New Pastor Arrives at Bethel Church

The Rev. Roman A. Reineck assumed pastoral duties at Bethel Evangelical and Reformed church in Freedom township last week. The Rev. Reineck arrived Tuesday evening with his wife, Esther, and sons David, 11; Mark, 8; and Daniel, 4, and has been busy establishing himself in the congregation. Mrs. Reineck said they found the congregation "very gracious and friendly."

The family moved from Ft. Atkinson, Wis., where the Rev. Reineck held the pastorate of Friedens United Church of Christ for six years.

Prior to that, he served in Portage, Wis. for six years. The Rev. Reineck received a B.A. in history at the former Mission House College in rural Sheboygan, Wis., now Lakeland College. He completed Mission House Seminary which has since merged to become United Theological Seminary in Twin Cities, St. Paul, Minn. He completed a three-summer Town and Country Pastors' Leadership School at Michigan State University.

The Rev. Reineck was born in Rhine, Wis. to Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Reineck and spent his boyhood days in Kiel, Wis.

The entire family enjoys camping and has taken a number of trips in their camper. David and Mark have been Cub Scouts, and Mark expressed an interest in rejoining scouting.

JV Cagers Lose To Milan, 61-38

Chelsea JV cagers went down to defeat at the hands of Milan Friday night, 61-38, to bring their season record to 7-6.

Chelsea was plagued with a total of 28 turnovers and poor percentages. "We lost the game on the boards," according to coach (Continued on page three)

No Reason for Alarm If Child Has 'Red Teeth'

Chelsea mothers should not be startled if their children develop red teeth this week in observance of "National Children's Dental Health Week."

Dental health kits given to North and South schools by Crest include pills that reveal the presence of bacteria on the teeth by turning color.

The kits, distributed to some second- and third-grade students in Chelsea, contain toothbrush, toothpaste, a check-off chart and the pills. Children are studying dental health and hygiene as part of a national program to inform children of the function and care of oral structures.

Chelsea dentist Dr. Clare Warren is scheduled to instruct kindergarten children at South school this week.

R. Steinhelfers Recovering After Crash

How does it feel to be home after four months in the hospital? Ask Ralph Steinhelfer, who was released in early January after he and his wife suffered critical injuries in a two-car collision on M-52 north of Chestnut St. on Sept. 1.

Steinhelfer, who returned to the hospital this week for minor surgery, said he feels "lucky to be alive—and really proud of this town!"

"This is the second time Chelsea people have rallied to help me—and I'm grateful to each of them. Everyone really helped get us through our months in the hospital, just like they helped when I had polio 15 years ago." At that time, Chelsea families collected $1,500 to help the young couple and their small children.

Dimes Fund Campaign Is Concluded

Chelsea March of Dimes drive rolled to a conclusion last week-end with the county bowling roll-off. Mothers' March and teen dance.

Topping the list of Chelsea bowlers was Mrs. Donald Boham, who won an electric can opener for fourth prize in the county women's division. She accumulated a score of 610, 48 points less than county winner Kay Raymant. Other women participants from Chelsea were Mrs. Chadwick Parish, Mrs. William Harvey and Mrs. Jack Elliott.

No Chelsea men placed in the county competition. John Stratos of Ypsilanti won a color television for his winning 688 score. Chelsea competitors were Gerald Linebaugh, Glenn Weir and Maynard Roetner.

The "Battle of the Bands" dance Saturday at Chelsea High school attracted approximately 450 students from Chelsea, Manchester, Dexter, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Saline and netted $423.75.

A panel of five Jaycees, two teen-agers and two teachers selected "Lyme Frost" from Ann Arbor as the prize-winning band and awarded the group $25. Other bands that entertained at the battle were "Chelsea's High" and "Blueberry Jam," both from Chelsea, and "Pink Dandelions" from Grass Lake.

Each band played for 30 minutes. A special feature, Jamie Johnson's guitar and renditions of songs written by himself, provoked an enthusiastic response.

Two auxiliary policemen assisted during the dance by patrolling corridors and parking lots. The dance, sponsored by Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary, was arranged by Auxiliary Teen Chairman Mrs. Tom Thalner and Student Council dance chairman Vickie Wilkerson.

Mrs. Art Steinhelfer commented that the group was exceptionally well behaved and said adults present (Continued on page eight)

40 Youngsters Attend Gun Safety Class

Approximately 40 youngsters were expected to attend the first of a series of gun safety instruction sessions last night.

Although only 20 boys and girls from 7 to 14 years of age attended the preview program Saturday, Jaycees attribute this to inclement weather and say they have heard of approximately twice that number who will take the course.

Chelsea Police Sergeant David McCormick discussed gun laws with the children and State Conservation Officer Donley Boyer spoke about gun nomenclature and field use of guns.

Shooting education will be the topic for the first four hours of instruction, before children are allowed to actually handle the BB guns, provided by Jaycees.

The program is part of a national gun safety program for children sponsored by Jaycees. Chelsea chairman is David Martin.

Rec. Program Proving To Be Very Popular

The Chelsea Recreation Program has drawn a variety of participants, both young and old. Under the new program such activities as judo, movies and men's volleyball have been incorporated into the revamped program.

Director Tom Ballistrere expressed pleasure with the favorable community response to the program, commenting that "response is tremendous in all areas."

In boys "bitty" basketball, Howard Treado and Arden Musbach have been doing "an excellent job" according to Ballistrere. Gil Johnson is credited with constructing the eight-foot baskets used by a total of 55 boys attending the Saturday program. Selected participants play a game at half-time of the home junior varsity and varsity games.

Interest and participation in boys and girls judo has been encouraging to boys' instructor Doug Matz and girls' and women's instructor Tom Ballistrere. Currently registered are 47 boys, 43 girls and 10 women.

The knitting program, under the proficient Mrs. Clara Ewald boasts an enrollment of 17 women.

Men's recreation night, another innovation this year, has attracted 22 men to participate in the overall program of volleyball, weights, basketball and conditioning. Howard Treado is handling procedures for the group.

"Girls' games and gymnastics, under the qualified instructorship of Mrs. Ann Schaffner, is an excellent program" according to Ballistrere, who said 41 girls have enrolled to date to enjoy tumbling, trampolining and free exercise.

Tennis, under the direction of Dr. J. V. Fisher and John Thomson, is another diversified part of the new program. Ten members are currently enrolled.

The over-all program has been a pleasant success and promises to be a rewarding and fulfilling experience for all involved, in Ballistrere's estimation. He attributed the success of the program to the efforts of the staff members.

WEEK-OLD CHICKS moved into their three-story apartment building Jan. 30 to participate in the FFA poultry improvement project. FFA members surrounding the brooder, donated by Edwin Gaunt, are project chairman Larry Johnson, kneeling; left to right, Steve Bott, Bill Kuschmaul, Mike Bristle and Phil Klink, poultry committee members; and FFA Advisor Larry Lonsway. 20 fatalities have reduced the chick population from 150 to 130, but the remaining chicks are healthy and growing rapidly. Farmers' Supply Co. donated 300 pounds of chick starter feed, and Blass Elevator volunteered to furnish any additional feed needed to bring the chicks to state competition time, March 29. After outgrowing the brooder, the chicks will have the use of a chicken house donated by Lionel Vickers and located near Chelsea High school.

'Persian Panorama' Travel Film Will Be Shown Saturday

Diamonds the size of eggs, unique craftsmen at work in a bazaar and the magnificence of Eram garden area will be investigated during an armchair journey to Iran at the fourth Kiwanis travelogue at 8 p.m. Saturday at Chelsea High school.

Nichol Smith has made an enviable reputation as an explorer of strange and remote places and the author of five novels, including his recent "Golden Doorway to Tibet."

During the World War II, Lt. Col. Smith was a secret agent for the OSS in Thailand and Vichy, France. His programs, essentially stories about fascinating, bizarre and amusing people, reflect his main interest in travel-people.

