Understanding your HEALTH
By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director
Michigan Department of Public Health

Some three million Americans suffer from asthma to one degree or another. Perhaps you know of a family member or friend who suffers from this disease from time to time during the year.

Usually asthma has no one single cause, but may be due either to one or more of the many possible human allergies, or to infection, or to emotional difficulty, or to a combination of these factors. It involves a narrowing of the bronchioles (the smaller air passages or tubes that carry air from the windpipe into the lungs. This narrowing may be due to swelling of the delicate membranes lining the bronchioles, spasm of the muscle in the walls of the air passages, or there may be small mucus plugs in the passageways which prevent the movement of air.

Fortunately, most attacks of asthma are mild. They are ordinarily more distressing mentally than dangerous physically to the victim.

Asthma usually affects its victims with symptoms only part of the time. The typical "attacks" may come on in any season, and may last from a few minutes to a number of days. The victim feels as if he were choking during a severe attack. He cannot get enough air in, and he cannot breathe it out afterwards. He coughs repeatedly and usually spits up white frothing mucus. Often the individual will pass a great deal and may even turn slightly blue during an attack. He seems to be suffocating as he struggles to get enough air.

Can asthma attacks be prevented? Very frequently, they can, if the specific cause can be identified. Where an allergy is suspected this can be a long, trial-and-error process for the physician and for the patient. In some cases this may mean a seemingly-endless series of tests and more tests. And, if the cause is linked to the patient's emotional problems, some kind of help in that area may be recommended also.

The best method of prevention used so far is a series of injections given over a variable period of time to desensitize the patient. These shots are designed to decrease the patient's sensitivity to the specific substance to which he is allergic, and prevent further attacks for some time. Even so they do not make the patient permanently immune, and they, therefore, must be repeated periodically.

There are a few patients who seem to need a complete change of climate. These are usually people with severe asthma which is made worse with colds, sinusitis and other respiratory infections. But such individuals should not even consider moving to another area without first checking with their doctor. The physician can best judge whether or not the proposed relocation may offer any help. It would be tragic to move across the country only to find that asthma is worse instead of better.

So, if you or some member of your family suspects asthma, consult your doctor for proper diagnosis and effective treatment. And don't be fooled into spending your money for so-called "cures" you might see advertised. Unless advised by your doctor, the chances are you'd be wasting your money.

The person with asthma should also attempt - and I know full well this is easier said than done - to maintain a relaxed mental attitude. This will aid in preventing attacks and in shortening them when they do occur. Worrying about asthma won't help a bit. It often makes the condition worse.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have three girlfriends and we run around together. But we get into arguments and can't seem to get along. I've had two of them spend the night with me and we get along fine, but when we are with the other one, we fuss all the time. How can we get along?"

OUR REPLY: It takes two to make an argument. If three of you get along well, but four of you are fussing whenever you are together, it would appear that the fourth girl is the cause of the discord. Or, it might be that one or more of the other three girls resent her for some reason and encourage the fussing.

If you have these girls as your guests, be on your own best behavior. Politely stop any arguments when they begin by reminding your friends that it is much more fun to be happy and enjoy being together than it is to get together and waste your time fussing and fighting.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Just A Second
"Life took all of my love and left my heart rich."
— Lloyd Frank Merrell.

TODAY'S THOUGHT
By LOUIS BURGHARDT

One wonders why churches are filled at certain times, such as Christmas and Easter. In times of crisis, too. One wonders what motivates people to attend church worship at such times and snub God at other times.

One wonders why people fail to invite or urge community guests to attend church worship with them. One wonders whether their invitation silence shows a lack of Christian courage, a fear of refusal, or plain indifference. One wonders why summer play time and picnics replace church prayer on Sundays and why the two are not combined. One wonders why we expect God to be with us, when we show an unwillingness to be with Him.

Think it over. Can you explain it? ... BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 E. Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

John Birch Leader Talks To Kiwanians

The goals of the John Birch Society were discussed by Donald E. VanCurler, an Ann Arbor architect and section leader for the Society's local chapter, at the Chelsea Kiwanis Club meeting Monday evening, July 17.

