Basketball Games Open with Victories

Chelsea opened the 1969 basketball season Tuesday night in a victory over Novi on the home floor. The Varsity team downed the Bulldogs in the lead.

Chelsea jumped off to a lead and held it all night, scoring 15 to 6 for Novi at the end of the first quarter. Wojcik led Chelsea scoring with 6 points in the opening quarter.

In the second quarter, Chelsea outscored Novi 16-15 with Wojcik hitting 11 of the total. The first half ended with the Bulldogs in the lead.

In the third quarter Novi pushed to score 17 points to 12 for Chelsea and came within three of overtaking the Bulldogs. Chelsea kept the lead and the quarter ended with the score 38-29. Sweeney again led the Bulldogs with 6 points to the team's and Howard Treado led up the final quarter with 8 points, respectively, to Chelsea 15 to Novi's 11. The final horn sounded the score 58-49.

Jon Schaffner credits the team with saving the game for the defense. "It looked like the defense looked very good," he said. "It looked like the defense looked very good."

The defense looked very good, with many turnovers and poor shooting. But the Bulldogs had more three fouls called against them and they did well on free-throw shooting.

Although Novi team members bigger than the Bulldogs defense held Chelsea down.

Sweeney and Hoyard Treado rebounded each with Jeff making 12. The Chelsea Bulldogs 2-1 over Novi, said Schaffner.

Funeral services for U. S. Petty Officer Third Class Robert E. Kushmaul, Jr., who died Nov. 18 in Vietnam were held Saturday, Nov. 29 at the First United Methodist church. The Rev. Robert Worgess and the Rev. James Craig were the officiating clergymen. Military rites and weral followed in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Robert, a 1968 Chelsea High school graduate, had entered the service on Feb. 2, 1967. He was serving on a river boat on the Song HKAU Giang River, south of Saigon, at the time of his death. He had served in Vietnam since Feb. 6, 1968.

Born Aug. 9, 1948, he was a son of Robert and Maxine DeVerna Kushmaul. The family home is 1451 Guenther Rd. Surviving are his parents, a sister, Mrs. Richard (Grace) McCalla, and a brother, William, both at home maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hess of Grass Lake, paternal grandmother, Mrs. Grace Kushmaul of Grass Lake; several aunts, uncles and cousins. ## 3 Teen-Agers Shoot Up Reith Cottage

Three teen-age hunters were arrested by Conservation Officer Donley Boyer and a sheriff's deputies last Wednesday after they shot up the cottage owned by Leonard Reith.

Reith called the sheriff when he saw the three shooting in his cottage at 18233 W. North Territorial Rd. He chased the youths as they fled into the woods but was unable to catch them. Officer Boyer was with Deputy Wenk when the call arrived and the two sped to the scene.

Boyer and Norm Roeske, park manager for the Pinckney Recreation Area near the cottage, tracked the hunters through the woods and apprehended them.

Two of the hunters, Alan B. Butt, 18, of 1747 Wywood and Mical P. Root, 18, of 501 Berkeley, both of Ann Arbor, were cited by Boyer in District Court Monday for carrying and using illegal weapons during deer season. The two were carrying .22 caliber rifles. Judge Conlin postponed sentencing until Dec. 15 and referred them to the probation department. The 16-year-old who was apprehended was not charged with game law violation. Sentencing was postponed as the three are also being charged in connection with the shooting incident.

The three apparently told sheriff's men that they were "shooting at mice" when they pumped shells into the windows, furniture, Reith cottage. They shot the walls and china cupboards of two (Continued on page three)

Dr. G. Riethmiller Named to State Board of Education

Governor William G. Milliken Tuesday announced the appointment of Dr. Gorton Riethmiller, of Chelsea, president of Olivet College, to the State Board of Education.

Riethmiller, who has been Olivet College's president since 1957 and who retired Feb. 1, 1970, was named to the State Board of Education succeeding the late Dr. Leroy Augusten for a term expiring Jan. 1, 1975.

"Dr. Riethmiller possesses a wide range of experience in a variety of phases of education in Michigan and will be an immense asset to the State Board as it struggles with problems of Michigan education," the Governor said. "I am extremely pleased that a man of his very high caliber is assuming such an important position. His record of accomplishments speaks for itself and assures that he will bring to the position experience that stands many years not only in higher education but in secondary education as well."

Dr. Riethmiller has served as chairman of the Board of the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities of Michigan, president of the Michigan Association of Colleges and Universities, vice-chairman of the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority, and vice-chairman of the Study Plan for Higher Education in Michigan.

Dr. Riethmiller also has been chairman of Michigan Week Education Board and chairman of the Michigan Commission of Community College Development. He is a life member of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, a member of the Michigan Education Association, National Education Association, National Association for Higher Education, Michigan Association for Higher Education, the American Association of School Administrators, a member of the Economic Club of Detroit and Detroit Club, as well as being a member of Phi Delta Kappa and Pi Kappa Delta.

He has been the recipient of the Distinguished Alumnus Award from Wayne State University, the Distinguished Service Award of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, Man of the Year Award from the City of Olivet, recipient of the Michigan Minute Man Award, and the recipient of the Phi Delta Kappa Travel Award.

Dr. Riethmiller was a member of the Board of Trustees and a member of the Executive Committee of the Michigan College Foundation, Inc., chairman of the Educational Television Study Committee of the State Board of Education, and one of the seven prominent Michigan educators invited to attend the preview of the 1967 World Exhibition in Montreal.

Dr. Riethmiller maintains a home at 9938 Beaman Rd., Waterloo, where he and his wife spend most of their week-ends and summers.

Siren Operator Sees Firemen In Action ... at Her Own Home

Mrs. Faye Schiller answers the switchboard for the Chelsea Fire Department but had never seen the firefighters in action. Friday she got her chance.

Mrs. Schiller was downtown shopping when she heard the fire siren blow. Her son, Glen, had taken over her fire-call duty in her absence and she thought "why is he letting it blow so long? Someone rushed into the store she was in and said, 'Faye, it's your house that's on fire!'" But she didn't leave her house because the informant is "always joking around!" and she went on picking out her purchases. When she stepped out of the grocery's, however, her daughter, Barbara, was there to tell her that her house really was on fire.

No one was injured in the blaze which started in a closet. The lack of injury is extremely fortunate, for the blaze started next to the room where her grandson was supposed to be asleep in his crib. Her son-in-law, Bob LeMasters, was rocking the year-old baby to sleep and had intended to place him in his crib earlier but held him a little longer. Robert Paul's crib was in flames when LeMasters discovered the fire.

LeMasters also led Harley Hone, 84, to safety from upstairs where he was lying ill.

Mrs. Schiller's son, Glenn, controlled the fire with a fire extinguisher until the fire department arrived. Electric power lines leading to the fire siren were in danger of being burned by the flames, but the stone construction of the house kept them intact.

Contents of the closet and the rooms adjacent were completely destroyed and heat and smoke severely damaged much of the rest of the house. "It was a bad fire," said Chief Jim Gaken. "We don't know what caused it."

Mrs. Schiller said the firemen did an extremely excellent job of containing the blaze. If they had not been as prompt or as competent, the entire house would have been destroyed. The fire house is only a few doors away from the Schiller home at 403 W. Middle St.

The Fire Department also answered a call Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. from Camp Tamarack at Clear Lake. Contents of a large metal storage shed were completely destroyed.

The fire ruined a tractor and attachments, a snowmobile, tools, a chain saw and various other implements. Chief Gaken estimates the damage at more than $25,000 for the contents and about $5,000 for the shed.

A tank filled with 200 gallons of gasoline apparently tipped over in the shed and the gas burned on the floor rather than exploding. The fire might have been caused by an electrical short, said Chief Gaken.

Santa Planning Chelsea Visit For Saturday

Promises Gift for Youngsters Who Come for Visit With Him

Santa Claus has completed his plans for a visit to Chelsea Saturday. A red-nosed messenger from the North Pole brought notice yesterday that Mr. Claus expects to arrive at noon instead of at 10 a.m. A Chelsea fire truck will meet him at the sleighport and bring Santa into town to the Post Office.

