Conference Title Won by Track Team

Chelsea track team has clinched the conference title for 1967 with a clean victory over five other conference teams at the conference meet held Tuesday, May 16, at Dundee.

The Chelsea team scored 55 points to win, followed by Lincoln with 51, South Lyon with 37, Dexter with 34, Saline with 28, and Dundee taking the last spot with 10 points.

Coach Bert Kruse said the Saline team's performance was hampered by discipline problems which eliminated some Saline athletes from competition in the meet. "It was the strong showing of the Saline boys which pulled us through," he said. The team had to overcome a large early lead established in the field events by Lincoln. They held a 27-4 edge on Chelsea going into the running events.

Larry Gaken took a fifth place in the shot-put with Larry Blackwell finishing third in the pole vault. Larry Porath won the two-mile run in 10:56.4, as the 880-yard relay team also took a first in their event with a time of 1:35. The team was composed of Tom McGaw, Mike Schmaltz, Rick Slane and Steve Slane. The time tied the existing school record in the event.

Bob Dove finished first in the mile run with a time of 4:51.3, as Mike Lehmann took a second and Paul Lancaster added a fourth in the high hurdles. Gary Larson added more points to the total with a third in the 880 run, as did Tom Smith with a fifth in the 440 run.

Steve Slane again broke his school record in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.06 followed closely by brother, Rick, with a 10.15. Steve and Rick also repeated the effort in the 220-yard dash, Steve again taking a first place with 22.6 clocked followed by Rick at 22.8.

The mile relay team of Tom McGaw, Mike Schmaltz, Tom Smith and Gary Larson combined their efforts to take a third in that event to cap the win for Chelsea. The Chelsea team will be hosts May 20 to 18 schools for the regional meet scheduled to get underway with preliminaries at 10 a.m., followed by the finals at 1 p.m.

Coach Kruse noted that the event will encompass some tough competition, but stated that Chelsea has a good chance to win.

JAY WEINBERG, carrying a case full of his 51st year in the business started by his father, is a familiar sight to most Chelsea area families as he makes his rounds. Jay recently began

Weinberg Dairy Completes 50 Years of Service to Area

Jay Weinberg was only 10 years old when his father started the Weinberg Dairy in April of 1917. Jay is 50 years older now with a wife, Luella, and two married daughters, Mrs. Louis (Jana Lou) Dreyer, and Mrs. Franklin Doris Sweeney. Both daughters live in Ann Arbor with their families.

Jay and his wife still live next door to the dairy at 20056 Old US-12, which has served the Chelsea area for 50 years. Jay remembers the early years of the dairy, when the cows were milked every morning and evening, and the raw milk delivered by horse and wagon. "No one," said Jay, "had refrigerators, so we had to deliver the milk right away. Now it can be kept up to seven or eight days."

"During the winter," said Jay, "cows of men brought ice in horse-drawn wagons to the dairy. We'd store the ice packed with sawdust in a long shed, and use it to cool the milk during delivery." According to Jay, the ice would last almost all summer.

In 1919, the Weinbergs bought a Model T and modified it to carry milk, about 100 quarts, and thus became one of the earliest dairies to become motorized. In 1924, according to Jay, his father bought his first real truck. The dairy now has three trucks, carrying 1,000 quarts over three routes in the Chelsea area.

In 1938 the dairy began to pasteurize the milk and began carrying a full line of related milk products, such as cheese and ice cream.

In 1941 Jay bought the business from his father. At that time the dairy still produced much of what it sold, but it did purchase some products from local suppliers. During the war, and due to a large extent to the shortage of labor at the time, according to Jay, he sold the cattle and began purchasing entirely from local suppliers.

In 1947, the Weinbergs built a new building to house the business. Jay ran the retail milk business, and his wife and daughters operated the milk bar which was incorporated into the new building. The dairy bar was later shut down, and since July, Jay no longer processes milk in the building. Jay now buys and handles ready processed milk and milk products.

Jay explained that competition from the big companies made it too difficult for the small processor to remain independent. Jay said he remembers when there were five other independent dairies in the Chelsea area. "At one time," said Jay, "there were 13 small processors in the Jackson area. Now there is only one." Said Jay, philosophically, "You have to keep up with the times."

