Medical Center Operating in New Facilities

Further Building Plans Include 100-Bed Extended Medical Care Unit

Chelsea Medical Center's building site, which 14 months ago was little more than a wooded pasturage, is now a beehive of activity and the medical center is in its first week of operation.
The main building currently has a staff of four doctors, including Drs. Michael Papo, James Botsford, Bruce Stubbs and Jerry Walzky, and 14 other office workers, nurses and janitors. A fifth doctor, Eugene Cluys, will join them in July. Four part-time doctors work in the center on week-ends and during the evenings.
Regency Pharmacy has leased the pharmacy building and will make drugs and medical supplies available on the premises to the public.
The dental building is not yet open. Due to be completed in December, it will provide offices for Drs. Gene Miller and Richard Barton.
The main building, the pharmacy and the dental unit are considered "phase one" of the medical complex. Phase two, an extended medical care unit with a capacity for approximately 100 beds, has not yet been built. Construction on this unit will probably start within a few months.
Included in the main structure's six wings are a suite for each doctor, six emergency rooms, a medical laboratory, a business office, an x-ray department and the reception area. Each suite consists of a doctor's office, a private waiting room and four examining rooms. Driving up to the Medical Center, a patient will pass the caretaker's home and then see the emergency entrance located on the east side of the building.

Patients unable to walk from the parking lot may drive to the emergency entrance. The lobby and reception desk are on the other side of the building.
The second floor of the main structure contains the nurses' and doctors' lounges, while the basement is used for storage. The pharmacy and dental buildings, which have no second floors, are completely separate structures, connected to the main center only by sidewalks.
The Center is presently just a clinic; it has no beds for over-night patients. The emergency room is staffed on a 24-hour basis for emergencies and a doctor is always on call at the Center. The clinic has been averaging more than 100 patients per day; this includes people treated for on-the-job injuries and those given physicals for employment at several local corporations.
Work is still being done on the road and parking lot, and the carpet installation has not yet been completed in all of the buildings. The parking lot, east of the main and dental buildings, will probably hold 50 cars.
The extended medical care unit will be connected to the main building by a tunnel when (Continued on page four)

THE REV. DANIEL KELIN New Pastor Assumes Duties at Congregational Church

The Rev. Daniel Kelin began his ministry at the Congregational Church of Christ Sunday, Nov. 19. He and his wife, Ruth, and their three children—Daniel, 6, a first grader at South St. Deborah, 5, who attends kindergarten at South St., and Amanda, 2—recently moved to their new home at 241 E. 10th St. from DeWitt, where Rev. Kelin had been the pastor of the DeWitt Community Church for the past five years. Born in St. Louis, Mo., the Rev. Kelin graduated from Kansas College and Berkeley Baptist

Chest Drive Is Extended Until Dec. 1

At its meeting Wednesday, Nov. 15, the Community Chest Board decided to extend the Community Chest campaign drive to Dec. 1. The decision was made after estimates of the collections and pledges turned in showed that approximately 91 percent of the $21,950 campaign goal would be reached.

The Community Chest Board hopes that extension of the campaign will enable the community to go over the 100 percent mark with additional contributions.

Failure to reach the goal by Nov. 10, the originally scheduled close of the campaign, was due mainly to the automobile strike at Ford Motor Co., according to the board members. Many contributions in the industrial division were smaller this year.

An extensive follow-up will be conducted in several areas during the additional campaign time.
Community Chest workers hope that many persons will decide to make additional contributions to erase the deficit. Donations may be forwarded to campaign chairman Dr. Gene Miller, 160 E. Summit St.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Houle have returned from Choyboxan where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Houle's mother, Mrs. Eugene DeMara, on Saturday.

Basketball Preview Slated Tuesday in Practice Session

Basketball season opens officially for the Chelsea Bulldogs Friday, Dec. 1 when the Chelsea team meets the Dundee Vikings at Dundee. Practice sessions began Nov. 8 for the 1967-68 version of the Bulldogs.
The varsity, under the direction of coach Terry Pokela, consists of 15 boys, of which six are returning lettermen. Starters and lettermen from last year's team are: forward John Lixey, 5' 10", who scored 192 points for a 10.1 per game average; guard Jack Risner, 5' 9", who scored 203 points for a 12.0 per game average; and forward Craig Houle, 6' 0", with 111 points for a 5.7 per game average. Other lettermen include: forward Larry Gaken, 5' 11", 71 points for a 3.7 per game average; guard John Freeman, 5' 10", 37 points for a 2.1 per game average; and forward Jim Lyerla, 6' 1". All are seniors but Houle, a junior.
Seven boys have had previous basketball experience on the junior varsity. They include center Lance Burghardt, 6' 4", a starter who possesses some fine moves in the pivot and who is the team's best shooter; guard Roy Holliday, 6' 0", another possible starter who shoots well and gives some height at the guard position; forward Mike Schnialdt, 5' 10", another challenger for a starting position.

