A wounded deer was discovered lying behind the G. A. Sales & Service building on M-52 as an employee reported for work Monday morning. It is believed it was hit sometime Saturday or Sunday and was so badly injured it had to be destroyed, according to reports of the incident. The animal was a doe.

Friday the 13th Is Unlucky for Bulldog Cagers

Chelsea's Varsity basketball team found out that Friday the 13th just isn't their day as they dropped their third consecutive decision to South Lyon.

South Lyon used a fast break to get a quick lead over the Bulldogs in the first period. Although Chelsea came back and fought courageously, the first quarter lead the Lions established proved to be too much of an obstacle to overcome.

The Bulldogs were led by co-captains Jim Wojcicki and Dave Conklin, each scoring 16. Howie Treado also hit in double figures, tallying 12 points.

Treado was the top rebounder, grabbing 16 rebounds. Jeff Hughes and Jim Hercules collected 9 and 8 rebounds, respectively.

Chelsea is now in a fourth-place tie with Lincoln with a 6 and 6 won-loss record in conference play.

Wojcicki	6	4-4	5	16
Conklin	7	2-3	6	16

JV Cagers Explode To Down S. Lyon

Chelsea JV's came up with a big second half to trounce South Lyon, 58-31, last Friday evening.

The Bulldogs scored 40 of their points in the final two periods to turn a close game into a runaway.

South Lyon hit for only 19 percent from the floor and three of only nine attempts from the line. Chelsea cagers had a good night from the line, outscoring the Little Lions by 11 at the charity stripe as they hit on 14 of 25 shots.

Greg Howard again paced the Bulldogs' scoring attack as he tallied 21 points. Jeff Schmidt and Ed Koengster scored 9 and 8 points, respectively, while Todd Sprague and Jeff Daniels each scored 6. In addition to his scoring, Sprague played a strong defense.

They leave here Saturday morning and will put in hours of practice all day Saturday as well as Sunday morning in preparation for the 4 p.m. concert.

Three CHS Band Members Chosen for All-Star Group

Approximately 222 high school musicians selected from Michigan high schools as members of the 1970 ninth annual Greater Michigan All-Star Band will appear in concert Sunday, Feb. 22 at 4 p.m., in the gymnasium at St. Johns High school.

In the group are three Chelsea students—Heidi Sprague, who plays the flute, Lee Ferguson, trombone, and Jeff Parsons, whose instrument is the trumpet. Warren Mayer, Chelsea band director, will accompany the Chelsea group.

He will play his solo in the concert. One band is made up of selected students from Class AA, A and B high schools and the other band from Class C and D high schools. Originally some 5,000 high school musicians were considered.

Village Beauty Salon Holding Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Pannone (Gerald and Loretta) are announcing elsewhere in this issue of The Standard that they are holding open house Sunday, Feb. 22, from 1 until 5 o'clock at their Village Beauty Salon, 109 N. Main St., in quarters formerly occupied by the Chelsea Medical Clinic. The open house is in observance of completion of remodeling of the interior, making an attractive setting in antique gold and avocado coloring.

Pannone, himself, has done all the remodeling which carries out a Mediterranean motif. Paneled walls are in avocado with the gold highlighted in the off-white wall paper. Each operator's station is divided by paneled sides to assure privacy and the foyer which serves as a waiting room features a planter in a cut-out section of the divider wall.

Chairs are upholstered in a flowered pattern and avocado carpeting covers the entire floor. The four operators employed by the Pannones are all Chelsea area girls—Eula Montgomery and Jeanie Ridd, who are graduates of Critter Beauty Academy, Ann Arbor, and Cindy Niehaus, a Sarah Taylor who graduated from Alexandra School of Cosmetology, Ann Arbor.

Wrestlers Lose To Place 3rd In League

Chelsea wrestlers bowed out as losers in two matches last week—the Dexter contest Thursday, Feb. 12 and the League meet Saturday at Dundee.

At Dexter the count was 21-27 in favor of Dexter. Dexter started out strong when Mark Montagne lost an 11-3 decision to the opposition.

Jim Wencel defeated his Dexter opponent at 107 by a score of 3-0 and Tom Tirb, 115, was defeated by Mike Kercher of Dexter, 4-1. Dale Klapperich of Dexter then pinned Steve Eresten in the 128-pound class and Larry Jones lost a 5-0 decision while Tom McKernan was pinned by Dexter's John Ruhlig at 137.

Chelsea started to move then as Bob Koengter pinned his opponent at 145 and Tim Colvia pinned Sprout of Dexter at 175 and Karsten Kargel defeated his opponent in 30 seconds.

Doug McDonald lost by a pin at 155 and Randy Seitz lost a 9-5 decision at 175.

Coach Richard Bareis pointed out that the deciding factor of the meet was the fact that Chelsea was completely dominated in the lightweight divisions.

Chelsea's record now stands at 7-2-3.

Chelsea finished third at the League wrestling meet at Dundee Saturday, Feb. 14 behind Dexter with 119 points, Saline 96 and Chelsea 84.

In reporting results of the meet it was pointed out that "in a disappointing performance Chelsea could not come up with consistently good performances from the entire team."

League championships were earned by Jim Wencel at 107 pounds and Karsten Kargel, 155 pounds.

Second-place finishers were Bob Koengter, 145, Tim Colvia, 165, and Dennis Brown, heavyweight.

Placing third were Mark Montagne, 98, Tom Tirb, 115, and Steve Eresten, 123, while fourth-place winners were Larry Jones, 130, and Doug McDonald at 155.

Chelsea suffered some very close losses including Dennis Brown who lost his second match to Gary Ernst, 8-7, and Larry Jones, wrestling at 130, who was forced to default his third-place match because of a severe arm injury.

The topic proved to be of exceptional interest to the club members and their guests and a thorough discussion of the matter took place. Because of the interest shown, a meeting was called following the regular Kiwanis Club meeting and all interested persons were invited to remain for it. Thirty-five persons stayed for the meeting.

The group made tentative plans to meet at least quarterly; to meet in the evening but not have a dinner meeting; and to meet at a specified location, possibly the library. Paul Mann, president of Chelsea State Bank, offered the bank as a meeting place for the first meeting of the group Monday, March 2, at 7:30 p.m., following the regular Kiwanis club meeting.

The Monday night date was agreed upon as the most favorable for a meeting night of the newly-formed group.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Starts Feb. 20

Chelsea area Girl Scouts will begin taking cookie orders Friday, Feb. 20. The sale will continue through March 7. Cookies will be delivered to customers from April 13 through April 25.

