Cager of the Week

WES STINEHELPER, 6'4", senior, plays center for the Bulldogs. He saw major action in the South Lyon game when he turned in 18 points and grabbed 13 rebounds. After graduation he plans to attend Grand Rapids Bible college and study for the ministry.

Wes is a member of the First Methodist church in Chelsea. Wes, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stinehelfer, 738 S. Main, has two sisters, 13, and Deb, 15, and one brother, John, 12. When he's not playing basketball or in the classrooms, Wes may be found singing in the High School choir. He has spent much of his time this year improving his rebounding, which was considered his major weakness at the end of last season.

CHRISTMAS PROJECT: Mrs. Louis Ramp, (foreground) director of the Chelsea Social Service, Mrs. David Colquhoun (left rear) and Mrs. Louis Abell arrange food boxes and toys for distribution to needy area families on Thursday, Dec. 22. Toys and food for the social service project were provided by numerous church, school, civic and business groups. Food boxes were given to 30 families and approximately 140 children received toys.

Social Service Gives 'Extras' For Those Less Fortunate

A friendly red-and-white teddy bear sat in a doll's chair high on a shelf. A small globe was tucked between a voodoo doll and a bunny rabbit on a table. Several dolls slept soundly in their cribs, while others danced on the table tops. Boxes full of food were stacked with freshly baked Christmas cookies and homemade dolls.

That was part of the scene at the Social Service Hall just before 30 boxes of food and hundreds of toys were distributed by Chelsea Social Service last Thursday. A large part of the community had in some way contributed to the collection of goods and goodies for the needy families in Chelsea.

Senior Girl Scouts baked plates of cookies for the tops of the boxes. Girl Scout Troop 170, under the direction of Mrs. Warren Eisenbeiser, gave candy-filled Christmas stockings and hand puppets.

Esther Circle of the Congregational church made beautiful animals from soap and wash clothes and also Santas of apples, marshmallows, and cranberries. These were tucked in the tops of the food boxes.

The Faculty Wives club gave stuffed pillows in the shapes of animals.

The Jaycees Auxiliary contributed literally hundreds of toys collected throughout the year and repaid at Cassidy Luke Technical school. All of the used toys were collected from the people of Chelsea.

The Salvation Army provides $100 worth of toys, and because these are purchased with cash, their actual value is much greater. The Salvation Army aids the Social Service at Christmas in return for support they receive from the Community Chest.

Mrs. Louis Ramp, director of Chelsea Social Service, explained that in Chelsea the Salvation Army assists all needy older families or single persons, while the Social Service assists all of the families with children.

Mrs. Ramp said that several people have asked her why there is a need for such programs in Chelsea at the present time. She explained that most of the families involved "are families in which the father is absent, often because of death, divorce, or separation, or families in which the father is present but unable to work because of serious illness. Welfare agencies provide the necessities for these families, but not the gifts or the better foods, the "extras" that make Christmas for a child."

The Missions Commission of the First Methodist church of Chelsea has announced a series of three programs dealing with the problems of poverty in the Detroit area and in Chelsea. All three programs will be open to the entire community and the Missions Commission is especially inviting members of other Chelsea churches to participate. The first two programs will center around speakers on poverty and the inner city. The third program will be a panel discussion on ways of dealing with the poverty problem in Chelsea.

On Jan. 8 the Rev. Norman E. Dewine will speak on "Affluence and Poverty" following a 1:15 p.m. pot-luck dinner. He is currently at Central Methodist church in Detroit and after the first of January will be executive secretary of the Detroit Conference Board of Missions. All programs will be held at the First Methodist church and a babysitter will be provided for children five and under.

Jan. 15, at 8:30 p.m., the Rev. Al Ramsey, of Bethany Methodist church in Detroit, will speak on "The Inner City." A sandwich supper at 5:45 will precede the program. A special invitation for this program is issued to the youth groups of area churches.

On Jan. 22 a panel will meet at 8:30 to discuss dealing with Chelsea's poverty problem. This panel will also follow a 5:45 sandwich supper. Participants in the panel will be area persons familiar with Chelsea's poverty problems. Mrs. Louis Ramp, director of the Social Service, will moderate.

Christmas Baby

Chelsea's 1968 Christmas baby was born at 6:01 Christmas morning. Samantha Gail, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Collinsworth, 406 North St., was the package Santa delivered for the stork, before taking his holiday.

