Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

The fight to save the "Wabash Cannonball" waged so successfully by Sister Ann Joachim of Siena Heights College in Adrian, highlights the problems being faced by railroad passengers throughout the nation. Railroad after railroad has petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to discontinue passenger trains and on those trains which remain in operation, the service has deteriorated.

A decade ago there were nearly 1,500 inter-city passenger trains in operation around the nation. On July 1 of this year, only 513 remained in operation. Of trains have been discontinued since mid-1948 and more than 50 petitions are now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission asking for discontinuance of rail and passenger service.

The nation is rapidly facing a situation where the people will not have an opportunity to make a free choice of the means of transportation which would most suit their needs. Railway passenger service is fast disappearing from the scene.

It is clearly in the public interest for our national transportation service to be as modern, efficient, and varied as possible. Alternative means of travel should be available to citizens wishing to travel between cities and it should be a public policy to encourage the health and excellence of service in all forms of transportation—railway, air, bus and car.

The situation in the field of railroad transportation is becoming critical and it is clear that some affirmative action in the near future is necessary.

First, I believe, we must take steps to insure that the quality of existing rail transportation is not allowed to deteriorate. Far too often the passenger cars are dilapidated, dirty, and the heat and air conditioning "out of order." Trains tend to run late and there is evidence that freight trains are given precedence. Train depots are ill-kempt and service rarely comes with a smile. Many experts have accused the railroads of purposely downgrading passenger service in order to discontinue passenger service.

Five western states recently petitioned the ICC requesting that they compel the railroads to provide higher quality passenger service. The ICC examiner's report tended to substantiate the claim that no effort had been made by the railroads to maintain high quality service, but the ICC determined that it did not have legal authority to undertake compulsory action against the companies to require better service.

I have introduced legislation which would give the ICC that power. Through regulation and standard setting, the ICC would then be able to require that railroads improve and upgrade their passenger service to provide an alternative means to inter-city travel. This bill has been endorsed by the ICC and by more than 50 members of Congress.

Second, I believe we must review the public need for rail transportation and its relationship to government subsidies. Although railroads were the beneficiaries of the first subsidies in the form of land grants more than a century ago, there has been little direct government concern since that time. Airports are paid for by the government and their operation is directly subsidized. The highways over which buses and private transportation travel are built and maintained by the government. Perhaps it is time that we review the policies under which the building and maintenance of all rail facilities are solely the responsibility of the individual companies.

Railroad transportation does not need to be bad—as so impressively demonstrated by the modern, high-speed Metroliner between Washington and New York. The popularity of this up-to-date rail service provides evidence that railroads can profitably serve as an alternate means of transportation for the public. The Metroliner was developed in a co-operative effort between the Department of Transportation and the Pennsylvania Railroad. Perhaps further co-operative efforts of this nature around the nation are a partial answer to our transportation crisis.

Overweight is the nation's number one health problem. We live—and eat—in an age of plenty, where physical activity is limited. At each stage of the life cycle, persons need to learn and practice a way of life that will keep them within their ideal weight range.

Suspensions Confirmed

Most taxpayers may not realize it, but teachers salaries have risen faster than ever since teachers began organizing into unions four years ago.

Up until that time, salaries rose at a fairly consistent rate of $200 per year, or about 3.4 percent per year. But in the last four years the average rise in pay scales in the state has ranged from $600 to $700 per year, or 9.3 percent. Today, only the state of California pays its teachers better than Michigan.

And Detroit pays its teachers with bachelor's degrees more than any other large city in the country.

The change in the rate of increase was proven by a study completed recently by the Citizens Research Council in Michigan.

"The fact that the legalization of collective bargaining and the rising level in annual teacher salary increased were co-terminous can hardly be viewed as a coincidence," the council said.

"It must be assumed that there has been a causal relationship between collective bargaining and the surge in teacher salary levels," it concluded.

And, the council said, with teachers getting their way in the field of salaries, their organizers are turning their attentions to other areas.

"Even now, there is evidence that teacher organizations are becoming interested in negotiating other school policies such as class size," the council said.

And, it predicted, the issues could lead to stronger dissension between teachers and administrators.

Ed Doolittle and Clem Webster, that don't hardly ever see eye to eye on nothing, was full agreed October is gitting late to start trying to make sense of all them appropriation bills afore Christmas. It were Ed that said all them deep thinkers and do nothings has got the folks paying the frate wondering which way the frate train is headed.

