Council Briefs

A public hearing was held Tuesday evening regarding possible annexation to the Village. Much opposition was expressed by some area residents. A decision was made to table action on the proposed annexation until the next meeting of the Village Board of Supervisors on Nov. 14.

A decision was made to annex parcels of land to the village. Said lands are located to the west and south of the village limits. A petition directed to the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors at Nov. 14 meeting.

A report of the monthly activities of the police department was submitted and the police department was instructed to take further action to eliminate the excessive motorcycle noise problem, such as the screaming of tires and mufflers. The council was urged that the radar unit be installed in the police car to stop speeding vehicles.

The Chamber of Commerce requested investigation into the downtown street lighting. Trustee was instructed to investigate.

A discussion was held regarding clearing of the area around the railroad crossing. The village has accomplished the work assigned to it by the Public Service Commission. The work must be accomplished by Oct. 24, at which time a public hearing will be held with the Public Service Commission to determine if it will be necessary to install gates at this intersection.

The council has been advised that a public hearing called by the village at the west of residents of the area surrounding the McKinley St. and St. Croix Sts. the installation of gates to correct the excessive traffic.

The exchange will hopefully include uniforms for Brownie, Junior, Cadette, and Senior Scouts. Uniforms will be accepted for sale at the Penthouse on Saturday, Oct. 21 from 10 to 12 a.m. Sale items must be uniforms and equipment which are in good condition. Items which are not in good condition should be brought on Oct. 21. All items must be clearly marked with name, size, and suggested price.

Girl Scout equipment is not available in Chelsea, and the Scouts hope that this exchange will be of service to many in the community.

The Penthouse is the meeting place for Cadette Troop No. 88, and is located above the Kerner House, next to Dr. Sutter's dental offices.

JC Barbecue 'Successful' Despite Rain

Despite the inclement weather, the Jaycees sold 3,292 chicken dinners at their 12th annual barbecue Sunday in Pierce Park. Bussily cooking the chickens and serving dinners from 12 noon until 8:30 p.m. were 20 Jaycees and auxiliary members plus seven volunteers from Chelsea. The last 800 dinners were served to the people in their cars due to the heavy rain.

The Jaycees have packed the remaining 208 dinners into packages containing four chicken halves each. These chickens, which have been partially cooked and then frozen are in good condition and may be completely cooked by baking. Anyone interested in buying the chicken halves at $1.25 per package should call Walt Brown at 475-7634. The Jaycees will deliver the packages.

The barbecue was pronounced a success by the Jaycees, who would like to thank everyone assisting them with the project. A total of $4,500 was grossed through sale of the dinners.

People came from Ohio and Canada, as well as many parts of Michigan, to enjoy the barbecued chicken and the color tours. Door prizes awarded at the barbecue included a transistor radio won by T. Wypycha of Detroit; Jiffy Mix assortment won by Lucy Winger of Lincoln Park; Robert Hoexter of Ann Arbor and M. J. Gage of Grass Lake; and two tickets to next year's barbecue won by Mary Greer of Ann Arbor.

JV's Lose to Lincoln, 7-6

Chelsea Junior Varsity gridders lost to Lincoln Thursday evening in a close game that ended with Lincoln winning, 7-6.

Chelsea scored early in the first quarter with Jim Wojciecki running around the left end for 16 yards. Chelsea had a number of fine drives in Lincoln territory but was unable to score again.

Lincoln's touchdown came with two minutes to go in the game. It was a hard game for Chelsea to lose because everyone played so well. Jim Wojciecki did a fine job at tailback before he had to leave the game because of an injury. Robbins at fullback also did well on offense.

