Michigan Week Activities Last Until Saturday

Next Three Days Honor Education, Spirit of Hospitality, Young People

The remaining three days of Michigan Week will be highlighted by a number of activities. Among these are the following events.

Education Day, Thursday, May 21—
In Michigan, Education Day is dedicated to the schools, colleges, and universities of the state; and to the pupils, teachers, and other personnel which comprise them. Under the chairmanship of Bryce Fauble, all Chelsea Public Schools will hold open houses for parents or others interested in learning about the school system. Fact sheets about the system will be placed in downtown stores where they will be available for distribution.

Hospitality Day, Friday, May 22—
While Hospitality Day is being observed on Friday of Michigan Week, one of the primary goals of the entire week is to encourage the practice of hospitality by everyone throughout the year. The 1970 Michigan Week theme is "Michigan—Land of Hospitality," which emphasizes this goal. Under chairman Walt Brown, Chelsea plans to stop occasional out-of-town drivers and present them with free dinners and/or other gifts.

Chelsea Milling Co. will conduct free tours of its Jiffy Mix operation. The Jaycee Auxiliary will serve free coffee and donuts in front of Chelsea Drug between 9 a.m. and noon, and free popcorn throughout the afternoon. As a service to the residents of the Chelsea Methodist Home, resting benches will be placed along W. Middle St. It is felt that many more of its residents could walk downtown if they were provided with rest stops along the way. Friday evening, movies of the 1959 observance of Chelsea's 125th anniversary, taken by Don Turner, will be shown at the high school.

Admission will be by voluntary donation and the movies will begin at 8 p.m.

A second feature will be the movie, "When Michigan was Young."

Our Youth Day, Saturday, May 23—
Since the final day of Michigan Week focuses on the future by saluting the youth of the state, the Chelsea Civitan Club, under the chairmanship of Norm O'Connor, will sponsor an Amateur Show at the high school beginning at 8 p.m.

$50 in prizes will be awarded to the winners of this show in both Junior and Senior categories and thus far more than 20 acts have been entered into competition.

Fluoride Tooth Program Will Start July 8

The summer topical fluoride program will be held in Chelsea at the high school cafeteria between July 8 and Aug. 3, according to Mrs. Gary A. Albrecht, chairman. The program is conducted in co-operation with the County Health Department and the Michigan Department of Public Health. According to Mrs. Albrecht, 755 rural area children have enrolled in the program. The procedure they will follow consists of four visits to the clinic at approximately two-day intervals. During the first visit, the child's teeth are cleaned and a fluoride solution is applied directly to the surface of the teeth. This fluoride application is repeated during each of the three successive visits to the clinic. This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about 40 percent compared to the 60-65 percent reduction observed.

DIGNITARIES for Mayor Exchange Day in Chelsea, Monday, May 18 include, left to right: Tom Dmoch, chairman of Our Government Day activities; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Weber; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harvey; Jane Mann, Community Fair Queen; Mrs.

Dmoch; Village President and Mrs. Wilber Johnson from Milford; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Milzner from Milford; Village President and Mrs. A. E. Fulks; Trustee and Mrs. Arden Musbach; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox; and Trustee and Mrs. Gene Miller.

Visitors Impressed By Our Facilities

As part of its Michigan Week festivities, Chelsea and Milford exchanged village presidents for the day. A full round of activities were planned to give our visitors a birdseye view of Chelsea.

The day began at 8:45 a.m. when Milford's President and Mrs. Wilber Johnson and their village clerk, Mrs. Donald (Norma Jean) Milzner and her husband arrived at the Korner House for coffee and donuts with Chelsea's Senior Citizens. They were greeted by Village President and Mrs. A. E. Fulks, who stayed with the visiting dignitaries until later in the morning.

At 10 a.m., Community Fair Queen Jane Mann led a parade from Pleasant Park to the Municipal Building where a ceremonial flag-raising took place. At this point, President and Mrs. Fulks left for Milford where they were to be feted by the Milford Chamber of Commerce. Following the flag ceremony, President Johnson and his party were taken on a tour of the village's municipal facilities. Lunch at the Medicenter preceded a tour of Chelsea Milling Co. and the Methodist Home. A late afternoon cocktail hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wood and dinner at Weber's in Ann Arbor culminated the day's festivities.

Chelsea Milling Co. and the Methodist Home. "I can identify with the senior citizens," he said, "and the treatment they are receiving here must certainly give these people an extra happy 10 years of life. You have every right to be very proud of this fine facility."

Through my interview with President Johnson took place near the end of what must have been an exhausting day, this reporter found him gregarious, charming, and full of enthusiasm about the Mayor's Exchange program. "It's through days such as this," he said, "that we learn how other people do things and find ways of improving what we have to work with. Meeting and talking with other people who encounter the same problems, we do is the best way I know of clarifying issues and seeing where and how improvements can be made."

When asked how the partying off for Mayor's Exchange Day was achieved, President Johnson said, "There is some preliminary selection as to size of cities but other than that, names are placed in a hat and the governor just begins to draw out pairs. He explained that whereas Chelsea has a population approaching 4,000, Milford has one of about 5,200, but that in most municipal aspects the two villages employ the same type of government. Discussion did reveal that Milford's policemen are a little better paid than Chelsea's since their starting salary for a patrolman was $9,500 with a maximum of $10,500 for their sergeant. He concluded his remarks about the day by saying that he was so impressed with the facilities at the Medical Center that he would like to bring one of Milford's doctors out to tour the facilities in the hopes that someday Milford could establish a comparable facility. "I've been the village president a long time (14 years)," he said, "and that is something I'd like to see accomplished in my town."

James Phinney Wins U. of M. Scholarship

James Edward Phinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Phinney, Sr., of 16450 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., and Vicki Lynn Eiselo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eiselo, of 211 Beaufort St., Manchester have been named as recipients of the more than 1,000 University of Michigan Regents-Alumni Awards offered to graduating high school seniors this year, in recognition of their outstanding academic achievement.

Ronald M. Brown, financial aid director at the U. of M. said "We believe these honorary awards, this year and in the future, will fulfill the important function of recognizing people who have the potential of making an outstanding contribution to the academic community of the University."

These awards are primarily honorary; however, each designee will receive a token stipend of $50. The awards are separate from financial aids and are not applied for by the incoming freshmen.

Milford Gives Our Village President Royal Treatment

As part of Mayor Exchange Day, Monday, May 18, Village President and Mrs. A. E. Fulks were honored in Milford.

They were scheduled to arrive in Milford at their Municipal Building for an 11:30 a.m. welcome by village officials. This was followed by a Chamber of Commerce luncheon where there were several speeches and a question and answer session.

After lunch, the Fulkses were taken on a tour of Milford, highlighted by visits to the municipal facilities and public works department, and the GM Proving Grounds.

Following this, a tour of the Proud Lake Recreation Area facilities, with a stop for refreshments, was taken.

After a brief respite, the guests were treated to a dinner at Milford High school where a special program, including the presentation of gifts had been planned. When interviewed as to his reaction concerning the over-all impression of the day, Fulks commented that "It was obvious our day was well organized and that a lot of thought had been given to the planning."

Art, Home Ec. Students Plan Open House

The Art and Home Economics departments of Chelsea High school will sponsor an Open House and Dress Revue Thursday evening, May 28 between 7 and 9 p.m. at the school.