Santa plans to stroll through various downtown stores for two hours, giving children a chance to visit with him while he passes out stockings stuffed with Christmas candy. Chelsea merchants and Jaycees are helping the holiday traveler with his plans for the area.

Mr. Claus will also visit Chelsea on the following Saturday, Dec. 13. He hopes to be in town by noon and visit the stores before settling down in the K. of C. Hall for chats with his fans. Children will be able to tell him their Christmas wishes and question him about his North Pole workshop from about 1 to 2 p.m. Although Mr. Claus expects to find time to visit Chelsea on the Saturday before Christmas eve, his plans for the Dec. 20 visit are not finished. He will hopefully notify The Standard in plenty of time to tell his friends where he may be greeted.

Deer Season Closes With No Local Injuries

The 1969 deer hunting season closed Sunday with breaks of relief and regret from area residents. Hunters were lamenting the end of a firearm season with good chances for a heavy kill, while farmers and land-owners were giving thanks that strangers would no longer tramp their fields or threaten their property, livestock and, in some cases, their lives.

The area was especially fortunate that no known injuries or deaths resulted from shooting accidents in the western part of Washtenaw county.

Now only arrows will have to be dodged, as bow season re-opens Monday until Dec. 31.

4 Gridders Gain All-State Recognition

Four Bulldog gridders were given honorable mention in the Class B 1969 All-State football team named Sunday by the Detroit News. Tim Colvia, co-captain of the Bulldogs and also a member of the Bulldogs team, was named tackle on the News team. Colvia played guard in his final year of football play at Chelsea.

Karsten Kargel, was named to the end position in the All-State listings. He played tackle for the Bulldogs and is also a senior. At center on the News roster is Len Kosma, a senior who played end for Chelsea. Larry Gorton, halfback for the Bulldogs, was chosen at his regular position for the All-State honor.

The red mail box for letters to Santa will be standing in front of the Post Office before the weekend is over, the Jaycees promise. The red drop-box will ensure speedy delivery of Christmas mail to Santa Claus at his northern workshop. Only letters to Mr. Claus should be dropped in the box, with all other mail put in the regular U. S. Mailbox.

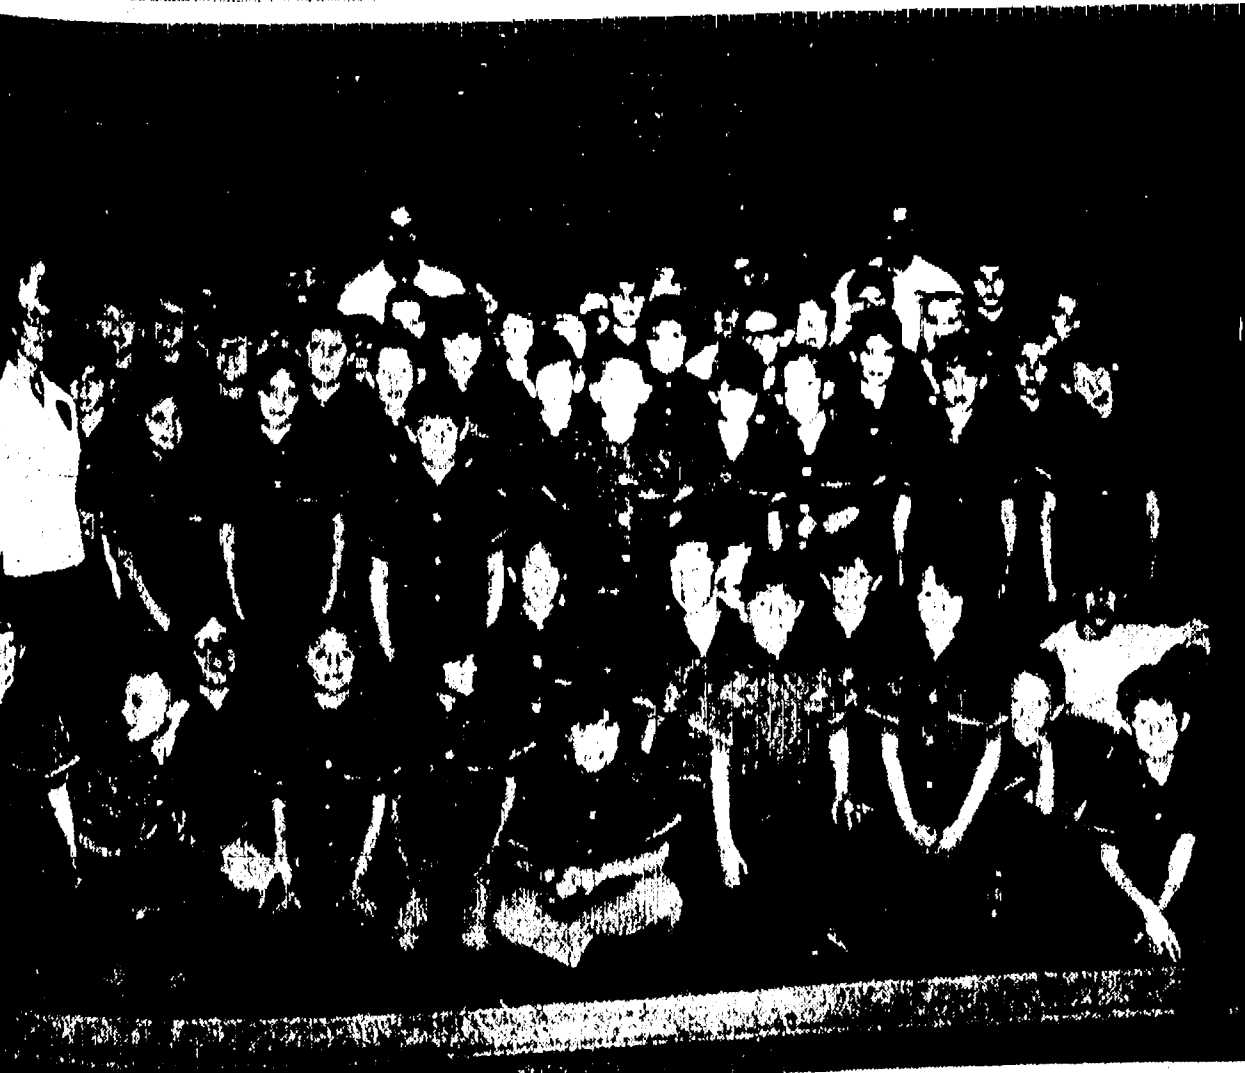

The Jaycees are planning another Yuletide surprise for Chelsea which will add to the Christmas wonderland look that is beginning to come over the downtown area. Village workmen have almost completed decorating the lamp posts with wreaths and red ornaments. On several posts, giant red-and-white candy canes might remind a child of stories of a far-away candy land.

The weatherman is helping foster the holiday spirit with a snowfall Wednesday that powdered the Christmas wreaths and decorated storefronts. Unfortunately the flakes are also making streets very slippery and motorists should take care as they rush about on their Christmas shopping.

Watch The Standard for notice of the home decorating contest which the Jaycees will be sponsoring this year. Final plans for the competition should be available soon.

Social Service Can Help You In Helping Others

Anyone may leave shoes, toys and clothing in good condition at the Service on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, 2 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Louis C. Rapp, director of the Social Service, will see that the articles are given to families in the Chelsea school district.

THE LANSING REPORT
GIL BURSLEY

During the past 10 days I have spent considerable time working with fellow legislators as part of a "negotiating group" requested by Governor Milliken. We have included Republicans and Democrats from both the Senate and House. Our object has been to arrive at an improvement and refinement of the Governor's proposed "education reform" package. We need improvements in our primary and secondary education systems and in the methods of financing them.

