PLANS COMPLETE FOR 4-DAY COMMUNITY FAIR

Schedule Given For Jr. High Registration

The beginning of September brings cooler weather, Labor Day weekend, and, to the delight of students everywhere, the opening school for another year.

The end of summer this year is scheduled for September 4, in preparation for their renewed educational opportunity, all students new to the Chelsea schools entering grades 6, 7 and 8 are required to register with Principal Alan B. McKin at the Dwight E. Beach school or call 475-5151, so that schedules may be planned.

Students who attended North or St. Joseph's or the old Junior High are required to register.

Junior High students may purchase books Aug. 27 and 28. Eight grades including those from St. Joseph's may buy books and pay $5 or $2.50 for St. Mary's students attending Beach school for the half day. They will not be required to purchase books.

The school sells only new books. Used books are desired they may be purchased from former students. The following texts used last year have been discontinued: Science 7, Science 8, and History 8. Students are urged not to purchase used books until they learn which sections will be in the list of sections will be in the Beach school hall Aug. 27 and 28.

In 8th grade American History different texts will be used depending on the students reading ability. Therefore students will (Continued on page eight)

Football Players Will Be Fitted For Mouth Guards

All boys intending to play football in any Chelsea public school this fall are requested to attend group fittings for mouth guards at the Chelsea Medical Center office of Dr. Miller and Dr. Horton.

Fittings will be Aug. 29, 1 p.m. for senior high students and 1:30 p.m. for junior high students. At that time all persons fitted will be required to pay $1.

Boys unable to attend should call Bruce Galbraith at Chelsea High School before Aug. 29.

Jaycees Win State Awards

Last weekend found 19 members of the Chelsea Jaycees attending the annual Summer Board Meeting at Alma College.

Those attending the "On Campus Habilitation Happening" were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Roberson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Updegraff, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Branham, Mr. and Mrs. Art Steinaway, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thaler, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Akin, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Heller, and Dave Martin.

Chelsea Jaycees were awarded runner-up in Division I for Travel Trophy and placed first in both Division I Internal Format and Division I External Format, on the basis of the Records and Recognition books submitted.

Keynote speaker of the Saturday evening banquet program was Hon. Donald W. Riegle, Jr., U.S. Representative, who was selected as one of the Outstanding 10 Young Men of the United States by the National Jaycees.

The Chrysler-sponsored teen-age group known as the "Spurlos" presented what the Jaycees considered one of the best entertainment programs they had seen.

Restaurant at Fair Needs Volunteer Help

The Chelsea Community Fair's famous Red Schoolhouse Restaurant will begin serving breakfast at 7 a.m. each fair day, provide a variety of luncheon, dinner, and supper menus, and have available a selection of short orders at all hours.

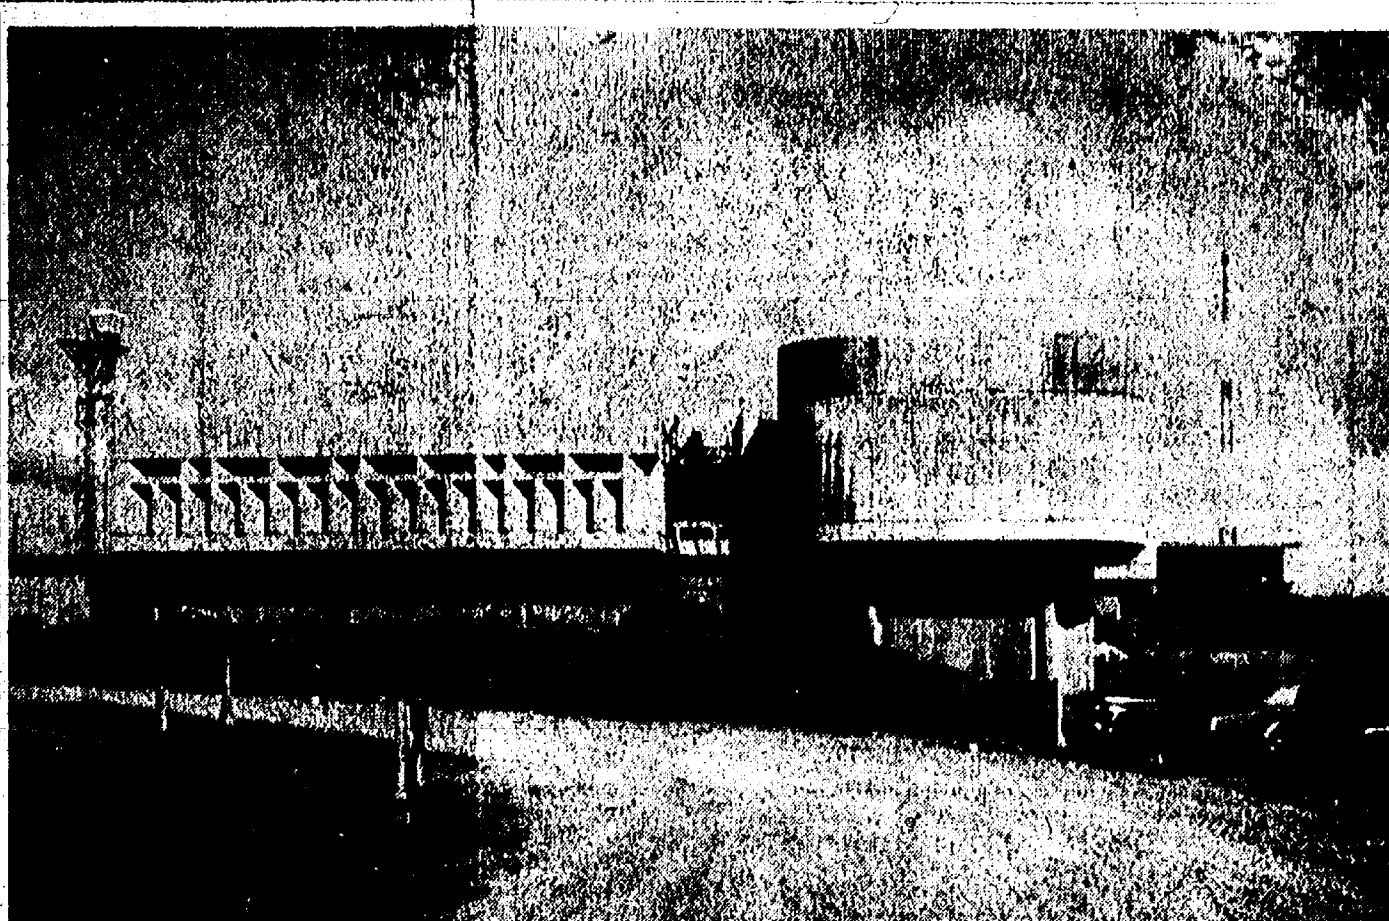

Customers will have three choices at each regular meal. The choices will change each day and include home cooked beef, pork, ham, fried chicken and dressing, macaroni and cheese, turkey, and dressing, a variety of potatoes.

Mrs. Fred Klink, Sr. (Gerry), is chairman this year. She is assisted by Mrs. Warren Eisenbeler, Mrs. Elmer Lindow, Mrs. Arthur Paul, Mrs. John Laraway, Mrs. Kenneth Platt and others, including many senior citizens.

From 6 p.m. until closing the kitchen and dining room will be operated by the Kiwanis club. Wednesday night, Jaycees Thursday night, teachers at Chelsea public schools Friday night and Chelsea Chamber of Commerce Saturday night.

The committee needs the support of all ladies in the surrounding community. Anyone wishing to give of her time or food should contact a member of the restaurant committee.

All proceeds from this cooperative venture go into the treasury of the Chelsea Community Fair.

NEARING COMPLETION: Still in the construction stage, this building will house the new Michigan Electric Power Pool Control Center which is scheduled to begin operation next spring. Located at Wagner and Scio Church Rds., in Scio township, the $3,500,000 facility will be staffed by engineers from both Consumers Power and Detroit Edison.

Electric Power Pool Facility Construction Progressing

A unique power pool facility—in fact, only the fifth one of this nature in the entire United States—is being erected at the corner of Wagner and Scio Church Rds. in Scio township.

Michigan Electric Power Pool Control Center is being built jointly by Consumers Power and Detroit Edison companies.

The new $3,500,000 facility, still in the construction stage, will hopefully be completed later this year, with operation to begin sometime in March next year.

Two digital computers, built by General Electric in Phoenix, Ariz., and brought here by special truck, and a telemetering system will control generation of electricity throughout the entire state of Michigan.

Michigan Bell is installing a special microwave facility to serve the telemetering circuits; this facility will be located adjacent to the power pool control center. The telemetering system will connect power plants and major stations throughout Michigan to the Scio township installation.

Charles Bylby has been named manager of the power pool facility. Bylby has been with Consumers Power Co. for years and is a Jackson resident.

Assistant manager of the power pool is Bill Pence of Plymouth. Pence is also the project director for the unique facility's operation. He has been with Detroit Edison Co. for the past 15 years.

In addition to the manager and assistant manager, the new power pool will be staffed by six engineers, three from each of the two electric companies involved in the project.

