Choral Concert Slated Sunday At High School

Newly-Organized Madrigal Singers, Choir To Present Christmas Music

Seasonal favorites will be included in the winter concert presented by the Chelsea High school choir and the newly-organized Madrigal Singers Dec. 8.

This concert is the culmination of eight weeks practice under the direction of DiAnn L'Roy.

Miss L'Roy will accompany the 200 choir members who are scheduled to sing Christmas songs and other familiar numbers in the concert, beginning at 3 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

The selections include "The Ride Song," "Elijah Rock," "Hallelujah Amen," "Carol of the Drum," "Sleigh Ride" and others.

The 20 Madrigals were chosen by audition from the choir in October and have already been active in their performance. In addition to this concert, in which they will present five selections, they traveled to Wayne Memorial High school Nov. 21 to attend a Madrigal festival of schools in the southeastern portion of Michigan. They hope to attend the solo and ensemble festival in February as well as making other appearances.

In this concert the Madrigals will sing "Now We Sing," "Lo, How a Rose," "Bourne for Bash," "Sing, Sing a Song," and close with the familiar "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen."

Madrigal is a form of music that became popular during the Renaissance and was originally intended to be sung with one person for each part. The mood was secular and sensuous in accord with the mood of the Renaissance itself.

Now Madrigal has been broadened to include poetic, secular music sung in parts by a small group. The effect is to represent the subject of the song. For instance, a selection dealing with a bird in flight would be light and breezy, while another dealing with death would be somber in mood.

Miss L'Roy explains that a group of Madrigals are related to a quartet in the same way a string quartet is related to a full orchestra.

No other local high schools have established Madrigal Singers yet, although they are prevalent in large high schools in the state, such as Wayne and Livonia.

Normally Madrigals perform in costumes representing the Elizabethan period or in simple formal wear. The Chelsea Madrigals will allocate part of a free-will offering at the concert to a costume fund for modern formal wear. The concert is free and open to the public.

Holiday Street Decorations Are Erected

Christmas season has arrived in Chelsea as evidenced by the brightly-striped candy canes and greens decorating the street light poles in town and the holiday displays in store windows in the downtown area.

The decorations, sponsored by the Chelsea Village Council and put up after Thanksgiving each year, grace poles on M-52 from Orchard to Jackson. They will welcome Chelsea shoppers, residents and employees until Jan. 6.

Santa plans to visit Chelsea for the next three Saturdays to meet Chelsea children and find out what they want him to bring them for Christmas.

CHS Wrestlers Defeated By Willow Run

Chelsea Bulldog Wrestlers terminated a 10-meet winning streak Tuesday when they lost to Willow Run by a tight 24-23 score.

Victories in heavier classes failed to overcome a 10-point deficit given up by Chelsea in the 120- and 138-pound classes. Failure to make required weight and a last-minute question of eligibility provided the 10-point gift to the tough Flyers.

Despite the loss, spirits remain high for the meeting with the well-trained and conditioned Tecumseh team tonight. Coach Burrey Hendricks said that he expects the Bulldogs to rebound from their loss and defeat the Tecumseh squad.

In the Tuesday meet Bulldogs gained enthusiasm as seniors Kerry Kargel, Mike Gaken and Jim Boylan all won by pins.

In actual wrestling, Willow Run scored 14 and Chelsea 23. In addition to the pin victories, Tim Colvia at 165 and Dale Robbins at 145 gave outstanding performances to frustrate the top men from the Flyer squad.

Colvia fought to a 2-2 draw with a wrestler the Flyer coach regarded as his best. Robbins, wrestling his first varsity meet, lost a 4-0 decision to a Flyer who was a regional champion last year. Chelsea jumped to an early six-point lead as John Bassett, 95, and Jim Wencel, 103, won decision victories to bring the score to Chelsea 6, Flyers 0.

Tim Tirt then dropped a decision that set off a string of Flyer points including the five-point forfeit at 120; a "good effort" but losing cause for Jim Potner at 127; a defeat handed to Bob Koengeler at 133; a five-point forfeit at 138; and Robbins' narrow loss at 145.

Cagers Will Open Season Friday Against Dundee

Three casualties have thinned the ranks of Chelsea Bulldogs before their first game Friday against Dundee, a team Coach Tom Balistrere feels should be a major contender for the league championship.

Balistrere said co-captain Mike Schnaidt suffered torn ligaments during basketball practice in the ankle that was injured during football season. Schnaidt, a senior forward with several years JV and varsity basketball under his belt, would have been a starter. The coach thinks Schnaidt will be out of competition until after Christmas, but Mike says the injury is a sprained ankle and hopes to be playing sooner than the end of the month.

John Hepburn, a guard-forward, twisted his knee and is a doubtful performer for the Friday game.

He is expected to be back in the game by next week when Chelsea meets Stockbridge.

Kenny Dove, guard, suffered a bone chip on his ankle and will not be able to play until January.

All three injuries occurred during practice and Coach Balistrere indicated that he was pleased with the attitude of the three men. "They should be commended for demonstrating enough hustle and determination to come to practice even though they are injured," he commented.

Larry Policht Dies Thursday In Auto Crash

Former Chelsea resident Larry J. Policht, 23, of Stockbridge, was killed Nov. 23 when his auto hit a guard rail and rolled off northbound M-52 north of North Township in Lyndon township.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Deputy Leonard Dexter said that the accident was the worst he had seen and said it was an understatement to describe the car as demolished.

Drawing conditions were poor in the rainy early morning of Thanksgiving day when Policht drove around the curve at a speed estimated by Dexter to be approximately 100 miles per hour.

The car skidded and rolled 274 feet, coming to rest in several pieces 40 feet below road level. The only evidence of the accident visible from the road was the bent guard rail, which drew the attention of a passing motorist to the accident.

Deputy Dexter arrived at the scene at 9:17 a.m. and with the aid of Chelsea Medical Examiner Dr. Michael Pano, time of death was determined to be between 5 and 6 a.m.

Policht lived at 3355 M-52, Stockbridge, with his wife, the former Yvonne Sue Bradley, and two-month-old son Larry, Jr. He had been employed for several months at Clark Equipment in Jackson.

He lived in Chelsea for most of his life and attended Chelsea schools until completing ninth grade, when he transferred to Stockbridge High, where he graduated in 1964.

Policht returned from Vietnam May 1 when his father, Liza Policht, died. He worked at Chelsea Manufacturing and Phillips Products in Dexter before accepting a position with Clark.

Policht is survived by his widow and son; his mother, Mrs. Harold Reilly of Chelsea; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Walby of Grass Lake, Mrs. Agnes Policht of Chelsea; three sisters, Mrs. Howard O'Dell of Flint, Mrs. Vernon White of Gregory, Miss Susan Policht of Chelsea; three brothers, Pvt. Michael of Fort Storey, Va., Al and Harry of Chelsea.

Funeral services were Sunday at 2:30 p.m. from Caskey Funeral Home. Interment was at Munith Cemetery, with military honors by MacKinnon-Glenn Post 510 of Stockbridge.

Chest Fund Collections Go Beyond Goal

All Committees Report Substantial Increases Over Last Year's Figures

Santa Claus Comes to Town This Saturday

Chelsea children who have definite ideas of what they want for Christmas will have the opportunity to deliver this information to Santa Claus, who plans to be in Chelsea Saturday afternoon.

A reliable source of Santa activities said that he would like to see as many children as possible so he can begin packing bags for the big toy delivery Dec. 25.

Naturally, Santa is also happy to talk to children who have no idea what they want for Christmas. The jolly old gentleman said that he can tell what each boy and girl would enjoy by meeting them, since he specializes in toys and other forms of kiddie entertainment.

