STEVEN C. SLANE

Steven Slane Promoted by Dana Corp.

The appointment of Stephen C. Slane to the newly created position of department superintendent-mechanical and maintenance of the Dana Corporation, Salisbury Division, Chelsea Plant, has been announced by J. L. Hess, plant manager.

Slane has been associated with the Chelsea plant since its inception in 1945. Prior to that he spent 11 years with Central Fibre, where he worked in the development of the PTO product.

From 1945 to 1955, Slane held the position of tooling and maintenance supervisor until his promotion to plant superintendent. When Dana Corporation purchased the plant in 1958, Slane assumed the duties of the newly-created position of master mechanic.

Slane is a member of the Inverness Country Club, the American Legion and is the current president of the Senior House Bowling League.

Mr. and Mrs. Slane, the parents of five children and 13 grandchildren, Chelsea residents for 46 years, currently reside at 5500 Stofer Rd.

Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. Maxwell H. Thompson of Alexandria, Va. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Prochnow of 353 Washington St., during the past week. Mrs. Thompson is a sister of Prochnow.

Bulldogs Lose League Game To Lincoln

Seek To Upset High Flying Saline Hornets Friday on Their Field

Ypsi Lincoln defeated Chelsea last Friday by the score of 18 to 7. The game was played at Lincoln.

Chelsea Bulldogs found themselves on the short end early in the first period when Lincolns' line backer picked off a low forward pass and raced 42 yards untouched for the first TD.

Chelsea returned the kick-off and in two first down plays put themselves on Lincoln's 39-yard line. Here the offense lost its punch and was forced to give up the football.

Lincoln moved around right end for their second touchdown on an 18-yard pass, giving Lincoln a 12 to 0 lead.

The Bulldogs came right back and threatened to score. With the ball on the Chelsea 42, QB Bill Harvey threw a pass to Craig Houle which was good to Lincoln's 22-yard line. Chelsea then moved to the 10 where they were first and goal. Here two running plays and two passes did not materialize and the Bulldogs did not score.

After the half, Chelsea picked up a little as the defense held Lincoln for three plays, forcing a punt. Here the offense again moved the ball, this time into the end zone. Runs by Ron Montange, Craig Houle, Kim Flintoft, and a pass to Dan Allen set up the score by Bill Harvey from the one-yard line.

The extra point attempt was good on a pass from Harvey to Allen. The score now was 12 to 7 in favor of Lincoln.

R. Bareis To Head Rec. Commission

Richard Bareis, industrial arts teacher at Chelsea Junior High school, has been appointed the new director of the Chelsea Area Recreation Commission.

Bareis will assume duties immediately. He succeeds Alan Conklin, Chelsea Junior High principal, who has served in that capacity for 12 years. Conklin began directing the summer recreation program in 1954, before the Recreation Commission was officially organized.

The Commission now sponsors a variety of year-around activities, including a full schedule of summer sports, Senior Citizens activities and winter classes for adults and youngsters. Currently the commission is sponsoring a class entitled "Adolescence: Crises of Maturation," for parents of teen-agers. Sixty-five parents are attending the classes, which meet

SANCTUARY OF NEW ST. PAUL UCC: Dedication ceremonies in the new facility located at 14600 E. US-12, conducted by the Rev. Warner Siebert, pastor of St. Paul, occurred at the 10:45 a.m. worship service Sunday, Oct. 23. The church sanctuary is dominated by an 18-foot hand-hewn cross of white oak, made by Paul Seitz. An asymmetrical design is carried out through the placement of the altar at one side. The high ceiling, which gives a feeling of spaciousness, is of unfinished hemlock. The walls, like the exterior of the building, is of poured concrete, and the floors, also of concrete, are polished to a high gloss. Carpeting in the sanctuary is a vivid blue, with red altar cloths. The baptismal font, located in the extreme right of the picture, to the right of the flowers, is also of poured concrete. A pipe organ has been ordered from the Fouser Pipe Organ Co. of Ann Arbor, and when installed the pipes will probably rise along the end wall of the sanctuary. This photo was taken from the balcony of the church, which, along with the 40' x 72' nave, has a seating capacity of 300. Windows in the sanctuary are concealed in such a manner as to furnish indirect lighting.

Kiwanis Club Elects Officers For New Year

Paul G. Schaible, Jr., has been named president of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club for the coming year.

Assisting him will be Clare Warren, first vice-president; William J. Rademacher, second vice-president; John Dettling, treasurer; Jack Wellnitz, Julius Blaess, George Heydlauff and Ed Green-Leaf, directors for two-year terms; John Fall, administrator of the Pearsall, directors for one year.

Members of the nominating committee presenting the new slate were James Daniels, J. P. Liebeck and K. C. Runciman.

Speaker for the Monday evening meeting was Edward H. Terry, executive director of retirement homes of the Detroit Annual Conference of the Methodist Church. He was introduced by the Rev. John Fall, administrator of the Chelsea Methodist Home, who was the program chairman for the evening.

The Rev. Fall also introduced Wm. A. Johnson, chaplain of the Methodist Home, as his guest.

Terry spoke about his experiences with the Blackfoot Indians in Montana and South Dakota and in evangelical homes at various places. His topic was "Retiring Forward."

Terry had been with the U. S. Department of Health and Welfare for 30 years, where he had been adminstrator of more than 40 hospitals and took a large financial cut in salary to accept his present position with the Methodist church.

Immediately following the program a board meeting was held

Mike Fouty Is Zone Winner in PPK Competition

Mike Fouty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fouty of 13225 Old US-12, Chelsea, 8 years old, has been named a zone winner in the Punt Pass & Kick Competition.

Fouty is one of 54 finalists named in the nine zones in the Detroit District.

The District Championship Competition will be held at 1 p.m. next Saturday, Oct. 29, at the University of Detroit Football Stadium located on the U. of D. campus at Livernois and W. McNichols in northwestern Detroit.

Finalists are to check in at the U. of D. Stadium between 12 and 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29.

Mike is the first zone winner from Chelsea since the competition has been held here. Palmer Motor Sales and the Chelsea Jaycees sponsored the local competition. Mike was selected as the winner when his score was compared with the scores of other boys in his age group throughout the zone.

Home from Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Willis of Grass Lake returned Oct. 17 from a three-week tour of Europe. They flew to Rome, where they met their son, Richard, an Ensign in the Navy stationed at Sigonella, Sicily, then toured Italy, Germany, Austria, Belgium, England, Holland, and Switzerland, before returning home from Rome.

Story Hour for Kiddies Slated by McKune Library

McKune Memorial Library will again be having a Story Hour for pre-school children beginning Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 10 a.m.

It is necessary to limit attendance to 20 or 25 children and only those age 3 and 4 are eligible to attend. Mrs. Kathleen Bernath will be Story Lady again this year with stories and records especially for this age.

Story Hour will be presented each Wednesday from Nov. 2 to March 2.

Cars Demolished But Drivers Only Slightly Injured

Two cars were totally demolished Saturday at the intersection of Old US-12 and Main St. near the Stop and Shop supermarket.

The accident occurred as Ralph Wesley Steinhelfer of 738 S. Main was making a left turn onto Old US-12. Freeman, who was driving a 1966 Cadillac convertible, said he was unable to stop in time and struck Stinehelfer's 1962 Falcon broadside.

Both drivers told Chelsea policemen they were traveling approximately 35 miles per hour at the time of the collision. Both were treated at the Chelsea Medical Clinic for minor injuries.

Damage estimated at approximately $500 resulted Tuesday noon on Jackson St. in the vicinity of Daniels Motor Sales. The accident occurred when a gas tanker driven by George Guston Schultz of Richmond, owner of Schultz Oil Distributors of Stockbridge, was driving down Jackson St. The mirror on the right-hand side of the cab became entangled with the swinging bar of a car carrier parked in the parking area across from Daniels Motor Sales.

Driver of the car carrier, which had just been unloaded and was parked at the time of the accident, was Kenneth W. Crowe of Mason, a driver for Commercial Driveway Inc. Crowe said he was closing the tailgate when his carrier was struck.

As a result the right window of the gas tanker cab was smashed, the cab dented and pushed to one side. The swinging bar was also ripped from the carrier.

Lance Corporal Frank White is at Camp Pendleton, Calif., awaiting transfer on Nov. 9 to Okinawa. Mrs. White, the former Jeannene Rowe, will be living at 18530 Bush Rd., while he is overseas. Lance Corporal White was previously stationed at Camp LeJeune, N.C.

Junior High Gridders Still Undefeated

The Chelsea Junior High football team won their fourth straight game last Wednesday as they defeated Dundee, 28-0, on the home field.

The winners started slowly and had only a 7-0 lead at half-time, before getting untracked to dominate the second half. Quarterback Jim Wojcicki scored twice on runs of 10 yards on a QB keeper play and a 65-yard punt return.

Fullback Tim Ortbring was the leading ground gainer plus scoring two touchdowns on runs of five and 20 yards.

Dale Robbins, backing up the line, played a strong game on defense and made numerous hard, clean tackles. Jim Wojcicki also turned in a good defensive game.

The Bullpups will attempt to close out an undefeated, unscored upon season against Saline, Wednesday, Oct. 26 at Saline.

Kiddies Party For Halloween Slated Monday

Trick or Treat For UNICEF Set From 5 to 6:30

Mrs. James Shadoan, chairman of the Chelsea "Trick or Treat for UNICEF," announced that the 1966 drive will take place next Monday evening, Oct. 31, between the hours of 5 and 6:30 p.m.

Collection center for the drive will be the foyer of the Methodist church parish educational unit. Children are to turn in the boxes at the church before reporting to the Junior High school for to Kiwanis sponsored activities.

The orange and black official collection boxes will be distributed Sunday through the various Sunday schools and are also available at the McKune Memorial Library.

The local drive is sponsored by the Chelsea Area United Church Women.

Created in 1946 as a temporary fund to aid children in nations devastated by World War II, the U.N. International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) was renamed the U.S. Children's Fund in 1950 when it switched from emergency to long-range projects. In 1953 it became a permanent organization.

UNICEF does not operate projects directly, but makes grants in the form of supplies or stipends to nationally-sponsored projects. A recipient government must mate aid by providing staff, buildings, and locally available supplies, usually equal to about $2.50 for every $1.00 spent by UNICEF.

From its inception, UNICEF has concentrated on combating disease and malnutrition by providing drugs and insecticides, medical equipment, and protein-rich foods. In India, for example, an intensive health drive was undertaken, with a goal of one primary health center with three sub-centers for every 100 villages (about 65,000 people).

UNICEF extended its scope in 1962 to include education mostly training for primary teachers, although experiments in agricultural and vocational training are being conducted. UNICEF's role in comprehensive community development includes child-care training and aid to alleviate social dislocation in urban areas.

The children's fund is made up of voluntary contributions from governments and individuals, to help children all over the world. The United States government pledges are subject to the condition that the actual U. S. contribution shall not exceed fixed percentages of the total government contributions to UNICEF; in 1961 the percentage was 46 percent, in 1962 the figure was 44 percent. Over the years, more than 85 percent of the U. S. contribution to

Costume Judging To Be Done at Junior High Gym

The Kiwanis Halloween Party will get underway Monday evening, Oct. 31, beginning at the Junior High school gym following the 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. UNICEF and village trick or treat period.

Charles Lancaster will serve as chairman of the 1966 Kiwanis Halloween Party.