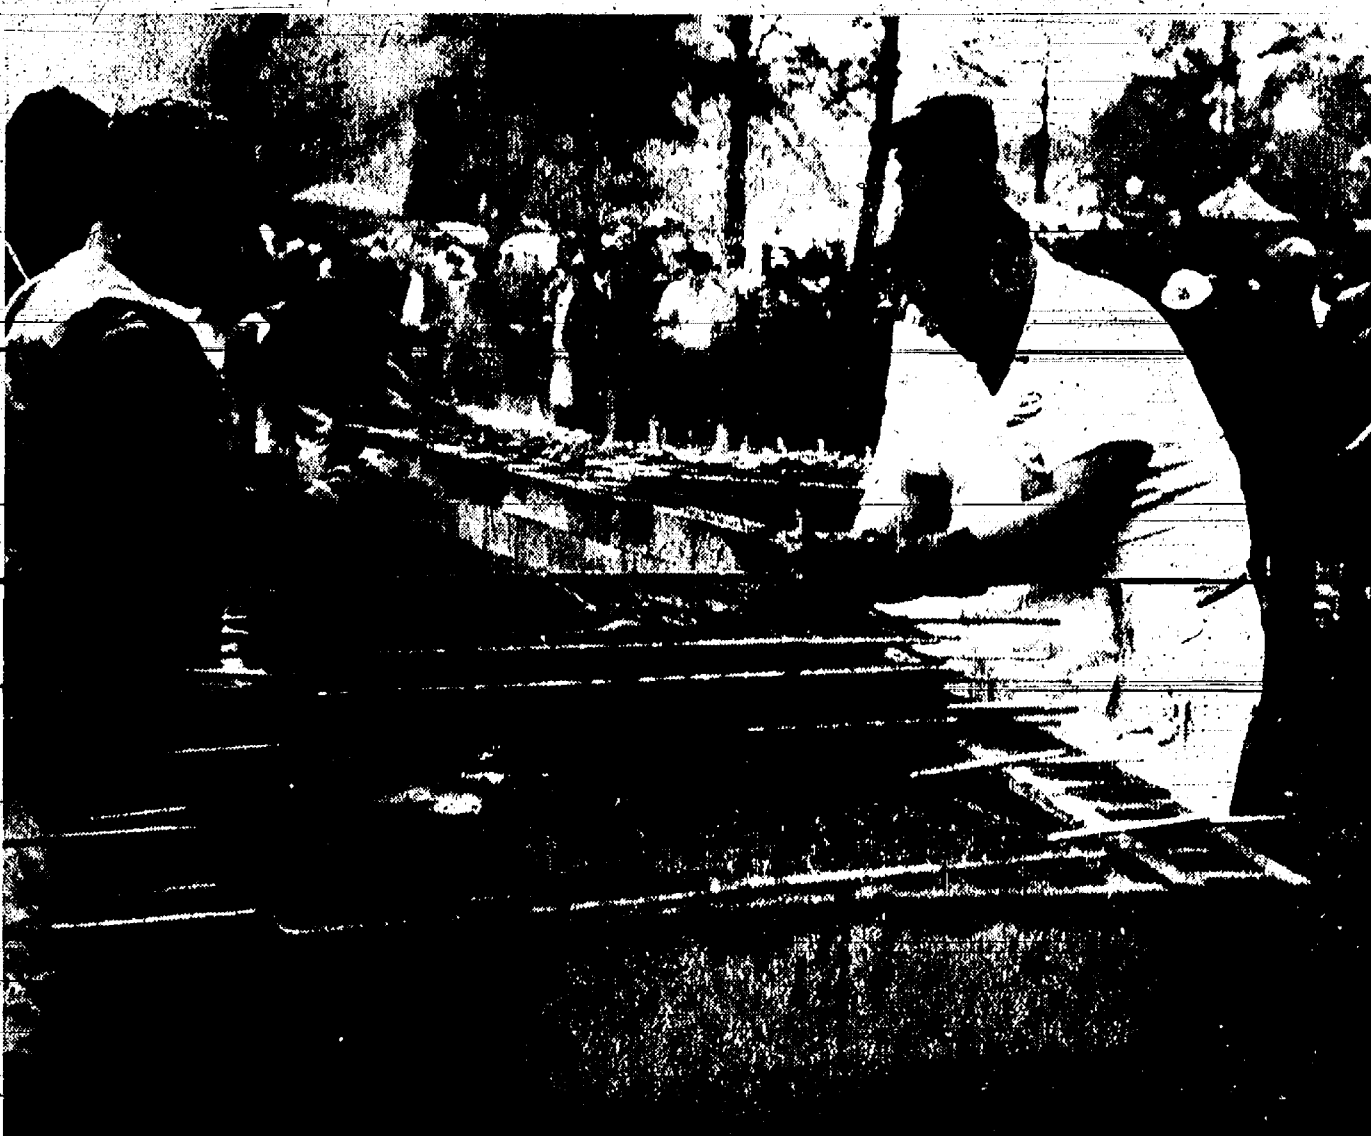

Jim Hercules played a fine game both offensively and defensively. Jim blocked well all night long and managed to make tackles all over the field.

Chelsea is looking forward to the South Lyon game Thursday evening (tonight).

August Ramp is a surgical patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

BAD WEATHER DIDN'T STOP THEM: Thousands of people lined up for chicken dinners at the Jaycees barbecue Sunday in spite of the rain. A total of 3,292 dinners were sold to the damp but enthusiastic crowd.

TESTING THE CHICKEN for just the correct degree of cooking before serving the crowds at the 12th annual Jaycees barbecue are (left) Tim Orbring, a volunteer; (right) Fire Chief Jim Gaken, who has volunteered his services at the barbecue for the past five years; and (behind Gaken) Bill Keller, a Jaycee. The rainy weather did not stop people from coming out for some of that good barbecued chicken they have come to expect from the Jaycees each year. Some of the folks waiting to be served during the downpour are seen huddled under umbrellas and hoods, determined to enjoy the barbecued chicken in spite of the rain.

Bulldogs Post 14-13 Victory Over Lincoln

Fired Up Gang Ready To Tangle with League-Leading South Lyon Friday

Chelsea's Bulldogs defeated the Lincoln Rallsplitters 14 to 13 last Friday night on a wet and muddy field.

The first quarter was scoreless as both teams fumbled the ball and were guilty of costly penalties.

Kiwanians Entertain 15 80-Year-Olds

Men 80 years of age and older were honored guests of the Chelsea Kiwanis club Monday evening. Each year the club observes Octogenarian's night by inviting some of the men from Chelsea who are at least 80 years old to be their guests for dinner and a program. This year's program was presented by Don Turner, who showed slides of the Chelsea Centennial, held in 1959.

Guests present included Leo Merkel, Rha Alexander, Dan Denton, Frank Abdon, Arthur Sias, Gottlieb Sager, Herman Gross, Rev. M. W. Bruckner, Elmer Winans, Albert Chambers, W. A. Youcum, Warren Spaulding, and Albert Pielemeier.