However, I must confess to considerable disagreement with the governor's original proposals. I think our mandate is to finance and reform public education, and I am very much opposed to his proposal. I voted against the School Aid Bill which narrowly passed the Senate and which included parochial aid. I also voted against the bill that would finance parochial aid by taking away the property tax credit which Michigan taxpayers receive against their state income tax. Although more money is needed for education next year that is not the route to follow.

I have introduced a substitute bill—now on the floor of the Senate—calling for replacement of the intermediate school districts with 10-20 "education service areas." My bill differs from the Governor's on this subject in that I propose to have these regional boards popularly elected and possessing real responsibility. The Governor's proposal is to have the state superintendent name the director and to have the regional board acting only in a weak advisory capacity. It is important that this intermediate level provide improved educational services. I think my bill (S.B. 1055) provides this and at the same time takes operational control of the local school districts. You can readily understand that the many bills in this educational program are both complicated and interrelated. I feel much time

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Kelley Wants Out

An untold number of politicians over the years have tried unsuccessfully to be Governor of Michigan. And for every one who tried, there were scores more who never got to the point of trying but would have loved to have the chance.

For example, a state senator once said every man who is elected to the legislature has dreams of occupying the Governor's chair.

Thus, it's more than a little unusual that one of the Democratic Party's most attractive vote pullers, Attorney General Frank Kelley, is avoiding the governorship like it were the plague.

The reason is that Frank Kelley wants to be a member of the U. S. Senate.

Since he is a Democrat he can't challenge Philip Hart, who is up for re-election in 1970. As a result, his only chance is to take on Robert Griffin in 1972.

And he couldn't do that if he were elected Governor in 1970. Neither would his chances be as good if he ran against incumbent Gov. William G. Milliken and lost.

So, Kelly is running hard in an attempt to convince the Democratic hierarchy that he shouldn't be thrown at Milliken. He is arguing that he should run for re-election as Attorney General, an almost sure thing, and build a bigger base to defeat Griffin in 1972.

An aide once said Kelley wants to be Governor so little that he'd rather have cancer than be Governor.

The Attorney General seems to be confirming this prognosis these days as he travels around the state convincing Democrats he shouldn't be thrown against Milliken.

"One of our problems is the fact party leaders might feel Frank owes it to the party to take on Milliken," said an aide recently. "The polls show Frank is about the only one with a chance to beat the Governor."

One of the less ballyhooed parts of Kelley's argument, one which he himself says little about, is the feeling that Milliken is unbeatable.

"How can a Democrat run against that guy?" said a party official recently. "He's got more opposition to his programs within his own party than he does in the Democratic Party."

Ironically, Kelley's decision may be made for him by a Republican, former Gov. George Romney.

If Romney were to decide to run for Hart's seat, the Democrats would need all the strength at the top of the ticket they could get to ward off the Romney-Milliken combination.

If Romney doesn't run, the party may feel more like putting up a sacrificial lamb against Milliken while the Republicans do the same against Hart.

Capitol observers have been giving more serious consideration lately to the possibility Romney might run, and some pundits are saying flatly he will.

It will be several months, of course, before the answer is known. The Republicans have agreed to pick up "consensus" candidates to spare themselves a splintering primary fight, and current speculation is that the choice will be made at the end of January.

For now, then, Kelley can only hope Romney stays out of it and campaign hard to keep himself out of it.

The irony is the fact there are several scores of Democrats who'd gladly take the nomination, which may eventually be pushed on the unwilling Attorney General.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

Cleveland, O., is the world's largest ore market.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I reckon you saw by the papers where they are giving old folks oxygen to bring back their memories. When you get old yore vanes fill up and you can't get enuff blood to the brains. What doctors do is they put old folks in a tank filled with pure oxygen under high pressure and this pushes more oxygen thru the blood to the brains.

Practical speaking, Mister Editor, I don't think I need none of that treatment yet. Me and the rest of the fellers that hang around the country store is bothered by too many memories.

Fer instant, Zeke Grubb said Saturday night he recollects ways back when Ma and Pa told the youngsters what to do and what not to do and that was the end of it. Now, they got all these new words for what youngsters do, and they ain't bold down to letting 'em do what they please. When a boy gets in jail fer stealing a car, Pa says he was jest trying to "assert his masculinity." When the gal runs away from home to live like a hog in some hippie hole, Ma cries her heart out cause she never was able to "identify" with her.

Zeke said he had saw where the leading cause of death in New York City was drugs, and the reasons give fer them taking drugs run from showing their hate fer society to finding the meaning of life. Zeke was of the mind that the real trouble was they jumped out of the nest afore they could fly. Zeke said parents think youngsters know what they want and what they're doing cause they say they do. The truth is, allowed Zeke, youngsters has got to have somebody to tell 'em what's right and wrong till they get old enuff to see fer theirselves.

The fellers was general agreed with Zeke, Mister Editor, that if some of them young parents would take a whiff of that high pressure oxygen they would quick-recollect how they "identified" with Pa's reaser stop. We got to the place, the 1971 hunting season beginning Sept. 1. The long-range idea is for all hunters to be required to take a test before they are allowed to carry a gun. This may not prevent careless or deliberate destruction or injuries, as evidenced by the number of traffic accidents despite a driver testing program. But even though many incompetents may still be licensed to hunt, perhaps the worst offenders will be weeded out before they can reach for a gun.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert White and sons, of Traverse City, were here for a pre-Thanksgiving visit with their parents, Mrs. Lauryne White and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hall, and other relatives.

Safe Winter Driving Tip

With winter still ahead, be sure to keep a clean windshield between you and trouble, advise the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Windshield wipers grow old too. If yours don't seem to be working as well as they used to, chances are the blades need replacing.

ANCIENT BIRD

The eagle, national bird of the United States, has long been used as an emblem of courage and power. It symbolized the Sumerian city of Lagash in the third millennium before Christ.

CAPTAIN DOUGLAS C. COLLYER (above right) was presented with the Bronze Star Medal for service and the Army Commendation Medal for achievement, upon completion of his one-year tour in Vietnam. The awards were presented by General William E. Potts (left), Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence, Military Assistance Command, Vietnam. Captain Collyer was cited for Outstanding Performance and Achievement while serving as Administrative and Personnel Officer of the Military Intelligence Staff of the Military Assistance Command, Vietnam. Upon completion of his tour in Vietnam, Captain Collyer was assigned to Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., for advanced officer's training. Captain Collyer and his wife, Nadia, now reside at Fort Harrison. Captain Collyer is a graduate of Chelsea High school and has a BS degree in Business Administration from Central Michigan University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Collyer of Cavanaugh Lake.

Son-in-Law of Fishers Passes State Bar Exam

The State Supreme Court announced Nov. 26 that John E. DeWane has passed his Michigan State Bar examination. Mrs. DeWane is the former Barrie L. Fisher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Fisher of Chelsea.

DeWane graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in May and worked for a Detroit law firm while preparing to become a member of the Michigan State Bar. He accepted a University of Pennsylvania study fellowship and spent a month this summer at Haverford College near Philadelphia in preparation for legal aid work. He is now fulfilling a one-year scholarship assignment with the Legal Aid Society in Nueces county, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWane are living in Corpus Christi, Tex., with their 3½ year-old daughter, Teresa. Mrs. DeWane is a teacher and received a Masters Degree in Education from the University of Michigan.

Deer Season Ends for 1969

Boyer, area conservation officer, may relax a little from a furious pace of enforcing game laws. A final set of violations was heard before District Court Judge Patrick J. Conlin on Monday in Chelsea.

James D. Cloyd, 44, of Detroit, and I. V. Jenkins, 43, of Detroit, pleaded guilty to hunting in Cedar Lake Group Camp, a closed area. They paid $20 each. Bobby C. Porter, 22, of Westland was fined $25 for carrying a loaded gun in a motorboat. Dennis R. Judge, 18, of Livonia was fined $20 for carrying a rifle without a license. Alan Burt and Michael Root were charged and fined for hunting violations as well as a first hearing on other charges (see separate story).

