Area 4-H Youth Exhibiting at County Show

Fairy Project Judging Is Today With Livestock Auction in Evening

Early judging Monday at the 4-H Youth County Show, which will be held at the Rural Center on Ann Arbor, will include judging of the 4-H members in several home divisions. The 4-H members of the Chelsea and Dexter area will show selections in foods, flowers, and crafts. The Chelsea members will show selections in foods, flowers, and crafts. The Chelsea members will show selections in foods, flowers, and crafts.

Fair Plans Getting into High Gear

Sidewalk superintendents are welcome to join those already overseeing the construction of the new livestock barn at the Chelsea Fairgrounds.

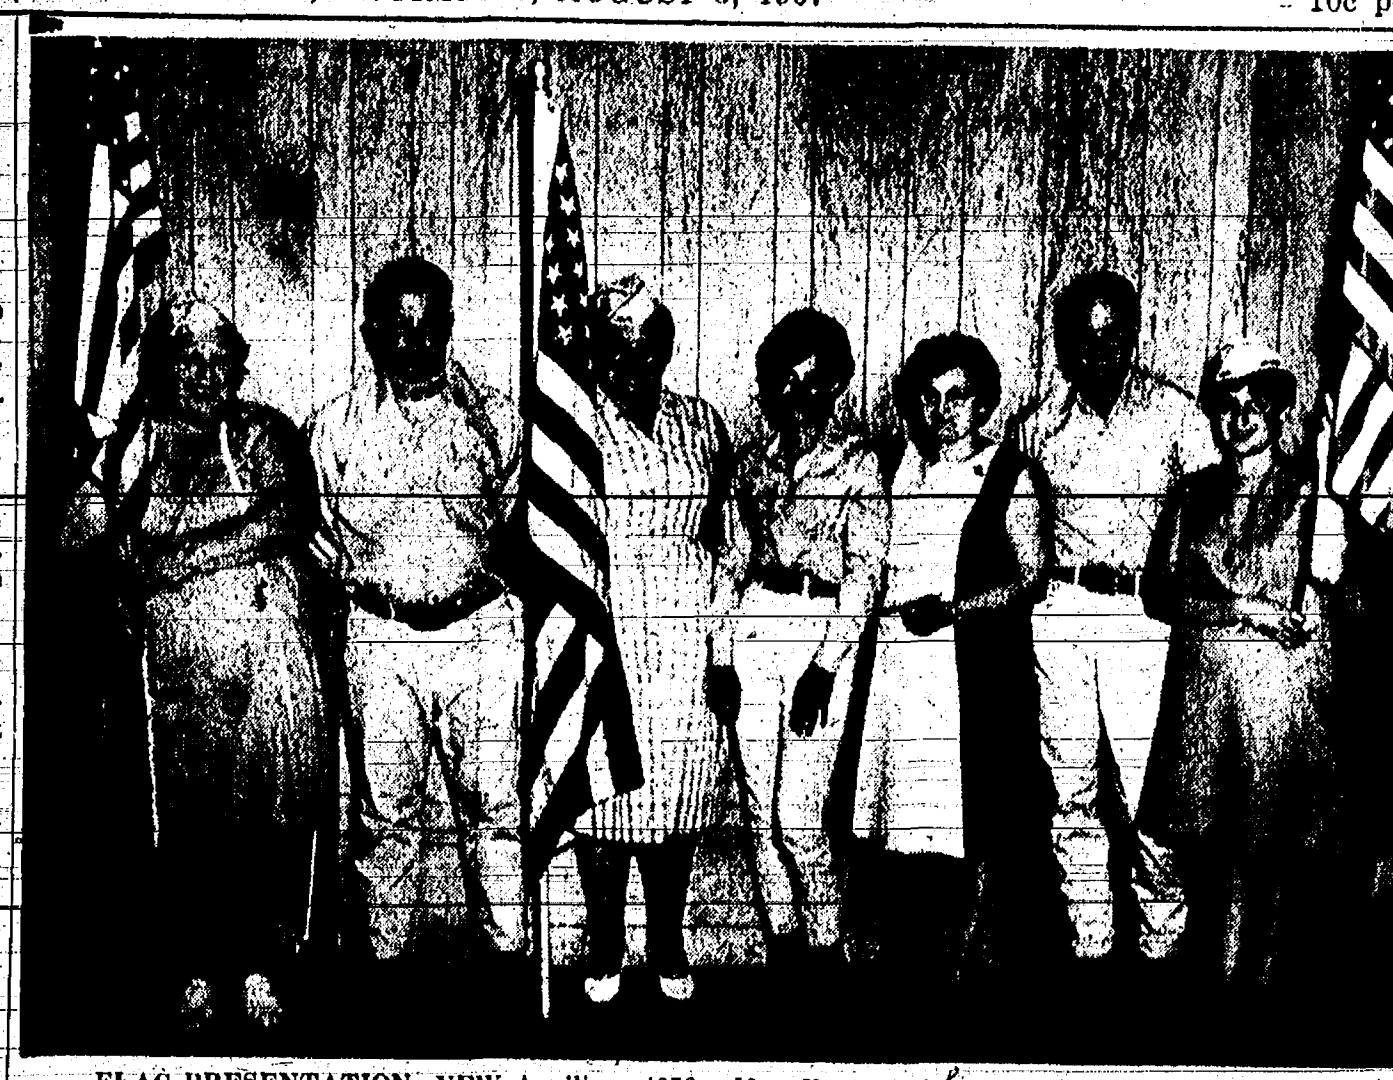

The materials furnished by Childs Farm Supply Co. of Leslie are being put together by the Perich Construction Co. of Mason. Their ideas for saving construction time insure that the 176' by 50' building will be ready before the Fair opens Aug. 30.

The new barn, built of aqua siding, is replacing the structure that collapsed under the weight of snow in January.

Fair officials remind anyone wishing to enter a float in the parade, which will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 2, to contact parade chairman, Fire Chief James Gaken, as soon as possible. Also, parents are reminded that any child up to age 12, who wishes to take part in the Kiwanis Kids Parade should bring a completed entry blank to Gene Miller, chairman of the Kids Parade, at the municipal parking lot before 6 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 30, in order to be eligible for prizes.

All queen candidates must ride a float on Saturday's parade, and Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary chairman, Mrs. Jerry (Marketa) Satterthwaite, would like to have all contestants get in touch with her as soon as possible at 475-8042.

Season tickets for parking on the fairgrounds will be available at the gates. Season admission tickets are available now from all business places having entry blanks, from L. W. Kern, gate chairman, or from any officer, director, or committee chairman.

FLAG PRESENTATION: VFW Auxiliary 4076 presented an American flag to Trail Blazers, Inc. recently in a ceremony held in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Participating in the ceremony were Mrs. Fred Klink, VFW community service chairman; Tom Franklin, Trail Blazers vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Platt, VFW president; Pam Schultz, Trail Blazers Junior president; Mrs. Mac Packard, VFW Americanism chairman; W. W. Williamson, Trail Blazers president; and Mrs. Richard Kern, VFW patriotic chairman.

Sidewalk Days Sale Scheduled This Week-End

Summer Bargain Event Will Find Sidewalks Lined with Merchandise

Merchants and shoppers will take to the sidewalks Friday and Saturday during Chelsea's 11th annual Sidewalk Days Sale.

Everything from lawn furniture to sand-box toys will be featured in the open-air event. Seasonal merchandise will be sold at greatly reduced prices by the participating Main St. businesses. Special values on food will also be offered by grocery stores.

Displaying merchandise out of doors is an "old-fashioned" practice which was common in pioneer days in America and still persists at such famous open-air marts as Chicago's Maxwell St. Businessmen around the country have revived the outdoor display idea as an annual event of the summer season.

The specially reduced prices offer great savings to shoppers and provide merchants with a good chance to clear their inventory of summer items before the demand for fall and winter merchandise is great.

The Chelsea sale began in October, 1957, but as the changeover from warm-weather to cold-weather items has moved gradually into midsummer, so have the days of Sidewalk Days moved into August.

Chamber of Commerce Retail Division is in charge of the Chelsea sale, with Lu Muck, manager of Dancer's, chairman.

