

School Board Candidates Questioned

Candidates for the Chelsea Board of Education were asked to answer three questions to better inform the voters of the Chelsea School District of their views.

Short biographical sketches of the six candidates: Harold Charles Powers, Herman L. Koenn, Luther M. Kusterer, James D. Shadoan, Arthur N. Stoll, and Robert J. Updegraff, follow the replies of the candidates.

The first question, "What do you hope to contribute as a member of the Chelsea School Board?" brought the following responses:

Harold Charles Powers — "I hope to contribute additional support towards improving the opportunities for students to gain the background they need after graduation. The future college student needs a good basic background to be readily accepted in an accredited college. We as a community have the same obligation to provide the non-college student with a sound basic background for acceptance in a chosen field. With the concentration of industry and agriculture in this area, the Vocational Training Program is one logical area for expansion."

Herman L. Koenn — "I would certainly be the first to admit that I do not know of any magic formula that would solve the problems of any Board of Education. But through the great system which makes a democracy work, such as representation of the people through boards and committees, I feel I would have the opportunity to share my experiences and inject some of my thinking into the program."

Luther M. Kusterer — "I would hope to continue the high quality of education for all the children of our community and see that a dollar's worth of education is received for each tax dollar spent. I would also help to finish the building program which was started this year."

James D. Shadoan — "I present myself as a candidate for trustee of the Chelsea Board of Education with no claim of a special mission for or against any particular current or proposed programs or policies. I have been a resident of Chelsea for seven years, and intend to remain so permanently. Although my medical work is of a specialized nature, based in Ann Arbor, I prefer to live and raise my family in Chelsea. I can promise only that if elected I will undertake to deal with your children's educational future with a mind open to reason, and an aim toward fairness, practicality, and excellence compatible with reasonable economy."

Arthur N. Stoll — "I hope to bring to the School Board an open mind and a willingness to represent the people who have elected me. I wish to provide the children of Chelsea with a good education that is achieved as economically as possible." Robert J. Updegraff — "I hope to represent the wishes, opinions and feelings of the young adults, those with growing families and responsibilities, in the community. I would hope to have the individuality and outspoken nature to take a stand on any issue and to defend that stand against anyone unless and until convinced that the other point of view is more correct. I would contribute a practical, interested, energetic, young, optimistic, and logical approach to all issues as a result of general attitude and training as an engineer. Finally, I would represent the views of a property owner who wants good education for the children of the community but who is disturbed by the increasing assessments and millages that have been levied."

"What do you consider the most pressing problem the school district faces in the next two years?" elicited the following responses:

Updegraff — "Teacher and community dissatisfaction with the current school administration is the most pressing problem facing the school district and will be until some positive action is taken to investigate, define, and correct the problems. The teacher dissatisfaction seems to be due to friction between them and the administration and also between the two groups of teachers. Unless something is done to alleviate their problems, several experienced teachers may leave the school system, doing irreparable damage: first by the loss of that experience and second by attaining the reputation of having teacher problems. The community dissatisfaction is just as severe because it has resulted in revolt to the point of attacking any vulnerable, if not offending area. The defeat of the operational millage was due in part to this dissatisfaction; many voted against it only because it was a way to show general dissatisfaction with current policies and actions and not because they disapproved of the millage. Unless something is done to determine the exact causes and extent of this community dissatisfaction it will continue to grow and block necessary action whether the people agree with the action or not. There are groups in the community which would run a survey to determine the opinions and desires of both the teachers and the citizens."

Stoll — "The most pressing problem, I believe, is educating our children so that upon graduation they are prepared to enter either a vocation or college. I think we must learn to make better use of the facilities we have and that we must make every effort to secure and keep the finest teachers available."

Shadoan — "The rapid growth taking place in our school system brings problems not only in terms of quantity, related to buildings and personnel; but also in terms of quality. At the present we have much to be proud of in both of these aspects, but considerable hazard lies in upathy, misunderstanding, misinformation, or failure of communication on the part of the public and in unreceptiveness, discouragement, or lack of vigilance on the part of the people involved in the various administrative or teaching capacities. The Board needs considerable autonomy in performing its administrative duties; but it must not become isolated from public sentiment. I'm sure better use of special citizen advisory committees could do much to help in these respects."

"I would not pretend to have easy solutions to the conflicts that exist regarding certain vocational programs; but I feel the time has come to approach them with more 'light' and less 'heat.' We must not neglect the practical training courses than the cultural enrichment programs; no more so academic enrichment for the advanced child than special assistance for the slower learner. In an age of extreme emphasis on college degrees, we must not fail to realize that there is developing a critical shortage of people in the skilled trades and service occupations."

New Support Gained for Millage Issue

Support for the 1-1/4 mill school levy increase is growing among Chelsea organizations. Citizens Committee Chairman Robert Daniels indicated this week. The Chelsea Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis Club and both teacher organizations — The Chelsea Education Association and the Chelsea Federation of Teachers — are numbered among the groups now on record favoring the operational millage levy.

"This move helps make our schools better when seeking new building sites, new industry seeks good schools when new industry comes in we know we'll be able to keep our taxation at a low rate. This is one of the best long and short-term investments I know," said President Robert Barlow in commenting on the Chamber of Commerce Directors' support for the total millage issue.

At a united faculty meeting a motion was passed unanimously supporting the upcoming millage vote, and expressing a willingness to do whatever possible to secure its passage. Both Carl Genske, president of the Chelsea Education Association, and James LaGo, vice-president of the Chelsea Federation of Teachers, expressed support for the millage, saying that in order to continue the quality of our educational programs at their present level and to make possible their future development, this millage is essential.

A citizens committee has focused its activities on communicating the facts to the people and, as a result, a good deal of agreement has been secured for the millage proposal from various groups and many individuals in the school district.

Specifically, two principal points emphasized by the committee are that 1) the question before the electorate involves the total voted operational millage for the district and 2) the actual net increase is 1 1/4 mills, in most cases, or less than one cent per day per thousand dollars of assessed valuation.

For further information on the proposal, the committee has prepared some detailed questions and answers as follows:

Q. What are we voting on in the June 13 election?

A. Two things: (1) We are deciding whether we will pay the operating expenses of our school system for the 1966-67 school year. (2) We are electing two members to the board of education for four-year terms.

Q. What makes this election so serious?

A. A "no" vote would be a crippling blow to our schools. It would not only eliminate the increase in millage the school board suggests, but would also wipe out the 2 1/2 mills voted last year, leaving the schools with no voted operating income. A "Yes" vote means only a small increase over last year — 1 1/4 mills, or less than one cent per day per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Q. Does the School Board support the millage "Yes" vote?

A. Yes. Unanimously.

Q. How much will it cost to operate our school system for the coming year?

A. The proposal seeks $165,000 levying 4 1/4 mills. We have been paying 2 1/2 mills, one mill is being picked up by a reduction in the long-term debt retirement made possible by valuation increases from new construction. Thus the only increase over what we now pay is the 1 1/4 additional mills.

Q. Is the increasing valuation from new construction, with its resultant tax relief, likely to continue?

A. The whole area around Chelsea

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

As previously predicted, the county offices such as corporation counsel and public defender rule bill, however, final enactment of this measure and to be an instrument for streamlining and strengthening county government, is still away off.

In part, the House version, which passed 20 for 131 Democrats and 22 Republicans to 20 against (41 Democrats and 15 Republicans) provides for:

- the submission of a question of the convening of a commission to draft a new county charter to the voters by a majority vote of the board of supervisors or upon petition of 5 percent of the voters;
- the partisan election of a charter commission consisting of a maximum of 11 members in small counties and 15 in large counties;
- the charter commission to draft a proposed charter within 180 days after completing its organization;
- a partially-elected county executive with authority, duties and responsibilities;
- a county legislative body of not less than five nor more than 15 members elected on a partisan basis from equal population districts drawn by a county apportionment commission;
- the continuance of the partisan election of all currently elected county officials and optional election or appointment of train and county road commissioners;
- the establishment of new

Final approval or rejection of the proposed charter by a majority of the voters in a county.

