Wrestlers Win First Regional Tournament

Determined Team Takes Top Honors With 6 Qualifying for State Meet

Chelsea High school's wrestling team gained another major title today as it collected this year's championship trophy. The team, a solid unit that carried them to a convincing victory at the regional championship at Jackson's Western High school last Saturday.

Entrants to the title, the Bulldogs produced three regional champions and three second-place finishers who will carry Bulldog hopes for state honors into the state tournament at Grand Rapids this weekend.

In winning the regional title the Bulldogs more than erased any embarrassment suffered from sharing league title honors with rival Dexter. Chelsea led the 16-team field with 94 points, followed by Michigan Center with 79. Dexter's score of 62 was good for a third-place finish. Other strong teams were led by Eaton Rapids, 60; Willow Run, 50; and Albion, with 40 team points.

Three Bulldog wrestlers won four straight matches to gain individual championships. Champion Paul Stahl (127), Kerry Kargel (154), and Jim Boylan (hwt), were followed by second-place finishers Mike Hendricks (120), Mark Lancaster (133), and Mike Gaken (180).

Lauren Boyer (145), after an opening-round loss to a surprisingly improved Michigan Center man who won all the way to take the 145 title, came back to win his next three matches to finish third. Wayne Stahl (138) came through with a determined effort that brought him two wins and bonus team points for a fourth-place finish.

Chelsea had the team title easily carried away with an inspired performance during the third round of wrestling that came Saturday afternoon. A change in tournament rules that lets only two men from each weight class advance to the state meet brought all the wrestlers to maximum effort for this round. When the crucial test was over Chelsea, pushed hard by Michigan Center and

Five Hurt in Friday Crash On Old US-12

A Chelsea man's car collided with a vehicle in which his daughter was a passenger at 10:34 Friday night. The two-car, head-on crash occurred at a curve on Old US-12 east of Freer Rd.

Raymond Joseph Maistre, 42, of 148 Van Buren St., was driving alone along Old US-12 when he missed the curve and ran into a car driven by Marcyanne Orlowski, 16, of 570 Chandler St. Marcyanne's vehicle contained three passengers, including Galle Maistre, 16, of the Van Buren address, Kathryn Grogg, 16, of 13214 Old US-12, and Dian Steel, 14, of 521 Garfield St.

All five persons were taken by ambulance to University Hospital, Ann Arbor, where Maistre's condition was listed as critical. Kathryn received a broken left leg, a possible fractured skull, lacerations and bruises. Marcyanne was hospitalized with a broken nose, contusions and bruises. Galle and Diane were released after receiving treatment for head and body lacerations and injuries.

Maistre, who was judged to be at fault in the accident by Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies at the scene, said that he must have fallen asleep as his car approached the curve. The county sheriff's department is conducting a further investigation of the accident. Both cars were totally wrecked in the collision.

Mrs. Gladys Sharp, 514 Garfield St., will undergo surgery to remove a brain tumor at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. She expects to be home sometime next week-end.

"Bye Bye Birdie," directed by DIANE L'ROY, relates the problems of a New York music publisher, Albert J. Peterson, played by John Freeman. Peterson's primary problem is that his chief source of income, rock-and-roll singer Conrad Birdie (Jim Williams) has been drafted into the Army.

Grass Fires Pop Up Everywhere

A large grass fire kept 13 Chelsea firemen busy from 9:18 Monday morning until approximately 2 o'clock that afternoon.

The fire, apparently caused by burning rubbish, appeared to start behind the John F. Kilbourn home, 3070 Conlin Rd. Gustly winds spread the blaze from McKinley (Conlin) Rd. to Four Mile Lake, an area of approximately 100 acres. The burned property is owned by several people.

A grass fire at Sylvan Center Monday afternoon was extinguished by Chelsea firemen before it had a chance to spread extensively. The blaze had been started by sparks from burning rubbish.

Another grass fire occurred at 7:18 Monday night near Cavanaugh Lake Rd. Chelsea firemen were able to bring the burning grass and brush under control before the flames could ignite a nearby marsh area.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator
GIL BURSLEY

With the Feb. 26 deadline past for introduction of bills, other than those dealing with taxes and appropriations, the Senate Education-Elections committee, of which I am vice-chairman, finds itself with a formidable amount of work.

Before the final March 22 deadline for reporting bills out of committee, we must consider at least 100 bills—divided about equally between education problems and election procedures.

Among them are some highly controversial measures, notably Senate Bill No. 1124, which would provide for payment of grants ranging from $500 to $1000 to parents to help them defray the cost of educating their children in private schools.

None of the more than 100 bills coming both before the legislature has had the impact that this one has since its introduction. It has flooded the legislature with an estimated 20,000 letters.

The bill raises two serious questions: (1) Is it constitutional in view of the constitution's separation of state and church provisions; and (2) Can the state afford to subsidize parochial schools?

Undoubtedly, the ultimate decision on this will have to be made by the courts—the Michigan Supreme Court and, perhaps, even the United States Supreme Court.

But before the courts get the issue, there is certain to be hours of heated debate, both in committee and if reported favorably on the floor of both houses.

The bill is now before our education-electors committee, which will give it a most searching study.

If our committee should report out favorably, it is doubtful whether it will go through the same process in the senate as its passage would mean an initial expenditure of about $21 million to parents of parochial school children.

At this time, it is much too early to predict the outcome of this issue but both proponents and opponents may rest assured that, before any decision is made by any legislative committee, the issue will be thoroughly researched and discussed.

Two other important bills before the senate committee—Senate Bills 828 and 829—set up procedures for relieving financially distressed school districts through additional state aid.

The two bills grew out of the shaky financial situation into which the Inkster School District has fallen and the subsequent realization that state aid to the poor school districts may have to be re-evaluated in the coming year.

Another interesting bill up for committee discussion is one to allow any school district to engage competent persons to teach sex education. The department of education would supervise setting up of these programs.

Other proposals likely to attract considerable attention of the committee in the next few weeks include:

1. Three bills providing for establishment of a Michigan educational communications system, prescribing powers and duties of the state board of education and permitting the state board of education to accept federal funds for such systems. The bills also would appropriate matching funds under the federal law.