Inner City, Poverty Are Study Topics

Deer Hazard Exists on I-94 Near M-52

A deer lay in the middle of a snow covered field early Tuesday morning, just south of I-94 near the M-52 interchange. Both its front legs had been broken in an encounter with a passing car. Later that morning Michigan conservation officer Don Boyer, alerted by a citizen, investigated and shot the animal.

Three deer have been hit by cars near this intersection recently, Boyer said. He has also come to the aid of one buck caught in the expressway fence at the same spot.

He said that the deer have obviously chosen this as a crossing path. Two years ago, in February, 22 deer were killed around the I-94, M-52 interchange. If more appear this year, Boyer plans to take action to have some signs installed in the area.

The deer begin to herd together when the snow comes, and several seem to have chosen a patch of woods near the expressway as a wintering spot, Boyer explained.

Developments Abroad Pose Greater Danger Than Domestic Issues

Financial Writer Sees Continuation Of Inflation, Deceleration Struggle

By Roger W. Babson

The close of 1966 marks the 70th consecutive month in the life span of the longest business boom of all time for the American economy. However, "trees do not grow to the sky." Already, signs of deterioration in the expansive vigor that characterized the earlier phase of the business upswing have been increasing in 1966. Hence, the outlook for business and finance in 1967 is of greater-than-usual importance.

Readers of this column be tempted to "push the panic button," however, let me state that it would be unwise to expect a major depression in 1967. Our greatly expanded economy still has a considerable degree of momentum. The spotlight on 1967, therefore, should focus upon those factors which are likely to cause a breathing spell in economic activity. Politicians and labor leaders have a phobia against even a hesitancy in business, and rush headlong to measures designed to treat a case of pneumonia when cold pills would be more appropriate.

1. Although business and financial problems loom large in the prospects for 1967, I must first warn readers that the greatest danger for the year ahead does not exist on the domestic front. Surely it will be developments abroad that will hold the greatest threat to our country. These could be economic as well as military or political.

2. I foresee no war between the United States and Russia in 1967. However, tensions between the two world leaders may seem to reach the breaking point as the Kremlin "goes all out" to create diversions to our efforts in Vietnam. Look for Moscow to throw salt on festering wounds in the Middle East, Africa, and Germany.

3. No War with Red China

I am also hopeful that a direct clash between Red China and the U.S. can be avoided in 1967. Internal dissensions are rampant throughout Mainland China, and a great scramble for power is in full swing. Sabre-rattling may help to unify the people; but pressing problems of low productivity, plus the demands of her nuclear program, should restrain Red China from direct attack upon the United States.

4. The struggle for leadership of the Communist world camp will continue unabated throughout 1967. Full political attack will be mounted by the Kremlin against Peking. It will be tough and go, however, whether Russia can persuade her wavering satellites to sign a final manifesto reading Red China out of the Party.

5. Recent elections in West Germany have fanned the embers of nationalism into a tiny flame. This has surely thrown a scare into Russian leaders. I predict that they will take a harder line against Germany in 1967 than in some time. I feel that we should particularly watch General de Gaulle, who is playing closer and closer to Moscow from month to month.

6. Heavily armed with Soviet weapons, the Arabs of the Middle East—squared off against Israel—present a grave threat to world peace. Nevertheless, I do not believe that Russia or the United States can afford a direct confrontation at this time; hence my forecast that the smoldering conflagration there will not erupt into World War III.

7. No End Seen in Vietnam

While all reasonable people are hoping for a genuine peace in

10. I forecast a continuation of the tug-of-war between inflation and deflation in 1967. Tight credit, and increased productive capacity resulting from the flood of business capital expenditures in recent years, are deflationary. However, I can see no substantial relief from the inflation in labor and other operating costs. In short, we can have "cost-push" inflation co-existing with deflation.

11. A key factor in the business and financial outlook for 1967 is taxes. With defense outlays climbing, I look for a rise in corporate and personal taxes in 1967. Moreover, I forecast that various levels at the state and local levels will continue to increase.

12. The tightening tax squeeze on all fronts will worsen as the year advances. And there will be rising complaints from both businessmen and employees that social security taxes are becoming unbearable.

Pinckney Girl Dies Saturday In Home Fire

Three Other Children Saved as Early Morning Blaze Hits Family Home

Five-month-old Kimberley Sutfin died early Saturday of hot air suffocation in a fire which destroyed her family's home at 145 Mill, Pinckney, and most of their possessions.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sutfin managed to evacuate their other three young children—Kerina, 4, Kevin, 3, and Lynette, 1. The other children were not hurt, although the family was treated briefly at the McPherson Health Center in Howell for smoke inhalation.

