Open Letter to School Voters

As president of the Chelsea School Board, I felt it was essary to write this open letter to the people of this School istrict to be certain they were fully aware of the extreme ousness of the coming millage vote of Monday, Aug. 28.
This election represents the last opportunity to authorize the 6.75 mills which we on the School Board feel is needed to maintain the school system at its present level. This age is much more critical than many realize.
We're voting on an increase of 1.9 mills over last year's
; but also, and much more important, included in this e is all of the millage which the voters have given the ool for operating funds each year for the past several years. A "No" vote would eliminate ALL of this income the next year, or more than 20 percent of our total
get. Believe me, it would cripple our school system.
Without the millage asked for in the coming election, anges would have to be made in the operation of our ools that no one would want. The dollar loss would be more than $258,000. Eliminating as many as 25 percent of teachers, delayed opening of the new Junior High school, anges in pupil transportation arrangements, and half-day
ions would likely be a part of such a revised budget, ng with most of the other programs that have been an important part of our educational system over the past years.
We on the School Board do not want that kind of a col program in Chelsea. Years of work on the part of everyone in the district have made our present fine program sible. In order that we may continue to offer a sound education to the young people of the Chelsea School District, ould like to urge each voter of this District to vote "YES"
the millage election Monday, Aug. 28.
Robert G. Foster,
President, Chelsea School District
Board of Education.

Men from British Honduras Tour Modern Dairy Farm

Two Boy Scout leaders from British Honduras who accompanied 10 Boy Scouts to the Boy Scout Jamboree at Farragut State Park, Idaho, Aug. 1-9 and have been visiting points of interest since then, were in this area Friday. At the invitation of Richard E. Powers, of Ann Arbor, they were guests of Mr.
and Mrs. Douglas Stark at the modern dairy farm on Peckins Rd., operated by the Starks and owned by Powers, who formerly lived there.
Powers is now manager of Lurie Terrace, a senior citizens'
apartment complex in Ann Arbor, and met the Hondurans
when they appeared there for a program and dinner Thursday evening and later expressed interest in dairy farming, principally because it is non-existent in their own country. Milk products for the entire population of British Honduras, approximately 100,000 people, are flown
into the country.
The two men are Norman Staines, executive commissioner of the Boy Scouts Association of British Honduras, and Leo Balderamos, chief Scout commissioner. The latter is also chief civil aviation officer for British Honduras. Both men live in Belize City, capital of British Honduras, and now,
along with Tuebingen, Germany,
a "sister city" of Ann Arbor in the "People-to-People" program.
The Boy Scouts' visit to Ann Arbor was at the invitation of Daniel Ling, vice-president of the Portage Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, whose wife, Mrs. Shata Ling, is director of Lurie Terrace. Ann Arbor Mayor
Wendell E. Hulcher also was a guest at Thursday's dinner.
During the after-dinner program, the Honduran visitors spoke about conditions in their home city and country and, in later conversation with Powers and the Lings, expressed an interest in seeing an area dairy farm, saying they are hopeful dairy farming may eventually be introduced there. Mrs. Ling suggested the visit to the Powers farm and he promptly invited them.
The visitors were impressed by Stark's large scale dairy operation involving pipeline
milkers in the "dual-comfort" barn. At present, there are 80 Holstein cows in the herd.
In addition to the cow barn,
there are other buildings including a separate calf barn and a loose housing barn. Currently Stark has 58 young cattle in

