Mid Team Out by Dundee

Travel to Carleton
Friday Evening for League Game

Chelsea High's football team was hosts for the game against the Dundee Vikings Friday night and lost the game to the Vikings 20-0. Chelsea's record for the season is 1-4, now stands 1-5.

Chelsea opened the game by kicking the ball to the Dundee line. John Powers swept right end for five yards and on the second play, Powers with a pass covering Mike Harvey hit and fumbled the ball to the Dundee 20-yard line. An attempted pass was blocked and the Dundee took over the ball.

The first half proved quite a struggle as neither team was able to score. The second half was an offensive threat, but Dundee drove to Chelsea's 20-yard line.

Dundee got its first big break when it held Chelsea for three deep in their own territory. The fourth down, Chelsea had the snap from center and had the ball on the Chelsea 10-yard line. With 1:09 left in the first half, Dundee halfback Furrow went 10 yards for a first down.

At the extra point was missed, making the half-time score Dundee 6, Chelsea 0.

The third quarter was still a battle as the defensive teams played both offensive teams. The fourth quarter proved fatal for Chelsea as they ran only offensive plays in the quarter.

Dundee turned a loose fumble into a Viking score two minutes into the fourth quarter. Dundee intercepted a pass, returned it to Chelsea's six-yard line and finally swept end for a score. The final TD came from a short yardage sweep by Dundee who had recovered an Chelsea fumble.

The Bulldogs were again unable to mount an offensive threat. The second shutout the Bulldogs have suffered this season.

The defensive team showed improvement, led by Kerry Kargel who had credit for 11 tackles, Greg Pines, Roy Holiday, Mark Lanier and Larry Blackwell.

Chelsea's first away game was Sept. 29, traveling to Carleton on Friday. Game time 7:30 p.m.

Because of number of inquiries, the best way to reach Carleton Coach Barlow has given directions as follows: 1-94 east to Flat Rock-Romulus exit; left that exit to the second intersection (Continued on page three)

World-Wide Communion Day Scheduled Oct. 1

World-Wide Communion Sunday will be observed in churches around the globe on Oct. 1. The observance, which occurs on the first Sunday of October each year, began in 1930 when the Presbyterian Church USA, now known as the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, held the first World-Wide Communion among the churches of its own denomination. The first interdenominational World-Wide Communion was observed in 1940.

Name Change Proposed for Local Roads

A hearing was held in the Sylvan Town Hall Monday, Sept. 25 at 8:00 p.m. to discuss changing the names of Yorkman and Conlin Roads to McKinley Rd. No objections were raised, according to Howard Minier, managing director of the Washtenaw County Road Commission.

The present McKinley St. dead-ends into Yorkman, which turns into northbound Conlin. The name change would unify these roads under one name to eliminate confusion.

Minier will recommend to the Board of Road Commissioners that the names be changed. If this is approved, an advertisement stating the change will be run in the Chelsea Standard for three weeks prior to the actual change.

Girl Scout Leaders Plan Fall Events

The Girl Scout Neighborhood meeting was held Monday, Sept. 25 at the First Congregational Church, with Field Director Ivy Reed and 20 members present.

A report of the Neighborhood shows three Brownie troops, two Junior troops, and one Senior troop in the active status at the present time.

Items discussed were the calendar and training dates, troop program and finance, the ordering of badges, the calendar sale, and it was announced that registrations are due Nov. 1.

A uniform exchange date was set up for Wednesday, Oct. 18 from 8:30 to 5:30 p.m. to be held in the "Penhouse."

The Chelsea Neighborhood Day will be held Saturday, Oct. 31 from 12 to 2:30 p.m. at Pierce Park with Mrs. Leslie Eisenbeiser as chairman. (Continued on page six)

Used Toy Drive Now Underway

Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary's toy drive is now in full swing. The drop-box placed near the doors at Stop & Shop has proved very beneficial to all concerned and the response has been heartwarming. "We have received many beautiful dolls, games, sports equipment, and other toys," Jaycettes spokesmen stated.

The larger, repairable toys are repaired by the inmates at Cassidy Lake Technical School. All the toys have to be out of their shops by Nov. 1. If anyone wishes to contribute larger toys in need of repair, they are urged to bring them to the drop-box as soon as possible. If the drop-box is not convenient, call Mrs. Robert Updegraff, 475-7481 after noon or Mrs. Arthur Steinaway, 475-8851 for pick-up.

Cassidy Lake Seeks Lay Counselors

"Would you like to help rehabilitate a first offender so that he might not return to prison again?" The question was posed Monday evening at the Kiwanis club meeting.

