

Santa Claus Welcomed, Promises Return Visit Saturday

Santa Claus visited Chelsea yesterday and found a warm reception from the young at heart. The old gent was trudging and a little when he stepped out of his reindeer-drawn sleigh on his rigorous trip from Zutphen in The Netherlands, where he had been visiting with Dutch friends all morning.

Santa up and he was eager to talk with his waiting fans when he reached the Post Office. More than 600 youngsters waited to speak with the Christmas elf and Santa would have been plumb tuckered out if Jaycee Art Steinway had not been near to help him.

Santa noted in his conversations with village children that kids sure have changed in the last few Christmas holidays.

"Chelsea kids have gone real modern," said Santa, "and my skills with woodworking and toymaking aren't as useful anymore. I'm taking a course in mechanics and I've hired a dragster elf to help me give children what they want for Christmas."

Santa explained that instead of asking for dolls and skates as in the past, many of the requests Saturday were for minibikes and dune buggies. "Did you ever try to carry a dune buggy in a one-seater sleigh?" Santa said in mock dismay. "It was getting rather tiresome making dolls year after year and it will be fun to learn about these new-fangled toys."

He said, "I guess even old traditions like me have to keep learning new things or I'd just be an old elf in the history books."

So many children were eager to visit with Santa, that he had little chance to walk around as he planned. Next Saturday he hopes to call on more of the stores and see how they are doing this year.

At 1 p.m. next Saturday, he will rest his feet at the former Buick-Olds showroom at 118 N. Main. He had planned to be at the K. of C. hall so he hopes everyone hears of the change. "I don't want to miss anyone who wants to talk to me," Mr. Claus said. Santa hopes to keep the same schedule on Dec. 20 of passing out stockings from noon until 1 p.m. downtown and then having his picture taken with kids at the showroom.

If someone does miss Santa on his three visits this Christmas, they may write him and the Jaycee mail service will rush the letter to Santa's North Pole workshop. The Jaycees have permission from the Chelsea Postmaster to set up a mailbox just for Santa's mail in front of the Post Office. The mailbox is red and blue, says John Kasmierowski, one of Santa's local helpers and chairman of the Jaycee's "Santa's Mailbox" project.

Santa personally collected his mail last Saturday when he was in town but needs Kasmierowski to deliver the mail during the week. Santa has promised to answer every letter if the sender puts his return address on the envelope. He hopes to return an answer in time for Christmas so every writer will know he hasn't forgotten him. Letters to Santa don't have to be stamped since Helper Kasmierowski is giving them personal and swift delivery.

Frosh Cagers Swarm Over Dexter, 46-16

Chelsea's freshman basketball team opened their season Thursday by downing Dexter, 46 to 16, in home play.

Dexter took the opening score but Chelsea soon jumped in with the lead and shut the little Dreadnaughts out for the remainder of the quarter. The first round of play ended with Chelsea scoring 11 points to two for Dexter.

The second quarter echoed the first with the second and third string holding Dexter to only two points, raising the score at half time to 23-4. Second half play was dominated by the second string cagers consistently scoring nearly as well as the first string players. The final score fell to Chelsea, 46-16. John Mann made the top score of 12 for Chelsea with Bill Tite shooting 10 and Dan Bertke with 8 points. Nearly every cager got into the scoring column in this easy game. Bertke was top rebounder with 17 points. (Continued on page seven)

With the challenge out to other districts to match the local collection. Auxiliary members are working hard to procure more coupons. The coupons are on all General Mills products such as cake mixes, flour and cereals and may be dropped in canisters located at Stop & Shop Supermarket, Schneider's Grocery and Kuster's Grocery. Cagers Lose To Dundee, Stockbridge

Chelsea varsity cagers lost their second game of the season in nonleague basketball Tuesday evening against Stockbridge. The Panthers team, one of the biggest and best in the area, outscored the Bulldogs, 64-55. The teams were deadlocked at the end of the first quarter with a tie score of 15 all. The second quarter found the Panthers outscoring Chelsea, 11 to 6, to close the first half, 26-21.

The turning point of the game came in the second period when Stockbridge went into a zone defense. Stockbridge again hit above Chelsea in the third period, 20-15, but the Bulldogs closed the scoring gap somewhat in the fourth quarter by gaining 18 points to 19 for the Panthers. The buzzer sounded with Chelsea lagging, 64-55. Chelsea made 23 out of 30 free throws to make an excellent showing of 77 percent on foul line shots. Stockbridge, with a good reputation for foul shooting, made only 53 percent of their free throws.

Coach Jon Schaffner feels that his team did an exceptional job considering the height of the Stockbridge cagers. Their front line includes players 6' 8", 6' 5" and 6' 2" in height with Chelsea's tallest cager being only 6' 2". "Chelsea did not play poorly, considering that Stockbridge is one of the outstanding teams in the area," said Schaffner. "We did a good job on the boards."

Chelsea scoring found Jim Wojcik with 13; Dave Conklin, 12; Howie Treado, 8; Jeff Hughes, 7; Wayne Walton, 7; Art Farley, 6; Ron Sweeney, 5. Stockbridge scoring included Jessie Campbell, 21; C. Chisinsko, 12; E. Zick, 11; C. Collins, 10; J. Flannery, 8. Chelsea varsity cagers found themselves on the short end of a 72-67 score last Friday also when they were edged out by the Dundee Vikings.

An outside contender for the conference title, Chelsea played against a taller and more experienced team in Dundee. But despite the opposition, the Bulldogs held firm. They played a fine game on the boards considering the two tall Vikings on the court, Dick Bolt at 6' 4" and Dan DeSmith at 6' 8". The Chelsea cagers snared 42 rebounds compared to 45 caught by Dundee. Leading rebounder for Chelsea was sophomore forward Ron Sweeney with 18. He was followed by guard Jim Wojcik who grabbed 8 and Howie Treado and Jeff Hughes each with 7 rebounds. (Continued on page three)