Plans Complete for Busiest, Most Enjoyable Four Days in Fair's History

The Chelsea Riders, a Pinckney 4-H group which dresses in Cherokee costume and war paint, will be an added attraction at the Chelsea Community Fair Parade
on Saturday, Sept. 2 at 1 p.m.
The group consists of 26 horses and riders. They have brought home many ribbons and cups from various horse shows and exhibitions. Among the events the club has participated in this year are the Milford Huron Valley Saddle Club event, Detroit's Fourth of July Parade, and the Canadian Festival at Windsor, Canada.
The Riders take their membership exclusively from the ranks of 4-H members. It began in January, 1965 under the title of "Clip-pity Clon Club." The group has grown from an original eight members. Herbert J. Stockman is the leader and chief. Stu Stubbles is the medicine man, and Ricky Hendee is the mascot.
In addition to the parade featuring the Riders, other events are softeduced. Horse show begins at 11 a.m. and continues at 2 p.m. after the parade. The Cherokee Riders were unable to enter the horse show as the field was filled by the time they had agreed to participate in the parade.
Bikes, both boys' and girls', will be given away at 5 p.m.
At 7 p.m. contestants in the queen competition will be presented. Roxanne Shears, 1966 Fair
Queen, will crown the 1967 queen.
This will be followed by the Double Pony Pull Exhibition.
Every day of the Fair home-cooked meals will be served at the French Cafe in "The Little Red Schoolhouse" beginning at 7 a.m. and continuing through the late hours of the evening.
Highlights of the other three days of the Fair include:
Wednesday—Kiwanis Kids Day
Parade. Carnival rides begin operation and continue through all days of the fair.
Thursday—Dexter Day. Showmanship awards will be presented at 7:15 p.m., followed by fat stock auction, and the pig scramble. All queen contestants will then appear on stage for the first time.
Other events are a band concert
by the Waterloo Band under the direction of William Parks, the "Little Brown Jug" tug-of-war between Dexter and Chelsea and the Water Ball Fight between the Dexter and Chelsea Fire Departments and a skirmish between the ladies of the two communities.

School Board Urges Last Chance Vote

The Chelsea Board of Education
issued a formal statement Monday evening warning the voters of the district of the effects that the loss of $258,000 would have following a defeat of the millage
election to be held Aug. 28.
"We, the members of the board of education of the Chelsea School District, feel it our solemn duty to make the school community as aware as possible
of the results a negative vote
would have in denying the board
the required money to operate properly the schools of the district for the 1967-68 school year.
Such action could have no other effect than to result in drastic cuts in the education of the children of the district.
"Because the prime responsibility of a board of education is to provide the best education for the community, we therefore urge all citizens to acquaint themselves with the facts as they pertain to the school budget. If the people will take the time to do this, we feel sure it will result in a YES vote.
"We emphasize that the people must get out and vote thus assuring the continuation of the full school program and the improvement of the school community."
Mrs. Walter Vicary was taken to Cedar Knoll Rest Home, Monday, Aug. 21 after being a patient at Mercy Hospital, Jackson since Tuesday, Aug. 8.

Pupils New to School Should Register Now

High school students new to the Chelsea School District this year, should register before the opening of school. Principal Charles Lane has announced.
New students should enroll at the high school office any day between 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m.
or between 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.
First day of classes will be Tuesday, Sept. 5, and all high school students will report in the auditorium for a short orientation meeting.
This will be followed by a shortened schedule of classes.
Only six daily class periods are scheduled for this school year, the day to be shortened to begin at 8:30 a.m. and dismiss at 3 p.m.
Three 30-minute lunch periods are scheduled and students will not be allowed to leave the school

CONCERNING NEXT MONDAY'S ELECTION...

Passage of the school operating millage question to be presented for vote Monday, will mean an increase of $75,000 in our aggregate tax bill, about 30% of the total $258,000 at stake.

While we dislike taxes as much as anyone, we intend to meet our obligation and support the moderate tax increase requested.

We are proud of the Chelsea School system and want the youngsters of the district to continue to have the advantage of a full educational program. This election is vital to the welfare of the entire community.

We are willing to pay our share. We are going to vote YES.

BRITAIN TO QUIT BASES

London—The British Government announced plans to vacate its bases in Singapore and Malaysia in the 1970's and to reduce British forces in Southeast Asia by about one half. The defense plans to reduce commitments outside Europe.