When you got a Republican fer President and a Democratic majority in both houses, or viser verger, you got a situation about like a feller living in the same house with two ex-wives, was the way Ed put it. And on top of that, said Ed, we got the Republican President that ain't acting much like a Clem was agreed with Ed that two mules pulling in different directions have a hard time moving the wagon. Clem said about the only thing he could think of that has gone right for us lately is space trips. Clem said the cost of moon visits show that if we had of found that $23 billion a year we never had left over if the Vietnam war would end, we wouldn't have near as much trouble spending it as we thought.

Counting that money afore we had it is another way we worry about things that usual work theirselfs out, Clem said. He recollected back when he was a young feller, folks had jest three things to worry about, religion, starvation and the tariff. Nowadays, the Government feeds them that ain't got plenty to eat, religion don't seem so urgent on a full stomach and nobody ever heard of the tariff.

Bug Hookum told the fellers they still is a heap of things you can find to worry about in this country, if you put your mind to it, and you don't have to go to Washington fer 'em neither. Along about this time of year, Bug allowed, he allus like to do a little hunting. He said he allus worried about the game warden, cause he personal feels it is un-American to charge a feller fer hunting and fishing.

The discussion got out of hand after that, Mister Editor, and the fellers started worrying about such things as how lipstick won't stay on a gal's mouth and it won't come off a feller's shirt. Personal, I didn't take no part in that kind of worrying. My old lady says when a feller gits any-where he ain't nothing but a maintenance problem, and I have enuff worries, trying to keep body and soul together.

Open House Set at Waterloo Farm Museum

After a busy summer, the Waterloo Farm Museum on Waterloo Road in Jackson county. Thousands of guests have been greeted at the woodhouse door, drawn there by news of a small unpretentious restoration of an early Michigan farmhouse.

On Sunday, Oct. 12 from 5 p.m., friends of the museum will gather from all over Michigan and northern Ohio to celebrate another successful season. The museum is "put to bed" for the winter. A short distance away at Meyer and Terrell Roads, the Dewey School Museum will also be open.

At the farm, Mrs. Carl Harnery will have the brick oven fired up and will be baking old-fashioned molasses cookies in the afternoon.

There is always a display of fine old quilts, and everyone is invited to bring their favorite. Music will be provided by the oldest organized band in Michigan, the Waterloo Band. The director, Will Parks, welcomes all musicians who would like to sit in.

Martin Hannevald will be demonstrating the uses of old tools. These tools will eventually be housed in a building new to the museum, the generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Barber from across the road.

Soap making will be in charge of Mrs. Harold Walz, and Mrs. Max Kalmbach will be canning chairs. Mrs. Homer Parks will churn butter, and Mrs. Pearl Marshall will guide the quilters.

Other crafts for the visitors to watch will be spinning, weaving and whittling, and also cornhusking.

Friends and members of the Waterloo Area Historical Society will be selling plants, baked goods, garden produce, and needlework. Mrs. Maxine Sweet will be in charge of these tables.

It has become a custom to serve doughnuts and cider and there will also be a lunch wagon on the grounds.

Proceeds of the day's neighborhood homecoming will be used this fall to restore the newly acquired carpentry and tool shed.

Young Men Convicted for Shining Deer

Four men attempting to shoot two fawns late Monday night were charged and apprehended by Don Boyer, area conservation officer.

Boyer had staked out the scene in response to a farmer's tip that someone had killed a doe and hauled her away last week. Blood patches and the two motherless fawns were evidence of the slaughter on the Northfield township farm near Jennings Rd.

Boyer spotted the hunters about 10:30 p.m. as they shined a light around the area looking for targets. They fired one shot before Boyer's pursuit caused them to return to their car and speed away.

Boyer apprehended the men after a brief but furious chase and found one shotgun hidden under a car seat. Several shells were found along the road where the hunters had discarded them as they fled. The men were taken to the Washtenaw county jail for the night.

Boyer said that he searched the area of the shooting and found the empty shell but could see no evidence of the fawn being injured. "I saw the animal flinch when the shot rang out," said Boyer, "but she may have been merely grazed."

The four were arraigned before Judge Conlin in District Court in Saline Tuesday. Emmet R. Courdway, 22, 8041 Dexter-Pinekey Rd., Danny K. Hausner, 20, same address, Donald K. Jones, 19, of Hamburg, and Gerald R. Dean, 18, also of Hamburg, pleaded guilty to hunting or attempting to kill deer out-of-season.

