Washington Report
 by Congressman
MARVIN L. ESCH

The reports issued recently by two American boys released last month from North Vietnamese prison camps are horrifying. They told of inhumane treatment, inadequate medical care, solitary confinement, inadequate food and numerous other barbaric and uncivilized conditions. The North Vietnamese have consistently refused the intervention and inspection of the impartial International Red Cross and have denied American men the right to correspond with their families or receive any news from the free world.

Defense Department officials list 342 servicemen as known prisoners in Communist POW camps. However, more than 1,300 servicemen are listed as missing in action and could be captives. Fifty-four Michigan boys are included in this list. The Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese have never officially released the names of prisoners they held. Hundreds of American families are being kept waiting not knowing whether their loved one is alive or dead. Those who are fortunate enough to know that their family member is alive are constantly tortured by the reports of the harsh and cruel treatment they are receiving.

This situation calls for the united action of the people of the United States and the governments of other nations around the world. The North Vietnamese leaders have always been highly influenced by world public opinion and it is quite possible that if public opinion in the U. S. and other nations expressed outrage at the barbaric and uncivilized treatment of our improvements in their treatment would be made by the Communists.

For this reason I have introduced a joint resolution demanding that the North Vietnamese comply with the Geneva Convention provisions relating to the treatment of prisoners. It is hoped that passage of this resolution by the Congress will create a strong feeling of indignation which will mobilize world opinion as a tool to secure better treatment of American POW's.

The leadership of the Congress, the Department of Defense, the Department of State and the White House are fully united in their efforts to secure better treatment for and release of American prisoners. It is hoped that the new leadership in North Vietnam will reconsider their policies and respond to the call for humanitarianism.

Huron River Watershed Group Meets Tonight

Flood damage avoidance, the problems of communities located on inland lakes and the effects of stormwater runoff on the Huron River will be discussed Thursday stormwater runoff on the Huron River Watershed Council holds its first general meeting of the fall. The meeting, which is open to the public, will be held in the North Campus Commons of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Jerome Fulton, former executive secretary of the council and consultant to the group, will report on the council's flood damage avoidance program, developed cooperatively with local units of government within the Huron River basin, which suffered damage as a result of the June, 1968 floods on the river. In addition to a number of recommendations for local government consideration, a basic flood warning system has been designed to give downstream communities advance notification of rising waters.

Guest speaker for the Sept. 18 session will be Robert Halstead, area conservationist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service. Halstead will kick off a year-long series of informational programs on the growing problem of stormwater runoff control.

Jaycee Softball Team Eliminated In District Tourney

A 13-man slow-pitch softball team represented the Chelsea Jaycees in Ann Arbor Sept. 14 at the District 26 Softball Tournament. The team drew a tough Saline team and were defeated, 13-11. Team members were Don Proctor, Si Hopkins, Walt Brown, Art Stelmaway, Ed Greenleaf, Tom Thalner, and Dan Eder. Also included were Mitch Zink, Ken Norris, Chuck Keen, Dennis Basso, Don Joseph and chairman Jim Patterson.

Saline went on to defeat Ypsilanti, 6-5, and advance to the final game against the Ann Arbor Team No. 1. Saline won the championship by defeating Ann Arbor, 23-3.

The Saline team will represent District 26 in the state tournament.

New Teachers

Plates Will Shine

Little more than a month from now, Michigan passenger car owners will begin placing reflectorized plates on their vehicles for the first time in history.

The state's 1970 plates, which go on sale on Nov. 1 for passenger cars, will be treated for the first time with a material which reflects light when a light is shined on it.

The reflectorized plates were adopted earlier this year after the lawmakers became convinced they would be a significant safety factor and would aid law enforcement officers.

The plates are visible from half a mile away at night when the high beams of a car are shining on them. One result of this, in states where the plates are now in use, has been a cutback in the number of rear-end collisions at night.

In North Carolina, rear-end collisions were reduced by 48 percent the first year reflectorized plates were used. Similar results were obtained from studies in Maine, Minnesota and Iowa.

Law enforcement officials voice approval of the reflectorized plate.

In addition to the safety factor, they say the plates make it much easier to identify a car at night. Fully reflectorized plates can be read from three to five times the distance from which normal plates can be read, they say.

The use of reflectorized plates has become common in recent years throughout the United States, and Michigan is the 35th state to adopt them.

Actually, the legislature decided originally to use reflectorized plates back in 1959. However, the legislature at that time failed to appropriate enough money to pay for the added cost, and the plates were not reflectorized after an attorney general's opinion said they did not have to be if the money was not there.

No additional charge will come with the new plates, at least for the first year.

One reason for this is that motorists were charged an extra 35 cents a plate for their 1960 plates in anticipation that they would be reflectorized. This brought in a total $1,240,000 to the state treasury.

After the decision not to reflectorize the plates was made, motorists were given a 35-cent refund if they applied for it. However, $224,000 of the amount collected never was refunded and state officials say they have no record of where the money was deposited.

As a result, the lawmakers decided that it would be unfair to fee for the reflectorized plates at least for the first year, since they had paid for them once and never received them.

Schools Filled

Some 2.5 million students are enrolled in Michigan schools this year, according to the State Education Department.

That total includes all public elementary and secondary schools, community colleges, colleges and universities.

An additional 365,000 students attend private schools and colleges in the state.

The public school system total breaks down to 2,170,000 in public elementary and secondary schools, 200,000 students in four-year colleges and universities, and 100,000 students in community colleges. State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley says the total enrollment is 47,000 more than last year.

