluation by her superior. The Board unanimously agreed that she would not be offered a contract renewal.

"The decision to employ or not to employ a non-tenure teacher is a basic right vested in your school board. Obviously the Chelsea Federation of Teachers does not agree.

"This minority union group has launched upon a crusade to fight for the job of a beginning teacher whom we feel unfit to participate in the education of your children. This CF of T-led crusade has taken the form of demands upon your Board to grant a public hearing not provided for by law, and to recontract for this teacher's services regardless of the Administrator's and Board's firm stand that she fails to meet our minimum standards.

"We were presented with these demands on three occasions by the CF of T leaders. Each time we rejected these unwarranted demands as improper and as an out-and-out attempt to usurp our lawful authority.

"Failing to influence the Board the CF of T issued a series of public statements comprised of comments, elusive of the basic facts. After obtaining the support of a few well-intentioned but inadequately informed parents they made a final effort and show of strength at last Tuesday's Board meeting. The group continued in its demand for a public hearing.

"Immediately prior to the opening of the meeting the Board was reminded of its legal obligation to refrain from bargaining with any organization other than the CEA. Because of this and also because of the Board's firm resolve not to relinquish its lawful rights to judge the qualifications of its employees, and further, because of the presence of persons alleged to be lawyers for the Chelsea Federation of Teachers union, the Board refused to enter into a discussion of the merits of the case. The Board did, however, issue to the group a statement expressing its stand.

"This statement was to the effect that the Board had chosen to avail itself of its lawful rights to dismiss an unsatisfactory probationary teacher under the terms of the Tenure Act. It was further stated that we had acted upon the recommendation of the principal in whose judgment we had complete faith and who had properly discharged his responsibility to us. We concluded by indicating that the matter had been disposed of at our March 1st meeting and was considered closed.

"This entire unfortunate situation, stripped of all mis-statements, emotion, group pressure and dissident teacher action and harassment resolves itself into this basic issue: Shall the lawfully constituted School Board elected by the majority of the Chelsea District citizens continue to operate their school system in your name and in accordance with its legal rights and perogatives, or shall it be compelled to abrogate its authority to its employees and others showing disregard to due process of law and respected order?

"We understand that petitions for a recall election are being circulated because we have chosen to stand by the former course. It appears as though the final choice is yours."

Cancer Tag Day . . .

The Washtenaw Unit also assists cancer patients in their medication expense. This help is directed toward those patients whose illness has become a financial burden to the family. On the request of the doctor in charge of the case, the Washtenaw Unit pays medication and colestomy bag expense up to $25 per month per patient. Also upon a doctor's request, a visiting nurse is sent out to assist in the home care of semi-indigent patients. The cost of these visits is $6 each. Sometimes a patient pays part of this fee, but if he is unable to do so the Cancer Society assumes the entire cost. The medication and visiting nurse expense averages $500 per month.

In addition, the Pap Smear Tests for persons otherwise unable to have them because of the cost are underwritten by the Society. During the past year, four percent of those tested under this program were positive. Early detection of this four percent means the difference between life and death.

The Washtenaw Unit also has provided the University of Michigan Speech Rehabilitation Center, directed by Dr. Harlan Bloomer, with thorax boxes. A thorax box is a simple machine which assists people who have lost their speech to learn to speak again.

School Board Briefs

The Chelsea School Board met Tuesday evening with all members present.

Approval given to pay bills of $14,189 from general fund and $22,609 from building and site funds.

Recommendation approved to purchase two 60-passenger and one 70-passenger school buses.

Approval to participate in the Washtenaw county Intermediate school district data processing program.

Mr. Hoffman from the accounting firm had some discussion on the new state required accrual method to be used by all state schools.

Mr. Kusterer will present diplomas at graduation.

Election inspectors for the May 16 operational millage vote were appointed.

School board petitions are available at the office of the superintendent. Petitions should be filed with the secretary of the Board by 4 p.m. May 14.

Two or three members of the Board will attend the Washtenaw County School Officers Association May 5.

A resolution was passed to authorize the County Intermediate School District to operate the Sullivan school for trainable pupils.

The Board approved $6,035 as the first of a two-year program to replenish band uniforms.

It was moved and supported to exercise the option on the property for the new Junior High school.

A delegation of teachers and parents were heard by the Board. The Board declined to answer questions and read a statement as to their position. Further comments on this situation will be found elsewhere in The Standard today.

May 16 operational millage election was finalized. Last year the district need was 2½ mills operational and this year the need will be 4¾ mills. It has been determined that ½ mill can be reduced from the 1956 and 1965 debt retirement issues and still obtain enough money to meet the bond obligation for next year. This means there will be a net increase of 1¼ mills needed for 1966-67 school year.

The meeting adjourned at 1:30 a.m.

GUAM GALLON

Gallon bottles of liquor are displayed in duty-free shops on the Island of Guam. That quantity of alcohol may be taken into the United States from Guam without tax, while only one quart is allowed from foreign ports. An additional $100 worth of goods may also be imported from Guam without affecting the duty-free limit of $100 on foreign-bought merchandise.

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our sincere appreciation of the many acts of kindness shown to us during our recent bereavement. A special thanks to Miss Gertrude Young, Dr. Fisher and the Chelsea Fire Department Resuscitator Squad for their efforts, the Rev. Toy for his comforting words and Mrs. Niehaus for the beautiful organ music. Also to our relatives, friends and neighbors for the food, floral and memorial contributions and cards.

The family of Leon Chapman.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our gratitude to all of those who assisted in any way to keep our recent loss at a minimum, particularly the Chelsea Fire Department and our many friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Alber.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Helen L. Sias wishes to extend their heartfelt thanks and appreciation for acts of kindness and thoughtfulness shown her during her illness and to the family during the past week.

State Band Festival Set Saturday

The Chelsea High School Band will travel to the Flint area schools Saturday to participate in the state senior high school festival. More than 10,000 musicians will take part in the activities.

The annual music festival, the equivalent to "state finals" in athletics, will include only the bands and orchestras which have received first-division ratings in their respective district festivals. Chelsea won the right to participate by capturing a "one" or superior rating in the district festival.

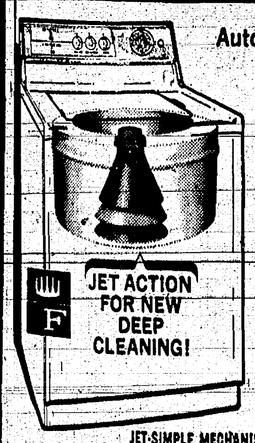

Junior high school bands with "one" ratings in district competition met April 16 at schools in Freeland, Trenton, Saline, Lowell and Grand Rapids. More than 5,000 junior high musicians participated.

Ray Roth, music director at Flint's Southwestern High school, is co-ordinator for the festival programs. The Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association is a department of the Michigan Education Association.

Too many eye witnesses usually confuse the story.