At one time Jay had about eight helpers in his business. Now, at 60, Jay drives each of the three trucks over each of three routes by himself, once in a while accompanied by his oldest grandson. Jay is proud of the fact that in 50 years he has not missed a delivery within the city of Chelsea, although he says he may miss two or three in the surrounding area during the winter months.

Jay is perhaps one of the last of the small independent milk

THE LANSING REPORT FROM
 senator
GIL BURSLEY

The Senate concurred in a House-Fair Michigan Day ceremony. We are trying through action of our Tourist Council to get substantial numbers of visitors to the Fair to extend their vacation plans and visit Michigan. Our tourist industry passed $1 billion last year and we feel substantial gains are still possible. Tourism, benefits the whole state in addition to the restaurants and resort facilities visited. It increases gasoline and sales tax receipts.

I have little doubt but that Governor Romney will call the legislature back into special session in September and October.

Senate committees have spent the past week in considering and acting upon House bills.

The Senate Taxation Committee has another fiscal reform program ready which has been designed to attract bipartisan support.

The Senate Appropriations Committee is ready with bills that meet the original Romney budget and that also can meet the so-called austerity budget in the event no new revenue bills are passed.

It was my privilege last week to join with Governor Romney in officially representing Michigan at the Montreal World's Fair.

County Given $646,640 for Road Work

Lansing — The Department of State Highways has allocated $646,640 to Washtenaw county from Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections for the first quarter of 1967.

The amounts to be paid to incorporated cities and villages in the area include: Chelsea, $11,785; Dexter, $6,391; Manchester, $7,380; Ann Arbor, $248,813; Belleville, $5,976; Brighton, $10,701; Clinton, $5,663; Milan, $13,469; Pinckney, $4,035; Saline, $8,408; South Lyon, $5,803; Tecumseh, $26,836; and Ypsilanti, $61,449.

State Highway Director Howard E. Hill said gross collections during January, February, and March of 1967 amounted to $107,812,701 from which collection costs of $17,788,109 and the Waterways Commission's share amounting to $22,145 were deducted before distribution.

The net amount of Motor Vehicle Highway Fund revenues available for distribution for the quarter amounted to $69,813,497, an increase of $2,819,081 over revenues distributed for the same period in 1966.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes, license plate fees and a small amount of miscellaneous fees are deposited in the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

After deductions, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provides that 47 percent goes to the Department of State Highways for use on state highways, 35 percent to the state's 83 counties for use on county roads, and 18 percent to 522 incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets.

Under this formula, the Department of State Highways will receive $46,912,203 as its share of the collections, while the counties will receive $34,931,619 and the incorporated cities and villages will get $17,969,676.

Consumer Protection

A search for cheating and error makes up some 65 percent of the work done by the Michigan Department of Agriculture. In its program to protect the public, MDA continually checks just about everything from alcohol content of liquors to milk from the state's dairy herds.

State inspectors work with the U. S. Department of Agriculture to reduce duplication of testing and expense for both groups. This cooperation has resulted in outstanding protection for Michigan consumers, according to Dr. Dale Ball, director of MDA. It also reduces expense of operation.

Highest grade sausage in the country is available to Michigan residents.

Toughest sausage laws in the U.S., possibly the world, face meat packers doing business in this state. Sausage can pass USDA standards and not even come close to Michigan's minimum requirements.

Only skeletal meats, no meat from organs, may be used in Michigan sausage. No artificial coloring may be used and only 4 percent dry milk solids are allowed as additives. Inspectors constantly send samples for laboratory analysis.

As a result of these standards, Michigan has the highest sausage consumption per capita of any state in the union.

Other meats must meet equally high standards. Hamburger and ground beef minimums are more exacting than most other states.

How do offenders react when cited by the department?

"Most people want to abide by the law," says Ball, "and each case is handled on its own merits."

Circumstances vary in the actions of those involved. The deciding factor is usually "intent or severity of the violation."

If the MDA feels an offender has accidentally erred or if the offense is caused by mechanical failure, the owner is simply warned.

Latest scheme currently under investigation involves gas stations which "rig" gas pumps to allow attendants to activate the mechanism without clearing the dollars.