The Chelsea Sidewalk Days follows similar sales in other communities in Washtenaw County. Visitant merchants moved outdoors last week-end, and Ann Arbor businesses took to the sidewalks the week before.

Answers to Some School Questions

In answer to typical questions asked by voters, the Chelsea School District Board of Education explains the millage proposal they are making in the Aug. 28 special election, as follows:

Q. Who may vote in the millage election Aug. 28?
A. Any registered voter may vote. Property ownership is not a requirement to vote.

Q. How many mills additional are requested in the Aug. 28 election?
A. 2.5 mills.

Q. How many mills were voted for the last school year, 1966-67?
A. 4.25 mills.

Q. What is the total request Aug. 28?
A. 6.75 mills, 4.25 renewal and 2.5 mills additional.

Q. Is the increase in the total school millage 1.9 mills?
A. Yes. The 2.5 mills additional is reduced by .6 of a mill in the debt retirement funds.

Q. How is the .6 of a mill in the debt retirement funds arrived at?
A. 1.5 mills were required to pay the principal and interest on the high school debt retirement fund and the middle school debt retirement fund in 1966-67. Because of the school district increase in valuation, 6.0 mills will be required in 1967-68, a reduction of .6 of a mill.

Q. What was the total school millage for 1966-67?
A. 22.07 mills.

Q. What is the request for 1967-68, including the additional 2.5 mills?
A. 24.87 mills—an increase of 1.0 mill.

Q. Is any additional millage available for 1967-68?
A. No. The 4.25 mills voted for 1966-67 expired.

Q. What does 6.75 mills represent in tax money?
A. $268,500 on 90 percent collection of the taxes.

Q. What does $268,500 represent in the budget?
A. Six teachers, not opening the middle school, elimination of all maintenance, closing all buildings at 4:00 p.m., all teaching supplies, all textbook purchases, all transportation of pupils, all library expenditures, three custodians, all janitorial supplies, all telephone service, all band instrument purchases, all noon hour supervision, chaises, increased 5 percent. How does this effect our district?

A. Our district will receive $1.55 less per pupil or approximately (Continued on page three)

Rec. Program Will Close Tomorrow

Attendance at Summer Recreation Program activities this year is higher than last year except for afternoon swimming, which has been dampened by rain.

The program ends tomorrow, Aug. 4, except for three activities that were late starting: baton twirling, trampolining, and weight training. These three programs will be continuing.

Participation in various activities has been as follows: arts and crafts, 125 children under the direction of Carolyn Bareis, assisted by Arlene Wengren, Barb Frisbee, Linda Cobb, and Mike Schmidt. Baton twirling has 30 girls enrolled under the instruction Jill McEachern. The trampoline and gymnastics class has averaged more than 20 per meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Donna Taylor.

The evening basketball program has had 115 boys participating in both the junior and senior divisions. Beginning swimming instruction, under Bill Olman, has 40 students taking part. Tennis instruction has averaged about 20 participants per day.

The Babe Ruth League baseball program has involved 35 boys on the two teams coached by Don Schoenberg, Pete Severn, and Richard Bareis. The high school baseball team, coached by Phil Bareis, has had 18 boys playing.

Recreation director Richard Bareis feels that the program has been successful in its attempt to spread out and to offer more varied opportunities in recreation. Bareis feels, however, that there should be more children taking part in the program. Any suggestions for possible improvements would be welcomed by him.

Trail Blazer Riding Club Presented American Flag

At a regular monthly meeting July 25, the Trail Blazer Riding Club, Inc. elected officers for 1968 and was presented with an American flag by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.

The flag was presented by the VFW Auxiliary president, Mrs. Kenneth Platt, to Tom Franklin, the newly elected vice-president, who accepted the flag for the Trail Blazers.

Chelsea's newest club, the Trail Blazers came into being March 7 and functioned with temporary officers until this election. Club president, Bill Williamson announced that the election of officers and flag presentation completes the organization of this club.

There are two sections of the club, the Junior Trail Blazers and the Trail Blazers. Club officers for 1968 are as follows: W. W. Williamson, president; Tom Franklin, vice-president; Marie Schultz, secretary-treasurer; Harry Schlegel, Leonard Reith, Stan Montagne, and Jim Sexton, directors. For the Junior Trail Blazers, Pam Schultz is president and Carol Curtis is secretary-treasurer.

The group now has 21 families as members, composed of persons interested in horseback riding, trail rides, campouts, parades, and other riding activities, with emphasis on youth activities.

Carrying their turquoise and light tan satin club flags and dressed in light tan pants, turquoise shirts, tan scarves, and white hats, the club members participated in the Manchester 4th of July parade and the Milan Free Fair parade, and they will make their first appearance in Chelsea at the Chelsea Community Fair parade, July 9, the club visited Camp Critter, summer camp for epileptic children. The club wore their dress uniforms for this occasion and carried their flags. They staged a small horse show, speed and action games, and then led their horses for all of the children to ride. The club provided soft drinks and watermelon for refreshments.

President Williamson comments, "The pleasure and happiness shown on the children's faces will long be remembered."

The parent organization of the Trail Blazers is the Sandspur Riding Club, Inc. of New Smyrna Beach, Fla. Williamson was formerly a member of the Sandspurs and requested their permission to use their articles of incorporation and by-laws to form this club. After permission was received, the local group applied for a Michigan charter, and the state approved their application June 22. The club is chartered as a nonprofit organization.

Janice Koenigter Cited as One of Six Top Freshmen

Janice Koenigter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Koenigter of 830 Planders St., was one of six outstanding freshmen at Eastern Michigan University who were honored at a luncheon at the McKenny Union Wednesday, July 26.

Janice and the other five freshmen are recipients of the first President's Scholarships awarded by the university. The grants, which include full tuition scholarships and room and board payments for the summer semester, were presented to outstanding high school seniors to encourage them to begin their college careers at Eastern during the summer, according to Ralph F. Gilden, Dean of Admissions and Financial Aids.

Janice has also been awarded a Regents' scholarship for the fall semester. The Regents' award is renewable each semester as long as a student maintains a 2.5 (C-plus) average.

The new honor scholarship for the summer semester is an outgrowth of a program initiated this past fall at Eastern in which 88 honor scholarships were presented to graduating high school seniors.

Council Briefs

At a regular meeting of the Village Council Tuesday evening, Aug. 1, at which all the trustees were present, the Council approved the appointment of Earl Willis as sergeant, as recommended by Police Chief George Meranuck.

A discussion was held with members of the Chelsea School Board, Superintendent Charles Cameron, and the architect for the new Middle School regarding the possibility of a sewer at Freer Rd. Trustees Weber and Heydlauff are to investigate.

The Village President and clerk were authorized to enter into a contract with the American Fire Apparatus Co. for fire apparatus for a new tanker. Total contract price $20,600.

Police Chief Meranuck recommended that a public citation be given the Chelsea Auxiliary Police for their fine co-operation during the past week in assisting the local police forces.

A discussion was held regarding the parking recommendations for Old US-12 within the Village limits as submitted by the Washtenaw County Road Commission. A (Continued on page three)

Head-on Auto Crash Sends 3 to Hospital

A head-on collision involving two cars Saturday, July 29, about 5 p.m. occurred on M-52 near the intersection of Jerusalem Rd., one-half mile north of the Chrysler Proving Grounds.

A 1962 Ford, driven by Stanley John Binkowski of Manchester rounded a curve and drove into the straight-away before crossing into the left lane onto the gravel part of the road. A 1966 Oldsmobile, driven by Duane Guenther of Bridgewater, tried to avoid the Binkowski car, according to the report filed at the Washtenaw County Sheriff's office, but Binkowski's vehicle ran into Guenther's car head-on.

The two drivers, and Sharon Guenther, who was a passenger in her husband's car, were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor for treatment.

No arrests were made.

Falling Eavestrough Starts Electric Meter Fire

A falling eavestrough started a fire in the outside electric meter at the Staffan Funeral Home Wednesday, Aug. 2, just before noon. Damage was limited to the meter, and the fire department spent about 10 minutes working on the fire before it was extinguished.