SOFTBALL SLOW-PITCH CHAMPS: This is the St. Paul UCC softball team which won the Chelsea Recreation championship for 1967 by a one and one-half game margin over the Chelsea Lanes team. Their championship status is the more gratifying because of this being the first year they had played in the league. Their record for the season was 10 wins and four losses. Leading hitter was Denny Stoffer with a .578 average. Closely following were Alton Nixon, Tim Whitesall, Homer Nixon and Pete Flintoft. Manager Bob Bertke said the team is looking forward to "an even better season next year." Standing, from left, are Bertke, Andy Fleischmann, Dave Dietle, Homer Nixon, Alton Nixon, John Stoffer, Paul Lancaster, Kim Flintoft and Tim Whitesall; seated, also from left, Duane Schroen, Denny Stoffer, Bud Dorr, Pete Flintoft, Bill Altenberndt and Chip Winans. Not appearing in the photo are team members Bruce Galbraith, Tim Melinger and W. Siebert.

Fair Queens Must Register

The list continues with Diane Stoffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stoffer, for the Junior Chamber of Commerce float; Joan Dietle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dietle, Kiwanis club; Rhonda Kern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Kern, American Legion; Holly Powers, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. Charles Powers, Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H Club; and Jeanne Hinderer for the Wide Awake 4-H Club. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hinderer.

All queen candidates will be expected to appear at the Fair Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings Aug. 31, Sept. 1 and 2; also, they must ride on the float entered by their sponsoring organization in the big Community Fair Parade Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Satterthwaite said that this year's summer-up will be chosen as well as the queen and flowers, but your clothes will receive a special gift, main dry and clean.

All queen candidates will receive a gift of some kind and the one chosen queen will receive a tiara from the Jaycees Auxiliary, sponsors of the queen contest, and several gifts.

Last Year's queen, Roxanne Shears, will crown the 1967 winner. She will also appear with this year's candidates.

Mrs. Satterthwaite, Jaycees Auxiliary queen contest chairman, is being assisted by committee members Mrs. Basil Greenleaf and Mrs. Richard McUmber.

Mrs. Ed. Akin who served as queen contest chairman last year, is serving as advisor for this year's committee.

Use plastic wrap for transporting freshly cut flowers. Wrap a wet paper towel around the flower stems and then place plastic wrap over the towel. This not only insures continued freshness of the chosen queen and flowers, but your clothes will receive a special gift, main dry and clean.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

More than a million hours have ticked around the clock since 1872—the year the hymn "I NEED THEE EVERY HOUR, MOST GRACIOUS LORD" was written. Throughout all these hours, the hymn has provided millions of people with joy, with the blissfulness of a warm personal relationship with God. In unpredictable hours to come, uncountable multitudes will continue to be comforted with the meaningful hymn.

No one knows what the future holds. For some of us there will be 8,760 hours in the next year. There will be less for others. Regardless of the number of hours, a need for God's help will be evident in one way or another. We may think at times that He is not mindful of our needs. As and when we think that, we will be mistaken. "Your father knoweth what you have need of, even before you speak" proves the mistake. In human frailty we may not be able to see eye to eye with Him in the way He supplies our need, but this is only because of His infinite wisdom and total sovereignty. We can be sure He understands our ways, even if we cannot understand His ways. This is all the more reason why we need Him—every hour. . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 E. Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Sylvan Zoning
Board Schedules
Rezoning Hearing

The Sylvan Township Zoning Board has called for a special hearing next month to consider the petition of Sieradzki Investment Co. to rezone a two-acre tract at the northwest corner of the intersection of I-94 and Kalmbach Road.

Sieradzki, a land investment development company, plans to lease land to the Sun Ray DX Oil Co. for operation of a gas station, according to James Liebeck, secretary of the zoning board. Liebeck also revealed that the investment company has purchased a total of 10.2 acres, although the company has only asked for a zoning change from "A-1" Agricultural to "B-1" General Business for approximately two acres at this time.