He is hoping to have a booth in the downtown Chelsea area by Saturday, but promises to be in a conspicuous spot near the shopping district (between old bank building and Post Office) from 2 p.m. He will make follow-up visits Dec. 14 and 21 in case some Chelsea boys and girls miss him this week.

Chelsea Community Chest United Fund exceeded its $23,850 goal this week when additional rural mailing funds, donations from Methodist Home residents and $600 from Hoover Ball of Ann Arbor pushed the total to date to $23,910.

Campaign Vice-Chairman Dick Boss is expecting more funds from Michigan Bell and Michigan Consolidated Gas after employees of these two organizations earmark their UF donations for the Chelsea fund.

Since last report, additional professional and organizational donations have been received to insure that the 1968 campaign, like every campaign since the inception of an annual drive in 1954, achieved the goal.

All committees showed substantial increases over receipts from last year, with totals as follows:

- Industrial committee, headed by Bud Ringe of 3-D Sales, Tom McClellan of North American Rockwell and Dan Ewald of Dana, gathered $17,530 of the $18,000 goal set for this committee.
- Business committee, according to Boss, showed the "most improvement over last year" as they collected a total of $2,292, under the chairmanship of Robert Barlow.

The educational committee headed by Chelsea School District Business Manager Fred Mills, raised $479, a slight increase over the estimated final figure of $500 two weeks ago.

Residential donations, supervised by Mrs. Sumner Osterlie and Mrs. Robert Daniels, totaled $1,419. Approximately 50 Chelsea women helped collect funds in their neighborhoods.

Professionals, headed by the Rev. Warner Siebert and Dr. Bruce T. Stubbs, collected $947.

Organizations committee headed by Dr. Gene Miller, collected $420.

Rural mailings, supervised by L. D. Guinan and Art Schiller, brought in $482.

Last year Community Chest barely made its $21,950 goal, which was raised 10 percent in 1968. Campaign chiefs Rolly Spaulding, Mrs. John Dettling and Boss are pleased that Chelsea was able to achieve the increased goal and remind Chelsea donors that the funds are allocated to organizations that directly benefit local persons. Distribution is to 12 beneficiaries including United Fund's 38 health and welfare agencies.

Persons heading beneficiary organizations say that these funds play a vital part in their operations.

Architect Chosen To Study Bank Building Changes

The former Chelsea State Bank building at 122 S. Main St., will be studied this week by Architect Linden C. Pettys of Ann Arbor to determine cost estimates for updating the building and converting it into a district court building.

County Building Superintendent William C. Day said Pettys was selected Monday by the Building and Grounds Committee as the most appropriate choice for this job. Four of the six to eight architects who had expressed interest in the building were selected last week as possible choices.

Pettys, of 321 S. Main St., Ann Arbor, will examine foundation, roofing, painting and other basics of the building and return an estimate Monday to the committee for cost to update the building.

The Building and Grounds Committee will then work with him in determining the details of conversion.

ROLLIE SPAULDING and his wife, Gretchen, were escorted to the stage of Forsyth Junior High, Ann Arbor, Tuesday evening, Dec. 3, as he was announced as one of the three Washtenaw county scouts to be awarded the Silver Beaver, scouting's highest award for adults presented by Portage Trails Council.

Rolly Spaulding Presented BSA Silver Beaver Award

Two area scouts, and another from Ypsilanti, were granted the coveted Silver Beaver award at the Portage Trails Council-BSA annual Recognition Dinner, Tuesday evening, Dec. 3, at Forsyth Junior High, Ann Arbor.

R. W. "Rolly" Spaulding, Chelsea, and Francis Weber of Dexter, along with Glenn Seavers of Ypsilanti, were escorted by an Eagle Scout honor guard to the stage, on which Judge James R. Breakey, Jr. presided as chairman of the Silver Beaver selection committee.

The Silver Beaver is the highest award presented to adults at the Council level, and the third highest presented in scouting. Including the three presentations Tuesday evening, there have been only 75 Silver Beavers awarded in the Portage Trails Council.

The Chelsea man's citation reads: "Mr. Spaulding has been a guiding force to the success of scouting in the Ironquols district. The Spaulding family has taken Scouting to heart.

"His outstanding leadership in Scouting and community affairs has made him a 'moulder of tomorrow.' In his hometown of Chelsea, he was general chairman of the Chelsea's 125th celebration. His enthusiasm sparked Chelsea residents to erect a special headquarters building in the village. Through his efforts, an ice skating rink was constructed. He played a major role in organizing the Florence Howlett Memorial Scholarship Fund to be used by deserving high school children to further their education.

"Under Rolly Spaulding's leadership, Ironquols District has developed and demonstrated its strength not only in the Capital Campaign, but also in providing a better program of scouting to more and more boys."

Active in community affairs, as well as in scouting, Rolly has one son, Jeff, an Eagle Scout, another son, Dan, who was in boy scouting, a third son, Jon, a Webelos, and another Bill, not quite old enough for the scouting age requirements. The ladies of the family have also been active scouts with daughter, Lee, who advanced to Senior Girl Scout, Shawn, who is a Girl Scout, Mrs. Spaulding is also active in girl scout circles.

Rolly entered scouting in 1932, has served in the posts of assistant scoutmaster, troop committee and Hardy.

Cartoon Show Slated For Children Dec. 21 By Recreation Comm.

Any child can tell you that the only thing nearly as good as Christmas is a good cartoon or two. Combining these two great events is the Chelsea Recreation Commission's Christmas cartoon show scheduled for Dec. 21, at Chelsea High school auditorium.

The program to begin at 1:30 p.m., will include a series of favorite cartoon characters and "March of the Wooden Soldiers," a Christmas story starring Laurel and Hardy.

OVER THE TOP! Painting extra inches above the 100 percent mark on the Community Chest thermometer is Joyce representative Tom Duhan. The goal was reached early this week with the addition of funds from rural, Methodist Home and out-of-town industries. Campaign vice-chairman, Dick Boss, left, and chairman Rolly Spaulding, right, reported that $23,910 had been contributed with still more expected to be received during December.

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

As I first pointed out in a report last May, one of our most pressing problems today is a need for sound programs of vocational and technical education.

Every year, jobs for the unskilled become fewer, while the demand for trained employees increases. In the business world, for example, new devices have greatly lessened the need for clerical help, but there is a strong demand for men trained to service such devices. In industry, manufacturing processes are becoming ever more automatic and are sometimes programmed in their entirety by computers.

Even in our homes, we depend more and more upon various labor-saving machines, while men trained to maintain and repair these machines become ever more scarce.

There is no real lack of well-paid jobs waiting for young people in Michigan and throughout the nation. There is certainly no lack of young people who want to become useful and productive citizens.

What is lacking, in all too many areas, is vocational and technical training that will enable young people to meet the requirements of waiting jobs and realize their full potential in our fast-changing society.

Some areas of Michigan are moving to meet this need. Jackson county is operating, in conjunction with its community college, a vocational program for high school students. Branch, Calhoun, Genesee, Ingham, Kent, and Lenawee counties have passed millage proposals and are preparing to construct facilities for vocational programs. Oakland county is building four area centers for this purpose.

Altogether, nearly 1,200 area vocational programs are being operated in this nation. Most of these have been highly successful. The Bucks county Vocational-Technical school in Pennsylvania, for example, has had an incredibly low drop-out rate—just 1 percent over the last 10 years! For every trained graduate, this school receives several placement requests from employers. Yet surprisingly enough, fully 30 percent of these graduates decline job offers in order to continue their education at the college level.