This House version differs in many areas from the bill originally passed by the Senate. Most likely the Senate will not automatically accept the work of the House and will have the entire matter under a conference. Whether a conference committee can develop a final proposal acceptable to a majority in both Houses before the June 10 recess remains to be seen.

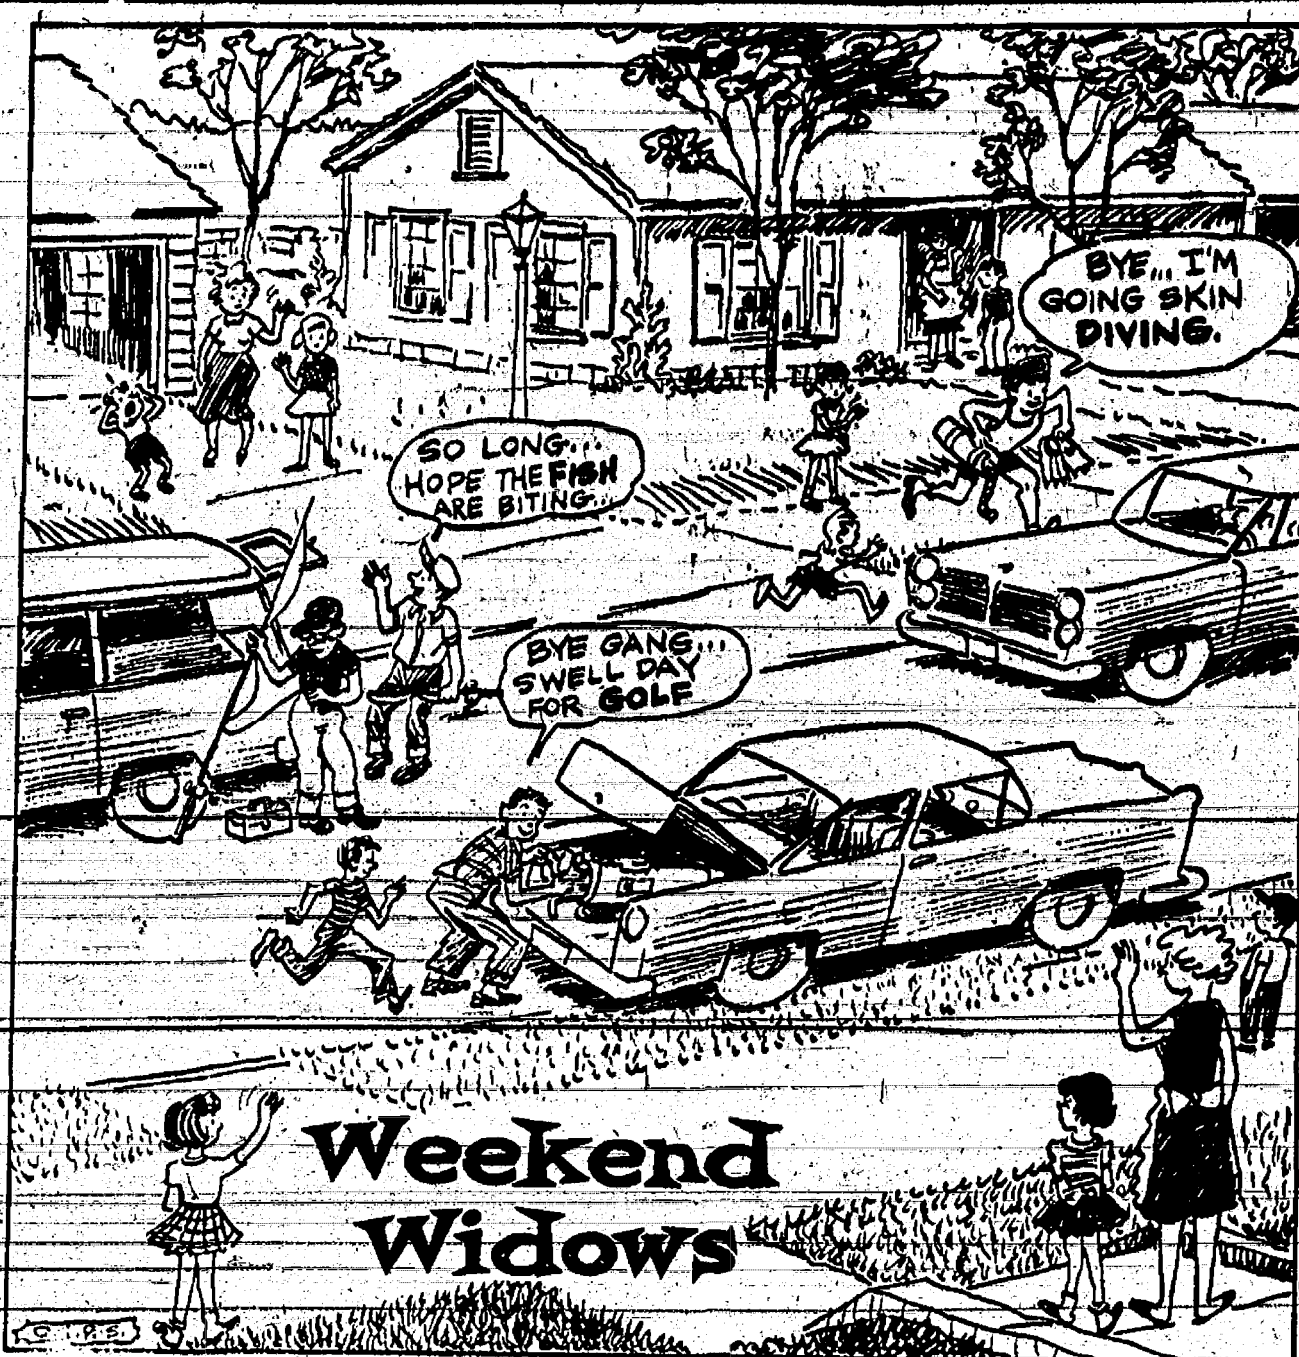

PEARLS of WISDOM

Intolerance - The highest result of education, is tolerance. Long ago men fought and died for their faith, but it took ages to teach them the other kind of courage - the courage to recognize the faiths of their brethren and their rights of conscience. Tolerance is the first principle of community; it is the spirit which conserves the best that all men think. No loss by flood and lightning, no destruction of cities and temples by the hostile forces of nature has deprived man of so many noble lives and impulses as those which his intolerance has destroyed. - Helen Keller.

Student Aid

Michigan's state-sponsored scholarship program is progressing much the way it was anticipated in 1961.

It started at $500,000 that year and higher education officials hoped to boost the legislative appropriation to $1 million the following year. This year $10 million in scholarships were awarded under the competitive program.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley said nearly 10,000 scholarships have been awarded since the start of the program. Some 4,221 of these were awarded this Spring for fall college enrollment.

Students are selected for the financial assistance under the program primarily on the basis of need. Amounts of the scholarships vary from $80 to $800, depending on the individual need and costs at the school the applicant plans to attend.

Demonstration of college ability is also required.

Polley's office said this year's scholarships went to students planning to attend 82 different institutions in Michigan, including both public and private colleges and universities and some community colleges.

Moving Along

A young man on the way up is the description given William C. Milliken since he was first elected to the State Senate in 1960 from the Traverse City district.

His father served in the Senate before him and Milliken came in with the energy instilled in youth who has closely observed the legislative process.

He quickly became one of the leaders in the Senate group dubbed the Moderates, who had their difficulties but also won some important victories and great influence in the 1961 and 1962 sessions.

Repeat Performance

Proof that Michigan Week is fast becoming a year-round promotional effort came quickly from the Greater Michigan Foundation office in Lansing this year.

The 1961 observance ended May 21. Three days later the Foundation, which sponsors the annual Michigan Week, put out a news release noting that the same theme will be carried by the 1967 event.

