MOST IMPRESSIVE tornado damage in Wash-
aw county was to the Robert Fosters' garage which was displaced. By Saturday morning Mrs.
Foster had a standard tour of the site available.
The garage had been in but was not completed. Damage to the Foster home was minor, although several windows were broken and a support for the front porch was displaced. By Saturday morning Mrs.
Foster had a standard tour of the site available.
after acting as a hostess to several carloads of reporters, cameramen and even inquiring weathermen.

THE ROOF of the Foster garage landed upside down across a fence behind a neighboring house.
The garage site is in the background. Mrs. Foster said that they plan to rebuild the garage, which will contain a small recreation room. The Fosters may need the help of another tornado, traveling in reverse direction, to replace the roof.

A SKYLIGHT was created for the small barn behind the Frederick Schultz residence, 20184 Old US-12, by Friday evening's tornado when it apparently touched down for the first time in the local area. Another section of the roof remained in place, while the portion that covered this side of the building was deposited in a garden east of the barn.

Area Escapes Serious Damage as Tornado Swoops Down

Several tourists were seen Sunday and Sunday taking pictures of what they thought was an impressive tornado damage to the Dairy Queen building at the corner of M-52 and Old US-12 and to the livestock building on the fairgrounds.
Actual tornado damage from the storm which hit Chelsea Friday night (the Dairy Queen building is being dismantled and the roof of the livestock building collapsed under the weight of snow during the winter)
was lighter than expected.
Detroit Weather Bureau Inspector, who inspected the damage, interviewed witnesses and studied pictures taken of the radar scope while the storms were in progress, concluded that

"a tornado momentarily touched the ground at Chelsea." According to the Weather Bureau report issued Saturday night, Chelsea was the only spot in southeast Michigan where a funnel cloud was known to have touched ground, although several other funnels were sighted.
According to the report: "The tornado hit the southwest side of Chelsea at 8:40 p.m. It destroyed one garage and damaged several houses. The track on the ground was less than one half mile long and only a few dozen feet wide. Although damage was light in comparison to most tornadoes, there were several witnesses who saw the funnel and heard the characteristic roaring noise. Debris was scattered in the typical rotary pattern."

C. Robert Snider, meteorologist in charge of the U.S.
Weather Bureau at Detroit, was in Chelsea Saturday to inspect damage.
He explained that damage to the Robert Foster garage at 515 Wilkinson was definitely caused by the tornado, citing the pattern of debris and the force with which wood from the structure was driven into the ground as determining factors.
Snider explained that he was looking for evidence of low pressure, which causes windows to break outward, rather than inward, as he examined sites of damage.

Some of the Chelsea damage, Snider said, may have been caused by straight line winds and not by the tornado itself.
The tornado was part of a thunderstorm which continued
east-northeastward, bringing further damage to Royal Oak and Madison-Heights. Damage in these communities was apparently caused by straight line
winds, the Weather Bureau reported.
Snider said that the damage
here "was just about the lightest we've ever seen from an actual tornado."

Many Chelsea residents were not even aware of the village's close brush with a major disaster. Some neighbors of the Robert Fosters did not realize that the garage had been demolished, although several others in the area reported hearing a roar "like a freight train."
Mrs. George Palmer, 1302
Frederic Rd., reported seeing the funnel.
Damage reports received by the Chelsea Police Department and The Standard listed:
A barn roof (see picture) partially ripped off, and considerable damage to other property

at the Frederick Schultz residence, 20184 Old US-12. Live wires at the Schultz home were also downed.
Destruction of the Robert Foster garage, behind the Foster home at 515 Wilkinson St., and several broken windows and other minor damage to the home. A neighboring house also suffered damage when debris
from the garage struck it.
A carport support displaced during the storm, caused the carport to fall on a car at the Robert Robbins residence, 605
Grant. The car suffered only minor damage.

Power lines in the Jefferson
St. area knocked down and extensive damage to trees in the area of South Elementary school.
A picket fence moved and driven into the ground at the home of Mrs. Edna Miller, Wellington St.
Police Chief Earl Willis was on duty Friday night investigating reports of damage. He called the path of the tornado "extremely fortunate."
Elwyn Beach, Civil Defense
director for Zone 6, indicated that Chelsea was braced for the tornado Friday night.
He had received a message

indicating a tornado watch at 3:55 p.m. and a local phone alert system was put into operation. Chelsea Citizen's Band Emergency Service co-operated with Beach in putting news of the tornado watch on Citizen's Band radio.
An emergency communications center at the Municipal Building was activated when Beach received word at 7:45 p.m. that a funnel had been sighted near Onsted, traveling in this direction.
Beach dismissed all personnel
at 9:30 p.m., after danger had passed.

New Principal Appointed for North School

Higher Enrollments, More Details Help Make New Position Necessary

Robert Benedict, 37, who is now principal of an exchange teacher, was appointed principal of North Elementary school Monday evening. He accepted the position when contacted Wednesday morning.
The present North and South elementary schools share one principal, Sylvester Wojcik.
North school has never had principal of its own.
In recommending a contract as principal for Benedict, Superintendent of Schools Charles S.
Cameron explained that the job
of administering both elementary schools had simply become too big and time consuming for one man to handle.
Evaluation of teachers, required
by the state tenure law, has become a particularly time-consuming duty, Cameron said. He added that with two principals more could be devoted to helping new teachers adjust to the new system.
Increased enrollments are a major reason for appointing a second principal, Cameron explained.
The new arrangement, he said,

ROBERT BENEDICT
will make it possible for the two men to devote more time to improvement of the needs of individual students and the everyday problems of operating the schools.