A fine and cost of $75 was set for each man, with a mandatory three-day jail sentence. An option to the fine is a sentence of seven days in jail. The four also had their privileges to apply for a hunting license revoked for one year. The men will be allowed to serve the jail sentence on weekends to avoid conflict with their jobs.

The 1969 deer season does not open until Nov. 15 and lasts for 15 days. State conservation and criminal law prohibit killing any deer outside of this time limit. In order to protect wildlife, any shooting or hunting activity should be reported to the local conservation officer at 479-5381, or the Washtenaw county sheriff.

Easter Lilies In Full Bloom

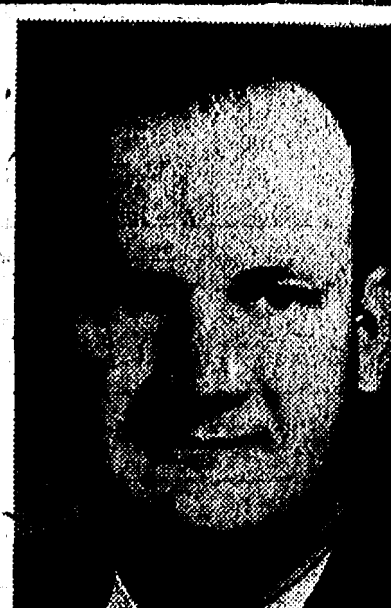

Are Michigan winters getting shorter? Non-existent, in fact? One might think so after a glance in the backyard of Mrs. Warner Siebert at 134 E. Summit. The sight and smell of Easter lilies in the air from three graceful lilies that bloomed this week.

Explanation for their out-of-season appearance seems unfathomable. "My husband (the Rev. Warner Siebert) keeps chopping them up when he mows the lawn," she said. "Maybe they got so upset they bloomed in protest." Something (the moon shot, maybe?) has apparently altered the life cycle of several local plants. Last month, as pictured in The Standard, Marvin Schiller found his "Easter" lilies sporting fragrant flowers. Instead of a reaction to our tampering with the moon, perhaps the blooms portend an earthly event.

The moon has 300,000 craters with diameters larger than one kilometer.

Two Chelsea Men Awarded Prized CLU Designation

Two Chelsea men have been awarded the Chartered Life Underwriter designation of the American College of Life Underwriters. Gary A. Albrecht of the Home Life Insurance Co. and Wallace C. Wood of the State Farm Insurance Co. received the CLU award Sept. 26.

The American College of Life Underwriters grants the CLU designation to those who pass a series of professional examinations and meet the experience and ethical requirements of the College. This year 2,000 men and women will be awarded the designation, bringing to 21,454 the number of people who have received it since the College was founded in 1927.

Albrecht began his life insurance career as a field underwriter with Home Life in 1964. A Life and Qualifying Member of the industry's Million Dollar Round Table, he qualified as a member of that organization once again in 1969. A repeat winner of the industry's National Quality Award for dedicated service to clients, Albrecht is vice-president of the Washtenaw County Life Underwriters Association. He resides with his wife and five children at 13589 Waterloo Rd.

Wood has represented State Farm since 1947 and consistently ranks among the top 500 of their 10,000-man agency force. He and his wife attended the National Conference Exercises of the College in Washington, D. C., to receive his award Friday night. They left after the exercises on a short trip through the East. Mr. and Mrs. Wood live at 620 Flanders.

The CLU program was established to meet the professional educational needs of men and women who provide life and health insurance service for the public. The courses cover such areas as: fundamentals of life and health insurance; group insurance, health insurance and pensions; law, trusts and taxation; economics and finance; and business insurance and estate planning.

The typical candidate for the CLU designation enrolls in a special study class at a college or university and spends four to five years in the program. Locally, classes are taught at Wayne State University in Detroit. Persons who attain the Chartered Life Underwriter designation are privileged to use the term or its abbreviation (CLU) after their name and to wear the CLU key. They are also eligible to become members of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, a professional body whose principal objective is to maintain high standards of insurance service to the public.

A caller Wednesday of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Kern was Miss Doris Schumacher of Minneapolis, Minn., who was the houseguest of Mrs. Edward Keusch for a week, leaving Thursday to return home. Sunday callers at the Kern home were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hammond of Oxford, Miss.

