School Board Defers Action On Resignation

In a School Board meeting, Monday evening, June 8, jammed with spectators, the board, minus two of its regular members, deferred action on the resignation of Chelsea High School Principal Charles Lane until Wednesday evening, June 10 at 7 p.m., when a special closed hearing between the board and Lane will be held.

They allowed the CEA Grievance Committee to withdraw without prejudice, its grievance on Richard Barais and postponed action on the two remaining grievances until Thursday evening, June 11 when a special hearing between the CEA Grievance Committee, the superintendent, a three-member appointed board committee, and representatives of the board and CEA contract - negotiating teams will be held.

In other business during the evening, the board tabled acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. Virginia Dean, home economics teacher, until they could meet with her and signed contracts for a new chemistry and physics teacher and head basketball coach and a new third grade teacher.

Adjourning to Beach Junior High at 10:10 p.m., the board moved to certify the results of Monday's school board and millage election before ending the meeting.

Orders Being Taken For CHS Yearbook

For those townspeople interested in purchasing a 1970 Chelsea High yearbook, the Barker, will be on sale Monday in the high school office where orders will be taken between 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

This year's expanded 28-page book will be delivered in August.

Junior High Starts Single Fee System

At the June 1 Chelsea Board of Education meeting, it was decided to eliminate the present system of individual purchasing of textbooks and payment of fees at Beach Junior High school.

The old system will be replaced with the payment of a $10 book rental fee similar to that now used in the elementary schools.

With the exception of industrial arts and home economics, where students need to pay for materials used for major projects, no other fees will be charged students at Beach school. It is understood that if a student loses or mutilates a textbook received under this system, he will be charged for its replacement.

In order to effect this change, the following procedure will be used: on the final day of school, students will turn in to their classroom teachers their present textbooks which are in good condition. If the textbooks are found acceptable, the student will be issued a receipt for each textbook turned in. When the final report card is mailed out, parents will find a check enclosed equivalent to the total on textbooks turned in. The following schedule explains the amounts which will be refunded for each book turned in in good condition:

Book Title	7th grade—	8th grade—
English Grammar	$3.00* None	$3.00* None
English Literature	4.00 3.00	4.00 3.00
History	3.75 2.75	3.75 2.75
Mathematics	3.75 2.75	3.75 2.75
Algebra	5.00 4.00	5.00 4.00

*Present grammar books to be replaced.

The plan will mean a savings to the individual parents. For example, under the present system, the cost to a parent with an 8th grade student is as follows: new grammar book, $3.00; new literature book, $4.00; new history book, $5.00; new mathematics book, $3.75; science fee, $4.00; art fee, $2.00; industrial arts fee, $2.00.

Charles Lane Will Stay on as CHS Principal

Agreement Reached with Board in Wednesday Evening Informal Session

At a special informal session last evening, members of the Chelsea School Board met with Charles Lane, principal of Chelsea High, on his request to resign as principal, effective June 30, and persuaded him to withdraw the request.

Lane, a long-time Chelsea resident, who has been principal of the high school since June of 1956, submitted his resignation "for personal reasons" at the June 1 board meeting.

Lane stated last night that "June pressures" had a great deal to do with his request and that he was "ready to reconsider things now."

Lane, a Chelsea native son, graduated from Chelsea High in 1942 and received his BA from Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti and later received his MA from the U. of M.

The son of the late Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Lane of Chelsea, he had seven years of experience behind him when he accepted the job of principal.

Following his graduation from Michigan State Normal, he taught science and coached football at Dundee for six years and at Flint Northern for one year. He was also principal at Petersburg High for the 1955-56 school year.

Scout Honors Are Presented By Troop 476

Boy Scout Troop 476 made two Star Scouts at their Court of Awards last week as David Heydlauff and Jeff Daniels were both advanced to the rank of Star Scout. Anthony Hafner received his first class award. Second class awards went to John Coley, Don Oesterle, Michael Stoner, and Douglas Kalmbach. Tenderfoot investitures were received by James Stahl, Robert Burgess, Don Harmon, Curtis Umstead, Donald Kern, and David Schaible.