Later, Pub manager Dave Murphy will pit against the All-Stars the combined might of Jim Gaken, Arden Musbach, Robert Musoff, Odie Richardson, Daniel Murphy, Kenneth Norris, Jack McKinley, Don McKinley, Jim Warmingham, Michael Sweet, Don Copperrill, George Heydlauff, Loren Keizer, Charles Koenn, and Matt Murphy.

All-Star manager Robert Draper and coaches Stan Kozlowski and Don MacDonald will be leading Bill Pidd, Chuck Mattoff, Phil Boham, Richard Miller, Gordon Beaman, Robert Dompky, Frank Miller, Jerry Smith, and Tom Gillen.

All-Star Group To Meet Slow Pitch Champs

The champs pitch it out with the All-Stars this Sunday at the Chelsea Ball Park. Winning team for the slow pitch division, Wolverines, will meet the All-Star lineup at 6:30 p.m. At 8 p.m. fast pitch champion team, The Pub, will meet the fast-pitch All-Stars.

Robert Draper, manager, and Coach Phil Weidlauf will guide such slow pitch All-Stars as John Meehan, Gary Packard, Mary Everly, Ed Lauhon, Howard Dorr, Mac Plank, Alton Nixon, Jerry Rinke, Dave McLaglin, and Bruce Galbraith.

The only other such power pool operations now in existence in the United States include the American Electric Power in Canton, O., Pennsylvania-New Jersey-Maryland Pool located at Philadelphia, Connecticut Valley Power Exchange in the New England states, and the Southern Company in Atlanta.

Both business, commercial and residential customers should benefit from the new facility designed to satisfy power demands throughout all of Michigan.

Included in the new structure will be a spectators' gallery, and the groups of visitors from interested schools or organizations will be encouraged to tour the facility and view its equipment and operation. These tours will be possible during the 1968-70 school year and thereafter if the construction schedules and initial operations of the facility meet with no major unforeseen obstacles.

Kiddies Parade Is Featured on Opening Day

Opening day of the Chelsea Community Fair will be highlighted with a children's parade, reduced rates for carnival rides, free bicycle awards and a band concert.

Wednesday from noon until 5 p.m. prices will be reduced for rides and a free bicycle ticket will be given with each purchase of tickets for 10 rides on Happy Land Amusement Company rides.

The girl's bike, displayed in Dancer's window and the boy's bike displayed in Foster's window will be given away to two of the ticket-holders present at the 5 p.m. drawing.

Kiwanis Kids Day, Wednesday, will start with a kiddie parade originating at the Chelsea Village parking lot across from the Methodist church. Participants must register to be eligible for prizes. Entry blanks will be available at the parking lot, but officials hope that all children will have picked up entry blanks at the Chelsea State Bank, Merkel's, Foster's, Dancer's, Western Auto, or Chelsea Drug. They are to be filled out with name, address, telephone number character portrayed and vehicle used if any.

Participating children should appear at the parking lot by 6 p.m. with their entry blanks. They will register, receive a number and begin parading at 6:30 p.m.

Parents of small children are asked to be at the entrance to the fairgrounds.

After a pause in activities to allow time to indulge in some rides, entertainment will start at the fairgrounds arena at 7:30 p.m. with the introduction of 1968 Fair President Herman Koenn by Master of Ceremonies Paul "Jerry" Niehaus. Games, contests, Kiwanis Club prizes and the appearance of a TV personality will follow.

Thursday, or "Dexter Day" will be jumping with activity. All exhibits will be judged, grandstand arena entertainment starts at 7:15 p.m. with Fair President Koenn as master of ceremonies. Showmanship awards will be presented by division chairmen. Western Band under the leadership of William Parks will present a concert; the queen candidates will be on stage. The fat stock sale will be held.

The local fire-fighting teams, Dexter and Chelsea Fire Departments, will be battling each other, rather than blazes, in a water ball contest. Sparks are bound to fly in this heated battle.

Farmers will pit their machines against those of their neighbors at the tractor pulling contests Friday. Lightweight classes begin at 1 p.m. under the direction of co-chairmen Paul Hollinger and George Merkel. The heavyweight tractor pulling contest, still the top attraction of the fair, will begin at 7:15 p.m. and continue into the wee hours of Saturday morning.

Between these events, queens will be presented at 7 p.m. and Superior Ambulance helicopter rides will be given from Spaulding parking lot across the road from the fairgrounds. The 7 p.m. evening program will include Don Johnson of the Washtenaw Extension Dept.

Saturday, the final day of the fair, will begin with a 9 a.m. horse show under the direction of Merle Sibley. Helicopter rides will continue; and at 1 p.m. the mammoth street parade will start at the old junior high school. Floats built by high school classes, youth and civic organizations will participate, as well as queens, local area bands, horses, modern and antique autos, and a mounted posse.

All firemen will take some part in the parade, organized by the Chelsea Fire Department, under the direction of Fire Chief James Gaken, and Parade Chairman, David Longworth. After the parade a horse show will begin in the grandstand arena.

William J. Rademacher will be the lucky master of ceremonies conducting the crowning of the fair queen at 7 p.m.

This year, a new and hopefully popular event has been added—a garden tractor contest at 7:30 p.m.

Last year's fair president, David Rowe, who has charge of fairgrounds parking this year, has worked out a new parking system that should eliminate much of the confusion of past years. The plan is in effect each evening after 5 p.m. and all day Saturday: Northeast gate entrance—Pedestrians and autos; Northwest gate entrance—Pedestrians only; Southeast gate entrance—Auto exit and pedestrian entrance; Southeast gate to be used by exhibitors of livestock throughout the fair.

Parking Permitted Only on North Side of Old US-12 for Fair

Parking restrictions on the north side of Old US-12 West will be receded during the Chelsea Fair. Parking will be allowed during the fair on the north side of the road only. No parking will be allowed on the south side of the road.

Earl Willis, Jr., was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Sunday, Aug. 18. He is expected to be hospitalized for two weeks. Room number is 3502.

NEW DEXTER TOWNSHIP CLERK: William Eisenbeler, left, was appointed to replace Robert Wheeler as Dexter township clerk by the Dexter township board, Tuesday, Aug. 13. He accepts the list of registered voters from Wheeler as the two men prepare to move the clerk's files to Eisenbeler's office.

Dexter Township Clerk Named

William Eisenbeler became the newly appointed Dexter township clerk after the township board accepted the resignation of clerk Robert A. Wheeler at a meeting Tuesday evening, Aug. 13 at the home of Warren Eisenbeler, supervisor.

Wheeler has served as township clerk for eight years; he is moving to a new home which although it is located just about four miles away from his present home, will be in a new township and in fact, a different county, Livingston.

Term of appointment for Eisenbeler will be until the next election scheduled for the fall of 1970.

Other township officials currently serving Dexter township include Warren Eisenbeler, supervisor, Winifred Aberdeon, treasurer, and trustees John Bezzege and Leon Shutes.

Township officers formerly were elected for a two-year term, but in recent legislation, length and dates of service have undergone some revolutionary changes. The next township elections will be held in the fall of 1970, at which time supervisors, clerks, treasurers and trustees of the townships of Michigan will be elected for four-year terms of office.

Also, the township officials elected in the fall of 1970 will begin their term of office on Nov. 15 rather than on April 10 as was the case in previous terms. This will eliminate the possibility of a township official being elected in the fall, and the incumbent official for the same office deciding to resign several months prior to the expiration of his actual term leaving a situation where the township board must either prevail upon the incoming official to begin his or her duties several months early, or appoint a third person to fulfill the duties for the interim period. In Washtenaw county, two such situations existed early in 1968, but in each of the cases, the newly-elected supervisors were willing to take over the responsibilities of the township office in advance of their scheduled term, and were so appointed, in Scio and Superior townships.

The new Dexter township clerk is a long-time resident of the Dexter and Chelsea area, was graduated from Chelsea High school, and from the University of Michigan. He completed requirements for a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering at the U-M and later earned his MA degree in education. Eisenbeler has been a member of the faculty of the Dexter High school since his collegiate days, and is currently teaching chemistry and physical science classes. He and his wife, the former Sharon Seamans, have two youngsters, 4-year-old Amy and her brother, Kurt, who is 2.

Council Briefs

The council granted permit at the regular Aug. 6 meeting to Consumer Power Co. to construct a new substation and transmission tower west of their present substation on Wilkinson St.

Dick Ahern, Robert Darvas and Dr. James Shadoan discussed the proposed construction of a town house complex south and west of Flanders St. The matter was referred to the planning commission.

George A. Staffan discussed his request for annexation of certain lands located east of Frer Rd. No official action was taken.

A tap-in charge of $500 for the Taylor land sewer was established.

A resolution was presented to the Chelsea Fire Department from the City of Saline for their help during the flooding June 26.

The Council thanks the Senior Citizen Ladies for their help in sewing 100 arm bands for use by the Civil Defense organization.

Possible participation of Lyndon township in the village landfill is being investigated.

Students New to Chelsea Schools Should Register

Parents whose children have never been enrolled in the Chelsea Elementary School System may register them at either the North or South schools on Wednesday, Aug. 28 and Thursday, Aug. 29 from 9 to 11 a.m. Phone numbers for the South and North schools are respectively, 479-5691 and 479-2841.