I can safely say that few regular high schools can boast such a high percentage of college-bound graduates. I doubt that any can point to such a low drop-out rate.

Experience has shown that, when vocational-technical programs are offered, about 25 percent of all 11th and 12th grade high school students take advantage of them. Most of these are students who want their education to be of the most productive type possible in terms of direct employment benefits.

This does not mean they are any less intelligent or capable than their classmates, as the high proportion of them who then go on to college should prove. It simply means that these are young people who lose interest unless they see that their education is providing them with marketable skills, apt knowledge, unless their schooling is directly geared to the demands of the present and future job market.

I hope to see a day, in the not-too-distant future, when so-called "Vo-Tech" education is available to every student in Michigan who wishes to take advantage of it.

It is many times less expensive, in the long run, to provide young people with productive skills through education than to provide them with public assistance when the job market no longer has a place for them.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer B. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Healthy Hike
 The Michigan Civil Service Commission has settled on an average 6.9 percent salary hike for the state's 43,000 classified employees. The package will cost taxpayers $244 million.

Included in the new pay is $2.67 million in additional fringe benefits. This encompasses liberal overtime compensation provisions. Last year the commission authorized an average raise of 6.3 percent, costing $19 million overall. It was widely accepted by the employees—but considered short of their goal.

The new proposals can be amended or rejected by the 1969 Michigan legislature. There are indications that support is building for a reduction of the increase.

Commission officials said the new pay plan dollar spread includes:

About 23,000 state employees in the five lowest grades, who would get $9.85 million.

An additional 1,074 employees in the six highest grades, who would get $1.43 million.

Another 18,407 employees in seven middle grades, who would get $12.89 million.

Commission Chairman Richard L. Millman said, "Wage comparisons with public and private employers, recent negotiated labor settlements, the cost of living, and requests of departments and employee groups were weighed against public resistance to increasing public payrolls" in setting the wage rate increase.

"We don't expect everybody to be satisfied, but we think this package realistically approaches the public need for a reasonable level and quality of service in a tight labor market and an expanding economy," he added.

The commission report said above average increases were recommended in employment groups where there was continued large demand and short supply, or where there was a high turnover. These groups included trade classes, teachers, physicians, psychiatrists and some unskilled and semi-skilled institution service classes.

More than 600 teachers, including those in special education and rehabilitation trades, received increase recommendations ranging from nine to 11 percent. Above average hikes were also proposed for institution service workers (Grade 1), 0.7 percent, and for nurse (Grade 8), 7.3 percent.

Regular clerical and administrative adjustments range from 5.2 to 7.1 percent; labor and trade classes from 6.9 to 8.2 percent; social welfare classes from 6.9 to 7.7 percent; and physicians, psychiatrists and dentists from 6 to 8 percent.

A New Way?
 Public financing of private industry for vocational-technical training in Michigan is under study by the State Board of Education.

The survey was prompted by board member Charles E. Morton of Detroit, who believes private industry is better equipped than most government agencies to handle vocational education.

Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, called it a "brilliant" idea and said it should be included in future budget requests.

Silent Death

State Police warn against the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning in cars and homes this winter. Several deaths have been attributed to this gas already. Drowsiness is one of the first symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning.

This is accompanied by nausea and vomiting.

Officers suggested the following precautions in guarding cars and home heating systems against carbon monoxide poisoning:

Have car exhaust system thoroughly checked for winter driving and inspect for leaks into the passenger compartment.

Properly ventilate the car at all times, whether driving or parked, and avoid running the engine when sitting in the car for any length of time.

Do not run the car engine in a closed garage.

Have flame-type heating appliances properly inspected.

Michigan Sports Map Spotlights Winter Fun Spots

Lansing—The 1968-69 edition of the popular Michigan Winter Sports Map which pinpoints the state's 78 winter recreational centers and catalogues their facilities, is now available, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The map, compiled by the state's four regional tourist associations and published by the Council, details specific information on locations of ski and winter recreation areas and includes information on accommodations, slopes, lifts, towes, entertainment and other features of interest to winter sports fans. To facilitate indexing and locating resorts, the map is divided into four areas: Upper Peninsula; West Michigan; East Michigan and Southeast Michigan.

Free copies of the Winter sports Map may be obtained by writing: Ski Map, Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, 48926.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle told the fellers at the country store Saturday night they was one angle to the war in Vietnam that didn't git no attention in the last campaign for President. He brung to the session a bunch of fliers compiled by Senator Stephen Young of Ohio that had the fellers shook up.

We got a agency called the Agency on International Development in South Vietnam that goes by the letters AID, this piece explained. Senator Young found out they got 782 Government folks working over there on AID that was making $25,000 a year or more and they still git another 25 per cent for hardship conditions and $3,000 more for living allowance.

Senator Young found out that 28 AID people in Vietnam git more than $41,000 a year, 82 git $35,000 or more, 262 are paid more than $30,000, and 400 git more than $24,000. He found out they got five AID forestry experts that was gitting $36,000 apiece, living in air conditioned apartments, drawing hardship money and living allowances and studying forestry in a area when they ain't no trees at all.

Ed reported that several of them Congressmen, based on Senator Young's figures, was advocating setting up a committee for Federal studies on this matter. Ed said he was all in favor of Federal studies, and what we need in this country right now besides a good five-cent nickel was a Federal study to find out what happens to Federal studies.

Zeke Grubb was agreed with Ed, said they ain't no end to the good that can come from a Federal study. Right now, for instant, Zeke said we needed a Federal study to find out what happened to that $8 billion cut in spending we was going to git when they raised taxes $2 billion. He said he had saw where we was going to end up the fiscal year $8 billion more in the hole, Zeke figured they added the $8 billion cut to the extra $2 billion taxes and come out $8 billion on the minus-side and a Federal study would show them Government folks was using the "new math."

Clem Webster of the Great Society said the Government was people and people was the Government and all people was spending twice as much as they made, and he wished Ed and Zeke would git on some subject they knowed somethin' about, like that subsidy check both gits from the Agriculture Department.

"Personal, Mister Editor, I didn't git a chance to speak during the session, but all the talk about the cost of everything reminded me of what that old rancher said when they ask him what he aimed to do with $100,000 he inherited. He said he reckoned he would just try to keep his little place going till the money was gone."

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Thursday, Dec. 1, 1944—Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Allison were happily surprised when night when their son, Sgt. Robert Allison, called from Staten Island, N.Y. Bob said he was in a body case. His arms were broken several weeks ago while he was on active duty in France.

Captain Richard E. Hooley, of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Hooley, Tippon, and husband of Mary Hooley, 768 S. Main, has been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross in England.

A total of $11,052.30 was vested by the people of Chelsea in War Bonds during the last 20 days of the 6th War Loan Drive. Dr. John Doyle of Ann Arbor has purchased the dental office of Dr. R. E. Huber and will take possession on Dec. 1. Dr. Doyle has been associated with Dr. Huber in the local office for some months.

Delivering his first sermon to the men of the Cassidy La Training School, the Rev. P. Grabowski held Thanksgiving services for the men at their place on Wednesday evening. He showed their appreciation of the attitude of the Rev. Grabowski presenting a 100 percent attendance.

A farewell party in honor of Leonard Quigley, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Quigley of 8th township, was given Sunday evening. Quigley was included in inductees who are leaving Arbor today to enter the service. Approximately 30 relatives and friends attended at the home his sister, Mrs. Harley Hatt, Allen Alber and T. B. Quigley. (Continued on page three)

Gifts

That Keep Giving All Year Long!

