Escapée Limits Theft Schumm's

Escapée from the county jail in Chelsea, Mich., and three-area area stole a 1961 Chevrolet Triumphant Motor Sales Wednesday, Aug. 9, just before midnight, and were stopped for reckless driving by police in Melvindale.

Charlton, 19, who is in Nashville for escaping the county jail where he was arrested with burglary and stealing a car, arrived here July 29 and had been staying with relatives at 1420 Old Manchester street.

Charlton and three juveniles, a girl from Chelsea, a girl from Stockbridge, the rear license plate from belonging to Robert Brod that was parked at Triangle street and wired it to the car stole from Triangle Motor Sales.

The four drove east on I-94 to Melvindale, where they became involved in a fight with a police officer. Charlton was arrested and taken to the Melvindale police station.

Charlton was released on $100 bail and is scheduled to appear in court on August 21. The other three juveniles are still being sought by police.

The Chelsea School District Board of Education, stressing the importance of the Aug. 28 mid-year election, urges everyone who will be unable to go to the polls on election day to obtain an absentee ballot by applying to Board Secretary Charles Lancaster at the Chelsea Drug Store before 4 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 26.

There has been some comment that the Chelsea School District, like Ann Arbor, might have a surplus which could be used to reduce the amount of millage to be requested. A board representative states that there is a balance in operating funds of approximately $25,000. This amount, they feel, is consistent with good business practice. A reserve for emergency is a sound item in any budget, they feel.

The board answers a rumor that the new middle school to house sixth through eighth grades might not open as planned by stating that, unless the millage election Aug. 28 passes, the middle school will not open as planned. With a successful election, it is planned to open the school at the start of the second semester, in January, 1968.

The Board's inability to open the new school would be only one of many decisions they would have to make of the $258,000 represented by the millage request would require drastic cuts in all areas and would necessarily cause deficit spending to operate even a reduced program.

Home from Hospital Robert Freysinger, of 124 Lincoln St., returned home Wednesday of last week after being a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, for the past four weeks.

Chelsea High School Band members—a total of 120 students in grades nine through 12—will be heading north early Sunday morning to spend next week at Maplehurst Camp on Torch Lake near Kewadin. The week at camp is being financed, in part, by the Chelsea Band Boosters, the organization paying $20 for each student and the student, himself, paying the remaining $20 of the $40 fee.

Chaperons who will accompany the group are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Kuhl.

Mrs. Kuhl, a registered nurse, is the camp director for the week and will also serve as the camp nurse.

Bruce Galbraith, the band director, with Mrs. Galbraith and their son, Michael, and the new band director, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tinkham, will also act as chaperons and three Chelsea High school band alumni will serve as assistant instructors. They are (Continued on page five)

Council Briefs

A discussion was held at the Aug. 15 meeting of the Village Council with Supt. of Public Works Parker Brown and Police Chief George Meranuck regarding the problem of sweeping the village streets. Numerous automobiles continuously parked in one location prohibits the economical use of the new sweeper. Posting of necessary streets for sweeping will be enforced by the police department to assist in public works department and a further investigation of the off-street parking (night time) will be held.

Dan Ewald, George A. Staffan and Robert Merkel were appointed to the Village Planning Commission by President Baldwin. Motion made and approved to accept the appointments.

Police Chief Meranuck requested that a notice be inserted in The Chelsea Standard for a mature individual to serve as a school guard at the North Main-Dewey street corner.

Trustee Crouch informed the Council that the Light and Water Dept. is searching for a full-time employee.

A discussion was held with representatives of Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout, Village sewage engineers regarding the possibility of a trunk-line sewer to serve the Freer Road-Middle school area. Questions of financing such a project were discussed and a preliminary estimate of a complete program was given as approximately $205,000. A partial trunk line to serve the school property only was given as approximately $98,000. A further investigation is being made.

50 trees have been ordered for planting in late September.

A discussion was held regarding the possible spraying of elm trees within the Village to control Dutch Elm disease. The State Forestry Division was contacted several years ago and their recommendation at that time was that unless all the elm trees, both public and private were sprayed and/or cut down and burned, the spraying would be a waste of public funds. A motion was made at that time to concur with the forestry findings and to eliminate any spraying which would be a costly undertaking. It was mentioned that the U. of M. is and has been conducting a concerted spraying program for the trees on U. of M. property in Ann Arbor but all indications are that the program is a losing one. The State Forestry division will again be contacted for their recommendations at this time.

Trustee Crouch reported on the information obtained to date regarding the feasibility of a Village Manager. A representative of the Michigan Municipal League is scheduled to appear before the Council at its Sept. 7 meeting to discuss this possibility.

Bids are being sent to contractors for the proposed water line to serve the Medical Clinic area. A final determination of costs will be made after the bids have been returned to the Village Engineers.

Immanuel Bible Church Names Pastor

The Rev. Frank C. Frinkle will assume the pastorate of Immanuel Bible church this Sunday, Aug. 20. The Rev. Frinkle, his wife, Beverly, and their three children are still looking for a place to live in Chelsea. He says, "I am looking forward to being a part of your community and pray that I might be an asset to it."

The Rev. Frinkle was born in Stockbridge and spent most of his childhood in Rives Junction, where his mother still lives. He has two sisters who also live in the area.

Five years after graduating from Leslie High school in 1945, the Rev. Frinkle entered the Grand Rapids School of the Bible and Music. After he completed the pastor's course there, he served a small church in Adrian and opened the Oden Community church, which had been closed several years. He served there for more than 10 years. In December 1964, he and his family moved to Grayling, where he has been pastor of the Calvary Baptist church.

The Frinkles' older daughter, Terri, will enter the Grand Rapids School of the Bible and Music this fall. Chris will be a junior in high school, and their son, Curt, will be in fourth grade.

PROJECT HEADSTART had its concluding session for the eight-week summer program Wednesday, Aug. 16. Shown in the photo taken at North school kindergarten room where classes were held, are the 15 children who participated; their teacher, Mrs. Wendie Burke of Ann Arbor; and Dave Wood and Larry Blackwell, who assisted the teacher. The 15 children are looking forward to entering kindergarten in September.

Project Headstart Program Concludes 8-Week Session

Project Headstart in Chelsea concluded the eight-week summer program Wednesday, Aug. 16 under the direction of Mrs. Wendie Burke of Ann Arbor.

Assisting Mrs. Burke with the 15 children, who met daily from 9 a.m. until noon at North Elementary school, have been Larry Blackwell and Dave Wood.

Field trips, which are an important part of the program, included visits to Hickory Ridge Dairy Farm in Stockbridge, the Lansing Zoo, the county farmers' market at Ann Arbor Stop & Shop supermarket, the fire station and Post Office in Chelsea, and Silver Lake park.

The 15 children, their parents and families, approximately 50 in number, enjoyed a picnic supper Tuesday evening as one of the final events of the summer. The picnic was at the school, and the evening's program included slide pictures of the summer's activities.

Brigadier Edwin A. Garrett of the Ann Arbor Salvation Army spoke at the Monday evening Kiwanis Club meeting. Brigadier Garrett traced the founding of the Salvation Army as a church in England through the preaching and organization of William Booth.

Booth, a Methodist clergyman, was limited to his particular parish and saw the need of those in the slum area of London. He left the Methodist ministry and its parish system to establish work in East London among those in the slums. From this ministry came the Salvation Army as a present-day church.

The Salvation Army is active in social service work through its missions in 70 different countries. It has 16,065 churches and maintains more than 9,000 institutions. Among the institutions in this area is a home for unwed mothers in Detroit. Care is available free of charge to those who request it. In 1966, 325 girls were cared for; 13 of whom were from Washtenaw county.