This year the sale is especially important to the Girl Scouts. They've set their council goal at 800,000 boxes of cookies, an increase of 3,000 boxes over what they sold last year. The council profit, 21 cents per box, will be used partly to further develop Camp Linden, their year-round camp in northern Livingston county.

Scouts are conducting a public campaign now to raise $600,000 to develop the camp, but they need the profit from this year's sale to take care of some costs that are not included in the $600,000 fund goal. In addition, council profits provide campships for needy Scouts, help pay expenses of older Scouts selected for national and international opportunities, and cover some operating expenses connected with camp operation.

Mrs. Paul Mann has been appointed Girl Scout Cookie Sale chairman for the Chelsea area, according to Mrs. Jack Hagopian, Plymouth, sales chairman for the entire Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. Anyone who is not contacted by a Scout and wishes to order cookies may call Mrs. Mann at 479-7141.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

The automobile, more than any other product, illustrates why we are now drowning in junk.

For a time it didn't seem to matter that much. The price of scrap iron was good and people needed the few dollars they could get for selling their car as junk.

In one large city 2,500 cars were abandoned in 1960, 25,000 in 1964 and more than 50,000 last year.

This same approach—ignoring disposition of a product after use—has resulted in an often ugly and sometimes dangerous landscape adorned with abandoned and junked cars, beer cans, soft drink containers, bottles, cartons, and other items.

Now, at last, a new attitude is developing. In creating a product we plan for its ultimate disposal.

President Nixon has suggested that to the extent possible "the price of goods should be made to include the cost of producing and disposing of them without damage to the environment."

It will take a time for this approach to be fully adopted but we must press forward with it.

One new tool we can use in this battle is that of economic incentive. Making it financially worthwhile for a person to properly dispose of his car will likely result in significant reduction in abandoned cars.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I reckon you saw by the paper where this president adviser allowed that rich folks is what is wrong with this country.

Use to be, said Zeke Grubby, they was certain rules everybody understood. A pore family had dress up Sunday clothes, and nobody at church knowed if the younguns had more than one suit and one pair of shoes.

Now when Zeke younguns got more clothes, than they can get in the closets of their central heated, central cooled, bathroom, even bedroom houses and they go around wearing long hair and rags like they ain't got the price of a haircut or a change of clothes.

Clem Webster said he had saw where this member of the Rockefeller family said it was real tough being rich cause so much is expected of folks with more money than they can spend.

This adviser said rich folks take up more space, pollute air and water more, drink more liquor, take more dope, drive more cars, have more wrecks and throw away more stuff than pore folks.

Take as a hole, Mister Editor, this is a rich country, and we are ashamed of it. We pay our Governments 36 percent out of ever dollar we git and we still live better than any country in the world in all times.

Personal, Mister Editor, it looks like rich folks is the only ones that can solve our problems. As fer me, I ain't going to knock rich cause I ain't never tried it.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Taxes Mount State and local governments in Michigan collected a total of $3.8 billion in tax moneys in fiscal 1968.

To get a quick idea how rapid an increase in collections that represents, one need only know the total collections only four years earlier in fiscal 1965 totaled $2.3 billion.

The collections have risen 62 percent since then, with local taxes rising 53 percent and state tax collections growing by 70 percent.

The total among state taxes collected jumped from $1.3 billion to $2.2 billion while local tax collections rose from $1 billion to $1.6 billion.

Michigan's state government by the way, ranked third in the nation last year in tax intake, with only California and New York ahead of it.

New York just barely edged California for the national leadership pulling in $5.33 compared to California's $5.24 billion. Michigan's total of $2.249 billion was just ahead of fourth place Pennsylvania's $2.226 total.

These four states accounted for more than one-third of all the state tax collections in the country and New York and California had more than one-quarter of the $40 billion total between them.

The total state revenues of $40 billion for the entire 50 states compares to President Nixon's proposed $200 billion budget for the upcoming fiscal year.

Michigan was one of 34 states in which the sales and use tax was the most productive source of income. The income tax topped the list in 14 states with the motor fuels tax the biggest money producer in New Hampshire and a severance tax on natural resources the top in Louisiana.

But Michigan's percentage increase in revenues fell far behind the increases seen in many states. Florida collected 30 percent more in taxes during the past fiscal year than it did the previous one.

A total of eight other states were above the 20 percent mark, though none of them border on Michigan.

To provide the reader with an idea of the enormity of the $3.8 billion total collected by state and local governments in Michigan last year—the same amount of money could be used to purchase a $30,000 home for every man, woman, and child in Kalamazoo and there would be enough money left over to do the same for every person in Battle Creek.

Another way of looking at it is that it would buy a $9,000 car for three-quarters of the residents of Detroit.

If you prefer, it would buy a color television set for nearly every man, woman and child in the state of Michigan.

Adams Out During his term as acting president of Michigan State University, Dr. Walter Adams developed a reputation as being the master of off the cuff, tongue-in-cheek statecraft.

Adams demonstrated his ability again recently when he released a letter in which he ruled out any possibility of his running for governor this year.

"I know this irrevocable decision comes as a cruel blow to Sander Levin, Zolton Ferency and Attorney General Kelley," he wrote, "but I must disappoint them and my legion of admirers and well-wishers around the state."

Adams' name had come up in speculation over who would be running for the Democratic Party's gubernatorial nomination.

Tourism Pushed One of the final decisions made by Gov. William G. Milliken in piecing together his budget message to the legislature was a decision to boost the Michigan Tourist Council's budget to provide for more tourism promotion.

Milliken has taken an active interest in the tourism field and aids say he will work to increase tourism during his tour in office. He recognizes it, they say, as a unique opportunity to bring outside money into Michigan.

As part of his drive to hike the tourism fund, he said, he expects to contact each of the regional tourist associations personally to see what he can to help their efforts.

Sen. P. Hart Will Address Michigan Soil Conservationists

Donald Zeeb, chairman of the Michigan Soil Conservation Districts, announces that the annual meeting of the Michigan Association of Soil Conservation Districts, Inc. will be held in Ann Arbor, Feb. 20-21.

The location of the meeting changes from year to year with the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District being selected as host for this year.

The Honorable Philip A. Hart, U. S. Senator from Michigan, will be the featured speaker for the annual meeting banquet.

Is your home going to turn into a desert this winter?

In wintertime, people in houses with flame-type heating wake up mornings with that stuffed-up feeling. With hoarse, dry throats. Furniture dries out and starts creaking.

Sound familiar? You bet it does. The best way to stop it is with electric heat.