He said that the Society is primarily concerned about the inroads of Communism in American society. The goals of the Society include more individual responsibility and less governmental power. He said that the Society believes "the Communists plan to take over this country."

The John Birch Society has organized into a number of problem areas in which they believe Communism exerts its greatest influence. They have begun the movement to impeach Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren. VanCurler said that the Society urges United States withdrawal from the United Nations. He stated, "the UN was conceived by Communists, organized by Communists and continues through the efforts of Communists."

The John Birch Society claims the civil rights cause is a fraud. "The Negro has been used to create a revolutionary group to destroy this country," said VanCurler. The Birch Society reports that seven percent of its membership is Negro and that the Birch Society is not anti-Negro.

The Birch Society sponsors a library amendment to the U. S. Constitution which would prohibit the federal government from competing with free enterprise in organizing business interests. The organization also sponsors support for local police.

VanCurler also mentioned the influence of the Society through its Speaker's Bureau and its distribution of books and pamphlets. "The battle against Communism can be won now," said VanCurler. "We think we have only 18 months to reach the American people," in order to save this nation from Communist domination.

A question and answer period concluded the meeting. Also at the meeting, Charles Egerton introduced his son, Charles, as his guest. Paul Mann revealed the intention of Anton Nielsen to run for Lt. Governor of the newly-created Division 10.

Scrivener is returning to his post as headmaster of the Thaxted County Primary school, 40 miles northeast of London. Chelsea teacher Robert Benedict and family have been in Thaxted during the year as the other half of the exchange.

The exchange was sponsored by the Board of Foreign Scholarships under the Mutual Education and Exchange Act, part of the Fulbright-Hays Act of 1961, which is administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Approximately 100 U. S. England exchanges took place this past year.

Scrivener has been visiting school systems in the Middle West since school closed in June.

D. Hackney Tells C. of C. About Scout Program

Don Hackney, Portage Trails Boy Scout Council president, discussed scouting in this area Tuesday, July 18, at the regular Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Rolly Spaulding introduced Hackney, whose talk followed the theme of "Scouting is Outing." He emphasized that the independence and self-reliance that a boy learns through scouting is the most important result of the program.

Hackney mentioned in his talk that the near-by Bruin Lake camp is now too small for the needs of the scouts in the district. Consequently a 640-acre tract of land with an 80-acre lake, just south of Cadillac, has been bought. A new camp will be built there.

Jaycee Auxiliary Sponsoring Baby Photo Contest

Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary is sponsoring a "Prince-Princess of Chelsea" contest open to children under three years as of Sept. 1, 1967, during Sidewalk Days, Aug. 4 and 5.

Mrs. Tom Dunlap, chairman of this year's contest, explains that prizes will be given for first, second and third-place winners. All three winners, accompanied by one parent, will ride in the Chelsea Fair Parade.

In order to enter a child, parents should send their name, the name of their child, his age and their address to Mrs. Dunlap at 233 Adams St. before Sidewalk Days begin. Recently taken black and white pictures, 5"x7", must accompany the entry. Mrs. Dunlap adds that all pictures will be returned.

The pictures will be displayed in local stores from Aug. 3 to Aug. 11 along with canisters in which people may put coins, which serve as votes. The winner will be determined by the value of the money in his canister.

Proceeds will be used for future community service projects of the Jaycee Auxiliary.

Two Escapees Caught Soon After Driving Away Car

Freid Pearsall, 34 Sycamore Dr., awoke at 3:30 a.m. Sunday, July 9, to see his son's car being pushed out of the garage and into the street. When Chelsea Police Officer Jerry Stanifer finally caught up with the car five miles north of Stockbridge, he found that two escapees from Cassidy Lake Technical school had taken the blue 1962 Corvair.

Russell Gibbs, 19, and Bradley King, 17, were booked at Wash-ton County Jail for Unlawful Driving Away an Automobile. According to the report filed by Stanifer, the youths had removed the car from the Pearsalls' closed garage and were rolling it down the driveway when Pearsall noticed them. As they were driving away, he called the police.

At 3:45 a.m., the car was seen at the corner of Main St. and Middle St., headed south. After chasing the vehicle through several village streets, Stanifer followed it north on M-52, through Stockbridge to the point five miles north of Stockbridge where he, with the assistance of the Ingham county sheriff deputies, apprehended the two youths after they left the car and fled into a field.