An estimate of the number of deer brought home by area hunters or the number shot in the area is difficult to estimate. The local locker reports 84 deer on ice. The kill was "normal" according to local conservation officials. Boyer noted that 33 deer were killed by automobiles in the month of November.

With hunting season over, deer movements across roads should decrease but motorists should still drive with caution. Although deer collisions have seldom resulted in injury to the motorist, damage to the car is far more than the price of a deer. Motorists are allowed to keep deer they have struck; otherwise the carcass is given to a county institution.

As hunters returned home with deer this year, many were stopped by Department of Natural Resource officials at deer checking stations. The roadside stations were set up to collect fat tissue samples from about 200 whitetails to check for pesticide accumulation.

Department game biologists do not suspect a problem of pesticides in Michigan deer, but they want to find out the relative residue levels of DDT, Dieldrin, and other such "hard" pesticides in whitetails of various ages from different parts of the state. The recent large amounts of DDT found in Coho salmon from Michigan waters is precipitating a closer look at pesticide residues in other game.

Studies of samples taken this season will show whether deer accumulate pesticide residues as they grow older, and give Department men a starting point from which deer may be checked for poison levels in future years. Besides this new fact-finding for pesticide research, game officials at the roadside stations will again examine deer for age, physical development and other characteristics which will help them have future deer management.

TODAY'S THOUGHT
By LOUIS BURGHARDT

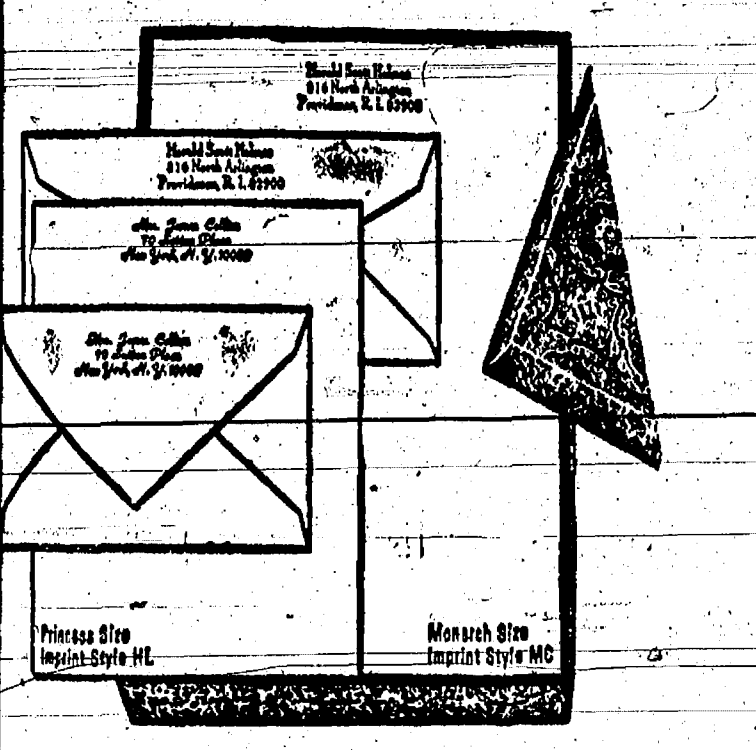

"Youth is not entirely a time of life; it is a state of mind.
It is not wholly a matter of ripe cheeks, red lips, or supple knees.
It is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of emotions. Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years; people grow old by deserting their ideals. You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt, as young as your self confidence; as old as your fear, as young as your hope, as old as your despair. In a central place of every heart, there is a recording chamber; so long as it receives of beauty, hope, cheer and courage, so long are you young. When the wires are all down and your heart is covered with the snows of pessimism and ice of cynicism, then, and only then, are you old." . . . (General Mac-Arthur's words on his 75th birthday.)
Based on his description and forgetting calendar dates can any one deny that on the whole—we have a lot of "Young People" in our nation? . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME,

Around-the-World Cruise Starts Before Winter Freeze

Pat Merkel and his cohorts finally set sail in their Katherine II Thursday, Nov. 20 after several weeks of delay. The 85-foot yawl was scheduled to sail from Detroit a month earlier for the start of an around-the-world cruise, but engine trouble delayed the departure.

The delay caused a revision of the Katherine's route as ice began to cover the St. Lawrence Seaway Merkel had intended to take. He and his crew worked feverishly to ready the ship in order to reach the locks leading into the Erie Canal before they closed Dec. 1.

The auxiliary diesel engine on the ship had to be replaced and problems immediately cropped up with the new engine. The ship must ride the inland waterways under motor power instead of sail, since the route is narrow and the mast was lowered to accommodate bridges the boat must pass under.

The ice-coated Katherine had barely departed from Detroit, when her engine failed close to Belle Isle. Merkel was able to make emergency repairs and went on as far as Amherstburg, Ont., before putting in for repairs. Water in the fuel line apparently was the source of trouble.

The ship continued her journey and the crew reached the Erie Canal without further difficulty. They were expected to reach Buffalo, N. Y., by Monday.

Merkel decided to forego the shorter Mississippi route when he learned that the draft allowance was only nine feet in some places. The huge Katherine draws nine feet of water and he was afraid of possible groundings. The St. Lawrence Seaway was the second choice of the sailor, but this northern passage closed before he could get underway.

The final route will take them to New York City in a few days via the Erie Canal to the Hudson River which empties into the Hudson River. An inland waterway built by the Army Corps of Engineers will take them all the way to Florida without the ship venturing into the open sea.

Merkel plans to put in at the first available shipyard in South Carolina or Florida to overhaul the Katherine. The ship will have to be scraped and sealed in preparation for a two-year ocean stint. The crew will be doing the six-week job of repair themselves to reserve the limited finances.

Only part of the entire crew embarked for the initial journey south. Eric Salzberg, Merkel's partner in the high adventure, Sandy Dorr and John Sutterheim were crewing as the ship sailed. Several passengers were along for part of the way. The full crew, including Salzberg's wife, Sandy, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stuart, will join the ship later.

Confirmation Class To Visit Jewish Temple

The confirmation class of St. Paul United Church of Christ will be visiting Temple Beth Israel in Ann Arbor Friday as part of their program of study. They will take part in the evening worship and the Oneg Shabbat or coffee hour after the service.

Rabbi Tomsky will meet with the class to answer questions and show them the Torah. The Torah is a parchment scroll with five books of Moses, and lettered in Hebrew. A portion of the Torah is read each Saturday during the Sabbath service.

The confirmation class makes several field trips during their 36-week program of study. Many different sects, including the religious represented in Chelsea, are included in their study of the Judeo-Christian tradition.

The senior youth group at St. Paul's will be having a "cookie bake-in" this Saturday as they prepare for Christmas.

Ministers and their wives of the Ann Arbor-Jackson Association of Ministers will be meeting Monday for a noon luncheon at St. Paul's. The Rev. Edgar Edwards of the Guild House in Ann Arbor will speak at 1 p.m. He will discuss the counseling needs of the college students which Guild House services as well as the problems and needs of the conscientious objectors the Guild counsels. Guests are welcome to attend the program.

Solution for Pollution

The State Department of Health and Governor Romney are doing something about a series of conferences on waste management. Both work to plug the government information gap on what is done about the refuse which tends to ruin the natural beauty of Michigan.

The garbage for instance, is enough of a pollutant by itself. City dumps are countryside. But for those who are, the future looks bright. Garbage dumps could be on the brink of a revolutionary experiment.

There's oil in them there reports The Wall Street Journal. That's right, oil can be processed from garbage and disposed of effectively and efficiently. The oil's commercial value has not been reported.

Working with authentic garbage and waste paper direct from the Bureau of Mines' coal research center in Pittsburgh placed a chopped mixture "in an" chamber and treated it with carbon monoxide and steam at 700 degrees for 20 minutes.