It will be the third year that the theme "Michigan: Dynamic in World Progress" will be used. Theme Committee Chairman Michael Radock, a University of vice-president, said the impact of the theme and demand from local

River Management Act Amendment Sent to Romney

An amendment to the Local River Management Act of great interest to Mill Creek area residents was passed by the legislature and sent on to Governor Romney for approval.

The amendment introduced as S.796 by Senator Gilbert Bursley provided that "any local agency wholly or partly within the basin may appoint a representative to the watershed council upon a finding by the council that the agency is so affected by or concerned with the use and development of water resources in the basin as to warrant representation."

"This amendment," Senator Bursley explained, "will permit Lima township and the Mill Creek residents to be formally represented on the Huron River Watershed Council. They certainly have a vital interest in matters being considered by the Council."

Governor Romney specifically endorsed this bill," Senator Bursley added, "so I expect it will be signed. Representative Tom Sharpe gave it a real hand in getting through the House and has been named a co-sponsor by the legislature."

KOREA

Many scholars maintain that movable type was invented in the year 1404 in Korea, preceding Gutenberg's famous bible by several decades. During the early years of the Yi Dynasty, 1392 to 1910, Korea developed copper, lead and bronze type and a 24-character phonetic alphabet.

Many an author's error is explained by "typographical error."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

My latest pamphlet from the Department of Agriculture, completed last week and they were a article in it saying the food surplus in this country was getting cut down to almost nothing. The piece said a real bad crop year would run as short of wheat for our own use.

I bring this matter up at the country store Saturday night and Ed Doolittle claimed if we didn't stop our food giveaway program to them foreign countries we was fixing to change places with the folks we was trying to help.

Zeke Grubb reported he had saw a place in his farm magazine where they was a shortage of blackeyed peas in this country right now. Zeke claimed blackeyed peas and hog meat had held America together for 200 years and we better quit giving 'em away immediate.

I don't know, Mister Editor, what the answer is to the nation's farm problem. We start out paying millions to get farmers to cut down on crops, more millions for surplus of the surplus crops they was raising, and now we was running short. Actual, for 20 years the Government has been running the farm program on a guessing basis. They ain't nobody in Washington, it seems, that knows nothing about the problem. But ever administration comes up with a new answer, and it's always wrong.

Clem Webster said Saturday night the Government couldn't even to its own farming with any sense. He said he was reading a piece where the Navy Academy in Annapolis had a typhoid fever scare back in 1911 and started its own dairy so the students would get untainted milk. This scare disappeared 40 year ago but they was still running their own dairy and milking their own cows at the Academy. The General Accounting Office figured out the other day, reported Clem, that they could buy milk of the same quality from local dairies at a savings to the taxpayers of $84,000 a year.

Bug Hookum come up with the best answer to the problem I've saw anywhere. Bug said Saturday night our Congressmen knowed all the millions we been wasting for years, come home to mend their fences and complain about it, but they ain't done nothing about it in the last 30 year.

Bug allowed us now the answer to the whole problem was to elect a Congressman for six month terms. If he didn't do nothing in six months, get a new one, and keep rotating 'em ever six months till we git some results. And he was in favor of electing Senators on a one-year basis and make 'em come home ever year and give account of themselves.

If you like this idea, Mister Editor, you might give it a editorial whirl.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

SIGNING CEREMONY: A three-year master contract was signed Friday by representatives of the Chelsea Board of Education and the Chelsea Education Association. The ceremony was witnessed by, standing from left, Bruce Galbraith, chairman of the CEA Bargaining Committee, Superintendent of Schools Charles S. Cameron, Robert K. Taylor, chairman of the School Board bargaining team. Doing the signing are Luther M. Kusterer, seated left, president of the Board of Education, and Carl Genske, seated right, president of the CEA.

School Board, CEA Sign 3-Year Master Contract

Luther M. Kusterer, president of the Chelsea Board of Education, and Carl Genske, president of the Chelsea Education Association, signed a three-year master contract in behalf of their respective organizations, placing the Chelsea School District among the first five or six of more than 400 in the State of Michigan to conclude a collective bargaining agreement.

The agreement, setting forth the terms of salaries, hours and other conditions of employment, was negotiated by a CEA bargaining committee composed of James Hoffmeyer, Robert Benedict, Donald Bussler, Janet Fulk and Bruce Galbraith, chairman, and by the School Board, Robert K. Taylor, chairman, Donald Albert Taylor, and Dr. Charles Cameron, the Chelsea Education Association.

The contract provides for a grievance procedure setting up means for amicable settlement of disputes, including mediation by the State Labor Department if necessary. It also establishes a sick leave policy with improved income protection in case of incapacitating illness.

A provision of major significance establishes a "Policy Review Committee" of teachers and administrators to consider school board practices and policies not specifically covered by the master contract and to recommend to the board modifications considered in the best interest of the students, the system and all persons involved.

The Policy Review Committee recommendations are advisory only and not binding; however, it is understood that the board expects improvement in relations and in the quality of education in the district through co-operative effort in this area.

Taylor, in commenting upon the negotiations said that he "felt the Chelsea District was very fortunate in having a bargaining agency with high caliber leadership and a first rate negotiating team."

He said that the CEA negotiating committee displayed a fine sense of good faith bargaining and that the two groups were able to work out the agreement in an atmosphere of mutual respect and trust. "I am sure that this same attitude will prevail in future school board-teaching staff relations," Taylor stated. "I feel we can all be proud of our teaching staff and confident that they are as interested as we are in avoiding the problems being experienced in other school districts."

The master contract will take effect June 30 and will remain in force until June 30, 1969.

Anyone Need Treatment For Hippopotamus Bite?

TREATING PATIENTS in the northern Nigerian bush country is Dr. Edward Stehouwer and his two sons, Eddie and Rickie, who frequently travel with him during their school vacations. The work is part of the routine for this medical missionary.

Chelsea residents suffering from hippopotamus bites recently had an opportunity for expert medical treatment at the Chelsea Medical Clinic.

Although Dr. Edward Stehouwer hastened to add that hippopotamus bites are not common, even in northern Nigeria, the treatment of such exotic ailments does point out one difference between the practice of medicine in Africa and the United States.

Dr. Stehouwer, University of Michigan medical school classmate of both Dr. Michael Papo and Dr. James Botsford of the Chelsea Medical Clinic, assisted at the Chelsea Clinic from April to June 2. He and his wife, Flora, who is also a medical doctor, are on a three-month leave from their work as medical missionaries in Takum, Benue Province in the Northern Region of Nigeria, Africa. They hope to return in June to Takum, where they have been since 1958, except for a one-year's leave in 1964 when he completed a surgery residency at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The Ann Arbor congregation of the Christian Reformed church supports the Stehouwers' work in the Takum Christian Hospital, supported by the Christian Reformed Church Board of Missions, where the two doctors are part of a three-doctor team at the 140-bed general hospital. The nearest hospital is 75 miles away, and the population area served by the facility in Takum is roughly estimated at 100,000. The hospital generates its own electricity, pumps its own water and has its own sanitary facilities, for Takum is a "typical African bush town" with a population of approximately 8,000 and none of these public facilities. Although it is not lavish by American standards, the hospital does have two operating rooms, x-ray facilities and "all the essential facilities for a reasonably good general bush hospital." The large out-patient clinic at the hospital treats between 500-700 persons daily.

The most common ailments suffered by the Nigerians in this northern region are malaria, hookworm, malnutrition and snakebites.

"Hippo and alligator bites, and snakebites, do happen but in general the diseases in Nigeria are the same as those encountered here, only in Nigeria they are the same as those encountered here, only in Nigeria they are seen in very advanced stages," Dr. Stehouwer commented.

"Although life expectancy is very hard to compare because most people have no idea how old they are, infant mortality is extremely high. At least 60 percent of the babies never reach one year, and that is no exaggeration," Dr. Stehouwer said.