Ever-Popular Don Cooper Brings Travelogue Saturday

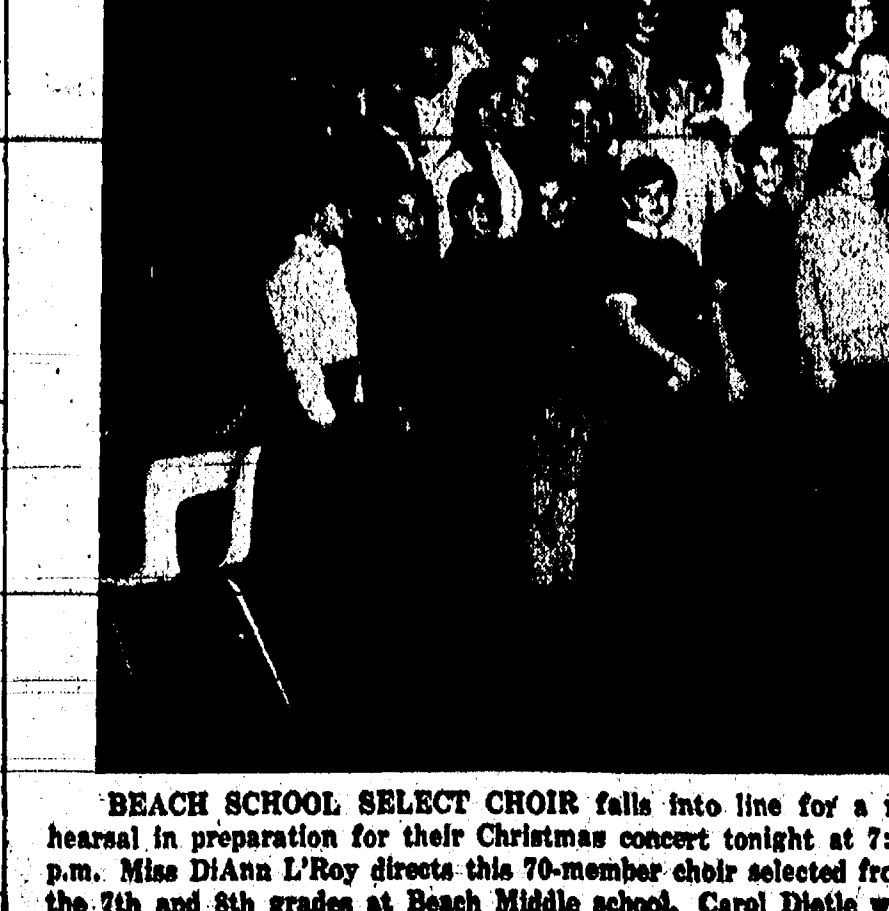

The second film in the Kiwanis travelogue series will be shown Saturday at 8 p.m. in the high school. Don Cooper, a lumberjack, narrates his film of his adventures in Alaska.

Cooper's boyhood dreams came true when he struck out for Juneau seven years ago. He fell under the "spell of the North" and has since made his home in Alaska. The all-color film is a pictorial diary of an Alaskan logger and his buddy. They take their film audience to one of the greatest stands of virgin timber on the North American continent. This magnificent wilderness scenery will be seen along with quaint back-country villages and cities, such as Sitka and Juneau. Viewers will push through lush meadows filled with vast varieties of wild flowers and berries, and wade through streams blackened with fish. A gripping ride in a 14-foot skiff will take its riders under the threatening face of the Hubbard Glacier. This is one of the most spectacular true-life adventures ever filmed, its promoters believe.

There are four more films in the Kiwanis series which will be shown monthly. The series has become an annual event as its popularity increases in the community.

Holiday," "Toyland," and "Rockin' Around the Christmas Tree." The 60-voice Select Choir will open their portion of the program with "Do You Hear What I Hear?" with Daniel Foytik and Carol Warywod featured on the percussion. A medley of familiar carols will close with the traditional "We Wish You a Merry Christmas." DIANA L'Roy directs the choir with Carole Dietle as accompanist.

The Eighth Grade Band under the direction of Stuart Glazer will open with "Wintry Scenes" by Fote. The Brass Choir will play "Three Dances" by Susato. "Jingle Bell Rhapsody" will salute the approaching holidays. The band will conclude with the "Beach School March" composed by Glazer.

Public Hearing Scheduled on School Budget

A public hearing on the current school budget will be held Monday, Dec. 15, the Chelsea School Board announced this week. This is a routine hearing in accordance with Public Act No. 43 to give residents of the district an opportunity to discuss the tentative 1969-70 budget under which the schools are now operating.

A copy of this budget is available for public inspection at the office of the superintendent at the Chelsea High school. The hearing begins at 7 p.m. in the high school library.

Parent-Teacher Conferences Set At Beach School

Beach school homeroom teachers will hold conferences with parents this Monday, Dec. 15, evening. Each parent will receive a letter with the student's report card and indicate any academic or social adjustment problems. Parents will also have this opportunity to tell teachers of any school related problems their child may be having.

Conferences are arranged by appointment for the hours between 12:30 p.m. and 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. The school office may be phoned for an appointment if one has not already been made.

Beach students will be in assembly during the afternoon conferences and will be dismissed at the regular time.

Mrs. Blossom Umstead, recently moved from Chelsea to 10580 Cady Rd., Grass Lake and would enjoy hearing from her friends at Christmas.

School Board Sets Millage Vote for Jan. 26

Chelsea Board of Education voted last week to hold the annual operational millage election Jan. 26. The current levy of 10.98 mills expired with Dec. 1 tax payments.

This millage request is for a levy that provides about one-third of the yearly school budget. The balance is a set amount of 11.22 allocated millage received from the county, and state aid calculated on enrollment.

The current Dec. 1 levy provided for the 1969-70 school budget. The school system has been operating on borrowed money for the fall term prior to the collection. The January election will provide operational millage for the 1970-71 school year.

The decision to place the millage request on a January ballot emanates from the need to prepare next year's budget as soon as possible so curriculum plans may be made and teachers hired.

Under the State Tenure Act, probationary teachers must soon be notified of their contract renewal. They make up more than half of the faculty in Chelsea schools.

School millage requests have a grim history of often being defeated in the Chelsea School District. Voters went to the polls three times last summer before passing a reduced millage request.

CHILDREN OF KIWANIS CLUB MEMBERS gathered around Santa Claus to sneak a peek in his sack full of Christmas treasures. The holiday visitor made a stop at the Kiwanis dinner-meeting Monday night as part of his busy schedule in the Chelsea area. Santa found a warm reception from the young at heart. The old gent was trudging and a little when he stepped out of his reindeer-drawn sleigh on his rigorous trip from Zutphen in The Netherlands, where he had been visiting with Dutch friends all morning.