You see, electric heat isn't a dry or drying heat.

So you usually don't need a humidifier. The moisture from bathing and cooking is all you need for natural comfort.

An Edison-Approved Electric Heating Contractor will be glad to tell you all about comfortable, moisture-retaining electric heat. He'll figure your operating cost, and there'll be no obligation. And right now, your contractor's offering a $100 trade-in on your old heating system. Call him for an electric heat survey, or mail the coupon below.

He'll show you how to turn your desert into an oasis.

Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test Taken By CHS Students

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test was held Tuesday at Chelsea High school with approximately 70 Chelsea students participating. Subjects stressed in the test are English usage, mathematics, social studies, natural science and work usage.

Approximately one million students take the test annually since the project was started following World War II. Of this number 34,000 national semi-finalists will be selected and these will again be the basis for selection of the 12,000 finalists.

George Bergman, counselor at Chelsea High school said that, to the best of his knowledge, there was a National Merit Scholarship winner from Chelsea High school, Linda Kilham early in the 1960's; however, she had moved away from Chelsea before the announcement was made. Others have placed high in the list and have received honorable mention here.

Bergman said it would take six weeks before any results of the tests will be known and final winners will probably not be announced until fall.

Saturday of this week is the date for another of the American College Testing programs at Chelsea High school. This is the equivalent of college admission tests and seniors who plan to take the test should be in Room 20 at the high school at 8 a.m. The test begins promptly at 8:15 a.m. and lasts until approximately 1:30 p.m.

This test is not only for Chelsea students but for students from many area high schools. One such test was given early in December and a third session is scheduled for April 25 for those who were unable to be present for the December or February test.

Future tests scheduled are a differential aptitude test Wednesday, March 11 for all Chelsea High school sophomores and a vocational aptitude test battery which will be available for all seniors, March 12. Bergman said all seniors are urged to take this test.

Lifetime Production Records Told for Area Holsteins

Lifetime milk and butterfat production levels for registered Holstein cows in this area have been announced by Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Individual animals have been credited with career food production totals exceeding 100,000 lbs. (46,500 quarts) of milk. The official testing program is sponsored by the Association and supervised by the state and local testing organizations.

Local Holstein breeders and their long-time producers reported by the organization include:

"Or-Win Skokie Bell Lori, 4621-882 (GP), 124,174 lbs. of milk and 5,073 lbs. of butterfat in 3,479 days; Klayvye Rag Apple Elsie, 5188056 (VG), 105,084 lbs. of milk and 4,289 lbs. of butterfat in 3,540 days. Both are owned by George Macomber & Sons, Manchester.

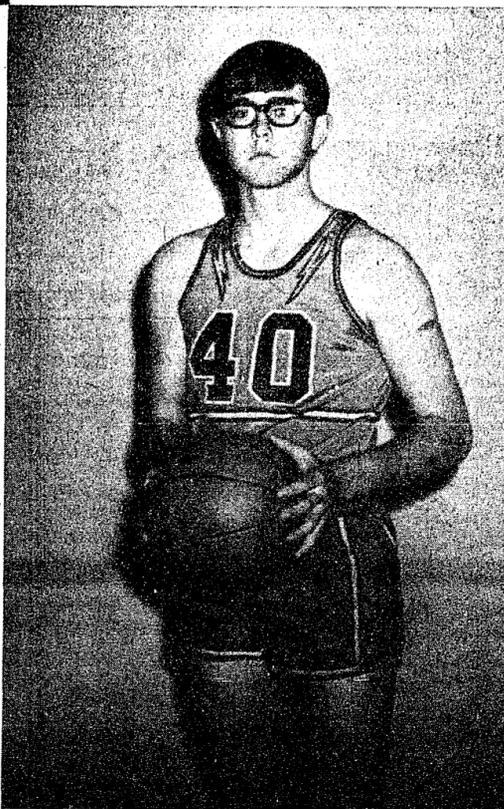

Because of the high cost for herd replacements, cows that stay in the herd longer and achieve high lifetime production have proven to be more profitable. The Holstein Association has 35,500 cows on file that have attained the 50-ton production milestone.

Deer Crashes...

Cager of the Week

JEFF HUGHES, who fills a forward position on the Chelsea High school basketball team, is 6 feet tall and weighs 165 pounds. Not only interested in basketball, he also plays football and participates in track, with extra-curricular activities including hunting and "spending time with friends." A sophomore, he has been at Chelsea High for two years. He attended elementary schools at Dexter before moving to Saline where the family lived for 10 years and then lived in Indiana for two years before coming to Chelsea. With his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Covert Hughes, he lives at 6651 Werkner Rd. He has an older sister and brother, Carol, who is employed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, and Mike who is with the U. S. Air Force in Libya. He, himself, is thinking about joining the Air Force when he completes his high school studies.

Michigan Car-Deer Crashes in '69 Claim 11 Motorists, 8,890 Whitetails

Lansing—Michigan's mounting problem of car-deer collisions struck its most somber note in 1969 as 11 motorists and a record of 8,890 whitetails were reported killed from these accidents on the state's highways.

The figure on human fatalities, gleaned from newspaper accounts collected by the Department of Natural Resources, is not official. The actual toll will be shown in State Police records which are still being processed for the latter part of 1969.

The unofficial count tops the mark of three fatalities in 1967, the first and only other year on record for which deaths of Michigan motorists have been definitely linked to car-deer crashes.

Last year's record rash of these accidents resulted in vehicle repair bills which are estimated at about $1.8 million. That figure is based on an estimate made several years ago by insurance companies which indicated that damage to vehicles from these highway collisions averaged approximately $200 per vehicle.

With repair costs having risen since then, that estimate can be considered conservative, the DNR has been advised.

Last year's known highway deer toll, up 12 percent from 1968 and a new high for the 10th straight year, carries another sad statistic—the waste of about 445,000 pounds of venison. That figure is based on the DNR's estimate that approximately 50 pounds of venison can be salvaged, on the average, from deer which run afoul of vehicles.

Southern Michigan remained the state's most accident-prone area for these accidents as at least 5,329 deer met death on highways in that part of the state. The southern region's toll was 16 percent higher than in 1968 and again exceeded the combined figure for the Upper and Northern Lower Peninsulas. More than 1,300 highway deer losses were registered in Jackson, Calhoun, Eaton, and Ingham counties.

About the same number of motorists in the northern Lower Peninsula were unable to steer clear of whitetails in 1969 as during the year before. They killed 2,428 deer last year, only seven more than in 1968.