Malaria and malnutrition are the leading causes of death in children, he added, and only a very small percentage of the women come to the hospital for maternity care. He quickly added that the "situation is considerably improved in other parts of Nigeria."

"Another difference between medical practice in the United States and Nigeria is that there we are called upon to treat everything—including those cases which here would be referred to specialists," he pointed out.

Although accurate statistics are not available, Dr. Stehouwer said there is less cardiovascular disease among the natives he serves than here. He attributes this to diet and the pace of living.

The natives around Takum have an agricultural subsistence. Guinea-corn and tuber vegetables such as yams, are the main diet. Beef and dairy products are raised only in isolated areas and the lack of these high protein foods is one cause of malnutrition. Almost all milk is powdered because no facilities for storing and transporting fresh milk exist.

"Cash crop" farming of peanuts, sesame seed, cocoa, rubber and palm oil is also being developed.

The population of Takum, "80.9 percent native" with the missionaries the only westerners, belongs to two main tribes, the Tiv and the Jakun. Several lesser tribes also live in the area, and each tribe has its own language. Although English is the official language of Nigeria, the Stehouwers communicate with their patients in Tiv and Hausa, a "lingua franca" known to many different tribes and used in the market places.

Northern Nigeria includes many Muslims, although native religions based on spirit worship are also widespread. A significant Christian segment has grown out of the mission work in the area.

When asked why he chose to become a medical missionary, Dr. Stehouwer said that he thought the work provided an "essential expression of the ministry of mercy of the Christian church as well as a media for introducing the message of the Christian gospel."

The Stehouwers, both Michigan natives, have three children—Edward, 12, and Richard, 10, who completed their school term at Hillcrest School in Jos, Nigeria, before joining their parents May 31, and Ellen, 5, who accompanied her parents to Michigan. Hillcrest school is a school for children of missionaries.

The Stehouwers believe they are well accepted on an individual basis and stated that the recent military coup in Nigeria resulted in no essential changes that affected their work.

and support of the people in matters of budget projections, a serious portion of their responsibility."

Powers — "I am not in favor of the requested millage increase for the proposed usage. At this point I may not be aware of all the problems but I am not receptive to being highly pressured into an increase in operational millage at all. The choice seems to be to add improvements to our present system or restrict it heavily—paralyzing a choice of buying a new car or walking."

Stoll — "Yes. The School Board has a budget for the coming year that requires the millage increase to effectively run the school system. If we, the people of Chelsea, approve of the program as proposed we must provide the increased millage."

Updegraff — "I am in favor of the requested operational millage. The increases in teachers' salaries are in line with pay increases given other people in the community during the year. Administration salary increases are logical in order to maintain the gap between the teachers and their supervision; no one would take on the added pressures and responsibilities of supervision without some reward. The increases due to the need for new and replacement equipment are understandable just as they would be for any plant or facility. The addition of an assistant superintendent will have no negative duties and should, by handling the service activities, be able to achieve certain economies through volume purchasing and elimination of duplication of activities and expenditures."

The third query, "Are you in favor of the requested millage increase and its use as proposed by the present school board?" brought these responses:

Shadoan — "I have studied the present Board's budget for next year and I feel that it represents a very realistic, necessary, and relatively conservative increase over last year. Each individual might find some portion of the program which he wishes were somewhat different, but I urge that these feelings not be allowed to cloud the fact that the overall program is sound, and in good faith should be supported."

Koenn — "Yes. A lot of time and effort has been spent in preparing the budget which the Board feels will provide the kind of education the people of the Chelsea School District want their children to have. This money is needed if we are to continue to maintain our high quality of education."

Koenn — "First let me say I am opposed to any increases that tend to raise taxes on real estate for school purposes as I think the means of assessment has many built-in inequities, such as levying tax on ownership rather than on ability to pay. I think school boards of the state through united effort might be effective in working for legislation to correct this method. However, we must consider that under the present system of assessment the board has no other choice for raising operating money. Due to the fact that the school board is the elected representative of the people of the district, I feel they deserve the consideration and support of the people in matters of budget projections, a serious portion of their responsibility."

Powers — "I am not in favor of the requested millage increase for the proposed usage. At this point I may not be aware of all the problems but I am not receptive to being highly pressured into an increase in operational millage at all. The choice seems to be to add improvements to our present system or restrict it heavily—paralyzing a choice of buying a new car or walking."

Stoll — "Yes. The School Board has a budget for the coming year that requires the millage increase to effectively run the school system. If we, the people of Chelsea, approve of the program as proposed we must provide the increased millage."

Updegraff — "I am in favor of the requested operational millage. The increases in teachers' salaries are in line with pay increases given other people in the community during the year. Administration salary increases are logical in order to maintain the gap between the teachers and their supervision; no one would take on the added pressures and responsibilities of supervision without some reward. The increases due to the need for new and replacement equipment are understandable just as they would be for any plant or facility. The addition of an assistant superintendent will have no negative duties and should, by handling the service activities, be able to achieve certain economies through volume purchasing and elimination of duplication of activities and expenditures."

Meader Tells Candidacy For Congressional Post

Ann Arbor — George Meader, Republican of Ann Arbor and former seven-term Congressman from the Second Congressional District, will attempt to regain the seat lost in the 1964 Johnson-Democratic sweep.

Meader today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination to the 90th Congress.

Meader lost his seat in the 1964 race to the incumbent Democratic congressman by the narrowest plurality of any of the 38 Republican seats switched in the 89th Congress.

Out of 154,000 votes cast, Meader lost by 1,626 while President Johnson carried the district by more than 42,000 votes.

Since March of last year, Meader has served as Counsel to the Joint Committee on Organization of Congress—a special committee established to study congressional reform.

Delay in announcing his candidacy was prompted by his desire to submit his final report to the Committee before actively engaging in a political campaign.

In announcing his candidacy, Meader issued the following statement: "Both internationally and domestically, America is in danger. We are confronted with serious and complex problems which affect both our national security and our two-party system of representative government."

"We are not a well-informed nation. The current struggle which we somehow refuse to call a war against our young men are being killed—has not been explained to the satisfaction of the American citizen. Our policies, our strategies, and our objectives in Viet Nam, in Cuba, in Korea, and in other trouble spots around the globe need a thorough and realistic examination."

"Here at home we are faced with a strong, centralized executive government—an aggressive bureaucracy, with a weak Congress, which has demonstrably undermined the system of checks and balances which have guaranteed individual liberty since the founding of the Republic. This excessive concentration of political power threatens our total system of self-government. It is the American people and not its public servants who must remain sovereign."

"During the forthcoming campaign I intend to vigorously point to positive courses of action which I believe this nation should follow in the years ahead. It is my intention to wage the hardest, most aggressive, and most constructive campaign I have ever conducted."

"Fourteen consecutive years of service in the U. S. House of Representatives and six non-consecutive years of service as Congress for three different Congresses, committees have equipped me uniquely. I feel, with the legislative skills and the firm determination to make a significant contribution to the solution of our critical national problems."

"I shall speak out frankly and honestly as well on issues relating to our local congressional district. There are ills here which must be corrected. Effective immediately I plan to talk individually with as many Second Congressional District constituents as I possibly can. I plan to fight; I plan to win."

"In so doing, I will attempt to build a stronger Republican Party organization in the District and a stronger Republican team to demonstrate unequivocally to this nation that Michigan will 'go Republican' all the way in November."

Meader added that he would call the Democratic incumbent congressman to account for his lack of regard for the views of the majority of the constituents he represents. I will attack the record—but not indulge in personalities.

An honor graduate of the University of Michigan Law School, Meader has practiced law in Ann Arbor since 1932 and is a member of the bars of the State, Federal and U. S. Supreme Courts.

He began his political career in 1932 by founding the Washtenaw Young Republican Club and becoming a charter member of the Michigan Federation of Young Republicans.

In 1938-40, Meader served as Counsel for the Michigan Merit System Association, which successfully sponsored an amendment establishing a state civil service system in the Michigan Constitution.