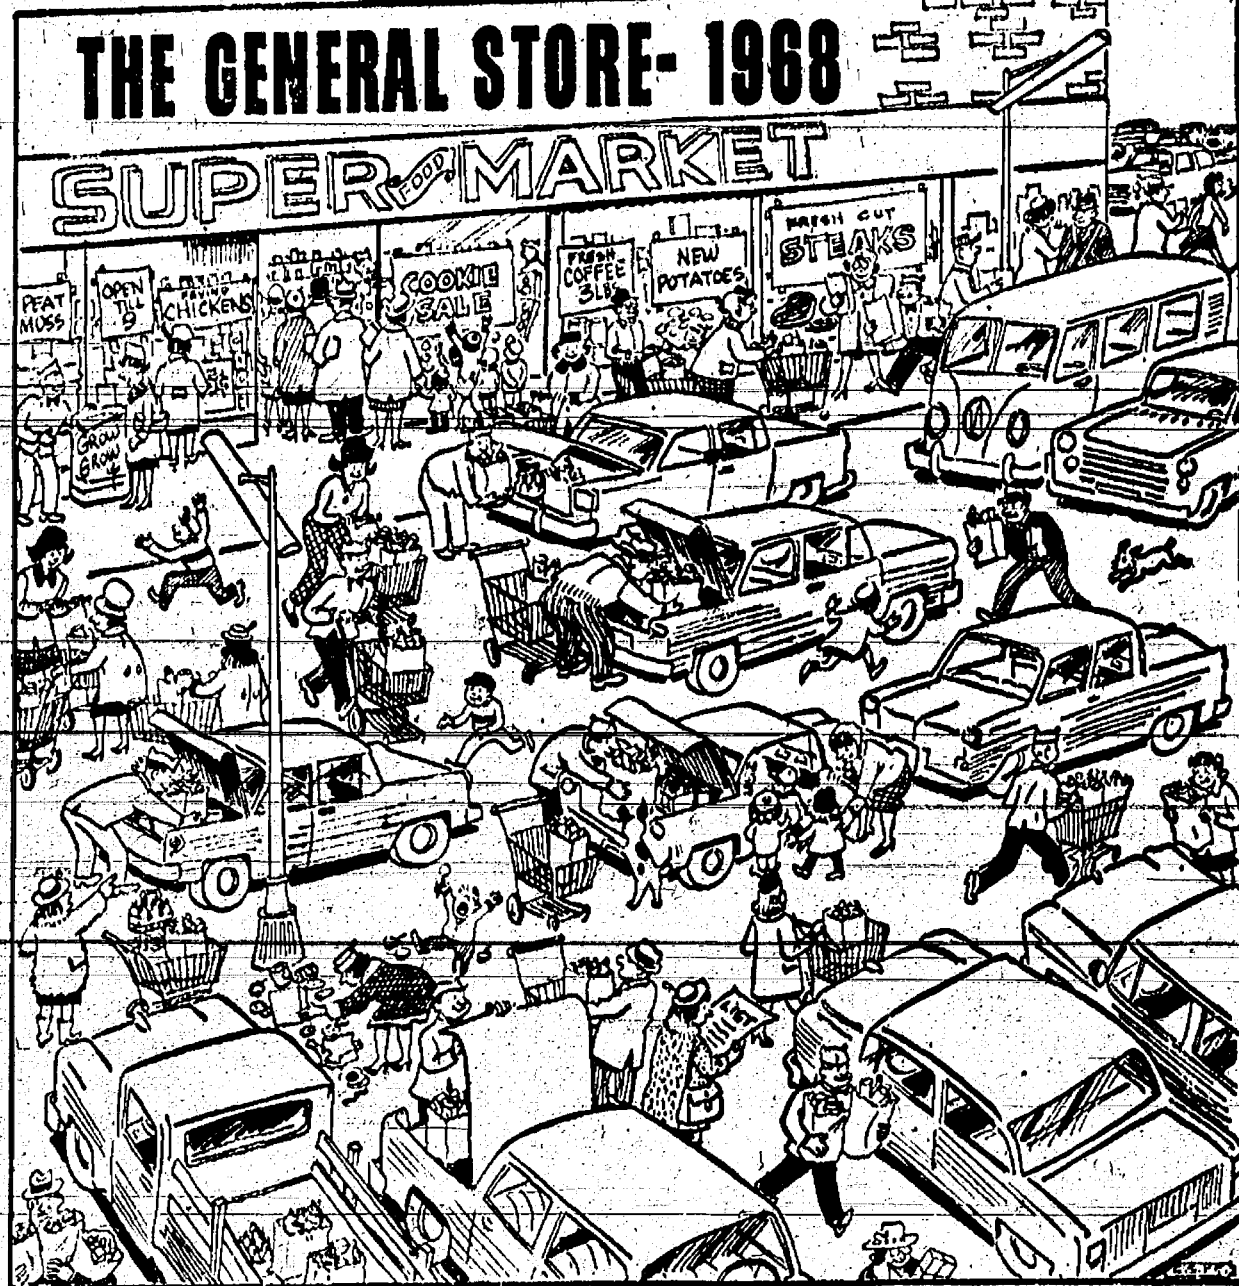

2. A carry-over bill from last year requiring the state board of education to formulate and adopt a plan of reorganization of intermediate school districts. This would reduce the number of districts to between 30 and 35 and make their boundaries conform to those of the local school districts.

3. House Bill No. 3314, which would make it legal for an intermediate school district to contract with a constituent school district to jointly establish a building, or buildings.

The authority could issue revenue bonds, for example, for the building of facilities for a trainable mentally handicapped persons.

Senate Bill No. 684, which provides school transportation in special cases of hazardous routes. Consideration of these, and other bills before the committee, will be stepped up to meet the March 22 deadline. While the task is a formidable one, because committee meetings must be sandwiched in between full senate sessions and other senatorial duties, the committee is designed to have long experience in operating.

The Education-Elections committee has at its disposal analyses of each bill made by the state department of education immediately affected by the bill. In addition, the committee may hear state officials, sponsors and opponents and may call in experts.

Many Opportunities
 Benefits of college training are stressed so heavily that many high school students feel that a college program is the only road to success. Parents often have the same feeling, and it is frequently encouraged by school counselors.

"This is unfortunate," says Ellis S. Hammond, Michigan State educator, who believes such reasoning works hardships on both student and society. While parents may feel their child's chance of success, especially financially, is lessened by not attending college, the fact is that many skilled trades carry a higher wage scale than what college graduates can command.

Overemphasis of college education and a neglect of students who are not college-bound is a practice of our present way of life, argues Hammond.

A series of booklets, of which Hammond is co-author, supplies specific information to help students who do not want to go to college, as well as to those who do.

Referred to as "COGS," the Career Opportunity Guides are available for a dollar per copy. "COGS No. 1" is designed for the student interested in something besides college training. It includes lists of wages and salaries. These show that some trades pay as much as $35.00 more than degree jobs for beginners.

Applicable "COGS" can be published, deals with apprenticeship programs.

Effective distribution for "COGS" is a problem and a disappointment for those who produced them. They thought schools would be eager to have several copies available for use by their students and that parents would buy copies so they could have the information permanently. They were wrong.

"COGS" have received superficial approval, but school counselors, for the most part, have shown no great desire to use the publications to help students who are not college-oriented.

Labor and management give lots of encouragement to the "COGS" ideas, but little support. Nor have civic groups which it seems to the "COGS" publishers, ought to be eager to help.

So the educators are left with what seems to them valuable information to parents and young people and are at a loss to put it into their hands.

Tax Changes Forecast
 Tax repeals and some hard looks at the entire tax situation in Michigan may be in the offing if Sen. Harry A. DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, has his way. DeMaso, chairman of the State Senate Taxation Committee, says his committee hopes to find ways to eliminate "inequitable taxes" now levied against individuals as well as businesses.

As desirable as this idea may be, the Senator found the going rough when he sought repeal of the first "inequitable tax," the so-called "chain-store tax." The tax was passed 35 years ago in an attempt to protect small store owners from growing chain store operations.

DeMaso said it is not really a tax, but a fee charged to chain store operators for the privilege of doing business. He contended the tax has not proven successful and serves no purpose.

Democrats blistered DeMaso with accusations that the measure was designed to give a break to "big business." Tax repeals should benefit those who need it most, they charged. DeMaso retorted that the Democrats were admitting the tax was inequitable.

and were merely saying, "let's keep it on because it's against business."

The measure finally passed amid name calling and party clashes. Observers view the collision as an indication of things to come, perhaps with the moral: taxes are easier passed than repealed.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 Ed Doolittle told the fellows at the country store Saturday night he had worked out a new plan of operations for the Great Society.

Ed said we had ought to go to a 13-month year; that the idea everybody had the same amount of time was an old-fashioned way of pay-as-you-go system. He claimed time ain't spread around equal no more and we got to get everything equal in the Great Society.

For instance, he said his daughter that lives in the city figures how many minutes she was away from her job, not how many miles. Ever time a faster airplane is made or ever time a new electric gadget is made that does the job quicker, Ed allowed, somebody was getting longer on time and somebody was getting on the short end of the time deal. After going into all this business of the mini-weeks and maxi-weekends and maxi-pay and mini-work for everybody except the farmers and ranchers, Ed got down to the heart of his new plan.

First off, he said, we wouldn't have to worry none about where the extra month was coming from, that we could handle it like the government budget and borrow it off the next century and let the youngsters of tomorrow worry about running short on years. He figured we could add an extra week at special times in the year, like around the middle of the summer to work out vacations better, and another right afore Christmas and call it a shopping-week bonus. And everybody, claimed Ed, would be tickled to have an extra week to work on their income tax forms.

Zeke Grubb come out strong for Ed's 13-month plan. He said everybody would have fewer birthdays and they would think they was living longer. But Bug Hookum had some doubts about it. He said "the government would say official it would give the people more time to enjoy the good life, but actual it would amount to giving the Government an extra month's worth of taxes.

The fellows was just getting warmed up to the debate, Mister Editor, when the storekeeper announced it was closing time. He said he didn't have but one Sunday in the week to rest up, and unless Ed could come up with an extra Sunday in the week without losing a day's business, us fellows had better table the discussion so's he could get some sleep. But Ed got in one more word. He said that was exact what he had been talking about. Us fellows had all the time and the storekeeper didn't have none. He was in favor of writing about six Sundays into his extra-month bill. Zeke Grubb said he would vote for it but he was shore his preacher would be dead agin this amendment.

Personal, Mister Editor, 12 months is about all I can stand for one fiscal year.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Wrestlers Win Regional...

keep from being pinned exhausted him and the cheering spectators. Boylan won it 7-6.

Kerry Kargel and Paul Stahl were the other two Bulldog champions. Kargel won 3-0 over an Eaton Rapids finalist and Paul Stahl defeated his Willow Run opponent, 2-1.

In other championship matches, Mike Hendricks lost a 5-1 decision to Michigan Center's Jim Hudson. Mark Lancaster lost 4-2 to Chuck Forward, another fine Michigan Center wrestler, and Mike Gaken saw the 180 title go to Willow Run's Greg Mitchell by a 3-1 score.

The Bulldogs were helped to the team title by John McKeighan (108) who won one match by a fall before being eliminated and Tim Colvia (105), who also posted one win.

This Friday and Saturday Coach Miller takes his six first- and second-place finishers to Wyoming Godwin-Heights High school, where they will contest for state honors with qualifiers from seven other regional tournaments around the state.

Chelsea goes into the tournament with an unusually large delegation. Last year Lauren Boyer was the sole qualifier. The year before last the Bulldogs had none.

Lack of information about strengths of qualifiers from other tournaments permits only speculation about the Bulldogs' chances. But with two major tournament wins, plus dual meet victories over Adrian, Willow Run, and Dexter, this year's Bulldog wrestling team has established Chelsea as a high-ranked power among the Class B high schools.