Mecosta, Osceola, and Midland counties were major trouble spots in that part of the state, accounting for 470 of the region's toll. In the Upper Peninsula, 1,126 deer lost their lives in run-ins with cars. Those losses above the Straits were up nearly 31 percent from 1968, with 327 of them occurring in Menominee, Dickinson, and Iron counties.

Driving Safety Tip

Cold days are shorter, so more of our work day driving is done during periods of darkness, according to the Michigan State Safety Commission. It's more important to keep all lights bright, focused right and working at this time of year.

Catholic Social Services Annual Meeting Slated

The Board of Directors of Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County will hold its annual dinner meeting at Mercywood Hospital, 4089 Jackson Rd., on Feb. 24 at 6:30 p.m. The Honorable Ross Campbell, Circuit Court Judge, will be the principal speaker. The invocation will be given by Father William King, Vicar of the Vicariate for the Ann Arbor area.

At the dinner, newly-elected officers of the Board will be formally installed. Elected as the chairman of the board is Harry Hogan who as the associate administrator at Mercywood Hospital, has served as a member of the board of directors for Catholic Social Services the past several years. Walter Niemann, DDS, has been elected as vice-chairman of the board. Dr. Niemann is an oral surgeon in Ann Arbor. Sister Mary Blanche, RSM, administrator of Mercywood Hospital is the new secretary of the board. The newly-elected treasurer is Dr. Thomas Peterson, who is a member of the Orthopedic Surgery Department at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Catholic Social Services has just completed another successful year in providing social services for the community. Miss Marguerite M. Parrish, ACSW, director, reports that more than 3,600 families were served by the agency during 1969. Miss Parrish also notes that of these 3,600 families more than 1,600 were Protestant, 1,400 were Catholic, and 550 were Jewish or other religions.

Catholic Social Services is a family and children's agency which provides individual and group counseling for adults and children. Marriage counseling makes up a large segment of the agency work. The agency also has a special program for unmarried parents and foster care and adoption programs. The most recently developed agency service is a special program which combines group and individual counseling and involves both parents and pre-school age children.

Sports Medicine Conference Sponsored By Medical Society

The program in management of winter spring sports injuries will feature Dr. S. M. Farhat, Department of Neurosurgery, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and U. of M. Medical Center, who will present "Emergency-Care of Head and Neck Injuries Particularly Related to Hockey."

Dr. Del Pearson, pediatrician, of Ypsilanti, will speak of "Weight Control in Athletics."

Dr. F. J. Herberson, Department of Orthopedic Surgery, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and U. of M. Medical Center, will discuss "Common Injury Problems in Hockey, Wrestling, and Track."

James Hunt (R.P.T.) former U. of M. head trainer will present "Forum on Training Problems in Winter-Spring Sports."

Girl Scouts Remember Founders of Movement On 'Thinking Day'

Next Sunday, Feb. 22, holds meaning to Americans because it's the birthday of George Washington. But to the Girl Scouts it's a special day for an additional reason—it's "Thinking Day," the birthday of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, the husband and wife team who founded the entire scouting movement in England in the early 1900's.

Although international friendship is an integral part of the Girl Scout program, a special emphasis is placed on it at "Thinking Day." Girl Scouts and Girl Guides in 89 countries in the free world plan special events for the occasion to remember their "sister Scouts" all around the world.

Boys at St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys on Old US-12, west of Chelsea, enjoyed a Valentine party Thursday, Feb. 12, through the continuing generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beissel. The Beissels mark every holiday with some remembrance for the boys at the school.
The boys were treated to cake, ice cream, punch and valentine candy. Records were played and valentines were distributed.
Boys in the school's rhythm band played a special number, "Sweetheart of All My Dreams" for Mrs. Beissel and the Rev. Fr. Louis, director of the school, presented her with a heart-shaped box of candy.
In addition to the nuns and priests at the school, guests were present from Chelsea, Saline, Lansing and Detroit.
Friday, most of the boys went home to spend the holiday week with their families.

SCHEDULE CHANGE

Two popular series move to a new time, beginning Sunday, Feb. 22. The repeat broadcast of WM-83's Assignment 10, a 60-minute news and public affairs magazine for Mid-Michigan viewers, is featured at 12 noon. One segment focuses on the life and philosophy of Malcolm X, featuring interviews with people who knew him.
"International Magazine," part of NET's rotating public affairs series, moves to 11 a.m. This week the program reports on a 4,000-mile highway being built in South America; looks at Libya six months after the military overthrow of King Idris I's regime; interviews Winston Churchill's grandson and portrays Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia and his stand in the Vietnam situation.

BALLET

The National Ballet of Canada performs "Cinderella" on "NET Festival," Sunday, Feb. 22, at 1 p.m.
Using Prokofiev's score, the 90-minute production, with ballerina Veronica Tennant in the title role, retells the classic story of the wicked stepmother, her daughters and the much-abused Cinderella. Starring with Miss Tennant are Jeremy Blanton as the Prince and Lois Smith as the Fairy Godmother.
"Cinderella" brings together a cast of 70, a full orchestra under the baton of George Crum, original costumes by Jurgen Rose and sets designed for this production by Robert Lawsson.

SENSITIVITY TRAINING

"NET Journal" reports on psychiatrists' efforts to overcome the "boy syndrome" in a "Southern auto factory on 'In the Company of Men'" Sunday, Feb. 22, at 4:30 p.m.
The documentary, silver award winner at the 1969 International Job-Film Fair, relates the role of sensitivity training in narrowing the racial gap between white foremen and blacks designated as "hardcore unemployed."
Initial sessions between Dr. Walter Klavun and the foremen prepare them for the eventual confrontation with a group of disenfranchised blacks. Dr. Dennis Jackson, a black psychiatrist, introduces this group to the foremen and asks them why they would "rather be unemployed." Scenes in which the men and their former employers have been involved are then recast in role-playing sessions, during which the men exchange positions.

DRAMA

"NET Playhouse" features one of the most powerful studies of evil in the history of drama on "The Changeling," Sunday, Feb. 22, at 11 p.m.
The 300-year-old tale of lust, deceit, murder and retribution was written by Thomas Middleton, a contemporary of Shakespeare's, in collaboration with Thomas Rowley. Produced in London in 1633, it is considered among the finest of Jacobean dramas.
In rousing, fast-moving, blood-and-thunder style, "The Changeling" tells the story of the beautiful, arrogant Beatrice Joanna who, in secret collusion with her father's repellent servant, launches on a path of murder, intrigue and unchecked passions.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT
Washington's birthday always reminds us of the cherry tree story. Whether the legend is fact or fiction is unimportant. The legend symbolizes a principle; to tell the truth — whatever the consequences.

