Experts Will Discuss Drug Abuse Issues

Ever thought the day would come when a 12-year-old would be mainlining heroin?

Just a few short weeks ago a young man from New York sat on his doctor's lap and told a legislative investigating committee about his use of drugs. Twelve-year-old Frank De Jesus told of mainlining heroin (shooting it straight into his veins).

If it can happen in New York today, it can and is happening in other parts of the country. At least this is the thinking of many concerned parents and teens who are striving to control the abuse of drugs.

Petitions Now Available for School Board

Petitions are available in the Superintendent of Schools office in Chelsea High school for school board nominees for the June 8 election.

There will be two vacancies on the school board, created by the expiration of the terms of Herman Koenn and Charles Powers.

Although Powers has indicated that he will seek re-election, Koenn has deferred his decision on the matter. Each has just completed a four-year term.

Petitions, to be valid, must be filed with at least 20 and not more than 54 signatures of qualified school electors. This is four percent of the total of votes received by the candidate with the greatest number of votes in the last school election.

A qualified school elector in Chelsea is one who is 21 years of age, a citizen of the United States, a resident of the state for at least six months, a resident of the district for at least 30 days, and a registered voter.

Each qualified elector may sign two petitions since there are two vacancies to be filled, but must use his real name. In the case of husband and wife, each must sign. One may not sign for both.

Anyone may be a candidate for election to the school board provided he fulfills the above qualifications for a qualified school elector and provided that his name appears on the assessment roll, and provided he is an owner in his own right of the property so assessed.

In the case of a husband and wife both or singly running for the office, they may own property (Continued on page five)

Rod & Gun Club Elects Officers

Chelsea Rod & Gun club elected officers for the coming year at its Tuesday, March 10 meeting.

Chosen were Ron Satterthwaite, president; George Padgham, first vice-president; John Miller, second vice-president; Frank Hill, secretary; Carl Benjamin, treasurer; Fred Klink, Jr., Ted Tirb, Art Paul, and John P. Jones to the board of directors.

Sentencing Set On Marijuana Possession

One-half kilo of marijuana; the notification of Chelsea Police that the illegal drug was being sent to a local youth from Vietnam; and the involvement of two governmental agencies led to the arrest of Stephen Eresten, 1226 Kernwood, Wednesday morning, March 4, on charges of possession of marijuana.

Eresten is scheduled for sentencing on Wednesday, April 1, in circuit court in Ann Arbor.

Chelsea Police received word that an illegal shipment of drugs was to be sent from Vietnam to the 19-year-old youth. The local police notified customs and postal agents, who then confiscated the three packets of marijuana. Each packet contained more than 30 grams of the weed, totaling about a pound in weight.

Eresten, who was described by one of the arresting officers as being "extremely co-operative," was arrested in early March by U. S. Customs agent John Morton, Postal Inspector Jim Holt, and Chelsea Police Officer Louis Schneider.

Following his arrest, Eresten was taken to Ypsilanti to the district court there in the absence of Chelsea district court Judge Patrick Conlin. Eresten pled guilty and waived examination that afternoon before Judge Edward Deake, who released the Chelsea High school wrestler on bond that same evening and set Friday, March 13, for a hearing on the matter in circuit court in Ann Arbor.

At his hearing, Eresten pled guilty and was given the date of Wednesday, April 1, for sentencing.

Winners Selected in 4-H Spring Achievement Show

"Snoopy Says, Those in the know... sew!"

Snoopy's wise words were chosen as the theme for the 1970 Washtenaw county Spring Achievement Program held over the week-end at the Beach Junior High school.

Nearly 600 girls from Washtenaw county participated in the dress revue, which began Friday after school at 4 p.m. with Junior Miss evaluations, a style show later that evening, Young Miss evaluations and style show Saturday, and ending Sunday afternoon with a Style Show which included all Senior Misses, and outstanding Junior and Young Misses.

The competition was a prelude to the State show to be held this spring and to award county 4-H club girls for their year-long efforts.

Jo Ann McCalla of Ann Arbor was chosen to represent the county in the state competition; accompanying her to participate in a special educational workshop to be held on the state level are seven other outstanding county entrants: Jodi Daniels, Diane Bycraft, Janice Feldkamp, Colleen Amo, Windy Wiedmayer, Sheryl Hieber, and Bernice Seitz.

There were three 4-H divisions of girls, based upon age: Young Miss, Junior Miss and Senior Miss.

Young Misses were judged Saturday for garment construction and were awarded ribbons of excellence. Ribbons of white, red, blue and purple were awarded with purple being the highest award given only to perfect garments.