The competition at the state meet will be stiff. The tournament brings together the top two men from each weight class from eight regionals. Seeding brackets and outcome of drawing for opponents have an influence on the results. But the Chelsea delegation—Mike Hendricks, Paul Stahl, Mark Lancaster, Kerry Kargel, Mike Gaken, and Jim Boylan—in numbers and proven ability must be considered contenders for the state team championship.

BIBLE VERSE TO STUDY

"Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself."

1. Does this verse advise a complete lack of planning in our daily lives?
2. Just what is its meaning?
3. Where may this verse be found?
4. Of what discourse is it a part?

Only 1 in 20 Escape License Suspension By Refusing Breath Test

Lansing. Only one driver in 20 who has refused to take a sobriety test in connection with Michigan's implied consent law has escaped suspension of his driving privilege, it was disclosed by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

As of Feb. 2, three months after the program got under way, 403 Michigan drivers have been given mandatory 90-day suspensions for refusal to take sobriety tests when they were arrested, Hare noted.

"Of this total, 295 drivers were suspended through driver improvement action, and 108 were suspended after their appeals were denied by License Appeal Boards," Hare stated. "In only 20 cases were appeals granted."

"Neither actions taken by our Department internally in suspensions nor by license appeal boards determine the guilt or innocence of these persons," Hare said. "Adjudication of the cases is up to the courts."

WAITING FOR A MESSAGE: Members of the Radio Club gather around the radio equipment on which they have transmitted and received many messages. In the front of the picture are Charles Belser and John Rinn, the club's advisor. The RADIO EQUIPMENT belonging to the Radio Club of Chelsea High school includes a 50-watt transmitter (left) and a receiver which has picked up stations in Indiana, Ohio, New Jersey, Kentucky and Pennsylvania.

Horseback Riding Trails Eliminated In Waterloo Area

Horseback riding is no longer permitted in the trail rider area of Waterloo Recreation area. In the past, this area had been designated for use of horseback riding only.

The new horseback riding section is now in the Waterloo Hunt Club area. This location does not contain any camping facilities, such as water, restrooms or shelter. The former trail rider area contained two cabins, adequate toilet facilities, and a pump for drinking water.

The decision to move the horseback riding location was made recently by the Recreation and Resources Planning Division, of which Norman F. Smith is chairman.

Members of the Planning Division claimed the switch was made because trails marked and used by horseback riders interfered with nature trails to be set up in the future by the Planning Division.

Members of Trail Blazers Riding Club of Chelsea stated that, although they do not protest the move, they would like to continue using the old trail rider area until adequate facilities are set up in the Waterloo Hunt Club for overnight camp-outs. According to W. W. Williamson, club president, such facilities are not being planned at the present time.

New York—The Ford Foundation has announced grants of approximately $1-million for Indonesia. This is the first grant since 1965 when adverse operating conditions caused the foundation to close its office in Jakarta.

Radio Club Contacts Out-State Operators

"W-A-S-U-X-O Portable 8 calling CQ. W-A-S-U-X-O Portable 8 calling C-Q." A squeal, some static, and then the answer comes through. "Station W0HFQ of Arsenal Technical High School in Indianapolis, Ind., is answering a call from the Radio Club of Chelsea High school."

The Radio Club has recently exchanged voice and code messages with stations in Indianapolis, Anderson and Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Clyde and East Lake, Gladstone, N. J.; Pleasureville, Ky., and Sewickley, Pa.

John Rinn, mathematics instructor and advisor of the Radio Club, has supervised the overhaul of sending and receiving equipment located in a booth above the Chelsea High school auditorium. According to Rinn, Chelsea's shortwave station had been inoperable for several years until the club was re-activated last fall under Rinn's tutelage. Rinn, an amateur radio operator, is leading a group of high school students who are interested in learning amateur radio skills and some general knowledge of radio fundamentals.

The transmitter located at the high school is a Heathkit with 50 watts input to the final. The receiver has very good sensitivity and selectivity, according to Rinn.

Some additional equipment is needed, such as: a novice transmitter, VOM meter vacuum tube volt meter, emergency equipment, including a gas motor generator, soldering guns, a draftsman's light for work area, and miscellaneous light tools.

If anyone in the community is able to donate these items, or the funds with which to purchase this equipment, he should contact Rinn or Ed Wade, Radio Club president.

Artificial Respiration Class Monday Evening Is Open to Public

Instruction in the technique of mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration will be available to the public Monday night, March 11, at 8 o'clock in the Chelsea Fire Hall.

Mr. Cook, a Red Cross instructor, from Ann Arbor, who has been teaching a first-aid course to local police and firemen, will demonstrate the artificial respiration methods on "Resusci-Annie," a mannequin specially constructed for such classes. Each person present will then have the opportunity to practice mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration on the dummy.

Curtis Farley Named On Dean's Honor List

Curtis M. Farley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Farley of 153 Van Buren St., has been named to the Dean's List at Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond, Ky., for the first semester of the 1967-68 academic year. Farley is a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Stolen Car Found

A car stolen in Stockbridge Monday morning was found in a ditch on Embury Rd. Tuesday morning. Walter French of N. Territorial Rd. saw the vehicle in the ditch and told Chelsea police about it. The car, a 1967 Chevy convertible, had been stolen from Tom Basore of Stockbridge.

No suspect has been found in the case.

Grass Fire Hazard

Fire Chief James Gaken reminds area residents to use extreme caution when burning rubbish, since this has been the cause of many recent grass fires. Rubbish should be burned in a metal container with a mesh cover. The fire should be supervised at all times.

Bulldog Cagers Consistent in Loss to Dexter

The Chelsea Bulldog varsity cagers were defeated by the Dexter Dreadnaughts last Friday evening in the last regular game of the season.

The Dreadnaughts took the lead in the early minutes of the first quarter and held it throughout the entire game. The final quarter saw the Bulldogs fight hard to get ahead, with Doug Weatherwax and Gary Ellenwood leading in the scoring. But fouls were again costly to the Bulldogs as Dexter picked up a total of 22 points on foul shots.

Leading scorer for the Chelsea Bulldogs was John Lixey with a total of 15 points. Doug Weatherwax followed with 11 points. John Freeman and Jack Risner contributed eight points each. Other individual scores were as follows: Gary Ellenwood, seven points; Craig Houle, four points; Roy Holliday, two points; Rob Powers, two points; Lance Burghardt, two points; Larry Blackwell, one point; and Steve Diedrick, one point.

The Bulldogs will play the winner of the Saline-Willow Run game in the district finals at 7:30 p.m. at the U. of M. Thursday night at Saline. The District tournament at Saline began Tuesday night with the Saline-Willow Run game. Dexter faced Lincoln last night. The final game, which will determine the district champions, will be played Saturday night. The winning team will then go to Eastern Michigan University for the regional competition.

New Approach To Junior High Science Courses

Science teachers and the principal of Chelsea Junior High School traveled to Lansing and Midland during the past week to help develop new science courses which will be offered here.

Don Young and James Hoffmeyer, science teachers at the Junior High, attended all-day meetings of the Michigan Science Teachers Association at Lansing on Saturday, March 2. The stated goal of the MSTA is to improve science education at all levels, kindergarten through grade 12.

Sectional meetings attended by Young and Hoffmeyer included programs on astronomy in the junior-high school, ecology programs for junior high, new approaches to junior high science, and improved methods for student evaluation (grading).

On Monday, March 4, Mrs. Ray Steinbach, who teaches eighth-grade science, Alan Conklin, principal, Young and Hoffmeyer went to Midland, where they observed a "laboratory approach" to science teaching in action. They also visited an elementary science-art room and several junior high science rooms.

At present, the science offered in grades 7 and 8 at Chelsea is textbook oriented; that is, a selected text is the guide for what is included in the curriculum and students are expected mainly to master the subject matter contained therein. The other approach, planned for grades 6, 7, 8 and 9 at Beach school and following basically the method used at Midland, has the laboratory as its central focus. Pre-lab meetings prepare the students for the laboratory experiences and post-lab meetings are designed to see that the desired learning goals have been achieved. The textbook in this course is mainly a reference source along with other written materials.

Junior Varsity Cagers Lose to Dexter, 62-58

The Chelsea Junior varsity basketball team lost to Dexter last Friday evening in the last game of the season, by a final score of 62 to 55. Again, fouls were the major detriment to Chelsea.

Dexter opened the scoring on a foul shot early in the first quarter. Art Farley returned, putting in a field goal, to give the Bulldogs a one-point lead over Dexter. The game remained close for the next few minutes, with Chelsea holding a small lead. But in the last minutes of the first quarter, Dexter claimed a small lead over Chelsea. Jim Wojcicki scored a field goal, bringing up a 7-7 tie with three minutes and 58 seconds remaining in the first quarter. The Dreadnaughts broke the tie and reclaimed a good lead over Chelsea. The Dreadnaughts were ahead at the end of the first quarter with a 17-12 score.