The first permanent settler in Chicago was a Negro, Jean Baptiste Pointe DuSable.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the week of Oct. 5-11 is being observed as National Pharmacy Week under the auspices of the American Pharmaceutical Association, the national professional society of pharmacists, and the pharmacists of Chelsea.

WHEREAS, pharmacists are the lawful custodians and dispensers of our community's drug supplies; and

WHEREAS, pharmacists are educated and experienced in the dangers of the misuse and abuse of drugs as well as the proper and safe use of these powerful agents;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, H. L. Pennington, President of the Village of Chelsea, Mich., do hereby proclaim the week of Oct. 5-11, 1969, as National Pharmacy Week in our community. I urge our citizens to consult with our pharmacists this week for drug abuse information and advice.

Monthly News

OCTOBER 1969

PHARMACY WEEK IS OCT. 5-11

Once a year, we as pharmacists rededicate ourselves to the principles of community health service and to the code of ethics of Pharmacy. This states, "The pharmacy holds the health and safety of his patrons to be of first consideration."

GOOD HEALTH IS PRICELESS

At this time we urge you, our friends and customers, to be totally aware of preserving and improving your health. We suggest that you seek the protection now available with immunizations and vaccinations for yourself and your family.

FOLLOW A GOOD HEALTH PLAN

Select a family physician and dentist before you need one urgently. Know about local emergency services. Teach your family the habits of health and avoid throwing away money on quick cures.

INSURE AGAINST PROBLEMS

Obtain the proper kind of health insurance for your family's needs and use it wisely. Budget for medical bills and periodic examinations.

WE WILL DO OUR PART

We promise that we will always make every effort to have on hand a complete stock of medicines and health aids and that we will get new drugs as soon as they are released for public use.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 58—

Girl Scout Troop 58 met Friday. The Mod Squad opened with the flag ceremony and led the troop in the Pledge of Allegiance. "My Country 'tis of Thee," and the Girl Scout Promise.

The Stars had a game for us to play so we played 4-up. The patrol leaders received their leader cards to wear so that everyone would know they are leaders.

Permission slips were taken home so the troop members could go to the Fairgrounds Saturday, Oct. 4. All the Girl Scouts in Troop 58 are to meet at the Fairgrounds at 9:30 a.m.