Young Misses were evaluated for construction excellence by category by Mrs. Rena Girsch, Mrs. Doris Gordon, Mrs. Webb Harwood, Mrs. Gladys Baird in the one-piece sleeveless category; Mrs. Edward Fox and Mrs. Alan April in the set-in sleeve category; Mrs. Donna Hughes and Mrs. Arthur Lutz in the two-piece outfit category;

Mrs. Mary Ann Trombly and Mrs. John Klumpp in skirts and aprons; and Mrs. Diane Hogan and Miss Nancy Mshar in the knitting category.

Following the construction evaluation, the Young Misses took their places on the stage and were judged in a style show format. This part of the judging determined the way in which the entrant wore her garment. The entrant was expected to display her poise and personality as well as the comfort of her garment. Judging the Young Misses in this phase of the competition were Mrs. H. C. Powers, Mrs. Betty Koch, Miss Bonnie Guenther, Miss Char Powers, Miss Nancy Mshar, and Miss Margaret Kemner.

Outstanding Young Misses were asked by the judges to return Sunday for the 2 p.m. Style Show finale. From Chelsea invited to attend were Young Misses Kathy Treudo, Elizabeth Haselschwardt, Erin Headrick, Beth Hoover, Beth Clark, Madonna Marzec, Lynette Schiller, Patricia Salyer, and Sue Heydlauff.

High School Cast Presents 'Carousel'

First of Three Performances Set Tonight With Cast of More Than 100

Despite the snow outside, June will be bustin' out all over the Chelsea High school auditorium tonight as Chelsea High school presents "Carousel," by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

With a cast of more than 100 students, including an orchestra of 24 performers, the production is a musical extravaganza with an abstract aura.

"It's abstract in nature," explains Miss Dian L'Roy, vocal music director, when speaking of the production. "We've tried to capture the spirit of the play with the set, which is a series of platforms rising from the floor to a height of eight feet."

"We carry this abstraction, or stream of consciousness effect, through to the properties, special lighting effects, and the souvenir program, which will be given to all ticket holders," continued the director, who marks this as her fourth production for the school.

"Carousel" came to life musically as an outgrowth of the stage play "Liliom." It relates the life of Billy Bigelow, bawdy carnival barker, to Julie Jordan, a shy, "good-girl" who loves the colorful Billy.

The story of how they meet, fall in love, and are separated is the story of "Carousel" all recalled by Billy, who is a star polisher in heaven. He has been given time to visit his family on earth.

Chris Alber, who is performing in her third major show for CHS, plays Julie, while Dan Wenk assumes the role of Billy for tonight's production.

Caryl Thornton designed the set, which was constructed under the direction of Ron Bush. Special lighting effects are credited to Rod Powers.

Kathy Susner designed the program with other student chairman being Kathy Grob, publicity co-ordinator; Ann Travis, makeup; Barb Harvey, costumes; Claudia Devine, props; and Caryn Thornton, student director.

Tickets are available for tonight's performance, and may be purchased at the door before 8 p.m., curtain time. There are a limited number of seats available for week-end performances on Saturday and Friday nights.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

For the first time, drug use and abuse among young people is a problem that must be faced in the towns and rural communities of southeastern Michigan. It is curiously strange, unreal and frightening to say that, but it is true.

Not very many of our youth are now using illegal drugs. But the rapid spread of drug abuse in ways that seemed utterly impossible five years ago is a sobering development we must not ignore. That is why several months ago I introduced a bill that calls for a far-ranging drug education program. My bill, which was passed by a near unanimous vote by the House of Representatives, would establish federal assistance for education programs in our high schools and junior highs on the physical and emotional side effects of drugs.

Additionally, I strongly support legislation to undertake a blue-ribbon study, similar to the Surgeon General's Report on Smoking and Cancer, to determine for once and for all just what the facts are on the effect of marijuana on the system. Young people are naturally confused by conflicting medical opinions which are readily available. Because of this confusion, they sometimes dismiss all health warnings. The facts must be made available in a simple, straightforward, convincing manner. With this problem, knowledge is our strength.

The drug problem has been with this country for several decades. But until recently it was almost solely a big city problem. It flourished in the ghettos, among the poor adults and the dispossessed. All of society viewed drug addiction as a grubby, dirty matter.

Much of that has changed now and that is why we must be alert and attentive. While the problem still centers in metropolitan centers, it has nevertheless spread to the suburbs, the middle class and the teen-agers. A drug culture has grown up in this country and it is spreading with great speed. Among far too many youth, even those who may not use any form of illegal drug, this culture is viewed with admiration as the sure route to sophistication and popularity.