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE CHELSEA STANDARD

FOR SERVICEMEN:
 Your serviceman will literally devour the news of his home community. The Standard is like a long letter from home... every week.

FOR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS:
 Many Standard subscribers give a year's subscription to friends and neighbors who are not now subscribers. It's the THOUGHTFUL gift... a year round reminder of the Christmas spirit.

FOR FORMER RESIDENTS:
 They'll be able to read about their friends, the places and things they left. They'll enjoy keeping weekly contact with the Chelsea area. For sons and daughters now living elsewhere, the Standard is a thoughtful reminder of home.

A CHRISTMAS GREETING CARD:
 The Standard will send an attractive Greeting Card to your friends telling them about the wonderful gift they will be receiving for the next year.

Order Now... $3.00 for one year

While doing your Christmas shopping, stop at the Standard Office and place your order... we'll do the rest.

Junior Achievement Firms Ready for Holiday Business

As Christmas draws near local businessmen will be decking their windows with boughs of holly, Santas and special seasonal purchases designed to lure Christmas shoppers inside, where they will hopefully demonstrate their holiday spirit in an appropriate manner.

Members of the two Junior Achievement companies of Chelsea High School will be out in force selling their products also. Their goods, priced to compete on the open market, will be sold mainly on a door-to-door basis.

Manufacturing and decorating Christmas candles is "JASCO," the Junior Achievement company sponsored by advisors Ed Aiken, Russ Maurer and Steve Slane from Dana Corp. The other company, "Pentastar," sponsored by advisors R. Chieslikowski, Van Stetter and W. H. R. Lake from Chrysler Proving Grounds, are making and selling playing card caddies.

Junior Achievement is a nationwide, educational organization which offers sophomore, junior, and senior high school students the opportunity to organize and operate their own business. In this way they are able to gain advanced experience in the free enterprise system, on which the U. S. economy is based. With two companies in Chelsea, competition is guaranteed.

Members of the Chelsea J. A. companies have already elected officers, chosen starting products, sold stock shares, started production and set up committees to research and develop new products for marketing after Christmas. Sales for the starting products have begun.

A mid-year election is scheduled for the end of January to give students an opportunity to gain varied experience and give members who joined late a chance to hold office. The companies are eager to expand and accept new sophomore, junior and seniors between now and Jan. 30. Meetings are held at 6 p.m. every Thursday at Chelsea High School.

Many Junior Achievement activities and competitions are held during each school year within the Southeastern Michigan Achievers Association. One of the most popular, the J. A. Management Training Conference, will be held Dec. 28. Officers, including presidents, treasurers, secretaries, vice presidents of sales and vice-presidents of manufacturing, from all J. A. companies in the region are invited.

The 1,500 achievers who attended this function last year proved that effort does not go unrewarded in junior achievement or real business, as they testified that they all had a great time. The achievers are also rewarded with practical learning experiences now and spendable profits in May when the companies are dissolved and profits divided.

won high prizes in progressive euchre and Mr. and Mrs. William Quigley received the consolations. Ensign John L. Hale, who graduated on Wednesday, Nov. 22 from the Midshipman school North-western University, Chicago, is spending a six-day leave with his parents Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hale, after which he will enter Ohio State University for further training.

34 Years Ago...

Thursday, Nov. 29 1934

The Chelsea high school affirmative debating team won a unanimous decision from the Napoleon high school team at the CHS gym on Monday evening, Nov. 26. The Chelsea team was Richard Sowers, Estelle Seitz and Jean Bleeker. The Chelsea coach is Miss Virginia Barrus.

Ross Munn was pleasantly surprised last Wednesday evening when a number of his friends arrived to help him celebrate his birthday. Five tables of 500 were in play. First prizes were awarded to Mrs. Irwin Klump and James Munn. Second prizes to Mrs. Wilbert Breitenwischer and Lynn Kern and consolation prizes to Mrs. Lynn Kern and Wilbert Breitenwischer.

Sponsored by the Recreation Restaurant and under the training of Dr. L. J. Paul, a group of Chelsea young men, who have made a name for themselves in basketball circles, are appearing in their first game of the season next Tuesday evening against the fast Ypsilanti Cool team. The team line-up is R. F. Foster, L. F. Swickard, C. Rossbach, G. G. Bill Hower, R. G. Lixey, Substitute, J. Dvorak.

Among the 50 fleeces making up the wool exhibit from Michigan at the International Livestock Show to be held in Chicago Dec. 1 to 8 are the purebred sheep owned by George Halst & Son, and also those owned by Edwin Klump.

Sunday school workers and League members of the Ann Arbor Federation of Evangelical churches held a social Thursday. Paul F. Niehaus performed two solo numbers while Paul Junior Niehaus rendered cymbal and tambourine solos, with Mrs. Niehaus as accompanist.

CEA Endorses Voco-Tech Plan for County

Chelsea Education Association has endorsed the proposed Vocational-Technical education program that will be presented to Washnaw county voters at a special election.

The first of two propositions will ask for authority to levy a mill property tax and the second for authority to issue bonds against the revenue. Approval will help finance the erection of a county center for Washnaw county high school students who wish to have advanced training in certain job skills.

The CEA feels that "individual high schools" cannot provide the wide variety of sophisticated equipment necessary to meet the needs of all students.

This program would provide for facilities not presently offered in county high schools to assist in the development of job skills.

The area vocational program would serve as an extension of the present vocational departments of all the high schools in the county providing courses to prepare students for a wider range of occupations. Qualified vocational programs now available to student in all high schools in the county would not be duplicated but would be supported as part of the total program.

When fully developed, approximately 25 percent of the juniors and seniors in the county are expected to take advantage of the training. Students would be admitted to the area program through their local schools.

The area program would be housed in the area vocational skills center to be located at the Washnaw Community College site where enrolled students would go for part of the school day. They would participate in all other classes and activities at their home school. Credits earned for classes taken at the area program would count toward graduation from the local high school.

Projected full operation would be in two years. Meanwhile, it is planned that some interim vocational programs would be operated in temporary facilities in existing high schools. When in operation the home high school would be required to provide transportation for their students. The cost of the construction, equipping and operation of the center would come from local and federal monies. Local funds would be from the millage levy. As long as the program functioned, the one-mill levy would be in effect.

Other vocational programs have succeeded elsewhere in the U. S. Branch, Ingham, Calhoun, Genesee, Lenawee and other Michigan counties have passed millage issues and are preparing programs of this nature.

WORKING IN VIETNAM: Disbursing Clerk Second Class William L. Brewer, husband of the former Judy L. Hollinger of Chelsea, is serving with U. S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion SEVEN, the Navy's northernmost Seabee battalion in Vietnam. Petty Officer Brewer is stationed at Camp Barnes, Dong Ha Forward Combat Base, less than 10 miles from the DMZ. His duty as Navy Disbursing Clerk is to keep pay records straight and travel to various construction detachments in the northern I Corps to pay MCB SEVEN's Seabees. Brewer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Brewer of North Adams, a 1963 graduate of North Adams High School and holds an accounting certificate from Jackson Business University. His wife has been living at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hollinger. She plans to meet him Dec. 5, when he has a week "R and R." He is scheduled to return from Vietnam in March.

Christmas Signs Showing Up...

warning up for the Christmas season by ordering extra supplies of holiday items and decorating their windows with greens, ribbon and other symbols of the holiday.

The Christmas commercial season seemed to sneak in extra early this year with Christmas advertisements and decorations out before the turkeys were sold.

However, the fact that there are four fewer shopping days this year than last between Thanksgiving and Christmas indicates that Thanksgiving was late rather than Christmas selling season early.

