Skills Workshop Sponsored By Washtenaw Council of Churches

A Skills Workshop for church school teachers, youth leaders and others interested in the educational work of the church will be held at Zion Lutheran church, 1501 W. Liberty, Ann Arbor, Saturday, Sept. 14, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. It is sponsored by the Ann Arbor-Washtenaw Council of Churches and will be attended by local church leaders from all over the county.

Headliner for the event will be Dr. Gerald Knoff, executive director of the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches. Dr. Knoff, noted Christian educator, statesman and world traveler is generally regarded as one of the half dozen greatest specialists in his field in the U.S.

Dr. G. Merrill Lenox, executive director of the Ann Arbor Council of Churches says, "Dr. Knoff is an arresting and dramatic speaker, eminently qualified to bring us up-to-date in this field and clarify for us just where we are in these confusing and turbulent times."

"Crisis in Christian Education" will be the theme of Dr. Knoff's luncheon address. He will speak again at the close of the afternoon session.

Workshop attendants will be divided into several groups, or "workshops" which will address themselves to improving leadership skills for local church leaders. Workshops will deal with (1) Innovative Administration, (2) Expressive Art and Activities, (3) The Classroom—A Happening, (4) Storytelling, (5) Hints for the New Teacher, (6) Music and Worship with Children and (7) How to Love.

This last-mentioned Workshop will help teachers be more sensitive to the feelings of young people; point out how their feelings are religious in nature and how to guide those feelings into worthwhile action.

Among the leaders coming to the county for the event will be the Rev. R. Harold Terry, Philadelphia, worship and music editor for the Church; Greenwich, Conn., youth specialist; and his wife, Sandy Campbell, who will guide the art workshop; and the Rev. William Wahl of Immanuel Lutheran church, Jackson, who will provide special insights for new teachers.

Another will be Mrs. Mary Ann Stevenson of Ann Arbor who will lead the story-telling workshop. She was a librarian at the University school for many years. She was featured on the University TV series entitled "Art of Story-Telling" and "Through Children's Eyes."

Dealing with creative church school administration will be the Rev. John Rozboom of Saginaw, widely known Methodist expert Miss Shie Orban of the University of Michigan will conduct the workshop "The Classroom Happening."

The total program has been described by a long-time Ann Arbor church leader "as the finest program for Christian Education leaders that has been provided in Washtenaw county for many years."

Some churches are sending all of their Christian Education leaders and paying the $4 registration fee, which includes lunch, for every attendant.

The Planning Committee expresses the hope that the workshop will help those who attend to become "sensitive Christians in relevant churches witnessing to a drifting secular world."

Back To School

Some 2.5 million school children are scheduled to return to Michigan classrooms this month. Many may not attend opening day. By the last week in August about 140 school districts had not reached agreement with teachers over new contracts, according to the Michigan Education Association.

This does not mean that teachers in those districts will strike immediately. Some may; others will choose to begin teaching without contracts.

Educational programs will suffer in those districts where voters have defeated operating millage. Local school boards are in the difficult position of satisfying teacher demands and maintaining academic standards while voters refuse to authorize extra revenue.

Voters in 197 districts turned down operating millage requests this year, while 339 propositions were approved. When operating millage is defeated, school boards face an immediate problem. They must either call for another millage election or reduce expenses. Increased enrollments make cost-cutting difficult, and reductions result in over-crowded classrooms, inferior programs, and loss of qualified teachers. The inconvenience to taxpayers in loss of services is often more costly than the millage.

Area Crashes

patch of fog along the highway; Winkle was taken from the scene of the accident to the nearby Chelsea Medical Clinic by Chelsea police officers. His 1958 Plymouth 2-door was extensively damaged.

Mabel Evelyn Laverty of Ann Arbor told deputies she did not know what happened as her car left the right side of Dexter-Pinckney Rd., near Wylie Rd., Sunday afternoon. The vehicle slid 92 feet sideways across the road, striking a bank on the west side of the road some 84 feet beyond.