Kiwanis guests included Jeremiah MacDougall, Dr. Parker Sharrard, E. L. Wagner and Arnold W. Loyd.

Two Juveniles Admit Theft of Welding Torch From High School

Two 15-year-old Chelsea High school students stole a welding torch from the high school Thursday, Oct. 12. They were apprehended by Chelsea police the next day. Both admitted the theft and their case will be taken to Probate Court.

Police Chief George Meranuck has issued a warning to all would-be youthful law-breakers. The police are prosecuting to the fullest extent all juvenile offenders. The past few cases involving youths have gone to Probate of Circuit Court.

Chelsea scored the first touchdown in the second quarter as Craig Houle capped a 60-yard drive, going the final two yards on a sneak. The Chelsea offensive line repeatedly opened holes for Mike Schmidt and Craig Houle on the drive. The offensive line consisted of Mike Harvey, Bob Powers, Greg Stephens, Gary Ellenwood, Larry Gaken, Mike Gaken and Mike Lehmann.

Lincoln came right back in two plays, scoring on a 69-yard pass from quarterback Dave London to Ron Valentino. The try for the extra point was fumbled and Chelsea led at half-time, 7 to 6. Chelsea received the second half kickoff and marched 55 yards for their second touchdown. Chelsea again used half control as Mike Schmidt, Kerry Kurel and Craig Houle carried the ball. Mike Schmidt scored the touchdown as he went the final four yards. Craig Houle again ran the extra point and Chelsea led, 14 to 6.

The Rallsplitters played a passing game again as they scored on a 10-yard pass from London to Valentino. The extra point was good and the score was Chelsea 14, Lincoln 13.

Chelsea again threatened as they took the kickoff and moved into Lincoln territory. The drive finally ended on Lincoln's 32-yard line with 1:04 remaining on the clock.

With time running out, Lincoln again took to the air, but line-backer Mike Harvey stepped in and intercepted a pass, giving the Bulldogs their second victory. The defensive line did an outstanding job holding Lincoln's backs to just 45 yards by rushing. The line consisted of Roy Holiday, Mike Lehmann, Mike Gaken, Gary Ellenwood and Greg Stephens.

The secondary wasn't quite as tough since Lincoln's quarterback passed for 147 yards and two touchdowns. The Bulldogs will be trying to improve that part of the game as they take on the league-leading Lions at South Lyon tomorrow night. The Lions have an outstanding passing trio of quarterback Dave Brandon, flanker Don Schwabek and end Tim Mahoney. They have a record of three wins, one loss and one tie.

Education Film at Junior High Gym

The Sex Education Curriculum Committee of the Chelsea School system will present a film, "Parent to Child About Sex," Thursday, Nov. 2 at 8:30 p.m. in the Chelsea Junior High School gym.

The movie, a recent production of the National Film Board, is a helpful tool for parents and children. It is particularly helpful to those in school from kindergarten to 12th grade. The film answers many of the common questions about sex. The film also covers attitudes and the way in which parents' attitudes can be reflected to their children, and many aspects of the parent-child relationship.

Following the movie, discussion groups, led by committee members, will be formed to talk over ideas brought out in the movie. The Sex Education Curriculum Committee hopes that this meeting will enable parents to communicate more effectively with their children on the subject of sex.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

KINDERGARTEN

Mrs. Packard, Teacher
Last Friday we ended our talk of fire prevention week by taking a trip to the fire department. We walked back to school and on the way picked up many fall treasures.

Pumpkins, jack-o-lanterns and black cats have found their way into our room. Soon we will be all decorated for Halloween.

We've just finished making "All About Me" books. Now we are busy making our color books. We are also learning about shapes. Our afternoon class has welcomed a new classmate. Her name is Mary Liebeck.

SECOND GRADE

Mrs. Morgan, Teacher
Mrs. Morgan's class has been studying sound in a Communication Unit. We had fun listening to the vibrations of a tuning fork, listening to the sounds made from blowing over bottles with different amounts of water and talking on a tin can telephone. We went to the transmitter station on top of Peach Mountain. We had fun hearing ourselves and each other on tape when we talked over a microphone. We could see the sound waves on an oscilloscope.

THIRD GRADE

Mrs. Lee, Teacher
Mrs. Lee's class of North school went to Hickory Ridge Farm Dairy to see how milk was made. They told the children how they make their rounds. They took a tour of the milking parlor. They saw how the milk was cooled from 98 degrees to 34 degrees. The children saw how they milk the cows.

FOURTH GRADE

Mrs. Wilderom, Teacher
David Fletcher, Reporter
Oct. 10th our class made pictures of torn-up colored paper to make a mosaic. On Friday we made a mask for our art project and Tuesday we are going to find out how to paint them. Last week we started reading groups. Today we are starting a new unit in social studies. In health we are putting up pictures of the seven basic foods.

FIFTH GRADE

Mrs. Cox, Teacher
Elizabeth Collins, Reporter
This week we will start in our reading books. They are called Vistas and Open Highways. This is a short week for us kids; we have three days and Wednesday we get our report cards. We have been doing our six week tests lately. Friday we had our science test and today, Monday, we will have our social studies test. It's about explorers. We learned that explorers had heard of a "New World" and that the "New World" had riches.