The Salvation Army was active in setting up canteens during the Detroit rioting. Through its regular canteen program for five men, the Salvation Army was able to bring soft drinks, coffee, sandwiches, donuts and cigarettes to public servants on duty during the rioting.

Many were impressed with the courageous way the Salvation Army established a canteen at strategic points in the riot torn area.

Because of its reputation of meeting human needs, the Salvation Army was able to go in the riot area where other groups or individuals would have been prohibited. Even the rioters respected the Army.

Jaycees Report 'Very Successful' Rummage Sale

Chelsea Jaycees report a "very successful" rummage sale which was held Saturday at the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds. Net proceeds amounted to $411.

Although it had been planned to have an auction Saturday afternoon, so much of the merchandise had been sold at regular sales that not enough was left for an auction.

Ron Branham was rummage sale chairman and Jerry Satterthwaite assisted as co-chairman.

Jaycee Auxiliary members helped the men's organization with the project with Mrs. Richard McUmber and Mrs. Jerry Satterthwaite serving as chairman and co-chairman of the Jaycees Auxiliary committee, respectively.

The first day, Wednesday, will feature placing of all entries and beginning of judging. The "French Cafe" project, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Gerry Klink and Mrs. Lulu Sweeney, will be serving breakfast, lunch and supper, as well as between-meal snacks each of the four days of the fair. Breakfast begins at 7 a.m.

Mrs. Klink and Mrs. Sweeney are again requesting the support of ladies of the entire community in the matter of food donations and assistance. Anyone willing to donate food or time should call Mrs. Klink at GR5-4083 or Mrs. Sweeney at GR5-8204.

For short orders in the evening, men of the Jaycees, Kiwanis club, Chamber of Commerce and teachers' groups will serve as chefs and waiters. The dining room has been freshly painted and a large new fan has been added.

All profits from the French Cafe in the former Red Schoolhouse on the fairgrounds go into the general fund of the fair.

E. F. Mester Dies in Truck Accident

An accident at his farm caused the death of Edward F. Mester of 8750 Mester Rd., Saturday, Aug. 12.

Sheriff's deputies believe he was killed when his pick-up truck turned over as he dumped debris near the Mester home.

Mester was last seen alive when his wife and son, Robert, left home about 2:30 p.m. Saturday to attend a wedding in Detroit. When they left, Mester was preparing to dump trash from his truck over an embankment about 75 yards west of his house.

When Mrs. Mester returned home Sunday morning, she did not see her husband and began searching for him. She found him at the bottom of a ravine 80- to 90-feet deep. The truck had rolled over several times according to deputies.

An autopsy performed Monday indicated that Mester died of injuries received in the accident.

Mrs. Wilma McGinnis of Detroit spent the week-end here with Mrs. Gladys Sharp.

LYNN KERN, at right, a member of the board of directors of the Chelsea Community Fair, is among those who are busy preparing for the opening of the Fair Aug. 30. At a work bee held at the fairgrounds Tuesday evening, he and Russell Beeman (left) and Robert Koenigter cleaned all the light fixtures in preparation for their installation by electricians in the newly-constructed stock building. The new building replaces the one destroyed by last January's heavy snow. Kern had also spent the afternoon at the fairgrounds cutting brush. When the fair opens he will be in charge of the gates and parking as well as ticket sales at the gates. He is currently recruiting approximately 80 men to help at the gates during the four-day fair, Aug. 30-Sept. 2. He said "lots of help" is needed to prepare the grounds and buildings for the opening of the fair.

THE LANSING REPORT
GIL BURSLEY

Workmen's compensation legislation as it affects agricultural employment was before the legislature during almost the entire 1967 session. Various changes in legislative proposals and in public statements may have confused some persons as to just what finally did pass. As chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Economic Development I received a particularly heavy volume of queries on the subject.

At my request the director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture has prepared a statement on the subject, which I quote, having reference to House Bill 2623 which becomes effective about Nov. 1 and Senate Bill 43 now known as Public Act 8 of 1967.

"Farmers employing agricultural workers under two classifications are required to provide workmen's compensation coverage. A third classification of agricultural workers does not have to be covered under the law, but farmers are liable for any injury to them. So it is unwise for any farmer not to provide coverage for this third classification.

"It is vital that an employer keep accurate payroll records. This is because it is necessary for him to know and have on file the status for each employee in relation to the Workmen's Compensation Act and also for the determination of insurance premiums he must pay.

"It is a misdemeanor for an employer to discharge employees in an attempt to avoid covering an employee.

"It is also well for an agricultural employer to provide himself with insurance coverage even though the employer is exempt from the act. This is so because the law has removed the traditional common law defenses of an agricultural employer.

"The three classifications mentioned above are:

A. All agricultural employees of three or more regular employees, paid hourly wages or salaries and not paid on piecework basis, who are employed 35 or more hours per week by that same employer for 13 or more consecutive weeks during the preceding 52 weeks, must provide full workmen's compensation coverage.

B. All agricultural employees of one or more employees who are employed 35 or more hours per week by the same employer for 13 or more consecutive weeks shall provide such employees with full medical or hospital coverage for all personal injuries arising out of and in the course of employment suffered by such employee not otherwise covered by this act.

C. Farmers hiring other kinds of labor, such as occasional workers, harvesters, or those working less than five weeks are not required under this particular law to provide insurance coverage. But farmers are now more than ever liable for any injury that might occur, so the farmer should provide coverage of this type of employee for his own protection although the law exempts him. Many farmers have long recognized this responsibility."

Terrible Job
 Thanksless. Demanding. Pressure. These words describe what is probably the most difficult job category in the state: school superintendent.

It seems clearly predictable that fewer and fewer competent men will accept this job, regardless of the salary, unless something changes. And no changes are in sight to improve the situation.

Responsibility and authority to administer school policies as defined by the school board rested in the hands of the school superintendent until recently. The trend now is for him to have responsibility as previously, but less and less authority.

What is happening about the change? Several things, all developing at nearly the same time.

The first is the fact that the ways—existing to some degree, is getting much worse. Parent groups, at least in some areas, are becoming more vocal and demanding.

A generation ago students were expected to mind the teacher, right or wrong. Today's student accepts no such idea and is apt to go on strike to change things as he thinks they should be.

Demands of society are increasing. A school must now provide better and more expensive education. If students are to be trained for desirable jobs or for institutions of higher learning.

Teachers are now "unionized." The Michigan Education Association, which was once an organization of "professional" people, was stimulated into militancy by competing teacher organizations which demanded higher pay and better conditions. It now exerts as much pressure on school superintendents as does any union.

Principals are organizing too. They have their ideas of what should be expected of them and are prepared to fight for them.

Appreciate the Superintendent Day? might be a good idea. In many smaller communities, the school is the biggest industry. In all communities it is one of the most important.

Wise school boards and thoughtful citizens will develop a new appreciation for the problems of the school superintendent and stimulate this appreciation in others.

The alternative is to see more capable men abandon the field beaten down by too much pressure; frustrated from too many problems; hamstrung by too much responsibility with too little authority.

make this fly and rat census. According to Congressman Pelly, this Federal job didn't require no special qualifications, high school diploma, college degree, and dropouts was eligible. He said he could understand why it didn't take no college diploma to count rats and flies, but he thought the pay was a little high, a little more than we was giving the boys in Vietnam.

This pamphlet advised all doctors and surgeons to look around and if they was any dropouts amongst their patients that wanted to make $100 a day, have them get their application in early to the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D. C.