"Persian Panorama" depicting Iran as it is today is a beautiful all-color travelogue. In Teheran, the modern capital, boasting an outstanding university, the country's leading archaeologist takes the viewer on a tour through the ancient treasures in his home. The gardens of the Shah's country palace are investigated with Prince Phalavi, and the crown jewels are captured on film.

In Kurdistan, city of a million Kurds, descendants of the ancient Medes, the viewer is the guest of the chief of the Galbaghi tribe at Kasnazan. Master-horsemen, wild Arabian ponies, 50 dancers and a bride in red highlight the sojourn.

Fishermen catching sturgeon and preparing golden, black and grey caviar are captured by the inquisitive Col. Smith at the borders of the Soviet-Union and Turkmen Republic.

Smith takes his listeners to a far-away country that few of them will ever see in person.

Coupons Needed To Help Secure Kidney Machines

Unused Betty Crocker coupons are needed by Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary for "Operation Purchase," a Michigan Jaycees project to purchase kidney machines for persons with diseased kidneys.

Boxes will be placed in Chelsea Drug Store, Dancer's and Stop & Shop to collect coupons donated by Chelsea area housewives to assist in the state-wide project.

One machine, available from General Mills for 600,000 Betty Crocker coupons, will preserve the lives of up to six patients at a time by cleansing the blood once a week.

A kidney machine kept Melvin "Red" Lamb alive until an acceptable kidney was available for transplant. Kidney disease strikes persons of all ages, races and sexes.

Betty Crocker coupons appear on all General Mills products. For more information, contact Mrs. Arthur Steinaway or Mrs. Robert Undergraff.

Varsity Cagers Lose to Milan

Chelsea Bulldogs relinquished a close cage match to Milan Friday night by a narrow three-point margin.

Coach Tom Ballistrere said the final 59-56 score was determined in the last 22 seconds of a nip and tuck game.

Sophomore Jim Wojcicki led the Bulldog scoring with 16 points, followed by Len Kozma, Lance Burghardt and Dave Conklin with 10 points each. Conklin and Kozma led rebounding with 12 and 10, respectively.

Kiwanis Club Gives $1,000 to Child Agency

Gift to Spaulding for Children Possible from Travelogue Profits

Kiwanis Club of Chelsea unanimously approved a board recommendation to donate $1,000 to Spaulding for Children at a regular meeting Monday night.

Kiwanis President William Rademacher said Charles Lancaster, Paul Schaible, Jr., and James Botsford suggested the donation at a budget session Jan. 26. The board found that the civic fund, money raised from the travelogue series, flower sales, pancake supper and other community functions, contained a balance large enough to cover the budget and donation.

"We feel Spaulding is a worthwhile venture that betters the community and is in line with our philosophy," according to Rademacher, who added that a donation of this type was a departure from the club's usual practice. Most recent major projects have been lighting the high school athletic fields and building a cabin for Boy Scouts.

At the Monday meeting Charles Osterdale, Allen Park, was a Kiwanis guest.

Harold Schneider, a new member, and William D. Blaess, a transfer, were introduced. Blaess transferred from Dexter Kiwanis when he opened Gateway Sports Centre in Chelsea.

Village President Don Baldwin discussed village problems and achievements.

Coaches Doug Matz and Burley Hendricks shifted personnel a bit to prepare for state competition, where wrestlers are required to compete in classes in which they have wrestled during at least one match that season.

"This will increase depth by protecting against illness or injury weakening the squad," according to Hendricks.

Glen Musolf at 95 and Kerry Kargel at 154 won both matches by pins. Co-captain Kargel thus increased his season record to 19-0 to tie with co-captain Mike Gaken who claimed decision victories in both matches.

Council Briefs

President Baldwin and the members of the council expressed their sympathy for the death of Parker Brown.

The Flanders St. ejector station was discussed. A decision will be made in the near future regarding the installation of state approved submersible pumps or a complete lift station.

Trustee Heydluff summarized the police activity within the village during January.

A motion was made to transfer $20,000 from the Light & Water Department to the general fund.

Motion was made and approved to authorize a salary of $1,200 per year to village treasurer.

George A. Staffan submitted a location map and sketch plan of a proposed subdivision which would be located in the recently (Continued on page five)

Richard W. Boss, 1968 United Fund co-chairman, was elected Chelsea Community Chest president by the 1968 board of directors at the annual meeting Saturday.

Boss, controller at Dana Corp., served as director and industrial chairman of Community Chest last year. He has served as president of Chelsea Recreation Council, director and chairman of travel series ticket sales of Chelsea Kiwanis club, Stewardship chairman of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, and team captain of Boy Scout Camp Development. Campaign since moving to Chelsea several years ago.

Other officers include vice-president, Elmer Kiel, a new member of the board, secretary Mrs. Donald Baldwin, incumbent who filled a vacancy last year; and treasurer, John Cook, incumbent.

Seven new board members were elected by Community Chest members. They are Tony Bowen, Mrs. Charles Popovich, Mrs. E. S. Michelson, James Liebeck, Gerry Giffen, Lyle Chriswell, and Gerald Wenk, an incumbent. Conrad Warner was elected to fill the vacancy left by Dr. Bruce Stubbs.

Directors with two-year terms remaining are Fred Hoffman, L. D. Guinan, Elmer Kiel, Gerald Grohner, Darwin Downer and John Cook. Directors with one-year terms are Mrs. John Bettling, Mrs. Dorothy Osborne, Dr. Gene Miller, the Rev. Warner Siebert, Mrs. Homer Kuhl, Richard Boss and Mrs. Donald Baldwin.

Richard Boss Will Head Chest Board

THE FOUR STUDENT-TRAVELERS enjoyed the hospitality of their hosts and the unique architecture of the house, to the right. Susan, left, stayed with Cindy, Sally and Mary Ann in a suite on the second floor. A staff of servants provided every service possible for the girls during their six-week visit. Another service provided the head of the house, a government official, was a live-in secret service man.

MEXICANS NOT LAZY, JUST RELAXED:

Susan Garlick Refutes Many Usual Beliefs About Mexico

"Mexico"—the work itself conjures up images of hot, dusty places filled with Spaniards whose main occupation is sleeping against buildings under their sombreros. Donkeys surrounded with files might be hitched to nearby posts.

Susan Garlick didn't find Mexico that way.

This 20-year-old junior Spanish major at Western Michigan University spent six weeks with a Mexican family in Guadalajara, Mexico, last summer, learning about the Mexican people as well as studying Spanish.

"Quadalajara is very lush and green, with foothills and small mountains nearby and plain, fantastically landscaped houses," according to Susan. "And most houses and other buildings there include indoor patios and gardens."

Quadalajara, a city of more than one million population located in central Mexico, does not conform to the typical U. S. ideas about Mexico in other ways. For instance, when the 800 Spanish students were there during mid-summer, temperatures hovered around 80 degrees, with low humidity.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Garlick, 18560 North Lake Rd. She enrolled in summer school program through the University of Arizona, with approximately 800 students from all over the U.S. They traveled to Quadalajara, northwest of Mexico City, to live with families there and attend classes in one, two or three subjects selected from art, political history, Spanish language and Mexican culture.

The over-all program has been a pleasant success and promises to be a rewarding and fulfilling experience for all involved, in Ballistrere's estimation. He attributed the success of the program to the efforts of the staff members. (Continued on page three)

Washington Report
 by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

At the start of a new administration when new challenges and issues are facing us and new solutions to old problems are being proposed by the new administration, it is more important than ever for the citizens of the Second District to take part in hand to express their opinions on current issues.

Perhaps you have felt that letters will receive superficial treatment from this end. Actually, however, I take great care to read all my mail and personally sign the replies. And I can also state without hesitation that on several occasions I have been greatly influenced by a well-developed and factually persuasive letter.