New Books in Library

By Doris Sannes, Librarian

Columbella, by Phyllis Whitney —A new novel of suspense and romance. Popular novelist Phyllis Whitney gives us a story of Jessica Abbott, a tutor to the 14-year-old daughter of a dynamic and fascinating man . . . a man whose wife is a warped and evil woman named Columbella. When Columbella is killed in a fall it is Jessica, who seeks out the murderer. This novel is reminiscent of DuMaruier's Rebecca.

No One Hears But Him, by Taylor Caldwell — This novel continues the tradition of "The Listeners." It is a most unusual book written about the sanctuary built many years ago to which the hopeless, the cynical and the grieving come to pour out their stories and their desperation, and find inspiration from the man who listens.

Chaos Below Heaven, by Eugene Vale—A novel concerned with a scientist who developes a practical and inexpensive desalinating process which will benefit the entire world. His triumph is soured by the jockeying of powerful interests who are concerend only with the monetary value and prestige of the discovery.

The Underground, by Mario Tobino—A native of an Italian costal town and a former member of the Resistance, Mario Tobino translates his experiences into a well-written story. Tobina portrays the hopes of the anti-Fascists, the grimness of civil war and the tragedies the inhabitants of a small Italian town lived through.

The Spencer Problem, by Edmund Nash—A novel concerned with a beautiful and wealthy girl who creates havoc and tragedy in the lives of those she comes in touch with because of a blind determination to make life conform to her romantic notion of what it should be. An intriguing tale that builds up the central character as a destructive monster, then shatters that portrait of her with a surprise ending.

The Far Family, by Wilma Dykeman—A novel set in a mountain city of Tennessee. The story focuses on a family as it gathers together in a time of crisis after a local negro has been murdered. A major novel about American family life.

Tell No Man, by Aldela Rogers St. John—A compelling novel of contemporary American life. A young and successful businessman has a moving spiritual experience, enters the ministry and makes a very sincere attempt to live and act according to the precepts of Christ. A tumultuous climax in which his faith and his very survival are at stake keep you reading to the last word.

Children of Allah, by Agnes Newton Keith — Mrs. Keith recounts the delightful aspects of the years she and her husband lived in Libya. This is the story of a proud Islamic people struggling for a modern life in a backward land.

A Choice of Weapons, by Gordon Parks—An autobiographical work by internationally known Life photographer, composer and author Gordon Park who tells of his struggles during the depression years to overcome poverty, the handicap of a black skin, and family tragedies to become a successful and respected man of talent. He demonstrates how he chose dignity, hard work and love rather than hatred as his choice of weapons to fight discrimination.

SEEKS WORK AT 91

Grand Rapids — John T. Williams is looking for a job. He'll accept anything whether full or part time. The 91-year-old widower filed a job application in response to the President's request for senior citizens to return to work where there are labor shortages.

Penny-pinching people are often dollar losers.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN: Come April 30, a special kind of magic will pleasantly grip thousands of Michigan sportsmen. On this day, the opener of another trout season, the pulse of anglers will be quickened by the anticipation of that first catch. By the same token, the spell of the new season will deaden the minds of these fishermen to doctor bills, house mortgages, and other day-to-day worries. It's a time for "unlaxing" and enjoying a fresh new pace of action; a time for getting a mental lift. This season as always, there's no limit on the amount of pure sport and simple pleasure that the trout fisherman can "creel" from his favorite stream.

Understanding your HEALTH

By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director
Michigan Department of Public Health

Although you may not have thought of it quite this way, you probably have a drug store in your own home.

Chances are, right now you are storing quite a variety of drugs in your medicine cabinet. And if you're like most folks, you have two kinds of medicines there. You probably have a few prescription drugs, and a lot more of the so-called "over-the-counter drugs."

Now, just what is the difference between prescription drugs and over-the-counter drugs? First of all, if a drug is so powerful that it must be used only under a physician's supervision, the law requires that it be sold only by prescription. A prescription drug than is really a personalized medicine. It is designed for one person only, and it is based on his disease or condition, and other personal factor which the doctor takes into consideration.

You should never take a prescription drug which was written for someone else even though you think you have the same disease, never without your doctor's advice, that is. And for the same reason, you shouldn't take a prescription written for you during a previous illness, again but without your doctor's advice.

Actually, you shouldn't have any prescription drugs left over and stored in your medicine cabinet these medications are prescribed for a particular illness and should be used up treating that illness. Or if there is some left over, the best thing to do is flush it down the drain.

Now, what about over-the-counter drugs? In general they are safe for most people if they are used according to directions on the label. The law requires that all such drugs have a label which explains how to use them for specific conditions, and also warns you about what to avoid in using them.

I would caution you to use over-the-counter drugs only for minor ailments that last a short while. If you are one of those who prescribes for himself, and has a cabinet full of different over-the-counter drugs which you are using on your own for a long-standing condition, you could be suffering from a serious disease which would be helped by medical treatment.

Finally, let me say that your medicine cabinet has an important place in your home. But any drug, including aspirin, may be poisonous if it is used improperly. Aspirin especially is dangerous because it is so common. Be careful to keep your medicines out of the reach of children, and read each label carefully before using any drug.

THIS IS YOUR LIFE: Mrs. Ben Donaldson, left, was surprised last Friday at the Interfaith Tea when she became the featured celebrity. A $100 check, contributed by member groups of the United Church Women and individuals, was presented to Mrs. Lawrence Ward, right, for the Protestant Foundation for International Students in honor of Mrs. Donaldson.

Mrs. Ben Donaldson Honored Friday at Inter-Faith Tea Event

A "This Is Your Life" type program, honoring Mrs. Ben R. Donaldson, was the feature of an Inter-Faith Tea held Friday, April 15, at the First Methodist church. The tea was sponsored by the Chelsea United Church Women and included participation by members of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church in the tribute to Mrs. Donaldson.

Mrs. Donaldson was the organizer and first president of the Chelsea group. She has been active in interdenominational organizations and The United Church Women for several years.

Her interests have extended to various kinds of community organization including the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Dearborn League of Women Voters, the Jane Addams Peace Association, the Dearborn Council of Church Women, and the state-wide organization of United Church Women. In all of these groups she has served in various official capacities. Her offices have ranged from local presidencies, as in Chelsea, to national boards, including several state offices along the way.

It was discovered that Mrs. Donaldson is listed in Who's Who of American Women, where much of the information for the program was uncovered. She presently serves on the National Board of the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom and attended the organization's 50th anniversary in Holland last summer.

Her travels abroad have often been with church groups as well as for personal reasons. In addition to the trip to Holland, she took part in a trip to several European countries and the Soviet Union sponsored by the National Board of Christian Social Concerns of the Methodist Church. Other overseas travels have included a visit to Korea and Japan where they visited their Korean "daughter" and "grandsons." The Korean daughter is a girl whom the Donaldsons assisted while she completed her studies in the United States.

This summer the Donaldsons anticipate a trip to Central America which is sponsored by the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church.

Among the participants in the program were several local women. Mrs. Henry Karner, a neighbor at Cavanaugh Lake, spoke of her "good neighborliness"; Mrs. Fanny Chambers of the Methodist Home, spoke of her interest in and assistance to residents of the Home; Mrs. Jack Merkel, of St. Mary's church, described the Living Room Dialog program that Mrs. Donaldson has worked to organize in Chelsea. This is an interdenomination program aimed at understanding of Roman Catholic and Protestant interpretations of the Christian faith. Couples from several Chelsea churches are participating.

