School Board Briefs

At the regular meeting of the Chelsea School District Board of Education Monday evening, Aug. 7, with all the members present, the trustees discussed the millage election of Aug. 28 at length and methods of encouraging the approval of the proposal were considered.

After the meeting was called to order by President Robert Foster at 8 p.m., the minutes of the July 17 meeting were approved as read. A motion by Charles Powers, supported by Robert Taylor, to pay general fund bills of $10,045.22 was adopted unanimously.

A motion by Charles Lancaster, supported by Powers, to accept and approve the auditor's report as presented by Ickman, Johnson, & Hoffman, certified public accountants, was also approved unanimously.

Break-in at Schumm's Found Again

Two thefts Monday, Aug. 7, resulted in loss of approximately $80, according to Chief of Police George Meranuck.

A window near the rear door of Schumm's Restaurant was broken early Monday morning, and someone entered the restaurant through it. The cigarette machine was broken open and $30 was taken. Nothing else is missing from the restaurant. The thief left through the rear door of the building.

Chief Meranuck explains that there are clues, but nothing has materialized yet.

Also Monday, a 1948 pickup truck belonging to Kenneth Wilkerson was taken from his property at 1415 Old Manchester Rd. Wilkerson had just bought the vehicle from Tri-County Sinclair for $50 and had not yet licensed it.

A truck that had been stolen from Schumm's restaurant July 30 was recovered in Lincoln Park and returned to Schumm's Tuesday, Aug. 8. There are no substantial clues.

Ag Teacher Working in Area

Lawrence (Larry) Lonsway, new vocational agriculture teacher, has arrived in town to begin his duties Aug. 1.

He and his family are living at Jerusalem Rd.

When he began work, he has been visiting the boys in the vocational program and inspecting their projects. "Generally getting to know the people and the area," says.

His activities this week include meeting of the Future Farmers of America Monday evening and a meeting with the Agriculture Advisory Council tonight.

School Board States Need For Millage

The special millage election scheduled for Aug. 28, will be the last chance electors of the Chelsea School District will have to provide $258,000 for the 1967-68 school operating budget since the tax levy must be certified by the early part of September, making another election impossible.

The Board of Education feels that it has no choice but to make drastic cuts in school operations if the 6.75 mill proposal is defeated again.

For example, the $258,000 represents approximately 35 teachers. To cut this many teachers would result in half-day sessions for many of the children in the district. There are other possible cuts, but a reduction in the number of teachers is one economy move the Board would have to consider.

The Board explains: "Any drastic cuts would seriously affect our children, the school system, and the entire community. The loss of nearly one-fourth of the operating budget would do irreparable damage to a school system of which the citizens of Chelsea can justly be proud."

The Board has become increasingly alarmed at the continued apathy of the electorate, as reflected in the low voter turnout for the millage election July 10. Since the trustees feel that concern for the children is paramount, they are asking the voters to support the millage proposal.

Fair Float Entries Should Be Made Now

All Prospective Queen Candidates Urged To Report Plans at Once

Mrs. Markeita Satterthwaite, Jaycee Auxiliary chairman of the Queen contest for the 1967 Chelsea Community Fair, announced this week that all girls entering this year's contest should report to her as soon as possible.

One of the rules that will again be followed this year is that each contestant must ride a float entered in the street parade, which will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 2. The parade will start on East St. and end at the Fair grounds on Old US-12.

Another rule requires each queen contestant to appear on stage at the Fair Arena on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, concluding with the crowning of the Queen of the 1967 Fair on Saturday evening, Sept. 2. The new Queen will be crowned by the 1966 Queen of the Fair, Roxanne Shears, who was sponsored by the Jaycees and rode on their float last year.

Nine girls competed for the crown last year, and the committee expects more contestants this year. Each candidate receives a gift, and the girl who is selected queen is awarded many gifts from Chelsea merchants.

Mrs. Satterthwaite's address is 430 McKinley St., and her telephone is GR 5-9042.