Troop 476 also gave out one Scout of the Year award to the boy whom the scoutmaster and the Troop Committee agreed was the best all-around Scout. In consideration of this award, a boy must exhibit leadership, be active in all troop functions, be regular in attending all troop meetings in full uniform with neat appearance and display a proper attitude toward his leaders and his fellow Scouts. The boy chosen for this all-around award was Donald Oesterle.

The four year perfect attendance pin was given to Robert Heydlauff, and a one-year perfect attendance pin was given to Donald Oesterle.

The troop added two young men to the staff; Peter Stahl was made junior assistant scoutmaster and William Hafner was made assistant scoutmaster.

Various year pins and merit badges were given out to both boys and adult Scouts.

The closing was given in memory of those former Scouts who have given their lives that our country and flag remain free. Scouts formed a horseshoe behind the flag holding lighted candles. The scoutmaster gave the dedication and "America" was sung by all as the flag retired. Refreshments were served.

Bicycle Licenses Are Now On Sale

1970-71 bicycle licenses are now on sale at the Chelsea Police Department.

Chief Meranuck stated that he will have extra help available Saturday morning, June 13 to issue permits to those area young people wishing licenses. He cautioned village residents that an ordinance requires all bikes ridden within the village limits must be licensed and stated that in view of the rash of stolen bicycles in recent weeks, it would be a good idea for nonresidents to license their bicycles also as it makes recovery and identification easier if the bicycle is stolen.

New licenses cost 50 cents and one is required to present either his old registration card or the serial number, name, and color of the bicycle.

Another Honor Grad

Last week's issue of The Standard listed eleven honor graduates in the June 1970 graduating class of Chelsea High. A re-check of the graduating list this week by Principal Charles Lane revealed that Floyd Boyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis C. Boyce, of 14395 Island Lake Rd., was inadvertently omitted from the list of honor graduates, making the new total 12.

METHODIST HOME APARTMENTS: V. O. Johnson, administrator of the Chelsea Methodist Home, studies a model of the proposed four units

Four More Apartment Units Started at Methodist Home

V. O. Johnson, administrator of the Chelsea United Methodist Home, announced late last week the awarding of a contract for additional construction at the Home.

The Minion Construction Co. of Ann Arbor, submitted the low bid for construction of four units to be added to the Chelsea Village Apartments.

The first two units, located at the front of the property, are currently in use—all apartments having been taken since their opening last October. A waiting list is being filled in anticipation of the additional units which will contain 16 more apartments. Retired persons interested in being considered for occupancy of the new units should contact the Home for further information.

Construction is due to be completed in 200 days. At that time all 24 apartments will be finished, leaving a commons building, still unscheduled, to complete the complex. Location of the Chelsea Village Apartments is at 725 W. Middle St.

Four other contractors made bids on the project.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

It takes awhile but good suggestions from the public can win acceptance. House approval of several Social Security improvements is the most recent example.

The Senate must also agree for this and other changes to become law.

As I wrote last October, an escalator clause "Means that we can at least partially remove the matter of benefit level from political jockeying. Too often varying factions have scrambled for political advantage in calling for increases, long after living costs have soared. We don't need that game of one upmanship."

Under the plan approved by the House, the escalator clause would go into effect in 1972. Whenever living costs increase by three percent, benefits to persons on Social Security will increase by three percent.

While there will still be a bit of a time lag between rising prices and rising benefits, this bill is an enormous improvement over the existing situation.

Some other benefits which have long fought for, also were voted by the House.

A general 5 percent benefit increase is planned for next January. Coupled with a 15 percent increase voted last December, the means Congress under President Nixon will have increased benefits 20 percent in one year.

The limitation on how much a person 65 or older can earn without losing some of all his social security benefits would rise from $1,639 to $2,000, effective in 1971. In addition, for each $2 a person earns up to $3,200, his Social Security benefits will be decreased $1. I have long believed there should be no restriction on the amount a person can earn without losing benefits but this is at least a step in the right direction.

