MEN IN BLUE REMEMBERED:

Chelsea Men Active in Civil War

One hundred and four years ago, the Civil War touched Chelsea. Responding to a request from Washington, D.C. for troops, the 9th Michigan Infantry was organized in 1862, with one company, The company was designated Company "K" of the 20th Michigan, a unit of 11 companies. During that great conflict, individual communities raised companies. Frequently one community suffered heavy losses when a company from that community became involved in heavy fighting. In later years, companies have been composed of men from all over the nation and losses are divided among many communities.

Dr. A. A. Palmer, local Civil War buff, reports that men of Company K elected Elisha Hammond as their captain. The regiment was organized and mustered in the service of the United States on Aug. 15, 1862. It left its rendezvous at Jackson on Sept. 1, with 400 officers and men from Wisconsin, Jackson, Calhoun, Eaton and Ingham counties. Those counties composed what was known as the Third Congressional District.

The regiment was sent to the front for Washington, which was under fire for five days by rail. After the Battle of Antietam at Sharpsburg, Md., the regiment joined Burnside's 9th Army Corps and proceeded to Fredericksburg, Va.

The regiment went into camp at Falmouth and received a flag made by the ladies of Jackson-inflated with the State arms. This flag was carried by the regiment in all its campaigns until the spring of 1863 when it became so battle-torn that it was necessary to return it to the State.

Dr. Palmer said he thought the battle flag is now in the State Capital in Lansing.

The regiment fought in the Battle of the Wilderness, Spotsylvania (where Captain Roswell P. Carpenter was killed) and Cold Harbor. After those battles General Grant was called "The Butcher" because of the number of casualties, Dr. Palmer said.

Dr. Palmer regards that conflict as the most terrible of all our wars. The battles were fought with crude weapons that produced frightful wounds, infections and disease, he commented, and caused the unfortunate men unbearable suffering because medical and surgical facilities could not cope with these calamities.

"Doctors knew little about asepsis then, and as they were understaffed no attempt was made for conservative surgery. Arms and legs were amputated in barns, schoolhouses and churches, and the members cut off were disposed of the best way possible," Dr. Palmer said.

"After the Battle of Gettysburg, history tells of these amputated arms and legs being thrown out the door of a barn, where manure was pitched out during peace time, and these piles of amputated legs and arms had to be removed from time to time to make room for more," he added.

"This sounds gruesome, but this is why I regard the Civil War as the most terrible war we ever engaged in. The wounded lay for days without aid or even shelter and statistics tell that it always rained following a great battle, and the bodies lying the sun became so bloated and distorted they looked like giants with black faces and eyes opened and staring to the heavens," Dr. Palmer stated.

"Not a nice picture, is it?" he added.

The 20th Michigan maintained a fighting force of 1,157 officers and men. During the years of fighting it lost 290 men killed in action, 731 men who died of wounds and 216 men who died of disease, a total of 1,241 war casualties. New replacements from the home front maintained the fighting force, Dr. Palmer said.

When the conflict ended, Chelsea counted 27 widows and daughters of men in Company K.

Dr. Palmer said that during the war, Waterloo had the nearest telegraph, and his mother used to ride over for the casualty lists.

A group of women met Dec. 10, 1890 in the Post club rooms to organize an Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, which was composed of veterans of the Union Civil War Army.

1965 marked the 75th anniversary of the founding of that auxiliary organization, today known as the R. P. Carpenter Post of the Woman's Relief Corps. In 1893, the post received a charter.

Son of one of the charter members, Dr. A. A. Palmer recalls that his mother used to take him to some of the gatherings at the GAR Hall located above the present Gambles store.

Today, all charter members of the Woman's Relief Corps have passed away, and the Grand Army of the Republic was discontinued nationally on Oct. 10, 1960, following the death of its last member. Membership in the WRC was originally limited to wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of GAR members. Today, anyone is eligible.

Mill Creek Council Elects New Board

Carroll Ordway and Harvey Fischer of Dexter and Delmonte Sparks, Ann Arbor, are the new members of the 12-member board of directors of the Mill Creek Research Council, Inc.

Principal business conducted at the May 24 meeting was the election of a board to serve the coming year.

Officers who were chosen by the new board during a brief board meeting following the annual meeting were:

Mrs. Harry Denham, chairman; David Bacon, vice chairman; Leonard McCann, secretary; and William Chandler, treasurer.