Students in grades 6, 7, and 8 will register at the junior high school and those in 9, 10, 11, and 12 will register at the high school.

SHUTTERBUG'S PARADISE: This small island at the upper end of Maligne Lake is the most photographed spot on the lake, according to Don Turner, who apparently couldn't resist the urge himself. (See letter on page three.)

COLUMBIA ICE FIELDS in Jasper National Park loom large in the distance, even though Don Turner's lens was 1 1/2 miles away. Snowmobiles take tourists out on the mass of ice that is more than three miles long.

GLACIAL LAKE: No rivers feed Maligne background of this picture, supply the waters of Lake near Jasper in Alberta, Canada. Only the melting of huge glaciers, such as the one in the three miles wide in places.

Turner Finds Banff National Park Crowded with Tourists

Edmonton, Alberta August 4, 1968

Dear Readers: I believe the postal strike here in Canada has delayed an article or two, but I hope it will be remedied soon. I have been trying to find some American tourist who is returning home and who will carry this article to some point in the States and mail it for me.

While in Alaska and on the Alaska Highway, I saw lots of people from Michigan, and one party did carry a letter for me and mailed it at Skagway, Alaska. But here at Edmonton, Alberta, I don't find many from the States returning home in the near future. I hope the strike ends soon because it has a lot of things tied up.

Since my last report to include Dawson City in the Yukon, I have been eating up the miles toward home. But it will be some time before I am back in Michigan because I have the next two months planned for Canada.

After leaving Dawson City, I traveled 350-odd miles over a rough, dusty highway to Whitehorse, Yukon. The dust was so bad I couldn't see the road at times—because many tourists were traveling to Dawson in addition to those leaving. So, by the time I got to the Alaska Highway, I had more than my fill of gravel roads.

I had my first flat tire on the Dawson trail—a stone went through one rear tire. There are many sharp stones in the road, and I guess you can't dodge them all.

When I reached Whitehorse at Mile 918 on the Alaska Highway, I was so choked with dust that I prayed for rain and did a rain dance. And, do you know—it worked! In fact, it worked so well I had to do another dance to turn it off. I drove the 918 miles from Whitehorse to Dawson Creek in a downpour, and the highway was a sloppy mess.

At one section between Watson Lake and Muncho Lake, the highway is made up of material that is part coal. (There is a streak of coal in the gravel that they use on the road.) It's called the Coal River section—when it's dry you get black dust, and when it rains you get black mud. And you just can't imagine how greasy this can get when it's raining.

Going 25 miles an hour I had trouble staying on the road. And when you meet someone, you're splashed with this black goop and the windshield wipers don't do any more than smear it around so you can't see for sure.

By the time I "escaped," I couldn't tell what color my vehicle was. But I think the coal was better than the dust. I'm still shaking dust out of things from the Dawson trip.

Tomorrow, I think I will clean cupboards, wash curtains and vacuum the living room carpet. (Just in case someone should drop in for a visit.)

I stopped at Watson Lake for two days on my way down (and visited with friends I made on my way up the Highway). If you recall, I wrote about this area where the fish bite like crazy.

I was all set to try some more fishing, but the rain and fog were too thick to fly in, so I had to give up my idea. The people I mentioned in my article had received their copy of The Standard and were pleased I had mentioned them. I am here at Edmonton to catch a flight into Great Bear Lake in Canada's Northwest Territory. I hear there's fabulous fishing, so I arrived a few days early to sort out some of my bedraggled gear.

I also made a side trip to Jasper and Banff National Park to try for some wildlife shots as well as pictures of the beautiful scenery. I'm planning to spend more time there in September when the autumn colors are at their best.

Maligne Lake is one of the beauty spots of the Jasper area. The water is a pale green color due to the glacial silt, and there's good trout fishing. The Columbia ice fields are also quite a sight, and I took a snowmobile ride over the glacier for a distance of three miles. The weather was perfect for pictures, and many tourists were on hand for a ride on the snowmobiles. I had to wait in line for more than an hour to get aboard one of the 12 vehicles.

Lake Louise in the Banff area was so crowded with tourists that I couldn't find a spot to park my vehicle. I guess I'll go back later when it's less crowded. The city of Banff was also jam-packed. You could hardly elbow your way down Main St. And the shops, hotels and restaurants were really jumping with activity. I was in line for an hour at a coin laundry to do my laundry. The big campground at Banff was so crowded that people with tents were just tying them together because there was no place for ropes or stakes.

I parked my camper in one area which I thought was too rough—for tent-pitching, but just at dark, two young ladies from Red Deer, Alberta, came and started to pitch their tent beside me. They didn't show much experience in camping, so I loaned them an axe to pound their tent pegs with, and finally assisted them so their tent ropes weren't under the wheels of my camper.

They were very polite and courteous, and I told them I would be leaving early next morning. However, neither of them noticed that the exhaust pipe of my camper was only a few inches from their tent. I hope I didn't jolt them out of bed or scare them to death when I started up in the morning. Camping of this sort—when it is so crowded—is no fun to me. I imagine, however, they will expand camping facilities in the area as more and more people travel and use tents.

I just heard the postal strike is over, so maybe I can get this out to you today.

Don Turner.

FAREWELL: Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Howes and daughter, Rebecca, posed for a final farewell picture at their home before leaving for Daytona Beach, Fla. The former part-owner of the Gambles store and his family decided on the move to "try something different," as Howes put it.

THE NAVY AND WASTE

The General Accounting Office has reported the Navy wasted $5.9 million by manufacturing vast excess quantities of nonstandard aeronautical repair parts at four Naval Air Stations. The Navy claimed it was difficult to predict how many parts would be needed.

FAIR HOUSING AID

President Johnson has asked Congress for $13.5 million for the coming fiscal year, including $11.1 million to finance enforcement of fair housing provisions of the 1968 Civil Rights Act. This amount did not increase his total budget beginning July 1.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

by C. D. Smith

Who Should Have Made Apology?

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "Last May I was going with a girl and she seemed to think a lot of me. I never asked her to go steady, but I knew she would have dated me. Just as I started thinking a lot of her, she dated a boy with whom she had gone steady before dating me. It made me mad and I didn't speak to her for a long time. She called me up and told me to forgive her. I didn't accept her apology and now I'm sorry I didn't. I would really like to go with her again but I don't know what to do. Please help me get her back. She's not going with anyone at this time. Thank you very much."

OUR REPLY: Do what you should have done originally. Call her up and apologize to her for getting sore about nothing. Then, apologize for not accepting the apology she made when she really should have demanded one herself. You don't have to "humble" yourself. It isn't necessary, nor is it expected. But, if you do the right thing, you will feel better and so will the girl.

Once you're back on the right track, don't take things for granted. Don't be sure that she likes you better than you like her. In fact, don't make any comparison. Recognize the fact that you like each other and, at the same time, remember that things never work out unless both parties takes the time to consider the other person and not be just concerned about "me."

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

LIVING COSTS RISING

The Labor Department has reported that living costs continued climbing in April at an annual rate of 4 percent—the fastest in 17 years. The government blamed a strong market demand and rising wages on the continued rise.

ARMY CONTROL BILL

President Johnson has signed a bill extending the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency for two years from June 30. A ceiling of $5 million has been placed on appropriations to finance the agency.

FEWER POOR PEOPLE

The Social Security Administration has reported a decline by more than nine million between 1959 and 1966 of Americans it considers poor. The Government once set an income of $3,000 a year as the poverty level.

IN THE OPEN

By Lee Smits

One of the many reasons why Michigan is outstanding among the states is that there is no month of the year without its special appeal for outdoor people. If it isn't fishing, it's hunting. Right now, an open season on fox training daytimes, with night running of hounds opening August 15.

(A few scattered dry leaves on city sidewalks, a chill in the morning air, a brood of half-grown pheasants scotching across a rural road.)

This column will touch on some of the aspects of a hunter's struggles with his dog. Ed Zern of Field and Stream magazine it, with flicks of the whip, until sums it all up with a little story.

Dr. Whitney, who writes books on canine psychology, ignores all the advice of old-time trainers and recommends what he calls "reinforcement." The handler carries small chunks of meat, such as slices of frankfurter. The dog performs correctly, it is praised, petted and given a tid-bit.

(There was a hand-shy Labrador who wouldn't deliver a bird, but circled around carrying the bird after making a retrieve. Acting on professional advice, the owner knelt, upwind from the dog, so that he caught the scent of frankfurter and after a very few tries, came straight in to receive a few kind words and a treat.)

A famous trainer said that the ideal dog handler would be four-foot tall. Many times a dog will respond better when the handler squats.

Some of the most successful trainers are women. They have great patience, gentle voices—and never strike a dog. For punishment they use air pistols. It is much better to take a two-handed grip on a dog's back and shake him than it is to use a whip, unless the dog is extra tough. One veteran trainer says a man whipping a dog gives one lick for the dog and keeps on whipping, giving vent to his own bad temper.