Polley says some 750,000 of the students ride buses to and from school each day and that he hopes drivers will keep this in mind when they take to the highways in the morning and afternoon when buses are on the highways.

"It would be difficult to focus too strongly on the need for safety under these circumstances," he said.

A dangerous situation arises every time a student steps onto or off of a bus and drivers who see a slow moving bus should automatically slow down themselves to be safe.

There were 854 school bus accidents in Michigan last year and most of them, 722, involved a collision with another vehicle.

Most of these, 554, involved only property damage, but a total of 552 persons were injured in the wrecks.

A total of 9,048 buses were in operation during this time, driving a total of 88 million miles. Across the nation, 280,000 school buses operated last year, driving nearly 2 billion miles and transporting 18 million students to and from school each day.

Jaycees Clear Brush Along School Walk-Ways

A path through the dense derbush in the way of crossing a vacant lot on the way to South Elementary has been cleared by the Jaycees. The children had been using grassed-in field near the Street subdivision as a short-cut. They feared that it was a hazard because of the dense derbush.

The Jaycees cut a 30-ft. path through the overgrowth in the work-bee using a tractor and brush hog. Any child now using the field as a walk-way may easily see in the event of the being molested. Chairman Proctor states that the Jaycees wish to prevent such incidents and request any citizen to call the Jaycees to assist in cleaning any area that is a potential danger spot.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle allowed Saturday night at the country store that the way this country is going is can't ever get the right amount like drinking licker. A fellow of licker in him to suit him, declared Ed, and he allus thinks he ain't got enuff until he gets too much. Once he gets too much, want on Ed, he figgers to ease off gradual by drinking more and more.

It looked to the fellers like Ed was going to speak in parables again, but Ed went on that he was talking about President Nixon's new Federalism and his new welfare plan. Ed, that said after elections last fall a Republican Administration was the onliest thing could save this country, went on talking like a man trying to eat his words without swallowing.

What most worried him, allowed Ed, is that the President practical said they ain't nothing for this country to do but hit the bottom and start over. If Mr. Nixon's family plan welfare ain't a man trying to drink himself sober, they ain't no cows in Texas, was Ed's words.

Furthermore, Ed said, he had spent some weeks mulling over New Federalism, and the best he can figger is that it goes the New Deal, the Fair Deal, the New Frontier, and the Great Society one better. For the first time in the history of giveaway in this country, allowed Ed, all a feller has to do to get took care of by the few working taxpayers left is prove he's pore. He don't have to be old, nor sick, nor crippled, nor nothing, jest pore.

If Congress goes along this the first solid proposition the Nixon Administration has come up with, said Ed, the cost of welfare will go up from $4.9 billion to $8.2 billion a year, and the number of folks on welfare will more than double to 22.5 million. And it would cost more to find jobs for them Mr. Nixon says he'll put to work. As for that dab of tax money he says he'll give back to the states, Ed was of a mind that won't be enuff to pay the states to do the paperwork to git it, much less all what they done with it. By the time Ed wound down, Clem Webster was grinning like a mule eating briars. Never in all the years of discussions, Clem said, had he herd Ed talk so hard about Mr. Lincoln's party. Furthermore, Clem, that has stood up for the Democrats under some mighty hard words from Ed, said Ed didn't even claim the Democrats got the country so messed up nobody can run it.

Anyhow, Mister Editor, Clem and Ed was agreed them 22.5 million is going to vote themselves family assistance, or whatever you want to call somep'n fer nothing as long as they got energy to go to the polls.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Chest Fund Benefits Many

Michigan United Fund distributes the remainder of the locally raised monies among as many as 88 health and welfare agencies. The broad scope of the beneficiaries include such services as the Michigan Diabetes Association, Michigan Heart Association, Michigan Epilepsy, Michigan Kidney Foundation, Michigan Multiple Sclerosis Society, United Cerebral Palsy, Leukemia Society and Leader Dogs for the Blind. These agencies have consolidated their fund-raising efforts into one unit, the United Fund. Thus Chelsea residents benefit by being able to donate to all with one contribution and not be continually solicited.

This year's Community Chest Board executives are Elmer Kiel, president; Homer Kuhl, vice-president; John Cook, treasurer; and Lyle Christwell, secretary. Members include Gerald Wenk, M. A. (Tony) Bowen, James Liebeck, Gerry Giffin, Mrs. E. S. Michaelson, Mrs. John Detting, Dr. Gene Miller, Mrs. Charles Popovich, Jr., and Fred Hoffman. Also included are L. D. Guinan, Gerald Grohner, Darwin Downer, Conrad Harner, Mrs. Dorothy Orthing, the Rev. Warner Siebert, Mrs. Jon Schaffner and Gary Albrecht.

CARD OF THANKS
The family of Roland Eder would like in this small way, to thank all our relatives, friends and neighbors for their many expressions of sympathy following the loss of our loved one. Words seem so inadequate at a time like this, but we do want everyone to know that all who helped at the house, all the food brought in, the flowers, prayers and other acts of kindness shown our family are deeply appreciated. Thank you to all who helped and who contributed for the lunch at the church and a special "thank you" to you, Rev. Kellin, to Dr. Fisher, the Chelsea Jaycees and the Staffan Funeral Home. God bless you all.
Mrs. Roland Eder,
Tim Jeff and Ricky
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Eder
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eder and family
Mr. and Mrs. Dan Eder
Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bradbury and family.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank my friends and relatives for their many cards, calls, food and flowers that were sent while and after I was a patient at Mercy Hospital. I would also like to thank the Rev. Worgess for his visits. Everyone's kindness will never be forgotten.
Mrs. Blanche Mohrlock.