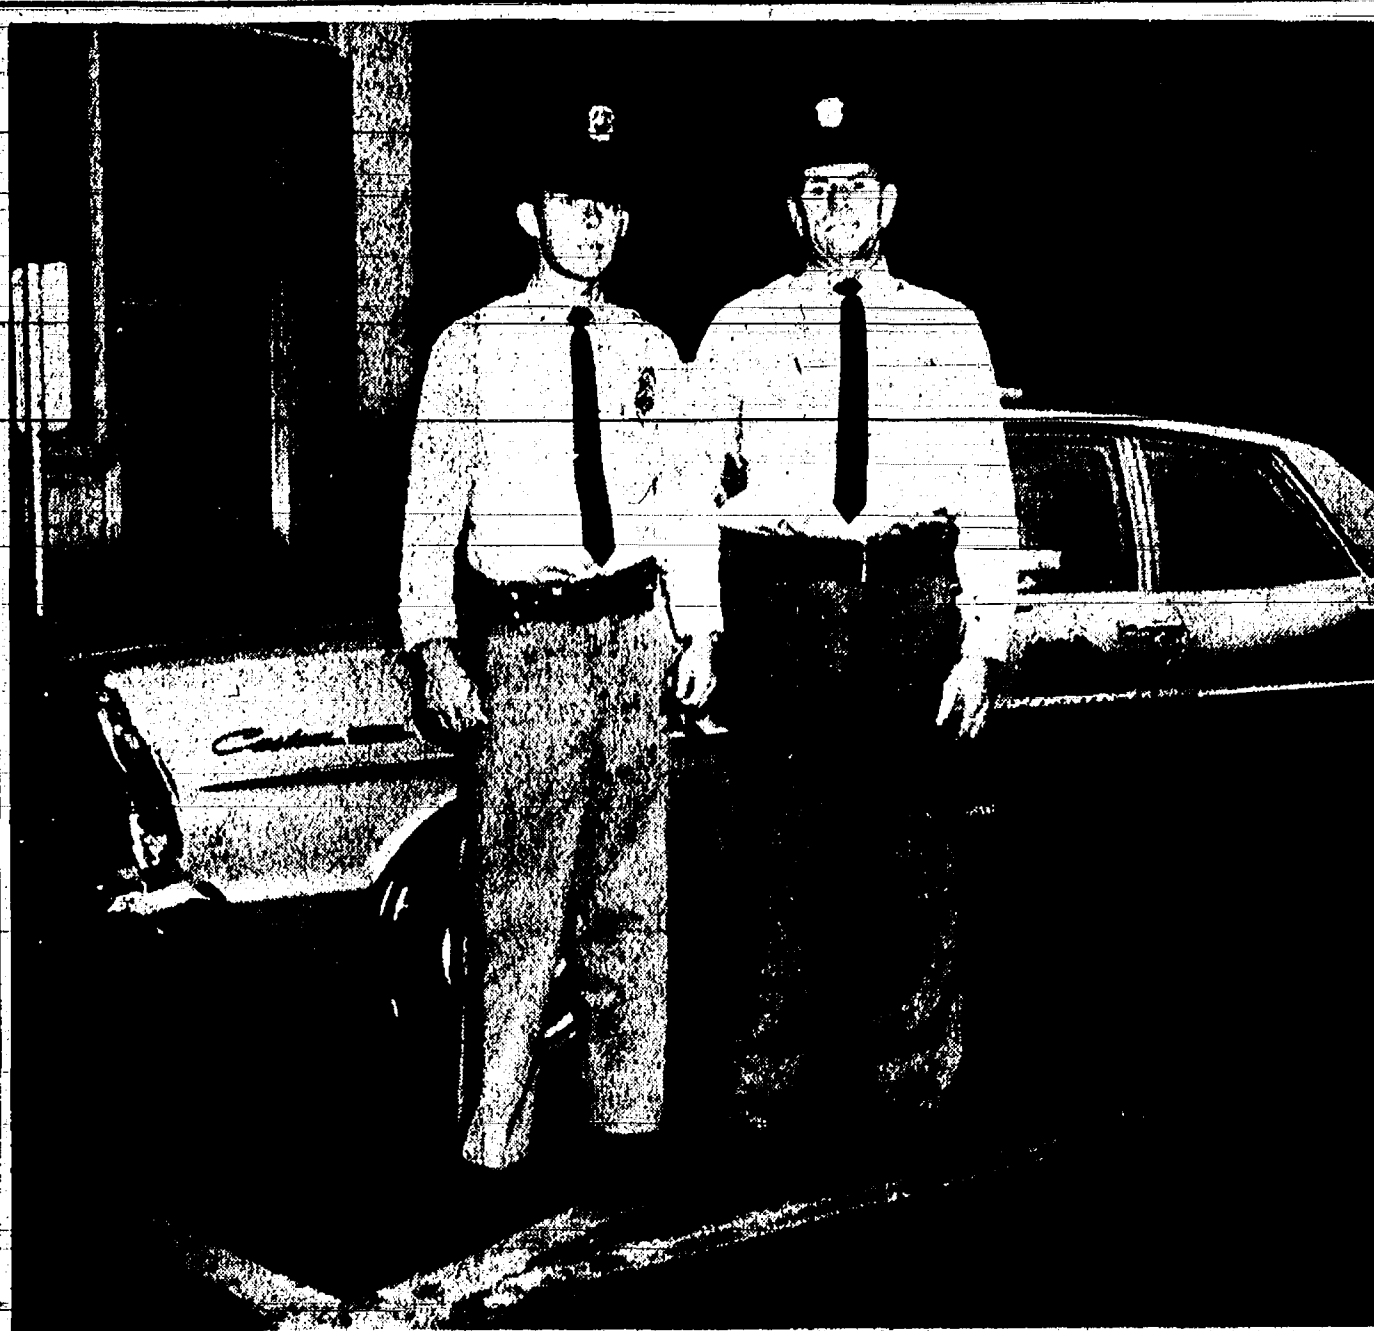

Cassidy Lake Technical School, a state correctional institution near Chelsea, is looking for volunteer group counselors to help guide their students to better life adjustments, according to Jeremiah MacDougall, acting administrator of the Cassidy Lake Technical School and speaker at the meeting.

The third quarter was still an counselor program.

The lay counselors are community members who volunteer to work one evening a week in small group discussions. A great value is achieved by involving a volunteer who is not a part of the prison system, with the rehabilitation process. The volunteer counselors will work in pairs with eight or 10 students discussing problems that are important to the student. Those interested in volunteering should call MacDougall at 475-3971 for more information.

Announcement was made at Monday's meeting that tickets to the Kiwanis Travelogue Series are still available although a sell-out is predicted. The income from the sale of travelogue tickets helps to finance a major part of the community service budget of the Chelsea Kiwanis club.

Next week's meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. at St. Paul United Church of Christ and will honor all teachers who are new to the Chelsea school system.

Firemen Respond To Call for Help On Straw Stack

Three Chelsea fire trucks responded to a call 1:30 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 27 on Fletcher Rd. near Pleasant Lake Rd. The Manchester fire department had asked for Chelsea's help to put out what looked like burning buildings. The fire was actually consuming only a straw stack and several stumps.

From a distance the blaze had appeared to be much larger. The three Chelsea trucks and one Manchester truck put out the fire in an hour, with little damage reported. The other two Manchester fire trucks were at a nearby site handling another straw fire.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

Considering increased criticism about the laxness of the 90th Congress, it's ironic that legislation which would revitalize this great body has been collected just in the House Rules Committee.

The congressional reorganization bill, a product of almost two years of significant study by a joint committee, was passed by the Senate on March 7 of this year. This represented a giant step forward in much needed Congressional reform and was encouraged by those of us who have been calling for reform. Since that time, however, it has become increasingly clear that the powers in the House have little or no interest in modernizing Congress. The leadership apparently has decided to keep the bill bottled up in committee indefinitely.

It is interesting to note that some of those doing the obstructing are the same powers that lament the seeming inability of Congress to come to grips with modern problems. The hidden agenda is that much of the bill deals with the institution of more democratic procedures—something which the House leadership and dispartisan power held by the House of Representatives.