Children are to come to the Junior High school to assemble for the parade, have their costumes judged, and to receive their noisemakers. The parade is scheduled to leave the school at 7 p.m. and will go up Main St., to East Middle St., back to East St. and then to the village parking lot.

Music will be provided by the seventh and eighth grade bands and cider and donuts will be furnished by the Kiwanis Club.

Highlighting the evening will be the announcement of the most comical, most original, spookiest and most typical halloween costumes, which will be made at 8:30 p.m.

Lite-A-Bike Program Set For Sunday

VFW Post 4076, Chelsea, is announcing Lite-A-Bike Day to be held Sunday, Oct. 30 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Fire Hall on W. Middle St. They will be assisted by the firemen and members of the auxiliary firemen.

Last year 40 of Michigan's young people were killed in some 3,000 bike car accidents. In five months of this year bike injuries and accidents are up more than 50 percent.

To make bikes more easily identifiable, especially in twilight and after-dark hours, reflective tape placed on the bikes will be a positive step toward bike safety, according to Police Chief John Palmer.

Don Baldwin, village president, has endorsed this program of bike taping as there are approximately 950 bike owners in Chelsea. The Lite-A-Bike program is also being promoted by the Michigan State Police.

Reflective tape kits are made available by the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. and will be given free of charge to all persons with bicycles.

Young people and adults are asked to bring their bikes to the Fire Hall where the reflective tape will be applied. Those not able to bring their bikes are asked to bring their registration to receive their kit.

COMMUNITY CHEST BENEFICIARIES: In above photos, Chelsea residents will recognize ple they know who are working with and parating in several of the different agencies that Chelsea Community Chest helps to support. h the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts have been ted $2,100 of the current campaign to support ncil administrative services in turn support troops and insure the high standards of training good citizenship expected of Cub Scouts, Boy uts and Eagle Scouts as well as the Brownies the Girl Scouts. The Chelsea Social Service will ve $2,200 to help maintain emergency services stitute families and individuals in the Chelsea . The Chelsea Area Recreation Council will re- e $5,000 which covers activities for children during the summer, adult education programs throughout the winter and also helps support the Senior Citizens group. This agency is another where all the benefit is derived by people in this area. The increase in monies requested this year for the different agencies represents approximately five percent over last year, and yet the persons receiving benefits from the different agencies have increased much more than that, according to Community Chest spokesmen. When the solicitor calls, residents are urged to be ready and willing to give, as nearly all have benefited from these agencies either directly or indirectly. The drive, now in its second week, has a goal of $19,875. By Monday evening, 16 percent of the goal had been reached.

CONSTRUCTION OF CHELSEA MEDICAL CENTER began symbolically Sunday, Oct. 23, with groundbreaking ceremonies on the site at 4 p.m. Participating in ceremonies were, from left; Dr. Bruce Stubbs, Dr. James Botsford, both of whom will have offices in the new medical office building; Dr. Otto K. Engelke, Washtenaw county health director; Dr. Edwin H. Place, representing the Washtenaw County Medical Association; Donald Bacon, who acted as the official ground-breaker; Mrs. Bacon; Donald Baldwin, Chelsea village president; the Rev. John Fall, who gave the invocation; Herbert Hinz, who cleared the property; Arthur Lindauer, architect; Dr. Michael Papo, who will have his medical offices in the center, and who has done much of the orgaizational work to make the center possible; Robert Kendall and John Hungerford, both of Hungerford Construction Co., who will construct the center. The three buildings on which construction will begin are a medical office building, a pharmacy, and a dental office building. Continental Assurance Co. of Chicago and the Chelsea Medical Clinic Ltd. Trust Fund are financing the venture.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

The Michigan State Highway Department should have its knuckles rapped for the way it has handled repairs on the Huron River Bridge (M-14 and US-23) north of Ann Arbor. It has given two bidders repair jobs to a contractor unable to work on both at the same time. The other bridge is on I-94 over the Grand River at Jackson.

Repair work was started in early August with noisy pneumatic drills working late at night that I had to explain, also of protest from area residents wanting me to contact the Highway Department. Next all work stopped and for several weeks no workmen were in evidence on the bridge. Meanwhile traffic was narrowed down to one lane, signs were poorly placed and several accidents have occurred. The bridge approaches are definitely dangerous driving at present. The Highway Department started this work and left the bridge in this unfinished state shortly before 35,000 students started their fall terms at the University of Michigan. The crippled highway is also of very limited value in handling the intensely heavy football traffic during the fall season.

I have protested to you to the Director of the State Highway Department and urged speed-up to restore normal traffic conditions. I received a lengthy and explicit letter from the Department's Chief Construction Engineer indicating reasons for the changes in plans. I quote from the Department's letter to me: "... it is necessary to place a special adhesive on the concrete surface ... which is adversely affected by low temperature conditions." ... the determination was made in early September to complete concrete work on the structure itself and the lay application of the adhesive until spring."

You may recall that I urged continued efforts to complete the repair work on a bridge carrying I-94 traffic over the Grand River on the northern edge of Jackson. The reopening of work on the Jackson project undoubtedly dictated the contractor's effort on the Ann Arbor structure, but at the same time it should be realized that both these bridges are more than 50 years old and both these bridges are the only ones north of Ann Arbor that both these [illegible] Metropolitan [illegible] Detroit.

Certainly the Highway Department should have enough engineering knowledge to understand problems surrounding expressway bridges without having to find out through trial and error. The Department letter indicates that some of "the construction procedures are experimental in nature." All the more reason to do one highway at a time.

I am calling for a Legislative investigation into the conditions surrounding the awards of highway repair contracts. There are many questions legislators will want answered. Certainly pending such clarification I have no intention of supporting higher gas and weight taxes for the Highway Department.

I urge all motorists using the Huron River Bridge north of Ann Arbor to use the utmost caution and thus minimize further accidents. It would be tragic to have a fatal accident. I hope the Department will still be able to restore normal driving conditions before the suggested date of Nov. 10.

The New Look

Will reform be the order of the year in the 1967 legislative session? Is income tax a likelihood?

Gubernatorial candidates and several other sources openly described the urgent need for tax reform during the campaign. Indications are an income tax of some kind will be included in any forthcoming recommendations.

Legislative reform itself also is in the making. Democratic majority spokesmen this year named a special unit to update the lawmaking process. The committee's recommendations will be due in 1967.

Constitutional sections which haven't functioned up to expectations are likely to be changed during the coming biennium. Even the most prominent members of the convention which wrote the 1963 Constitution noted several deficiences in their work, noticeable only through actual use of the document.

Filling judicial vacancies and apportioning the state legislature seem to be the most pressing areas of concern for constitutional reform.

Most legislative revisions undertaken will be mechanical or semi-technical in nature, relating to the inner process of making laws and hardly noticeable to anyone other than those who closely follow the activity in Lansing.

Public concern will be centered on the reform to be urged in the area of taxation.

Some other ideas, such as getting more federal funds or issuing bonds for specific purposes, have been proposed but generally are regarded as inadequate to meet the forthcoming demands for funding services.

Spotlight will again focus on basic ideas already presented a number of times under the administrations of John B. Swainson and George Romney: fiscal reform based on use of a state income tax.

Public reaction to this proposal has softened somewhat in the years it has been openly discussed.

Most officials agree strong opposition still exists. Several of the most vocal elements of the state community have changed positions, however, and there are indications that ballot-box repercussions against an income tax will be considerably less a factor in the 1967 deliberations.

Cold Talk

First frosts of the year bring worries about saving the fall plantings. They should cause concern about saving the population.

Squeals of delight greet the early snows and children who live near bodies of water can hardly wait for ice to give them a new form of exciting activity.

State Police warn early winter ice may look thick and safe enough to walk and slide on but actually may be too thin to hold up under a youngster's weight.

Parents must teach caution against venturing on ice the same as they teach safety in crossing streets. Ice on deep bodies of water should be several inches thick, preferably about four, to assure safety.

Even where safe sliding and salting is evident, emergencies should be provided for; long branches, poles, ropes or a ladder should be handy to reach a person who may break through where ice may be thin.

Children do not hold a monopoly on use of ice-covered water. Hunters, fishermen and others outdoor fans should keep up their guard when using frozen lakes or streams during outings.

Wave Our Flag

Periodically note is made by various authorities to encourage use of Michigan's official flag, which many long-time state residents would not recognize.

Gov. George Romney's office has been attempting to promote recognition of the flag by providing the official banner to Michigan men serving in the armed forces.

Michigan's present flag, in use since 1911, is dark blue with the coat of arms of the state on it. The coat of arms shows two deer flanking a shield bearing the word "Tuebor," or "I will defend." Below the deer is written, in Latin, the state motto, "If you seek a pleasant peninsula, look about you." Above the shield is an eagle with wings outstretched and the federal motto, "E Pluribus Unum" "From many, one."

At various times since the introduction in 1837 of the first state flag, Michigan's standard has shown a soldier and lady with the state seal, a portrait of Michigan's first governor, Stevens T. Mason, and the coat of arms of the United States.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was putting forth some of that footlog and briar patch filosophy in what you might call the large economys ize.

First off, Bug Hookum reported he had saw a piece in the papers where they got a beauty parlor in New York with twin chairs where a boy and girl can come together and git their hair fixed at the same time and in exact the same style.

This brung up a debate amongst the fellers as to whether boys was trying to look like girls or the other way round. Clem Webster won this argument for the men when he reported he had saw where a girl in some town allowed as how she couldn't find nothing to wear on account of the Army Surplus Store had closed down.

Ed Doolittle said he wasn't taking no sides in this matter but he would like to git it in the record that the century-old war of the sexes has final ended in a draw.

Zeke Grubb got the session a little bit shook up when he announced his preacher was thinking about taking a offer from a church in the city. Zeke said the good Parson told his congregation Sunday they was a great shortage of labor in the Lord's vineyard and that saving them rich city sinners was just as much service to the Lord as saving the pore folks and the pay was a heap better.

The Parson is a big favorite at the store, Mister Editor, and it was voted unanimous to send our Senators and our Congressman a petition asking the Great Society to git the Parson worked in somewhere on the Poverty Program, maybe one of them "consultant" jobs that pays $25 a day and where he could just stay here and consult amongst us poverty folks at home, especial at the country store where a heap of consulting is needed.

Speaking of the labor shortage, the feller that runs the store said he had saw where a doctor in South Africa claimed that baboons could be trained to handle just about any kind of unskilled job. This doctor knowed a baboon that works as a porter in a railroad station and another one that drives a farm tractor.

Josh Clodhopper was of the opinion we had ought to import a bunch of them baboons immediate, but I'd come out strong again it. He claimed it wouldn't be six months afore half of them would be on relief and the other half directing the Poverty Program. Farthermore, allowed Ed, it wouldn't be 12 months afore Lyndon had 'em all voting the straight Democratic ticket.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

The Bulldogs came from behind in the third quarter to tie the game, 7-all and tallied in the fourth quarter to defeat Lincoln, 13-7, on their own field last Friday.

The 1952 ingathering of the Needlework Guild was a great success in the estimation of all who were concerned in the work. A surprising interest was shown by members of the community and considering that this is the first year of the organization here, the results were all that could be hoped for, directors of the project stated. Approximately 450 garments were contributed. Mrs. William Geddes was chairman of the ingathering. Mrs. H. T. Moore is president of the Needlework Guild here and Mrs. D. Gadbery is secretary. The garments will be distributed to the needy.

Two more cases of polio have been reported. They are Teddy Pickelsimer, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Pickelsimer, and James Rudd, four and one-half years old, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Walz of Cavanaugh Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Proctor were honored Sunday on their 50th wedding anniversary.