I was thinking for a minute or two I'd take this item to the country store Saturday night and tuck it up on the wall behind the cheese counter.

Ed Doolittle would expound on this item for the next year.

My ear was getting a little better, Mister Editor, but this pamphlet the doctor give me has practical ruined my general health. I want my $5 back.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I been having a little trouble with my right ear so I went to see my doctor this week. I told him I thought it was an account of my old lady set on that side of the table and this ear was getting worse exposed to her expounding on the sins of the world in general and mine in particular.

He said, if I didn't mind, he would prefer to have no self-diagnosing, claimed they was two things a doctor couldn't do, practice medicine over the telephone and listen to self-diagnosing.

He looked in my ear with a telescope, scraped it out with a spoon handle, give me a envelope full of pills and charged me five dollars. He ain't said yet what was wrong with it and I still think my self-diagnosing was correct.

But as I was leaving he give me what he said was the regular pamphlet from the American Association of Physicians and Surgeons, said it was called the A.A.P.S. Letter and it had some stuff he wanted me to read. I figured his conscience was hurting him about that $5 but I didn't say nothing, brung it home and started glancing it over.

I was a little shocked, Mister Editor, at one of the items in this pamphlet got out by the doctors and surgeons.

It said Congressman Thomas Pelly of Washington had reported we was going to make a "Fly and Rat Census" in the United States under Section 911 (a) of the Demonstration Cities Bill.

I ain't got no idea what that bill was all about, but Congressman Pelly said they was going to pay $100 a day and expenses to a "unlimited number" of workers to exhausted from too many demands on their time.

This leaves the community with still another demanding problem: what will happen to the school system?

 A small office, one desk, three file cabinets and two chairs constitute the state office of the United Spanish War Veterans. Only 10 members attended last year's annual state convention.

There are less than 9,000 veterans of the War of 1898 still alive, about 200 of them reside in Michigan. The average age of these veterans is 90.

Royal S. Peters, manager of the state facility, remembers when the organization was a moving force in the nation.

 "Sidewalk Days Are Here Again" could be the title of a theme song for Chelsea's seventh annual observance of the two days when merchants literally "take to the sidewalk" in front of their stores, offering outstanding bargains in a seasonable merchandise. This year's big event is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Aug. 16 and 17.

Plans for Chelsea's Community Fair, Aug. 28-31, are reaching final stages with last-minute details being considered at a board meeting scheduled for this evening. Entries for floats listed to date are Girl Scout Troop 48, Girl Scout Troop 77, three senior high school classes, Kiwanis club, Chelsea Fire Department, Blue Ribbon Florists 4-H club, and Chelsea Chamber of Commerce.

Judy and Arlys Wiseman, members of Blue Ribbon Florists 4-H club, were awarded first-place honors on displays entered in the Westman County 4-H Show last week. The flower arrangement submitted by Judy and the single specimen entered by Arlys have been selected for entry at the State 4-H Show at Lansing the last week in August.

Larry Patrick, 13 years old, caught a 4 1/2 pound black bass about 5 p.m. Monday as he was fishing from a dock at Crooked Lake. The fish measured 20 1/2 inches in length according to information supplied by a friend, Rocky Main. The Patrick home is at 181 Shoreview Dr. The young fisherman's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Patrick.

Calvin Clark, Chelsea Community Fair Board president, has announced additional chairman for two categories: Mrs. William Blaess as chairman of the hobbies and crafts division, and Mrs. Fred Klink, Sr., as general chairman of the kitchen project, assisted by Mrs. Donovan Sweeney.

Mrs. Thomas Bust and Mrs. Theodore Faust, who are in charge of directing the children's choir at St. Paul United Church of Christ, attended a music leadership seminar at Michigan State University, July 7-12.

 Eighty-five Lyndon Township residents attended a meeting in Lyndon Town Hall Friday evening to begin a concerted effort to push improvement of Waterloo Rd. from M-92 to the Jackson county line. According to the overall eight-year county road improvement program, the four and one-half miles of road in question is scheduled for blacktopping by 1958, and the general run of opinion expressed by residents at Friday's meeting indicated that the blacktopping is needed much sooner than that.

The Chelsea Community Fair, usually held the first week in October, will be held a week earlier this year. Opening Wednesday, Sept. 25, the dates include Sept. 24, 25 and 26.

For the past week workmen from the Continental, Fremont, Ltd., company, a firm of steel erectors and painters, have been cleaning, repairing and painting the village water tank. The job was completed Tuesday morning and Homer Nixon, public works superintendent, and his men began the job of filling the tank. Capacity of the tank is 125,000 gallons.

The former Savage school district held its annual reunion Sunday with 58 present for dinner and an afternoon of visiting and reminiscing. The reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Elvira Visel. Officers elected are Walter Bury, president; Gottlieb Bollinger, vice-president; and Mrs. Lewis Schneider, secretary-treasurer.

The Chelsea High school band has been invited to participate in the fifth annual Band Day at the University of Michigan, the largest band pageant in the United States. More than 100 high school bands from the entire state will take part in the program at the Michigan stadium during the Michigan-Tulane game Oct. 8. More than 200 bands had made application to be included, and approximately half of those were accepted. It will be the first time the Chelsea band has participated.

An average of 601 persons per week have attended the Chelsea Recreation program. This was an increase of 62 persons per week over last year, according to John Magiera, director.

 Chelsea public school buildings are being cleaned and a number of rooms and halls painted for the opening of school Sept. 7. New automatic heating valves for the high school building have been received and will soon be installed. These valves will control and help to maintain an even temperature in the high school rooms. In the past it has been necessary to overheat the high school building at times so that proper temperatures could be maintained in other parts of the plant. The thermostatically controlled valves will close when the temperature reaches the desired point in the rooms.

In co-operation with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., the Chelsea Kiwanis club is sponsoring a campaign to raise funds for sending cigarettes to men in our armed forces overseas and on the high seas. The minimum shipment which can be sent in this manner is 1000 packages of cigarettes at a cost of only 5 cents per package, or $50.

While repeated warnings have been issued that following fire trucks too closely by motorists is prohibited, there are some who persist in this thrilling practice and one local young man came to grief while violating the law when the fire department was making a run-on Sunday afternoon. This young man was arrested by a local police officer while following the fire truck at a speed of 65 miles per hour. He was ordered to appear in Judge Payne's court in Ann Arbor on Monday, where he was assessed a fine and costs totaling $80 on a charge of reckless driving. In addition to this penalty the young man faces the loss of his gasoline ration. This should be a lesson to all who enjoy the sport of chasing fire trucks.

 J. E. McKune, village president in receipt of a letter from a rural resident who objects to the fact that so many local residents park their cars on the street and concert grounds that they try people are compelled to block away from the center activities. The complaint is that many of the village residents drive their cars down town in the afternoon, walk home and come back in the evening to the concert. The writer also says that when the farmers park cars on side streets that the groceries are stolen. The writer suggests that McKune present facts of the case to the council and that a parking limit be placed in effect in Chelsea as it is in cities. In answer to this question McKune states that the limit parking time would not employ a full-time police officer to enforce the law and would be an impossibility in present economic conditions.

Seven bids were received by State-Administrative Board, the Chelsea state-owned plant was put on the auction Tuesday of this week. The bid was made by D. L. S. of Detroit, whose offer was $1000 for the land and equipment. Members of the Board are considering the bid and it is said may re-advertise the plant in effort to receive better offers.

According to information received by The Standard-Weekend from businessmen who have a canvas of practically all of stores in Chelsea, closing time of merchants will be 8 p.m. Wednesday evenings beginning next week. It is also reported that the jorjy of merchants favor close at 9:30 Saturday evenings. A decision is not definite but deemed advisable to the merchants in view of the fact that employment must be reduced in accordance with President B. J. Veit's National Recovery program.