Other participants were Mrs. Wadi Rumman of Ann Arbor, who had worked closely with Mrs. Donaldson in the Protestant Foundation for International Students at the University of Michigan; Mrs. Winslow Fox, of Ann Arbor, who has worked with her in United Church Women; Mrs. Lawrence Ward, presently on the Board of the Protestant Foundation; and Genna Rae McNeil, a student at Kalamazoo College, whose family are close friends of the Donaldsons who sang two solos, Malott's "The Beatitudes" and Handel's "Where're You Walk."

Several letters were read offering recognition and tribute to Mrs. Donaldson for her contributions to church and community life. The Rev. Dr. Gordon Phillips, a former pastor, the Rev. Dr. John Marvin, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, and the Rev. James Bristah, executive secretary of the Detroit Conference Board of Christian Social Concerns, Mrs. George Burnham, a former director of the Protestant Foundation for International Students, and Mrs. Kenneth Boulding, of the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom, were among those writing.

A check in the amount of $100 was presented to Mrs. Lawrence Ward for the Protestant Foundation for International Students in honor of Mrs. Donaldson. The amount was contributed by member groups of the United Church Women.

Mrs. Donaldson is presently a member of the First Methodist church of Chelsea, chairman of the Pearl Baxter Circle, and member of the Official Board.

Moderators for the program were Mrs. R.A.J. Livingston and Mrs. James Craig. Also on the program committee were Mrs. Clare Warren, Mrs. Charles Meserva, and Mrs. Paul Schaible. The tea was served by Mrs. William Storey, Mrs. Fred Seitz, Mrs. Walter Wolfgang, and Mrs. E. J. Hopkins. Pouring were Mrs. Jack Merkel of St. Mary's and Mrs. Henry Karner of St. Paul's.

OES County Association Holds Spring Session at Dexter School

More than 200 attended the spring session of the Washtenaw County Association OES Saturday, April 16 at the Dexter High school with Washtenaw Chapter No. 302 of Dexter as the host chapter.

Past Matrons served a delicious luncheon for officers and members of the Order at the Masonic Temple. The tables were decorated in pink and silver, the colors chosen for the year.

After the musical prelude by Mrs. Geneva Prichard, Mrs. Laura Green, past president, and Louis Sherwin, past vice-president, called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Bernice Stone, past matron and daughter of the county president, was the assisting marshal. Mrs. Vera Nye, past grand organist, was assisting organist and Eloyse Campbell also a past grand organist was the soloist for the day.

County officers who were escorted by their worthy matron were: president, Marguerite Harvey of Dexter; first vice-president, Ruthven Mullison of Ann Arbor; second vice-president, Marilyn Samonek of Manchester; secretary-treasurer, Darlene Long of Milan; chaplain, Arlene Thoss of Saline; marshal, Hazel Laidlow of Ypsilanti; and historian, Lenore Schmidt of Chelsea.

Officers and members of the Dexter chapter made an honor formation by carrying open bibles, the emblem of the county president, and wearing silver and pink capes and hats. An open bible with the bible verse in silver letters "Let all things be done decently and in order," was first placed in front of the lectern on a pink cloth with silver letters forming the motto, "A Prayer, A Deed, A Smile."

After the president was escorted to the east, the chapter presented her a bouquet of white carnations and Virginia Geer, worthy matron, presented her with a money corsage in behalf of all of the matrons of the county.

After greetings by the president, Ann Arbor chapter presented the bible ceremony and the white bible which was placed on the altar was that of the worthy grand patron, John J. Kaatz of Yale.

The invocation was given by Arlene Thoss, county chaplain, and flags were presented by the Saline Chapter. A tribute to the past presidents was given by Ypsilanti Chapter and a special tribute to the secretaries was given by the president.

Milan chapter gave a humorous tribute to the Worthy grand Matron Alice Vollink. Welcome was given by Virginia Geer of Dexter and the response from Gertrude Fielder of Manchester.

After a short business meeting entertainment by the "Sad Sacks" of Howell was enjoyed by those present.

The afternoon session closed with a memorial given by Manchester Chapter and a dinner was served to 152 members and guests at St. Andrew's church.

The evening session was opened at 7:30 p.m. by past president Deatous Richardson and past vice-president William Richardson of Manchester. A tribute to past vice-presidents, present patrons and associate patrons was given by Chelsea Chapter. A humorous Widow's Degree" was given by Wandotte Royal Arch Masons which was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Alice Vollink, worthy grand matron, presented a message telling of the projects Grand Chapter is doing this year. Other distinguished guests were John Kaatz, worthy grand patron, and Carrol Curtis, past grand worthy patron and present grand organist of general grand chapter who gave inspiring words.

The flags were retired by Dexter Chapter and after singing "Now the Day is Over," which closed the session.

Guests were present from Dearborn, Flint, Ann Arbor, Saline, Milan, East Lansing, Yale, Monroe, Swartz Creek, Chelsea, Ypsilanti, Pinckney, Howell, Manchester, Climax, Kalamazoo, Portage, Galesburg, Fowlerville, Jonesville, North Adams, Wyandotte, Pontiac, St. Clair Shores, Hillsdale, Dexter and Scottsdale, Ariz.

TIPS for your TOP from

TODDY and FRAN

Ordinarily we're satisfied to promote the virtues of beauty salons everywhere—their therapeutic values, their skills, their abilities, like ours to give any woman's life that extra oomph that makes it fun to be a woman. We like to emphasize the confidence and self-respect that comes with good grooming. And of course we like to point out that good grooming starts with an expert, clean, clean shampoo, a styling that's just right for you, a permanent if you need it, a finished comb-out that adds the important detail to an overall lovely picture: you. Someday—maybe next time—we're going to get subjective and tell you why we think our particular salon would serve you well.

Dining elegance...charmingly interpreted in

COUNTRY VINTAGE by UNITED

Country Vintage has created a livable elegance in a blend of 18th century palace French design with a practical country charm. This robust theme is repeated in every important detail from the fine oak veneer and solid ash woods to the magnificent carved facades of chests and dressers . . . to the rich antiqued brass hardware. The traditional 18th century Parisian touch is seen in the gently curved cabriole-type table leg . . . In the typically grandly carved headboards. Chairs are either ladder-backed or designed with cane; seats are in fabric, rush or black naugahyde . . . a choice similar to the one a country artisan made when he used rush instead of costly fabrics. Country Vintage in complete dining and bedrooms, living room designs and tables is a beautiful collection to see. Visit our display today.

DEATHS

Reuben A. Steinbach

Overcome by Acid Fumes While Working in Basement

Reuben A. Steinbach of 10 Steinbach Rd. in Lima township died suddenly April 10. He was 59 years old.

Born on April 6, 1907 in Lima township, he was the son of George and Mary Fahrner Steinbach and a life resident of Lima township.