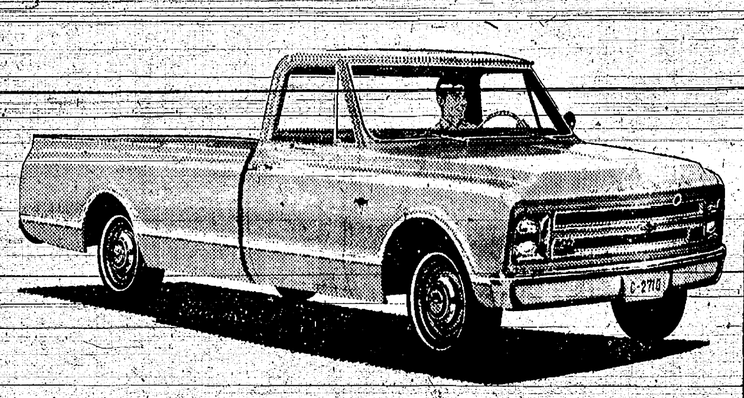
TRY
THE WORLD'S TOUGHEST 2-DOOR



This new Chevy pickup looks so good you could call it a 2-door. (You could also call it the toughest Chevy pickup ever built!)

This Fleetside pickup's got a lot more than good looks going for you.

It's got new construction to bring you more durability, working ease, comfort and safety. Check that new all-steel pickup box, for example. New full double-wall side panels and tailgate keep your load from leaving its mark on Chevy's good looks. And new measures have been taken to help keep out rust and corrosion, like the one-piece wheelhousings that now protect sheet metal against tire splash.

Inside, the color-keyed cab looks and feels like a pleasant place to work. There are a number of new safety features, too: an energy-absorbing steering wheel and a dual master cylinder brake system, to name two.

And here's another thing the new Chevy pickup's got going for you: it rides better than some cars. Choose from 26 Fleetside and Stepside models now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Blood Bank Clinic . . .

The purpose of setting up donor requirements is two-fold to adequately protect the donor's health and welfare and to provide a safe bottle of blood for transfusion.

Mrs. Holmes is urging private blood donors not connected with factories to call her at home, 479-2181, for appointments. The clinic will not close down between 1 and 2 p.m. as it has in the past, but this period will be a "slow down" time, she said.

The Detroit Regional Operating Unit, which has an eighteen facility, will conduct the Chelsea Blood Clinic.

Contrary to a popular notion, oil companies do not earn enormous profits, according to the publication Oil Facts. It quotes a study by the First National City Bank of New York covering 2,300 manufacturing firms of all kinds. The average return on net worth for 1965 was 13.8 percent, compared to 11.9 percent for oil companies.

Gridders of the Week

SENIOR BOB SMITH, wearing jersey number 66, plays in the end position on the varsity squad. He is 5'11", weighs 165 pounds, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Jr., 6693 Lingane Rd., Chelsea. Bob represented Chelsea High school last year at Wolverine Boys' State, plays the French horn in the High school band; served as the manager for the baseball team. He has been active in the Catholic Youth Organization and played on the Junior Varsity football squad for two years. Mike Harvey, number 33, is a sophomore, weighs in at 170 pounds, measures 5'11" and plays fullback. He was the catcher on the varsity baseball team last spring and also played in the summer league baseball. He enjoys fishing and outdoor sports, including hunting; serves on the CHS Student Council; is a member of St Mary's Catholic church and a graduate of St. Mary's school. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey of 13119 Old US-12.

Autumn Is Prime Hunting, Fishing Time in Michigan

Lansing — The pursuit of small game, the anticipation of big game trophies, the honking of big birds on the migratory flyways and the thrashing of scrappy trout in swift-moving streams make autumn a big season for sportsmen in Michigan.

Warm, hazy days and pleasantly cool nights, virtually free of summer insects, and a spectacular array of gold, bronze, red, brown and scarlet splashed across the state's more than 19 million acres of forestland add to enjoyment of the season.

Fishermen who put away rod and tacklebox with the first sign of autumn miss one of Michigan's finest fishing seasons, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Although the regular trout season closed in mid-September, many lakes and streams throughout the state are open for an extended season on rainbows and browns, continuing through Nov. 30. Bass, pike, walleyes and panfish are also legal during the autumn months.

A big bonus this year is Michigan's first season on coho salmon. Some 800,000 fingerlings were planted early this year and several jumbo catches have already been reported.

Hunters swing into action Oct. 1 with the start of the bear season in the Upper Peninsula, bow and arrow deer hunting throughout the state and the small game season in the northern two-thirds of the state. Small game hunting in the southern third of the state begins Oct. 20.

Geese will come under fire Oct. 1-Nov. 3 in the northern two-thirds of Michigan and Oct. 10-Nov. 30 in the southern third while woodcock will be fair game Oct. 1-Nov. 10 in the northern two-thirds and Oct. 25-Nov. 18 in the southern third.

The season on ducks, coot, rail, teal and Wilson snipe is Oct. 10-Nov. 23.

The evasive wild turkey will be legal game Nov. 2-10 for special license holders in parts of Allegan, Lake, Newaygo, Oceana and Mason counties and on Beaver Island, and the quail season is set for Nov. 11-15 in 21 lower Michigan counties.

The Michigan firearm deer season opens Nov. 12 in the Upper Peninsula and Nov. 19 in lower Michigan, continuing through Nov. 27 and Dec. 4, respectively.

By comparison, hunting and fishing licenses are a bargain in Michigan. A resident small game license is $3 and a non-resident is $20. A small game license, plus a $3 federal migratory bird stamp, is required of persons 16 or over for hunting ducks and geese.

A firearm deer license is $5 for residents and $35 for non-residents, a bow and arrow deer license is $5 for residents and $15 for non-residents, and a deer-for-camp permit costs $10.

Annual fishing licenses are $2 for residents and $5 for non-residents. A non-resident, 15-day license, 15 days from the date of issue, is $1. Trout stamps are $2 and must be affixed to fishing licenses.

Licenses may be purchased at Michigan Department of Conservation offices, most sporting goods stores and at other outlets throughout the state. Federal migratory waterfowl stamps are available at post offices.

A parents or guardian must apply for hunting licenses for minors under 17 and these young hunters must be accompanied in the field by someone 17 or over. Minors under 14 may not hunt deer with a gun, but may hunt with a bow and arrow if they have a bow and arrow deer license.

With few exceptions, a fishing license is required of all persons who have passed their 17th birthday. No license is required of wives of resident anglers.

Free information on hunting and fishing in Michigan, including a listing of designated trout and coho waters, may be obtained by writing Hunting and Fishing, Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION .....

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

★ World's Greatest Gamblers . . .

Michigan farmers have their eyes on Las Vegas.

By the dozen they are hustling to get major farmwork out of the way, and to make sure they have arranged needed temporary help. Soon, by train and plane and private car, they will be edging westward to the glittering city in Nevada's desert. Some suggest they are going because farmers are the world's greatest gamblers. But pulling them is the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Dec. 4-8. This 48th annual session of the big farm group is expected to draw about 7,000 farm and ranch people from 49 states and Puerto Rico, among them 100 or more from Michigan.

Some family and neighborhood groups are going, eager for sight of the West, a glimpse of the "wicked" city and best of all a chance to meet and mingle with thousands of other farm folk like themselves.

The farmers will follow good company, for recent conventions in Las Vegas included the American Dental Association, the National Automobile Dealers and the National Chamber of Commerce.

While there they will meet and hear distinguished, nationally-known speakers, such men as Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and former Vice-President Richard Nixon. Some will wonder at the significance, if any, of Nixon's presence as a major speaker, and may think back to their Miami meeting when a young Senator by the name of John Kennedy spoke to them, followed a few years later by a man with the unlikely name of Hubert Horatio Humphery.

Why a farm meeting in Las Vegas? For one thing, legalized gambling has produced a number of side-benefits, among them unusually reasonable hotel and food prices. The casino people have long worked on the theory that getting the crowd there is more than half the battle. People in numbers, they reason, will keep the wheels spinning and the "house" percentage up.

Not that the farmers will add much to their coffers. In the words of one Michigan convention delegate, "Farming is already the greatest gamble in the world. I gamble thousands of dollars every time I put seed in the ground. No little wheel can match that kind of excitement."

It is not the number of hours you put in—it's what you put in the hours that counts.

REMOVING FURNITURE SPOTS

White spots on furniture caused by water, heat or alcohol may be removed with a liquid cleaning and polishing wax. For persistent spots, dampen a cloth with one of the following: oil of peppermint, a few drops of ammonia, or a paste of boiled or raw linseed oil and rottenstone or pumice stone. Rub carefully, with the grain.

1,999 Pounds Of Milk Goes Down Drain

A total of 1,999 pounds of milk went down the drain at the Douglas Stark dairy farm Friday evening.

The milk, which represented three milkings from Stark's herd of 51 dairy cows, was lost when vandals opened the valve on the milk cooler located in the Stark milk house. The valve is located at the bottom of the tank directly over a drain.

Stark said that everything was in order at 6:30 p.m., but that his mother, Mrs. William Stark, reported hearing a car go past their home, located at 3600 Rentz Rd., sounding its horn, at approximately 11:30 p.m. Stark's dairy farm is located at 3661 Rentz Rd.

This is not the first time Stark has been bothered by vandals. He said that once before vandals had opened two gates and let his herd out onto the road, and that at that time the vandals also sounded their automobile horn as they sped away.

Stark has no insurance to cover the loss, which he estimated at approximately $125.

The door to the milk house, where the storage tank is located, must be left unlocked for state officials to enter and inspect, Stark said. The vandals thus were able to gain access to his milk cooler.

When the vandalism was discovered Saturday morning, Stark called the Washtenaw County Sheriff's office. He said that he hoped the officers would take fingerprints of the valve, which he had left untouched, but that the officers did not do so.

Gridders of the Week

THREE SOPHOMORES who have been contributing to the Chelsea varsity squad this season are Roy Holiday, number 56, Gary Ellenwood, number 25, and Mike Schnaidt, jersey number 20. Roy, 5'11", 155-pound end, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Holiday of 19636 Ivey Rd. Gary is 5'11", 175 pounds, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ellenwood of 201 Buchanan. Both Gary and Roy are ends and played on the offensive line in the Friday evening encounter with Lincoln. Due to an injury, Roy was unable to participate in football last year. Among his other activities are the Chelsea High school band, in which he plays the snare drums, and the Id's, a dance band group. He is a member of the Hi-Y Club and the Chelsea Baptist church. Roy also played on the freshman basketball team last year. Gary is an all-around sportsman, participating in football, basketball and track, where he ran the 440-relay and participated in the high jump, as well as all kinds of outdoor sports, including fishing and hunting. He is a member of the Methodist church and worked during the summer at the Sharon Hills Riding Stable. Gary, a former Cub and Boy Scout, was also selected to attend the Michigan United Conservation Camp this past summer in Ludington. Mike, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Schnaidt of 650 Island Lake Rd., is 5'10", weighs 155 pounds, and plays in the halfback position as well as being a substitute quarterback. He has been out of practice with minor injuries much of the season. Last year Mike played on the Junior Varsity team and freshman basketball team, where he played in the center position, was moved to the Junior Varsity team later in the season. He is a graduate of St. Mary's school and is a member of St. Mary's Catholic church, has been active in the Catholic Youth Organization. Mike has a special interest in mechanical drawing and art.