Kimberley was pronounced dead on arrival at the health center. The family is now staying at the home of Mrs. Sutfin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hoffman, 115 Pierce St., Chelsea. Hoffman is Sylvan Township supervisor. Mrs. Sutfin was Carol Hoffman before her marriage.

The Sutfin home is considered a total loss, and only a few appliances could be salvaged. The family plans to stay with the Hoffmans until they can arrange for new quarters.

Area residents have donated food and clothing to the stricken family. Pinckney merchants began to collect contributions for the Sutfin family early Saturday. A friend of the family is collecting trading stamps in Chelsea for their use. Local Lions clubs and Red Cross units are also aiding the family.

The fire is believed to have started in the lower level bedrooms of the two-story frame building. Sutfin was awakened about 1:45 a.m. by smoke. The Sutfins had removed their children from the burning home by the time Pinckney volunteer firemen reached the scene.

Twelve firemen fought the blaze for about three and one-half hours before bringing it under control. Sutfin employed a local contractor with Associated Spring Corp., Ann Arbor.

'Mystery' Fire Helps Clear Debris on Lot

A fire in debris at the site of a house removal at the corner of Orchard and S. Main started about 11:30 p.m. Monday. The fire had apparently been set, but no one has been apprehended, according to Chelsea Volunteer Fire Department Chief James Gaken. Gaken said that the fire department wet the debris down when the fire started Monday night, but planned to let the fire burn out.

Chelsea Police Chief John Palmieri said that the fire is under investigation. He noted that a can for flammable liquids had been found at the site and that the fire had, certainly been set, but that he had no suspects.

On Dec. 18 the Village Council had denied a request from Paul Higgins for a burning permit at the house removal site. There is a city ordinance which prohibits burning in a section of the Village which includes the central business district.

Higgins, operator of the House of Orient beauty salon, when contacted Tuesday said, "Somebody did a good thing. It was supposed to have been burned and somebody must have seen the problem and started it."

He said that removal of the debris (Continued on page five)

Bills vs. Laws

Michigan citizens can see the beginning of a legislative session which promises to be very interesting to those who understand the procedure.

To the uninitiated, however, the myriad activities which attend the lawmaking process can be very confusing. Newspaper accounts can easily give the impression a bill is dead when actually it can be revived in numerous ways.

By law, the Michigan legislative session starts each year at noon the second Wednesday of January. Proposed laws are known as "bills" from the time they are introduced until they have been passed by both houses and been considered by the Governor, when they become "laws" unless turned down by the chief executive.

Between introduction and final approval, the bill is designated by number and order. It is read a first and second time, usually by title only, when it is formally introduced.

At this time it is referred to a committee for study. If approved by the committee, it is brought back to the membership of the house where it was introduced. Debate follows, first informal and then the "third reading" or formal stage.

If a bill passes by recorded vote after third reading, it goes to the second house for the same procedure of committee consideration and floor debate and vote and is sent to the Governor.

Confusion can arise if a bill fails in either house. It can be referred to committee and brought out again at a later date in the session, or it can be reconsidered for an additional vote.

Stop-Growing

Recent emphasis in education is to provide high school learning for every child and advanced training to all who desire it.

Vast programs of financial aid, in forms of scholarships and loans, were established in an attempt to assure funds.

Result of this trend has been almost astronomical growth of both public and private colleges and universities in terms of physical expansions and enrollment hikes.

Now comes a Michigan State University spokesman, with considerable rank, urging thought to the idea that colleges are being taxed for education to the point of diminishing returns.

MSU has seen its enrollment more than double in the past 15 years. Its faculty has grown from 300 to more than 1,000 in the same period. Graduate student enrollments have nearly tripled. The campus has developed into a small city, requiring bus service to transport from dorms to classrooms.

Dr. Howard R. Neville, MSU provost, is not offering a firm plan for slowing down future growth of the institution. He is simply offering ideas to be considered.

"The question now arises: Might we best serve our land and time now by developing and emphasizing quality in every branch of our undertaking?" he submits.

Without management of size in line with available resources, Neville contends the university cannot meet its obligations to the students it seeks to educate.

Expansion of programs has been nearly as extensive in the past 15 years as the enrollment and staff levels. Neville suggests it is time to level off this area of expansion also.

In short, Neville suggests it is time for MSU to consider the essential question of whether it is as good as it should be.

New Angle

"Parings" will soon be made for one of the oldest traditions in the 14-year history of Michigan Week: the Mayors' Exchange.

