Tornado Hits Near Dexter

Garage, Tool Shed, Part of House Demolished Tuesday on Miller Rd.

A three-minute steady blast from the fire storm on the roof of the Dexter Police Department was just one thing: a tornado near and may strike in Dexter. On Tuesday, April 23, at 2 p.m., the siren sounded. Had it not been for the hailstorm which followed shortly thereafter, the streets would perhaps not have been cleared at all. As it was, residents were out in full force as soon as the rain let up, utterly disregarding the possible danger to their lives.

Meanwhile, the tornado, which appeared to strike southeast of the village, completely demolished a two-car garage and tool shed and removed part of a house located on Miller Rd. between Zeeb and Delhi Rds.

Touching down again between Zeeb and Zeeb-Ries, the winds lifted a pick-up camper, smashing it into a tree and took a chimney off a house.

According to District V Civil Defense Director, Vic Sindlinger, any Dexter residents phoned him to ask where the fire was, or what the siren meant, while any others completely ignored it. Sindlinger also stated that the situation in the schools was confusing. While at one building the children were playing outside, at another, they were first huddled in the hall, where they should have been, and then sent home by bus before the all clear had sounded.

Both CD and Police authorities in Dexter joined together in pleading with the public to take tornado warnings seriously. Many residents must surely remember the tragedy of a few years ago that cost numerous lives and thousands of dollars worth of property in nearby Flint, Toledo, O., was damaged.

Friends Start Landscaping At Library

Chelsea Friends of the Library are proceeding with plans to beautify the grounds of McKune Memorial Library by planting shrubs around its foundation. Plans for the planting were prepared by the library and will be supervised by Kenneth Chapman. The Chelsea Jaycees will assist in the planting, which they hope to start this week-end. The Friends of the Library are sending an invitation to Chelsea Industries, organizations and individuals to participate in the planting by purchasing one or more shrubs. Donations will be recognized on a suitably framed document which will be on display in the library.

Among the types of shrubbery to be planted on the library grounds are Brown's yews, Berry, all yews, Canadian hemlocks, pink dogwoods, spreading cotoneasters, elegant viburnums, dwarf burning bushes and sarcocolla cymosus.

Young Bicycle Rider Dies From Injuries

Gregory S. Wolfe, 10, of 8820 Jackson Rd., died Thursday, April 18 at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, from severe head injuries received the preceding Monday in an accident near his home.

Gregory had been riding his bicycle west on Jackson Rd., west of Parker Rd., that day when a truck driven by Thomas R. Haas, 21, of Ann Arbor, passed him. The youth's head struck the rear view mirror on the side of the truck, and the boy was thrown off his bike to the pavement. He remained in critical condition at University Hospital until his death Thursday afternoon.

Gregory was a fourth grade student at Salem Lutheran school. He is survived at home by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wolfe and a brother, Steven.

Qualifications Given for School Board

Chelsea Board of Education reminds anyone wishing to become a candidate for one of the two school board positions available that his petition must be turned in to Charles Lancaster, secretary of the Board of Education, on or before May 19, by 4 p.m.

Robert Foster, board president, and Donald Irwin, trustee, have announced that they will not seek re-election. This leaves two four-year terms to be filled in the June 10 election.