The 11-page bill delves into almost every single internal function of Congress and contains much needed improvements. Highlights of the measure include a bill of rights for committee members to do away with the arbitrary decisions by the chairmen; the implementation of effective fiscal controls and budgetary reforms; protection of mobility rights; greater assistance for members in the performance of their duties; and the establishment of a permanent joint committee on operations to undertake a continuing review of Congressional structures.

These and other reforms were adopted unanimously by a bipartisan committee which was staffed by experts including former Congressman George Meader. The committee held some 41 public hearings at which 199 witnesses testified. This testimony together with countless other studies and documents is set forth in 16 printed volumes totaling some 2,400 pages. Despite the weight of this evidence and overwhelming approval by the Senate, the House continues to sit on this vital piece of legislation.

Surely, if Congress is to face the problems of the 70's it needs to be revitalized. And surely, if Congress is to retain its place as the first branch of government and restore balance to our system, its structures and procedures must be improved. I will continue to push for such action and hope the House will soon recognize its vital responsibility to act.

Aerial Photographs Available to Hunters

Shoe hunting season is drawing near. Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stationization and Conservation state committee, would like to remind all hunters that it is possible to get an aerial photograph of the area in which they plan to hunt.

These aerial photographs cover an area of about nine square miles and cost from $1 to $7 depending on the size of the enlargement that the hunter desires.

In past years, hunters who have used these aerial photographs have been very pleased with them. They are much better than maps because they actually show the types of trees and terrain in the area. They also show the small trails, streams, and lakes, which is very helpful, especially in a northern, unfamiliar area.

Anyone wishing to order an aerial photograph should contact his local county ASCS office or the Michigan ASCS state office in East Lansing.

Waterfront Conservation. Debris, Pollution, Stagnation. Stench—These steps rapidly turn beautiful inland lakes and rivers into smelly, unsightly cesspools. Communities once proud of their attractive waterfronts now see all sorts of rubbish crowd out green and wooded shoreline. Sparkling blue water becomes sluggish and brown.

Biff, forward-looking communities can deal with such conditions. Public-spirited citizens can restore and maintain original beauty through community cooperation. The city of Owosso, using local volunteer labor, has completed its second annual cleanup of 3 1/2 miles of Shiawassee River shoreline.

An editorial in the Owosso Argus-Press on May 7, 1965, pointed out that the city's "Cleanup Week" might include improving the appearance in the Shiawassee River.

Nothing was done that year, but in July of 1966 the Shiawassee River Assn. proposed a community-wide river cleanup. The city proclaimed July 30-31 Owosso "River Days" and under the leadership of local attorney James S. Minor, citizens rolled up their sleeves.

Businesses and the Argus-Press promoted the project throughout the month, and more than 500 persons turned out to restore charm and cleanliness to the river and shoreline.

The city supplied a bulldozer to deepen the river and level washed banks. City and privately-owned trucks were used to haul away junk and debris. Refreshments and food were furnished to workers by residents living along the river. Teen-age workers outnumbered adults. Crews cleared more than a mile of riverbank as the first step toward building a riverside walkway from the east city limits to downtown.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Most of the session at the country store Saturday night was took up by Ed Doolittle and Zeke Grubb expounding on the evils of our times. Ain't neither one of 'em ever had it so good but to hear 'em talk you would think they was just afore getting swallowed by the whale that got pore old Jonah.

Ever time Ed goes by the bank to pay a little on his note he buys a copy of the Wall Street Journal off'n somebody there. You can always tell when he has been to the bank on account of he brings a few $10. words to the section at the store.

Saturday night, for instance, he reported we was approaching a stage of "hospitalitis" in the country. He told the fellows he had saw this piece where it would cost $50 a day in the hospital by 1970 and $70 by 1975.

Ed said he had a heap of respect for doctors and the medic profession but they was getting to be victims of our new Great Society thinking. He claimed the more it cost the faster doctors was sending folks to the hospital. He said in the old days, if a feller was sick, the doctor would come by the house one day, give him some pills and the feller would be up and back at work in a week. But, now, allowed Ed, if a feller had roomatism in his big toe the doctor would put him in the hospital and keep him in what they call "intensive care" for a week.

Zeke was agreed with Ed, said the more it cost at the hospital the more they was getting over-flowed. He predicted the time was coming when the only feller past 50 year old in a community that still had his appendicks, gall bladder and tonsils would be the doctor.

And another thing, said Zeke, we was starting to suffer from what Ed and the Wall Street Journal would call "postalitis." He had took note where it was going to cost 5 cents to mail a post card. He reported this piece in the papers said the Post Office Department was now running $1.2 billion in the red and letters was going to cost 6 cent and air mail 10 cent. He was of the opinion we might have to call off the war again poverty for about two year to bail the Post Office out from closing down complete.

Personal, Mister Editor, I figger Ed and Zeke was just trying to make big talk lamenting and complaining about these matters. Both of them was covered with Medicare and "hospitalitis" is the least of their worries. Furthermore, ain't neither one of them mailed a post card in 10 year. They want today at yesterday's prices. In a manner of speaking, what they would like to do is to steal home with their foot on third base.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Thursday, Sept. 26, 1963—

Chelsea Community Chest's goal for 1963 is $17,168 according to co-chairmen Thomas McClear and Arden Musbach. The campaign begins Oct. 17 and ends Nov. 7. Proceeds of the fund raising drive will be distributed to 11 agencies in the community. Committee chairman named as of this date are Donald Baldwin and William March. Industries: Robert Barlow, business; Charles Cameron schools and Mrs. Laurence Noah, rural, news.

Chelsea High school principal Charles Lane has received unofficial word that Linda Killham, a former student here is one of the semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition. She took the preliminary examination while a junior last year at Chelsea High school. She is enrolled this year at Shimer College at Mt. Carroll, Ill., a school that accepts advanced students if they are able to pass the entrance examination even if they have not graduated from high school. This is the first time since the National Merit Scholarships have been awarded that a Chelsea High school student has reached semi-final competition.

The Chelsea Chamber of Commerce's annual area color tour is all set to start as signs will be put up this week-end to show visitors the color tour route.

Anton Nielsen and J. V. Burg, II, are in charge of posting the signs with the help of other C. C. members. In connection with the color tour, the Jaycees will stage their annual barbecue on Oct. 13 at Turke Park. This will attract tourists or area residents who wish to take the color tour.