What brings this matter up was Zerk (Gump) reporting he had saw where city folks now had to have a chain saw for the proper status.

He reported this item said a Government survey showed the sale of hatchets and axes had fell off 49 percent in the last two years and they was a 21 per cent increase in the sale of chain saws. City folks was buying chain saws to cut bushes, trim trees, and to cut wood for them fancy fireplaces they was putting in these new houses.

Ed Doolittle, that was born afore the turn of this century, allowed as how we've always had status in this country money. It used to be called "standing in the community."

Back when he was a boy, said Ed, you was somebody in the community if you had a good driving horse and a fancy buggy. Then the automobile come along and the horse and buggy had done last status. By the time everybody got an automobile they come out with this newfangled thing called radio with earphones and if you didn't have one you was slipping in yore status.

And no sooner than everybody got a radio, said Ed, then television come out and the status situation was tore up once more.

Clem Webster figured the power lawn mower come after television and city folks was buying power mowers that didn't have lawns no bigger than the carpet piece in the parlor. Josh Clodhopper butted in to advise Clem that and told to correct the oversight.

If he persists after the warning, the MDA, working through the county prosecutor, will press charges. On rare occasions, the department works through the state attorney general's office.

Joe E. Wells, information specialist, relates case after case of fraudulent crackdown by MDA staff. Not long ago a bread manufacturer began adding "300 units of..." to his labels. A lab analysis showed no such additive. When confronted with the charges, the manufacturer replied, "Yes, I suppose that's right. But all the other manufacturers were putting it on."

Another case involved a gas station attendant who "pumped" almost 11 gallons of gasoline into a compact automobile. The owner began wondering how 11 gallons could fit into an 8.7-gallon tank. He called police who called the MDA.

Investigation showed that eight of the 10 pumps were registering over-gallage. In such cases, pumps are locked with seals until corrections are made.

Merchants benefit too. The MDA has added many retailers in cases of fraud. One such instance involved a meat market selling fryers.

The birds were shipped from the south in cardboard crates. During a routine check the MDA found the weight specified on the crates ranged about three pounds heavy. Further checking showed that the retailer was, in fact, being charged the specified weight rather than the actual weight of the fowl.

This averaged about a $600-per-week overcharge, Wells stated. "When word got out, we had some fryer shippers flying in from the south," he said. The retailer was reimbursed his losses.

Latest scheme currently under investigation involves gas stations which "rig" gas pumps to allow attendants to activate the mechanism without clearing the dollars.

Wells points out that the situation can be especially "ripe" for the customer who asks for a fill-up when a pump shows a $1.00 sale. Most people don't keep close track of the pumps, he stated, and are charged an extra dollar.

For those consumers who do run into situations which smack of fraud, Ball suggests a letter or post card to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Lewis Cass Building, Lansing 48913. "Just briefly list your suspicion and the establishment's name and address," he says. "We'll take it from there."

The new company, organized two years ago, includes John A. Taylor, a former member of Moss & Associates, and George Brigham an architect and retired University of Michigan professor, both of whom had done development work on the "Paradome." General co-chairmen in charge of arrangements for the Chelsea High school junior-senior prom, to be held Saturday evening in the school cafeteria, are Mike Schrader and Lynn Harvey. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. and dancing to the music of the Jack Braun orchestra begins at 9 p.m. David Lindsay, instrumental music director of Chelsea schools, is one of the members of the orchestra.

Youth Escapes Serious Injury as Tractor Overturns

Edward Beeman, 13, of 15775 Cassidy Rd., Lyndon township, escaped serious injury Monday, May 15, when a large farm tractor overturned, pinning him beneath it.

Beeman was attempting to free the tractor from mud on a farm owned by Harry Hadley located near the Beeman home when the machine overturned. The boy was freed by nearby workers using a garage wrecker to pull the tractor from off the boy.

Washtenaw county sheriff's deputies report the boy was taken to a Chelsea doctor's office for treatment of a leg injury which was not believed to be serious.

Fashion Notes

Striped pullovers, worn outside of tucked in seem to be in vogue. Wild colors used horizontally can be used for the pullover and skirt or with a solid color skirt. These can be of rayon and silk fabrics or of cotton.

Zig zag stripes on one piece dresses are the most eye catching designs of the season.