Some youth use drugs as a declaration of independence from their parents. There is nothing new about youth wanting to stand on their own nor in using foolish means of doing so. But this is really the first time so many youth have used the method that could utterly destroy their lives before they begin to addictions.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAD MISTRESS EDITOR

I recollect a story they said made the rounds back when cars was first being sold in this country. This fellow was watching a car owner try to crank his fiver and he allowed "he'll never get the fool thing to go." When the driver got it started the fellow watched the car roll off in a cloud of dust and he persisted "he'll never get the dern thing stopped."

Well, sir, the session at the country store Saturday night was like that story and it was took up with the same subject. The fellers got started when Zeke Grubbs said he had heard this fellow say on the radio that they was five times more cars in this country than in the rest of the world put together, and the only way for Americans to have enough room for their cars was to park overseas.

Zeke allowed cars got this country moving, and it looks like they is going to run it ragged. Cars now is being blamed for everything from air pollution to unemployment and social rate. Zeke said from listening to some politicians you would think that all we need to clean up this country is to come out with a car that gives off clean exhaust.

It is true, allowed Zeke, that we ain't been able to get the car stopped, and that they has choked the cities and is working on the country. Fer instance, went on Zeke, we got them branch banks, branch stores and what looks like hole towns outside of towns jest so folks can have a place to park. Nobody will drive into big cities when they can get everything they want in them towns that has built up around parking lots, was Zeke's words.

Clem Webster was agreed with Zeke that cars has got a powerful grip on the people and the economy of this country, but Clem was of a mind that cars is jest part of the picture. Clem said they is too many folks trying to get from one place to another at the same time. Clem said he had studied the problem up one side and down the other and he had the answer.

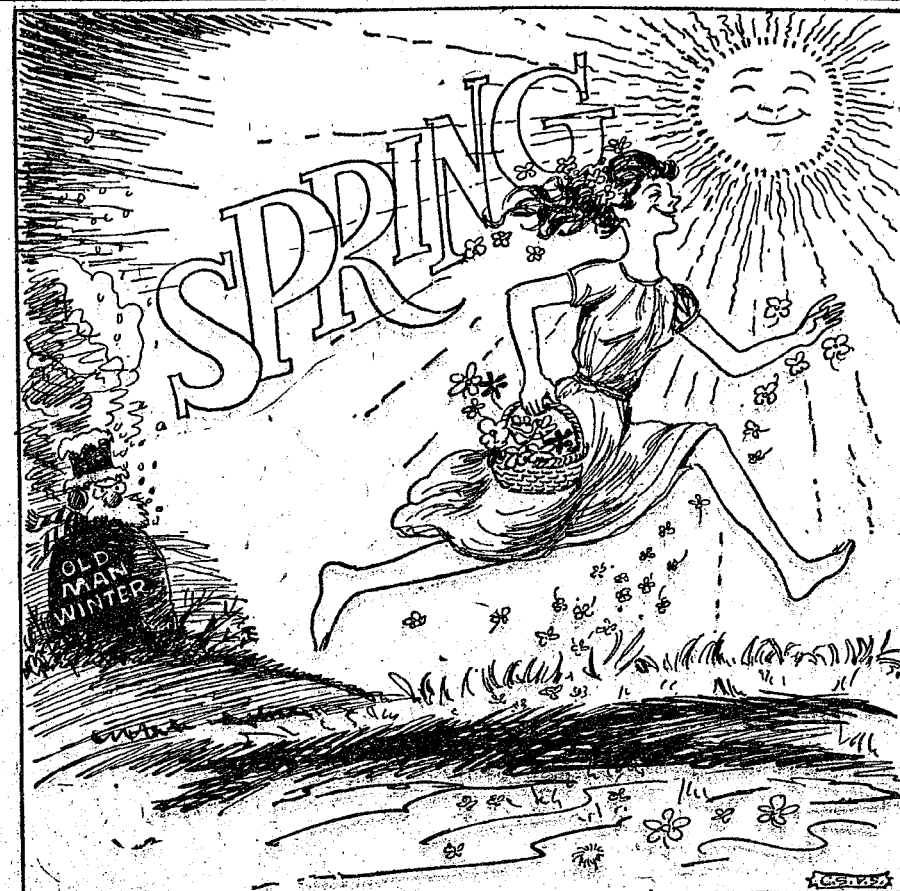

What we got to do, allowed Clem, is adopt the Clem Webster Alphabetical Assignment Transportation Plan. He is still working on the fine points of the plan, but he has got it figured to where we can group folks by the letter that begins their last names and assign days for them to travel. If we had four groups, then we would jest have a fourth of the people on the road ever day. Clem would give everybody a few emergency travel days in a year for cases of sickness and such.