The meeting to be held in the Sylvan Township Hall on Sept. 18 at 8 p.m. is open to the public and any party having an interest in the township may be heard.

One of the easiest ways of getting a broken light bulb from its socket is to use a bar of soap. Be sure the current is turned off before you touch the light socket. Then press the end of the soap into the broken end of the bulb and slowly turn the soap, unscrewing the broken end.

Rep. Sharpe
Addresses
Kiwanis Club

Representative Thomas G. Sharpe of the 51st District spoke at the Monday evening Kiwanis club meeting. Recognizing the coming school millage election he talked about the obligation the community has to its schools. Even with the passage of the state income tax, the Chelsea school district will receive less state aid than last year.

Sharpe indicated his disappointment with the tax bill and stated that it allowed for too many deductions and should have been passed three months earlier. The decrease in state aid makes passage of the millage proposal even more imperative.

Sharpe was a member of the negotiating committee which sought out the votes for the state income tax. He indicated that some of the weaknesses of the income tax were a result of the compromise that made its passage possible.

Sharpe said that a special session of the legislature is to be called to reorganize the Michigan court system. Almost certain to be considered at that special session will be measures to help the need created by Detroit's recent rioting.

Robert Foster spoke briefly on the importance of the millage vote next Monday. He said that if the millage is not passed, Chelsea will have to cut its school budget by 20 percent or operate a deficit budget. While a millage increase of 1.9 mills is requested, other previously approved millage will be lost if the millage is defeated.

Paul Schaible, Jr., Clare Warren and William Rademacher were elected delegates to the Kiwanis state convention Sept. 17-19. Alternates elected are Edwin Gram, Anton Nielsen and Paul F. Niehaus.

Floyd P. Fowler was nominated for the office of Lieutenant Governor, Division 10. His election will be confirmed at the state convention.

Recognition was given to Chandler Rogers on the occasion of his wedding anniversary. Guests included Charles P. Cox, William Blaess and the Rev. William Ladkau.

One must be a speed reader these days if he expects to get the right exit off the freeway. The easiest way to get into trouble is to be right at the wrong time.

CHRISTMAS IN AUGUST: Mrs. Anne Bumpus and a guest from Germany, Hermann Allgaier, Jr., enjoyed a Christmas celebration recently at her home to show him and his parents how Christmas is observed here.

Visitors from Germany Are Guests at Christmas Party

Hermann Allgaier, with his wife, Caroline, and their son, Hermann, Jr., have returned to their home in Eggenheim, Germany, near Stuttgart, after a three-week visit at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Ling Duerr, 204 N. East St.

One of the highlights of their visit was a Christmas party in August, arranged for their pleasure by Anne Bumpus and her husband "Brownie," fellow employees of Mrs. Duerr's, who live near Greenvale. The party was held at the Bumpus home where a Christmas tree had been set up and trimmed in traditional American style with electric lights and where numerous gifts had been gift wrapped and placed under the tree.

The early celebration of Christmas was to demonstrate to the visitors from Germany how the holiday is observed here.

Six Juveniles
Being Held on
B & E Charge

Six juveniles, ranging from 9 to 15 years of age, were apprehended Monday, Aug. 21, for the breaking and entering of Rick's Market, 6065 Old M-52. As the market is located just outside of the Chelsea village limits, the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department took charge of the case although Chelsea police assisted in the arrests.

The store owned by Harold Rickman, was broken into both Saturday and Sunday nights. Rickman estimates his loss was between $20 and $50. Sunday night $4 or $5 in change was taken from the till. Merchandise stolen included candy, doughnuts, cigarettes, beer, wine, and liquor.

According to a spokesman for the Sheriff's Department, the juveniles will be questioned about similar breaking and enterings in the area. Ultimately the matter will be referred to Washtenaw County Juvenile Court.