The result was a black, petroleum-like fluid, which was oil. It is a feasible garbage disposal method. One ton of this material from the rubbish centers of the world, could be reduced to a volume of one barrel of oil. Even better, the process consumes about 90 percent of the material to liquid form. This thus holds out the promise of greatly reducing pollution and disposal costs at city dump sites, researchers claim.

An unknown factor is whether the new process will be suitable for municipal and rural use. But of course this answer is in the guessing stage. However, a salute should be given to researchers and citizens who, with a purpose, and a positive approach, to cure the ills that have plagued mankind since time immemorial enough, threw that first apple core.

It is known that if the stuff is to be valuable oil, other things may be solved, like many people who litter our lands and keep their garbage at home.

Collision on M-52 Injures Two Monday
A two-car collision on M-52 near 52nd Rd. Monday sent one car to the hospital and injured one. Carl D. Hillis, 38, of 4411 N. Stockbridge, was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital after his car struck a car driven by Michael Reilly, 19225 North Territorial Rd., 44.

According to testimony in the Hillis report, an unidentified car pulled out from Wexner Rd. into the center line of M-52 as Hillis's brakes. He struck Reilly's car coming from the opposite direction. Reilly complained of minor injuries but was ambulatory. There were no injuries in either car. Sheriff's Office and Chelsea police reported to the scene of the collision at 5:30 p.m.

IN THE OPEN

By Lee Smits

In the affluent eighties and the naughty nineties "canvassack" had a lot of meaning. It was not merely the name of a duck, it was a symbol. When Diamond Jim Brady took Lillian Russell to dinner the cold bottle was the best champagne in the house, and the hot bird had to be canvassack-saythya valisneria. There were two localities famed for canvassack—Chesapeake Bay and the stretch of water between Port Huron and Toledo.

Valisneria is wild celery, the preferred food of canvassack and all other diving ducks. Over the years the truly dedicated gowms of the eastern seaboard learned that for the purest flavor, birds from Michigan were unexcelled. Detroit became the canvassack capital of the world. Canvassack from Detroit were in demand for diplomatic dinners at the White House and Buckingham Palace.

The most productive methods of harvesting canvassack were perfected between Lake Huron and Lake Erie along the Detroit River. St. Clair River, where two great continental flyways converge. The sneak-boat was devised for canvassack. The best decoys in the world were fashioned by carvers in this part of Michigan. It is therefore logical that the cult of the decoy should flourish in this southeast corner of Michigan. The late Joel Barber, wildfowling historian, acclaimed Michigan decoys as the best. As he explained, a working decoy must combine a convincing likeness of a duck plus the seaworthiness of an able boat. It is therefore fitting and proper that Detroit Historical Society should present an autumnal exhibit of wildfowl decoys, provided by members of the Michigan Waterfowl Decoy Association.

The exhibit includes some 500 decoys, together with other auxiliaries of the wildfowler's art. Authorities have acclaimed the decoy as an outstanding example of art. Decoy shows are being staged coast to coast and along the Mississippi flyway, with Detroit decoys always prominent. Tom Schroeder, national champion, is represented at the Historical Museum by some of his convincing portraits of wildfowl. John Zachman, of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company Sportsmen's Club, a consistent winner at shows in the United States and Canada, is well represented. Zachman, by the way, was selected to teach the art of decoy carving in Detroit schools. As with every other hobby that has fanatical followers, decoys have generated a degree of expertise that baffles the outsider.

In Hy Dahlka's basement, at Gibraltar, mouth of Detroit River, are hundreds of decoys, including many that Dahlka cherishes for their personal meaning. He will point out a Plickta, a Ben Schmidt, a Frank Schmidt, or a decoy created by a one-armed rail-

Trading on decoys has reached an extravagant stage. Collectors pay up to $200 each for rare specimens.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Michigan Waterfowl Decoy Association is Mrs. Phil Ellison who, with her husband, has taken over a suburban church, which they have converted into a home and a museum, with several thousand decoys, arranged for informal viewing.

Probably no collecting hobby surpasses in appeal the allure of decoys. A devotee sees in a decoy the hunter-artist who made it. The decoy also tells of the big days of wildfowling, the sky patterned with speeding flocks, instantly recognizable to the trained eye—canvassack in orderly lines, blue-bill in disordered swarms.

The Detroit Historical Museum decoy show continues through the first week in December. Among those who come to view it will be antique collectors, artists, and here and there, a weather-beaten gunner, for whom decoys have a very special meaning.

Mr. Smits' column is presented through the courtesy of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

Carpet Cost Varies

The cost of a rug or carpet depends on the basic fiber content, total amount of surface yarn, style, and method of construction. A carpet or rug with a densely packed pile will look better and give longer wear than one of the same fiber with sparse surface pile.

Baltimore Tops With Fans at Tiger Stadium

The Kansas City Royals, one of the expansion teams of the 1969 season, outdrew two of the four "established" clubs of their half of the American League in attendance at Tiger Stadium during the past season.

Among the American League West entrants, the Royals' average attendance topped Minnesota and Chicago—as well as Seattle, the other expansion team—in favor of Tiger Stadium fans. Only Oakland and California had an edge on the Royals.

Actually, their average of more than 21,000 per appearance topped all but four teams in the entire American League. The four were Baltimore, which led the Tiger Stadium parade for the third time in four seasons, California, Oakland and Cleveland.

The Royals benefited from excellent weather and promotions on three of the six dates they were scheduled in Detroit. On Family Night, July 24, they drew 25,726 fans; a Ladies-Retirees Day crowd of 23,440 came two days later, and on July 27, Ball Day pulled in a crowd of 39,365, fourth highest turnout of the year.

The high-flying Orioles, American League Champions, drew 216,390 fans to Tiger Stadium for nine encounters with the Bengals, an average of more than 24,000 per date. The Birds were the only club to attract more than 30,000 fans three times—34,409 on July 4, 33,172 July 6 and 32,090 Sept. 5.