who has speed, rebounds well and shoots well; guards Doug Weatherwax, 5' 8", and Larry Blackwell, 5' 10", two aggressive performers who shoot well enough to start; forward Gary Ellenwood, 6' 1", a good reserve because of his strength in rebounding and ability to score near the basket; and Steve Dietrich, 6' 4", who gives depth at the center position. Steve will see quite a bit of action in spilling Burghardt. All of these boys are juniors.
Two additional players, both seniors who will give the Bulldogs additional depth at the guard and forward positions, are Rob Powers, 6' 0", a transfer from Indiana, who will play a guard or forward spot, and Mike Lehmann, who rebounds very well from the forward position although he did not play last year.
Tuesday night, the Bulldogs scrimmaged the Jackson North-west varsity at Chelsea. Next Tuesday at 7 p.m., the Chelsea team will hold an intra-squad scrimmage. All fans are invited to get a preview of the oncoming season free of charge. In addition to the scrimmage, the players will be introduced, season strategy will be discussed by the coaches, and new and old rules governing basketball will be explained by a competent referee.
The Bulldogs will invade the fair of the Stockbridge Panthers Tuesday, Dec. 5, for a non-conference game. Originally listed on the schedules as Dec. 12, the date of the game has been changed. All fans are urged to be present for this clash because Stockbridge is a long-standing rival of the Bulldogs and Chelsea needs a good representation to support its team.

The Bulldogs are looking forward to a greatly improved season; their record last year was 2-17. With three returning starters in Lixey, Risner and Houle, additional lettermen in Freeman, Gaken and Lyerla, and a good shooting group from last year's junior varsity, the Chelsea team hopes to become the Southeastern Conference champion.

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

Much has been said about "freedom and rights." It is very easy to talk about these two words, but understanding their meaning may not be so easy. Let's examine the words as I believe they apply to one of the most talked about subjects in Michigan today. This subject is so-called "Open Housing."

I believe a free man, living in a free society, does have the right to offer to buy property. If the man he hopes to deal with is also free, he has the right to sell or to refuse to sell. To complete a sale in our free society, a willing and able buyer and a willing and able seller must reach an agreement that is satisfactory to both. The moment government intervenes itself directly or indirectly into this transaction both the buyer and the seller become less free. No man is free unless he is free from government interference, thus he can be distinguished from a slave, in that he has the right of ownership and that is to buy and sell his own private property.

Every citizen should understand that as the "open housing" bill was introduced it was unacceptable to both the House and Senate and if it is passed in its original form it will be the most dangerous piece of legislation (in my memory) to be thrust upon the people of our state.

My main objections to the bill are: the private sale of your home without the aid of a realtor and public advertising services were not excluded from the bill. And the Civil Rights Commission was given the power to levy fines, thus they are the prosecutor, judge and jury.

It is my opinion if these two areas can be amended to adjudicate the "violations" in the courts and exclude the private sale of one's property from the bill, it will place the bill in a much more favorable position.

Washington Report

by Congressman

MARVIN L. ESCH

The ice was finally broken for consideration of sharing federal revenues with states and local communities as the Subcommittee on Fiscal Policy began hearings on the subject recently. The date the majority in Congress has shaped away from any official discussion of this concept and this latest move is encouraging.

Last week I had an opportunity to submit testimony to this group in support of revenue sharing. The occasion was in conjunction with an appearance by Mayor Wendell E. Hatcher of Ann Arbor who is recognized as a strong supporter of the concept and who is representative of the thousands of smaller cities throughout the nation who will soon find themselves without sufficient revenue sources to serve their expanding populations.

One reason these cities will be in support of this problem is because the federal government has taken the largest and most of the burden of taxation. Of course, the federal government has taken the largest and most of the burden of taxation. Of course, the federal government has taken the largest and most of the burden of taxation.

Under consideration by the Subcommittee are various proposals all of which deal with the broad area of tax sharing. I expressed the hope that they would recommend specific proposals that would stop the over-widening proliferation of the inadequate and inefficient grant-in-aid approach. A beginning might be found in shifting to broad categorical aid whereby the specifics of various programs would be left up to the local unit concerned. Certainly a shift in this direction will result in much needed savings to the taxpayer.

