Washington Report
 by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

A Presidential Task Force report on rural development and other statements and policies of the Nixon Administration are developing a greater national recognition of the problems and potential of rural America.

During the 1960's, rural America, with about 35 percent of the nation's population, took a back seat to the more publicized problems of congested big cities. Yet, some of the problems are as great or greater in the countryside.

With only a third of population, the rural community has nearly half of the nation's poor. Of 5.8 million substandard houses, 3.3 million are outside metropolitan centers. Doctors and medical facilities are in short supply, secondary roads are often inadequate and local business sluggish.

In addition to the people involved there are other national reasons for us to give rural areas careful attention. It is rural America where the family unit remains strong, individual responsibility is welcomed and religious heritage is still a guiding force. It is little wonder so many of our astronauts come from small-town America.

Creation of the Council for Rural Affairs last fall with President Nixon as chairman, has given added attention to rural matters at the highest level and is evidence of a new national commitment to the farms and small towns of our country.

This council is along the lines of a bill introduced nearly three years ago for the creation of a Balanced Economic Development Commission, which would work for a rural development.

To spur badly needed rural economic development, several sources have proposed tax benefits to induce business to locate new facilities in rural areas. It is not widely understood but 55 million of the 65 million people living in rural areas are not actively engaged in farming. These people desperately need new opportunities.

The task force suggests multi-district area vocational and technical schools. This would give many young people a useful skill, attract new industry to the area which would in turn induce young people to stay and would partially fill a pressing national need for skilled tradesmen. I wholeheartedly support this approach.

The President's Family Assistance Plan and an expanded food stamp program will ease rural poverty while providing for improved nutrition. And the President's $10 billion program to combat water pollution will improve our environment everywhere. One of my major efforts since coming to Washington has been the appropriation of more federal money for anti-pollution programs.

A Task Force recommendation could give farmers a larger voice in Washington. It has called for a Citizens Commission on Rural Development that would report to the President and Congress annually on the effectiveness of their farm programs and make suggestions for changes or even new programs.

Other programs to help rural America have been started or are being planned. But of greater importance than any one plan or proposed plan is the recognition of rural problems, and a national commitment to solve them. Hopefully we will keep moving in that direction.

Things Do Change
 There is a temptation among many commentators, especially on rather gloomy occasions, to say the human race in general and the country or state in particular isn't making any social or political progress.

When one steps back from the picture, however, it becomes apparent progress, or at least change, has come rapidly. One example of this is a comparison of the Michigan of 1899 at the end of the 19th century with today's Michigan.

You wouldn't believe they could be the same place.

For example, the Michigan legislature in 1899 had members with names such as Zachariah, Vespasian, Hezekiah and Oka. Today names like this appear unusual, to say the least, and they haven't appeared in the legislature for some time.

The Governor in 1899 was named Hazen S. Pingree and his salary was $4,000 per year.

In those days of low salaries, the Attorney General and Secretary of State both were paid $800 per year and the state veterinarian was paid $5 per day plus expenses.

Teachers hadn't heard about strikes for higher wages. Their average wage at the turn of the century was $43.05 a month for men. The women's rights organizations weren't as powerful then, either, since women teachers averaged only $35.28 per month.

The 469 students at the State Agricultural College (now Michigan State University) paid no tuition and had boarding expenses which ranged from $1.75 to $2.25 per week.

Out-of-state students paid a $15 per term tuition.

Titles given various state institutions were a lot blunter in those days, too.

For example, what is now known as the Lapeer State Home was called the Michigan Home for the Feeble-Minded and Epileptic. The Kalamazoo and Pontiac State Hospitals were both known as "Asylums for the Insane."

There was a war on then too, but the public reaction to it was quite a bit different.

The Michigan Manual, official state record book, that year called the Spanish-American War a "glorious conquest for humanity" which was "actuated by the highest motives."

The manual notes "by good fortune the legislature of Michigan was in session at the time when war with Spain on account of the Main incident and on general printing patriotism and promptness enacted such legislation as was suggested by the military department in view of the threatened war."

The population picture was quite a bit different then. Detroit, the state's largest town, had a population of 234,000 in those pre-automobile days.

The Detroit suburb of Warren, which now has 90,000 residents, had a grand total of 294 at that time, and Royal Oak, which has 80,000 inhabitants, had 371.

At the same time, the Upper Peninsula, with mining and lumbering operations going strong, actually had more people than it does now.

Menominee had a population of 12,532 in 1899, compared to its present 11,289. Manistee has dropped from 13,450 to 8,324.

The social picture was markedly different as well.

The right to vote for example was not granted to such elements of the population as women, Indians, "duelists and abettors."

And one footnote in the Michigan Manual says the election returns on various state elections were "excluding colored population."

Who says things haven't change?

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night touched all the bases from generation gaps to bee stings. They got to talking about spring springing, and Easter and folks general, and afore they rap-ped up the ball of yarn they even give their old ladies passing marks on the hats they had bought fer Easter.

It were Bug Hookum that said he reckon not too many folks took the preacher's advice at Christmas to come early and avoid the Easter-rush. Bug said he expected to see the usual run of strange faces at church Easter, but he was of a mind that coming out on special days was better than not coming at all.