THANK YOU
Spaulding for Children Auxiliaries wishes to thank everyone who helped to make our ice cream social the success that it was. Also a big thanks to everyone who worked on the float and booth for the Chelsea Fair.
Spaulding for Children Aux. Mrs. Elmer Lindow, President.

THANK YOU
To friends and neighbors my sincere gratitude for their helping hand and numerous kindnesses in our recent bereavement. Special thanks to Olive Lodge No. 156 F&AM of Chelsea for the Masonic graveside services, and George Staffan for his assistance to the family.
Family of James L. Pichea.

If you never advertise, some people will never hear of you, or what you have to offer.

THANK YOU
To all our friends and neighbors: Thank you all for all your kindnesses and the many joys we shared living among you. We had to leave suddenly so there are many we did not say good bye to personally. So to all these and the wonderful people who saw us off, we say "God Bless You." We will be home in the summer for two months. See you then.

Council Briefs

At the regular session of the Village Council Sept. 16, trustees present were Miller, Gorton, Musbach, Fulk, Clark, Chandler and Clerk Harvey.

A discussion was held regarding parking at Chelsea High School during athletic events. It is the position of the council not to allow parking in areas posed "No Parking." The Police Department was instructed to enforce the parking.

Chief Meranuck reported that the traffic in the alley near Chelsea State Bank is still under investigation.

A representative from the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone was present and discussed possible means of finance for the sewer expansion program.

A motion was made and approved to call a moratorium on the extension of sewer service except on individual building sites fronting existing sewers until the sewer overloading is eliminated.

Fire Department activity report for the month of August was read.