THE 33-YEAR OLD STRIKEOUT ARTIST HAS REVENUED AFTER ARM SURGERY IN 1965. HE'S A TWO-TIME 20 GAME WINNER...

Tigers Sign Four More Top Rookies

Detroit—The Tigers announce the signing of four more prospects, including their third choice in the regular phase of the June free agent draft.

This gives the Tigers a total of 55 players signed this year, including 25 of their 32 draft choices in January and June selections.

Topping the new additions is Jim Tanney, 17-year-old right-handed outfielder from Tampa, who was No. 3 in the June picks and who signed for 1968. The 6-foot-2, 160-pound youngster was a 10-letter winner at Robinson High School in Tampa and will attend Manatee Junior College at Bradenton, Fla.

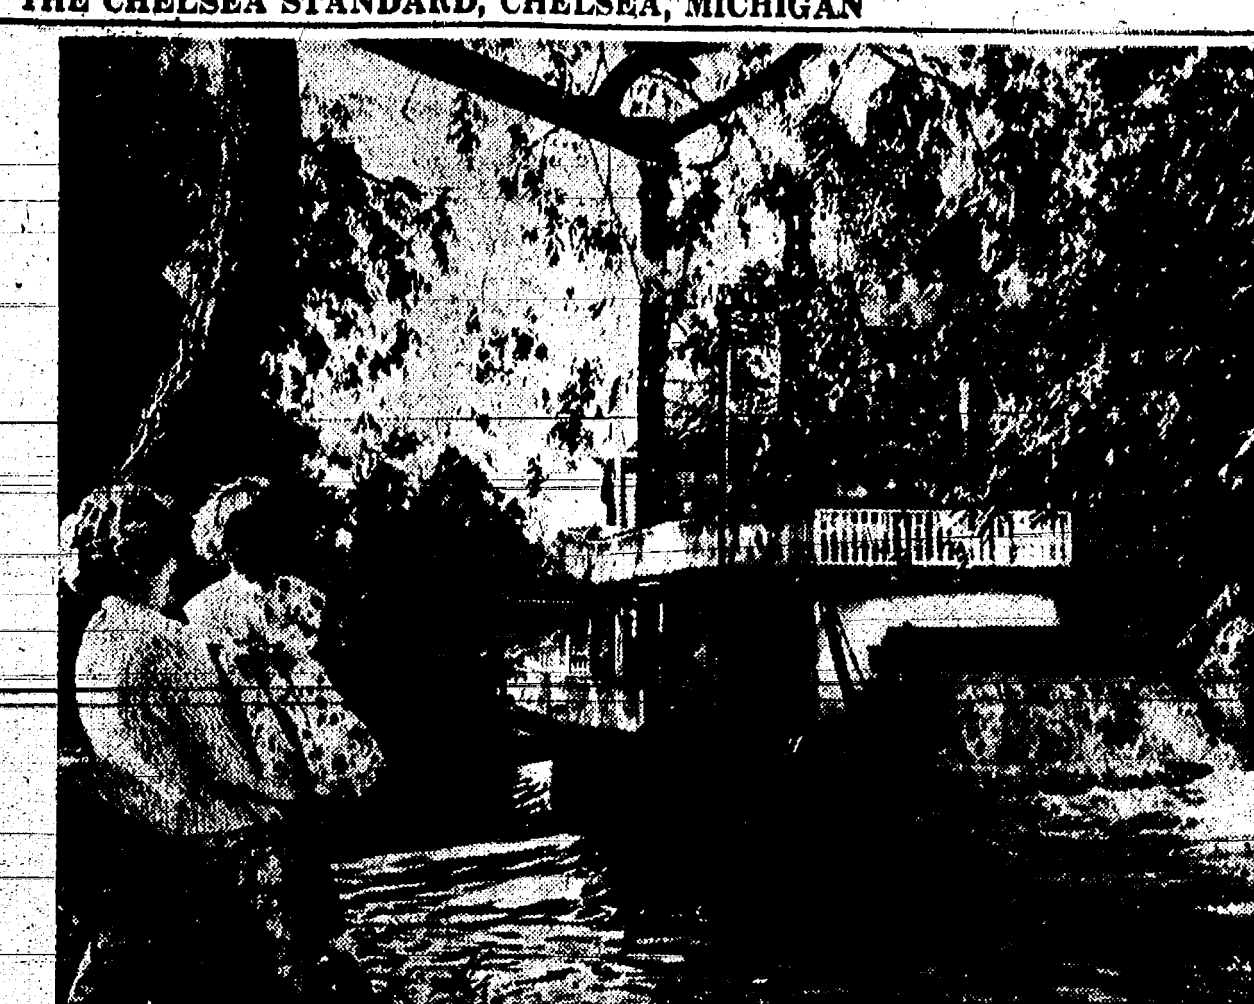

His high school baseball record includes a .458 average in his senior season, with eight home runs and 29 RBIs in 15 games.

The other new signees: Pat Kincaide, 19, right-handed pitcher of Grand Rapids, who had a previous trial with the Atlanta Braves organization. He is 6-2 and 215 and attended both Rogers High School in Grand Rapids and St. Louis High School.

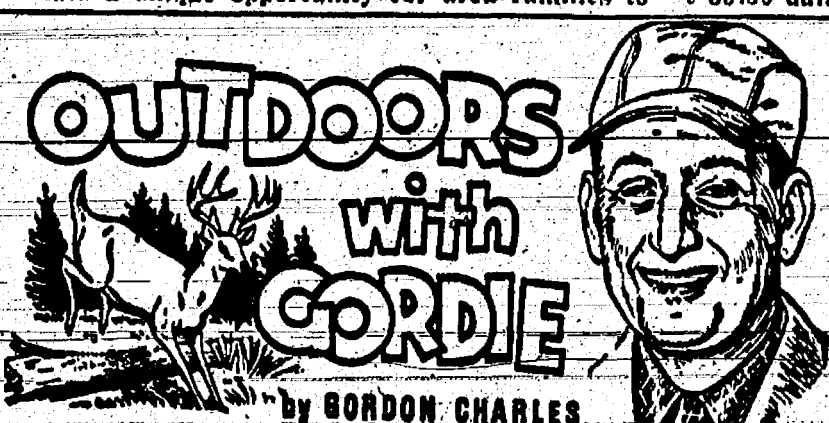

Jim Rodriguez, 20, right-handed infielder, of London, Ont., and a student at the University of Western Ontario. He is 5-11 and 167, with sandlot averages from .340 to .365.

Lee Alfred Sage, 18, southpaw pitcher of Ada, O., plans to attend Bowling Green University. He is 6-2 and 190, with 12 high school letters and a 23-5 prep diamond record to his credit.

McKathas, director of player procurement, said Kincaide and Sage will report this season to Erie of the New York-Pennsylvania League while Rodriguez will be assigned in 1968.

MID-SUMMER TRAVEL TIP: There has never been a better time to visit the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village in Dearborn. The pace is slower, the setting beautiful, and usually crowded summer conditions have temporarily eased off. This provides a unique opportunity for area families to take advantage of an outstanding tourist attraction in their own backyard. Shown here is the stern-wheeler Suwanee on a lagoon behind the Stephen Foster home. Other fun rides in carriages and Model "T"s are available during summer hours, 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Some years ago, through this same column, we wrote an open letter to the brewing industry, suggesting that it would be a wonderful public relations gesture on their part to do something about the litter problem.