The car was towed to a service station in Stockbridge and then returned to the Pearsalls.

Both young men were examined on the charges Wednesday, July 19. Bail had been set at $5,000, but was not posted for either man.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman
Board of Trustees of National Ass'n
of Investment Clubs

Through payroll deduction, I have accumulated more than 150 shares of stock in the company where I work. I'll have in three years. Should I sell the shares a few at a time so I will not have to pay so much at one time, or should I wait until I dispose of them all at once and pay the tax on my long-term capital gain?

A. I don't see why you would want to sell your shares at all. The dividend income will be payable to you when you retire. The company you work for has an excellent dividend record. You would have no tax to pay at the time you receive the dividend income. You would, of course, have to report your dividend income on your income tax return.

Q. I have $5,000 invested in corporate bonds. Should I buy more bonds through payroll deduction?

A. From the information you gave me, I think you would be wise to reserve about $2,000 in a bank savings account or in bonds. Invest the rest in securities. I suggest you divide the $3,000 investment about equally between good major manufacturing companies, an oil company, and a utility.

It sounds to me as if you are in an excellent position to form an investment club. You could take part of the money you are now investing in government bonds and put it into an investment club. You and a group of friends could learn more about the world of finance and learn how to pick stocks and investments on your own.

Q. What industry or type of stock do you anticipate will show the greatest growth in the next five years?

A. Before you go looking too far for a growth industry, consider this for a moment: You are going to be investing in a growth industry, but in one or two companies of an industry.

Therefore, I think your concern should be with growth companies, since they are in a growth industry or not.

For instance, those who bought the Wolverine Shoe a few years back are very happy investors today; though they bought in what is supposedly a "sick" industry, the corporation itself has moved to a very healthy and growing one and has yielded better returns than have a lot of companies in growing industries.

Growth in a particular company is not necessarily guaranteed because it is part of a growth industry. The soundest growth results in an aggressive management. Poorly managed companies can grow if it is lucky enough to be in a growing industry, but the problems develop it may show very poorly.

There is this ever-present danger in investing in a growth industry—a lot of new, untried companies are drawn into it. When the saturation point is reached, the industry is likely to be a shake-out. The best-managed are likely to survive and a growing industry may become a poor management.

Have you a question about investing? Mr. O'Hara, editor of the monthly publication, "Better Investing," and one of the nation's recognized authorities, will answer as many as possible in a column or by personal mail. But must limit questions to those of general interest.

Correspondents will receive a free copy of "Better Investing". Write to T. E. O'Hara, National Association of Investment Clubs, Dept. S, Box 1050, Detroit, 281.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

TOGETHERNESS

Happiness and togetherness are one and the same where the proper family is concerned. Togetherness does not mean in this instance that every family member goes to the same movie, helps with a particular chore, or rides in a single automobile to church.

Togetherness means a unity of purpose — a oneness. There is a sense of "belonging" shared by everyone, from the youngest to the eldest.

Within the confines of such a family, there is a readiness to discuss personal problems and always the time for them to be heard.

There is a sense of responsibility — responsibility to those in authority, responsibility to those in need. Whatever else is said, the success of family life, the achievement of a state of togetherness, must depend upon the parental approach and the parental attitude. Togetherness is the fulfillment of parental responsibility.

LIFELINES:

IF GOD FORGOT

- If God forgot the world,
Forgot for just one day—
Forgot to send the sunshine,
And change the night to day;
Forgot to make the flowers grow,
Forgot the birds and bees,
Forgot to send the sweetness
Of the south wind in the trees;
Forgot to give us friendships;
Forgot to send us rain,
Forgot to give the children play,
Forgot to soften pain,
What would happen to this world and us?
Would we still be gay?
If God should forget—
Forgot for just one day?

Older Adult Picnic Forced Inside By Chilly Weather

Forty-three were present for the July 15 meeting of the Older Adult Group of the Methodist church. Originally planned as a picnic at the Cavanaugh Lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Adams, the meeting place was changed because of the chilly weather. The gathering took place in the social center of the Methodist church.