FIRST TICKET: Donald Baldwin, president of the Village of Chelsea, purchases Chelsea Community Fair ticket number one from publicity chairman Paul F. "Jerry" Niehaus. The season tickets may be purchased from several downtown businesses or from L. W. Kern, chairman of the gates committee, or from officers, directors, or committee chairmen. Niehaus reminds everyone to get their season tickets early before the Fair, Aug. 30 through Sept. 2.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM
senator
GIL BURSLEY

Detroit's riots will be talked about, written about, "studied" and "researched" and political over for months and years to come.

Detroit was the most dramatic and costly American racial battle to date. The death toll approaching 40 will probably be revised upward as rubble is cleared away. Property damage has been guessed to be nearly $1 billion. Whatever the figure it will be the nation's most costly outbreak of rioting—and of unprovoked waste.

Your government officials must sort out the immediate from the long range problems and handle them with a maximum of cold, hard logic and a minimum of emotion. It is easy to succumb to one's natural sympathies and subconscious prejudices. Many hot words will probably be spoken in legislative halls and in speeches before varying publics.

Legislators must, however, rise above partisan politics and personal bias.

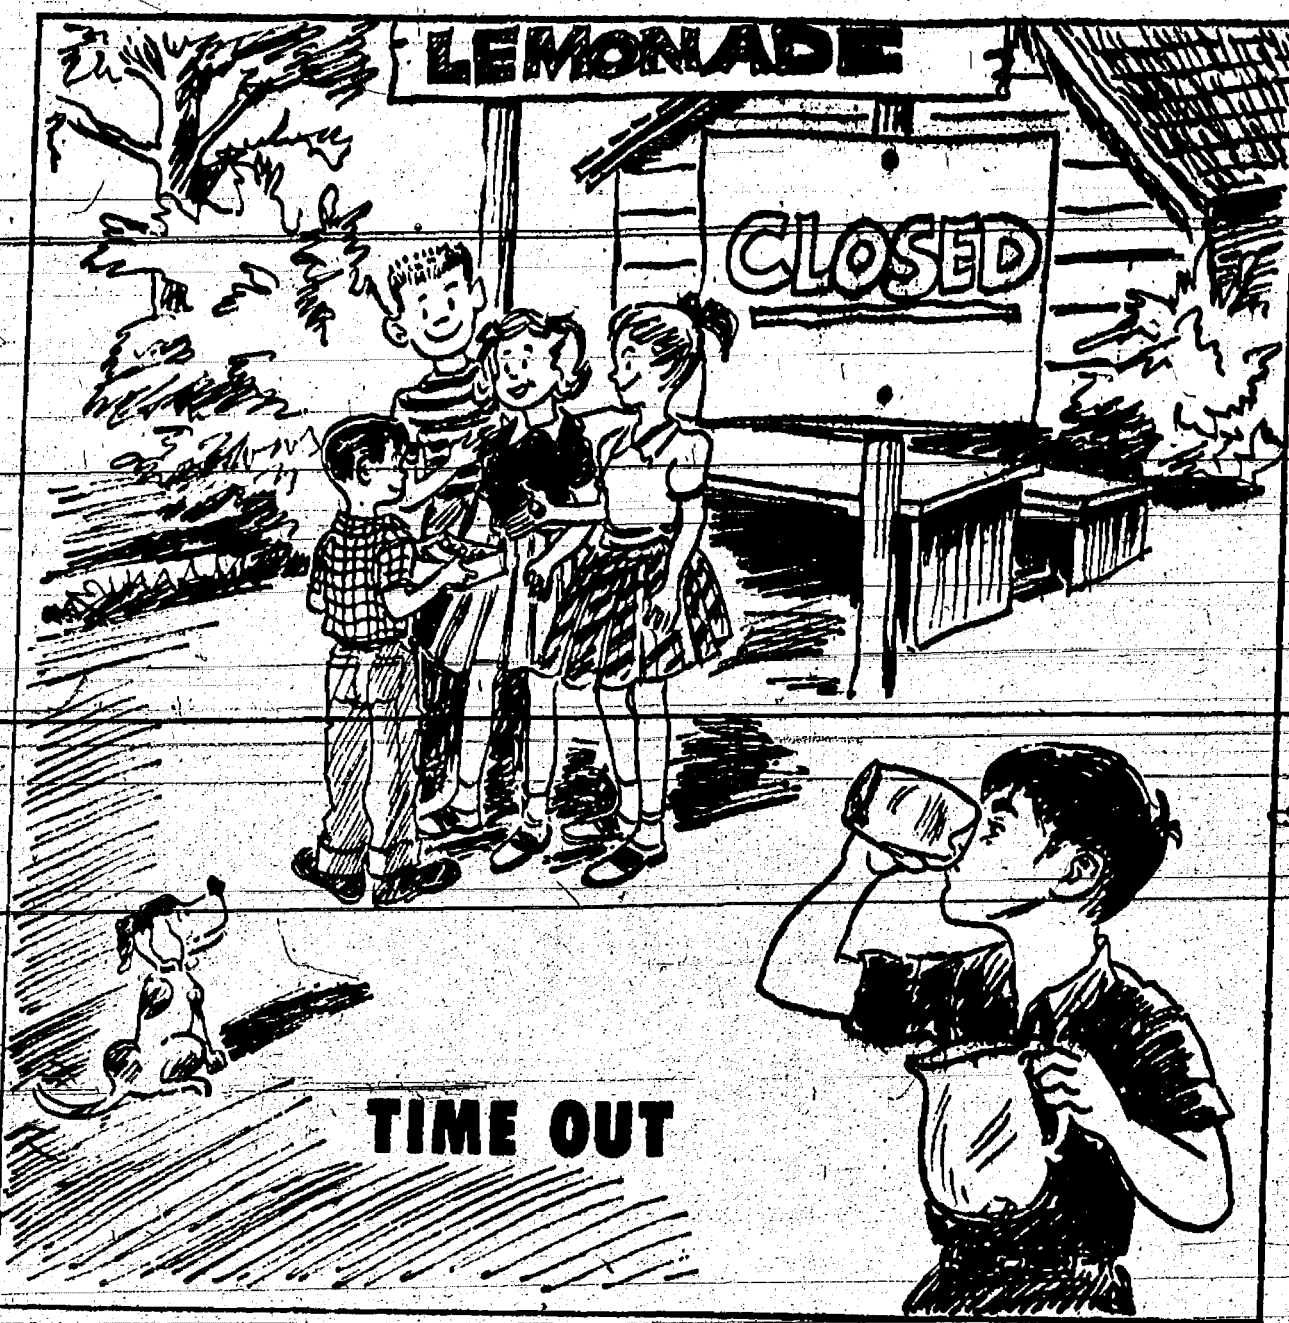

The first problem is food, clothing and shelter for human beings in need.

Concurrently we must clean up the wreckage and guard against imminent public health menaces (rats, disease, etc.).

These convicted of looting, rioting, arson—any criminal activities—should be dealt with by judicial authorities promptly and firmly. Those guilty of inciting to riot, those proven part of any wide spread subversive plot should receive maximum penalties.

The long-range problems and solutions are numerous. Probably they can best be handled by the federal government. Isn't it likely that national guard and federal troops would be employed elsewhere in fighting a wartime emergency? Are our relief agencies of domestic and foreign aid? It looks like Detroit is strained to the utmost in this crisis. I am worried about our preparedness in the event of the action required.

Accordingly I am addressing this series of questions to the various government agencies who have responsibility in these fields with a request for their considered responses.

State Salvage

A million dollars or more of state salvage and surplus items are sold each year by the Purchasing Division, Michigan Department of Administration.

According to director Philip H. Anderson, everything from asparagus to mattress hair has been sold to private consumers through the state's method of auction—bid set-off. Sales of unwanted state merchandise are handled by Douglas Dodge.

In 1966, Dodge sold about $1.2 million worth of salvage and surplus equipment including 1,500 vehicles and about 9,000 used tires. Every agency in the state must follow an outlined procedure when disposing of unwanted or worn-out items.

Items are listed on a regulation compiled list, is then circulated to all state agencies and institutions. Items on the list needed by other agencies are simply transferred. Merchandise not spoken for is then listed for public disposal. It is Dodge's responsibility to get the best price. Some items merit personal trackdown of potential customers.

For example, Dodge recently "acquired" 100 acres of asparagus land at Southern Michigan Prison. The vegetable for their own canning factory. But the canning plant is out of business—so the job of selling asparagus became Dodge's.