Potatoes are a food bargain. Potatoes provide more choline (vitamin B1) than any other food. Potatoes are third (after citrus and cabbage) in yield of vitamin C per dollar, second (after dry beans, peas and nuts) in yield of niacin, a B-vitamin, and also of iron.

In order to get the best service from a floor covering, one should choose the kind that is best suited for a specific area in the house, install it according to manufacturer's directions and care for it correctly.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

You pay a man a fine compliment when you call him a gentleman. But did you ever notice how the word can mean different things to different people? Nearly always, good grooming and good manners are considered most important. Actually, there are many other important managements. Here are some of them. Read them; see if you don't agree.

He should be just as clean inside as outside. He should be himself; he should neither look up to the high and mighty or look down on the poor. He prospers economically, mentally and spiritually without bragging. He gives without complaining. He is considerate of women, children, the unfortunate and the elderly. He is unashamed to earn and take his fair share of the world's goods and gives help to others, where and when he can, for them to earn and take their share.

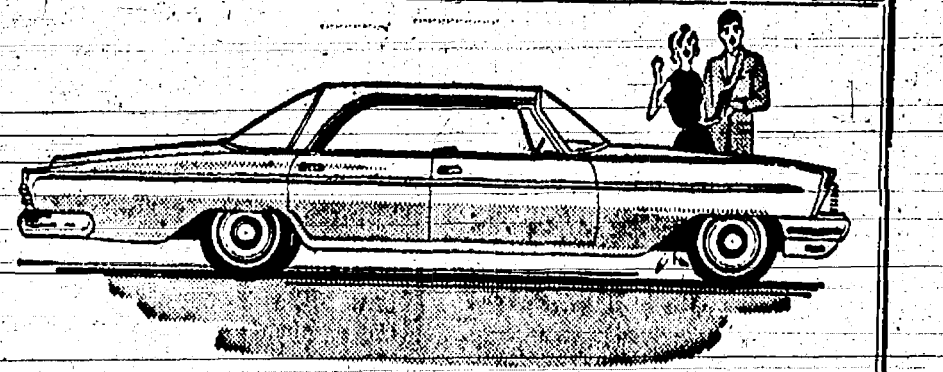

At first thought, one might think "there ain't no such animal." But there is. We know a lot of them. You do too. Right? ... BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 213 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR-54141.

In some areas of the country, you can still find "ghost towns."

We aren't talking about spooky places, but instead earlier-day communities which faded into oblivion with the Westward march of civilization or upon the occasion of the death of a single, basic industry.

Times have changed. Towns seldom "die" anymore. And there's a reason. Few communities put their eggs in one basket these

WASHINGTON REPORT
by Congressman
MARVIN L. ESCH
economic plight of the problems is basic economic discrimination practiced by the government against the farmer. By permitting large amounts of foreign imports to flood the domestic market, the government has acted to hold prices down. The dairy industry has been particularly hard hit in this regard. Last year's dairy imports equaled the milk which could have been produced by more than 300,000 American cows.
This week I am appearing before the Tariff Commission to urge an end to these practices. Hopefully this group and the Administration in general will begin to recognize the farmer's dilemma.
Imports, however, are only one of many government maneuvers which have hurt agriculture. There has been a multitude of other decisions acting to the detriment of the American farmer. Had they been avoided, he would be in a far better financial condition today.
Despite the lack of any indication that policies will change, I expect to persist in my efforts to alleviate the worsening economic position of American agriculture. before it is really too late. In the long run, the development of a program to bring the full potential of American agriculture to bear on feeding the hungry people of the world will be in everybody's best interest.