The Rev. Robert Worgess led the group in prayer as they sat at the tables for the pot-luck dinner.

The group also paused for a period of silent prayer for Mrs. Myrtle Price, a member of the group, who died unexpectedly during the week.

Those present signed a message of sympathy and condolence to be sent to Mrs. Price's daughter, Mrs. Victor Sindlinger of Dexter.

Honored at Saturday's meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knott in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary, and seven members whose birthdays occur during the month. The seven are Mrs. Herbert Paul, Mrs. Walter Riemenschneider, Mrs. Elba Gage, Mrs. D. L. Gadbey, Mrs. Rae Lillie, Mrs. W. A. Johnson and Mrs. Addie Fitzmaur.

The latter had baked and decorated the birthday cake which was served.

An anniversary cake, baked and appropriately decorated in honor of the Knott's 50th anniversary, was the work of Mrs. Lyman Adams. Mrs. Knott was presented a carnation corsage and her husband was given a boutonniere. In addition they were given a special card signed by all those present.

A card also was signed and sent to Mrs. Mabel Foster who has been ill.

Mrs. Blanche Mohrlock and Mrs. Winifred Coffman joined in expressing their appreciation for the remembrances they received from group members during recent stays in the hospital.

Appointed as a nominating committee were Mrs. Paul, Miss Laura Hieber, Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Lillie and Mrs. Mary Wood.

There will be no meeting in August, the next meeting being scheduled for Sept. 16.

Fashion Notes

All purpose coats are quite the vogue this season and some of them are expensive. An aluminum coated trikot number is not for the budget-minded female but others which are most attractive can be found at reasonable prices.

Colorful shifts are seen in all of the beach resorts. The shops are filled with garments in fabrics of all kinds and they seem to be worn on all occasions, daytime or evening.

Bathing suits with matching or harmonizing jackets are popular.

Good cooks will tell you there is a reason for "blanching" vegetables. Heat stops changes in the vegetables that occur if they are not steamed. Unsalted vegetables develop a hay or shuck-like flavor, lose color, toughen, and lose food value.

Maurice Chevalier Interview Highlights Sunday TV Show

East Lansing—Maurice Chevalier, singer, stage and film actor, is the subject of "Conversations," a series of interviews with outstanding personalities. Sunday, July 23, at 8 p.m. on WWSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television.

James Day, general manager of KQED, N.E.T. San Francisco affiliate, is host to the French star, now 77 years old. Chevalier discusses his three major love affairs—with his audience, and with Paris and America—and freely speaks of the tensions of his career, the advantages of old age, and his sincere respect for his audience.

Other WWSB highlights include

SYRIA—"International Magazine" interviews Syrian Chief of State Nureddin Atassi, Sunday, July 23, at 2 p.m. and Monday, July 24, at 12 noon. Atassi explores his contention that Zionism, as distinguished from Judaism, is intolerable to his people.

The film compares school girls drilling with rifles and dock workers touting Marxism with the general mood of apathy in the country on the eve of the Middle East crisis.

The broadcast also studies Sweden, where motorists will soon drive on the right side of the road; Corfu, a new Tahiti in the Mediterranean; Korea, an uneasy land on the 14th anniversary of its armistice; Czechoslovakia, where economic upheaval is underway, and France, a country with a key ring craze.

CHINESE ARTS

"Sunday Showcase," compares examples of the poetry, philosophy, dance and calligraphy from the 2000-year-old Mandarin culture of China with similar selections from Mao Tse-tung's current "socialist realism" on "Mao and the Mandarins," Sunday, July 23, at 11 p.m.

The clash between these divergent views is shown by the contrast between the exquisite calligraphy and painting of classical China and the aggressive poster art of the Red Guards and the contrast between the classical rhyme and beauty of the ancient poetry and the strident propagandistic poems of the present.

DRAMA

"London Assurance," a stylish comedy about the sprightly but elderly nobleman Sir Harcourt Courtly, who takes a fancy to the 18-year-old, heiress niece of his friend, appears on "N.E.T. Playhouse" series "The Victorians," Monday, July 24, at 8 p.m. and Friday, July 28, at 12 noon.