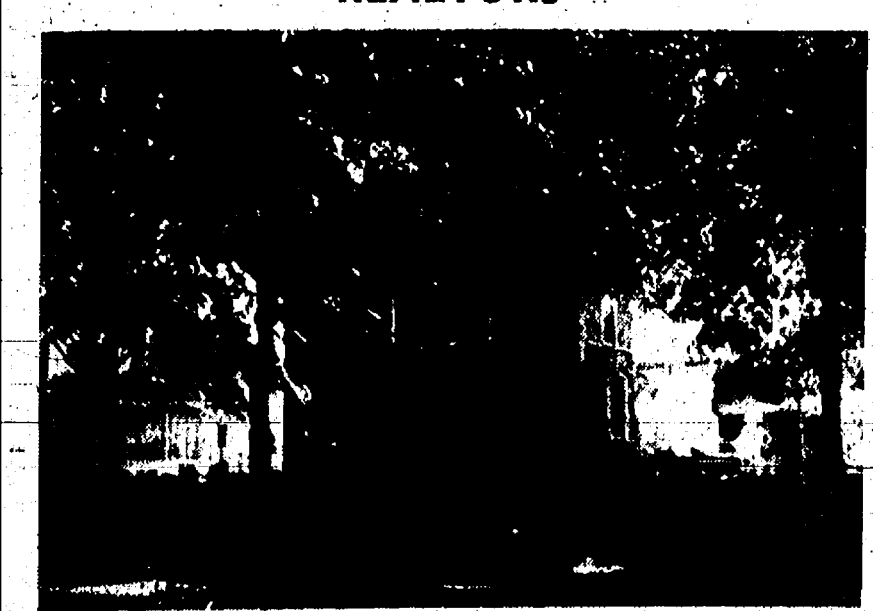

The sportsman who takes his dog into the field in August should make allowances for dry cover, dust, pollen which might balk the best nose in dogdom.

With the growing popularity of field trials, especially retriever trials, the remark is heard "I don't want a field trial dog. Just a well-trained hunting dog."

There is no logic in such an attitude. What is required of a worth-while gun dog is what is required to win any kind of a field trial. A poorly trained "meat dog" is just a little better than no dog at all.

Pheasants in the wild—not tame birds on a game preserve—are a tough problem for any dog. Not only do pheasants confuse bird dogs by racing over hill and dale, but they can drive a beagle out of its mind. A friend with an

Safety Items Vandalized In School Buses

Dexter Community Schools officials notified deputies of the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department Wednesday morning, Aug. 21, that the bus fleet at the school had been ransacked sometime between Sunday afternoon and early Wednesday morning.

Bus invaders entered the vehicles, parked on a lot adjacent to the high school, moved a first aid kit from one bus to another, and left a wake of possible disaster—they removed fire extinguishers from several of the buses and discharged another fire extinguisher but left it under one of the buses, on the ground, according to Danny McLaughlin, administrative assistant to the superintendent of schools.

The safety equipment had recently been serviced in readiness for the fall school term by Spears Fire & Safety Services, Inc., of Ann Arbor. According to personnel at the Spears office, the service was completed prior to Aug. 10, each of the school buses regularly carries an emergency first aid kit, several emergency flares and a fire extinguisher, either dry chemical or pressurized type.

FAMILY POT LUCK

Self-rising flour might be called a convenience flour because leavening and salt have been added to it. In one cup of self-rising flour, you have what would amount to one and a half teaspoons of baking powder and a half teaspoon of salt.

Veal steaks may be cut into cubes and dipped into a coating of slightly beaten eggs and crushed corn flakes.

To preserve the flavor of meats, cook at low temperatures. Meat will not dry as readily as when cooked at high temperatures.

You can make your own "treats" for the children. Peel bananas, spear with a wooden skewer, dip in melted chocolate. Place in freezing compartment until chocolate is firm.

Here's a quick and tasty dip: 1 cup heavy cream, whipped; 2 tablespoons horseradish; 1/2 teaspoon minced onion and 4 tablespoon deviled ham.

Pineapple chunks rolled in softened cream cheese, then rolled in finely chopped mint leaves can be served alone or in a salad.

Never worry about the course of events; just be sure you are right and hold to your faith.

Excellent beagle turned his dog loose in a cornfield bordering a marsh. Light snow was patterned with rabbit tracks. The hound opened up immediately. One after another, pheasants took to the air while the hound kept yodelling, paying no attention to the cotton-tail.

Oren Benson of Eagle River, Wis., has this advice for the amateur: "Don't expect too much of your dog. Don't expect a dog to work for you if he doesn't know you. Get acquainted with a new dog. Win his confidence. Never keep on with a training session until the dog is tired. Better two 15-minute sessions a day than one of half an hour or longer. Hunting for you must be fun for dog if he is to give you his best."

Mr. Smits' column is presented through the courtesy of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

TODAY'S THOUGHT
By LOUIS BURGHARDT

When a traditional holiday is celebrated over a week end, we witness a strange sort of piggy back take place. The piggy back tradition that rides in and out with the week end is a national disgrace. It dooms many families to heartbreak and sorrow. The disgrace is all the more shameful because all of us are familiar with the tragic law of the cause, means and effect of the disgraceful tradition. Most shameful of all, it is an explainable disgrace that has an irrational, unexplainable acceptance.

Too many of us seem to think this disgrace "can't" happen to me. It is always the other family, the other fellow that causes it or is affected by it; it can't be me or my family. This attitude is also unexplainable. It CAN happen to you. You CAN be the cause. You CAN be the means. You, instead of the other fellow, CAN suffer from the effect. We as individuals must face these facts if we are ever going to stop the holiday week end blood baths amid twisted steel on our highways.

For your own sake, for the sake of your family, face these facts in the holiday week end coming up soon. BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 211 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-1141.

SUNDAY'S SERMON
What would you give for happiness?
Ask the rich man, and he will not say "money." The rich man knows that happiness is not bought and sold on the open market.

If you would find happiness, give something of yourself. Give something to God. Give something to your fellow man.

There are endless ways of giving. The rich man gives to the poor. The public servant may give endless hours to the doing of good works. A great personality may use his talents to make others happy.

Give to those who are in need—the poor, the sick and the aged. Give without fanfare, without any concern, without recognition or reward.

Lead a helping hand where one is needed. Help a friend or neighbor in distress.

Do this and you will know what it means to give. You will know that giving brings happiness, that it is indeed "more blessed to give than to receive."

Scout Commissioners To Meet at Newkirk
Commissioners' Conference at which Portage Trails Council district commissioners and assistant district commissioners, will participate with round table commission research, neighborhood commissioners in a special program designed to strengthen and support scouting leadership will be held Sept. 11-12 at Newkirk Camp, 365 outside the village of Dexter.

On Saturday evening, there will be a banquet to which the commissioners' wives are also invited.

No man is free unless he knows the truth.

THE DEMAND FOR intravenous liquids in the last few years has increased so rapidly that all major pharmaceutical manufacturers have been compelled to step up their production of them, reports Gebr. Stork and Co., Amsterdam, Holland. This has led to increased use of automatic sterilizing equipment, such as the Volator-Stork continuous sterilizer. This equipment is added to already automated production lines for further speed-up of product flow.

PSYCHIATRY'S biggest movement during the last decade has been the explosive growth of psychiatric research. In the last eight years the research effort at the University of Pennsylvania alone has doubled and redoubled as research psychiatrists have developed new approaches to some of the most hard-to-cure psychiatric disorders. An example of the kind of research being conducted is the application of "behavior therapy" to the treatment of such problems as severe stuttering, phobias, smoking, and overeating.

CARRYING WATER for your own use these days could be quite a chore. The average American uses between 20 and 80 gallons of water each day, and that is a lot of trips to the well. The Department of the Interior says that water usage in the home is maximum between 8 and 9 a.m., with a second consumption peak occurring between 6 and 8 p.m. Figures on water usage show that it takes 10 gallons to wash dishes, 20 to 30 gallons to run the washing machine, 20 to 30 gallons to take a shower bath (unless you make it a quick one) and 30 to 40 gallons for a tub bath.

OLD LINEAR ACCELERATORS never die; they just phase away. But in the case of the University of Southern California's linear accelerator, the first device of its type ever built for the study of nuclear physics, the phasing-out will be accomplished with honor. Segments of the 40-foot-long apparatus will be transported to the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. as part of a permanent exhibit that will chronicle some of the earliest nuclear research using the proton, the nucleus of the hydrogen atom.

Ordinance No. 70

AN ORDINANCE TO ADOPT THE MINIMUM EMPLOYMENT STANDARDS OF THE MICHIGAN LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS TRAINING COUNCIL

The Village of Chelsea Ordains: Section 1. Minimum Standards Adopted. The minimum employment standards for law enforcement officers as established and adopted by the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council with Act No. 203, Public Acts of 1965, as amended, are hereby adopted for the Village of Chelsea as follows:

a. Citizen of the United States.
b. Minimum age of twenty-one years.
c. Graduation from high school or equivalent. Equivalent defined as having attained a passing score on the General Education Development test indicating high school graduation level.

d. The applicant shall not have been convicted of a felony offense.
e. Good moral character as determined by a favorable report following a comprehensive background investigation covering school and employment records, home environment, personal traits and integrity. Consideration will be given to any and all violations, including traffic and conservation law convictions as indicating a lack of good character.

f. Acceptable physical, emotional and mental fitness as established by a licensed physician following examination to determine the applicant is free from any physical, emotional or mental condition which might adversely affect his performance of duty as a police officer.

g. The trainee shall possess normal hearing and normal color vision. He shall be free from any impediments of the senses. He must possess normal visual functions and visual acuity in each eye correctable to 20/20. The trainee must be physically sound; well developed physically, with light and weight in relation to each other and to age as indicated by accepted medical standards and in possession of his extremities. He shall be free from any physical defects, chronic diseases, organic diseases, or mental instabilities which may tend to impair efficient performance of duty to which might endanger the lives of others or himself, if he lacks these qualifications.

h. A declaration of the applicant's medical history shall be made a part of the background investigation. The information shall be available to the examining physician.

i. An oral interview shall be held by the hiring authority or his representative, to determine the applicant's acceptability for a police officer position and to assess appearance, background and ability to communicate.

j. Recruitment and employment practices and standards shall be in compliance with existing Michigan statutes governing this activity.