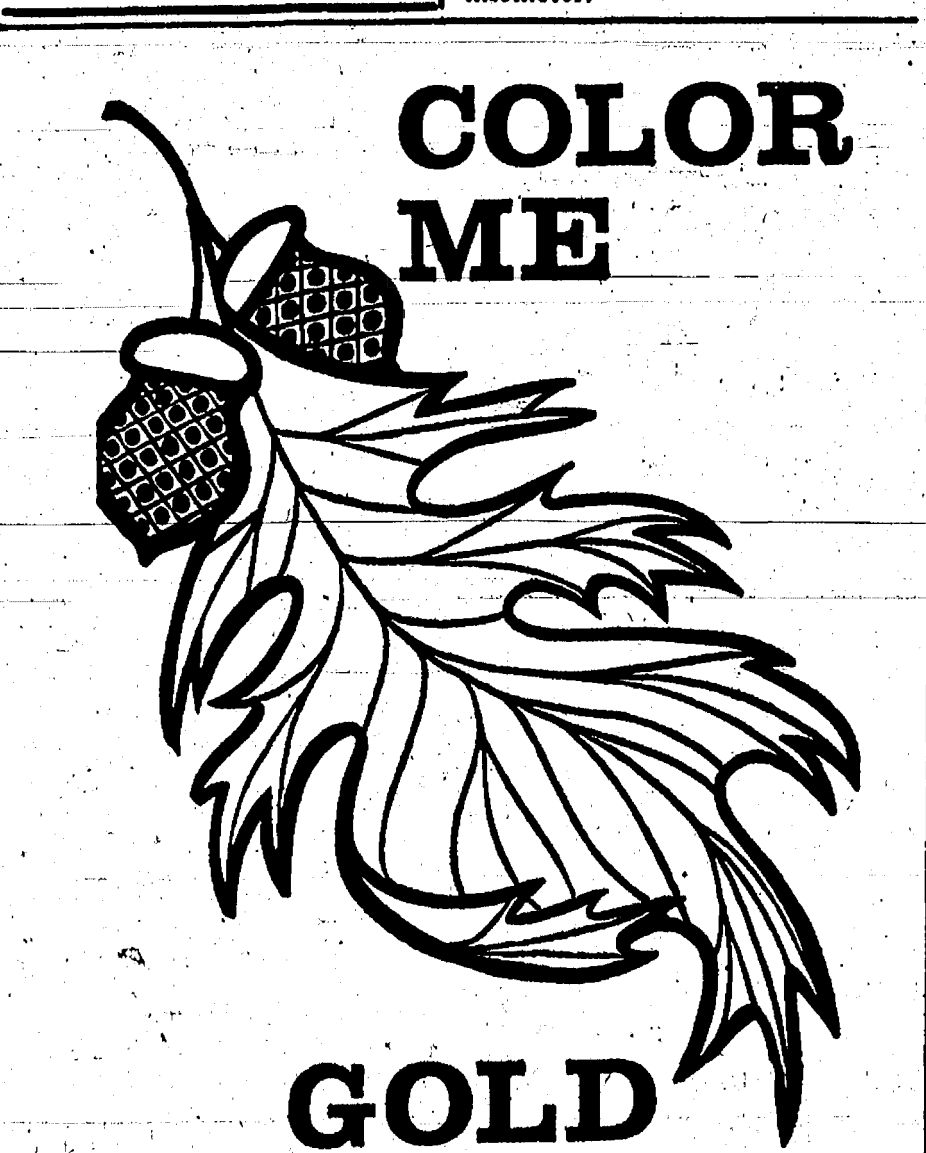

The Arrow Patrol had the closing ceremony. We sang the Indian "Taps."

Dora Alexander, scribe.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Kern and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hall for almost a week were their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. William Rossing of Houston, Tex. They left Wednesday morning to visit relatives in Connecticut before returning to Texas.

Firemen Called Four Times in Last Two Days

The Chelsea Fire Department was hit with a busy Tuesday and Wednesday as four fires sent their trucks around the country.

A wagon-load of straw next to a barn on the Floyd Balmer farm at 16810 Roe Rd., was set ablaze Tuesday afternoon. The firefighters quelled the inferno before the straw and wagon were total losses, with some damage to the tractor. A passer-by warned Balmer of the fire, although its source is unknown.

Tuesday evening a small grass fire along I-94 west of Chelsea was quickly extinguished. A similar fire east of the village sent the trucks out Wednesday noon. Such fires are usually started by careless motorists who litter the highway with glowing cigarette butts.

The Fire Department answered another emergency call Wednesday afternoon from Waterloo. A home owned by Mrs. Hess on Gorton St. was damaged by a fire ignited from a hot water heater. The floor was slightly damaged.

Traffic Control...

Another concern expressed in the council letter is the present M-52 speed limit north of Letts Creek of 45 and 55 miles per hour. The Police Department as well as the council wants the speed reduced to compensate for the increasing amount of pedestrian and bicycle traffic in the area. The area is residential and expanding, with many side streets leading directly onto M-52.

The Council letter adds to the concern already expressed by Chelsea officials about the future of M-52. Last week, Dr. Joseph V. Fisher, chairman of the Village Planning Commission, directed a letter to the planning division of the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments inquiring about their plans for an M-52 bypass.

The House That Farmers Built

Years of progress and development was marked at the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation at the Hotel in downtown Chicago last month. The foundation of the largest farmers organization in the nation was laid in 1919 when the National Farm Bureau was organized. It was during World War I while the country was mobilizing food production for the war effort. Later the Farm Bureau organized the American Farm Bureau Federation to tackle national farm problems. It is the "house" that farmers have built.

The co-operative effort of the "grass roots" level which is the AFBF and which has all state and county Farm Bureaus for five decades. Four out of every five who belong to a farm organization are Farm Bureau members. Nearly 1,800,000 members in 49 states and Puerto Rico make up the AFBF. The presentation of a plaque at the hotel, commemorating the "Golden Anniversary" of AFBF, President Charles H. Johnson challenged all farmers to the trials the next 50 years will present. The solid years of action for the farmer already stands by as the next 50 years will be a time of more progressive change in the world of the farmer. The present progressive change of farmers is forging a new future.