He and Violet G. Murray were married on June 2, 1928 at the Zion Lutheran church in Ann Arbor. She survives.

He was a member of the Salem Lutheran church and a plumbing and heating contractor. At the time of his death, Steinbach was working in the basement of a house at 10190 Jackson Rd., near his home when he was overcome by hydrochloric acid fumes. He was using the acid to clean the inside walls of the basement, according to sheriff's deputies.

Other survivors, in addition to the widow, include one son, Theodore C. of Ann Arbor; three grandchildren, two nieces and one nephew.

Friends may call at the Hosmer Funeral Home, where the funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Alvin H. Baer. Burial will follow in Forest Lawn cemetery, Dexter. The family has suggested that anyone wishing to make memorial contributions may designate them to benefit the Salem Lutheran church school fund. Envelopes are available at the funeral home.

Mrs. Ella Zinke

Waterloo Woman's Mother Succumbs at Rogers City

Mrs. Ella Zinke, 74, died suddenly April 13 in Rogers City Hospital. She was the mother of Mrs. Fred Fairbrother of Waterloo.

Born Dec. 22, 1891 in Moltke township near Rogers City, she was the daughter of Fred and Adeline Hartke Rieger. She had lived in Rogers City her entire lifetime.

She is survived by two sons and three daughters: Arnold of Rogers City, Melvin of Battle Creek, Mrs. Julius (Lenore) Wyant of Rogers City, Mrs. Fred (Evelyn) Fairbrother of Waterloo, Mrs. Wallace (Ethel) Poirier of Prosser, Wash., 17 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. Two brothers and one sister also survive.

Funeral services were Saturday at the Emanuel Lutheran church in Moltke. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Cub Scouts...

DEN 17 PACK 435—

Den 17 of Pack 435 met at home of Mrs. Bob Shears. The meeting opened with the salute to flag. Scouts talked about things concerning theme of the month "Nature."

Games played were "Alphabet Macaroni" and "Barrel of Monkeys."

Ronnie Keil brought treats.

Jim Swift scribe.

Cottage cheese makes a good topping for fresh or frozen fruit. To make, beat 1 cup of creamed cottage cheese until smooth. Add 1 tablespoon cream, 1 tablespoon sugar and ½ tablespoon vanilla. Mix well and serve over strawberries, raspberries, peaches, pears, blueberries or cherries.

Famous Disc Jockey Visits Former Home

A former Waterloo resident who is now a prominent radio disc jockey in the Hawaiian Islands visited his old stomping grounds last week-end.

He is Tom Moffat. Many local residents remember him as the grandson of Ervin Hitchcock, who at one time operated the Waterloo Store now owed by the Fred Fairbrothers. Moffatt, a cousin of Mrs. Louis Ramp, spent the week-end at the Waterloo home of the Ramps. Moffatt's equally famous wife, whose Hawaiian name is Kaolona Cabloy, accompanied him.

The Moffatts stopped in Waterloo enroute to Honolulu from Scotland. Mrs. Moffatt, a professional dancer specializing in Tahitian dances, recently completed a six-weeks dancing engagement in Scotland. She is also a professional model whose photograph appears on numerous Hawaiian travel brochures. Her husband joined her in Scotland and they toured Europe before flying to Detroit to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Moffatt.

Moffatt, a promoter, program director, night club owner, master of ceremonies and disc jockey, was selected by Hawaiian Jaycees as number four in the Outstanding Young Men of Hawaii honors. He is the program director for radio station KPOI, billed as "the world's outstanding rock and roll station." He also started a teenage night club on Wakiki Beach. Moffatt has lived in Hawaii for the past 16 years, ever since he did his military service in the islands as a radio announcer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramp spent several months visiting the Moffatts in Hawaii last summer.

As life becomes more mechanized, people tend to "do less" and gain more weight. A Michigan State University foods and nutrition specialist says future generations may have to "watch those calories" even more carefully than people presently do. The specialist predicts that caloric allowances may be reduced seven percent in the next 15 years in an effort to balance activity with caloric needs.

Smorgasbord Slated Sunday

Home-cooking will be featured at the St. Mary's Smorgasbord Sunday (April 24) at the Chelsea High school cafeteria.

Six serving lines will assure prompt service to guests. The lines will be open from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Proceeds from the dinner will be used to purchase new desks for St. Mary's school.

Co-chairmen of the event will be Frank Warywoda and Edward Orowski. The kitchen committee is headed by Mrs. Robert Houle and Mrs. Frank Warywoda. Mrs. Donald Doll will be in charge of the dining room and Donald Houle will serve as a steward. Mrs. Keith Boylan is heading the committee in charge of the three smorgasbord tables.

Featured on the menu will be ham, chicken and meat loaf, specially prepared Italian spaghetti sauce, a variety of salads, including German potato salad made from a traditional European recipe, plus home-made desserts.

Tickets are available from Harold Pennington, 475-5502. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Free babysitting will be provided by the young ladies of the parish for the convenience of families with infants and toddlers.

Human beings include two classifications: (a) those who are sick and (b) those who talk about being sick.

Tips from the STOP & SHOP CHEF
Questions & Answers

Why do potato salads made in France seem to have more flavor than those made elsewhere?

The trick to this treat (a bit of magic, incidentally, used in many countries and even in some sections of our own) is simply to season and dress the potatoes while they are still hot. So treated, the potatoes turn the trick by absorbing the dressing almost completely.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

BY THOMAS E. O'HARA
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. I'm trying to educate myself about the stock market, chiefly through reading of the newspaper financial pages, and just about the time I think I'm getting some place, I come up against terminology that confuses me. Can you suggest books I might read that would give me the basics? In the meantime, will you tell me what a "transfer agent" is and what he does?

A. I congratulate you on your effort to become informed about the stock market before actually starting your investment program.

Books that can help you in understanding the markets and investing include "The Investor's Dictionary," by Janet Low; "How to Read the Financial News," by C. Norman Stabler; "Understanding Stocks," by Don G. Campbell; "How to Make Money, Make Money," by Henry Gellerman; and "The Intelligent Investor," by Benjamin Graham. Many other good books are available and your library probably has a shelf full.

Still another way you can learn the basics of stock investing without risking a lot of money into it before you gain experience would be by forming an investment club with a group of friends or co-workers. For an investment market; this would encourage you to study certain stocks in depth, which is an excellent way to learn the ins and outs of the investment market.

Now, about transfer agents. A transfer agent is a person or business—usually a bank—that is responsible for transferring stock certificates from the name of the seller to the buyer when a stock changes hands. Acting for the corporation, the agent changes the ownership names on the records of the corporation and also on the certificates themselves, cancelling the old ones and issuing new ones to the new owners. The transfer agent is a key man, because if you're not registered on his books, you won't get dividends from the corporation.

The transfer agent is legally and financially responsible to the corporation to see to it that no counterfeit certificates are issued.

"What if my broker holds my stocks in street form, which means they're registered in his name?" you might ask. In this case, dividend payments are still made to the person in whose name they are registered—the broker. He, in turn, passes along the payment to you.