Kindergarten Round-Up Set For April 27

Kindergarten Round-up will be held at South school on Thursday, April 27. Rural children and parents are asked to come from 9
to approximately 11 a.m. and town children and parents from 1 to approximately 3 p.m.
Children will meet in either of the kindergarten rooms (1 and
2) where there will be supervised play, lunch, and other activities.
Parents will meet in the all-purpose room where they will complete enrollment forms, participate in discussion and enjoy refreshments.
Parents who must leave early
may do so after completing forms.
If it is not possible for parents to attend, information about the child should be given to South school by phone or mail. However, please do not call to register children on April 27, since this will be a busy day at school. Principal Sylvester Wojcik requested.
To be eligible for kindergarten in September children must be five years old on or before next Dec. 1. Parents should bring birth certificates to the Round-up.
This enrollment date and place
is for all pre-kindergarten children in the Chelsea School District.

Zion Lutheran Church Starts Summer-Long Centennial

The tornado that swirled over Chelsea last week, touching down in the village, seemed a close call to most area residents, but for the Zion Lutheran church congregation at Rogers Corners,
it was nearly a disasterous coincidence.
Fifty years ago, in the spring of 1917, the congregation was hard at work on preparations for the church's 50th anniversary Golden Jubilee. The first day of July had been chosen for the celebration.
Then, suddenly, on June 8 a tornado dipped out of the dark sky, partially destroying both the church and the parsonage and completely demolishing the homes of Christian Grau, Michael Schiller, Martin Wenk, John Wenk and Edward Koch,
all members of the church.
The plucky group fought back,
though, and on Sept. 16, 1917
the Golden Jubilee celebration
took place and the rebuilt church
was rededicated.
This year the congregation is faced with the difficult task of planning and arranging for a summer-long centennial celebration without the aid of a full-time pastor. The Rev. C. J.
Renner, who had served Zion
Lutheran church for eight years,
resigned Feb. 1 due to ill health, and although efforts to secure a new pastor are being made, the search has not yet been successful.
A Centennial Festival Committee, appointed in January of 1966, has been responsible for guiding plans and preparations for a series of celebrations this summer. Committee members are Martha Eisenman, Evelyn Haab, Wanda Heydlauff, George
Prinzinger and Norman Wenk.
The first major event marking the centennial year will take place this Sunday, April 23. A Centennial Choir Festival, featuring a Centennial Choir composed of all former members of the Zion Lutheran choir who are able to attend, will be presented at the Sunday morning service.
The Centennial Choir will be directed by Miss DIANN L'ROY, Chelsea High school vocal director.
The choir will include more than 40 voices. Mrs. George (Wanda) Heydlauff has organized the choir and directed it during practice sessions. Mrs.
Alton Grau, Sr., and Mrs. Ernest Wenk will be organists for the Festival.
The service this Sunday will be conducted by the Rev. Don Baasche and will take place in the parish hall which will follow.
Plans for several other centennial celebrations during the summer are nearly complete.
A Confirmation Reunion is scheduled for Sunday, May 21,
with an open house in the parish hall from 2 to 4 p.m. The Rev. Robert C. Kaiser of Toledo will conduct the service. He

Funeral Homes To Discontinue Ambulances

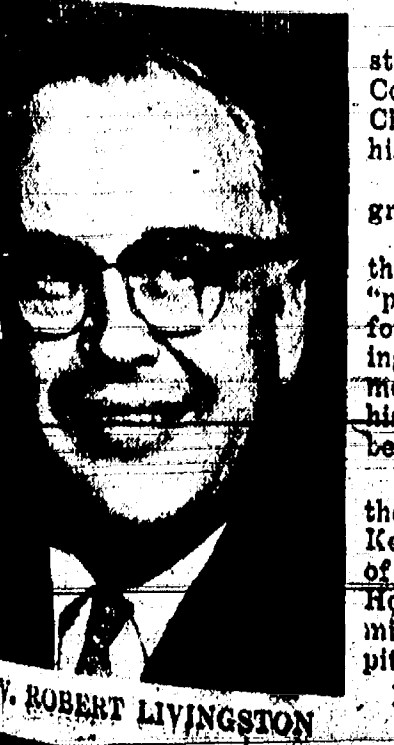

Nearly All Washtenaw County Funeral Homes Set Oct. 1 Deadline

Both Staffan Funeral Home and Burghardt Funeral Home will end their ambulance service Oct. 1.
The move, announced to the Village Council Tuesday night, is part of a plan by nearly all Washtenaw county funeral directors to discontinue ambulance service. Only two Ann Arbor firms, Staffan
and Fontana-Hamilton Funeral Homes, plan to continue service.

Village Tax Rate Raised One Mill

Chelsea Village Council voted unanimously Tuesday night to raise the village tax rate by one mill.
The council also adopted a 1967
budget of $304,516.83, approximately $6,500 greater than last year.
The one mill increase is in the general fund rate, while the one mill levied for McKune Memorial Library and three mills levied for payment of interest and principal remain the same.
An increase of one mill is equal to $1 per $100 of assessed valuation and a one mill increase will produce approximately $5,000 in increased revenue.
A motion to raise the tax rate followed a lengthy discussion of the budget and particularly the need for equipment and a building for the Public Works Department.
Trustee Frederick Weber, who brought up a motion for increasing the rate, expressed concern over continued withdrawals from Light & Water Department funds to meet mounting expenditures.
Several councilmen pointed out that while the general fund tax rate has not been increased for nearly 10 years, expenditures have steadily increased.
During the discussion Village President Baldwin stated that he felt the council should consider the issue as one of raising or not raising the tax, rather than as a question of whether the rate

Rev. R. Livingston Resigns as Congregational Pastor

The Rev. Robert A. J. Livingston, 50, pastor of Chelsea's First Congregational church, United Church of Christ, has announced his resignation, effective June 8.
He has been pastor of the congregation for four years.
In a statement issued this week,
the Rev. Livingston said that he "plans to be out of the ministry for about three years and is trying to decide where he can be most helpful to people and where his interests and abilities would be most creatively used."
He explained that he had chosen the June 8 date because his son Kent would complete his first year of high school in the University Hospital in-hospital school and might be able to leave the hospital on that date.

THE LANSING REPORT
FROM
senator
GIL BURSLEY

Recently I initiated a regular newsletter to servicemen in Vietnam from Washington and Louisiana counties. I have about 150 names on the list now but am certainly missing many. Please send me the names and addresses of servicemen (and women) you know of in Vietnam.