After the dinner Mrs. Ruth Niehaus played the piano for group singing. As expected, "Jingle Bells" finally brought an answer from outside and Santa came in with gifts and candy for all the little ones.

Santa didn't stay long; it seems he had some more visits to make. Next week the Kiwanians and Kiwanis-Queens will have their annual Christmas dinner. A "round table" will be held at Chelsea Restaurant for those who cannot attend.

BEACH SCHOOL SELECT CHOIR falls into line for a rehearsal in preparation for their Christmas concert tonight at 7:30 p.m. Miss DIANA L'Roy directs this 70-member choir selected from the 7th and 8th grades at Beach Middle school. Carol Dietle will accompany the choir for the concert. The public is invited to participate in this musical celebration of the holidays. The 7th grade band and the 8th grade band will also perform.

SANTA CLAUS thought he was receiving a letter from a tiny elf as he sat in front of the Post Office Saturday to welcome Chelsea villagers. But closer inspection he found little Miss Johanna Knickerbocker who had come to tell her Christmas story. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Knickerbocker, 227 Railroad St. Johanna was one of the hundreds of children who came to town to see Santa. The jolly bewhiskered guest felt so welcome that he plans to include Chelsea in his schedule twice more before Christmas, this Saturday and next.

Cagers Suffer First Loss of Season

The Junior Varsity basketball team suffered their first loss of the season at the hands of Stockbridge, Tuesday, by a close margin, 21-19. The Bulldogs dropped behind by a point in the first quarter, but outscored, 14-7. The JV's came back all but four of those points in the second quarter by playing the Panthers, 14-9, to a 21-21 tie at the half. Stockbridge racked up 14 points in the third quarter to top the nine talled by Chelsea. However, the spirited Bulldogs pushed on to outscore Stockbridge in the final quarter, spurred by Chick Lane's six-point effort and five points chalked up by Ed Koengeter. Yet the final surge fell three points short of a victory as they were narrowly defeated, 54-52. Tom Lixey led the Chelsea team with 19 points and 16 rebounds. Greg Howard banged home 11 points and Chick Lane and Jeff Daniels tossed in eight each. Ed Koengeter ran up seven points while Jeff Schmidt tallied four to round out the scoring. Schmidt also snared 11 rebounds. The set-back gave Chelsea a 2-1 season record after initial victories over Novi and Friday's game with Dundee. Fortunately, the Stockbridge game is non-league play.

Elaine Bristle Recovering from Recent Auto Crash

Elaine Bristle, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bristle of 19020 Old US-12, returned to her home Saturday after undergoing major surgery as a result of a traffic accident. Miss Bristle was injured Nov. 18 in a one-car accident in Lower Swatara township near Harrisburg, Pa. She was riding in a car driven by Barry LeHew, 23, of Middletown, Pa., when it apparently skidded on wet pavement and ran into a ditch about 4:15 a.m.

Miss Bristle was admitted to Polyclinic Hospital with abdominal injuries and was listed in unsatisfactory condition in the intensive care unit for several hours. She is now much improved and should be able to return to her job in Middletown as a stewardess with American Flyers chartered airlines by February. She is a 1968 Chelsea High school graduate.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

KINDERGARTEN—
Mrs. Packard, teacher
Everyone is enjoying the puppet house we made from a large cardboard box and painted. Cin-da brought some puppets from home which have given us a lot of fun.

The Walworth twins (Loren and Loren) brought a branch from a cotton plant with the cotton balls attached which we could keep here and touch.

The Guinea pig twins have been named. The A. M. class named the girl Pinky and F.M. named the boy Winky. They look just alike so we never know which is which.

Everyone is becoming excited about Christmas and the holiday decorations are beginning to appear.

We are glad to have Jeff Fahey back after his stay in the hospital.

December birthdays are Paul,
Alan, Eddie, Craig and Nancy.

GREGORY BAPTIST CHURCH

11:15 a.m.—Church school.
6:30 p.m.—Baptist Youth Fellowship.
7:30 p.m.—Evening worship service.

SECOND GRADE—
Mrs. Walton, teacher.
We have two birthdays. In December—Monica Marques and Barbara Schardein.

We are going to the library
every two weeks now to get books to take home.

We are planning things in our room for Christmas.
In Math we have been working with fractions and we are learning to tell time.

THIRD GRADE—
Mrs. Edmonds, teacher

Our class has been studying about Florida in Social Studies.
After many reports and discussion we took a test. Now we have begun the chapter about Pittsburgh. Do you know that Pittsburgh is famous for its steel?

In science, we have been making our planets out of styrofoam balls.
We must get them in the right order starting from the sun. We have learned a lot about space and Mrs. Edmonds used our World News sheet to talk with us about space.

Mrs. Hire, teacher
Our class has been studying about New York. We learned that many of our clothes are designed in New York. We decided to design some clothes for an art project. We cut out material and made many different clothing. We designed tops, mini skirts and

FOURTH GRADE—
Mrs. Heller, teacher
Our class has been about many different things.
Jervis showed us some old other things from Hawaii.
Thank her for coming to we are studying New Zealand.

We have been thinking Christmas. We all made elves and toys for our board of Santa's workshop.
more decorations for

FIFTH GRADE—
Mrs. Lapsky, teacher
Reporters: Jeff H... and Carol L...
We have done a lot of since the last news. In we have started to study ferent systems of the how they work. There is visible man which we can gether.

Our room put up the boards in the front entrance.
We made stained glass and mosaic candles in art.

In social studies, we are
ing about the Revolution.
There are so many gen-battles. We are filling in with different colors to which country owns what the new world.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 47—

Our meeting opened with a discussion. The discussion was about the party for our parents. For the parents each patrol is having a skit of their own. Patrol 1 is having the flag ceremony that night. After the flag ceremony we will introduce our mothers and fathers. The girls are exchanging gifts. Our meeting will be from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. that night only. Before the closing of the Dec. 4 meeting all the patrols rehearsed the skits they are going to do. Kathy Fairbanks, scribe.

BROWNIE TROOP 247—

Brownie Troop 247 opened their meeting Tuesday with the salute to the flag and the Brownie Promise. We practiced Christmas carols with our sister troop. We worked on a surprise for our mothers. Katie Donkin brought treats. We closed the meeting with the Brownie Squeeze. Jeanette Morrison, scribe.