Each corporation also has a registrar whose chief function is to maintain the corporation's stock certificate records after they are certified by the transfer agent. The New York Stock Exchange, and some other exchanges, will not allow the same bank or individual to serve in both transfer agent and registrar, since he two are expected to act as check on each other.

My wife is retired and I will retire within six months. We will be in need of income. We have about $13,000 in a growth mutual fund and plan to sell it and put the proceeds into another fund from which we can draw $50 a month. Does this sound wise to you?

A. No, it certainly does not. Check with the management of the fund you now hold and I'll practically guarantee that you will find that by paying a fee of $5 you can shift your investment into other funds managed by the same company. Both are income funds and can provide you with a flat withdrawal program such as you want.

Selling and re-purchasing would cost you about $1,000 in commissions and you won't have achieved a thing that shifting to another fund managed by the same firm for $5 wouldn't accomplish for you.

Have you a question about investing? Mr. O'Hara, Editor of the monthly magazine, "Better Investing," and one of the nation's recognized authorities, will be glad to answer it. Write to T. E. O'Hara, National Association of Investment Clubs, Department S, Box 1056, Detroit, 48231, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION

by M. L. Woell
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

★ Body and Mind

In the words of Farm Bureau Women, within any true civilization, cultivation of the mind is as necessary as food for the body."

The assumption lies back of many activities of modern farm women these days as they stress the "culture" in agriculture.

Farm people are increasingly aware that there is little chance for culture of any kind in a nation perpetually hungry, for the mind cannot feed and grow unless the body has first been fed. They know that in hungry areas of the world, the culture of civilization gives way to uncivil crowds with clubs.

Recently, Farm Bureau Women gathered in annual Spring "Holiday" to hear Dr. Leroy Augenstein tell of such things. Dr. Augenstein heads the Bio-Physics department of Michigan State University, and is a noted scientist in his own right. He told of world problems linked to a booming birth rate and lagging world food supplies.

He suggested that with present average population increases of two percent per year, world population will more than double in 34 years, from three billion to seven billion people at the end of this century.

To dramatize the problem, he said by the end of another 500 years, each person would be living in the space of a single square yard, somewhat equivalent to placing all of the U.S. population into the city of Chicago.

Meanwhile, the President of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Charles Shuman, said recently that "political management" of food supplies—with inevitable bureaucratic red tape and misallocation of resources, is a prime cause of low farm production in many nations of the world.

He said there is no need for the world to starve if the underdeveloped countries can be induced to permit market incentives to operate in place of government management of the economy.

What the world needs today is millions of honest, average citizens.

Government Day Slated In Ypsilanti

Ypsilanti will be the site on Saturday, May 7, of the Second "State Government Day" program sponsored by Senator Gilbert E. Bursley as a public service to the residents of the area. It will be held at the West Junior High school, 105 N. Mansfield from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Five departments of the State Government, Senator Bursley explained, will be represented by their directors or designated deputies on a program describing to local government officials, civic groups, school organizations and interested citizens how these departments are organized and how they serve the Washtenaw County area as well as the State as a whole.

Senator Bursley further indicated that each department will be given 30 minutes for a presentation and then 15 minutes for questions and answers. All questions will be submitted in writing and read off by Senator Bursley. Those not covered within the 15-minute period will be answered in writing by the Department Director in Lansing.

The program is tentatively set up to start at 9 a.m. with Dale Ball, Director of the Department of Agriculture.

At 9:45 a.m. Dr. Albert Heustis, Director of the Department of Public Health will speak.

At 10:30 a.m. it will be the Department of Education and Alexander Kloster, Acting Director of the Department.

At 11:15 a.m. the State Highway Department will be represented. Director Howard Hill has not yet indicated who will be present for the Department.

At 12 noon the program will be turned over to the Department of Civil Rights. Co-Director of the Civil Rights Commission, John Feikens, hopes to be present himself.

At the first "State Government Day" program in Ann Arbor on March 26 the departments represented were Commerce, Treasury (State Tax Commissioner), Mental Health, Social Services and Conservation. This first program was so successful that Senator Bursley has arranged for the second one in Ypsilanti. Bursley further indicated tentative plans are underway for a third program in Tecumseh. He stressed that all citizens are welcome and that this is their opportunity to learn more about state government.

PACK 155—

Cub Scout Pack 155, sponsored by St. Barnabas Episcopal church, announced that they would have a kite contest at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 23. All boys and their dads are to meet at the parking lot behind St. Barnabas church. Fathers and sons from the other packs are also invited to participate. Co-chairmen for the contest are George Prinzing and George Blalock.

Cub Robert Schaeffer was awarded the lion badge with a gold and silver arrow.

Next month's theme will feature a "Jungle Tales" theme and a home-made frog and turtle race (wooden animals) made by committeeman Louie DeLoy.

Den 1 exhibited home-made kites. Den 2 showed terrariums, caterpillar cocoons, and other nature items. Den 3 exhibited bird houses.

Exhibitions and awards were followed by the Pinewood Derby race.

The meeting opened with "a Scout Is Reverent" and singing "America" and closed with a caterpillar "Grand Howl."

TB Testing Completed Wednesday in Schools

Ninth grade students and adult school personnel in the Dexter, Chelsea and Manchester public and parochial schools were tested yesterday (April 20) in the annual tuberculin testing program.

The program is sponsored by the Washtenaw County Health Department in co-operation with the Washtenaw County Tuberculosis Association, the Washtenaw County Medical Society, and Southeastern Michigan Tuberculosis Detection Project.

Results of the test, a simple skin test on the left forearm which shows if a person has ever had contact with tuberculosis, will be read tomorrow, April 22. A positive skin test does not mean that a person has active tuberculosis. It means that further study is needed; further examinations will be arranged by the Health Department for individuals with positive tests.

There is no charge for this service.

Whom Will You Blame?

Whom will you blame if, like the rich man spoken of in the [illegible] you die and are buried and in Hell you [illegible] torment?

[illegible] is not His will that any should perish. He would have all men to be saved. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have everlasting life" (John 3:16).

You cannot blame Christ. For "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners" (I Timothy 1:15).

You cannot say you are not a sinner. For God says: "As by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned" (Romans 5:12).

You cannot say: "I am doing the best I can." "I have turned over a new leaf and joined the church." "I have a good heart." "I will trust in the Lord for the rest." "God is too good to punish me in Hell." "I have done nothing worthy of Hell." God says: "All our righteousnesses are as filthy rags" (Isaiah 64:6). "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us" (Titus 3:5).

You cannot say you have not been warned. For this little book, the Bible, is God's Word. Word is your warning and it may be your last. Search the Scriptures and see if these things are so.

You cannot say there is plenty of time to settle this matter. For God says: "Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation" (II Corinthians 6:2).

You cannot say you keep the law. For God says, "Whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all" (James 2:10). The law was given to show people their need of a Saviour. "The blood of Jesus Christ, His Son cleanseth us from all sin" (I John 1:7).

You may say you do not believe all this, but that does not alter facts. Who art thou that repliest against God? "He that believeth not God hath made Him a liar. The responsibility of spending eternity in Hell is yours and yours alone. If you are not concerned about your own soul and have no desire to be saved, pass this on to someone else. He may thank you for the warning and be saved.