Long-term goals call for 15 million smelter, 30 million from hatcheries and 15 million from private hatching in Michigan streams.

The problem is financing. Some Federal funds are available on a match-money basis, but the entire project is estimated at $29,500,000. The lion's share would have to be financed with state monies since there is a ceiling on Federal participation.

If financing were made available this fiscal year it would still be 1975 before full effects of the project would be felt, Dr. Tody said.

The solution to the problem rests with the people. Legislators respond to constituents. If the people wish to eliminate alewife littering beaches, clogging water intake lines and depressing more desirable species of fish, they must make their wishes known.

Chelsea's Bulldogs opened the Washtenaw Conference race with an impressive 20-9 win over the University High school Cubs in Ann Arbor last Saturday night. Coach Jim Bedford, very pleased with his team's performance, commented, "When you can hold a team which scored 61 points in its first ball game to a 20-9 victory, you must recognize a job well done. There was no single defensive stand-out, there were many. John Raul, Jeff Flintoff, Earl Walker, Jeff Spaulding, Owen Wierman, Mike Sullivan, Jim Cameron, Wayne Porath, Dick McCalla, Dick Lashore, Mike Tashore, Dave Friesinger and Curt Farley were outstanding on defense."

Mrs. William Davidson, a lifetime resident of this vicinity, observed her 90th birthday Saturday. About 70 years ago she taught in the "Little Red Schoolhouse" which has recently been moved to the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds. Mrs. Davidson is the oldest member of the Chelsea Congregational church, having been a member since she was 13 years old. She is a member of the Women's Fellowship and Mayflower Chapter of the church, also.

Fifty firemen fought and brought under control a fire at the Chelsea Spring Plant Friday evening. Plant officials praised the quick response of the Chelsea Fire Department and cited this as a factor in the prevention of the complete destruction of the plant.

Minutes after Chelsea's three trucks arrived, the Cassidy-Lake Truck with 15 firemen reached the scene and then two trucks from Dexter got here with another 15 men. The three departments, with some help from the Stockbridge apparatus, brought the blaze under control. Also, three Manchester fire trucks and one each from Jackson, Ann Arbor, and the Chrysler-Proving Ground stood by in case they were needed. Jackson's fire chief came along with the truck and offered his help. Local firemen remained on the scene until 4 a.m. and then went back the next day to clean up. Fire Chief Ted Balmer suffered first and second degree acid solution burns on his right leg from the ankle to the hip. He also suffered some burns on his face. Assistant Chief Kenneth Schanz, who took over when Balmer left to be treated for his injuries, said it was the worst fire he had ever had to fight.

Mrs. Dudley Holmes, Chelsea Blood Bank chairman, reported the recent blood donor clinic here was a huge success as 185 pints of blood were collected. In addition, 48 local people offered to contribute but were rejected because of slight colds and other temporary reasons. Ninety-three pints, one-half the blood procured will remain here for use in the Chelsea area.

Chelsea High School's grades dropped the opening game of the season to Dexter, 31-24, last Friday evening. The Bulldogs lost 14-7 at the half and 21-14 at the end of the third quarter. The scores by Dexter in the last quarter brought victory to the Drumhunts. Dexter's left half back, Bob Lange scored on a run of 80 and 35 yards in the first quarter to add to the two touchdowns he scored earlier in the game. Dexter's halfback, Nixon, Bob Keger and Walter Boagie showed creditable defensive prowess. Phil Bares, right end, showed a knack for breaking up reverse plays. Chelsea players are Don Procter and Bertke.

Chelsea's Bulldogs opened the Washtenaw Conference race with an impressive 20-9 win over the University High school Cubs in Ann Arbor last Saturday night. Coach Jim Bedford, very pleased with his team's performance, commented, "When you can hold a team which scored 61 points in its first ball game to a 20-9 victory, you must recognize a job well done. There was no single defensive stand-out, there were many. John Raul, Jeff Flintoff, Earl Walker, Jeff Spaulding, Owen Wierman, Mike Sullivan, Jim Cameron, Wayne Porath, Dick McCalla, Dick Lashore, Mike Tashore, Dave Friesinger and Curt Farley were outstanding on defense."

YOUR INCOME TAX

Editor's Note: This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Detroit District Office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked.

A. No, the extension of time excuses you from the penalties for not filing a timely return. The law requires interest to be assessed on taxes that are not paid when they are due and this cannot be prevented by obtaining an extension of time.

Q. I have my own business. How much may I put aside each year for retirement?

A. You may put as much as $2,500 a year into a plan or 10 percent of your "earned income," whichever is less. However, only one-half of this amount may be deducted. For tax years beginning after Dec. 31, 1967, the full amount of the permissible contribution may be deducted.

Q. My uncle has been our dependent for several years. Does the fact that he has turned 65 give me another dependency exemption?

A. No. You are entitled to one exemption for your uncle when he qualifies as your dependent. His age does not give you an extra exemption. This extra exemption may be taken only on a taxpayer's own return when he or his spouse is 65 or over.

Q. What kind of records do you need to establish a theft loss? Our house was broken into while we were away on vacation.

A. To establish a deduction for a theft loss you must: (1) show the date the theft was discovered; (2) show the property was stolen and not lost or mislaid; (3) establish ownership; (4) show evidence of value of property; (5) show any amount taken not allowable for depreciation; and (6) show the amount of insurance or other compensation for the loss received or recoverable.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

What does being an American mean to you? Does it mean what the following words express? The words were seen on a plaque in an office of a friend of ours.

"I do not choose to be a common man. It is my duty to be an uncommon man; if I can. I seek opportunity, not security. I choose not to be a kept citizen, humbled and dulled by having government look after me. I choose to take the calculated risk, to dream and to build to fail and succeed. I refuse to barter incentive for dole. I prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence, the thrill of fulfillment to the stale calm of Utopia. I will not trade my freedom for beneficence, nor my dignity for a hand-out. I will never cower before any master, nor bend to any threat. It is my heritage to stand erect, proud and unafraid; to act and think for myself; to enjoy the fruits of creation, facing the world boldly and saying: 'This I have done! This is what it means to be an American!'"

Thank goodness, one of the privileges in being an American is that you have a right to agree or disagree, either in part or in whole, with the words quoted . . . BURGHARDT-FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Eng. Esch's Questionnaire Finds Opposition to Tax Hike

Representative Marvin L. Esch, D-Mich., released the results of his "Opinion, Please" Questionnaire, which he surveyed among 15 major district citizens on 15 major issues of the 90th Congress. The questionnaire was sent to every postal address in each of the 15 major districts, including the cities of Detroit, Dearborn, Livonia, Farmington Hills, Westland, Warren, and Eastland, as well as the city of Plymouth and the city of Farmington Hills.