Chelsea resident Chris Lynn Wieland was driving along Us-23 northbound, near the North Territorial Rd. intersection Sunday afternoon when the vehicle spun out after failing to negotiate a curve, left the roadway and slid into a ditch. The driver, and a passenger, Carol Dalton, were transported from the accident scene to McPherson Health Center, Howell, by ambulance.

Edward Lee Birchmeyer was headed south on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. early Sunday morning when he told deputies he fell asleep and his car skidded 298 feet, flipping over and landing on its roof.

An automobile belonging to Thomas Laski was the object of malicious destruction late Sunday evening or early Monday morning while parked at the American Legion lot, just outside the village, according to authorities.

NEW RULES TO END BIAS

The Labor Department has announced tougher, broader rules to enforce equal employment opportunities. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said the new regulations covered all Federal contracts of $10,000 or more in the U.S.

A number of educators believe that negative votes on millage propositions do not reflect negative attitudes towards schools; they suspect that a millage vote is one of the few places remaining where taxpayers can express dissatisfaction with taxes in general.

No matter what the reasons, school children are directly affected by millage defeats. The problem must be resolved primarily at the local level.

MSU Ram Day Slated Sept. 18 At East Lansing

The annual Ram Day sponsored by the Michigan Sheep Breeders Association will be held at the MSU Beef Cattle Barn in East Lansing on Wednesday, Sept. 18. Pured sheep breeders will assemble more than 100 top quality rams and offer them for sale.

All rams will be inspected, weighed, and priced and penned by breeders. This procedure makes it possible for buyers to look at a large selection of rams from some of the best flocks in the state with a minimum of time and travel.

The offering will include yearling and two-year-old rams from the more common breeds as well as a few outstanding ram lambs that have met rigid weight requirements. The rams will be for sale from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Lamb prices are favorable this year. This is the time to select a top quality ram for next year's lamb crop. The cost of the ram spread over the number of lambs he will sire over a two-year period is a very small item, and the use of a good ram is one of the first steps toward increased income from the flock.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It's like they say, I reckon, great minds run on the same track. Ed Doolittle come up with a problem at the country store Saturday night, and Zeke Grubb come up with the answer.

Ed reported to the fellers he had been doing some reading on this rural-urban life and he was of the opinion folks has got to choose between living and making a living. We've just run out of room where we need it, allowed Ed, and they ain't no way to do both.

Fer McEnt, said Ed, we got cities with more cars than parking places, more sick people than hospital beds, more folks at conventions than hotel rooms, more mouths to feed than food and more crooks than cops. We run out of sideways space a long time ago and now we was running out of straight up room. Trouble is, Ed allowed, we got millions of acres with nothing on 'em, then we got millions of people on a few acres.

Then Zeke broke in to say he had done some study on this problem and he had come up with the Zeke Grubb Group Plan. All it is, said Zeke, was what them science fellers calls "mass movement."

What had got him on this plan, reported Zeke, was where he had saw that by 1985 we will have a average work week of 22 hours and workers will be retiring at 38 year old.

We got to copy the ants, Zeke explained. Keep the workers in the ant hill cities and git the deadwood out on land that ain't being used. Instead of all that public housing in the middle of the cities where land is scarce, put it out on the deserts and mountains and that 2,123 people died on Michigan highways in 1967, and 151,297 were injured. It was the seventh year in which the death toll exceeded the 2,000 mark.

Col. Fredrick E. Davis, director, comments, "This staggering loss of life, human suffering and financial waste is, at once, tragic and unnecessary. While exposure factors of more vehicles, more miles driven and more drivers continue to mount, individual attitudes and responsibilities seem to decay."

Statistics show that the average accident-prone driver in 1967 exhibited the same characteristics as in 1966. He is young, drives too fast for highway conditions, carries nine "points" on his driving record, and was probably drinking.