JUNIOR TROOP 52—

Monday we held our meeting and went right to work and finished up our Christmas decorations. We practiced Christmas carols with our sister Brownie troop. We drew names for gifts since we are having our Christmas party badge ceremony next week. We closed with "God Bless America." Dora Alexander, scribe.

JUNIOR TROOP 82—

Girl Scout Troop 82 met Wednesday Dec. 3, 27 were present. The Peace Patrol had opening. We said the Girl Scout Promise and sang "The Star Spangled Banner." We elected a new scribe, Barbara Roy. We finished our Christmas presents and finished Christmas party plans. Our sister Troops 2 and 17 came over and sang songs with us for Dec. 18. The Mod Squad had closing. We sang "Haps" and did the squeeze. Barbara Roy, scribe.

Jaycee Auxiliary Offers Christmas Gift-Wrap Service

Are you all thumbs when it comes to wrapping holiday gifts? Or are your children a step behind you when you sneak into your bedroom to help Santa with his Christmas bundles? Christmas giving may be made a little easier for you this year by a gift-wrapping service to be offered by the Jaycee Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary will be stationed at the former Buick-Olds showroom on N. Main St., Dec. 17-20, with scissors, paper, ribbon, tape and enthusiasm to take wrapping problems off your mind. For a fee they will gift-wrap Christmas presents on Wednesday through Friday evenings from 8 to 9 p.m., and Saturday afternoon from 12 to 6 p.m. Christmas shoppers can visit downtown stores and then dump their load at the Auxiliary thwarting any at-home snoopers. Gift boxes will be available for home-made gifts or unboxed items. Mrs. Arthur Steinaway is in charge of her committee of two, Mrs. Gerald Blough and Mrs. Robert Updegraff, who are arranging the service. Proceeds from the service will go to the community projects sponsored by the Jaycee Auxiliary.

SANTA'S MAIL HELPER, John R. Kazmierowski, (left) inspects Santa's Mailbox with Assistant Postmaster Richard Ahlley. The mailbox was set up this past week-end in front of the Chelsea Post Office to accommodate the increasing deluge of mail for Mr. Claus as Christmas gift-giving time draws nearer. Jaycee member Kazmierowski will rush all of Santa's mail to his North Pole residence so letters may be sure to reach him before Christmas. If a return address is on the letter, Santa has promised to answer letters from Chelsea, Kazmierowski said. The Jaycees sponsored Santa's Mailbox when they found out Kazmierowski was a helper for Mr. Claus.

Watershed Projects Prevent Widespread Property Damage

Property damage totaling $1,700,000 was prevented by watershed projects in Michigan during fiscal year 1969, according to Arthur Cratty, State Conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. "The watershed projects completed and presently under construction are doing an excellent job of watershed protection, flood prevention, and water management for which they were designed," Cratty said. "During the 1960's, 55 watershed applications were received, 16 were approved for planning and 11 were approved for operations. Of this number four projects have been completed, and five more are under construction." These projects are carried out by local sponsors with Soil Conservation Service assistance under the Watershed and Flood Prevention Act (Public Law 566). The total value of construction completed is $2,371,732. Cratty continued, "The works of improvement include eight floodwater retaining dams and 103 miles of improved channels. In addition, approximately 300 side inlet structures were installed to prevent channel erosion from silt and tile drainage. "Some installation of conservation practices in watersheds, such as contour farming, critical area planting, ponds, grassed waterways, wildlife habitat management, tile drains, and woodland improvement, has accounted for approximately 180,000 acres of land adequately treated." Watershed protection projects in the United States have prevented

Roger Frisinger Appearing with WMU Chorus

Roger Frisinger, a student at Western Michigan University, will perform with the Grand Chorus at their Department of Music annual Christmas Concert on Sunday, Dec. 14. This year's program will feature a fully staged and costumed performance of Hector Berlioz's Christmas oratorio, "The Infancy of Christ." Involved in the presentation are the University Symphony Orchestra prepared by Professor Herbert Butler; the Grand Chorus, prepared by Professor William Appel; and the University Dancers prepared by Professor Clara Gamble. The concert is open to the public with no admission charge and begins at 3 p.m. in the University Auditorium. Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Frisinger of 13450 Jerusalem Rd.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER:
"I am 14 years old and boys don't like me. I think because I am skinny. I like boys very much and I can't seem to find a subject when I'm talking to them. Sometimes when I see a boy I know, he walks past me as if he didn't see me or doesn't know me. I want to meet boys and don't know how to go about it. I like boys and want them to like me. I think I am in love with a boy who is four years older. Sometimes when I see him, he just smiles and doesn't say a word. Please tell me what to do."
OUR REPLY: First, forget about being in love with a boy four years older. Be friendly with everyone, but don't look for a boyfriend in an older age group. There is nothing wrong with being "skinny." Thousands of girls would like to have your problem. The best advice we can give you is stop worrying about not having a boyfriend and be your natural self. Be friendly and outgoing. Don't hesitate to say "hello" to boys you know and can call by name. Don't worry about having a "subject" for discussion. If a boy wants to be friendly, he'll have something to say. Once you have a "talking" acquaintance, the easiest conversation is possible if you know—or ask—what the boy is interested in and what he likes to do. Be friendly. Be natural. Be patient.
If you have a teen-age problem you want to have discussed or an observation to make, address your letter to "For and About Teen-Agers," Community and Suburban Press Service, in care of this newspaper.

FINGERNAIL BITING CAN BE EMOTIONAL
Fingernails bitten down to the very edges are not only unsightly, but could very well be due to some disturbing emotional situation. This is possible not only in adults, but even in very small children. In the case of children where it is just a bad habit, we carry several products that make fingernail biting unpleasant and can help break the habit.
Serious fingernail biting in the adult or the adolescent should be looked into more closely to determine the cause. If it cannot be broken by a show of willpower, a physician should be consulted.
YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

MORE AND MORE NEW DRUGS NOT THE ANSWER TO HEALTH PROBLEMS
Since the time of Hippocrates, man has looked for something to swallow, inject into the body, or cover the skin in an attempt to relieve or cure all illnesses. There are a few bacteria and of course certain poisons which can do harm. But most of our illness is produced from within the body when the resistance of the body is lowered because of something wrong with its function. Therefore the cure must also come from within the body.
The first objective of the doctor of Chiropractic is to locate and remove the cause of the ailment, whether it be due to poor living habits or spinal subluxations. We will advise you as to your hygiene and adjust the subluxations. By so doing he puts into action the natural inherent repair mechanisms of the body. The usual result of the normal functioning of all parts of the body as a unit is radiant health.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

by GARY A. KLEINHENN
Michigan Farm Bureau

Youth Needs Work

As society becomes more complex, the question of right and wrong gets confused. As it is with politicians and their difficult task of attempting to give the people what they want, often the right becomes wrong and wrong becomes right.