Kiwanians Prepare for Pancake Supper . . .

at which time the application for membership in the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea of Edwin J. Oram was unanimously accepted.

Guests introduced at the meeting were Oram and the Rev. Edwin J. Weiss, former member now a member of Ann Arbor Club.

William Freeman announced the annual Ladies Night Christmas Party to be held at the Methodist church on Dec. 5.

Don Turner announced that he, Floyd Fowler, Anton Nielsen and Walter Zeeb planned to attend the Pinckney Kiwanis Club meeting on Oct. 25.

Kiwanians are to meet at the Junior High gymnasium next Monday evening at 6:30 p.m. to perform the duties on the various committees of the Kiwanis Halloween party.

Motion was made and passed that after this date Kiwanis membership fees will be $15.

The Kiwanis club will meet at the High school cafeteria on Nov. 7 for the annual pancake supper. William Rademacher, chairman of the supper, made the following committee assignments.

Anton Nielsen, James Shadoan, K.C. Runciman, sausage; Walter Zeeb, C. WATERLOO

Sunday supper, guests at the home of Mrs. Eva Barber were Mrs. Helen Berry and Mrs. Young of Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Barber of Stockbridge and Mr. Wendell Blikken of Ann Arbor also were visitors. On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marquies and children, of Clear Lake, were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neuhoff and children, of Girard, O., were week-end guests at the home of her brother, Willis Schulz and family.

The Waterloo Village EUB church is very happy to report a fine attendance at their turkey supper last week. Guests came from Jackson, Munith, Stockbridge, Chelsea and surrounding communities.

If you are buying a water closet for your bathroom, there are three things to keep in mind: (1) How well it functions mechanically, (2) how easy it is to maintain, and (3) how it looks. The siphon-jet type, with an elongated bowl flushes quietly, costs little more than the cheapest kind on the market.

Don Johnson Will Receive High Award

Donald R. Johnson, Washtenaw county Extension agricultural agent, will receive the Distinguished Service Award of the National County Agricultural Agents Association at the association's annual meeting in Honolulu, Hawaii, early next month.

Johnson will be one of three Michigan agents receiving the award. The other two are John W. Baker, Ithaca, and Karl E. Larson, Sault Ste. Marie.

Johnson has served Michigan Agricultural through the Michigan Co-operative Extension Service for 19 years. He was in Genesee county for several years as 4-H club agent before going to Washtenaw county. He is only the second agricultural agent to serve Washtenaw county in the 50 years of the Michigan Co-operative Extension program.

Johnson was cited for his work with local leaders in coordinating the sale of the old fairgrounds and making use of the funds to build a new activities center which gives farmers, rural youths, and homemakers a modern center for meetings, shows and other events.

His co-operation with other county officials and with his staff of Extension workers has given Washtenaw county a diversified, co-ordinated and effective Extension program which is aided by numerous advisory councils of local people.

Johnson earned both the BS and MS degrees at Michigan State University. All three of the award winners were recognized at the annual awards banquet during the Michigan Co-operative Extension Service Conference at MSU on Tuesday.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

PACK 415

Cub Scout Pack 415 met on Oct. 25 at 7 p.m. at Chelsea High school cafeteria. The meeting opened with a flag ceremony conducted by Den 4. The new cub master, Cecil Clouse, was made chief and presented his headdress by Carmer Slocum, assistant district commissioner.

The theme for the October meeting was Cub Scout Vaudeville. Skits were presented by Dens 1, 4 5.

Awards given went to the following boys:

Bob Cat Pins: Nick Keiser, Donnie White, Dennis Bauer, Mark Seyfried and Timothy Etick.

Two-Year Perfect Attendance Bars: Paul Case and John Beeman.

Two-Year Pins: Thomas Hepburn, Carmer Slocum, Paul Case and Johnnie Beeman.

One-Year Pin: Douglas Schortenboard.

Rocket kits were given to the boys for their fathers to help assemble for the November 22 Pack Meeting at Chelsea High school cafeteria.

Den I won the "cubbie" for this month.

Cub Scout training sessions will be held on Monday evenings at the Methodist Church in Ann Arbor. The Cub Scout football game will be Nov. 12. Members are to be at gate 9 at the University stadium in Ann Arbor at 12:30 p.m. At least one adult from each den must accompany the boys, and the cubs are to wear their complete uniforms or no uniforms at all.

A Recognition Dinner will be held Nov. 29 at Kenny Hall in Ypsilanti. A meeting will be held Nov. 1 at the Carmer Slocum home, 325 Cavanaugh Lake, at 7:30 p.m.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Advertising and a public relations program represent a problem for any business; especially in ours.

We can't say certain things and we wouldn't if we could. Yet, as your friends and neighbors, we want you to know us; to know our beliefs in times of joy and happiness as well as in times of sorrow and despair.

Through the years, we have cherished many soul-inspiring thoughts expressed to us by countless friends. We would like to share these thoughts with you so we plan to relay them to you through this column every week. We hope you gain from them as we did . . .

Many of you already know us. To all of you, to those who know us, to those who don't, this column is dedicated to the purpose of sharing the good thoughts in life. You will like the thoughts you read here every week. BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 E. Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-4141.

AMMUNITION FOR MICHIGAN MINUTEMEN

Be a Michigan Minuteman.

Take a minute to talk or write to someone about Michigan's glorious history.

Here are a few dates worth remembering and telling:

1669—Adrien Jolliet became the first white man to travel the Lower Peninsula.

1701—Antoine de Lamothe Cadillac selected site of Fort Pontchartrain. It became Detroit.

1760—French rule ended in Detroit with surrender of the fort to the British.

1774 —First civil government was established in Michigan territory.

1781 — The Spanish flag was raised over Fort St. Joseph, now the site of Niles.

1792—First elections were held in Michigan.

1796 — The British evacuated Detroit, and the county of Wayne was created encompassing all of today's Michigan except the western Upper Peninsula. It also covered areas now in northern Ohio and Indiana.

1805 — Michigan Territory was carved out of Indiana Territory. Detroit was named the seat of government.

1819 — Michigan sent its first delegate to Congress.

1828 — The Territorial Capital was opened in Detroit.

1837 — MICHIGAN WAS ADMITTED TO THE UNION.

1840—Michigan's population was counted at 212,267.

1844 — Iron ore was discovered in the Upper Peninsula.

1847 — A law was passed moving the state capitol to Lansing.

1871 — Compulsory school attendance law passed.

1896 — The first automobiles appeared in Detroit.

1900 — Our population stood at 2,420,982.

1910 — Michigan's first primary election was held.

1929 — The Ambassador bridge linked Detroit and Windsor.

1957 — The Mackinac Bridge opened, linking the two peninsulas.

1962—A new state constitution was adopted.

MICHIGAN CAN BOAST 1,200 MILES OF FREEWAY

Michigan has more than 1,200 miles of border-to-border freeway and more than 6,000 miles of recently upgraded two-lane state highway, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. Except for the Mackinac Bridge, linking the upper and lower peninsulas, all Michigan highways are toll free.

Bendix Executive Seeks Post On Community College Board

A. J. (Tony) PROCASSINI

A. J. (Tony) Procassini, Director of Industrial Relations for Bendix Systems Division, has announced his candidacy for a two-year term on the Board of Trustees of the Washtenaw County Community College.

Procassini was a candidate for the initial Board in 1964, when the proposals for the Community College was presented and approved. With six trustees being elected from a field of 39 candidates, Procassini ran seventh.

For the past four years, Procassini has served as an officer on the Ann Arbor City Council's Economic Development and Manpower Commission. He currently is chairman of this group. He was chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee to study citizen's survey on the need for a Community College. Previously he had participated extensively in the Chamber of Commerce's original survey on the possible need for a Community College. Procassini has been active in the Chamber of Commerce for the past 10 years and is currently serving on the Educational Committee.

Procassini was a member of the nucleus of engineers, scientists, and managers which established the Bendix Systems Division in Ann Arbor for The Bendix Corporation in 1956. Recently appointed Director of Industrial Relations, he is responsible for all aspects of employment, training, labor relations, manpower planning, and wage and salary administration.

Teachers Camp Out on Week-End Canoeing Trip

Six Dexter High school and Wylie teachers spent last week-end canoeing on the Manistique River.

James Phelps, James Hollister, David Millar, Paul Cousins, Harold Samuelson and Bill Brayn left Dexter after the football game last Friday and returned Sunday afternoon.

They traveled a total of 58 miles by canoe observing many forms of wildlife along the way and camped overnight near the river in 35 degree temperatures.

For the second year in succession one of their party narrowly escaped a wild shot by a hunter in the area. All agreed that it was a hunter's wild shot and not the poor aim of a "student" disgruntled over the report cards issued last Thursday.

Two Michigan waterways, the Detroit River and the shipping canal at Sault Ste. Marie, rank first and second, respectively, as the world's busiest waterways. Great Lakes freighters and cruise ships can be easily viewed from the shores of both waterways.

Wes Vivian Dinner Draws 1,000 Guests

Some 1,000 guests attended the annual Second Congressional District-Wes Vivian Testimonial Dinner held in Dundee Saturday night. They heard the Honorable Stewart L. Udall, U. S. Secretary of the Interior, praise the achievements of the 89th Congress, which he described as "the Climax Congress" for its landmark legislation in the field of education, water and air pollution control, medicare, civil rights and housing.

Udall praised Vivian as "not only not a rubber-stamp Congressman, but one of the very few first-term Congressmen who has a leadership role in passing major national legislation." He said that when the President advised the suspension of the business investment tax credit, Vivan "embarrassed the Administration" by leading the successful fight for the continuance of the tax credit for the installation of pollution control equipment.

Stressing his continuing campaign for the "new conservation," Udall osberved, "we are a prosperous country today, but an unclean country, plagued by unclean water and unclean air." The new issues facing Congress Udall said, are the "quality issues" —the quality of our education, of our cities and houses, and of our environment."

In his remarks, Vivian also discussed the domestic achievements of the Congress, but then commented that "there are those persons in Washington today who would say 'look inward only.' They are the latter day isolationists. And they are wrong. We must seek not to dominate nor to control the economic markets of less fortunate nations; rather we must help them build to their economic capacities," he said.

A HARD HEAD

Pomona, Calif. — After quieting some noisy teen-agers in a stalled car, Police Officer W. A. Kusch drove away noticing a bump like he had driven over a rock. The rock was a 15-year-old boy's head. Hospital authorities said he was not injured.

School Food Service Managers, Cooks Meet At Dexter High School

A Washtenaw County School Food Service Association meeting was held at Dexter High school Oct. 11.

Miss Marie (Toni) Krausman, Food Purchasing Agent for the Garden City Food Co., Inc. gave a demonstration and talk on food costs in the school lunch program especially on meats and quick desserts.

Seventy-five managers and cooks attended the meeting. Mrs. Magdalen Ulrich, Dexter's food manager, said the Dexter merchants and the Detroit Edison contributed prizes and food purveyors.

Each guest brought a homemade Christmas decoration which were displayed and generated much conversation.

ESCH'S RECORD PROVES ACTION!

Attendance statistics are not the true measure of legislative effectiveness ...Marv Esch's record in Lansing is one of accomplishment.

Marv Esch has worked to provide a new standard of education in Michigan.

★ sponsor of ESC—school aid bill (P.A. 199) which set a new standard for state aid to local districts (over 524 million)

★ sponsor of recodification act (P.A. 331) which established the blueprint for our community college system in the next decade.