The future lays ahead it is the vision of past leaders who made such a bright future for the farmer. The AFBF is the Mon-like our past AFBF leaders. James R. Howard, 1922-1923, Oscar E. Bradfute, 1923-1924, Sam H. Thompson, 1924-1925, Edward A. O'Neal, 1925-1926, Allan B. Kline, 1926-1927. Farmers are less in each year, but it only adds importance of each individual farmer and his responsibility to feed a bursting population world today.

Salesmanship must be for he only joined the last month. He is employed at Dana and finds time to practice salesmanship after hours. Rummage, Bake Sales Will Help Expand 4-H Center

Washtenaw county people have an opportunity to help train young people in citizenship roles for tomorrow. It can be done through an expanded program of the National 4-H Center in our nation's capital. The 4-H Center is a private, non-profit corporation formed by the Co-operative Extension Service in 1948 and operates on behalf of 4-H programs throughout the nation.

Plans are to increase the facilities to handle 800 young people at a time and this will permit Michigan to increase the number of young people we can send to the Center for citizenship training. Washtenaw County Extension Agent, Mrs. Carolyn Little, said, "While the total needed for the expansion program is $8 million, Michigan has a quota of only $75,000 for expanding the 4-H Center. Washtenaw county has a goal of $1,473."

A "Treasure-Traffic" Auction, Rummage Sale, and Bake Sale will be held Oct. 18, to help get the expansion drive underway. The events will begin at 10 a.m. at the Rural Activities Center on Saline Ann Arbor Rd.

Plan Early for Christmas Packages Going Overseas

Are you beginning to wonder about filling that Christmas package to a serviceman overseas and when to mail it?

Home-baked goodies, snapshots of family and friends and taped voices are among the gifts he'll most enjoy finding in his parcel post stocking.

American Red Cross staff working with U. S. forces in Vietnam and other overseas military installations report these are the most meaningful gifts which usually bring back warm memories of fun and family holidays.

Other items suggested by Red Cross as preferred by service personnel include: paperback books, current issues of sports and automobile magazines; wash cloths; soap bars on ropes; wash and dry towels; pocket calendars; and plastic picture and identification holders.

There is also a real necessity for ballpoint pens with caps, stationery and self-sealing envelopes. Almost as important as its contents, are the way the gifts are packaged and when they are mailed. Two excellent and practical packing methods utilize hometown newspapers to reinforce boxes, thus providing local reading matter for the serviceman, and mounds of un-buttered popcorn, which keep the small items intact. Another idea is to slip in a pocket-size Christmas tree or unbreakable ornaments with whatever is sent to bring additional yuletide cheer.

Fruitcakes, cookies and brownies are favorite choices but these perishable items must be wrapped individually and packages in metal airtight containers. However, because of mail delivery it is recommended that perishable items be kept to a minimum.

Hard candies, nuts and chocolate in vacuum-packed containers are allowable. However, candy individually wrapped or not tends to get gooey. Small items such as chewing gum and bubble gum help fill up corners created when packing cans and other items of irregular shape, and are a pleasant surprise to the receiver.

Snack items such as party crackers, smoked oysters and canned tuna or chicken are high on the list of favorites. All items should be in tins and don't forget a small can opener.

Gifts of clothing should be selected carefully, and usually on specific request, with the military location and climate in mind. In some areas, heavy work socks may be used, and sweaters and sport shirts are appreciated for off duty leave when civilian clothes are allowed to be worn.

Suggested mailing deadlines for surface and air travel released by the U. S. Post Office include: PAL (Parcel Airlift)—PAL mailing costs the regular parcel post rate to the APO or FPO departure point plus $1.00 for air service from your city to the overseas base. Packages are accepted up to 30 pounds in weight and 60 inches in combined length and girth. Mailing is from Oct. 28 to Nov. 30.

SAM (Space Available Mail)—SAM mailing parcel post rate to APO or FPO departure points is the only fee. SAM parcels may be up to five pounds in weight and 80 inches in combined length and girth. Packages are airlifted overseas from the APO or FPO departure point. Mailing is from Oct. 21 to Nov. 23.

Air Parcel Post—For small package mailing, Air Parcel Post should be considered. On parcels weighing two pounds or under, airmail postage should be used and packages mailed Nov. 30 to Dec. 11.

The American Red Cross will send Christmas gift bags prepared by Chapters throughout the U.S. to all servicemen and women in South Vietnam. The "ditty bags" contain games, nail clippers, soap dishes, plastic cigarette holders, combs and similar items.