There have been a dozen replies from the first newsletter. Some of the boys wanted information on specific subjects, including schools. One wanted a Michigan flag. Several had good suggestions.

Let me share some of the comments from our area servicemen with you.

From a sergeant in the 60th Infantry Division: "From what I've read about the draft lottery system in school and newspapers I'd say it would be a better system than the one now in use." Also at all possible I'd like some information on a business college in the area to help out better myself for the job awaiting me at (an Ann Arbor company).

From a Navy man on the USS Enterprise: "I think it was very thoughtful of you to establish such a newsletter as I very rarely see even a newspaper. I agree with the policies of the present Administration and I hope that the attacks on North Vietnam will be stepped up. I have two reasons for this: (1) Hopefully the conflict would be ended sooner and we could go home. (2) Also, our service on this ship would most likely be extended for a few months and we would see snow and Christmas again. Several men haven't seen Christmas in three or four years because of being transferred from one ship to another. I would be most interested in any information you have available concerning jobs in the cooking profession.

Before I joined the Navy, I worked at an Ypsilanti restaurant as a cook and I'm having trouble trying to decide if I should return there or if I should go elsewhere."

From the 1st Battalion of the 18th Infantry: "I would like to see a bill passed making all men 17 years or older who drop out of school serve at least two years or more in service or find something to get them off the street and out of trouble. I don't think these people who always protest know what they are talking about. I wish they could be sent over here to serve a tour, then maybe they would keep quiet for a while. I have been told that I am a fool for extending my time, but I believe there is a cause over here."