The idea of tax sharing is receiving greater support and attention throughout the nation. Congress should begin an intensive and thorough analysis of how this concept would improve the struggle to attain our national goals.

BIG BATTLE

Who will run the schools continues to shape up as a major issue. It must be dealt with in the near future.

The hassle at Northern Michigan University where some students and some faculty people refused to attend classes to demonstrate their objection to an administration decision is only one feather in a big wind of controversy. The "strike" dissipated in the face of an apparent not-so-empty threat from a legislative committee to close down the university altogether.

Teachers' strikes at the local level made a serious problem earlier this fall. Those are settled now. But another fall is coming. The elimination of local school boards is the aim of one militant group. The official position of the MTE is that they will disregard laws which interfere with their goals.

Success of teachers at the local level in recent strikes has not been lost on some college professors. It can be expected that some of these might decide the strike is the best way to win the points they think are justified.

The issue may not be resolved in the near future, but it will be live, hazardous and important. If pressures connected with the school issue can develop a more basic interest among the parents and taxpayers, if the teachers are not too unreasonable or too adamant in their demands, it is possible a better education will result for young people of the state.

ing stuff like the mail order houses. He reported his old lady had got a folder from some company that was putting out perfume for women. Zeke said he was offering perfume that smelled like fruit and claimed it was permanent. But Zeke was of the opinion it would, after a few days, get to smelling mighty temporary.

Josh Clodhopper allowed as how they had ought to be a law setting a limit on how many different smells then perfume folks could sell. He said he wouldn't be surprised none if they didn't come out with a perfume for women that smelled like new mowed hay or fresh baked bread.

Personal, I might be a little old fashioned in these matters but I'd rather smell new mowed hay in the field and fresh baked bread in the oven than smell it on some lady setting in my aisle at the preaching service Sunday morning. But, anyhow, Mister Editor, it was a mighty educating session we had at the store Saturday and I wished you was there.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Thursday, Nov. 21, 1962—Announcement was made this week that the drive for funds to complete payment of the $2,500 purchase price of the former Beach rural school by Chelsea Co-Operative Nursery is now over. The past week-end a sign designating the structure as Florence Howlett Memorial Building was installed across the front. The idea for the memorial fund honoring Mrs. Howlett in recognition of her many years as a Chelsea school teacher was suggested by Donald Bacon, who made the first contribution. A building for use as a nursery school was deemed most appropriate to honor Mrs. Howlett. Mrs. Howlett, who is 95 years old, is now a patient at Colonial Manor Nursing Home in Chelsea. She retired in 1932 after 80 years of teaching in Chelsea schools.

Approximately 800 deer hunting licenses were sold in the Chelsea area for the 1963 hunting season, according to a check of five business places where they could be purchased. At Merkel Brothers, the total sold was 280; at Gambler's, 250; at Chelsea Hardware, 130; at North Lake Store, 75; and at Cavanaugh Lake store, 65. It is likely that additional licenses will be sold before the close of the season, Nov. 30, according to dealers.

Chelsea merchants are featuring a "Christmas Preview" sale this week-end and many are advertising special, outstanding bargains for the event. The downtown area also presents a holiday appearance in place. The "Christmas Preview" sale precedes the first Chelsea visit of Santa Claus by a week; Santa will make his first visit here Saturday after Thanksgiving.

Thursday, Nov. 19, 1952—The Chelsea Agricultural Schools Board of Education has secured an option on 14 acres of the Vickers farm, directly south of the Athletic Field as a site for a future high school building. The property is in the Washington-Flanders St. area. Announcement of the selection of a future high school site was made this week by the Board of Education. At the same time, arrangements were made for an option on two acres of land adjoining the Holmes property on McKinley Rd., to add to the new elementary school site. The two acres, owned by George Turnbull, are located at the south end of the elementary school site and north of the Lyle Hasselwerdt property.

Tuesday evening the football squads attended a banquet held in their honor at the high school. A chicken dinner was prepared and served by the mothers of the players. Toastmaster Gene Shroyer introduced Coach John Magiera, assistant coach Jack Musser, principal John Griffen and Mrs. Balsted, all of whom gave short talks. Bob Bertke and Don Proctor, this year's co-captains, were introduced, and in turn they introduced Phil Bivels and Bob Krewer as next year's co-captains.