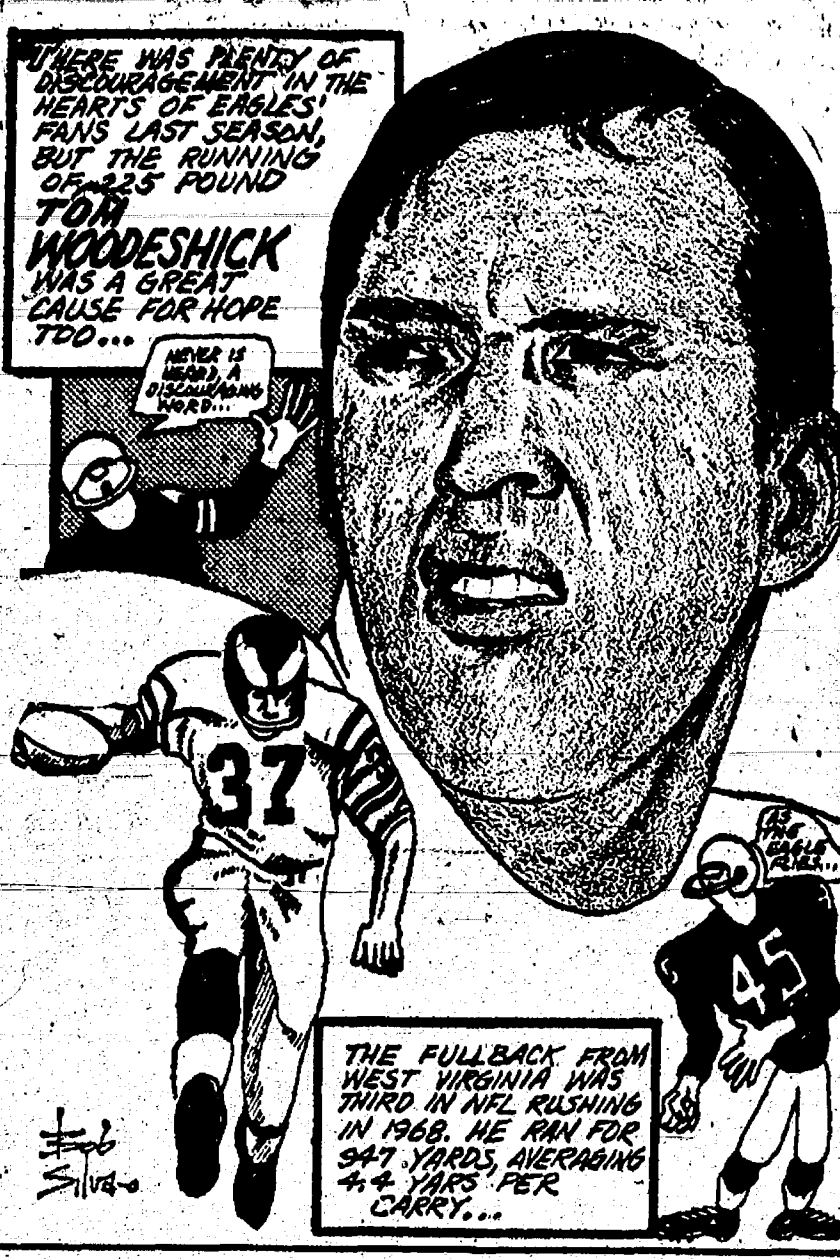

The Indians and A's played before the largest day and night crowds to help hike their averages to more than 22,500 each, putting them in a virtual three-way tie for the second highest average with the Angels. The Indians drew the largest crowd of the season—an opening day record of 59,572—on April 8. The A's were the Tigers' opponents on Shrine Night, when 40,248 attended.

New York, once kingpin of the visitors, dropped to 10th in 1969.

The Tigers played before 22 crowds of more than 25,000 in 1969, and two that topped 50,000.

The season total of 1,577,481 was the seventh highest in the history of the club—and marked the 21st time in the past 24 seasons that Tiger attendance has gone over one million.

SPORTS CORNER

Tigers Will Open Home Season April 14 Against Cleveland

Detroit—Opening Day at Tiger Stadium in 1970 will be Tuesday, April 14, and the Tigers' opponent will be a traditional one—the Cleveland Indians.

The season series will close, also against the Indians, Oct. 1.

Details of the home schedule for the coming season were announced Saturday by Jim Campbell, executive vice-president and general manager, disclosing that the Tigers will play their 81 home games on 77 dates, including 49 at night for a club record. The previous scheduled high was 45 in 1968 and 1969.

Daylight games will be confined largely to week-ends, with the only mid-week afternoon games following Opening Day scheduled for April 17, April 19, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1—which is also the final day of the American League season, to be followed by East-West playoffs.

The week-end daylight play will embrace 12 Sundays and 11 Saturdays, with one other Saturday game to be played at night against the Minnesota Twins, Aug. 1. The first night game of the season is set for May 6 against the Twins, the final night game for Sept. 29 against the Indians.

The four doubleheaders on the 1970 home schedule include two on Sundays, against the Indians, June 29, and the Baltimore Orioles, July 12; one two-nighter against the Orioles on May 21; and another two-nighter against the California Angels, Aug. 25.

As arranged in last year's split of the league, Eastern foes will be played nine times, Western opponents six. Baltimore, Boston, Cleveland, New York and Washington make up the East, along with the Tigers, while the West includes California, Chicago, Kansas City, Minnesota, Oakland and Seattle.

New ticket prices announced recently for Tiger Stadium are $3.75 for box seats, $5.00 for reserved, $2.00 for general admission and $1.00 for bleachers. Starting times will remain 8 p.m. for night games, 5:30 p.m. for two-nighters.

and Tires quired for ter Driving

"Always drive on good tires," Secretary of State James M. Hare said. "It's a life-saving idea at any time, but it's especially important at this time before winter sets in with its icy conditions."

Hare, drastically, is a major winter problem in Michigan. Tires are one answer. In fact, developed in the National Highway Traffic Safety Council.

Equip your car with good tires, you can gain as much as 15 percent better stopping power on wet pavement. Highway tires, however, stop on dry pavement. Tires that stop on wet pavement are a major problem. They give three times the stopping distance and 10 percent more wear than regular tires.

With severe winter conditions, snow and ice—reinforcing chains to help them. If you start, chains offer the pulling power of a chain on snow or ice, as well as on dry pavement.

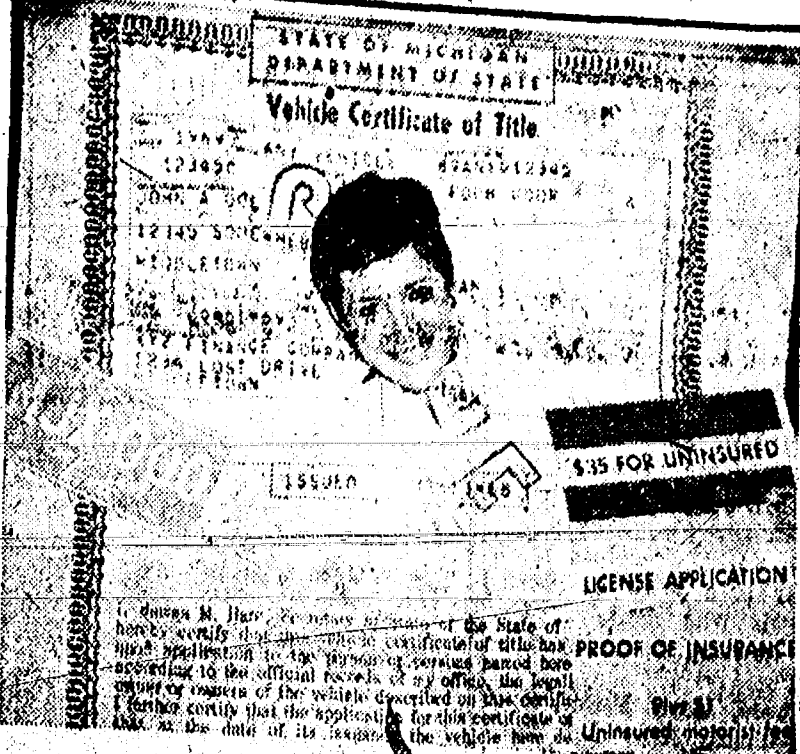

Chains reduce braking distance by 37 percent as compared to regular highway tires. They are used on ice or snow, but they also offer little traction on dry pavement.

Chains also pointed out that in winter driving conditions, chains are often wet or the white reflectorized paint is worn away.

Time freezing weather put an end to pavement operations, the Department of Transportation has applied about 372,000 gallons of paint in four-inch coats on the 1,270 miles of highway, where traffic volume is high. TITLES ARE A BIG THING THIS YEAR, according to Automobile Club of Michigan auto license plate clerk Marlene Wyson. She uses an enlarged title to emphasize that Michigan motorists buying 1970 plates, which went on sale Saturday, Nov. 15, must bring their car titles. Titles are required for the first time in five years. Motorists must also have a license application, which most car owners received in the mail, plus proof of insurance. Persons with proof of insurance also must pay $1 into the state's uninsured motorist fund and those without proof $35, in addition to the cost of plates. New plates are painted gold with white letters and for the first time will have three letters followed by three numbers. Auto Club also points out that license plates now will have all zeros for the first plate in a series instead of the prestigious "Number One." Motorists will have until March 31 before 1969 plates expire, a month later than last year.

Plan Ahead If Making Phone Call to Serviceman in Vietnam

Local residents were advised today by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to plan ahead if they wish to talk during the coming holiday season to relatives or friends stationed in Vietnam.

"It's generally easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam," said Nicholas J. Pratkanis, manager here for the company. "And to avoid disappointments, servicemen are encouraged to notify their families in advance if they expect to telephone home, particularly during the holidays."

More than 42,000 calls were completed between the United States and Vietnam last year. Most of the calls were made from Vietnam rather than the U. S. because of difficulty in locating servicemen when calls come in from the states, Pratkanis said.