At any rate, the commercial world is now in Christmas spirit and trying to encourage this mood to spread to consumers through advertisements, Christmas specials and extended store hours.

Chelsea stores will remain open evenings until 9 on Friday, Dec. 13, and Monday, Dec. 16 through Monday, Dec. 23.

GRIDDER of the WEEK

TIM ORTBRINK, Bulldog full-back, is in his fourth year of football. He began playing in junior high, was on the varsity team his freshman year, and continued this year as a sophomore. He plans to take up wrestling again this year and add basketball to his list of activities. When not wearing jersey number 32, he might be enjoying his favorite subject, mechanical drawing, or attending Varsity or Key Club meetings. After hours, Tim enjoys hunting. Although he is just 16, he has a goal set for himself after graduation. He would like to study architecture at a college. Tim has two sisters, Tina, a Chelsea High school sophomore, and Trese, a third-grader at St. Mary's. His brother, Todd, is in the sixth grade at Beach school. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ortbrink, 20232 Seio Church Rd.

After being away from home on Thanksgiving day for the past 40 years, Mrs. Herbert Paul spent Thanksgiving week-end with her father, William Youdim and visited friends and other relatives in Free-landville, Ind.

member, district vice-chairman, district chairman (Troop 10), council sustaining membership chairman, council finance committee, was also a member of the Wrights Lake Camp Development committee. His a brotherhood member of the honorary campers' Order of the Arrow, executive committee, and the council executive board. He has served as campaign chairman of the 1968 Community Chest in Chelsea, which this week reached their goal.

Francis "Frank" Weber, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weber, of Miller Rd., and his parents joined him on the stage as he accepted the award.

Judge S. J. Elden read Frank's citation, as follows:

"Mr. Francis Weber has been active in scouting since a boy when he joined Troop No. 8. After advancing to the rank of Eagle Scout, he became assistant scoutmaster, and eventually scoutmaster. He was the service scoutmaster of the United States Command School during his tour of duty in the Army.

"As scoutmaster he has strengthened his troop's operation by sending two scouts to the Junior Leader Training Course at Schiff Scout Reservation in New Jersey. He personally motivates his scouts by his exceptional example and leadership. He took his troop and the council contingent to Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico. He served as scoutmaster for the service troop for the Golden Jubilee Camporee. He is currently the lay advisor for the Order of the Arrow. His church has awarded him its highest religious award, the St. George Award. We take great pleasure in recognizing Frank Weber as an outstanding scout, citizen, and church worker whose apparent purpose in life is to make other lives happier and fuller."

Frank joined scouting as a Boy Scout in 1949, attained eagle rank, served as assistant scoutmaster, attended two national jamborees as a staff member, served as scoutmaster and post advisor, holds the scout's key, served as member of the council camping committee, and is a vicar member of the Order of the Arrow. He was also a delegator advisor to the National Order of the Arrow Conference.

He has actively participated in church activities. He is a member of St. Joseph Catholic church, received the St. George Award for scouting service, and is a member of the Knights of Columbus. He is employed as comptroller for Sunbelt Alloy Forge, Inc., Hamburg, Searcy's citation read:

"For 15 years he served as a committee member of troop No. 240, three as chairman. His various activities in scouting have ranged from naming the Potawatomi District to creating a hiking trail, to be sponsored and operated by the Portage Trails Council. He was the first council member to be recognized by the Catholic church with the St. George Award for his scouting service. In St. John's Catholic church, Ypsilanti, he has served as captain for each archdiocese fund raising drive and as Mass commentator."

'Log of Apollo 7' Recent Flight Will Be Shown on TV Program

East Lansing—The Public Broadcasting Corporation's (PBC) second season opens Sunday, Dec. 16, at 8 p.m. on WMSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television. An experiment in public television, PBC will present 22 consecutive weeks of programs, most of which will be 90 minutes in length.

The second season premiere features the essay, "Birth and Death," by producer Arthur Barron, who has captured on film the joy of life beginning and the anxiety of life ending. The two-hour chronicle follows a young woman up to and including the birth of her first child, then natural childbirth, and then portrays the stoicism and resignation of an elderly man with terminal cancer.

Interviews and commentary this season will again be provided by PBC's chief correspondent Edward P. Morgan.

Other WMSB highlights include: "SPACE"—The spectacular story of America's first three-man space odyssey is told on "The Log of Apollo 7" Friday, Dec. 13, at 8 p.m.

Beginning the conquest of space is a modern miracle, taking place before our eyes. "The Log of Apollo 7" goes beyond the technological marvels to report the human aspects of the mission. Such problems as the astronauts' colds, their reactions to close confinement and questions of command are studied.

Perhaps the most exciting part of the report consists of still and motion pictures taken by the astronauts themselves. This portion is narrated by Wally Schirra, Donn Eisele and Walt Cunningham, the crew of Apollo 7.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN—The turbulent career of one of the most popular men in United States political history is depicted on the "NET Playhouse" production, "A Celebration for William Jennings Bryan," Sunday, Dec. 8, at 11 p.m.

Prosecuting attorney in the famous Scopes "Monkey" Trial and three times an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the presidency, Bryan managed to outweather the radical changes of the first two decades in the 20th century without changing himself.

DRINKING—"NET Journal" examines social drinking in America on "The Drinking American," Friday, Dec. 13, at 7 p.m. This wide-ranging, often comic report studies the social drinker in his natural habitat—bars, nightclubs, homes and cocktail parties.

A montage of interviews with drinkers reveals that the ostensible reasons for drinking vary widely. Rather than condemning alcohol, the program introduces two psychiatrists who offer guidelines for "safe" drinking.

The program also assesses alcohol education classes and the cur-

Senator G. Bursley Named To Head New Corporations Committee

Lansing—Sen. Gilbert E. Bursley (R-Ann Arbor) has been named chairman of the important Senate Corporations Committee which has been enlarged to include Economic Development.

His election to the chairmanship was announced this week at a Senate Republican organization meeting at Cadillac.

In moving to the new committee, Sen. Bursley relinquishes his chairmanship of the Senate Agriculture and Economic Development Committee, which now becomes the Agriculture Committee.

"The new committee is a logical combination of closely related areas," said Sen. Bursley. "In addition to all legislation affecting banks and corporations it will deal with industrial and economic development, in which I have been intensely interested for many years."

In addition to his new chairmanship, Sen. Bursley was renamed vice-chairman of the important Education Committee and a member of committees on Commerce, Senate Business and Interstate Cooperation.

Mrs. Richard Huston

Sharon Stahl, Richard Huston Wed Saturday at St. Mary Church

Sharon Stahl became Mrs. Richard Huston in a double-ring ceremony Saturday evening at St. Mary Catholic church in Chelsea.

The Rev. Fr. Francis Wahowiak administered the vows to the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Stahl of Pinckney and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Huston of Chelsea.

The bride wore a white floor-length satin gown with lace and seed pearl appliques on the bodice and sleeves. The gown was accented with a scoop neckline and train fastened to the back waist.

A full elbow-length triple-layer net veil caught with a petal headpiece of lace, silk and seed pearls completed the outfit. Her bouquet was a cascade of roses with white tulips in the center.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Alvin Nixon, sister of the bride, from Benton Harbor. She wore a blue high-waisted A-line floor-length dress with eyelet accents at the high neckline and sleeves. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Novak of Westland, cousin of the bride; Miss Kathy Artell of Livonia; Miss Barbara Stahl of Pinckney; sister of the bride; and Junior bridesmaid Miss Treva Huston, Chelsea, sister of the bridegroom. The bridesmaids wore apricot dresses similar to that of the matron of honor.