Clem Webster allowed that Easter allus has been a special time fer him, and he figured it had somepun to offer everybody.

Easter, said Clem, is a time to think of giving and doing fer others, a time to ask yoreself if you was on trial fer loving yore feller man, would they be enuff evidence to convict you.

Easter is a time to gite real close to yore God and yore feller man, agreed Zeke Grubb, but he said he was of a mind that folks work so hard at figgering the angles on how to do it they face. The federal government will have to show a greater commitment to a varied and effective transportation network if rail passenger service is to meet need. Unfortunately, a public that feels cheated may not actively support extensive use of limited federal funds.

The issues are as complex as the world in which we live and as simple as the plea to me from an Onsted woman: "Please work to maintain trains for people."

fergit how easy it is. Somewhere along the way, said Zeke, folks got the idee that to git along they got to look alike, think alike and even smell alike.

Zeke had saw where this light company was having so many men git bee stung they studied the problem and found out the men was getting stung 'cause they smell so sweet. They put on so much hair oil, shaving lotion and deoderant till the bees thought they was flowers. Folks got to the place they think a smell like lime or mint and fancy clothes is all they need, was Zeke's words.

They is a real problem in this country by everybody being ashamed of being theirself. Zeke allowed. We had ought to keep in mind, he said, that wars and other mistakes that keep this world in a mess allus has the backing of a majority of the people, went on Zeke.

Bug final got the floor to see he was glad to see so much backing to drop the voting age to 18. Bug says as far as he's concerned they ain't no generation gap, jest folks that has lived longer than others. He said he was a mind that 18-year-olds know a heap more about what's going on than some old fellers that he ain't calling the names of. And one thing fer shore, Bug went on, them 18 million more votes is going to mean a hole new ball game. Politicians of ever flaver will be out courtin' em, Bug allowed.

Personal, Mister Editor, with spring spreading fast I can see some fellers gitting a start on their gardens and yards. But I see one bunch, and I ain't calling names, that is staying one jump ahead of their old ladies that is looking fer help around the house.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Take one Gas range. Add love. And you've got what it takes to make kitchen magic three times a day.

But you've got to start with Gas. Because a Gas range gives you everything you can get in an electric range. Plus a lot of things you can't get in an electric range.

Things like: 1. Smokeless broiling. 2. Speed. Gas has instant-on, instant-off.

3. Complete heat control. At all times. 4. The professional touch. Nine out of ten chefs cook with Gas. 5. Low-cost oven cleaning. Gas does the whole job automatically, for about 2¢. 6. Total economy. Gas costs one-fourth as much to operate as electric. Did you ever run across a simpler recipe — or one that had more things going for it?

 Kargel, 5' 8" in the high jump; and George Cameron, 5:09 in the mile.
 This Friday the same group of boys will take part in the Spartan Relays at East Lansing. This meet is almost equivalent to an indoor state meet.
 So far, approximately 32 athletes have been working out and as usual, have been getting little co-operation from the weather. The weather doesn't bother the runners so much, but prevents the field event participants from getting good work outs.
 Fourteen lettermen return from last year's squad that won the regional conference, Parkside and Albion Relays, and in addition, runner-up at the Michigan Center Relays. Thirteen lettermen were lost from last year's squad, including eight seniors and five other lettermen who didn't report for one reason or another. Of the 32 athletes presently working out, three are seniors, seven are juniors, 11 are sophomores and 11 are freshmen. "This is basically a young team but one that has a lot of ability and the capacity to work. Our success will depend on how fast we come along," coach Bert Kruse remarked.
 Huron Relays events and the athletes participating are as follows:

- Pole Vault—Jim Wojcicki, Bruce Guster, Tim Lancaster.
- High Jump—Karsten Kargel, Roger Fitch, Bill Tite.
- Shot Put—Dale Robbins, Randy Seitz.
- Long Jump—Mark Collins, Jeff Hughes, David Porath, Lee Ferguson.
- 880-Yd. Run—Mike McGinn, Dave Buxton, Tom McKernan.

 one for passenger vehicles. This division of deadlines was devised to eliminate the long lines on deadline day by having two peak periods of issuance instead of one. Lines were shorter, but still in existence.
 One of the confusions which came about due to the two deadlines was over the classification of pick-up trucks. Many thought that these were classified as passenger, and were ticketed for driving without 1970 plates after the February deadline. All trucks, pick-ups and trailers had to obtain 1970 plates by Feb. 28.
 Commercial vehicles without 1970 plates may not be driven beyond the Tuesday, March 31 deadline without being subject to ticketing. There is no additional charge for purchasing plates beyond the deadline.

Taxpayer Should Wait 10 Weeks Before Writing About Refund

Detroit—Ten weeks from the date a Federal income tax return calling for a refund is mailed, the taxpayer should have either his check or a letter explaining why it is held up, Thomas A. Cardoza, district director of Internal Revenue for Michigan said today.

A taxpayer who has not heard about his refund should, therefore, wait 10 weeks before writing IRS. Most taxpayers will find their inquiry unnecessary if they wait this long, Cardoza said.
 Millions of tax returns are handled every filing season at the Central Service Center which serves Michigan taxpayers. That many returns makes it practically impossible to locate a particular return and to answer any question about it until processing cycles are complete.