Float chairman Dave Longworth urges every organization wishing to enter a float in this year's Chelsea Community Fair parade to contact him as soon as possible. He may be reached by telephone at his home number, GR 5-7328, or at work, GR 5-8372. Information may be sent to him in care of the Chelsea Fire Department. To enter, the sponsoring group needs to tell Longworth the name of the organization or individual, an address, kind of entry, and telephone number.

Longworth points out that each float is entitled to have a queen candidate ride on it, and any girl who wishes to enter the Queen contest must ride a float to be eligible for the judging.

The 1967 parade will begin Saturday, Sept. 2, at 1 p.m. The Chelsea Fire Department is making the arrangements for the parade. Present plans are to follow the usual parade route through the village, beginning on East St., turn right on Main St., then to Main St., south on Main St. to Old US-12, and west to the Fairgrounds.

All businesses and individuals are asked to display the American flag at least during the time of the parade.

This year, as last, it is hoped that the floats will be on display at the Fairgrounds following the parade so that prize-winning floats may be designated, and Fair visitors will be able to examine the floats.

Six prizes will be awarded for winning floats, three prizes in the adult division and three in the school-age division.

In addition to the floats, the Chelsea Fire Department is expecting a variety of marching groups, antique cars, clowns, horseback-riding groups, the Chelsea Marching Band and the Waterloos. (Continued on page six)

Firemen Answer Resuscitator Call, Two for Fires

During the past week the Chelsea Fire Department extinguished two fires and answered one resuscitator call.

About 1:15 p.m. Friday afternoon, Aug. 4, the department responded to a report of a burning car seat. The car belongs to Art Albater of Clark Lake Rd., and damage was limited to the seat of his car. Firemen spent about 10 minutes putting out the fire.

Saturday morning, Aug. 5, members of the Fire Department answered a resuscitator call for two girls from East Peoria, Ill., who had inhaled too much carbon monoxide while they were riding in their parents' car on Clear Lake Rd. The muffler or tail pipe of the automobile was faulty. The department administered some oxygen, and the girls were taken to the Chelsea Medical Clinic.

Rubbish behind the Edward Fisk home at 110 Hayes St., began burning at approximately 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon and spread along the railroad tracks. Fire Department members spent about 30 minutes putting out the fire. (Continued on page six)

Melvin "Red" Lamb Progressing Slowly

Melvin "Red" Lamb of Manchester, a barber at Sam's Barber Shop, was visited by his sister, Mrs. Victor Wurstler of Manchester recently at the Cleveland Clinic where he has been since his system began rejecting his transplanted kidney three weeks ago.

Mrs. Wurstler reports that Red is progressing "slowly, but surely." Red is now staying in an apartment across the street from the clinic as a full-time patient Saturday. He returns regularly to the clinic for shots of a special serum designed to help his body accept the transplant.

CHAMPION SHEEP: At the Erwin Halst farm, three Chelsea 4-H club members display sheep that won prizes at the County Youth 4-H Show last week. Denise Bycraft of 12151 Scio Church Rd., holds the Reserve Champion Corriedale ram that won a championship ribbon for her brother, Duane, Duane, who steadies his four-year-old Grand Champion ewe, bought the ram from his grandfather, Erwin Halst. He showed the ewe last year in the county show and she placed first in her class. Mike Bristle of 13271 Scio Church Rd., holds his Reserve Champion ewe in the "Other Breeds" class. The fine-wool, or Blacktop lamb was born in March. Two of Mike's other sheep won ribbons as Champion Ram Fleece and Reserve Champion Ram Fleece. Mike plans to take his sheep to the State 4-H Show in East Lansing, beginning Aug. 22, and to the State Fair in Detroit. Duane and Denise also plan to compete at East Lansing, except that Duane will not be able to show his champion ewe because there is no aged ewe class in the State Show. Denise won third place at the county show for her Corriedale ewe lamb, which was the highest award given in that class.

