Bulldogs Win Conference Championship

Edge Out South Lyon By 1 Point With Crushing 20-0 Win Over Dexter

The Chelsea Bulldogs marched to the Dexter Dreadnaughts Friday night, 20-0, to claim the Eastern Conference championship, edging out the South Lyon by one point.

The Friday game gave the Bulldogs a 5-1 record, one point better than the South Lyon 4-1-1 record. Chelsea Quarterback Craig Houle led the Dreadnaught kick-off the 20-yard line and, shielded by Mike Gaken, Greg Petersen and Mike Harvey, left Dexter players in the dust for 80 yards for a touch-down.

The extra point kick was wide, leaving the score 6-0 after 13 minutes of play.

Chelsea kicked off and held Dexter back for four plays, forcing Dreadnaughts to punt.

The Bulldogs took possession of the ball at midfield. Dave Conklin for 18 yards, Kerry Kargel for 10, Craig Houle passed yards to Jim Wojcik and with a second and five, Houle left and passed to Len Kozma in the end zone. Tim Kargel kicked the extra point, leaving Chelsea a 13-0 lead.

The Bulldogs forced Dexter to punt again. Mike Harvey picked the downed ball and raced to Dexter 40-yard line. Houle led his left roll and passed yards to flanker Jim Wojcik.

With the ball on the 15, QB Houle sneaked to the left, behind the line of Richard Bollinger, Greg Petersen and Len Kozma, raced yards for Chelsea's third TD.

Again kicking the extra point, Chelsea led, 20-0.

With 1:10 remaining in the first half, Dexter made a pass interception and moved to the Chelsea 40-yard line to mark the first half.

Dexter had been on Chelsea 40-yard line when Greg Petersen kept Dexter backs alert and man twice caught Dexter in the backfield.

The second half was played on even terms as both teams drove to within scoring distance and were stopped by pass interceptions or fumbles. The defense was led by Greg Petersen, claiming two pass interceptions and one fumble recovery. Dave Conklin with two pass interceptions; and Len Kozma with one pass interception.

The Bulldogs meet their last 1968 gridiron opponents Friday when they play Erie Mason on the home field. This will be the last game for the 16 Bulldog seniors. Roy Holliday, Co-Captain Gary Ellenwood, Greg Petersen, Ben Bower, Mike Gaken, Dave Watson, Tom Gardner, Paul Prinz, Chuck Patrick, Rodney Houle, Sam Hoover, Mike Schmidt, Co-Captain Craig Houle, Kerry Kargel, Co-Captain Mike Harvey and Tom Smith.

$750,000 Suit Filed Against Village Council

Dr. Michael Papo, administrator of the Chelsea Medical Center, and Drs. Bruce T. Stubbs and James Botsford have initiated a law suit against the individual members of the Village Council and Village President Don Baldwin for damages to Chelsea Medical Center property.

The suit, for $750,000, concerns alleged damages from storm drainage water that empties onto the peat marsh on the Medical Center grounds.

According to Baldwin, the condition existed before construction of the center, and no agreement had been made to alter the existing arrangement. The subject had been discussed by Village Council after Medical Center complaints in the past but no action had been taken.

Baldwin received his summons Monday evening and members of the council received theirs Tuesday night. Chelsea attorney John Kuech is handling the case for the village and the men have decided to take no action until he advises them at the next council meeting. None of the three doctors were available for comment.

Suspect Arson In Two Fires Early Friday

Two fires reported within a few minutes of each other early Friday morning have aroused suspicion of arson among Chelsea firemen and the county sheriff's department.

At 3:30 a.m., the fire department was called to extinguish a blazing haystack on property owned by Clifford Heydlauff, 4011 Kalmbach Rd. Several minutes later fire was reported consuming a barn and corn crib on Liebeck Rd. owned by Miladore Liebeck. The properties are several miles apart.

Grass Lake fire department assisted Chelsea firemen, who had left several men to guard the haystack fire and continued to the larger barn fire. Haystack, barn and corn crib were all completely destroyed.