FIFTH GRADE

Mrs. Maxwell, Teacher
Robert Hercules, Reporter
When we started school we did easy work, but now it's getting harder. We're making oral book reports this week, and we are using clever ideas such as puppets, costumes, and box shows. Last week we made group reports on volcanoes, mountain, and other things about the earth. We just started changing classes in reading.

FIFTH GRADE

Mrs. Winkle, Teacher
Jane Knott, Reporter
The fifth grades have been studying geology in science. Mrs. Winkle has 10 salt and sugar crystal investigations going on in the room. We have some nice salt cubes forming as well as some rock candy. This investigation shows how mineral crystal can be formed by evaporation and that crystals form different shapes according to their mineral crystal.

FOURTH GRADE

Mrs. McCullough, Teacher
Yvonne Sindlinger, Reporter
We went to the saw mill to see how they cut logs and how they cut off the edges. The saw mill was in Manchester. The logs went on a machine and a saw cut it into lumber. Then if the edges were rough, it would have to go through a machine.

A man named Mr. Hodgson, from Waterloo Recreation Area talked to us. He told us about the forest and how the animals lived and where they live. He brought some stuffed animals like a raccoon.

Glass Fiber Fabrics Being Tested for Many Possible Uses

An evening dress and an awning from the same glass fiber? It may be possible with Fiberglas Beta, according to Mrs. Helen Fairman, home economist with the Co-operative Extension Service in Washtenaw, Lennawee, and Monroe counties.

Investigations now underway are considering whether or not glass fiber fabrics need to be labeled.

Mrs. Fairman says. These considerations are based on the possibility of skin irritations from handling glass fiber fabrics, their tendency to break during the laundry process, and information on caution about bleaching, ironing or dry cleaning.

Certain cautions should always be followed in using glass fiber fabrics.

They must always be washed separately. Machine washing is permitted for some glass fiber textile products.

If glass fiber is washed in a washer, put the empty washer through a complete cycle before doing another load of clothes.

Large glass fiber items might be taken to the dry cleaners for washing.

Tour Western States

Mrs. Lydia Zahn and her daughter, Mrs. Irma Grau, returned Friday after spending three weeks in the west. They left here Sept. 25 by plane, going directly to Lewiston, Ida., where they spent some time as guests of Mrs. Zahn's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Heller, and from there went to visit friends in Orofino, Ida. After leaving Lewiston they visited Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron at Capital Manor, a widely-known complex for retirees at Salem, Ore. In Salem they also called on the Rev. and Mrs. James Hunter and family and at Beaverton, Ore., they visited the Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Brueckner and family. Mrs. Hunter and the Rev. Brueckner are the daughter and son of the Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Brueckner of Rogers Corners. Before returning home Mrs. Zahn and Mrs. Grau spent three days with the Prinzling families at Great Falls, Mont., and boarded the plane at Great Falls for the return trip. Mrs. Zahn remarked that the weather in Montana was very pleasantly warm and flowers, particularly roses, were in full bloom while they were there.

Hay Wagons Burn

Three hay wagons belonging to the Trinkle brothers caught fire Thursday, Oct. 12. Chelsea firemen responded to the call at 6:10 a.m. on Chelsea-Dexter Rd. at the north end of Fletcher Rd. One of the wagons was destroyed, the other two were damaged.

Too many people talk about patriotism when what they mean is the protection of their profits.

Every year is leap year to the pedestrian who expects to live.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

Charges and countercharges about political campaign finances only serve to highlight the need for a complete overhaul and updating of laws in this area. There is no doubt in my mind that current campaign spending regulations are almost meaningless. Rather than protecting the public trust they encourage dubious practices and are sufficiently vague so as to cloud the activities of a man attempting to operate on an above-board basis.