You are left without an excuse! Romans 1:20. Where will you spend eternity? "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved" (Romans 10:9).

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

How hot can a river be? The Department of the Interior has to decide how much heat a river can stand and not be polluted. The problem has to be solved because of the construction of larger hydroelectric plants that dispose of huge quantities of hot water as waste.

Heat, like other industrial waste, insufficiently treated sewage, junk, and detergents, can ruin a river.

In the past two months several national magazines have carried features about dying rivers and conservation projects to save them.

We fish in them, boat on them, swim in them, picnic by them, camp near them and won't miss them until it is too late to help them.

Like the California redwoods, the rivers are going fast and we need to get excited about them.

To paint a horrible picture of a sludge filled, stinking river hasn't moved us.

These are our rivers that are being stolen from us just as surely as if our homes were broken into and our furniture stolen. We have strong laws to protect the home. We need strong laws to protect our rivers.

It makes good sense to preserve what can't be replaced.

There are theological reasons, too. Something in Genesis about dominion over the earth. . . .

Children's Service Conference Slated Next Wednesday

"Children's Service — Planning Today for Tomorrow," a public conference, sponsored by Project 74 and the Ann Arbor League of Women Voters, will begin at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, April 27 in the Michigan Union Ballroom, Ann Arbor. The public is welcome to attend.

Thomas G. Bell, Colombo's executive director of the State Department of Public Welfare, will keynote the session by explaining the problems of merging programs of social services to children and families with programs offering financial assistance. Bell will also describe family welfare and children's service programs now possible locally because of new federal legislation and funding.

Mrs. Helen Bates Van Tyne will tell something of the hopes and plans for Project 74—a two-year study being done by a citizens commitee authorized by the county Board of Supervisors, aimed at improving Washtenaw county services for abandoned, delinquent, abused and neglected children. The gaps and deficiencies in the county services to children, as found in the two-year Brenner Study prepared for Project 74, will be pointed out by Mrs. Robert Vinter, director of Project 74.

Among the conference audience will be the staffs of all county, public, private and United Fund assistance agencies, legislators, councilmen, the county Board of Supervisors, the county welfare board, and representatives from the School of Social Work, the Council of Churches and United Church Women.

Anyone who wishes further information or transportation to the meeting may call Mrs. Dudley Holmes.

Fire Destroys Storage Building, Equipment

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a combination storage — chicken house thursday afternoon at the Lewis H. Alber residence located at 6844 Hashley Rd.

The building, located between the house and the barn, was used to store a hay baiter and several smaller pieces of equipment, all of which were destroyed by the blaze.

The paint on the house was blistered from the blaze, according to Chelsea Fire Chief James Gaken, but the fire was prevented from spreading to the nearby house and barn. Three fire turcks from Chelsea were dispatched to the scene of the fire and the Manchester Fire Department also dispatched men and equipment.

The Albers were not at home when the blaze broke out and first noticed the flames when they returned home in the middle of the afternoon.

Chelsea firemen have also answered seven grass fire calls in the past week.

Your best friends are those who seek nothing.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

MY TURN

If you have ever watched children at play, you know that a youngster denied "my turn" will dessert the game and go home. "My Turn" may be at bat in the ball game, on the pitcher's mound, on the new bicycle, or jumping rope.

Grownups are pretty much the same. If we believe we aren't getting a fair shake, we quit the game . . . the job . . . the organization . . . the bridge group . . . or whaever.

In one respect, however, children are probably different. The child knows, for example, that getting his turn "in the spotlight" means taking his turn elsewhere. Grownups often believe it isn't necessary to play in the outfield in order to get a turn at the pitcher's mound. If the game doesn't suit, they just don't play.

If you have been dissatisfied with the role assigned you on the job, in a civic organization, or elsewhere, ask yourself if you have taken your turn at the least pleasing jobs and assignments.

Bond Issue Okayed For Manchester District High School Addition

The State Department of Education has approved a school bond issue totalling $520,000 for the Manchester School District. The money will be used to build a senior high school addition.

The issue is one of six totalling $15,020,000. Bond issues totalling $76.7 million have been approved since Jan. 1 by the Department's School Bond Qualification Committee, according to acting state Supt. of Public Instruction Alexander J. Kloster.

These bonds, which also must be approved by the Municipal Finance Commission before they are sold, have the full faith and credit of the State of Michigan.

Other school districts receiving bond issue approval were: Escanaba, $1,450,000; Genesee, $360,000; Novi, $735,000; Shields, $850,000; and Ann Arbor, $10 million.

The Ann Arbor bond issue will include funds for eight elementary school additions, four new elementary schools, one new high school, one new junior high school and remodeling of the administration building.

Structural change (of muscles, bones, nerves) precedes changes of functions in the body!

Altered function and — later tissue degeneration is DISEASE! Chiropractic NORMALIZES STRUCTURE, CORRECTS THE CAUSE OF DISEASE.

DR. GEORGE N. KOFFEMAN

SINUS TROUBLE

WE HEAR SO MUCH TODAY ABOUT sinus trouble. Yet few people realize where they are located and what their effect can be to the rest of the body, when in a diseased state.

I AM GOING TO GIVE YOU A SLIGHT anatomy lesson in where they are located. The nasal accessory sinuses, as they are called, are as follows: the maxillary, or antrum of high more, the frontal ethmoidal, and the sphenoidal, these are the sinuses most commonly involved in various disorders of the face.

THE MAXILLARY SINUS is located in the Maxillae or the upper jaw. They are the largest bones of the face, excepting the lower jaw. By their union the whole upper jaw is formed. The maxillary sinus is the largest of the accessory sinuses of the nose. It is a pyramidal shaped cavity in the body of the maxillary bone. Its base is formed by the lateral wall of the nasal cavity, and its apex extends into the bone above. There is a natural opening into it from the nose. Bacteria are blown in at times by improper or too vigorous blowing. It usually starts from a catarrhal inflammation. It also can be caused by diseased teeth.

THE FRONTAL SINUS is situated in the frontal bones of the forehead and just above the eye sockets.

THE ETHMOIDAL SINUS and spenoidal sinuses are located in the interior of the nasal cavity and are hard for the general layman to understand so I will not go into their exact locations.

Maxillaary sinus trouble most generally is ushered in by some infection of the nasal cavity such as colds, pneumonia, etc. The symptoms are as follows and vary in degree as the case may be. There is a neuralgic pain referred to the cheek of the affected side. It can become so severe as to spread to the nose and eye and even to the teeth. In severe cases there is a foul discharge containing pus and there is swelling of the surrounding tissue. However, in the less severe cases the only symptom present is pain of a neuralgic character.

THE FRONTAL SINUSES are affected in the following manner: There is more or less severe pain between the eyebrows and above them. It is frequently referred to the temple area, and pain on bending forward, coughing or blowing the nose.

ALL THE SINUS SYMPTOMS seem to have similar involvements. In the acute it is usually accompanied by pain, tenderness, headache and a discharge. There may be or may not be a discharge.