Held each year on the Monday of the annual brag week, the exchange of local executives gives the "individuals" involved just a brief look at each others' problems.

The past several years nearly 500 communities have taken part in the exchange. A similar number is expected for the 1967 observance the third week in May.

Monday of Michigan Week is designated as "Our Government Day" when various departments of government at all levels hold open houses and special recognition is given to public officials.

For several years, participating communities have been given the option of being exchanged in population classifications or in a general grouping.

Plans are made early for the exchanges so that participating towns know who their guests will be and committees and the citizenry can give a royal welcome to the visiting dignitary from another Michigan community.

PREDICTS BENEFITS RISE

Representative Melvin Laird (R-Wis.) has predicted the new Congress would attempt to increase social security and other government payments. The chairman of the House Republican Conference proposes benefits should be based on living costs.

YULE STAMP CONTROVERSY

The Post Office Department has received both praise and complaints over the Christmas stamp. A spokesman for the American Civil Liberties Union claims the stamp reveals the government shows preference for a single religion.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows at the country store Saturday night was in a manner of speaking, bringing in the loose ends for the closing year of 1966.

They took in everything from lawyers to blondes, from Lyndon's "Guide Lines" to a pot man's weakness for strong drink.

First off, Ed Doolittle reported he had saw this piece in the papers where more than half of all the candidates for office elected in November, at state and national level, was lawyers.

Ed was of the opinion that this was one thing wrong with the country. He said he didn't have nothing-again the legal profession but things would be a heap better off if we had more farmers and ranchers in Washington. He even went so far as to say a few country editors was needed in the Congress. This is your chance, Mister Editor, to run for Congress.

Zuke Grubb was agreed with Ed, said he could recollect a few years ago when three-fourths of the state legislature in Florida was lawyers and they passed a state law that nobody but lawyers could draw up a deed or a mortgage. He claimed if this trend kept up we would soon have a law that "wherefore and whereas" was a misdemeanor for anybody but a lawyer.

Clem Webster said he didn't like to change the subject but he had saw where some beauty expert reported that about 40 per cent of the women in the United States was now artificial blondes but the genuine blonde was getting mighty scarce in this country. Clem was wondering, since Americans had a habit of hoarding everything that was scarce, how they was going about it to hoard blondes. The fellows couldn't give him no help on this problem.

Bug Hookum was lamenting that he had saw where the price of bread might be "adjusted" up a little more in 1967. Ed took it up from there and was of the opinion Lyndon's "Guide Lines" for prices and wages went down the drain in 1966. Per instant, he said his latest pamphlet from the U. S. Department of Agriculture was bragging on itself for granting wheat farmers permission to plant 15 per cent more land in wheat in 1967. At the same time, he reported, Secretary Freeman said this increase would be needed for our increased food help program for foreign countries. In short, allowed Ed, the price of bread would rise in 1967 and the grocers would get the blame for it.

Josh Glodropper said it was no wonder more and more poor folks was taking to strong drink, that they was drinking to forget.

But personal, Mister Editor, I have took note that most of the folks that drinks to forget ain't got much to remember.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

Here lies the tragedy of the ages: not that men are poor - all men know something of poverty - not that men are wicked - who good? Not that men are ignorant - what is truth? Nay, but that men know so little of men.

Sundberg on Furlough
Roy Sundberg, son of Mr. Ralph Sundberg of Grass Lake, is on furlough from the Corps until Jan. 11. He is serving in Vietnam. His service address is: Roy E. Sundberg 2285559 6011 1st Bn. 2nd ITR Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Home from Hospital
Ted Picklesimer, who was a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for 10 days and underwent surgery on his arm to correct after-effects of a polio attack 14 years ago, was released from the hospital in time to spend Christmas at home. He returned home Saturday. Although he is still wearing a large cast he expects to return to his classes at Chelsea High school when school opens next week after the holiday vacation.

Babson's Forecast...

13. Results of the recent elections indicate that the headlong run of the Great Society Program must take a breather along with the economy. Gains scored by the Republicans have altered the balance of power sufficiently to force a more sober look in public spending.

14. One of the primary reasons for expecting a deceleration in the economy is the likelihood that business capital expenditures may also be curtailed. Suspension of accelerated depreciation guidelines, and suspension of the tax credit on business capital outlays will be tough obstacles to surmount.

15. Except in defense industries, I look for an abrupt switch during 1967 from a business policy of inventory accumulation to one of inventory liquidation.

16. I forecast that scarcity of credit will continue to be a problem with which business must contend in the early part of 1967. The money managers should keep enough credit available for legitimate business needs, but I expect no early radical easing of credit.