After a few words of appreciation by the captains-elect, Coach Alan Conklin was introduced. He announced that the player chosen as the "most valuable" for the 1953 season was Don Proctor, senior halfback who was also the leading scorer for the season. The "most improved player" award was microscope, said to be the most advanced microscope ever designed, is being developed by the University of Wisconsin on a grant from the National Institute of Health. John M. Donohoe, director of the research project, the high-resolution microscope will see things we haven't been able to see before. What medical researchers would most like to see are the individual molecules of the human body to a greater understanding of processes and of diseases. The microscope is expected to achieve resolutions of about two angstroms. An angstrom, a unit of length, is a ten-billionth of a meter.

CAR OWNERS may not noticed, but auto finishes are getting better each year. The painting industry has been using steady advances toward providing more permanent colors. Such class of pigments is known as the "Succinyl" group. They are available in a variety of reds to a deep blue, and are stable under fast pigments. One special class of pigments, covered by a patent application, possesses a high degree of transparency and improves the sparkle of metal finishes.

Miss Nellie Ackerson Chelsea Native Had Taught In Manchester 51 Years

Miss Nellie Ackerson, 79, of 505 Ann Arbor St., Manchester, died at her home Wednesday morning, Nov. 15.

Born Oct. 5, 1888 to Dr. James W. and Mary Wheelhouse Ackerson of Chelsea, she graduated from Manchester High school and received a Bachelor of Science degree from what is now known as Eastern Michigan University.

She joined the Manchester school system in 1912 after teaching for four years in Manchester rural schools. She had been an elementary principal for many years before her retirement in 1959 after 51 years of teaching the third and fourth grades. A new Manchester elementary school was named the Nellie Ackerson school in 1940 to honor her service in the school system.

Miss Ackerson was a member of the Manchester Township Library Board, a past matron and life member of the Manchester Chapter, OES, and a member of the Manchester Methodist church, where she had been the church organist for 25 years before retiring from that position in 1964.

Survivors include several distant cousins. Two brothers preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Nov. 18 in the Manchester Methodist church, with the Rev. Oscar Cooper officiating. Arrangements were made by Jenter Funeral Home, Manchester. Burial followed in Oak Grove Cemetery, Chelsea.

John E. Wyatt

John E. Wyatt, 90, died Thursday, Nov. 16 at the Chelsea Methodist Home, where he had lived for almost five years.

Born Aug. 2, 1877 in Vernon, Wis. to Henry N. and Mary Roberts Wyatt, he married the former Ada Woodward, who is presently residing at the Chelsea Methodist Home.

Survivors include his widow; one son, Marle Wyatt of Wayland; and two brothers, Edward N. Wyatt of Lakewood, Colo., and Robert E. Wyatt of Boca Raton, Fla.

Funeral services were held Monday, Nov. 20 at 10 a.m. at the Methodist Home Chapel. Officiating were the Rev. William A. Johnson, chaplain of the Home, and the Rev. William D. Ladkau of St. Barnabas Episcopal church. Burial followed in Roselawn Memorial Gardens, Saginaw. Arrangements were made by the Staffan Funeral Home.

At a special board meeting following the Kiwanis meeting, M. W. "Andy" Anderson was elected an honorary member of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club. Anderson served as state governor of Michigan Kiwanis and has been active in Kiwanis leadership throughout the past years.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP NO. 77--

The fourth meeting of Senior Scout troop No. 77 was brought to order by Mrs. Eisenbeiser Monday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p.m.

Registration and monthly dues were collected. Then, while candy money was collected, members were reminded that all money is to be turned in at the earliest opportunity.

Debbie Stineholder moved to make cookies for welfare, and Debbie Maynard seconded it. Janice Schneider moved to dress dolls, and Carolyn Foster seconded it. Carolyn also volunteered to look into what the troop could do to help them further.

Janice Schneider is going to write to her brother in India to see if there is something the Girl Scouts could make for the children there.

Sometimembers are looking into the matter of the troop going to a roller-skating rink. Debbie Stineholder volunteered to see if the troop could find a place to bake cookies.

Denise West is going to see if the troop can go swimming at the "Y".

Refreshments were served by hostess Linda Merkel, who was assisted by Debbie Stineholder. Mrs. Eisenbeiser provided the food. Ginger White, scribe.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Davis of Pollard, Ark., left Sunday after spending five weeks visiting their son and two daughters and their families here and at Whitmore Lake. The daughters are Mrs. Bill Whitehead of Whitmore Lake and Mrs. Donald Wright of Chelsea. Their son is Harold Davis, also of Chelsea.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tugel and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Weinberg were in Clinton Saturday afternoon to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Frank Furgason, who died Thursday, Nov. 16. Mrs. Clara Breitenwischer and Mrs. Florence Lyon, who live at the Methodist Home, also attended the funeral. They are sisters of the late Mrs. Furgason.