The Little Juvenile Employment Act is one example where lawmakers need to open their ears to the public. Through it the number of our value system is being tested with more legislation to give youth the right to work.

Michigan Farm Bureau, representing more than 55,000 families in the state and affiliated with more than 1,800,000 Farm Bureau families in the nation, opposes any attempt to bring agriculture under the Little Juvenile Employment Act.

The farmers' policy indicates the Little Act for the farm is no more than a forerunner to juvenile delinquency!

They say, "We are concerned with regulations by the Secretary of Labor to prohibit the hiring of young people under 16 years of age to operate tractors, ladders, etc. The people living in agricultural production are aware of the need for safety in all areas of their work. However, we view these regulations with grave concern at a time when our nation is plagued with restless youth with little opportunity to develop work habits.

In order to provide young people with the opportunity for helpful and gainful employment and discourage idleness and juvenile delinquency, we urge employers to utilize programs that are available through the National Future Farmers of America (FFA) for training minors to work on farms.

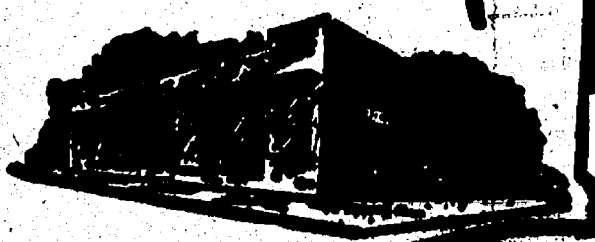

Farm Bureau policy for the new act is further clarified. We believe that children should not be deprived of educational opportunities. However, during the summer vacation when regular schools are not in session, we believe that it is desirable that children be allowed to work, except at those occupations which have been designated as hazardous by the Secretary of the U. S. Department of Labor. We oppose any attempt to bring agriculture under the Little Juvenile Employment Act."

The early Olympic games played in ancient Greece were for men. To assure the absence of spectators, athletes competed in the nude.

Urea With Corn Silage Reduces Dairy Cow Feed Costs

Dairymen can reduce feed costs from $15 to $20 per cow annually by using 10 pounds of urea per ton in the corn silage they make this fall.

In feeding tests at the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station of Michigan State University, cows fed urea-treated corn silage and a 13 percent protein grain ration produced as much milk as those on untreated grain ration. Soybean meal was the protein supplement used in the tests to supplement grain rations.

In another test, milking cows on a grain ration to two percent urea and two percent molasses along with ground shelled corn, salt and minerals, produced as much milk as cows fed soybean meal as the source of protein. However, scientists found the two percent urea-molasses ration to be less palatable than soybean meal at higher levels of feed intake.

REPORT from WASHINGTON

* Tax Reform: No Longer A Fairy Tale ...

When my children were very young, one of the fairy tales that delighted them most was about a boy who crossed a bridge by convincing the little goat that talked his way across the bridge that an even fatter goat was coming along just behind.

Fairy tales seem to have gone out of fashion almost everywhere these days, even in Congress where a fondness for them has endured for years.

For as long as I can remember, tax extensions and increases have come hurrying up to the Congressional bridge, demanding to be let across on pressing business; with the promise that much-needed tax reforms were only a few yards behind.

And each time, tax reform advocates have been left scanning the horizon for reform legislation that somehow never materialized. This year, the ritual began anew. A bill to extend the 10 percent surtax came rushing into Congress, demanding to be let through quickly in the name of fighting inflation and promising that the fatter goat of tax reform was right behind.

But this time, Congress did not follow ritual. It wanted assurances that, indeed, the fatter goat would at least approach the bridge. After a bit of debating back and forth, a compromise was reached—the 10 percent surtax was extended for six months. A five percent surtax for an additional six months was rejected, awaiting tax reform.

My vote was against both extensions—just as I voted against the first surtax last year. There are better and fairer ways to fight inflation, and no surtax rather than part of a surtax would be greater assurance of tax reform reaching Congress.

The tax fairness argument goes this way. It is no secret that a number of tax shelters are found in our laws; few of them available to low and middle income citizens.

The statistics are already tiresomely familiar. In one year—1967—155 individuals with incomes over $200,000 paid not one penny in federal income taxes. In fact, 21 of these fortunates made more than $1 million that year.

Meanwhile, the nation's largest oil company—thanks to a beneficial government that allows a 27.5 percent oil depletion allowance—paid an average of only 3.8 percent of its net earnings for federal income tax between 1962 and 1966.

Twenty-two other oil companies paid an average of only six percent.

This sort of statistic does little to instill faith in governmental fairness among those millions of low and middle income Americans whose tax rates run up to 25 percent of their taxable income.

To add a 10 percent surtax to this sort of system just increases the inequities.

With this in mind, I introduced a bill which would give an estimated $6.7 billion tax break to low and middle income families while picking up more than $16 billion by tightening loopholes favoring upper income families.

The nearly $10 billion difference would eliminate the need for the surtax and still permit additional money for shortchanged domestic programs.

Under my bill, for example, a family of four earning $10,000 a year could save as much as $165 a year in federal income taxes. The loophole-tightening provisions include:

—Eliminating tax preferences on capital gains and on capital gains on property transferred at death—gain of $11 billion.

—Limiting mineral depletion deductions to the cost of property—gain of $1.5 billion.

—Repealing the seven percent investment tax credit—gain of $3 billion.

—Eliminating accelerated depreciation on real estate, except for low and middle income housing—gain of $800 million.

The House recently passed a tax reform bill about which I have some serious reservations. For one thing, while it does pro-

Deferred Taxation Now Possible on Rural Woodlands

There are two tax laws on the books in Michigan under which woodland owners may pay most of the tax levied against their timberlands at the time a harvest cut is made, according to Irwin McFarland, forester for the Michigan Department of Natural Resources working out of the Cooperative Extension Service Office in Ann Arbor.