17. However, I do foresee enough of an easing in credit to permit more orderly monetary conditions. If the economic situation falters badly, money rates will, of course, move downward sharply.

18. I predict that commercial and industrial building will trend lower in 1967, reflecting the tapering off in capital outlays.

19. Mortgage money should remain scarce in 1967. Hence, residential building should see another disappointing year.

20. 1967 opens with the building of single homes in a state of crisis. Starts are down over 40 percent from year-earlier levels. As a result, I forecast that the Administration will leave no stone unturned to stimulate construction of houses as soon as possible. At best, however, it may be many years after before this important part of our economy can contribute much strength to overall business.

Home Building to Improve

21. Although new housing starts may remain in the doldrums for most of 1967, I confidently forecast that the year will see the beginning of a great boom in the construction of new, modern nursing homes.

22. Despite President Johnson's request for cutbacks, public construction should enjoy a fairly good year; the emphasis will be on bridges, dams, and water and sewer systems.

23. The expected declines in residential building and in commercial and industrial building notwithstanding, I forecast that waterfront property will remain a good inflation hedge.

Labor at Crossroads

24. Labor stands at the crossroads as the new year opens. Things never looked better for falling record wage and fringe gains; however, neither the public nor the Congress is in any mood to tolerate long, costly, and inconvenient shutdowns. I freely predict that there is more likelihood in 1967 of restrictive labor legislation than at any time since Taft-Hartley was put on the books. Union chiefs are aware of this, and they may act with more strike restraint than most people now expect.

25. 1967 promises to be a year in which many managements will be fighting a "rear-guard" action to control climbing labor costs. The long pressure in some industries, but even more activities will be winking the coming knife. I forecast that the net result will be a rise in unemployment next year.

26. I do not look for price and wage controls in 1967, unless our defense expenditures rise far above what is now contemplated.

27. An encouraging aspect of the 1967 outlook is the affluence of consumers. I forecast a further upward trend in personal incomes, due to higher wage rates. However, if taxes are raised, take-home pay may not show a rise commensurate with the gain in gross pay.

28. Retail trade held up well in 1966, but there was a note of lethargy throughout the year. The pattern is not expected to show much change in 1967, with gains in dollar volume largely reflecting price inflation. Though consumers will have more money to spend, tight credit, high borrowing costs, and higher price levels could cause some tightening of purse strings.

29. Spending for food, apparel, and general merchandise should be greater in 1967. Also, consumers will devote a goodly portion of their spending budget for leisure activities, vacation, and travel.

30. Durable goods may not fare so well. Demand for home appliances, color TV sets, and furniture may be hampered by tight credit and high borrowing costs, plus the lethargy in new home building.

Auto Sales Will Sag

31. I forecast a decline in new auto sales. However, with the increase in the population of driving age, and with the record rate of personal income, new car sales could hold within 10 percent of 1966's.

32. Soaring living costs will hit the headlines more often in 1967. It will be directed most strongly at runaway service expenses—especially medical—and at advancing red meat prices.

33. Despite new highs in the cost of living, I predict there will be many signs of deflation in the midst of inflation. Chief among these will be sliding profits, rising bankruptcies and foreclosures.

34. Industrial commodity prices should be firm, slightly higher. Selective price markups will be necessary to offset wage hikes.

35. Profits began to wobble in the final half of 1966. I am convinced that hesitancy will give way to decline during the year ahead. Big squeeze on margins will come from soaring costs, especially labor.

36. But profits results will also vary widely from one company and one industry to another, as sales volumes sag, hold, or advance. For example, I am willing to "stick my neck out" and say that oil companies will enjoy a sales rise, but that the auto makers will be struggling with a volume slump all year.

37. The combination of less vigorous business, pinched profit margins, and stringent credit conditions points to an increase in business failures, shaking out the financially weak and inefficient.

38. Collections may be more difficult in 1967 on business accounts, consumer installment and charge accounts, and mortgage debt. I forecast a further rise in non-farm real estate foreclosures.

39. Barring crop failures, I forecast another good farm production year. Farm prices should rise slightly higher in 1967, but higher costs may result in a slight drop in net realized farm income.

40. Nevertheless, farm equipment manufacturers should enjoy good business. Sales of fertilizers and insecticides should post gains.

Stock Market To Be Tricky

41. 1967's stock market promises to be one of vicissitudes. I am expecting the old aristocracy of the blue chips based on past performance to be replaced by a new aristocracy of super-able management based upon hopes of good future performance.