The sheriff's department is investigating the two incidents in an attempt to determine if arson was involved and find the culprit. Arson is a felony, punishable by (Continued on page three)

FEDERAL SCREW WORKS made the largest company donation to the community chest industrial committee when vice-president and general manager Lawrence Lawton, right, handed a $1,400 check over to committee representative Tom McClellan Tuesday. Federal Screw Works donates generously to the campaign each year and always becomes one of the largest contributors. "We have always supported Community Chest and the theory of giving once for all, although it is a little difficult at times" explains Steger.

Community Chest Campaign Collections Hit 60% of Goal

The red feather thermometer in front of the Chelsea post office shows that the community chest drive has reached approximately 60 percent of the $28,850 goal this week. Residential, business, education and professional committees have all been active in their appeals for united fund contributions.

Campaign chairman Rolly Spaulding says that committees will report tonight and an estimate of total contributions will be more possible than now.

The education committee reports $745 from teachers and school officials. Education chairman Fred Mills expects more donations during this week and next.

The Rev. Warner Siebert and Dr. Bruce Stubbs, professional committee chairmen, have contacted a record 72 professions in Chelsea through letters, to be followed by cards and telephone calls. They have reported $250.

Blood Bank Nets 139 Pints From Clinic

The Chelsea Community Blood Bank collected 139 pints of blood Oct. 31 from their 12-bed unit of the Detroit Regional Red Cross. The clinic, held at the Congregational church, drew 167 persons wishing to donate, rejected 28 for medical reasons, and had what chairman Mrs. Dudley Holmes called a "good clinic."

A number of local persons and organizations donated time or effort to contribute to the bank, which supplies blood to Chelsea workers and residents each year.

Doctors were Dr. Joseph Fisher and Dr. Jerry Wallis. Nurses were Mrs. James Daniels and Gertrude Young, aided by Mrs. Erwin Faust, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. Lloyd Heydlauff, Mrs. Haskell Worden, Jr., Mrs. Charles Meserve, Mrs. Wilbert Smith, and Mrs. Chester F. Keizer. (Continued on page five)

Businesses in town that have not been contacted yet should not feel left out—Robert Barlow, Ron Fider, Wallace Wood and Fred Pearsall are personally visiting each business in Chelsea. Ten more members have volunteered their services to the residential committee. New joiners are Mrs. Bernard Therrian, Mrs. Jerry Heller, Mrs. Raymond Buckingham, Mrs. Jess Meininger, Mrs. Don Eder, Mrs. Tom McClellan, Mrs. Fred Barkley, Mrs. William Hitchingham, Mrs. Jerry Satterthwaite, Mrs. F. J. Verwey. They will be personally visiting families in their area for contributions to help meet the residential goal.

Halloween Party Given For St. Louis School

A Halloween party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Beissel for the boys at St. Louis school last Thursday. Guests from Detroit, Jackson, Chelsea and Ann Arbor enjoyed meeting the new director, the Rev. Fr. Louis Frangi. Fr. Frangi recently came to the St. Louis School from Philadelphia. The boys played games and indulged in cider, donuts and candy.

Junior Varsity Undeclared for Entire Season

Dexter became the eighth consecutive victim of the Chelsea JV's last Thursday as the Chelsea team wrapped up their season undefeated. Coach Jon Schaffner credits his team with having no penalties for flagrant violations and having no players ejected from any game. In contrast, he cites three instances where members of opposing teams were removed from the game during this season.

"I would like to compliment the community of Chelsea for developing fine gentlemen who play clean, hard-nosed football" he explained. He also praises his assistant, Tom Morrison, and adds that he enjoyed working with Phil and Richard Bareis and Bob Pursel, who took only two sophomores for the varsity team. Opposing JV's had lost up to 14 sophomores to the varsity.

Richard Pichea, Roger Roark and Dan Schneider played most of the season but received injuries that kept them out of the game.

The proceeds will be used to help buy a tape recorder and amplifier system for the high school.

County Offices Go Republican Except Sheriff

Incumbent Sheriff Harvey Walks Away from Challenge By Petersen

Washtenaw county voters differed from those in the rest of Michigan as they supported new president-elect Richard M. Nixon in the general election Tuesday.

With all votes except some absentee ballots tallied, Nixon led by 3,000 votes in Washtenaw county. Republicans carried the county vote in most offices although Democrats throughout the state gave all college board posts to Democrats and gave the Michigan House of Representatives a narrow majority of Democratic members.