Understanding
your HEALTH
By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director
Michigan Department of Public Health

As some reason a lot of confusion exists about rabies. Everybody seems to know about it, but doesn't know about it.
The disease is spread by virus carried in the saliva of an animal getting into a wound or the skin of a healthy animal. The usual chain of rabies infection is from wild animals to domestic animals to man. A rabid dog or a skunk is a danger to man and the pet cat bites a human because of rabies.
Without treatment, rabies is fatal. There are no exceptions to its lethal
ity. Quick treatment is the only defense against it. But the trouble is that the treatments are not without a measure of discomfort and risk of their own.
The question becomes: was this person really exposed to rabies? If so, let's not risk the treatment. If so, let's do the things that should be done without delay. Thus, the animal that comes the center of attention:
its health can help determine whether the bite victim gets rabies treatments or not.
Here are four important "rabies rules" you should keep in mind.
First, identify the animal that did the biting, so it can be watched and checked.
Second, apply first aid by washing the contaminated area with soap and water for 15 minutes.
Third, see a doctor right away.
You will need professional judgment about what to do next.
Fourth, report the incident to your local health officer and to your local dog warden or police.
They will want to make sure that the animal is confined and observed carefully for 10 days.
Confusing details about dog bites and laboratory tests and different kinds of vaccines and serums are best left to your doctor, your local health officer, and your local dog warden or police. Your job is to: identify the animal, apply first aid, see a doctor, and report the incident. These steps could save a life.
Another precaution against rabies is to make sure that your pet dog, and all the dogs in your neighborhood and community get rabies shots.

TO HELP make Michigan Week more enjoyable for motorists

Michigan State Apple Commission will co-operate to provide apple juice at six of the state's seven Travel Information Centers. Judy Long, Highway Department stenographer, finds the apple juice delicious and healthful.

State Auditor
Is Critical of Drain Office

A report covering the state audit of the accounts and records of the county for 1965 has recommended that Washtenaw County correct certain practices in the county drain commissioner's office, that it obtain a current appraisal of all county property and that it make some accounting changes.
The auditors called for an investigation of county hiring practices and a determination of the present positions and those actually on the payroll. This was based on a report that as of May 1, 1964, Roy Deckert was employed by the drain commission as a superintendent of maintenance and compensated through the regular county payroll, although the supervisor's Ways and Means committee apparently did not provide for this position in the department.
The auditors also call for the elimination of a drain investment fund based on drain accounts which were segregated from the drain fund balances. The balances bond obligations which have been paid off. The report stated the fund credits should be eliminated to the state or by other appropriate legal action.
The report also states the auditors were unable to locate a certificate of appraisal of the County Building or other county holdings although a record that the board discussed having an appraisal in 1958 was found. Such appraisals are urged for insurance purposes.

Drain Commissioner
Flock Hospitalized

John H. Flock, Washtenaw County drain commissioner, entered the University of Michigan Hospital on May 11 for vascular surgery to the right leg. The operation is similar to one performed in December, 1964, which resulted in the amputation of his left foot.
The scheduled surgery is complicated by injuries to Flock's right leg which occurred while he was a Navy pilot in 1942.
According to Flock, arrangements have been made whereby present multi-million dollar drain construction programs in Washtenaw county will not be delayed.
Mrs. Agnes Turner, a deputy in the office for 20 years, will keep the commissioner advised of office operations and will call on former Drain Commissioner Murray J.
Knowles, consulting engineer, to supervise engineering and construction operations.

REPORT from LANSING
State Representative
Thomas G. Sharpe

Because of the House failure to move the Income Tax package, I received many calls from people in the educational field to find out exactly what this means.
Let me preface my remarks by noting that anything can change at any time when the legislature meets daily.
The situation now indicates that time is a factor that must be reckoned with. Almost all units of education and local government are working on their next fiscal year's budgets. Many, including state government itself, must have these budgets in final agreement within 45 days.
Approximately 90 percent of the state budget is distributed back to local units. Accepting this and with the knowledge that time is running out on those who must Ormsby Starlet Sharp, 5348688, a four-year-old, had 22,220 lbs. of milk and 677 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days. Elmarlu Skokie Golden Pearl, 5477433, a four-year-old, had 19,190 lbs. of milk and 661 lbs. of butterfat in 321 days. Bella Vista Sky Gerben, 5418706, a four-year-old, had 19,050 lbs. of milk and 698 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days.
Jasanna Fobes Rainbow Maid, 524-5555, a six-year-old, had 15,160
lbs. of milk and 570 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days. All are owned by Elton Ery, Ann Arbor.
Or-Win Whippoorwill Inex, 553-9229, a three-year-old, produced auterfat in 365 days. Klayvue Rag Apple, 5188056, an eight-
year-old, had 14,170 lbs. of milk
and 589 lbs. of butterfat in 305
days. Both are owned by George Macomber & Sons, Ann Arbor.
Green Acre Fulton Melinda, 5106097, a six-year-old, produced 18,550 lbs. of milk and 724 lbs. of butterfat in 354 days. Alfalfadale Burke Petunia, 4619498, a seven-
year-old, had 19,270 lbs. of milk
and 672 lbs. of butterfat in 342
days. Both are owned by Lowell Spike, Manchester.
These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 5,115 lbs. of milk and 315 lbs. of butterfat by the average U. S. dairy cow, notes the national Holstein Association.
Michigan State University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in co-operation with the holstein organization's herd and breed improvement programs.