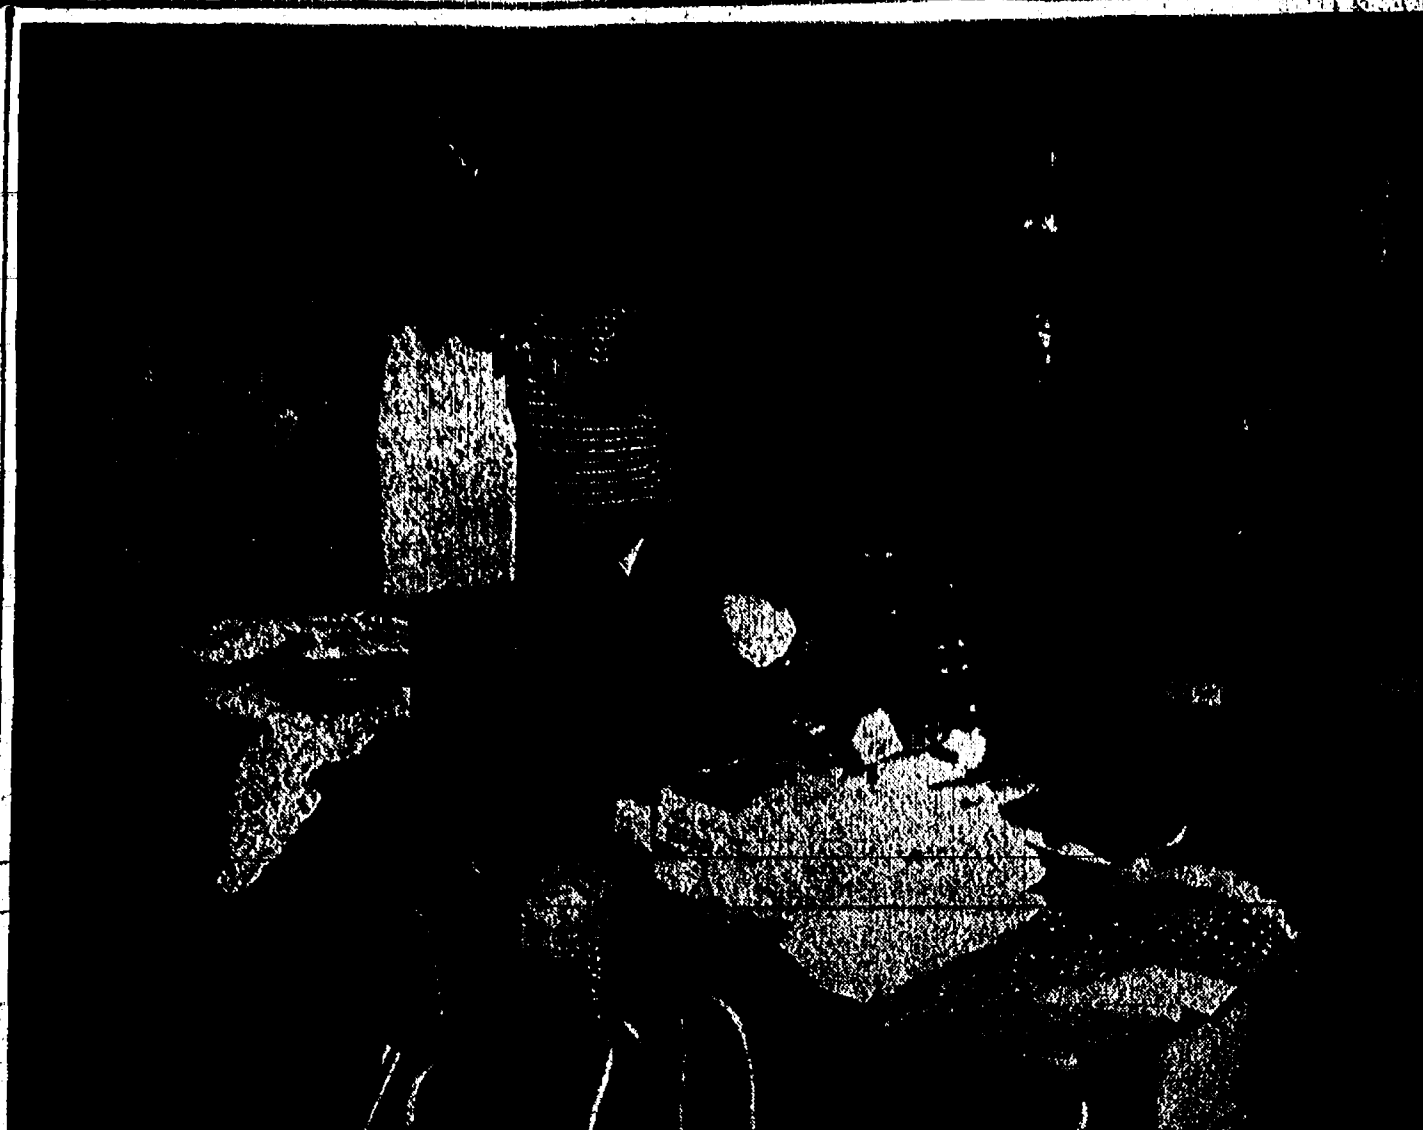

The council would like to publicly thank Boy Scout Troop 476 for their work on varnishing the park enclosure at Pierce Park.

A card was read from Homer Nixon thanking the council for his retirement banquet and gift.

A motion was made and approved to authorize and direct the clerk to issue checks in payment of bills as submitted.

AGRICULTURE
SECTION

Agriculture Angels
Agriculture programs in Michigan rural schools as students have projects for September in the classroom.

Agri-education teachers at agricultural school departments are geared for the school year. More than 100 of these vocational agri-education teachers are in part-time teaching youth about the biggest industry.

National agriculture teacher veteran of the program, Clark Bullen at Port Huron school. His classroom is decorated with pennants, blue trophies, and news clippings which reflect the achievements of his students.

Clark said proudly that by doing, that's our motto. He said proudly that he was quick to add that the programs of the Michigan are working to the same goal—educating youth to improve agriculture, help communities, help to build a solid life, responsible citizens.

Clark said proudly that many newspaper clippings in the classroom bulletin board "Angels of Agriculture" are all the men and women who are working to build a solid life of agriculture in youth, the farmers of America.

Primary Teacher Speaks About Nigeria
The Rev. Lyle Kohler, who has just returned from Nigeria, will be in the church on Sunday, Sept. 21, for a service. The Rev. Lyle Kohler's family have spent the past year in Jos, a city in the northern country of Nigeria. American Lutheran Church is the Seminary in Jos. The Rev. Kohler is instructing his students in the ministry. The Rev. Kohler teaches his students using their native language.

The Rev. Kohler has two children, a son and a daughter, who have been with him in Africa. Originally from Greenville, S.C., he will be three years for to hear the Rev. Kohler's Nigerian experience. He will be the Sunday school teacher at 9 a.m. class session and at the 10:15 Festival service. The Rev. Kohler will show slides and answer questions about his work. He is welcome to attend.

Council of Churches Sunday Observed County-wide

The Council of Churches Sunday observed by approximately 100 churches in Washtenaw County Sunday, Sept. 14, is sponsored by the Ann Arbor-Washtenaw Council of Churches which is an official for united services carried by the churches of most counties.

Observance will center on the distribution of a picture, setting forth the council to all workers at services this Sunday. Churches will carry in pictures and newsletters a message regarding the project.

The council is now in the implementing changes in structure and by-laws that will be a county-wide project.

Hitherto, it has focused attention more upon the Ann Arbor than upon the county outside the city area.

The council for the past 20 years has been under the leadership of Dr. G. Merrill. For 21 years supervised 42 persons for the Metropolitan Council. Dr. Leonard called for "a meaningful Sunday." He says, "such a service will draw us closer to our constituency and a understanding of our total and provide the spirit deeded for four vigorous serving as current president of the Council is Charles F. Barnard corporation, and a member leader in the Ann Arbor Congregational church of the board of directors over the county.

The council recently expanded by incorporating Ann Arbor Independent Housing, Inc., structure. AAIH is a prior effort in the endeavor housing for low-income. Plans are under way soon out on a project which will involve the construction of a substantial number of new units. President of AAIH is Frederick M. Remley, Jr., of the University of Michigan Television Center.

Another new aspect of the work is the employment of Donald Haugen, an experienced social worker, as social services co-ordinator. Haugen, assisted by three graduate students from the U. of M. School of Social Work, carries on a varied program. This department affords services to residents in Ann Arbor Independent Housing units, aids the community in filing emergency housing for distressed families, collects furniture for needy homes and relates in a vital way to many other needs of the most deprived and disadvantaged families in the area.

The council has a vast variety of activities in addition to those related above. It sponsors Skills Workshops which greatly enhance the competence of Christian education leaders, teachers, youth counselors and other church leaders.

Concerned about fostering sound interfaith relations, the council has conducted a series of Living Room Dialogues across racial and denominational lines in homes across the county.

The spirit of Christian Unity has been dramatized by united Good Friday and Baccalaureate services. Moreover the council has scheduled clergymen to conduct services at certain hospitals and homes in Washtenaw County.

The council provides audio-visual aids for local churches and distributes lists of such aids which the local churches are happy to share with each other. The council publishes, through the support of the Kiwanis clubs of the area, useful and much appreciated church location maps and a directory.