Jaycees Rated 'Best Chapter' In Michigan

Chelsea Group Wins 9 First-Place Awards in State-Wide Competition

This past week-end, Chelsea Jaycees were honored at the 45th Michigan Jaycee state convention with the "Geissenbeir Memorial Award as the best Jaycee chapter in their population division as well as the "Bill Otts Memorial Award" as the best Jaycee chapter in the state of Michigan.

This was the first time in the local chapter's 15-year history that they have received either of these awards.

Both awards are the highest that any local Jaycee chapter can win and are a result of the local chapter's internal and external programming for the 1969-70 Jaycee year.

In addition, the Jaycees were awarded the "State Community Involvement Award" for their projects dealing with the village issue, teacher's strike, youth, and other community projects.

The local chapter also did well in the state R & R competition by winning nine first-place awards and one third-place award out of the 11 project activity areas. First-place awards were won in the areas of "Chapter Growth and Management," "Ways and Means," "Community Health" and "Recreation and Sports," "Individual and Spiritual Development," "Publications," "Inter-Club Relations," and "Americanism, Governmental, and Public Involvement." The third-place award was won in the area of "International Involvement."

Those attending the state convention from Chelsea were: Mr. and Mrs. Walt Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Art Steinaway, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Greenleaf, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Akin, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Updegraff, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Eder, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thalner, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Robison, Ron Branham, Don Proctor, Vassant Bhirud; S; Hopkins, Neil Packard, Dave Clark; Tom Steele, and Berry Boone.

Newly-elected president of the Michigan Jaycees is Don DeMoss of Swartz Creek. Guest speaker for the Saturday night banquet was the United States Jaycee president.

Poppy Sale Slated Here This Week-End

"In Flanders Fields, the Poppies Bloom." So went the immortal lines of John McCrae's poem. Little did he realize when he penned those lines that someday the very poppies of which he wrote would become the symbol of those who gave their lives in our nation's wars. However, this is the case today.

Annually, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion co-sponsor the poppy sale in Chelsea and elsewhere to raise money to help disabled veterans.

"Poppy days" became a memorial to the American war dead and a tribute to disabled servicemen after the first World War when returning servicemen spoke of the small, red flowers that had bloomed in the battlefields of France and Flanders.

Buying a poppy is one way in which each American can honor the sacrifices made by the servicemen who gave their lives or their health so that others might be free.

Pay your respects tomorrow, May 22, by "buying a poppy" when they go on sale in the community. Buy a poppy and wear it proudly.

Headquarters for this year's sale will be Korner House.

Mrs. A. Steinaway Named State JC Auxiliary President

Mrs. Arthur (Anne) Steinaway, was elected on May 16 to the position of Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary president at the Jaycee state convention held in Detroit.

Anne has served the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary since joining in 1966 as director, secretary, vice-president, and president. This past year, she has served the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary as District 22 vice-president. District 22 has 10 locals and 24 members.

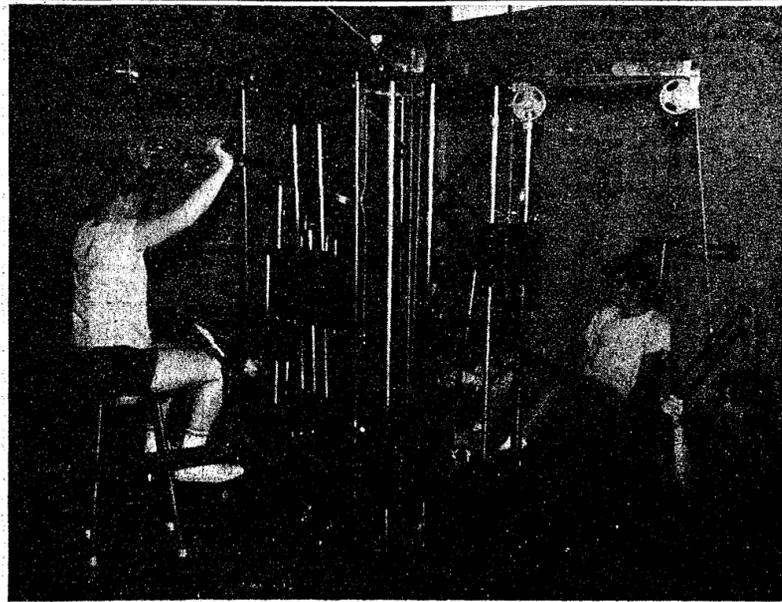

In her new position, Anne will assume the responsibility of 23 districts covering all of Michigan and composed of 182 local auxiliaries with a total membership of 3,000 young women.

Other members elected to the state executive board are Pat Schoenfield of Swartz Creek, executive vice-president; Mrs. Kay Pilmore of Westphalia, recording secretary, and Mrs. Sharon Wismer of Richmond, treasurer.

Mrs. Walter (Sandy) Brown of the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary will serve Anne as the state corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Marland (Jean) Hutt of Saline was installed as the new District 22 vice-president for the coming year and was named as the Outstanding State Chairman by the president, Clarice Vasold.

Those attending from the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary were Mrs. Thomas Thalner, president; Mrs. Walter Brown, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Updegraff, president elect; Mrs. Gerald Blough, secretary; Mrs. Ed Greenleaf, Mrs. Dan Eder, and Mrs. Arthur Steinaway. (Continued on page five)

DEMONSTRATING the many uses of the new Universal Gym, recently obtained by Chelsea High through the co-operative efforts of the football players, the recreation department, the Varsity Club, and the Physical Education Department budget, are Jim Wojcicki, Dave Buxton, and Dan Hoover. A total of 15 students can utilize the facilities of this "automated gym teacher" at one time so perhaps the day of the teaching machine is really upon us.

New Weight-Lifting Machine Promises Strong Bodies

Recently, the "Cadillac of all weight-lifting machines" was added to the physical education department equipment at Chelsea High with the purchase of a $2,500, 1,900-pound device known as the Universal Gladiator Gym.

The machine which was obtained through the combined efforts of the football team who contributed $1,200 from their Candy Sale, the Recreation Department's contribution of $250, the Varsity Club's contribution of $500, and the Physical Education Department's budget which made up the difference of $550, has been placed in the balcony area of the boys gym at Chelsea High for use by both students and community alike.

Presently in use by all the male physical education classes at the high school the machine is equipped to handle up to 15 boys at one time and can be used to strengthen muscles in virtually every area of the body. Under the direction of Phil Bareis, a program of circuit training has been set up whereby each student is taken through a program of weight-lifting covering all the possible body areas.

In describing the machine, Bareis said, "It is fantastic, really. The weights are restricted so no one can attempt to handle more than he is able to safely. While we expect to create some strong football players through our use of this machine, we would like the community to use it too."

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

With our nation in particular distress these days about very serious matters it is well that we take a little time to consider some positive, laudable facets of American life.

1968 was $3,673, some $254 above the national average. For these and numerous other reasons we have much to be thankful for as we celebrate Michigan Week.

Michigan Spring Events Among Nation's Top 20

Michigan was the first state to guarantee every child the right to tax-paid high school education and now ranks among the leaders in per capita support of higher education.

Lansing—Two Michigan Community events have been listed among the top 20 travel events in the nation by the National Association of Travel Organizations.

At Interlochen near Traverse City we have one of the world's greatest centers of youth talent and training in the arts.

Sharing top honors for the month of May, the Highland Festival and Games, Aug. 23, is billed as the largest Scottish event held outside Scotland.

