No-Ed Plans Die Because Of High Cost

Expense in Remodeling Building Proves Prohibitive to Three Schools

Plans for a vocational education program involving students from the Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester school districts have been abandoned.

The program, planned for the 1967 school year, was to include classes in auto mechanics and offset lithography. Approximately 30 students from the three schools were expected to participate in the program during the year.

In a separate action, the three school boards voted to drop the program after learning that the cost for remodeling the proposed building would be approximately $1 million, the amount originally estimated by the architects.

The building is located on the Chelsea-Chelsea Rd. in Chelsea, next to the Sunoco Service Station near the I-94 overpass. The building formerly housed an International Harvester agency.

The search for a suitable facility had continued for several months in the villages of Dexter, Chelsea and Manchester.

The increased cost of remodeling the building resulted from the fact that state standards set on school buildings.

Manchester turned the proposed building down Monday evening, Aug. 8, and the Dexter Board of Education followed suit on Thursday, Aug. 11.

The Chelsea School Board voted Monday evening, Aug. 15, to abandon plans for a tri-school vocational education program. The action was unanimous.

In rejecting the proposal, the Dexter Board of Education voted to "inform other schools in the three-school vocational education attempt that due to the seeming impossibility of working out an economically feasible program, we desire to withdraw from the effort and attempt development of a vocational education program locally."

The largest share of the money which had been earmarked for the tri-school program by the Dexter Board of Education will be used to upgrade the Dexter Schools' vocational program, informed sources said.

The action by the Dexter School Board came after a public meeting in Dexter on July 28 on the proposed budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year. At that time, concern was voiced by a number of taxpayers about the advisability of proceeding with the tri-school program.

Dexter Principal, Donald McIntyre had earlier requested postponement of the program because of the expense.

Fair Plans Progressing On Schedule

Cooperation has been excellent and everything is going smoothly for an A-1 Chelsea Community Fair, according to Fair Board president David Rowe.

A work bee at the fairgrounds last Saturday resulted in approximately 20 men painting, tearing out, installing new equipment, and cleaning up the barns for disinfecting.

All the permanent horse stalls have now been installed in the new horse barn. The doors of the new barn were painted by Sylvester Wojcicki and his son.

Bob Steele and Ron Satterthwaite have donated their time to disinfect the barns in preparation for the fair. The barns must be disinfected and will be inspected by state officials on Aug. 22.

Anyone interested in helping with the livestock barn is asked to contact Harold Trinkle. Charles Lancaster and Roland Spaulding are in charge of the commercial exhibits and are also looking for volunteers. A list of other committee chairmen may be found in last week's Standard. Residents interested in volunteering should contact the committee chairmen listed.

Single Admission Price Increased for Fair

The gate admission price to the 1966 Chelsea Community Fair will be 50 cents per person instead of 25 cents, as listed on the Premium List which appeared in last week's Standard. Children under 12 will be admitted free. Patrons may buy season tickets to the fair for $1.25, the same price as last year.

Parking on fairgrounds remains at 25 cents. Fair gates will open at 9 a.m. each day.

Textbook Sale Dates Told

New textbooks and locker assignments for students enrolled in grades 7 through 12 may be obtained on Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 29 and 30, according to Alan R. Conklin, Junior High principal, and Charles Lane, High School principal.

Parents are urged to make note of the changes in dates from those previously announced. The delay has resulted because the textbooks have not yet arrived from the publishers.

Seventh and eighth grade students are to report to the main office of Junior High school to purchase textbooks and lockers as follows:

Eighth grade—9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m., Monday, Aug. 29.
Seventh grade—9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m., Tuesday, Aug. 30.

High school students should report to the high school during the following times:

Juniors and seniors—9 to 11 a.m. to 1 to 3 p.m., Monday, Aug. 29.
Freshmen and sophomores—9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m., Tuesday, Aug. 30.

The school sells only new textbooks. If used books are desired, they may be purchased from former students.

The seventh grade social studies textbook is new this year. Therefore, students should not purchase a used one.

A price list of textbooks will appear in a future issue of The Chelsea Standard.

Chamber of Commerce Hears Fair Board Plans

The Chelsea Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday noon to hear David Rowe, president of the Chelsea Community Fair Board, discuss the upcoming fair.

Rowe told Chamber members about new improvements at the Fairgrounds and about plans for the 1966 fair. Chelsea Community Fair dates are Aug. 31, Sept. 1, 2, and 3.

Jack Merkel presided at the meeting as the newly-selected president of the Chamber of Commerce. Retiring president is Robert Barlow.

CONRAD HAFNER

Conrad Hafner Named Plant Superintendent

The appointment of Conrad M. Hafner as Plant Superintendent of the Chelsea Products Plant, Salisbury Division, Dana Corp., has been announced by J. L. Hess, plant manager.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Hafner has been associated with the Dana Corp. since 1955, when he joined the company in Chelsea (formerly Chelsea Products, Inc.) as a draftsman. The company manufactures power take-offs and gear boxes. The recently announced expansion program of the company has made necessary the creation of the new position.

From January, 1965, Hafner served as a management trainee, until his appointment as Special Projects Engineer in August, 1965.

The new position will place Hafner in charge of production personnel.

Hafner, a Chelsea resident, is a graduate of St. Mary's Elementary and Chelsea High schools. He resides at 134 W. Middle St. with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hafner.

Missing Baby Sought

Anyone having information as to the whereabouts of Neil Francis Quigg, 23-month-old son of Mrs. Betty Quigg, 1221 W. Wacker Rd., Chelsea, is asked to call Mrs. Quigg at 476-8952.

Sidewalk Days Sale Scheduled This Week-End

Sidewalks Will Be Lined with Big Bargains for Annual Sales Event

Special bargains will line the sidewalks of Chelsea's business district tomorrow and Saturday as Chelsea's 10th annual "Sidewalk Days" sales commence.

Shoppers may take advantage of the sale prices from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday and from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Music will float through the streets from a Baldwin Electric Organ which will be set up on a special stand near Dancer's Department Store.

Arrangements are also being made to have a cotton candy stand set up in the business district. The Retail Sales Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the special sales days, are also attempting to arrange an added attraction from Frontier Village.

ZIP Code Movie Shown Kiwanians

Kiwanians viewed an educational movie Monday evening explaining the time saved by the use of the ZIP Code on mail sent within the United States. The movie was furnished by the Post Office Department.

President Floyd Fowler was in charge of the meeting. Louis Burghardt introduced John Scott of Plainfield, Ill., as his guest.

A thank-you letter from President Ronald W. Mason, president of the Dexter club, was read, thanking the Chelsea club for helping with the W. J. Maxey Training School birthday party held at Whitmore Lake on July 27.

Funderburgh Chosen for Honors Band

Mike Funderburgh, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Funderburgh of 121 Glazier Rd., Chelsea, has been selected to play the trumpet in the Honors Band at the Michigan State Fair which opens Friday, Aug. 26, and continues through Labor Day.

The selection was based upon auditions in an attempt to obtain the finest high school musicians in Michigan.

Six concerts are scheduled in the Music Shell at 1 and 7:30 p.m. daily, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2 through 4. They will be free to State Fair visitors.

Dr. Frederick Pennell, former director of the Eastman School of Music and now conductor in residence of the University of Michigan choral group will direct the band. As director of the Eastman Wind Ensemble, Pennell's RCA albums have been best-sellers.

Honors Band Soloist will be Carl Oback, Severnston, trumpet star of the Skitch Hendryson orchestra which plays on the "F. Night" show. He was also the soloist with the Honors Band last year.