If it does become necessary to write, the taxpayer should indicate where and when he filed his return and give his name, address and Social Security number, Cardoza said.

Funds Sought For Additional Scholarships

 "We've always had contributions from high school alumni," notes Lynn Williams, co-chairman of the committee, with the Rev. Dan Kellin, "but we want to encourage each individual to realize the importance of making opportunities for higher education open to many high school seniors. We feel that this is everyone's responsibility, no matter how much they can contribute."

The committee is asking each individual alumnus to contribute a dollar or more to the fund, in the hopes that $2,000 may be raised in this way to support the giving of scholarships. These scholarships help to pay for books, or the tuition, which defrays a portion of the cost of higher education.

The committee, which gave three large scholarships last year to students who have since done well at their respective institutions, expanded this year to include all segments of the community. Included on the committee are Mrs. Dwight Beach, Mrs. Robert Daniels, Mrs. Paul Mann, Mrs. J. R. Seitz, Miss Lynn Williams, Mrs. Henry Conlin, Mrs. Robert Germain, Peter Flintoft, Raymond Canine, the Rev. Dan Kellin, David Kniseley, Kenneth Larson, George Prinzing, Charles Lane, and members of the National Honor Society.

The committee hopes to award more scholarships this next year which will prove as beneficial to youth as did those last year.

"We've begun a number of projects, which we hope will aid the help that the Chelsea High alumni give us," continues Miss Williams.

The committee has sent out letters to businesses and individuals in the area and has made individual contacts, through members of the school's N.E.S.

A smorgasbord is being planned for Sunday, May 3. Mrs. Paul Mann and Mrs. Robert Daniels will be in charge of the smorgasbord, which will be held twice on that Sunday.

A tag day has been contemplated, and a contest among high school alumni.

Any alumnus, who wishes to contribute his dollar or more to spur Chelsea seniors on to a higher education, may contact the Chelsea Scholarship fund through the high school at 475-3461, or may enclose a check or money order to the Chelsea Scholarship Fund in a letter in care of the high school. Alumni are reminded to include with their contributions their name and year of high school graduation, if they wish.

WALLHIDE® FOR THE HUSBAND WHO CAN'T HIDE.
 So your wife wants you to paint a room or two. No use trying to hide. She'll find you. Fast.
 The best thing to do is buy a paint that eliminates most of the work: Wallhide Latex Flat Wall Paint.
 Wallhide is a latex paint that does away with stirring, scrubbing, and priming. All you have to do is apply one easy coat. And stains are gone, rough spots are smoothed over. Paint dries in thirty minutes.
 Wallhide makes clean-up easy, too. Simply rinse out your brush with soap and water. That's all.
 So you see, it would take more effort to hide than to paint.

THANK YOU I would like to express thanks to my friends, relatives and fellow workers for their cards, gifts and calls during my stay in the hospital and since my return home. Albert Forner.

THANK YOU My deep appreciation goes out to the kind friends who remained with me while I was in the hospital. The cards, letters, telephone calls, visits and flowers meant a lot to me; and especially the prayers offered on my behalf. To the Chelsea Community Blood Bank I express my very deep gratitude. I really appreciate living in Chelsea and feel we are so fortunate in many ways; one important one being our quick facilities for doctors and hospitals and now the Medicenter.

This is late for this thank you message, however, I wish to express it at the time of Walter Pielemeier's death. Some of the cards for Spaulding Memorial were misplaced. Anyone who did not receive a personal thank you note at that time, please accept this now. Dorothea Pielemeier.

THANK YOU Many thanks to my friends for the cards, gifts, flowers, and visits while I was in the hospital and since I returned home. Thanks too for the visits by Pastor Steenson. Sam Howard.

THANK YOU Thanks to the Rev. Steenson for his comforting words and ladies of Baptist church for their nice basket of things and plant. And relatives and friends for baskets of fruit and so many cards at the hospital, since my return home and a special thanks to my daughter, Mrs. Alvin Wahr for her sweet care she gave me. I thank you all very kindly. Mrs. Ezra Heiningner.

New American Opera Has Premiere on Sunday TV

East Lansing—A new American opera, "My Heart's In the Highlands," has its world premiere on "NET Festival" Sunday, April 5, at 12 noon on WMSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television.

The new work was written by composer Jack Beeson especially for television, with a libretto from William Saroyan's play. As in Saroyan's atmospheric drama, the two act chamber opera centers on a young boy named Johnny and his life among the people in a small American town.

Included in the cast are Metropolitan Opera contractee Lill Chokk, as Johnny's grandmother, basso Spiro Malas as the grocer and bass-baritone Kenneth Smith as MacGregor.

Black militant and policeman meet head-on in one of today's most controversial arenas—the courtroom—on "Trial: The City and County of Denver vs. Lauren R. Watson," Sunday, April 5. Parts three and four of this four-part "NET Journal" production are presented Sunday, at 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m., respectively.

This series of broadcasts marks the first time that an American television documentary has examined the judicial system through a detailed presentation of a single trial.

The trial, which took place in March 1969, involves a charge of resisting and interfering with a police officer in the discharge of his duty. The defendant, Lauren R. Watson, at the time of his arrest a member of the Black Panther Party, counters with charges that he is a victim of police harassment.