The juveniles were caught due to the alertness of an 18-year old Chelsea High school senior. The youth, Mr. X (as he wishes to remain anonymous) was in his home on North St. at 1:30 a.m. Monday after getting off work when his dog started barking at something outside. Looking out of a window, the youth observed three boys sneaking through yards in what he thought was a suspicious manner. He followed the three and after seeing them go in the back door and out the front door of a house gave chase.

One boy ran in a different direction from the other two so Mr. X followed the pair and caught up to them at a fence after a chase of several hundred yards. The two expressed no knowledge of wrongdoing but Mr. X started to walk them back to call the police anyway.

Before the police could be called one of the two boys ran away. But Mr. X held firmly to the other boy until the police arrived. The other five boys were apprehended at the house in which Mr. X had seen the three enter in the back and exit in the front earlier in the evening.

Mrs. Herbert Paul spent last Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Irving in Marshall. The Irvings are former Chelsea residents.

addition to the 80 cows, of which 68 are now being milked. He has a full-time hired man and two extra summer workers helping him.

When the large barn was built in 1949, it was considered one of the finest and most modern in the state and was a feature of the 1957 state dairy tour sponsored by Michigan State University. Powers has owned the farm since 1950.

After the tour of the farm, Mr. and Mrs. Stark served milk, coffee and cinnamon rolls to their guests.

Enroute back to Ann Arbor, Powers took the two visitors to the George Schultz & Son farm on Sola Church Rd. so they could see the milking parlor type operation there. Powers said he felt this type of dairy building would be more suitable for the mid-Atlantic of Honduras than his own comfort stall barn planned primarily for the colder weather of Michigan winters.

Staines, Balderamos and the Honduran Boy Scouts had visited Expo '67 at Montreal, Canada, before stopping in Ann Arbor.

OUTDOORS with GORDIE
by GORDON CHARLES

One of our favorite people, Ernie Swift, raised an interesting question sometime back. Writing for the National Wildlife Federation, he asked, "Is conservation for the multitude?"

He went on to tell about a group who obtain maximum enjoyment from the outdoors by paying particular attention to the "little things" to be found there. This includes the study of bird life, plants, flowers and rocks, among other things.

By way of comparison, he told of a highway that ran north into Canada. On this route is a constant parade of overloaded cars, trailers, various camping outfits and oversized boats.

"Some have a destination," he said, "but many are urban types vainly looking for a celestial rainbow. They are racing too fast to see the roadside flowers—and couldn't identify them if noticed. The birds go unnoticed and unnamed; trees are simply trees with no eye for good or bad forestry practices; an appreciation of land management is as remote as Mars."

"They are a cross-section of the Great American Public," he continued, "with a sensitive eye for rootbeer stands, nightclubs and rest rooms instead of the vast complex of nature which they are passing through. At a filling station they either ask about or complain about the fishing. They want to know if there is a resort close by with a swimming pool; and where there is a good place to eat. On occasion they may ask what hicks around that vicinity do for a living."

Ernie's thoughts along these lines make a person stop a moment for a personal look-see. What are we trying to get from the outdoors? Is it simply limits of game birds or animals we want? Is it a heavy stringer full of fish?

If these are our main objectives when we seek recreation in the outdoors, then perhaps we are cheating ourselves.

There is no reason why we can't hunt or fish as we always have—and add the great big PLUS of enjoying the other smaller, but no less important, parts of the outdoors.

Next time you are in the outdoors seeking relaxation, take time to watch the antics of a chipmunk, the busy activity of a songbird or perhaps the beauty of a late flower which has been missed by the frost.

Do this and you will find you have added a lot to what might otherwise have been just another routine day of hunting or fishing.

Washington Report

by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

A bi-partisan bill which has been introduced in the House of Representatives will go far in helping some 23 million older Americans on Social Security meet rising living costs.

The legislation was worked out in the House Ways and Means Committee and provides a general increase of 12.5 percent in benefits and a minimum increase of at least six dollars a month. These increases will take effect two months after passage of the bill, which is expected in this session of Congress. However, some other highlights of the bill:

—Maximum benefits of 168 dollars eventually payable under present law would rise to 180 dollars.