Ironically, the cherry tree incident has a peculiar twist. The incident was authored by a commercially minded minister and book peddler named Mason Weems. When he wrote Washington's biography, "The Life and Memorable Actions of George Washington," (now in its 80th plus edition) Weems penned it neither for patriotism or posterity. People were the same in his day as they are today. Weems knew when he wrote the book that he could make money from it because of Washington's popularity.

His money making motive is as unimportant as the fact or fiction of the legend itself. When he described the incident, he recorded a principle that helped our heritage. The heritage helps and encourages us to tell the truth — come what may.

Frosh Cagers Swarm Over Dexter, 41-20

Chelsea's Freshman basketball team romped to an easy 41-20 victory over Dexter last week.

The Bulldogs' defense held the Dreadnaughts to under six points in three of the four quarters while scoring more than 10 in the first, second and fourth periods.

It was the second time that the Chelsea Frosh had defeated Dexter's Frosh this year as the Bulldog cagers stormed into an early lead that the Dreadnaughts could not overcome.

Dan Bartke topped all scorers as he tallied 12 points. He was followed by Mark Policht and Bruce Guster who scored 8 and 6 points, respectively. John Mann scored 4 and did a fine job on the boards, grabbing 13 rebounds. Other scorers for Chelsea were Bill Tite, 4; Don Conklin, 3; and Doug Hillman and Chris Phinney, each with 2.

James Juergens Nominated as Candidate for Service Academy

James J. Juergens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Juergens, 125 S. Fletcher Rd., is one of 28 men from the Second Congressional District nominated by Congressman Marvin L. Esch (R-Mich.) for the nation's four service academies. Nomination by Esch is an essential step for academy acceptance, but actual appointment is made by the academies not by the congressman.

JAMES J. JUERGENS

Juergens, who is a senior at Chelsea High school, began his interest in a military career at an early age. He worked after school and week-ends at Stuckey's.

Juergens lives at home with his parents and two brothers, Michael and Mark, and his sister, Alice. Each year Esch nominates young men to the Military Academy at West Point, the Naval Academy at Annapolis, the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs and the Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, N. Y.

The congressman annually conducts a district-wide competition among applicants. Each man is required to take a Designation Examination which is administered by the Civil Service Commission, submit evidence of academic qualification and appear before a non-partisan Academy Board for interviewing. Nominees are chosen, Esch said, "on the basis of academic records and test scores, extracurricular interests and activities, interest in a military career and maturity."

Esch nominates a maximum of 10 men for each vacancy in each academy. After receiving the Congressman's nomination, each man is given extensive physical and mental examinations by the academies. His qualifications are compared with all other nominees for the same vacancy and the academy makes the final selection of the most outstanding young man who will be accepted as a cadet or midshipman.

★ Tree Killers Loose

Prohibitors of the use of DDT to control the spread of destructive insects in our nation's forests may be having second thoughts about pesticides in general, while the Gypsy moth kills trees and wrecks homes of wildlife at a growing rate.

The leaf-eating moth is on the offensive in the northeastern states and is moving southward for the first time into the states of Maryland, Delaware and Virginia.

The American Forest Institute said the Gypsy moth feeds on the green leaves of trees. It presents the fact that a single defoliation of a tree by the moth turned caterpillar, can kill white pine, spruce, and hemlock. Two defoliations can destroy hardwood. In heavily infested areas these caterpillars can quickly munch the leaves off entire forests.

Estimated annual damage by the insect is in the range of $2 million to $4 million, which includes the bill for loss of timber and the cost of unsuccessful control measures.

"All we can do now is to delay further its spread to the Allegheny, Appalachian, and Ozark Mountain regions where much of the nation's hardwood timberland is located," a USDA official said. Hardwood trees are one of its favorite foods.

More than 255,000 acres were defoliated by the insect in 1969 in the northeastern states. Forty million acres are now quarantined, but the act is described as being a "vain effort."

Currently the moth is a threat to our natural resources. Its work increases fire and erosion hazards, affects the flow of streams, reduces land and recreational values, and destroys wildlife habitats, the report said.

Until about 10 years ago the moth was confined to the northeast. Today the pressure is on the scientist to solve the problem without one of its best weapons—effective pesticides.

To help him, a special advisory council has been formed by federal, state and local governments working with universities and industry in the eastern seaboard states to plot further control measures.

Washtenaw GOP Planning Lincoln Day Dinner Party

U. S. Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George Romney, former governor of Michigan, will be the speaker at the Lincoln Day dinner scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 23, by the Washtenaw county Republican Committee.

Nancy Chase, county chairman of the Republican Committee, announcing the dinner, said Mrs. Romney had also been invited to be present but confirmation had not been received from her on Tuesday.

Among other notables invited to the dinner and to the pre-dinner reception at 6:30 p.m. is Congressman Marvin L. Esch.

The dinner is to be held at Weber's Supper Club and tickets, may be obtained at Republican headquarters, 2255 Industrial Highway, or from any Republican committee member.

Deane Baker and Judy Winchester are co-chairmen of the event. Charleen Bishop, ticket chairman, heads a committee consisting of Lloyd Johnson, Barbara Johnson, Joan Gunther and Terry Foster.

Fourth Circuit Court Judge Recommended

A fourth circuit court judge for growth and the greatly increased Washtenaw country will be called for in legislation to be introduced by Senator Gilbert E. Bursley (R-Ann Arbor).

The Washtenaw County Bar Association's special committee studying this subject recommended that this new post be created and the Bar Association unanimously adopted a resolution to that effect.

"I would agree with the committee's findings relative to Washtenaw county's explosive population Report shows a convincing increase in work load for the present judicial circuit's three judges. Future projections for the work load emphasize this increase even more dramatically," Senator Bursley added.

"Of course, we will have to have legislative approval and appropriations for the new post and corresponding budgetary action by the Washtenaw county Board of Supervisors, who have a real fiscal concern in the matter."

"Let me stress the fact that our present circuit judges—Ager, Conlin, and Campbell—are doing a superlative job, but there is a limit to the demands that can be put upon them. However, if we do not create a fourth judgeship now, each of the present judges will have a 1 1/2-year backlog of cases by Jan. 1, 1973 (i.e., 1,100-1,200 cases).

boxes. We also made valentine animals. Kent Heller received a tent and sleeping bag for his birthday. Susan Slane's little sister, Roberta, has a French Poodle puppy. Judy Norris has a new dog named Gypsy. Kent Heller and John Dreiman are celebrating Scout Week by wearing their uniforms every day. Valisa Pletcher liked the clowns best at the Shrine Circus. THIRD GRADE—
Teacher: Mrs. Edmonds
Reporters: Scott Picklesimer, Janet Walz, and Sam Picklesimer
Feb. 17 was Dental Health Week. We had films and a program on teeth. One film showed us how to brush our teeth. Mrs. Edmonds made a chart for class tooth brushing scores.