Others on the board are: Robert Heller, Robert Holliday, Robert Kaercher, Alfred Renz and Mrs. Harold Sias.

George Frisinger, acting chairman, presided at the meeting held at the Lima Township Hall. He introduced Jerome Fulton, executive secretary of the Huron River Watershed Council, who spoke briefly on the nature of his new position. He said that water pollution is much more of a modern life today complex. It is difficult to come up with simple answers to anything.

Mrs. Denham also discussed the Huron River Watershed Council and noted that representation on the newly elected executive board covers more broadly the whole river basin. New officers are: Ray Saari, representing Ypsilanti township, chairman; Hans Haugard, Livingston county, vice chairman; George Frisinger, Washtenaw county, secretary-treasurer. She reported a conversation with Thomas G. Sharpe, representative to the state legislature, Senate Bill 700 which clarifies representation on watershed councils has been passed by the Senate and by the House Conservation Committee, and will be considered by the House of Representatives in the near future.

Another bill in the legislature which might have some bearing on area water problems is one which might have some bearing public service commission to regulate any municipal water department supplying one or more suburban communities. This would affect the rates set by the Detroit Water Board which supplies water to 61 suburban communities.

Sunday, June 26, has been set for the first area tour of the summer.

Area Scouts Hold Week-End Camp-Out at Bruin Lake

Scouts from Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Saline and Whitmore Lake converged on the Bruin Lake Scout Camp last week-end for the Portage Trails Council Iroquois Spring-O-Ree.

Attending were 138 scouts and 35 adults. Scouts from Troops 425, under the leadership of Ralph Frisch, 465, 485 and 476, under the leadership of Harold W. "Bill" Baker represented Chelsea while Dexter scouts came from Troop 428, under the direction of Jim Klappeneich and Troop 477, led by Bill Steptoe.

The week-end began with individual troop campfires on Friday evening. A "lost person search," with patrols searching for a hidden dummy, aided only by a compass and a topographical map occupied Saturday afternoon.

"Cave-man" supports on Saturday evening permitted the use of no utensils or tin foil, and included meat, potatoes and vegetables prepared by the boys with extra points in judging earned for the inclusion of biscuits or bread, and other items. The meals were organized on a patrol basis. Roland Spaulding treated the district committee members to a cave-man style steak fry the same evening.

One highlight of the week-end was the Saturday evening tap-dancing of the Order of the Arrow. To qualify for membership in the Order of the Arrow, an honor society of the Boy Scouts of America, scouts must be first-class and have at least 15 days and nights of camping experience. Leaders are required to have the camping experience. Previously selected members of the Order of Arrow, dressed as Indians, tapped the new members as they sat around the campfires. New members were elected by the troop membership and did not know beforehand that they would be tapped.

Following the tapping ceremony, new members were required to maintain absolute silence until the next morning.

Dexter Scouts tapped for the honor are: Martin Palmer, Allen Scott, Dale Klappeneich, Leo Hollenback and Mike Kercher, all from Troop 428.

Scouts from Chelsea Troop 476 selected are Bill Harner and John Hepburn. Adults selected from Troop 476 are Max Hepburn and Vern Hills.

District Chairman Spaulding was also tapped.

Troop's 485's Larry Blackwell and James Juergens and James Craig II from Troop 425 were also selected. Watson McCrory and his son, Charles of Troop 425 are others who received the honor.

To become a fully accredited member of the Order of the Arrow, those tapped will be required to spend an "Ordeal Week-end" scheduled for June 10-12 when they will be required to maintain absolute silence Friday evening and all day Saturday as they perform various tasks, accompanied by other Order of the Arrow members. The silence will be broken Saturday evening when a banquet is prepared for the new initiates.

Sunday morning the Rev. James Crain conducted Protestant services for Scouts from District IV and District II and a priest from Ypsilanti held a field mass for the Catholic campers.

Explorer Post 485 paddled away with first and third place honors in a field of 28 in the Sunday afternoon canoe races. The race started near Silver Lake Rd. and US-24 on the Huron River and ended near Camp Newkirk, a distance of approximately 19 miles. Although the average canoeing time for this stretch is eight and one-half hours, Tom Gardner and Ralph Frisch, Jr., completed the stretch in three hours and 38 minutes to win the race. Placing third were Larry Blackwell and Jack Wilson.