Other four points. The total percentage on this and a few other questions exceeded 100 percent because many people checked more than one alternative.

Forty-four percent found the present draft law to be unfair. When presented with various plans to reform selective service, some 43 percent favored both the application of uniform national criteria and a form of universal service providing a choice between the military and some sort of social service. A proposal to end student deferments received a 38 percent approval; a lottery system was favored by only 22 percent; and the idea of a voluntary professional army was checked by 29 percent of those responding.

On Social Security, 42 percent favored an 8 percent increase in benefits tied to the cost of living while 48 percent opposed a 20 percent increase with the necessary increase in tax rates. The House of Representatives recently passed a 12.5 percent benefit increase.

A general lack of information on the proposal to replace the National Labor Relations Board with a "labor court" caused some 29 percent of the respondents not to express an opinion. Thirty-six percent said yes and 30 percent said no.

Each also reported that a unique feature of his poll which allowed both husband and wife to answer by means of "his" and "hers" columns was also successful. Many people expressed their appreciation for both adult members being able to respond separately. "Although there wasn't any great divergence between the men and the women, I found the ladies slightly more dovish on the war, more opposed to the tax increase, less inclined to cut back beautification spending and more inclined to control firearms," Esch said.

Some 2,500 persons took the Congressman up on his suggestion to elaborate on their views and included extended comments and ideas. Esch is writing a personal reply to each of these persons. The Ann Arbor Republican termed this his first questionnaire effort, a success and announced that he plans to repeat the process again next year. He invited constituents to send him their suggestions for questions to be included in the next poll and their ideas as to how the format might be improved.

"My only hope," said Esch, "is that citizens will not think that this vehicle is their only opportunity to express their views. I look forward to receiving opinion mail at any time and I hope constituents will write me frequently."

Former Chelsea Resident Sells Chair to Bing Crosbys

Moritz F. Brueckner, a former Chelsea resident and now the vice-president, sales, of La-Z-Boy, found a famous couple to take part in a special chair promotion for his firm. When Brueckner heard that Bing Crosby and his wife Kathryn wouldn't endorse anything unless they sincerely believed in it, Brueckner considered them as good potential participants in the promotion.

"They seemed to be natural for La-Z-Boy," said Brueckner. "Bing's trademark is the feeling of relaxation he conveys through his speech and mannerisms. Kathryn represents what every American housewife would like to be—famous, beautiful, and gracious."

Once contacted, Bing and Kathryn wanted to find out as much as they could about La-Z-Boy chairs before making a decision. Brueckner forwarded a large portfolio of information to them, which they reviewed with their business manager.

After carefully studying the portfolio of information, the Crosbys agreed to take part in the La-Z-Boy chair promotion, including an album titled "Songs of Christmas" to be made available to potential customers by 5,000 La-Z-Boy dealers from coast to coast, including Market Bros. Furniture in Chelsea.

Once the contract was signed in January, 1967, a topnotch photo agency was contacted in California and arrangements were made for a shooting session at the Crosby home. La-Z-Boy Recliners and Continental La-Z-Loungers were shipped direct to the Crosbys. Meanwhile, the art department of Marvin Hahn, Inc., La-Z-Boy's advertising agency, worked up a series of drawings of the actual poses for Bing and Kathryn's approval.

On the day of the photography session, Brueckner, La-Z-Boy president E. M. Knabusch, and Marvin Hahn, president of Marvin Hahn, Inc., were present in the Crosby home.

"Everybody in the Crosby home was extremely gracious," said Brueckner. After the shooting session, Kathryn Crosby invited Brueckner and his associates to join herself and Bing in some refreshments, which were beautifully served by Kathryn herself.

A long-time resident of Chelsea, Brueckner moved with his parents from Alpena to Chelsea in 1920 at the age of seven. He graduated from Chelsea High school in 1937, and went on to Western Michigan University.

In 1941, Brueckner was drafted into the Army with which he served in the European Theatre for 34 months. At the time of his discharge in 1946, he had attained the rank of captain.

His father is the well-known Rev. Moritz W. Brueckner, who was pastor of the Zion Lutheran church in Chelsea for more than 30 years.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 88
Cadette Troop No. 88 met Sept. 18 at the Penthouse with 19 members present. Due to conflicting activities our meeting night will be changed to Tuesday with our next meeting being Oct. 3 at 8:45 to 5 p.m. Dues remain at 15 cents per week. We listed fun activities and discussed service projects. Cadettes were asked to bring pictures taken during our June camping trip to our next meeting. Patrols will be formed and officers elected on Oct. 3.

SPRAY PAINTING

When spraying aerosol paints, do not hold the can too close to the surface. This can result in overpainting, as well as dripping and running. Best results are achieved by spraying very thin, wet coats, and allowing drying time between each.

You are not your neighbor's keeper but you can put in some time trying to be your own keeper.

Red Cross County Board Will Meet

Washtenaw County Red Cross Operations Center will be the meeting place of the county board of directors scheduled Tuesday, Oct. 10 at 6:15 p.m.

A presentation on disaster will include an assembly of emergency equipment available to the Washtenaw county area.

Among special guests, all who will register in a Paradome as disaster victims might during an emergency, will be Elmer Revell, disaster director for the southeastern Michigan chapter. Revell handled Red Cross participation in the recent Detroit disturbances.

Guests will also be served a meal typical of that which they might receive during a disaster. As well as county board members, the public is invited. Reservations may be made by calling 662-5546.

VARY MEAT PIE

Pastry can cover meat pies but so can biscuit dough which may be cut into a variety of shapes. You can also top meat pie with a cornmeal batter to give novelty to this old favorite.

Milk Production Records Told for Area Holsteins

A report of milk production levels attained by dairy cows in area herds has been received from Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The actual food production output under official testing rules:

by these local Registered Holsteins:

Stillwood Fobes Dewdrop, 544-4931, a four-year-old owned by Wesley Amsdill, Dexter, produced 18,060 lbs. of milk and 627 lbs. of butterfat in 335 days.