A call to the Department of Agriculture gave Dodge a list of commercial canneries. The product was quickly sold.

"That was an easy one," he said. "A tougher problem" currently facing him is disposition of "approach ramps" used when autos were driven aboard the Straits of Mackinac ferry boats.

Invitations to bid are mailed to ZIP they get the more problems they got. For instance, he said he had saw in the papers where the Postmaster General reported money was now running so short they might have to stop all deliveries and let the folks come to the post office for their mail. Josh claimed this was a good chance for old folks. They could just leave the mail sacks at the office and old folks like Ed and Zeke could get a job dumping it out on the floor and piling it up according to the map, East and West like the newspaper ZIP and a feller living West of town could look through the West pile.

Ed claimed this was Great Society junk, but he agreed the day might come when old folks would have to get a job to pay some of the taxes for our big give-away program. For instance, he had saw a piece in the papers where Poland owed us $30 million and had agreed to knock off $10 million if they would teach English in their schools. He guessed, store the deal was closed, if them folks in Poland would learn to say "thank you" in English we might mark the whole bill paid.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

possible buyers on most items. Vehicles are sold at auction only to licensed dealers. Bids may be submitted either on specific items or on a collective basis.

If the item's value is so small it is not considered worthy of listing, an authorization for agency disposal may be issued.

The agency itself will then solicit three bids and sell to the highest bidder.

If the item cannot be sold, it is destroyed and then sold for scrap.

Very few items are unsalable, Dodge maintains. Most scrap is obtained from highway department cleanup crews or from waste of institutional "factories" which manufacture metal products.

Many unusual items are among the hundreds of thousands sold each year. Anything of value is listed for disposal. Bones and animal grease, by-products of state slaughtering, are sold to commercial processors. A team of horses, pastured at a state hospital, was recently sold. Airplanes from the Conservation and Highway Departments are put up for bids.

Fire towers, snow-mobles, telephone lines, office machines and furniture, outboard motors and boats, chainsaws, farm equipment, marine equipment, industrial machines and tools, chemicals, and even small auto parts are included in the "Availability Circular of Surplus and Salvage Property" published by the department.

There is no set date for auctions and specific items are obtainable only on an "available now" basis. However, the department tries to notify people looking for specific items when those items are available for bids.

All items are sold on a "where is as is" basis. Inquiries should be sent to the Purchasing Division, Department of Administration, Surplus and Salvage, Lewis Cass Building, Lansing 48913.

Thursday, Aug. 1, 1963—Calvin Clark, president of the Chelsea Community Fair Board, has named the following chairmen of the various departments and divisions of the 1963 fair scheduled for Aug. 28, 29, 30, and 31. Wesley Howes and Thomas Bust displays in the merchants' building; Mrs. Roland Eder and Mrs. George Heydlauff, home economics; Gary Jackson, the new FFA advisor and agriculture teacher at Chelsea High school, vegetable and agricultural displays; Harold Tinkler, livestock; Loren Koenig and Robert Heller, best exhibits; Leslie Eisenbeiser, Duane Noah and Keith Bradbury, sheep; LeRoy Heller and Don aid Beaman, hog; William Van Riper and Jay Hopkins, dairy division; Merle Sibley and Herman Koenig, horse exhibits, and with the help of Robert Musolf, in charge of the horse show; Warren Spaulding and Mrs. Charles Curtis, chickens and rabbits; Harold Gross, Dexter, and Walter Loeffler, farm equipment. Robert Kuehmal and Anton Nielsen have been appointed the grounds committee chairmen and George Doo has been assigned to be in charge of gates and parking. The revenue committee includes Joe Rucker, Leo Bishop and Charles Lancaster while Roland Spaulding is chairman of the kitchen project, one of the principal means of financing the fair project.

Washenaw County 4-H Show for 1963 gets under way next Tuesday, Aug. 6, at the Rural Activities center on Saline-Arbor Rd. Swimming consistently has drawn the greatest number of participants in the summer recreation program. Tabulated by Alan Conklin, recreation director, the total number who took advantage of the afternoon swimming outdoors at Grooms Beach, Whitmore Lake, was 448.

Joseph T. Merkel, who recently announced he had purchased the Sylvan Hotel and Bowling Lanes, has completed arrangements to have Clarence Lake and his son, Carl Lake, operate the bowling lanes.

Members of Blue Ribbon 4-H club have taken on as a permanent annual community service project, the planting and caring for plants in the two urns at the entrance to McKune Memorial Library. Club members purchased tubs and water ivy plants and set them out after danger of frost was over. The urns are now filled with blossoming fuchsias and the ivy vines add a graceful touch tumbling over the sides.

Thursday, July 30, 1953—Timely discovery of a fire of undetermined origin in the attic of the four-year-old parish hall of Zion Lutheran church at Rogers Corners prevented what might have been a disastrous blaze early Friday morning. Passersby on their way to a huckleberry marsh noticed smoke coming from the cupola on the roof and notified Mrs. Loren Koenig for help. The Chelsea Fire Department received the call shortly before 7:30 a.m. Neighboring farmers and church members had already reached the scene and were extinguishing the blaze by the time the Chelsea equipment arrived a few minutes later.

Lyndon Town Hall, which has stood at the corner of M-92 and North Territorial Rd. for many years, is being moved back from the road approximately 75 feet. The work was begun this week. The building was standing so close to the road that it was considered a traffic hazard because it obstructed the view at the corner. A portion of the building was on property which rightfully is a part of the highway.

Paul Papsdorf, Hugh Gaddis, Bert Conway, and Sam Markey constitute a committee of Waterloo Rd. and Sugar Lake taxpayers who have announced that they are working toward getting early action on improvement of Waterloo Rd. from M-92 to the Jackson county line.

Mrs. Reuben Steinbach will present some of her pupils in a piano recital on Thursday evening, Aug. 6, at 8:15 p.m. at the social center of the Chelsea Methodist church. Those taking part are Olive Ann Reddeman, Carol Lynn Reddeman, Lorrie Reddeman, Velma Wiseman, Judy Wiseman, James Heydlauff, all of Chelsea. Students from Dexter and Ann Arbor will also play.

Five women of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church were among the 185 leaders in Women's Guild work in attendance at the Women's Guild summer conference at Elmhurst, Ill., last week. The five Chelsea women are Mrs. P. G. Schable, Mrs. Herbert Paul, Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer, Mrs. Fred Seitz, and Miss Cora Feldkamp.

Thursday, Aug. 5, 1943—A business transaction was completed on Monday which dissolved the partnership of Schneider, Kusterer, with the Schneiders, by purchasing the interest of H. Kusterer and assuming ownership of the business as of that date. This partnership started in 1922 when Kusterer chased a half interest in the very business of O. D. Schneider located in the building occupied by the Recreation center. The store has been in present location, corner Main Park St., for 15 years. Since the death of Schneider in January 1941, the business has been operated by Kusterer and the Schneiders.

In an editorial, The Standard stated the following: "More complaints heard about the roughness of the railroad crossing Chelsea, and these complaints certainly justified. During the past few days when it was possible by new cars and lives such a condition would not be quite so objectionable except for the danger of breaking your neck when you head hit the top of the car. You crossed the tracks faster than five to ten miles per hour. During the past few years, or during period of our memory, these crossings have been repaired many times by New York Central men, but the roughness was maintained to a very small degree at the present time they are rough that to say the least is dangerous. We realize there is a labor shortage because of the war, but we can see no reason even at that why New York Central should be guilty of neglect as is so evident in Chelsea. Action should be taken by the huge at once, and it is our belief that if promptly approached, railroad officials will see to it that Chelsea is given smoother crossings."

At least 50 young women of Chelsea have enjoyed the privilege of participating in the softball league. There are four active teams of 10 girls each, with a few substitutes. Federal Sew Works represented by three teams: Chelsea—Spring by one, teams are captained by Lorna K. No. 4, Bernice Babley, No. M. A. Coltrane and H. T. T. No. Virginia Gilbert—Spring by one. Zeke Grubb was agreed with Ed, said it was shame to turn the colleges into old folks homes when they was turning down young students on account of not having room for 'em. They was coming things, said Zeke, that run pretty good backwards, but time ain't one of them.