With the myriad of issues facing this Congress, an intelligent letter from home which sheds some light on these complex issues is particularly welcome. Although I have made more than two trips a month back to the district, it is difficult to assess opinion in depth. I don't want to create the impression that I'm not getting any mail in Washington. Actually, my office receives and handles several hundred letters a week. Occasionally, we will receive more than 100 pieces in one day. What I am saying is that a few of the more than 40,000 residents of the Second Congressional District communicate, and that I could be of better service if more did.

Of the mail I now receive, one third could be classified as "issue mail," another third is part of a continuing dialogue with federal and local officials on government projects and programs; and the remainder is casework and requests. In this latter category we help citizens in their dealings with federal government services. For example, in the last few weeks alone we have worked on cases which resulted in finding lost social security checks, clarifying draft status, preventing deportation of an alien finishing his studies in this country and assisting a woman in getting a passport so she could join her husband abroad. When writing to me on your specific problems with federal government services, please include all pertinent details such as social security numbers, selective service numbers, a serviceman's rank, serial number and correct military address; and other information that will give me a clear understanding of the developments to that time. I am not always successful with each case, but I will always do everything I possibly and properly can.

Service and an opportunity to express your views is always available from my office and I hope you will take advantage of it. You can write me care of the House Office Building, Washington, D.C. Or if you would like, you can stop into or call one of my district offices and your message will be relayed to me in Washington. The Ann Arbor office is at 200 E. Huron, phone 965-0619 and the Monroe office can be found upstairs at 2 E. Front St., phone 242-7080.

MICHIGAN MIRROR
 By Elmer B. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

"Close Scrutiny"
 Michigan's legislative leaders promise close scrutiny of new Gov. William Milliken's first executive budget of $1,510,000,000.

"We'll give it item-by-item examination," said Chairman Charles O. Zoller of the Senate Appropriations Committee. "It's one of the most important spending plans in state history."

Milliken, who assumed the often crushing responsibilities of the Governor's office four hours after sending the budget to the legislature, said the vast fiscal blueprint could be responsibly financed without new or expanded taxation.

The budget, he balanced, at least on paper, and it contained the smallest fiscal year-to-fiscal year increase in expenditures, 11 percent, in five years.

Coupled with federal funds and restricted state monies derived from highway user taxes and other special levies, it would push overall state spending beyond $3 billion.

It is keyed to a $70.3 million surplus, a $77.7 million growth in state revenues and continued economic prosperity for all income groups.

Specifically, the increase in spending over the current fiscal year is $150 million. The budget calls for cuts in some traditional programs but leaves room for increases in others.

Public education costs, up $96.5 million from the current fiscal year, would comprise more than half the total outlay. Social services and mental health account for 28.7 percent and $432.9 million.

Most noteworthy new programs are $5 million to start construction of a new State Capitol, $1.5 million for a state-supported community school project and $1.1 million for slum-area job training.

"This is not a year for standing still, or for retrenchment," said Milliken, "Nor is it a year for massive new spending."

On the receipts side of the ledger, Milliken's budget is based on $587 million flowing forth from the state personal corporate income tax, $368.2 million from the sales

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 It's a mighty funny word, Mister Editor, when we get scientists looking for energy, faster than light so we can travel in space, but we ain't got funds to work on getting flower seed in the mail from one state to another inside of a week. Since them asterners went to the moon and back ever, body is talking about space, so Saturday night at the country store the fellers put the item on the agenda.

First off, Ed Doolittle allowed if we're going to discuss $40 billion to go to the moon and talk about going to stars a billion miles away, we got to know somepun about a billion.

Ed said the Secretary of the Treasury explained a billion dollars by saying if a feller had been giving away a dollar a minute ever since the year 69, he would just be reaching the billion mark. As far distance, this scientist explained if all-knowned space was reduced to the size of the United States, the United States would be reduced littler than the flu bug that's been going around.

Zeke Grubb broke into the selection lesson to allow "as how it ain't near as hard to give away a billion dollars in 1969 as it was in 69. Zeke swore everything is going up so fast his old lady went into one of them super markets a while back, picked up a side of bacon marked 80 cent and afore she could get to the cash register the price had went to 88 cent.

Glitting back on the subject, Ed said he had saw where the Air Force paid $500,000 for a study of flying saucers that don't exist. This same report said nobody from no other world had come here and they ain't going to. Ed allowed we got proof positive we ain't had no outer space visitors cause the first thing them critters would of done was ask for foreign aid.

Ever new country that is horned in this world git the United States for a babysacter, was Ed's words, and he figgered the same for other worlds. He was of the opinion France ought to make us another Stature of Liberty, one that is holding a bag instead of a torch.

The real trouble with space travel is distance, reported Ed. He said light travels 186,000 miles a second, and it takes light years to git here from the stars. If we want to go from here to there and not be too old to enjoy it, we got to come up with somepun faster than light.

Zeke said his pa told him that as a boy he was affered of the dark, and he could blow out the lamp, jump in bed and cover up afore the room got dark. But that, declared Ed, wasn't no light lag, it was one of them LBJ incredible gaps.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

24 Years Ago...
 Thursday, Feb. 1, 1945—Jeanne Meserva, Chelsea college junior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meserva was elected treasurer of South Campbell dormitory at East Lansing last week when 18 women's dormitories, annexes and co-operative houses organized for the winter quarter.

Howard S. Holmes of the Chelsea Milling Co., was re-elected president of the Michigan State Millers' Association at the annual meeting held last week in Lansing.

Rumors of professional gambling in Chelsea have been prevalent for some time. A Sunday night raid by Police Officer George Doe and Deputies Schlanderer and Peterson of the John Holbrook residence, 210 North St., turned up 12 persons in the midst of a crap game. When officers raided the house, Jack Kind tried to escape.

Miss Ida C. Brown, grade principal in the Chelsea public school, slipped and fell Thursday afternoon while walking on Harrison St.—Her right ankle was fractured and she is a patient at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital. Mrs. Paul Eiselo will be substitute teacher in the fourth grade during her absence.

Truck Weight Restrictions

of this Board and by virtue of the applicable sections of the Michigan Vehicle Code being Act 300, Public Acts of 1949 as amended, we impose spring axle load restrictions effective at 6 a.m. Monday, February 3, 1969.

The Washtenaw County Road Commission deems it necessary to preserve the roads under the jurisdiction. The allowable truck loadings are as follows:

Spacing Between Axles	Concrete	Black-Top & Gravel
9 feet or over	13,500 pounds	11,700 pounds
More than 3 1/2 feet, but less than 9 feet	9,750 pounds	8,450 pounds
When less than 3 1/2 feet the combined weight shall not exceed	13,500 pounds	11,700 pounds
Maximum load on any wheel shall not exceed (pounds per inch of tire width)	525 pounds	450 pounds

MAXIMUM TRUCK SPEED
 No truck tractor or tractor with trailer, nor any combination of such vehicles with a gross weight loaded or unloaded in excess of 5,000 pounds shall exceed a speed of 50 miles per hour which shall be reduced to 35 miles per hour during the period when reduced loadings are being enforced.

Susan and three other students lived with Fernando Gallo and family in a large suburban house. Gallo is secretary of the local government and professor of history and philosophy at the University of Guadalajara. The family, including five children, was relatively wealthy and employed a number of servants who rather conveniently did "almost everything" for the four guests.

The students and family spoke only Spanish at their Mexican home, although the children received tutoring in English during the summer. Susan studied Spanish conversation and grammar composition in classes. Instructors were from Guadalajara and from the University of Arizona, California and Stanford.

According to Susan, her Spanish improved, although "possibly not as much as I expected." Much of what the students learned was out of the classroom. The students took advantage of afternoons and week-ends to travel near Guadalajara and associate with the local citizens. The city is landscaped with parks and more than 300 fountains. Very few skyscrapers tower over the one- and two-story buildings. Although front yards are often thickly landscaped with healthy green bushes and trees, houses are built with no space between them in a row-house style.