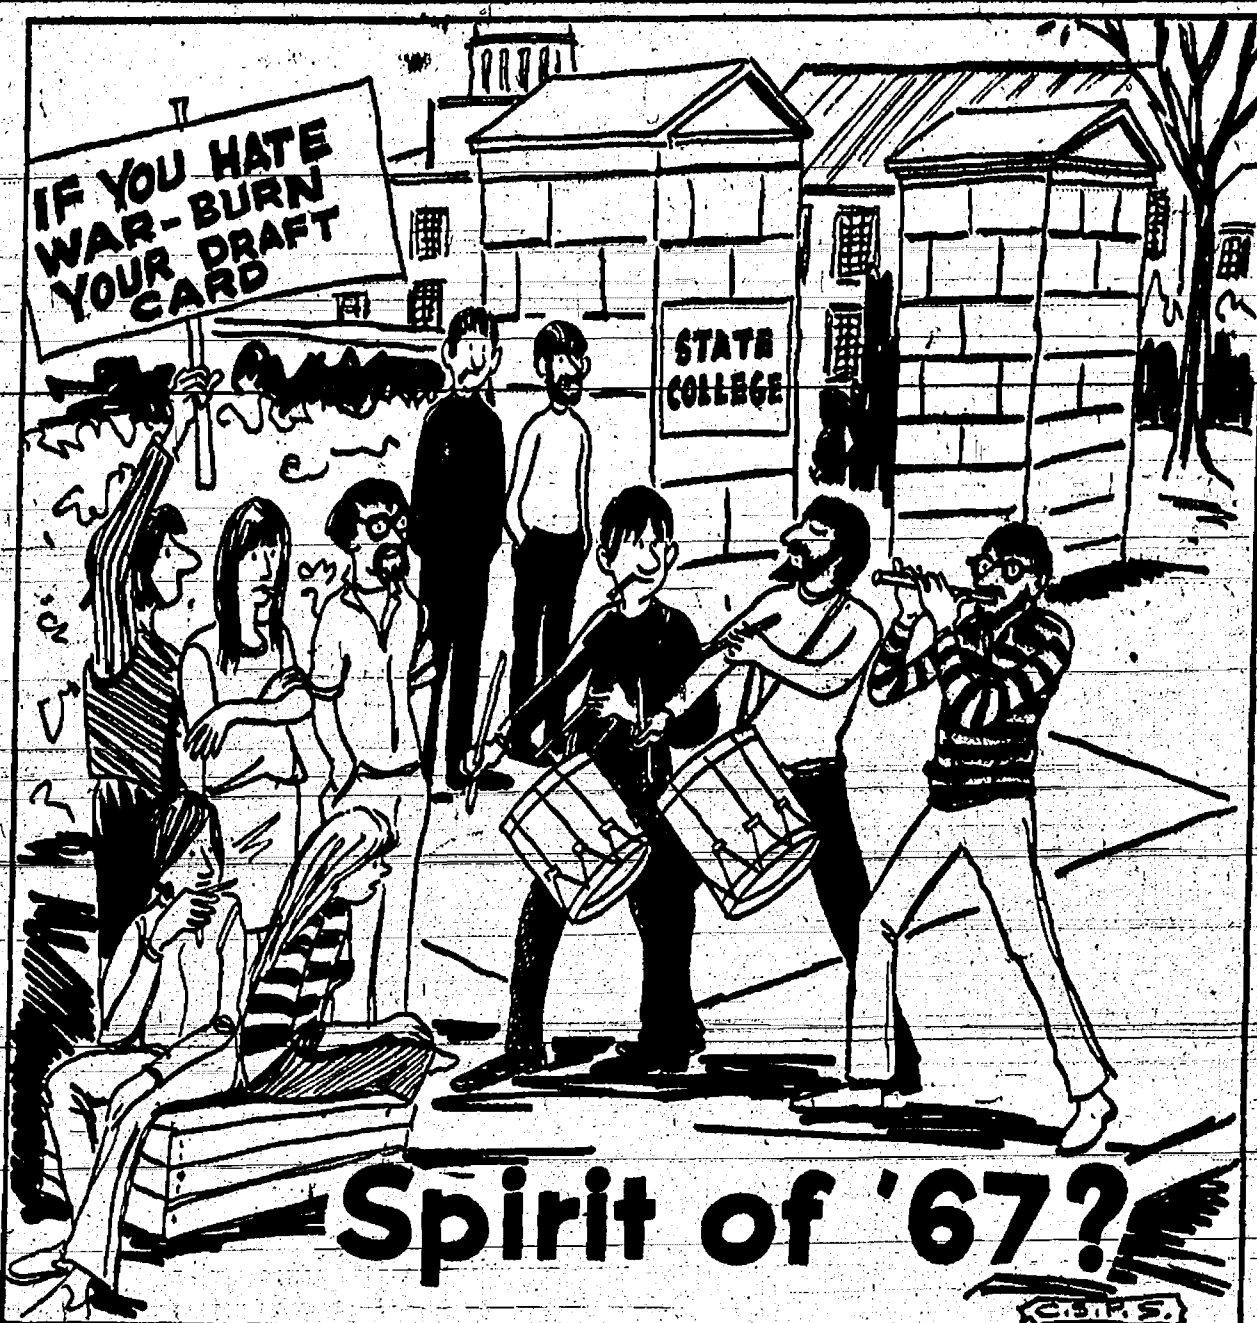

From the 2nd Battalion, 22nd Infantry: "First I'd like to say that you are the only one from the government of Michigan writing and letting us from Michigan know what is going on. There are quite a few guys here from Michigan and they are all homesick and only rely on our wives and parents to tell us what is happening. Does the state still have the Vietnam Veterans' Fund?"

From the 6th Infantry Division: "I only wish that the people could really see what our men here in Vietnam have to go through each day. I feel the reason the kids at home are so much against our effort here is because many do not know how we have to fight and what life is like for the Vietnamese people. I myself have lost a lot of friends during the time I have been in Vietnam and there was a reason for their death and they died proud that they were fighting in a way for our country but more so for a country too weak to fight off a large communist country which has been supplying North Vietnam throughout this conflict. There are also a lot of young men that have been exempt from the service only because of a slight record with the police and are walking the streets the same as those with driving records."

More from Vietnam in another letter.

"Non-Political" Appointment
Recognition of ability is theoretically the basis for appointments to public office.

Frequently Gov. George Romney has been criticized as having other governors, for leaning too heavily on political factors in his appointments.

Only rarely has any public acclaim been given to Romney for his appointments which historically and traditionally are delegated to party workers.

Appointment of Otis M. Smith
recently to fill a vacancy on the Public Service Commission of Michigan Board of Regents drew applause from both sides of the political fence.

Smith, a former chairman of the Public Service Commission and Auditor General, was appointed last November in a bid for another term on the State Supreme Court. He lost to a Republican-supported Irishman whose name was better known in Wayne County. A Democrat, Smith took his loss gracefully.

In appointing Smith to the governing board of Michigan's 150-year-old university, Romney said, "The university and the entire state will benefit from the public service experience and the personal qualities of Mr. Smith."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:
loud talk movement. He figured, for instant, the whole economy of this country would fall apart if them razor blade people was to come out and say their blade was working real good and they couldn't figure out right off how to make it any better. And Zeke allowed as how if the car-fakers was to up and say their 1967 models had been giving good service and they was going to make the 1968 models exact the same automobile sales in this country would drop 50 percent on the 1968 models. But Zeke allowed as how, personal, he wasn't worried none, that his 1947 pickup truck was good for another 10 years.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

sonal attributes he brings to his responsibilities."

Several Republicans certainly could have been found with public service experience closely matching that of Smith's. It must be assumed that Romney weighed heavily on Smith's personal attributes and felt he was a man who should be duly rewarded without regard to politics.

Michigan would be served well if all appointments were made on the same basis.

Freeway Safety
Michigan's freeways have been in use long enough for many motorists to take the high-speed convenience for granted.

Many still drive in the left lane although the left lane should be used only for passing. After frustration caused to other drivers this habit has not proved too troublesome.

Car trouble on freeways has been more of a problem but there is a standard distress signal in use throughout the country. It is the quickest way to get assistance in an emergency.

A raised hood and white cloth tied to the car door handle, adopted several years ago by the American Association of State Highway Officials, is the standard distress signal.

At night, additional measures can draw attention to the driver in need, such as leaving taillights and interior lights on. A turn signal should also be left on so motorists won't mistake the car's location with through traffic lanes.

Passing motorists should keep in mind that they can help by notifying service stations or police agencies at nearby exits of the location of a stranded motorist.

Simple methods to let passing vehicles know that the stopped motorist needs help? Yes, but imagine the frustration of the driver who fails to use these methods, and sees the police drive by assuming the motorist has stopped to rest a minute.

Under no circumstances should a motorist walk on the freeway, warns State Highway Director Howard E. Hill. Other drivers on the freeway are not conditioned to seeing pedestrians along the right-of-way.

"This could make the pedestrian highly vulnerable to accidents or could cause a driver to suddenly swerve into the path of another auto," said Hill.

Another safety rule: make every effort to get a disabled vehicle off the roadway onto the shoulder, if all or part of a traffic lane is blocked, some warning device should be placed: flares, flashing lights, lanterns or reflectors.

At night, additional measures can draw attention to the driver in need, such as leaving taillights and interior lights on. A turn signal should also be left on so motorists won't mistake the car's location with through traffic lanes.

Firearms were responsible for only 10 percent of all deaths caused by crime and accident in recent years.

Thursday, April 20, 1934—

At the last regular monthly meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education an effort was made to formulate plans for the school year of 1934-35 which would allow the school to operate for a nine months term and still maintain all of the services necessary to keep the high school on the credit list of the State University, the State Department of Education, and the North Central Association. The Board recognized that in order to accomplish this purpose it must make a great reduction in operating expenses and several thousand dollars will undoubtedly be cut from the budget ordinarily received. It is only in the matter of salaries that any considerable reduction can be made. The Board of Education has voted to operate the high school with a staff of teachers two less in number than the present staff.

Ambulance Service To Halt

...equally well for taking folks back and forth to the hospital. With more people, more accidents, more folks needing hospital care, ambulance service is no longer just a sideline for a growing community responsibility, just like fire service, police protection, etc.