Personal, Mister Editor, I like Clem's plan. You hear they do this at ball games where they ain't room for everybody. And hospitals work this way, cause a hospital with 100 beds and 120 patients has got to figger somebody is walking around all the time.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

YOUTH MARKET

In 1965, teen-age girls reportedly purchased 20 percent of all women's apparel sold. Young men were just as important to the market; it being estimated that 20 percent of all men's apparel was sold to boys in the 13- to 17-year age range.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Huber Surprises
 There were more than a few surprised persons in the Capitol when a research organization hired by a State Senate Committee to study campus disorders released its report.

The committee is headed by State Sen. Robert J. Huber, R-Troy, a candidate for the Republican U. S. Senate nomination. More than a few suspicious liberals had speculated that Huber, an avowed conservative, would come up with a report alleging a great deal of subversive influences and would recommend strong action.

The report, however, did just the opposite. It said no legislation is needed to deal with campus disorders and that there has been "only a very minimal amount of communist or subversive activity" in campus unrest in Michigan.

Aware of the skepticism awaiting the report, Huber said, "I should point out," he said in releasing it, "that many people thought our study was going to be a witch-hunt. This report shows that it is the furthest thing from what it is."

When asked if any subversive influences helped cause student disorders, he said "there are a few." But the total is very minimal on Michigan campuses. And I think that is something we should all be very thankful for.

The report was put together by the Chicago consulting firm of Higher Educational Executive Associates and was presented to the Huber committee for its consideration. It is the result of a year of studies and interviews, and was emphatic in its statement that no legislation is needed.

"The fundamental problem on many college campuses is to divert student unrest from translation into campus disorder and to channel the energies which are reflected in student unrest into more productive mechanisms and paths," the report said. "The intervention of the legislature, however well intentioned, is unlikely to contribute to this process."

In addition to recommending no new legislation, the report says specifically that scholarships grants and loans should never be withdrawn for any reasons other than poor grades.

"Political or social views of the recipien, as they may be formulated in thought or expressed in word or deed, are not relevant (to whether a student should receive financial aid)" the report said.

In terms of legislative action, it said the lawmakers should "consider a motion of confidence in the abilities and capacities of the institutions of higher education within this state to manage their own internal affairs in a proper and desirable manner."

Huber indicated great personal interest in yet another recommendation of the report.

This involved a section urging a complete re-evaluation of the role of the president on campus. The report indicated current presidential functions may contribute to unrest because the president does not have any contacts with the students.

The report shows that when students look at a president they want to see a leader or a father figure," Huber explained. "They don't want a big brother that they have no contact with and that is a mistake."

The report was critical of the manner in which Black studies courses have been drawn up on many campuses. "Black studies courses are often conglomerate courses with relatively little content," the report concluded. "Far more effective would be an infusion of all courses which deal with social, political, artistic and literary phenomena with the achievements of all Americans."

It said institutions maintaining such programs "should have a clear cut rationale for so doing and a way of modifying other courses in the curriculum to take account of the contributions of minority groups to American culture."

DANGEROUS DOSAGES
 Pathologist Dr. Charles F. Geschickter of Georgetown Hospital states that "at least one in every six drug doses is given at the wrong time, in the wrong amount, or to the wrong patient."

would-be a rare man in the street, however, who could name one of them.

FIRST AID TREATMENT: Discussing which procedure to attend to next are these Boy Scouts who are applying first aid to victim Doug Kalmach, who in this demonstration was alleged to have fallen down the stairs and through a storm door. Pictured surrounding Kalmach are Mike Stoner, Bill Kalmach, Dave Heydlauff, Steve Worden, Don Osterle, and Lee Hafner. Checking the demonstration is John Swanson, an Ypsilanti member of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Junior Deputy department.

County Planners To Study Plans for Medical Complex

Next Wednesday, March 25, has been set as the date for a special meeting of the Washtenaw County Planning Commission to discuss further the proposed joint county-St. Joseph Mercy Hospital medical complex on the County Farm property.

The commissioners had originally planned to present recommendations and/or a report to the County Board of Supervisors as an outgrowth of a public hearing held on the matter the first week in March. They decided, however, after their Wednesday, March 11, meeting that it would be premature for the commissioners to submit a report to the Board.

The Commission has directed Thomas Fegan, director, to begin to prepare suggestions for the structuring of an organization to work on all aspects of studying a medical care complex on the proposed property. This has been Fegan's earlier suggestion.

The county has been given until April 15, by the State of Michigan, to come up with definite plans for obtaining a new medical care facility.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER:

"I would like to know how I should go about getting to know a guy without him thinking I am forward. This certain guy is 17 years old and new at school I am 16 1/2. He is very nice and very good looking. I have had my eye on him for some time. He used to smile at me but ever since I said 'Hi' to him, he doesn't even look at me. I hope he didn't think I was being forward, was I? I just wanted to help the situation along, but it seems to have made matters worse. Have you any helpful advice for me?"