In 1940, Meader was elected Prosecuting Attorney of Washtenaw County and resigned during his second term in 1943 to become Counsel for the Truman-Meader Senate War Investigating Committee.

GEORGE MEADER

He served this committee for four years.

In 1950 he was Chief Counsel of the Fulbright-Senator Banking and Currency Subcommittee investigating RPO frauds. He resigned that post to run successfully for Congress.

In the House of Representatives, Meader served on the Judiciary and Government Operations Committee and earned a reputation as a forceful investigator.

Rev. Weiss Honored by Kiwanis Club

Eighty persons were present at the Kiwanis Ladies' Night picnic Monday evening at the Cavanaugh Lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heydauff.

Paul F. Niehaus was in charge of the program, which was divided into three parts as "This is Your Life" program honoring the Rev. Edwin J. Weiss.

Niehaus started with 10 distinct incidents happening during his youth as furnished him by the Rev. Weiss' brother, Paul, who is a Methodist minister at Lamphar, Tex.

Next Niehaus called on the Rev. John Fall, assistant superintendent of the Methodist Home, who told of his history in his chosen field of religion. The Rev. Fall explained all the mergers that the Rev. Weiss had accomplished and the many churches he built—not only buildings but church membership as well. The Rev. Fall talked about challenges he had along the way and what he had accomplished. His work took him to Detroit, Huntington, Ind.; Vincennes, Ind.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Smithton, Mo.; Clinton, Mo.; back to the Van Dyke Ave. and Mr. Hope Methodist churches in Detroit. In 1948 he was assigned to the former German Methodist church in Ann Arbor and in 1950 he came to the superintendency of the Chelsea Methodist Home, where he has directed an expansion program of more than $2 million.

Next Niehaus called on M. J. Anderson, who told of Rev. Weiss' history in Kiwanis. The Rev. Weiss joined Kiwanis in April, 1941, at Clinton, Mo., where he was elected president in 1943 to become effective Jan. 1, 1944. Before he took office, he was transferred back to the Detroit Conference, to Van Dyke and Mr. Hope Methodist churches, where he joined Detroit Northeast club. When he was transferred to Ann Arbor he had his membership transferred to the Ann Arbor club, later he transferred it to the Chelsea club. Through all his transfers and changes he maintained a perfect attendance record. He received his 25-year certificate and legion of honor pin for 25 years of perfect attendance at the Chelsea Club's 42nd birthday party ladies night on March 21.

Past Governor of Michigan District of Kiwanis, M. J. Anderson, then wished the Rev. Weiss and Mrs. Weiss health and happiness for a much deserved retirement and gave him a scroll signed by all the members of Kiwanis Club of Chelsea as a memento of the occasion.

Guests at the picnic dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Weber, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Merkle; Shirley Smith, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pendley introduced their grandson, Bobbie Sievwright of Royal Oak; Richard and Alberta Schaefer; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowley had Charles and Gertrude Bohman as their guests.

Clare Warren spoke on the upcoming school election Monday, June 13. Residents will elect two members to the school board and also vote on the repeat 4.75 millage, request. He urged everyone to get out and vote. William J. Rademacher also spoke on the subject of the school election and the necessity for the millage project. He made the motion that the Kiwanis club and its members go on record in support of the 4.75 millage proposal. The motion was passed unanimously.

Secretary Paul Niehaus passed around the copy of a meeting of all service clubs held aboard the steamship "Raffaello" of the Italian Lines somewhere in the Atlantic Ocean attended by Kiwanian Edwin Eaton of the Chelsea club.

Niehaus also read some interesting letters received from Kiwanian Don Turner who had attended Kiwanis Clubs at Terrace Bay, Ontario; Canmore, Alberta, and Kamloops, B.C., where he had the pleasure of being on programs praising his home town of Chelsea. He is taking pictures along the way and local Kiwanians are awaiting his return from Alaska to see his pictures of this scenic trip with all its wildlife, mountains and glaciers.

Michigan has more than 150 waterfalls, most of them in the upper peninsula, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. Tahquamenon Falls near Newberry is the second largest waterfall east of the Mississippi River.

SEEING THINGS? This house, slowly meandering down Chelsea's Main St., was not an optical illusion — it was the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer. The structure, a four-bedroom home which has stood at its 221 S. Main St. location for over 100 years, has been moved to make room for a parking lot at Palmer Motor Sales. Preparation for the move took five months almost a week, and the move itself started at 9 a.m. Monday morning, was not completed until 11 p.m. The movers, C. P. Myers of Trenton, moved at a snail's pace down Main St., then onto Old US-12 to the new location north on Freer Rd. The route was selected because there were fewer turns, low hanging limbs and wires to be moved. The house is shown near Van Buren St. as the contractors lifted telephone wires to allow the house to pass beneath. None of the furniture was removed from the house for the move.

Countrymen and servicemen by remembering the American flag is a symbol. The Red stripes in our nation's flag is for the sacrifice of our brave defender's blood. The white stripes more stannessly pure, because of the motives which impelled them, and the blue in the starry field is made beautiful by the loyalty and unity of our servicemen for liberty and justice for all.

sea is developing at a good rate, with new construction, both residential and commercial, on the up-trend. You can see it all around you.

Q. Why is the 1 1/4 mill increase necessary?

A. For several reasons: (1) Higher teacher salaries brought about by the new contract with the Chelsea Education Association. (2) Employment of six new teachers required by increased enrollment. (3) A business administration — a necessity in a $1,000,000.00 business. (4) More custodial help to maintain the new buildings. (5) Three new buses. Several of our present buses have been in use for more than 10 years.

Q. But what will the cost be to the individual taxpayer?

A. It varies from township to township — the following table is a guide:

THE LETTERBOX

Editor:

On Monday, June 13, the people of the Chelsea School District have the opportunity to vote in the annual school election, and at the same time to provide the funds to operate their schools for the coming year.

The budget for next year is a little one, not loaded with taxes, designed not only to conserve but to improve the educational facilities for our children. To meet the needs of all our children, including the state and federal programs for St. Mary's School, I urge you to vote "YES."

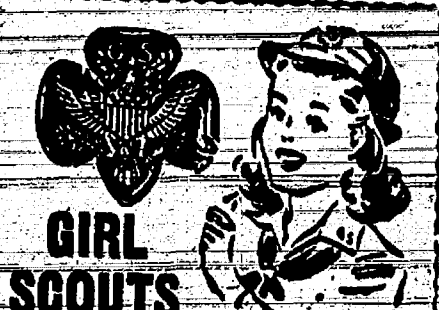

Don Alber.

Editor:

Another Memorial Day is past. The true patriotism some of our citizens showed was very admirable. There was the heart and hand to the American flag, as a symbol of about four years, put you to shame.

After the grown-ups had lined up, many Scouts groups or bands found themselves too busy to follow the flag as it passed by, or where were your hands? Your back pockets?

Time is designated as Flag Day, but every day is Flag Day. If you take your hands from your back pockets, long enough to follow the flag and right work on Memorial Day? Then is mind your duty to your country.

FARM PRICES DOWN

Farm product prices declined one-third of one percent during the month which ended March 13. The Agriculture Department said sharply lower hog prices were mainly responsible for the decline.

State's Number of Uninsured Drivers Still Growing

Lansing — It took some time but Secretary of State James M. Hare turned out to be right after all — there are "substantially more" than 100,000 uninsured drivers in Michigan.

Before the end of March, statistics refused to cooperate with Hare. But the latest figures on the number of uninsured drivers in Michigan placed totals at near the 120,000 mark.

Hare estimates that this total will grow "appreciably" before the end of the year when a total of around a half-million more total motor vehicles will be registered.

Hare's report noted that on March 31, there were 3,642,507 total motor vehicle registrations, 3,524,080 of which were $1.00 insured fee payers.

Percentage-wise, uninsured totals were up a half-percent from 2.75 percent on March 9 to 3.25 percent.