Clem Webster of the Great Society wasn't agreed exact with Ed and Zeke. He said they was plenty of useful work for old folks and the Government had now took note of this fact. For instance, he had saw where they had a Federal foster grandparents program that was working real good, special in the big cities. Retired people was paid $1.50 a hour to visit orphans and take 'em to the zoo and fer walks in the parks and such things. re-evaluation of the problem was made by Police Chief Merriam. Chief Merriam concurred with the Washtenaw County Road Commission with the exception that parallel parking would be allowed on both sides of Old US-12 from a point 50 feet west of M-52 to the Old Manchester Rd.

The Chelsea Village Planning Commission submitted recommendations for the annexation of two parcels of land to the village. The council will proceed with whatever action is necessary to implement the planning commission's recommendations.

to deficit spend. Money would be borrowed to operate the school in 1967-68. Millage would be required to pay this debt and additional millage would have to be levied for 1968-69 or the school program would have to be cut drastically.

Q. The gross allowance in State Aid increased from $290.50 to $294.52 per pupil. How can we get less in State Aid?

A. The deductible factor also increased from 5.03 mills to 5.28 mill (Also a 5 percent increase.) The deductible per pupil for 1966-67 was $84.63 and for 1967-68 it will amount to $100.20—an increase of $15.57. Although the gross allowance increased $14.02 the deductible increased $15.57 or a loss of $1.55 per pupil in State Aid.

Q. What does the 1.9 mills increase represent in taxes?

A. Because the equalization factor in each township differs, the 1.9 mills represents a different amount in each township. The cost per thousand of assessed valuation is:

Sylvan	$5.32
Dexter	$1.90
Freedom	$4.66
Lima	$6.36
Lyndon	$4.95
Sharon	$5.98
Grass Lake	$3.99
Waterloo	$3.83

Q. What happens if the millage falls again Aug. 28?

A. The school board would have

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Mullen and children, James IV, and Patricia of Hayward, Calif., will be leaving this week-end to return home after spending two weeks here as guest of Mrs. Fred Barth and family at their home on Jerusalem Rd. The former's father, James Henry Barth, of Detroit, also spent some time here and on July 20, observed his 88th birthday at a special dinner in his honor. His grandson, James IV, was honored on his 13th birthday, Monday, July 31.

Mrs. Mary Thomas of 623 Elandera St. returned home from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, Saturday, July 29, after about 15 days there. She is receiving treatments at home now. Mrs. Thomas has received word from her grand-daughter, Mrs. Priscilla Yoell Galbreath, that her husband, Kenneth Galbreath, was awarded a Bronze Star for service in Vietnam. Galbreath kept a mine from going over a bridge, thus saving several lives.

College Week Homemakers Study History

More than 600 Michigan homemakers became coeds last week, July 25-28, for a special conference at Michigan State University.

The 40th annual College Week for Women, sponsored by the Co-operative Extension Service of MSU, featured classes and special speakers. A new addition this year was a pageant developed by women from all parts of the state to chronicle women's place in Michigan history.

The pageant rounded out the theme, "Michigan—Yesterday and Today."

In addition, the homemakers heard Robert Thom, a noted Birmingham historical illustrator, emphasize that anyone who interprets history to others bears the responsibility for accuracy.

This responsibility, he said, forced him to visit every corner of Michigan, and frequently other states, while preparing the 25 paintings in a series on the history of the state. The series, commissioned by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was displayed at College Week. Some reproductions also appear on telephone directory covers.

Another historical illustrator, Dirk Ginhuis, MSU museum artist, helped homemakers trace the history of the state from prehistoric times by using reproductions of artifacts from the museum.

"Michigan Today" also challenged homemakers studying at College Week. Each homemaker offered a choice of three topics as "The Changing World of the Consumer," and "My Abilities, My Family and Me." They studied current pressures in decisions homemakers must make and the opportunities open to homemakers to increase their knowledge.

Other classes ranged from the use of drugs, LSD, tranquilizers

Personal Notes

Mrs. Gladys Sharp of 514 Garfield St. returned home Sunday, July 30, from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for recuperation. She had been admitted to the hospital July 21.

Lynn Gage of Tucson, Ariz., arrived in Chelsea July 30 to visit relatives for 10 days. This was the last stop on a journey around the world which began July 1. His fiancée, Linda Tallberg, of Tucson arrived here July 22. Lynn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gage of Tucson, and formerly of Chelsea. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elba Gage of 120 South St. and Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Luick of 10880 US-12. Lynn and Miss Tallberg stayed with Lynn's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Luick, 12880 Old US-12.

and alcohol by modern scientists to art in the home. In the art class, the homemakers had a chance to practice co-ordinating objects with textures and colors.

While attending the annual conference at MSU, most homemakers stayed in a university dormitory. Some commuted to classes and lectures. Others, particularly young homemakers who couldn't attend the entire conference, attended Thursday, which was set as visitors day.

College Week, sponsored by MSU's Co-operative Extension Service, is open to any woman.

★ Riot Background

How involved were young people in the riots which have occurred? What part did youth play in the riotous affairs which have claimed so many lives and cost incalculable damage in so many Michigan cities?

The records show that many of the dead and wounded were very young, several only 17—and many between that age and 25. What values did they have? What background? What chance to learn to live in a civilized society before they died?

We had better find out. Those who study such things say that this is the year in our country when the young among us become the majority. 1967 is the year when those "aged 25 or under" take over—at least as far as total numbers are concerned.

Young people have always been activists. They are restless whether on the farms or in the cities, whether in America or Red China. They are more restless in the cities because they have less responsibility—less things of significance to do. The "Red Guard" was pulled off the farm by "Chairman" Mao, who hoped to use them in deliberate riotous acts meant to bolster his crumbling power. Their extreme anarchy caused Mao to plead with them to go back home to their villages and communes.

In Michigan, it is significant that the riots did not appear racially oriented. They occurred in poverty areas, but most of our youth recall few truly hard times, for they are younger than the great depression. They are used to the mobility of cars and motorcycles—and often, good jobs if they want them.

In any event, poverty is much more than lack of income. It can be poverty of spirit, of ambition, of opportunity. In the words of Michigan Congressman Guy Vander Jagt, "It is a deep cultural, emotional, and in many cases, political problem. Hard-core poverty is as much a state of mind as a lack of money."

Although the younger element involved in our riots may not have had a surplus of money, they do have a surplus of time. Possibly the greatest misjudgment of the effects of Michigan's "double day" light saving time was what it meant in terms of our long hot summer, when young men and women of our state were handed another evening hour of daylight without providing them something constructive to do.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Editor's Note: This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Detroit District Office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked.

Q. I am a sole proprietor and want my son to work for me this summer. How should I treat him for tax purposes?

A. You may deduct as a business expense the salary you pay him for services rendered. The salary deducted should be what you would pay a person not related to you for performing the same services.

The salary is subject to the same withholding requirements as your employees if he is 21 or over. However, if he is under 21 his salary is subject only to income tax withholding and not social security withholding.

Q. I have two weeks duty with the reserve this summer. Will my military pay be taxed?

A. Yes, unless duties are performed in Vietnam for any part of the two weeks.

Q. I was audited for the past two years. Does that mean I'm on a list to be audited every year?

A. If your return has certain characteristics it may be audited and not because you were audited the past two years.

Computers screen returns and identify those which meet certain criteria. The identified returns are then reviewed by examiners who select those which are to be audited.

Q. Talking with my father about taxes the other night, I found that he had been paying taxes on his Social Security pension for the past few years. Is there any way he can get a refund on this?

A. If your father did declare his Social Security benefits as taxable income he is entitled to a refund. However, this is one of the things we look for when we process returns and a good percentage of the errors made on this point are caught.

Check your father's copies of past returns and have him file an

Vo-Ag Teacher Attends Meetings On MSU Campus

Lawrence Lounsbury, Chelsea's new teacher of vocational agriculture, participated in the program of the 48th annual Conference for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture at Michigan State University, July 24 through 28.

More than 20 teachers, principals, superintendents, directors of vocational education, and counselors attended the conference at MSU's Kellogg Center for Continuing Education.

The theme of this year's conference was "Growing without Changing Agriculture." The conference also marked the 50th anniversary of the signing of the Smith-Hughes Act, which provided for administration and finances for local vocational education programs.