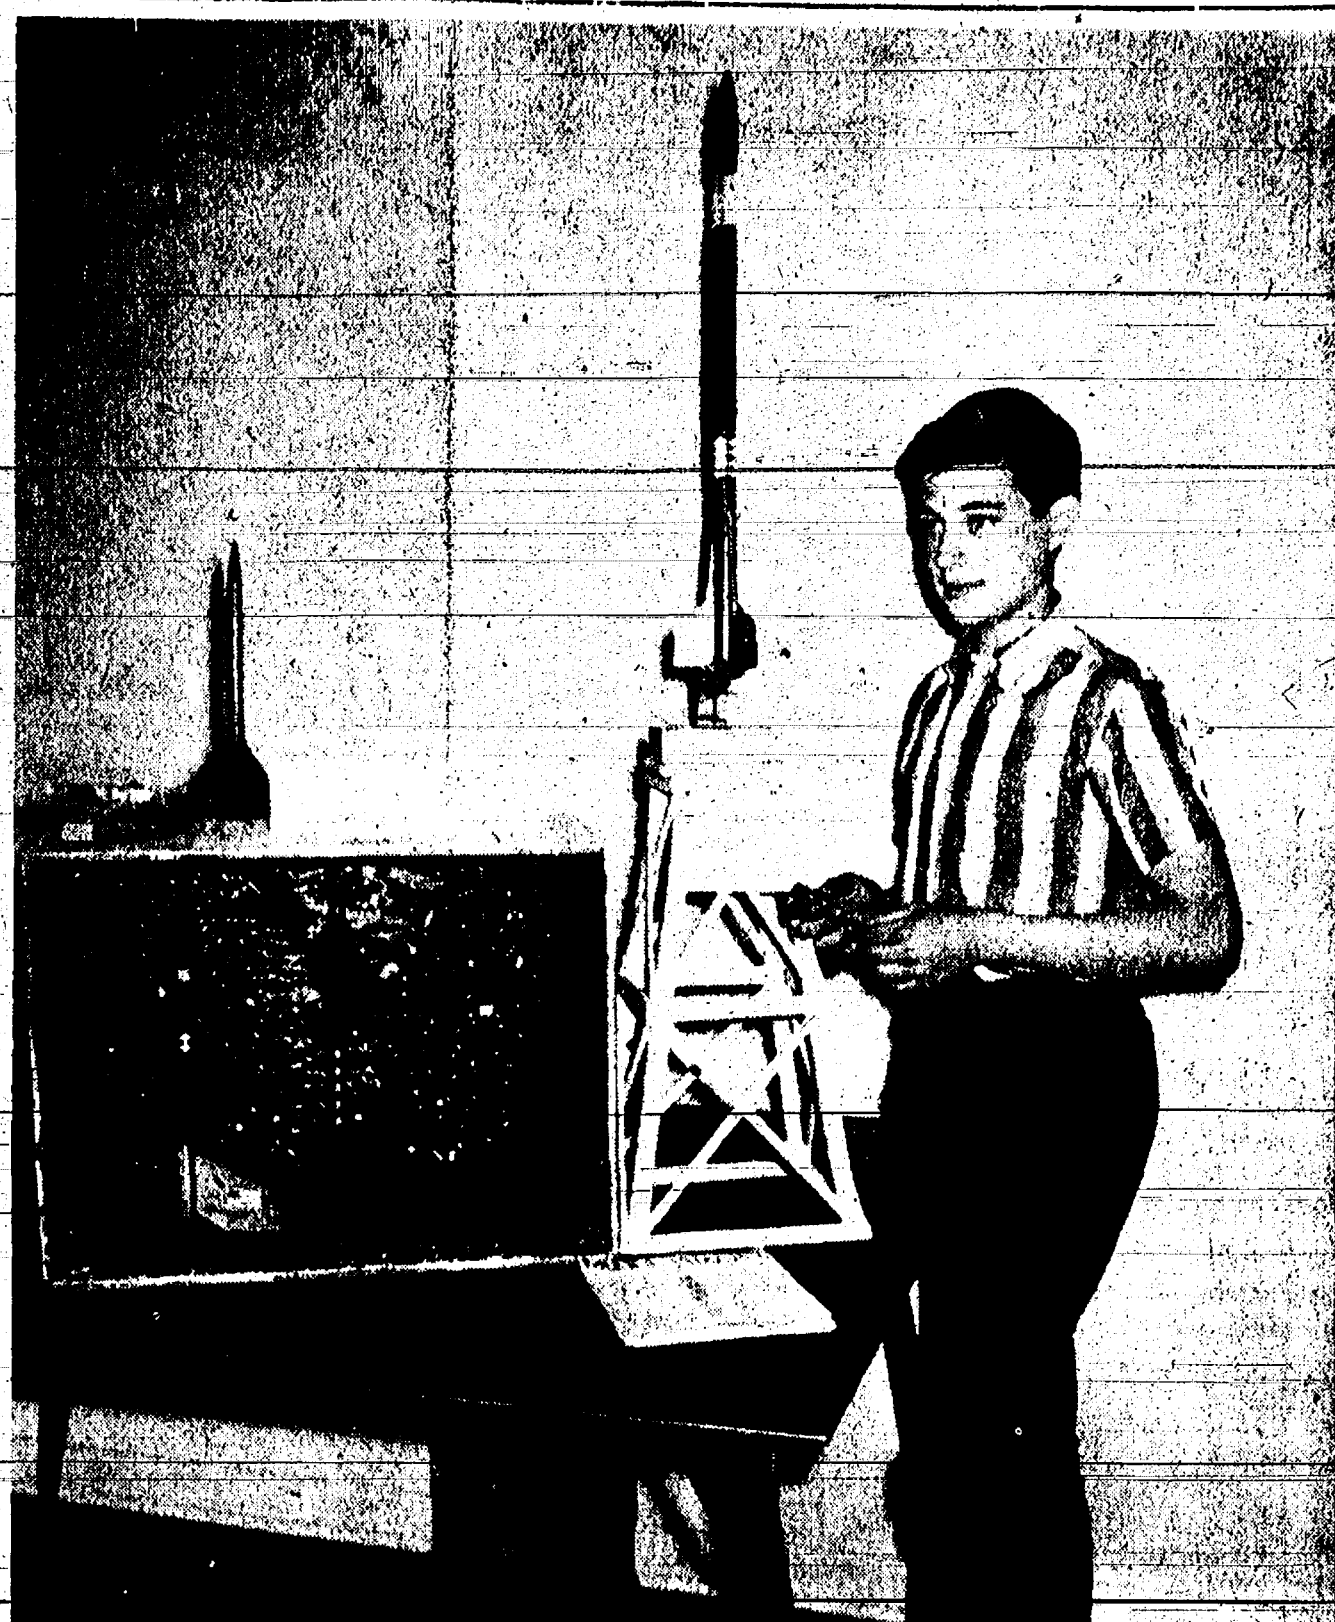

Petitions, available at the office of the superintendent of schools, must contain the full signatures of at least 20 qualified school electors for this district to be valid for the election. All names on the petitions must be real, and no "ditto" marks should be used anywhere on the forms. Electors should sign petitions for no more than two nominees this year, since only two school board members will be elected for four-year terms.

Any qualified voter in a school district whose name appears on the assessment roll and who is the owner in his own right of the property as assessed is eligible to election or appointment to office in such school district; provided that, where a husband and wife own property jointly, regardless of the name which appears on the assessment roll, if otherwise qualified, each shall be eligible to election or appointment to school office.

A school elector, or a person who is able to sign school board position petitions and vote for anyone running for such positions, must be 21 years of age, a citizen of the United States, a resident of the state for six months and a resident of the local school district for at least 30 days.

Adults Needed To Work With Little Leagues

Recreation Commission director, Richard Bareis, is looking for adults to work evenings with Little League and Junior League teams. He also requested that adult softball teams practice at the South Elementary school diamond instead of the high school field until the high school baseball season is finished.

AWARD-WINNING EXHIBIT: Daniel Gaunt of the Southeastern Michigan Science Fair last stands by the rocketry exhibit which earned him week-end in Ann Arbor.

Eighth Grader Wins Award At SE Michigan Science Fair

A Chelsea entrant in the Southeastern Michigan Science Fair held last week-end in Ann Arbor was awarded an honorable mention certificate for his exhibit. Daniel Gaunt, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gaunt, of 6151 Sibley Rd., made eight rockets for his "model rocketry" display in the junior division at the fair.

An eighth grade student in Mrs. Ray Steinbach's science class at Chelsea Junior High school, Danny originally built his rockets for the Chelsea Junior High school, which he had entered for the past two years. However, after discovering that no local fair had been planned this year, Danny decided to take his exhibit to Ann Arbor. This was the first time he had competed in the southeastern fair.

Millage Represents 22.8% of School District's Total Budget

Because the operational millage voted last year expires June 30, it is necessary to hold an election to renew the millage for the 1968-69 school year. The election will be held May 6 at the junior high school from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The request for 7.65 mills does not increase the total school millage levied last year. The finance committee of the board reviewed carefully each item included in the budget submitted by the administration. In turn, the full board reviewed the budget submitted by the finance committee. After many hours of discussion and compromises, the board approved the budget that will not require an increase in total millage for next year.

The additional income from State Aid and increased valuation of the district permits the board to make some improvements without a millage increase. The increase in income represents approximately 3.7 mills.

If this increase in income were not available, the board would have to request the millage voted last year plus the 3.7 mills to meet the adopted budget.