Incumbent sheriff Douglas Harvey easily won re-election to his position, despite third-party competition from Jim Lewis, New Politics candidate. Harvey, a Democrat in name only, was surrounded by controversy as he campaigned to beat ex-sheriff George Petersen as he did in 1964. He collected over 10,000 votes more than Petersen. Lewis totaled about 10,000 votes. In some precincts in Ann Arbor he claimed more votes than Harvey, but fell down in the outlying areas.

The other six county elective offices were taken by Republicans. Five of the victories were by incumbents. The other, Robert M. Harrison, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, will succeed County Clerk Luella M. Smith, who did not seek re-election after 30 years in office.

Patricia N. Hardy, leading vote getter on the Republican ticket, defeated Mrs. Ethel M. Hower by 40,833 to 26,079 to retain her position as register of deeds. She had held this position for 13 years. Prosecuting Attorney William F. Delhey won re-election by defeating Democratic candidate John Toomey.

Incumbent County Treasurer Sylvester A. Leonard defeated Arthur Simas 39,048 to 27,250. Drain Commissioner John H. Flook retained his position by approximately 13,000 votes. Surveyor Herbert S. Hicks retained his office by approximately 8,000 votes. He was in competition with Ulrich Stoll, who had, ironically, advocated abolishing the office.

Smaller parties did better than expected. American Independent Party presidential candidate George Wallace claimed 7,318 votes to Nixon's 34,768. The strongest minor slate was the New Politics party. Although Eldridge Cleaver, presidential candidate, managed to scrape up only 668 votes, their state board candidates drew well over 1,000 votes each from county voters.

State Conservation Officer Dunley Boyer cautions motorists to watch carefully for deer crossing roads at this time of year. A number have already been hit this week, during their "running season."

County voters, like those throughout the state, took a dim view of State Proposal No. 1, to remove the ban on a graduated income tax as they voted it down 42,000 to 18,700. Proposal No. 2, concerning acceptance of daylight savings time, was accepted by county voters 37,000 to 27,000. Michigan voters elsewhere were not quite as enthusiastic and their vote was practically tied until the last precinct had been tallied.

Proposals No. 3 and 4 were both accepted easily as voters decided that they favored bonding for clear water and recreational areas by well over two to one. State voters overwhelmingly favored clean water bonding, but were split almost 50-50 in regards to bonding for recreation.

State proposal No. 5 met the same fate in the county as statewide as voters defeated the proposition to allow state legislators to run for another state office while holding one state position.

The county millage proposal, to levy tax for better roads, was decisively defeated by about 13,000 votes. Weston Vivian, democratic aspirant to the 2nd Congressional district seat, lost by a comfortable margin to incumbent Republican Marvin Esch, the man who snatched his congressional seat in 1966. Vivian reportedly has not given up intentions to hold a public office, but has no plans to pursue this office further.