PIPE ORGAN—A mighty Wurlitzer pipe organ is rescued from a mouldering movie palace and transported to the home of an organ enthusiast.

"My Wife Said That's Enough," a part of NET's "Music on Television" series, Tuesday, April 7, at 7 p.m.

Capturing the sights and sounds of a pipe organ, this Canadian film focuses on organ enthusiasts and tells the story of Bernie Venus, who builds a Wurlitzer beneath his house.

The film chronicles the meticulous rebuilding of this long-silent instrument, rescued from a movie palace and transported to Bernie's home. "That's enough," is Mrs. Venus' reply to Bernie's plans, but her objections disappear when the project is completed and organ music fills their home.

Highlighting the program is Gaylord Carter, the renowned organist of radio's "Amos and Andy" days, who recounts his experiences playing for silent pictures and demonstrates his talents on a great golden Wurlitzer console.

"The Advocates" debates whether or not the U. S. should permit unlimited low-cost foreign oil, Sunday, April 5, at 10 p.m.

The second of a two-part debate on the issue, the hour-long telecast is one of a series of programs featuring skilled debaters arguing the pros and cons of nationally significant issues before a studio audience.

This week's debate originates from Boston and centers on whether the U. S. government should eliminate all tariffs and import quotas on foreign oil.

Cellist Stephen Kates and pianist Samuel Sanders, two gifted and exciting young performers, share the spotlight on "Young Musical Artists," Wednesday, April 8, at 7 p.m.

They perform Sonata in F Major, Op. 6, by Richard Strauss. As Silver Medal (second prize) winner in the 1968 Tchaikovsky Competition, Kates received unanimous acclaim from judges, critics and audiences, alike. Sanders received a special award at the Tchaikovsky contest for his performance with Kates. The two also have recorded for RCA Victor.

"NET Playhouse" features the work of Danielle Hunebelle, one of France's leading journalists, on "The Boss's Son," Sunday, April 5, at 11 p.m.

Travelogue

This film depicts the national parks of St. John's in the Virgin Islands, Grand Canyon, Great Smokies, Yosemite, Big Bend, Acadia, Isle Royal, Everglades, Carlsbad Caverns, Mesa Verde, Yellowstone, Tetons, Bryce, Zion, Jackson Hole, Mt. Ranier, Olympic, Glacier, and Mt. Rushmore in all their natural grandeur.

Of special interest in the film are the examples of panoramic photography made possible by Metcalf's piloting of a Cessna 172 and his close-up portraits of many of the children from the diverse ethnic cultures that visit and enjoy the spectacular wonders of the various parks.

These include the shy mulatto child of the Virgin Islands; the sunbonneted mountain child of Cads Cove in the Smokies; the blonde slicker-clad son of a fisherman in Acadia, Me., and the robust cowboy youngster of Big Bend, Tex.

In coming to Chelsea, James Metcalf has, in a sense, come home for it was at the University of Michigan where he majored in chemistry that he first began his work in the field of nature exploration.

Pre-Addressed Label Stops Refund Delays

Detroit—Income tax refunds can be processed quicker if taxpayers put the pre-addressed name on the return they file, Thomas A. Cardoza, district director of Internal Revenue for Michigan, said today.

Use of the name label will eliminate many errors in name and Social Security numbers that held up refunds for 57,472 taxpayers in Michigan last year, Cardoza said today.

Returns filed before April 1 using the name label can usually be processed and the refund issued in five to six weeks. Taxpayers who find an error in their name label should correct the label and use it on their return.

When a return is prepared by someone else, the taxpayer should remember to put the name label on the form he actually files, Cardoza said. Taxpayers should either give the tax preparer the form with the name label attached or attach the name label themselves when the completed form is returned to them for signing.

The name label is sometimes called the piggyback label because a carbon copy of the information appears beneath the label. If you do not file the return mailed you, the top label can thus be lifted off and put on the return you do file.

Cardoza said taxpayers required to file estimated tax declarations, should use the pre-addressed form sent them by IRS.

Buck Up Your Sheriff Committee Is Organized

Citizens of Washtenaw county have decided to give Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey moral and financial support in his effort to maintain peace and tranquility in the county.

Sixty-five citizens met and established a committee known as the "Buck Up Your Sheriff" committee. The object is to circulate petitions to present to the Washtenaw county Board of Supervisors to encourage them to provide the sheriff adequate operational funds, realistic moral support and necessary legal counsel to represent him in litigation that may arise from the performance of his duties as sheriff. Also, to let the sheriff know that the citizens of Washtenaw county support him in his past and present efforts to act in the best interest of the majority of the citizens in Washtenaw county.

Officers are Beverly Couch, executive chairman; Gary D. Ballard, financial chairman; Donald Ford, publicity chairman; Darlene Geisler, phoning chairman. Citizens will be informed, at a later date, the post office box number where contributions may be mailed.

No business pushes itself; whenever you see a business growing, you can bet your life somebody is giving intelligent direction to its affairs.