1. Commercial Forest Reserve Act—The timbered acreage must be 40 acres or more. The land must be used for growing timber principally. No pasturing is permitted. Hunters having legal access to the woodland have a legal right to hunt there. The woodland must contain valuable timber species in good growing condition. Timber on the acreage must be harvested when it is mature. Newly established pine plantations are eligible if satisfactorily stocked. Once the woodland is classified under the act, the law attaches to the woodland when sold to a new owner.

Under the act the classified acreage is taxed at 10 cents per acre per year. When a commercial cut is made a levy of 18 percent of the stumpage value (yield tax) is paid. The timberland may be declassified only by paying 10 percent of the appraised stumpage value at the time of declassification.

Application is made on appropriate forms to the Forestry Division, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Lansing.

2. Private Forest Reserve Act—On a farm where 1/4 of the acreage is devoted to agricultural use, the owner may put up to 1/4 of the acreage if in woodland or plantation under this act. If the wooded acreage is 40 or more acres, the Commercial Act should be used. The land should support thrifty timber growth. No pasturing is allowed. Cutting will be such as to promote a continuous forest.

Wooded acreage assessed at only $1.00 per acre. When a commercial cut is made, a 5 percent yield tax will be paid on the value of the stumpage cut. There is no yield tax for timber cut for home use.

If the owner wants to take the woodlot out from under the act, he must pay 5 percent of the appraised value of the standing timber. The act still is in force when a change in ownership takes place.

Application to have woodlands classified under the Private Forest Reserve Act is made to the County Treasurer in which the woodland is located.

Act No. 86, P.A. 1917 as amended by Act 122, P.A. 160.

PERFECT DAY

Jim Northrup, Tiger outfielder, went 6-for-6 against Oakland on Aug. 28, a feat accomplished only twice before in Tiger history.

The Insurance Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce reports Michigan citizens and businesses pay nearly $2.3 billion annually for all forms of insurance coverage.

vide some tax relief for low and middle income families, it includes the 5 percent surtax extension.

And for another, the bill fails to meet the fairness doctrine since it leaves many loopholes only partially closed.

When this measure comes before the Senate you can bet there will be a lot of discussion—before a final measure is approved. Attempts will be made to improve and strengthen it—and attempts will be made to weaken it.

Nonetheless, I do believe the American taxpayer has good reason to think his protest has at long last been heard and, hopefully, will be heeded in a major way. At last the chances of catching a fat goat, if not the very fattest, seem very good indeed.

ASCS Committee's Role in Rural Development Discussed

The 1970's will be a decade in which Americans will become increasingly aware of their surroundings—and the effect total environment has on people. So believes Earl Dolezky, chairman of the Washtenaw County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

"The concern for clean water and clean air will grow. As population density increases, man's natural yearning for the outdoors and contact with nature will intensify.

"People will depend more on rural Americans and especially on farmers. They will expect food and fiber to continue to be produced in abundance. Beyond that, people will look more and more to rural America to provide both an alternative and a counterbalance to crowded cities and suburbs," Dolezky said.

The ASC Committee Chairman said the challenge is to develop rural areas so that they profitably meet the needs of the future, without losing the quality of rural life.

"A Rural Affairs Council within the Cabinet has recently been set up by President Nixon to help us progress in rural development," Dolezky pointed out. "But the real move forward must come from our own communities."

During 1970, he said, the farm-elected Washtenaw county ASC Committee will study ways and means for doing its full share in rural development locally. ASC committee chairman Dolezky made the following statement:

"We will give particular attention to our Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP). In this program, farmers and the public share the cost of investing in conservation measures needed to protect our soil, water, woodland, and wildlife resources on agricultural lands.

"No rural development program can move forward unless we take care of these resources. In recent years we have come more and more to recognize the great value to the public from ASC work. In addition to conservation measures which help farmers take better care of their land and water, ACP has included practices to benefit wildlife and to beautify the countryside.

"Special projects have been included in the program—projects which have benefits for the total community as well as for farmers.

"And this year, basic authorization has been given for development of ACP pollution-abatement practices—practices that we all need to work for cleaner water and cleaner air.

"The Administration of ASCS Kenneth E. Frick, recently told us we must face the fact that the nation is far behind in the kind of conservation work that we have proved we can accomplish with ACP."

He said that ACP is going to be judged in terms of how well it meets the nation's environmental challenge.

"So we are going to take a very hard look indeed at our program in Washtenaw county. We are going to consult not only with farmers, but with community and business leaders, with conservation interests, with other agricultural and government agencies.

"We will keep trying to administer ACP and our other farm programs as effectively as possible in the public interest and in the interest of farmers.

"And we will make decisions and recommendations for the future. Before these decisions are final, we will make every attempt to inform people of what we are doing and the directions we are tending toward—and we will seek informed advice from them.

"Conservation of our natural resources is vital to good rural development. We believe the Agricultural Conservation Program administered by ASCS can be a rallying point for progress in rural development right here at home during the 1970's."

USING AEROSOL SPRAY CAN

When using aerosol spray paint hold the can about 10 to 12 inches from the surface. Practice on an inconspicuous section or on scrap material to get a preview of the final results. Press the button all the way down and move the can at a steady pace parallel to the surface. Use short, dusting strokes, releasing the button at the end of each stroke. Carefully read and follow all of the manufacturer's directions.

Students Attend Youth Forum

Students attended the annual Youth Forum at Chelsea High school. Miss Boylan was the guest speaker. She discussed the importance of national priorities and the role of the youth in the future. The forum was held on Saturday and was sponsored by the Michigan University.

Background material for the forum was provided by the students. The forum was held on Saturday and was sponsored by the Michigan University.

be the sharing of ideas among the students," said Miss Boylan. After a luncheon, Esch opened the floor to questions from the students. Each workshop group also reported to the conference on the discussion held with the three speakers.

Freedom of dissent is an unassailable concept, for without dissent there can be no freedom. It's as simple as that. Can you picture a half million citizens of the Soviet Union marching past Lenin's tomb, in massive condemnation of Soviet tyranny in Czechoslovakia?

My support of Fisher and Kleis obviously indicates I do not subscribe to some of the observations made by C. D. Nutt in his letter to this column. The peace movement is much too widespread and complex and much too authentic to permit my acceptance of his simplistic criteria.