This millage request, 7.65 mills, is equal to $325,125 of the total budget of $1,425,000. This is 22.8 percent of the 1968-69 budget.

The voters are reminded again that they must vote May 6 if the millage is to be renewed and 22.8 percent of the budget is to be retained.

School Buses Halted in Pay Rate Dispute

All 26 Bus Drivers Stay Away from Work Until Settlement Is Reached

Chelsea school children living outside of the village limits had to find a new means of transportation to school yesterday. The school district's 26 bus drivers did not show up for work.

Jerry Satterthwaite, spokesman for the drivers along with Norman Colvia, had appeared before the Board of Education Monday, April 15, to present a proposal for bus drivers' wages next year. Monday of this week, according to Satterthwaite, drivers informed school administrators that if wage demands were not met in full by Wednesday, they would not drive the school buses from Wednesday until a settlement is reached.

Local Girl Scout Association Is Reorganized

Girl Scout Neighborhood Association held its final meeting Monday night at First Congregational church.

Girl Scouts in Chelsea will now continue with Dexter and Safford and be known as the Northwest Washington Area. There will be an area chairman with several troop service directors working directly with the local leaders.

A Girl Scout flag with Chelsea's name imprinted on it will be ordered. Discussions were held on bridging ceremonies slated for May, and troops' maintaining of bank accounts.

Troops financial and program reports are to be turned in to neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Paul Mann, by May 20. Chairman, Mrs. Mann, reported that the Girl Scout cookies will be delivered this week. The girls are requested to turn in their money as soon as possible.

The state of the neighborhood was discussed. Again there is a shortage of good leaders and volunteers to work with all levels of girl scouting.

Decision on whether or not to report for work was left up to the individual drivers. Satterthwaite pointed out. However, none of the drivers chose to operate his bus.

The bus drivers now earn from $2.40 to $2.70 per hour. The Board of Education has tentatively budgeted a 30-cent increase per hour for all drivers, effective in September. However, the drivers want a $1 per wage for all drivers now, with the pay for veteran drivers increased to $4.25 per hour.

In September, Satterthwaite said that he had spoken to school administrators "frequently" during the past week, with no wage agreements reached.

Other issues in contention are sick leave, Blue Cross benefits, and discipline on the buses. Satterthwaite noted that drivers want full disciplinary control of students while the buses are in transit, and more backing by school administrators on disciplinary decisions made by the drivers.

A Board of Education spokesman who is chairman of the Board's negotiating committee said that the Board is trying to discover the problems involved in the dispute and work out a solution to get the buses running normally again as soon as possible. He added that the Board is trying to determine whether or not the drivers have resigned their positions, since members of the Board have speculated that they may have quit their jobs.

Spaulding for Children Deals with People Problems

Editor's Note: This is the seventh in a series of articles on the Spaulding for Children organization, explaining its philosophy, purposes and goals. The writer will explore the need of the children to be served by the agency and how the program expects to meet these needs.

Administration of social agencies is complex because the problems they deal with are so complicated—the problems of people.

Social welfare programs deal with human needs and feelings. There is recognition among social workers and social agency personnel that the service provided is often not the most important function of the agency. The quality of relationships and the opportunities provided by the agency for the client to develop his own strengths and abilities and to come to his own decisions determines whether the client even uses the service. In no social service is this more apparent or important than in adoption.

The executive of a social agency must be well trained with a broad background of skills, knowledge, and experience to meet the increasing challenge of social agency administration. Spaulding for Children is launching a dynamic pioneering program to serve certain children with a special need—the need for a permanent home. Much of the success of this program rests with the administration of Spaulding for Children as it does in the case of every social agency.

The members of Spaulding for Children establish the Board of Directors as the policy-making body of the agency. The Board implements its policies by selecting and appointing an executive director for administering the agency's work. The executive director, subject to the control and policy of the Board, has general charge and direction of the affairs and business of the agency and is its responsible managing head. He is the liaison between the Board of Directors and the staff, and represents both Board and staff.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

Congress returns to work this week after a brief Easter recess. Waiting for us is a mountain of legislation which, even after three months of sessions, has yet to be acted upon. Like last year a high backlog of legislation is building up because of ineffective leadership and outdated procedures.

Of 25 major issues listed by Congressional Quarterly only two, the civil rights-anti-riot bill and a code of ethics, have received final consideration by both houses. The Truth-in-Lending bill has passed both houses and is now in a conference committee. Otherwise, most of the major tasks Congress has outlined for itself remain incomplete. Briefly here is the status of some of the other important items:

The income tax surcharge which was effectively bottled up in the House Ways and Means Committee was tacked on to the excise tax extension bill by the Senate. It now awaits action by a conference committee and then a vote in each House. Its final passage remains doubtful.

The House has sent to the Senate a weakened foreign travel tax bill which places a 5 percent tax on air travel to points outside the United States and reduces from $100 to $10 duty-free imports. Although this bill greatly weakened from the President's recommendations which included a per diem tax on foreign travelers, I opposed it as an improper and practically meaningless step against our balance of payments problems.

The Senate Judiciary Committee recently reported their version of the House-passed crime bill. This is an encouraging step and indicates that some sort of anti-crime package will become law this year. While the final version will not cover all the areas where need exists, it will be a step in the right direction.

Unfortunately action in the areas of housing and employment, two great national needs, continues at a slow pace. Hearings have been underway, but final passage is far enough off that programs will not become effective before next fall at the earliest.

No action has been taken in the areas of child health, hospital aid or air safety.

Like last year Congress is far behind in its consideration of basic appropriation measures. None of the 15 bills have received final consideration and it looks as though agencies and others dependent on federal funds will once again be forced to experience a period of fiscal chaos and uncertainty. Last year the government had been operating for six months before Congress acted on appropriations for the current fiscal year.

Ironically, a measure which would help Congress do its job more efficiently and effectively lies collecting dust in the House Rules Committee. The failure of the committee to report out the reorganization bill is deplorable and only serves to reinforce the views of myself and many members that Congress needs a complete restructuring.

Your views on these and the many other issues we face are always welcome and earnestly solicited.

Public Employee Strikes
 The public's right and the role of the public is largely forgotten in the struggle of collective bargaining by public employee unions, maintains Franklin K. DeWald, State Personnel Director of Michigan's Civil Service.