Lori Kalmbach of Gregory was flower girl. She was accompanied by Michael Stahl, brother of the bride.

Groomsmen were Stanley Schiller, Chelsea; Vincent Stahl, Jr., Pinckney, brother of the bride; Jerry Stephens, Chelsea; Junior usher Peter Stahl, Pinckney, brother of the bride, and best man James Taylor, Chelsea.

The mother of the bride wore a blue floor-length A-line dress with beaded neckline. Her outfit was completed with white gloves, matching shoes and pink tights.

Mrs. Huston wore a long light green dress with dark green sash and matching accessories. Her dress was accented with long flowing chiffon ruffles at the neck and wrist. She wore red roses.

Many out-of-town friends and relatives were present including Mrs. Leo Ulrich, grandmother of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Del Shoemaker, great-grandmother of the bridegroom, from Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Keelan, from Hillsdale; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keelan, Hillsdale; Mr. and Mrs. John Haas, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCarthy and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Godfrey, Ohio. Others traveled from Ohio, Detroit, Livonia, Garden City, Dearborn Heights, Ann Arbor and Plymouth.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. Nancy Mshar served the wedding cake and Mrs. William Wetzel and Mrs. Richard Jennings served punch.

The couple are now at home in Plymouth, where the bride is employed as an IBM operator by the Stahl Manufacturing Co. The bridegroom is employed by the Bell Telephone Co. in Ann Arbor.

Fuses Act as Household Safety Valve

Some of the biggest threats to fire prevention are home-made fuses to keep fuses from blowing.

According to Richard G. Pfister, extension safety engineer at Michigan State University, a fuse is a safety valve. It is designed as a safety shut-off to prevent heating when the wires are carrying too much electricity.

The strip of conducting metal inside fuses should melt or "blow" and shut off the flow of electricity before electric wires become dangerously overheated, Pfister explains. When the proper size fuse is used, wiring cannot heat from overloading.

"Some people still use the ridiculous trick of placing a coin or other metal object behind a fuse to keep it from blowing," says the engineer. "A fuse with a penny behind it would not blow if all the electrical current used on a farm or in a city block were routed through a single outlet. Most of these coins are discovered by fire chiefs as they search through the ashes and find the fuse box."

Over-size fuses may be found in as many as one out of four homes in a typical community. The larger amperage rating of the fuse, the more current it will carry before blowing. If too many appliances are drawing electricity, or there is an electrical short, the metal in an over-size fuse doesn't melt and the wiring gets hot, Pfister explains.

He points out that a 30-amp. plug-type fuse is too large in most homes with standard wiring.

"Most homes are wired with either number 12 or 14 electrical conductors. A 20-amp. fuse is all right with the 12 wiring, and a 15-amp. with the 14 wiring," he says.

Using a larger fuse than your home's wiring can take removes the safety valve principle and increases the need for fire protection.

"Eventually the insulation around the overloaded wires burns off and they may touch. They can spew hot, coppery sparks - heated to about 2,000 degrees - into the walls and insulation of your home," he emphasized.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Kemmer of Manchester, graduated from Manchester High school and is attending Jackson Junior College.

Restaurant Owners Entering Float in Parade At Tournament of Roses

Chelsea residents who plan to watch the Tournament of Roses Parade on television New Year's day should notice the National Restaurant Association float, representing Fritz Schumm of Schumm's restaurant and other NRA members.

The float will mark the beginning of NRA's year-long celebration of the organization's 50th anniversary in 1969. The theme of the Rose Parade will be "A Time To Remember" which is appropriate for NRA's celebration. The Association in its float will utilize the sub-theme "50th Anniversary."

The Tournament of Roses Parade is televised to America's largest viewing audience over all national networks and three California stations for telecast in the U. S. and overseas.

Slide-Lecture Helps Untangle Food-Price Maze

The mysteries of food prices - how they are determined and why they have been increasing - are unveiled in a new color slide lecture program prepared by the consumer marketing office, Michigan State University.

Designed for presentation before service clubs, high school home economics classes, trade groups and other civic organizations, the 50-minute program focuses on the food industry.

Entitled "The Price Puzzle" it answers such questions as "What Is Price?" and "What Influences Food Prices?" It also takes a look at food prices at the farm, middleman and retail levels.

Included in the program packet are 80 color slides, a script and 10 copies of a four-page brochure called "Marketing the Nation's Food." Also contained are two copies each of four reference leaflets: "The Food Dollar," "The Non-Food Dollar," "How to Shop Your Grocery Store," and "The Consumer's Choice." Cost of the program is $12.50.

An optional synchromatic sound tape may be obtained for $3.75. Additional copies of all the leaflets are available at a nominal charge.

The program may be obtained by writing to the office of Marketing Information for Consumers, Old Forestry Building, Michigan State University, East Lansing, 48823.

Michigan residents also may obtain the program kits on a loan basis from the district consumer marketing offices in Detroit, Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Flint, Mt. Pleasant and Marquette.

Sgt. Carl Gieske, Jr., Home from Two-Year Duty at Turkish Base

Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Carl A. Gieske, Jr., have recently returned from a two-year tour in Karamursel Air Station, Turkey. During their stay in Turkey they were able to visit many historical places from the modern Istanbul to small backward villages.

They felt that "comparing the magnificence of the culture and civilization there to the U. S. can only be imagined if seen."

The couple are presently residing with Sandra's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Scherd, Sr., 11691 Dexter-Chelsea Rd. A welcome celebration was given Nov. 9 at the Scherd residence, when relatives and friends of the couple gathered to greet them.

Sgt. and Mrs. Gieske will be home for 30 days before departing for Baltimore, Md., where they will be stationed at Ft. George G. Meade. S-Sgt. Gieske is a personnel technician with the Consolidated Base personnel office (CBPO) at Ft. Meade with the USAF.

French and flat-fell seams are preferred in infant's wear since they are flat and non-irritating.

DEATHS

Mrs. John Spiegelberg Chelsea Man's Mother Dies at 98 in Ann Arbor

Mrs. Louise C. Spiegelberg, 98, died Dec. 8 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John B. Mellott, 155 Golden, Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Spiegelberg was born in Saline, July 6, 1870 to John and Anna Maria Ditt Schaefer. She married John Spiegelberg Jan. 24, 1894. He preceded her in death Nov. 25, 1955. She is survived by one son, Claude of Chelsea; two daughters, Mrs. G. R. (Ruth) Carrell, Marlene City, and Mrs. John B. Gladys Mellett, Ann Arbor. Funeral services were 11 a.m. today at Oak Grove Cemetery with the Rev. Robert Worgess officiating. Arrangements were made by Staffan Funeral Home.

Mrs. Joseph Wright Life-Long Area Resident Dies Suddenly Thursday

Corra A. Wright, 734 S. Main, died suddenly Thursday, Nov. 28. She was born in Lima township March 14, 1891 to Frank and Lydia Landwehr Feldkamp.

She married Frederick T. Hawley in 1913, who preceded her in death. She married Joseph Wright in 1925. Mrs. Wright was a member of St. Paul United Church of Christ, Limaners club and the American Legion Auxiliary.

She is survived by one son, Eldine Hawley, Jackson; one sister, Mrs. Walter Butler, Chelsea; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. Lucille M. DeBuy, preceded her in death in 1951.

Funeral services were Sunday at the Staffan Funeral home with the Rev. Warner H. Siebert officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Former Area Resident Dies in California

Mrs. George L. Staffan received word of the Nov. 26 death of her aunt, Marie Hindelang Fleming of El Cajon, California.