—The amount a person may earn without having his Social Security benefits withheld would be increased from 1,800 dollars annually to 1,680 dollars. I believe this to be only a minimal increase.

A good case can be made to eliminate this provision entirely.

—For Social Security benefit purposes, the pay of a person in the armed forces would be counted as 100 dollars a month more than actual earnings. Additional cost of paying benefits would be met from general revenues.

—New Medicaid restrictions are provided to protect the system against the cost resulting from State expansion of services to a large proportion of their populations.

—Incentives to seek work are written in for some categories of welfare beneficiaries.

—The amount of earnings which would be subject to tax and could be used in computation of benefits would be increased from the present $6,600 a year to $7,000 effective Jan. 1, 1968.

An increase in Social Security payments is essential for our older citizens on fixed incomes. They are tragic victims of the inflation spiral. That is why the Congress must enact increases this session—and I for one, intend to do what I can to secure favorable action now.

While this legislation has my support, it should be noted that a tax increase goes hand in hand with increased benefits—something which is too often overlooked when a program is expanded.

Under the measure, the combination 8.8 percent, would increase to 9.0 percent by 1971. This would increase by stages thereafter to 11.8 percent in 1987 and after.

Of course, there always exists the possibility that some future Congress would again raise the benefits—and the taxes—thereby increasing these percentages even more.

In addition, there are some things the bill doesn't do which should also be noted—I strongly believe that social security benefits should be tied to the cost of living and this bill fails in that regard. Also, it should be noted that the measure does nothing to improve the administration of social security which continues to foul up the payment process with red tape delays and bureaucratic inefficiencies.

Despite these omissions, the bi-partisan bill will go a long way in improving the financial situation of our senior citizens. I wholeheartedly endorse it and am pushing for early passage.

The war in Vietnam and more recently internal problems here at home have left us little time to focus attention on our allies in Western Europe. Yet, with increasing criticism of our nearly unilateral action in Southeast Asia, the time has come for a re-evaluation of our North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) alliance. The present Administration's policy has led to a crumbling of this once formidable anti-communist military force.

The Republican Task Force on Western Alliances recognized this problem when it recently adopted a policy statement which I authored. This group took this action after we held a two-hour in-depth session with former President Eisenhower, one of NATO's chief architects.

Our report discusses the serious state in which NATO finds itself today and warns that some of our European friends may drop out when the treaty expires in 1969. To prevent this, we must first provide for involvement by our allies in defense strategy. Second, NATO should begin to broaden its scope and concentrate on the solution of political, economic and social problems as well as those of a military nature.

Specifically in the area of defense involvement, my committee recommends:

—the establishment of a NATO "strategy council" to give Europeans a genuine role in determining NATO defense policy.

—an attempt to harmonize national policies and defense budgets of the NATO partners.

—a consideration of more equitable distribution of NATO command positions.

As to broadening NATO's scope, we suggest:

—revitalizing the NATO council as the principal instrument for allied political decision-making to resolve alliance problems, determine strategy as proposed by the "Strategy Council," and consult on crises within and outside the NATO sphere.

—a broadening of NATO council's responsibilities by authorizing it to seek inter-allied agreement and trade disarmament, German reunification, and central European security; aid to the underdeveloped countries, and other common issues.

This is the essence of what was a rather lengthy report. I would be glad to pass on the full text upon your request. NATO should not be allowed to deteriorate further and these steps would serve to strengthen our Western European relations. We have already floundered too long—reacting rather than acting. It's time to do something before it's too late.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

ESSENCE OF SIN

We are inclined to think of sin as some purposeful wrong deed, the willful act of doing something we ought not to do. Yet it is also true that the essence of sin is leaving undone some good thing that should be done.

We are told that the day of judgment will come for those who leave undone the good deed that needs doing. It is written of the last judgment that the King shall come in the glory of his Father with holy angels, and with all nations gathered before him, say unto those gathered on his left hand, "Depart from me . . . for I was a stranger and ye took me not in, I was hungry and ye fed me not, I was sick and in prison and ye visited me not."