We pointed out that a reminder from the brewers, printed on each six-pack or even on the bottle or can would help in cutting down the number of discarded along the highways or in scenic areas. We felt then, and still do, that most people toss cans and bottles and other litter through utter thoughtlessness.

Various segments of the brewing industry did not take kindly to our writings. Their public relations people took pen in hand and wrote some of the most blistering letters we have ever received. In short, they all contained the same thought, to wit: "Why in the blankety-blank don't you mind your own business, Charles?"

Not one who bothered to write felt an outdoor writer should be concerned with keeping outdoor beauty litter-free. How about that?

Well, fortunately, ideas do change, as do public relations people and we are happy to report that some segments of the brewing industry are coming around in fine shape. In fact, we are going to mention a couple of names because they are obviously concerned with public service motives.

Just prior to the July 4th holiday, the Schlitz Brewing Co. of Milwaukee ran several ads in major magazines. They showed a lovely lakeside scene and posed the question: "How would an empty beer can look here?" Then followed: "Or old soda pop bottles? Or watermelon rinds?" Their plea was merely a reminder to the thoughtless American who unthinkingly litters our beauty spots.

A couple of years earlier, the Adolph Coors Co. of Denver put on a public relations program that resulted in their redeeming more than 12 million aluminum beer cans. And, this despite the fact that the cans had a salvage value of only one-half cent each.

A similar program, aimed at empty beer bottles, resulted in a return of more than 75 percent of the total bottles distributed! Efforts of these two public-

Wolverine Radio Club Gives Antenna for Civil Defense Units

Michigan Wolverine Radio Club president, Bill Lentz, revealed Saturday that his group had purchased and erected a specialist super-magnet antenna on the roof of the Dexter Fire Hall for use of the Civil Defense units in this area.

Members of the club spent more than four hours running a cable inside the building to be connected to the Johnson Messenger II radio recently presented to Civil Defense director Vic Sindlinger by John Palmer, county CD director.

Previously the radio club, which assists CD units during emergencies, could radio into Dexter, but because of the village's geographical location, had great difficulty radioing out.

Recreation Baseball Team Has 2-14 Record In Ann Arbor League

Chelsea's team in the Ann Arbor Recreation High School League finished the season with a 2 and 14 record, good for eighth place.

The team lost both of its last two games. Clinton defeated Chelsea, Tuesday, Aug. 8, 7-2, and Ypsilanti shut them out Thursday, Aug. 10, 9-0.

In the loss to Clinton, Ryan Smith and Roy Holiday pitched to Len Kozma. The battery for the Ypsilanti game was Mike Harvey and Ryan Smith to Len Kozma and Chuck Patrick.

Savings Result in Need for Less Testing Of Improved Paints

Lansing—A change in Highway Department paint testing procedure has resulted in a savings of $1,800 a year, the State Highway Commission reports.

In the past, paint used to mark traffic lanes was tested every year on state highways in the Lansing area. On the basis of performance and bid prices, the Highway Department's supply of paint for the next year was then purchased. It cost the Highway Department nearly $4,000 each year to conduct the tests.

Due to improvements in methods of manufacture, the Highway Department's Testing and Research Division found that paint consistency has varied less and less in recent years—and now paint testing is done every two years instead of annually.

R. O. McUmber Joins Farm Bureau Insurance Agency

Richard O. (Dick) McUmber has been appointed Agency Representative for the Farm Bureau Insurance Group, according to Joe Marvez of 1137 N. Freer Rd., manager of the firm's area office located at 5005 Saline Rd., Ann Arbor.

RICHARD O. MUMBER

McUmber began his insurance career which includes experience in underwriting, inspection, and direct sales, after receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1959. While actively pursuing his insurance career, he also completed further insurance studies at Michigan State University and through the University of Chicago and Loyola University in Baltimore, Md.

The Farm Bureau Group is an agency of independent contractors, who, like McUmber are authorized to write policies throughout the state. McUmber's territory for renewal of contracts and service includes four townships: Northfield, Superior, Salem, and Ann Arbor.

McUmber, his wife, Marcy, and their two children, Brenda, 4, and Ricky, 6, have lived at 13200 North Rd. Gregory, since May 1966. Previously, Dick had serviced this area while working out of Lansing. McUmber served in the Army Intelligence Corps from 1960 to 1962, and he comments that except for one year he has been going to school continually since he started kindergarten. He explains his advanced study of the insurance business, saying "Insurance is such an ever-changing field that to be of service to my customers and to myself, I have to keep abreast." He adds that insurance is becoming increasingly technical and specialized.

Dick is currently secretary of the Jaycees and chairman of the Soap Box Derby activities for Chelsea. He also teaches the young adult Sunday School class at Zion Evangelical Lutheran church.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

We live in a supposedly enlightened age; an era in which so many seem to know so much. In many instances though, this presumed knowledge is an erosion of truth. Society today has better medicines for ailing organs. We look forward to increased longevity, seemingly a product of man's ingenuity. But for what eventual purpose? Just to be an existentialist and live a few years longer in this world? If this is the case, then we should examine our roots of faith. For example -

Some people say, "When you die, you're dead. That's it, life is over with." When we hear this, is it just enough for those of us with faith to cooly think these people have clouded their souls with disbelief in a hereafter? When we see evidence of unenlightened faith, should we isolate ourselves and not even mention the message and meaning of God's incarnation among men? We destroy our roots of faith when we fail to mention - when it can be mentioned - how countless millions of people have been sustained in disappointment and despair... have had revived hope and happiness through the fact of faith in a companionship with an Almighty, lasting through this world - and the next. Auto Club Finds Trends in Study of Week-End Accidents

What makes the difference between injury and death in traffic accidents?

An Automobile Club of Michigan study of 204 injuries and 39 deaths over the Memorial Day week-end indicates that alcohol, speed, daylight and darkness, city streets versus country roads are among the chief factors that determine whether an accident will produce injuries or death.

As part of its expanded $100,000 "Bring 'Em Back Alive" campaign, Auto Club is studying injury accidents in depth all across the lower peninsula over the three holiday week-ends and during July and August.

The first returns and some preliminary conclusions in this study were reported recently in a 28-page booklet, "Portrait of a Holiday: Memorial Day, 1967."

According to the Auto Club analysis of 125 accidents this is what a typical injury accident looked like:

A young man, just under 33, was driving his 3-and-one-half-year-old car close to home. Through some error—either because he did not see the other car or because he misjudged distance or speed—he collided with another car at an intersection. It was daylight; the two-lane pavement was dry; his car was operating well. He was on a pleasure trip, though not on vacation. He had either just left home or was returning to it. He was in no particular hurry, but he was driving too fast for conditions. He had not been drinking. He was not wearing a seat belt—either because his car was not equipped with them or because he didn't bother to fasten his before setting out.

When the summer study, covering an anticipated 8,000 to 10,000 injury accidents, is completed, its results will be compared with those from last year's study of 20 percent of the state's traffic fatalities, "to determine the relationship between both kinds of accidents," said Fred Rehm, Auto Club general manager.

"It is too early to draw firm conclusions," he said. "But we think we've spotted some trends."

While alcohol was involved in at least 36 percent of the fatal accidents over Memorial week-end and in at least 44 percent of the fatalities analyzed last year, it was reported in only 17.6 percent of the injury accidents.

The difference between night and day seems to be one of the differences between life and death. While nearly 65 percent of the injury accidents studied occurred in daylight, nearly the reverse was true of fatalities. Sixty-one percent of the deaths occurred after dark.