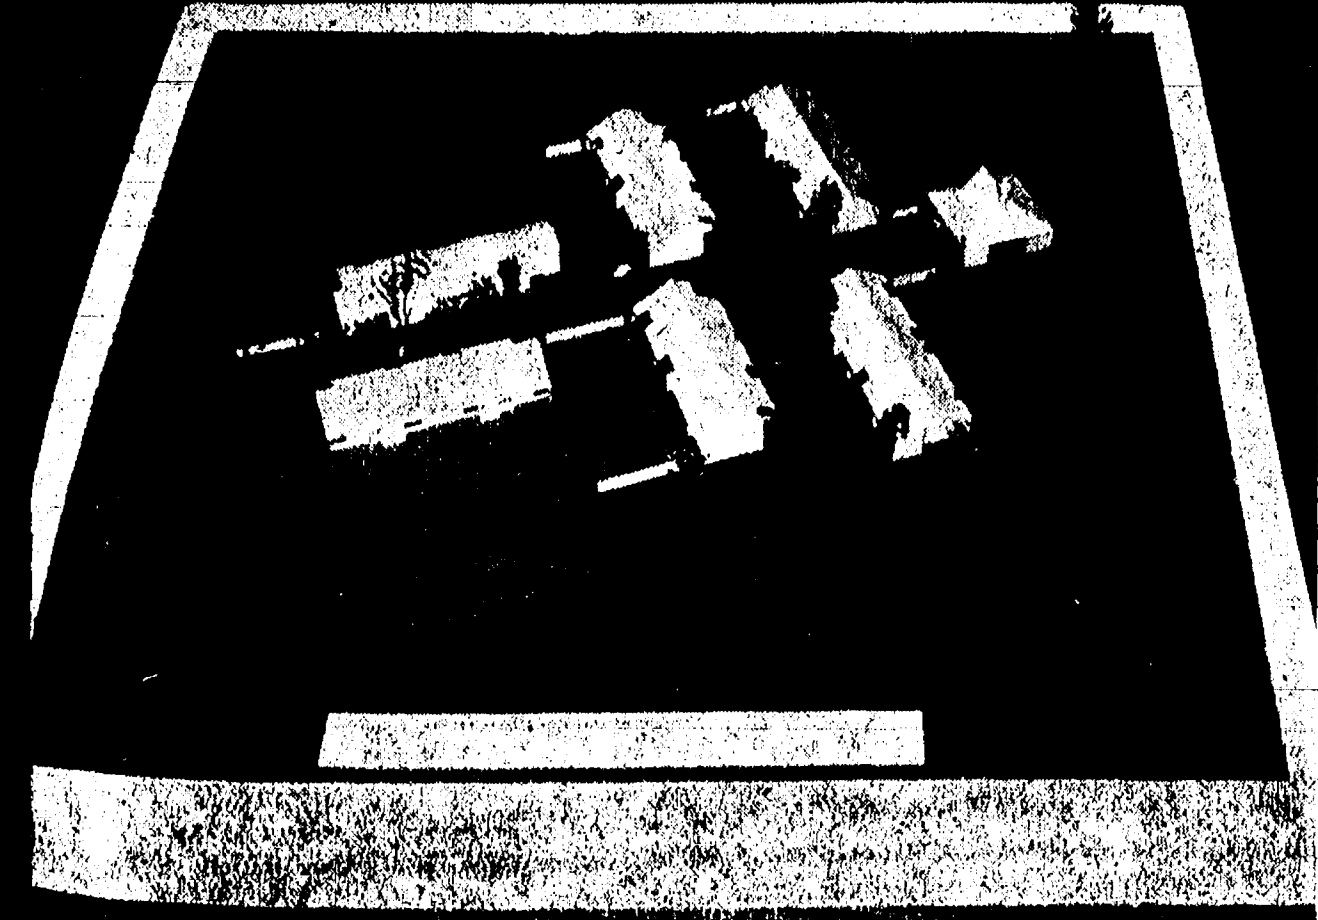

In Freedom township a proposal to serve liquor by the glass was defeated in a close vote, 242 yes to 273 against. Sylvan township clerk Danny Murphy reports 83 percent of registered voters actually voting, which is a "fairly high" turnout. He believes that the number would have been higher if the 90-minute wait had been shorter.

The excessive waiting periods were attributed to the large ballot this year. The possibility of lowering the minimum age for general absentee balloting from 70 to 60 is being investigated to make voting easier for elderly citizens.

Murphy also hoped to have more than four machines by the next election year.

Watch for Deer

State Conservation Officer Dunley Boyer cautions motorists to watch carefully for deer crossing roads at this time of year. A number have already been hit this week, during their "running season."

A SCALE MODEL of the planned Retirement Village, to be built and operated by the Chelsea Methodist Home, shows the relative location of the four-unit residence buildings and community building. The complex is scheduled to be begun this fall, with Frederick Belser, Chelsea builder, planning completion of the first two buildings June 1, 1969. The village is to be located adjacent to the Methodist Home and will be designed for retired individuals who are able to live independently without some of the services provided by the Home.

Contract Awarded for Start On Retirement Village Units

Retired persons in good health are able to live independently in a new apartment complex designed especially for them in Chelsea.

The project, called Retirement Village, was designed by Chelsea architect Arthur Lindauer. The first two buildings are scheduled for completion next summer. A contract for $159,515, was signed Friday morning by Frederick Belser of Chelsea.

This sum will cover construction of the first two buildings, including four one- and two-bedroom units each, on the property adjacent to the Chelsea

Methodist Home at 800 W. Middle. Ground for these two buildings should be broken this fall. When completed, the complex will contain six residence units and a common building for community events and entertainment.