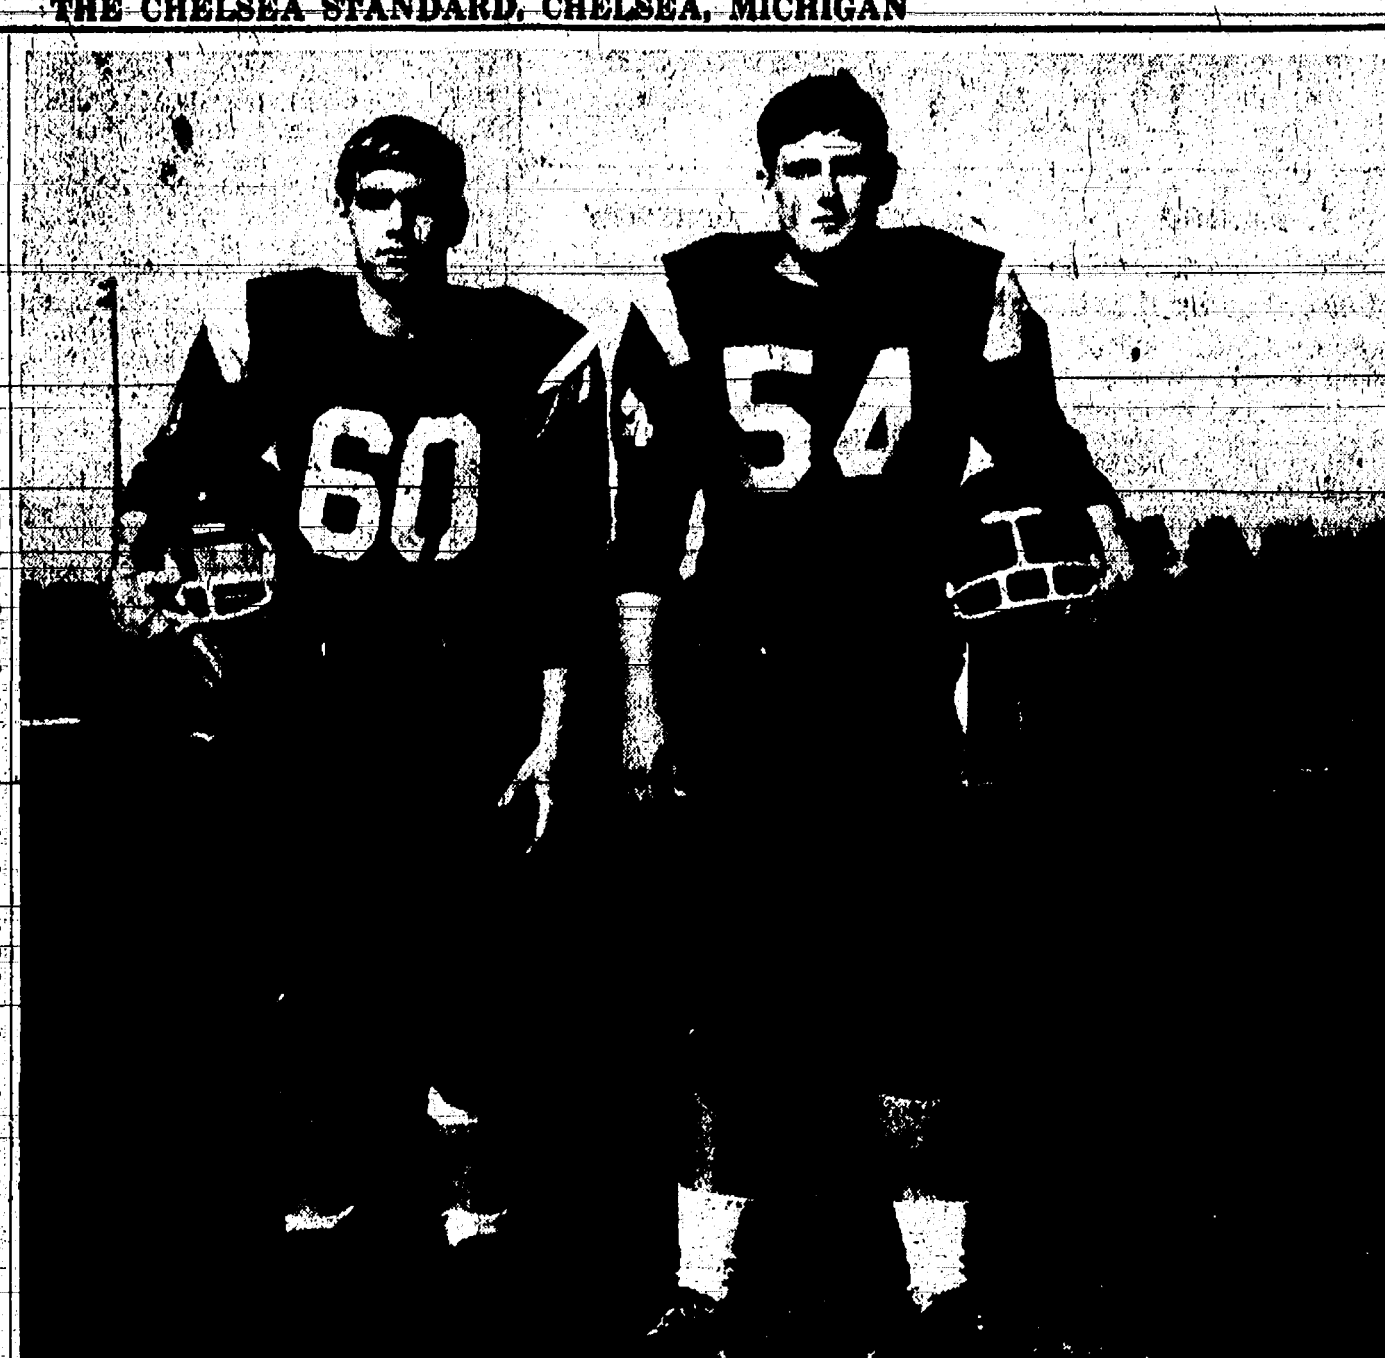

As I testified before the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct earlier this month, the most urgent need is for total disclosure of campaign expenditures. State and federal reporting procedures are so riddled with loopholes that it is impossible to know the full story on how much was raised from whom and how it was spent. And this is true even when the letter of the law is followed. The public has a right to know these facts and a candidate should welcome the opportunity to make them known.

We must require all candidates to file a full accounting of all contributions and expenditures. The same should apply to committees working on behalf of candidates for much of the confusion and contradiction in reporting comes from the many committees contributing to campaigns at all levels. These full reports should be filed in one central point so that they are readily open for public scrutiny.