There are several ways in which this community need can be met. One possibility would be a sort of volunteer rescue squad, as has been used successfully in other communities of similar size.

The two local funeral directors, George Staffan and Louis Burghardt, have offered their services to the community in helping to solve the problem during the next few months, with offers of supplies and equipment, as well as training to set up a training program for volunteer helpers, during a meeting with the Village Council on Tuesday, April 18.

"There is no reason why the Chelsea community will suffer because of this change of service. Instead, Chelsea will benefit from this transfer of a vital service to a specialized group, whose sole responsibility will be one of saving lives."

"This is a problem the village is going to have to face up to one way or another. It seems to me that we have to provide this service for our people," Village President Don Baldwin commented after Burghardt and Staffan had made their presentation.

The two funeral directors estimated that they jointly answered 400-500 calls a year, probably 75 percent of those outside the village. They added that there are very few times when both ambulances are needed at the same time.

When Baldwin asked Burghardt to expand on the statement made at the end of his release, concerning "benefit" to the community, Burghardt explained that in many small communities a police or fire volunteer service can accumulate a pool of up to 35 or 40 men who are available to go out on ambulance calls.

"We have to try to recruit help," he said, "and we have to compete with local industries. The way things are now, if I get a call between 7 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., I have to handle the case alone."

"There is a need, too, for better trained people," Staffan said. "We're really funeral directors, and while we have some training in first aid, a more specialized group might be able to do a better job."

Burghardt said that the decision to leave the ambulance business is definite, although he and Staffan are willing to do anything they can to help the village set up an alternate system before Oct. 1.

He added that area funeral directors have invited representatives of three ambulance services to attend a meeting in Saline next week, and that there is a possibility one of the firms may be interested in establishing an independent ambulance service in this area.

Staffan and Burghardt each own one combination ambulance-hearse, which would be converted to hearses when they discontinue ambulance service.

Eighth Grade Class Tours Ford Rouge Plant

The eighth grade class of Chelsea Junior High visited the River Rouge complex of Ford Motor Co., in Dearborn, April 6.

The trip supplemented units in science dealing with mechanics and automation and social studies units in industrialization.

Several of the students commented in compositions written after the trip that they liked the assembly line best.

"AROUND THE WORLD in 80 Minutes" is the theme for the Chelsea Co-Op Nursery school fashion show Saturday. Foreign costumes in the show were gathered from members of the nursery. Mrs. Thomas Donkin, left, models an "old style" Chinese costume. Her daughter, Katie, wears a dress which once belonged to her great-grandmother. Mrs. Vern Otto, center, is dressed as a Japanese coolie, with elevated Japanese sandals as accessories. Her son, Todd, appears as an English boy. Mrs. Herbert Hinz models a contemporary Chinese costume and her son, Harry, is dressed as a Chinese boy. (See story page five.)

Co-Op Nursery Fashion Show Set Saturday at Chelsea High

"Around the World in 80 Minutes," a fashion show featuring costumes from several foreign countries, will be presented by the Chelsea Co-Op Nursery on Saturday, April 22.

Luncheon will be served in the Chelsea High school cafeteria at noon, and modeling of both foreign and contemporary American fashions will follow.

Clothes for children, teenagers, adults and grandmother's will be shown. Some of the fashions will be shown in all sizes. Beachwear will be modeled by both teen-age and adult models.

Nursery school mothers who will be modeling are Mrs. David Millar, Mrs. Ned Palmer, Mrs. Edwin Coy, Mrs. Vernon Otto, Mrs. Robert Updegraff, Mrs. Donald Bussler, Mrs. Herbert Hinz, Mrs. Walter Brown, Mrs. Thomas Donkin, Mrs. James Hoffmeyer and Mrs. Robert Wolberg.

Foreign children's costumes will be modeled by Kim Millar, Katie Donkin, Todd Otto, Paul Hoffmeyer and Barry Hinz.

Tracy Catell, Kathy Willett, Shari Roberts, and John Coy

will also model children's clothing. All of the children modeling attend the Co-Op Nursery school.

Teen-age models will be Cindy Chandler, Denise Bussler and Lori Reddeman.

Mrs. LaVerne Coy and Mrs. Jean Wilson, grandmothers of nursery school children, will also model.

Most of the foreign costumes in the show have been supplied by members of the Co-Op Nursery. Other fashions modeled will be from Dancer's Department Store, Chelsea. Models' hair will be done by Magic Mirror Beauty Salon of Dexter and House of Orient Beauty Salon of Chelsea.

Tickets for the show may be purchased from any Co-Op Nursery school member or by calling Mrs. James Peterson, HA 6-4132. Mrs. Peterson is general chairman of the fashion show.

Nothing is ever accomplished tomorrow.

CHS Baseball Team Downs Dexter, 5-1

The Chelsea baseball squad defeated Dexter on the Dexter diamond Tuesday afternoon, 5-1.

"We finally got out hitting shoes on and rapped out 10 hits," Coach Carl Genske said.

Bill Harvey had four hits for four times at bat. Dennis Kye hit two for three, both doubles. He also had three runs batted in. Mike Harvey hit twice for four times at bat and knocked in the other two runs. Chuck Winans also had two singles.

Craig Houle struck out eight batters with no walks. "He did a superb job," Genske said.

Thursday the team plays Lincoln on the home field at 4 p.m. in a conference game.

Cancer Society Workers Plan Chelsea Tag Day

Mrs. Robert Taylor, American Cancer Society funds campaign chairman for Chelsea, announced this week that a "tag day" for cancer society contributions is planned for Saturday, April 29.

Mrs. Taylor also issued the following statement:

"It is the responsibility of both the individual and the physician in cancer detection. On this point Dr. Charles S. Cameron (no relation to Chelsea School District Superintendent) stated in his book 'The Truth About Cancer: In no other disease does the patient himself bear so large a share of the responsibility for recognizing the early first signs (as he does in cancer) and for realizing that they are worth investigating. In no other disease does the patient alone influence the outcome to so great a degree.'