He caused an estimated economic loss of $405 million in 1967 alone, enough to build four Mackinac Bridges.

Lawmakers introduced about 800 bills dealing with traffic safety during the last two years. More than 10 percent became law.

Jack Green, managing director of Traffic Safety for Michigan, credits the 74th Michigan legislature with "possibly the most significant record on traffic safety in more than a decade."

Most dramatic of all new legislation is that which allows police to impound your car if you're driving with a suspended license.

—makes it mandatory for you to take a "breathalyzer" test if police suspect you're intoxicated, or face license suspension.

—limits the courts' and License Appeal Boards' options in hearing appeals under the implied consent law.

—requires motorists to carry helmets on their vehicles, and wear protective eye glasses or have windshields when traveling more than 35 mph.

on all that land in the soil bank. We would have people's pastures fer all the worn out folks over 38, was Zeke's words. Take all retired folks out of the cities and we'd have room fer them under 38 that has to work.

An. the Zeke Grubb Plan, he said, would take care of that problem we got now when retired folks was living so long. Them that had retirement income could take care of the farms and ranches and not starve to death while they was doing it.

Ed butted in to say he special liked the Zeke Grubb Plan on account of the retired folks would have plenty of parking space and more'n 10 foot fer burial space.

All the fellers, Mister Editor, took to the Zeke Grubb Plan. Even Ed said it might work if the Government didn't git ahold of it. I figger the fellers at the country store went along with Zeke on account of we're already out in the people's pasture and the only move we got to make under the plan is to the cemetery.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

4 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Sept. 3, 1964—Attendance at the Chelsea Community Fair for the four-day event concluded Saturday night was approximately 10,000, believed the highest figure in several years and probably to set a new record.

Cindy Schumm was selected by judges as the "1964 Chelsea Community Fair Queen." Carol Mayer, last year's queen, placed the customary tiara, provided by the Jaycee Auxiliary, on her head.

Loren Heller showed the grand champion steer at the fair this year. Heller's champion, an Angus weighing 910 pounds, was sold at the fat stock sale to Stop & Shop Supermarket for 61 cents per pound.

Chelsea High school freshmen's float won first prize in the youth division and the Chelsea Fire Department won first place in the adult division.

The tractor pulling contest proved to be one of the most popular events at the fair. Winners were Dean Clark of Grass Lake for tractors up to 4,000 pounds; Don Dibble of Ann Arbor for tractors from 4,001 to 8,000 pounds; Jim Jedele of Saline for tractors 7,001 to 8,000 pounds; and Glen Jedele of Saline in the heavyweight class, 8,001 pounds and up.

Lulu Sweeney and Gerry Klink expressed their appreciation to the entire community for the co-operation in making preparations for the annual Community Fair Restaurant project.

14 Years Ago . . .

Children are active these days in volunteering their services by raising money for the Emergency March of Dimes Fund. Jimmy and Susie Knott, David Feldkamp and Gerry Moore are four children who sold vegetables, grown in the family gardens, at a stand as well as from house to house and contributed $6.50 to the cause. $204.26 was the amount given to the fund from the selling of single copies of last week's Chelsea Standard. The entire amount was raised through the sale of the newspapers at newsstands and through the enthusiastic efforts of volunteer newboys.

"Hemp" growth on a Sylvan farm was recently found to be marijuana. Alfred Faulkner, who had lived on the farm in his youth, recalled his mother feeding the seeds to her canaries because it made them sing more beautifully.

The marijuana plant, which is believed to have flourished undetected for more than 60 years, was identified by the Department of Botany at the University of Michigan and is now in the process of being destroyed.

Farmers are advised to take notice of the new "cross-compliance" provisions of the farm support law. Under this ruling farmers will have to stay within their acreage allotment of all crops on their farms in 1955 to be eligible for supports on any crop.