Mrs. Fleming was a former Chelsea resident and the daughter of Louis and Honora Hindelang. She lived in Detroit for many years and has been a California resident since 1935. She was preceded in death by her husband, Walter P. Fleming and two brothers, John and Leo Hindelang. She is survived by one brother, A. G. Hindelang of Chelsea, and several nieces and nephews.

Services were Nov. 30 from the Cypress View Mortuary in San Diego.

BIRTHS

A daughter, Deborah Ann, Dec. 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Trinkle.

A son, Chad Emmet, Nov. 30 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Romine Jr.

ADOPTION
Mr. and Mrs. Norris E. Rowe, of 22 Sycamore Dr., announce the adoption of a son, Scott Edward, age two months. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Vernon Wolfe of Grass Lake and paternal grandmother is Mrs. Clyde Luckett of Jackson.

ASSORTED SMALL PILGRIMS were seen eating their Thanksgiving turkey dinner at North Elementary school Wednesday, Nov. 27. Seventy first grade students at North school dinner paper pilgrim collars and hats to demonstrate how their ancestors dressed and to celebrate the Thanksgiving festivities properly. After finishing their feast of turkey, pumpkin pie and all the traditional trimmings, they feasted on popcorn. Those celebrating Thanksgiving in traditional costumes and shown in the photo are, seated from left, Michael Benedict, William Gonyon, Shari Roberts, Kent Bollinger, Kathy French; standing, from left, John Dunn, Susan Schaefer, Karl Bell, Mark Barnes, Karen Updegraff and Kent Heller.

Telephone Tip Brings Arrest For Killing Doe

An anonymous telephone call to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department led to the apprehension of a Livonia man who shot a doe in Jackson county Nov. 23, according to conservation officer Donley Boyer.

The caller did not identify himself but the desk official at the sheriff's department said the call was through a Chelsea exchange.

McManus Photo Equipment Now in Jackson Museum

Photographic equipment donated to the Ella W. Sharpe Museum in Jackson by Mrs. Harold Lantis has been used in a restoration of a Victorian photo parlor studio and darkroom.

Mrs. Lantis, of 14229 Gilbert Dr. Chelsea, donated the equipment from the former McManus studio owned by her father, above Vogel's store from 1918 to 1950.

The exhibit is set up in a 12 by 16 foot area under a skylight in the new museum building to take advantage of natural light in the same way old galleries did. The exhibit, completed in October, is permanent. Developers, filters, backdrops, cameras, flash power, benches enlargers and other equipment dating to 1870 are included to add realism. A collection of mannequins dressed in period costumes are placed throughout the area. One mannequin is wearing the wedding dress worn by Mrs. Lantis when she married.

Museum Director Sherman said that most of the equipment used in the darkroom and studio was donated by Mrs. Lantis, adding that they "could not have collected materials for the exhibit without her donation of last October."

Ray Grindle, a former Chelsea resident, is currently ill at his home in Grosse Pointe.

Council Briefs

At a regular session of the Chelsea Village Council Tuesday evening, a lengthy discussion was held regarding the re-zoning request of Marion and David Longworth and James and Bob Danjels. Motion was made and approved that upon the recommendation of the Village Planning Commission, the request for the re-zoning of the Longworth-Plating-Bulk Garage from General Business (excluding the Bulk garage area) to Industrial be approved.

Debate Team...

After each speech, participants will be able to "cross-examine" the speaker in a manner similar to court proceedings. Normally, a contestant debates only one side of an issue and no questions are asked following each speech. Coelius feels that the four debates Saturday will give Bobbie and Sue important practice for their meets at the end of the month.
If adults did not try to make children accept all the ideas of their ancestors, the world might discover the truth a little faster.

Mrs. Hilda Pierce Injured in Auto Crash

Mrs. Hilda Pierce, 12200 E. Old US-12, suffered a broken leg when the car in which she was a passenger slid off Freer Rd. and into a tree at 2 p.m. Sunday.
Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuck said Hilda Stierle, 837 S. Fletcher Rd., was driving north of Freer Rd. just north of Trinkle Rd. at approximately 15 miles per hour. Her car slid on ice, went out of control off the left side of the road and into a tree.
Mrs. Pierce was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment.

Impoundment Law in Effect

Lansing—A revolutionary new method of dealing with persons who drive while under suspension and revocation in the form of a law which provides for impoundment of their vehicles is now in effect.
Secretary of State James M. Harre, who initiated the legislation, says that because this is a totally new concept and the first of its type in the country, that it will take Michigan courts a reasonable period of time to become experienced in administering the new law.
Provisions of the new law—P.L. 197—call for impoundment of a vehicle from 30 to 120 days for any person convicted of driving while under suspension, revocation, or denial.
Under this impoundment law, a convicted driver must pay all costs of impoundment. Owners not chaining their vehicles within 30 days of the end of the period of impoundment, will find vehicles treated as abandoned and disposed of. Vehicles which are unpaid for but sold under the abandoned provisions of the new law, must still be paid for, and the person owing on them will still be liable for payments to the lien holder.
It has been estimated, Harre said, that if the law is administered "rigidly" it could result in some 6,000 vehicles impounded annually.

REPORT from WASHINGTON

*Auto Repairs: Why So Expensive?

More than any car, the Model Ford still seems to generate nostalgic conversation and essays, all of them usually centering on the machine's most fondly remembered characteristic.
Modern cars, of course, are more beautiful, more comfortable and certainly speedier. There is only one area really where the newer cars have steadily lost ground: repairability.
A mature Model T might be full of tumors but most of them were benign and its ailments, according to legend, could generally be healed with a stitching of baling wire.
In most ways, new cars are necessarily more complex but keeping them in repair has grown to be one of the major emotional and financial drains of modern life.
Consumers, first of all, generally feel at a severe psychological disadvantage in a repair shop.
"In order to clearly establish the supremacy of the mechanic over the customer," one lady writes, "they concentrate on making you feel that whatever your problems are, they are nothing compared to the problems the shop faces in its unflagging devotion to its art."
Thus conditioned, she felt, she was later presented with a $41 bill for having a tail light lens replaced. Access to the lens, it seems, demanded removal of the bumper.
In part, then, the high cost of repairs can be traced to the auto designers' drawing boards.
One late model, for example, has a protruding grill that is very stylish but a three-mile-per-hour impact against it can generate a $430 repair bill.
On another auto, an $8 bearing is so deep in the bowels of the engine that it can only be replaced by $74 worth of labor.
And bumper heights are so varied that a big car's mild jolt can often cause grievous wounds to the trunk of the small car ahead.
Last month, I addressed an automotive engineers' convention on this problem in a speech that was perhaps a little presumptuous since I can lay claim to no engineering degrees.
Designers are faced with the problem of selling cars and it is perhaps true that most consumers, at the moment of purchase, are more preoccupied with a car's good looks than its repairability. I think there is a growing number of motorists who are eager for repairability and maybe the stylists ought to be made aware of it.

But let's return to the repair shop for a moment.

Almost all shops have what are called "flat rate books" which tell mechanics how much time should be charged for each of thousands of repair operations.

Manufacturers publish these books and others are sold to garage owners by private publishers. The private publishers tend to be quite generous in the "times" they allow because this makes the book more attractive to garage owners and thus easier to sell.

Say a mechanic is doing some repair to your gear shift linkage. The book tells him that he should charge two hours of labor for that operation.

The mechanic—who usually splits his labor charges with the shop owner—will try to "beat the book" and do the operation in an hour. But in most garages he will nevertheless charge for two hours of labor because that is what the book allows.

Thus, a mechanic at the end of an eight-hour day may have passed on labor charges for a total of, say, 12 hours.