The play by Dion Boucicault was first presented at the Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, London, in 1841. John Wood heads the Company of Seven as Sir Harcourt. Charles Kay portrays his son, Patricia Garwood, the young Grace Harkaway, and Ingrid Hafner, the Lady-Gay Spanker.

Trophies and cash prizes will go to first and second-place winners in both the band group and the folk singing. And the top groups also will be given feature spots during the Music Shell program on the final evening of the fair, Sept. 4.

Cloighton P. Melin, director of the fair's Department of Entertainment and Special Events, said 30 to 40 bands will be performing during the fair, plus about 20 folk-singing groups.

Groups wishing to try out for the competition should contact Melin at the Fairgrounds, 800-5000.

Rep. T. Sharpe on Group To Study Detroit Anti-Poverty Program

State Representative Thomas G. Sharpe (R-Howell) has been appointed to a special House committee to investigate allegations of irregularities in the total action against poverty program in Detroit.

Sharpe said that the committee will undertake a comprehensive study of the operation and administration of the program to see whether numerous complaints of irregularities are founded.

If these complaints are legitimate, Sharpe said, "we will make every effort to assure that everything possible is done to see that this program is put on a prudent and responsible basis."

The knowledge we gain from this study, Sharpe added, "might also be applied in other areas where there is a question of whether taxpayer's money is being employed wisely. I think there are serious questions in the mind of the public today that some federal and state aid money is being spent unwisely on programs that are poorly administered or totally unnecessary."

Other members named to the special committee by House Speaker Robert E. Waldron are Republican Representatives J. C. Kollerman of Wyoming, Thomas G. Ford of Grand Rapids, and Roy Smith of Ypsilanti, and Detroit Democrats James Del Rio, Robert D. Mahoney, E. D. O'Brien, Mrs. Daisy Elliott and David S. Holmes.

The special investigative committee will conduct its probe of the total action against poverty program in Detroit in the interim between the 1967 and 1968 legislative sessions.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

Since taking office in January, I have been constantly amazed and distressed by the lack of efficiency and accountability in many federal government agencies brought on by poor organization and communication. From my 15 trips back to the district and my mail here in Washington, I know this confusion is shared by many of you who come into contact with federal services and regulations even on an occasional basis.

This is why I have introduced a bill to establish a Commission on the Organization of the Executive Branch of Government. Briefly, it will be the job of this Commission, as stated in the bill, to define responsibility and to recommend methods for reducing expenditures, eliminating duplication, consolidating services, abolishing unnecessary functions, expediting co-ordination and improving communication. Now this may sound like an overly optimistic proposal, but it has been done before—at least partially. Two groups known popularly as "Hoover Commissions" made encouraging headway in 1947 and 1953. Since 1953, however, federal activity has grown enormously and 14 years is certainly too long to wait for another thorough review of executive branch organization.

The need for Congress to once again wade into the morass of the federal bureaucracy is continually demonstrated. A case in point deals with the request of Addison, Mich. for federal assistance after the devastation of the Spring 1965 tornado. While the request was approved quickly, it was two years filled with conflicting red tape demands, before Addison finally received a full settlement. After I had communicated many times with local people and many different federal officials on this delay, one frustrated federal administrator appropriately coined the expression of "administrative vacillation" in his humble explanation.

Congress should look to the leadership of Michigan and the other progressive states which have undertaken massive reorganization and apply this same approach to the federal government. While serving in Lansing, I saw and participated in Michigan's recognition of the need to utilize the organizational expertise developed by the private sector of our economy and its application of modern management techniques, including data processing and expenditure management. The benefits of this approach, which have saved millions

While living in the University's dormitories, the students toured the campus and met some of their instructors and classmates.

Rep. M. Esch Meeting With Gen. Eisenhower In Study of NATO

U. S. Representative Marvin L. Esch (R-Ann Arbor) of the House Republican Committee on Western Alliances, has been invited to a breakfast conference with General Dwight D. Eisenhower "Friday morning, July 21. The event will be held in the former President's Gettysburg office."

The committee, of which Esch is a member, is formulating proposals for strengthening NATO, the alliance of the free nations. The off-the-record breakfast discussion will give him an opportunity to discuss current developments with the man who had the leading role in organizing NATO, served as its first supreme military commander and later as "President of the United States brought the alliance to its apex of power and influence."