Grid Equipment Will Be Issued

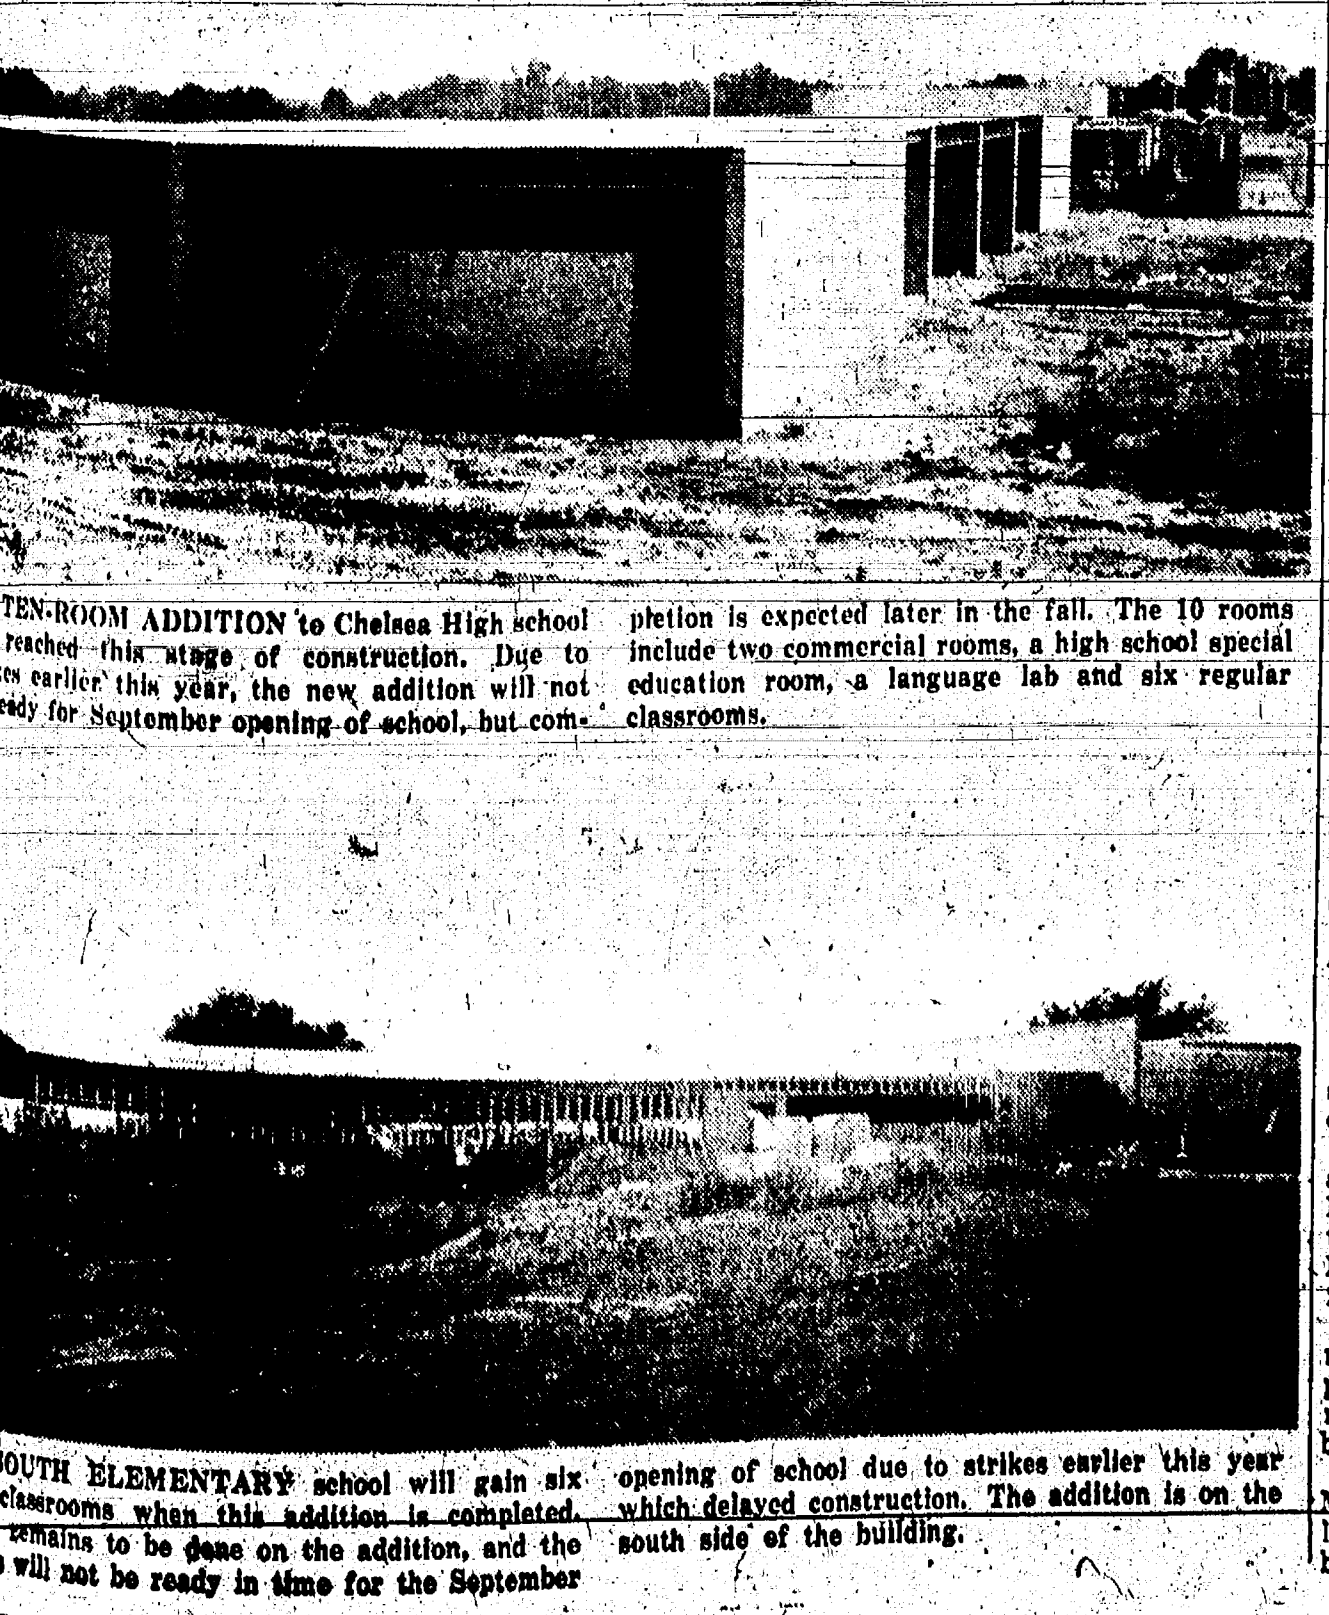

Philip Bareis, head football coach at Chelsea High school, announced that football equipment will be issued Saturday, Aug. 20, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon for varsity letter winners and juniors and seniors.

Equipment will also be issued Aug. 27 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon for sophomores and freshmen.