The council speaks at times on certain vital moral and social issues such as racial injustice, open housing, indecent literature, welfare problems, crime, poverty and

SUNDAY'S SERMON

About Growth

For many, there is satisfaction in placing a seed in the ground, with the tender care needed to produce something worthwhile.

Happiness, too, can come from a minute "seed." A kind word, properly planted, can bring forth fruits of joy to some hungry soul. A good deed, however small can spread with the winds and blossom, and magnify.

One smile can light up a hundred other faces.

Just as good seed planted in good soil will bear fruit, so will a seed sown upon the rocky ground. Such is the way of things. It follows that successful living becomes a matter of selective choosing. An individual who would reap the benefits of happy living chooses to live a life of value, chooses to do some good works today to insure that the fruits of tomorrow are equally good.

world peace. It makes clear that it does not presume to represent the viewpoints of every individual church member, but rather what seems to be the consensus of the denominations and churches affiliated with it.

This fall the council will again sponsor the county-wide UNICEF "Trick or Treat" project which provides funds for saving hundreds of children from starvation.

The council also facilitates Blue Cross coverage for the clergy and other church staff members by serving as collecting and bookkeeping agent for all the churches.

A working relationship is maintained with the Council of Church Women United in the many communities throughout the county as well as the Ministers' Associations in those communities. And the council serves as a continuing liaison between the churches and a score or more of key community agencies.

The council is supported by gifts from the budgets of its member churches supplemented by a growing number of voluntary contributions from individuals, corporations and other organizations.

First vice-president of the Council is the Rev. Charles Gensheimer; second vice-president, David Carlson; secretary, Mrs. Horace Dodge; and treasurer, Raymond D. Barstow.

Chairmen of the various departments are: Christian Education, the Rev. Cleo Y. Boyd; United Services, the Rev. Terry N. Smith; Administration and Finance, Nicholas J. Prakkien; church in Society, Gerald Rees and Mrs. F. K. Sparrow; and Strategy and Church Planning, the Rev. Charles Gensheimer; and Social Service, Dr. Harriet Geer.

President of Church Women United is Mrs. James Cockrell. President of the Ann Arbor Ministers' Association is the Rev. Roger Barney. Mrs. John Wilkinson is chairman of the nominating committee and the Rev. Burlin Main chairman of the membership committee.

Catholic Social Services Opens Office at Whitmore Lake

Catholic Social Services Washtenaw County announces the opening of a branch office at Whitmore Lake located at 9561 N. Main St. It will be staffed by two full-time caseworkers and will offer services in all programs of the agency: marriage counseling, child treatment, old age, housing, budgeting, school problems, personality problems, and unmarried pregnancy. Referrals for adoption or foster care will be made to the main office.

The new office will be open 9-5 Monday through Friday. A caseworker will continue to be in the Spencer School one day each week. It is envisioned that some groups will meet in the evenings.

On Sept. 18 from 2-5 p.m. an Open House will be held at the new branch office and the public is invited. Invitations are being sent by the volunteers to various business people in the community and to county officials.

Catholic Social Services Washtenaw County has had a caseworker in Whitmore Lake one day a week since September 1968. An office for interviews was provided by the superintendent of schools. After evaluating the needs of the community, the agency decided to offer increased service to the area. The United Fund of Ann Arbor made available funds to this agency in Whitmore Lake, to enlarge the scope of services to be offered to the community.

In April 1969, at the request of the agency, a former client invited women from the community to a coffee hour to hear about the agency and its desire to become active in Whitmore Lake. On April 30, 29 women came and heard what the agency could offer in services and to tell the agency what they saw as community needs. From this initial meeting an enthusiastic and energetic core of volunteers numbering 91, were recruited. The first requested program that followed two meetings with professional residents of Whitmore Lake, agency staff and professionals from county wide agencies, was for a recreation program for the summer. This was held from July 1 to Aug. 15, staffed by two people from the agency and 79 volunteers. 312 children enrolled and the average daily attendance was 100. Materials and equipment were recruited from the community by volunteers.

Since June 1, the Agency has had two caseworkers in the area and they have been working with 144 families to assist in problems of marriage, housing, troubled children, old age, children falling in school and unwed pregnancy.

As the work of the agency progressed in the community the workers found that they needed a permanent office where they could see clients in private. A suitable site was quickly found, but money for rent and utilities was lacking. The community agreed to help finance an office. The first donation was from the Women's Club of Whitmore Lake, and the second pledge was a monthly donation of $50 for one year from a local family. Teenagers are also having money-making projects. In view of this show of interest, the new branch office was rented.

Volunteers have rallied to the agency to furnish and decorate the new office. The desks, tables, and chairs are being painted by volunteers; the office has been completely repainted by a volunteer, and the draperies and curtains have also been made by volunteers. A "clean-up crew" scrubbed for three days.

Future plans call for the development of a well-baby clinic to be held in the office, development of licensed day care centers, and group meetings for young mothers.

SCIENCE TOPICS

BIRTH CONTROL PILLS give the blood a greenish tint, says a Stanford University pathologist. As a result, a doctor can get false readings that might imply the presence of a disease a patient or a blood donor does not have. Heretofore, green plasma in a unit of donated blood indicated a bacterial infection of the blood, and has meant that the blood could not be used in patients who need transfusions. But now green plasma "should no longer suggest solely the presence of a pseudomonas organism producing a green pigment," he said.

FLUORINE—one of the most reactive elements—forms compounds with all other elements, with the possible exception of the lighter rare gases.

Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County appears to have been accepted by the residents of Whitmore Lake with enthusiasm.

If you have the idea that electric heat is too rich for your blood, you'd be surprised at the number of average people who are putting it in their homes.