42. I forecast, however, that 1967 will still hold many dangers for the speculator. I urge readers not to borrow money to buy stocks, and I urge investors to buy for growth and basic investment values.

43. The safest kind of long-term bonds are available now at prices affording very close to the highest income returns of the century. It is a good bet that there will not be so many top-grade issues on the bargain counter at the end of 1967. Should the 1966 Congress boost income taxes, tax-exempt bonds will put on the best performance.

44. World opinion on the future price of gold has blown hot and cold many times in recent years. Though lately in the shade, I predict that gold will again be in the spotlight before 1967 is out.

45. I forecast that the dollar will not be devalued in 1967, but the pound will continue shaky.

46. Certainly, Congress will become more and more critical of the loathing going on under cover of the Administration's War on Poverty. The whole program will be subjected to tighter supervision.

47. As 1967 wears along, the high hopes for more constructive conservative action by the 90th Congress will give way to increased doubts as a legislative stalemate develops. Republicans will have enough strength to stop the most liberal Administration bills, but not enough to launch a program of their own.

48. There will be a lot of talk as well, must undergo periodic resting phases.

49. As the economy cools off in 1967, readers should beware of reassurances that our problems are only temporary and will soon be followed by a decade of boom conditions. The promised land may be only across the river, but it is always wise to test the depth of the water before wading in. That is behind my forecast that 1967 will be a good year for businessmen and investors to have strong confidence for the future, but to proceed with caution and restraint until the uncertainties just ahead have been resolved.

CHS Class of '66

Receives Thanks For Library Gift

Bob Kushmaul, president of the Class of 1966 at Chelsea High school, said Friday that the class has received letters acknowledging the gift of $1,000 given by the class to the YMCA library at Athens, Greece. He explained the money for the gift was the amount left over from the class and Trip Club treasuries — money earned by the class for the two treasuries.

The idea for the gift was the result of information of the YMCA project as received by Chelsea's Y-club members who broached the matter to their classmates.

John D. Wolf, association state YMCA secretary, informed the class of the possible project after being invited to meet here with the class. He said that the YMCA had been built with money raised in Greece with some help from the YMCA International Committee. Rising building costs had left no money for books.

The money from the Chelsea class is being used to buy reference books for the library operated in connection with the "Y" school in Athens.

A book plate designed by Sandy Severn and Mrs. Donna Taylor (formerly Donna Catterman) of the 1966 Chelsea High class, will be placed in the front of each book acknowledging the gift. The book plates include a handshake with the words "Friendship and Knowledge" in the design.

Bob Kushmaul said here that after the class voted on the project, approval had to be obtained from the Chelsea School Board and school officials. By the time these formalities were completed it was fall before the money could be sent.

Class funds remaining after the $1,000 was sent to Greece were given to the Melvin "Red" Lamb Fund. The fund is for the benefit of the Chelsea barber who is awaiting a kidney transplant.

Ask Special Election for Probate Post

The election of Washtenaw County Probate Judge John W. Conlin to the Circuit Court has left a probate judge vacancy. The County Board of Supervisors has requested a special primary election Feb. 20 and a special election April 8, at the time of municipal elections in the county, to fill the vacancy. The following letter was sent this week to all supervisors by chairman of the board, Bent F. Nielsen:

There will not be a regularly scheduled election to fill the existing vacancy for our second probate judgeship until November, 1968. After consulting with many supervisors as we could contact over the holidays, we decided it is in the best interest of Washtenaw county citizens to request the governor to call a special election to fill that office. This is a non-partisan office. If the election is called now, sufficient time for candidates to file still remains. I discussed this matter with Judge John Conlin, who agrees a second judge should be elected and likewise agrees a special election to fill the office is appropriate.

A copy of our wire to the governor is included:

To honorable George Romney, governor of the State of Michigan, executive office, Capitol Building, Lansing. Respectfully request call of special primary election on Feb. 20, 1967 and special election on April 8, 1967 in Washtenaw county to fill probate judge vacancy created by recent election to Circuit Court of present Probate Judge John W. Conlin. Forgoing suggested dates coincide with municipal elections in Washtenaw county and will save county considerable expense. (Signed) Bent F. Nielsen, chairman of the board, Carl E. Mast, member, Ways and Means Committee; Robert M. Harrison, chairman of Ways and Means Committee; Clayton H. Perry, chairman of the Educational Committee and Ruth M. Dana, chairman of the Probate Court Committee.