The rate books, then, might be found dangerous because they smack of price-rigging and tend to throw the free enterprise system out of whack. Increased efficiency is always to be encouraged but in our system it is supposed to work to the benefit of the consumer and here it does not.

Rate books also tend to encourage heavy use of replacement parts instead of minor repairs to old parts. There is, after all, an additional profit to be made from every new part sold. Parts, by the way, have gone up by 52 percent in the past seven years. All of this, of course, does nothing to lower auto insurance costs.

Auto repair and parts replacement are not penny ante enterprises. They have grown into a $26 billion industry. And they have clearly developed techniques and practices that were unknown to drivers of Model T's.

The Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Committee—which is under my chairmanship and has the assignment of insuring that competition is not stifled in any industry—intends to hold hearings into auto repair practices in December.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

★ The Holiday

The holiday season is fast approaching. Most everyone has started, at least, to give thought to Christmas gifts to special persons.

It is a wonderful part of the Christmas, the exchange of gifts, the little remembrances. Yet it is not the most important part. Far more important is the religious aspect, the real reason why we have the Christmas.

This holiday season, give something to yourself... something that will last and endure beyond the jingle bells and after the pretty wrappings have long since disappeared.

Get into the real spirit of Christmas. Recognize the true meaning of Christianity. Find the faith and the strength to put God first. Do good works, in God's name. Invite the world to share in your happiness, to follow your lead.

Put God first and your life will be a beacon, a blazing trail that others will see and some will follow. You will know the meaning of Christmas all year long.

Jap Beetle Invades Ohio Blueberry Yogurt

A new blend of yogurt, including a Japanese beetle as well as blueberries, failed to attract consumer enthusiasm when it was introduced in Michigan by a Toledo, O., firm.

The bug was identified by officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture after a Detroit resident complained. Dairy inspectors of the department, in a warning letter has been sent to the yogurt manufacturer.

Blueberries are a favorite of Japanese beetle, which also feeds on more than 250 other plants. Michigan is one of the major blueberry-producing states, and crops this year in southwestern Michigan were threatened by a serious infestation of Jap beetle.

In northern Ohio, where the contaminated yogurt originated, Japanese beetle has been a persistent pest for years. Pesticides are used to control the beetle in Michigan.

TRUCK EMPLOYMENT UP

More than eight million persons one-out-of-every-nine workers in the United States depend on some phase of trucking for a livelihood.

Michigan Corn Crop Averages 74 bu. per Acre

Plenty corn!

This summarizes the greatest per acre yield of corn in the state's history as reported to Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture by C. A. Hines of the Crop Reporting Service.

The Service is supported jointly by the U. S. and Michigan departments of Agriculture.

This year's harvest of corn for grain will average 74 bushels per acre as compared to 35.7 bushels per acre during the 1940's. Total production in Michigan is expected to be 97,902,000 bushels for 1968.

Despite this record yield per acre total production in the state is slightly under 1959, the top year, when production reached more than 98 million bushels. The greater number of acres devoted to corn in 1959 accounts for the difference. Yields per acre that peak year were only 87 bushels per acre. This makes 1968's per acre yield of 74 bushels an acre the more amazing.

In general 1968 was a good year for corn, said Ball, adding that favorable weather is not the entire answer.

"Growers are employing more advanced cultural practices. We have better fertilizers and herbicides to do with, and for more than a decade Michigan growers have planted the heavier yield hybrid corn varieties almost exclusively. These advances have increased the efficiency of corn production to a great degree," Ball explained.

The Crop Reporting Service estimates a little more than half of the state's corn production is fed to livestock on the farms where it is grown. The rest is sold, mostly to other livestock raisers for feed. Only a small part of it finds its way to consumer tables in the form of breakfast cereals or corn meal.

SKIRT'S TOO SHORT Akron, O.—When Connie Collier, 14, was sent home the second time because her skirt was too short, her parents wanted to know what the standard length was. The school superintendent said: "It's a matter of personal opinion. I don't know who would do the measuring."

TOT TAKES STROLL Chaffee, Mo.—While visiting friends, Mark Hopkins discovered his 17-month-old daughter missing from her bed at midnight. Hopkins stopped a police car and asked for help and learned his daughter, Amy, had been found strolling down the street by neighbors who had summoned the police.

WHITEWASHINGS In 1968 the Tigers shut out every team in the league except the Minnesota Twins.

The danger of religious bias is always present.

CHELSEA COMMUNITY CHOIR has been practicing for their Dec. 15 presentation of 10 selections from "The Messiah" by G. F. Handel, under the direction of Miss DiAnn L'Roy. The 45-member mixed group has practiced every Monday night since September for the public Christmas concert to be held at 8 p.m., Dec. 15 at the First United Methodist church. Soloists will be Mrs. John Morris and Mrs. Clare Warren. Selections are "And the Glory of the Lord,"

"O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings to Zion," "For Unto Us A Child Is Born," "Glory to God," "Behold the Lamb of God," "Surely He Hath Borne Our Grief," "And With His Stripes We Are Healed," "All We Like Sheep Have Gone Astray," "Since By Man Came Death," and "Hallelujah." Members have indicated that they hope to continue after the Dec. 15 performance and welcome new members.

REJECTS NUCLEAR POOL

London—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor Government has rejected pooling Britain's nuclear arms as a way of paying for admission to Europe's Common Market for now.

Nylon fiber has been modified so that it's fire and heat-resistant. So far, Nomex nylon is being used in airplane interiors and military garments. It will eventually be used for ironing boards and other consumer products.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

PACK 435—Pack 435 held their monthly meeting at North Elementary school Thursday, Nov. 21.

After the flag ceremony opening awards were presented as follows: Doug Kalmbach, showman; Steve Klink, showman; Jon Spaulding, showman; Jeff Kiel, wolf badge; silver arrow and gold arrow; Brad Myers, silver arrow; Kirk Steinaway, silver arrow; Kent Longworth, bear badge, webelos colors and book.

Danny Cobb was welcomed into the Webelos Den.

The Five Mile Patch was awarded to all who participated in the hike.

The theme for the month was "Thanksgiving." The Den presented skits starring Indians and Pilgrims. Den 13 made turkeys from construction paper. Den 15 made gifts of baskets with gourds and presented them to their mothers.

Games were played by the Cubs, refreshments of coffee, beverage, cookies and donuts were served.

The next pack meeting will be Thursday, Dec. 19 at Inverness Country Club.

Beach Junior High Closing Friday for Parent Conferences

Beach Junior High school will be closed Friday for parent-teacher conferences according to an announcement by Alan R. Conklin, principal.

Parents will meet with their child's home room teacher by appointment to receive the student's report card and discuss his academic and social adjustment to school.

Forms for making appointments have been issued by home room teachers.

Bignell Given 2 Years Probation In Fatal Accident

Frank M. Bignell, Howell radio executive who pleaded guilty to negligent homicide in the Aug. 3 death of an Ypsilanti couple was sentenced Nov. 29 by Circuit Court Judge James R. Breaker, Jr.

Bignell was given two years probation, $75 fine, $150 costs, and $2,463.75 restitution by Breaker who said he found it inadvisable to delay sentencing until claims were determined by the two estates since indications are that no settlement will be made in the near future.

Breaker granted an adjournment two weeks ago to determine the claims of the two estates for which lawsuits were expected to be filed seeking damages from Bignell.

Bignell, general manager of WHMI in Howell, struck Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Kinicer of Ypsilanti with his car when they were walking south along the shoulder of M-62 with their son, who leaped clear of the car.

Whenever you need advice just remember that anybody can tell you what you ought to do under any circumstances.