On a federal level, a proper authority to receive and maintain these records would be the Comptroller General—a non-partisan figure not subject to the influence of shifting political majorities. His staff of accountants and lawyers are trained investigators fully equipped to handle the responsibility of uncovering an illegal or improper activity.

There is also a need to establish a reasonable limit on how much one person may give to any candidate and all of the committees supporting him. Such a provision will go a long way to remove the possibility of undue and improper influence from major contributors since no one figure or group will be able to dominate the funds of any candidate.

The demand for enforceable, effective and equitable campaign finance laws is a problem Congress can no longer ignore. I have urged the committee dealing in this area to develop legislation that will meet these needs and encourage uniform national standards. In the meantime, I will continue to make a conscientious effort to insure that my own campaign finance is disclosed to the fullest extent.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

I voted against the $60,000,000 gas and weight tax increases last week in the State Senate for the reasons listed below.

Although the bills passed the Senate I trust my objections will be given careful consideration in the House before that body approves the tax increases.

I quote from Senate Journal No. 3 of Oct. 13 as follows: "Senator Bursley, under his constitutional right of protest (Art. IV, Sec. 18), protested against the passage of Senate Bill No. 14 and asked that his reasons be printed in the Journal."

Following is his statement: Mr. President and members of the Senate, I voted "no" on the highway tax increase package of bills for the following reasons.

First, there is presently considerable public controversy on the Highway Department's past operations. Until present charges and innuendoes, as presented in the press, are clarified, I feel it premature and irresponsible to vote considerable additional revenues to the Highway Department.

Second, I recognize the need of cities and counties for additional funds and will support legislation to this end as soon as my objection in the preceding paragraph is resolved.

Third, the Michigan public has already received a heavy state tax increase this year and is confronted with a federal income tax increase. This road package involves 60 million dollars more in taxes. Before voting additional taxes on our citizens I want assurance that such funds be efficiently and correctly spent at state as well as at local levels. For these reasons I voted "no" at this time—I repeat, at this time—on these bills.

If you concur with me express your concern to your state representatives in the House of Representatives who have yet to take action.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Nearly everyone knows what is meant by "potter's field." But, do you know how it originated?

When the Roman soldiers sought to arrest Christ, Judas led them to Him. Judas kissed Christ as a signal for them to seize Him and received his 30 pieces of silver for the betrayal. He was later overcome with guilt and despair; wanted to return the money but the priests refused it because it was tainted with blood. Judas threw the money down, went out in a field and killed himself.

The priests spent the silver to buy the field from a potter who owned the suicide site. They used it as a burial place for strangers and the friendless poor. Ever since, unidentified, friendless poor buried in potter's field are often people who, while living, rejected are buried in ground known as "potter's field." The paupers families and friends. Some are outcasts, rejected by society. In either case, and it holds true with Judas, too, the words of Edwin Markham seem fitting: "There is a destiny that makes us brothers, none goes his way alone; all that we send into the lives of others, comes back into our own." ALWAYS BETTER BUYS AT GAMBLES

Are you bothered by acid indigestion, tired blood, ingrown nails, vitamin deficiency or leading headache?

Well, according to what we see on television and hear on the radio, one or more of these ailments should afflict every average American. But, point out the commercials cheerfully, help is no further than your corner.

At the risk of tramping on the advertising toes of the electronics industry, we would like to point out that the corner drugstore is NOT the best way to cure these modern-day ailments. Look at that word carefully: "modern-day". It's a few bucks for a hunting cash investment. Besides, the stress and strain of today's urban living can bring on a lot of symptoms that leave you feeling lousy.

Getting out into the woods and away from your problems is into the category of recreation. Look at that word carefully: "recreation" or "recreation" is not a word created anew from your tired, rundown self.

We know a lot of hard-working businessmen who unwind by going hunting. They don't even have to do any actual shooting. Just a day or a week-end away from the pile of problems can have them back home refreshed and ready to whip the world. More than one guy has tossed away the pills after gulping a limit of fresh air and relaxation during a few days of chasing grouse, woodcock, pheasants, rabbits or deer.

Unfortunately, though, not everybody is mentally equipped to cut the ties with civilization for even a few hours. There is too much hope for them and the corner drugstore remains their best bet.

As an example, we were squirrel hunting recently in a piece of colorful northern hardwoods. I had almost fallen asleep in a comfortable position when a big beech tree.

A strange, out-of-place sound came into our way and finally we decided to investigate it. By careful stalking we came behind another squirrel hunting with his back to a tree. He had a little transistor radio with which he was keeping posted on the affairs of our pasty world. The volume was turned up loud enough that we knew we were around.

As we tip-toed quietly away from the announcer, break with the commercial pitch to you have tired blood, acid stomach, pounding headache. We are quite sure he did.

Questions & Answers

What is meant by "moderate heat" when the reference is to the heat produced by the fire of a barbecue grill or other outdoor cooking device?

Moderate heat, regardless of how it is generated, is always considered to be about 350° F. In outdoor cooking the temperature is measured at grill level, that is to say, at the height at which the food is to be cooked above the coals. A good such thermometer provides the most accurate measurement of grill temperature. Lacking one of those, some outdoor cooks insist that the temperature can be determined by the length of time the hand can be held over the fire at grill level. In this case, the hand can be withstood for two seconds, the temperature is considered to be about 350° F.