The Fund's financial posture was also better, Hare noted. The sharp rise in uninsured fees shot collections up more than $1 million from $6,400,000 on March 9 to $7,669,000 at the close of the month's business.

Uninsured drivers are now paying more than 50 percent "of the total shot" on the Fund, 54.05 percent to 45.95 for insured drivers.

Hare believes there are still "quite a few" drivers who bought liability insurance and are now "permitting it to lapse" or who signed up for insurance but after paying the $1.00 insured fee, have been turned down because of "unsatisfactory driving records or for other reasons."

"These persons must now pay the $35 uninsured fee or face prosecution which could result in the loss of their driver's license as well as license plates for a full year."

"Before these persons drive, I would advise them to visit a branch office of the Secretary of State and re-register as uninsured drivers by paying the $35 fee."

There are people in every community who judge others by the size of their bank account; that gives us a pretty low rating.

Motorbike Accidents Jump Sharply

Michigan death and injury statistics on accidents involving motorcycles and motor scooters strongly emphasize need for heightened safety concern by operators of these vehicles. Col. Fredrick E. Davids, State Police director, said last week.

Col. Davids pointed out that there were 46 persons killed and 2,126 others injured in 4,007 accidents involving two-wheel motor vehicles in Michigan last year, not including those injured in cities of 25,000 population or more.

The 1985 accident count was 1,943 or 41 percent more than the total of 2,124 recorded in 1984.

With warm weather spurring this activity, Davids stressed that the rapidly rising volume of registrations of these vehicles markedly increases the potential for involvement in accidents unless greater attention is devoted to their safe operation.

Motorcycle and motor scooter registrations jumped by 25,907 or 36 percent from 39,041 in 1984 to 64,948 in 1985.

A State Police study of motorcycle and motor scooter accidents in Michigan last year showed 93 percent of the riders were under 35 years of age, 43 percent were 20 through 34, and 50 percent were under 20.

Most frequent violations noted were excessive speed, following too closely, improper overtaking and failure to yield right-of-way. Eleven riders were described as being under the influence of intoxicants.

Four out of 10 accidents did not involve other vehicles. Of the six out of 10 accidents involving other vehicles, 52 percent occurred at intersections. In single vehicle accidents, the most common type was running off the roadway.

THE LANSING REPORT

GIL BURSLEY

The deadline for passing bills in the current legislative session is midnight Wednesday, June 8. The following two days are being devoted to "conference committees" which are negotiating teams from House and Senate working to eliminate differences and agree on final versions of bills. Only a few bills go into this category but they are important ones.

Major appropriations bills, school aid, county home rule, supervisor reapportionment and legislative conflict of interest are good examples of bills going into conference.

However, you have many other bills of which you hear little. Here are some of them upon which the Senate took action in recent days. These bills are selected at random and are in no order of importance. They have not yet been signed into law. They do give some concept of the range of matters under legislative consideration.

H3267 would prohibit any vehicle with a maximum potential speed of 30 miles per hour from being operated or used upon a highway or street unless the vehicle has a large, durable, reflective device attached to the rear of the vehicle. It is to be yellow-orange with size and specifications spelled out. It is a traffic safety measure.

H3337 requires a person to pass a driver's test before his license may be re-issued if it has been suspended or revoked.

H3413 permits speed limits of 60 miles per hour on freeways for trucks, tractors or tractor-trailers with a gross weight in excess of 5,000 pounds. Present speed limit is 50 miles per hour. I voted against this bill as the State Police argued strongly against it. The bill passed, however.

H3730 prohibits any person from establishing, expanding or maintaining a junkyard within 1,000 feet of the right-of-way of an interstate or primary highway with a certain specified exceptions. If feasible, such junkyards will be screened.

H3538 provides for the collection of garbage and rubbish, in addition to other public improvements, by townships that assess the whole or a part of the cost against property benefitted.

H3506 amends the State Scholarship program providing for "merit" scholarships and honorary scholarships to certain students. These are amendments for which I have been working for two years.

Chelsea Woman Wins Award for 7,500 Volunteer Hours at VA Hospital

Mrs. Iza Carty, a regularly scheduled volunteer worker at the Veterans Administration (VA) Hospital at Ann Arbor since it opened in 1953, was accorded special honor Wednesday evening, June 1, at the annual recognition ceremonies for volunteer workers. She is the first person to receive a 7,500-hour award at the Ann Arbor hospital.

The award was presented to Mrs. Carty by the hospital director, Dr. Arthur J. Klippen who said, "We are proud and pleased to award the Veterans Administration bronze plaque for 7,500 hours of volunteer service to Mrs. Iza Carty of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and the American Red Cross."

"Mrs. Carty has served as a regularly scheduled volunteer at this hospital since it opened in 1953. Each Monday she works a nine-hour day in escort service. On Tuesdays she does canteen shopping for non-ambulatory patients and when she completes this shopping she does nurses aide work on Ward VI, East."

"This is a most memorable occasion for Mrs. Carty as well as staff members and patients."

"Congratulations Iza for a job well done."

In the current Veterans Administration Volunteer Service (VAVS) news letter, Mrs. Ruth Otto of Ann Arbor, VAVS committee member, representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, commenting on Mrs. Carty's outstanding record, said, "When one stops to realize an average worker spends about 2,000 hours a year at his job. This means this lady (Mrs. Carty) has served nearly four years (of regular job equivalent) as a volunteer."

Mrs. Otto explained that for several years Mrs. Carty's volunteer service at the VA Hospital consisted of spending each Monday taking and filling orders for patients who needed shopping done. On Tuesdays she had been driving a Red Cross station wagon taking patients bowling, to ball games, picnics, etc.

More recently Mrs. Carty has changed this schedule, working an escort service Mondays and shopping on Tuesdays for the veterans who are unable to leave their wards.

In addition to her work at the VA Hospital, Mrs. Otto points out, Mrs. Carty, for the past three years has been state chairman for the VFW Auxiliary at Ypsilanti State Hospital and on May 3 was awarded a pin for 300-hours service there. She has been appointed to the post again this year. She also was alternate VAVS representative at the hospital for eight years.

Her principal duties at Ypsilanti State Hospital are making arrangements with organizations willing to sponsor parties for the hospitalized veterans there.

Where there is no sponsoring group to accept responsibility for putting on a hospital party, Mrs. Carty said, she "takes care of it" herself. She receives a modest allotment from the state VFW Auxiliary to use as needed for the parties for veterans, serving light refreshments and providing prizes (candy bars, etc.) for winners of games.

In addition to Mrs. Carty's 7,500-hour VA Hospital award, 50 volunteers, both men and women, received awards for services ranging from 100 hours to 2,500 hours. The latter is Harold Brooks of Ann Arbor, a retired letter carrier. He is the American Legion representative on the VAVS committee.

In a report on the importance of volunteer assistance, Mrs. Otto pointed out that during the year 328 volunteers have contributed 12,923 hours toward the care and welfare of patients at the VA Hospital.

MRS. IZA CARTY is shown accepting a bronze plaque from Dr. Arthur J. Klippen, director of the Ann Arbor Veterans Administration Hospital at a volunteer workers' recognition ceremony at the hospital June 1. Mrs. Carty is the first person at the Ann Arbor VA facility to qualify for a 7,500-hour award for volunteer services.

hospital, however, additional volunteers are needed in all areas of service.

Mrs. Carty said she has often tried to interest Chelsea area women in the volunteer work at the VA Hospital, she said many of the patients and women whose families are grown up and no longer require the care they need as children, could be of invaluable help just by visiting some of the patients many who are veterans of World War I and II—women who have no families left to visit them or whose families live at such a distance that visits are impossible because of the distance and the expense involved.