Dexter held on to a substantial lead throughout most of the second quarter, but in the last minutes of the half, Chelsea forged ahead, with Art Farley and Jim Wojcicki leading in the scoring. With little more than a minute remaining in the half, Jim Wojcicki brought up a 31-31 tie. Wojcicki put in a second field goal to give the Bulldogs the lead, but Dexter returned to reclaim the lead on foul shots. Some quick field goals in the last minute gave the Dreadnaughts a five-point lead at half-time with a 38 to 33 score.

The Dreadnaughts held a substantial lead over Chelsea throughout the remainder of the game. An attempted comeback in the final quarter was offset by fouls, and Dexter emerged with a 62 to 55 victory over Chelsea.

Jim Wojcicki was at the top of the scoring for Chelsea with a total of 20 points. Other individual scores were as follows: Art Farley, seven points; David Conklin, seven points; Leonard Kozma, five points; Floyd Boyce, four points; Ned Blacklaw, four points; Karsten Kuyvel, three points; Dan Wenk, two points; and John Hopburn, one point.

The JV season record includes five wins and 13 losses.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

One of the most knowledgeable and successful men we know, listed some of the reasons for his success.

He explained how he set out to learn the facts of life—and then learned to live with those facts. He learned life is a mixture of good days and bad, of victory and defeat, of give and take. He learned not to carry a chip on his shoulder because he was neither prepared or willing to fight over foolishness. He learned buck-passing always turned out to be a boomerang. He learned that any job or business could operate without him, as eventually it must anyway. He learned people stationed below him are human, have flesh and blood, heart and sentiment the same as he. He learned it does no harm to smile and say "Good morning"—even if it is raining. He learned other people are just as ambitious, just as capable as he. And he also learned some people have more brains than he has. He learned to sympathize with youngsters in his business, because he remembered how bewildered he was when he started out. He learned most people are generally alike and that "getting along" depended about 99 percent on his own behavior. BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 E. Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4111.

Spaulding Foundation for Children Offers New Hope

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on the Spaulding Foundation for Children, its philosophy, purpose, and aims. The series will explore the needs of the children to be served by the Foundation and how the Foundation expects to meet these needs.

Jimmy is 7 years old. He had the misfortune of being born in the wrong place at the wrong time. His sparkling brown eyes and intelligent smile hide his deep hurt. A nightmare several months back revealed more. He was in a foster home waiting the long tedious process of termination by the court from his biological alcoholic mother. His father had no name and no face. He didn't understand why he was waiting for a home so long. After all, how do you explain termination and courts and problems to a 7-year-old? In the middle of the night he cried out, "Ain't I ever going to belong to anybody?"

The foster parents were nice people but Jimmy really didn't fully belong to them and he knew it. He needed to belong to somebody.

There are thousands of youngsters like Jimmy. They are sometimes called "the children who wait." A special legislative committee recently estimated that nearly 8,000 children wait in Michigan alone. Yet for a long time adoption has been considered "second best," a situation to be entered into by would-be parents only after all other channels to acquire a family have been unsuccessfully explored and tried. Today, however, adoption must be seen as a responsible and positive alternative to bearing children. Otherwise, many children like Jimmy will go without permanent parental love. The cost to the child and community is impossible to measure in human terms and tremendous in financial terms if children grow up waiting.

The yardstick which measures an inquiring couple wishing to adopt a child is their "parenting potential." A person does not have to necessarily bear a child to consider himself a "parent" to that child. The person must surely and fully understand what adoption means - that it is forever. A couple can care tenderly for the child they take while a bond of love is given a chance to unite them into a family.

In the past, confronted too often with many applicants and few children, social agencies and social workers attempted to screen out all but a few couples wishing to adopt children. Now, however, the task has changed to one of preparing as many persons as are interested and able to become parents to a child not born to them.

The Spaulding Foundation for Children came into existence to meet an unmet social need by performing a service of excellent quality. In addition, the Foundation will demonstrate progressive methods and techniques in the adoption field. There is little question that adoption services are vital and crucially needed. Because of its special focus on adoption, a plus factor is added. The Foundation will endeavor to perform its service in a superior manner and develop its resources to the maximum.

The recently approved "intake policy" of the Foundation reads: "This agency will serve children under age 18 regardless of race, creed, or national origin who are available for adoption, for whom adoption is an appropriate plan, and who have not been placed by present resources due to factors such as location and scope of existing services, special needs of the child, or unavailability of potential adoptive parents. The need of each child for service is of paramount importance but preference is given to children from Michigan. A child from any appropriate referral source will be considered when this agency can provide the needed placement service. Children may be assigned directly to the agency by Michigan courts or referred by private or public agencies.

The Foundation will endeavor to search for adoptive parents from across the state and beyond, although at first the search will be concentrated in southeastern Michigan. It is estimated that 20 percent of the children like Jimmy will not find homes. The Foundation hopes to do something about this 20 percent.

Jody, a quiet, charming 3-year-old, is another one of the children who wait. He is one half Chippewa Indian and normal in every way. At six months, Jody was released to adoption. However, he is still in a foster home since the adoption agency in the community where he is located has been unable to find a permanent family for him. Jody will find a couple who will become his parents. The Spaulding Foundation for Children will widen the search and expand the resources to find Jody a home of his own where he will belong and feel the love of parents.

The community has a large stake and genuine responsibility in this important undertaking. The concern of the public for the children who wait is translated into positive community effort through the efforts of the Spaulding Foundation for Children.

JAYCEES PICK
Top Young Farmer

Soon, if all goes as planned, Michigan's newly chosen "Most Outstanding" young farmer and his wife will board a non-stop plane to Washington, D. C. and a guided, all-expense tour of our nation's capital. Included will be a study of great Americans and great documents.

There will be a visit to the newly opened Lincoln Theater where Lincoln was shot and to the home, nearby, where Lincoln died. A trip by bus to George Washington's home at Mount Vernon will include a stop at Arlington National Cemetery and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

A breakfast is planned with Michigan's Republican delegation to Congress and a luncheon with Michigan Democrats. There will be a visit to the Bureau of Printing and Engraving (where money is made) and the White House and Congress, (where money is spent) followed by a press conference at the National Press Club.

The trip—a gift of the Michigan Farm Bureau—is only one of many awards and honors that will come to the state's top young farmer couple in an annual program sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Michigan.

The "Jaycees"—with typical enthusiasm, use the program to spotlight the problems and achievements of modern young farmers—state and national.

This year's field of 15 Michigan candidates include: James Sigelow, Alma; Charles Bracey, Ovid; Robert Buist, Allendale; R. James Cook, Howell; Samuel J. Elliott, Ypsilanti; Robert Gasper, Cheesaning; Robert Harper, Vicksburg; and Richard Krogel, Bangor.

Others are: Alan Mahdigo, Paw Paw; Russell Myers, Battle Creek; Wesley S. Prime, Springport; Gerald Sloum, Hart; Robert Squanda, Sylvania; Kevin Stevens, Adrian; and Edward Wawiernia, Grand Ledge.

All were nominated by their local Jaycee Chapters and four of the list will be named the state's top four young farmers. In a final announcement—climaxing the awards program, one will be picked as "Most Outstanding." This state winner will compete in a national contest held later in the spring.

Homemakers from Washtenaw, Monroe and Lenawee counties will have the opportunity to attend the classes at College Day For Women, March 16, 9 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. at the First Methodist church, Adrian. This event, which is a part of the Family Living Education Program of the Co-operative Extension Service, is designed for better living through learning.

Those attending may choose between 11 classes, says Mrs. Helen Fairman, Extension Home Economist. Included are classes on understanding credit, cooking for a crowd, organization in the kitchen, planting care and maintenance of home landscape materials and use of weed killers and pesticides.

A highlight of the day will be the general assembly when Mrs. Harivleen Bajwa, a homemaker and student from India, will tell about family life and customs in India. The complete program and registration blanks will be sent on request from the Co-operative Extension Service, 116 County Building, Ann Arbor, 48108.

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

★ Who Is Running U. of M. Affairs? ...

On March 19, a man named William Sloan Coffin will be lecturing at the University of Michigan's Hill Auditorium. Since Coffin is supposed to be a chaplain from Yale University, this certainly sounds harmless enough. The fact is, however, that Coffin will definitely not be preaching theology or counseling the students on their religious problems. He was one of the ring-leaders in a violent demonstration at the Pentagon a few months ago. And after investigation by the U. S. Attorney General, he happens to be under federal indictment for organizing resistance to the Selective Service Act—in other words, for preaching and counseling draft-dodging.

After his lecture at the U-M so-called "discussion" workshops are scheduled to take place in classrooms the taxpayers of Michigan have provided. As I have previously pointed out, this form of direct aid and comfort to an active opponent of the armed forces of the United States may not be technically classified as treason, in the absence of a formal declaration of war. But clearly enough, this is not for any lack of the basic raw material of which treason is made.