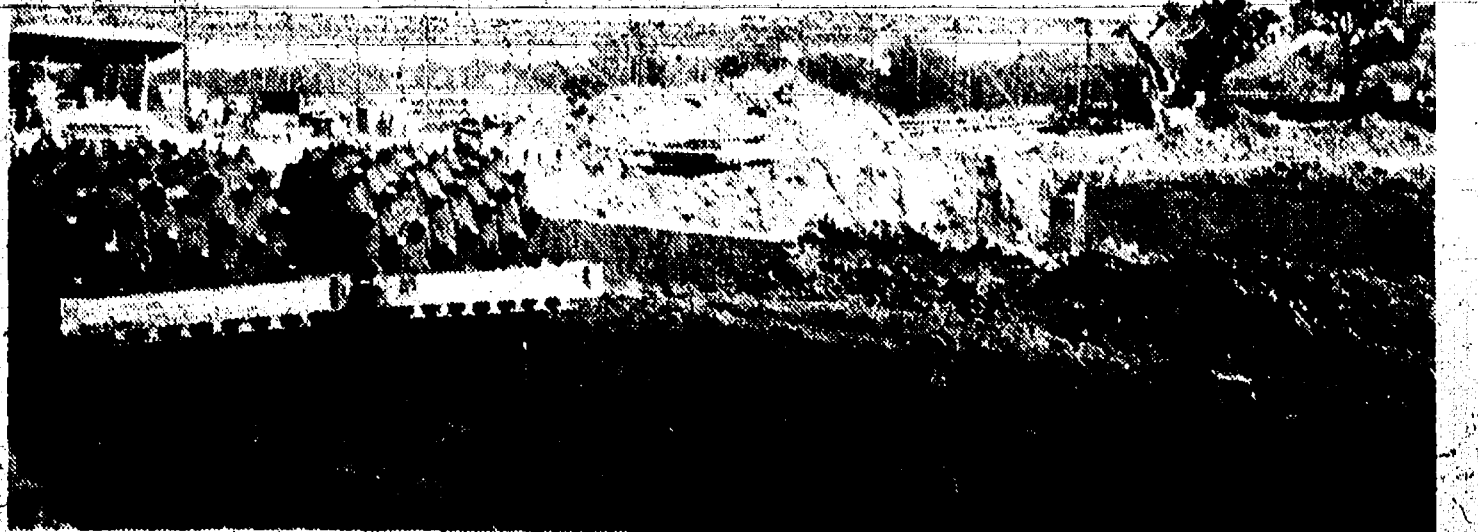

A tentative date of Saturday, Aug. 27, at 1 p.m. at the high school has been set for physical examinations for prospective grid team members.

The high school football players will be fitted with mouthpieces on Aug. 24 at 1 p.m. and junior high candidates will be fitted at 3 p.m. the same day. Players are to come to the high school for the fitting.

High school grid men will begin practice on Monday, Aug. 29, according to Coach Bareis.

TEN-ROOM ADDITION to Chelsea High school reached this stage of construction. Due to earlier this year, the new addition will not be ready for September opening of school, but completion is expected later in the fall. The 10 rooms include two commercial rooms, a high school special education room, a language lab and six regular classrooms.

STRUCTURAL STEEL is going up at the site of the new Dana facility. The plant, 420 by 280 feet, occupies a 60-acre site to the north and west of the present Chelsea Products plant. When completed, it will house all manufacturing operations; is expected to cost $2.8 million. Construction on the building is being done by The Lathrop Co. contractors from Toledo, O., who have 40 men working on the site now. In foreground, 12-foot-deep drainage ditch is being filled. Structural steel is being set in place by crane starting at the eastern edge of the plant. Foundations of building may be seen in the foreground. The contractor removed the top soil and three feet of fill then proof rolled and compacted the soil in construction area before beginning actual construction. Completion is expected by Dec. 1. Sewer lines to the site are now approximately half completed.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY school will gain six new classrooms when this addition is completed. Work remains to be done on the addition, and the school will not be ready in time for the September opening of school due to strikes earlier this year which delayed construction. The addition is on the south side of the building.

KEITH A. KLEIS
Keith A. Kleis Decorated for Air Service in Vietnam

Keith A. Kleis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kleis of 848 W. Middle St., Chelsea, is the recipient of an Air Medal and two gold stars for "meritorious achievement" in Vietnam.

The citation, issued by Vice Admiral John J. Hyland, U. S. Navy, in the name of the President of the United States and commander of the Seventh Fleet, reads as follows:

"For meritorious achievement in aerial flight as an air crew member flying in fixed wing aircraft in Fleet Air Reconnaissance Squadron One during missions in support of combat operations in Southeast Asia against the insurgent communist guerrilla forces. During the period 14 December 1965 to 1 March 1966, Kleis participated in 40 flights.

"In the successful completion of such missions, he contributed materially to the success of United States efforts in Southeast Asia. His courage and devotion to duty in the face of hazardous flying conditions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval service."

Kleis, an aviation machinist's mate (A) third class in the United States Navy, was in Southeast Asia until April 1. Including the month of April, his total number of flights rose to 71.

He has now returned to his permanent base in Rota, Spain, where he has been stationed since April, 1965. He was on deployment while serving in Vietnam. Before his assignment in Spain, Kleis spent one and one-half years in Kingville, Tex. He took his basic training in San Diego, Calif.

According to his parents, Kleis will be home in November or December, when his four-year tour of duty will be completed.

State Fair Parking Facilities Enlarged

It'll be easier to park and easier to come and go at the Michigan State Fair this year. And it'll be easier to pick up Junior if he wanders away from your side.

Increasing attendance—More than a million trooped through the gates last year—brought the need for more parking space, said Walter A. Goodman, State Fair general manager.

"After working with a traffic and parking consultant, State Fair officials boosted the parking area by 50 percent. This year there will be room for 10,500 cars, up from last year's 7,000."

The lost-kids department has been moved from trailer quarters to accommodations in a permanent building located at the Grandstand, near the police department. Facilities have been greatly expanded and improved.

The 117th State Fair opens Friday, Aug. 26, and runs through Monday, Sept. 5 (Labor Day).

Dr. Herbert G. Schaefer To Speak at Mission Festival

Dr. Herbert G. Schaefer, since April, 1966, a member of the World Mission staff at the Lutheran World Federation (LWF) headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, will be the featured speaker Aug. 28 at the Lutheran church annual Mission Festival.

He will speak at the 10:15 a.m. morning worship service and again at 8 p.m. in the evening. From 1957 to April Dr. Schaefer was director of the Ethiopian Mission of the American Lutheran Church.

While in Geneva, Dr. Schaefer served as the first LWF consultant on Christian education curriculum. He and his family are now enroute to Beirut, Lebanon, where he will be in charge of Asian and African foreign missions sponsored by the LWF.

Dr. Schaefer served as treasurer of the Ethiopian Evangelical church of Mekane Yesus with which the American Lutheran Church Mission is associated, and was chairman of the local arrangements committee of the third All-Africa Lutheran Conference held in October, 1965, at Addis Ababa.

Expert Team Will Study UFO Reports

The U. S. Air Force is organizing a new approach to investigations of reports of unidentified flying objects, according to a news story appearing in The New York Times.

The story commented that the new approach was "in obvious response to public disquiet regarding recent 'flying saucer' reports."

A leading university will reportedly be contracted to undertake a program of intensive investigations of a certain number of such reports. It has been proposed that about 100 sightings a year be studied intensively. The identity of the university will not be made public until the arrangement is final, but Air Force sources said it was an institution of sufficient stature to guarantee in the public mind that the inquiry would be impartial.

The investigating teams are to include at least one physical scientist, such as an astronomer or someone familiar with atmospheric physics. There will also be a psychologist, preferably one with clinical experience.

In the past, the Air Force has reported sightings of unidentified flying objects in "Project Blue Book." Conventional explanations for all but 646 sightings out of 10,147 reported since 1947 have been given by the Air Force.

The explanation that sightings near Dexter and Hillsdale last March were "swamp gas" touched off a storm of controversy throughout the area.

The current change in policy grew from a request last year by Major Gen. E. B. LeBailley, the Air Force Director of Information. He has noted widespread charges that the Air Force was concealing the truth about these episodes lest there be general panic.

Following his suggestion, the Air Force Scientific Advisory Board convened an ad hoc committee of scientists to examine the situation. It studied the "Blue Book" analyses and found the program well organized but "quite limited."

The committee said that some sightings had been "classified as 'identified' although the information on which this had been based was 'too meager or too indefinite' to justify such classification. The committee recommended the program now being planned as a supplement to Project Blue Book."

Thunderstorm Disturbs Local Residents' Sleep

Area residents were treated to a thunderstorm of songous proportions Monday evening. The storm, accompanied by intermittent showers, began about 1 a.m. and continued until approximately 3 a.m. Accompanying the booming and crackling thunder were flashes of lightning and rain estimated at 1.38 inches.

HAROLD OWINGS, JR.

H. Owings Appointed Undersheriff

A Chelsea resident and graduate of Chelsea High school has been appointed second in command of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Office.

He is Harold Owings, Jr., of 239 Jefferson St., Chelsea. At 30, he is the youngest man to hold the undersheriff position in the history of the Washtenaw county Sheriff's office.