Many patients, too, need to be fed because they cannot use their hands; many cannot read the letters they receive; others would like to play cards or even just have someone come and sit beside their bed and talk to them for awhile. All these services are within the realm of capabilities of even older people. She said when she has tried to interest people in volunteer service they apparently misunderstand and say they aren't able to do such work. She believes that if some of these people who think they "don't have time" or "have no special talents" which would be useful in volunteer work would even just once go and visit some of the veterans and see how grateful these men are for a little special attention, even more desirable for the consumer to wear and care for," she concluded.

Help Predicted For Homemaker in Fiber Confusion

Do you find the many fiber names on the market overwhelming? The situation should be simpler in the future, reported Jean Schubel, Michigan State University Extension Service clothing specialist recently.

Miss Schubel related that marketing researchers of leading companies are predicting three major man-made fiber groups will dominate the market in the next five years. The fibers are expected to be nylon, polyesters and acrylics.

The Co-operative Extension Service specialist explained that the acrylic fiber family includes such trade names as Acrilan, Creslan, Orlon, and Zefran. The polyesters include Dacron, Fortrel, Kodel and Vyron.

The reason for the domination of these three is not the more simplification of names, she added. "The researchers report 'There will be increasing emphasis upon modification of these fibers. The potential of these fibers has barely begun to be explored.'"

She added, "Manufacturers will be using their research resources to develop new uses for these fibers rather than developing new fibers. New combinations of blends of these fibers with natural fibers like cotton, linen, wool and silk will be developed. The blends make use of the desired qualities of both fibers in the blend."

"More new finishes will be developed also to make these fibers

Monitor Editor Becomes Christian Science President

Erwin D. Canham became the new president of the Christian Science Church on June 6 as approximately 15,000 members from around the world convened in Boston for their Centennial-Year annual meeting.

Simultaneously, construction workers one block away were beginning land clearance for the city's new expansion of its headquarters area, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

These were the climactic events in this year's observance of the 100th anniversary of the beginnings of Christian Science under the leadership of Mary Baker Eddy in 1806.

Canham, who is a well-known journalist and editor in chief of The Christian Science Monitor, will serve as president for one year while continuing his Monitor duties. He came to the meeting directly from a major world speaking tour, which he will resume next September in Europe.

The May 29 meeting was led and directed by Miss Betsy Schaeffer, who furnished games. Later refreshments were served by Mrs. Clarence Nott.

The May 31 meeting was directed by Miss Karen Toon. Games were played and refreshments were served.

The June 6 meeting was a birthday party for Miss Karen Milliken and a going-away party for Mrs. and Mr. JoAnn Davis who are moving to Arkansas. Much food was served. Each given an address book. Birthday cake and Kool-Aid were served.

Protect Your Food

From 'Freezer Burn'

The loss of color and dryness you sometimes find on the surface of meat from your freezer doesn't mean it is spoiled, says Mrs. Helen Fairman, Extension Home Economist for Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe counties.

"Freezer burn," as the loss of color is called, is not harmful but it may cause meats to be less flavorful.

It is caused by a loss of moisture from the surface of the meat. This happens if the wrapping has been punctured or if the material used to wrap the frozen meat was not moisture-vapor proof.

Mrs. Fairman suggests that the best way to prevent "freezer burn" and protect the quality of the meat in your freezer is by using a food freezer wrap. Be sure you seal the package tightly.

Fashion Notes

One of the nation's most exciting designers is noted for her dinner pajamas. The average woman does not, as a usual thing, go in for that kind of fashion, but the narrow pants with the ruffled tulle is quite popular with the rich contingent.

Pique, which was used for dresses, heretofore, fashions some of the smartest spring suits. They come in color, as well as black or white.

After washing leather gloves, drying and working them on the hands for softening and reshaping, store them flat and unfolded. Leather must be able to "breathe," so don't store in plastic or airtight containers.

Wars are not always as deadly as automobiles.

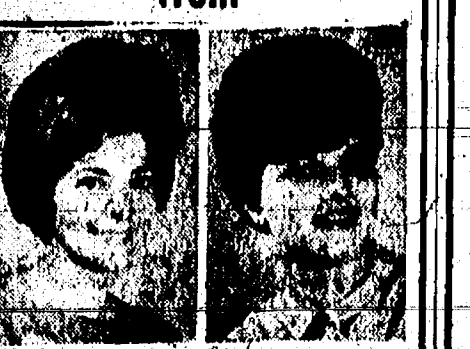

WCS Members Plan Worship Service

The Methodist church will have its annual WCS Sunday, on June 12 at the regular morning worship. The service will be given over to members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service who will endeavor to give some indication of work done in the Society and the hope of things yet to be accomplished.

Organist will be Mrs. James Gaunt, while Mrs. Ben Donaldson will lead the worship service. Speaker for the morning will be Mrs. Ed Lewis who will give a report on her recent trip to the National Assembly in Portland, Ore. There will be a solist for the service.

TIPS for your TOP

TODDY and FRAN

A Greek proverb says, "Gray hair is a sign of age, not of wisdom." Now, there's really nothing wrong with age except we who have passed 20 tend to think we could do with less of it. A beautiful tint that blends the telltale gray — a "frosting" that adds to it and makes it look "on purpose" — or a wig that simply does away with gray right now — may be just the morale builder you need. After all, just as wise women know better than to broadcast their wisdom, they know it doesn't hurt not to broadcast their age. And wise women know we are experts in camouflage.

Michigan Gained Scenic Peninsula In Bloodless War

Lansing. — Michigan's beautiful upper peninsula, a popular four-season vacation area, became part of the Great Lake state in a bloodless war over the Michigan-Ohio border, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The border dispute centered around a strip of land five to eight miles wide but to qualify for statehood the Michigan Territory reluctantly relinquished its claim of the land in exchange for the 10.6 million-acre upper peninsula.

The heavily wooded peninsula trouble spots. Estimated cost for was later found to contain some of the world's richest deposits of copper and iron ore, and millions of vacationers have since come to enjoy its wilderness beauty.

Some of its top travel attractions include Mackinac Island, the Soo Locks, 150 waterfalls, Isle Royale National Park, Pictured Rocks and Porcupine Mountains State Park.

Just A Minute...

By the Rev. James A. Craig

The advice of St. Paul to Timothy was to "study to show yourself approved" or, in another translation, "be one who rightly shapes the message of truth."

Learning, education, if you will, has been from the time of man's first dawning, that goal toward which he has spent his efforts. For a long time his education was simply to discover how to live in a hostile world, one that didn't make him welcome.

Now learning takes other tacks. It is still concerned with discovering how to make a living in a world that doesn't throw itself at one's feet.

More than that learning is concerned with adding a dimension of depth to what the person learns. That depth comes in those areas that are not directed specifically at productive labor but at understanding.

They include such things as the social sciences, art, and the arts. They include such things as music and literature along with writing and literature.

They are the things that add meaning to what most likely would be a dreary existence.

They are the things that equip people to live better—such as speech correction.

They are the things that a community should desire for itself and for its youth. They are the things that help those who do "rightly shape the message of truth."

Michigan Has Many Offshore Retreats

Lansing. — With an abundance of water, Michigan has many resort islands, most of which may be reached by ferry boat or in small airplanes, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Among them are Mackinac and Bois Blanc in the Straits of Mackinac; Beaver and the Manitous in Lake Michigan; Neebish and Sault near Sault Ste. Marie, Isle Royale in Lake Superior, and Drummond and Les Cheneaux off the eastern end of the upper peninsula.

When an individual decides that it is time to work for what he or she wants, the individual is making some progress in life.

The first requisite of leader in your community ability to lead and the will to follow.

THE COUNTRY PULPIT:

What Shall I Do Then Will Jesus Which Is Called Christ?

"Crucify Him! Crucify Him!" That was the advice of crowd.

"We hate Him!"

"We disrupt our lives and our thinking!"

"Kill Him!"

"He is an impostor! Crucify Him!"

And there are many today who are openly posing the of God and the church which he established. The Comm have declared war on the church in our own land many of every aspect of religion.

"Have thou nothing to do with this just man!" That the advice of Pilate's wife to Pilate.

"Refuse to make a decision."