"Cancer is too menacing and powerful a foe to be vanquished by half-measures. It strikes in two out of three American families. More has been learned about its nature in the past 25 years than in all previous medical history."

"But while the scientists who study the killer are probing the very secrets of life, it is up to us to do our part—to know the enemy and to act upon the knowledge we have—to save as many lives as we can."

"Remember cancer's seven danger signals: unusual bleeding or discharge, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, a sore that does not heal, change in bowel or bladder habits, hoarseness or cough, indigestion or difficulty in swallowing, or change in wart or mole. If your signal lasts longer than two weeks, go to your doctor to learn if it means cancer."

"The American Cancer Society is yours and needs you in the fight against cancer."

Reading is what's happening

Michigan Celebrates Library Week April 16-22

Week program dramatizing the importance of reading and library development.

There are about 60,000 libraries in the United States and Americans borrow 500,000,000 books a year. More than a million people use Michigan's 900 public libraries every week, borrowing from collections totaling 11 million volumes or using the reference, research, and other special services available. Daily, thousands jam Michigan's college and university libraries, special libraries and school libraries.

In short, the word is out that reading is "in."

"Explore Inner Space—Read" and "Reading Is What's Happening" are the dual themes for the 1967 program, sponsored nationally by the National Book Committee, a non-profit educational society of citizens, in co-operation with the American Library Association. The annual "week" observed in all 50 states, is traditionally held in the spring, culminating a year's activity planned and carried out by local and state leaders drawn from the community and the library profession.

In Michigan, the program is sponsored by the 2000-member Michigan Library Association, the brush to the curbside.

Archbishop Dearden Will Confirm Class At St. Louis School

Archbishop John F. Dearden of the Detroit Archdiocese will confirm 15 mentally retarded boys Saturday, April 22, 10 a.m. at St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys, 10155 Old US-12.

The school was built in 1961 with funds provided by the Archdiocese and cares for approximately 60 boys. The school is self-supporting, primarily through tuition payments and gifts. Boys of all creeds and races attend the school, which is staffed by priests of the Servants of Charity order and sisters of the Holy Family, of Italy.

Director of the school is Fr. Paul Saltarin.

Archbishop Dearden was last in the Chelsea area on Dec. 10, when he spoke at the dedication of the new St. Mary Catholic church on Old US-12.

Brush Pick-Up Date Changed to Saturdays

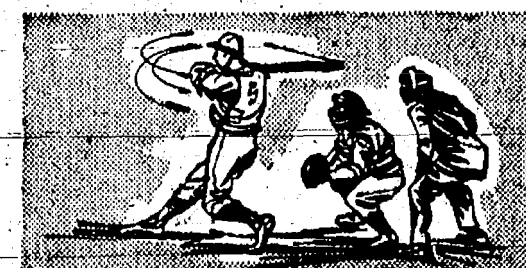

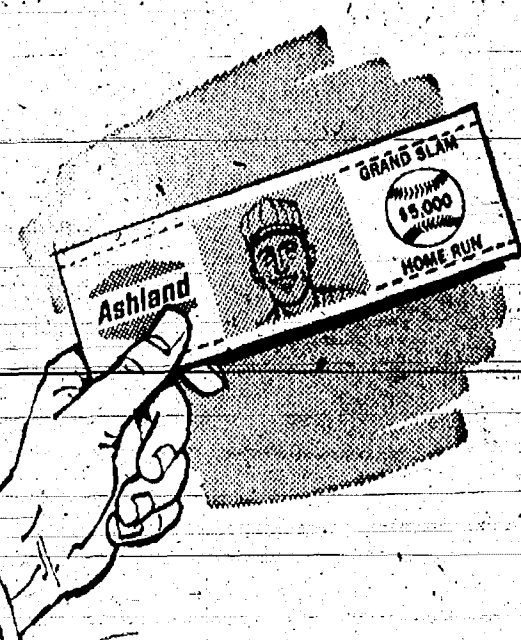

The Village Public Works Department will pick up brush Saturday mornings instead of Monday mornings, effective immediately.

Residents with brush to be picked up should contact the Light & Water Department and take the brush to the curbside.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Our several articles on children's discipline caused interesting reaction. For example, one reader wrote:

"I don't have the answer but I'm convinced the more prosperous we become, the more worldly we are. Consequently, we have less time for our families. Our children often get too much of what they should not get; too little of what they should get. I might mention that I have a boy that I must reprimand quite frequently and severely at times. But when I leave the house or at bed time, he is the first to come with a kiss or hug. This points to the fact that we don't alienate the love of our children by reprimanding them. In reality, they respect us more."

Naturally, the name of the person quoted can't be mentioned. But we have already expressed our thanks. All thoughts of all readers are always welcome. It gives encouragement for other thoughts you read here. — BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 E. Middle St., Chelsea, Michigan, Phone GR 5-4141.

Zion Lutheran Centennial

served as pastor of the congregation from 1955 until 1958.
A special service to recognize children of the church will be conducted by the Rev. Bruno Brueckner, son of retired pastor M. W. Brueckner. The service, planned for June 25, will be followed by a coffee hour in the parish hall.

The Rev. Alton Koengeter, a son of the Rogers Corners congregation, will conduct a Youth Sunday service July 23. He is now pastor of a congregation in Tripoli, Ia.

An Aug. 13 picnic and special service will honor the Sunday school and ladies' and men's organizations of the church. The Rev. Theodore Brueckner, now of Buverton, Ohio, will conduct this service. He is also a son of the Rev. M. W. Brueckner.

A Centennial Mission Festival is scheduled for Sept. 19, although plans for this day are not yet complete.

A community service for sister congregations and people of the community will be held at the church Sunday Sept. 17. The Rev. Ronald J. Diener, pastor of St. John Lutheran church, Bridgewater, will lead the service.

A Jubilee Centennial service will conclude the series of summer centennial celebrations on Sept. 24. A buffet luncheon will be served in the parish hall following morning services.