Speakers discussed the trend toward more effective teaching, the need for trained personnel in agriculture, teaching for off-farm occupations and the use of teachers in related vocational fields.

Other highlights included meeting of technical agriculture groups, FFA regional meetings, tours of the MSU Pesticide Center and Crops and Soils, exchange of ideas, sessions and recognition of vocational agriculture teachers with more than five years of experience.

ADMIRING HIS TALL FLOWERS is Ed Easterle of 628 S. Main St. who has taken care of the hollyhocks planted about 10 years ago by the Morehouse family when they lived in the house. Now the hollyhocks, which were brought from Holland originally, are more than 10 feet tall. Since he bought the house in 1962 after retiring from the Santa Fe Railroad as an engineer, Easterle has cultivated the flowers, and now he says people frequently stop to ask him for seeds. The flowers are several different colors: deep maroon, shades of pink, white, and orchid.

Fire Department Answers 3 Calls In Past 2 Weeks

Chelsea Fire Department has answered three calls in the past two weeks, including a resuscitation call to Bryn Lake Saturday, July 22, and two small fires in the village.

The department was called to Bryn Lake at 8:55 p.m. for resuscitation of Helen Reed, 3, of 1000 S. Main St., who had been wading in the water at the beach when she fell into the water. The child was breathing normally when the department arrived, and she was taken to Chelsea Medical Clinic and then to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Thursday, July 25, three trucks answered a report of a fire in the dining at 163 E. Summit St., a house owned by Herman Reed of 1000 S. Main St. and occupied by Helen Staphish. The fire was limited to the dining room and was extinguished in 25 minutes.

A roofing firm from Milford that was working on the roof of the Chelsea Theater reported a fire in the roof of the building Thursday, July 27, which had been started by a welder. The fire was put out in 15 minutes.

Camera Day Slated Aug. 12 With Tigers

Detroit—The Gold Seal-Tiger Camera Day at Tiger Stadium which was postponed earlier in the season because of the weather, will be held Saturday, Aug. 12, as a preliminary to the Tigers' game with the Baltimore Orioles that afternoon.

Fans will be permitted on the field between 1:30 and 2:00 p.m. that day to snap pictures of their favorite Tiger players. The Tiger-Oriole contest will start at 2:15 p.m.

All of the Tiger players and coaches, as well as Manager Mayo Smith, will be on the field for the camera session. Fans will shoot from behind a rope barrier stretched from one bullpen to the other.

Prizes will be awarded for the best photographs of the day, with one set of awards for the adult division and another for fans under 16 years of age. The adult list is topped by a portable television set and the junior list by a bicycle. Altogether, 54 prizes are being offered, 27 in each division.

Players will be identified by overhead placards and special steps will be taken to prevent jamming of the fans in front of particular players, according to Vince Desmond, director of special events. Gold Seal Photo Service, co-sponsors of Camera Day, will provide consultants to work with fans on the field and will maintain a booth behind home plate where film may be purchased and exposed negatives left for developing.

Complete information on Camera Day is available at Detroit area Gold Seal dealers who also are offering free team photos of the Tigers to fans having their films processed by Gold Seal.

Questions and Answers

Is there any way to determine how much more or less honey than sugar that should be used to achieve the same degree of sweetness?
Yes, just bear in mind that honey is almost twice as sweet as sugar. One cup of honey will provide the same degree of sweetness as one and two-thirds cups of granulated sugar. By weight, though, use almost pound-for-pound of honey and sugar. To be exact, sixteen ounces of honey will provide the same amount of sweetness as fifteen and one-ninth ounces of granulated sugar.

Back Pay
Triple
Alcoholic

Alcoholic employees company three times as sick pay as a matched of non-alcoholics, two redeclare in a University publication.
M. Trice of Cornell University and James A. Belasco of State University of New York evaluate the real mean-
"blue Monday" in the cur-
Management of Personnel
published by the Bur-Industrial Relations at the Graduate School of Business Administration.
A major cost of alcoholism in business lies in absences due to problems generated by use of alcohol, the industrial relations experts point out.
They cite "the temporary but hangovers among social drinkers, and the respiratory and mental disorders related to drinking" as well as alcoholism itself.
Benevolence and what may be called "on the job absenteeism" is, being physically present psychologically absent appearantly among drinkers and are more costly, the authors
note.
"Blue Monday" has been a traditional explanation for the absence of out-of-sorts employee for days, Trice and Belasco note.
Concrete evidence is almost lacking. A common comment is that we have no way of knowing how many employees come to work drunk or frequently suffer from hangovers.
It is believed that the hangover of a heavy drinker is a debilitating experience even after alcohol has left the body, they add. Hangover, however, may develop from nonalcohol factors such as sleep, overexertion, and activity that accompanies social drinking.
Such conclusions are not confined to the United States, Trice and Belasco explain. Studies in Germany, Sweden and all other countries show that heavy drinking is two to four times as costly as moderate drinking or abstinence.
Obviously, the alcoholic is not able to have on-the-job accidents, they say. They suggest that reason may be simply that alcohol is absent when he is likely to have an accident.
Alcohol does appear more likely to have off-the-job accidents, however.
The trebled cost of sick pay for alcohol workers may be balanced what "by the integrating role of alcohol in a large, complex, formation, though there is data to prove it," the authors conclude.
They suggest that "alcohol used in certain conditions, and by certain persons, may well break down communication barriers, provide a way to reduce bureaucratic personality, and stimulate the necessary, but unofficial, clique of a formal structure."

Fashion Notes
For the coming winter will be unusual to put it mildly. One feature is decorated with black flowers.
Other fur coats reach to mid length and are belted.
All purpose coats being shown present are slightly fitted and have wide skirts.
Suits continue to be wide brimmed and floppy. They can be turned back in front, if one likes the face style.

Washington Report

by Congressman

MARVIN L. ESCH

The Detroit riot and other similar deplorable uprisings throughout the country have caused me, and I'm sure most people, a great deal of concern. There's no doubt that they pose a great threat to the continued existence of our form of government. While the causes are not always clear and solutions difficult to find, I have arrived at some conclusions and have joined other members of Congress in introducing several measures which hopefully will help to avoid such disasters in the future.

Many of the riots across the nation have had definite racial overtones, something which the Detroit situation seemed to lack. I tend to agree with the police officer who described what happened there as a "riot of thieves." Under the circumstances, whatever force necessary should be used to bring the uprising to an immediate end. When such disturbances occur all official—federal, state and local—must first act quickly to suppress violence and restore public order. I have joined with a number of other Congressmen in introducing the Riot Prevention and Control Act which would provide $300 million to strengthen the capability of local police forces to deal with civil disorder. Grants would be used by local agencies to organize, train and equip themselves to prevent or control rioting.

Another concern of equal magnitude is for the innocent victims of violence. At this writing, thousands of persons are homeless and supply more than 30 per cent of food is scarce. We have requested that Detroit be designated a disaster area and be made eligible for emergency federal assistance similar to that made available to victims of natural disasters. In the meantime, I am supporting the efforts of numerous volunteer groups who are attempting to collect food to be distributed by various church groups in Detroit.

Besides considering measures which deal with immediate problem areas, Congress has an obligation to investigate the causes of the many riots and to suggest long range solutions and deterrents. While I supported the anti-riot bill which recently passed the House, it by itself will not put an end to riots.

One probable outcome of such a thorough Congressional investigation would be a realization that many things by their government in the last few years and have been frustrated by the fact that, although millions of dollars are being spent to eliminate poverty, their condition has remained the same. Perhaps the powers that be will finally discover that there must be a better way and undertake a complete re-evaluation of government social welfare programs.

Interview with Bing Crosby Will Trace His Long Career

East Lansing—"Conversations" with Bing Crosby, the man with the "Bing Crosby" the superstar, Sunday, Aug. 6, at 3 p.m., and Tuesday, Aug. 8, at 11:30 a.m. on WMSB (Channel 10) Michigan State University television.

Crosby talks frankly about his affluence, his family and his "perpetual youth." Recalling such early stars as Al Jolson, Bix Beiderbecke and Paul Whiteman, Crosby reminisces about his career, spanning the years from one-night vaudeville stands through the "big band" days to the present era of electronic entertainment.