Residents will be free to set their own schedules in the garden apartments and will be responsible for their own meals, housekeeping and medical care. Leases will be required. A number of services will be provided to residents, including utilities except telephone, extension and major interior maintenance, laundry facilities, program services of the Home, meal option in the Home dining room, and use of the nursing center for qualified residents who have been admitted.

The village has been planned for Christians of retirement age who do not need some of the services provided in the Methodist Home. Applications and inquiries should be directed to the Rev. John Fall, home administrator. Preference in admission will be given to members of the Detroit Conference United Methodist Church.

Student Council Plans for Nov. 23 Nickel Carnival

A homeless St. Bernard, donkey and overgrown teddy bear, all stuffed with moving into new homes after the Nov. 23 Nickel Carnival at Chelsea High school.

Persons wishing to adopt one of these animals should buy tickets from any member of the Chelsea high student council. They may see the trio at Beach school next week.

The animals will be taken to Chelsea High school for display the following week, where high school council members will sell tickets.

The proceeds will be used to help buy a tape recorder and amplifier system for the high school.

ROOKIE PANCAKE FLIPPER George Heydlauff watches the technique of veteran Jim Daniels at the Kiwanis pancake supper Monday night. Daniels is modeling the correct hat, with just the right devilish tilt, and the correct Cuban cigar for the experienced pancake man. (We admit that he didn't really dangle the cigar over pancakes as shown). About 350 persons downed cakes and sausage at the high school cafeteria. Pancake supper chairman George A. Staffan noted that almost all Chelsea Kiwanians attended. He cites the pots and pans scrubbing committee of The Rev. John Fall, Dr. Clare Warren and Dick Ross as an example of some of the hard-working but uncomplaining Kiwanians.

IN OUR OPINION

Community Chest Is Our Big Chance To Help Those in Need

Our Community Chest is a simple, well-organized means by which we may contribute our dollars and be assured that the greatest amount of our money is being used to help those whom we wish to help.

It is our one yearly opportunity to help those less fortunate than ourselves and to give financial aid to worthy local projects such as Senior Citizens, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Chelsea Recreation Commission and others.

Now is the time to open our hearts and pocketbooks to give generously.

The old plea, "brother, can you spare a dime?" heeded daily totals $36.50 a year. Half that, five cents a day, totals $18.25. These nickels and dimes do add up—give until you feel good!

Remember, this collection is being carried out by your neighbors and friends. If by chance, you are not contacted, mail your contribution to Jack Cook, Chelsea Community Chest Treasurer.

It's probably a good thing, after all, that some people can't see themselves as others see them. Never overlook the fact that a free press and a free radio can be used to distribute propaganda.

Efforts To Improve
—With little fanfare, a handful of state legislators has set out to strengthen the Michigan House of Representatives.

The goal of the effort is to make the 110-member body more efficient and thereby cut lawmaking costs.

Rep. Martin D. Ruth, R-Comstock Park, chairman of a special house rehabilitation study committee, said several changes have been suggested.

They include cutting house membership, curtailing members' expenditures, eliminating "no-vote" explanations and streamlining preliminary debate procedures.

Rep. Don Pears, R-Buchanan, a committee member, said he would like to see the legislative schedule revised. He suggested advancing the deadlines for drafting and introducing bills.

"This would avoid the pile-up of bills with too few days to consider them at the end of the session," Pears said.

According to Pears, the present system of clearing the backlog of bills in a hurry before final adjournment results in "round-the-clock sessions which often defeat good and pass bad legislation."

The handling of guest introductions also needs improvement, Pears said. "It is necessary to have visiting groups recognized, but something should be worked out to reduce the time this takes," he said.

Rep. Michael Novak, D-Detroit, doesn't believe reducing the number of legislators is the right approach. A better idea, he says, is stronger committee makeup.

"A small group would be efficient unless there is committee reorganization," Novak said. "The house needs more committees to handle the large number of bills."

Rep. Albert Kramer, D-Ork Park, disagrees. He says there should be fewer, not more, committees.

"We should consolidate to avoid overlapping and conflict," Kramer added. "Fewer committees with a larger membership will eliminate having to look for a quorum."

Committees should also be able to co-ordinate bills rather than approve several on the same subject, Kramer said. "Instead of waiting for a bill to be printed, members should have duplicate copies available to them immediately."

Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, agrees committee membership should be more closely regulated.

"No member should be on four or five committees, and minor committees shouldn't be allowed to meet in prime times (Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings)," he said.

Novak suggested committee chairmen be compelled to call meetings as soon as they receive a bill. "All too often they wait until there is a pile of them," he said.

Also, Novak added, the no-vote explanations "are often a 'waste of time.' These are an individual's reasons for voting negatively on a measure."

Montgomery concurred that the no-vote explanation "has been much abused lately with much material not to the point."

Other representatives pointed out that members' expenditures need examination and new regulation. The question of how to curtail expenses, however, seems unanswerable. Some "progress" has been made with the use of phones in the Capitol, giving toll free service to the Detroit area.

Another topic of considerable discussion is how to regulate the amount of mail members can charge to the state. "It amounts to an almost continuous mailing," said Novak.

Attempts were made to fix limits on the number of news releases a representative may mail at state expense. But the argument is raised that sparsely-populated areas rely heavily on such releases and shouldn't be restricted to a specific quota.

Another suggestion which rarely gets off the ground is to allot a certain amount of money for news releases and other mailings. When this money is depleted, the theory goes, the representative makes up the difference from his own pocket.

Whatever the case, the study committee promises to come up with concrete recommendations for presentation to the 1969 legislature.

If past history is any indicator, it will take more than a handful of lawmakers to convince a house majority that change is in order.

Holiday Turkey Prices May Be Slightly Higher

Wholesale turkey prices are up this fall, but consumers can still expect to find a good buy on a Thanksgiving bird this year.

While wholesale prices for a family-size hen turkey (10 to 14 pounds) will probably run three to four cents more per pound than in 1967, store prices will not necessarily follow wholesale prices, reports a Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Dr. Henry Larzelere, who is also a member of the Poultry Survey Committee, explains that stores usually offer turkeys as promotional items just prior to Thanksgiving to build holiday trade for the store's over-all business.

Larzelere also points out that there is no real turkey shortage.

Errors often arise when men try to prove that they have been right.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Bug Hookum told the fellers at the country store Saturday night that his pickup truck was looking and running better than ever. He said along about August ever year that old truck just plain falls apart but by the time them new models comes out and he gets a look at the prices, the pickup perks up and looks good for another year.

Bug ain't been what you'd call a will spender, but he tries to pay everything down and nothing the rest of his life. He said he paid cold cash for his truck 15 years ago, but since then he says he's had to break his own rule out in a while.

Ed Doolittle allowed as how credit was what keeps this country going, but it's where it's going that worries him. He had saw where Americans have $100 billion worth of goods, not including houses, that ain't paid for, and that without credit the whole economy would break down.

But getting back to them new cars, butted in Clem Webster, they was getting bigger and better again this year, and it was interesting that them car ads don't say much about transportation no more. They just show how pretty and how powerful the cars are and how many new gadgets they got on 'em. To read the ads, claimed Clem, just making the payments on one of them new models was all a man needed to be happy.

I recollect a few year back, Mister Editor, Detroit bring out them little cars to compete with foreign cars, but in three year all them little American cars has grown to full size, and now Detroit is planning to make another family of runts to compete with the foreign cars that has stayed the same size and was still selling good. On thing about this new car business ever fall is how they can get more room inside and less room outside. They must be getting awfully thin somewhere.

Anyhow, Bug said he figured after checking the prices on the 1969 models that his pickup was good for another year. He said his truck wasn't much on them fancy gadgets, but it didn't matter much how many safety improvements Detroit makes until they can come out with a gadget that'll tighten the nuts behind the steering wheel.

The fellers adjourned, Mister Editor, after Ed agreed to join in a vote of confidence for Fall and Winter. It was Clem Webster that said he had saw where the United States was expecting a bigger and stronger import of the Asian Flu this winter, and that he had just as soon settle for last year's model.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howe celebrated their 34th wedding anniversary on Sunday. They were guests of honor at a dinner given at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Paul Eisele.

A group of local would-be duck hunters gave up in despair and planned a decoy dinner to satisfy their appetites. These young men bought seven ducks in the field and blood which they planned to use for decoys on their hunting trips. According to reports the hunters walked for miles and when they were unable to kill any ducks they agreed to eat the decoys. David Beach assumed the role of host at the dinner held at the Miller cottage, North Lake. Decoys were cooked by Mrs. A. L. Steger and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler were chaperones.