Widows or dependent widowers 65 and older would be allowed to receive 100 percent of their spouse's retirement benefit instead of the present 82.5 percent.

In a separate action, I have sponsored legislation that would authorize reduced rates of air transportation for elderly persons. While most citizens do not fly often, I think this is another step in broadening the opportunities for older people.

From Alfaretta Courtwright, Alvin, Tex.: I remember our first telephone. I even remember our first number. It was CS. The three meant our ring. Turn the crank on the phone three times. Three shorts. Turn the crank once, pause and turn again. For long, turn the crank fast three times. Different combinations of shorts and long called different numbers on the party line. One long called the operator. She said "Number please."

Sometimes the operator or Central, we usually called them, gave a general ring, a series of a lot of short rings. Everybody was supposed to run to the phone. Or anybody on the line might give a general ring. In case of fire the general ring would announce a pair of fire and say "Send every available man to fight the fire. So and so" who has no phone.

Of course on the party line everybody knew everybody's business. I remember I was once very glad that I was having labor pains during a February snow storm. My husband went for his mother, who had no telephone. I phoned the doctor myself. My neighbor heard me and aroused her husband and made him bring her to stay with me. I was never so glad to see anybody. Ethel got breakfast and fed the other baby. When they came they froze the radiator of their Model T Ford and it burst. The doctor and my mother-in-law helped me deliver a ten pound son. After that son was grown he used to hear about that Model T radiator, he said, "every time I saw Dan Downing he reminded me I owed him a Model T radiator and I always will regret that I never had a chance to buy him one while he was still alive."

Inspection Increase If you own or operate a motor vehicle in Michigan, the odds are 4-1 that you'll be stopped at a motor vehicle inspection station sometime this year.

State Police Director Fredrick E. Davids estimates that one out of every four motor vehicles in the state will be exposed to either a state or city inspection before the year is out. Davids said the percentage is the result of an increase in the inspection programs around the state.

The State Police inspection program has 12 check lane teams working throughout the state compared with eight last year, he said.

In addition, the cities of Ann Arbor, Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Sterling Heights, Livonia, Wyandotte and Muskegon will be conducting the same official inspection within their respective jurisdictions, he said.

The cities of Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Dearborn, Oak Park, Lansing, Traverse City and East Lansing have studied the inspection program, and some have indicated they also will be operating one or more check lanes.

Davids urged motorists to obtain needed repairs on their vehicles and to see that their driver and vehicle credentials are valid. For example, he said, in April 20,486 vehicles were inspected and 16,124 of them failed for one reason or another.

He said of the cars which failed, 5,435 received citations for various violations. Among these were 2,898 citations for driver license violations, including 145 for driving on a revoked or suspended license.

Here is a list of suggestions for motorists who want their cars kept in proper shape:

"Have the necessary repairs made to your car," Davids says. "Check your vehicle and driver credentials for validity and then contact your nearest State Police post or the police department of any of the cities holding inspection programs so you may learn where and when your car may be inspected."

"With these preparations, your chances of passing the inspection are excellent, and a windshield inspection sticker will be given to you indicating your success," he adds.

Crime Hits Capitol

Workers in the complex of buildings which make up the Capitol area in Lansing have been having increasing trouble with crime.

Gov. William G. Milliken himself said there is a "very special and increasing crime problem in the Capitol complex. The number of thefts has gone up dramatically in the last months of the last year."

Milliken said he feels "We must move and move very quickly to increase the security of the Capitol."

Several proposals for coping with the problem are under consideration.

One came from House Speaker William A. Ryan. He suggested expansion of the parking lots surrounding the Capitol building to give more secretaries who work in the building a close parking space. Many of them now park in underground parking lots in the complex and some are afraid to go there at night.

This proposal met instant opposition, however, from persons who feel too much lawn and too many trees already have been torn up on the Capitol area.

Other proposals include a possible beefing up of the security forces in the Capitol; having Lansing police patrol it regularly; and better observation in such areas as the underground parking lot.