While it is true that most of the commandments begin with "Thou shalt not," we must remember the answer Jesus gave to the question as to which was the greatest commandment in the law, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart."

We must love God in a positive way, our lives must establish a record of positive goodness.

Admission will be free to the Michigan State Fair for those attending the 8 a.m. Sunrise Service on Sunday, Aug. 27, in the Music Shell.

What can you do if you're in the middle of a paint job and the phone rings? Just tape paper towels around the phone and put a newspaper beneath it. The next time the phone rings, you can answer it without worrying about paint splatters.

Chelsea Area Ministers Will Meet Next Tuesday

All Chelsea area ministers are invited to meet at St. Paul United Church of Christ Tuesday morning, Aug. 29, at 7 a.m. The early hour is to enable those who work at other full-time jobs to meet with the group and still get to their jobs on time. Hot rolls and coffee will be served.

Due to the fact that there has been a heavy turnover of clergy in the area the past year, the group will have a great deal of re-organization to accomplish as well as a number of extremely vital concerns which demand a serious amount of consideration. For this reason all clergy, or lay representation from every religious institution in our area, are urged to make every effort to be present at this first meeting. Later meeting times will be discussed so that it will be convenient for the greatest number.

"Come and meet at least five of the new spiritual leaders of our areas," the Rev. Warner Siebert of St. Paul church, concluded in extending the invitation for this first meeting of Chelsea area ministers for the 1967-68 year.

LIFELINES:

EXAMPLE OR SAVIOUR

A man said to a minister of the Gospel, "I don't like your preaching. You are too morbid. Instead of constantly harping on the death of Christ you would do much more good by emphasizing the challenge of Jesus as Master and Example."

"Would you then be ready," he was asked, "if I preached Christ as Example, to follow Him?"

"Yes, I would follow His steps."

"Good. Let us take the first step. Here it is: 'Who did no sin.' Can you take that step?"

"No, I sin; I admit it."

"Then you do not need Christ as Example, but as Saviour." (Romans 1:16.)

Soap Box Derby Contestants Attend All-American Derby

Seven Chelsea boys who participated in the Jaycee-sponsored Soap Box Derby in Ann Arbor several weeks ago, were in Akron, O., Saturday for the All-American Soap Box Derby and saw a Washenaw county boy narrowly miss ninth place. The first nine place finishers shared in $30,000 of scholarships.

The Washenaw county boy was the 12-year-old Ann Arbor derby champion, Mike Christoff of 960 Honey Creek Dr. Only six inches lost him the second heat of the Akron competition after he had won the first heat by about a car's length.

For his efforts, Mike received a camera and a watch as a gift. In addition, Mike's father, one of a number of television personalities present for the occasion, had a special handshake for him.

Local champions from 244 communities in the United States, Canada, West Germany, Denmark, Venezuela, and the Philippines were entered in the competition.

Among the noted television personalities, was Adam West who is "Batman" in the TV program of that name. With the others he participated in an oil can trophy race which preceded the actual derby parade.

National winner of the derby Saturday was Kenneth Cline, 13, of Lincoln, Neb. He received as his prize a $7,500 scholarship while the runner-up, Howard Stanley Rannum III, of Aberdeen, Wash., received a $5,000 scholarship.

Cline won the final heat in 27.31 seconds, coming in ahead of the runner-up by less than one foot. A Michigan boy, Carl Clineckor of Lansing, won fourth place for which he won a scholarship of $2,000.

The Chelsea boys who were in Akron to see the derby race Saturday are Michael and Terry Kosowski, sons of the Alex Kosowski; Lee Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ferguson (of Old US-12); Waldo Steinaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Steinaway, Jr.; Harold Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moore; and Tim Merckel who is the Jack Merckel's son; and Terry Foster, son of the Robert L. Fosters.