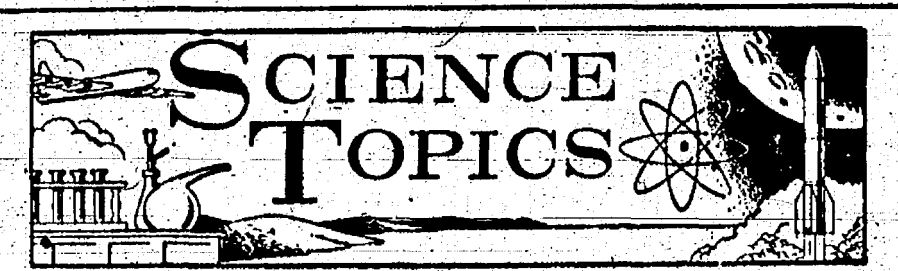

Section 2. Conflicting Ordinances Repealed.
The standards of the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council and recognized as minimum standards and higher standards are recommended by the Training Council when qualified applicants are available. Any portion of any ordinance not meeting the minimum standards is hereby repealed. Any portion of any ordinance which meets the minimum standards or exceeds those standards shall remain in effect.

Section 3. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect twenty (20) days after its passage and after its publication.

This ordinance was adopted at a regular meeting of the Council held August 20, 1968.
Donald Baldwin, President.
George L. Winnis, Clerk.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY: Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Luick will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, August 25, 1968. ★ Molecule 25-HCC Stronger Than Vitamin D

A MOLECULE more powerful than Vitamin D has been discovered by University of Wisconsin biochemists. Its effects may be felt from the medical world of prevention and treatment to the industrial and consumer world of pills and fortified food products. Molecule for molecule, the substance, called 25-hydroxycholecalciferol or 25-HCC, is about 40 percent more effective than Vitamin D in preventing or curing rickets and similar bone diseases, the Wisconsin men report.

Beautiful Islands Impress Ladies on Hawaii Vacation

Mrs. Harold Scott and Irene Proctor of Chelsea spent two weeks on a Hawaiian Carnival tour with 150 members of the Order of Eastern Star from Michigan. They returned from the tour Aug. 10.

The first stop on their trip was a three-day visit to San Francisco. During the main part of their trip they toured Honolulu and Pearl Harbor in Hawaii. Their headquarters was the Hilton Hawaiian Village Hotel on Waikiki Beach. They toured the outer islands by plane, stopping to see the orchid gardens and the erupting Volcano Kilauea. On the island of Kauai, the vacationers saw pineapple fields, cruised up the Waialua River to the Fern Grotto, and stopped for dinner at the Cacao Palms.

The ladies found several friends in Hawaii, including Mrs. Proctor's daughter's two pen pals of 25 years, Mrs. Raymond Cabral and Mrs. Albert Seron, whom her family had never seen. A friend of Mrs. Proctor's from Australia met them one night for dinner on his way home from a business trip to the United States.

The travelers describe Hawaii as "a beautiful 50th state" and say the people are very friendly.

Mrs. David D. Miller

Mary Hellen Loveland, D. Miller Take Vows at Grass Lake Church

Mrs. D. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Miller of Brooklyn, N.Y., and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Loveland of Grass Lake, Mich., were united in marriage by Rev. Kenneth Harris at the double-ring ceremony at the Grass Lake Methodist church.

The bride was given away by her father in a gown of lace and was accompanied by a maid of honor, her sister-in-law, Mrs. D. Loveland, and a flower girl, Jennifer L. Loveland, sister-in-law of the bride. The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie.

The ceremony was held at 2:30 p.m. and was attended by about 200 guests. The bride wore a gown of white silk organza over taffeta with a train and a single long stemmed white rose. The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie.

The couple will reside in Lansing following a honeymoon at Tahquamenon Falls.

After the bride chose a blue lace sheath with a single long stemmed white rose. The bridegroom's bouquet was of white roses and white carnations.

The bride's maid of honor, Mrs. D. Loveland, was given away by her father in a gown of lace and was accompanied by a maid of honor, her sister-in-law, Mrs. D. Loveland, and a flower girl, Jennifer L. Loveland, sister-in-law of the bride. The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie.

Margaret Peterson, Becomes Bride of William V. Coltre

William V. Coltre, 755 Flanders St., Chelsea, took as his wife Margaret A. Peterson of 939 Dewey St., Ann Arbor, in an evening wedding Aug. 15.

The ceremony took place at the First Congregational church in Chelsea. The Rev. John Roschen of the United Church of Christ in Dexter administered the vows that united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Peterson of Lake City, Minn., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene G. Coltre of 755 Flanders St. in Chelsea.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organza over taffeta with a train and a single long stemmed white rose. The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie.

The maid of honor, Miss Sharon A. Probst, of 939 Dewey St., Ann Arbor, wore an emerald gown of aqua silk organza over taffeta. She wore a matching bow headpiece and carried a single yellow rose.

The bridegroom's best man was John F. Widmeyer.

Following a reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents, the couple departed for a wedding trip. They plan to return Sept. 1 and reside in Chelsea.

JC Auxiliary Discuss Projects

Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting at Half Moon Lake with a picnic pot-luck, then reconvened at the home of Mrs. Robert Updegraff.

Mrs. Douglas Robinson was introduced as a guest for the evening.

The ladies discussed ways to assist Spaulding Foundation, and Mrs. Kenneth Norris plans to contact them for further suggestions. They hope to complete the Information Booth at Pierce Park by Color Tour time, and are compiling a local information brochure for use in it.

According to Mrs. Roy Greenleaf, activities for Fair Queen are many and varied this year. There are nine candidates vying for the crown.

Many members attended the state Summer Board at Alma, last week-end, enjoying workshops and socializing. Mrs. Robert Updegraff, Mrs. Richard McUmber and Mrs. Tom Dunlap received Spokette awards. Mrs. Ron Branham received a 90 Day Wonder award for April, May and June.

4-H Clubs

GINGHAM BELLES

"Gingham Belles" officers were elected at a picnic meeting last Wednesday. The 14 girls belonging to this 4-H group elected Donna Clark president, Sherry Fisher vice-president, Cathy Clark secretary, and Mary Wood treasurer.

All members chipped in for a feast of hot dogs, marshmallows, lemonade, cookies and potato chips. The girls decided to start a scrapbook to hold snapshots and newspaper items. Some pictures for it might come from their tour of Kellogg's in Battle Creek this Friday. The group plans to begin a "helpful project each month" policy.

At their last gathering, the Belles formed an assembly line and finished 10 drawstring bags for soldiers in Vietnam. They also designed the two boxes that were placed in Rockwell Standard for the deposit of gifts for soldiers.

The group was started by Miss Nancy Mshar and Mrs. Ann Alexander.

Mrs. Steven Albert Easudes

Jean M. Parker, Steven Easudes Wed Friday at Methodist Church

Jean Marie Parker and Steven Albert Easudes exchanged vows at 7:30 p.m. on Aug. 16, at the First United Methodist church with the Rev. Wilbur Silvernail of Waterloo performing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Parker, 15541 Gorton Rd., Grass Lake and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Easudes, 7547 Fenton St., Dearborn Heights.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin under white daisy lace. Her veil was short and full, crowned with a daisy headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white roses intermingled with the daisies.

Miss Susie Parker, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor wearing an orange chiffon floor-length gown with an empire waist. She carried an orange chignon bouquet filled with white roses. The bride was attended by two others, Miss Marie Paul of Fenton and Miss Betsy Lou Parker, also a sister of the bride. Their dresses were like that of the maid of honor but in yellow chiffon and they carried bouquets of yellow and white roses.

Co-ordinated with the yellow, the bride's mother wore a pale yellow dress with a beaded yoke. The mother of the bridegroom wore a mint green dress also with a beaded neck, and both costumes were accompanied by white accessories.

Three ushers also took part in the ceremony. One of them, Thomas A. Easudes, the brother of the bridegroom, was also best man. Jeffrey A. Easudes, also a brother of the bridegroom, and Charles Barth were the other ushers.

After the ceremony the 200 guests were received in the church hall. This was followed by a reception at the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club. Servers were Miss Kaye Gelbott and Miss Mary Ann Winter, a cousin of the bride. Miss Mary Ann Winter was also in charge of the guest book.