He sees a vast difference between private bargaining and that conducted by public employee unions. "Private" managers have different motivations for opposing union demands than "public" managers, he says. A private manager's compensation is usually closely tied to company profits. Private business has some options when faced with a strike. It can shut down and use its stored inventory, merge with other firms, or simply "wait out" the union.

Meanwhile, the public does not do without. Consumers can buy similar products from a competitor.

None of these options is available in a public strike. Most services are not obtainable elsewhere. The public cannot do without them for very long, if at all, DeWald points out.

"You're bargaining with the roots of our democratic society," the taxpayers of the jurisdiction. You shut off a service the taxpayer really needs and can't buy somewhere else in the market place, and he will curse the politicians and the bureaucrats first, but will eventually get around to changing the system. He will bring any such charade to an abrupt conclusion," he said.

The solution lies with an entire new approach to the problem, DeWald claims. Public employees have become "factually aware" of the success of industrial unionism in getting higher wages and job security. They have been told by union organizers and professionals in the private labor movement field that the same tactics will work in public sectors.

This is doubtful, he says. "It is a clear fact that the self-interest of public employee unions is adverse to the economic self-interest of the taxpayer. Any workable system must make room for the citizen in the process, make some provision for public hearing prior to approval or ratification by management."

Failure to develop a more constructive method of collective bargaining will result in laws to restrain public employee unions, DeWald prophesied.

The future will bring many more strikes before improvements are implemented. Some of the settlements resulting from public employee strikes have brought substantial gains to union members, DeWald points out.

Public employees will continue to have a strong voice in determining their working conditions, he says, but eventually a system must evolve which will protect the public as well as serve the economic interests of the employee.

No Standards
 An absence of standards for imitation food products works hardships on the Food Inspection Division of Michigan's Department of Agriculture. According to Lyle Littlefield, chief of the division, the only tests which can be made are those which determine whether the product is safe to use, such as "bacteria count."

Food processors in their "natural state" such as dairy products, must meet minimum standards, and enforcement of these standards is "rigorously made," says Littlefield. Setting standards of quality for imitation food products would make the products more uniform in taste, comparable in food value, and offer consumers a means to judge product excellence before buying the product.

Littlefield also notes that Michigan does not require food processors to list ingredients on labels. He says that voluntary cooperation has been impressive, but feels that legislation is needed to make compliance mandatory.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 Zeke Grubb's preacher came by the country store Saturday night to set for a spell with the fellows. As usual, he hung along a heap of good food for thought.

First off, he said he thought one of the great evils of the world was that everybody was looking for excuses while they had ought to be spending this time trying to work out their problems themselves. And he told the fellows our Government was one of the worst offenders in this business of looking for excuses.

For instance, he said this Government report that decided last month that them that burn down buildings and loot the stores, ain't guilty of their crimes. Society was guilty on account of it, ain't giving the hoodlums everything they think they want and need.

And the good Parson reported he had saw where a crime prevention agency was urging folks to lock their car doors when they parked them. He agreed this was good advice, but this agency went on to say that car owners that didn't lock their doors was contributing to the delinquency of the minor that steals the car.

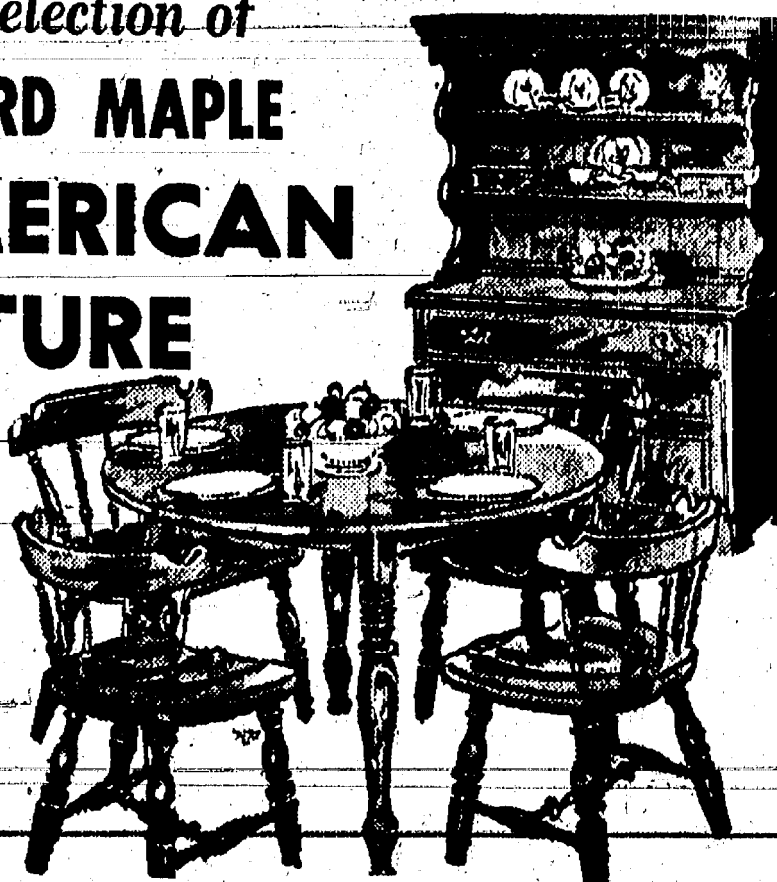

Ed Doolittle was agreed 100 percent with the Parson. Ed said the time ain't far off when they'll arrest the feller that puts glass windows in his store instead of arresting the punks that throws bricks through the glass windows. They'll claim if the store owner had put up steel bars or hadn't built the store in the first place they wouldn't have been no temptation for the punks to throw the rocks and bricks.

And Ed said he had saw already where the new $1.60 minimum wage was getting blamed for increased unemployment. Them that was unemployed at the $1.60 rate, claimed Ed, was about the same ones that wasn't employed at the $1.40 rate, and afore that, at the $1 rate.

Kiwanis-Sponsored Boy Scout Troops Presented Charters

New charters were presented to Boy Scout Troops 476 and 425 at Monday night's Kiwanis Club meeting. Robert Daniels, representing the Portage Trails Boy Scout Council, made the presentations. Daniels praised Chelsea scouts as the leading group in Portage Trails Council, saying that many times the Chelsea participants in a scouting event will more than double the number from any other place, sometimes making up half the total group.