The meeting was adjourned at 11 p.m.

HOME-ACCIDENT DEATHS

Chicago—The National Safety Council has reported that the 1967 home-accident death rate of 28,000 was the lowest ever reported. The report showed, however, that fatalities from firearms and poisonings in homes was up.

A tradition is some news of the dim past that happens to fit in with someone's present plan.

Junior High Greenhouse Now Filled

The Horticulture club of Beach Junior High school had such a favorable response to their request for plants that their one-empty greenhouse is now overflowing with potted plants.

Club advisor James Hoffmeyer counts 57 pots of plants on the floor, and announces that the club has enough of the standard varieties now.

Just to show that the solution to one problem can be the beginning of another, all those plants would be healthier and happier if they could be placed on racks rather than the floor, their present location.

There is a possibility that shelves from the old junior high school will be transported to the greenhouse, but Hoffmeyer and his club still dream about those moveable wire plant racks that grandma used to have. They would solve the plant-under-the-shoe problem, allow the group to organize the room and make it more attractive for curious students peering in the glass wall from the science room.

The room is already equipped with a separate thermostat control and fluorescent lights that may be left on for additional light.

gass wa on the east side of the Sun filters through the half-glass wall on the east side of the building in the morning.

The club members have planted evergreen seeds from a cone. They plan to experiment with grafting later in the year, but now they will concentrate on propagation through cuttings.

They have collected a number of plants with unique characteristics. A mimosa plant has leaves sensitive enough to respond to a touch by curling. An "air plant" develops little plants in the grooves of its leaves rather than seeding. These little plants, complete with roots and leaves, drop off and take root in soil.

The club's Christmas cactus is rumored to be 25 years old, and looks it—with a 30-inch spread. The largest plant is a "tomato tree" that reaches the ceiling. A member of the club has a similar plant at home that develops small, red fruit at certain times of the year.

Other donated plants include a Jerusalem cherry, sultana, begonia, African violet, wax plant, azalea, geraniums, cyclamen and many others.

CLEANING SOLUTION SHOULD MATCH PAINT

The type paint you use is your best guide when selecting the proper cleaning solution to use on your brushes. When fast-drying latex paint has been used, clean brush immediately with mild soap and water, followed by a thorough rinsing. A brush that has been used with an oil-base paint, enamel, or varnish can be properly cleaned with turpentine or mineral spirits if the paint has not dried in the brush. When shellac has been used, alcohol is the best cleaning agent.

caused them to miss the last few games.

Coach Schaffner cites Jim Johnson as a player who performed well until he lost eligibility for the last three games.

He also credits Dale Robbins and Kurt Kelomen with practicing this season while not getting to participate in one play. Dale was injured before the first game after a promising start in scrimmage. He came back in mid-season and was again injured to put him out for the year.

Kurt practiced against the first string all season although he was ineligible due to transferring. The coach feels that he might well be in the starting line-up next fall.

The JV record shows that they didn't like opponents to score against them. They gave up only three touchdowns all year, giving their coach his first undefeated season in his six-year coaching career. Only one of these was a score against the first string, in the opening minutes of the first game against Stockbridge.

In the offensive category, Larry Gorton tallied 1,251 yards and 10 points, Bob Salyer 831 yards and 65 points, Jack McClellan 24 points, Tom Harmon and Mitchell Heard 21 each, Tom Lukasiak 18, Howard Treado 12, Paul Maurer 8, Mike Powers 6, Rick Westcott 2 points for a safety, and Jeff Bust 1.

Schaffner says the usual situation is where the offensive backs get all the points and glory and the line gets all the work. However, he thinks the line makes all the difference. Chelsea's line of Dave Porath, Jeff Bust, Rick Westcott, Tom Harmon, Mike Powers, Randy Seitz, Tom Lukasiak,

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Education for the children of all the people constitutes one of America's noblest contributions to civilization;

WHEREAS, Time and experience have demonstrated that universal education is essential to national progress;

WHEREAS, Education contributes not only to the development of a fuller and more useful life for the individual citizen but also to the safeguarding of the freedoms and ideals which we cherish as Americans;

AND WHEREAS, The setting aside of a special education week each year provides a fitting opportunity for the public generally to visit schools, colleges, and other educational institutions, to express their appreciation of the work of our teachers and school officials, and to exchange views upon education problems and progress:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Donald Baldwin, President of Chelsea, do hereby designate Nov. 10-16, 1968, as American Education Week and urge all citizens to enter fully into its observance in order to demonstrate their appreciation of the work of our teachers, and to show their active support for every program designed to improve our schools and colleges, and to think of education not only in terms of its cost but also as the means to develop the greatest abilities of all our citizens.