Michigan, a leader in health programs, is among only a few states to have a cancer research center, the new G. D. Channing Cancer Patients' Development Center in Lansing.

Also listed among the top 20, Frankenthum's Bavarian Festival, June 14-20, is a display of the Bavarian culture and heritage of the Frankenmuth area.

These are all matters that deal directly with people and things which we should be most proud. For our great natural resources and our industrial development do not serve our people, they serve nothing of value.

Michigan's natural resources, current and potential, are being studied by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The emphasis on environmental resources is not a new thing. Michigan has more than 11,000 inland lakes and more than 36,000 miles of streams.

We are equally blessed in land resources. Our farmers are able to produce a variety of food products that come the closest of any state in setting the family table completely for all three daily meals.

We are as equally proficient in manufacturing. More than one-third of all completed vehicles are assembled in Michigan.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Did you see that piece in the paper the other day where they is new study being done with sleep teaching? Clem Webster saw it, and he come to the country store Saturday night with some ideas about it to share with the fellers.

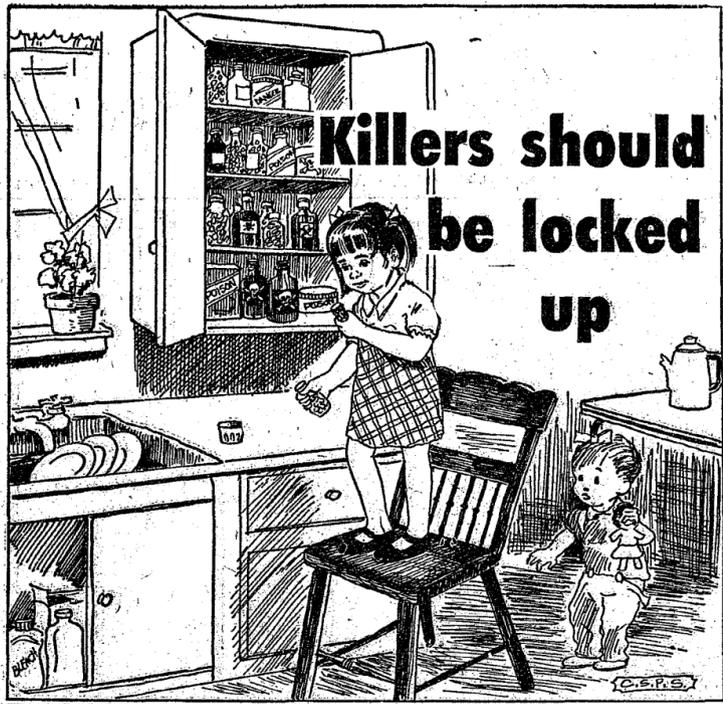

First off, said Clem, sleep teaching ain't nothing new. He allowed it has been going on as long as younguns has eat a big dinner and gone back in a warm classroom fer the afternoon.

Furthermore, went on Clem, sleeping under them conditions is a art that not everybody can handle. It ain't easy to learn to sleep setting straight up with yore eyes wide open, was Clem's words.

This sleep learning, went on Clem, is where you teach the subconscious, according to this piece in the paper. The experts said that 90 percent of a human mind is subconscious and that people don't use but 10 percent of their minds when they is awake and thinking about somepun.

The fellers was general interested in Clem's report, but Bug Hookum said sleep teaching don't allus work. Bug said he has been listening to his old lady tell him over and over asleep and awake how the house, the farm, the church and the country ought to

Parties Proliferate

The two major political parties will be receiving 99 percent of the attention between now and November, but Michigan voters will be choosing between five parties when they ballot Nov. 3.

In addition to the Republican and Democratic parties, candidates will be listed from the American Independent Party and the Socialist Workers Party and the Socialist Labor Party.

All five were on the 1968 ballot, so they won't be totally unfamiliar to voters, especially the American Independent Party, which was created by former Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

Two other parties which were on the ballot in 1968 will be off this year, however. They are the New Politics Party and the Prohibition Party. Neither tried to get on the ballot.

Minority parties must gain at least 1 percent of the votes cast for the successful Secretary of State to automatically qualify for a spot on the general election without collecting new qualifying petitions.

Party drew 331,963 votes last election, it qualified for both the primary and general elections and did not have to file qualifying petitions.

That total was the most by a third party ever in Michigan. The previous high was by the Bull Moose Party in 1912, when it accumulated 152,909 votes.

The 1968 election marked an all-time low for the Prohibition Party, which bills itself as "America's oldest third party."

They collected only 60 votes for president, marking the low point in a decline which set in after they picked up 13,052 votes for president in 1948.

Each presidential year, since then the party has received fewer and fewer votes.

The last time it ran a candidate for governor was in 1960, when its candidate drew 2,183 votes.

The most minor parties to appear on a Michigan ballot came in the Depression Era.

In 1922, 1936 and 1948 there were six minor parties in addition to the two major ones.

They included the Socialist, Socialist Labor, American Communist, Proletarian, United and Square Deal parties, all of which were on the 1936 ballot.

In 1932 the Proletarian Party, the Communist Party, both made an appearance on the ballot. It was the biggest showing for the Communist Party in Michigan and it drew 7,906 votes. Other minor parties in those years included the Prohibition Party, the Liberty Party, National Party, Farmer-Labor Party, and the Workers Party.

Newsletter Sparkles The Lansing scene produces many "newsletters" dealing with just about any subject under the sun.

Many special interest groups publish newsletters to keep their membership informed of happenings in the Capitol which affect the interest they have and to inform government officials and legislators of how the group stands on various issues.

Unfortunately, most of these newsletters tend to be pretty dull reading, unless you happen to be one of the few persons who is deeply interested in whatever special interest they represent.

Now, a new newsletter has appeared in the Capital which is an happy exception to this rule.

Published by the United Auto Workers lobbying group, it is well written, concise and to the point. It presents a "fickle finger" award in each issue as well as such designations as "winner of the week" and "loser of the week."

In biting fashion, a recent "winner of the week" was described thusly:

"The winner of the week will have to remain anonymous. Now we realize this kind of defeats the entire purpose of this award, but we looked high and low for someone to honor at this time. We are not suggesting, of course, that no one in Lansing deserves the accolade.

"We are merely confessing that we had some trouble unearthing the appropriate person, and rather than forgo the giving of the honor, we decided to make the award to the anonymous person who performed in an especially meritorious fashion in the past week."

New Form Available To Claim Exemption From Withholding Tax

Detroit—Students working for the summer, and retired persons and other part-time workers may be entitled to exemption from income tax withholding under the Tax Reform Act of 1969.

Any employee who had no income tax liability last year and anticipates none for this year should use Withholding Exemption Certificate, Form W-4E to claim the exemption, the IRS said.

For 1970, a single person who makes less than $1,725 owes no tax. This is based on the $1,100 low income allowance and a personal exemption of $225.

Anyone who qualifies may fill out the form and give it to his employer to claim exemption from income tax withholding on his wages.

Employers needing quantities of the new Form W-4E may obtain them from their IRS District Office.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

tained with fluoridated water, she said.

In addition to providing protection against cavities, the program offers a valuable dental experience for children, with no discomfort. Dental health education by the clinic's personnel is also an important part of the program.

Parents of the children enrolled in the program will receive appointment cards about three weeks prior to their children's first appointment.