A great many, perhaps most of the U-M faculty members, are appalled by the degeneration of a once-proud campus into a citadel of radicalism. But few speak out any longer, and even those few hesitate to have their names made public. Some time back, after the facilities of this state-supported university had actually been used to solicit funds for the Viet Cong, one professor wrote a letter of protest to Governor Romney. The Governor passed it on to Dr. Harlan Hatcher, who was then the University of Michigan president. The only result was that the professor was called in by a dean and reprimanded for "harming the University's public image."

"What these radical students, practically all of whom are out-of-staters, were doing to the University image evidently didn't matter," this professor recalls. "This loud minority keeps making one demand after another—ranging from the right to entertain coeds behind closed doors in their dormitory bedrooms to the right to inject their own extremist politics into every aspect of campus life. The administration keeps giving in to their demands, and the new University president, Dr. Robbin Fleming, certainly doesn't seem to be changing the trend."

All of which leads to one very basic question: Just how willing should Michigan citizens be to provide ever-increasing amounts of their hard-earned tax dollars for a university to which they no longer dare send their sons for fear of the infectious philosophies of de facto treason, or their daughters for fear of pregnancy? "The U. of M. regents have no idea how far the situation has deteriorated," another faculty member mentions. "We no longer talk about education in faculty meetings; instead, we constantly discuss resolutions protesting the Vietnam war or the draft. We find our blackboards painted regularly with left-wing slogans, such as 'STOP CLASSIFIED RESEARCH' or 'KEEP THE CLASS OFF CAMPUS'. But instead of investigating, the administration just keeps sending our crews of workmen to scrape off the paint. 'You know,' this academic gentleman added, 'I'd like a pay raise just as much as anyone else. But if budget appropriations are the only weapon the legislature has to combat the decay of what was once a great university, then the legislature should use that weapon!'"

Pilots Find Freeways

Are Aid to Navigation

Lansing—Motorists are not the only persons who appreciate Michigan's modern freeways.

Airplane pilots say they like them too.

Easily recognized from the air, the freeways and their interchanges are excellent navigational aids.

Some pilots have also used the freeways for emergency landings, but this practice is not encouraged.

Some years ago, the Air Force instructed its Reserve Recovery Squadrons to survey freeways for possible use by military aircraft in the event of a national emergency.

No such emergency has occurred, but Michigan's freeways are always open—in summer and winter.

AID TO APPETITES

Denver—Appetites have soared in the children's ward of the Colorado General Hospital since the western atmosphere was added.

Miss Mary McCracken, chief dietitian, said converting the steam delivery cart into a ranch-type chuckwagon caused the children's appetites to zoom.

DEADLINE REMINDER: Dorothy Downer (left), Detroit Edison's local electric living advisor, and Marion E. Ryan, head of the company's electric living division, put a sign and the third prize blender on display to remind area working women of the approaching March 15 deadline for the seventh annual "Queen of the Kitchen" contest.

Edison Company Sponsoring 'Queen of the Kitchen' Contest

All working women in this area are reminded of the approaching March 15 deadline in the seventh annual "Queen of the Kitchen" contest.

Sponsored by Detroit Edison, the contest is open to women who are employed full-time and who live within the boundaries of the company's southeastern Michigan service area. All are invited to submit a recipe for a one-dish meal that can be cooked in an hour or less.

The grand prize is a deluxe range, and the "Queen" will have her choice of the top-of-the-line models of nationally-known manufacturers. A brother-in-law, complete with shish-kebab attachment, will be awarded as second prize, and the third prize will be a 10-speed blender.

Miss Dorothy Downer, Edison's local electric living advisor, says that entries must include name, address, telephone number and place of employment and should be sent to local Edison offices directly to the company's Electric Living Division, 2000 Second, Detroit, 48226.

From entries received, 10 women will be chosen to take part in a cook-off on Thursday, March 28, in Detroit. Each finalist will receive an electrical appliance and will be the guest of the Edison Co. at the gala Salute to Women Who Work banquet at Detroit's Cobo Hall on March 26. Finalists will be announced Thursday, March 21.

School Bus Driver Classes Scheduled

Classes for all Washtenaw county school bus drivers will be held three nights next week. Main St., Manchester; and Thursday, March 14 at Milan High school cafeteria, 920 N. St., Milan. All classes will meet from 7-10 p.m.

Instructed by Homer Earl, the classes will include discussion on maintaining good rider control, good conduct on the part of bus riders, and a realistic approach to the principles of first aid and treatment of accident victims.

All school bus drivers are urged to attend the classes. School administrators and school board members are urged to send their drivers.

Bishop Emrich Will Confirm Classes at Episcopal Churches

Fourteen young people from St. James and St. Barnabas Episcopal churches will have the honor of receiving the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation from the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan, at a ceremony to be held Sunday, March 10 at 4 p.m. in the Dexter church. Presenting the confirmands to the Bishop will be the Rev. William Ladkau, rector of St. James and vicar of St. Barnabas.

Among those to be confirmed from St. James are Susan Brown, Wendy Dotts, Susan Erb, Janet Fyfe, Julie Fyfe, Brad Rutledge, Barbara Shea and Grace Steinway.

The confirmands from St. Barnabas include Jon Barber, David Lauson, Sandra Norton, Steven Norton, Kevin O'Brien and David Smyth.

A reception honoring the confirmation class will be held at St. James parish hall following the service. The confirmands will make their first Communion, Sunday, March 17, in their respective parishes.

The Rt. Rev. Richard Emrich came to Michigan in 1946 as Suffragan Bishop, and in 1948 became Diocesan Bishop. His jurisdiction is that of the eastern half of the lower peninsula with the See City Detroit.

He has served in many capacities, both in his church and for the community. A member of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Hospitals of the Detroit Commission of Community Relations, he has also served on the Governor's Ethical and Moral Panel, and has been chairman of the Detroit Citizens Committee for Equal Opportunity.

For six years a member of the National Council of the Episcopal Church, Bishop Emrich holds a number of honorary degrees, and in 1958 was made an Honorary Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire by H.R.M. Queen Elizabeth II.

A native of Mardin, Turkey, where he was born to missionary parents in 1910, he studied in the United States at Phillips Andover Academy, Brown University and the Episcopal Theological school, Cambridge, as well as Union Theological Seminary, New York, and the University of Marburg (Germany), where he received his PhD in Philosophy.

SURVIVES 13-STORY FALL. Baltimore—Ervin Watts, Jr., fell 13 stories and only suffered bruises on his neck. The 20-year-old youth fell down an elevator shaft in a building where he was working and landed in a pool of water.

If children could name themselves, there would be some changes made.

BRITAIN TIME CHANGED

London—The British government instructed Engr. L. A. D. Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland to move their clocks forward one hour at 2 a.m. Feb. 18. This is a permanent change and a step towards membership in the Common Market.

There are too many human beings under the impression that they have to live somebody else's life for them.

Dial direct and let the savings roll in.

If you'd like to save some money, you'll be interested in Direct Distance Dialing. It's a more economical way to call Long Distance because direct dialed calls are all Station-to-Station instead of Person-to-Person.

It's easy, too. Just dial "1" then the Area Code, if it's different from your own, and the number you want. For an idea of how much you can save, here's an example. A 3-minute Person-to-Person call between Detroit and Chicago costs $1.30 at the day rate. Dial direct and the cost is only 85¢.

So whenever you're reasonably sure the party you're calling will be there, dial direct and let the savings roll in!

First, call Edison. We'll give you the names of electric heat contractors near you. Each has been Edison-approved as capable and reliable.

Next, the contractor will check your home, review your needs, and recommend the type of heat best for you. He will estimate both installation and operating cost and give them to you in writing. All without obligation. We'll check the quotes if you like.

Then, after your new electric heat system is installed, Edison and your contractor will make any adjustments necessary to the system if operating cost exceeds the original estimate during the first three years of use. At the end of this time, if operating cost still exceeds the estimate, and you aren't satisfied, Edison will remove the system and refund your original price.

That's our new Three-Step Protection Plan. Remember the first step. Call Edison.

Peter Ustinov Describes His Family Tree on TV Interview

Lansing—"N.E.T. Festival" presents Peter Ustinov, as he describes his family on "Ustinov on Family Tree" Sunday, March 10, 3 p.m. on WMSB-TV, Channel 10, Michigan State University.

Ustinov, actor, director and producer, describes his family tree in a series of sketches that stretch from Russia to France, from Switzerland to Ethiopia. His series of sketches of family members includes his grandmother, the sister of a Swiss missionary, an Ethiopian woman who was a nurse during the Battle of Aden in 1898.

One ancestor left his native Russia in 1794 to become a chef at the court of Tsar Alexander I and marry Empress; Ustinov's family was the first director of the Imperial Opera in St. Petersburg.

Ustinov, himself, was a son of the late Iona Ustinov, Russian-born journalist known as "Klop" and Nadia Benois Ustinov, an artist.

Other WMSB highlights include: "Assignment 10," investigates a dilemma of a Michigan community's attitude toward the minority workers who have temporarily settled in their midst on the Deer People of Athens, the Deer People of Athens, the Deer People of Athens, the Deer People of Athens.