Investment Seminar Set Next Week

If you have received a "hot tip" on the stock and securities market from a friend, now you will have an opportunity to check it out with the experts.

Wallace Ollila, director of Continuing Education at Jackson Community College, has announced an evening workshop will be conducted at John George Hall from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Oct. 6 and Oct. 8.

The program planned for Oct. 6 is "A Professional Security Analyst's View to the Selection or Rejection of an Industry or Company." This first presentation in the workshop will be made by Steve Hill, a chartered financial analyst who is vice-president and treasurer of the Securities Council, a Jackson based securities firm. Hill plans on reviewing specific industry through student participation.

Harold Schrader, nationally known economist, will conduct the Oct. 8 session entitled "An Atmosphere To Invest in: the Economy and Current Outlook of Individual Industries." Schrader is president of one of the oldest Mutual Fund companies in New York City and is a former Jacksonian. His slide and lecture presentation will be followed by a question and answer period.

Enrollment in the Investment Seminar will be limited to 80 persons. Those interested should contact Wallace Ollila, director of Continuing Education, John George Hall, 512 Wildwood Ave., Jackson.

Volunteer Classes Will Start Oct 13 at St. Joseph Hospital

In some ways, electric heat is better than warm summer sunshine. For one thing, it's even the year around. And it stays that way during weather changes. Also, with electric heat, drafts and cold floors become a thing of the past. With flameless electric heat, you'll never wake up in the morning feeling dried out.

You even get an operating cost guarantee. In writing. If you'd like a free estimate of installation and operating cost, we'll arrange for an Edison Approved Electric Heat Contractor to call on you. Naturally, there's no obligation.

Convert to electric heat. Winter will never be the same.

DREAM HOME YOUR HOUSE WITH ELECTRIC HEAT

EDISON

"Electric heat is like having warm summer sunshine inside your home," said Mrs. Noah Cooksman of Troy.

50 YEARS AGO AND NOW: Mr. and Mrs. August Dorer prove with these portraits that good things don't necessarily come to an end. The first picture portrays them as newlyweds in 1919, while the other shows the couple as they prepared for their golden wedding anniversary on Oct. 1.

Jaycee Auxiliary Members Attend District Meet

District 22 of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary met Sept. 24 in Ann Arbor. The annual Fall meeting was sponsored by the Ann Arbor Jaycees Auxiliary.

Members were welcomed by Kay Forsythe, president of the Ann Arbor chapter. Mrs. Charles Vasold, president of the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary, and Joyce Hamilton, vice-president, were guests. Ann Steinhaw of Chelsea conducted the meeting.

The central item of business was allotment of funds raised by the projects to be run by the local Auxiliaries. After much discussion, it was decided to donate one-half of the proceeds to the Michigan Placement Fund, one-fourth to Spaulding for Children and the balance to Ypsilanti State Hospital.

Various workshops were conducted following the business meeting. The travel trophy, for the most members times distance traveled, was won by the Hudson Auxiliary. The outstanding member for last year from each chapter was awarded a certificate, with Mrs. Robert Updegraff being named for Chelsea.

All chapters in the district, including Adrian, Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Saline, Ypsilanti, Hudson, Monroe, Tecumseh, and Milan, were represented at the meeting. A space exploration theme was carried out with table decorations of rocket ships and models of the lunar landing.

If I switch from oil heat to gas,
I'll get cleaner heat.
Right?
Wrong.

The old wives' tale that oil heat is dirtier than gas is totally untrue. They're equally clean. Chemical analysis shows it's cooking fats, tobacco smoke and airborne dust that cause dirt, not heating. Any way you figure it, switching from oil heat to gas won't make your heat more modern. Today's fuels give equally modern heat. For service and equipment as modern, or more so, than gas, change to Standard Oil Hot Line Service. Save those hundreds of dollars you can spend on converting and get something you really want. Before you decide anything, get the facts from Hot Line.

Registrations Now Taken For PP&K

Time is running out for Chelsea area boys to register in the Punt, Pass and Kick Competition, Oct. 11. This annual competition, now in its ninth year, is open to boys aged 8 through 13. They will be competing for 18 all-metal trophies to be awarded during the local event which is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Palmer Motor Sales. Registration and entries will be accepted through Oct. 10 at Palmer Motor Sales, 222 S. Main. A parent or guardian must accompany the entrant. The entire competition is absolutely free. There is no body contact in PP&K events and all equipment such as foot balls and kicking tees are provided.