Rep. Thomas Sharpe Asks MSU Trustees To Change Tuition Plan

State Representative Thomas Sharpe (R-Howell) has joined other House members in sponsoring a resolution asking the Michigan State University Board of Trustees to abandon its new sliding scale tuition plan.

Representative Sharpe called the tuition plan discriminatory in direct violation of the concept of state support for colleges and universities.

The resolution signed by Senate points out that the unique plan is unworkable and undoubtedly constitutionally objectionable and urges the university to revise its tuition plan. The resolution suggests that M.S.U. should either adopt an across-the-board fee increase or make adjustments in individual tuition based on a set amount rather than determined by family income and a sliding ability-to-pay scale.

Sharpe contended that the major shortcomings of the plan devised by the trustees and that it fails to allow for individual family and student factors, and that it is unfeasible because the amount of funds available from the plan will not be predictable. The clouded income picture in the path of the plan would make it extremely difficult, even impossible, for the Legislature to project the university's needs for appropriation purposes each year.

Under the new tuition proposal, fees would remain at the present level for students whose families have an income under $11,800. Students from a family making more would pay higher tuition costs on a sliding, upward scale.

It seems unbelievable to me that a Board of Trustees controlling one of our great universities could conscientiously conceive such a program, Sharpe said.

FILMS— "Sunday Showcase" examines the creative expression, impact and essential value of films produced by students in the nation's universities and colleges, Sunday, Aug. 13, at 11 p.m.

Film instructors review the means and methods of teaching film-making from ten years ago to the present. Films made by students attending Columbia University, New York University, Stanford University, University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles are shown to evaluate the significance and potential importance of the school film product to both the student film-maker and the film medium.

COMPOSER— "The Creative Person" studies Hans Werner Henze one of Germany's leading post-war composers Tuesday, Aug. 15, at 7 p.m. and Wednesday, Aug. 16, at 11:30 a.m.

In the past five years, Henze has become increasingly active as a conductor, director and stage designer. He lives in Rome, but travels widely, has held a class for young composers at the Akademie Mozarteum in Salzburg and has taught at the Berkshire Music Center at Tanglewood and at Dartmouth College.

The program covers the starring of Henze's latest opera, "The Bassarides" with libretto by W. H. Auden and Chester Kallman, which premiered last year at the Salzburg Festival. Viewers also visit a recording session of Henze's concerto for two pianos, chorus and orchestra, "The Muses of Sicily," written especially for the piano team of Rollino and Sheftel.

DRAMA— "N.E.T. Playhouse" continues its series "The Victorians" with "Two Roses," a play dealing with the effects of sudden wealth on a Victorian gentleman of limited means, Monday, Aug. 14, at 8 p.m. and Friday, Aug. 11, at 12 noon.

The play by John Albery was first produced at the Vandaville Theatre, London, in 1870 and follows the fortunes of Digby Grant, an impoverished gentleman accustomed to living by his wits, who will inherit 10,000 pounds a year if a missing relative is not found. Geoffrey Baydon portrays Digby Grant, Patricia Garwood and Ingrid Hafner play Grant's daughters and Barrie Ingham and John Wood, their suitors.

DOUGLAS J. HARVEY

Sheriff D. Harvey Will Speak at C. of C. Meeting

Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey will be the guest speaker at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Tuesday, Aug. 15, at 12:30 in the Congregational church.

Harvey plans to speak about the Criminal Sexual Psychopath Act. He has begun a campaign to have the present law changed. Under the existing provisions, persons guilty of sexual crimes who are adjudged psychopathic are sent to Ionia State Hospital, where they remain until authorities feel they are cured. Harvey hopes to change the law so that such persons will have to stand trial for their offense after their release from the mental hospital.

Harvey feels that under the present law, too many released patients repeat their original crimes. Making them stand trial would cut down on repeat offenders. Before being elected sheriff in 1965, the first Democrat to be elected to the post in 48 years, Harvey was a deputy sheriff and served on the Ypsilanti city police force. He now lives in Ypsilanti, but he was born in Ann Arbor and grew up there.