Our reply: There is nothing forward about saying "Hi!" That is just being friendly. It is unlikely that this certain guy cooled off toward you merely because you spoke to him. There has to be another reason. If you have "had your eye on him" for some time, you may have been too obvious and he has decided to play it cool and not go charging ahead. The best advice we can give is that you remain friendly, say "hi" next time you meet and give the guy a little time to make up his mind. He is new, as you said.

If you have a teen-age problem you want to have discussed or an observation to make, address your letter to "For and About Teen-Agers," Community and Suburban Press Service, in care of this newspaper.

Disposable Clothing

The disposable clothing market is growing rapidly, with rayon giving cotton competition in such items as diapers, swabs, sponges, hospital gowns, uniforms, aprons, wipe towels, bikini panties and swimwear. Areas now being explored for disposables are graduation gowns, wedding dresses and linens supplied by distributors.

Farm Program Sign-Up Time Deadline Near

Pointing out to producers that the farm program sign-up period, Feb. 2 through March 20 is more than half over, Earl Dolitzky, chairman of the Washtenaw County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, urged farmers to sign up as soon as possible at the county ASC office.

"To date, 774 farms have been signed up for the 1970 feed grain and wheat programs," he said, "out of a total eligible number of 3,000. This indicates that we will have the usual last-minute rush near the close of sign-up period."

Farmers may save themselves from standing in line if they come in now to sign up," he said.

Participation in the feed grain and wheat programs is voluntary. Those who sign up and comply with the program provisions will earn benefits such as eligibility for price-support loans, price-support payments or wheat marketing certificates, and may earn payments for additional diversion of feed grain and wheat acreage beyond the diversion required for program compliance.

To earn these benefits, producers must comply with all program provisions including growing the crops involved within their agreements and maintaining designated acreage in soil conserving use.

Washtenaw county has 2,773 feed grain farms with an acreage of 69,949 and 2,835 wheat farms with an acreage of 24,390 eligible for the 1970 farm programs. So far, acreages signed up include: 11,233 for feed grain and 2,876 for wheat.

The ASC committee chairman also reminded farmers that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has a target date of mid-August for completion of all 1970 farm program payments. "Last year we didn't complete payments until Oct. 1," he said.

To achieve all final payments by mid-August, participants in the farm programs are being asked to certify compliance as early as possible. The county ASCS office will begin processing payment papers as soon as a producer certifies he has complied with all the program provisions.

"Payments could begin as early as July 1," Dolitzky said, "for those producers who certify early that they have complied with all the program provisions. Of course, I am speaking of those producers who sign up to participate, since a farmer must sign up in order to share in the program benefits."

Farmers may sign up for feed grain and wheat programs at the county ASCS office Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. through March 20. On March 16 the office will remain open until 8 p.m.

Fire Chief Warns Of Dangers in Outdoor Burning

Bushes are starting to burn easily because of the dry spring (?) weather that the area has been having.

Fire Chief James Gaken warns that much damage may be done to wildlife and trees in the area, if area residents are not cautious with their use of fire. Especially careful should be those who burn rubbish, or who have youngsters who may have access to matches.

Chelsea Firemen were called out six times in the past week for grass fires.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

There is a strong belief these days that a good education is the most important thing you must have to assure a richer, fuller and more rewarding life. This is not entirely true. Other factors are equally important. Perhaps even more important. No matter what job, profession or line of business one is in, an education by itself is useless. If that knowledge is not put to use with proper skill. Skill is just as important as education.

There is still another factor involved. It concerns the application of your knowledge and skill. It means a willingness to work. A good education and excellent skill does not mean a thing if one is shiftless, lazy and unwilling to work. For some strange reason, education is always stressed while skill and willingness to work are seldom mentioned. We wonder why. Can you explain it? . . . group. They were given an opportunity to display the individual charm of their garments in the same way that the other Misses would do: with a style show. Outstanding Junior Misses from Friday night's show were invited by the judges to join outstanding girls in the other two categories for the Sunday show.

Judging the Junior Miss Style Show were Miss Barbara Kemner, Mrs. Dale Wiedmayer, and Miss Rosemary Monaghan. Some 29 girls were invited to return Sunday.

Junior Misses who were asked to participate in Sunday's fashion show from Chelsea were Jodi Daniels, Marlene Engelbert, Darlene Robbins, Cindy Harook, Cindy Griffin, Donna Clark, Bonnie Powers, Diane Bycraft, and Pat Knickerbocker.