Can Go to Summer Camp

Boys who join a Boy Scout troop this spring will be able to go to Boy Scout camp with their troop this summer, according to Alvin Reinhardt, chairman of the camping and activities committee of the Ironquits District, Boy Scouts of America.
Registered for Bruin Lake are

440 of Milan is planning a long term camp.
These Boy Scout troops are recruiting new members this spring as a part of the year-long Scouting rounds a guy out program,
Reinhardt said.
Information about location of Boy Scout troops is available by telephoning the local council office, 608-8514.
Reinhardt explained that troop camping is the Scout way of summer camping at the Postage Trails Council camps. The troop goes to camp with its own adult leaders and takes over a special site where each of the patrols lives as an individual unit within the troop area.
The Postage Trails Council provides different plans of camping to meet the specific desires of the troop, Reinhardt said.

Michigan State University, says that its effect on durability may require evaluation. Blends of cotton and polyester have upgraded the durability factor. And new durable press blended cotton-polyester sheets (in 50-50 as well as 65-35 ratio) are available.
However, recent study at Michigan State University under the direction of Mrs. Kiny Riedel indicates that durable press sheets wear through faster than sheets with no finish. This implies that a durable press sheet may not last as long as a regular sheet.
Consumers can weigh the importance of appearance versus longer wearing life. Cost, colors and pattern availability are other factors to be considered in purchase of sheets. Miss Kahabka

SUNDAY'S SERMON

EXAMPLE

What is wrong with the youngsters of today? In many instances, the question is simply answered. The problem with children is parents. Some modern parents have forgotten the great value of example. They forget that anything said to a youngster goes in one ear and out the other if the child can see that his parents do not "practice what they preach."

Parents cannot stand by the side of the road and point the way to the land of maturity and moral values. Point a child in any direction and more than likely he will eventually fall back and follow in the footsteps of his parents.

One good example is worth a thousand words of good advice.

LIMA TOWNSHIP

The party included a family dinner served at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dancer, in Ann Arbor. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Notten of North Francisco, were Friday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Eva Dancer.

A roast with a bone will cook a little faster than one without because bones conduct heat. The amount and distribution of fat also affect cooking time.

LIFELINES

MARY HAD A LITTLE BOY

Mary had a little boy,
His soul was white as snow.
He never went to Sunday School
'Cause Mary wouldn't go.

He never heard the story of Christ,
That thrill the childish mind,
While other children went to class,
This child was left behind.

And as he grew from babe to youth,
She saw to her dismay,
A soul that once was white
Became a dingy gray.

Realizing that he was lost,
She tried to win him back,
But now the soul that once was white,
Had turned an ugly black.

She even started back to Church
And Sunday School, too,
She begged the preacher
"Isn't there a thing that we can do?"

The preacher tried, and failed and said,
"We're just too far behind.
I tried to tell you years ago,
But you would pay no mind."

And so another soul is lost,
That once was white as snow,
Sunday School would have helped
But Mary wouldn't go.

Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6.

Just A Minute...

By the Rev. James A. Craig

The Congress of the United States will have to deal this session with a "Draft Law." Selective Service laws expire this year. Already the President has received a report of a special committee on proposed changes.

Selective Service is the principal means of providing weapons carriers for the armed forces of the United States. It is a system that was intended to spread the "service" to one's country around so that many, if not most, of the young men between 18 and 26 would be involved.

It hasn't quite worked out that way. Hence the proposed changes. Instead the draft falls heaviest on the lower income, lower educational achievement groups in our country.

It doesn't permit the freedom of conscience some sincerely hold concerning our present problem in Vietnam.