The bride was a 1968 graduate of Chelsea High school and the bridegroom is a senior at Eastern Michigan University majoring in industrial art. He is also employed at Honda of Ann Arbor.

The couple is living at 5202 W. Michigan, No. 51, Ypsilanti.

William Daltons Move From Roseville to Home On North Territorial Rd.

New Chelsea residents are the William Daltons of North Territorial d.

Although they had been at the new home for nearly a month, they have been plagued with telephone difficulties, and finally have the same number as that listed at the telephone company for them.

Dalton and his wife, Jessica, and three sons moved to this area from Roseville. He has been with Detroit Edison Co. for the past 12 years, and has recently settled in the Chelsea area after being promoted to senior controller for the Michigan Electric Power Pool facility in Selo township.

The Daltons' property includes about two acres, all of which is very busy, with their cat, Peppy, who has presented the family with four new kittens since arriving in Chelsea; their Collie, Prince, acquired just before their move from Roseville, and a new pony, King, who joined the Daltons since their arrival.

Sons Mark, 10, Allan, 8, and Scott, 6, will all be attending the South Elementary school, Chelsea, shortly after Labor Day.

Three Chelsea Students On CMU Honor List

Three students from Chelsea are on the Scholastic Honors list at Central Michigan University this semester.

Barbara J. Doyle of 1223 Meadow Lane, a junior at the university; Patricia Kay Guest of 146 E. Summit, a sophomore; and James W. Hanson of 545 Howard, a senior are among the spring semester honor students.

To be eligible for the Scholastic Honors list, a student must have an average of "B" or better for his entire college career.

TIPS for your TOP

TODDY and FRAN

Keep up to date! Summer's fading; fall is nearly here — which means school is too. It's out with air-conditioning; in with hair-conditioning. Summer dates were great: swimming, sunning, swinging with the wind and the rain in your hair. Now it's time to get those neglected tresses in condition for school — and for fall dates. Think how a blunt cut, a perky permanent, a revitalizing hair conditioning will add highlights to those football dance dates. Keep up to dating! Call us. Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Elton K. Musbach have returned from a two-week trip to the western states. They toured Glacier National Park in northwestern Montana, Yellowstone Park and the Grand Tetons in Wyoming, and Mt. Rushmore and the Bad Lands in South Dakota. Enroute home they visited Mrs. Musbach's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson of Chandler, Minn.

It is surprising how well you can get along with others if you keep your mouth shut and let somebody else do the talking.

Student Nurse Tours Europe Via Hitch-Hike, Train, Plane

Carolyn Wilkerson spent the summer doing something much more enjoyable than taking summer classes at the University of Michigan as she had planned. This 18-year-old nursing student and resident of 611 N. Main in Chelsea worked for two months packed her bags and caught a University charter flight to England.

"It all started when Liv Solberg, a Norwegian governess I know, asked why we didn't tour Europe together," Carolyn explained. The next thing she knew she was meeting Liv in London.

The girls spent six weeks hitch-hiking and traveling by train from city to city. Carolyn explains that it is perfectly acceptable, commonplace, and safe for girls to hitch rides in Europe. "If we didn't like who stopped to give us a ride we didn't get in," she said, adding that they had no trouble whatsoever with this.

Carolyn and Liv stopped in Paris first. Although Carolyn fears they caused the French some amusement by not being able to utter a word of French, they considered Paris "a great city."

Next stop was Marseilles where the pair lounged on the beaches for four days. In Marseilles there is not much to see, Carolyn said but she picked up quite a tan.

On the way to Rome, they spent the night in Nice and stopped in Genoa to see Christopher Columbus' house which they described as "small, poorly marked and ivy-covered."

Council Briefs

At a regular meeting of the Village Council Tuesday, Aug. 20 a motion was approved to accept the low bid of S & R Tire Co. for two special chloride filled tires for use on the landfill payloader.

Announcement was made regarding the hiring of Louis Schneider a retired Marine officer as a full-time patrolman for the village.

An ordinance was approved to adopt the minimum employment standards of the Michigan law enforcement officers training council.

Bob Niehaus' request for a special use permit to construct and operate a "Dairy Queen" on the Paul Pierce property on S. Main St., was referred to the planning commission for recommendation.

The council will act on the request of George A. Staffan for the annexation of a parcel of land to the village at its regularly scheduled meeting Sept. 3. The land in question is located west of Freer Rd. and south of Planders St.

Investigation into several complaints from Village residents regarding the failure of trash collectors to remove certain rubbish revealed that the items did not conform with the contract requirements in most cases. Unusually heavy or bulky items should be taken by the homeowner to the landfill on Werker Rd. Village residents must have a card, available at the Light and Water Department office, to gain entrance to the landfill. The village is attempting to correct any inconsistencies concerning rubbish by investigating each complaint.

ized with Liv's friends. Carolyn described the Norwegians as "friendly" and said the communication problem was less than in other places because the young people are taught English as a second language in school.

Carolyn found the Europeans curious about America. "Every one asked about Vietnam, Assassinations and the conventions," she said. "In fact, I didn't really develop a spirit of patriotism until I defended my country to Europeans." Carolyn, who disagrees with the country's activities in Vietnam, found herself in the ironic position of having the American Vietnam policy defended by foreigners. She said the English people she spoke with about the war were divided in their position.

France, she felt, disliked America politically but "liked" the tourist dollar. When Liv and Carolyn were in France during Bastille Day there were a few sporadic outbursts from the crowds but these, quelled quickly by the riot police, were the only indication of the social and political conflict of a few months ago.

Carolyn feels the summer was well worth the $700 expenditure, and plans a return trip after graduation.

CAROLYN WILKERSON

Two days from Genoa the girls reached Rome. Although they visited the ruins and Coliseum, the weather was unbearably hot and they stayed only a short time.

From Rome Carolyn and Liv went to Florence, which Carolyn considers the highlight of the trip. She enjoyed the art galleries, museums and especially Michelangelo's "David." In addition to the cultural interest Carolyn found in Florence, she called it a "comfortable" town where it was possible to walk to any part of town quickly and easily.

They stayed five days in Florence—three with Carolyn in the hospital there. Since she is a student nurse, she was not frightened and guessed the trouble could be traced to some Italian food she had eaten. For most of the trip the girls lived on hamburgers and hot dogs. "On a student's budget, you don't really get a chance to try all the national foods you would like to," Carolyn said.

From Florence the travelers took a very rainy train ride to Switzerland, spent the night in Zurich, and got on an overnight train to Hamburg.

In Copenhagen, the girls, tired of sight-seeing, went to an amusement park, a concert and swimming.

They left for Sarpsborg, Norway, the little town south of Oslo where Liv's family lives. Although Liv's parents could not speak English, Carolyn enjoyed her week's visit with them. She went to the beach and social-

AGRICULTURE
In Action
by M. L. Wood

Main Information
A barrage of misinformation is spread throughout Michigan by a so-called "national farmer boycott" of California grapes, called by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee of the AFL-CIO.

Efforts to spread the misinformation are such "social action" as the Michigan Migrant Worker and the Michigan Council on Agriculture.

Recently, threats have been made against grocery stores and they refuse to submit to boycott and continue sale of grapes. Sporadic picketing, in California and in Michigan, has been conducted, primarily by paid professional volunteers from student groups, campus militants and co-opting clergy.

Answer to both the misinformation and the challenge the boycott represents to the basic right to buy and sell, the Michigan Farm Bureau has issued a statement, which among other things makes it plain that the issue is an attempt by labor to pressure California's growers to sign contracts with unions forcing farm employees to become union members.

The fact sheet was presented to a recent Lansing press conference by Michigan Farm Bureau President Elton Smith, who said that farmers are not interested in the voluntary organization of farm or other workers, and did strongly object to the methods being used.

Farm workers have ever tried to organize and bargain with their employers. This is the issue, for even with all efforts on the part of unions, few have chosen to join United Farm Workers—AFL-CIO. This is true in spite of reported $10,000 per month in the AFL-CIO treasury and other $7,500 per month from United Auto Workers, placed in the organization efforts.

Having failed to entice the farmer, the unions are now aiming guns at the growers themselves, using the pressures of a "boycott" as their ammunition," Smith said.

He said that the union tactics involved a "secondary boycott" are a clear-cut violation of Taft-Hartley Labor Act, and a complaint to this effect has been filed with the National Labor Relations Board. Smith reported that a damage suit has been filed against the unions in, on behalf of California growers and shippers, as authorized within the Taft-Hartley law.

He said that unless the boycott strongly resisted now, the way will be opened for labor unions to take over the control of America's farm productive ability.

Chamber of Commerce Plans for New Apartment Complex
Members of the Chamber of Commerce listened to Dr. Bruce Stubbs, Detroit Architect Ahern outline plans for a proposed 84-unit apartment complex west of Freer at a luncheon meeting Tuesday.

The Medical Clinic, backers of one- and two-bedroom planned development, is having problems arising from the additional sewage facilities that would be necessary for the extra dwellings.

CHELSEA VILLAGE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

July 16, 1968
Council Room

Regular Session.

This meeting was called to order by Pres. Donald E. Baldwin at 8:00 P.M. Trustees present: Heydlauff, Gorton, Weber and Pennington. Trustees absent: Fulk and Miller. Absent: Clerk, George Winans.