Tammy Collinsworth's uncle made a drawing that we color and label as we study each part in our social studies.

Feb. 14th is Valentine's Day. Friday, our class will have a party. On Tuesday, Feb. 10 our class made Valentine pockets for our valentine cards.

Our class wrote reports about George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. George Washington was not to have cut down the cherry tree? This story could have been made up like many of the stories that were written about him. We hope all of you have a nice Valentine's day.

Teacher: Mrs. Hire
Mrs. Hire's class is writing their own stories.

"My name is David," written by David Cross.

I am not very big. I am looking for things that are bigger than I am. I am not as big as a shark. A shark is bigger than I am. I am not as big as an Irish setter. An Irish setter is bigger than I am. I am not as big as a Saint Bernard. He is bigger than I am. I am not as big as a whale. He is bigger than I am. I am not as big as a dinosaur. A dinosaur is bigger than I am. He is the biggest thing I know! Now I learned that I am not very big. Good-bye!

"I am not very Big," by Mary Haas.

My name is Mary. I am not very big. A donkey is bigger than I am. I am not as big as a cat. A cat is bigger than I am. I am not as big as a horse. A horse is bigger than I am. I am not as big as a giraffe. A giraffe is bigger than I am. I am not as big as an elephant. An elephant is bigger than I am.

"The Mole That Bagged a Lot," written by Gayle Albrecht.

Once upon a time there lived a mole that bragged. And one day he said he could jump from the highest tree. But there happened to be a hole, and he fell in, and there were burrs in that hole. "Ouch!" he said. "Ouch!" And he never bragged again.

We're studying about Africa in Social Studies. We just got through studying India. We are studying fractions in arithmetic. They are fun to do. At first they were hard but now they are easy. We saw a program about the weather and how the thermometer measures it. Mrs. Packard gave us a set of Guinea pigs for our class. Every time somebody rattles a piece of paper he whistles because he thinks we are going to give him something to eat. We also have two Gerbils. One is a female and the other one is a male. We think the female might have babies. We are making Kings and Queens of hearts in art. We had to make everything out of hearts except the hair and the head. We made Picassos. We cut pictures out of magazines that were round. And made pictures out of them and put them on a piece of paper.

Teacher: Mrs. Heller
Reported by: Alfred Schmidt, Micky Marques and Judy O'Connor

We made a science booklet and we are writing all our questions in it. We have been studying animal and plant environments and on Thursday we saw a movie about insect adaptations.

This week for a Valentine's party we are going to celebrate Lincoln's birthday too. We will have hearts and a face of Lincoln hanging up on the wall. For refreshments we will have cup cakes and punch. We will play games with each other. We wove heart baskets to put the cards in.

We are in Africa in Social Studies. We have been talking about Mount Kilimanjaro.

We have a boy in our room named Billy. He got in a snowmobile wreck and he will not be to school for a long time. He is in the hospital.

We had a new girl in our room from West Virginia for one day. Her name is Becky.

IN THE OPEN

By Lee Smits

Hoping to restrict spring shooting to duck species that do not nest in Michigan, killing of mallard and black duck in the spring was prohibited.

It is doubtful that this exception was regarded seriously by the average shooter of that period. The game warden was a highly unpopular figure in the old days.

Preparations for spring shooting began while ice was still solid. For point shooting on interior lakes, brush was hauled out to construct blinds on favorite points. Local shooters claimed exclusive rights to their blind sites.

At the head of the Detroit River there would be frantic races before dawn to reach choice positions along the shore, on Peche Island and Belle Isle.

Ontario had an open season on geese in the spring, but not on ducks. It was not easy to make a legal determination whether a man with a shotgun was after geese or ducks, unless he had birds in possession.

Mr. Smits' column is presented through the courtesy of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

Impact of Foreign Trade Being Studied

Lansing—The impact of international business on Michigan's economy is being measured in a survey being conducted by the University of Michigan's Institute for International Commerce in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Some 20,000 questionnaires have been mailed to manufacturers and wholesalers throughout the state to secure the data needed to determine the total impact of international business on the state's economy. It is the most comprehensive survey of its kind ever undertaken in the U. S.

Hunters were clad in white, including hoods. Redheads decoy readily and once settled in the decoys, are inclined to stay. A sneak-shooter might sail through a flock of redhead, fire half a dozen shots and find a few bewildered ducks waiting for him to reload. Before regulations limited the number of shells in the magazine of a pump gun it was customary to weld an extension tube on the magazine so that up to a dozen shots were available. A pound of lead poured into the butt of the stock helped balance this lethal arm.

Spring shooting had its singular appeal. For many years the open season ran from March 2 to April 10 in early April it was likely that "pike" would be running into the water to spawn and illicit gill nets provided shooters with a change of diet.

"In Social Studies we are studying the Civil War. We are studying maps and charts. In Math we will be doing fractions. We need fraction kits to help us see parts and wholes. Feb. 11, 1970 there is a spelling bee. The words come from the back of our spelling book. We haven't studied all the words yet, so it will be hard.

Limericks are fun to write. We spent one English period writing our own. Some really funny ones were read to the class.

Expanded Homestead Tax Exemption Bill

Helps Senior Citizens
State Representative Thomas G. Sharpe (R-Howell) today urged senior citizens to check with local assessing officials before March 3 to see if they qualify for expanded homestead tax exemption coverage.

"The legislature has recently passed a bill completely wiping out the property value limit previously used for exemption qualification," Sharpe said. "In the same bill we increased the income limit from $5,000 to $6,000.

"These changes will mean that many more senior citizens may now be able to qualify for the homestead tax exemption of $3,500 of state equalized value. All that remains now is for Gov. Milliken to sign the bill into law."

Representative Sharpe said that the new exemptions do not apply to the year 1969. However, the new provisions do apply to the entire 1970 calendar year, so the first two months of this year will come under the new regulations.

"This is a measure to help elderly, fixed-income persons to beat inflation," Sharpe said. "Inflationary property values and higher property taxes are practically confiscating the property of many older people. Since their incomes don't rise with general inflation, we must expand exemptions to protect the homes for which they've worked a lifetime.