The committee planning the week-end were Alvin Reinhardt of Chelsea, Harold Fritts of Saline and Herb McCullough of Milan. They were assisted by Junior Leaders from the various troops. Ron West of Saline served as chairman of the Junior Leaders.

All scouts participating in the week-end received patches and buttons, receiver bugs, red or yellow ribbons which designated proficiency standard or participating status.

Blaze Destroys A. Rettig Home On Dancer Rd.

Both the Dexter and Chelsea Fire Departments responded to a fire at the Albert Rettig home at 2715 Dancer Rd. at 3 p.m. Friday afternoon, but were unable to save the home.

The Chelsea Fire Department responded to a request for assistance from the Dexter Fire Department, according to Chelsea Fire Chief James Gaken.

Mrs. Rettig, 71, who was home at the time of the fire, was treated at a Chelsea doctor's office for first and second degree burns suffered while running through the kitchen and out the front door.

The fire apparently started in the kitchen in an old-fashioned wood stove and as a result of the fire neighboring telephones were out of order. Because of the delay in calling the fire department, the fire was out of control when the fire department arrived and the two-story wood frame building was completely destroyed. The fire also badly scorched a shed located directly behind the house but the blaze was prevented from reaching a gas tank which was situated behind the second building, according to Chelsea Fire Chief Gaken.

Watercress turns yellow and becomes rancid quickly in the refrigerator, even when the stems are set in cold water. Is there a better way to keep it fresh and green?

If watercress is kept in an air-tight plastic bag in the refrigerator it will keep fresh for a surprising length of time. An even better way to keep it, however, is to immerse it completely in water and cover it tightly to exclude the air.

200-Car Centennial Caravan From Saline Invades Chelsea

Beards and old-fashioned dresses were the mode of the day when the Saline caravan, which included more than 200 automobiles, arrived in Chelsea Friday night. Saline caravanners received apologies from Chelseans for the weather, which dampened the visit.

Saline provided perfect weather for the famous Chelsea caravan's 1938 visit. The scheduled fashion show and the dancing were both rained out.

The Bridgewater contingent was particularly noteworthy for the red and white checkered dresses and sunbonnets worn by their womenfolk and for their spectacular marching band consisting of "something less than 100" pieces.

The rope reportedly broke several times as the Chelsea Jaycees and Saline Jaycees tugged across and into Latta Creek. The Fire-hall Barrel Rolling contest with the waterhoses also resulted in several wet participants.

The Saline caravan will be in Milan next week and has scheduled a return visit to Chelsea in July. The major celebration of the centennial year is planned for July 18-23 in Saline.

THE LANSING REPORT
FROM senator
GIL BURSLEY

Currently in Lansing we are finalizing budget action for our state universities. I was delighted, therefore, to see a report this week that the University of Michigan's graduate school is ranked among the top 10 in the country. No other university in Michigan was listed. The survey I am referring to was conducted by the American Council on Education which polled some 4,000 professors and deans in the 26 academic disciplines covered in the poll. The University of Michigan finished among the top ten 20 times.

Graduate schools were rated "distinguished," "strong," "good," and "adequate plus." The University of Michigan was ranked as "distinguished" in eight departments — anthropology, botany, chemical engineering, pharmacology, philosophy, psychology, sociology and Spanish.

Harvard had the greatest number of distinguished departments within its university confines. It was closely followed by the University of California at Berkeley. Tied for third and fourth were Stanford and Yale. Michigan was fifth followed by Cal Tech, MIT, Chicago, Princeton, Wisconsin and Columbia.

The survey confirmed assertions that academic excellence will surface where faculty salaries are high, libraries large, and the flow of scholarly publications prodigious.

I know that many students in this area will want to do their graduate studies at a University where excellence in many fields is recognized as outstanding. The University of Michigan Faculties ranked as follows in the poll: Classics, sixth (tie with Columbia); French, 10th; philosophy, second; Spanish, fourth; anthropology, fourth; economics, eighth; geography, ninth; history, 10th; political science, 10th; sociology, fifth; botany, third; pharmacology, second; physiology, ninth; psychology, third; zoology, 10th; astronomy, eighth; chemical engineering, sixth; civil engineering, seventh; and mechanical engineering, ninth.