Charters were presented to Julius Blaess, Kiwanis institutional representative, and Scoutmaster Paul Garman of Troop 425. The two troops are sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea.

Man Committed to Mental Hospital After Minor Crash

David Haas, 38, of 114 N. Main St., was arrested Saturday after he tried to fight with Michael Kaines, 25, of Brighton when Kaines and Haas' cars collided on Main St., near Lincoln St., causing only slight damage to each automobile. Haas jumped out of his car and started after Kaines, who was inspecting the damage. When Kaines got back in his automobile and drove away, Chelsea patrolmen Peebles and Quinlan found Haas' car parked in front of the Pub Bar, and arrested Haas in the bar.

After being taken to the police station, Haas became violent and broke a bench in his cell. He was put in restraining straps and taken to County Jail, Ann Arbor, for a 48-hour commitment for mental disturbance. Upon examination by psychiatrists, he was committed to Ypsilanti State Hospital. Haas reportedly has a history of mental disorders.

His division staged the first successful ambush in the entire battalion.

School Bus Drivers Stay Away from Job in Wage Dispute

(Continued from page one) The entire public and private school enrollment. This is the first time that bus drivers for the Chelsea School District have failed to show up for work as a group, according to Satterthwaite. Technically, the drivers are not on "strike" because they do not belong to a union.

As of late yesterday afternoon, no meeting between the Board of Education and the drivers had been set.

This world is filled with suckers, ready to risk their hard-earned money on a chance to get something for nothing.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

DEN 1, PACK 455—

Den 1, Pack 455 met Thursday afternoon from 2 to 4.

The boys have been busy making birdhouses, from boxes, that den mother, Mrs. Burgess, gave them. Each boy decorated his own birdhouse any way he wished.

During the special two-hour meeting, held while spring vacation was in progress, the Cubs played games and discussed future plans.

Father-Son Banquet Held at St. Thomas Lutheran Church

St. Thomas Lutheran church held its first Father and Son Banquet Thursday night, April 18. A total of 65 attended the event. Dick Kuntz was toastmaster for the dinner. A toast to the fathers was given by Doug Engelbert, and Dennis Engelbert toasted the sons.

Highlight of the evening was a presentation of nature films by Conservation Officer Don Boyer. Gifts were presented in various categories. Jim Mason was youngest father, while William Mason was the oldest father. The four generations of Masons attending are all from Belleville. Bernad Herrst had the most sons present.

The dinner was prepared and served by the Ladies' Aid.

Former Local Pastor To Conduct Meetings At Church of Christ

M. S. Hudgins, of Taylor, will be featured speaker for a series of spring meetings at Church of Christ, 13041 Old US-19. These meetings will be held April 29 through May 5, at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

Church of Christ began meeting in Chelsea nearly 10 years ago. Hudgins was the first preacher employed for full-time work. During his stay here, the present building was constructed. The impact of his work in Chelsea is still being felt by those who knew him. He is now preaching for the Taylor Center Church of Christ, a congregation which is also growing rapidly.

Hudgins invites all of his friends and interested residents to attend these lessons.

The Rev. R. D. Parnell, minister of the local Church of Christ, states on behalf of the entire congregation, "We are expecting the finest feast of good things spiritually that this congregation has ever had." Everyone is welcome and no collection will be taken except at the regular Sunday service.

Baseball Team Needs Some Good Pitchers

Chelsea was defeated by Tecumseh baseball diamond by a score of 9 to 2 Monday, April 15. Roy Holliday pitched for Chelsea and while not spectacular, his pitching would have brought better results had his teammates not committed nine errors behind him.

The Tecumseh pitching efforts held Chelsea in check until the sixth inning, when Greg Stephens doubled and Mike Harvey lashed a two-run homer over the right centerfield fence.

Wednesday, April 17, Chelsea's pitching fell completely apart as Michigan Center defeated Chelsea, 19 to 9, in a rain-soaked, four and one-half inning game at Michigan Center. Coach Richard Bareis used four pitchers, all of whom proved to be ineffective against the opposing team.

Chelsea hitters were able to reach Michigan Center's pitching for nine runs. The Chelsea attack was led by Greg Stephens with a home run and a single, and Mike Harvey with two singles.

Chelsea was defeated by a score of 14 to 4 in its game with Manchester on the home field Friday, April 19. In an attempt to bolster a sagging pitching staff, Coach Bareis started freshman Jim Hercules. He responded well, allowing only three hits in the first four innings. Tiring in the fifth inning, Jim allowed three walks and two hits which accounted for five runs.

Chelsea's hitting was led by Craig Houle with two doubles and a single, and Doug Schoenberg with two singles.

The Chelsea baseball team was scheduled to play a game at Milan Tuesday and will meet the Lincoln players today at 4 p.m. Tomorrow the Chelsea team will travel to Manchester for another game.

As Chelsea starts league play this week, Coach Bareis is trying to strengthen his pitching staff. Although the team has the ability to score runs, better pitching is necessary to insure Chelsea victories.

Spaulding Agency Concerned with People Problems

A person for such responsibility requires a master's degree in social work which takes two years beyond the bachelor's degree. The master's degree includes on-the-job training under the supervision of qualified instructors. There are 84 graduate schools of social work in the United States. In 1967 these schools graduated 4,279 students. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in Washington estimates that there are about three openings for every professionally-trained social worker. A critical shortage of social workers exists in nearly every social service field, and many professionals feel a crisis is ahead unless many additional qualified persons are attracted to professional social work careers.

Upon completion of the master's degree and two years of certified experience after the degree, a social worker becomes a member of the Academy of Certified Social Workers (ACSW). Membership in the Academy designates the elite in the field of social work.

Spaulding for Children is deeply concerned about and committed to the needs of children and adoptive families. The responsibility vested to the agency for the lives of children and their potential parents is great. The obligations of Spaulding to fulfill this tremendous responsibility is delegated to highly qualified persons under the policies established by the Board of Directors.

E. Richard Schneider, ACSW, was appointed executive director because of his education, training, and background in administration. His experience includes supervision and administration of child welfare programs in Wisconsin and Kentucky. He has developed and initiated day care, foster care, group homes, and special education programs. Schneider's perspective includes participation in international social welfare programs as well as those on the local, state and national level.

The executive director will recruit other well-qualified social workers to help carry out the purposes of Spaulding. They will undertake adoption studies and, as a professional team, will select and place children in adoption. Their concern is with human values and feelings, the rights and needs of children, and finding answers to the social problems of thousands of children who wait for homes of their own.