Both sides of the issue are presented through interviews with community leaders and with militants who are comparable to her in their shyness in dealing with the white people.

ARC—Presents "N.E.T. Playhouse," presents a famous Victorian farce, "Charles and the Girl," by Brandon Thomas, Sunday, March 10, at 10 p.m.

This intriguingly conceived play concerns an Oxford student, Jack, who is in love with a girl named Kit, and his friend, Charles, who is in love with a girl named Amy.

PRIVACY—"N.E.T. Journal" presents "The Right of Privacy," a documented play for privacy in an age of exploding files, Sunday, March 10, at 4:30 p.m. and Wednesday, March 13, at 12 noon.

The program investigates the use of computers, the detector of pre-employment personality tests and other means of categorizing the individual and suggests the establishment of a proposed National Data Center would be "the end of privacy."

All School Buses Will Be Inspected By State Police

Lansing—After discontinuing the assignment for several years, Michigan State Police will this year resume inspection of Michigan school buses, Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley said today.

Beginning Feb. 5 and through March 1 State Police will handle the job of inspecting brakes, horns, lights, steering and various other aspects of the approximately 8,500 Michigan public school buses which transport some 700,000 children about 72 million miles a year.

State Police previously inspected the buses of the largest public transportation system in the state but seven years ago discontinued the job because of shortage of manpower.

However, State Police Director Frederick Davids has now ordered resumption of the inspection and school administrators will be contacted by State Police to arrange inspection schedules, Polley said.

Michigan Bell Is Expanding In Ann Arbor

The largest single telephone expansion project in Ann Arbor's history was started Monday, March 4, the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has announced.

The company will erect a four-story "wrap-around" addition to its present building on E. Washington between Fifth and Division Aves. to provide office and equipment space.

Nicholas J. Prakken, Michigan Bell manager, said the total cost of the expansion will be nearly $6.5 million.

"In actuality, this will be a new building in Ann Arbor," Prakken said, "although, technically speaking, it's an addition because of its physical connection with the present office on Washington. When completed, the new structure will face Huron St. and will practically hide our present four-story building."

Prakken said the new four-story portion will be used as office space by several of the company's departments, and for local and long distance switching equipment "of the most modern design." Completion is scheduled for June, 1969.

The company said the construction contract has been awarded to R. E. Dailey & Co., Detroit contractors. Architectural design is by Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc. Plans of the four-story, 121-by-134-foot addition, Prakken said, provide for further expansion so that ultimately it could become an eight-story building.

Michigan Bell recently purchased adjoining property and will tear down a vacated two-story building, formerly the telephone business office on E. Washington, to make room for the new building.

To contain almost 65,000 square feet of space, the new facility will be more than 10 times the size of the original building that was erected in 1925. It has been expanded three times since then.

The first alteration on the original office was the addition of a third floor in 1927. A second expansion was completed in 1947, and two years later, the fourth story was added.

Detroit Banker Hewitt Named Chairman of Highway Commission

Lansing—Charles H. Hewitt, Detroit, has been appointed chairman of the Michigan State Highway Commission to succeed Ardale W. Ferguson, Benton Harbor.

The appointment, by Governor Romney, marked the first change in Commission officers since the constitutionally established body was formed in November, 1964. Ferguson had been chairman and Hewitt vice chairman since the Commission's inception.

Walloce D. (Mike) Nunn, East Tawas, was elected by the four-man Commission to succeed Hewitt as vice chairman.

Hewitt, 67, a Director of Detroit Bank & Trust and the bank's President in 1963-66, said his principal objective as Chairman will be "to insure that the Commission is discharging its prescribed constitutional and statutory duties in accordance with law."

Nunn, 58, also has been a member of the Highway Commission since its inception. He owns and has operated hardware and sporting goods stores in East Tawas since 1941.

The fourth member of the Commission is Richard F. Vander Veen, a Grand Rapids attorney.

4-H Clubs

LEARNING BY DOING—Learning By Doing 4-H group held its style show Saturday, March 2, at the home of Polly Williams. The girls modeled all of their finished garments for mothers and guests.

Each girl answered roll call by responding to a question concerning the work on her particular garment.

The girls served homemade cookies, punch and coffee. The next meeting will be held March 15, when the girls will see "Bye Bye Birdie" at Chelsea High school. This will be the final meeting of the year.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

OUR WORLD

Man's accomplishments in space and discovery of the wonders of the sky and the universe have led some to believe that our world is a rather small item in the whole scheme of things.

With modern travel, we have come to consider distances with much less awe than our forefathers. We are able, matter-of-factly, to pick up a telephone and talk with someone in a far distant land. It is not so small, it is huge and it is complex. We have made for ourselves many once-unconsidered gadgets and conveniences and they have wrongfully become, in many instances, the master rather than the servant.

And, with it all, we have made precious little progress in one of the most important areas of our earthly existence—human relations—man's relations with his fellow man.

We are often suspicious of our neighbor if he is in any way different than we. Among nations, there is also, for the most part, eternal suspicion and distrust... a very little attempt at real understanding.

Our world should be a better world. It can be. As individuals, we cannot do a lot toward solving the problems of the whole world. But, we can do a little. We can do it by contributing in some measure to making better that small part of the world in which we live. Even a small act of kindness may spread more joy than one can imagine.

Panelists Discuss Ecumenism

Editor's Note: This is the third presentation given at the School of Missions at First Methodist church. It was made by Mrs. Raymond Schaller, a member of the Methodist church.

What Is the Nature of the Unity We Seek?

This is the question, really: what is the unity we seek? We have been saying so far and in our previous sessions that we must have unity within the church in order to fulfill the mission of the church, i.e., in order that the fullness of the church may be manifested in the world through witness and through service, or, as the Bible says, "That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow—in heaven, on earth, and in the depths—and every tongue confess, 'Jesus Christ is Lord' to the glory of God the Father" (Phil. 2:10-11, New English Bible).

This declaration leaves somewhat vague the sort of unity that would best achieve this purpose.
But of one thing we are sure—that is, there are more people who are kindly disposed toward unity than there are those who are clear as to what unity means or what unity will cost.

This problem of the nature of the unity which we seek has baffled ecumenists all along. To many of us, unity has implied a merger of two or more groups; unhappily, to many the idea of merger carries with it a connotation of an organization or group
"swallowing up" or "being swallowed up" by another organization or group, and with this comes a feeling of indignity, especially to those who suspect it might be their destiny to be "swallowed up." A further complication to the seeking of this unity has been that most of us begin with our own church as our unconscious model for the unity we seek.

One of the traditional ways of solving this problem of unity has been to try to agree on the essentials of Christian doctrine and organization and to agree to differ on the non-essentials. This has made for a great many pitfalls—one of the major ones being that once a committee has decided what the essentials of Christian doctrine and organization are, we find the Methodists are willing to accept all but Point A; the Presbyterians are ready to accept all but Point B; and so on. Consequently, we find ourselves no closer to Christian unity than before.

Because of the many pitfalls which have come, a good many Christians have begun to feel that perhaps the unity we strive for should be based on unity in terms of spiritual union and Christian fellowship rather than organic unity. This is unity at a level which does not grapple with the netties of theology and does not demand much by way of institutional change. Dr. Albert Outler calls it "a sort of ecumenism within the status quo" which "has the merit of being accepted by almost everybody except outright bigots."

This can become a point of tem-tation with us—to settle for this "unity in the Spirit" as the limit of our ecumenical aspirations.

This limit has both a positive and a negative aspect. Positively speaking, this "spiritual fellowship" is a giant step beyond the old patterns of independence. It means the end of the old order of spiritual isolation. Negatively, however, the modes of spiritual fellowship thus far developed leave the old order of visible divisions open and glaringly revealed before the eyes of the world.
"The world, to which we are sent as witnesses of the Gospel of God, will scarcely be bowled over by our intra-mural festivities which leave us still divided in our pulpits, at our baptismal fonts, and at the Table of the Lord." (Dr. Albert Outler, "That The World May Believe")

There is something false and unreal about a spiritual fellowship that cannot evolve into something tangible—that gives us an emotional lift and then leaves us undisturbed in our old ways and loyalties. It seems evident, therefore, that in order for real Christian community to exist spirituality among the churches, more unity in the structural, tangible area of the church's life must be realized. It would seem inevitable that every church in Christendom must look ahead toward developments that will carry it beyond this first stage of spiritual ecumenism directly toward true unity in the Holy Spirit.

At the beginning of this century, there was almost no realistic hope of "organic union." Such union was generally taken to mean a "return" to the Roman Catholic or Orthodox churches or a merger of two or more churches.
Through the years we have seen how our spiritual ecumenism and World Council of Churches have greatly served the cause of unity —but with manifest limitations that are being increasingly felt.
Slowly the conviction has grown that the eventual goal of Christian ecumenism has to be the "full free communion of all Christians, not only in the unity of the Spirit and in all forms of courtesy, reciprocity, and co-operation but also in a universal community of membership and ministry" (Dr. Outler).