"The heavy concentration of so many troops in a small country at war creates some real communications problems," he added. "Service is still not what we would like it to be but it has been improved substantially in recent years."

Travel restrictions and curfews in Saigon complicate the task of locating servicemen to take telephone calls. For this reason, when a call is made to Saigon it is important for the caller to have the serviceman's unit, his APO number and, if possible, a telephone number where he may be reached. Until 1967, servicemen could call home only from Saigon. Calls now may be placed from hospitals and bases in Ton Son Nhut, Long Binh, Cam Ranh Bay, Nha Trang, Qui Nhon and Da Nang.

U.S. callers, however, can reach only telephones in Saigon and the immediate vicinity. The speed of handling a call to Vietnam depends on the volume of calls pending at the time and the availability of the serviceman in Vietnam. Calls between the U. S. and Vietnam average about 350 a day, but this figure is expected to increase during the holiday season. Calls originating in Vietnam are handled "first come, first served" at various telephone centers operated for servicemen. But when a serviceman does get to a telephone it is usually just a few minutes before his call is completed to the States. Saigon is 13 hours ahead of Eastern Standard Time.

Southeast Michigan Ski Report Service Starting Soon

"How's the skiing today?" will soon be the question on the lips of thousands of metropolitan area skiers.

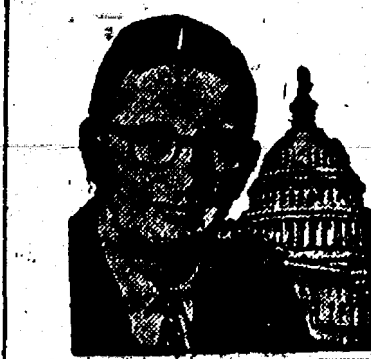

The Southeast Michigan Tourist Association will have the answer, on a daily basis, five days a week, thanks to a telephone tape report that the Association will prepare. Thus, by a simple phone call to (AC 313) 862-9010, ski buffs may get information about ski, weather and road conditions, as well as special events, for the six ski resorts of Southeast Michigan—Alpine Valley, Mt. Brighton, Mt. Grandplan, Mt. Holly, Pine Knob and Irish Hills Sports Park. Last year, more than 40,000 calls were logged by the Association from skiers using this service.

Information will be available by approximately Dec. 1, and will run until March, or until the ski season is over.

Data is compiled from the individual ski areas reporting amount of base, new, natural or manufactured snow, and a general report on conditions. Received by mid-morning, the reports are typed up and recorded on a special tape, then made available by approximately 11:30 a.m.

In the interest of accuracy, the six resorts have pledged factual reporting of conditions. "We are striving to keep skiers in this area informed about actual conditions on these slopes," said Sidney L. Baker, executive vice-president of the Tourist Association. "Sudden changes in temperature, of course, may occur, changing conditions drastically, but we will attempt to report these as they develop."

"We believe that this is a very helpful service and the number of

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

Confronted as we are with an almost endless number of important national goals to achieve, there may be a temptation born of weariness, to ease our commitments for preservation of our natural outdoor beauty. It is a temptation we must resist.

Thus, I have written to the chairman of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee urging immediate action to create the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore. This area along the western coast of the Lower Peninsula is a land of great natural beauty that must not slip from our grasp because we face vital problems of war, disunity, hunger, racial animosity and inflation, among others.

We seek to solve these very problems so we may enjoy the good things of life, including a healthy and unspoiled outdoors. Thus, I and most members of the Michigan Congressional delegation have long sought creation of Sleeping Bear as a national lakeshore. I am aware the Bureau of the Budget is opposed to financing such parks at this time because of a desire to limit federal expenditures as a means of conquering inflation. I do not quarrel with the Bureau's goal.

But rather than let the Sleeping Bear matter gather coats of dust and irreparable harm from hundreds of developments which can never be reversed, I have suggested to the chairman that priorities be set with a view toward the day when funds will be available. Sleeping Bear should be high on that list.

Despite the growing support for the goal of preserving our natural environment, it is still the nature of our national life to drift, to want open space, clean water and fresh air in the abstract. However, we sometimes seem to lose our zest for the tedious chore of making these things a reality. Sleeping Bear merits our zest no matter how long or difficult the task.

Using Rewearable Clothes Can Save If Chosen Wisely

Using rewearable clothes can save you money—if you pay attention to things like repairs, stains and washability, says Bernetta Kahabka, clothing specialist at Michigan State University.

"Having clothes is one thing, but having attractive, useful clothes is another," Miss Kahabka said. "You have to keep this in mind when shopping for or accepting rewearables."

Suggestions on shopping for used clothing may be found in Miss Kahabka's bulletin, "Shopping for Rewearables," available at your local extension office.

Fashion Show Will Help Place Homeless Child

Some of the most stunning fashions of the season will be modeled at the Sheraton "Room At the Top" at 1 p.m. on December 10 for the benefit of children without families. Wagner's, a 121-year-old Ann Arbor clothing establishment which opened its women's department in the spring of 1969, has been a leader in menswear. They will join with Radio Station WJLA to parade the glamorous as well as practical winter outfits that have made the 1970 season one of the most talked about in years.

A range in styles from casual pantsuits to glamorous holiday gowns will be displayed amid decorations for the season. Commentary by WJLA's Women's Editor, Lucy Dobson, and Carolyn Cairns, of Wagner's will complete the picture as fashions to find families are unveiled. Dessert will be served.

The Christmas season is an especially difficult time for a parentless child. All proceeds will be used to find a family for such a child through Spaulding for Children.

It is hoped that proceeds will be sufficient to place one of the 23 children now waiting for a family to be found. Spaulding, a specialized adoption agency serving only children referred by other agencies for whom families are most difficult to find, is supported entirely by private contributions including the new Child-A-Month Club through which sponsors share the joy of the children and their new parents united with the support of the club members.

Tickets may be reserved through Mrs. Guy Hower (668-7301) in Ann Arbor or at either of Wagner's stores, the desk at the Sheraton, or the Forsythe Gallery, or through Viola Lindow, 475-7233, in Chelsea.

A. A. PALMER, M.D.
110 E. Middle St.
Chelsea, Mich.Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

In reply to C. D. Nutt's letter last week:

We, like many other residents of our community, were saddened to discover that we had representatives in Washington on the 14th and 15th of November.

The uninformed will often generalize that the conduct of a very small minority represents the conduct of the whole group. Over 400,000 people participated in the Washington march. Only 2,000 people were involved in the clashes with the police. When you've seen a few demonstrators, you haven't seen them all.

Tom Thomson.
Steve Thomson.

Dear Editor:

Regarding Mr. Nutt's letter I too am saddened by the attitudes of some of Chelsea's residents. I am sorry we have spawned war mongers among us. Of course I appreciate the fact that times were never so good, money flowing so freely and wages so high. Unfortunately that is always true when we are at war. It is a pity that we can't have prosperity without buying it with blood money.

I don't know how much Mr. Nutt is profiting by this war, but I do know rich men are becoming richer and everyone employed is enjoying the highest standard of living in the history of our country—even though some of the prosperity drips blood of our finest young men who are being sacrificed on the altar.

I remember during World War II a factory woman made the remark if the war would last two more years she would be on easy street. Unfortunately some of her fellow workers had sons and husbands fighting and dying in the war and they resented the remark.

Many people know that the war we are participating in is an immoral war and should never have happened. Thank God for peace loving Christians like Dr. Fisher and Mr. Kleis and others like them who are peace-loving and hate killing, especially where we barge into something that is none of our business.

I have even heard inklings that our participation in this war was primarily to protect American financial interests in Southeast Asia. We had better save our good man power in case the Communists come after us. Then we could fight back.

And as for Mr. Nutt, what is a patriotic American like him doing writing letters? Let me suggest that this is his golden opportunity to make his talk good—get into uniform, gather up all his sympathetic friends and hop the plane to Vietnam. He may again have such an opportunity to prove his allegiance as a member in World War I.