I certainly intend to see that my colleagues in Lansing are kept fully informed on the University of Michigan's excellence and new national recognition.

The search for truth is the highest form of human endeavor.

If this is your idea of air conditioning, you're getting warm.

This sort of thing is about as cooling as an August stroll across the Sahara. But it's easy to enjoy the whole-house comfort of gas central air conditioning this summer. In fact, if you have forced air heat, you're halfway there already. Install a gas central air conditioning unit and use your existing furnace ducts. Your gas system will cost you half the operating expense you'd pay with an electric system. Enjoy cool, clean, dehumidified, pollen-free air in every room this summer. Take five years to pay for installation and get a lower rate all summer on all the gas you use (a special deal for gas air conditioning customers). Call the gas company today. You're getting warm. MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY that was a low blow

Farmers got a low blow from the National Administration recently. And we don't deserve it. Read the facts and judge for yourself.

Late in March, the U.S. Department of Labor announced that the Cost of Living Index had increased one half of one percent (.005).

On March 31st, President Johnson said "food prices and three metals are responsible for 80% of inflation." He said farm prices must come down.

Now it is true that the retail price of food, after being stable for years, did increase 6% during the past year—more than in any recent year. But it was long overdue. In fact, during the past ten years food prices have been the only item in the Cost of Living Index that have not shown a substantial increase.

Here are the official U.S. Government figures for the past ten year period (ending February 28, 1966):

INCREASED
COST OF LIVING INDEX	11.6%
Representative Items Include:
Cost of Services and Housing	20%
Cost of Medical and Health	25%
Cost of Recreation	16%
Cost of Food	4%
U. S. PER FAMILY INCOME	40%
PERCENT OF FAMILY INCOME DECREASED
SPENT FOR FOOD	5.7%

The facts speak for themselves. Food prices and farm prices are not responsible for inflation. Just the opposite is true. Increased farm efficiency has kept food prices down while other prices went up and up. During the past ten years, in fact, low food prices have been primarily responsible for keeping the overall cost of living from skyrocketing—because low food prices have offset the substantial increases in other cost of living items. But this situation cannot go on. Food prices cannot continue to bear the burden of inflation. Thousands of farmers—caught between rising costs and low prices—are going out of business.

The situation is critical. Farmers must get a fair return for their product—a return that is in line with their costs. There is no other way for them to stay in business. There is no other way for them to continue to produce the food your family needs every day.

DUCKS COLLIDE
Memphis, Tenn. — A Delta Air Lines DC-8, at 3,000 feet, flew into a flock of ducks tearing a hole in a wing. The jet, with 100 passengers aboard, landed safely while fire engines and rescue vehicles waited at the airport.
The truth is a great enemy to invention.

200 TRANSFUSIONS
Atlanta, Ga. — Russell Dodge has received 200 transfusions at Emory University Hospital in his 11-year battle against a rare illness called Banti's disease. The 18-year-old Hampton High school junior received this transfusion during his sixth major operation.
Planning a system is one thing, but getting it to work is another.