St. Paul Musicals

will be the appearance of a "Kitchen Band." Composed of senior citizens of St. Paul church and led by Mrs. Herbert Paul, the band will play several selections, using kitchen utensils as instruments.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments will be served. The public is invited to attend this musical event. No admission fee will be charged, but a free-will offering will be taken during the evening. The music department of the church hopes to raise money for new senior choir robes.

The call of duty, it seems, usually leads a man to the high salary offered.

New Telephone Directories Now Being Distributed

Distribution of new telephone directories will begin Saturday, Nov. 18 in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said today.

Nicholas J. Frakken, manager here, said some 158,000 directories will be delivered in Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Whitmore Lake, Willis and Ypsilanti.

The new telephone books have an "old Michigan" cover containing a color reproduction of the oil-painting, "The Lewis and Clark Expedition," done by Robert Thom as one in the series of originals commissioned by Michigan Bell to preserve the more significant events in the history of Michigan.

The artist has portrayed the Cass expedition in 1820 passing beneath the Pictured Rocks, which border Lake Superior near Munising. Published reports of the expedition's discoveries gave Michigan favorable publicity and helped to attract settlers to the Michigan territory.

Prakken said it will take four or five days to complete distribution of all the directories.

U.S. GOLD SUPPLY

The Federal Reserve Board reported the U.S. gold supply increased during September for the first time in five months. The middle-East crisis and sales to domestic users caused the recent gold drain.

Q. I need some advice on leaving money to my heirs. I have stock in the Greater Iowa Corp. I have been watching Xerox. What do you think of it? What you buy?

A. What you should invest in for your estate would depend on whom you are leaving your money to. If it is your widow, or to small children who would be dependent on it for their chief source of income, you should aim toward a steady dividend.

First, if you sell those stocks you're going to pay a tax on your profits. Secondly, if you buy a mutual fund, several percent of your money is going to a sales charge and the odds are those very same stocks you're ready to own will be in the portfolio of the fund you buy.

Q. I own shares in General Aniline & Film, and Transamerica Corp. Should I sell some of them?

A. Without knowing what your goals are, I'm hard put to tell you what to do. If you're growing, you have good stocks; you need to talk to your broker about some of these and get some stocks that will pay dividends.

years I have invested from the time in Park-Davis, Bell Howell, Ford Motor Co., Standard Oil of New Jersey, U.S. Steel, Alcoa and Burroughs. I have been suggested that because I don't watch the market closely, I should sell out and buy mutual fund stocks. What do you think?

A. You have accumulated good stocks and, if you have a number of them for 10 years, you certainly have a nice profit. So failure to watch the market every day obviously hasn't hurt you up to now.

AGRICULTURE in Action

Bird Bills

"The Pill"—for blackbirds and starlings, was one of several proposed control measures considered by farmer-delegates to the recent 48th annual meeting of the Michigan Farm Bureau. Birth-control hormones placed in feeds was suggested by a Washtenaw county farmer.

Involved is serious damage to crops and property in many areas of the state, plus hazards to aviation and the spread of human and livestock disease.

Sweet corn growers at the meeting reported a total crop-destruction in some areas of Michigan, adding that once the ear is punctured the corn can no longer be considered fit for human consumption. They said that in some areas of the state, such as along Lake Erie in Monroe county, sweet corn can no longer be raised.

In discussing a proposed policy statement calling for stepped-up bird control programs and "adequate funds" to operate them, the farmers' delegates said that the "farmers" doubted if such birds might not do considerable good along with the damage. One delegate pointed out that birds follow spring-time plows and harrows, picking up grubs by the thousands.

But an Ottawa county blueberry grower was quick to take issue. He was joined by a Midland county woman who described the high-operating costs of a modern, irrigated blueberry farm, and of an instance in her area where one such farm was completely destroyed by starlings. Reinforcing her argument was a Genesee county blueberry grower. "Two years ago we trapped and disposed of 7,000 blackbirds and starlings in our fields. The college tells us those birds will eat a pound of berries every week. Since they feed for six weeks during the blueberry season, the 42,000 pounds of berries which would have been consumed in this instance can spell disaster to a blueberry grower," he said.