Past presidents of the American Legion Auxiliary entertained their husbands Thursday evening at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maroney. A pot-luck chicken dinner was served and Paul Maroney and Wilbur Hinderer entertained the group.

William Schatz's cat was freed from blame for knocking a flower pot off the window sill when it was discovered that the casualty was due to a mild earthquake. That was the only quake damage reported from Chelsea residents.

Michigan children began banding together as "Paper Troopers" in a state-wide waste paper salvaging campaign. School officials expect almost 85 percent participation. Householders are asked to sign pledge cards to save paper and prepare it for collection according to instructions.

Michigan hunters enjoy higher duck quotas of an additional five mallards, wigwags or pintails or combination thereof. These three species are most abundant and are chief offenders in crop damage. The relaxed quota is a state control measure. The former bag limit of 10 ducks is still in effect with other species.

John Alber and G. L. Staffan of Chelsea-Kiwanis starred in the baseball game against Dexter-Kiwanis Tuesday at the athletic field. Both batted in homers to help their team win, 10-7.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Eppler celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with a dinner for their immediate family at their summer home at Blind Lake. With them were daughter Gertrude, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bandolph, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Eppler and daughter, Sue Ann, and Quentin Kline. The couple received many gifts.

A woman from Detroit drove her car into the horse-drawn wagon of Herbert Rank Monday along US-12 about a mile from his home. The woman attempted to pass his empty wagon and was unable to do so because of oncoming traffic. Rank suffered minor injuries and watched his team demolish his wagon on a telephone pole and continue on home, scathed.

Scout Council Cancels SDS Camp Contract

During an incident at Bruin Lake Boy Scout Camp last Friday evening Undersecretary Harold Owings and several uniformed deputies from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department stood firm on refusing admittance to the camp to members of the Students for a Democratic Society after Portage Trail Council officials had cancelled contract for a week-end retreat at the camp site.

Donald C. Hackney, president of the council, released a statement to the press early this week concerning the incident. Hackney explained:

"Organizations whose principles and objectives are not compatible with those of the Boy Scouts of America are not permitted to use facilities of any Scout council."

"The original request for cancellation of the SDS was done in the name of 'Student Government Council.' It was only after a written request was received by the council with Voice of America finally known. Action was taken by the local council which included contact with National Council officials of the Boy Scouts. The reservation was cancelled and SDS officials were notified accordingly."

Final plans were laid Friday night at a well-attended meeting to stage homecoming, Oct. 5 and 6 and celebrate the 100 anniversary of the Chelsea district. Merchants and professionals have donated their time and prizes. The question most bothersome in compiling the Chelsea history is "Who was the village site called Keon?"

Fair Attendance . . .
rant in larger numbers than last year. Treasurer H. T. Moore estimated that each day showed an increase of $100 over last year's intake. The proceeds go into the treasury of the Chelsea Community Fair Board, as do all fair profits.

Mrs. Fred Klink, Sr., said that community help was so generous that the restaurant was able to sell cakes and pies from 8 a.m. until late in the evening without running short.

Van Riper commented that the kitchen was more efficient than formerly and enabled more customers to be fed faster.

There is no substitute for brains regardless of what you may be using.

ALVIN WEIDMAYER of Manchester, on his 6,620-pound Massey-Ferguson, defeated 20 contestants with a 256 percent score in the light heavyweight division of the tractor pulling contest Friday night.

AFTER THE BATTLE No. 1 shakes the hand of No. 2 in the heavyweight class of the tractor pulling contest. Allyn Phelps of Saline (right), and Don Diabie of Ann Arbor, had fought a long, grueling battle before Phelps took the winner's ribbon with a 235 percent score against Diabie's 233 percent total with his somewhat lighter tractor.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

"Build me a son, O Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak, and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid; one who will be proud and unbending in honest defeat, and humble and gentle in victory. Build me a son whose wishes will not take the place of deeds; a son who will know Thee—and that to know himself is the foundation stone of knowledge. Lead him, I pray, not in the path of ease and comfort, but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenge. Here let him learn to stand up in the storm; here let him learn compassion for those who fall. Build me a son whose heart will be clear, whose goal will be high, a son who will master himself before he seeks to master other men, one who will reach into the future, yet never forget the past. And after all these things are his, add, I pray, enough of a sense of humor, so that he may always be serious, yet never take himself too seriously. Give him humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of true greatness, the open mind of true wisdom, and the meekness of true strength."