It has been established that a chronic infection of one or more of these sinuses may be the dominant factor in the production of any one of a large group of other diseases. The repeated absorption of bacteria or their toxins into the circulation, can cause arthritis, heart trouble, kidney trouble, neuralgias, stomach and many other troubles too numerous to mention.

How does CHIROPRACTIC fit into this picture? Let us first consider the facts. All the powers to heal a body are within it. If the vital nerve force cannot get to the tissue, the tissue will not be healthy and it will be susceptible to disease. There is a nerve force coming from the neck region and the upper vertebrae of the spine which supply energy to these tissues. Now, when they are compressed by a vertebral misplacement that tisue no longer has the power to resist disease. The sinus is no longer able to clear and cleanse itself and you have sinus trouble. The chiropractor is trained to find these compressed nerves.

If you are a sufferer of sinus trouble, come in and get a good Chiropractic examination and join the other thousands that have found relief and cures through a proven science, Chiropractic in the treatment of sinus disorders.

District Dress Revue Slated Saturday

4-H seamstresses in the Chelsea-Dexter school districts will be evaluated and judged Saturday, April 23 at Chelsea High school.

The evaluations, scheduled from 1 to 5 p.m., will involve 4-Hers showing their projects to a team of lender judges. The member will discuss the project and receive an A, B or C rating and ribbon.

A dress revue, open to the public, will be held at 8 p.m. Girls participating must be dressed and ready for pre-judging by 7 p.m. The dress revue, with the theme "Queens of Fashion" is a competitive program and a number of winners will be selected to participate in the county competition Tuesday, April 26, in Ann Arbor.

The decorations for the dress revue are being prepared by Mrs. Edwin Tantlis and Mrs. Dan Ewald. Music will be arranged by Mrs. Leonard McCallu, signs will be made by Mrs. Walter Lampe. Registration for the evening will be under the direction of Mrs. David Baldus. Afternoon evaluation chairmen are Mrs. Harold Charles Powers and Mrs. Elton Hieber of Manchester.

The Parkers Corners Craftsmen will provide ushers for the revue and stage managers will come from the Rogers Corners Herdsmen.

Carol Mast of Dexter will be mistress of ceremonies for the evening dress revue. She will be assisted by narrators Grace Kushmaul and Beverley Windell.

U. S. oil companies give away about 150,000,000 road maps each year at a cost of about $15,000,000.

READY FOR THE SHOW: Area 4-H members entertained mothers Saturday at mothers' teas and dress reviews in preparation for the combined Chelsea-Dexter dress revue and judging scheduled for Saturday evening at the Chelsea High school. Modeling garments are, from left, Susan Amsdill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Amsdill of Dexter and a member of the Merry Stitchers 4-H Club; Linda Sue Bristle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bristle, wearing a "look-alike" sewn by her cousin, Elaine Bristle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bristle, and a member of the Wide Awake 4-H club, and Janet Mast, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mast of Dexter, member of the Merry Stitchers 4-H club. Approximately 140 girls will model garments they have sewn at the revue Saturday evening. Mrs. Mast is the chairman of the show.

Latest Census Shows Fewer Farms in Washtenaw County

A total of 1,854 farms was counted in Washtenaw county during the 1964 Census of Agriculture, the U. S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census reports.

In the last previous Census of agriculture (1959), the total counted in the county was 2,106 farms.

The 1964 total is published in a preliminary report on the county just issued. The report also shows that average farm size in the county was 159.8 acres and that the average value of the county's farms (land and buildings) in 1964 was $55,037.

Other important county statistics in the report are:

1) Value of all farm products sold by farms in the county in 1964, $17,802,477; in 1959, $14,310,992.

2) Value of all crops sold by county farms in 1964, $5,919,852; in 1959, $4,371,695.

3) Value of all livestock and livestock products sold by county farms in 1964, $11,930,040; in 1959, $9,939,297.

Information obtained for the first time in an agricultural census included the amount of income received by the county's farmers ($12,576) from recreational services as well as data on the use of pest control chemicals in the county in 1964.

A Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in years ending in "4" and "9" to gather information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. The data are needed to make decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. The 1964 farm census was the 18th in a series that began in 1840.

The preliminary report for the county contains more than 500 facts about agriculture in the county. Among additional facts it contains are the number of farms by size, type, and economic class; the number of farm operators by method of tenure, age, color, off-farm work, and number of school years completed; land in farms by use and by land-use practices; data on equipment and facilities; farm expenditures; number of hired workers; and number of farms reporting poultry and livestock production and those reporting crop production by acres and quantities as well as sales.

Single copies of the report are available for 10 cents from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233 or from any field office of the Department of Commerce. These are located in major cities.

REMOVING JUICE STAINS

If you spill orange or grapefruit juice on a fabric, sponge the spot at once with cool water. A citrus fruit stain often becomes invisible after it dries. With aging or if heat is applied, the stain turns yellow and is hard to remove.

Rep. Vivian Declares Himself Candidate for Re-Election

U. S. Rep. Weston E. Vivian announced in Ann Arbor on Monday that he will be a candidate for re-election to the U. S. Congress. On a five-hour swing through the Second Congressional District, accompanied by Senator Philip A. Hart, Vivian addressed county Democratic meetings in Lenawee, Livingston, Monroe, Washtenaw and the Second District portion of Wayne.

REP. WESTON E. VIVIAN

Vivian said, "In the past two years, I have learned much about the people of this District—their problems, their hopes, their fears, their needs, their thoughts on many subjects. During my campaign, I said that I would support health care for the elderly; increased aid to education; action toward the abatement of pollution; conservation of our natural resources; reform of our immigration laws; and a cold war G.I. bill. The 89th Congress has enacted legislation in these fields—legislation designed to enhance and extend prosperity, to more fully realize justice, to assure our security and the security of our children in a tempestuous world."

Speaking of the present session of Congress, Vivian commented that "our greater concern this year is with the consolidation of progress at home, the encouragement of progress abroad, and the pursuit of peace—in Southeast Asia, in Africa, in every troubled area of our globe."

Vivian said, "It has been my privilege not only to debate and vote on vital legislation but also to work with and for many of you on projects of great importance to your communities and to assist many individuals who have come to me for information, advice, and help."

"As you know, I have returned to Michigan on almost every weekend that the Congress has been in session. I have found that maintaining open lines of communication is not only productive but essential. I have asked for and received the views of thousands of individual citizens. I have made myself available to scores of groups and attended hundreds of meetings where public policies could be openly discussed and debated. And I have enjoyed the privilege of explaining the complex actions and purposes of our government to thoughtful audiences."

Vivian compared life as a Congressman to life as a scientist and businessman. Prior to his election to Congress in 1964, Vivian was a founder and vice-president of an electronics firm in Ann Arbor. "My work on the Science and Astronautics Committee has given me an opportunity to put my experience in the research and development field to good use," he said. Vivian, who received a PhD degree in electrical engineering from the University of Michigan, is the only PhD scientist in either house of Congress.