Owings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Owings of Shepherd formerly of 604 S. Main St., Chelsea. His wife, Elaine, and son, Brian, 8, and Kurt, 6, reside at the Jefferson St. address.

As undersheriff, Owings will have direct charge of the uniformed and detective bureaus of the Sheriff's office. He will serve as an assistant to Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey and will be in charge of the department whenever the sheriff is absent. He will assist Sheriff Harvey in deciding on policy, administration and personnel.

Owings served as a road patrol officer for three and one-half years, from January, 1965, to June, 1967, before he was promoted to detective sergeant, a position, he held from June, 1967, to December, 1967. As detective sergeant, he was involved in felony investigations, bad check violations in which charges were being brought, and liquor licensing and enforcement.

In December, 1967, he became a uniformed lieutenant in charge of the detective and warrant division of the Sheriff's office. He was promoted to uniformed captain in charge of personnel, including the road patrol, Ann Arbor office, and the county jail in July, 1968. At the time of his appointment, he became the youngest uniformed captain in the state of Michigan.

Before joining the Washtenaw county law enforcement agency, he worked as a mechanic at Spaulding's Chevrolet in Chelsea until joining the Ann Arbor Police Department in 1957. He worked for the Ann Arbor police department for one year.

A 1954 graduate of Chelsea High school, Owings has attended several special training courses and seminars dealing with law enforcement. Included in the special training sessions have been the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Bank Robbery School in Detroit in 1963, seminars at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor in law enforcement and arson, and seminars at Michigan State University in East Lansing on accident investigation and fraudulent check investigations.

Mr. and Mrs. Owings are members of the St. Paul Lutheran church in Ann Arbor.

Owings replaces Undersheriff Clare M. LaFollette, who submitted his resignation to Sheriff Harvey on Aug. 12. Owings was immediately appointed to the position. Sheriff Harvey said that LaFollette, who has served as undersheriff for the past 18 months, resigned for personal reasons.

Detective Lt. Irving C. Hollis was named by Sheriff Harvey to the newly-created post of detective captain. As detective captain in charge of the Detective Division, he will rank third in the department and will supervise a half-dozen detectives. The rank of uniformed captain which Owings held will be abolished, Harvey said.

Sheriff Harvey announced that the uniformed captain's post will be filled by two lieutenants who will be in command of the "day" and "afternoon" shifts. A third "night" shift will be commanded by a sergeant.

he said he did not believe the program could get underway until at least the second semester. He pointed out that Dexter would lose both their industrial arts and instructors to the program and because of the critical shortage in Michigan for industrial arts teachers, there was little hope of replacement. This would mean that more than 100 students would have to be re-scheduled into regular academic courses at Dexter High school.

As planned, students enrolled in the special courses would have met for three hours daily or 540 hours each year. The courses would have been two-year programs, providing participants a total of 1,080 hours of instruction.

July Traffic Deaths Slightly Lower Than Same Period Last Year

Michigan traffic deaths in July numbered 196, which is 15 or seven percent fewer than 211 in the same month a year ago, according to State Police provisional figures.

Delayed deaths will increase the total.

The state's toll for the first seven months this year is 1,203, which is 111 or 10 percent higher than 1,092 in the same period in 1967.

July averages were 186 for the five years 1961-65 and 163 for the 10 years 1956-65. High July was 221 in 1967 while a near-record mark of 218 for that month occurred in 1964. Low July toll was 59 in wartime 1944.

The first tax appropriation for public education in Michigan was made in 1817—a total of $380.

AGRICULTURE In ACTION

by M. L. Wood

★ Farm 'Revolution'

Whatever the scientist may bring out of the test tube in his laboratory, the farmer will match him in his efforts to revolutionize the marketing process. Farmers are determined to modernize their marketing to match the ultra-modern chemico-mechanical farm operations they own.

In recent months, groups of farmers from several states have visited such faraway places as Rotterdam, Tokyo, Istanbul, London and Caracas looking for sales for American farm products. These business trips are usually made at the farmer's expense with no Federal assistance.

According to the "Project 50" study, completed at Michigan State University in 1965, farmers will become increasingly involved in more effective marketing of their products in the next 15 years.

At the recent National Apple Institute in Traverse City, the major subject of discussion was how to do a better job of selling apples. Labor and machines were cited as factors, but marketing was far ahead in first place.

One major effort at farmer-controlled sale of apples has been the organization in 1961 of the Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association (MACMA) by members of the Michigan Farm Bureau. MACMA today is working on the sale of processing apples and vegetables for its members and is handling over two million bushels of apples yearly.

In addition to finding markets, MACMA provides its members with a means to collect and analyze market information, ultimately arriving at a common price which reflects the supply, carryover and demand for apples. It gives the member a bargaining tool which he could not develop without organization.

One of the most highly integrated farm products today is the broiler or fryer chicken. Nearly all the broilers produced in the United States are produced under contract for several huge, vertically integrated feed-hatchery-processing organizations. Farmers have shared little in the profits of such operations, so they have started a sign-up program through Farm Bureau, in a marketing service for the broiler producer, with the efforts aimed at the improvement of contract terms for the farmer and the stabilizing of the industry.

Crop Scientist Warns, Buy Seed Wheat Early

Michigan farmers who plant to seed wheat this fall should contract now for their certified seed wheat. This warning came from Layton Nelson, Michigan State University extension crop scientist.

Farmers who save their own crop for seed may find much more rice and other foreign seeds. For some reason, there were more plentiful than usual in this year's crop, Nelson warned.

The number of non-degree teachers in Michigan schools who do not have a college degree has dropped from 27 percent in 1950 to about five percent today.

Understanding your HEALTH

By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director
Michigan Department of Public Health

I'm sure most folks know the value of exercise and keeping in trim. But many of these same people think it's too much trouble to keep active, and thus possibly add years to their lives. Yet these same individuals will go in swimming for the "fun" of it. Well, I am glad they do, but best conditioning exercises we know of.

I hope you'll continue swimming throughout the summer, as I consider it an exhilarating and healthful form of recreation and relaxation. And if you have never learned to swim, I would urge you to take instructions so you can take part in this enjoyable summertime sport.

You know, whether you're a beginner or a skilled swimmer, there are certain simple, but basic safety rules that should be observed each time you take to the water. First of all, always have someone with you when you go in swimming. If you do get into any trouble the person will be able to help you out. And at the same time don't try to impress anyone with your great swimming endurance—you may find out you're not quite as good as you thought you were.

Another important rule to keep in mind is that you should thoroughly know your swimming area. Drop-offs and hidden rocks may be hazardous, and if you're going to be diving, make sure that the water is deep enough.

I would also like to urge you to pay heed to that familiar precaution: "Don't swim after a meal or when you are overtired or overheated." When swimming the muscles of the arms, legs, and abdomen need a good blood supply to avoid cramps. Being overtired or filled with a good meal tends to reduce the amount of blood to your muscles.

Children should be taught to stay within their depth when in swimming. It's up to you as a parent to make sure that your child avoids deep water—in an attempt to "show-off" he may get a sudden cramp and be in danger if he is in deep water. The best policy is to make sure there is always an adult present to supervise youngster's swimming activities.

The first thing I'd like to share with you may sound as if I'm trying to limit your fun—but this is not so—this danger may be just as harmful as the rest we've already discussed. If you have even been with someone who cried out for help as a joke, you know what I mean. The person thinks it's very funny when someone rushes to his aid, and nothing is really wrong. But the next time he may need help in earnest and no one will come. Never call for aid unless you actually need it.

If you apply these simple common-sense rules to your swimming activities, I'm sure you'll have a summer filled with safe swimming fun.

Conservation Law Violators Fined

Conservation Officer Donley Boyce reports the following fishing violations:

Russell C. Cole, 62, of Arlington, O., was arrested Aug. 13 for fishing without a license in Joslin Lake.

Both appeared Saturday before Earl Doletsky. They pleaded guilty and paid $13 in fine and costs. Ronald E. Scheer, 23, of Wayne, was arrested Aug. 13 for fishing in Little Portage Lake without a license. He pleaded guilty before Justice Chandler A. Rogers on Tuesday and paid $13 in fine and costs.