The crucial problem, in trying to picture such a community, is trying to maintain both unity and freedom within this organic union.
We must face the fact that we cannot construct an image of the unity we seek out of the respective self-images of the divided churches, as they presently understand themselves and their relations with other churches. This situation has been of concern to the World Council of Churches from the beginning and, at their meetings through the years, they have tried to deal with this problem—the greatest breakthrough coming in 1961.

There is a growing conviction that we cannot set our ultimate goals at less than organic union; however, along the way we may have to settle for goals which are the closest we can come to at the time to the goal we eventually hope to realize. Now, we are beginning to be aware that we may be nearing the point where we can think, vaguely, to be sure, of a united Christian community really united in membership, ministry, and sacraments.
In this community, the different denominations would function as orders, or societies, or movements and would be organized constitutionally on the nature of a college or council. If this becomes the shape of the future, we might have a real alternative to the paralyzing fear that Christian unity portends some sort of totalitar-ianism. As more and more Christians come to see the possibility that Christian unity and Christian liberty can, and ought to, be co-ordinated, their hopes and hungers will hasten the day when God will show us the way to actual achievement.

When will we be ready for unity? When we are really ready to offer our "distinctive" traditions and treasures as gifts to the whole family of God, willing to them to be refined and transmuted, even "so as by fire" (1 Cor.
3:15), then we will be ready to God's gift of renewal, manifesting itself not only in our corporate union, but also and presently in our united mission "that the world may believe."

Co-Op Nursery Hopes for Return of Questionnaires

Chelsea Co-Op Nursery membership promotion chairman has reported that the response to the recently mailed questionnaire has been very poor, and she is hoping that members and alumni will return theirs as soon as possible. Those received so far have greeted that nursery school helps develop a child's individuality and independence as well as the attitudes necessary for adjustment to kindergarten.

The answers received also state that a co-operative nursery is more desirable than a day care center because the very idea develops cooperation of parents to provide a healthy atmosphere away from home, with parents visiting the teacher in a learning situation.

A day care center, though often necessary, has the connotation of being a baby-sitting service, according to nursery school members, who feel that the co-operative venture is totally more rewarding.

Open House Event Will Honor Lewises On 50th Anniversary

An open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, March 10, will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lewis, 314 E. Middle, in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. Lewis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Lewis.

Married March 5, 1918, in Cincinnati, O., the senior Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are residents of Garden City. Their other children are James A. Lewis of Placerville, Calif. and Mrs. Norma Stephens of Madison, S.C. They have nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Kathleen A. Sutter of 564 McKinley St. was one of 753 students named to the Dean's List of Northern Michigan University, Marquette, for academic excellence during the winter semester of the 1967-68 academic year.

To qualify, a student must have attained a scholastic average of 25 out of a possible 40 points, and earned credit in a minimum of three full courses (12 semester hours of class study).

An average of only three out of every 100 wells drilled in search of new oil and natural gas deposits ever produce enough petroleum to become profitable.

TIPS for your TOP

from TODDY and FRAN

Hopefully, whatever you say up for Lent wasn't your regular beauty appointment because this is an ideal time to concentrate on your hairdo. For one thing, there's nothing much to rush about as not much is on schedule during this mid-winter doldrum time. So if you need a perm or a new color, why not take advantage of the lull. There's nothing like a perky hairdo to perk you up, for an other thing (and is there anyone who doesn't feel like being perked up right now?). And for a third, if Lent is here, obviously Easter is not far behind—so this is a good time to get your permanent and experiment with hairdos until we find THE ONE that makes you feel like a queen. We're open evenings for your convenience—except Saturday.

A discussion was held with Mr. Brad Smith and Mr. O'Donnell of the Mobil Oil Company regarding the storage of wrecked and abandoned vehicles. The problem was referred to the Chelsea Planning Commission for a recommendation.

Mr. Cal Summers spoke to the council regarding the organization and plans for the Chelsea Auxiliary Police. Points of interest imparted by Mr. Summers included the fact that the organization has existed for 10 years at its present strength of 16 men, and has taken continuous training during this time. Also over this time year time, the members have remained basically the same.

A report by Trustee Weber regarding a request of Mr. Smith, the garbage and rubbish contractor, for an increase in his contract revealed that the contractor is serving approximately 1,100 customers in the Village, exclusive of commercial accounts.

Motion by Weber, supported by Crouch, to increase the Garbage and Rubbish Contract from $10,500.00 to $13,000.00 per year, retroactive to January 1968. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A letter was received from the Chelsea Planning Commission as follows:

"Chelsea Village Council Village of Chelsea, Chelsea, Mich. 48118

Gentlemen:
The Chelsea Village Planning Commission at a special meeting held on Feb. 11, 1968 made the following motion:

Motion by Chandler, seconded by Barr, that the Commission recommend to the Village Council approval of the request of Mr. Thomas W. Johnston for a variance of 13 feet to the front set back requirements for his property located on Washington Street. Yeas all, motion carried.

The extreme variation in elevation of the property makes compliance with the ordinance unduly restrictive. Adjacent homes built on this side of Washington Street have required similar variances.

Sincerely,
CHELSEA VILLAGE PLANNING COMMISSION
William D. Chandler, Sec.

A discussion was held regarding the location of a village catch basin and manhole in this area. Motion by Miller, supported by Weber, to table the variance request of Mr. W. Johnston for further study. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Fire Chief Gaken discussed with the Council a program being considered by the fire departments of Washtenaw County for a mutual aid pact. Chief Gaken requested approval from the Council to investigate the feasibility of the Chelsea Fire Department entering into a mutual aid pact with other Washtenaw County fire departments. Approval was granted.

Motion by Storey, supported by Crouch, to approve the Election Board as submitted by the Village Clerk for the Annual Village Election as follows: Paul Niehaus, Mrs. M. J. Baxter, Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. George Palmer, Mrs. Steve Clark, Mr. Watson Hart and Mr. Frank Sweeney. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Crouch, supported by Heydlauff, to authorize the transfer of $10,000.00 from the Chelsea Elec. and Water Department to the General Fund. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Weber, supported by Crouch, that due to unavoidable delays during construction of the Freer Road sewer, a 30 day extension be granted to the contractor, Dunigan Bros., Inc. for the completion of the contract. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Crouch, supported by Weber, to accept the utilities in Lanewood No. 2 as stated. Storm sewers, sanitary sewers, water mains and the snow plowing and sweeping of the streets. Council acceptance is conditioned to the following: Water line must be lowered in Maple Court as per spec of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and

Police Attack Defendant Ruled Insane

Lester Harrison, 48, of 1185 Chelsea-Manchester Rd., was committed to the State Department of Mental Health Wednesday, Feb. 28, during his trial for assault with intent to murder former Chelsea police chief John W. Palmer and Sheriff's Cpl. William J. Lewis.

Circuit Judge James R. Breaker Jr., directed a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity for Harrison, who was being tried for the March 3, 1966, attack on Palmer and Lewis after the officers had been called to Harrison's home by his wife.

Harrison had originally been found unable to stand trial and was committed to Lonia State Hospital in April 1966. After being declared sane by the hospital recently, he was returned to the court for trial. He also had a long history of hospitalization in Veterans Administration hospitals for mental illness.

Chelsea Youths Engage Adrian In Hockey Game

The Adrian Department of Recreation sponsored a "first" which, hopefully, will set a precedent for future activities in inter-community recreation.

Through the combined efforts of the Adrian Department of Public Recreation and Paul Stahl, a high school senior from Chelsea, a hockey game between Adrian and Chelsea was planned and formulated. Finally, after waiting through several melting periods, the game was played last Sunday afternoon at Riverside Park in Adrian.

All of the boys who participated in this game were of high school age and attended both Adrian and Chelsea high schools and, although the boys from Chelsea had no coach, they were a group which loved hockey and had spent many hours learning the game. Included on the Chelsea team were Paul Stahl, Wayne Stahl, Rick Westcott, Kirk Kulman, Gary Molezak, Dick Jennings and Don Toftquist.

The Adrian boys have been going out every Saturday during the winter and, under the guidance of a devoted hockey enthusiast, Bruce Campbell, have been learning the basic rudiments of hockey.

Although there was a marginal difference in the senior Adrian Chelsea team, it is felt that there was something more than numerical scores gained from this event, such as good sportsmanship, lots of camaraderie, and helping to cement better community relationships and the fulfillment of a long-time desire of one individual to see an Adrian hockey team materialize and play competitive hockey.

It is hoped by those concerned that more interest will be generated in this type of activity not only by Adrian's young people, but by the citizens of both communities. Perhaps one day these hockey teams will be playing on regular rinks with regular scheduled games, according to Ward E. Eardley, athletic director of the Adrian Department of Recreation.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

KINDERGARTEN—

Teacher, Mrs. Packard
We have been busily practicing our names, using correct letters. We have also begun to print some letters of the alphabet.

In some dirt we have planted a potato, a nut seed, and some pine cone seeds, after the cone opened up. There are little plants just coming up. At the end of school we will die the potato plant up to see what's happened underground.