Apparently because of the reduced speeds involved, city streets were the scene of a far greater percentage of injury accidents than of fatalities. Nearly 41 percent of the injuries over the week-end occurred in cities. Only 25 percent of last summer's fatalities happened on city streets.

There were many similarities: Driver error again appeared to be the chief contributing factor. Police officers at the scene of the injury accidents listed it as the prime factor in 84.8 percent of the accidents. Drivers blamed some error—either their own or the other driver's—in 94.1 percent of the mishaps. In last summer's study some violation or mistake was noted by Auto Club investigators in 88 percent of the fatalities. Errors by pedestrians or cyclists pushed the total to nearly 90 percent.

Automobile defect was negligible as a cause. Police listed it

Questions and Answers
What is accomplished by dredg ing foods in flour before they are fried?
Giving foods a preliminary dusting of flour pre vents seepage. The flour seals in the liquid, pre venting the food from steaming, and allowing it to brown properly. If the food is to be coated with a batter, a prior dredging in flour will pre vent liquid from leaking through and steaming off the batter.

IN THE OPEN

By Lee Smits

Behind a window grill in the heart of downtown Detroit, a brood of infant starlings keeps the old birds busy toiling insects. Raising the question how do starlings manage to find bugs, anywhere, any time? They even dig out insects from their winter hiding places.

It is, of course, too late for spring housecleaning, yet somehow the energetic starlings manage to find a way to the contents of a drawer devoted to outdoor matters.

What an assortment of odd items! Facts I never knew before. Such as the yield of fish from Canadian waters of the Great Lakes. Lake Erie has been publicized as the most heavily polluted body of water in North America; yet the total catch from Lake Erie last year was 74 percent of the total from Canadian waters of the lakes. Lake Erie commercial fishermen took 2,689,000 pounds. The catch of smelt far exceeded that of any other species. Total value of the Ontario fish harvest from the lakes, $328,000.

Another Canadian item (to build dreams on): The Ontario Department of Lands and Forests is sponsoring a new goose camp on James Bay, in co-operation with the Canadian federal government to develop the economy of free Indians of the region.

The camp is at the mouth of the Kaministiquia river, 140 miles from the famous goose grounds at Mooseport. The new camp, opened last year, produces an abundance of Canada geese in addition to blues, waders and ducks. Accommodations, guides, boats are included in a package price, $75 per day. For reservations, write Goose Camp, Cochrane, Ontario.

Enlightened Canadian policy gives the fullest possible encouragement and aid to Indians in the harvesting of fish, fur and game, as Michigan sportsmen have learned on trips to Walpole Island, on the Canadian side of the St. Clair Flats.

The trapper is a romantic outfit in the mainstay of the Indians of Canada. The ups and downs of the fur market make trapping largely a gamble. The trappers at North Bay, Ontario, trappers; most of them Indians, a total of $1,005,000 last season, an increase of 80 percent over the year before. The price of muskrat has ranged between 81 cents and $3.50 in two seasons; bear, $18 to $75. In Michigan the trapper's romantic role was taken over by the logger, usually called "lumberjack" although the term was more state and federal money, as some suggest.

Detroit Mayor Cavanaugh's Hum Resources program spent about $50 million dollars this year in what turned out to be a smoldering battleground of civil rebellion.

Cavanaugh had recently assured a Senate Committee that federal monies were serving the Detroit poverty plight quite well. He suggested a sum of $15 billion dollars for the next 10 years as the price for continued national success in this area of the poverty war.

Since vast sums of such state and federal money have gone into the very areas later exploded in anarchy, it does seem clear that money cannot buy the only things which are capable of healing this rift in our society.

Instead, in the words of Congressman Guy Vander Jagt, "There seems to have existed a permissive attitude among many of those

Jazz Festival To Highlight Guitar, Trumpet Techniques

East Lansing—Highlights from the guitar and trumpet workshops at the Newport Jazz Festival (July 1968) illustrate techniques and styles used by some of the leaders of jazz today on "Jazz From Newport, 1966" Sunday, Aug. 27, at 8:30 p.m. and Tuesday, Aug. 29, at 12 noon on WMSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television.

The workshops are designed to bring together the world's finest jazz musicians to demonstrate the differences in style and approach used by each performer.

Hosting the program is jazz pianist Billy Taylor, who talks with the musicians and introduces their numbers, which include "St. Louis Woman" with Red Allen, "Clarks of Wine and Roses" with Clark Terry, "C.C. Rider" with George Benson's Quintet, Beale tunes "Michele" and "Nuage" with Charlie Byrd and "Siboney" with Dizzy Gillespie and Kenny Burrell.

Other WMSB highlights include: "An English view of problems in American race relations focuses on Baltimore, Md., chosen last summer as a national target city by the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), on 'Asking for Trouble,' Sunday, Aug. 27, at 2 p.m. and Monday, Aug. 28, at 12 noon.

The program shows a crucial week of Negro demonstrations, voting drives and a City Hall "eat-in," culminating in an angry scene at a local bar where Negroes are being served for the first time.

Among those appearing in the broadcast are Floyd McKissick and Lincoln Lynch, director and deputy director of CORE, and Baltimore mayor T. R. McKeeldin.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Anyone will have to go further than far away, to find a town the size of Chelsea that has as many "organized" organizations, including churches, clubs, and afternoon bridge players.

I found the following list of information in a recent Veteran's newspaper and thought it worth passing on for what it's worth. The article is entitled "How Not To Help Your Organization!"

1. Don't attend the meetings.
2. If you go, go late so everyone will know you're there.
3. If the weather is good, stay home.
4. Don't accept any office—it's easier to just criticize the others.
5. Never approve of anything your officers or committees do—you could do better yourself, anyway.
6. Don't bother to recruit any new members, you might not like them.
7. Insist on official notices being sent you; then throw them away without reading.
8. Don't waste any courtesy on the members or officers—that's old-fashioned.
9. Devote most of your time talking, let someone else do the work.
10. Look for hidden motives, don't credit a fellow member with any ideals.
11. Remember you know more than anyone else about everything. If they don't agree with you, they are wrong, not you.
12. The last—Why not disregard the above, and turn over full support to your own group, for the betterment of your community.

Perhaps you didn't think this a bit funny. Neither will the officers and committeemen of your particular group, as they can think of some one it fits, with dismay.

The community fair is soon. It takes all to make it a success. The school tax (millage) is also to be voted on soon. Go vote. It's your privilege. Help a neighbor in time of trouble; call a sick friend or relative; smile at the paper boy or mailman—they have trouble, too, or fly your American flag, any day. You'll feel better and so will those around you.

LAW
"The American Dream: Profile in Blue" explores the role of the policeman in society, Thursday, Aug. 31, at 7 p.m. and Friday, Sept. 1, at 11:30 a.m.

From the history of law enforcement to the training of a policeman today, the facts are supplied for the viewer to draw his own conclusion about the policeman's role.

The program follows a day in the life of an average policeman, describing his training, the various departments which support him on his beat and his daily routine. The policeman's role is illustrated by the dramatization of a bank hold-up and the steps taken to apprehend the robber.

Michigan's famous locks at Sault Ste. Marie constitute the second busiest waterway in the world. More tonnage passes through these locks in an eight-month Great Lakes navigation season than through either the Panama or the Suez Canal in a full year.

Michigan's public roads and streets would go around the equator four times.

MILLIONAIRE
Haroldson-Lafayette Hunt, one of America's richest men, expresses himself candidly on the subjects of wealth, politics and history in a rare interview on "H. L. Hunt—The Richest and the Rightest," a "N.E.T. Journal" broadcast, Sunday, Aug. 27, at 4:30 p.m. and Wednesday, Aug. 30, at 12 noon.