A soul stirring prayer written by a father for his son. The father? General Douglas MacArthur . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Friends and parents of Chelsea Little Leaguers and Tee-balls saw the junior athletes, decked in their uniforms, riding on "Your Recreation Dollars at Work" accompanied by their coach and a bicycle escort.

Another float that added a touch of interest and amusement to the parade was "Waterloo Hillbillies," an elongated car dreamed up by Ken Shepherd and group. The entry was reminiscent of the Oakes migrating to California with their "Comfort station" in the back, moonshine jug in front, and several dozen people packed between.

Pam Hinz, Beth Simpson and Susan Branham, first-place winners in the children's parade on opening day, reappeared for the benefit of those who missed their "Hawaii, 50th State" Wednesday.

Senior Citizens Plan Busy Fall Schedule

Chelsea Senior citizens have a busy fall ahead if they belong to the Senior Citizens club. Some of the events planned at their business meeting last Tuesday include a social party Thursday, Sept. 12 at 7:30 p.m.; the birthday party Sept. 19 at 6:30 p.m. with a potluck supper; and the next business meeting Sept. 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Euchre tournaments will begin the first Friday in October and continue through October and November. Anyone wishing to sign up for playing or substituting should contact Lulu Sweeney.

Any old excuse will suffice for not working, but the best is the possession of plenty of cash.

Truck Driver Crashes into Parked Car

Clyde L. Wheeling, Jr., has been charged with careless driving after the trailer truck he was driving struck two cars and caused damage to three others last Thursday evening.

Wheeling, of 4883 Sylvan Rd., Manchester, sideswiped a 1965 Plymouth belonging to Robert Robbins, 1225 Gene Dr., while it was parked on Old US-12 near Arthur. The left side of Robbins' car was damaged.

The truck, belonging to Pat Dale, and of Oak Park, then ran into the back of the car parked in front of Robbins'. The 1965 Dodge belonging to Raymond Houle, 554 Chandler, was totaled after starting a chain reaction with three other cars. The Dodge was pushed forward into Austin Artz's 1967 Chrysler. AGRICULTURE in ACTION

by M.L. Wood

Everyone Loses

There is no help for it—food prices are going up. The help of help, harvest-time help, is a part of the problem, and help has been available. Workers have not been moving into the fields, in a situation in which everyone you've noticed in recent years, a can of tomatoes in most stores has gone up from about 19¢ to 21¢ or more. Chances are they will go up much more for right now $8 million of canned tomatoes lie rotting in the fields because of a strike by the Campbell Soup Company's packinghouse workers.

While attempts by the state to force California grape growers into unions against their will, another part of the same labor picture being deliberately confused by unions which would come from control of the nation's food supplies.

As it is at first seems, the argument in the Campbell case is wages or working conditions, and the argument is over the contract desired by the union, and which would coincide with the start of the tomato harvesting is far from a minor point. Perishable crops must be picked and packed within a matter of hours or days at the most, they spoil and are lost forever, though such losses may be a part of the over-all economic picture for a large processing plant such as Campbell's, they can be disastrous for farmers, and adding in their effect on food prices for all consumers.

Though not directly involved in the Campbell dispute, it is because of such loss potential that unionists insist industrial unionization simply cannot, ever, be applied to farming.

Speaking about this during a Detroit news conference, the president of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association, Billie, said: "Obviously the union want to stack the deck in a way that growers and processors of perishable crops have bargaining status at all. The collective bargaining implies an opportunity to give and to compromise.