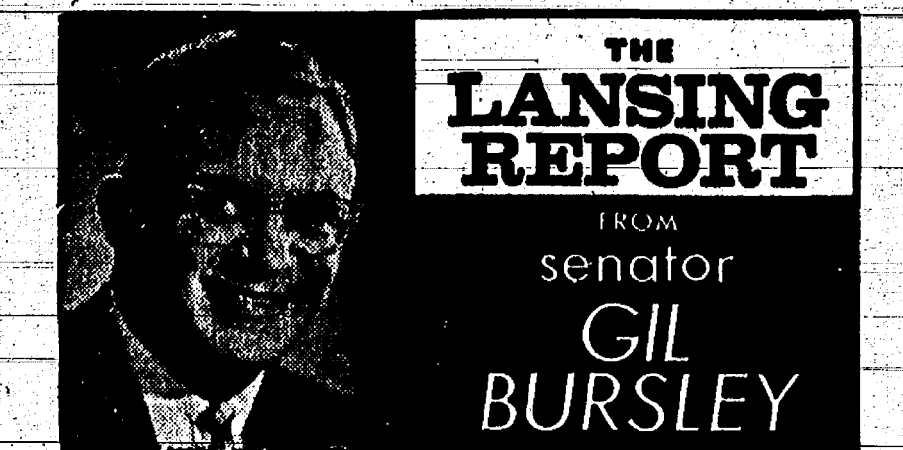

But dangers to human health was the clinching argument as the delegates endorsed an action program of bird control. In the words of one delegate, "An estimated 100 million birds congregate in large groups, their droppings contaminating the soil. Disease cycles may follow the birds from city roosting areas to dozens of animal feed lots and from vegetable fields in a single day. A long list of human ailments can be directly traced to this contamination."

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

(This is the first in a special series of three reports) A legislator gains satisfaction and a sense of accomplishment when, over a few years, he introduces meaningful bills and succeeds in carrying them through until they become the law of the state. This offsets many frustrations and much abuse he encounters in his legislative career. It makes the job really worthwhile. A legislator also, however, must make painful decisions—where he is damned if he does and damned if he doesn't. Controversial issues often must be faced up to on which friends will be alienated and enemies made whether the legislator votes "yes" or "no."

All too often, then, devious processes are followed to avoid publicly making a decision. This is true of legislators, and of congressmen, of governors and even of presidents. You often hear the expression "it would be political suicide to vote for that bill"—and it might be.

Personally, I have had my share of disillusionment in public life where I hear people preach one thing and see them practice another. I well know the frustration and bitterness of the freshman legislator whose proposals seem to get nowhere.

I have, campaigned for and voted for issues that were diametrically opposed to my own personal interests. Others have had the same dilemma. Yet, I have no hesitancy in announcing my position on an issue unpopular as that may be.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Thanksgiving is a traditional American holiday. The Pilgrims, back in 1621, set the day aside for feasting and to give thanks for their excellent harvest which followed a severe winter. In recent years, even with attempted crop curtailment, our harvests recorded new, astounding yields; the largest in the history of mankind.

As we give thanks this year and celebrate our stomach satisfying day, we should think of those who hunger elsewhere. Even the clouds must seem sad when they release rain on a people inhabited soil that does not and can not yield even a semblance of meagre food in famine-stricken lands.

The Pilgrims not only gave thanks for their harvest, they shared their feast with Indians in the area. In our era, a beneficent and kind Creator has made it possible for us to celebrate Thanksgiving every day of the year. Since this is so, shouldn't we give thanks and share our blessings every day of the year? BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4111.

Thanksgiving Time...

This special day of Thanksgiving is a time when we would slow down and give thanks for the many blessings we are more or less aware of all year long but for which we seldom take the time to be truly thankful.

High among the many things I have to be thankful for is the friendship, loyalty and co-operation that exists among the 16 of us working together here at Spaulding Chevrolet.

This is the spirit of camaraderie that makes a rather hectic business enjoyable and it is in appreciation of this that I make the following

St. Louis School Welcomes Founder on Visit from Italy

The Priests, Sisters, staff and students at St. Louis school welcomed the arrival of Fr. Louis Alippi this past week. Fr. Alippi is in the United States for the first time, visiting the two schools which he founded—St. Louis school and a similar one in Philadelphia. Father's ordination took place in Como, Italy, Oct. 14, 1928. After his ordination, he served as Superior at a school for 150 boys in Gozzano; a school for 600 mentally retarded in Rome; and a school for 200 boys in Milan. He has also been the pastor of a parish church in Rome serving 25,000 people.