It sets standards amounting to a Test Act of one's religious faith if they are to qualify as a conscientious objector. The government has decided that only those who believe in a Supreme Being can meet the test. One who opposes the war for humanitarian reasons cannot.

The law exerts a social pressure to conformity with a nation's policy regardless of justifiable grounds on which that policy may be questioned.

The system encourages a too narrow definition of service to one's nation when other alternatives, more valuable in the long run, should also be given consideration.

Now that the subject of the Draft Law is open it should provide an opportunity to discuss the nation's long-term policies and the citizen's responsibility to them and himself.

Trend Continuing To Increased Use of Convenience Foods
Hungry Americans last year ate more than $500 million worth of frozen prepared dishes, mostly in convenient containers that went from oven to table to trash can. And these expenditures for convenience foods will increase substantially in the future, contend Michigan State University scientists.

The researchers say that consumers will be demanding more built-in services in their meat purchases. Therefore, more ready-to-cook, convenience "heat and serve," or "boil-in-bag" types of meat items will be made available.

They expect 80 percent of the meat sales in 1980 will be in the convenience or prepared form. The ultimate in convenience is afforded by food vending machines, but the MSU scientists say the service offered by these machines may be a mixed blessing. They point out that one effect machines have had is to encourage piecemeal eating.

When he got his watch, he got more than he bargained for. Or less time. Because the mechanical parts that make a watch go also make it go wrong when affected by condensed oil, dirt and wear. Even by temperature changes. These parts can be replaced by a jeweler. Or they can be replaced by a tuning fork (that may never need replacing). LIBRARY

At the monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of McKune Memorial Library Tuesday night, May 16, it was noted that in addition to the residents of the Village of Chelsea who support the library with mill tax collected, McKune Memorial Library also serves residents of the townships of Dexter, Freedom, Lima, Sylvan and Waterford. These townships are served by the Village library because they make an annual financial contribution toward the support of the library.

Residents of Lansing township and Sharon township may also be served by the local library by paying an annual non-resident fee. This fee is now $4 for a single-family home and $8 per family unit. Individuals paying for a non-resident card may apply to their township boards for reimbursement.

The library now has a new copy, "The Vanishing Act," provided by the Washington Area Library System has been replaced with a "Kodak" Readyprint copier. This type of copying machine is chiefly for single copies of a document. It takes a page from a book or magazine. It will make both standard size and legal size prints when it is in full operation. Care Urged with Some Crabgrass Control Chemicals

Lansing — For the sake of those cherry robins and other chirrupy songbirds, gardeners and other homeowners in Michigan are urged to consider using crabgrass control chemicals this spring which do not contain chlorpyrifos or arsenic.

The appeal, sounded first by the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife and echoed by the Michigan Department of Conservation, is designed to prevent some bird deaths which could be caused by these two long-lived, highly toxic substances.

Both arsenic and chlorpyrifos concentrate in the grasses and weeds which are eaten by songbirds. The chemicals are resistant to degradation and are not broken down by the sun. They are also resistant to being washed off by rain.

Birds feeding on contaminated earthworms may receive fatal doses of the two chemicals because of their deaths is often unsuspected by most people. That is because several weeks may elapse between the time the chemicals are applied to lawns and when stricken birds are found.

State and federal pesticide experts report there are now no chemicals on the market without chlorpyrifos and arsenic which do an effective job in controlling crabgrass.

Jet Streams Blamed for Cold Weather

According to the Associated Press, the meandering jet streams can be blamed for the unusual spring weather the county has been experiencing. According to the experts, the cold, the winds and the rain are related to the high level winds of the stream which often give airplanes a push across the continent.

The colder weather is apparently the result of a high-level jet stream coming farther south than usual and bringing cold air into the continental U.S. from Canada.

The stream moves from Alaska to the Great Lakes Region and the East.

The storm systems are brought from the Pacific Ocean to the Great Lakes by a jet stream which is slightly stronger than normal force.

Existing between the two air streams exists what weathermen call a confluence zone, and it is this zone that has received snow and rain.

The jet streams are about 500 to 600 miles wide and may extend between 30,000 and 40,000 feet. Low-level winds at an altitude