In addition to the clinic in Chelsea, approximately 40,000 children will be receiving fluoride applications this summer in 200 similar clinics throughout the state. Michigan, which leads the nation in the number of community fluoride programs, has been providing this service since 1949.

After a lapse of several years, Chelsea again has a fluoride program. Hopefully, this will be a continual summer project and will be as successful as it was when it was under the capable supervision of Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, the chairman said.

SO DOES OUR HOUSE PAINT!

That's why it lasts longer...

Your house actually stretches and shrinks with variations in temperature and humidity. It's this expansion and contraction that often causes house paint to work loose, crack and peel.

PITTSBURGH PAINTS new SUN-PROOF® Latex House Paint stretches and shrinks with your house . . . this flexibility enables it to resist the cracking that ruptures an otherwise sound paint film. It has four times the stretch power of other latex paints, and it resists fume staining and discoloration. Available in a wide choice of attractive outdoor colors. DEN 2, PACK 455-Cub Scouts of Den 2, Pack 455, held regular meetings May 6 and 13 at the home of the den mother, Mrs. Sumner Oesterle.

At the May 6 meeting they played a bean and bottle game and then had the flag ceremony. Doug Nutt carried the American flag, Jon Oesterle the den banner, and their assistants were Todd Otto and Mike Waldyke. The Cubs sang, "America, the Beautiful."

They practiced their skit for the May pack meeting, finished their Mother's Day gifts (single recipe holders made of wood blocks and snap clothebins), retired the colors and closed with the living circle.

Then they practiced baseball for their coming game with Cub Scouts of Den 1.

Refreshments were brought by Jimmy Alexander.

The May 13 meeting opened with a rhythmic exercise and story game.

Jon Oesterle carried the American flag; Todd Otto carried the den flag; and Mike Waldyke and Jimmy Alexander assisted for the opening flag ceremony and the retirement of the colors at the close of the meeting.

After roll call, refreshments brought by Steve Dresch, were served, and then the boys did some more practice on their pack meeting skit and started making their costumes for the skit.

They closed with the living circle after singing "God Bless America." Lance Fletcher, scribe.

DEN 1, PACK 415-Den 1, Pack 415 met at the home of their den mother on May 19. After we paid our dues, we went outdoors and worked on our trophy boards. Gary Packard brought treats. Gary Packard, scribe.

By LOUIS BURGHARDT We are often asked how death can be explained to a child. An explanation should be governed by the age of the child and how much the child can absorb. But, tell the truth. Don't say, "Daddy has gone to sleep." The child may fear he too may not wake from his sleep. Don't say, "Daddy has gone on a long trip." He may wonder why Daddy was so angry that he didn't say goodbye.

It is unwise and dangerous to misrepresent death. A child is sensitive to deceit. If produces anxiety because questions are not answered acceptably or understandably. Give the child an explanation that Daddy is now free from pain; at peace in the world of the spirit. Detailed and helpful suggestions on what to say and what not to say can be read in Dr. Edgar N. Jackson's book - "TELLING A CHILD ABOUT DEATH." It would be wise for every family with children or grandchildren to read it. The book is available in the Public Library... TAKE CHILDREN TO THE DENTIST EARLY. It is a natural reaction of young and old alike to be afraid of the unknown. Once exposed to a situation this fear will most often diminish or disappear altogether. About three years of age, it is a good idea to take your child on a "visit" with you to the dentist. Try to make it when you are just scheduled for a checkup or cleaning rather than some work. Your dentist will let the child sit in the chair for a few moments. Then, when you take the child for his first examination he will have much less fear. Discuss this with your dentist beforehand. YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts. ★ Respect for Law

Responsible citizens throughout the nation should protect the concept that ours is a government of laws, not of men. We must emphasize adherence to laws and respect for properly constituted authorities.

Lawlessness of many types is prevalent today. Some Supreme Court decisions provide greater protection to the accused than to society. These make the task of law enforcement more difficult.

Growers condemn the acts of those who incite or participate in riots, defile the flag, or burn draft cards. We recognize the right of citizens to dissent, but protests and demonstrations should not interfere with the rights of others and must not be permitted to deteriorate into civil disorder and anarchy. Each individual should be held liable for his acts when participating in or inciting such disorders.

We favor stricter enforcement of laws protecting private and public property, both rural and urban, from losses due to riots, vandalism and looting and urge prosecution of offenders.

Our campuses must be returned to their traditional role as centers of reason and intellectual pursuit. Student activists, non-student extremists, and the faculty members who support them in lawlessness or interference with the orderly operation of educational institutions have forfeited any right to remain in the educational community expelled and dismissed and if necessary put under peace bond not to return. Any who demonstrate in sympathy with those who have been removed should be suspended or expelled depending on their actions.

Society must be concerned with law and order with justice. To accomplish this Americans adopt the policy of freedom of speech and press. However, it has become alarmingly apparent that the third foundation, that of peaceful assembly, is disregarded by many and perhaps needs to be reiterated.

These beliefs stem from a belief in the republican form of government as provided in the constitution; in limitations upon government power; in maintenance of equal opportunity; in the right of each individual to worship as he chooses; in separation of church and state; and in freedom of speech, press, but in peaceful assembly.

NORTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES
KINDERGARTEN—
Teacher: Mrs. Packard
We have been to visit a farm and Dr. Lane's animal hospital. We've seen dogs, cats, ponies, ducks, a chicken and calves. Steven is bringing in a lamb for the afternoon children to see and touch.
We want to thank Craig's mom for finding and donating a duck to our room. He is small and fluffy and yellow. He doesn't sound at all like a duck! He cheeps like a bird. Soon he will be getting feathers. Everyone thinks he'll be white. We haven't decided on a name yet.
Now we've had some rain and can begin to get the ground ready for grass seed. The older children have already planted some trees, shrubs and flowers around school.
Teacher: Miss Fawcett
Reporter: John Thornbury
In our room we have been learning many new things. We have begun to learn how to do multiplication problems. We have been learning about our senses of touch and taste. We have a large aquarium in our room. In it we are watching polywogs grow. We also have snails and crayfish in the aquarium to help them feel at home.
In art we made fish to put in an underwater scene. We covered our underwater scene with cellophane to make it look like water.

Brownies...
BROWNIE TROOP 115—
Brownie Troop 115 opened with the flag ceremony. Karen Elkins passed cookies and we sang, "Hark to the Chimes." We talked about summer activities. We played Dr. Knicker; the last four girls remaining are going to carry flags in the Memorial Day Parade. Kimberly Boyce will carry the American flag; Kathy Myers, the Brownie flag; and Linda McGuire and Donna Marshall will be the color bearers. Then we went to the police department where Officer McCormick told us how the police department is run. We came back and learned the song, "Girl Scouts Together" and sang "Tiro." We closed with the Brownie goodnight song.

Letters to the Editor

Editor's Note: We received other "good" letters again this week—without a signature, of the writer. We, as do most newspapers, ignore unsigned letters. To even be considered for possible publication a letter MUST BE SIGNED by the writer. The writer's name will be withheld from publication if desired, but each letter MUST BE SIGNED by the writer.

To the Editor:
As a concerned teacher I must agree with the "concerned" mother in objecting to the obscenity of the leaflet concerned individuals passed around the other day. The language was somewhat straightforward and the Panthers do come across as a little nauseating, but the obscenity!