The professional staff of Spaulding for Children will endeavor to help fill a gap in existing social services. In doing so Ricky, a robust and inquiring six-year-old, is among the children who wait for a home. His biological mother gave him up when he was two and one-half. He has waited a long time in his foster home for something permanent. Ricky doesn't cry easily but spends long hours looking out the window for a car to come down the road. The car might come for

Chelsea Girl Attends Dairy Foods Meetings

Marilyn Hinderer, a member of Wide Awake Girls 4-H club and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hinderer of 4480 Manchester Rd., participated in the annual Dairy Foods Conference early this week (April 21-23) at Michigan State University's Kellogg Center.

"Dairy Foods in Weight Control and Personal Appearance" was the theme of the conference. The girls, assigned to production groups, developed and participated in programs for video-tape recording. This was aimed at helping them prepare dairy foods programs for presentation in their home communities.

The participants were welcomed by Boyd Rice, manager of the American Dairy Association of Michigan, which sponsors the conference in co-operation with the 4-H Club Foundation of Michigan.

The conference was conducted by the 4-H—Youth Programs division of the Co-operative Extension Service in co-operation with Michigan State University's Departments of Dairy, Foods and Nutrition, Food Science, and the Continuing Education Service.

Mrs. Ezra Heininger was pleasantly surprised Wednesday of last week when her daughter, Mrs. Alvin Wahr, invited a party of relatives, including Mrs. Leonard Loveland, Mrs. Ethel Wahr, Mrs. Harley Loveland, Mrs. Chester Notten, Mrs. Glen Rentschler and Mrs. Velma Reed, to her home on Heim Rd. Light refreshments were served, including a birthday cake for Mrs. Heininger. The birthday guest of honor received many useful gifts.

Community Chest Plans Summer Committee Work

Chelsea Community Chest held its April meeting in the Village Council chambers last Wednesday evening.

Although this was the last meeting of the entire board until August, individual committees will be meeting during the interim.

The campaign committee will meet April 25 at 7:30 p.m., St. Paul UCC. A campaign chairman and other workers for the fall United Fund Drive will be selected.

The budget committee will hold meetings May 22 and 23 at 7 p.m. in the council chambers. At this time, the various agencies aided by Chelsea Community Chest will present their requests for funds.

him and take him to a home of his own. With an energetic and working Board of Directors as well as a well-qualified and understanding staff of social workers, Ricky has a chance. Spaulding is dedicated to providing that chance whenever possible.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

"Mailboxes are protected by federal law, and pranksters or vandals who damage or destroy the boxes or their contents may be in for a heavy fine or imprisonment." The warning was issued by Postmasters throughout the country not too long ago.

Vandalism in other forms occurs almost daily. Orgies of ruthlessness are seen in many places. Nicely kept homes mutilated with black paint . . . trees torn down . . . school rooms ruined . . . windows smashed . . . tires slashed . . . memorials in cemeteries shockingly defaced . . . Inexcusable destruction is rampant. What causes it? Explanations and excuses are plentiful but the real reason is lack of discipline; brutishness vs. spirituality. These hoodlum-brutes are the present-day counterparts of the Biblical Philistines. They cannot sculp the stone, but deface it they can.

The only answer to such heinous crimes is a reciprocal "get tough policy" by law enforcement agencies, juries and judges . . . If these undisciplined ruffians cannot discipline themselves, society must discipline itself to deal with them harshly.

In 1967, the Ensemble was chosen by the Economic Club of Detroit to sing in the program called "Michigan Welcome at Expo '67". A smaller chorus called the Madrigal Singers is featured at each concert. Their specialty is a capella music of the 16th and 20th centuries. The Ensemble sings a varied repertoire which includes major religious works and secular numbers. The Chorus enjoys singing spirituals as well as Bach, and show tunes as well as Hindemith.

Four Chelsea Girls Involved in Auto Accident Saturday

Four Chelsea girls were involved in a two-car accident last Saturday noon at the intersection of Plymouth Rd. and M-14, Superior township.

Mrs. Wayne (Susan) Weston, 20, of 320 Island Lake Rd., was driving northeast on Plymouth Rd. with three passengers, Wendy Weston, 11, and Diane Weston, 13, both of 435 Kalmbach Rd., Grass Lake, and Paula Haas, 13, of 506 McKinley, when her car was struck by a vehicle driven by Robert A. Briley, 26, of Detroit. Briley, traveling northwest on M-14, went through a stop sign just before he crashed into the right side of the Weston car.

According to sheriff's deputies at the scene, Mrs. Weston's vehicle was knocked 50 feet off the north side of the road. The officers ticketed Briley for going through the stop sign.

The four Chelsea girls were treated for facial cuts and bruises, and were released later that day. Paula also received a broken collarbone in the accident.

Briley and a passenger, Perry Gholster, 27, of Detroit did not seek medical aid.

Track Team Wins Over Stockbridge

In a dual track meet run last Friday, Chelsea defeated Stockbridge by a score of 85-33. The meet was run in ideal conditions and, although several members of the track team were missing because of the senior trip and vacation trips, many fine performances were turned in.

Most notable was the breaking of the school record in the pole vault by both Larry Blackwell and Doug Weatherwax. Both vaulted 11' 11" to break the old record of 11' 10 1/2" set last year by Blackwell. Blackwell took first, however, on fewer misses.

Mike Bassett's jump of 5' 10 1/4" in the high jump was also a good performance. Mike, a sophomore, is nearing the school record of 6' in the high jump. Larry Gorton turned in a good time of 21.6 in the low hurdles, a fine mark considering the fact that he is only a freshman. He also won the high hurdles and was on the winning 880 relay team.