Marv Esch has worked on juvenile problems

★ sponsor of the bill (P.A. 279) to bring a new probate judge to Washtenaw County to aid in the solution of juvenile problems.

Marv Esch has worked for Senior Citizens

★ sponsor of bill (P.A. 245) to establish Institute of Gerontology (study of aging) to develop new and improved programs to help senior citizens.

Marv Esch has worked for students

★ sponsor of P.A. 103 and 276 which improved statewide college scholarship program providing 11,000 students with $7,350,000.

★ sponsor of P.A. 60 which expanded student loan programs.

Marv Esch has worked for the working man

★ minority leader on workmen's compensation act which gives Michigan working men the best compensation program in the nation.

★ sponsor of P.A. 18 which prohibits strikebreaking in Michigan.

Marv Esch has worked for the farmer

★ sponsored bill to exempt farms from personal property tax.

This is a positive record of action and accomplishment not one of simply pushing a button in accordance with the wishes of some special interest group.

George Romney says this about Stan Thayer

Dear Stan:

"Congratulations upon your nomination to the circuit bench of Washtenaw County in the recent primary election.

"I'm particularly happy to see that your interest in giving continued public service to the citizens of your part of Michigan has not waned. As a member of the Michigan Senate, where you were Majority Leader, and as a member of the Michigan Employment Security Appeal Board, you have exhibited qualities of leadership and conviction too rarely found in areas of public trust.

"These qualities and the many others that have marked your public service career certainly make you highly qualified for a circuit judgeship."

Morgan-Scott Vows Spoken Saturday Night

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday evening, Oct. 22, at the Congregational United Church of Christ, by Effie Morgan and Harold Scott. The Rev. Robert A. J. Livingston officiated at the 8 p.m. double-ring ceremony.

She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Carpenter, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Scott, Sr. of Jackson.

Marie Riemenschneider provided organ music for the ceremony.

Mrs. Scott selected an ice blue floor-length gown of blue silk taffeta designed with princess lines for her bridal gown and carried a bouquet of feathered carnations tipped in ice blue and centered by a white orchid.

Mrs. Ted (Elsie) Balmer of Chelsea was the matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of pink chiffon over taffeta and carried a carnation bouquet feathered with pink and centered with pink rosebuds.

Maynard Scott of Clark Lake, Jackson, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Joel H. Kruse, son-in-law of the bride, Duane Downer and Dennis Johnston, all of Chelsea.

The bridegroom's mother, escorted down the aisle by Charles Fletcher of Jackson, brother-in-law of the bride, selected a navy blue crepe dress with a white carnation and rose corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony at the American Legion Home on Cavanaugh Lake. Mrs. Joel Kruse, daughter of the bride, cut the cake and Mrs. Alma Brown attended the guest book. Mrs. Dennis Johnston poured coffee and Mrs. Duane Downer served punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott are spending a week-long honeymoon at Kentucky Lake in Paducah, Ky. For traveling, Mrs. Scott selected a blue knit suit and wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet. When they return, they will make their home at 131 Dewey St., Chelsea.

Episcopal Church Women Finalize Plans For Christmas Bazaar

Understanding your HEALTH

By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director Michigan Department of Public Health

Another weapon was fored in the battle against measles when the state's local health officers recently endorsed an all-out effort to eradiacte the disease as a significant public health problem in the schools by the spring of 1967.

This latest action in combating measles came as a result of a state health department proposal, which in turn was based on a series of events that occurred this year.

The state legislature, realizing the seriousness of the diseases, added it to the school immunization check-point law stating that entering school children must be vaccinated or bring a signed statement from their parents objecting to the procedure.

In addition, the legislature also provided funds to purchase measles vaccine. And tied in with this is the availability of an effective vaccine which lends itself to use in immunizing large numbers of children in a relatively short period of time.

Now, although the state will set guidelines which will establish schedules and call for the administration of the vaccine in the offices of private practicing physicians and health department clinics, it is envisioned that there will be considerable variation in the exact method chosen by each local health jurisdiction. These variations will take advantage of special problems or resources in each area.

The important thing is that Michigan's health societies have agreed to supplement the fine work which is now being carried on in some health department clinics, and in the offices of private practicing physicians, by an all-out effort to eliminate the backlong of children susceptible to measles.

These new tools will help to control measles, which is anything but the harmless childhood disease that it was once thought to be. Sobering facts show that one in fifteen children who have the disease develop potentially serious complications, such as pneumonia, bronchitles, ear infection, or neurological disturbance. And fifty percent of the children infected develop secondary complications which may lead to general poor health, slow learning, and personality and behavior changes. Measles encephalitis occurs in one of every 1,000 cases, ending fatally in approximately one-fourth of its victims and leaving another third permanently paralyzed or mentally impaired.

On the basis of these facts, I would strongly urge that all children who have not had measles or measles immunization, should be protected against the disease. If your child falls in this category, please consult your family doctor or your local health department right away about immunizing the child.

BLACK PEPPER

America uses almost one-third of all the black pepper ground in the world, even though we have only one-sixteenth of the population. Recognizing America's use of black pepper on salads, steaks and chops manufacturers in recent years have ground black pepper more coarsely than in the past. Today's "normal grind" isn't as fine as it was before World War II, which may explain why some have trouble shaking pepper freely from old-fashioned pepper shakers.

Carl F. Bristle

Dies Oct. 19 Following Automobile-Truck Collision

Carl F. Bristle, 46, of 10993 Braun Rd., Manchester, died Oct. 19, as a result of an automobile-truck collision.

Born Aug. 1, 1920, in Chelsea, he was the son of Emanuel and Christine Prinzing Bristle. He and Betty Evilsizer were married in December, 1949. She survives.

They have lived on a farm near Manchester for the past several years.

Other survivors, in addition to his widow, include four children, all at home. They are David, Debbie, Danny and Diane. His mother, Mrs. Christine Bristle, lives in Ann Arbor. Five brothers also survive—Paul of Clinton, Clarence of Dexter, Elmer and Leroy of Chelsea and Lawrence of Ann Arbor. A sister, Ruth, died in 1947. Several nieces and nephews also survive.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners, with the Rev. C.J. Renner and Pastor A. F.G. Dacachel officiating. Burial followed in Rogers Corners cemetery.

Four Are Injured in Two-Car Collision

Four persons were hurt in a two-car accident on Old US-12 in Lima township this past week-end.

Sheriff's deputies reported that a car driven by Jack Speer, 17, of Chelsea, collided with a vehicle driven by David J. Haas, 36, of Chelsea. Speer, Haas, and two of the Haas children were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

NARTHEG OF ST. PAUL UCC is dominated by tall stained glass window installed at an angle paralleling the roofline. Cornerstones of St. Paul churches built in 1868 and 1892, as well as the cornerstone dedicated in 1965, are incorporated in the poured concrete floor, which has been sanded and polished to a high gloss. To the left of the narthex is a lounge, equipped with light kitchen facilities, where group meetings and receptions may be held. Unfinished hemlock ceiling is found in narthex and lounge areas. Photo was taken from the glass doors which open into adjoining sanctuary. The church administrative wing is located to the right of main doorway, Christian education wing is to the left of the lounge. Architect for the new building is A. James Smith of the Tecumseh firm of Smith & Gardner. The use of poured concrete, primary building material in new structure, is a comparatively new concept in church construction in this country.

quarter Lincoln took over the ball on Chelsea's 49-yard line. Using wedge-type blocking from tackle to tackle Lincoln moved in eight plays to score their third touchdown of the night.

Chelsea's offensive line of Jeff Hitchingham, Chuck Reed, Larry Porath, Mike Lehmann, Tom McGaw, Roy Holiday and Gary Ellenwood did a good job in opening holes for the backfield. Defensively the work of Mike Harvey, Jeff Hitchingham, Lyndon Benjamin and Larry Gaken improved along with secondary of Mark Lancaster, Dan Allen and Kim Flintoft.

Tips from the STOP & SHOP CHEF Questions & Answers

What purpose is served by the use of hard-cooked egg yolks in the making of pastry?

Cooked egg yolk, being mostly fat, enriches pastry and adds color, too. Adding the yolk hard-cooked permits enrichment without increasing the liquid content of the pastry, which would make it necessary to increase the flour content. That, in turn, might well result in a less flaky product.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am a very worried girl. I am in the eighth grade and go to a small school. I have always been considered a pretty cute girl. I used to be very popular and could get any boy I wanted, but something has happened! I am hardly popular any more. What could I have done? Tell me what to do! Do you think boys like girls who walk right up to them and start talking? One girl does that and she seems to be pretty popular. I'm stumped!"

OUR REPLY: There is nothing wrong with a girl walking up to a boy and starting a conversation — if she knows the boy and she has something to say. What she talks about is important, because she will appear foolish if she has nothing on her mind but a lot of nonsense.

You should be able to determine for yourself why your popularity sagged. Did you become too sure of yourself? Were you haughty? Do you treat everyone you meet with consideration? Are you friendly to everyone, or do you speak only when you feel like it?

All things being equal, the most popular girl is the one who is friendly and pleasant. Rate yourself.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

By Lee Smits

Walk-in-the-Water, the first steamboat on the Great Lakes, left Buffalo on May 6, 1820, bound for Detroit on the first run of the season.

Among the passengers were Henry R. Schoolcraft and Captain David B. Douglass on their way to join Lewis Cass, governor of Michigan Territory, on an expedition to the headwaters of the Mississippi. Michigan Territory included all of what are now Michigan and Wisconsin together with part of Minnesota where the Mississippi has its source.

Walk-in-the-Water steamed out into Lake Erie at 9 in the morning and two days later, May 8, docked in Detroit at midnight.

Schoolcraft was much impressed by the flourishing city of Detroit which had a population of 1,415, not counting soldiers and Indians. Schoolcraft had started from New York on March 5, journeying by stage coach, his entire trip, New York to Detroit, taking only 64 days.

One purpose of the Cass-Schoolcraft expedition was to confirm the loyalty of Indian tribes to the United States instead of Britian, which had taken over Canada from the French some 60 years earlier. However, the main idea in Schoolcraft's mind was copper. Copper had been found since pre-historic times along the western end of the Upper Peninsula. There was the report of the huge boulder of solid copper on the Ontonagon river, which Schoolcraft estimated to weigh 2,200 pounds when he got to it, after hundreds of pounds had been chopped off by Indians and white adventurers.

In the era of wooden ships copper was essential to ship-building and most especially to the maintainence of navies.

On May 24 the expedition left Detroit — Schoolcraft and two other "gentlemen," as they were called to distinguish them from the hired hands, travelling as passengers in the big freight canoes of the fur trade; 35 feet long, six feet wide, carrying, with six or eight paddlers and supplies, more than three tons.

At the start, approaching Grosse Pointe, a canoe paddled by French-Canadian voyageurs raced a canoe paddled by Indians. It was quickly demonstrated that the Indians were faster, for a short distance, but that voyageurs were more durable for the long haul.

For 122 days, the expedition bucked the wilderness, travelling some 4,000 miles. From the journals of Schoolcraft and Capt. Douglass, we can form a rough idea of what wildlife populations were like in the Great Lakes region the first half of the last century.

The expedition came upon a band of Indians on Saginaw Bay living largely on wildfowl. Ducks and other game were smoked. Other accounts tell of a settlement of duck-hunting Indians near Tawas. At the mouth of the Au Sable, a camp of Indians had a sturgeon fishery and the explorers were treated to fresh sturgeon.