State-Wide Tennis Tournament Slated This Week at Dearborn

Dearborn — The Michigan Recreation and Parks Association's statewide tennis tournament will be staged Friday through Sunday (Aug. 19-21) on the Edsel Ford High School courts here, with Alton Park in the role of defending team champion.

At least 16 Michigan cities, represented by nearly 200 individuals, are expected to compete for titles in eight separate categories, plus the team crown.

Championships will be at stake in men's and women's singles, men's doubles, mixed doubles, junior boys' singles and doubles, and junior girls' singles and doubles. Junior competition is for boys and girls 17 and under.

Juniors will begin play at 10:00 a.m. Friday, with action for seniors getting under way at the same hour Saturday. Championship finals will close out the tourney Sunday. The event is being conducted by the Dearborn Parks and Recreation Department, of which Robert Keith Archer is director. Wilma Clabe is tournament chairman.

Allen Parkedged Hamtramck by three points for the 1965 MRPA title, with 14 other cities figuring in the scoring. In order of finish, these were: Jackson, Monroe, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Dearborn, East Detroit, Trenton, Midland, St. Clair Shores, Inkster, Oak Park, Ypsilanti, Roseville and Muskegon. Defending men's and women's singles champions are John Geremich of Hamtramck and Cathy Koch of Monroe.

License Plate Sales Register Sizeable Gain Over Last Year's Total

Lansing — License plate sales through the first eight months of the 1966 sale registered a gain of 132,500 over the same period in 1965.

Secretary of State James M. Hars predicted that for the first time in history, the 4½-million mark would be achieved here in Michigan.

As expected, passenger car plates led the way with 87,500 more sales than last year. Commercial plates were nearly 24,000 ahead, but farm vehicles slipped 4,000.

Revenue was also at an all-time high at the end of June with more than $78 million already in state coffers. According to Hars, this is a hike of more than $3 million over last year.

Dr. Peter Oppewall of Grand Rapids, a member of the State Board of Education, is an English professor at Calvin College.

Biggest Michigan Farm Found in Thumb Area

The most recent census for Michigan's agriculture showed that there were 6.7 million acres of cropland in Michigan in 1964. The average farm had 107 acres.

The biggest farm found in the Thumb area was 114 acres of cropland. The biggest farm in the Thumb area was 114 acres of cropland. The biggest farm in the Thumb area was 114 acres of cropland.

Home Canning Still Popular

Home preservation of food isn't just a homemaker's practice of grandmother's time. According to specialists at Michigan State University, studies made during the last 10 years reveal that canning and home preservation of food are still important.

Even with the popularity of the freezer today, more homemakers are canning than freezing fruits and vegetables, but over half of all homemakers use a home freezer for some food preservation.

The studies also showed that the peach is the most popular fruit for canning while the tomato is by far the most popular vegetable. For freezing purposes, strawberries led the way, followed by raspberries, blueberries, and blackberries.

Geographically, home canning was most popular in the east, south central, west north central, and mountain states.

Its popularity also seems to be influenced by family income. Those in the lowest income group (under $3,000) do the most home canning and those with the highest incomes (over $10,000) do the least.

Home canning is also somewhat more popular among rural families than city dwellers.

Basic Education Classes To Enroll 16,000 Adults This Year

Lansing — The State Department of Education (SDE) reports that 75 school districts in the state are expected to conduct basic education classes for 16,000 adults this year.

The Adult Basic Education program was conducted in 62 school districts last year, serving 10,000 adults who had completed less than six years of school.

Michigan began the program in 1965 with 28 school districts and 4,000 adults participating. Michigan was one of only five states at that time which conducted basic education courses for adults. Now, all 50 states have such classes which are financed with federal funds.

DEATH BE NOT PROUD: Eagles, hawks, and owls are protected by law in Michigan, but...

early last winter, somewhere west of Alpena, someone pointed a shotgun at a bald eagle and pulled the trigger. Pictured here is the eagle he killed. Who did this thing? Was he proud of his deed? In the company of associates, did he boast? Did he lean back in his chair or forward on his bar stool and say, "I killed a bald eagle?" If a dad, did he tell his boy all about it? Yes, whoever you are, you killed a bald eagle. Few hunters could duplicate that feat (they wouldn't want to). This is because what you did, even if they wanted to (we can be there are just about no eagles left in Michigan.

And their number is diminishing all too fast over the entire continent. This majestic creature may be in danger of extinction; 18 in danger of extinction if you, whoever you are, are one of many. Whoever you are, whatever you are? Certainly you are no sportsman. Whoever you are, sportsmen and conservationists pity you. They pity you because you miss the indescribable thrill of being in the woods with a gun. The ethic of an age-old sport is obviously not yours to enjoy. You have no appreciation of the true rewards of hunting. Established is the fact that you are a violator. But somehow you are more or less than that. You killed a bald eagle.

Elementary Education Finance Study Given Okay by State Board

Lansing — The State Board of Education has authorized State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley to begin the search for a director and staff personnel to conduct a $200,000 study of the financing of elementary and secondary education in Michigan.

The study, authorized by the state legislature, will be one of the most comprehensive studies ever undertaken of Michigan's kindergarten through 12th-grade program.

Polley told the State Board that all state financial assistance to public schools during the last 10 years has been made by "piecemeal" amendments to the State School Act of 1957.

"The state legislature believes the time has arrived for an objective study of the means, the kinds and the extent of financial aid provided to public school districts from that source and its relationship to all other revenue sources," Polley said.

Polley gave Board Members a tentative outline of the plan for the study and said the Board should make certain decisions in the near future on the over-all direction the public school programs and services should take in Michigan during the next several decades.

Booklet Available on Federal Programs for Recreation Projects

Lansing — Individuals and organizations seeking federal aid for outdoor recreation projects will find a complete listing of the U.S. government's major financial assistance programs in a new booklet being sold through the Superintendent of Documents in Washington, D.C.

The publication, "Federal Assistance in Outdoor Recreation," describes matching grants for states, counties, cities and other units of government, including those available under the Land and Water Conservation Fund program.

It also lists sources of federal recreation loans for individuals, associations and small towns. Copies of the pocket-size, 83-page booklet are available at 35 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Fishermen Enjoy Turtle-Pike Soup

Shingleton — Two fishermen got more than they bargained for when they recently caught a six-pound northern pike from Lily Lake, Alger county, according to Conservation Officer Bruce Andrews of Shingleton.

They put the fish on a stringer and when they were ready to quit for the day, they discovered that a large turtle was eating the last of their northern pike.

All ended well, however, when the fishermen caught the 12-pound turtle and converted it into a generous helping of turtle soup.

Questions & Answers

Approximately how long should various cheeses be out of the refrigerator to achieve the proper serving temperature?

The length of time depends on the type of cheese and the heat of the room. In a hot kitchen, about half an hour will be sufficient for medium-firm cheese; in a moderately warm room, about an hour will be needed. Cream cheese should be allowed to reach room temperature much more rapidly than hard or variegated cheeses such as Cheddar. Allow half the time indicated for soft cheeses and half again as long for hard ones.

Q. Why do some good quality common stocks sell at such low price-earnings ratios? To be

At offering an explanation for the price of a stock at any time is difficult, but there are some general things we can say about the three stocks you have listed.

The price-earnings ratio at midday there, roughly 8, doesn't pass it on to members cash, the members don't owe on it. The club is a partnership and a partnership, as such, no taxes at any time. It's not considered as going directly

The stocks that have tended to sell at high P-E ratios in recent periods are those major companies in major industries which have been hitting new sales and earnings records, with substantial percentage increases over previous years.