Reforming the human race is quite a job, especially for one person.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Temptations cause trouble. It seems common sense should tell us a good way to stay out of trouble is to avoid temptations. When you are tempted to do something, you either do it or you don't. Temptation is always a test. You either pass or fail the test. It can be said temptation is a sort of education — in reverse. In an educational sense, you learn your lesson—and then take your test. When temptation occurs, you take the test—and then learn your lesson. Temptation can also be likened to a contest of speed. If you "flee temptation" you RUN away from it with decisiveness. You win. Happiness, pride and satisfaction is your pay off. If you merely try to walk or crawl away from it with indifference or indecision, temptation can always overcome you. You lose. Anguish, disappointment and regret invariably follow.

Just as thoughts precede words and action, temptation does likewise. Control your thoughts and you control your temptations. Analyze your thoughts. You will find self-centered, selfish thoughts induce temptations more often than not... BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Boy Scouts Will Clean Up Along Roads

A very large good deed will be performed by area scouts for the Chelsea community on Saturday, April 4.

Scouts of Troops 425 and 476, sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis Club, and Troop 465, sponsored by the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club will clear all of the roadways coming into Chelsea of paper and other debris.

"We're doing this as an annual community service project, which in the past has been a community service project of Troop 425," explained Scoutmaster James Branham. "The job seems to be a little larger this year, and so we've asked the aid of the other Chelsea Scout troops," continued Branham, who noted a significant increase in refuse this year.

"As the scouts clean the refuse they will be working not only towards beautification of the village, but also towards higher ranks in scouting by increased participation in community service projects," commented Branham.

Scouts will be clearing M-52, both north and south; Old US-12, east and west; and Dexter-Chelsea Rd. from the village limits into the village. Scouts will also clear a portion of Cavanaugh Lake Rd., provided time is available.

Motorists are warned to drive with caution near the areas where the scouts will be working.

IN ACTION

Michigan Farm Bureau

★ Rule With Reason.

The Michigan Meat Industry Committee, a cross section of more than 50 meat industry leaders consisting of State Representatives, meat packers, purveyors and even chamber of commerce representatives concerned about jobs, met to talk about meat inspection.

The distinguished meat committee unanimously agreed to support state bill H-2190 now in the House and to lead the way for even better meat regulations than the Federal Government now requires.

The industry's leaders are currently working with legislators to win favorable action to bring meat processors and plants under full-time inspection. H-2190 would also provide the funds to finance manpower needed to carry out such a program.

Michigan meat inspection regulation has been a model law among states. Michigan consumers can be sure of the best meat of any state in the nation. The current Michigan law is essentially identical to the current federal regulation except for the inclusion "rule with reason." This phrase allows flexibility in working with various businesses as it is recognized all businesses are not exactly the same. On the other hand the federal law is strict and unbending.

If H-2190 is not passed then federal regulations will prevail and probably create reverberations throughout the industry. Some parts of the federal law are judged by many as a lowering of state standards. For instance, meat that had once been inspected at the slaughter house and later processed for restaurant use, would not be re-inspected.

However, in the sponsored H-2190 bill anything sold wholesale must be inspected, including the re-inspection of processed meat for restaurant use.

Federal proposals could also cause many businesses to close if they couldn't economically cope with the federal laws. In Detroit alone, it was estimated by one individual that more than 30,000 workers could be put out of work, not to mention the state-wide effect. Furthermore, communities could lose millions of tax dollars if H-2190 is not passed and federal regulation prevails.

Trained census workers will handle phone inquiries between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily from Monday, March 30, through April 4.

BAD FLIGHT

French astronomer Pierre Janssen was so intent on photographing the solar eclipse of 1870, during the Franco-Prussian War, that he risked German rifle fire to escape from the siege of Paris in a balloon. Unhappily, when he made his way by land and sea to the eclipse path over the African coast, rain hid the event.

Census Gives Americans Chance To Study Themselves

Every 10 years Americans take a good look at themselves to reinforce the platform of facts on which to base plans for the future course of the nation.

The occasion is the census of population and housing conducted once each decade as required by the Constitution. The 19th in a series stretching back without interruption to 1790 will be taken April 1.

Responsible for the census is the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce. The count will be conducted from 395 temporary Bureau district offices throughout the United States, each of which will cover an area containing approximately 500,000 persons. District offices began opening Jan. 19, with the entire group scheduled to be in operation by Feb. 9.

The census tells us what we are as a nation and is a necessary stocktaking. History has shown us to be a practical people, busy in the pursuit of our concerns, and we need a careful look at ourselves at regular intervals. The census will throw light on all the changes that have taken place in recent years.

For the average American, the census will be a simple exercise. The government asks that he devote a few minutes to answer questions about himself and his housing. The questions will be on printed forms that will be sent by mail to each household.

For 80 percent of the households there will be about 23 questions that require about 15 minutes to answer. Fifteen minutes every 10 years is not a heavy burden. For the other 20 percent of the households, there will be an average of 69 questions that will require about 45 minutes.

It is impossible to overstate the importance of taking these few minutes to put the facts on record. Crucial decisions affecting every person in the nation depend upon the accuracy and completeness of the census. To begin with, political power hinges on the census count: Official population figures are used to determine the fair apportionment of seats in the Congress as well as in state and local legislative bodies. Further, federal funds are distributed locally on the basis of census population figures.