 Lakes, Ill. He has completed his boot training and has entered a service school of training for a gunner's mate. Ensign Dudley K. Holmes, who recently completed the course at Babson Park indoctrination and training school in connection with Harvard University, was home for a few days the past week. He reported on Monday to the Aviation Supply Station, Miami Beach, Fla. Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holmes entertained in his honor at their North Lake home and about 20 friends enjoyed a pleasant time and refreshments.

34 Years Ago... Thursday, Aug. 10, 1933—Seven men have been chosen as members of a Washtenaw County committee that will begin the work of reducing the wheat acreage in the county as requested by Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture. This committee will be charged with explaining to Washtenaw farmers and businessmen how the plan will work and how people of this county will benefit from its operation. The purpose of the wheat production allotment plan is to insure the farmer a price for his wheat which is equal in purchasing power to that of the 1914 wheat crop.

Petitions were presented to the council at their regular meeting Monday evening, asking for black top surfacing of Orchard and Summit Sts. A petition asking for the curbing of East St. from Park to East Middle was also presented. All the petitions were placed on file for further consideration at a later meeting. The resignation of E. Y. Poore, who has served as superintendent of the Chelsea public schools for the past year, was accepted by the Board of Education at an adjourned meeting which was held Friday night.

A large barn on the farm of Mrs. Minerva Stoffer in Lyndon township was destroyed by fire about 11:30 Saturday morning, together with the contents. The Fire Department saved another barn.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT
 The vices of people capture headlines. Their virtues are usually unreported. But goodness does exist all around us. Money, clothes, shelter and food are supplied without fanfare to people by people every day. Churches have vast networks of missionaries throughout the world. They are dedicated people, have no hope for recognition and certainly make no demand for even a simple "Thank you." They strive only to serve mankind.

Huge philanthropic foundations, sponsored by people to serve people, invest billions annually for the betterment of mankind all over the world. One such foundation has been giving away half million dollars EVERY DAY — for years! The big, black print, never headlines these things. But they are happening. The world is not all bad; the people aren't all bad. There IS goodness in many people and it gives plenty of cause to applaud God's hands, hands too busy to pause... BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 E. Blue Water Bridge Traffic Count Increases Because of Expo 67

Lansing—Blue Water Bridge traffic increased seven percent during the first six months of 1967 compared to the same period last year, the State Highway Commission reports.

Acting State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth said 987,668 vehicles crossed the bridge linking Port Huron and Sarnia, Ont., between Jan. 1 and June 30 compared to 922,562 during the first six months of 1966.

June traffic totaled 227,238, an increase of nearly 10 percent compared to the 204,049 vehicles that crossed in June of 1966.

Expo 67—Canada's Centennial Fair at Montreal—is the main reason for the big increase during June and is expected to push traffic volume on the Blue Water Bridge to new records during the rest of the summer.

School Bus Accidents in 1966 Kill Eight

Eight persons, five of them children, were killed and 598 others injured in the 824 rural school bus accidents in Michigan in 1966, according to the annual summary by the State Police highway and traffic division.

Compared with 1965, deaths increased by seven, injuries by 78 and accidents by 162.

The deaths matched 1964 for annual toll in the period 1956-1966, while the injury and accident figures were both new highs.

In the accidents, seven resulted in fatalities (one mishap killing a child), 304 caused personal injuries and 513 had property damage.

The breakdown of accident types was:

There were four school children killed and 357 others injured in the 495 accidents which involved school buses. The 358 accidents of this type in 1966 caused no deaths but injured 277, causing no deaths but 238 injuries.

Other associated type accidents involving vehicles affected the stopping of buses—total 303 and resulted in the death of an adult and injury to 215 persons. In 1965 these accidents numbered 277, causing no deaths but 238 injuries.

Last year 655,682 students were transported daily in 8,200 rural school buses traveling a total of 10 million miles.