With the boys were Alex Kosowski, Walter Brown who was on the Chelsea Jaycees derby committee with the derby chairman for the Chelsea Jaycees, Richard McUmber. The latter accompanied by his wife, also attended. They spent from Thursday until Saturday at Akron and attended a number of special banquets and other events planned for the pleasure of local and district Soapbox Derby champions. Chelsea Jaycees had co-operated with the Ann Arbor Jaycees in promoting the derby event at Ann Arbor. Washenaw county sponsor for the Ann Arbor Derby was Rammy Chevrolet, formerly Jim White, Inc. of Ann Arbor, while the over-all sponsor was Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corp.

With the McUmbers in Akron, also, were Mr. and Mrs. James Warren and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Splitt of the Ann Arbor Jaycees who were chaperons for Mike Christoff, the Ann Arbor derby champion.

GYPSY CAMP? No, this is an aerial view of St. Paul United Church of Christ on Old US-12 as it appeared during a week-end camping and picnic outing on the church grounds. In lower front center, is the large 20'x60' tent roof under which picnic tables were set up for the more than 200 people who were there for dinner.

FAMILIES CAMP OUT: A few of the camper trailers that were parked on the grounds of St. Paul UCC during the week-end camping and picnic outing held the week-end of Aug. 5 are seen here. The unusual outing was planned as a replacement for the old-fashioned Sunday school picnic which was held for many years.

St. Paul Church Members Enjoy Week-End Camporee

Members and friends of St. Paul United Church of Christ were treated to a most unusual experience the first week-end of the month of August. One member of the Chelsea Community was heard to say, "It looked like a band of gypsies had taken over the St. Paul church grounds!"

The St. Paul Department of Christian Education had planned to again institute the old-fashioned Church Sunday School Picnic with a few new wrinkles. These innovations included a camp-out by about 35 members in three trailers, two tent-trailers and about six tents, a song-fest on Saturday to the guitar strumming of Jean Botsford, the harmonious chorals of music director Bruce Galbraith and the foot-stomping polkas of Tim Whitesell's educated fingers on the accordion. The setting was enhanced by a bonfire, marshmallow and popcorn roast, and the eagerness and joy of both old and new campers getting each other's equipment since "their day."

Dr. James Shadoan flew over late in the afternoon to take some aerial pictures of the proceedings and many of the pictures of the day will be displayed in the narthex of St. Paul church on Sunday, Sept. 3, at 11 a.m.

The day was so exciting and successful, that already plans are being laid for an expanded St. Paul Church Camporee picnic next year.

Detailed County Maps Available From State Highway Commission

Lansing—The State Highway Commission's most popular publication is the official state highway map. But it also publishes hundreds of other maps and many of them are available to the public.

Among the best sellers—especially with sportsmen—are detailed maps of each of Michigan's 83 counties. These black-and-white maps come in two sizes—three-eighths of an inch to the mile and one-half inch to the mile.

The actual size of the three-eighths of an inch to the mile map is 36 by 42 inches in size. The county maps show all state highways and most county roads. In addition, they show section and township lines, airports, railroads, and lakes and streams.

All Lower Peninsula counties are contained on one map in both sizes. Eight Upper Peninsula counties are printed on two sheets while three Upper Peninsula counties are so large it takes three

Kiwanis Club Discusses Plan for Fair Participation

The Chelsea Community Fair was the topic of discussion at the Monday, Aug. 28 Kiwanis Club meeting.

Don Turner told of his progress in installing a new public address system which will provide for much better amplification. The system includes the use of underground cable, new speakers and will have a special amplifier cover that Turner is building.

Floyd P. Fowler reported on the addition of a tent to the dining facilities. He said that the new building and fair improvements would be financed in part from the sale of a steer.

The meeting was adjourned early so that members who had not voted in the school millage election could do so.

Next week the meeting will be held Tuesday evening Sept. 5 with Sheriff Douglas Harvey speaking.