I note from the record that in the past five years the average profit for loss on mon-

The current P:E ratio would not seem to be abnormal for this particular stock. Strikes at both the company's plants and made or lost through the should be figured and dealt precisely in the same way as you had received it. Individuals in other words, a club capital or loss is declared the same as

All three of these stocks seem to represent very good values. I would guess that they are more likely in the future to sell at higher price-earnings ratios than at lower ones.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

RESPONSIBILITY
If it is true that some modern teenagers do not have the proper respect for their elders, a sense of proper responsibility, and adequate respect for their country and its traditions, then who is responsible?
A certain portion of the responsibility must fall on teenagers — the teenagers of yesterday who are the parents of today.
There is no shirking, no casting aside of the trust that training, discipline — and love — within the family circle set the pattern of young footsteps. The child must be taught, must be a giver, counseled, and at times, disciplined. A child should not be excused for a wrongdoing on the basis that he or she isn't old enough to know right from wrong. They must be shown what is right and what is wrong.
Too many dodge their parental responsibilities. Too many excuse or place fault where it does not belong.
Basically, teenagers are no different than they were a generation ago. There may be an obvious minority to consider an exception. These, for one reason or another, have been denied the guidance of responsible parents.

Socialist Labor Party Files First Textbook Charge
Lansing — The State Board of Education has received its first complaint under provisions of a new state law calling for ethnic and racial fairness in school textbooks.
State Board President Thomas J. Brennan of Detroit said the State Board received a letter from Ralph W. Muncy of Ann Arbor, chairman of the Michigan Socialist Central Committee of the Socialist Labor Party.
In his letter, Muncy contends references to Socialism in a textbook in use in Michigan "are so thoroughly unreliable (even libelous) that the reliability of the whole text is open to question."
"I am calling the attention of your Board to this matter at this time in view of reports that all textbooks in Michigan are to be reviewed by you," Muncy wrote.
The review, which has been given for such a review is that texts in Michigan must conform to legal and Constitutional standards in their treatment of civil rights. It is just as important that the content of textbooks be honest, correct, and decent with respect to any subject or social question.
From the time of its founding in 1928, the Michigan State Library was an independent agency until 1965 when it became a division of the State Department of Education.

Beulahland Bible Conference
Opening Session Set Aug. 21

Two internationally known speakers will be featured during the 17th annual Beulahland Bible Conference, to be held Aug. 21 through Sept. 5, at the conference grounds near Pinckney.

Speaker for the first week will be William C. Standridge, Jr., missionary writer, editor and bible teacher, who has spent the past 17 years in Italy as a missionary. Standridge first went to Italy in 1949 and established a publishing house in Rome in 1953, which has published millions of gospel tracts, as well as a series of 15 correspondence courses, various booklets, and at the present time is publishing two monthly newspapers.

Standridge has spoken widely throughout the United States, Italy and Switzerland in bible conferences, and youth camps.

Mrs. Standridge, who is active in Italy in evangelism and writings, will be presenting a nightly feature, "Highlights from Missionary Life" including amusing and touching true-to-life incidents from Italy.

Speaker for the second week, beginning Monday, Aug. 29 and continuing through Labor Day, will be Dr. R. T. Ketcham, National Representative Emeritus of the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches, who will be returning for his ninth year at the Conference. Dr. Ketcham was pastor for many years before beginning his travels to every part of the United States and the world in the interests of the G.A.R.B. and the International Council of Christian Churches. For many years he edited the official magazine of the regular Baptist churches, and he has authored many articles and books. Many followers of Bible conferences feel that Dr. Ketcham is the most outstanding and colorful bible teacher and conference speaker in America today.

Special soloist for the two-week conference will be Miss Doris Lane, operatic soprano who studied in Italy and who has sung for the past three years at the conferences, interpreting reverently the old familiar gospel hymn.

Song leader for the conference, again this year will be Robert Chipps of Dexter, assisted at the organ by his wife.

Meetings will be held nightly at 7:00 p.m. and Sundays at 3 and 7:00 p.m. On Labor Day, a special Christian Patriotic Rally will be held at 10 a.m. and the closing afternoon rally will be held at 3 p.m.

The Beulahland Bible Conference is located on Whitewood Rd. at M-96, three miles east of Pinckney. It is easily reached from Detroit, Pontiac, Flint, Lansing, Jackson and other cities via the expressways. Woods and picnic grounds make the conference grounds a pleasant place to spend a day or an afternoon and evening. All the facilities are available to those attending the conference.

"Many souls have been saved and many lives consecrated to Christian service at Beulahland Bible Conference," states the Rev. W. C. Standridge, Sr., founder and director of the conference. "And we are expecting this year to be our greatest yet." Standridge is the pastor of the Interstate Baptist Bible Temple in Memphis, Tenn., as well as director of the Happy Day Children's Camp, member of various boards and executive committees of Christian organizations.

Michigan Educators Commended for Civil Rights Efforts
Lansing — An official of the Ohio Civil Rights Commission has commended Michigan's State Board of Education on its efforts to provide equal educational opportunities for all Michigan school children.

"You are to be commended on the positive approach you are taking toward these major educational problems," Community Relations Director E. Harold Klingel of the Ohio Commission said in a letter to the State Board.

The State Board will conduct a survey of the racial composition of all public schools in Michigan this fall as another step in efforts to end racial imbalance in schools.

In April, the State Board and the Michigan Civil Rights Commission inaugurated a joint program aimed at achieving the state constitutional guarantee of equal educational opportunity without discrimination because of race, religion, color or national origin.

Just A Minute...
By the Rev. James A. Craig
James, in the letter he wrote in the New Testament, has little good to say about the power of the tongue. To him it is an instrument that does considerable, irremediable harm.
"Talking is something we all do and sometimes do too much of. It is the principal way by which we get across to other people what we think and feel.
There is no substitute for spoken words in carrying meaning. Inflection, tone can be communicated in no other way.
Even so we fill the air with a lot of useless talk. Chit-chat about the weather or the kids' chicken pox or the vacation or the price of groceries. For the most part it's good talk even if it doesn't function in any special way.
We can't always be philosophizing about the state of the world's affairs.
The tragedy is that for too many they never get beyond the chit-chat, to talking about those things that are really important to them. They live on the surface of filling up the spaces with idle conversation and gossip.
Neither they nor anyone else is the gainer. One ancient Greek wanted us to be silent if our speech was no better than silence. James would just as soon do without the tongue since it caused so much harm.
Jesus and the prophets remind us how great a gift speech is and how it can be used for the common good—to speak the truth in consideration, gentleness, and love that our lives and the lives of those to whom we speak may be enriched.

SMORGASBORD
The smorgasbord originated in Scandinavian countries as a traditional gesture of hospitality on feast days and wedding celebrations. Distances were long and travel hard so the guests sometimes stayed for two weeks. They brought an assortment of foods and these offerings were laid out on a common table for all to enjoy.

THE COUNTRY PULPIT:

These Things Will Pass Away

Most Americans today are basking in an era of unprecedented prosperity and enjoying it to the full. The sunning of plenty has spread its radiant rays everywhere. Yet economists say we haven't seen anything yet.

Living in a house of tomorrow will be like a dream come true. All manner of electronic conveniences will be commonplace. A kitchen unit that stores frozen foods will, at the touch of a button, thaw, cook and dispense them in a matter of minutes. An electronic oven will roast a chicken in 3 minutes, a potato in 2.

Most families will have two cars. A city car will be a true hard-top convertible, five feet shorter than average cars today, with the engine in the rear. The other car will be luxurious, 20 feet in length, air-conditioned, with a ride so smooth passengers will have the sensation of floating through space.

Solar energy will be harnessed and put to work. The sea will be a great new source for minerals, oil, chemicals and food.

Yet with all of these good things we need one thing more — a right relationship to our God and Saviour and His peace to garrison our hearts and lives. For, whether we like to admit it or not, it is tragically true that our nation has become drunken with materialism — with things. And, to a large extent, God has been left out of our lives, our homes, our businesses.

I wonder how many realize that we have put last things first. It was the Lord Jesus Christ who said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Matthew 6:33).

Are we aware that material things — the fine things of today and the wonders promised tomorrow — will pass away? The Bible plainly declares this in II Peter 3:10: "The day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Seeing these things, let all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all . . . godliness."