Leo-Bur Pontiac Lady, 541-1837, a three-year-old, produced 17,130 lbs. of milk and 635 lbs. of butterfat in 351 days. Leo-Bur Pontiac Lassie, 5691971, a three-year-old, had 18,680 lbs. of milk and 618 lbs. of butterfat in 327 days. Both are owned by Leonard Burmeister, Ann Arbor.

Daisy Radar Maid, 5964364, a five-year-old owned by George Macomber, 6-Sons, Ann Arbor, produced 20,260 lbs. of milk and 728 lbs. of butterfat in 308 days.

Green Acre P G Diana, 5479926, a four-year-old owned by Lowell Spike, Manchester, produced 18,220 lbs. of milk and 639 lbs. of butterfat in 340 days.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 5,513 lbs. of milk and 315 lbs. of butterfat by the average U.S. dairy cow, notes the National Holstein Association.

Michigan State University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in cooperation with the Holstein organization's herd and breed improvement programs.

The worse kind of fog to endure is to encounter a talkative brother in a mental fog.

On the day of the photography session, Brueckner, La-Z-Boy president E. M. Knabusch, and Marvin Hahn, president of Marvin Hahn, Inc., were present in the Crosby home.

"Everybody in the Crosby home was extremely gracious," said Brueckner. After the shooting session, Kathryn Crosby invited Brueckner and his associates to join herself and Bing in some refreshments, which were beautifully served by Kathryn herself.

Federal "credibility gaps" and "brainwashing" charges are bad enough but when it spreads to Michigan, that's just too much. Despite the fact that he is a friend, Dr. Wayne Tody, chief of the Conservation Department's fish division, has been getting his stories mixed up, too, and we get compelled to set the record straight. His coho salmon figures just don't hold water.

Remember back in April of 1966 when the first cohoes were released into Bear Creek and the Platte and Big Huron rivers? By fall, some of these "jacks" young male salmon may weigh as much as three pounds," said Wayne.

He was wrong. Five months later, some of those jacks weighed in at 8 pounds. Boy, how wrong can a guy be?

He tried again, though. "By the fall of 1967, some of these cohoes may weigh as much as 10 pounds apiece," he proclaimed. And fishermen believed him.

But this past August, that's when the trouble began. Manistee and Frankfort began to bring in cohoes averaging 12 to 15 pounds, with some ranging as high as 23 pounds. All of this, of course, has had a terrible effect upon Michigan fishermen, most of whom like to lie a little about the fish they catch. These fish have been running bigger than the lies, which is rather demoralizing.

Picture if you can the sad spectacle of fishermen swarming onto Lake Michigan by the boatloads, armed with tackle designed to handle "little fish" of only 5 or 6 pounds, only to run into fighting monsters of incredible size. How about the plight of the average guy who comes to shore with his limit of two salmon that may weigh over 15 pounds apiece, only to find they won't even fit in his fish cooler? Who ever heard of such a thing?

Bait dealers are also in an awful position. They can't stock up as fast as the salmon tear them off the fisherman's tackle. Bob Heffner, Beulah dealer, has had additional troubles. As a special service, he stocked a bunch of plastic bags 30 inches long so fishermen could freeze their salmon in them. The bags aren't long enough! He now has a rush order in for some 40 inches long but wonders what will happen when the bigger, faster growing chinook salmon start to show up.

Wayne Tody claims the chinooks should average 25 pounds apiece when adult. He should know by now, though, that nobody is going to believe that one. He has guessed wrong too many times so when he says 25 pounds most fishermen will like that figure in their own minds.

Deacon, Wayne, this credibility gap of yours has got to stop! It isn't fair to fishermen to get them in the mood to catch 5 and 6-pound salmon, only to have them come home in a state of shock from catching 15 and 20-pounders.

If things keep on like this, first thing you know all fishermen will quit lying. And when that happens, half the fun will go out of fishing!

There is no limit to the amount of money some people think the government can spend.

4-H Clubs Now Organizing For Start of New Club Year

Success stories of youth in 4-H work are all around us. Young people growing up with curious, active minds and hearts who hold the promise of the future for all of us can be found in every community in our area. They are 4-Hers who strive "to make the best better" as they grow into adulthood.

4-H is a family affair, with Mom and Dad interested in what's going on in 4-H youth work. They may be adult leaders of a local 4-H club, serve on parent committees for that club, or help as an activity leader when needed. They're usually busy, too, working with their own kids as well as the neighbors' in projects as varied as the interests of kids.

The local 4-H club is the focal point for group activity. Learning the ABC's of conducting a meeting, demonstrating a particular skill, recreation, and getting to know one another are all important activities of a successful club. Members, leaders and parents all contribute to the planning of the yearly program.

This is the time of year when 4-H clubs are organizing for the club year which begins Oct. 1. If you are interested in sharing your interest and faith in youth, join

AGRICULTURE In Action

by M. L. Wolf

Farming in the 60's

Ask any farmer . . . it's nearly impossible to farm in the 60's with an income equal to that of the 30's. Yet this is what is happening in agriculture today—and is the cause of the great farm unrest which worries politicians from Podunk Corners to the corners of the Potomac.

Years ago, the government set up a system to measure how well farmers do in the market place. Since then, "parity" has become a part of the farming business, with a full 100 percent the elusive goal. If the parity index for farmers ever reaches 100, it will mean that farmers' incomes are then at the same level as those of business and industry.

The 4-H youth program is part of the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University, the pioneer Land Grant University. All materials, publications, and leader helps are available free of charge of the Extension Office in the County Building, Ann Arbor.

Extension 4-H youth staff members are eager, willing and able to give you the assistance you require.

What major changes have occurred in farm prices since that time? Farm wage rates are more than eight times higher than they were 33 years ago. Taxes paid by farmers (per acre) are up almost five times and living expenses are up almost three times what they were.

Farm incomes are up, too, but not high enough to raise the parity ratio above what it was in the depression days of 1934. Current wheat prices are at their lowest point in 25 years, and have been under the U.S. loan rate of $1.25 per bushel, bringing some Michigan farmers less than their actual cost of production. The farmer's own great productivity, encouraged by official government policies, has worked against him, with markets now glutted and grain bins overflowing.

All of which has prompted the board of directors of the Michigan Farm Bureau to suggest that growers plant less wheat this fall if they expect a reasonable return for their efforts next year.

It is thought that a 20 percent acreage cut in the midwest soft wheat crop could mean a price hike of up to 25 cents per bushel.