Probate Judge John Conlin Will Seek Circuit Judgeship

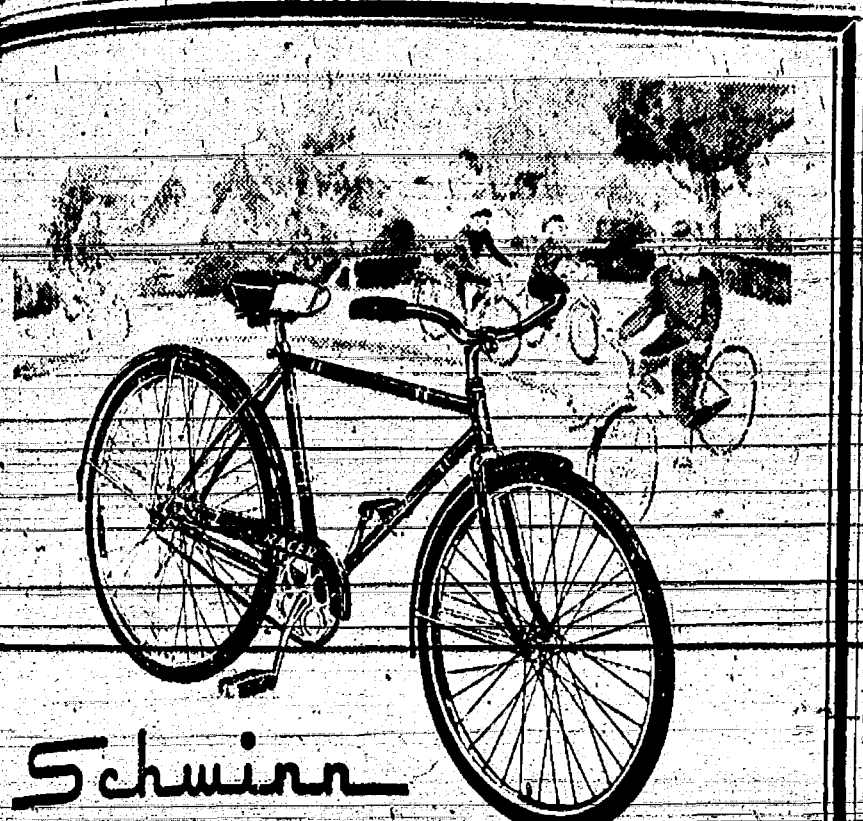

John W. Conlin, Probate and Juvenile Judge for Washtenaw county, has announced that he will seek the six-year term for the office of Circuit Judge of Washtenaw county. The new term was recently created by the legislature which provides for three Circuit Judges for the county.
Judge Conlin was born in Ann Arbor, Oct. 2, 1904, graduated from St. Thomas High school and received his law degree from the University of Michigan in 1927. He practiced in Ann Arbor until May, 1956, when he was appointed Probate and Juvenile Judge by Gov. G. Mennen Williams. Judge Conlin was elected to the position in November, 1956, and has been re-elected twice without opposition since that time.

MERKEL BROS.

As the deadline for reporting Senate Bill No. 323, out of Committee, slipped by Friday, May 20, the Majority Party of the House of Representatives saw fit once more to pass one more measure of improving homestead exemptions for war veterans and their families.
It seems inconceivable to me that the people to whom the state and country owe so much should be the people that are victims of this sort of political maneuvering.
On May 17 the Governor issued a memorandum to the legislature urging that action be taken on Senate Bill No. 323 before May 20. The letter received by the Governor in response to this memorandum was (to put it mildly) very disappointing.
Personal recriminations against the Governor should not be used for an excuse for foot-dragging. The compromise Veterans Homestead Bill has been before the House since March 29. We could have passed it then, however, the Majority Party chose to add to an appropriation bill (which rejected the compromise) an amendment which was declared unconstitutional by the Attorney General on April 25.
There are approximately 82,000 veterans and widows in Michigan drawing homestead exemptions. Of those there are approximately 26,400 World War I veterans and 29,000 World War II veterans. Those who have service-connected disabilities would receive an increase of approximately $55.00, plus the extra benefits that those who have service-connected disabilities would receive.
The average age of the World War I veteran is 72 years; and the fact that most of them are living on fixed incomes, along with the constant rise of living costs, should have impressed the members of the Majority Party enough so that they would recognize the needs of our worthy citizens. I understand there is a possibility.

Frost Losses to Crops Estimated at Nearly $20 Million

Frost losses to Michigan farmers this spring, estimated as up to $20 million and possibly much more, result in part from farmers' expanding efforts to feed the demands of a rapidly growing population, said Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Director Ball said that unless farmers took "educational gambles" on the Michigan weather, there would be frequent shortages of many crops.
Americans eat "high off the hog and yet often criticize agriculture for increasing costs of living. Director Ball said. The fact is that we all eat better quality food each year for a smaller and smaller fraction of our take-home pay.
"Frosts this spring point up the big gamble that farmers take in providing fresh fruits and produce as cheaply as possible over as long a season as possible," the agriculture chief said. "A playful safe attitude every year by farmers would mean depriving consumers of months of enjoyment of garden fresh produce."
Michigan farmers are enterprising, businesslike, willing to stake millions of dollars of investment on a gamble that the weather will co-operate, Ball said. "When they get a bad break, most shrug it off and strive for better control of the factors of frost, drought, labor problems, plant pests and diseases. This progress is expensive, but in the long run pays off in more and better food on Michigan dinner tables."