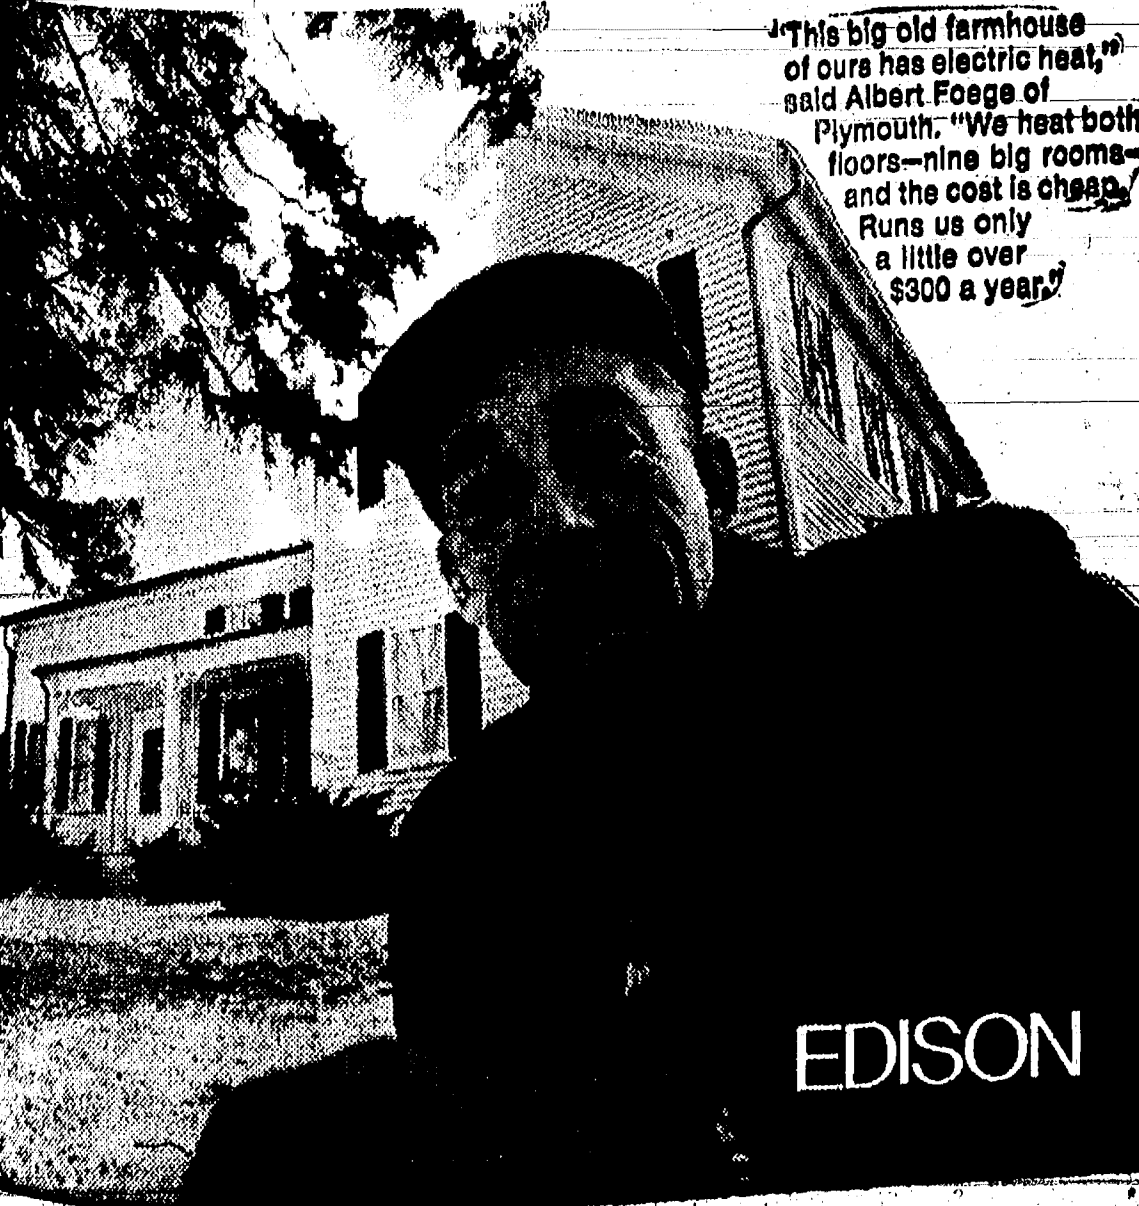

Their present homes. You'd find—just like they—a cleaner house than you've ever experienced. A quiet, even heat, completely worry-free. It's also more comfortable—never desert dry.

If you'd like a no-obligation estimate on installation and operating cost, call us for the name of an Edison Approved Electric Heat Contractor near you.

Don't wait for your next house to enjoy electric heat. You can afford it right now. Honest.

DREAM HOME YOUR HOUSE WITH ELECTRIC HEAT.

"This big old farmhouse of ours has electric heat," said Albert Fooge of Plymouth. "We heat both floors—nine big rooms—and the cost is cheap. Runs us only a little over $300 a year."

Grave of Tiger Catcher in Cobb's Era Finally Marked

Detroit—The grave of Charley Schmidt, made a Tiger catcher of the Ty Cobb era, will go unmarked no longer.

Thanks to John E. Fetzer, owner-president of the Tigers, a stone will be placed on Schmidt's burial site in the cemetery at Altus, Ark., where his remains have lain without identification since his death in 1932.