He was elected Superior General of the Order of the Servants of Charity in 1946. Italy was a scene of ruins after World War II, and Fr. Alippi encouraged the priests in charge of the schools for boys to construct new buildings, including 26 new schools, six churches and three vocational training schools in Italy; five schools and four churches in Brazil; two schools and four churches in Argentina; and two schools, two churches and one institution for mentally retarded adults in Chile.

After completing his limit of 12 years as Superior General, he was elected Vicar Superior General.

At this time, he worked with the Cardinals in charge of canonization to make known the outstanding works of Blessed Alois Guanele throughout the world. He inherited the spirit of developing the potential of needy children, especially the mentally retarded and the abandoned, from Blessed Guanele, the founder of the Order of the Servants of Charity. Around 1910, Blessed Guanele, with the help of mentally retarded boys, is said to have converted a swamp into a town.

Deadline Near for Entries in Outstanding Young Women Contest

Dec. 1 is the deadline for all entries in the Four Outstanding Young Women of Michigan contest, sponsored by the Jaycee Auxiliary. Have you entered your favorite candidate yet? For more information and entry forms, call Donnell Blough, 479-5457.

The Chelsea winner will be presented with a trophy at a tea held in her honor.

There are almost 6,000,000 mentally retarded men, women and children in the United States.

In 1959 Fr. Alippi was called to Detroit by Cardinal Mooney, Archbishop of Detroit, and to Philadelphia by Cardinal O'Hara, Archbishop of Philadelphia, to choose sites for two schools. While in Michigan he picked Chelsea as the location for St. Louis school.

Fr. Alippi's impressions of the school, the structure, the environment, the attitude of the local people, and the joyfulness of the boys were above his expectations. His only regret is that there is only one other school like it, in Philadelphia. He hopes for the establishment of more schools for the mentally retarded—and more young men who will dedicate their lives to serving these schools as priests or brothers.

PEARLS of WISDOM

There is one day that is ours. There is one day when all we Americans who are not self-made go back to the old home to eat saleratus biscuits and marvel how much nearer to the porch the old pump looks than it used to. Thanksgiving Day... is the one day that is purely American.

That is the worst of those dear people who have charm; they are so terrible to do without when once you are got accustomed to them and all their ways.

To know how to say what other people only think is what makes men poets and sages; and to dare to say what others only dare to think, makes men martyrs or reformers.

Criticism is the endeavor to find, to know, to love, to recommend, not only the best, but all the good, that has been known and thought and written in the world.

The fashion wears out more apparel than the man.

When public excitement runs high as to alien ideologies is the time when we must be particularly alert not to impair the ancient landmarks set up in the Bill of Rights.

Most people have the desire to be friendly, though people sometimes lack the personality to demonstrate it.

Census Bureau Employing Area Residents in CD Survey

A number of local residents are putting on colorful badges and going calling for the next few weeks. They are among the 1,580 Michigan residents employed by the U.S. Bureau of the Census as interviewers for the Home Fallout Protection Survey which the Bureau is conducting throughout the State for the Michigan Office of Civil Defense.

Hobart A. Yerkey, Director of the Census Bureau Regional Office in Detroit, announces that the following persons have been selected and trained as interviewers to call at homes in Washtenaw County: Violet Morrison, Betty Hines, Theresa Bots, Donna Bradbury, Ida Nixon, Hazel Smith, Vera Bassett, Florence Armbruster, Lauretta Stein, Helen Gilbert Irene Davidson, Kate Leach, Rosemary Mathes, Fairy Uphaus, Irene Brand, Edna Carr and Cecelia Perence.

The Home Fallout Protection Survey includes only single family homes and two- and three-unit dwellings. It is being taken by mail in cities of 10,000 or more population, where questionnaires have been mailed to households to be filled out and mailed back. In areas outside these cities interviewers are visiting homes to obtain the required facts and figures about the construction of houses.

Director Yerkey asks householders to welcome the Census interviewer and to give full co-operation so that accurate information may be obtained.

Most interviewers are women. Each wears a red, white, and blue identification badge which is her official credential. It bears her signature and certifies that she is authorized to perform the duties of a Census interviewer, and as such has sworn to keep confidential all Census information given to her.

Householders, both renters and home owners, are asked a few easy to answer questions. How many persons usually live in your household? How many floors does your house have? Do you have a basement or cellar under your house? If so, what are the walls made of? What is the height of each outside basement wall above the outside ground level?

Facts about a house, whether mailed in by the householder or obtained by the Census interviewer, will be processed at the Census Bureau. An electronic computer will calculate the protection against radioactive fallout the house provides.