Other WMSB highlights include: HISTORY—The final program in the series "History of the Negro People" presents an essay on the inner world of the American Negro—his values, attitudes and his impressions of life—on "Our Country Too," Thursday, Aug. 10, at 7 p.m. and Friday, Aug. 11, at 11:30 a.m. The American Negro community is described through scenes from an African rite in Harlem, a Negro debutante ball, the offices of a New York experimental social welfare group, the offices of a Negro newspaper and a Negro radio station.

DRAMA—A story of crime, false imprisonment and detection is the subject of "The Ticket-of-Leave Man," in the "N.E.T. Playhouse" series "The Victorians," Monday, Aug. 7, at 8 p.m. and Friday, Aug. 11, at 12 noon. The play was written by Tom Taylor and was first produced at the Olympic Theatre, London, in 1863. It tells of the adventures of a young Lancashireman, Robert Brierly, who comes to London and falls victim to the schemes of a quick-witted crook.

Barrie Ingham stars in the title role, while John Wood and Geoffrey Bayldon appear as Jem Dalton and the famous detective Hawkshaw, respectively.

THEATER

"Sunday Showcase" studies the late Belgian playwright Michel de Ghelderode, who was a forerunner of the "theater of the absurd," on "Theater of Ghelderode," Sunday, Aug. 6, 11 p.m.

The first part of the program features a complete production of "Escorial," a one-act play containing most of the elements characteristic of Ghelderode's writing. The second part of the program contains portions of "Michel de Ghelderode," an exclusive film originally produced by Luc de Heusch and Jean Raine. The film shows Ghelderode in his "dream" room where he wrote and lived a hermitic existence. The film's narration and graphic illustrations show the relationship of the habits, personality, eccentric intelligence and spiritual make-up of the man, and the manifestation of these qualities in his work.

MUSIC

"Recital Hall" features pianist Jose Rambaldi, a faculty member at the Whittier College conservatory in Walla Walla, Wash., Sunday, Aug. 6, at 1:30 p.m.

He performs Baycaville, Opus 60, by Frederic Chopin, Sonata No. 4, Opus 30, by Alexander Scriabin, plus the television premiere of "Summertime 68" by Donald Erb.

Born in Argentina, Rambaldi came to the United States in 1957 and studied with Arthur Loesser and Jacqueline Marcat at the Cleveland Institute of Music and with Pierre Luboshutz at MSU. In November 1966, he made his Carnegie Hall debut in New York.

Pianist John Gleason devotes a recital program to "Le Festin d'Esoppe" Opus 39, No. 12, a virtuoso work by the little-known 19th century French composer Charles

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

Ever since the Watts Rebellion, it has been clear to those who are not blind that there are certain factions in this country who have as their goal absolute anarchy, the destruction of law and order and the complete breakdown of good will and communication between the white man and the black man.

It is a tribute to the cleverness of the leaders of these factions and a mark of their success, that when they bring off a rebellion such as the one in Detroit and the one in Newark, the whole Negro community is blamed and the rebellion is termed a "race riot" initiated by gangs of unorganized hooligans.

The truth of the matter is, however, that the Negro community receiving the blame for all the destruction, arson, murder, looting, etc., is also the community that receives the most punishment. The stores marked "Soul Brother" burn right along with the ones that are unmarked. The snipers, who are supposed to be primarily shooting at firemen, policemen, and white men, are shooting at and injuring and killing many more Negroes than anyone else. Almost all of those people whose homes and belongings are put to the torch by arsonists are Negroes. But why, we ask, would Negroes hurt, maim, injure, burn out, kill other Negroes?

The answer is very simple. Those people who are the instigators, planners and leaders of these rebellions are the enemy of both races.

People like Stokely Carmichael, who was welcomed by Castro in Cuba within the last few days, Rap Brown, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, arrested this week for inciting a riot, and Max Stanford, head of the Revolutionary Action, a Communist-controlled organization, claim to be members of the Negro Race. They also claim to have, at heart, the best interests of the Negro people. Their records, however, show that they really have at heart, the determination to create and foster violence all across the country. They lost their birthright long ago. They have no right to consider themselves

Henri-Valentin Alkan, on "Recital Hall," Wednesday, Aug. 9, at 7 p.m.

Gleason is a former graduate student in the MSU Department of Music, where he studies with Pierre Luboshutz.

members of any race that includes decent people, because these men are not decent. They and their disciples all over the country, belong to another race; a race of twisted minds whose creed is hate, and whose golden rule is: "the end justifies the means."

But what is their "justified end," their ultimate goal? Surely, even they must realize that a state of anarchy never lasts. So what are they aiming for?

The answer to this question lies in the fact that those groups advocating anarchy and preaching violence are either Communist-front organizations or are affiliated, in one way or another, with the Communist Party.

This is a little-known, and little-publicized facet of the "Black Power" movement, but one that should be looked into more closely than any other because it is the most dangerous.

U. S. News & World Report, in its July 31, 1967, edition, in an article concerned with the "Black Power" take-over of Howard University, says "Government officials report they have found a linkage of 'black power' advocates with W. E. B. Dubois Clubs and Students for a Democratic Society—both Communist-front organizations. In the same articles, J. Edgar Hoover is reported as saying that young Communists were being told to cooperate with advocates of 'black power.'" He then added: "Carmichael (Stokely) has been in frequent contact with Max Stanford, field chairman of the Revolutionary Action Movement, a highly secret, all-Negro, Marxist-Leninist, Chinese-Communist-oriented organization which advocates guerrilla warfare to obtain its goals."

The facts are there, and they are frightening. Robert Williams, the "chairman-exile" of RAM, now residing in Peking, outlines the Plan for our cities as follows: "The new concept... dislocates the organs of harmony... and reduces central power to the level of a helpless, sprawling octopus. During the hours of the day, sporadic rioting takes place and mass sniping. Night brings all-out warfare, organized fighting and unlimited terror."

Yet most of our politicians still say "It wasn't planned. It wasn't organized." What do you think?

Donald E. Van Curen.

Applications Now Being Accepted Coast Guard Academy Appointment

U. S. Representative Marvin L. Esch today announced that the annual competition for entrance to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy will commence with the Dec. 2 administration of the College Entrance Examination Board tests. These examinations will be given in over 3,000 test centers. Arrangements to take the CEEB examination should be made by the applicant through his school prior to Oct. 28. He must also complete the U. S. Coast Guard application forms prior to Dec. 15.

STOCKPILES REDUCED

The latest reports by a congressional committee showed a sharp reduction in most farm surpluses and an increased demand for metal and other defense materials. These have reduced the government stockpiles $5 billion in the last five years.

WHEAT SUPPORT LEVEL

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has announced that the 1968 wheat crop would be supported at a national average producer price of $1.25 a bushel. Market prices are expected to be higher.

A candidate for the Coast Guard Academy must have reached his 17th birthday on or before July 1, 1968 and must be a high school senior or graduate of a high school, or a minimum educational requirement of being graduated in 30, 1968 are eligible to compete if they will be at least 15 credits by that time. Applicants must have completed three units of English, and units of mathematics including algebra and plane or trigonometry or their equivalent.

Senate Resolution Pays Tribute to Manchester Area

Sen. Gilbert E. Bursley (R-Ann Arbor) represented the Michigan legislature at the centennial celebration of the Village of Manchester when he presented a Senate Concurrent Resolution paying tribute to the area.

The resolution noted that Manchester was founded in 1826 and was incorporated as a village in 1837.

The first school was founded in 1834, the first bank and library in 1838, the first newspaper established in 1867.

The resolution commended the Manchester Area Centennial Celebration for fostering the centennial celebration, which highlighted the village's nationally renowned chicken broil.

Sen. Bursley presented the senate resolution to Irvin Gilg, president of the Centennial Corporation.

Little League Results Told

In recent games in the Senior Division of Little League, Team 1 defeated Team 2, 15-0, and Team 4 won from Team 3, 16-0.

Team 1 was led by the pitching of Jeff Daniels and Tom Skittenhelm. Hits were as follows: Mike Nadeau, single; Ron Clark, two singles; Dave Layher, triple; Jeff Daniels, single; Tom Skittenhelm, double; Greg McClain, single; and Jeff Marshall, single.