Passenger pigeons were encountered and harvested. On the shore of Lake Superior a bear was caught in a deadfall.

Schoolcraft regretted that he was unable to spend a week or two surveying the mineral resources of the Ontonagon valley. This was out of the question, he explained, because of the danger of running out of provisions "in a country almost wholly destitute of game."

At no point in the journey from Detroit to the west end of Lake Superior were Whitetail deer encountered, to judge by the daily journal entries. It seems probable that deer, which were abundant in the southern counties when the first settlers arrived, moved into the north about the time pine logging was finished. Old timers in Baraga county and on Drummond Island have told me that there were no deer in those areas until the latter half of the 19th century.

Indian warfare was still going on in 1820. Chippewas had pushed the Sioux westward out of the Upper Peninsula into buffalo country. The name "Sioux" is an abbreviation of a Chippewa word for snake. The Sioux is a Dakota. Fleeing the Chippewa, the Sioux reached the plains, acquired horses and became buffalo hunters. This new way of life transformed them into the most warlike of all the western tribes.

Schoolcraft reports that between Sioux and Chippewa country there was a strip of no-man's land about 200 miles in width, which became virtually a wildlife sanctuary, both Sioux and Chippewa hunters avoiding the region, for the sake of their scalps.

SPOOKY COSTUMES will be seen on the streets of Chelsea next Monday evening, Oct. 31, when Chelsea children will celebrate Halloween by Trick or Treating for UNICEF. The goblins, witches and clowns in this picture who are urging residents of Chelsea to "Help children help children" are, from left, Patrice Villemure, Carrie Taylor, Sandy Shadoan and Cathy Villemure. Patrice and Cathy are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Villemure of 331 Washington St., Carrie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Taylor of 345 Washington, and Sandy is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James D. Shadoan. Mrs. Shadoan is the chairman of the UNICEF drive in Chelsea. This Halloween more than three million American boys and girls will bring hope to the world's needy children by collecting coins for UNICEF, Nobel Peace Prizewinning United Nations Children's Fund.

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

★ On Townships, 1966 Session . . .

TOWNSHIP GARBAGE COLLECTION

PUBLIC ACT 116— provides for the collection of garbage and rubbish, in addition to other public improvements, by townships that assess the whole or a part of the cost against property benefited. The Department of Public Health commented: "The growing population of townships presents the need for some municipal services and refuse collection falls in this category. This amendment will enable townships to provide and finance refuse collection services."

HEATING OR AIR CONDITIONING CODE

PUBLIC ACT 135—authorizes township boards to adopt any standard heating or air conditioning code, or any parts of such a code which has been promulgated by the state, a state department, board or agency, or by any national organization or association conducted for the purpose of developing such a code.

The code may be adopted by reference and without a publication if the code is clearly identified in an ordinance and the purpose of the code is published with the adopting ordinance and copies are available for inspection and distribution to the public.

Township boards now have the authority to adopt by reference plumbing, electrical or building codes.

TOWNSHIP RECREATION BOARD

PUBLIC ACT 136 — allows the township board to authorize the township park commission to act as the township recreation board.

In addition, the act provides that the township board shall fix the compensation paid to the members of the township park commission. The compensation and expenses shall be paid from the park maintenance fund or from the township general fund.

Members of the township park commission currently receive $1.00 for attendance at any commission meeting. Such expenses are paid only from the park maintenance fund.

The Department of Conservation commented: "On the whole, Michigan's townships have not fulfilled their responsibilities for providing local township parks and recreation programs to meet public demand at the township level. The merging of the township park commission and the township recreation board should result in a marriage of related interests and give stimulant to the development of good township programs. If this commission does the job which is needed, it will require a great deal of time on the part of the individual members. This amendment will allow townships to adequately reimburse the commission members for personal expenditures involved in carrying out their duties as members of the commission."

MUNICIPALITIES: KENNEL LICENSES

PUBLIC ACT 152 — provides that any city, village or township employing a full-time dog warden may adopt an ordinance providing for the issuance of kennel licenses by the dog warden under the same conditions as presently required of the county treasurer.

The Department of Agriculture commented: "Cities are authorized to license dogs and have their own dog ordinances under the present law, but do not issue licenses for kennels." This act authorizes cities to regulate kennels within their borders.

CENTURY MARK TWICE

Willie Horton, Detroit Tiger outfielder batted in 100 runs last season after knocking in 104 in 1965, his first full major league season.

TWO STREAKS IN MONTH

The Detroit Tigers had two six-game winning streaks in June last season.

Assembly of God Youth Group Wins 2nd Rally Trophy

Monday evening, Oct. 24, four cars and one very full station wagon left the Assembly of God church bound for the Adrian Assembly of God Youth building to participate in a sectional monthly youth rally.

Each month the Assemblies of God churches in various sections of the state meet in a special service slanted to youth. At these meetings the various groups compete by compiling a number of points based on the number attending, number of visitors brought, and the number of miles driven in getting there. The first-place group takes home a loving cup trophy to keep until the next rally. At the end of the rally season in the spring the group compiling the greatest number of points for the season is awarded the trophy to keep.

In September the local group, called the Christ's Ambassadors, won the trophy in a rally held at Ann Arbor. This was the first time in the history of the church that the group won first-place honors. Monday evening the local group again took the trophy, defeating secondplace Saline 281 to 208. The Chelsea group cheered wildly when they learned they had "done it again."

The local Christ's Ambassadors group meets each week at 7 p.m. on Wednesday evenings at the Assembly of God Church, 14900 Old US-12. These meetings are open to all Chelsea youth.

Senator Gilbert Bursley Endorses Proposal for Juvenile Court Center

State Senator Gilbert Bursley, Republican candidate for re-election, endorsed Proposal 2 on the November ballot calling for a County Juvenile Court Center. Senator Bursley's remarks were delivered before a meeting of the Ypsilanti Republican Woman's Club at the residence of Judge and Mrs. James R. Breakey, 101 Washtenaw, in Ypsilanti.

"It has been my privilege to serve as a consultant to Project 74 for the past two years. This is a group which has been conducting a study in depth of the Juvenile Court," Senator Bursley explained. "In the legislature I have served on an interim committee on Juvenile Corrections."

"My conclusion is that there is an urgent need for the physical facilities for our Juvenile Court Center operations as presented in Proposal 2 facing the voters on Nov. 8."

"I congratulate the County Board of Supervisors and its Chairman Roy Smith for their understanding and support of this proposition aimed at meeting our needs for Juvenile Court facilities."

"I urge a YES vote on Proposal 2 on Nov. 8," Senator Bursley concluded.

BLEACH IN TABLET FORM HAS ADVANTAGES

Bleach in tablet form needs small storage space, is easy to handle, has no danger of spillage, is time and product saving because it is premeasured. A possible higher cost per washer load may offset these advantages, but if you're inconsistent in measuring bleach, the tablet form could be saving in spite of added packaging cost.

Monday Class Slated In Dexter for Area School Bus Drivers

Classes for all school bus drivers in Washtenaw county are being held Oct. 31 at the Dexter High School library, 2685 Baker Rd., Dexter. Classes meet from 7 to 10 p.m.

The new laws pertaining to school buses that were passed by the 1965 State Legislature will be discussed. Various areas of bus operation in Washtenaw county will be covered.

Specially qualified instructors from the Bus Driver Education Staff conduct each class. The Bus Driver Education Program is sponsored by Eastern Michigan University and the Michigan Department of Education.

All school bus drivers should plan to attend. School administrators and School Board members are urged to send their drivers.

Other classes will be held at the Saline High school library on Nov. 1, located at 7265 N. Ann Arbor Rd. and at Lincoln school on Nov. 2. Lincoln school is located at 7425 Willis Rd., Ypsilanti.

The world would be better off if all sentences beginning with "Did you hear?" were never finished.

Good Brakes Essential To Safe Winter Driving

Brakes that lock or grab—throw cars into skids on slick winter roads, Chief of Police Robert Taylor said today, and he offered this suggestion from the International Association of Chiefs of Police:

Try your brakes on a dry road at low speed and when no other vehicles are nearby. If brakes grab or pull right or left, have them inspected—now—by a competent mechanic for condition of lining and proper adjustment.

Good brakes plus good braking techniques mean you're the kind of driver whose winter know-how helps keep traffic on the move.

Vocational-Technical Education Policy Committee Meets in Ann Arbor

The policy committee of the Washtenaw-Livingston County Vocational - Technical Education Opportunities Study met in Ann Arbor on Thursday, Oct. 20.

Policy committee representatives from Chelsea are Fred Mills and Arthur Stoll. Those representing Dexter are Supt. Carlton Hutchinson and Board member Albert Samborn.

The policy committee is composed of school administrators, school board members and or lay citizens from each school district in the two-county area. The policy committee is responsible for overall planning and supervision of the study. Implementation of the policy committees plans is to be carried out by the study director and the executive committee, composed of nine members from the policy committee.

At the Oct. 20 meeting, the policy committee moved that all schools in the two-county area both public and non-public are to be included in the study, and they instructed the study director, Earl Shaffer, to invite the participation of representatives of the non-public schools.

The policy committee reviewed existing data available from other studies which have been conducted in the two counties, and policy committee members submitted to the director recommendations for membership on the various survey study committees being established.

The committee restated its philosophy that this study does not carry any endorsement for a particular type of training, but is intended to explore various organizational possibilities for providing both secondary and post-secondary vocational-technical education opportunities for all young people, regardless of where they may live in the two-county area.

Future meetings of the committee are to be announced.

The 58,000-acre Porcupine Mountain State Park in Michigan's Ontonagon county is the largest state recreation area in the nation, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. A focal point is Lake of the Clouds nestled high in the peaks overlooking Lake Superior.

The time to start saving for your old age is today; you will never begin at some time in the future.

October Is Space Anniversary Month

Ann Arbor — October is the anniversary month of the first space launching, the beginning of the space era in astronomy, says University of Michigan Professor Hazel M. Losh.

The first man-made satellite, Sputnik I, was launched by Soviet scientists Oct. 4, 1957, less than a decade ago. Explorer I, the first United States satellite to go into orbit, was launched Jan. 31, 1958. Today, after successful rocket landings on the Moon have transmitted photographs and data, both countries hope to land the first man on the Moon.

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

If we need a text for the week we can take one from the 25th chapter of Matthew's gospel. That's where Jesus says "if you do it to one of the least of my brethren, you do it to me." He was talking about food, water, clothing, and medicine.

Those are life's basics we take more or less for granted.

Some places can't take them for granted, however. For some people to get these necessary things is nearly like a dream.

The Church has for years tried to live up to its job by keeping missionary doctors, teachers, farmers, engineers, administrators, and preachers in the field.

Our government has begun, in recent years through the Peace Corps, to answer the need that exists in so many places of the world.

But these two agencies are just a little bit off from us. We haven't often the opportunity to be part of it ourselves except through contributions to church and taxes to governments.

Once a year, though, we do have a chance to live up to the text. This year again, as in the past, the chance will come with the Halloween season.

The chance is called UNICEF. It stands for food, health, clothing, and medicine. It means that some people who would not otherwise have much of an opportunity to know what good health is, will.

"The trick is to treat."

The trick really is for us to give enough to do a lot of good.

Remember the name — UNICEF.

In the fall, cool, moist weather after a period of relative inactivity may bring some plants into bloom. Forsythia, quince and apple may blossom in the typical spring weather. Joseph Cox, Michigan State University landscape architect, says this is an excellent time for fall planting.