However, may I point out that C. D. Nutt is also a man willing to stand up and be counted. I do not discount his sincerity and patriotism, or his deep concern for America. And if I read him correctly as telling us that we are not nearly enough concerned or informed about communist totalitarianism, then I must say I agree. The facts support his contention.

My copy of The World Book Encyclopedia, used extensively in libraries and schools, is fairly comprehensive on world communism, but deficient on the history of communism in the United States; a mere three paragraphs. (Danielson fares better with five paragraphs. Dancing rates seven pages.)

In less than six years, by the 1970's, more than a billion per cent rule. World Book says: "Communism takes over a nation by military force from the outside, or by revolution from the inside."

NO NATION HAS EVER VOTED IN A FREE ELECTION TO ADOPT COMMUNIST RULE. If the balance of the world's population were people unwaveringly dedicated to democracy one could say the future is not as bleak as it might appear. What is the truth?

Spain and Portugal are totalitarian states of long standing, the offspring of fascist political and military power wedded to Roman Catholicism. Italy and France are political bases of tremendously large communist parties. Latin America is largely under control of military juntas and dictators who rule by the gun and collect Yankee dollars. India, with 100,000 homeless in Calcutta alone, is floundering in socialism and torn by religious strife. A corrupt military regime in Greece is sustained with American tax dollars while its rich citizens pay no income tax. The emerging nations of Africa are vulnerable to infiltration and takeover, and their people, like the Vietnamese, will become pawns in the power struggle.

This is a partial picture, very much over-simplified, but illustrating the fact that America, in the continuing battle against totalitarianism, will have few friends. And the hour is late.

Walter Brauning.

Mail Early For Christmas

"Don't take a chance on disappointing someone you love, send your gift parcels and cards early enough to insure their delivery before Christmas—no prizes." Postmaster Richard Schaulies advised today.

"On the day after Christmas a post office building can be the most depressing place in the world," Postmaster Schaulies added. "If it still contains a mountain of messages of love and cheer that didn't make it because they were mailed too late."

Such disappointments may be avoided if Christmas mailers will observe the following schedule. Gift parcels going to distant states should be mailed by December 1. Parcels going to local and nearby areas should be mailed not later than Dec. 13.

The name and address of both the sender and addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address label. The outside label should be placed on only one side of the parcel.

It Has Come To Pass

Many opinions have been expressed to give the cause as well as reasons for today's upheavals in our society. It becomes apparent that the cause has been in existence for a long time, which can be verified from the principal contents of a communist Manifesto, issued in Dusseldorf, Germany in 1919.

The Manifesto was quoted on an amateur short wave radio transmission taken from an Oklahoma newspaper, the Alexander Enterprise, published in May 1919. Bill Forbey of Cadillac happened to be tuned in on the frequency and put it on tape. It may explain the very beginning of today's happenings. The Manifesto reads as follows:

"Corrupt the young, get them away from religion, get them interested in sex. Make them superficial, destroy their honesty and ruggedness."

Get control of all means of publicity and get people's minds off their government by focusing their attention on athletics, sexy books and plays and other trivialities.

"Divide the people into argumental groups constantly bearing on controversial matters of no importance."

"Destroy the people's faith in their national leaders by holding the latter up to contempt, ridicule and disgrace."

"Encourage government extravagances. Destroy the credit of the nation, driving up prices and inflame general discontent."

"Always preach true democracy but seize power as fast and as ruthlessly as possible."

"Foment unnecessary strikes in vital industries and encourage civil disorder and false pride."

"By specious arguments cause the breakdown of old moral virtues, honesty, sympathy, kindness and faith in one another."

"Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretense, with the view of confiscating them and leaving the population helpless."

Editor's Note: The above Manifesto, 60 years old, spells out the blueprint of today's realism and the direction in which we are going in many areas.

We will also go caroling and have a 75 cents to a $1 gift exchange.

The business meetings and the work meetings at Nancy Mshar's house will be changed to Monday instead of Thursday starting in January. The work meetings held at Mrs. William Clark's home will still be held on Thursday.

Exercise in Turkey

Ft. Bragg, N. C.—Paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne Division returned to Ft. Bragg, N. C., late last month after spending four days in Turkey participating in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Exercise "Deep Furrow II."

Specialist Four Norman D. Walsh, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Green, 128 Jackson St., Chelsea, Mich., was one of some 1,000 soldiers from the division and supporting units that parachuted into northwestern Turkey on Oct. 22 to conduct a simulated assault.

The exercise, which was held Oct. 17-26, featured a Naval exercise in the Mediterranean in addition to the land maneuvers in northwest Turkey.

"Deep Furrow II" was the second long-distance exercise for the 82nd year. In March more than 2,000 division paratroopers jumped into the Republic of Korea the longest distance airborne exercise in history.

Spec. 4 Walsh is a rifleman in Company A, 1st Battalion, 504th Infantry of the division.

His wife, Ruth, lives at 9107 Ron St., Fayetteville, N. C.

Kidney Group Cites Barbers For Candy Sale

At their last meeting, members of the Washtenaw county Barber's Union, Local No. 689, were presented with a Certificate of Recognition by the Kidney Foundation of Michigan. The presentation was made to William Boatwright by Miss Phyllis Carty of the Foundation in thanks for the barber's contribution to the Melvin "Red" Lamb Memorial Trick or Treat Halloween candy sale.

Lamb was a former member of the Union, and after removal of both kidneys in March 1966, underwent a kidney transplant in December of that year. He died in May, 1969, and as a memorial to him, the local Union sold more than one ton of Trick or Treat candy. They grossed $2,064.38, of which the net profit for the Foundation's Drug Program is $1,032.18.

This profit will support drugs needed for 20 nephrotic children or for one and one-quarter transplant patients for a full year's time.

The Kidney Foundation maintains state offices at 3378 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, and is a member of the Ann Arbor-United Fund and the Michigan United Fund.

Wrestlers Battle to Ties Against Two Tough Opponents

Chelsea High wrestlers opened their 1969 season by tying their opponents, 24-24, in their first two matches. Coach Richard Bareis watched his matmen finish even with Parma-Western Thursday night and deadlocked with Tecumseh on Saturday in away matches.

Freshman Mark Montagne opened with a good start by defeating Parma's 98-pounder, 6-3. Sophomore Glenn Musolf lost, 4-0, in the 107 class. Jim Wencel, a junior, bounced the team back with an 8-3 decision in the 115-pound class.