Several improvements, including new sidewalks and curbing for both the parish hall and the church, and a new roof for the parish hall, have been made in preparation for the centennial summer. The Centennial Improvement Committee, appointed in January, 1965, includes Clarence Koengeter, Arthur Kuhl, Kenneth Haist, Loren Koengeter and Ernest Wenk.

This centennial year celebrates 100 years since the congregation began to build a church at Rogers Corners. The building was begun in May, 1867 and was completed in November of the same year. The congregation also adopted its constitution at the annual meeting in 1867.

Two years earlier, in November, 1865, a number of the members of St. Thomas Evangelical Lutheran church had decided to organize themselves into a separate congregation. Zion Evangelical Lutheran church of Freedom township was formed of the members originally in the western section of the St. Thomas congregation.

The building committee for the church consisted of John Ruler, Jacob Eschbach, John Schenk and Michael Hinderer, with John Schenk as builder. Costs of erecting the building amounted to $3,213.35.

All services and business of the church were conducted in German until 1926, when the congregation requested that the English language be used in special services. Beginning in 1930 regular English services were instituted and by 1951 only one service a month was conducted in German. Today German is no longer used for services.

A parsonage and a school for religious instruction of the church's children were provided in 1873.

The church bell was purchased in 1877 at a cost of $598.

In 1889 several members of the congregation left to establish the neighboring St. John's Evangelical church. A new parsonage was constructed in the same year.

A major addition to the church building in 1909 provided room for the altar, sacristy and organ. In the same year art glass windows were installed and a new altar and pulpit were donated to the church by members of the congregation.

The Rev. E. Thieme was serving the congregation in 1917 when the Golden Jubilee was celebrated.

The Rev. M. W. Brueckner was called after the Rev. Thieme left Rogers Corners to return to his old home in Germany. Brueckner began his work at Zion Lutheran church June 1, 1920.

The Rev. Brueckner served as pastor of the congregation until July, 1955, when he retired. He is still a member of the congregation and plans to take part in all of the centennial services. He celebrated his 90th birthday recently.

In 1942 the church celebrated its 75th anniversary—the Diamond Jubilee. During this year the Constitution and by-laws of the church were translated from the original German and distributed to the congregation. A Diamond Jubilee booklet, also printed in 1942, detailing much of the history of the early church.

The parish hall, which now stands across the road from the church building, was planned even before the Diamond Jubilee, but, as the anniversary booklet states: "The war and the accompanying restrictions made this impossible."

New plans were drafted in 1946, and in 1948 construction, at a cost of $39,818, was approved. The building was dedicated in 1949.

Work on a new parsonage began in 1954 and the building was dedicated in 1955.

The Rev. Robert C. Kaiser was installed in July 1955, after the retirement of the Rev. Brueckner, who had at that time served the congregation for nearly 35 years.

The Rev. Kaiser resigned in September, 1957, and one year passed until the Rev. C. J. Renner accepted a call to serve the congregation.

The church was last extensively redecorated in 1962 and the choir loft was enlarged in the same year.

Although the church is still on the same site, the founding German families might not feel quite at home at the Centennial celebrations this summer. Substantial changes made through the years would be evident as they listened to the music and worship service in the incompressible English language and sat in the modern church interior. Coffee in the parish hall and a tour of the parsonage would contribute to the astonishment of those founding families who scraped together $3,213 to build the church in 1867.

Council Briefs

Chelsea Village Council met Tuesday, April 18.

A public hearing on the 1967 budget was held at 8 p.m. No one spoke in opposition to the budget. The proposed 1967 budget of $204,510.84 was approved.

Thomas Smith, village assessor, submitted the following assessment figures for 1967: personal property $2,197,000, real property $3,689,500 for a total of $5,877,500.

A discussion on the need for new Public Works Department equipment was held. The department needs curb and gutter and sidewalk forms, a street sweeper, and a sewer cleaner. The present street sweeper was purchased in 1955 and has proved to be less than adequate. Trustee Weber was authorized to submit specifications and to accept bids for a new street sweeper.

A motion to accept assessment figures for 1967 as presented was passed unanimously.

Millage was set as follows: 14 mills for the general fund, one mill for McKane Memorial Library and three mills for payment of interest and principal due on bonds.

Trustee Weber was authorized to purchase necessary curb and gutter and sidewalk forms for use by the Public Works Department.

A discussion was held with George Staffan and Louis Burghardt, regarding their plans to terminate ambulance service for the Chelsea area. Trustees Duane Crouch and A. E. Fells were instructed to work with Staffan and Burghardt to determine the village position on this.

A discussion was held regarding responsibility of the village with reference to calls for sewer problems in the area between the sidewalk and homes. Sewer problems in this area are the responsibility of the homeowner and not the village. The Public Works Department has recently received several calls for such problems as stopped sinks and lavatories. These problems should be handled by homeowners and are not the responsibility of the village.

Bids were received for two police cars to be used for police patrol, one car to be delivered June 1, and the other to be delivered Dec. 1. G. A. Sales & Service, $160 per month; Daniels Motors, $179 per month; Palmer Motor Sales, $158 per month. Motion made and carried to accept the low bid of Palmer Motor Sales.

A motion was made to authorize partial estimate of in favor of the Union Construction Co. in the amount of $7,111.35, which is 48 percent payment of the Sibley Rd. sewer contract to date.

A motion made to authorize payment to Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout in the amount of $404.63 for engineering to date on Sibley Rd. sewer construction.

A request was entered by Mrs. Anne Steinaway, asking Council support for the Jaycee Auxiliary project "Helping Hands." The Council expressed their support for this community project.

The Council wishes to express appreciation to the many people involved in the recent storm damage; Chelsea Electric & Water crew, the Fire Department, Civil Defense, and Chelsea Auxiliary Police force. Excellent co-operation from all helped to minimize the immediate problems and once again points up the willingness of Chelsea area residents to work together.

Motion to pay bills and motion to adjourn.