Can you imagine any police officer beating a boy in cuffs? He must have had the cuffs off. Have you ever heard of any law officer ever using a vile word in public while protecting your rights? He must have skinned his knuckles on something. It's even been charged that a few constitutional rights were ignored. The accusations that have been Ghastly! yet there are some made by your "hippies" and "freaks." Obscene, aren't they?

And we only hear what we want to hear, believe what we want to believe. That's a little obscene too. Yet we get "uptight!" (to use their word) when we're confronted with a few individuals who have been forced to go the the "hole" and then yell "bloody underground route. We help dig murder" when they "emerge."

By now many readers will have guessed that my interpretation of the word "obscene" differs from most, but I pray not all. I see all inequities as obscene—war, racism, poverty and even The Standard's poor attempt at "yellow journalism"—the "Freaks Freak Out"—slanted article in today's issue! I would go so far as to argue that "Uncle Lew from Lima's" fractured English is obscene to the eye. But then we all have our own little "obscenities"—excuse me—"hang-ups."

To the Editor:
Re: Chelsea White Panthers. To apathetic parents and sympathetic parents.

Parents, do you want your children subverted by sick minds? I read the recent leaflet written and distributed by the "White Panthers of Chelsea."

Definitions—Pig, a filthy person; Garbage, offal, refuse of society.

But, do you realize that a pig prefers clean water to wallow in to keep cool? Police can't be pigs, because they are immaculate in their grooming.

I regard the authors of the Panther leaflet as garbage. If clean police have to handle garbage, dirty themselves with it, they have to act like pigs to get rid of it.

Of course, parents, schools and churches could not lower themselves to the level of the Panthers and their like.

If you are harboring offal or refuse of society, it is time you cleaned house. The leaflet by "Chelsea White Panthers" could only be classified as the writings of the garbage of society. The schools, churches and homes have not taught the words and ideas spawned by the Panthers. Only dregs of school drop-outs could teach such filth, write it, and distribute it to others. Only the weak could subvert themselves to long hair, dirty minds and bodies, as those who teach and write such trash.

And, parents—apathetic parents, sympathetic parents—stand up for cleanliness. Throw out the garbage you are harboring in your homes. It can only contaminate the rest of the home. Let garbage, filth, long hair and dirt mingle with their offal. Eventually garbage reverts to the dirt from which it comes.

A Very Concerned Citizen

Note: We have several other good letters we would be happy to print if the unknown writers wish to come to the Standard office and sign them.—The Editor.

Lansing—Michigan residents should be warned that pressures are building up on the Legislature from several quarters to raise taxes again.

The powerful United Auto Workers union wants the legislature to put the bite on taxpayers for $350 million in new taxes—income tax—to finance the $1.22 billion Spencer-Ryan school aid bill.

The equally powerful highway construction lobby has swung into less it gets strong public support from individual taxpayers to offset the massive pressure that organizations like the UAW and the highway construction lobby exerts when it gets behind these costly new programs.

If the highway construction people actually get what they want, the tax on gasoline would go up two cents a gallon instead of one and on diesel fuel the increase would be four cents more instead of two.

These increases would be "sold" to the public on the basis that the money would provide 800 more miles of safer highway in Michigan.

Over-all cost of the proposed new construction program would be $1.08 billion—divided about equally between the proposed bond issue and federal matching funds.

Highway safety ranks along with motherhood and country—and, more recently, environmental improvement—as being issues that normally do not generate much opposition.

If Michigan residents want more new highways enough to pay one or two cents a gallon more in gas taxes, the proposed program probably will meet with little opposition. But if Michigan motorists are opposed to any more increases in their gasoline taxes, they should make their feelings known to their legislators soon.

The $350 million increase in income taxes being pushed by executives of the United Automobile Workers would increase the personal income tax rate from its present 2.6 percent to 3.5 percent.

The corporation income tax rate would be increased from its present 5. percent to 7.7 percent.

This, incidentally, would be in addition to a proposal by Governor Milliken to increase property taxes by $65 million by cutting back the present credit now allowed against a person's personal income tax.

This property tax increase has not yet been approved but its chance of passage would seem to be better because the taxpayer would not get the bill for it until he has to pay his personal income tax early next year.

Unless sentiment changes substantially in the next few weeks, largely as a result of the UAW endorsement, most capitol observers feel that the Spencer-Ryan school aid plan doesn't have too much of a chance of passage.

The income tax increase needed to fund the bill is the strongest point against its passage.

The legislature already has increased the cigarette taxes four cents a pack and has tightened up some loopholes in the sales and use taxes which, together are expected to increase the state's general fund income next year by $50 million.

Faced with the prospect of more new taxes, Governor Milliken worked with Senate Republicans last week to slash $24 million from his own proposed budget.

The Governor and Senate Republican leaders have agreed to try to keep the final budget figure at $1.736 billion, which would include a surplus of up to $127 million.

Actually, there is a difference of opinion on how much the cigarette tax increase and the sales and use tax tightening will bring in. The Governor's office expects approximately $30 million from the cigarette tax and $35 million from closing the loopholes—or a total of about $65 million.

But Senate tax experts estimate the cigarette tax increase will bring in only from $20 million to $25 million and the new sales and use taxes about $29 million—about $50 million, more or less.

Because the cost of education in Michigan takes up approximately half of the state's total annual income, it follows that education will be hit hardest by heavy pressure of taxpayers against increasing tax levies any further next year.

Ultimately, of course, the final budget figure will be determined by a meeting of the minds between the Senate and House of Representatives but the feeling exists that the line will be held on any substantial tax increases.

Except for budgets, taxes and educational problems, few problems plague the legislature any more than what to do about Michigan's deer herd.

Again this year, there is a great hue and cry from northern hunters that the legislature consider an antlerless deer season moratorium in the Upper Peninsula.

The demand results from hunter dissatisfaction with deer kill in recent years.

The crux of the whole problem is that the Department of Natural Resources is trying to maintain the maximum size herd on available range through control methods it believes in—but which many hunters contend do not work.

The department is trying to limit crop damage by deer in the lower peninsula and to reduce the number of highway accidents caused by collisions between deer and automobiles.

Last year there were about 5,000 such collisions and 11 persons were killed.

The whole problem leaves the legislature on the horns of a dilemma.

Should the legislature take control of the deer herd away from the department, which is staffed by men trained in this work? Is the legislature qualified to con-rol the deer herd on a year-to-year basis?

My own position has been to leave the matter in the hands of the Department of Natural Resources who are the experts and by and large do a good job.

Census Bureau Asks: 'Were You Counted?'

Were you counted in Census '70?

If you think you or your family might have been missed, fill out the WERE YOU COUNTED? form being printed by this newspaper as a public service. Cut it out and mail it to the address shown on the form. It will be checked against the master list for your area so there is no chance of an individual or household being counted twice.

This appeal has been made by Jay F. Fleming, district manager in this area for the 1970 Census of Population and Housing, who says that the "Were You Counted?" campaign is the final phase of the census. It is conducted to insure that no one is overlooked.

A few days before April 1, "Census Day," questionnaires were mailed to all residential addresses in the area. They were to be filled out and mailed back on April 1. After about two weeks, the Census Bureau hired and trained local residents as census takers and sent them out to call at homes from which no questionnaire had been received. They also had to call at some households because their returned questionnaires were incompletely filled out.