While serious in nature, the problem is still small enough that authorities feel they can cope with it. And they want to get it under control before it becomes too big.

"The Capitol is somewhat of a symbolic place in that it serves as a focus point for state attention," said one official. "So I guess maybe this is symbolic of the problems being encountered

A Gas incinerator eliminates a lot more than trash.

It eliminates any kind of combustible trash and garbage. Even things like corncocks, cloth and bones - things you wouldn't dare drop into a garbage disposal. It eliminates odor. Smoke. Noise. It eliminates slogging through rain and mud. Nothing else gets rid of so many different kinds of rubbish. Or so many different kinds of problems. No more rickety back trouble lugging rubbish. No more pollution from burning trash outdoors. No more arguments about who carries out the trash. In fact, no more trash problems. See your appliance dealer or contact Michigan Consolidated Gas Company about installing a Gas Incinerator in your home. Then watch your rubbish problems disappear.

Don Turner Finds Canadian Prairie Wildlife Plentiful

Edmonton, Alberta, May 27, 1970 is the heading of Don Turner's second letter home on his summer 1970 travels to Alaska. It follows.

Dear Readers:
Since my last article I have covered a lot of territory and observed a lot of interesting things. The prairie provinces of Canada — Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta—are teeming with life although, at a glance, you would think them deserted, aside from the cattle that graze the sprawling range land.

I have been traveling the Trans-Canada Highway west and the Canadian Pacific Railroad runs parallel to the highway.

Canadian Pacific is the longest on the North American continent, so I was told, and every 9 to 11 miles one finds a small settlement. These small settlements, some larger than others had sprung up at the railroad camp sites, back in 1883 when the CPR was built through this area. The distance the RR crew could lay track in one day was between 9 and 11 miles and at nearly all of their overnight camp sites, a small community stands today. They usually consist of a few houses, grain elevators, and a railroad siding.

It was at one of these small settlements in the province of Saskatchewan that I stopped for gas and to camp for the evening. The name of this settlement is Piapot and it has quite an historical background. It was here that the ranch house and headquarters for one of the largest ranches in Canada once stood. This ranch covered 200,000 acres. Started in 1881, it was known as the Lister Kaye Enterprise, later as the 76 Ranch after the company collapsed in 1895. Piapot got its name from an Indian Chief of the Cree clan who held up operations in building the CPR by camping his entire tribe in the path of the proposed operations and refusing to let the workers through. It wasn't until two brave mounted policemen rode boldly into the hostile camp and told them to move or be moved that they finally moved out letting the railroad continue.

This story reminds me of some local settlers west of Chelsea who held up operations in building I-94. So you see dissent is nothing new. Protesting has been going on for quite some time.

At John Gould's service station, restaurant, and campground (see picture) one sees the wagonwheel fence. There I met a very serious and interesting young man, Wilf Pyle, a student from the University of Saskatchewan Regina Campus, who was doing his master's degree in antelope winter ecology and was working with the Saskatchewan Department of National Resources. His job is to tag antelope fawns to study their migration from the wintering area. He also collects and identifies winter kills to determine population changes. Wilf Pyle hopes to make wildlife biology and game management his life work.