Susan visited Ajijic, a little Indian village bordering on 60-mile-long Lake Chapala and surrounded by small mountains where she found more American families than Indians. "Military families from California retire there because of the low cost of living and beauty of the lake area." By American standards, the cost of living was extremely low.

Susan said women could have their hair washed and set for $1. Haircuts were 40 cents. Hand-embroidered blouses sell for less than $2, and hand-tooled leather handbags sell for $5. "You sometimes felt guilty for buying things for so little—it was as if you were cheating them," Susan added.

Since a variety of hand-made items that would cost a great deal in the U.S. were inexpensive in Mexico, the American students often gave the illusion that they were wealthy. "It was hardly true—most of us worked like dogs to pay for the trip. We just took advantage of the prices and bought a lot."

Aside from doctors attracted to the medical school in the city, the population was largely unskilled labor. Teams of workers would patiently work on repairs or additions to the cobblestone streets each day, since they lacked machinery used in other countries. Lack of machinery also accounted for the large amounts of hand-made jewelry, clothing and accessories that sold for minimum sums in the markets, where students would bargain with sales persons until an acceptable price was reached.

Public transportation is well-developed in Guadalajara, since cars are very expensive. Buses are inexpensive and convenient enough to take travelers wherever they want to go for three cents. A half-hour taxi ride would add up to less than $1.

Susan found the Mexicans "very friendly and social" with a love for parties, dancing and music. Students learned Mexican folk dances from their families there, were taken for picnics in the hills and enjoyed sitting around playing a guitar, a favorite Mexican pastime.

Upper-class Mexicans and students seemed politically aware and concerned to Susan, who cited instances of student opposition to American participation in Vietnam and concern for the assassination of Robert and John Kennedy and Martin Luther King.

"One thing I learned about Mexicans was not to hurry them. They'll do it mañana," according to Susan, who found that they really would "do it tomorrow," rather than be rushed to day. "They aren't lazy," she explained "just relaxed."

Susan said the most important knowledge she collected during her summer of Mexican-style life and studies was a grasp of the mixture of modern and traditional that blends to make the Mexican culture and life style.

Traditional aspects would be apparent in the fervent religious beliefs and customs that dominate the Mexican way of life, the unhurried but consistent way of life and method of approaching activities, and the importance of social class to distinguish between persons.

Modernization has invaded the musical world through fast-paced and ballad music, through student political involvement on campuses and through modern resort areas cropping up along the coasts.

Paul Terpstra, citing 25 percent shooting and a poor 43 percent free throw average.

John Taylor led Chelsea with 16 points and 14 rebounds, trailed by Jeff Hughes with 8 points and 8 rebounds.

Milan maintained a healthy lead during the game, with a half-time 25-17 margin.

ROVING MEXICAN "MUSIC MAKERS" caught the fancy of Susan Garlick as they wandered through parks of Tequila and other cities entertaining the public with their native costumes and sombrero and Mexican music. Parks filled with flowers, shrubbery and trees were sprinkled through cities and suburbs, according to Susan, who agreed with the rather unappealing stereotype many Americans have of Mexico.

Stinehelfers Recovering After Near Fatal Auto Crash

(Continued from page one) Mrs. Stinehelfer, who received three weeks of intensive care at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, was released just before Christmas. She suffered a crushed chest and fractured jaw, but should be able to discard her crutches this month. Her husband suffered a crushed chest and fractured hip, which still causes a limp and which necessitated two weeks in the intensive care unit of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He expects to use crutches for several months, and is unable to return to work at present. At the time of the accident he was employed as an electrician at Dana Corp.

Mrs. L. J. Paul entertained at a delightful party Saturday afternoon for the pleasure of her little daughter, Mary Margaret, in celebration of her fourth birthday. Guests attending were Glenn and Gloria Cutler, Junior Niehaus, Doris Gilson and Shirley Anne Kolb.

WHAT'S A NUMBER?
Franklin Delano Roosevelt was identified on his official inaugural medals as the 31st President of the United States. Some people hold, and some do not, that since Grover Cleveland was both the 22nd and the 24th President, Roosevelt actually was the 32nd.
Children would probably be much better if they didn't have the example of adults to follow.

Among the good-looking, and easy-care foliage plants is "Pothos," "devil's ivy," or by its true horticultural name, "Scindapsus." Whatever you call it, this green plant, with leaves splashed yellow or white, is as adaptable as philodendron. The soil in its clay pot should be allowed to dry out completely between waterings.
Descoupage is a French word. It means the art of decorating surfaces with applied paper cut-outs.

Best way to sparkle up a kitchen!
Dutch Boy SATIN EGGSHELL ALKYD SEMI-GLOSS ENAMEL
It's the bright finish, the right finish for walls and woodwork in kitchens, baths, playrooms—any "busy" rooms. Wonderfully easy to apply—there's no painty odor and it dries to a smooth, semi-gloss finish that takes many a repeated scrubbing. Sparkle up your rooms with these lovely and easy-to-keep-lovely enamels! Come in—ask to see the lovely colors.

Cager of the Week
ART FARLEY is a "good hustling ball player who drives well and has strong determination to improve," according to Chelsea Varsity Coach Tom Ballestrere. Farley, a 5'10", 145-pound junior, has played basketball since seventh grade and baseball since ninth grade. He joined the varsity gridder this year for the first time, after playing end, defensive halfback and tailback since seventh grade. Activities include Trip, Varsity, Key and Ski clubs and he enjoys mechanical drawing. In his spare time he does a little snow and water skiing. After graduation he would like to study industrial arts at college. His one brother, Curt, is a senior in college now. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Farley, at 153 Van Buren.

Load Restrictions Effective Monday On County Roads
Washtenaw County Road Commission spring axle load restrictions became effective Monday.
Allowable gross axle loadings are 13,600 on concrete roads and 11,700 on gravel and blacktop for axles nine or more feet apart. Axles from 3 1/2 to nine feet apart have limits of 9,750 pounds for concrete and 8,450 pounds for blacktop and gravel.
Combined weight of axles less than 3 1/2 feet apart should not exceed 13,500 and 11,700 pounds respectively.
Maximum wheel load should not exceed 525 pounds and 450 pounds per inch of tire width for concrete and blacktop and gravel, respectively.
No truck tractor or tractor with trailer may exceed 50 miles per hour if loaded or unloaded weight exceeds 5,000 pounds. A 35 mile per hour limit will be enforced during reduced loading periods.

TODAY'S THOUGHT
By LOUIS BURGHARDT
For some strange reason, one of Lincoln's letters seems to have received less prominence in history than it deserves. It was a soul-stirring letter to Mrs. Lydia Bixby in Boston, a mother who lost 5 sons in the Civil War. Read it:
"I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the Adjutant-General of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any word of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement, and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have paid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."
Lincoln wrote the letter PRIOR to his re-election but DELAYED mailing it until AFTER his election for fear the letter may have been used for propaganda or political purposes. . . His compassion, sentiment and sympathy was not used to buy or solicit votes for his re-election. BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle Street, Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Catholic Social Service Agency Celebrating 10th Year in County

At its annual dinner meeting on Feb. 12, Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw county will celebrate its 10-year history of service to the people of the county. When the agency opened its doors in 1959, it had one full-time and one part-time staff member working with families. It is now 12 times that size, having 12 professional staff members working with families, plus eight student business offices and eight students from the Graduate School of Social Work at the University of Michigan. The growth has made it possible for Catholic Social Services to help many more people than could be offered service 10 years ago.

Catholic Social Services has always given service to all who ask, whatever their race, religion or income. The breakdown of these families by religion illustrates the Agency's claim that it serves all religious faiths. Of the 2,512 families served during 1968, 988 families were Protestant, 957 families were Catholic and the remainder were of mixed or other religious affiliations.