"Let me say again," said Sharpe "that senior citizens have only until the first Tuesday in March to apply for the expanded coverage. So it's essential to quickly check your status and apply before March 3 if you qualify."

LONG TRIP
A 261-day round trip to Mars is envisioned in the 1980's. Each astronaut would be supplied with 1,800 meals on the trip.

Velvet that has become matted in wear can be steamed to restore the pile. You can hold the matted area over a steaming teakettle, or draw the wrong side of the fabric lightly across a hot iron with a damp cloth. Straighten fibers, by gently brushing crushed spots while they are still wet.

Driving Safety Tip
The Michigan State Safety Commission presents this tip for safer winter driving from the National Safety Council: "Tests show that reinforced tire chains provide four to seven times as much pulling ability on snow and ice as regular tires without chains." Always carry chains in the trunk of your car to assure your ability to get through regardless of the weather.

Driving Safety Tip

"Easy does it" is a good rule for winter drivers to follow—in starting out, in moving on the roadway, and in coming to a stop. Reduce your speed on slippery surfaces, even with the help of snow tires or the much greater help of tire chains, advises the Michigan State Safety Commission. Check your stopability with a few quick ones before you get in traffic.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Problems

Many of us live for a long time before making the simple discovery that problems and trouble never go away merely because we turn our back on them.

As we grow older, most of us come to another discovery. We look about and we see that everyone has problems.

Life is all too short. We should live it, day by day. We should not waste time lamenting that which might have been, nor crying for things which can never be.

Sheets and pillowcases come in two basic types—percale and muslin. Percale is made with combed yarns.

Spoilage of home-canned foods often results from "tight packs" because the center of the jar fails to get hot enough for a sufficiently long time.

Band Boosters Plead for More Helpers

Robert Robbins, president of the Chelsea Band Boosters, asks, "Do you like our Chelsea school band? And then addresses himself to the parents of band members asking for their co-operation in promoting the best interests of the band.

"Band boosters are parents of band students and are responsible for the students' uniforms (keeping them in presentable condition) and also responsible for promoting the sales of fruit cakes and candy to raise money for the band's benefit.

Other areas in which help is needed is when chaperons must be provided for out-of-town trips to music festivals, etc., or to band camps.

Robbins says the "band program is being hurt because band parents are not coming forth when help is needed" and he urged all band parents to do everything possible to help wherever they can.

Band Booster meetings are held in the band room at Chelsea High school the second Thursday of the month. All band parents are urged to attend, Robbins said.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER:

"I am fifteen and my problem is a big one for me. I need help. I like a boy I met on the phone. I've seen him in person. He kissed me and I kissed him. I fell for him and he said he loved me. One day he turned it off and said he didn't want to see me again. You may think this is another problem — cause every boy that kisses me I fall for. But he's different! I really fell for him and he can't get it through his head. What can I do to get him back or what can I do to forget him?"

Kozminski Holstein Earns Highest Possible 'Type' Classification

Brattleboro, Vt.—Len-Dor Penstate Star Tena, 6360314, a registered Holstein cow owned by Ike Kozminski, Chelsea, Mich., been officially classified "Excellent," the highest designation attainable in the type classification program of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

This highly select designation is applied only to animals scoring 90 or more of the 100 points representing theoretical perfection in body conformation. Of more than 87,200 registered Holsteins officially classified for type last year, only 1,398 were rated "Excellent."

This animal moved into the "Excellent" bracket at 90 points for the first time during a recent classification of the herd. Classifier was Ronald G. Long, Miamisburg, O., staff member of the national Holstein organization. Animals scored "Excellent" in previous programs are not included in this listing.

The Classification Program, in continuous operation since 1929, provides a universally recognized method of comparing the conformation of living animals with that of the true-type Holstein cow or bull. Participation is currently at an all-time high level.

Thank you for the kindness of reading my letter."

Our reply: Do yourself a favor and come to the realization that all boys are different, but in some respects, most of them are the same. Many boys will try to kiss a girl on the first date. You may not think so, but they usually like a girl more, and think more of her, if they aren't successful the first time they try. You might realize, too, that the fact you really fell for him is no guarantee he will have the same feelings for you. Don't chase after him. And, next time you find a boy that you like very much, wait until you know him well before you tell him you've flipped. In other words, play it cool.

If you have a teenage problem you want to have discussed or an observation to make, address your letter to "For and About Teen-Agers," Community and Suburban Press Service, in care of this newspaper.

Girl Scout Council Opens $600,000 Campaign for Camp Improvement

Huron Valley Girl Scouts today unveiled $600,000 capital fund campaign plans aimed at further development of the Council's 430-acre campsite in northern Livingston county.

In announcing the effort Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing of Plymouth, who is the organization's President, pointed out that this is the first time the Huron Valley Council has sought public support for capital improvements. She also noted that campaign objectives represent more than two years of work by the Council Board of Directors, the Long-Range Planning Committee and Consulting Commission. Their findings provided a basis for establishing minimal camping requirements for the next decade. Campaign offices have already been opened at 218 N. Fourth Ave., in Ann Arbor.

Campaign funds will be used to build 15 new structures. Included in the plans, formulated by the Camp Development Committee with John Hunter of Ann Arbor as chairman, are a dining hall that will seat 200, four large winterized troop houses, two smaller winterized troop houses with one that will be convertible for health center usage and shower-laundry house. Also, three staff cabins, cook's cabin, administration building, year-round caretaker's residence, two tent units and improved water recreation and service facilities.

According to Mrs. Hulsing, membership figures show Girl Scouting to be the most popular youth activity for girls in our area. During the last decade, membership has grown from 7,000 to 11,500. One of every four girls in the 7-to-17 age group is a Girl Scout as compared with the national average of one in seven.

Nearly three-fourths of all girls living within the jurisdiction of the Huron Valley Council are members for some part of the 10-year span during which they are eligible.

The need for a capital fund program is the result of the Council's large and growing membership. By 1980, the Girl Scouts will have an estimated 16,500 members, based on projections developed by Wyeth Allen, general chairman of the Long-Range Planning Committee. Allen, professor emeritus of the University of Michigan, based this projection on population figures of the service area in 1980—more than 750,000.

Huron Valley Council was formally established in 1958 as a consolidation of area Girl Scout troops organized early in the WILLIAM P. MacFALL has been named general chairman of the recently-launched Huron Valley Girl Scout capital fund campaign for further development of the campsite in Livingston county. MacFall, who is vice-president of Wagner's in Ann Arbor, is married to a former Girl Scout and leader and has two daughters, who were also Girl Scouts.