"A check is now being made to ascertain that a questionnaire for every household has been completed," the district manager said, "and shortly we will be able to report to local officials the population count for counties, cities of 10,000 or more and some smaller places. We're already in the process of adding up the figures, but of course, the totals will be unofficial, preliminary counts. The official counts will come sometime later from the Director of the Census Bureau."

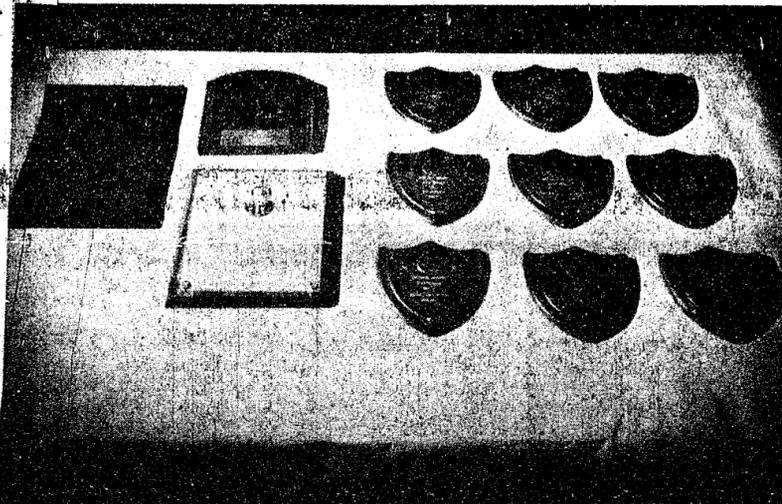

The district manager pointed out that the population figures compiled in the current census must stand as official until the next Federal census.

"Representation in the U.S. Congress and State Legislature is determined by the population count ascertained by the census. Federal funds are allocated, state and state funds, in turn, are allocated to counties and municipalities in a per capita basis. So, a short count means under-representation in the federal and state law-making bodies and under-allocation in government funds. Thus, it is imperative that we have a complete count. The help of every resident of the area is needed to reach this goal," he said.

Wins State Sparkplug Award

This past week-end, Art Steinaway entered a state-wide contest for outstanding "sparkplugs." The sparkplug award is presented annually to Jaycees who do more than is expected of them. They are judged on the basis of how they participate in the community development programs.

In Detroit, Art had to take a 50-question written and oral test. The oral tests are given to one man at a time. From the result of both these tests, Art was selected as one of the top five sparkplugs in the state.

BROWNIE TROOP 169
Members of Brownie Troop 169 met at the Congregational church Monday, May 18. Dues were taken; we sang "Hark to the Chimes," then had treats furnished by Terry Cameron.

We had the flag ceremony and then went into the Brownie Ring where some girls showed discoveries. We talked about the Memorial Day Parade and our outing to be held June 6 at Veronica Satterthwaite's house.

We finished our "nosebags." The meeting next week will be our last one for this school year. Closing was the squeeze and taps.

Group Claims 'Peaceful Picnic Is Disrupted By Police'

Last week's issue of The Standard ran an article describing a gathering of young people on Kalmbach Rd. Sunday, May 10 as a "Hippie Love-In." Several young persons responsible for sponsoring this affair have protested the article, claiming several inaccuracies. Therefore, in an attempt to be fair the Standard would like to correct any previous misconceptions with this description of the "free picnic" furnished by Ken Dabish, Debbie May, and George C. Clark, all of the Kalmbach Rd. address.

"A free picnic was given by the young people of Chelsea, Sunday, May 10 on state land located on McClure Rd. near Mill Lake. Information concerning the exact location of the picnic was distributed from an information booth located at 4720 Kalmbach Rd." previously advertised in their circulars as the site of the picnic.

"Throughout the day," said Dabish, "about 500 persons, young and old alike from Chelsea and the surrounding area attended. During the picnic, a total of 240 cans of free Coca-Cola were distributed. Litter containers were furnished by us and the area was left in the condition in which we found it."

According to George G. Clark, "About 4:30 p.m., the picnic was disrupted by the arrival of Wash-tenaw County Sheriff Douglas Harvey, a number of his deputies, and several carloads of state troopers. When asked why they had come their reply was a physical as well as verbal attack upon several of the young people present. Until their arrival, the picnic had been quiet and uneventful, once they came, trouble developed."

Opening was the pledge, "God Bless America," and the Girl Scout Promise given by the Mod Squad. Debbie Packard brought treats. We made our "buddy burners," which is a tuna fish can with cardboard and melted wax poured over. A 3-lb coffee can is the stove. Game was "Musical Chairs" by the Stars. For the closing, Arrows chose Indian taps. Lucy and Her Gang stayed for clean-up.

Family Business Center Encourages Home Efficiency

The business of running a home is fast becoming just that—a business.

Lucille Ketchum, home management specialist with Michigan State University's Co-operative Extension Service, points out that few businesses could operate if the bills were one place, check-book another, envelopes and stamps somewhere else and only haphazard records kept of income and outgo.

It's not unusual for a family to do $300,000 worth of business in a lifetime. Certainly this sum of money warrants careful business practices, the specialist points out.

As family business becomes more complicated, the need for a place in the home to pay bills, store receipts, keep accounts and plan family spending increases. It can also double as a place to write personal and business letters, file instruction booklets for appliances, and keep insurance and tax records.

Basically, a family business center needs three things, the management specialist says. They are: a comfortable place to write, a place for current records and small supplies, and a place for important papers. Having all these in one place aids efficiency and cuts the feeling of it being a chore.

The location can be anywhere that suits the individual family—kitchen, utility room, dining room, bedroom, or even a corner of the living room. Whichever room you use, make sure you have a good light, a comfortable chair and convenient access to the supplies you'll use.

TIPS for your TOP from

TODDY and FRAN

This sounds to us like a capital idea for giving a successful Crown and Glory wig party. Won't you try it and let us know how it worked? Go to the door in your hostess dress, make-up complete, but with your hair hanging after a shampoo and no set. Sneak a look at the expressions on your guests' faces as they try to be polite and not notice what a mess you are. Then excuse yourself for a minute or two after the last guest arrives and go to your mirror and slip on a Crown and Glory wig, quickly returning to the party looking like something out of a beauty show. If this doesn't sell enough wigs so that you earn one from Crown and Glory, we miss a bet! The "before and after" is a graphic example of how much a gal can depend on a wig for great grooming.

Mrs. Russell David LeFurge

Kay Buss, Russell LeFurge Wed Saturday at St. Paul Church

In a 7:30 p.m. wedding ceremony Saturday at St. Paul's United Church of Christ the Rev. Warner H. Siebert united Kay Elizabeth Buss and Russell David LeFurge in marriage.

For her wedding, the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Buss, of 119 Claydale Ct., was attired in an A-line gown of white linen with a capelet of Venise lace. Her chapel train was trimmed with daisy appliques of Venise lace and a three-tiered illusion veil was secured by a headpiece of organza loops and Venise lace. She carried a Camelot cluster of white roses accented with stephanotis and ivy.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. William Polley of Saline, twin sister of the bride. She was attired in a light pink A-line gown of slubbed rayon with a chevron and a flowing Bishop sleeve, topped with a bolero jacket accented with embroidery which was also repeated at the waistline of her gown. Her headpiece was of white daisies and pink sweetheart roses and she carried a French hand bouquet of white daisies accented with pink sweetheart roses and white pompon chrysanthemums with flowing pink ribbons.