SCIENCE TOPICS

AMERICAN TROOPS in Vietnam may have a solution to a problem that plagued soldiers in earlier wars—how to keep wet feet from getting sore. Silicone grease may be the answer. When soldiers spread it liberally on their feet and socks they found they could endure wet feet for several days without suffering a painful itching condition known as "trench foot." The grease, which is an element similar to what soldiers in World War I called "trench foot," though the grease seems to help, investigators still aren't certain it causes the problem, reports the American Medical Association. It seems to develop when foot blisters expand and contract on wet, water-soaked skin.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY scientists are detecting tiny traces of chemicals in human cells by making them go up in a puff of smoke. Detection is done using a new application of the laser. A laser beam is focused through a microscope on a minute piece of tissue and the tissue is vaporized a few millionths of a second. Light from a tiny, brilliant spot produces a spectrum of the chemical composition that is compared with samples of known metal content.

Tips from the STOP AND SHOP CHEF Questions and Answers

When a steak is carved or the table, how should it be sliced?
The size of the slice depends on the kind and size of steak. A sirloin, about three inches thick, should be cut into one-half to three-quarter inch slices. The meat should be carved on the bias across the grain but at a slant to provide slices of greater surface. Porterhouse steaks should first be boned to free the meat. The sirloin and tenderloin portions each should be cut into slices about one inch thick, to allow pieces of both for each serving. Flank steak, which is usually only about one and a half inches thick, is cut on the diagonal across the grain, with the knife slanted to achieve a thin slice but as large a surface as possible.

MONEY BACK ON CAR INSURANCE

FROM THE EXCHANGE AT AAA

People all over Michigan are talking about MONEY BACK ON Exchange car insurance — and leading the way with Triple-A.

Beginning July 1, 1967, a 10% premium refund will be paid to Exchange-insured Auto Club members as their car insurance policies expire.

This premium refund, which can return $9,000,000 in the next 12 months to more than half-a-million Michigan drivers, will be continued in the future for as long as the Exchange's favorable underwriting conditions will permit.

In addition, a $1,000,000 rate reduction on Uninsured Motorist and many Comprehensive coverages will go into effect on policies issued July 1, 1967 and after.

This projected $10,000,000 saving over a 12-month period is in keeping with the Exchange's traditional policy of providing Auto Club members with the best possible insurance protection and service at the lowest possible cost.

You, too, can lead the way. Join today!

*Premium refund of 10% (current rate) applies only to voluntary policyholders of Detroit Automobile Inter-Insurance Exchange.

AGRICULTURE In Action

by M. L. Woolf

Riot Background

What has happened to respect for law, upon which this country was founded? If we are to protect the concept that ours is a government of laws, and not of men, we must emphasize respect for, and adherence to, our laws and to properly constituted authorities.

Farmers, as a minority group smaller in numbers than many ethnic groups within our nation, feel many of the same frustrations felt by all minority groups. Farmers suffer from high costs and low income and from the difficulties of making their voices heard.

But almost without exception, farmers deplore the use of brute force to gain attention and to attempt stampeding authorities and the public in the name of correcting social or economic faults, or to gain special privileges.

Farmers pay more property taxes than anybody else and their investments are unbelievably high compared to their incomes. Farmowner incomes are down, way down, compared to those of labor and industry. Rate of return to farmer-owners hovers around the 50-cents per hour mark, depending upon the kind of farm and the type of work done. Non-farm incomes at hourly rates six or eight times this amount represent a goal about which farmers can only dream.

Farmers are unhappy about these things, but they like and support the free-choice system which has allowed them to select the life they lead, and which gives them freedoms to make constructive improvement. They work hard at the job of creating public understanding and support, and they place high value on direct contact with the soil.

They know that work-experience is an important, basic part of happy living, and recommend the therapy of work to everyone.

Farmers note that massive welfare programs have often replaced the need or will to work, for thrift, or for the acceptance of personal responsibility. They feel that extreme permissiveness, a breakdown of family life and of moral and economic values have resulted. They recognize that disrespect for law comes in many guises, and as delegates to the 1967 Convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation, wrote:

"We cannot condone the flaunting of laws under the guise of correcting social or economic ills."