Howard Treado and Bob Wojcieki did a tremendous job of opening holes in the defensive lines all year.

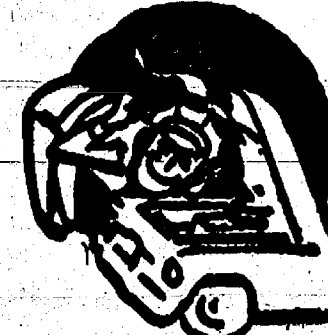

Credited with being the driving force behind the line is assistant coach Tom Morrison. The team elected Larry Gorton and Jeff Bust as most valuable players and Mark Schulze as most improved player at a meeting Monday.

WARNED BUT ROBBED

Chelsea, England—Major Stanley Barrett ignored the barking of his 35 poodles and awoke the next morning to find he had been robbed of $7,000 worth of silver. He said he thought they were barking at the howling wind.

The man who said you can live without money never tried it.

Federal Land Bank Holds Annual Meet

The 1968 annual meeting of the Federal Land Bank Association of Ann Arbor was held at the Howell Armsory Thursday, Oct. 24. Two retiring directors, Floyd Chamberlain and Bert Merritt, were honored for their dedicated service to the Ann Arbor Association. Chamberlain has served 20 years while Merritt has served 28 years in the capacity of directors of the Association. Chamberlain and Merritt were presented with engraved plaques from the Association in appreciation of their service.

Following the directors' report given by Andrew Luckhardt, the financial report was given by Richard Gieske, who is the manager of the Ann Arbor Association. Gieske expressed his enthusiasm about the tremendous growth of the Association by presenting the facts of dollar volume and increase. The Association has approximately 15 million dollars of loans outstanding. In the past year there has been a gain of approximately 80 new borrowers. The Association loaned approximately $5 million last year.

Glenn Hanson from Livingston county was re-elected to serve on the Board of Directors, another term.

Horse Short Course Slated Starting Nov. 9

The Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service will sponsor a horse short course starting Nov. 10. The short course will be continued for five months with one meeting per month. Tractor Program Qualifies Youth For Outside Work

Many youths who had hoped to earn money working away from their parents' farm this past summer were disappointed when the new U. S. Department of Labor regulations were passed in January.

New laws prohibit youths under 16 years of age from working away from their own farms in certain hazardous jobs involving tractors and machinery.

But the Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service announced this week that area youths who want to try to qualify for exemption from some of the labor restrictions can do so by enrolling in the 4-H tractor program this winter.

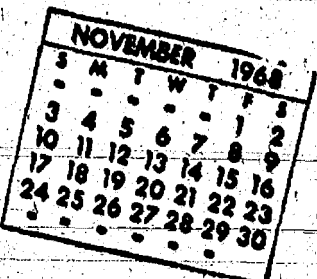

Beginning in January, 4-H tractor clubs all over the state will begin offering a course on tractor safety and operation.

Any boy or girl under 16 who intends to work off his own farm next year should contact the local 4-H Youth agent or the county Co-operative Extension Service office for further information on the program.

Rockwell Corp. To Present Award In Industrial Arts

North American Rockwell Corporation will present an award to the outstanding industrial arts senior at Chelsea High school again this year, according to Robert D. Ridd, plant manager of the Mechanical Spring Plant.

This award was begun in 1965. The winner receives a set of three "Compactool" power tools for a home workshop.

Chelsea High school principal Charles Lane says the award is for the graduating student in industrial arts who, in the opinion of the judges, best exemplifies the traditions of personal achievement and technical excellence.

The set of tools worth approximately $200, includes a bench saw, a jointer and a drill press.

One of the easiest things to do is to start an argument and one of the hardest things to do is stop one.