Other outstanding Junior Misses from the area who were chosen include Celeste Johnson, Jennie Brooks and Bonnie Steptoe from Dexter; Cris Bohler, and Nancy Fielder from Manchester; Cathy Niehaus, Janis Hopkins from Grass Lake; Karen Woodward, Diane Kruger, Laura DeForge, Julie Eberle, Beth Woodward, Coleen Amo, Ellen Konarski, and Laurie McCalla, all of Ann Arbor; Susan Griffin, Cindy Griffin of Plymouth; Janice Feldkamp, and Pat Finkbeiner of Saline; and Cindy Heavner of Ypsilanti.

On Sunday more than 100 Senior Misses were judged in four categories for excellence of construction. Judging the senior girls were Mrs. Robert Daniels and Mrs. Jean McCalla, partywear; Mrs. Kenneth Neal and Mrs. Helen Wolfgang in sportswear and rainwear; Mrs. Irene Kemner, Mrs. Francis Baldus, Mrs. Doris Woodward, and Mrs. Donna Johnson, two-piece outfits; and Mrs. Melvin Hogan and Mrs. Reno Feldkamp, knitting.

These Senior Misses then joined those Junior and Young Misses who had been invited to return in a gala style show. Judging this show for Senior Misses were Mrs. Bobbi Kirtland, Edward Kosmalki, and Miss Cheryl Henes. Judging the Junior and Young Misses were Miss Marilyn Hinderer, Mrs. Elton Hieber and Mrs. Kathleen Chapman.

Selected from this group was Miss McCalla as the county winner to be entered in the state competition and those who will accompany her.

Named from this group also were girls to model at Greenfield Village; and girls who received honor awards in the Young Junior and Senior Miss divisions.

Faber Awards were also announced. These awards are given to two outstanding garments in each division. Cathy Gordon and Vicki Eisele were Senior Miss recipients; Darlene Robbins and Cathy Niehaus, Junior Miss recipients; and JoAnn Kastl and Karen Trinkle, Young Miss won the coveted awards, competition for which may only be entered if the garment received a purple ribbon in the construction/evaluation phase of the review.

Also on display in the library of the Beach school during the show were boys and girls divisions in leather and woodworking. Nine clubs with more than 130 boys and girls participated.

Census Workers Being Employed

Jay F. Fleming, district manager of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing, has put out an urgent appeal to residents of the area for help in taking the census.

Census takers are needed: people who can work from three to five weeks in April and May, visiting homes and interviewing some member of the household. The district manager says that every effort will be made to assign census takers to their own neighborhoods or those nearby.

Pay will be on a piece rate basis, designed to average $2 an hour, but as the district manager pointed out, earnings will vary depending largely on the diligence of the individual census taker. Some will earn well above average, while others who work less effectively will earn less.

Census takers must be U.S. citizens, 18 or older, and must pass a written test demonstrating their ability to understand and follow printed instructions, and do simple arithmetic.

If you would like to help take the "big count" of the Nation, see the Census representatives at the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Hospitality Room, 211 E. Huron, Ann Arbor, Mich., March 18 and 19 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Initiated by Britain's National Child Development Study, the project mobilized 5,000 health workers to obtain data on the 16,000 British school children who were born during the first week of March 1958. Through this data, psychologists are testing the validity of Freudian theories of child development, linking early experiences with patterns formed later in life.

DRAMA—"NET Playhouse" presents the German play "Walls," one of an international series of dramas, "A Generation of Leaves," revolving around the growing rift between generations, Sunday, March 22, at 11 p.m.

During two tense confrontations—first between ideologies and later between generations—a young East German soldier living behind the Berlin Wall is faced with a crisis of conscience when a friend decides to defect.

Children Often Prefer Attention

"I've often found that it saves time to take time with your children," says Mrs. Gail Imig, family life specialist with the Co-operative Extension Service. She says some recent research proves this point.

When one group of children became fussy late in the day, their mothers "bought them off" with something to eat. The mothers of another group, instead of offering food, took time to give the child a few minutes of undivided attention.

When the two groups were compared, it was found that the group who got attention from mother instead of just food—were the most quickly and effectively satisfied.

"Mother's attention means more than food," Mrs. Imig concludes.

REPORT from LANSING

State Representative

Thomas G. Sharpe

President, University of Michigan Ann Arbor, Michigan
Dear Dr. Fleming:

I feel compelled, in response to a great many expressions of concern I have received from citizens of the Ann Arbor area and throughout the state, to express publicly to you a sense of deep alarm over the recent incidents of disruption and vandalism in the University of Michigan's community.