Hospital Volunteers Will Be Recognized At Public Ceremony

At a public recognition ceremony next Wednesday, June 1, at 7 p.m., Mrs. Iza Carty will receive a trophy signifying that she has completed 7,500 hours of volunteer service at the Veterans Administration Hospital at Ann Arbor. The ceremony, at which many other volunteer workers also will be honored, will be held at the VA Hospital.
All interested persons are invited to attend.

Standings of tournament participants follow.

Reception Set for Retiring County School Official

A reception and office open house in honor of Julius Haab, retiring Superintendent of the Intermediate School District, is planned for Sunday, June 5 from 2-4 p.m. at the School District's offices on the corner of Washington and First St., Ann Arbor.

The affair was discussed Tuesday night (May 10) at the monthly meeting of the Board of Directors.

Invitations are going out to some 300 persons with whom Haab has been associated during his long career of service which expires with his resignation effective July 1.

Haab began as a County School Commissioner in 1939 and continued as Superintendent of the County School Board which, in 1962, became the Intermediate School District.

In other business, the Board Tuesday night discussed hiring architects to act as consultants on location of a site for a permanent, intermediate School District facility and to pre-plan the design for it.

Several applications for the County School Superintendent vacancy were accepted by the members.

WINNING ARTISTS: These Chelsea High School students entered competition in the Hell Art Show and came home with numerous prizes, including the "Best in Show" trophy (on left). Displaying the ink drawing which won her the top award in that category (trophy on right) and the Best in Show trophy is Miss Cathy Taylor, seated. Miss Lee Spaulding, standing, middle row, left, captured an honorable mention for her plaster elephant and Marianne Edwards, middle row, right, was awarded an honorable mention for her ink drawing. Henry Harat, back row, left, whose water color was judged second best of the show and Dorothy Montgomery, whose stitchery was given an honorable mention, stand with Jack Curly, Chelsea High School art director. Missing from the photo is Debbie Gorton, whose stitchery was the runner-up in the miscellaneous category.

Chelsea Students Win Art Festival Honors

Fiercish competition didn't daunt area artists this week-end who entered the Spring Art Festival in Ann Arbor and emerged with honors.

The occasion drew 221 paintings and art works from 10 area high schools and the boys training camp.

Capturing honors for the best of show and the best in pencils and pastels was Cathy Taylor of 216 Washington St., Chelsea.

Runner-up in the water color division was Henry Harat of Chelsea, whose painting was of the Chelsea village clock.

Debbie Gorton was the runner-up and Dorothy Montgomery placed third in the miscellaneous category. Both entered a piece of stitchery.

Intermediate and ink, Cathy Taylor won the first place trophy with an ink portrait.

Dean Sandels of Dexter placed second in oil painting division. Honorable mention went to Lee Spaulding of Chelsea with her plaster elephant statue and to Marianne Edwards with an ink drawing.

Brian Walton of Pinckney was selected as the winner of the best in oils trophy. Becky Read of Pinckney, the best in water colors and pastels; and Brenda Turner of Howell showed the best in sculpturing and miscellaneous art craft.

Doris Ann Smith of the Eastern Michigan "U" art staff and the other judges, Clarence and Mary Jane Ahlstrom and Liz Colone, stated selection of the winners was exceptionally difficult due to the general all-around high standard of work of the exhibitors.

The Hell Chamber of Commerce saluted the art teachers of the area for the outstanding work exhibited by their students. Ken Charbonneau and his Boy Scouts also received praise for their work in patrolling the large area of show space.

The Hell Chamber plans to conduct this show on an annual basis and welcomes funds from individuals and industry for scholarship purposes for these youngsters.

School Census Underway Across State

Lansing — Michigan's 128th annual school census is underway in Chelsea and Dexter.

The State Department of Education said enumerators throughout the state are calling on parents and guardians for information about children under 20 — name, birthdate, sex, address and a report of any physical or mental defects they may have.

In Chelsea, Mrs. Alma Meserve is surveying the village and other pollsters have been appointed for each of the old primary school districts. Mrs. Meserve will compile the results. The Dexter survey will be compiled by the superintendent's office.

School districts must conduct the census during the last 20 days of May.

Originally, the census was the basis for distribution of primary school interest money. The new State Constitution, however, did away with earmarking of these funds and distribution on a school census basis.

The census is being continued, State Department of Education officials said, because the information is needed as a guide to future planning. It gives school officials a picture of school population growth and student movements within their district.