Lima Hearing Set on Golf Course Plans

Application for a conditional use permit to construct a golf course, country club and private resort on 240 acres at 465 Freer Rd. will be considered by the Lima Township Zoning Board at a special meeting tonight.

A Chicago couple, Steve and Lila Pawlowski, have applied for the permit. They plan to move to the site as soon as a house on the property can be remodeled and will manage the golf course. Preliminary plans are to begin work on the land this summer so that the course might be in operation by next year.

Pawlowski plans to establish a full 18-hole championship course on the land and has already had an extensive topographical map of the area made.

Approval of the plan does not require a change in actual zoning. Zoning Board Chairman George Hisinger said a conditional use permit added to present zoning will be sufficient to cover the intended use.

The zoning Board will meet at 8 p.m. in Lima Community Hall.

We suspect sentiment for tax reduction reached an all-time high this month.

Space-age equipment and a lot of the old Wild West are being played out in the research being carried on in the Upper Peninsula. Bears are being trapped in guided missile tubes while "necktie parties" are staged for the case of the bears, they live-trapped and hauled away to areas where they have been being released. The past traps used by the Department were of heavy steel culverts, which are quite expensive. Since federal government has of the used missile tubes, they are being revamped and just as well. Besides, you hardly bear the price of getting free.

The missile tube traps, when loaded, are eight feet long and almost a yard in diameter. The end is blocked, while the bear is lured with a heavy weight with grating. When a bear enters the trap and pulls the door, the door shuts and the bear is trapped.

Game men check the traps every day. When a bear is caught, the guided missile is fired and a distant release site means of a set of trailer was fastened to the tube. The pulled there, the bear is out with a dart containing a tranquilizer to put it to sleep. Then biologists go to work. The bear is hauled out of the tube and weighed, blood samples taken and identification tags clamped to its ears. If the bear is shot later on by a hunter, the biologist can find out where the bear was.

Those necktie parties for deer are no more popular with the hunters than they were with the Wild West "bad guys," only modern-day ones have been staged.

much happier results for the deer than they did for the outlaws.

Game men working this deer research project have been successful in putting bright-colored collars on something like 1,000 Michigan deer over the years. Department personnel merely pick up nooses of wire which have a plastic band at one end. When a deer comes walking down a runway and notes its head through the circle it tightens up to the plastic, which locks together.

At this point the deer jumps in fright and the wire breaks away cleanly, leaving just the fancy collar around the deer's neck. Color of the "neckties" varies according to the area in order to make it easier to spot movements of deer from one area to another. Hunters, killing a deer with a collar, are asked to report it to the nearest conservation officer to add research.

While the collars are said to be harmless to the deer, we have been unable to get a statement from a whitetail saying exactly what they might think about this research project. Deer without the neckties are not apt to be jealous over deer that do have them.

In fact, we would guess that deer who haven't run into one of these research deals would figure that "no noose is good news."

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

I firmly believe that every individual should have an opportunity for gainful employment and the rewards thereof. That's why I and other minority members of the Education and Labor Committee have proposed an "Opportunity Crusade" as a substitute for the War on Poverty.

The Opportunity Crusade basically is an attempt to reorganize and redirect poverty programs which have either lost their effectiveness through inept administration or were ill-conceived at the outset. It also recognizes those programs which have been successful, such as Head Start, and serves to strengthen and expand them. Our purpose in all this is a concerted effort to break through the great impasse of expensive poverty war bureaucracy and get to the real problems of the poor.

At the same time this approach can save taxpayers' money. The Opportunity Crusade involves total Federal expenditures of $1.7 billion, $800 million less than the President's budget proposals. By providing for a greater utilization of the private sector of our economy and of state governments, a total of $2.4 billion would be available to revive the hopes and realistic aspirations of the impoverished.

This whole new program builds upon the solid foundation of a free enterprise economy. By providing realistic incentives for private employers and individuals to develop on-the-job training programs, we also offer respectable and productive jobs rather than make-work public employment.

Participants in jobs or in training under the Opportunity Crusade would number 1,475,350 as compared to 423,000 under the poverty war approach.

Residential and Regional Skill Centers would replace the Job Corps. So, instead of bringing in people from all over the Midwest to the relatively closed environment of the Battle Creek Center, job training would take place in and with the help of one's home community and focus on local jobs which are begging to be filled.

Of course, the implementation of this total program requires the elimination of Office of Economic Opportunity and thus would throw Senator Shriver out of a job. The Opportunity Crusade has yet to invoke a comment from him, but I know another man who valued criticism leveled at his department and finally urged that his job be abolished. Perhaps the Poverty Crusade could take a lesson from the Postmaster General. What do you think?

SUNDAY'S SERMON

BE A FRIEND

Be a friend to yourself when you can. When you have made your mistake, when you know that you have done wrong, or that you are wrong in the stand that you have taken, don't dig your heels into a deeper hole. And don't go down to seed yourself.

Get up, face the music. Admit to yourself, and to the world, that you have erred; then set out to do all in your power to do right, to do right, and do right.

You can never give your best performance if you are mad at yourself, or if you are mad at the world. You cannot apply your talents and energy to a job that needs doing if you are berating yourself for something else you did wrong, or blaming others for things they have done that are not suit you. To be a friend to yourself and to the world, you must learn to forgive yourself, remembering that, as humans, we are also somewhat imperfect.

Transfer the cold cut package in your grocery bag to the refrigerator, leaving the meat in original wrapping. Store the meat at temperatures above freezing. Freezing may impair the color and texture of the meat.

When a man marries for the first time, he is most likely to do so when he is 20 to 25 years old. A woman is most likely to say "I do" for the first time at ages 18 to 23. A Census Bureau report, based on 1965 data, shows that 50 percent of the men and women were married for the first time in these respective age brackets.

SANDING ART
Sanding is an art — and can make or break a painting or refinishing job. Always sand with the grain of the wood. Sand each surface with three varying grades of sandpaper — starting with the coarsest of the three, and putting finishing touches on with the finest one.

Few citizens ever decide voluntarily to give up a job that pays off regularly.