There is also a potato and onion growing from itself with no dirt or water. We are watching to see what happens to the vegetable as the plant gets bigger.

Three new children have been welcomed by us. Larry Owens has joined the morning and Ellen Owens and Leslie Tomlinson joined the afternoon.

FIRST GRADE—

Teacher, Mrs. Staffan
Michelle Smith broke her arm. We are learning about dinosaurs. We are getting ready for our field trip to the museum. We are writing stories about giants and elves.

SECOND GRADE—

Teacher, Mrs. Hakla
Reporter, Kathy Brassy
Our class went to the Museum in Ann Arbor. We liked the dinosaurs. We liked the stork in the bird exhibit. We saw eggs that dinosaurs had laid. We saw an elephant's great-grandfather. We liked the Indian scenes. We liked the underwater view of a pond.

THIRD GRADE—

Teacher, Mrs. Lees
Reporter, Denise Wirtz
Mrs. Lees' class has just finished a unit on travel and transportation. We divided into committees and made a travel mural. We included airplanes, trains, cars, buses, and boats on our mural. In science we are learning about the earth treasures. These treasures include trees, flowers, rocks, and minerals.

FOURTH GRADE—

Teacher, Mr. Schmunk
Reporter, Kathryn Fairbanks
In language we are trying to understand nouns and verbs. Our class feels and thinks they need to march or walk better, so we are practicing marching. Last week we saw a puzzling film that we were to write a story about. It got most of us mixed up. In science next week we plan to study seashells.

Teacher, Mrs. Wilderom
Reporter, Nancy Hepburn
Tuesday we made paper sculpture. Thursday we wrote stories about animals we have or we wish we had. In arithmetic we are learning about quadrilateral figures. We measured our height, recorded it on the graph paper and colored it in.

On a big piece of paper we have questions on Africa. There are 43 questions on Africa. There are 27 questions answered.

Wednesday we wove paper strips and made place mats with that. Lynn Smith got her leg brace off and we're all happy about that.

FIFTH GRADE—

Teacher, Mrs. Maxwell
Reporter, Kevin Dorer
In Mrs. Maxwell's room we are studying about the Louisiana Purchase. We heard a tape recording and read about the route Meriwether Lewis and William Clark took. We made diaries and journals. We had a choice between the two men. Here is part of Steve Bennett's journals.

June 31, 1804—We are on the Missouri River. Today was a bad day. We lost one man, and we buried him on the ridge. We made 10 miles.

July 1, 1804—We met hostile Indians, but were able to make peace.

July 2, 1804—We saw a huge bear. It took three shots to kill it.

July 3, 1804—Our big boat with supplies and samples upset. We were able to save almost everything except some flour and twinkles.

July 6, 1804—Today was a good day. We made 30 miles.

SIXTH GRADE—

Teacher, Mrs. Winkle
Reporter, Carol Schroen
Brian Smith
Last Thursday, Feb. 22, our class was given a new flag.

Mrs. Winkle boiled her sugar beet syrup down to make the syrup thicker. It looks like it is starting to form sugar crystals.

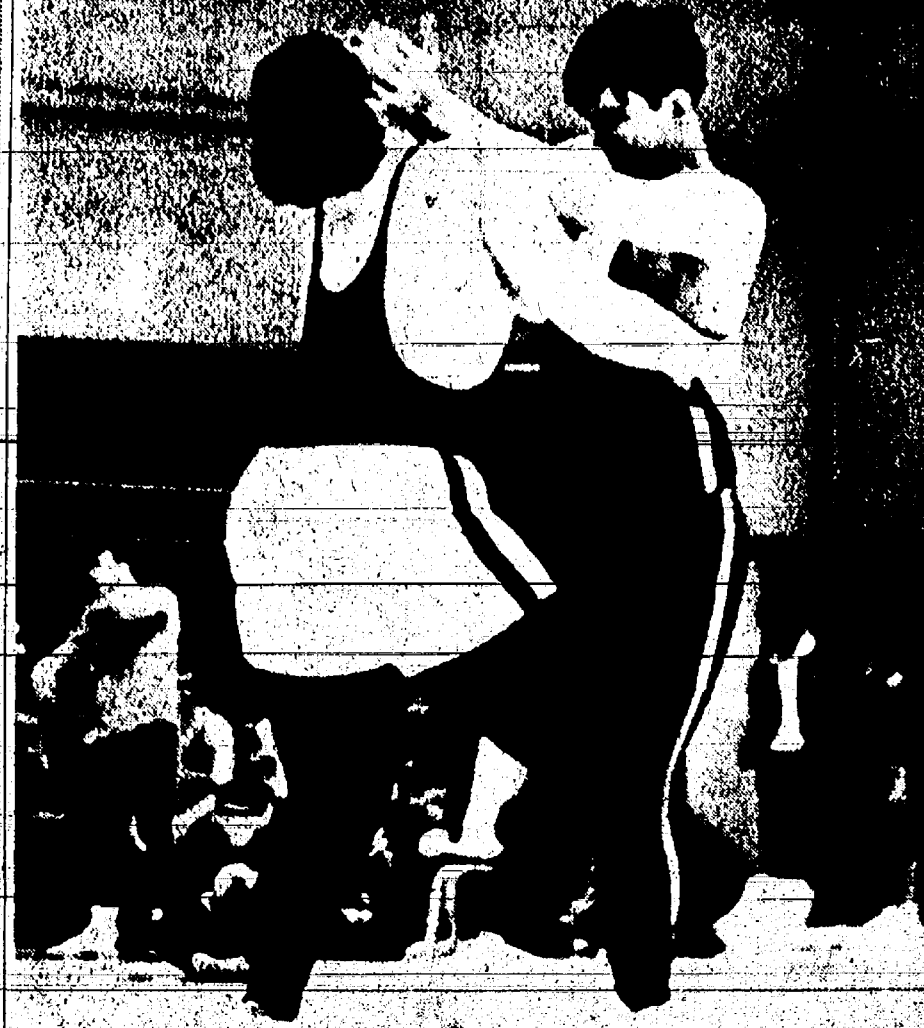

While we were studying the North Central States, some of the children in our class brought in some grains grown in this region such as wheat, corn, soybeans, alfalfa and timothy seeds, bromegrass, and oats.

Highway Dept. Information Centers Serve Vacationers

Lansing—Michigan's billion-dollar tourist business, the state's second largest industry, will get another boost this autumn when the State Highway Commission opens its ninth travel information center, on I-69 near Coldwater.

The Commission presently serves travelers at eight strategically located information centers throughout the state, at New Buffalo, Clare, Ironwood, Menominee, Port Huron, Sault Ste. Marie, Mackinaw City and Monroe.

Highway maps, brochures, telephones, modern rest room facilities and travel counseling are all part of the service furnished free of charge to vacationers eager to discover Michigan.

The centers are staffed by 44 trained employees, including 12 full-time male counselors, during the busy summer months.

In addition to travel counseling duties, they have warmed baby bottles, located and calmed lost children and administered first aid.

The travel information center is usually the place where tourists get their first look at Michigan and its people. Smiles, cheery conversation and prompt service make good impressions,

Michigan Bell Plans Huge '68 Expansion

An outlay of $187 million, the third consecutive construction budget in this range, will be made by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to expand and improve its facilities in 1968.

William M. Day, Michigan Bell president, said the 1968 program will raise the company's investment in new plant since 1965 over the half-billion dollar mark. Expressing confidence in the future, he said he sees no deceleration in the state's economic pace.

"We expect to add some 205,000 telephones and handle close to five billion calls in 1968. Both figures represent new highs," Day said.

In 1967, Michigan Bell installed a record amount of exchange cable—11.4 billion conductor feet—and present estimates indicate placement of about the same amount this year.

Day said that, among other forces in the demand-versus-facilities struggle, strong pressure has been exerted in recent years by demand for higher grades of service. "A large percentage of subscribers who traditionally order two-party service moved up to private line service. This shrank central office margins as fast as they could be built up."

In 1968, Michigan Bell will start construction of 13 new telephone buildings, five more than the previous year, along with 26 building additions.

The conversion of its Harbor Springs exchange from a manual to seven-digit dial system in April of this year will bring the company near to 100 percent dial operation. The only two remaining manual offices, Newberry and St. Ignace, are now on engineering schedules for converting to dial systems.

The Marquette exchange and seven of its tributaries will be tied into the Direct Distance Dialing network this year. With these additions, virtually all of the company's customers will be able to dial their own long distance calls.

The seven Marquette tributaries to be included in the network are Harvey, Champion, Gwinn, Ishpeming, Michigamme, Negaunee and Republic. The DDD installation will be made coincident with the introduction of Centrex telephone service at Northern University in Marquette.

Three community dial offices, those serving Harbortia, Hudsonville and Shover, will have their present switching systems replaced by more modern and efficient apparatus.

A quick mind and a loud voice may sometimes pass for intelligence but, sooner or later, the truth will out.