When he learned of the oversight, Fetzer investigated and ordered a simple stone to read: "Charles Schmidt, A Detroit Tiger 1906-1911," with the colorful catcher's birth and death dates.

It will be placed on the grave with an appropriate observance some time this autumn. George Kell, Tiger broadcaster who lives in Swifton, Ark.; the Rev. Lawrence Miller, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, Altus, Ark., where Schmidt is buried; and Earl Quigley, of Little Rock, an official of the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame, have been asked to handle the arrangements.

"Baseball must never forget the men of the early days who helped to make the game the great institution it has become," observed Fetzer, who 10 years ago placed a bronze plaque on a Tiger Stadium entrance to commemorate Ty Cobb's feats.

Schmidt was one of the most colorful players of a colorful era in baseball.

A muscular 6-foot-4 200-pounder, he was born Sept. 12, 1880 at London, Ark.; lived largely at nearby Coal Hill; died Nov. 14, 1932 at Clarksville, Ark.; and was buried at Altus. All are small communities in the coal mining area east of Fort Smith, Ark., and Schmidt was at times a worker in the coal mines.

Schmidt's physical feats have become baseball legends. He is credited with whipping the fiery Ty Cobb in two first fights, then winning the Georgia Peach's unending devotion by going to Cobb's rescue in a free-for-all.

He boxed with Jack Johnson, the heavyweight champion, in an exhibition.

As a catcher, he spurned the use of shin guards, protecting himself with two pairs of stockings. He often drove spikes into the floor of the Tiger clubhouse with his bare fists.

At a carnival he visited with a group of Tigers, Schmidt wrestled and pinned a live bear—which covered in a corner of the ring the following night when Schmidt came back for a return engagement.

Schmidt's troubles with Cobb started in 1906 spring training, during which Cobb continually goaded the rookie of whom Fred Lieb, the baseball historian, wrote: "They never will give Charley a niche in the Hall of Fame for his catching, but he was a horse for work and a fine competitor."

Schmidt held his temper at the start because of a possible trip back to the minors and because he realized his great strength could inflict serious injury on Cobb, a budding star, which Schmidt felt might even lead to a lynching.

Finally, after the Tigers crossed the Mason-Dixon line on their way home from spring training, Schmidt caught Cobb on the field one day and administered a thrashing. Schmidt admitted he was glad to be puffed off a winner when Cobb refused to cry enough. The whipping was repeated later in the Tiger clubhouse when Cobb reportedly stepped on Schmidt's outstretched hand with his spikes as Schmidt lay on the floor offering to lift two men—one on each hand.

Again, Cobb kept charging back for more until he was knocked unconscious. The rest of his teammates walked away and left him but Schmidt revived the Cobb and put him on his feet. Their friendship was sealed that battle and strengthened when Schmidt saved Cobb in a fight in Philadelphia later.

As for his baseball career, he caught 477 games for the Tigers in his 1906-11 career, including games in the 1907-08-09 Series. He had a lifetime average of .243 and was known to have sustained 28 fractures in his thumb and fingers during his career.

His brother, Walter, who caught with Pittsburgh and the Louisville of the National League, lives in California, and Mrs. C. A. Roth, lives in Rock.

Almost everyone is a fan by his or her definition.

JC Auxiliary Members Plan Fall Activities

Jaycee Auxiliary members met Tuesday, Sept. 16, at the home of Mrs. Fred Patterson. Guests present were Mrs. Dennis Basso, Mrs. Gale Rouse and Mrs. Jim Patterson. A final report was presented. Two members, Mrs. Tom Thaler and Mrs. Art Steinaway assisted at the blood bank held at the Federal Correctional Institute in Milan.

The Auxiliary voted to prepare the meal for the Jaycee meeting in October. Chair woman will be Mrs. Michael Eubanks.

The Fall meeting of the local district of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary slated for Sept. 24 in Ann Arbor was discussed. The State vice-president for District 22, Mrs. Art Steinaway, will be conducting the all-district meeting.

It was decided to sell Halloween candy to benefit the Kidney Foundation. In other business, Mrs. Robert Updegraff was made representative to Girl Scout Troop 59, which is sponsored by the Auxiliary.

The 90-day Wonder Woman award for the member who does the most work in the three-month period was presented to Mrs. Charles Koenn.

Two of the guests attending, joined the Auxiliary, Mrs. Basso and Mrs. Rouse.

The Auxiliary plans to assist the Jaycees with their chicken barbecue on Oct. 5. Mrs. Walter Brown is the chairwoman for this undertaking.

The next meeting will be a Halloween party on Oct. 21 at the home of Mrs. Eubanks.

Too Much Milk Can Lead To Infant Anemia

Although milk is a wonderful substance by itself, it does not alone supply all the essential nutrients. Sometimes new parents keep infants on "milk alone" for too long. A leading Pediatrician suggests that baby should be started on solid foods early: when the milk or formula intake reaches one quart; when the infant weighs 10-11 pounds, or baby is three months old. Your doctor will tell you when.

Other suggestions are to offer milk by cup at 5-6 months, encourage early self-feeding, avoid force feeding, and eating specific foods. For needed iron-enriched baby cereals, meat and eggs are the best sources and should be started as early as your physician directs.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Oesterle of 13855 Waterloo Rd.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. Ellen Kimbler and the late Mr. Kimbler of Ann Arbor.

The Rev. George T. Nevin performed the double-ring ceremony. The organist was Mrs. Kalmbach. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Eagles Club in Ann Arbor.

The bride wore a white, full-length gown of chantilly lace. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with one red rose.

Serving as maid of honor for the bride was Mrs. Linda Root of Ann Arbor. R. Robert Cox of Saline was best man for the bridegroom.