Government leaders from the highest federal authorities to local officials plan and develop programs involving billions of dollars on the basis of what the census tells of the characteristics of people and their housing. And the same holds for non-government leaders responsible for the stewardship of our many enterprises.

President Nixon has said of the census: "Even as our population has grown in size over the decades, so the functions of the regular census also have expanded. Today, we're interested not only in an accurate counting of heads but also in a better description of our social condition. We know that unless a people can be adequately informed about their present, they cannot make intelligent judgments about their future."

For the individual, the census is secret. No individual need fear that he is exposing himself to public view. The answers he gives about himself and his housing are held in strictest confidence. Census employees are forbidden by law from disclosing any fact about a person and would be subject to heavy fine or imprisonment for a violation of the law. In processing, facts about individuals are added in various ways resulting in statistical totals that depict the state of the nation.

Change has even affected the mode of taking the 1970 census. This year, the 65 million U.S. households can be their own census takers. Each household will receive a census questionnaire by mail on or about March 28 and will be asked to fill it out as of April 1 according to enclosed instructions. The number of questions asked will be on the average the fewest of any census in the past century.

In most of the large metropolitan areas, people will be asked to mail a completed questionnaire back to their census district offices in a brown postpaid envelope provided for the purpose. The envelope and form with all questions answered should be mailed on April 1. These people need not see a census taker unless they return the form incomplete, neglect to return it at all, or ask for assistance.

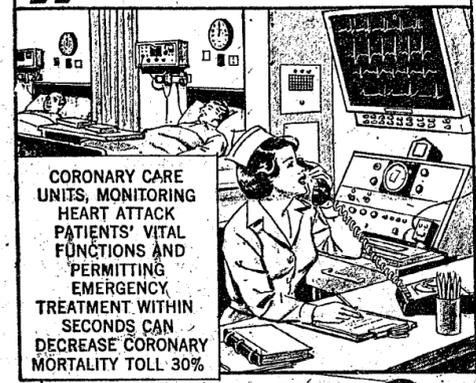

In the remainder of the nation, people will be asked to fill out the form on April 1 and hold it until it is picked up by a census taker.

About 185,000 temporary workers will be hired by the Bureau to take the census. Included will be 100,000 census takers (called enumerators); 13,000 workers in the 395 temporary offices, and 72,000 crew leaders and other supervisors, including a manager for each district office. Had not the changes in census taking methods proved out in field tests over a period of several years, it is estimated that 220,000 workers would have been needed to take this year's census using the same procedures employed in 1960. The 1960 total population was 180 million compared with an estimated 205 million for 1970. The cost of taking and compiling the 1970 census will be about $210 million.

Census workers will be employed 4-6 weeks, some longer.

Know Your Fescues Before Purchasing Lawn Grass Seed
When seeding your lawn this spring, don't confuse your fescues. Some make attractive, fine-leaved lawns; others look more like tough, hardy clumps suitable for roadsides, but not for front lawns. University crop scientist, points out that the preferred fescues are members of the "creeping red" species. Any one of its improved varieties is a worthy ingredient in a lawn seed mixture.

HOW TO SAVE 50000 LIVES YEARLY!

CORONARY CARE UNITS, with an ultimate potential of saving 50,000 lives a year, are one of several Michigan Heart Association heart saving programs. In four years the Association, a Michigan United Fund member, has helped increase CCU's in Michigan from none to 91. Advances in medical treatment since 1950, when the Government and Heart Association began massive research, have reduced cardiovascular death rates of persons under 65 by 20.1%. Still, heart and circulatory diseases continue to kill more Americans under 65 than cancer, accidents and pneumonia combined.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am one of several teenage girls who worked at a drive-in where the owner had wandering hands and a dirty mouth as well. Some of us had to have sex with him to get the job. I am not proud to say that I had sex with him. I am not proud to say that I had sex with him. I am not proud to say that I had sex with him."

★ Your House . . .
What kind of a house do you live in? If you answer brick, or wood, or stone, you do not understand the question. Perhaps we should put it another way: Is your house a home?
Home, as the poet has said, is "where the heart is." And yet, much more. Home is a place of comfort, of rest and security, of real happiness. It is not just "living" that makes a house a home; it is more.
Home is where love and affection abound, where someone helps, where someone cares. A house cannot be a home just at mealtimes, or only in the late hours of the evening. If a house is a home, there's love and warmth enough to last around the clock, each and every day of the year.

Gospel Chautauqua Coming to Rebekah Hall For One Night

What's a gospel chautauqua? That question will be answered tomorrow night, April 3, at 7:30 p.m. at the Rebekah Hall by members of the Pentecostal Church of God Tabernacle, of Ann Arbor.

"The Chautauqua" was born in Methodist Fire almost 100 years ago," explained pastor Archie McWilliams, "in the year 1874 and died of 'suffocation' so to speak in the smoke of materialism and modernism during 1926 and 1932. We've gotten some young people together interested in displaying their talents in a religious way." The group, which includes an electric guitarist, will be presenting, what almost could be described as an amateur talent show. "We want to proclaim a living Christ to a dying world, and we want to do it with music and song," continued the pastor. The program includes Paul David Prince, on the electric guitar; Miss Carol Joy, at the talking piano; the Rev. "Big George" Allen of Ypsilanti and Cletus Ross Snellenberger as master of ceremonies. The public is invited free of charge.