Joint services will again be held at the EUB churches. Next Sunday services will be at our North church, at 10 o'clock.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Cheerful voices (and sad voices, too), young voices, old voices, soft and loud voices are once again saying, "Happy New Year." The words have a pleasant sound. It is a pleasant tradition. But just exactly what does Happy New Year mean? What does it mean to you? A wish for continued good health, or better health? A better job? More money? More comfort, more conveniences? Or perhaps less worry? Less fear? Less uncertainty, less anxiety? Whatever it means to you, your friends wish you well when they say, "Happy New Year."

But, as the saying goes, "Wishing won't make it so." Your friends can try to help you be happy, but they can't guarantee it. It depends on you, not them. The reason is clear and known. GENUINE happiness can never be found in self-centered thoughts. If we would make and keep a New Year resolution to think less of our private satisfactions . . . to more willingly think and act in a way to bring happiness to those whose lives we touch . . . then, and then only can we be truly happy. Impossible? No! Improbable perhaps for some, but not impossible for most of us . . . Our voice joins other in wishing you a Happy New Year — and may it be genuine . . . Plans Cancelled For Square Dance

Chelsea missed its chance for a holiday square dance this year. Richard Bares, director of the Chelsea Area Recreation Commission, was contacted last week by only two couples interested in organizing a dance, and he needed at least 18 couples. "Two couples don't make a square dance," he said, and the plans were cancelled.

Due to a conflict with some church activities, Saturday morning basketball for grades four through six has been moved up a half-hour and will now meet from 10:30 to 12:30, Bares announced. He also repeated last week's announcement that more high school boys will have to come out for the Jan. 7 session at the Junior High school or that program will be dropped. The enrollment for this program is now seven.

The Wednesday night men's physical education class will go on, but the class is looking for more members. If interested, call Bares at GR 9-7465.

Narrowly Escapes Death in Farm Machine Accident

William Van Riper narrowly escaped serious injury or death on Wednesday of last week when his clothing became caught in the power shaft of a manure spreader at his farm, 1137 Haist Rd. He was saved because of the fact that his wife immediately investigated when she thought she heard a faint noise which sounded like someone calling, and ran to his aid.

By the time Mrs. Van Riper reached her husband all his clothing had been ripped from his body and the shaft was gouging the flesh on his thigh and leg.

With remarkable presence of mind Mrs. Van Riper shut off the machine and found a hack saw with which she had to saw off the belt on the shaft before she could free her husband.

He has been under the doctor's care since the accident but preferred not to go in to the hospital; however, he is to enter St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Jan. 11 for a hernia operation. It is believed the accident aggravated the condition of the hernia.

The accident occurred at the barn, about 100 feet from the house, as Van Riper was preparing to use the equipment to put the barn in order before leaving with his family to spend Christmas with relatives in New Jersey. Needless to say, the trip was cancelled but Mrs. Van Riper said they were happy to spend Christmas at home since tragedy was averted and the family could all be together.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boyce were callers Tuesday evening of last week of Mrs. Mary Clark and son, Dean.

DEATHS

Harold A. Storms

Dies at Home in Ohio Following Heart Attack

Harold A. Storms of Maple Heights, O., formerly of Chelsea, died at his home Monday afternoon, Dec. 10, following a heart attack. He was 64 years old. He was the brother of the late Mrs. Warren Daniels.

At the time of his death he had been a teacher of mechanical drawing at Maple Heights High school for the past nine years. He was also in charge of lay-out work for all school publications. He had previously taught in high schools at Berea, Cleveland and Shaker Heights, O.

In addition to his teaching career Mr. Storms was well known in industrial circles in the Cleveland area, having done considerable design engineering. His technical knowledge also served him well as supervisor of the making of dies and machine parts and as aircraft lifting inspector.

Among his many engineering designs were stamp vending machines, candy vending machines and a special hotel room radio.

Born in Chelsea, Aug. 24, 1902, he was a son of Frank E. and Belle Chandler Storms. He graduated from Chelsea High school and received his degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Michigan. He also attended Baldwin-Wallace College at Berea, O., for one year before beginning his high school teaching career.

Survivors are his widow, Evelyn; two daughters, Mrs. Carol Lindow of the Cleveland area and Mrs. Janet Lecky, wife of a Navy chaplain, of Bremerton, Germany; four grandchildren; and two nephews, Robert and James Daniels of Chelsea.

Funeral services and burial took place Thursday, Dec. 22.

Memorial gifts were designated to benefit Overlook House at Cleveland. Chelsea area friends who may wish to make memorial gifts may send them in care of the nephews, James and Robert Daniels.