Happy is that young person that never doubts that boy or girl who has recognized that his or her never-dying soul will be alive and conscious throughout a never-ending eternity — and by believing what God has said has put faith in Jesus Christ for present joy and eternal salvation.

Listen to what the Bible says: "As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to Me, and every tongue shall confess to God. So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God" (Romans 14:11-12). "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God . . . that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God" (Romans 3:23 and 19). "But God commendeth His love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us . . . Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ . . . Being now justified by His blood, we shall be saved from wrath through Him" (Romans 8:1-11).

Oh, what a message! Oh, what glorious news — the past all blotted out, present forgiveness and pardon, and future glory with Christ, the King of kings and Lord of lords!

Are you suffering for things that perish or are you living in the conscious enjoyment of eternal realities from your gracious God and Saviour? Listen! "Blessed be God . . . which according to His abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a living hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God" (I Peter 1:3-5).

The only purpose for this message is to bring you face to face with God's concern and wondrous provision for you. What you do with the Lord Jesus Christ, who died for your sins is a decision that only you can make.

★ 1966 Education Legislation, Part II

Last week's educational report dealt primarily with state aid to local school districts which carries an increase of $48,555,330 over last year's school aid act. This year's school aid act provides an additional $89,000,000. In addition to approving the largest single increase in history to aid Michigan schools for both elementary and secondary school education, the legislature also enacted a host of other measures affecting education.

Annual Tuberculosis Examination: Occupational Constituting Public Health Hazard

This legislation requires an annual examination of persons who, by the nature of their occupations, constitute a public health hazard in connection with communicable tuberculosis.

Immunization and Tuberculosis Tests: All Children

This requires persons operating facilities for resident care, education or camping of children to prove that children have been immunized and tuberculosis tested.

Educational Television

This authorizes the State Board of Education to accept federal funds under the provisions of the Television Broadcasting Facilities Act of 1964. This carries an appropriation of $50,000 for a feasible study.

Contracts for School Administrators

This permits boards of education to employ assistant superintendents, principals, assistant principals, guidance directors and other classified administrators who will not assume tenure in positions for terms not to exceed three years.

Treasurer's Bond

This allows the Board of Education to give the control of school money to the district's business manager or other employees and to allow him to sign checks and to be bonded instead of the board treasurer.

Sen. Bursley Hits Federal 'Pressures'

Gilbert Bursley, candidate for the Michigan Senate from the 18th district on the Republican ticket, stressed the inter-relationship of state and national issues in the 1966 elections Tuesday when he spoke before the Dexter Women's Republican Club at 1:30 p.m. in the Dexter Library.

Mrs. William Seaton is president of the group.

Bursley charged that "The Johnson inflation is causing a loss of purchasing power of the dollar. This leads to a price and cost increase. Michigan's capital outlay budget is being upset by the rapidly rising construction costs that render last year's estimates invalid."

He said that state legislators are "forever concerned with the federal government because of the strong impact the federal government is having upon the states."

"Federal legislation is increasingly tied to matching monies put up by the states," he commented. "This is a form of federal pressure leading to federal control or you simply don't qualify for the money. These pressures lead to an erosion of state and local governments."

Bursley also charged that the escalation of lawlessness and disorder expressed in big city riots, a nation-wide 47 percent increase in violent crimes since 1960, snowballing increase in juvenile delinquency and school drop-outs, are all national in scope but have a direct bearing upon Michigan.

"It is the state that must respond, and this is costly and frustrating until such time as we have a national re-awakening of morality to help our Michigan efforts. Governor Romney is both a prophet and a crusader in these respects. He sees through to the core of the problem and his voice and his recommendation should be heeded by all."

County Democrats Planning Annual Labor Day Picnic

Plans are underway for the Washtenaw County Democratic Committee's annual Labor Day Picnic on Monday, Sept. 5, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds, Ann Arbor-Saline Rd.

Mrs. Marguerite Egan of Ypsilanti and Arthur Carpenter of Ann Arbor have been named as co-chairmen of the event by George Wahr Salade, county democratic chairman.

Others in charge of special projects relating to the picnic are Mrs. Diane Stewart of Ann Arbor who will arrange the decorations and Miss Vesta Svenson of Ypsilanti who will handle the publicity.

Ann Arborite Adeline Drews will serve as general ticket chairman. The day's menu includes charcoal-broiled chicken, potato chips, sliced tomatoes, relishes, rolls, ice cream, and milk or coffee.

A Dixieland Jazz Band, the Rag-time Charley-Sister Kate Jazz Band will be on hand to provide entertainment during the afternoon.

Recount Asked in Scio-Republican Supervisor Race

Richard Lorenzen has petitioned for a recount of the votes cast for Scio township supervisor in the Aug. 2 primary election.

Official tallies in the election put Lorenzen seven votes behind the apparent Republican nominee, Neil A. Mast. Lorenzen tallied 308 votes to Mast's 315. A third candidate on the Republican ticket, Virgil L. Walling, garnered 78 votes.

In his petition for the recount, Lorenzen stated that the votes are so close that any error might change the results. He also alleges that there was a discrepancy between the number of voters signing ballots and the number of votes cast.

A recount is not expected until Aug. 22, when the State Board of Canvassers meets. The local recount must wait until the state releases the voting machines.

County-Wide Water, Sewer Study Released by WCMPC

The Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission recently released a comprehensive report on Water Supply and Sanitary Sewerage Systems for Washtenaw county.

The report, prepared for the Planning Commission by the engineering consulting firms, McNamee, Porter & Seeley, and Ayres, Lewis, Morris & May, took two and one-half years and cost $40,000. Financial support was provided by a grant from Housing and Home Finance Agency (two-thirds of cost) and the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors (one-third of cost).

Population estimates of the county and constituent communities were made based on census statistics, estimates of other agencies and studies of growth potential.

Based on the population predictions, the nature of expected community growth and past trends in water use and sewage flow, estimates of future water use and sewage flow were derived. These estimates provided the basis of design for system improvements.

A study of the geology and ground water conditions of the county was made utilizing available well records and previous geological reports. The potential well water capacity was estimated along with the demands of each community for well water supplies.

Surface water resources were evaluated for their water supply and waste assimilation capacities. In particular, an exhaustive study of the minimum flows of the Huron River was made, since the most critical conditions often exist during periods of minimum flows.

A plan of water supply and sewerage system development was prepared as both map and text form. Proposed municipal utility system extensions were designed based on population, service area and future requirements derived in the study.

Individual maps of the system were prepared for each community in the county and presented to them for their review and suggestions. Following these individual presentations composite county maps were prepared for the water and sewer systems proposed. Improvements are shown on the maps for each five-year interval to 1985.

Cost estimates were prepared for the new improvements in each five year interval based on the prevailing construction costs.

Findings and Recommendations

Water supply in the metropolitan Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area is now furnished from three treatment plants at Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Ypsilanti township. Total use averages 22 million gallons per day at present and may be expected to increase to 35 million gallons per day by 1985. The smaller communities the combined average daily use is about two million gallons per day, which may be expected to increase to about five million gallons per day by 1985. Peak daily use for all communities studied will be about double the use of the average day.

By 1985 it is expected that the treated wastes from all the public sewerage systems in Washtenaw county will total 38 1/2 million gallons per day with peak daily flows of about 58 million gallons.

Except for the southeastern portion of Washtenaw county adequate amounts of ground water to meet the needs of the county will be yielded.

Water obtained from wells in Washtenaw county is generally high in iron and high in hardness, indicating a need for softening of public supplies to produce a first-quality water for consumers.

It is believed that adequate flow exists in the Huron River to meet the water supply needs for Washtenaw county communities to beyond 1985.

The Huron River in Washtenaw county now receives effluent from waste water treatment plants at Ypsilanti township, Ypsilanti city, Ann Arbor city, Loch Alpine development, Dexter village and several industrial installations. All so received are flows from treatment plants on tributary streams at Chelsea in Washtenaw county, the Boys' Training School near Whitmore Lake, the City of South Lyon just outside of Washtenaw county, the City of Milford in Oakland county and the City of Brighton in Livingston county.