Back in early 1967, in response to similar expressions of public concern, I introduced a Resolution in the State House of Representatives calling for a formal probe of such disruptions and of the groups chiefly responsible. Later in that year, on a day when the legislature was formally honoring your predecessor, Dr. Hazlet Hatcher, I met with Dr. Hatcher and all the Regents and discussed my concerns at length with them. I was asked by Regent Paul G. Goebel of Grand Rapids not to enforce the issue in my Resolution and was promised that if given a little more time, the governing body of the University would be able to put its own house in order.

Recent events in the city of Ann Arbor indicate to me that the situation has steadily deteriorated instead of improving. We have seen a group of students present demands to the Regents and upon hearing that such demands would be considered, but could not be met immediately, take it upon themselves to go on a wild rampage in the undergraduate library, destroying books and files, and causing damages for which no costs have even been estimated. Such damage I assume is to be repaired at cost to the taxpayers of Michigan.

We have seen another group demonstrating dissatisfaction with the decision made in a Chicago court—a decision for which neither the State of Michigan nor any local government or agency can assume responsibility, create a great deal of damage in the business section of East Lansing. We have heard strong statements from local authorities, but have seen little real action and have noted that the authorities invariably order such matters handled in a manner that leaves numerous policemen being treated for injuries in hospitals, and all too few of those who assault them receiving similar treatment.

The press has credited similar strong statements from you promising firm action, and as yet, I have seen no evidence of any such action. I wonder if the time has come when a change in our basic concept of the way a university should be governed may be necessitated for the sheer survival of the university. I wonder if our present system hasn't proven itself outdated and unworkable. We hear such terms as "academic freedom" and "university autonomy" used often today. There are apparently some who believe these phrases mean the Michigan legislature should merely supply ever-increasing amounts of the taxpayers' money to colleges and universities and should not be otherwise concerned with what occurs on the campuses.

I would like to offer what I believe are more legitimate definitions. To my mind, "academic freedom" does not mean that students, or faculty in some instances, should feel free to break the law or to conduct themselves at any time in a manner that would not be tolerated elsewhere in our society. The student who commits vandalism, assaults on police officers, resists arrest, or shouts obscenities in public, is, if anything, even more deserving of punishment than the slum-dwelling hoodlum who does the same thing. The student has the advantage of his education. He should know better. I believe instead that "academic freedom" does require that any student who pays tuition should be guaranteed the freedom to attend college classes and enter college offices and interview job recruiters without finding classes disrupted, office doors chained, campus buildings barricaded, doorways blocked by unruly mobs, and I believe the taxpayer who subsidizes the student with an amount far exceeding tuition has a right to demand that such academic freedom be firmly enforced.

I believe the term "university autonomy" does not mean that Michigan citizens and their elective representatives have no right to concern themselves with what occurs in a tax-supported campus. It does mean that university administrators are expected to enforce the policies determined by autonomous governing Boards of Regents or Trustees, and cannot permit either policy-setting or administrative functions to be usurped by small minority mobs of students.

In short, Dr. Fleming, the time has come for the University of Michigan's Board of Regents to assert itself as the autonomous governing body of that University by starting to govern, and the time has come for you to assert yourself as Chief Administrator by administering.

For the minds of many, a few students may be on trial in the public eye for the recent occurrences. I believe that in the minds of those citizens who give the matter a little more thought, our present system of governing our universities is on trial. I am asking myself now, how can we best assure academic freedom and university autonomy in Michigan?

Perhaps the time has come when we can do so only by encouraging a referendum drive to amend the

FAMILY POT LUCK

For a main dish that is just a bit different, try creamed eggs and ham and pimento served on hot biscuits broken gently apart. Serve with wedges of cranberry sauce which has been jellied.

Dress up a meat dish with an attractive garnish. Use cinnamon candies with sugar and water to make a syrup in which to cook small whole pears or pear halves.

Store fresh meat and poultry at refrigerator temperature no longer than a few days. Meats are best stored at zero temperature or less.

Waffled deviled ham sandwiches are a tasty and quick treat. Combine 1 can (4 1/2 ounces) deviled ham with 2 tablespoons each minced celery and ripe olives, mayonnaise, and dash curry powder. Spread on four slices bread; keep filling away from edges; cover. Spread outside of sandwiches with butter; toast in a waffle iron.

TUNA CRUNCH CASSEROLE

1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk
1 can (7 ounces) tuna, drained and flaked
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
1 cup cooked peas
1/2 cup slightly crumbled chow mein noodles

In 1-quart casserole, blend soup and milk; stir in tuna, eggs, and peas. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 25 minutes. Top with noodles. Bake 5 minutes longer. 3 to 4 servings.

It's Saturday morning and the kids want mom to make something different for them to snack on while they are running in and out of the house. And mom's cupboards look bare... no chocolate chips, raisins, coconut, just nothing to make cookies with. But if mom has a package of "JIFFY" Pancake and Waffle Mix she is saved because she can make Cinnamon Drop Doughnuts. A real favorite.