Easter Guests

Special guests over the Easter week-end, besides the Easter Bunny, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gentner of Jackson St., were Mr. and Mrs. Duane L. Gentner and their daughter, Lisa. The Duane Gentners, son and daughter-in-law of the Floyd Gentners, are presently residing in Hanover Park, Ill.

Although the Duane Gentners have returned to Illinois, they enjoyed an Easter dinner with their parents and uncle, Robert Abdon, brother of Mrs. Floyd Gentner.

The 7 p.m. ceremony at the Chelsea Baptist church was attended by some 200 guests, who witnessed the Saturday, March 28 wedding.

Pastor Elmer Steenson officiated at the ceremony, which was laced with the organ music of Mrs. Steenson and Mrs. Donald Krieger, vocalist. Mrs. Krieger sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Wearing a white floor-length A-lined gown of organza over satin with long full sleeves, was the bride, who carried a bouquet of white pompons and stephanotis with white ribbon streamers. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Gary Koch, 487 S. Fletcher Rd. Mrs. Koch, as matron of honor, wore an apricot floor-length gown of chiffon over satin. TV Series for Young Homemakers Starts April 22

A new television series, "Modern Mrs.," offers in-service training for young homemakers. The series will begin Wednesday, April 22 at 1 p.m. on WMSB, Channel 10.

The series, produced by the cooperative "Extension Service" at Michigan State University, deals exclusively with problems of young homemakers—money, home, furniture, food, children and mates.

Mrs. Judith Turk and Roger Brown, hosts for the 13-week series, are part of the University's Department of Information Services. Both are young homemakers. After surveying other young homemakers around the state concerning "common problems, they turned to MSU staff for possible solutions.

"Most of the problems relate directly to the amount of experience the young homemaker has had," Mrs. Turk says. "Very few careers that are as important as homemaking require no training before you begin." And, frankly, today's young homemakers generally have had few chances for "apprenticeships" in homemaking before acquiring a home of their own.

She explained that the series examines specific problems, gives a solution, and establishes general ideas that may help in solving related problems in the future.

"For example, most every young family has a problem making money stretch far enough. But it's more than a one month problem. The real answer is deciding what's more important as a couple and as a family. That requires real communication between husband and wife, as well as the best bargain in furniture or food. We'll cover both aspects in the "Modern Mrs." series," Mrs. Turk added.

gown and made her floor-length train. Her veil, five layers of silk illusion, was held in place by a clutch of leaves made of heavy lace with pearl outlines and crystal droplets.

The bride carried a bouquet of white carnations and white orchids with white streamers of silk ribbon.

Miss Evelyn Estes, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pink floor-length empire waisted gown with a trimming of white daisies along the neckline, sleeves and train. Her pink shoulder-length veil was held in place by a headpiece of pink roses. She carried a single long stem pink rose with pink bow streamers.

Miss Angela Cavadas, friend of the bride, served as bridesmaid. She wore a yellow, floor-length gown with a trimming of white daisies along the empire waist. She carried a single, long-stemmed yellow rose with yellow bow and streamers.

Tom Taylor, friend of the bridegroom, served as best man, aided by Donald Erskine, brother of the bridegroom, and James Estes, Jr., brother of the bride, as ushers.

Mrs. Ralph (Bonnie) Erskine, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue dress with white laced collar and cuffs.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Glen (Minnie) Erskine, chose a light grey and blue crepe dress. To complement the ensemble she wore matching accessories.

Both mothers wore a corsage of double carnations and ribbons.

The couple was honored at a reception held at the home of the bride's parents.

The Misses Debbie and Sheila Erskine, sisters of the bride, attended the guest book. Miss Gail Machnik of Chelsea caught the bouquet.

The bridegroom graduated from Chelsea High school and is presently employed at Chelsea Heat Treat.

The newlyweds are now residing at 151 Park St., Chelsea.

Unexpected company is fun. We all keep a reserve supply of packaged foods so we are able to think of a spur-of-the-moment supper, but what has you puzzled is what to serve them for dessert.

In my column today I have two suggestions. Serve them Pineapple Upside Down Cake (sliced or crushed pineapple) or Fruit Cocktail Upside Down Cake. Both are very tasty and I am sure you have the ingredients on your emergency shelves.

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE DOWN CAKE (9 servings)

Melt 1/4 cup margarine or butter in square pan, 8x8x2 inches or 9 inch layer pan. Sprinkle 1/2 package "JIFFY" Caramel Frosting Mix over margarine. Arrange 4 pineapple slices with halves of maraschino cherries in center of slice over frosting mixture. Prepare "JIFFY" Yellow Cake Mix as directed on package except substitute pineapple juice for water. Pour batter over pineapple mixture. Bake 35 to 40 minutes at 350°. Cool cake 5 minutes, then invert over serving plate. Let stand 1 minute before removing pan. Serve warm.

Variation: (Crushed pineapple) Prepare basic recipe except substitute 1 can (8 1/2 oz.) drained crushed pineapple for slices. (Fruit Cocktail) Prepare basic recipe except substitute 1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) drained fruit cocktail for pineapple slices.