Studies of waste assimilation capacity of the Huron River indicate that the stream has capacity for receiving adequately treated wastes in amounts expected during the next 20 years without adversely affecting present water quality, present fish populations or existing esthetic uses.

The sewage treatment plants at Milan and Saline discharge their final effluent to the Saline River, a tributary of the Raisin River. The treatment works at Manchester discharges directly to the Raisin River. Accurate flow measurements and water quality data are lacking in the Saline and Raisin Rivers. To give the needed protection to the rivers and to provide a basis for future planning of system improvements, flow gauging stations and quality control monitoring are highly recommended for the Saline and Raisin Rivers.

The three major sewage treatment plants discharging into the Huron River are at Ann Arbor city, Ypsilanti city and Ypsilanti township. The plants at Ypsilanti and Ypsilanti township are considered adequate to accommodate 1985 demands. The plant at Ann Arbor should be adequate for nearly two decades but may require additional expansion in the period just preceding the year 1985.

On the basis of predictions of future sewage flows, it is believed that the plants at Saline, Milan, Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester and Loch Alpine will require expansion with the next two decades. At the time of the expansion of the Dexter treatment works it should be found desirable to add a secondary treatment process.

The community of Whitmore

Lake is currently planning to use the Boys' Training School treatment plant for treating their sewage waste. Any substantial growth in population of the Whitmore Lake area will require a further expansion of the Boys' Training School treatment plant.

For the period of design, adequate water supplies for Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti city may be developed from the Huron River and from wells.

For Ypsilanti township, either a new well field should be developed outside of the township or a supplementary supply sought from one or more of the cities of Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti or Detroit.

For the smaller communities in Washtenaw county, it may be noted that the peak daily use of 1985 of 6.8 million gallons per day will be required while present well capacities are 6.2 million gallons per day. Treatment is provided for iron removal only at Chelsea and Manchester, with no treatment provided at the other communities. Dexter is currently planning a water softening treatment plant. It may be expected that increased well supplies will be required at Saline, Chelsea, Manchester, Dexter and Loch Alpine during the next two decades. Public water systems from wells will also be needed within 20 years at Whitmore Lake and Portage Lake. For a first quality water from wells in Washtenaw county, softening and iron removal treatment are also needed.

Townships in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti Metropolitan Area should plan to obtain water and sewer utility service from one of the adjacent established water supply or waste disposal plants. Other township areas not in the metropolitan area if contiguous to a village or city should plan to receive utility service from that municipality.

Outlying rural areas are not recommended for municipal services within the design period. Investment in sewerage improvements for the county years to total $40 million. In the next five years in the public investment will be required in sewerage improvements with spend about $3.8 million for sewer construction work out the county.

For water supply needs, a year total expenditure of $2.2 million is estimated for the county. The first five-year plan will require a public investment of $6.6 million and a $2.2 million in lateral main.

Of Michigan's more than school districts, 548 offer a complete kindergarten through grade program.

Park Washtenaw Dedicated Sunday By Supervisors

Park Washtenaw of Lyndon, a 205-acre hilly and wooded area on North Territorial Rd., was dedicated Sunday, Aug. 14 in ceremonies in the park. The dedication took place at the annual County Supervisors' Reunion.

The Lyndon township park is situated on land deeded from the Conservation Department to the county for $1.
Miss E. Genevieve Gillette of Ann Arbor, who located the property suggested it for a park and helped in obtaining it from the Conservation Department, was honored by the supervisors by having the park dedicated in her honor. She is nationally known for her efforts in the area of parks and recreation, and was appointed by President Lyndon Johnson to the National Advisory Commission on Parks and Recreation. She is president of the Michigan Parks Association.
Miss Gillette was presented with a copy of the board's resolution dedicating the park to her and a photograph of a park scene by Curt H. Will, chairman of the supervisors' parks committee.
The park was opened for public use on July 4, 1944, but largely undeveloped until the present, when a large shelter and stone fireplace and other facilities were added. Park Washtenaw-of-Lyndon is the largest park in the county system.

Washtenaw's New Housing Market
Continues To Rise

Residential building permit activity during the first six months of 1966 continued at a rapid rate in Washtenaw county.

According to figures released by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission in its semi-annual report on dwelling units permitted, Washtenaw recorded a 55 percent increase over the first six months of 1965. The first six months of 1966 recorded 2,119 units while in 1965 the comparable figure was 1,367 units.

Included in the 1966 figures were eight single family dwellings and 35 multi-family units in Chelsea, the following single family units: in Dexter township six; in Freedom township three; in Lima township five; in Lyndon township three; in Sharon township two; and in Sylvan township five.

One demolition occurred in the village of Chelsea. Dexter reported no single, two, or multi-family dwellings or demolitions during the first six months of 1966.

Multiple activity in Washtenaw amounted to 1,399 units or 66 percent of the total activity. This total multiple activity of 1,399 units during the first half of 1966 is 623 units about the corresponding 1965 figure of 777 units.

Authorization for new dwelling units in the four-county Detroit region (Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw, and Wayne counties) during the first six months of 1966 showed a 7 percent increase over the same period in 1965. According to the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission, a total of 16,695 residential units were permitted for construction during the first half of 1966 as compared to 15,672 units for the corresponding 1965 period.

As in Washtenaw county, the recorded increases throughout the Detroit region are again attributable to multiple permits. Multiple permits recorded an increase of 22 percent, rising from 5,798 in the first half of 1965 to 7,016 in 1966.

State 4-H Show Scheduled
Aug. 23-26 on MSU Campus

A year of industrious enthusiasm on the part of more than 3,500 4-H club members from Michigan will be highlighted by the 51st annual State 4-H Show at Michigan State University, Aug. 23-26.

Outstanding 4-H members from all over Michigan will compete for the state's top honors through participation in demonstrations, judging and exhibits.

For the second year, the 4-H staff is attempting to move toward more personal evaluation instead of objective competitive judging. Exhibitors will receive certificates of participation and evaluation as well as the traditional blue, red and white ribbons.

A market livestock show will be held for the first time in many years. All classes will be represented, but no sale will be conducted. Competition will be keen, with many county champions present.

Also new will be a flower arranging session for 4-H leaders. Conducted by National Farm and Garden Club members, the session will be the first operated especially for leaders, and will be critiqued upon completion of arrangements.

Other special events of this year's State Show will include several field trips, including a design tour to Detroit for participants in the Arts and Crafts Division.

Candidate Sallade
Will Campaign in Chelsea Friday

He has served in local government in the City of Ann Arbor, is a member of the Washtenaw County Bar Association and is also a member of the American Bar Association and the Ann Arbor Rotary Club.

Sallade resides with his wife, Charlotte, and children — Natalie, age 16; Betsy, age 12; James, age 9; and Barbara, age 7 — at 2307 Hill St., Ann Arbor.

Besides individual competition, county softball teams will vie for top place in the state 4-H playoffs.

In the evening, 4-Hers will display their entertainment talents during "share-the-fun" programs at the MSU auditorium.

The youths will be housed at the Brody dormitory complex while they are on campus.

Parents are encouraged to visit the State Show exhibits and competition in the intramural stadium complex, the judging pavilion and the Union building on MSU's campus.

Michigan Schools

90 Million Lunches

Lansing — Nearly 90 million lunches will be served to public school children in Michigan this year.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley said more than 2,000 schools participated in the school lunch program last year and they served about 83 million lunches.

The lunch program is financed with federal funds and surplus agricultural commodities.

The special milk program which also is financed with federal funds, provided more than 131 million half-pints of milk for Michigan school children last year.

Break-ins Reported

Myron C. Clark of 7953 Clark Lake Rd. in Lyndon township, reported that an intake manifold and a four-barrel carburetor valued at $65 were taken from his garage over the week-end, according to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's office.

Prowlers attempting to enter property owned by Frank Zwinger, 9210 McGregor Rd. at Portage Lake over the week-end were apparently frightened off when a burglar alarm sounded.

The prowlers had cut through a screen and glass door and the alarm sounded when they opened the inner door.