Vivian concluded by saying "I believe that I understand—and continue to give—the kind of representation which the residents of this District want in Washington. If I am fortunate enough to be re-nominated and re-elected to this office of highest trust and responsibility, I shall continue to do my utmost to serve all of the people who I represent.

"I know the magnitude and the complexity of the tasks ahead. And so I ask that you lend me a measure of your faith and hope and strength—for I know that together we can meet the challenges before us."

like drying clothes outdoors. But most of the things you hear about fresh air drying are myth. Because a gas dryer dries your clothes softer, cleaner—and just as sweet smelling. Without exposing them to harsh winds or the dust that's in the air.

A gas dryer does the job when fresh air can't. At midnight. Or in a rainstorm. We can't claim that gas, like air, is free. But you can do five loads in a gas dryer for the cost of doing one in the other kind.

See the latest gas dryer models now on display at your dealer or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showroom. Or call us at NO 3-8531 ext. 248 in Ann Arbor, and we'll have a Gas Company representative come out to your home and talk with you about the advantages of gas dryers. One of them is free installation. Inside.

FHA Girls Will Attend State Meeting

Nine students at Chelsea High school will travel to Grand Rapids this week-end to participate in the Future Homemaker of America State Convention.

Attending from Chelsea will be Dorothy Montgomery, Dianne Hoover, Kathy Foster, Donna Bolanowski, Arlys Wiseman, Mary Ann LaRose, Linda Hillis, Sandra Stanley and Roberta Parks, secretary of Region III executive council. They will be accompanied by the FHA advisor, Mrs. Darel Dean, and Mrs. Henry LaRose. More than 1,500 delegates, members and advisors from throughout Michigan will attend the convention. Theme of the convention is "FHA-Cast a Tall Shadow." Convention headquarters will be in the Pantlind Hotel and Civic Auditorium.

Among the speakers will be Dr. Larry Borosage, Professor of Education, Michigan State University; Larry Taylor, Conference and Program Consultant, Hillsdale; the Rev. Donald Bodley, Adrian; and Chloe Ann Westfall, National FHA reporter from Camden. Mrs. Rex Tood-Withers, chief of the Home and Family Living Section of the State Department of Education, who is the state FHA adviser, and Miss Mildred Reel, national FHA adviser from Washington, D.C., will also address participants.

The conference is sponsored by the Home and Family Living Section. In addition to Mrs. Withers from the State Department of Education working with the program are: Miss Barbara Gaylor, Mrs. Thelma L. Graper, and Miss Marguerite E. Lofink.

Purposes of this state convention are to summarize the year's accomplishments, to set plans for future projects and to carry out the business of the state organization including election of officers and the yearly awards of scholarship and honors. The meeting is also held to help members understand better the FHA goals and inspire them to higher achievements.

Cheryl Sheathelm, state FHA president, of the Dansville chapter, will preside over the convention with the assistance of the other 11 state officers including: Posy Ankrom, vice-president, Onekama; Rhonda Edwards, vice-President of degrees, Hillman; Patty Afel, vice-president of projects, Bellaire; Darleen Fabroski, vice-president of public relations, Carney; Frances DeBacker, vice-president of recreation, Armada; Karen Kuechenmeister, vice-president for national committee, Blissfield; Deanne Goodrich, vice-president of evaluation, Homer; Janet Centers, secretary, Portage; Sandra Gabert, treasurer, Avondale High school, Auburn Heights; Marilun Britten, editor, Perry; Sally Beaver, parliamentarian, Hopkins; Joann Engberg, historian, Bendle High school, Flint; Marilyn Russell, song leader, Breckenville; Claudia Camp, pianist, Blanchard.

The best speaker is brief.

WASHTENAW COUNTY PRODUCT OF THE YEAR: Washtenaw county Awards Chairman Joseph A. Frisinger, on the left, is congratulating Richard N. Sarns, president of Sarns, Inc., on the fact that the Sarns heart pump was selected as Washtenaw County's Product of the Year.

Heart Pump Chosen as County Product of Year

The Sarns modular heart pump, which helped save the life of five-year-old Judy Funsch of Flint during recent open-heart surgery at University Hospital, today was named the Washtenaw county Product of the Year.

The Sarns heart pump is used in open heart surgery cases. In these cases the heart is stopped and the lungs are collapsed. The patient, during this point of the open heart operation, relies completely on this Sarns heart pump for the life-giving supply of blood and oxygen.

The Sarns company, located in Ann Arbor, was founded in 1960. At that time it had two employees. The company now has 38 employees and it has become a leading manufacturer of heart equipment. Its heart pump models, including the new modular heart pump, are being sold throughout the world.

Joseph A. Frisinger, Washtenaw county Awards Chairman, in announcing this award said: "This product and this company are great examples of both ingenuity and humanity. Washtenaw county may indeed be proud of this product. The hopes of the people of Washtenaw county go with this product as it enters regional competition for the Michigan Product of the Year Award."

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

Could it be true that two and one-half million Michigan citizens are unrepresented in the State House of Representatives?

Since this legislature was seated last year, Republican House members who serve these two and one-half million citizens have complained about the shabby treatment received at the hands of a power hungry majority party—under-represented on major committees, no representation on others, speakers unrecognized on the floor, points of order ignored, under-staffed, not consulted on policy decisions and generally left in the dark on the direction of legislative affairs.

Last week the results of this abolishment of fair deliberation procedures was made quite evident when the calendar showed only one Republican sponsored Bill for every 10 sponsored by Democrats.

Two and one-half million people unrepresented? Not exactly, because they still have 37 votes to be cast for them. But under-represented, yes, and by a much larger margin than simple numbers of seats held—actually by a margin contrived by the majority party to stifle the minority voice.

Although they have established this almost overwhelming power, majority Democrats have failed to produce smooth and efficient operation of the legislature. With only a few days remaining before the deadline for passage of House bills, some 100 items on the calendar have yet to be considered and the appropriation of some two billion taxpayer dollars has not been debated.

Many of those items which have and will be considered take hours of debate because they have come poor in form and poor in content, from inactive and ineffective committees. It has been suggested that this be labled "the year of the substitute" because in many cases all new language has had to be substituted for the original. In other cases bills have had to be so heavily amended that they are unrecognizable in their final form.

Next week we will be in a better position to assess the aftermath of such procedures. There is no doubt, however, that the present state of affairs should not only cause alarm among the two and one-half million citizens represented by the minority party, but also among all others whose representatives have approved the current direction.

Phyllis Preuss Takes Lead in North-South Golf Tournament

A former North Lake resident, Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, won a first-round victory in the 64th North-South women's amateur golf championship now being played at Pinehurst, N.C.

Miss Preuss birdied the 17th and 19th holes Tuesday to turn back Mrs. George Trainor of Rochester, N.Y., in a rematch of their meeting in the 1964 finals, according to an Associated Press report. She had defeated the New York golfer 7 and 6 two years ago. Tuesday she sank a 20-foot putt for a two on the 17th to square the match and knocked in a 40-footer for victory on the first extra hole.

Miss Preuss, who is now living in Pompano Beach, Fla., formerly lived at North Lake and played at the Inverness Country Club.