First-place winners and Chelsea place finishers in Friday's meet were: shot put, first, Jim Boylan, 122-3 1/2"; pole vault, first, Larry Blackwell, 11' 11"; second, Doug Weatherwax, 11' 11"; third, Jim Weatherwax, 11'; long jump, first, Harris (Stockbridge), 19-8"; second, Mike Schmidt, 18-10"; third, first, Mike Bassett, 5' 10 1/4"; third, Kargel; two-mile run, first, Wilson (Stockbridge), 14:15; second, Henry SSO relay, first, Chelsea, 1:38.5 (Smith, Wojcicki, Gorton, Schmidt); mile run, first, Gary Larson, 5:06.3; second, Robbins; 120-yard high hurdles, first, Larry Gorton, 21.6; second, Ersten; third, Bollinger; 220-yard dash, first, Brann (Stockbridge), 2:11.4; second, Hopmann; 440-yard run, first, Ken Blass, 1:55.6; second, McGinn; 100-yard dash, first, Brann (Stockbridge), 1:07; second, Schmidt; 180-yard low hurdles, first, Larry Gorton, 21.6; second, Ersten, third, Bollinger; 220-yard dash, first, Brann (Stockbridge), 23.1; second, Schmidt, third, Wojcicki; mile relay, first, Chelsea, 3:44.6 (Smith, McGinn, Blass, Larson).

The next home meet is against Milan at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The team will travel to Jackson Saturday to take part in the Park-side Relays, which will include competition against 12 strong teams from the southern part of the state. Chelsea will have another league meet, at home against Lincoln next Thursday at 4 p.m.

Ceylon, the Magic Island Is Scene of Kiwanis Travel Film

The Kiwanis Club of Chelsea will present the final program of its "Travel and Adventure Series" Saturday evening in the Chelsea High school auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Ed Lark, world traveler, adventurer, lecturer and photographer, will present a film on Ceylon entitled "The Magic Island."

To many ancient mariners the large spice island off the southern coast of India was the most exotic and picturesque port along the trade routes of the East. Here the visitor beheld enchanting scenery—lush, green rain forests shrouded in a perpetual mist; jungles so dense that even animals could scarcely penetrate the undergrowth. There were wondrous mountains and extravagant tropical flowers that led one to believe one was standing on the threshold of Paradise—until suddenly startled back to reality by the trumpeting of an elephant or the sight of a dragon reptile slithering across one's path.

The inhabitants of the island were a small, handsome, dark-skinned people who often fought among themselves or with the Portuguese, Dutch and English colonialists. Many of their customs, rituals and celebrations were strange to Western eyes.

As will be shown in Lark's Kiwanis Travelogue film, 20th-century Ceylon has changed considerably from the days of the ancient mariners. Jungles have been cleared for planting tea, rubber and spices. Modern industries are producing a variety of manufactured goods. But Ceylon still has an incredible variety of strange plants and animals that so startled ancient traders—insects being devoured by carnivorous plants; perch hopping out of the water, moving over the ground on their flippers to climb a tree.

Ceylon has a promising future. Even before her independence from the British in 1948, Ceylon had been spending a large portion of her income on education, and today boasts one of the highest literacy rates in the East.

Tourism has become a major industry. Good accommodations, beautiful, tropical beaches and a warm climate make Ceylon popular at any time of year. great variety of attractions broad appeal, and her location makes Ceylon an ideal base which to visit other countries.

Even with the many advances toward a 20th-century and Ceylon's ancient and colorful has not completely disappeared. Elephants continue to be used as beasts of burden. Although jungles have receded, there is an abundance of wildlife in areas. For years Ceylon has been a prominent source of animal zoos around the world. Villages, ancient classical and spectacular Buddhist temples are all still part of Ceylonese life.

Small wonder Ceylon is called "The Magic Island."

Luella Smith Will Not Seek Re-Election

Luella M. Smith, Washtenaw County Clerk since 1950, has said that she will not seek re-election this year. Following is the complete statement she made concerning her decision.

"It is with deep regret that I must announce I will not be a candidate for re-election to the office of County Clerk of Washtenaw county in this year's election."

"This has been an extremely difficult decision for me to reach since this position has been such a close part of my life for years."

"I shall always be glad that I have had the opportunity for public service. It has been a most stimulating and rewarding career. I have a sincere and abiding gratitude to the people of this county who supported my candidacy in past years, and I truly wish circumstances permitted me to respond favorably to my many

LIFELINES:

The World's Most Important Question

The world has always had its problems, but today there seem to be an even greater multiplicity of difficulties. Hundreds of questions are begging for an answer. Here are just a few: How can we best solve our economic ills? How can we best cope with the spreading influence of communism? What is the answer to our racial and civil rights issues? What steps can be taken to stem the tremendous increase of crime and violence? On and on we might go. Important and pressing as these matters are, however, there is one question far greater, one which every individual must face. It was asked by the Philippian jailer in Acts 16:30. Addressing Paul and Silas he inquired, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" They gave him this simple, yet all-important answer: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved!"

What does it mean to believe? It means to accept everything Jesus claimed concerning Himself, and all that God says about Him in the Bible. We are told in 1 John 5:10 "... he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son." Have you come to the place where you can say, "I do believe the Bible to be God's Word, and from my heart I receive all that it says about His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ. I believe that He was born of a virgin, lived a perfect, sinless life, took the sins of the world upon Himself at Calvary, and died there for me. I know He arose from the dead and is someday coming again." If you have never made such a confession before, why not right now, by a simple act of faith, say, "Lord Jesus, acknowledging my own sinfulness, unworthiness, and inability to save myself, and believing that You died for me, I receive You right now as my Redeemer and am trusting You alone for my salvation."

You, the world's most important question is: "What must I do to be saved?" The answer is: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ!"

SUNDAY'S SERMON

DAYS OF SPRING

This is the season when we look forward to the perfect days of spring. There is no price tag on a beautiful day. It is a gift, a present from the Giver of all good things.

The beauty of the season can gladden the eye. Let it. Admire the blooms and the rebuds, touch the petals of a red rose.

If your troubles seem overwhelming, look for the beauty of the world that surrounds you. Find time for a peaceful walk in the park, or the woods. If neither is near, substitute a silent prayer in the church on the corner.

Simply refuse to give in to despair. Remember above all things there is hope. If you can see no end to a worry that is yours, take the time to consider the lilies of the field and how they grow. The worry will not be resolved, but it will be softened, and within your heart you will know that there will be a better tomorrow.

Turn to God, where you will find the reason for hope, the promise of more perfect times.

New General Manager Named For King-Seeley Division Plants

RALPH W. COOLEY

G. R. Gustino, president, King-Seeley Thermos Co., has announced the election of Ralph W. Cooley as vice-president of the corporation and his appointment as general manager of King-Seeley Division.

Cooley had been sales manager of appliance controls for the division since 1958 and has been with the corporation in various manufacturing and marketing capacities since 1951. A native of Howell, Cooley is a graduate of Michigan State University and attended the University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration.