Salmonella Cases Found in Chelsea Area

The Washtenaw County Health Department has identified Salmonella germ responsible for what appears to be an unusual number of cases of diarrhea and enteritis in the Chelsea area of Washtenaw county, and it is suspected in the area of Stockbridge and parts of Jackson county.

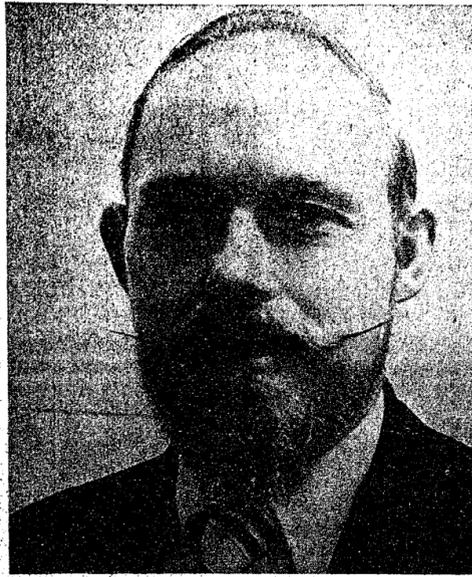

Identification of the germ was made by the Michigan Department of Public Health from specimens submitted during an epidemiological study of cases occurring in Chelsea over the past several weeks.

Dr. Barry Stolar of the Communicable Disease Center of the United States Public Health Service in Atlanta, Ga., worked closely with local Health Department personnel to identify and prevent the spread of this infection.

Salmonella cases occur sporadically throughout Michigan. The situation in the Chelsea area, however, where there have been some 30 suspected cases reported in the last three or four weeks, has prompted intensified control measures directed particularly at problems of food handling, communal handwashing and bathing facilities and person to person contact. Many of the patients known to the Health Department have been in the Chelsea Methodist Home.

The disease is characterized by nausea, vomiting and diarrhea which might be quite severe. It is generally spread from one person to another through contaminated food, common bathing and home laundry facilities. The disease may easily be confused with so called intestinal flu. It is important that a doctor be called if unexplained diarrhea occurs and that home hygienic measures be undertaken to prevent the spread of the infection. Sick people should not prepare food for others and should wash their hands thoroughly after the use of the toilet.

Doctors in the Chelsea area are co-operating with the Health Department in an attempt to control this infection.

Dr. Neil W. Beach Chosen To Head Biology Department

Dr. Neil W. Beach, associate professor of biology, has been named chairman of the biology department at Gettysburg College, it was announced at a recent faculty meeting.

Beach, who is a 1946 graduate of Chelsea High school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Beach, 10639 Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

Beach, a member of the Gettysburg biology faculty since 1960, succeeds Dr. Robert D. Barnes, who has just completed a normal five-year term as chairman. Dr. Barnes asked to return to full-time teaching and research.

Department chairmen at Gettysburg are elected for five-year terms.

Beach, an ecologist, will assume the chairmanship for a five-year term at the beginning of the 1970-71 academic year in September.

In 1960, his article on the "Planktonic Rotifers of the Ocqueoc River System, Presque Isle County, Michigan" appeared in "Ecological Monographs." Another article, "The Oyster Crab, Pinnothere Ostragum Say, in the vicinity of Beaufort, North Carolina," appeared in a recent edition of "Crustacea."

Before joining the Gettysburg faculty, Beach taught at Lake Forest College, Ill., and at the University of Michigan.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor, I would like to commend Junior Girl Scout Troop 82 of Chelsea for the Easter cards which included felt and yarn and a picture to color and for thinking of the children at Mott's Childrens Hospital in Ann Arbor over Easter.

My daughter entered the hospital on Easter Sunday and it was pleasant to see the happiness these cards brought to some of the children. Most of the children (on this floor, 6 West) are from distances far from home and these pleasant surprises really mean a great deal to them.

Mrs. Robert L. York, 7415 Wall Ct., Dexter.

Dear Sir:

I was happy to see such a complete review of "Carousel" in last week's Standard, but think you inadvertently missed one very good performance—Keith Pfeifle as Enoch Snow.

Having attended all three performances, I thought he did a terrific job—as did all of the cast. Sincerely, Mrs. L. Dietle.

Carl Heldt Repeats as Washtenaw Soldiers Relief Commissioner

The Commission is a financial relief emergency fund serving all veterans in Washtenaw county. Heldt is one of three commissioners, each of whom represent one major veterans organization. His is the American Legion, the other two being Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans.

Four Area Dairymen Cited for Lengthy MPPA Membership

Four area residents are among the 20 Michigan dairy farmers who were honored on Tuesday, March 24 for having 35 years or more of membership in the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

Named were M. L. LaChapelle, 10050 Jerusalem Rd.; Erwin Frederick of Ann Arbor, Edwin Ehnis of Dexter, and Morgan Esch of Grass Lake.

Awards were presented at the MPPA annual meeting held at Fairchild Theatre on the Michigan State University campus. MPPA Vice-President, Harold Blaylock, who was in charge of the presentation ceremonies, applauded the dairymen for their years with the association, noting that a strong and loyal membership was the backbone of the organization.

MPPA is a milk marketing cooperative composed of more than 6,800 dairy farmers throughout the state.