Wives of Nationally Known Democrats Visit Local Group

Local Democrats and a few "brave" Republicans rubbed elbows with the wives of national Democratic figures Monday evening at an open house held at the Leo J. Hoey home on Island Lake Rd., west of Dexter.

Mrs. G. Mennen (Nancy) Williams, wife of the former Governor of Michigan and U. S. Under-Secretary of State for African Affairs and current candidate for the U. S. Senate, and Mrs. Orville (Jane) Freeman, wife of the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture and former Governor of Minnesota, addressed the more than 50 persons at the affair. Mrs. Freeman, who is in the area for a national Girl Scout conference, is spending two days stumping for Williams, a friend and fellow Democrat.

With the complete ease of a seasoned campaigner, Mrs. Williams lauded state and national Democrats and blasted the voting record of Sen. Robert Griffin, her husband's Republican opponent. She also spoke up for Gov. Romney's popularity in the state saying it was obtained by taking credit for others' accomplishments, his having an almost evangelistic approach which gives the impression everyone else is a sinner and his protection by the newspapers in Michigan.

An obvious Romney supporter at the gathering asked "Why was the State of Michigan so in Debt until Romney took over?" Mrs. Williams answered that the boost in the national economy and not Gov. Romney has led the state to solvency. During the Eisenhauer reign, there were two downturns in the economy while in the last six years the nation's economy has enjoyed an unprecedented rise she said. Democratic federal programs such as income tax cut, War on Poverty, easement of credit restrictions for building for both private homes and industry, etc., were named as principal factors causing the current good times. Mrs. Freeman praised Williams as one of the most war "wonder less noise, boys" who had encouraged her husband to enter politics in Minnesota.

Scio candidates, John Willertz, supervisor, Eileen Evans, treasurer, Gerald Brewer, trustee, and George H. J. Smith, constable, were also introduced. Mrs. Ericson was unable to attend.

Sheriff Douglas Harvey also received the plaudits of Democrats present.

After a question and answer period, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Freeman, along with Mrs. Kate Grenholm of Cong. Wos Vivian's staff, Mrs. Carolyn Stump, manager of the ASCS office and Mrs. A. Nelson Dingle, Dexter resident who was guide for the entourage that day, mingled with guests sipping coffee and discussing current problems at a more intimate level.

Teachers Discuss Master Contract

The first in-service meeting of Chelsea faculty members was held last Thursday afternoon. The topic of discussion involved the Chelsea Master Contract.

Teachers were asked to bring any questions regarding the contract to the meeting. A list of questions from the meeting will be taken to the Policy Review Committee as outlined in the contract.

The questions ranged from the procedure for the settlement of disputes, grievance procedures, salary schedules, sick leave, jury duty pay, leave of absence and collective bargaining.

Chelsea school students will have another holiday next weekend with no school scheduled for Nov. 3 and 4 due to teachers conventions on those dates.

Much talk and much judgment seldom go together, for talking and thinking are two quite different qualities, and there is commonly more depth where there is less noise.

ROBERT A. WHEELER, Township Clerk

Senator Philip A. Hart's REPORT from WASHINGTON

★ A Rights Bill Dies . . .

The Civil Rights Bill that died in the Senate last month has now been left to the historians and its remains—the debate transcripts, the old press releases and the dog-eared speeches—should be rewarding material for any writer with an eye for irony.

The bill that was killed by the Senate filibuster was not particularly sweeping.

Its housing section exempted just about all owner-occupied dwellings and for practical purposes—applied only to subdivision builders and the landlords of large apartment complexes.

The bill seemed a logical if limited response to the question: "Shouldn't a Negro family that works and saves to escape the ghetto be allowed to live in a neighborhood of its choice?"

Still it died. A majority of Senators supported it but it couldn't muster the two-thirds vote needed to end "extended discussion" by Republican and Southern Democratic opponents.

Rights bills managed to get the necessary two-thirds in 1964 and 1965. Why not this time?

There were a number of reasons. First, the bill came to the Senate near the end of the session when filibusters are most effective.

Secondly, civil rights leaders were in disagreement over the bill's merits and a unified push was missing.

But the factor most often cited by political commentators was last summer's riots.

The slum-town violence we were told, cooled Northern sympathies for the Negroes' plight and gave anti-Negro forces new ammunition.

Sure, the nation was concerned about violence—and understandably. My mail reflected the concern. But less admirably, it also began to reflect a punitive mood.

"I'm not a racist but why reward rioters with a new bill?" demanded a Detroiter.

And a correspondent from Paw Paw wrote that he had always been for complete integration but was so offended by the "riots the colored people have sponsored" that he thought they should be "punished, not helped."

Clearly, the letters make a common assumption:

Because some Negroes are rioting, all Negroes should be denied something. Because some Negroes are wrong or irresponsible, all Negroes are unworthy.

The true irony becomes apparent only when we consider just who is being punished by the bill's defeat. Is it that small minority of Negroes who poured from their slums to riot in the streets of the North?

No. They wouldn't be likely to be buying homes in the suburbs even if they had the chance. The persons most directly damaged were responsible, middle-class Negroes with savings and steady jobs—those who do not see violence as a route to self-improvement and would be appalled by the suggestion.

Illogical? Sure. But the nation's decisions are often based more on its emotional temperature than its collective reasoning power.

Legislators, meanwhile, tend to be sensitive to the moods of their constituencies and often respond to them, whether they are logical or not.

Since I served as the bill's floor manager, it will come as no surprise to you that I think its death regrettable. I know that many will disagree and this newsletter—as have others on racial problems—will bring a return flood of angry notes.

But I do remain convinced that 10 years from now—or even five—historians will conclude that the Senate's course was not a wise one.

Open House Event Will Honor Lovells On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. Art Lovell of Dexter will be guests of honor Sunday, Oct. 30 at an open house celebrating their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Their children, Mrs. Harold (Dorothy) Stein of Plymouth, Mrs. Robert (Alice) Walz of Chelsea and John A. Lovell will host the affair at the Lovell home from 2 to 5 p.m.

All freinds and neighbors are invited to attend.

State Traffic Safety Legislation Endorsed By Senator Bursley

State Senator Gilbert Bursley reasserted his strong support of traffic safety legislation to include implied consent and compulsory auto inspection at a coffee hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Bos, 1361 Arroyo Dr., in Ypsilanti.

"Full endorsement of these legislative proposals has been given by the Michigan State University Traffic Safety Center and by Governor Romney's Traffic Safety Commission which conducted hearings at Ypsilanti and throughout the state."

"Last year I co-sponsored this legislation and I have every intention of according it full support again in 1967. Admittedly there are other important causes of traffic accidents and legislative proposals will be made in these areas where appropriate. We should adopt a uniform state-wide system for drivers licenses and tighten up on their issuance. We need greater support for driver education programs."

"There is no reason why Michigan can't cut her traffic toll in half if we implement the more important of these recommendations."

4-H Youth To Exhibit in Stock Show

Twenty-four 4-H club members from Washtenaw county will be among the 400 young showmen from all over Michigan who will participate in the 37th annual Detroit Junior Livestock Show, to be held Oct. 31 to Nov. 3 at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

The show will provide a first-hand opportunity to "learn by doing," according to Ed Poole, extension area 4-H youth agent.

The 4-H'ers will be competing for fame and fortune—but are assured of a fine educational experience—as they lead their carefully fed and groomed animals before the judges.

Some of the showmen from the area are entering animals in the carcass classes. These animals will be weighed and evaluated on Monday, Oct. 31. Carcasses from animals entered in the fat stock show will be weighed and classified on Tuesday. Carcass class members are Mike McCalla, Ann McCalla, JoAnne McCalla and Judy McCalla of Ann Arbor; Bob Kushmaul, Jr., Chelsea; Robert Girbach, Marlene Girbach and Kenneth Feldkamp of Saline in the swine division. Those in the sheep carcass class are Gail Girbach and James Burmeister of Ann Arbor; Mike Bristle and Jim Bristle from Chelsea.

The carcass classes are in their fourth year, and provide an opportunity for the young stockmen to see if their feeding methods are producing the top-quality meats demanded by today's consumers.

All other livestock will be entered on Tuesday, Nov. 1. Members showing will be Ed, Wesley, Leon and Fred Gall; Gary Girbach and Marlene and Mary Alice Girbach of Saline; Nancy Diuble of Ann Arbor and Barry Bevier of Ypsilanti in the beef division.

In the swine division, Robert Girbach, Marlene Girbach, Mary Alice Girbach and Kenneth Feldkamp of Saline; Bob Kushmaul, Howard and Kenny McCalla of Chelsea; Mike McCalla, Ann McCalla of Manchester. Members showing in sheep are Gail Girbach and James Burmeister of Ann Arbor and Mike and Jim Bristle of Chelsea.

Wednesday will be a full day of judging, as well as evaluation of pork and lamb carcasses. The traditional exhibitors awards banquet will be held in the evening. High point of the show—the Detroit Junior Livestock Sale—will be held Thursday at 1 p.m. Sale of the top animals usually brings spirited bidding.

The show is sponsored by the 4-H Club Department of MSU's Co-operative Extension Service and the Detroit Junior Livestock Society. The society is a group of businessmen dedicated to promoting efficient livestock production among Michigan's young stockmen.

KEEP INDOOR HERB CROP ON DRY SIDE FOR BEST RESULTS

Keep your indoor crop of herbs on the dry side. This is best accomplished by starting your parsley, chive, basil, shallot, rosemary, dill and other savory seeds in porous clay pots to make sure excess water will drain and leach out. The humid air of our kitchen or laundry room is the best atmosphere for your indoor herb garden.

Fall Shooting Tips Offered

A thing of beauty is a joy forever—provided it is photographed properly.

To capture the beauty of a glorious Michigan autumn, all your family needs is an inexpensive camera, a little imagination, and a few basic rules to follow, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Equipment, of course, is always important, but for family amateurs, the inexpensive, automatic camera will be adequate enough to produce desired results. Not only does this type of camera eliminate much of the guesswork from picture taking, but it does away with the need for exposure meters and bothersome computing.

Michigan in autumn provides endless opportunities for subject matter, offering a great variety of interest points and dramatic changes in terrain.

Color pictures can be enhanced, no matter how vivid the original colors, with the use of a polarizing filter. The use of color filters is not recommended in color photography.

In shooting color, experts advise the photographer to include one bright red object in the scene, such as red clothing, automobiles, barns and the like. Red provides a good center of interest and will liven the photo. The placement of any subject in the foreground, incidentally, will create a perspective from which to judge depth.

Weather sometimes poses a problem. Rainy, grey and overcast skies create an aura of gloominess. On such days it is recommended that the sky be eliminated from the scene. It is also recommended that slightly less than normal exposure be used in order to increase color saturation.

On sunny, blue-sky days, the sky should definitely be included to provide contrast. Under these conditions it is best to increase the exposure slightly to provide illumination in dark shadow areas.

The following additional suggestions are offered:

—Shooting uphill will produce disappointing results. From this position, trees, buildings and scenery tend to flatten out. It is best to select a vantage point from a hill or high overlook, shooting down on the surrounding terrain.

—Frame your picture. Shooting through an opening in the trees provides a pleasant framing effect for your finished picture. The focus, however, should be on the frame, rather than on the background.

—Photographing water can best be accomplished with the sun behind the photographer. Unless a tranquil reflection can be found, photography of water on overcast days should be avoided.

—Bracket your exposures. When using other than an automatic camera, under questionable lighting conditions, make a series of exposures of the same scene above and below the normally indicated setting. At least one of the shots should turn out great.