This information will be mailed directly to the householder, together with a Civil Defense booklet describing suggested methods for increasing the amount of protection in basements. Those without basements will receive another booklet with general information on protective measures that may be taken by individuals and families.

The computer's report on the fallout protection in a home is confidential between the Census Bureau and the householder, and is provided without cost to him. At the completion of the survey, statistical totals will be provided for the state, counties, and municipalities. Together with the figures for previously designated public fallout shelters, they will provide a complete picture of available shelter information needed by State and local officials in order to plan fallout protection for every

"hello, dialing!"

You know the tune. It goes:
1. Dial 1.
2. Dial the Area Code (if different from your own).
3. Dial the number you want. Then say hello.

For us, Thanksgiving Day is more than a commemoration of the occasion on which the Pilgrims gathered before an abundant feast to celebrate the establishment of their firm footing in America.

For us, Thanksgiving Day has become an occasion for pausing to count the blessings that have come to the peoples of America year by year. This national holiday arrives annually as a milestone in the journey of progress launched by our forefathers many years ago.

Thursday, Nov. 16, we saw a magician show. The magician's name was Mr. Rew. He did some very good tricks. He showed us how to do some of them. He did a hoop trick, a rope trick, and lots of others. We all enjoyed the program. He was very good.

We are pleased that about 150 mothers and fathers came to the Open House on Nov. 16. We thank all parents for showing an interest in us.

We are going on a field trip to the Natural History Museum in Ann Arbor. There we will look at some of the animals of Michigan, which we have been studying.

Reporters, Judy Schiller and Sandy Patrick
On Tuesday, Nov. 14, we went to Hickory Ridge Farm Dairy in Stockbridge and saw many, many cows and a few calves. We visited the dairy barn and the creamery. We liked watching the machine that filled the milk bottles and put the caps on. We were treated to orange juice and chocolate milk.

FOURTH GRADE—
Room 20
Teacher, Mrs. Moore
Reporter, Julie Tite
Patricia Welshans will be the new reporter.

We are making dirty water paintings and have been using water colors. Our teacher brought an overhead projector and showed us some helpful slides.

We made a birthday list with everyone's date and picture on it. We did an experiment to find the blind spot in our eye. Rew, the magician, came and showed us several tricks. In social studies we are studying about Navaho Indians.

Sandy Crouch brought a terrarium. We had a mouse and a baby hamster in school. The grounds we brought to school are beginning to rattle.

Room 22
Teacher, Miss Weber
Reporter, John Storey
Our class is making salt and flour maps of the United States. We are supposed to make mountains where there are mountains in the United States. Other maps we drew and colored.
Our class is writing stories about pictures of a horse, of a lion, and of a sad, girl.

FIFTH GRADE—
Room 19
Teacher, Mrs. Lange
Reporter, Don Messner
Mrs. Lange made a bookshelf for our book reports. It is made of paper.
Our class is studying the New England states in social studies. We have drawn maps and have heard several stories of New England folklore from a new book in the library called New England Bean Pot.

For Open House, Don Pierson brought his hamster, John Wagner and Donald Messner brought their volcano; David Leach brought his crystals made of sugar, and Elaine Schenk made some crystals of alum.

Everybody in our room was ready for Open House, and we were glad to have such a large turnout. All but three students were represented by their parents.

Room 24
Teacher, Mrs. Senne
Reporters, Janet Speer and Laurie Mann
In our room we have two hamsters. Merry Hoffmeyer brought the hamsters for us. Mrs. Senne bought them from her. We voted on names for them. We came up with the names Snoopy and Wigley. Merry brought her mouse, Buttons, to school. We are studying about mammals. We learned that hamsters and mice are mammals. Mrs. Senne is going to buy a cayman for us. We also have a salamander. We learned that salamanders are amphibians. The cayman is a reptile.

Reporters, Linda Shadon and Terry Satterthwaite
We all made weed pictures. We had lots of fun gathering the weeds for our pictures. We made all different sizes—large ones, small ones, and middle-sized ones. We had lots of fun framing them. We made square frames, round frames, oval frames, diamond-shaped frames, and leaf-shaped frames.

Reporters, Ricky Wadsworth and Greg McClain
Ricky Wadsworth made a bird feeder. First he got a milk carton and cut the side out. Next he punched out a hole and then put the string through the hole. Next we put hamster food in it and hung it up in the tree outside of the school. Terry Satterthwaite's father is going to get us some bird feed for it. The object is to see if the birds eat out of it.

Unless principle restrains selfishness, there is no hope for a person, nation or a world.