When the agency opened its doors on May 1, 1959, they were helping approximately 50 families a month. It now helps more than 1,000 per month. Other groups helped during the first 12 months of operation totaled 336, as compared with 2,512 families helped in 1968.

During the 10-year period, the agency has also made itself more available to people. Branch offices now service various sections of the county with five locations; two in the Ypsilanti area, and Chelsea, Whitmore Lake and Manchester each have one location. A staff member is in Ypsilanti four days each week, and the other offices are staffed one or two days per week.

The out-patient treatment program at Catholic Social Services is staffed by professional social workers. Counseling is offered to children having school and emotional problems; to couples with marital problems; and to adults and teen-agers. Counseling is done on both an individual and group basis; some individuals receive both, depending upon their need. Any resident of Washtenaw county is eligible for service and individuals seeking help are seen for an initial, exploratory interview within a short time after referral. Referrals are accepted from families, churches, schools or any social agency in Washtenaw county. Many clients are self-referrals. The agency has two psychiatric consultants and a psychologist available for consultation. The professional workers are also supervised by a staff member.

Specialized programs include adoptions, foster care, school placements, and services for unmarried parents. Three years ago, Catholic Social Services launched an additional program developed to reach the poor people in the county with the objective to reach families who do not know about social agencies. These families have a multitude of financial, physical and emotional problems which overwhelm them. These people are hard to reach but they must be reached if we are to break the cycle of generation upon generation of impoverished people. Basic needs, such as food, housing and clothing, are met before attempting to handle emotional problems. Preparation for school, school dropouts and employment counseling are important aspects of this program.

Since its founding, Catholic Social Services has been noted for flexibility of working with prospective adoptive parents and successfully completing in-depth studies in a short period of time. Catholic Social Services has been successful in the adoptive placement for numerous children with mental and physical handicaps, and with children of minority and mixed racial background. Foster homes are used when children are not able to remain in their own home because of problems in the family. Most foster children are returned later, but some will be placed for adoption with a few exceptions. In instances when snowmobiles are permitted on roads, they must not interfere with traffic and must yield the right-of-way.

In Michigan this winter, there are 16 state parks, 27 state forests and four national forests which have marked trails for snowmobiling. The accompanying Auto Club map shows where they are located, tell how to get to them and how long trails are.

Most snowmobile dealers have information on private areas where machines can be operated and furnish lists of the many events being held this winter for snowmobilers.

WHAT'S NEW IN SCIENCE

OUR ROCKETING COMPUTERS
 If rockets had improved as fast as computers we would have been to the moon years ago. The operating speed of computers has increased from "milliseconds" to "microseconds" and now to "nanoseconds." "Nanosecond" is the time it takes electricity traveling more than 188,000 miles per second to go one foot. And, computer speed will be measured in picoseconds—a millionth of a millionth of a second, or the time it takes electricity to travel the width of a fingernail.

THE HEART OF THE MATTER
 For the first time, doctors are able to see a patient's heart and other organs in their natural three-dimensional state without surgery or special glasses. Instead, a "stereo fluoronic image intensifier," which uses two X-ray beams instead of one as in conventional equipment, will be the only instrument needed.

THE DOME PEOPLE—To combat overcrowding, underserviced and air-polluted conditions, scientists at Tempop-General Electric Center for Advanced Studies have proposed that cities be built under large plastic domes. It's estimated that about 150,000 people could be housed under the plastic cover.

LIVING ON THE OCEAN FLOOR—Early in 1969, four scientists will live and work on the ocean floor for 60 days. The underwater habitat will be a chamber home-laboratory from which they'll make detailed studies of conditions under the sea.

THE CONTINENTAL DIVIDE—A new mineral-dating technique shows that North and South America are "drifting" farther away from Europe and Africa. Rocks were taken from a split in the floor of the Atlantic Ocean and it was found that samples from the center of the split were younger than samples from surrounding regions. This suggests the ocean floor is expanding on both sides of the split, slowly pushing the continents apart.

DECORATING?—When you use painting, staining and wood trim, many companies make a trim match, prefinished plywood. If prefinished trim is not available you will find a large range of color stains to choose from. We care, these can be mixed to develop a finish that will match any hardwood.

Snowmobiles Are Fastest Growing Outdoor Sport Ever Developed

Never in Michigan's history has an outdoor sport developed so quickly, cost so much money for an individual to enjoy, irritated as many private property owners, caused so much concern in the state legislature and received such wide acceptance by the public as snowmobiling, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"It is quite possible that within the next few years our car license plates could carry the slogan 'The Snowmobile State,'" says Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan's touring manager.

"Just four years ago, the average Michigan resident had to either find a picture of a snowmobile in a newspaper or magazine or visit a ski lodge where there was one in service as a work horse to see what it looked like," he adds.

A typical snowmobile, capable of carrying two adults, weighs about 350 pounds, is about eight feet long, three and a half feet high and can reach speeds up to 40 miles per hour. Beefed-up models can reach speeds up to 60 miles per hour. Horsepower varies from model to model. One new model this winter offers a 25-horsepower engine.

In 1964, snowmobiling first received attention in the Lower Peninsula as a Michigan sport. They were used in the Upper Peninsula 10 years earlier. There were only 14,000 snowmobiles in use across the nation when they started becoming popular in this state's Lower Peninsula.

Last winter approximately 75,000 to 100,000 snowmobiles were owned by Michigan residents alone—more units, it is estimated, than in any other state.

In the past three years, Michigan snowmobilers have spent approximately $120 million on machines and accessories. They burned an estimated 10 million gallons of gasoline in the same period which added another $3.5 million to the state's economy.

"There is no way to estimate the amount of money spent in restaurants, motels, at gas stations for auto travel, and in financing snowmobile centers or in winterizing once inaccessibly winter cabins," adds Fisher.

He estimates that if all the facts were known, snowmobiling could have contributed over $850 million to this state's economy since 1964.

"With approximately 125,000 snowmobiles in use by Michigan residents this winter—up 25 percent from last winter—over less than $30 million should be spent on equipment and operational expenses," Fisher says.

The average person who invests in a snowmobile cannot spend less than $1,000 for one of the top 10 makes out of 60 models on the market. He could spend closer to $1,400. (For those who wish to rent a machine, chambers of commerce can give local information.)

For every driver who wants to be properly and fashionably dressed for a 40-mile-an-hour ride over the snow in zero weather, add at least $100 per person for a special suit, boots, gloves, goggles and facemask. This figure can be inflated to the $200 mark for persons who are satisfied only with the best.

Proper clothing is a necessity. With a temperature of five degrees above zero and a snowmobile traveling 30 miles per hour, the "chill factor" drops the temperature to about 40 degrees below zero.

Accessories which now can be added to a snowmobile are beginning to grow at a rate too rapid for any person or organization to keep track, points out Auto Club.

For example, Mercury, a major manufacturer of outboard motors, is just getting into the market with three new machines for 1969.

One Michigan company, Pardon Mfg. Livonia, has a $480 camper which is mounted on skis for towing. It features a built-in ice fishing trap door.

Another company, General Aluminum Products, at Charlotte, now offers a sled for about $180 which can be used to haul supplies or passengers plus a small ski-mounted camper for about $500. Called the "Sno-Cruiser" and the "Sno-Camper," they are just a hint of what the snowmobiling public will want and spend money for next.

There are also special trailers available to haul the snowmobile on the highway. Manufacturers offer single and double-unit trailers, ranging in price from $150 to $250.

Last year, snowmobiles were so common all over the state that they became a problem to private property owners and on the roads. Private property owners complained that snowmobiles ruined lawns and small shrubs, while motorists complained that they were becoming a hazard on highways and county roads.

As a result, the state legislature passed a law governing the operation of these over-the-snow vehicles. The regulations in the law were based on suggestions by the Michigan Snowmobilers Association.