Mrs. Mabel Woolley

Dies Wednesday, Dec. 21 At Ann Arbor Hospital

Mrs. Mabel Woolley, 87, widow of Duncan Woolley, died Wednesday evening, Dec. 21, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, following a brief illness. For approximately 20 years she had made her home at 116 Adrian St., Manchester. The family came from Goodells in 1940 and resided at Waterloo until moving to Manchester.

Mrs. Woolley was born at Forest, Mich., June 1, 1879, the daughter of Abram and Sarah Morse.

The family included three sons, all of whom preceded her in death—William, who lost his life during World War II while serving with the U. S. Army in France in 1945; James who died in 1946, and Newell whose death occurred in 1952.

Mrs. Woolley was a member of the Manchester Methodist church. Only survivors are a granddaughter, Mrs. Judy Woolley Boyer, and a great-grandson, David Boyer.

Funeral services, with the Rev. Oscar W. Cooper of the Manchester Methodist church officiating, were held at the Jenter Funeral Home at Manchester at 11 a.m. Friday and graveside services took place at 2:30 p.m. at Mt. Pleasant cemetery at Goodells.

Disposition of Old Junior High Studied

Chelsea Junior High students won't move into their new building on Freer Rd. for about a year, but some local citizens are already thinking about what may happen to the old building they leave behind.

The Chelsea Planning Commission has considered the possibility of using at least part of the structure as a community recreation center. Jack Merkel represented the planning commission at the Dec. 5 meeting of the school board and presented the proposal for use of the building as a recreation center. School board members stated that they would be willing to co-operate with the planning commission. They asked the commission to submit a letter to the board detailing the proposal.

Robert Taylor, member of the school board, said this week that the board has not yet been approached concerning future use of the building by any group other than the planning commission.

He said that a firm decision on disposition of the building will probably not be made until fall. The school board has discussed possible future uses for the building and site, however.

Estimates on cost of demolition have been prepared, but Taylor said that he personally doubts that the entire building will be demolished. The board has considered demolition of only the oldest portion of the structure. There is also a possibility that the building could be used for school purposes in the future.

The school board would probably want the building, if used as a recreation or community center, to be available to the entire school district, rather than only the village, Taylor said.

You've gone out of your way to be as friendly as you possibly could, and we want you to know how grateful we are. Our best wishes to you for a Happy New Year.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

SECOND CHANCE

How many times during the year now ended, whenever you failed, whenever you missed an opportunity, did you wish you could turn back the pages of time and have another go at the problem or the chance?

There is seldom a second time around. Yet, life is a continuing series of events, bringing new problems, new opportunities.

Whatever happened during 1966 is now history. Now, the question becomes, "What will happen during 1967?"

The pages of each new day are yours to mark upon. They bring challenge, opportunity, joy and sadness; but each man writes his own record of defeat, acceptance, or achievement.

If experience has taught you anything at all, you should be better prepared in the year ahead than you were in the year that is now dead. Much of what happens to you during 1967 really depends upon you.

Just A Minute . . .

By the Rev. James A. Craig

Dicken's Scrooge has been remade once again. Filled now with the joy of the season he squanders his newly-found happiness on boys passing in the street and on his one employee.

An explosion of joy or an attempt to buy the futures of a petty life?

Let's give him the benefit and call it an explosion of joy. But what happens when the noise no longer sounds in his ears? Will his nets be bribery to avoid an unearned for and forgotten grave? Or will they have the sure ring of quality and sincerity?

Scrooge might teach us much if we watch him well. He will teach us that we do more good out of fear than for its own sake.

He will teach us that the judgments of others speak more to us than our own consciences and that we will hear them before we listen to the voice of "ought" that speaks of right and wrong.

He can teach us the value of time and that its waste is a tragedy and that, no matter how hard we might try, once it is gone it will not be recovered.

He can teach us that the bribe paid to the future is still for our own benefit and still looks for our own good.

From him we can learn that sociability is a sometime thing and that sincerity is a priceless gem.

From him we can learn the delight of unrestrained happiness and unselfish service.

They all fit the season and were first taught by a Jew named Jesus.

BIBLE VERSE TO STUDY

"If ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine."

1. To whom was the above promise made?

2. Through whom was it given to these people?

3. Where were the Children of Israel at this time?

4. Where may this promise be found?

Knott and Shott fought a duel. The result was that they changed conditions. Knott was shot and Shott was not. It was better to be Shott than Knott.