In a harvest-time strike, the years of a perishable crop would be no choice but to give. He would be like a man with a gun at his head."

PERSONAL INCOME UP
The Commerce Department has reported that personal income of Americans has increased by a record of $10-billion in the first quarter of 1968. A projected annual $688.75-billion was announced by the department.

The book was composed of original prayers and poems bound in book form by chaplain Hilda Kern. It was presented with a gift from the department chaplain and a citation from the department president.

While indecision is costly, hasty action sometimes costs a great deal more.

Fair Kids Day Prizewinners Are Announced

Chelsea young people played a large part in the work, and rewards, of the Community Fair last week. Children from three to high school age participated in parades, games, drawings and band performances—and some of the luckiest won prizes for their efforts.

Chelsea residents will be seeing Eddie Clemes, 507 Wilkin-son, and Kathy Brassow, 1778 Lima Center Rd., sporting new bicycles this week. They were the two winners of the bicycle drawing Wednesday evening.

"Kiwanis Kids Day" was highlighted by the Kiddies Parade at 8:30 p.m. last Wednesday. Under the leadership of Charles Cox the parade was a success as children from 3 to 12 flocked to the Village parking lot eager to parade through town.

Winners of the three, four and five-year-old division were Ted and Jeannette Koch and Lynette Sexton, first with "The Wild West"; and second, Phillip and Teresa Hoffman.

Six, seven and eight-year-olds winners were Pam Heinz, Beth Simpson and Susie Branham, first with "Hawaiian"; Nancy Tison, second, No. 170; and third, No. 58, Mark Heydlauff.

Nabbing placing spots for the nine and 10-year olds were Alice Juergens, first; Judy Schiller, No. 166, second; and Steve Maistre with "Campaign for Snoopy," third.

Winners from the 11 and 12-year-old ranks included Kathy and Sandy Crouch with first, Ann Treddo and Jan Powers with second, and V. Push and P. Bauer with third.

After winners had been duly recognized, spectators moved to the grandstand arena where Jerry Niehaus guided a program including John Fall with prayer and introduction of Fair President, Herman Koehn.

The Chelsea High school band, directed by Keith Lawson and Stuart Glazer, played 12 old and new songs favorites such as "Star Spangled Banner," "Going Out of My Head," "Wendy," "Georgie Girl" and "On Wisconsin."

Jimmy Wear puzzled Chelsea residents and fair supporters with his impossible feats as magician, modern mystic and escape artist.

The grandstand arena was also the site of the mad "Penny Scrambles" of Jimmy Johnson, Susan Ford and Robert Smith, age three winners; and Lee Ann Jacobs, Nancy Heller, Mary Boylan, Craig Wirtz and Beth Heller, age four and five winners.

Six to eight-year-olds Julie Proctor, Sue Ann Heydlauff, Denise Robbins and Todd Otto bagged winning positions in the three-legged sack race.

Nine and ten-year-old winners were Tim Bareis, Ricky Johnson and Chris Ford in the first heat, and Timothy John Hinz, Brian McGibney and Laurie Proctor in the second.

The older 11- and 12-year-olds winning included Barbie Thompson, Kathy Smith, Joan Thompson, Charles Clemes, Marsha McGibney and Linda Fuleher.

The youngest child in the audience was nine-month-old Deidre Petch—and the oldest person was S. Levine from Cleveland, O.

TIPS for your TOP

TODDY and FRAN

Mothers: you've martyred yourselves long enough. Kids are back in school and you deserve a reward for being the full time nurse, chauffeur, cook, and handyman for them the past months. You deserve to come in and treat yourself to the works, so to speak. You probably didn't get too much of a vacation. Who would be grudge you, then, a couple of hours and a few dollars to make yourself over. Give yourself a lift with a new haircut (ask about our blunt cuts), a special style for you personally, maybe a permanent, possibly a new shade. It's as we say, you've earned it, didn't you?