The bridesmaids included the Misses Phyllis Buss of Chelsea, sister of the bride and Rita LeFurge of Ann Arbor, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Richard Spears, also of Ann Arbor. They were gowned identically to the matron of honor.

As flower girl, Tonya Knickerbocker of Ann Arbor, was dressed as a miniature bridesmaid. She carried a pearl basket of white daisies and pompons accented with pink sweetheart roses. Mark Knickerbocker of Ann Arbor served as ringbearer.

Dale LeFurge of Ann Arbor served as his brother's best man. Ushers included Melvin Buss of Chelsea, brother of the bride; William Polley of Saline; and Richard Spears of Ann Arbor.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Buss chose a dress and coat ensemble of light pink slubbed rayon with white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink and white sweetheart roses.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Donald I. LeFurge, of Ann Arbor, selected a baby blue crepe and lace dress and coat ensemble. She also had white accessories and wore a corsage of yellow and white sweetheart roses.

During the ceremony, Bruce Galbraith sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was given by the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Lambert Mepjans, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. George Brady, an aunt of the bridegroom. The groom's cake was cut by Mrs. David Grossman and Mrs. Paul Prentice, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Deane Fox, an aunt of the bridegroom, poured punch while

When they return from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. LeFurge will reside at 2043 Charletoy Apt. 408, Ann Arbor, where the bride, a graduate of Chelsea High and Chelsea College, is employed at the University of Michigan and the bridegroom, a graduate of Ann Arbor Pioneer High, has been employed by Elliott Trucking, Inc., since his recent discharge from the U. S. Army.

New Furniture Features Drastic Changes in Shapes, Materials

Go modern for less! That's less furniture as well as less money. The furniture of the '70's doesn't fit any pre-conceived ideas of how furniture should look or how much furniture should cost. It has a new shape and a lower price.

The most outstanding feature of the new furniture is its unique new shape. Stretched curves, elongated lines, and no-lines-at-all are typical of this new traditional.

Besides its obviously modern look, the furniture is characterized by the wide use and emphasis upon materials hitherto shunned as not glamorous enough for "good" furnishings. Plastic will play a big role in the modern decorator's scheme, as will chrome, steel, and imports from Italy and Spain.

These materials and the new shapes were chosen by the designers in an attempt to reach architectural purity in the design of furniture. An attempt to fashion the form for its function characterizes the new styles. These styles supply the demand for furniture which fits today's needs to curl-up, relax, lounge, and flop.

The cantilevered no-leg chair, the sling and the beanbag are all examples of this demand for architectural perfection.

The cantilevered no-leg chair resembles something out of "2001, A Space Odyssey." Its laminated plywood frame, which looks like a large S with the top lopped off, is covered with various densities of polyurethane foam to make it springy.

The sling is a z-shaped cantilevered chair, with chrome legs. Its unique feature is that it bounces and is available in more than 500 fabrics and colors.

The bean bag looks exactly like it sounds; only is several times larger than the play-school variety. Its exploded styrene pellets are covered in naugahyde. The chair is pliable and easily transported for those who like to frequently rearrange the room.

Besides these there are several other new designs including what looks like a large wicker dog or cat bed mounted on a base of chrome. This swivel chair, imported from Taiwan, derives its reputation for comfort from the large stuffed fabric seat of jersey.

The chunky sectional is the popular sofa, covered in such fabrics as fake curly lamb and aerpel, an import from Italy.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

★ Game of Life

The game of life is not always easy to play. No matter how carefully one may plan and prepare for tomorrow, the unexpected becomes a reality and everything is changed.

No one can plan a perfect life upon earth. Even that One Perfect Life, dedicated to the will of God, was not without pain, suffering and death. Yet, if we study the years of Christ upon earth, we learn more and more about how the game of life should be played.

The lessons are all there: a life which had a plan, a purpose; a life dedicated to peace and brotherhood among men, a life of love, obedience and service.

Many of us have a plan for living. The problem is, in many instances, it is too self-centered. We place too much importance on personal goals and ambitions. When we do this, there is a tendency to shut out people and things rightfully worthy of some attention and consideration.

Check your own game plan. Consider not only the progress you are making toward the things you want out of life; think about whether or not you are making some worthwhile contribution to the world in which you live.

SCHOOL LUNCH MENU

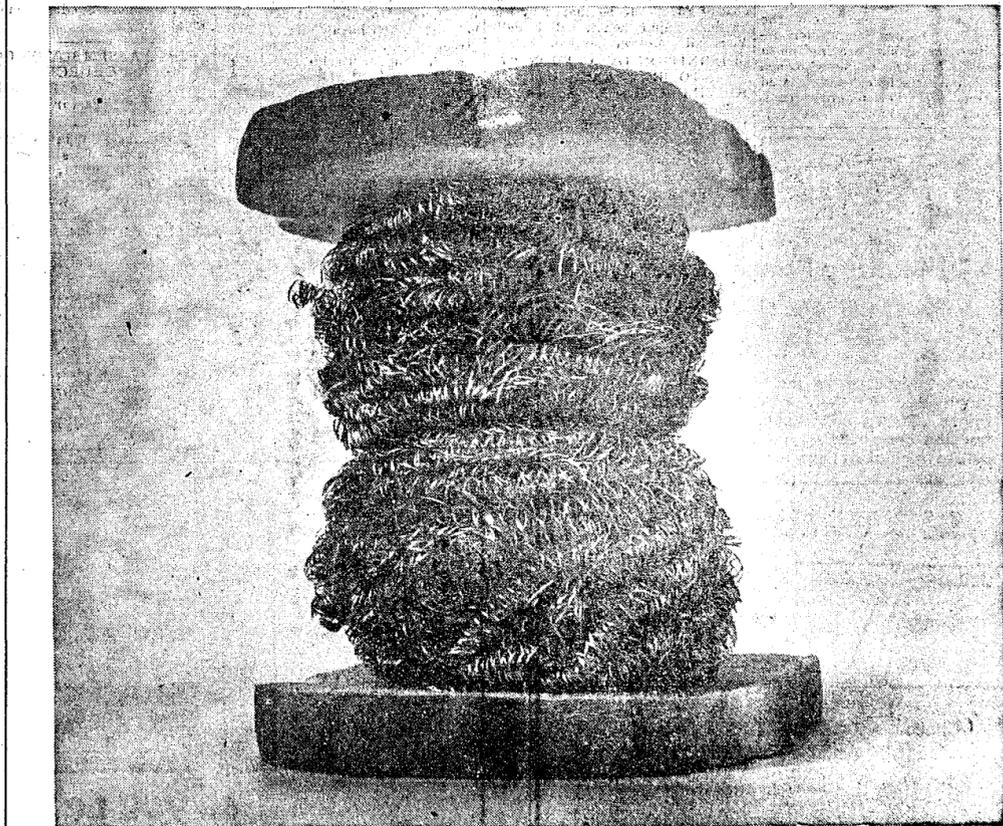

Monday, May 25—Goulash with cheese, buttered green beans and butter, dessert, and milk.

Tuesday, May 26—Tuna salad sandwiches, pickles, potato sticks, buttered vegetables, fruit, and milk.

Wednesday, May 27—Beans and franks, coleslaw, bread and butter apple crisp, and milk.

Thursday, May 28—Macaroni and cheese, buttered peas, bread and butter, fruit mix, ice cream, brownie, milk.