In the game between Team 4 and Team 3, hits were collected by Kevin Smith, a single; Dave Ball, a single; Charles Taylor, a single; Dan Boham, a single; Kim Wilkerson and Harold Allen, a single; and a home run each by Mike Murphy and John Cross, a single each; and David Goring and Jim Storey, a double each.

Colorful Show Promised for Shrine Night

Detroit—The most colorful show of the season is promised for Shrine Night at Tiger Stadium, Tuesday, Aug. 8, when Moslem Temple will present its extravaganza between games of a twister matching the Tigers and the Chicago White Sox.

Bands, clowns, mounted units and drill teams will play and parade in an event which has become increasingly popular since inaugurated in 1964. A heavy advance sale indicates a huge turnout, with a share of the proceeds going to support Shrine hospitals for crippled children.

Tickets still are available at the Shrine Club (833-7600) and at the Hudson's Ticket Agencies. Some 20,000 additional seats will go on sale at Tiger Stadium the night of the event.

"We've never had so much enthusiasm over Shrine Night," said Fred R. Morris, illustrious potentate of Moslem Temple, "as during a huge crowd and a great show."

Frank Colker, chairman of Shrine Night, said more than a dozen championship units will participate in the show, including the clowns who were first in national competition at the recent Shrine convention in Washington; the 230-man Arab Patrol, which dates back to 1894; the Brass Band of 115 members; and the Highland Pipers.

Other units which have been popular with the fans in the past include the "Oriental" Band, the motorcycle patrol, the Arabian Horse Team and the Keytones, a troupe of Mack Bennett-type cops on midsize motorcycles.

Youth Receives Deep Cut on Arm from Mowing Machine Knives

Thirty-five stitches were taken in the arm of a 14-year-old Dexter boy Friday July 28 at 9:30 p.m. after he had cut his right arm halfway between the wrist and elbow on a set of mowing machine knives, according to Dexter Patrolman Edward Monaghan.

David Neil Kempf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kempf of 2990 Dunce Rd., received a three-inch cut approximately three-fourths of an inch deep and was taken to a physician immediately.

Kiwanians Hear Convention Report

Jack Fowler, delegate to the Kiwanis International convention in Houston, Tex., June 25 through 29, reported at the Chelsea Kiwanis meeting Monday evening.

Fowler attended the convention, which was held at the Coliseum and Music Center, as the Chelsea delegate, with his wife accompanying him on the trip.

Next week's Kiwanis meeting will be a 6:30 p.m. picnic at Pierce Park. Members are asked to bring their own tableware, a dish to pass, and their wife. The club will furnish meat and beverage.

FORD ON TAX HIKE

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford stated that he doesn't think the President's request for a tax hike is justified. The Michigan Republican said the Administration sought to continue excessive spending for political purposes.

FEMMES FATALE

Females have their femmes fatales. Females of the carnivorous Photinus genus imitate the flashing of the Photinus females. A juckless male Photinus, responding to the false love signal is swiftly eaten.

DANGER FOODS

Bananas, pineapples, tomatoes, some cheese, and many other common foods contain poisonous compounds that could kill if isolated and injected into a person's veins.

Young Corporate President Creates Block at Top

Ann Arbor—Men who become corporation presidents before they are 45 must know how to handle subordinates who can never hope to reach the top spot because of the president's own potential longevity in office.

"There's no doubt about it, a young president creates a pressure block at the top unless he is foresighted enough to come up with enough challenging opportunities for his top-level people," says Charles Gelman, in the current issue of Dun's Review. Gelman, the energetic 35-year-old president of the Gelman Instrument Co., was one of a number of corporation heads interviewed for a study of the "Dilemma of the Young Presidents."

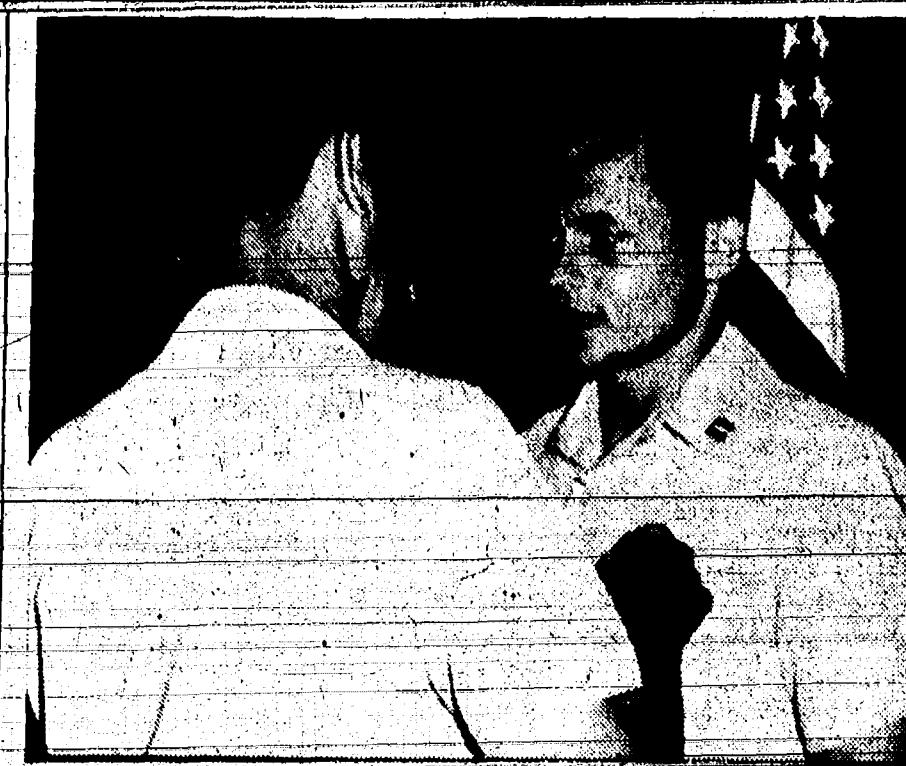

The generation gap becomes a problem when the president handles subordinates who disagree with his policies. "Some older employees," Gelman notes, "may not be in sympathy with the younger president's views, or they may consider him a bit too modern, or they may be reluctant to comply with the sweeping changes that he decrees."

The article notes that the work compulsion that first catapults the young executive into high office may increase the danger that he will burn himself out too soon. The problem of the young president, it is maintained, could well decide the fate of much of American industry in the next 20 years.

Christine Lindauer Takes Part in WMU Orientation Activities

Christine Lindauer of 280 Fletcher Rd. was one of the students who will be freshmen at Western Michigan University this fall who participated in orientation activities at the Kalamazoo campus last week.

In groups of 125 to 150, the new students spend three days Western for orientation and a sampling of university life. During their stay, they meet with counselors, take pre-entrance tests, register for classes, and tour the campus area. The series of orientation programs began June 20.

Air Force Capt. Wayne R. Lehr Decorated with Two Military Medals

U. S. Air Force Captain Wayne R. Lehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Lehr of 10905 Pleasant Lake Rd., Manchester, has been decorated with two military medals at Waco, Tex.

Captain Lehr was awarded the Bronze Star Medal and the Air Medal for action in Southeast Asia.

He received the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service while gaged in military operations against Viet Cong forces. He was engaged in military operations operations staff officer at Tan Son Nhut, AB, Vietnam.

His Air Medal was won for outstanding airmanship and courage on successful and important missions under hazardous conditions.

The captain is now assigned as an operations inspector for Headquarters 12th Air Force, Waco.

Captain Lehr, who completed 35 combat missions in Vietnam, also holds the Vietnam Service Medal and the Vietnam Campaign Medal.

The captain, a graduate of Otis Hills High School in Grand Rapids, attended the University of Michigan and is a member of Chi Psi fraternity. He was commis-

Russell Maurer Takes Part in CMU Orientation

Russell L. Maurer of 224 Jefferson St. was one of approximately 300 prospective Central Michigan University freshmen who participated recently in a pre-registration and orientation period on the Mt. Pleasant campus.

In addition to registering for classes, the nearly 2,500 students who are attending the sessions throughout the summer, are becoming acquainted with the campus, meeting many of their instructors and classmates, as well as having their first experience with dormitory living.