Senior Steve Ersten was defeated by his 180-pound Parma opponent, 6-2. Junior Bill Elliott was pinned in the second period to lose the 137-pound match. At the 145 level, a pin also cost junior Gary Montagne the match. Keith Pfeifle the 155-pound match. Junior Doug McDonald, wrestling at 165 pounds, won a forfeited match.

At the end of the 165-pound match, Chelsea needed three pins to win. They came close to the victory by making two pins, but the third struggle resulted in a solid 4-1 decision rather than a pin. Senior Tim Colvia, wrestling above his weight class at 175 pounds, pushed his opponent all over the mat but was unable to pin him down. Karsten Kargel, a senior, quickly pinned his opponent in the 185-pound class, and senior Dennis Brown followed suit in the heavyweight division.

Coach Bareis noted that three team members were wrestling in their first match. Mark Montagne showed a lot of poise in his first varsity match, he said. Keith Pfeifle worked tremendously to avoid being pinned and maintained the chance for the team to win.

In Junior Varsity wrestling with Parma-Western, Pete Stahl was defeated in the 95-pound class, 7-2. Tim Wilkerson pinned his opponent at 107 pounds. In the 115-pound division, Larry Jones pinned the Parma wrestler while Tim Lancaster lost a 3-2 decision in the 123-pound class. Mike Spence defeated his 130-pound opponent by a score of 2-0 and Tom McKernan won, 3-2, at 137 pounds. Greg Osborne lost by a pin at 145 pounds but Randy Setts finished with a pin to come out the winner in the heavy-weight class.

In the Saturday matches at Tecumseh, Chelsea tied, 24-24, in tight competition. Again Kargel and Brown avoided a team loss by responding in the final two matches with pins.

Mark Montagne began the play with a 9-7 win, followed by Glenn Musolf losing, 8-4. Jim Wencel lost by a pin in his 115-pound class with Tom Tirb also bowing to Parma, 8-2. Steve Ersten came on with a 6-2 victory but Jim Poertner lost by a pin in the 137-pound class. Bob Koengster bounced back with a pin on his 145-pound opponent, but Gary Montagne lost, 3-1, at 155 pounds. Tim Colvia received a favorable 9-7 decision in 165-pound weight class, followed by a loss by Randy Setts on a pin at 175. Karsten Kargel helped save the match for a tie by winning with a pin in the 185-pound class. Dennis Brown then pinned his opponent in 18 seconds of the first round to clinch the tie.

Coach Bareis noted that freshman Mark Montagne won his second match of the season in a "fine performance." Steve Ersten and Tim Colvia also put on strong performances, he added. Bob Koengster wrestled two strong periods and came up with a fine pin in the third period, Bareis said. First year wrestlers Gary Montagne and Randy Setts showed improvement and are gaining in experience, he said.

Although the team tied again in their match, Bareis feels that the wrestlers are improving and should be ready for a strong showing at their Southeastern Conference opener against Dundee here tonight. The match begins at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Parent Responsibility

Some parents seem to feel that their responsibility to their children is met when they tell them the difference between right and wrong; when they compliment them for an achievement; scold them for doing something wrong. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Parents should guide and lead. Pointing the way is not enough. Parents should avoid using the excuse that it's "different" when adults argue or engage in some strictly "adult" behavior. Parents who do not maintain a certain amount of parental dignity, who are inconsistent in their attitude towards one another and towards their children are in a poor position to tell their children what is wrong and what is right. Children are able to see as well as to hear. Clear logic tells them that a thing which is "bad" and "wrong" for adults as well.

In summary, there is no substitute for a proper example.

Prepared Foods Don't Replace Good Cookbook

Boil-in-the-bag meats and vegetables and other prepared foods may have replaced hot hours in the kitchen for the modern housewife, but they haven't eliminated her need for a good basic cookbook.

A basic cookbook is more than a collection of standard "tested" recipes," says Anita Dean, Michigan State University extension food specialist. "It serves as a dictionary and encyclopedia to which you can turn again and again for answers to your questions about food; whether it be meal planning, buying, preparation, storage, meal service or nutrition."

Because cookbooks are bountiful on the merchants' shelves, Mrs. Dean suggests these guidelines for selecting one to suit your needs.

"First, does the cookbook cover all categories of cooking from appetizers to desserts, or does it specialize in just one thing such as meats? A good basic cookbook offers a balanced selection of recipes for help in preparing all kinds of foods."

The author is also a clue to a book's quality. Was it written by an authority in foods and nutrition? Is the information unbiased? Are specific brands and products promoted in it? This may limit its use.

How is the cookbook organized? According to Mrs. Dean, "In addition to the table of contents, it should have a detailed and extensive index so that you may locate recipes quickly."

"Some cookbooks," she notes, "are arranged by menu. This often makes it difficult to locate a favorite recipe or to compare ingredients and recipes at a glance."

The format of the recipe is important, too. Ingredients should be listed first, followed by step-by-step procedures.

Also check to see that the number of servings is given as well as pan sizes and oven temperatures.

For new cooks, Mrs. Dean recommends an illustrated cookbook. "This often helps depict the step-by-step procedures and gives an indication of what the finished dish should look like. Pictures often suggest attractive food and table arrangements as well."

formation a book provides is also a factor in selection. Descriptions of measuring techniques, tables of ingredient substitutions, definitions of common cookery terms, buying and storing tips, basic principles of cookery and reasons for failures, all increase the value of a basic

'Rusty' Steel Protects Itself from Corrosion

Lansing—"Rusty" steel, already successfully used in highway bridge construction in Michigan, will make another appearance in the form of highway guardrail.

Bids will be taken soon on two experimental projects involving 1.8 miles of median guardrail on US-23 north and south of Brighton in Livingston County.

The unpainted alloy rail requires no painting or corrosion protection. On exposure to weather, alloys in the steel develop a tight oxide coating that protects against further corrosion.

Homemaking Hints

After each wearing, air a sweater thoroughly, then fold and put in a drawer. Never hang a sweater on a hanger between wearings.

Warm or cool water for both the wash and rinse cycles gives the least amount of wrinkling in durable press clothing. The wash and wear cycle is suitable for durable press if the washing machine doesn't have a durable press cycle. Use only half the normal washing load to make sure clothes can move freely in the washer.

Edmund Miller, Jr., also reported Christmas lights stolen from