LIFELINES:

When A Man Cannot Be Pardoned

In 1829 George Wilson, in Pennsylvania, was sentenced by the United States Court to be hanged for robbing the mails, and murder. President Andrew Jackson pardoned him, but the pardon was refused. Wilson insisted that he was not pardoned unless he accepted it. That was a point of law never raised before and the President called on the Supreme Court to decide. Chief Justice John Marshall gave the following decision: "A pardon is a paper, the value of which depends upon its acceptance by the person implicated. If it is refused, it is no pardon. George Wilson must be hanged. Provisionally, the Gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation to everyone, irrespective of what he has done; potentially it is only to everyone that believeth," and accepts its provisions. — Romans 1:16.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

PEACE

Some of us are beginning to worry less about world peace. We now have to devote worrying time to peace in our own nation, in our own city, and sometimes, in our own neighborhood.

For many of our citizens, peace is no longer just a word. It is a part of the American dream suddenly in jeopardy. For some citizens, rioting in the streets is no longer a newspaper illustration; it is a local reality, or a local threat. Many who have in the past declared that "it cannot happen here" are no longer so sure.

There is a need for missionaries. Missionaries for peace. Each man within the boundaries of the world in which he lives, within the confines of his own conscience, must determine what it is that he can do for peace—and then go out and do it.

Every Christian should work for peace. How? Begin by living a Christian life. Carry with you, wherever you go, a real Christian attitude. Pray for peace. Ask God for guidance—guidance for yourself, guidance for others.

The realization of peace may be compared to the achievement of a happy marriage. It demands an agreeable association, a partnership which is only achieved when the need is "our" need, not "my" need, when the problem is "our" problem, not "mine," not "yours."

Police Chief Talks To Jaycee Auxiliary On Child Safety

Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary, at the regular meeting Tuesday evening, Sept. 19, had as guest speaker, Chelsea's police chief, George Meranuck, who presented a program on the topic "Safety." He stated that Chelsea's crime rate is one of the lowest in the area and that programs, such as the "Helping Hands" project sponsored by the Auxiliary, help the community keep it that way.

Chief Meranuck pointed out some of the problems a child faces when going to and from school and advised the group on what mothers can do to help them.

During the business session, Spokettes awards were presented to Mrs. Judy Irwin, Mrs. Jo Ann Neff, Mrs. Milly Swan and Mrs. Anne Steinway.

President Donna Brannan announced that the Chelsea Auxiliary had brought home the travel trophy from the district meeting in Adrian. She said she hoped that they would secure the trophy from the Fall Board as well, as 15 couples are attending the week-end convention.

Mention was made of a new local Auxiliary in the district. The new group is at Hudson, having received its charter from the State Auxiliary on Sept. 16.

Membership chairman, Mrs. Jerry Blough, announced there would be a membership orientation meeting soon for all the new members and Mrs. Jerry Satterthwaite reported that Diane Stoffer, the new Chelsea Fair Queen, had expressed personal thanks for being sponsored by the Chelsea Jaycees.

Other announcements included the following: Mrs. Barbara Updegraff, chairman, said the annual toy drive is progressing satisfactorily and said she is hopeful the collection box at Stop & Shop will prove a convenient spot for donations; the Auxiliary is busy preparing for its sponsorship of the 1968 March of Dimes Campaign, under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. Dorlean Norris; and representatives from the Camp Crile program will be present at the Oct. 17 Auxiliary meeting to inform the group of the program areas that need special help.

The Sept. 19 meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Tom Dunlap with 15 members present.

If you'd like to add a powder room in a small space, consider using a lavatory or water closet that can be installed in a corner.

Tattle-tale gray was the bane of the housewife for years until the detergent ads came out with a solution, and now she can eliminate it from her wash with a flick of her favorite soap. The only gray left to get in her hair is that which—yes—gets in her hair. You know those sneaky streaks that tell the world she no longer needs an ID card... Well, with a flick of her hairdresser's wrist, so to speak, she needn't cry over that kind of tell-tale gray either. Tattle-tale gray was the bane of the housewife for years until the detergent ads came out with a solution, and now she can eliminate it from her wash with a flick of her favorite soap. The only gray left to get in her hair is that which—yes—gets in her hair. You know those sneaky streaks that tell the world she no longer needs an ID card... Well, with a flick of her hairdresser's wrist, so to speak, she needn't cry over that kind of tell-tale gray either. If you enjoy being mistaken for your daughter's sister, bring your hairdressing problems to us. We're open evenings for your convenience.

Room 13
Teacher: Miss Gustafson
Reporter: Nancy Stenson
On Friday Miss Gustafson's class sang at the assembly. We sang "The Little German Boy." It is one of our favorite songs.
We have a science corner in our room. Two goldfish, three painted turtles, two snapping turtles and one spider live there. We feed them, and keep their bowls clean. We are learning many things by watching them.
Last week we studied the skeleton, and we had a raccoon skull in our Science Corner.

Room 11
Teacher: Mrs. Nance

We are learning many new things in Second Grade, and we think this year holds many surprises in store.
For the first time we are changing classes in reading. This means we have a different teacher for almost half of the day.
We have selected Dawn Klubuchar to be our news council representative.
We are all looking to be good workers. We are bringing some of our work home each week. We hope our parents like our good work.

James Cameron Studying in France For Junior Year

James K. Cameron, son of Supt. and Mrs. Charles S. Cameron, 615 N. Free Rd., is among the majority of Kalamazoo College juniors who have returned to school this month on the other side of the Atlantic. James arrived by plane at Aix-en-Provence, France, on Sept. 12.
A total of 197 juniors will study in 18 cities in nine countries of Europe, Africa, Latin America and the Far East this year. Most of them began the international voyage two weeks ago to their campus-away-from-campus where, under the College's foreign study program, they will study for at least six months as an integral part of their undergraduate education.
While the bulk of the Kalamazoo College students, like James, traveled by air, destinations of the air travelers included Istanbul, Turkey; Nairobi, Kenya; Freetown, Sierra Leone; Aix-en-Provence, France; and Bogota, Colombia.
Since 1958, Kalamazoo College has sent a total of 1,495 students to 24 cities in 17 foreign countries. More than 50 percent of Kalamazoo's students participate in the College's study program before graduation. Many of them live with non-English-speaking families in their host countries.
The general purposes of the program are to acquaint the students in some depth with a different culture and people, and to give them an academic experience which is comparable in quality to the work at Kalamazoo and, at the same time, enriched by the environment in which it takes place.
We expect school children all over the country are willing to make the sacrifice of foregoing their educational progress for a while during the summer months.