"Wash your hands of the whole affair."

"Think of other things. This isn't important."

"Let others decide."

This is the attitude of most of our present world. Not warfare. Let others practice their religion if they want to let me alone. Keep religion out of our school. Let our children decide for themselves when they grow up if they want to church.

The attitude seems broadminded, but it is hell-bent. "Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life." That was the answer of Jesus' disciples to His question, "Will ye also go away?"

It was definite and positive. They were going to follow in faith. They believed on Him as their Saviour.

Millions have done the same. They have found belonging Christ of greater value than any riches. The quality of the Christian life now and the firm assurance of everlasting joy after are without compare.

"To whom else shall we go? Do you turn to the powers, of wealth, or sport, of lust, of fame, of knowledge, pleasure? They are not gods. True, they give satisfaction, even give deep satisfaction, but none fulfill the true desires of human soul: None have 'the words of eternal life.'"

Come to Christ! He has been found by illiterate slaves, the most educated thinker. Coming is hard. It involves the mission that we are not self-sufficient. It involves the acknowledgment of God as Creator, King, and Judge. It involves repent of sin. It involves receiving Christ into our hearts and putting Him complete dominion.

But, strange as it may seem, in our acknowledgment of sufficiency, we become sufficient; in our becoming slaves, we made kings; in our admission of sin, we are freed from sin. Jesus is standing in Pilate's hall—

Friendless, forsaken, betrayed by all: Healed! What meaneth the sudden call, What will you do with Jesus?

Will you evade Him as Pilate tried? Or will you choose Him, whatever betide? Vainly you struggle from Him to hide. What will you do with Jesus?

What will you do with Jesus? Neutral you cannot be. Someday your heart will be asking, What will He do with me?

Youthpower To Find Jobs For Youths

As a means of helping teenagers to find jobs during the summer, Youthpower Inc., has been set up at 111 Miller Ave., Ann Arbor.

This is a nonprofit clearinghouse designed to bring together teenagers and temporary summer jobs for the betterment of youth and the communities in the area of Washtenaw county.

The program is primarily for children of 16 and 17 years of age, but it is hoped that with help from State Labor Board and classification of State Labor laws to open the area for the 15-year old children. There is no charge to teenagers or students.

Youthpower's quarters, furniture, office equipment and promotional expenses are paid by Manpower, Inc., of which Roger A. Gardner of 2015 Scio Rd., is manager. He is also the organizer and sponsor of Youthpower, with Peter Carey as the advisor. Other sponsors are University Microfilms, Inc., Hoover Ball and Bearing, Conduction and Manpower, Inc.

Operation of the program lies in the hands of teen-age volunteers who will give their time to staff and operate the office. An applicant fills out a card listing skills, past experience, type of jobs they are interested in and the wages expected. It is also necessary to provide a name and phone number of a person as a reference.

If employers would find just one job, full-time, part-time or one time only, that could be handled by a young person, the summer unemployment problem would be solved. Help the team agents to find summer jobs by phoning Youthpower, 761-5000, Ann Arbor.

Christmas Tree Growers Invited To Demonstration

A Christmas Tree Growers Meeting will be held in Wayne County on Tuesday, June 14, 8-8:30 p.m. in cafeteria style.

This is a local come-as-you-are informal meeting for those who have an interest in the production of Christmas trees, or who wish to study the matter before planting. It will be held at a producing plantation near Belleville, where several species of trees in all stages of growth, cultural practices, such as planting, pruning and training and several marketing methods may be observed.

The location will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Boughan, in the 15-acre plantation behind the home at 15851 Martinsville Rd., east side, about one mile south and one mile east of Belleville.

State Forester, Victor Horvath, will assist Edgar C. Kidd with this program, and officers hope to have several other tree experts on hand. Displays and demonstrations of tree farm equipment are welcomed and officials expect to show airplane application of insecticides.

The plantation will show several insects, and how they have been controlled. The use of an artificial greening paint will be demonstrated, plus in-depth demonstrations for pruning and shaping. Boughan's flocking machine will be in operation.

About 100 persons have attended this type of meeting in previous years, all after 6:30 p.m. This year, officials suggest that those who are able might like to come at any time after 3 p.m., visit with the experts and leave when necessary. Somewhat more formal group sessions will begin at 6:30 p.m. Bring mosquito repellent.

St. Paul's Church Confirms Class of 11 Young People

Eleven young people were accepted into full communicant membership at St. Paul United Church of Christ on Pentecost Sunday, May 26 at the 10:45 a.m. service. They are Linda Bauer, Gail Maistre, Diane Hart, Jane Oesterle, Diane Schneider, Brenda Seltz, Ann Travis, Michael Elsemann, John White, Barry Novess, and David Bust. The solemn Rite of Confirmation was administered by the pastor, the Rev. Warner H. Siebert.

"These young people were well prepared to take their place as active members at St. Paul," noted the president of the examining Church Council, Jess Meininger, following their examination in a two-hour program on Friday evening, May 27, at the church. This program was attended by many members and friends, and included two adult baptisms, a period of questioning and discussion, a briefing for the parents, and concluded with a reception prepared by a committee of Church Council members, chaired by Mrs. Alma Maceriva and Mrs. Dorothy Fisher.

During the services, the class presented the St. Paul Memorial and Gifts committee with a check for $64.74 for the purchase of a clay chalice for the altar of St. Paul's new building, rising on the site at 14600 East Old US-12. This offering came about as a result of the desires and vote of the class, and their weekly contributions during their class sessions. The gift of the church to each class member was a "New Testament and Psalms" engraved with their names.

At the following worship, the class received their first communion, along with four new adult members and the rest of the congregation. The four new members are: Claudio Ameth, Mrs. and Mrs. Emma Wolff, and Mrs. Larry Schneider.

Confirmation at St. Paul comes on Pentecost Sunday each year following a course of instruction which lasts 32 weeks. During this time the class studies The Bible (what it is, what it says, where it comes from, how to use it), Theology (who God is, how he works, the role of suffering, the meaning of faith), Christology (About Jesus Christ, who he is, what he does, the meaning of his life and teaching, meaning of sal-

Spencer Bros. Circus Goes On Display

Charles Spencer keeps elephants and tigers and lions in his house at 754 Flanders St.

He's going to let them out today (Thursday).

These animals are all part of a remarkable miniature circus of more than 5,000 pieces which he has carved, glued, pasted and nailed together out of scraps of lumber, metal and plastic during the past six years. The circus goes on exhibit today through June 20 in the showroom at Palmer Motor Sales. The public exhibition is free. This is the fourth year the circus has been on exhibit in Chelsea.

The miniatures are built on an exact three-quarter inch to the foot scale. Included in the 1966 exhibit will be a menagerie of elephants, lions, tigers and other circus animals; a side show which includes an exact replica of a 1926 Ringling Brothers banner; a cook house complete with miniature food and ranges; a wardrobe tent; 35 circus wagons; two flatcars loaded with wagons; and a stock-car for circus horses.

Special features will be a miniature catapault, one of the very few playing miniatures in existence; an 1895 miniature Wurlitzer band organ; and the four-mirror band wagon that was on exhibit at the 1964 New York World's Fair.

The circus, known as the Spencer Brothers Circus, will hopefully be completed by 1970. At that time, Spencer hopes to have 54 wagons, a 25-car train, 15 tents and more than 300 animals. It takes about three weeks to complete one wagon, Spencer said.

The circus will also be on display in Wisconsin July 7 for the National Convention of Circus Model Builders. The organization, of which Spencer is a member, has a total membership of about 500, including one each in France, England and Australia. Spencer is also a member of the Circus Historical Society, which has a total membership of approximately 1,000.

The miniature circus was also on display at the Chelsea Fair last fall.

Spencer has been interested in circus miniatures for the past 25 years, although he didn't actually start on this one until 1960. When he was a lad, his father used to get him up at 4 a.m. to watch the circus unload in Traverse City, he said, and he's never gotten over the magic of the circus.