The Minutes of the Regular Session of July 2, 1968 were read and approved.

Mrs. Ruth Wilkerson of Railroad Street requested council assistance for the removal of a recently constructed fence, which blocks entrance to her rear property line from McKinley St. Pres. Baldwin instructed Trustee Heydlauff to investigate.

A discussion was held regarding the possible reconstruction of a portion of the storm sewer serving Main Street from the railroad tracks to an undetermined distance north. No official action was taken at this time.

A discussion was held regarding the failure of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company to backfill the repair cuts in village streets with sand as has been the procedure for many years, and one which the Gas Company is well aware. The Gas Company will be contacted immediately.

A letter was submitted to the Council by the Village Planning Commission regarding the request from William and Betty Freeman and Consumers Power Co. to construct a substation on property located to the west of the present Wilkinson St. station. The following Planning Commission motion was submitted for council discussion: "Motion was made and approved to recommend to the Village Council that the Consumers Power Company be granted a Special Use Permit to build a substation on the property in question."

RESOLUTION
BE IT RESOLVED AND IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED that a public hearing be held on the application of Consumers Power Company and William W. Freeman and Betty A. Freeman for a permit to construct a utility structure, in accordance with the provisions of Section 6.05 (f) Ordinance No. 55 (Chelsea Village Zoning Ordinance) on lands located west of Wilkinson Street and south of the old D&C Railroad right-of-way, more particularly described in the application dated July 16, 1968, said hearing to be held Tuesday, August 6, 1968, at 8:00 P.M. in the Village Council room, notice of hearing on said petition to be published in The Chelsea Standard on August 1, 1968, with notice to be furnished adjoining land owners as the Zoning Ordinance requires.

Motion by Weber, supported by Heydlauff, to approve the above Resolution as read. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A discussion was held regarding the construction of a storm sewer line from the new Chelsea Milling Co. warehouse, north to Little Creek. No official action was taken at this time.

A discussion was held regarding the need for a drinking fountain at the Chelsea High School ball field.

Motion by Pennington, supported by Heydlauff, to install a drinking fountain at the ball park site subject to approval of the Chelsea School District officials. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

A request was submitted for the annexation to the Village of Chelsea of certain real estate located in Lima Township. Said land is to be developed as a residential subdivision. The request was referred to the Village Planning Commission.

RESOLUTION
BE IT RESOLVED AND IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED that the Village of Chelsea hereby make application to the Michigan State Highway Dept. for placing a banner above M-52 between W. Middle and Park Streets, stating "Chelsea Community Fair." Said banner to be placed August 11, 1968 and removed Sept. 9, 1968.

The Village of Chelsea agrees to save harmless the Michigan State Highway Dept. and the Michigan State Highway Comm. against any and all claims for damages arising from operations covered by this permit.

Motion by Weber, supported by Gorton, to approve the above Resolution as read. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Motion by Pennington, supported by Weber, to authorize the Clerk to issue checks in payment of bills as submitted. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried. General Fund: $8,903.76.

Motion by Pennington, supported by Heydlauff, to adjourn the meeting. Roll call: Yeas all. Motion carried.

Meeting adjourned.
Approved: Aug. 6, 1968.
Donald E. Baldwin, President.
Eldon Gorton, Acting Clerk.

'Rise and Fall of Mozart' Documented on TV Program

"East Lansing—'NET Festival' charts 'The Rise and Fall of Mozart,' an evaluation of the tragic decline in the 18th century composer's fortunes during the last 10 years of his life. Sunday, Aug. 25, at 3 p.m. and 12 midnight on WMSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television.

As the first composer in the 18th century to move outside the normal sphere of aristocratic patronage, Mozart spent his last years in Vienna trying to achieve success as a free-lance composer and performer. After a period of affluence, Mozart died at age 35, destitute and largely ignored.

The program traces his tragic last years, using film of the locales in which Mozart lived and worked, his letters, excerpts from his music, and sketches and paintings of the times.

CONFLICT—

"NET Journal" looks at a community in which two bombings caused an intra-racial power struggle on "Black Natchez" Sunday, Aug. 25, at 4:30 p.m. and Wednesday, Aug. 28, at 12 noon.

The program ranges the streets, homes and meeting halls of Black Natchez, during the summer of 1965, as Negroes react with anger and indecision after the local NAACP president, George McCulloch, is injured in a bombing.

The Negroes become militant, and the groups—the NAACP and the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party—begin their own power struggle. Tensions flare up again as another official of the NAACP is killed by a bomb.

JAZZ—

"NET Jazz" presents pianist George Shearing playing some of the music which made him famous. Tuesday, Aug. 27, at 12 noon and Friday, Aug. 30, at 7 p.m.

Accompanied by a quartet, Shearing plays "Lullaby of Birdland," "All Be Around," "As-Bach-As Saying," "Country Gardens," "Morse Code," "Baker's Dozen," and "Going Out of My Head."

He discusses, with jazz authority Mike Rayback, his classical piano background and how it has influenced his jazz piano playing.

GAMBLING—

The thriving new big business of casino gambling in Britain is explored on "Casino Society," Tuesday, Aug. 27, at 7 p.m. and Wednesday, Aug. 28, at 11:30 a.m.

The program, filmed in and around Manchester, England, reports on the world of the gambler since casino gambling became legal in Britain in 1960. The story is told with scenes of people talking about this latest business, which involves thousands of people and millions of pounds of British currency.

The lucky and the unlucky compete at the tables and slot machines, while the casinos compete for patronage, often having grand re-openings under a different name but the same management.

Garry Gillespie, 12010 Jackson Rd., Chelsea, driving on revoked license; $45 fine, $5 costs and three days in jail.

LAWN FURNITURE

If you've just bought new aluminum lawn furniture, take steps to preserve the bright metal surface. Unless it is protected from the elements it will soon become dull. Ask your paint dealer for a clear exterior lacquer, intended for use on aluminum, to brush or spray on the surface. This will also help to prevent steel fittings on the furniture from rusting.

F-111 HEARINGS

Senator John L. McClellan says he'll hold more hearings on the problem-plagued, multi-billion-dollar F-111 warplane, grounded by the Air Force. The Arkansas Democrat earlier characterized the F-111 program as a "tragic blunder."

More than 2,000 research projects are underway at Michigan State University. Investigations range from studies of the atom and the cell to work in human behavior.

He also won the Hendrik Exerman Scholarship to study with the late Edward Steuermann, first at the Philadelphia Conservatory, then at the Juilliard School of Music.

IT'S HAYFEVER SEASON, and these boys, John Rosentreter, left, Stephen Smith and Harold Allen are doing a service to the residents of their block on Wilkinson St. by ridding a large field of the "ragweed" that plague allergic people in the summer time. They've been working for more than a week with the only tools at their disposal—edge clippers, a sickle, an axe and a lawn mower.

After the boys get the weeds to a reasonable height, they "mow 'em down" with the lawn mower. And they're not sorry they started either, even though the temperatures soared on some days. "It would be nice if everyone would cut their weeds," the boys said, "a lot of people would breathe easier."

New Speedway Racing Toward Completion

The Oct. 13 inaugural race at Michigan International Speedway is still two months away but each day construction crews are racing against the clock to have the $5 million dollar facility ready for the 250-mile premiere.

Paving is already well under way with the back straight of the oval, the pit road, and infield road sections already covered by the first coat of asphalt. The north and south turns of the oval, as well as the start-finish banking will be completed within a week.

Two complete asphalt plants are in operation at the 800-acre site producing the five inches of deep strength base compound that will be topped off by 1 1/2 inches of finish asphalt. The track surface will be equal to that of the highest highway standards.

Surfacing of that part of the road circuit lying outside the oval infield area will be completed simultaneously with the oval. No major activity is planned for the road circuit until 1969.

Erection of the main grandstand—to a height of 60 feet—is nearing completion. This installation, based on a parabolic curve design will give spectators complete visibility of the oval at all times during the race, even when the racing machinery runs close to the retaining wall in front of the grandstand. Seating will be comfortable, bench-type, heat reflective aluminum.

Driver interest is running at an all-time high in this first race at the world's newest and foremost motor racing facility. One of the largest entries in the 1968 United States Auto Club Championship Circuit is expected in pursuit of the record $75,000 purse.

Practice and qualifying will be held on Saturday, Oct. 12 starting at 9 a.m.

Michigan International Speedway is located on US-12, just south of the Junction of M-50 (Cambridge Junction). A viewing area has been set up for the convenience of visitors to the site.

Tickets and general information are available from the Speedway office at 2990 W. Grand Blvd., Detroit 48202.

Police Busy with Great Variety Of Accidents Throughout Area

Dexter police officers and deputies of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department have policed a number of accidents, investigated several burglaries and handled a host of miscellaneous complaints during the past few days. Incidents which occurred in the Dexter, Chelsea, Manchester and Whitmore Lake areas include those listed:

James Ray Raub, 27, of Chelsea was riding his bicycle along Jackson Rd., just east of Parker Rd., when a motorist, Ronald R. Minix of Grass Lake, was blinded by the bright sunlight and apparently failed to see the bicyclist. Minix's vehicle struck the bicycle. Raub was transported from the scene to University Hospital, Ann Arbor, by ambulance, but was released rather than admitted to the hospital.