According to G. R. Gustino, this move reflects the reorganization of the King-Seeley Division resulting from the sales of that part of its assets pertaining to the automotive parts business to Chrysler Corp. on March 24. The remaining facilities in Ann Arbor, and Baltimore, Md., will now be exclusively employed in the manufacturing, marketing and development of appliance controls and related products.

Present products of King-Seeley Division include Chef-O-Matic high temperature oven controls, a pioneering developmental activity which made the "clean oven" concept possible, the Chef-O-Matic Roast Control which anticipates oven temperature and controls the "doneness" of meat automatically. A variety of infantile variable range top burner controls, flashers, pan controls, and timers.

Red Cross Sets Dates for Aquatic, Boating Schools

Sanford Dornbos, water safety chairman of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross, recently announced that the dates have been set and locations finalized for the 1968 Aquatic and Small Craft Schools.

Dornbos indicated that the schools provide an intensive five-day training period at camps throughout the midwest and offer training in the area of: leadership training in community, camp, and pool water safety programs, as well as first aid, swimming life saving and instructor training in canoeing, boating, and sailing. Some schools also offer training in competitive and handicapped swimming.

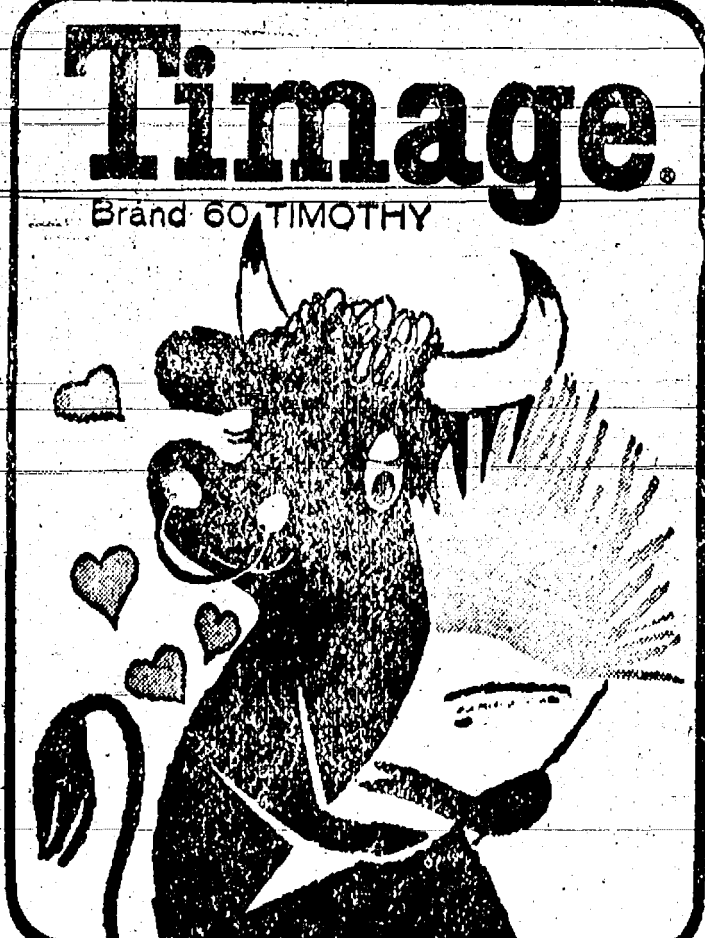

With the increase in all types of pools in the last 10 years and more people taking to the water in small craft than ever before, the safety hazards alone if the hazards of all are to take an active interest in safety. Dornbos said, "While the schools are open to both men and women, the water safety program is designed to help individuals should contact the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross, 15000, for additional information and applications.

Sheriff Douglas Harvey Tells Plans To Seek Re-Election

Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey recently announced his plans to seek the Democratic nomination for Sheriff in the August primary election. He supplemented his announcement with the following statements.

"During the time I have served in office, I have learned many things. It has been a real education. The most important thing, and possibly the most disgusting to me, is that it isn't at all hard for a public officer holder to get along with his fellow public officials if he will abide by political pressure. I strongly disapprove 'politicians' however, by the very nature of my position, I am in politics—to a degree. The Democratic party in this country and I have not always seen eye to eye, to put it mildly, but I ran in 1964 as a democrat and have made my intentions clear to the Democratic party concerning the great difference between law enforcement and politics.

"I hope it will be said someday, that Sheriff Doug Harvey was the best Sheriff, and the worst politician Washtenaw county ever had. I'd feel pretty good about it. I feel that I am a lousy politician. I am too blunt, and my temper isn't the very best, but my ethics are easy to follow. Respected law enforcement. Impartial law enforcement. Act for all people regardless of their race, color or creed, and regardless of their party—democrat, republican or independent. I have acted strictly as Sheriff of this county and will continue to do so as long as I hold this office.

"I think the people of this county are looking for just that, a Sheriff, not a politician. I can promise anyone anything. I can only continue to work as a public servant and strive for what I believe is right as I have done in the past.

"Our department is currently spending almost a million dollars of your money each year to operate, and that's an awful lot of money. I am spending that million in order to give this county a police force staffed by the best trained, best educated and best qualified police officers in the State of Michigan. Two hundred thousand taxpayers are living with the possibility of harassment by criminals. Crime is on the rise. I need that million to reduce crime, to keep the public safe, to wipe out the fear of being attacked and mugged on public thoroughfares, to watch your children as they play down the street or travel to and from school and recreation points, and to 'help' that child if he makes a mistake.

"I think the people of this county want something better than a good department. They want to know that the law in this county is not governed by political 'wheelers and dealers,' but by adequate and efficient men. I have tried and done the best I know how. All indications show that we now have a first partnership for the first generation.

"We have attracted some of the finest police officers in the nation, and I don't mind that I am proud. Our aim is a first class police force, schools, interest and pride drive. I want to see the organization which my officers and I have put together reach its peak and stay there, or I want to see it go to the people of this county, not and ending all my life. They must continue to one-step ahead of crime times.

"Because of this, I am asking to give me another four years to continue this partnership. I am a democrat, republican, independent to let me by the and their support, that through with the law enforcement methods of former years, asking everyone on this to give me their help, but all their encouragement, so may continue this program, asking for support in the democratic primary election, August, and then in the election in November, in a try-and-computer a job only half done.