Hunt's business interests extend from food products to football and from property to propaganda. He has backed a number of self-announced right-wing political causes, and uses the media to make known his views.

In this interview with reporter James Fleming, Hunt speaks out on his wealth, his political patronage, the John Birch Society the Communist threat.

UNIVERSITY
"Birth of a University" details the steps necessary to launch a university, from faculty recruitment to academic intrigue, Sunday, Aug. 27, at 2:30 p.m. and Monday, Aug. 28, at 12:30 p.m.

The program follows the steps taken to establish the University of California at San Diego, which will begin its third academic year in September. Designed along the Yale plan of separate colleges within the University framework, the University of San Diego will eventually have an enrollment of 27,000 students.

The university's faculty has three Nobel Prize winners on its roster, an unusual feat for such a new institution. The film also features an illuminating discussion by students who describe their feelings about their school.

LIFELINES:

CHRIST LOVES ALL ALIKE

Someone has said that a little fly in Noah's ark was just as safe as an elephant. It was not the elephant's size and strength that made him safe; it was the ark that saved both elephant and fly. It is not your righteousness, your good works, that will save you because the Bible says: "All our righteousnesses are as filthy rags." Isaiah 64:6.

Rich or poor, learned or unlearned, you can be saved only by the blood of Christ. (Ephesians 1:7)

For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. John 3:16.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

CONFIDENCE

We often hear it said these days that children do not have the proper respect for their parents and for their elders.

How much of the blame belongs to the children?

A big part of the problem may be that some parents feel that a child's needs diminish as the child learns to do things for itself.

The opposite is true.

The teenage child can feed and dress himself. He can make certain decisions. Yet, his need for parental assistance is doubly great during these years.

When parents become too busy to supervise, to advise and to counsel, the teenager often does not know which way to turn. Whatever contact he has with the adult world is usually in the form of chastisement and admonition.

Parents should build respect and confidence — by finding the necessary time to live up to the responsibilities of parenthood on a continuing basis — not just in times of crisis or apparent need.

The thin skin of the sweet potato is easier to peel when it's cooked and it takes less of the potato with it. Some of the sweetness is dissolved in the cooking water when the protective jacket is gone.

Homemaking Hints

Professional painters sometimes use a blow torch to remove large areas of paint. This is not recommended procedure for the do-it-yourselfer who is inexperienced in this field. A safer method involves use of an infra-red lamp. Hold the portable lamp about one inch from the surface, until small blisters form in the paint. After covering a few feet, remove the paint with a broad knife.

A little citrus peel oil makes orange juice taste better. Without it, the flavor would be uninteresting and flat. U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists have devised a way to determine when the peel oil is just right.

If you're building a new home, make sure it has plenty of clean-out plugs and shutoff valves, at all major plumbed-in equipment. Cleanout plugs make it possible to remove obstructions in the pipe without a lot of trouble and expense. Shutoff valves enable you to shut off the water at one fixture, should an emergency arise, without shutting off the water in the rest of the house.

Follow all label directions and precautions for storing, mixing and applying a pesticide, and for disposing of unused material or the empty container.

Fulk to approve the parking recommendations and speed limits as recommended by the Washtenaw County Road Commission and Chief Meranuck. Roll Call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

The Chelsea Village Planning Commission submitted recommendations for the annexation of two parcels of land to the village. The council will proceed with whatever action is necessary to implement the Planning Commission recommendations.

Motion by Heydauff, supported by Weber, to authorize the clerk to issue checks in payment of bills as submitted: Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. General Fund, $25,013.53.

Motion by Storey, supported by Crouch, to adjourn the meeting. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Meeting adjourned.
Approved: Aug. 15, 1967.

★ Satellite May Forecast Future Crop Failure

A SATELLITE with sophisticated sensing instruments that will enable scientists to predict when and where crop failures may occur will be launched in about two years. Plans for it are being developed by the Department of Agriculture and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. It is the first of its type and will probably carry an instrument payload of about 1,100 pounds and will be launched into a polar orbit at an altitude of 125 miles or more. Sensors aboard will detect differences in soil, the effect of rainfall, identify different kinds of trees and crops. They will also determine damage by drought, disease and insects and assess the health of the crops to predict production.

COMETS are "gigantic dirty snow balls," says a Georgia Tech scientist studying their basic chemistry. Although comets are mysterious in many ways, he thinks that they are composed of frozen ice of reactive gases such as ammonia, nitric oxide, acetylene and ethylene, combined with some meteoric dust.

VFW Auxiliary Entertains Children At Camp Crile

Chelsea's Ladies' Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4076, held a regular meeting Monday evening, Aug. 14, at the IOOF Hall. There were 12 members present.

A special ceremony of draping the charter took place, honoring the memory of Mrs. Elmiada Tice, national VFW Auxiliary president in 1962-63, who died May 30 and was buried June 3 at Mitchell, S.D.

This was followed by a memorial service for all deceased members of the Chelsea Auxiliary.

The business session included a report of a recent party given by the Auxiliary for the pleasure of children at Camp Crile, north of Chelsea. Games were played and refreshments were provided for the children, all of whom apparently greatly enjoyed the occasion, according to the report as given by Mrs. Geraldine Klink.

The Auxiliary's hospital chairman, Mrs. Nina Matthews, reported that members are making lap robes for the patients at the VA Hospital in Ann Arbor.

In a report of the July meeting, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harschel O'Dell on Summit St. and was the annual Auxiliary birthday party, it was mentioned that the local group was honored to have Mrs. Ruth Otto, VFW District VI president, attend the meeting, accompanied by the district secretary and district treasurer.

Mrs. Eulalie Packard, Americanism chairman, reported that an American flag was presented during the past month to the new Trail Blazer Riding Club of Chelsea.

A get-well card was signed by all members present and sent to Mrs. Guil Bauer, a member who had been in the hospital for some time but is now at home.

Other business at Monday's meeting included acceptance by the members of the resignation of Mrs. Thelma Franklin as secretary.

The next Auxiliary meeting is scheduled for Sept. 10.

Q. I would appreciate information and your opinion on the performance of stocks, and the market in general, during a time of war (for example, World War II). Would the trend be a general rise or a decline, and would the movement be drastic in one way or the other? Would profits and dividends tend to hold their peacetime levels?

A. We recently had an example of one aspect of what war can do to the stock market. Undoubtedly, you noticed that on the day the Israeli-Arab war broke out in the Middle East the Dow-Jones industrial averages dropped nearly 22 points and closed down 15½ points from the day before.

You also probably noticed that the market surged back the next day to practically the same level it was the day before the war broke out.

The breaking out of the war caused a great deal of uncertainty and uncertainty usually affects the market adversely. When it became evident the war was going to be of short duration and not spread to the major powers, the market came back up. If the outcome had continued uncertain, my guess is the market would have gone down further and not recovered until the outcome was more certain.

Now for the other aspects of your question:

During World War II, the Standard & Poor Five Hundred Stock Averages tended to move down from 1939 through 1942. Then they started to rise steadily, but not spectacularly, until 1946, when prices moved downward again.

Earnings per share moved up from 1939 to 1941 and then sagged until 1946, after which they started to move up sharply.

War brings uncertainty and thus stock prices are usually on the low side. As war continues and as the outcome begins to be clear, you are likely to see a tendency for prices to move up, but not in a runaway fashion.

My guess would be that in our modern managed economy, profits and dividends would sag slightly with a full-scale war, since we are certain to have very tight government price and profit controls as we did in World War II.