Hunters Must Know, Use Safety Rules

Small game hunters are taking advantage of the crisp autumn days. Knowing and following the rules of gun safety can make the difference between a good hunting season or one ending in disaster, says Richard Pfister, Michigan State University safety specialist. He makes these suggestions:

Hunting is a sport, so follow the rules of the game and be careful with that gun. Learn to treat a gun loaded or unloaded, as the dangerous weapon it is. Never point your gun at something you don't intend to shoot. Be sure of the target before shooting. Don't let movement in a bush or near a tree fool you. It could be another hunter, a cow, a dog or someone just walking through the woods. Check the background in your "field of fire."

Handle your gun properly. Never take a loaded gun into an automobile, camp or house. Always have control over the direction the muzzle is pointing. Be sure the safety is on when carrying the gun.

Make it a habit to prop your weapon against a tree or fence or let your companion hold it with the muzzle pointing up while you climb over obstructions. Try to go through gates or gaps whenever possible.

Proper care of your weapon is important for safety. Unload it when it is unattended. Protect others by storing your gun and ammunition so that children and other inexperienced persons cannot get to them. Check the safety of your gun by tightening "lock" actions or by having it checked by a gunsmith. Do not mix cartridges, but use only the exact ammunition that is made for your gun.

Mrs. James Richard Gilmore

Lynn M. Adams, James Gilmore Exchange Vows Saturday Evening

At a 7 o'clock ceremony Saturday evening, Oct. 14 in the Chelsea Methodist church, Lynn Marie Adams of Gregory and James Richard Gilmore of Manchester exchanged marriage vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Adams, 14217 North Territorial Rd., Gregory; the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. James Evisizer, 219 Beauport, Manchester and Richard Gilmore of Napoleon.

The Rev. George T. Nevin officiated at the ceremony. "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because" were sung by Wilber Beaman of 15838 Waterloo Rd.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of peau-de-soie trimmed with chintilly lace. It was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, long pointed sleeves of chintilly lace, a full, gathered skirt formed by tiers of lace over layers of peau-de-soie, and a detachable chapel-length tulle train. A crown of aurora crystals held her elbow-length bouffant-veil of nylon illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses with streamers of Stephanotis and ivy, centered with a white orchid on a prayer book. Janis Fitzsimmons of 14165 North Territorial Rd., Chelsea, was maid of honor. Her gown was a floor-length sheath with a vanilla crepe skirt and a ruby velvet bodice, which featured a scoop-neckline three-quarter sleeves and an Empire waist. She wore a matching velvet bow headpiece and carried a formal cascade bouquet of Forever Yours red roses.

Bridesmaids included Sue Timmerman of Manchester; Jill McEnchorn of Chelsea; Debbie Fitzsimmons of Chelsea, a cousin of the bride; and Peg Gilmore of Manchester, sister of the bridegroom. Their costumes and flowers were identical to those of the maid of honor.

Debbie Honbaum of Dexter was flower girl. Her dress matched gown worn by the maid of honor and she carried a miniature formal cascade bouquet of Forever Yours red roses. John Dunn of Chelsea was ringbearer.

James Settle of Manchester acted in the capacity of best man. Ushers were Guy Gilbert of Manchester; John Ball of Manchester; Thomas Adams of Gregory; brother of the bride; and Edwin Gilmore of Manchester, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a lime-colored-cut-velvet dress and matching coat, with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a brocade dress with a green background and rust-colored flowers. She wore a matching over-jacket with three-quarter sleeves, rust accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The reception was held at the Inverness Country Club, with music provided by an Ypsilanti band. Suzanne Adams of Munich poured coffee. Clady Alexander of Manchester served punch. Mrs. Ralph Parker of Chelsea cut the cake, and Mrs. Ralph Guenther of Ann Arbor was in charge of the guest book. The food was prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ahell of Chelsea.

The bride chose a beige wool suit with matching dark brown accessories for her going away outfit.

Mrs. Gilmore graduated from Chelsea High school and is an addressograph operator for the University of Michigan. Her husband, a graduate of Manchester High school, works for Applied Dynamics in Dexter. He served in the U.S. Navy for four years. Legion Auxiliary Helping with State Stamp Saving Project

Mrs. Duane Hall, president of Herbert J. McKune Unit No. 31, American Legion Auxiliary, announced this week that the Auxiliary child welfare project—saving stamps and premium coupons that have a cash value. These will be sent to an orphanage where orphans and abandoned children from broken homes are left with no one to care for them and, together with similar collections from other Auxiliaries throughout the state, will provide hundreds of items for the children and the buildings they live in. The two-part program involves the saving of postage stamps—canceled ones received on mail from the United States or anywhere in the world (with the exception of the common four-cent Lincoln stamp and the five-cent George Washington stamp)—and saving of redeemable coupons.

Postage stamps must be cut from the envelope leaving a quarter-inch margin of paper all around it. Among stamps that are of value to the project are large or middle-sized commemorative, foreign or airmail stamps; United Nations stamps; duck and upland bird stamps (hunting); certified mail stamps with figure of postman; pre-canceled stamps in all sizes and denominations; small rare U.S. stamps and foreign stamps.

Coupons redeemable in this project are any trading stamps; fashion stamp coupons; Betty Crocker coupons; cigarette coupons; and coupons from a number of products including Pillsbury flour, Fels Naptha soap, Quaker oats, Sargol milk, Calumet baking powder and others.