A Schwinn Sting-Ray bicycle, green with chrome, was reported found by a Mr. Johnson of Portage Shore Dr. when he returned to the lake from his home in Detroit on Aug. 8 (Thursday) at about 10:30 p.m. Deputies are storing the bicycle at the sheriff department garage until the owner identifies it properly.

One tractor—badly beaten—was reported by its owner, Robert Brady of Whitmore Lake. Report was received on Aug. 13, but the damage was inflicted approximately June 6 or June 7, according to the report. The tractor had a hole punched through the radiator, holes in the engine block, seats cut, battery ripped out and smashed to the ground, and the generator ripped out and smashed.

Last Wednesday evening, deputies policed an automobile accident on North Territorial Rd., just west of Scully Rd. The car involved was a 1959 Volkswagen; driver was Richard Rine Whobrey of Livonia. The report indicates that the Whobrey vehicle was heading east on North Territorial lost control going across the center line, then back to his own side of the road turning end over end, before coming to rest on its top in a ditch.

along the south side of the road way. Two passengers, Phyllis Whobrey 23, and Angie Whobrey, 3, both of Livonia, were transported to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, by ambulance. The vehicle was removed from the scene by wrecker.

Garry Lee Guenther of Manchester was taken by ambulance to Foote Memorial Hospital, Jackson, following an accident on Austin Rd., near Manchester, on Aug. 12. A passenger in the car, Mike Nickerson, also of Manchester, told deputies the driver had reached the top of a hill on a curve, when a collie dog ran in the path of the Guenther vehicle. To avoid hitting the dog, Nickerson explained, the Guenther youth veered sharply to the right, lost control at the curve, then over-corrected, drove left of the center line, skidded in a northwest direction for about 450 feet, left the road, went another 31 feet before striking a tree broadside.

A two-car collision on Jackson Rd., near Stabler Rd., occurred on Aug. 13, when Ronald Mull, 20, driving a 1966 Chevrolet 2-door, attempted to overtake and pass a second vehicle driven by James Edward Hereford. As Mull pulled beside Hereford's 1965 Mustang, Hereford suddenly turned left and the two vehicles collided. Mull's Chevrolet and the Mustang were removed from the scene by wreckers. Both cars were damaged, the front of Mull's vehicle and the entire rear portion of the Mustang, according to the report at the sheriff department.

"Sod Buster" falling from a flatbed trailer hauled by a vehicle driven by Earl George Richmond of Gregory caused damage to a second vehicle owned and driven by Ronald Lee Lewis, 24, of Stockbridge Wednesday morning, Aug. 14. The sheriff department report relates that as Lewis drove his 1967 Mercury 2-door hardtop past the truck carrying the sod, sod fell from the truck and landed in front of the other vehicle, as well as on the vehicle. The incident took place on Hadley Rd. just north of Bartlett Rd.

Reported missing from the Silver Lake State Park during the week were three canoe paddles, two life preservers and two yellow inflatable pillows, deputies report. A boating accident in which a 14-foot fishing vessel, equipped with outboard motor capsized on the Huron River near Chamberlin Rd. on Thursday morning, Aug. 15, resulted in both occupants of the boat being pitched into the river waters after the boat edged too close to the dam and was caught in the spillway current. Ronald Zammit of Lincoln Park, and Francisco Ruggieri of Flint Rock were pulled from the river, but Ruggieri was taken to St. Joseph Mercy hospital by ambulance following the boat incident. He was unable to swim due to back injuries received at the time of the mishap, but was rescued by Zammit, operator of the boat. Damage was estimated at $20 by deputies at the scene.

Andy Fletcher, Jr., of Chelsea, was taken to the Chelsea Medical Clinic by ambulance following an accident on Pierce Rd. just south of Bush Rd. on the evening of Aug. 14, according to a report at the sheriff department. Fletcher apparently lost control of the 1968 Chevrolet 2-door—he was driving after turning onto Pierce Rd. from Bush Rd., fished for about 250 feet, then edged off the left side of the road, striking a tree with the front of the car, spun around the tree and settled back on the road again. Deputies at the scene listed the speed of the vehicle as being a prime factor for the accident. The car was removed by wrecker.

Your 1968 Guide to Coho Fishing Across Michigan

To baseball fans, 1968 is the "Year of the Tiger," but to thousands of Michigan anglers who intend to catch that big one, it is the "Year of the Coho."

Trophy-hungry fishermen first have to locate that big one. The most likely place to find a record-size salmon is Lake Michigan, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Coho generally run smaller in Lake Superior than in sister lakes because of the very cold water and less abundant food supply. Trophy-size coho will not begin to appear in Lake Huron until fall, 1969.

Detailed mapping of coho movements is not now possible since the salmon is new to Michigan waters.

The accompanying Auto Club map shows where fishing is expected to be best and what rivers and streams have been stocked.

Coho may be found where there is an ample supply of food, and the water temperature ranges between 52 and 57 degrees. They feed on alewives in Lakes Michigan and Huron and smelt and herring in Lake Superior.

It was the vast winter movements of alewives to southern Lake Michigan that attracted the salmon to the Chicago shore. Even in late April, schools of coho were near Chicago.

In May, the coho began moving along the Michigan as well as Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin shorelines. By mid-June, the coho moved north to Grand Haven.

From now until late September, the largest concentration of coho in Lake Michigan will be found off the mouths of streams where the now giant salmon were first released as smolts by the Conservation Department in Spring, 1967.

Prior to spawning runs, coho are found where their food supply is best.

Except for a possible jack run in the lower Au Sable, the Conservation Department expects minor coho activity in Lake Huron this fall. Smolts were released in five Lake Huron streams this Spring, and mature fish from this planting cannot be expected until next fall. Besides the Au Sable, plantings were made in the Ocqueoc, Thunder Bay, Tawas Rivers and in the Upper Peninsula, the Carp River.

Lake Huron salmon will concentrate as far south as Saginaw Bay beginning in May of 1969. Next July and August they are expected to divide into schools and mass for fall spawning in the rivers where they were planted.

Coho enthusiasts may expect spotty catches in Lake Superior late this summer and early this fall. This is because smelt, the coho's main diet, are in deep water after spring spawning, and the coho follow. Also, unlike Lakes Michigan and Huron, Lake Superior water is cold and coho feed is less abundant. These two factors are responsible for the coho running smaller in size here than in Lake Michigan.

Coho were planted for the first time last spring in the following areas: West Michigan (Lake Michigan)—Big Manistee, Boardman, Whitefish, Pere Marquette, Bear, Boyne and Muskegon Rivers; East Michigan (Lake Huron)—Au Sable, Thunder Bay, Ocqueoc, Tawas and Carp Rivers; Upper Peninsula (Lake Superior)—Anna, Falls, Ontonagon and Sucker Rivers and Cherry Creek.

As a result of this year's coho plantings, there should be top fishing by the fall of 1969 in the Ontonagon area, at Keweenaw Bay, Marquette Bay, Munising Bay, Little Bay De Noc, St. Martin Bay, Little Traverse Bay, the Charlevoix area, Grand Traverse Bay, Platte Bay, the Manistee and Arcadia areas as well as at Ludington, Muskegon, Thunder Bay and Tawas Bay.

In addition to the coho, Michigan anglers will be catching a new kind of salmon from now on called the chinook.

The first planting of chinook—or king salmon—from the Pacific Ocean—was spring, 1967. Streams stocked with chinook were Lake Michigan's Muskegon and Little Manistee Rivers and Lake Superior's Huron River.

Chinook were released earlier this year in Lake Michigan's Little Manistee and Muskegon Rivers, Lake Huron's Thunder Bay River and in Lake Superior's Cherry Creek.

In the future, there is no telling where the prime runs will occur. The Michigan Conservation Department is planning a near future hatchery output of 30 million salmon annually for streams in northern and southern Michigan.

WANTED TO KEEP BUSY

Paris, O.—Martha Henrich has two jobs. She farms 313 acres during the summer and tops out 300 head of cattle a year. In the winter she drives a tractor-trailer truck and hauls steel. The 22-year-old single girl said she is respected by the other drivers because she acts like a lady.

Washtenaw ASC Community Vote Slated Sept. 17

Washtenaw County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee election date will be Sept. 17.

Community boundaries have been changed and are now considered as one community.

Lyndon and Dexter townships have been combined and are now considered as one community.

Scio and Ann Arbor townships are also combined and considered as a single community. The 18 remaining townships are communities by themselves and will vote in their township only.

All communities will elect a community committee composed of three members and two alternates to serve on the ASCS community committee for the 1969 year.

Township meeting places will be announced by Sept. 6.

The man who attempts something unusual is generally laughed at if he fails and hailed as a great guy if he succeeds.

Fined for Carrying Loaded Gun in Auto

R. M. Sauer, 21, of Jackson was apprehended Saturday, Aug. 17 on Sylvan Rd., in Sharon township with a loaded rifle in his auto.

He pleaded guilty Aug. 19 to Municipal Court, Ann Arbor, before acting Municipal Judge C. A. Rogers. Sauer paid fine and cost of $20.