The law, which becomes effective Jan. 1, 1969, requires that unless a snowmobile is used on private property, either owned or under the control of the snowmobiler, the vehicle must be registered at a Secretary of State office and carry a visible registration number. The fee for registration is $5 for a three-year period.

The State Snowmobile Act also forbids the operation of these vehicles on state and county roads and on limited access highways—with a few exceptions. In instances when snowmobiles are permitted on roads, they must not interfere with traffic and must yield the right-of-way.

Young Children Seek Identity

It's quite likely that even a three-year-old is trying to find out "where he's at."

A child is constantly building a picture of himself that will affect his attitudes about people and life in general," says Dr. Margaret Jacobson, family life specialist with the Co-operative Extension Service at Michigan State University. She suggests that parents play a key role in helping their children accept themselves.

"If a child can learn to trust himself, he will more easily come to trust others and to gain confidence in new situations," Dr. Jacobson says. "A child who feels that he is loved, will consider himself a person of worth. He will begin to develop trust in himself as a person in his own right."

For this reason, Dr. Jacobson suggests that parents not talk about a child when the child is present. "Even though you may use sign language or big words, he will probably realize that he is being talked about. This may cause serious doubts in his mind about himself and his worth," the specialist says.

A remark like "If you don't clean up your plate, you'll never be a football player" may give a child some anxious moments about his future, she says. "This may lead him to think that his best efforts do not please his parents. A youngster should always have the feeling that 'they like me the way I am.'"

"A child's picture of himself will be greatly enhanced through the appreciation, comfort and support he receives from his parents in times of need as well as time of accomplishment," Dr. Jacobson says. "A child constantly needs the assurance that others—especially his parents—respond to him and respect him."

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 82—
"The Jolly Girls," Patrol No. 8 opened the Jan. 22 meeting of Troop 82 with a flag ceremony and demonstrated a dance they've learned.

Dues and attendance were taken. 27 members and two guests were present.

Members have started collecting pennies for each year of their life for the Joliet Low World Friendship Fund. Troop 82 is one of two selected to do a store window display for Girl Scout Week, March 9 to 15. Girls are to bring their ideas to the next meeting for discussion.

Following the business meeting the scouts read about the U.S. flag and Troop Services Director Mrs. Carner Slocum demonstrated proper folding of the flag.

Kim Longworth described several requirements she completed for the Books and Pets Badges.

"The Psychedelles," Patrol No. 1, then had a game for members to play.

Joanne Popovich and Renee Poisson brought treats.

The meeting was closed with "Taps" and "The Squeeze." The Jan. 29 meeting was cancelled due to weather.

FAMILY POT LUCK

If you use instant flour, measure carefully. In a recipe calling for regular sifted flour, take out two level tablespoons from each cup of flour. A full measure of instant flour in a cake or cookie recipe, which is designed for regular flour, can change the shape, texture, and flavor of the baked product.

Lean-style Canadian bacon tends to become too dry if it is overcooked. Add a little butter or margarine to the pan before cooking and cook carefully.

There's no telling how far the "convenience food" concept will go. An inventor reportedly has come up with a food package that plugs into an ordinary socket to heat up the contents.

Yearning for those summer barbecue days? Treat yourself to oven-barbecued short ribs. Brown beef short ribs, cover with barbecue sauce and bake for an hour in moderate oven.

CORN CHOWDER
1/4 cup butter (1/2 stick)
3/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 1/2 cups finely diced potato
1 cup water
6 salted crackers, crumbled
4 cups milk
1 No. 303 can cream-style corn (2 cups)
Salt and pepper to taste.
Finely crumbled, bacon, minced parsley or poporn

Melt butter in a saucepan, add onion and cook and stir until transparent, but not brown. Add potato and water, bring to a boil, cover and simmer gently until potato cubes are very tender. Add crackers, milk, corn and salt and pepper to taste. Heat only to serving temperature. Serve in warm soup bowls with a garnish of crumbled bacon.

To keep wood salad bowls and other wood pieces new and beautiful, give them attention after each use. Wipe off each piece with a soft cloth or sponge and warm suds. Rinse with cold water and dry thoroughly—never soak woodenware in water. Keep woodenware away from heat and store in a dry place.

TIPS for your TOP

Remember when getting a valentine was the biggest thrill of the winter? They were all lay and sentimental looking then, and you only got one from someone who definitely cared. Adults still give them mostly to those for whom they care. If you "care enough to give the very best," maybe you'd like to present your favorite female valentines this year with a gift certificate for a manicure, a permanent, a new hair styling—or any of lots of other choices we can think of. Give us a call, we'll help you please your valentine.

Ex-Missionary to India To Appear at St. Paul Church

The public is invited to meet Hedwig Schaeffer, educational missionary in India for more than 41 years, at St. Paul United Church of Christ Wednesday, Feb. 12 at 1 p.m. in the church lounge.

Miss Schaeffer is a missionary emerita although not retired. She spends much time visiting United Church of Christ churches and bringing a message of God's work in today's world.

Last year she accompanied a group of retired missionaries who visited India, where she witnessed much progress on the 100th anniversary of the mission there. She visited in the home of Douglas and Karen Schneider, Chelsea natives presently serving as missionaries in India. She comes to St. Paul to offer inspiration and to encourage them and their work.

Miss Schaeffer is a deeply committed Christian and has inspired many by her teaching and example. Her influence has been felt by Christians and non-Christians in the lives she has touched.

Success accounts for much of the envy that folks generate.

DEATHS

Katherine J. Lumber
Former Bay City Teacher
Dies at Methodist Home

Katherine J. Lumber, 84, a resident of the Chelsea Methodist Home, died at the home on Feb. 5, 1969.

Miss Lumber was born May 11, 1884, in Niagara county to Edward and Katherine Kelsey Lumber. She attended school in Bay City, where she had been a member of the Chelsea Avenue Methodist church for 53 years.

Her survivors are several cousins.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Monday, at the Methodist Home Chapel with the Rev. John M. Fall officiating. Burial followed in Lakeview Cemetery, Clarkston. Arrangements were made by Burghardt Funeral Home.

Ann Arbor Couple Injured in Texas Airplane Crash

L. James Holloway of Ann Arbor is listed in good condition after his plane crashed near Tomball, Tex., Friday night.

His wife, Florence, was taken with the commander of Ann Arbor Civil Air Patrol squadron to Tomball Hospital where doctors listed her in fair condition with serious head lacerations and possible internal injuries. Holloway suffered a broken arm.

Holloway had radioed he was low on fuel and would attempt to land his single-engine Beechcraft at Hooks Memorial Airport. Heavy fog apparently caused him to overshoot the runway, head for an open field and come to rest on its top after being flipped over from wing contact with a tree. The plane stopped approximately 2 1/2 miles from the airport located in northwest Harris county.

Holloway has been an active Mason in the Ann Arbor area for many years and is well known throughout the area.

DIMES

Generous Patrons at Wolverine Bar Filled Three March of Dimes Boards

Generous patrons at Wolverine Bar filled three March of Dimes boards during the Chelsea campaign last month. Bar owner, Joe Merkel, above, displays parts of the first two. Each board, placed in taverns in the Chelsea area, contained more than $45 in dimes when filled. Merkel said the first board was filled in less than 24 hours.

Trail Blazers Riding Club Cited For Helping Handicapped

Trail Blazers Riding Club of Chelsea was awarded a certificate of recognition for the second consecutive year at the annual awards dinner of the Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children Jan. 27.

Bill Williamson, 1968 Trail Blazers president, accepted the award for outstanding contributions to the program for the retarded.

Eldon Heller, 11233 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., was installed as a new member of the Board of Directors of the Association.

Trail Blazers have been active with retarded and handicapped groups since the club was formed several years ago. Last year members took 20 horses to the annual family picnic for members of the association to provide rides for children, and plan to make this an annual activity.