CINNAMON DROP DOUGHNUTS (Makes 3 dozen)

1 package "JIFFY" Pancake and Waffle Mix
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup water
1 egg
3/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon

1. In electric frypan, or heavy skillet heat about 1 inch of fat or oil to 375°.

3. Combine pancake mix, 2 tablespoons sugar, water and egg. Stir just until pancake mix is moistened.

2. Drop from a teaspoon into hot fat. Brown on both sides, then drain on paper towels.

4. Blend 3/4 cup sugar and cinnamon together in plastic or paper bag. Add a few doughnuts at a time; shake to coat. Serve warm.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

About Winning

To some individuals, winning is one of the most important things in life. The desire to be "first" may bring a man to misrepresent his golf score in a friendly game. He seldom fools anyone. The same is true when one "cheats" at a game of cards. Fellow players may observe what is going on and, because they do not want unpleasantness, choose to say nothing. What usually happens is that the cheating individual becomes an unwanted and unwelcome partner in any activity. Cheaters may finish first, but they never really "win."

So, therefore, play the game of life to win—but play it fairly. Work diligently in everything that you do. You will be content with your finish if you know that you have made the proper effort. If you win a race or a game, then victory is doubly sweet, for it was fairly earned. This, too, is important. A victory that is achieved by trickery or deceit is sometimes made hollow by the light of truth. Whatever you seek in life—success in business, riches, fame—is worth good, hard, honest effort.

Driving Safety Tip

Keep your windshield and windows clear at all times, advises the Michigan State Safety Commission. Wiper blades lose their bite from exposure to sun, wind and oily road film. Also be sure that your windshield washer solvent contains adequate antifreeze so it doesn't add to both the problem and the solution on murky outlooks.

★ New Agriculture Development . . .

If the farmer doesn't have a good crop year in the future, you might just be hearing him say, "I ran out of gas."

No, not mechanically, not physically, but because the tank of his new crop protection method ran dry. Make sense? Well, it should because using gas is one of the latest ways to control weed destruction and pests. It's called "thermal agriculture" using liquefied petroleum gas, also known as propane, butane or bottled gas.

Thermal agriculture works with the farmer cultivating his land with gas nozzles instead of blades to attack weeds and pests. Once into the weed areas, the farmer presses a button that ignites a jet near each nozzle, much like turning on a gas stove. With pinpoint precision, the resulting flame attacks the weed roots with a blast creating enough heat (depending on the plant) to wilt the weed without actually burning it or the crop.

Likewise, the application can help farmers get rid of insects which traditionally are the spoilers of quality food.

Reports say that only about 25,000 flame cultivators currently are being operated.

One obstacle to a faster rate of growth is the limited supply of liquefied petroleum. Furthermore, rising consumption and limited supplies are boosting the LP gas prices for the farmer.

And the method itself does have its kinks. Some farmers fear fires might start from the process and wipe out their entire crops. Although thermal agriculturists insist that the danger is slight, it was reported.

But there are other uses for it. In a solid waste management project being developed by James Boyd, professor of ag-engineering at Michigan State University, the fuel would be employed to dry manure in large bins. The residue—in powder form—could be spread on the soil as fertilizer.

For the non-farmer, curious about the farming industry, this is another example of modern technology probing for new and more efficient methods to improve man's quality of living.

Farm Group Survival Is MSU Farmers Week Topic

East Lansing—Vitality and survival of agricultural and food industry organizations will be one of the important areas covered in the sociology portion of Michigan State University's 55th annual Farmers Week program, March 23-27.

Dr. Christopher Sower, MSU sociologist, will speak about the massive changes that agricultural organizations face in a Monday afternoon session titled "Effective Versus Declining Organizations."

As one of three speakers Dr. Sower will elaborate on the theory that organizations must make a continuous and conscientious effort to update themselves or else fall into a decline which may lead to internal feuds and rivalries.

Rabbit Breeders Show, Annual Meet Slated at MSU Farmers Week

East Lansing—Adults and youth who want to learn all about commercial rabbit production will have the opportunity at the Michigan State University Farmers Week, Thursday and Friday, March 25 and 26.

Champion rabbits of many breeds will be on display and commercial rabbit breeders and fanciers will be available to answer questions and discuss exhibits.

Demonstration Hall, across from Jenison Field House, will be the site for the annual meeting of the Michigan State Rabbit Breeders Association convention and exhibit.

If you freeze prepared foods for use within a few days, select a suitable container. Freezer glass jars are wider at the top so food can be slipped out easily while still frozen. Shallow metal pans are good, because food can be cooled, frozen and reheated in the same container.