Invited to the breakfast are 15 members of the committee.

Tractor-Drawn Load of Hay Catches Fire, Burns

A load of hay being driven from the farm of Charles Romine, 18027 Old US-12, to the barn belonging to Reuben Lesser, Jr., of 14140 Old US-12, Monday afternoon, July 17, caught fire.

Three fire trucks and 12 men responded to the alarm, which blew at 5:20 p.m., and the men worked for about 90 minutes before the fire was completely out.

The cause of the fire is uncertain. A spark from the tractor's exhaust may have done it, or a cigarette may have been thrown into the load according to Reuben Lesser, Sr. A passing truck driver noticed the fire and alerted the driver.

Much of the hay was pushed off the truck by the water pressure from the fire hoses. The Lessers cleaned up the hay Tuesday and Wednesday.

and brought about better service for Michigan people, could be realized to a much greater extent on a national basis.

While this proposal has yet to receive the support of the controlling party, I am hopeful that it will receive the favorable consideration it obviously deserves. In the meantime, if you are experiencing problems with federal government services, please bring them to my attention and I will do my best to straighten them out.

Wheat Acreage Allotment Set

Washtenaw county's acreage allotment for the 1968 wheat crop has been set at 32,008 acres, Earl Deletsky, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced.

The 1968 national wheat allotment of 59.3 million acres compares with a 1967 allotment of 68.2 million acres.

As indicated in the announcement of the national allotment figures, the 1968 acreage allotment, with average weather, would provide a crop of approximately 1.5 billion bushels. A crop this size will balance with estimated domestic use of 735 million bushels and an export target of at least 750 million bushels during the 1968-69 marketing year which begins July 1, 1968.

Deletsky points out that eligibility for price-support loans and wheat marketing certificates, as in previous years will depend on farmers' meeting program provisions. Individual farm allotments for the 1968 wheat crop were mailed July 14. Other operating details for the 1968 wheat crop will be announced soon.

Consensus Bureau figures on consumer income (in current dollars) shows that in 1964, 55.6 percent of 48 million families in the U. S. had incomes of $6,000 or more.

In 1947, less than 20 years ago, this figure was only 11.0 percent of a total 37 million families.

As indicated in the announcement of the national allotment figures, the 1968 acreage allotment, with average weather, would provide a crop of approximately 1.5 billion bushels. A crop this size will balance with estimated domestic use of 735 million bushels and an export target of at least 750 million bushels during the 1968-69 marketing year which begins July 1, 1968.

Deletsky points out that eligibility for price-support loans and wheat marketing certificates, as in previous years will depend on farmers' meeting program provisions. Individual farm allotments

OPEN LETTER To the Citizens of the Chelsea School District

Dear Citizens:

Your Board of Education feels the urgent obligation to inform the public as to the present financial status of the Chelsea School District, created by the loss of $258,000 in operating funds, and of the sincere effort by the Board to effectively and efficiently operate the system.

There should be no doubt in anyone's mind that the Board of Education recognizes the need, and its responsibility for good education in our school district. The Board feels that this was recognized when the 1967-68 budget was prepared. A budget of a lesser amount would have had the effect of downgrading the total program offered by the school district, whether it be in the area of teaching staff, building maintenance, transportation or any of the other facets involved in the requirements of the school system.

The people of the Chelsea School District should certainly feel proud of the past performance of their schools. We feel that, when compared with many other districts in the state, the Chelsea School District is in an enviable position because we do have a wage agreement with our teaching staff. This has enabled our administrators to be selective when staffing our schools, yet our salary schedules are very much in line with surrounding districts.

The defeat of the 6.75 mill request on July 10th means a loss of $258,000 in operating money for the school district. This represents approximately one-fourth of the total budget for 1967-68. To leave the budget in this state would be a tragic mistake by your Board of Education. Therefore, we will make every effort to get the citizens of the district to recognize their responsibility to obtain and spread information to help pass the realistic millage request on August 28th, 1967.

We sincerely solicit your understanding and aid in this very vital matter.

Sincerely yours,
CHELSEA SCHOOL DISTRICT