Sharing a camp-out with adult retarded persons at Waterloo Recreation Area was another summer project for Trail Blazers.

The 75-member club has also provided horseback riding for the Michigan Association for Epileptics and Detroit children sent to Camp Crile during the summer.

Members consider the participation of mounted crippled children in the Fourth of July parade in Grass Lake their most rewarding activity of the year. "We think that every child deserves to ride a horse in a parade sometime during his life, and a group of this type might provide the only chance for these children," explained Williamson. He said the horses selected for this mission are chosen for their gentle disposition.

Plans for this year include several visits to each of five groups of Detroit children at Camp Crile, participation in the annual picnic, and taking home movies of the children for their later enjoyment.

The club philosophy stems from the philosophy of the parent riding club, the Sandspurs of Florida, who contribute horses to school events to help raise funds for the schools. The Trail Blazers enlarged this idea to encompass handicapped persons. Eight Chelsea members traded visits with a pair from New Smyrna Beach, Fla. at Christmas. Chelsea travelers included Kermit, Bess and Leslie Sharp, Bill Williamson; Carol Curtis, Alice Wetzel, and Nick and Cynthia Mihut. The group met members and attended the Sandspur Christmas party, and Williamson was given a friendship plaque and lifetime membership in the host club.

Nine additional certificates of recognition were awarded at the dinner. Dexter Jay-Cettes received one of three letters of commendation for continued service.

Officers and Board of Directors for the coming year were installed as follows: Dean Douthat, Ann Arbor, president; Mrs. R. Lyjak, Ann Arbor, vice-president; Mrs. Bert Beer, secretary; John Lewis, Ypsilanti, treasurer.

New board members are Mrs. Irving Gordon, Ann Arbor; Katharine Dakin, Ann Arbor; Dr. Patricia O'Connor, Ann Arbor; Lee Martin, co-ordinator for special education, Westland, and Heller.

PROCLAMATION

BOY SCOUT WEEK FEB. 7-13, 1969

WHEREAS, The Boy Scouts of America, the nation's largest youth organization, was founded Feb. 8, 1910, and chartered by the Congress in 1916 for the purpose of promoting "the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others; to train them in Scoutcraft, to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues";

WHEREAS, since its founding 59 years ago, the Boy Scouts of America has given more than 44 million boys unique training which has provided them with an appreciation of nature, conservation, and outdoor life, while instilling in them the principles of good citizenship, so ably expressed in the Scout Oath and the Scout Law;

WHEREAS, this year, the six million adult and boy members of the Boy Scouts of America have launched a dynamic, long-range expansion plan known as BOYPOWER '76 that will extend to 1976, the 200th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. Using as its theme "America's manpower begins with BOYPOWER," the Boy Scouts expect to reach out to serve one out of three boys and make Scouting more relevant to the needs and concerns of today's youth.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Donald Baldwin, president of the Village of Chelsea, in recognition of its past achievements and its promise for the future of our youth, do hereby proclaim the period of Feb. 7-13 as Boy Scout Week in this community. All organizations and citizens are urged to conduct meaningful and appropriate observations in recognition of the material contributions of the Boy Scouts of America to the nation and to this community.

Done at the Village of Chelsea this second day of February, 1969.

Salt Poisoning?

Salt—hundreds of thousands of tons, costing hundreds of thousands of taxpayer dollars, is shoveled, sprayed and spread each winter on Michigan streets and highways.

The salt is spread in the name of safety, and no one can argue that through its application lives are saved.

But not all is on the plus side, for too much salt is poison to plant, man and animal. Rust damage to protective guardrails, cables, road-signs and bridges.

A recent newspaper story tells of the death of a young child who fell through the rusted-out floor of her mother's speeding car, to die on the highway. One study made by the Michigan Farm Bureau in urging new financing for road bridge replacement and construction notes that 62 percent of Michigan's bridges on local roads are now considered inadequate. The question might be raised concerning how much of this inadequacy is caused by the erosion of salt-applied to prevent slipping.

In other parts of the country, salt is not used so indiscriminately. Snow-removal is done by a variety of mechanical means including blowers and melters, with sand and cinders used to prevent slipping during icing conditions.

But for the moment, let's turn our attention to salt—the polluter of soil and water. Before more reliable chemicals, farmers used a handful of salt to kill burdock, Canadian Thistle and other such pests.

Too much salt can kill a tree, or you, or me.

Where does all the highway and street salt go? Some helps kill your lawn in spring. Some flows down the sewers and raises the saline content of streams to damage fish and wildlife.

Because salt quickly disappears, it has largely been ignored by those who worry about pollution and who have become over-involved in tracing the effects of more exotic chemical weed and insect killers.

Perhaps it is time to investigate the pollution effects of salt, the common kitchen chemical potentially poisonous to plant, man or beast.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS

BY LINDA NORRIS

One of the most popular and respected groups in the recording business is The Lettermen. Their albums sell big with both young and old and their choice of songs is varied and fresh.

Their latest album, Put Your Head On My Shoulder is no exception. A little bit of nostalgia with the old and a strong dash of the mod with pop songs and The Lettermen find themselves with another hit. This time around, they do such favorites as the title song from way back and the new and soothing Gentle On My Mind, as well as Harper Valley PTA, Woman, Woman, Hey, Jude, Mary's Rainbow and Scarborough Fair.

Another favorite of the 'twixt young and old set is Al Martino who fills the air with his fine voice and good music. In Wake Up To Me Gentle, Al soothes and entertains with such ballading melodies as Dream a Little Dream of Me, I Can't Help If I'm Still in Love With You, The Look of Love, The Impossible Dream, Didn't We, If You Are But a Dream, I Can't Believe I'm Losing You and My Own True Love.

Gather 'round, country 'n western fans, Jody Miller has a real treat for you in her new LP, The Nashville Sound of Jody Miller. Included in her repertoire of heart-break and joyous ditties are It's My Time, Over the Edge, Urge for Going, Back in the Race, The Wishing Tree, Long Black Limousine, I Remember Loving Someone, Odds and Ends, Don't You Ever Get Tired, Right Kind of Fool, For the Life of Me and Every Passing Heartbeat.

Health, in itself, is not wrong but there are differences of opinion about how far a man can go in getting it.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

Teacher: Mrs. Packard... We are happy to welcome John Haydock to our afternoon class. He came from South School.

Teacher: Mrs. Packard... We have begun our new books called 'We Read Pictures'. Everyone seems very excited about them.

Teacher: Mrs. Packard... We had two special visitors in our room. Michael brought his puppy named Candy and Jill Weinberg brought her poodle named Missy.

Teacher: Mrs. Coelius... Sharon Risner is our new classmate who moved to the Chelsea school from Manchester. We are happy to have her in our room.

Teacher: Mrs. Coelius... Andy and Pink brought in pictures for our winter animal bulletin board.

Teacher: Mrs. Coelius... The class has made snowmen and plans on putting them on display. Each snowman gets a letter and if we have learned a word starting with that letter, the snowman will get a snowball with the word written on it.

Teacher: Mrs. Coelius... 'Everyday, our "Good Work" bulletin board has a new set of papers on it.'

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... Just for fun we got our puppet this week and decided to call it Duchess. It has a fuzzy yellow nose, one black ear and one brown ear, and we found she is quite a conversationalist.

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... 'Hello, Boys and Girls, my name is Duchess. What's yours?' 'Duchess' 'Hello Duchess, I'm Monica. What did you do in school today?'

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... 'Don't ask me... Dogs don't go to school.'

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... 'John: "Do you want to go to dog school?"

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... 'Pattie: "Duchess, can you stand on your head?"

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... 'Duchess: "Try, but it's hard for a dog." (Eventually Duchess did accomplish this task.)

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... 'Duchess: "Play tag."

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... 'Duchess: "With who?"

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... 'Duchess: "Cats! Mostly I like to chase cats."

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... 'Duchess: "Up trees?"