—When shooting pictures in the woods, don't shoot toward the sky. This creates a confusing mixture of sun anl shadows and the situation should be avoided.

The use of a tripod wherever possible is recommended. This will eliminate the fuzziness which is often present in photos from hand-held cameras. If no tripod is available, the basic rules of holding the camera steady is always applicable.

For the black and white photograpgher, the presence of autumn may be captured by using fully panchromatic film and following the exact readings of your exposure meter. To better create the spirit of autumn, subjects should wear fall clothing such as jackets and sweaters. Fall props such as guns, dogs and prod... also help create the illusion ... tumn. Chelsea Elementary SCHOOL NOTES

SOUTH SCHOOL KINDERGARTEN

The South School Kindergarteners had a wonderful time when they visited the Fire Department. They enjoyed the fall colors and the fallen leaves which they saw on their way.

At the station Mr. Gaken and Mr. Packard told the boys and girls all about the telephone and radio communications, the trucks, water tanks, hose driers, ladders, sirens, etc. The climax of their visit was a chance to squirt water from the large hose. While they took turns, others sat at the curb watching and enjoying lollipops, a treat from the fire department.

On the way back to school the children found the window displays exciting as was the village truck with it's extension ladder.

After discussing what they had learned about fire prevention and the fire station, the children made fire helmets and composed thank you letters to the fire department. We walked to the corner mailbox to mail the letters.

Mrs. Michelson and Mrs. Hindlino, teachers.

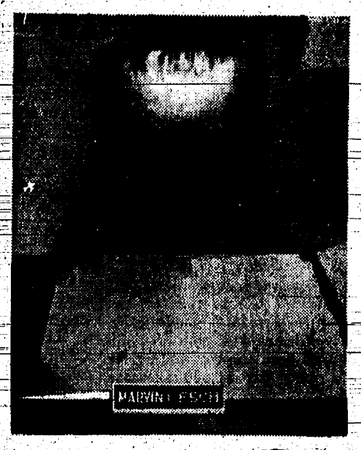
for U. S. Congress

COMPARE THE CANDIDATES

HERE'S THE RECORD:



#1 SENIOR CITIZENS	Congressman Wes Vivian co-sponsored and voted for Medicare and the 7% increase in Social Security benefits. He also sponsored legislation to tie Social Security benefits to the cost-of-living.	His opponent was ABSENT when the Michigan House of Representatives passed a law to prohibit job discrimination because of old age.
#2 CONSUMER CREDIT	Congressman Wes Vivian is one of the sponsors of legislation in the U. S. House of Representatives to require lenders to state financing charges in simple, easily understandable language. This law would greatly aid hard-pressed families to get the most for their money.	His opponent was ABSENT when the Michigan House of Representatives passed a state truth-in-lending law. He was also ABSENT when the House voted to give borrowers who are charged illegally high interest rates the right to go into court to recover these payments.
#3 HIGHWAY SAFETY	Congressman Wes Vivian was one of the original sponsors of Federal legislation to require safety standards for automobile tires. He also sponsored the Highway Safety Act of 1965, and voted for them in the United States House of Representatives.	His opponent was ABSENT when the State House of Representatives passed legislation making a driver's license probationary for the first year it is issued. He was also ABSENT when the House of Representatives voted to make it a misdemeanor for a driver to fail to stop when signalled to do so by a uniformed officer.
#4 COMMUNITY COLLEGES	Congressman Wes Vivian was one of the sponsors of the Higher Education Act of 1965, and voted in the House of Representatives for its passage. This act is providing Federal funds to assist Second District community colleges in meeting the needs of their communities.	His opponent was ABSENT when the Michigan House voted assistance to our State's community colleges, including those in Washtenaw and Monroe Counties. (Michigan Education Journal, Sept. 1966)
#5 FARMERS' TAX RELIEF	Congressman Wes Vivian worked for and voted for H.R. 10, in the U. S. House of Representatives this year. This bill provides farmers with additional income tax credits toward their retirement funds, as self-employed businessmen.	His opponent was ABSENT when the Michigan House of Representatives passed a law removing the $1,000 limit on personal property tax exemption, and allowing, instead, an exemption on all property actually being used for agricultural operations.
#6 DAY CARE CENTERS	Congressman Wes Vivian supported and voted for legislation, in the U. S. House of Representatives, which provides Federal assistance to day care centers being used to teach pre-school children from poor families.	His opponent was ABSENT when the Michigan House voted to provide State assistance for day care centers, to assist working mothers.
#7 WATER POLLUTION	Congressman Wes Vivian sponsored and voted for the two most significant water pollution control measures in history, in 1965 and 1966. He also provided the major assistance in helping Monroe County obtain Federal assistance funds for sewer and water projects.	His opponent was ABSENT when the Michigan House of Representatives enacted the Michigan Water Pollution Act.
#8 MENTAL HEALTH	Congressman Wes Vivian voted for H.R. 2985, to authorize Federal funds for comprehensive local community health centers. He also wrote and sponsored legislation to allow local school districts to spend Federal funds for the construction of classrooms for mentally retarded children.	His opponent was ABSENT when the Michigan House of Representatives passed Public Act 119, providing mental health tests for every new-born infant in the State of Michigan.

Congressman Wes Vivian VOTED on OVER 90% of all roll call votes recorded in the U. S. House of Representatives in 1965 and 1966.

His opponent was ABSENT for over 800 ROLL CALL VOTES in the Michigan State legislature —OVER 40% of the total in 1965-66.

Teacher from France Visits French Classes

French students at Chelsea High school enjoyed a rare treat last Friday when Miss Marie-Alice Heudier of Rouen, France, visited their classes.

Approximately 100 students are studying French at the high school under the direction of Mrs. Carol Lauhon. Miss Heudier, who is in the United States on the Fulbright-Hayes Foreign Curriculum Specialist Program, is assigned to Michigan, where she visits high schools to promote the study of the French language.

During her day in Chelsea, Miss Heudier visited four French classes and one English class. She is a teacher of English in her native France.

As part of her visit, she showed slides of Normandy, Brittany and southern France, answered questions from students, and since this is the 900th anniversary of the Norman Conquest of England, she told about the Battle of Hastings and conquest.

To prepare for her visit, the students decorated the class room, made a French flag and wrote English words derived from French on the blackboard. The sixth hour French class sang a French song, accompanied by Christine Alber on the guitar, in her honor.

Miss Heudier had lunch with the fourth-hour French class, at which a chocolate cake decorated to resemble the French flag, was served. The cake was baked by Cynthia Benjamin.

Russell Beeman made a corsage for the visitor which included a ribbon with the words "Vive la francais." (long live the French language).

Campaign Committee Named by R. Campbell

Ross Campbell, non-partisan candidate for the new second probate judgeship, announced today the formation of a campaign committee in the Chelsea area. Members of the non-partisan committee are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Burnham, Mrs. Edith Palmer, William F. Storey, and the Rev. Edwin J. Weiss.

Chelsea School District Cafeteria Menu

Thursday, Nov. 3—No school.

Friday, Nov. 4—No school.

Three County Bond Issues Will Appear on Nov. 8 Ballot

Voters of Washtenaw county will be asked to vote on three bond issue proposals when they go to the polls on Nov. 8.

If approved, the three proposals will provide $1,165,000 for a County Building addition, $1,490,000 for a proposed county juvenile court center and $4,050,000 for a county medical care facility—a total of $6,705,000.

According to information prepared under the direction of the Board of Supervisors, bonding for three facilities will run for 20 years and cost approximately 72 cents a year per $1,000 assessed valuation of property as equalized.

The proposed Juvenile Court Center would be located on county land in the Washtenaw-Platt Rd. area and will provide court facilities, service areas and a detention area. The present detention home, located at 2260 Platt Rd., would be used to provide shelter care for 14 boys.

Present plans are to move the juvenile court facilities this winter from the County Building to the Masonic Temple in order to release their present quarters to the Circuit Court's third judge.

Proposal one, the proposed County Building addition, is for an extension to the Fourth Ave. wing of the existing building. The portion of the new second floor will extend over the existing surface parking area, reducing the parking area by 20 cars. The ramp leading to the underground parking garage will be relocated on Ann St., if this proposal is approved.

The addition is deemed necessary by the Board of Supervisors because Washtenaw county will add a third Circuit Court Judge in 1968 and is expected to add a fourth by 1970-75. The addition will thus house two additional Circuit Court rooms, two judge's offices, two jury rooms, two bailiff rooms, two court clerk rooms, two court reporter rooms, two library-conference rooms, two secretary rooms, two prisoner cells, one witness room, two storage rooms, two conference rooms, two attorney rooms, rest rooms and janitor rooms. All these facilities will be on the second floor.

The first floor of the proposed annex will be occupied by offices and the basement area will be used for storage. The increased space will be slightly more than one-quarter of the floor area of the existing county building.

Proposal three, a medical care facility, is the largest of the three bond proposals. It totals $4,050,000 for a medical care facility to be located on the county property on Washtenaw Ave.

The proposed facility would provide long-term care for patients who need special nursing, rehabilitation, physical, occupational and diversional therapy. These services will be available to those who do not need the full-scale care provided by a general hospital and whose needs are greater than the services provided by a nursing home.

The new building will have 176 beds. The present County Hospital now has a waiting list for over one year and can care for a maximum of 81 patients. State authorities have declared the present hospital deficient and inadequate in many areas and because of the deficiencies and age of the present structure, which was built in 1917, the Board of Supervisors does not believe it would be economically feasible to bring the present building to acceptable standards for medical care purposes.

The construction of the new facility would allow usage of the present building for other necessary county services.

The hospital would serve all residents of the county, regardless of age, who have social and physical disabilities or who need extended medical care if the residents are unable to secure these services themselves.

Pastor Attends Seminar Sessions In New York

The Rev. Robert A. J. Livingston returned last Friday evening from a week-long United Nations-Washington, D.C. seminar in New York City and the nation's capitol.

The seminar, sponsored by the Council for Christian Social Action, was attended by 30 United Church of Christ pastors and laymen from throughout the United States. The center for the activities in New York City was the Church Center for the United Nations.

Two areas emphasized at the conference were world poverty and China-US relations.

Among the highlights of the stay in New York were a speech by Dr. Leo Malania, former chief editor of the United Nations, on the U.N. today and tomorrow; a tour of the United Nations building; a speech on world poverty and the U.N. Development Program; a discussion of world economic trade; a visit to the U.N. General Assembly; a speech on how peace may be created between of Maturation," for parents of by the director of Christian Institute for the Study of Religion and Society in India on "An Asian Looks at China."

On Wednesday the group was taken to Washington, D.C. by bus, where they heard a debate on US-China relations; a discussion on the Alliance for Progress; a speech on Congress, Elections and International Relations; visited the U.S. Supreme Court, Senate, House of Representatives and the Russian Embassy; heard a discussion on international economic development; a summary of poverty and what needs to be done and what is being done in the world; a briefing at the U.S. State Department on U.S. foreign policy on Communist China and U.S. and Vietnam; and a discussion on the role of the citizen in influencing foreign policy.

While in Washington, the Rev. Livingston also had an opportunity to visit father, who is a patient at Perrypoint Veterans Hospital in Maryland, Robert W. Livingston, and his mother and sister, Mrs. Calvin F. Brown, who all live in the vicinity.

A bus will be leaving Michigan for a seminar at the United Nations later in October and anyone interested in making the trip may contact the Rev. Livingston for more details.