Area Teen-Ager Attends 4-H Leadership Training Session

"Young people are the leaders of tomorrow." Sound familiar? Through 4-H youth programs, Michigan youth are being trained with this fact in mind.
"My World and I" was the theme of a teen leadership school held Sept. 21-23 at Camp Kett, Michigan's 4-H leadership training center near Cadillac.
Among the teens attending the leadership school was Russell Beeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Beeman, 16610 Waterloo Rd.

Chelsea Girl Escapes Injury in Auto Accident

Susan Holmes, 16, of 146 E. Middle, was involved in an accident Saturday, Sept. 23, when the car in which she was a passenger crashed into a pickup truck. The accident occurred at Washburn Ave. and Carpenter Rd., Ann Arbor. Susan escaped without injury.

adult advisors broaden their horizons as they view the opportunities and challenges in the teen leadership project. They focused on ideas they can use in developing similar experiences for other teen leaders in their home communities and areas.

Home Ec Classes Sponsoring Campaign For Better Breakfasts

To remind people how important it is to eat a good breakfast each day, the Chelsea Junior High sixth grade home economics classes are sponsoring a "Better Breakfast Week" Oct. 1-7. Posters and bulletin board containing interesting facts about the first meal of the day will be displayed in school during the week. The girls are making the displays in conjunction with the study of breakfast foods, menus, and the reasons why breakfast is such a vital meal.

The program was organized around new ideas and techniques. It was experimental learning involving role-playing, micro labs, problem census, discussions, opportunity exchange, program planning and action plans for improved leadership in home communities.

The school was sponsored by the 4-H Youth Programs division of the Co-operative Extension Service of Michigan State University in co-operation with the 4-H Foundation of Michigan and the George Roebuck Foundation.

RARE SKELETONS FOUND

Jerusalem. Members of a French archaeological expedition have found three human skeletons in a cave near Nazareth. The skeletons are believed to be more than 40,000 years old when Europe was inhabited by Neanderthal man.

There is one sure way for young people to get ahead in life: Work and save.

Lender Finds Youths Not Irresponsible

Ann Arbor—New Englanders live up to their "Yankee Conservative" reputation and young people can be trusted when it comes to making automobile installment loans, the chairman of a leading lending agency suggests.

Alan G. Rude, board chairman of Universal CIT Credit Corp., draws three conclusions in the Michigan Business Review, published by the University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration.

His article says a survey of the company's loan records indicates:

1. Young people—the 18-to-30 year-old group—are not nearly as financially irresponsible as their elders are fond of proclaiming.
2. The best credit risk for auto financing, regardless of age or income, is the man who has been with one employer for 15 years or more.
3. There is a considerable variation in use of installment credit by people in different geographic areas. Users of credit are most "conservative" in New England, most "liberal" on the Pacific Coast.

Rude says his company has made 33.6 percent of its total auto financing contracts with the younger 18-30 age group. From this group have come only 33 percent of delinquencies (payment overdue by at least 30 days). He comments:

"In other words, delinquencies in this group were in line with total financing work in three of the total was in this group and one in three of the delinquencies was in this group."

"If the young were as irresponsible as sometimes claimed, one would expect their percentage of total delinquencies to be considerably higher than their percentage of total financing. This is not the case."

Income has a more significant impact upon delinquencies than does age, the author points out. "We found that 56 percent of our financing was with individuals earning $8,000 or less a year. But the percentage of delinquencies in this area was larger, at 68 percent."

Noting that delinquencies almost never occur among borrowers who earn $12,000 or more a year, except due to a technicality, Rude says the financial authority admits that standards for credit could be set high enough to nearly eliminate all delinquencies among installment loans.

"But," he adds, "any institution supplying credit to the public that did this would not be fulfilling

To the Editor:

The civic-minded have worked diligently over the years to provide a place we call "Our Home town"; yes, Chelsea is about the nicest community one cares to remember. There is something here for everyone from nursery school to senior citizens. Everyone that leaves a traffic hazard behind the street in front of the town is a disgrace.

The teens of Chelsea have a legitimate complaint when they say "the town is dead." When you stop to think of it, there is no place for them to go and nothing to do outside of school functions.

We are spearheading a group of interested teens and parents who want to do something about the situation and invite everyone to join us.

We urge the clergy, businessmen, police department, village council, school board, and all the clubs and organizations to support us and become an active part of our program.

An open meeting is scheduled for Oct. 29 in the Congregational church basement at 8 p.m.

We extend our time and abilities to you. Will you come help us? Congregational Church, Pilgrim Fellowship, Jerry and Marketa Satterthwaite, Advisors.

its economic obligation of making consumer credit generally available.

Unskilled workers appear to provide the greatest financial risk, while the least risk is encountered with professional and semi-professional workers and retired people. Married persons are considered better credit risks than unmarried persons.

Length of employment is a factor in determining the capacity to make regular payments, Rude explains. "Our largest percentage of delinquencies—80 percent—occurred in the group employed for one year or less."

Length of employment is a factor, he points out, for the primary reason that most delinquencies are the result of "some unexpected development," the most important of which is losing one's job. Illness and domestic troubles are other common reasons for delinquency.

The most stable geographic division from the standpoint of employment is the region taking in New England and the Middle Atlantic states, Rude says. "In this area only 17 percent of retail purchases were in the one-year or less employment group. In contrast, 40 percent had been employed five years or more."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

So Mr. Terns is asking for an increase in salary. For what?

Mr. Citizen? "Did you know Mr. Terns on a busy day when traffic is heavy, as what a traffic hazard he leaves a traffic hazard behind the street in front of the town is a disgrace."

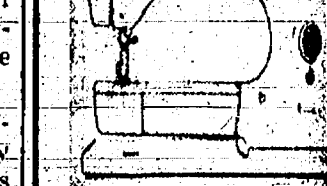

Our garbage collector comes to our back door and set up our cans. He is not only destroying personal property, but creating a big hazard. Come on, Mr. Terns, up. Voice your opinion. Just are we paying for?

To the Editor:

I, for one, would like to congratulate Mr. Lane on his principal part for his action in grooming the parents of our school children, have a lot of leadership in our school some one didn't take a firm line. Our schools would begin to like "hippies." Come on, three cheers for Mr. Lane.