Every boy who registers will receive a free Punt, Pass & Kick Tips booklet which features stories and competition tips from NFL STARS Don Meredith and Mike Clark of the Dallas Cowboys and Billy Lothridge of the Atlanta Falcons. The booklet also features Don Shula, the coach of the Baltimore Colts, and includes physical fitness exercises for boys in the competition age group.

Everyone who participates in PP&K has an equal chance to win for he competes only against boys in his own age group. Points are awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, with points subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line.

The over-all competition is divided into six levels, local, zone, district, area, division and national. In the first level, the local events, gold trophies go to first place finishers, silver to second and bronze to third. The first-place winners then move up to zone competition.

Winners of zone competition will receive trophies and runners-up are awarded certificates. Zone winners move to district competition where 216 district champions will be awarded trophies and go on to compete for area championships at NFL stadiums.

Area champs travel to divisional competitions at NFL stadiums in Dallas or Detroit where 12 finalists are chosen; six from the NFL Eastern division and six from the NFL Western division. Winners are accompanied by both parents to all area competitions.

The 12 division winners go, with their parents, to the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., for the national finals during the annual NFL Play-Off Game. All 12 national finalists and their parents will then tour Cape Kennedy, the site of the historic Apollo moon shots, and the Air Space Museum.

Gridders of the Week

KARSTEN KARGEL, No. 82, is a 200-pound tackle who returns to the Varsity team as a letter-winner from last year. Kargel began his football career in ninth grade at Whitmore Lake. When his family moved to Chelsea in 1966, he joined the Junior Varsity football team. Kargel also wrestles and competes in the high jump for the track team. He plans to attend college when he graduates and perhaps study to be a coach. He lives at 14400 Island Lake Rd. with his father, Clarence Kargel, his mother, Delphine, and his brothers and sisters, Konnie, Karlene, Keith, Kenneth, Kevin, Kurt, Kent, Krista, and Katerril. He also has a sister, Mrs. Karen Kellihan, and a brother, Kerry, attending school in Grand Rapids.

JOHN PORTER, No. 79, is a 186-pound senior playing his third year of football. He received a letter last year as an end for the Varsity team and returns to take the position of tackle this season. He participates in the projects of the Seniors' Trip Club as well as writing for the school newspaper, "Bulldog Barks." Porter enjoys hunting and plans to reduce the duck population this fall with a little shotgun action. He moved with his family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Porter, from Dexter in 1964 to 2494 N. Lima Center Rd. He has one sister, Mrs. Ronald Lee.

Bulldogs Down Novi, 15-0 for Third Shut-Out

The Chelsea Bulldogs kept Novi from scoring in Friday night's game. The final score, 15-0, reflected the football team's strong defensive work.

Action in the opening quarter included a drive by Novi to the one-yard-line. The defenders had held them for three downs from the 10-yard-line and careful goal-line defense saved the possible score by Novi.

In the second quarter, Jim Wojcik passed two yards to Glen Wilkerson to score the first touchdown of the game. A kick for the extra point failed to reach the goal. A field goal kicked by Tim Orthing set the score at 6-0 at half-time.

The second half brought several fine maneuvers by the Bulldogs with two pass interceptions and two fumbles being recovered. The quarter ended without any plays completed for a touchdown.

GIANT SALMON

Chinooks, the giants of the salmon species, average 20 pounds. The biggest ever taken on sport tackle weighed 92 pounds, but a monster of 128½ pounds turned up in a trap near Petersburg, Alaska.

Any food that has a nutrient or group of vitamins and minerals added so that it contains more of the nutrient than in its natural state is referred to as a "fortified" food. Examples are milk fortified with vitamin D and margarine fortified with vitamin A.

The fourth quarter saw Keith Guster score the final touchdown on a 27-yard run. The try for an extra point failed. After the initial long drive, the Chelsea defense, particularly Dennis Brown, Norvel Menge, John Porter and Tom Lukasik, kept Novi outside the Chelsea 30-yard line. Coach Bareis felt the offense showed improvement, with linebackers Orthing, Wojcik, Larry Gorton and Jack McClellan helping the offense to pick up 230 yards in the game.

The team will meet Milan for the latter's homecoming game, Friday night at 7:30 p.m. on the Milan field.

A new product on the market is called No-Cal Shampoo. It's made especially for fat-heads.