Now is your time Mr. Nutt! How come he knows so much about the "communists" and their inside works? and about them, carrying a red flag in the Ann Arbor march and he singing and all? I wasn't there and didn't know about it. Apparently he was.

Between Dr. Fisher's attitude and that of many others like him in Chelsea and elsewhere and Mr. Nutt's attitude it could be the difference between the Christian and the man couldn't it?

By the way Dr. Fisher has been our family physician for years and we honor and respect him as a Christian and a gentleman. More power to Dr. Fisher and our fond good-byes to Mr. Nutt. May he have good luck in Vietnam.

M. T. Schell.

To the Editor:

We should feel grateful to live in a society which permits and thrives upon orderly dissent.

I am proud to have a friend and colleague such as Joseph Fisher who will take the time and spend the effort to express his concern about the Vietnam situation.

Bruce Stubbs, M.D.

Dear Editor:

Mr. Nutt's letter concerning Dr. Fisher's Washington march would be laughable were it not so disgusting in its implications. It shows social concern reaching not even to the village limits.

Mr. Nutt says he remembers 1914 and the '40's. Unfortunately, he has forgotten the '60's. Does he recall a man by the name of Joseph McCarthy, who posed one of the greatest threats to democracy our nation has faced? McCarthy had only to suggest that someone had associated with a communist and that person's reputation and future were destroyed. It made no difference if this person were later found totally innocent and McCarthy had been mistaken—the suggestion had already ruined the victim. And it was at Mr. McCarthy's whim. It made a joke of our judicial system, for a person was "guilty by association" no matter what the courts said. And it nearly destroyed the principles of individual worth and innocence until proven guilty. These smear tactics of McCarthy are now applied by Mr. Nutt and I am disgusted, if not alarmed!

Mr. Nutt claims Dr. Fisher was "misinformed." His letter, however, is no prototype of information! It consists mainly of unfounded smears and rumors and accusations. He sees people, which he "believes to be Left Wing Radicals" in marches. How clever he is to know one's political affiliation by his appearance. How unlucky would be Jesus Christ to fall under his observation! That is your guess, Mr. Nutt, but where is your "information?" Not your opinion, but your known facts, for these are mighty important implications you are making so lightly. You suggest the Washington march was monetarily backed by "pushers and communists."

Where is your "information?" Mr. Nutt? You are just rehearsing old rumors. These are mighty serious suggestions—put forth without proof. And Mr. Young's trip to Sweden to get prisoner's names—where is your "information?" Mr. Lodge has been talking to the North Vietnamese, so would you call him a sympathizer? You are playing games with people's reputations by misrepresenting their intentions—that's McCarthyism. And that's smear. And that's the worst kind of propaganda technique ever designed to destroy reason.

Are you so worried about your freedom of religion, Mr. Nutt? Well, join with us: we're worried about our freedom of assembly and freedom of speech. You see, someone might suggest something about us. Are you so worried about human life? Worry then, about the massacres at Song My and Chu Lai. Worry about South Vietnamese people who say "American go home," because they don't like being used as pawns.

Mr. Nutt's smears against those of us, who desire peace now, are a favorite communist technique. He tries to make us guilty by association with a few people who carry flags. Shall we judge all Chelsea people by one bum we see when we're driving through? We are demanding peace because no one has any information. We can't continue killing people on the basis of vague rumors, which often conflict. We can't be so childish as to think that war is better than admitting a mistake. We are demanding peace, because criminal killing isn't more beautiful, when one waves a flag over it.

Do not smear me, Mr. Nutt. I'm not on drugs. I'm not a communist. I want peace, because there is no other choice. I am only of many who are disgusted at what some people can accept and live with in the name of patriotism and Christianity.

Wendy Gronbeck.

About Your Social Security

By Robert A. Kehoe

Social Security District Manager

During the next few months, many people will contact the Social Security Office, Room 650, City Building, 820 E. Huron, Ann Arbor for assistance and information about their Social Security.

Robert A. Kehoe, district manager of the Ann Arbor office, said that many of these people may save themselves time and expense by first using the telephone. It is much easier to call and much less costly to use this step.

Employees of the district office can advise people who call first what is needed to file a claim for benefits, report some required change, or to answer general questions about Social Security. In this way, many persons can usually take care of all their Social Security business with just one trip to the office.

So, remember to call 663-8541 if you have a question about your Social Security and save yourself some time and steps.

Clothing Care

Proper care is important if you want to get the most for your clothing dollar. Always follow manufacturers' instructions as to washing and dry cleaning. Fibers with similar names are not always the same. As an example: "acetate" and "triacetate": Acetate is better drycleaned; triacetate can be washed. Acetate is easily ruined by too hot an iron; triacetate fibers are used in sportswear blouses, jersey knit, double knits and wash and wear dresses.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Zahn of 11545 Pleasant Shore Dr., Pleasant Lake, are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary today and their children are planning an open house this Sunday to commemorate the event.

District Contest in Wool Sewing Slated Saturday

"Make It Yourself With Wool" competition will soon be held in this area. The annual competition, sponsored by the American Wool Council and the Michigan Sheep Breeders Association, gives seamstresses a chance to show their talent in sewing with wool. Entries must be sewn from 100 percent wool cloth or a fabric with not more than 5 percent of a fabric other than wool.

The contest is open to anyone, whether they are a 4-H club member or not, with sub-club, junior, senior and adult categories. Several young seamstresses from Chelsea have entered in the past, but according to Mrs. Charles Powers, 4-H club leader, no one is entered this year.

The local competition encompasses District II including Hillsdale, Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe, and Washtenaw counties. Contest judging will be held this Saturday, Dec. 4 at Manchester Intermediate school, 412 City Rd. The Style Revue begins at 1:30 p.m. with 30 girls modeling their fashions and the public is invited.

Prizes for the winners of the district contests will be lengths of wool. The national winners will receive such prizes as sewing machines.

Aptitude Tests To Be Given At High School

College-bound students will have a busy December preparing for their entrance into higher education. The Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) will be administered this Saturday beginning at 8 a.m. at Chelsea High school. The SAT is required for application to many universities. The test will end at about 11:30 a.m.

The SAT will probably be given in the high school library, depending on the number of registrants who arrive. About 60 students to date have registered for the exam. Participants must bring their admission ticket or telegram to gain admission to the test. If a local student is registered for another test center, he will be admitted at the Chelsea center with his ticket from the College Entrance Examination Board.

On Saturday afternoon, about 15 students will be taking CEEB achievement tests in the library. Again, applicants must bring their registration ticket to gain admission.

This administration of the SAT is for seniors only. The SAT will again be given in the spring for college-bound juniors.

Another entrance examination, the ACT, will be given the following Saturday, Dec. 13, beginning at 8 a.m. More than 100 students are registered for this test. Applicants must bring their admission ticket. The ACT will last until 1:30 p.m.

Chelsea was chosen as a college testing center, even though it is a small school, because of the availability of experienced test administrators. The tests are administered by the high school counselors under the direction of George Bergman. Chelsea is also a centrally located center. The SAT has been given for four years and the ACT for two in the Chelsea area.

Colleges and training programs are meanwhile continuing an active program of recruitment in the Chelsea area. The Detroit Institute of Aeronautics will be holding an open house at Willow Run Airport this Saturday and Sunday for young men interested in careers in airplane mechanics and aeronautical engineering and related fields. A staff member of the institute will conduct the open-house for the first time in this area. The display will be at Willow Run at the end of Taylor from 1 to 5 p.m., Dec. 6 and 7. A representative from the College, Dean Souden, will give his college's program today and tomorrow to interested upper-classmen and teachers at 2 p.m. at the school.

On Wednesday, Dec. 10, the Young, will have a new guest about Grand Valley State College, a four-year liberal arts and education institution. Grand Valley is about 10 miles east of Holland near Lake Michigan. Young will arrive at the school at 2 p.m.