Friday, May 29—Ham salad sandwiches, tossed salad, potato chips, pickles, cherry dessert, and milk.

How about a nice scouring pad sandwich?

You don't eat scouring pads? Why then, do you add them in to your weekly "food" bill? Don't feel bad. We all do it. Coming home from the supermarket, we think: "Gosh! I used to get 5 bags of groceries for half that!" That's right. But years ago, those bags held groceries. Nowadays, you're buying more and more non-food items with your food. Razor blades, magazines, dust pans, glassware; even potted plants are now sold through supermarkets.

Of course, inflation has forced food prices up; but, much less than other basic needs. From 1958 to 1968, food went up 16% while clothing was up 20%, housing 27%, medical 45%. Since

What Are Policemen Made Of?

A policeman is a composite of what all men are, a mingling of saint and sinner, dust and deity.

Called statistics wave the fan over the stinkers, underscore instances of dishonesty and brutality because they are "news."

What that really means is that they are exceptional, unusual, not commonplace.

Buried under the froth is the fact; less than one-half of one percent of policemen misfit that uniform.

What is a policeman made of? He, of all men, is at once the most needed and most unwanted.

He's a strangely nameless creature who is "Sir" to his face and "fuzz" behind his back.

He must be such a diplomat that he can settle differences between individuals so that each will think he won.

If the policeman is neat, he's conceited; if he's careless, he's a bum.

If he's pleasant, he's a flirt; if he's not, he's a grouch.

He must make in an instant decisions which would require months for a lawyer.

If he hurries, he's careless; if he's deliberate, he's lazy.

He must be first to an accident and infallible with a diagnosis.

He must be able to start breathing, stop bleeding, tie splints, and, above all, be sure the victim goes home without a limp.

... or expect to be sued. The police officer must know every gun, draw on the run, and hit where it doesn't hurt.

He must be able to whip two men twice his size and half his age without damaging his uniform and without being "brutal."

If you hit him, he's a coward; if he hits you, he's a bully.

A policeman must know everything—and not tell. He must know where all the sin is—and not partake.

The policeman must, from a single hair, be able to describe the crime, the weapon, and the criminal—and tell you where the criminal is hiding.

But, if he catches the criminal, he's lucky; if he doesn't, he's a dunce.

If he gets promoted, he has political pull; if he doesn't, he's a dullard.

The policeman must chase bum leads to a dead end, stake out 10 nights to tag one witness who saw it happen—but refuses to remember.

He runs files and writes reports until his eyes ache to build a case against some felon who'll get dealt out by a shameless shamus or an "honorable" who isn't.

The policemen must be a minister, a social worker, a diplomat, a tough guy, and a gentleman. And of course, he'll have to be a genius.

And may God bless him... for he'll have to feed and raise a family on a policeman's salary.

The policemen must be a minister, a social worker, a diplomat, a tough guy, and a gentleman.

North School Boosters Urge Adoption of New Report Card

Parents and teachers were well represented at the "North School Boosters" meeting on Thursday, May 14.

The principal, Robert Benedict, submitted a new report card formulated by the teachers of North Elementary school.

The parents were able to read and discuss their proposal before giving their opinions and suggestions.

It was then moved by the organization's members to recommend to the board of education that the school adopt this method of reporting marks for one year as a pilot program for the school or school system.

The following teachers were very gracious in fulfilling the organization's request for a summary of the elementary child's curriculum: Mrs. Packard, kindergarten; Mrs. Radugo, first grade; Mrs. Morgan, second grade; Mrs. Edmond and Mrs. Hise, third grade; Arthur Schunk, fourth grade; and Mrs. Papowski, fifth grade.

Computer Aids In Police Work

The old saying, "If you can't lick 'em alone, find something that can," appears to have been taken to heart by the thousands of law-enforcement agencies in Michigan that have, for years, been swamped with a backlog of ignored traffic tickets, unpaid fines, and unserved warrants.

Three years ago, it became obvious that there was simply not enough manpower in all the combined law-enforcement agencies, to even keep abreast of the current tickets and warrants, let alone ever handle the backlog, and something had to be done if this situation was to be kept from deteriorating even more.

During 1967, something was done as the Michigan State Police hired a new law-enforcement officer to clean up the backlog. This new law-enforcement officer was a computer.

Known affectionately as the LEIN Machine (Law Enforcement Information Network), this computer's memory bank has made it possible for all law-enforcement agencies to receive almost instantaneous answers to their queries regarding any outstanding warrants whenever an individual is cited for a traffic offense or picked up on suspicion of committing a crime.

The process by which this is done is incredibly simple. When an individual receives a traffic ticket and fails to pay it or commits a crime and fails to keep his court date, a warrant is issued and the information fed into the LEIN. There, it is stored until needed.

It used to be that when Mr. and Mrs. America from Chelsea, who were passing through Podunk while on vacation some 800 miles from home, were cited by the Podunk police for failing to stop for a stop sign and issued a ticket, they were served notice to pay a $10 fine or appear in court some three months hence.

By the time the ticket fell due, Mr. and Mrs. America were back in Chelsea and it was impossible, or impractical for the Podunk police to serve a warrant on them, so the ticket went unpaid and a law-breaker went free.

Sound familiar? Not so, anymore. Now, if Mr. and Mrs. America get that ticket and fail to pay up, a warrant is issued and the information fed into the LEIN's memory bank.

Then, when they are stopped by the Chelsea police as they probably will be, for failure to yield right of way, or some other offense, a routine check is made of the LEIN, that Podunk ticket will be revealed, and they will have to pay both fines.

Even if they don't get caught, Mr. and Mrs. America are still bound to lose out in the end. Eventually, he or she will have to have his driver's license renewed. When he or she makes an application for that renewal, the Secretary of State's office will routinely check with the LEIN and if that old Podunk warrant turns up—you guessed it—no new license until the ticket is paid.

Since LEIN is a computer memory bank, it has a fantastic capacity for storing material on stolen automobiles, stolen license plates, repossessed automobiles, wanted automobiles, traffic misdemeanors, felony warrants, criminal warrants, civil warrants, and driver's license records.

During the three years it has been in operation, law-enforcement agencies have not only caught up with the tremendous backlog of old offenses, they have also been able to report an astonishing number of current successes.

In 1969 alone, the number of reported stolen automobiles and plates was 51,465; the number recovered, 41,975. The number of warrants issued was 162,420; the number cancelled, 112,420. And the number of drivers license records entered and/or removed was 198,377.

In the words of Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuck, "The LEIN has completely revolutionized police work. We used to have to kill ourselves tracking down old offenders with poor success. Now, we either get them on new offenses and then hit them with the old ones or wait till they want that new driver's license. Then, they have to come looking for us."

An example of how the LEIN Machine works is the case of William Dean Delaney, 33, of 103 S. Cherry St., Kalkaska, Mich. Mr. Delaney was arrested by the Chelsea police on Dec. 12, 1969 on a charge of being a disorderly person. The charge resulted from his activities in a local bar. He was arraigned in court where he posted a $35 bond and promised to appear for hearing Jan. 15, 1970. He failed to make the appearance so a bench warrant was issued for him and placed on the LEIN Machine.

On April 21, 1970, he was arrested in Flint and because of the bench warrant was transported back to Chelsea where he appeared before Judge Patrick J. Conlin. He was then tried, found guilty, and fined $45.

It would appear that in our sophisticated age of computer technology, crime truly does not pay.