Originally the Council embraced western Wayne, Livingston and Washtenaw counties. A large part of Monroe county was added to the jurisdiction in 1967.

Before acquisition of the Livingston county site, camping programs were dependent upon rented facilities. Today, however, more than $250,000 has been invested in the camp which has been almost fully financed by profits from the sale of Girl Scout cookies.

The girls have sold nearly a million packages of cookies thus far but it will take them until the year 2005 to pay for facilities needed for today's membership unless the public strongly supports the capital fund effort.

Summer camping programs provide a good illustration of the difficulties our Girl Scouts are experiencing. The camp can now accommodate only 130 girls in each of the four 14-day summer resident camping sessions. National Girl Scout Council standards show that the total 520 girls who can participate is only about half what it should be. Every year many girls who would enjoy and benefit from these programs must be turned away.

The Huron Valley Camp is not a "summer only" operation, as is often assumed. Mrs. Harry M. Crooks, Jr., of Ann Arbor, who is program chairman for the Council, states that about 2,000 girls use the camp during the school year on week-ends and vacations. Further, she points out that many Scouts don't get to go at all because of limited facilities.

By 1980, when the projected need will be 900 resident and 9,600 week-end spaces, there will be even more disappointment if something isn't done now.

Good Health Often A State of Mind

"Take time to enjoy life. The person who is happy and having fun, feels better," contends Mrs. Gail Imig, Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service family-life specialist.

Wanting to feel good automatically disposes most people to doing things that make them feel good, she believes. Remaining physically active is one of these things. Staying relatively closed in at home causes you to lose physical endurance and cuts down on social contacts.

"Take good care of yourself," advises Mrs. Imig. "Prompt attention to teeth and health not only saves money in the long run, but enables you to enjoy life more and to feel more at ease in social situations."

Sometimes, especially when you grow older, it seems a bother to prepare good meals. But, you still need the same foods for good health that you've used all your life—perhaps fewer calories, but the same nutrients, Mrs. Imig declares.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held March 6 at the home of Sue Heydlauff at 7:30 p.m. Janet Wackenhut, scribe.

The weekly meetings have included several demonstrations—pressing techniques by Darlene Robbins and Stephanie Aldrich, appropriate trims and seam finishes by Laurie Mann. Measuring for and fittings of slacks and culottes, as well as the application of a zipper and clipping and grading seams were explained at two earlier meetings.

Sheryl Cantrell and Pat Knickerbocker each made a muslin of their slacks to determine the correct fit. Madama Marzee learned how to lengthen a pattern due to growing several inches since purchasing her pattern.

Everyone enjoyed the Christmas party and fun shared at Carole Dieder's and were proud of the pine cone wreath they made which was given to the McKune Library.

The remaining meetings will be work meetings with a special session pertaining to modeling on Feb. 23. The cookie committee, Anne Schaeble, Kathy Dunn and Lori Schiller have scheduled adequate refreshments for each meeting, asking the members to provide cookies and all are looking forward to March 13, 14 and 15.

TIPS for your TOP from

TODDY and FRAN

There's really not much this time of year to boost your morale unless you're taking off for warmer climes. Spring is not quite around the corner, and fall is so far back we've forgotten how it felt. The best you can do is console yourself with a prize for being patient. Naturally we can't think of anything that will make you feel greater than a new hairdo (unless it is TWO new hairdos—one in the form of a wig, fall or wiglet or wig for you to visit our shop—no charge, no queuing hour car in a tiny spot or wiggling into a vertical parking place—) See if it won't make you feel lots better to come out 'n' see us some time soon.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor: Did the student council of CHS give serious consideration to the constitutional implications of the new dress code? Can student representatives Jane Mann and Jane Hasel-schwartz report that the legal aspects have been carefully researched and there is no indication that student rights are being subverted?

Why has the Chelsea school board and the student council taken a position which is being opposed throughout this land by the American Civil Liberties Union? Is the student council, through school publications, properly informing students of their constitutional rights and are they telling students that they may sue the school board for violation of those rights? I am asking students Jane Mann and Jane Hasel-schwartz for a public reply in this newspaper column.

As a matter of fact, high school student Thomas Breen, with the support of the ACLU, has just won such a case against his school board.

On Dec. 3, the right of students to wear long hair was declared by a federal court of appeals for the first time, and the case may produce the first Supreme Court ruling on the issue.

The Wisconsin superintendent of public instruction has asked the state attorney general to appeal the decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit that "the right to wear one's hair at any length or in any desired manner is an ingredient of personal freedom protected by the United States Constitution."

The Court cited the "penumbra" of the First Amendment free speech guarantee as well as the Ninth Amendment guarantee of fundamental rights.

According to the opinion, the Williams Bay, Wis. school board did not prove a valid interest in insisting on short hair. It offered no evidence that long-haired students had created disturbances.

"To uphold arbitrary school rules... for the sake of some nebulous concept of school discipline is contrary to the principle that we are a government of laws which are passed pursuant to the United States Constitution," the court said. High school students, like adults, are protected by the Constitution "from arbitrary and unjustified governmental rules."

The court further held that the "in loco parentis" doctrine is inapplicable because it is impossible to comply with a hair length regulation during school hours only.

"Although schools need to stand in place of a parent in regard to certain matters during the school hours, the power must be shared with the parents, especially over intimately personal matters such as dress and grooming... In the absence of any showing of disruption, the doctrine of 'in loco parentis' has no applicability," the court said.

The case is handled for the ACLU of Wisconsin by Attorneys Sander N. Karp, Melvin Greenberg and Percy L. Julian, Jr.

Yours truly, Walter Brauninger.

Killing Redtail Hawk Costs Detroit $100

A 49-year-old Detroit, Jimmy Goolsby, appeared before Judge Patrick J. Conlin in district court here Wednesday, Feb. 18, and pleaded guilty to killing a Red-tail hawk that was doing no damage to poultry or livestock. He was assessed and paid $100 in fine and costs for the offense which occurred Feb. 7, according to Conservation Officer Donley Boyer.

While owls, eagles and hawks are considered birds of prey, the state legislature and the Audubon Society do not feel these birds should be shot, Boyer said, and effective March 20, in accordance with Act 325, as amended in 1969, liquidation damages as well as fines and costs will be assessed of offenders.

The liquidation damages for killing one of these birds will be "no less than $100 or more than $200" in addition to any fine and court costs.

The liquidation damages are a reimbursement to the state for the loss of the bird, since indiscriminate shooting of these three species would soon bring about their extinction.