The maid of honor wore a yellow floor-length sleeveless dress with an empire waistline and an A-line skirt. Her chapel veil was of avacade green net. She carried a bouquet of green-tipped carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a brown and gold dress with a yellow and gold corsage.

The bride is employed by Gelman Instrument Co. of Ann Arbor. The bridegroom is an employee of the Ann Arbor Muffler Co.

The couple will make their home at 88 Buton Ave., Ann Arbor.

Business ethics will improve when the public applauds a man for not making profit his sole aim in all transactions.

TIPS for your TOP from

ODDY and FRANK

You'll forgive us, won't you, we use this space this week just a wee bit. You know Frank won the county competition among hairdressers the title of Miss Cosmetologist and, to tell the truth, he's pretty proud. Now, she's on for annual competition the state level. Competition does not only those points to a beauty operator is expected to be aware of: good timing from every angle—extraordinary assets too: reputation in activities and affairs, and personal matters that seldom reach the public eye, but are included in the news read at the competition. Frank's modest, and doesn't expect to go on to greater next month in Lansing, we don't care; we think she's done her share as Miss Cosmetologist already.

Vocational-Technical School Millage Vote Slated in June

The proposal for a vocational-technical school to be built for all Washtenaw County students will soon be given a second chance. The Intermediate School District, sponsors of the educational facility, are preparing for a June 8, 1970, one-mill election that they hope will raise the funds necessary to open the much-needed job school.

Nearly 90 county citizens from counseling and educational circles met for a two-hour "Community Leadership Conference on Vocational Education" last Thursday in Ann Arbor. Nick Ianni, superintendent of the Washtenaw Intermediate School District, spoke of the urgent need for a vocational school and discussed means to publicize the upcoming election.

Earl Shaffer, consultant for vocational education in the district, told the audience that voters may have turned down the financing of the school last December because they didn't know enough about the proposed educational program. The school district and the county superintendents hope to have the plans for a school well-illustrated by the next election.

The county-wide school is intended to fill the gap for high school students not planning to attend college or who cannot receive the proper training for their chosen occupation at a college. Charles S. Cameron, superintendent of Chelsea schools, notes that most high school programs are largely academically oriented. "Some students drop out of high school because there they can't find what they are interested in," said Cameron. "They won't be going on to college and are concerned with learning their chosen trade."

Local high schools attempt to meet these special needs by offering some classes in technical skills, such as automotive repair or clerical methods. But each school has found it difficult to satisfy the training needs. "As far as vocational education is concerned," said Cameron, "we don't have the facilities because they are too costly and too varied for us to offer a comprehensive program."

An all-county program would have the tax base and the organization to provide many specific kinds of skill-training. With students from all over attending the same school, classes could be offered in jobs for which there might be only one or two interested people in each individual school. In the long run, the cost to each individual school district would be reduced by using an all-county facility.

The vocational center would be attended by high school students on a half-day basis during the 11th and 12th grades. All other classes, as well as extra curricular activities, would be taken at the home school during the remainder of the day. Students would graduate and receive their diplomas from their own schools. In addition, some of the vocational facilities at individual schools might be continued as part of the all-county center. They could be much improved utilizing the additional funds and the coordination of teaching staff that an all-county program would provide.

The center might also be used for adult classes in the afternoon or evening that are not available elsewhere. During the summer months, the center could be used for adult classes, for high students who wish to acquire skills in addition to their college preparatory courses of study or for new students who wish to make up time on their vocational program.

Plans now call for the center to be located on the campus of Washtenaw Community College. It would be owned by the Intermediate School District and operated by WCC.

Vocational programs are expected to be offered if the school is established in the following areas: automotive mechanic, building and grounds maintenance, business machine repair and service, carpentry and millwork, commercial foods preparation and service, data processing, machine operation and drafting. Other courses would be electrical repair and maintenance, industrial machine repair and maintenance, industrial machine shop operation, retail sales and secretarial and office machine operation.

Other occupations that might be offered if there is enough money would be: auto body repair, cosmetology, farm equipment mechanics, horticulture and floriculture (vegetable and flower growing), electronics, medical-clinical assisting, nursing aide, pre-nursing, welding and printing.

Vocational programs for an entire county have been tried elsewhere with great success. Bucks county in Pennsylvania, Pottawamie county in Ohio and Jackson county in Michigan all operate a county branch, Calhoun, Genesee, Ingham, Kent, Lenawee and Oakland counties have passed millage issues and are planning to construct facilities for county-wide vocational programs.

Bonneville

(We take the fun of driving seriously.)

This is the way it's going to be. Pontiac's 70's

Surprised that Pontiac's setting the style for the umpteenth straight year? Of course not.

But you may be a bit dazzled to find out that Pontiac finally outdid Pontiac.

Take Bonneville. From the strong, new bumper grille to the standard 455 under the hood, it's a rouser.

Inside: instant limousine. So luxurious some of the traditional big boys are already screaming.

One of the nicest things we could have done for Grand Prix's luxury was to leave it alone. We did. But we popped in a 455 V-8 for you to order. (It's an old Pontiac proverb that luxury should have power.)

Enter LeMans Sport. A brand-new series in the Pontiac stable. Wait! Competition sees it pull the new 400-cubes-under-the-hood trick. We'll show you that one if you check the right box on the order form.

By now, you've spotted our '70 GTO. But maybe you haven't heard it. A sound so tough we've thrown modesty to the wind and dubbed GTO "The Humble."

This is Pontiac '70. And we figure this is the way driving's going to be. So why wait?

It's at your Pontiac dealer's now.