Q. I am in the Air Force and would like to start an investment program. I'm due to leave soon for Vietnam and would like to have a list of books, pamphlets and magazines I could read that would help me be informed when I return. Also, is it possible to obtain a full collection of your "Today's Investor" column?

A. To answer your last question first, I'm sorry, but we don't have a back file of "Today's Investor" columns we can send you. I understand some readers are making their own collections by clipping the column as it appears.

There are a number of financial magazines that will help you build a background in investing. "Forbes" is perhaps the most popular. Other good ones are "Barron's" and the "National Association of Investment Clubs' own 'Better Investing'."

Arbor. All wore floor-length empire-waisted gowns of white bullseye pique with Nile green ribbon and daisy lace. They carried natural wicker baskets of blue and green daisies and wore white gloves trimmed with seed pearls, gifts of the bride.

Postal Dept. Zip-A-List Mailing Slated in September

During the latter half of September, each of the nation's 66 million households will receive a unique kit of postal cards which may be used to obtain ZIP Codes for personal mailing needs, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien announced today.

The specially designed kit will consist of nine cards. Eight will carry a message encouraging the use of ZIP Code on one side and spaces for the address to be "zip-ped" and the return address of the sender on the other side.

The ninth card will include instructions. The cards in the kit will be joined in an accordion-fold with perforations between each segment.

The 10th card will remind the recipient of his own ZIP Code. This card will not be attached to the kit and is a revised version of the local ZIP Code reminder notice distributed twice a year.

Last year approximately 57 million households received one or two cards upon which they could enter several addresses for the local post office to code.

This year, the expanded project will find the kit of cards being delivered with only one address to be entered on each card for ZIP Coding. The card will then go through the mails in the same manner as a regular postal card. It will be separated out of the mail stream at the post office which serves the "zipless" address. There a clerk will stamp in the proper code and return to sender. The card will then go back the same route to the mailer, who will enter the code into a personal mailing list.

No postage will be needed to send the cards through the mails.

The unit cost of entering the code onto the card will be less than the system used in 1966 because no linkup will be necessary. Since all cards for each ZIP Code will be sent to the Post Office which services that section of the country, a clerk will be able to simply stamp that number on the cards and send the forms on their return journey.

Extra copies of the ZIP-A-List kits will be available at post offices. Eight postal cards were included in the kit because last year respondents to the ZIP-A-List program sent in an average of about eight addresses on the multi-address cards sent out in the previous project.

Nine million more delivery stops will be reached this year than the 1966 version. The annual increase in the number of residential mail stops and the inclusion of more box holders and rural residents who do not have delivery service, but must pick their mail up at the local post office has brought every American citizen receiving postal service into the program.

Last year, approximately 17 percent of the nation's householders returned 16 million addresses for coding.

On an average day, between 175 and 250 million new pieces of mail enter the postal system. It is not expected that more than 10 million of the ZIP-A-List cards will be in the system at any one time during the peak periods of mailing. Since they will be handled as ordinary mail, there will be no extra cost of service.

"The ultimate result will be an improvement in service," O'Brien noted. "ZIP-A-List is the basic unit which will bring postal service to the door of every citizen. But it won't work unless the nation's postal service is better than it is now. ZIP-A-List will bring that better service to the door of every citizen."

"Although today only 100 years after the system was introduced, the first anniversary of the nation's mail is ZIP Code day," he said.

cost savings and basic efficiencies of ZIP Code still have not been captured. We must reach more of the mailing public and convince them of the logic of the system and the necessity of using the codes before we can attain the higher percentage of usage needed to bring the peak of ZIP Code's effectiveness.

"The ZIP-A-List project is the most dramatic aspect of our continuing campaign to make ZIP codes readily available to the public."

The kit was designed under the auspices of the Advertising Council and the design was donated by the New York City advertising agency, Wunderman, Keeton & Kline.

The Postmaster General reported that many postmasters had informed the Department that the ZIP-A-List project was an important aspect in making Christmas mailers aware of the importance of using the codes on their holiday mail and as an offshoot, encouraged early mailing of their gifts and cards. This resulted in the most successful Christmas season in recent postal history.

A survey conducted last year by Elmo Rorer & Associates as part of the Advertising Council's ZIP Code efforts, indicated that more people would use ZIP Code if the numbers were more easily available. ZIP-A-List was a direct outgrowth of that survey.

Sen. Bursley Urges Greater Foreign Trade Promotion

MacKinnon Island. Increased foreign trade promotion and regional promotion of domestic trade can do much to spur the economy of individual states and groups of states, Sen. Gilbert E. Bursley of Ann Arbor said here on Aug. 1.

Sen. Bursley, assistant president pro-tem of the Senate and chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Economic Development, was the principal speaker at the 22nd annual conference of the Association of State Planning and Development Agencies at the Grand Hotel.

Sen. Bursley, in making a big increase in foreign trade promotion, said "foreign trade stabilizes the economy of a state by diversifying its markets and selling a greater portion of its production abroad. plans."

"Foreign trade leads to subsidiaries abroad, where expansion is frequently more practicable than here at home, particularly in raw materials where enterprising companies can virtually create their own demand. One-fourth of our industrial exports go to overseas subsidiaries of U. S. corporations.

Foreign trade is extremely profitable. One survey of more than 100 exporters in northern Illinois showed that they realized a higher profit on foreign than on domestic sales."

Sen. Bursley noted that the recent Kennedy Round talks in Geneva resulted in a 35 percent cut in U.S. exports of 33 to 35 percent on 6,300 categories of goods and predicted that "a major result will be an abrupt and impressive acceleration of the already fast-rising volume of international trade."

Bursley suggested that states enter into state-initiated regional cooperation in presenting attractive tour packages for foreign business visitors. A good job here would raise the foreign visitor to that in this country and improve the balance-of-payments picture. Here your gain would not necessarily be another state's loss because you might be baking a bigger pie for all to divide up."

Sen. Bursley cited the great disparity in official names of agencies in the various states for planning and development agencies and urged association officials to seek a model statute on economic development departments as a means of avoiding confusion. He urged uniform names and terminology and suggested that a model statute be referred to the Council State Governments for endorsement and subsequent adoption by state legislatures.

Bursley also urged association officials to review their state laws with the idea that "almost every state could find some previously authorized laws that are not being utilized today to the utmost."

East Lansing—"It's a Small World" More than 3,500 4-H members from throughout Michigan will focus on this statement for four days next week—instead of just repeating it in idle conversation. The occasion is the annual State 4-H Show being held on the Michigan State University campus, Aug. 22-25, points out Dr. Gordon L. Beckstrand, director of Michigan 4-H Youth Programs.

This 4-H highlight started 52 years ago in connection with the Michigan State Fair. State 4-H Show was moved to the Campus at East Lansing during World War II when the State Fair was suspended. Since that time 4-H members have staged their own state program at Michigan State University.

"Education" and "participation" are the major ingredients of this event. There will be evaluation and learning experiences in 4-H project areas for members, parents, and leaders. Action exhibits, demonstrations, public speaking, archery and rifle shoots, tours, and a continuous dress revue are only a few of the activities that will be underway during the week.

The development of the 4-H member is the main concern during this event. Members participate in their exhibit by explaining what has happened and why they chose a specific project or activity. The entire program is designed to make State 4-H Show a training and resource idea experience using the physical resources and faculty of Michigan State University.

There will be evening programs on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the University Auditorium. They will feature the Fun—entertainment, 4-H leaders, leader recognition, and exchange delegates and Michigan under the Internat Farm Youth Exchange program. State 4-H Show is well worth a visit. It is open to the public and no admission is charged. Printed programs are available through county offices of the operative Extension Service.