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... 'Duchess: "Sometimes."

Teacher: Mrs. Mullin... And this is how we first came to know Duchess. I'm sure we'll have much more fun with Duchess.

Teacher: Mrs. Staffan... We like our Science Book. We have talked about energy. Food supplies energy to make us move.

Teacher: Mrs. Staffan... We have a new Phonics Workbook. We really know our beginning consonant sounds.

Teacher: Mrs. Staffan... We made a calendar for February. We discovered it is the shortest month and two famous presidents were born this month.

Teacher: Mrs. Hakala... We enjoyed the Pincocchio show. We especially liked the elves. When we got back to our room we made pictures showing what we liked best in the play.

Teacher: Mrs. Hakala... Colleen Miller brought two nesting Keweenaw dolls. We have had fun playing with them.

Teacher: Mrs. Hakala... Janet Walz showed us a radio that looked like a water closet. Marley-Setz went to the boat show in Detroit.

Teacher: Mrs. Morgan... We are enjoying handwriting and working hard to improve the slant. We had fun in Art building sculptures with toothpicks and marshmallows.

Teacher: Mrs. Morgan... We have been having more arithmetic matches trying to learn our 10, 11 and 12 number facts better.

Teacher: Miss Timmerman... We all enjoyed the play about Pincocchio. We listened to the story in class before we went to the play. We drew some exciting pictures about what we saw.

Teacher: Miss Timmerman... Lisa Bauer brought in some shells to show us. They are from Florida.

Whatsoever Things

By Donald E. Wildmon

Here's a figure that some of us will be interested in for the simple reason that many of us are interested in figures. The Internal Revenue Service (everybody knows of them) recently reported that 596 people can be classified in the category of millionaires in the United States. The IRS said that was the number of Americans who showed adjusted gross incomes of $1,000,000 or more on their 1965 income tax returns.

These are some terrific figures and it would do us well to study them for a while. We are living in a day and age, you see, when terrific figures are becoming a standard part of our society. We talk about millions and billions and even trillions now without hardly a wink of the eye. It is common-place.

There is another story that I wish to share with you. It is a story about a $35 million Titan 3 rocket that was scheduled to blast off down at Cape Kennedy. The count down was postponed with just one second left on the count-down. The reason the rocket didn't fire was not because of trouble in the rocket itself, but because of a valve in a valve. The cost of the valve was about $150. That $150 doesn't seem like much when compared to the total cost of $35 million but it was important enough to stop the rocket from being fired.

We humans need to remember that story. There was a Grand Man Who walked the shores of the Sea of Galilee, and he taught that little people, like little valves, are important. He made no distinction between the little man and the big man. To Him all men were important. It is hard to remember that even a little baby born to a couple in poverty is important. You know what they did with most babies in Rome before He came along? They threw them in the sewer. But not after His influence touched them! He always makes little people important.

To the Carpenter, everybody was somebody. It would be a better world if we would learn to treat people, even little people, like somebody. You see, that's one reason He came into the world—to let us to treat everybody like somebody!

Realtors Board Gives Funds For Low-Income Housing

Ann Arbor Independent Housing, Inc. has announced a gift of $1,000 from the Ann Arbor Board of Realtors for investment in low-income housing. The gift was transmitted by Charles R. Reinhart, president of the Realtors' Board. Reinhart expressed the deep interest of the realtors in housing for low income families and mentioned that, since the realtors had been instrumental in establishing Ann Arbor Independent Housing, Inc., they maintained a lively concern for its continued success.

In connection with the gift, Al Samborn, executive vice-president of the Board of Realtors said, "I hope this will be only one of many gifts to Ann Arbor Independent Housing, Inc. from business and industrial concerns, foundations and individuals. A few thousand dollars in gifts at this juncture could greatly increase the usefulness of AAIH."

Dr. G. Merrill Lenox, executive director of AAIH and of the Ann Arbor-Washenaw Council of Churches, of which AAIH is a part, expressed "great delight and appreciation for the donation," calling it "a tangible expression of interest in a growing social problem for the community."

Ann Arbor Independent Housing, Inc., already operates six housing units, has another under construction and is in the process of planning a building program for as many as 50 more.

AAIH has also responded to the request of Ann Arbor Civic Housing Development—a group of community leaders called together by the Mayor—to act as the legal entity for the two organizations so as to achieve the largest possible results in housing for low-income families.

An important aspect of the work of AAIH is the program of its social service co-ordinator, Donald Haugen, who supervises varied services to disadvantaged persons. This work is supported initially by gifts from Miss Henrietta Beach and the Amarao Fund. Three graduate students from the University of Michigan School of Social Work are supervised by Haugley, Denise Wirtz, Barry Hagen.

Fifth Grade—Michael Billingsley, Elizabeth Clark, David Clouse, Kyle Corser, John Elliott, Jeffrey Heard, Nancy Hepburn, Gerald Huehl, Linda Jennings, Ronald Joseph, Sherry Moore, Cheryl Oliver, David Pletcher, Lorilee Proctor, Susan Robinson, Robert Wenk.

FHA Regional Officers Meet in Saline

Officers of the Future Homemakers of America for Region III have held their first executive council meeting at Saline High school.

Mrs. Fielder, chairman of Home Economics Department at Eastern Michigan University, informed the girls that EMU has offered it facilities for the 1969 Region III meeting, which has been set for Nov. 8.

Darrell Thomas of Western Michigan University will be the principal speaker and a real treat will be in store for all Region III girls who attend. It's not too early for area FHA members to circle the date on their calendar so as to miss what promises to be a dynamic meeting. Region III officers say they are working hard to provide a worthwhile and interesting experience for all.

MRS. MICHAEL WALKER

Home Economist Will Serve in 3-County Area

Mrs. Michael (Sharon) Walker assumed duties as Co-operative Extension Service Home Economist in Monroe, Lenawee and Washtenaw counties Feb. 1. Her appointment was approved by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees in January.

Mrs. Walker, who fills a vacancy created when Mrs. Alice "Eppie" moved to the State Extension Service Staff, will have her headquarters at 114 E. First St., Monroe. She will share responsibility for the extension family living education program in the three counties with Mrs. Helen Fairman, who works out of the Ann Arbor Extension office.

The home economists will prepare programs for adults and young people in clothing and textiles, food and nutrition, family life, housing and home furnishings and home management. Extension Home Economists provide information through presentations at meetings and special classes, printed materials, and radio, television and newspapers.

Mrs. Walker completed her BS degree in home economics at Eastern Michigan University in January, 1965. She has been employed as an assistant dietitian in the residence halls at the University of Michigan. Her husband is in dental school at U. of M.

Tax Exemption Claims Must Be Filed Soon

Village Assessor Thomas Smith and Sylvan Township Supervisor Maurice Hoffman will assist and process applications for senior citizens and veterans who qualify for the Tax Exemption on Homesteads Friday, Feb. 21 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Sylvan Town Hall.

Deadline for filing 1968 tax exemptions is the first week of March in most local units of government in Michigan. Responsibility for filing with the assessor is in the unit of government where the homestead is located rests solely with the applicant. Assessing officers are not required to notify prospective applicants of the filing period.

There are seven eligibility requirements. Persons must be 65 years of age by Dec. 31, 1968. Gross income, including gross income of joint owners, may not exceed $5,000 in 1968. The homestead must be owned or being purchased, and the person claiming the tax exemption must occupy it. Real property must not exceed $10,000 valuation. The person filing must have been a resident of the state of Michigan for five of the past 10 years and have actually resided in Michigan six of every 12-month period during those five years. An affidavit must be filed between Dec. 31 and the first week of March each year.

Senior Citizens must show proof of age, deed to property or other proof of ownership and social security number. Veterans or widows of veterans must show the VA claim number, date of entry into service, discharge date and title to the homestead. Disabled veterans receiving compensation must show the check number and percentage of disability.