Mrs. Hall said the Auxiliary would appreciate the cooperation of anyone in the community who might wish to help with the accumulation of as many stamps and coupons as possible. Anyone desiring more information may contact her or members of the child welfare committee of the local Auxiliary, Mrs. Paul Margony and Mrs. Leon Shutes.

CORRECTION

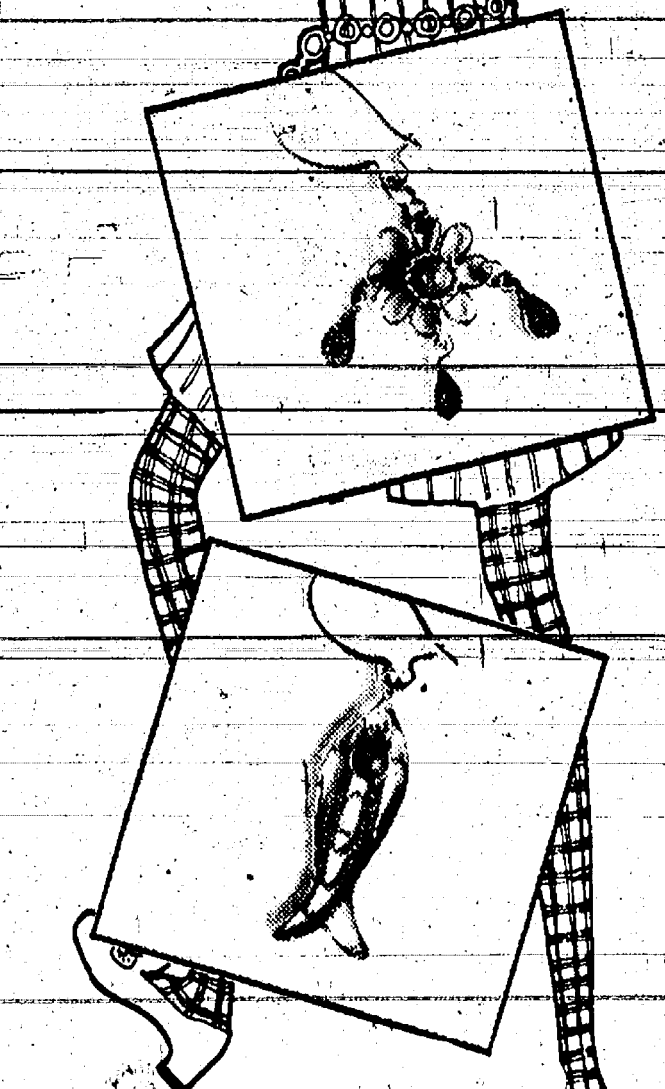

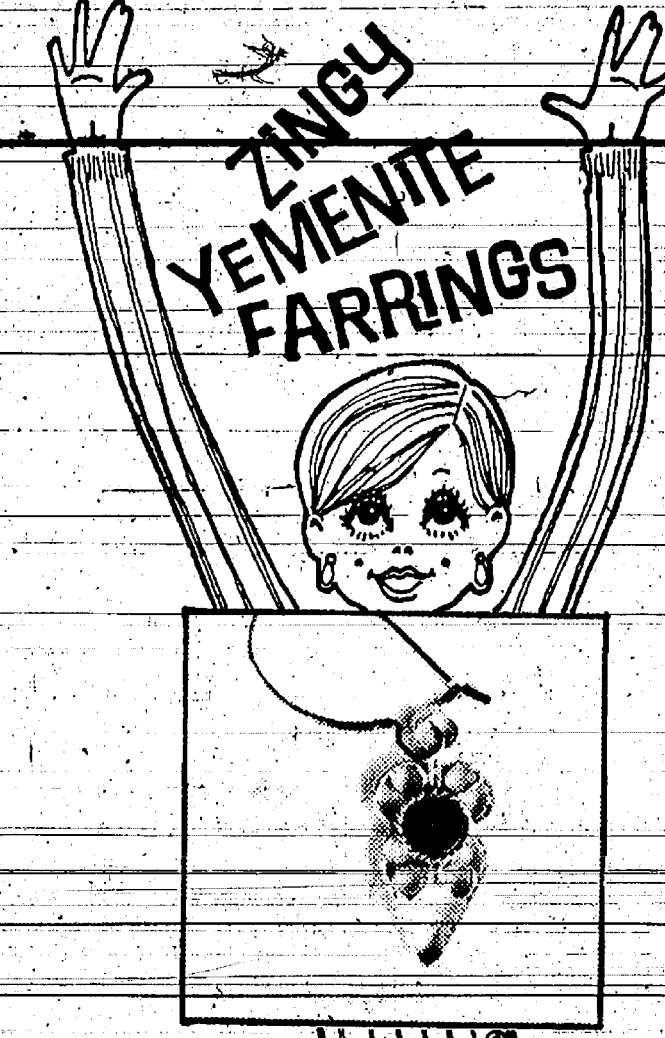

The article about the Chelsea High school press box in last week's Chelsea Standard said that funds for the press box had been given to the school by the Class of 1966 and the Jaycees. This was an error; the money was given instead by the Class of 1967 and the Jaycees.