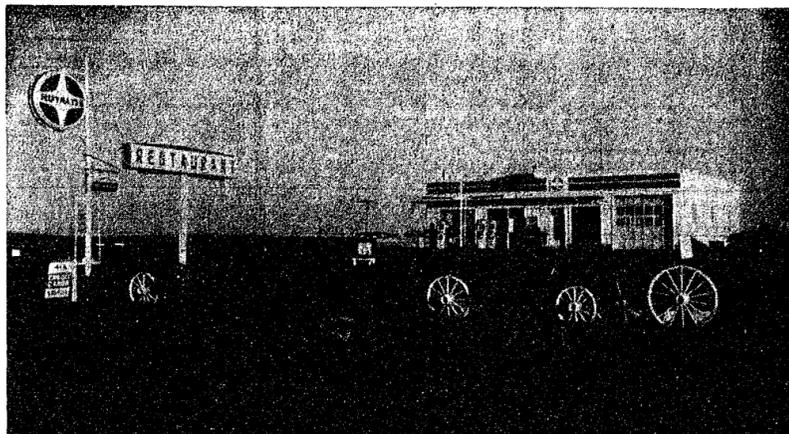

When Wilf asked me to join him in looking for and tagging fawns out on the prairie, I could see myself chasing over hill and dale with a butterfly net in hot pursuit of a galloping fawn, but Wilf assured me it wasn't all that serious as he uses his car to spot the mother antelope, then he uses field glasses to see if she has a fawn and if so, then he spooks the mother and if the fawn is real young she hides him in the prairie grass and it's up to you to find him as he looks the same color as the grass. Wilf told me that he has to catch the fawn within 48 hours after he is born as later it will run alongside its mother and then it is nearly impossible to catch them. We finally located one after some search and Wilf was off after them with me coming along behind with camera. All Wilf carried was a large whoop net of about six feet in diameter which he can throw for about 20 ft. By throwing this net over the fawn, he can hold it easier and once in a while a fawn will spook and not lay as still as he is supposed to when hidden by the mother. After locating the fawn, I took motion pictures of Wilf catching the fawn, tying it, and all the procedure that goes along with his lab and made a few pictures for his records with polaroid.

In our search for the fawn, we came upon many forms of wildlife I never dreamed existed out on the grassy prairie. We found several duck's nests, hawk's nests, meadowlarks, curlews, Canada geese, jack rabbits, coyotes, gophers, and several species of song birds. I couldn't identify. Every pond of water, even if no larger than a swimming pool, will have some form of waterfowl, snakes, sandpipers, gulls, or species of ducks. This was all so fascinating I could hardly force myself to move on from the spot. Someday I will go back and take more pictures of the prairie life.

On display at John Gould's service station and restaurant were several of those beautiful wildlife paintings done in oil by L.T. Flexhaug, a local artist. One was so lifelike done in beautiful color that I purchased it. It's 4x8 feet and I am having it shipped home.

I will be heading into beautiful scenery such as this when I leave the prairie and head up the Alaskan highway. I spent a day in Edmonton and attended the South Edmonton Kiwanis Club and the Oil Capital Club.

The South Edmonton Club is a group of friendly chaps who made me feel at home. The president of the group presented me with the Kiwanis Golden Rule, a measuring stick to measure my fish. A very nice gesture, but if I stick with the Golden Rule, I won't be able to lie about how big the fish are that I catch. As the old saying goes, "figures don't lie, but liars will figure." I'm just glad the president didn't restrict the number of times I can measure the fish to get them to the size I will want them to be for my next article. I must be running along now and will be sending back more true stories now that I am going by the Golden Rule. Will write you more later.

Your northern reporter,
Don Turner

Sweenys Come Home For Summer Months

Mr. and Mrs. Donovan Sweeney of Umatilla, Fla., arrived Thursday to spend the summer with relatives and friends in the area. They are making their headquarters with Mrs. Sweeney's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Keezer and going from there to spend time with their sons, George of Ann Arbor, and Franklin of Jerusalem, Pa. Before coming to Chelsea they spent a month traveling to the west coast stopping to visit relatives in Gulfport, Miss., Tucson, Ariz. and points in California. They also visited Mrs. Ray Krontz at her home near Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Sweeney said she continues to subscribe to The Chelsea Standard and "couldn't get along without it."

Politics being what they are you can expect government to be what it is.

THIS MONUMENT is erected on the spot where the Cree Indian Chieftain Piapot held up operations in building the Canadian-Pacific Railways in 1883.

Michigan State Graduation Will Be on TV

East Lansing - Benjamin Britten's modern opera classic, "Peter Grimes," comes to American television for the first time on "NET Festival," Sunday, June 14, at 1 p.m. on WMSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television.

Britton, himself, conducts the three-hour opera, which tells the story of a morose English fisherman in conflict with his community.

Derived from a long poem, "The Borough," (1810) by George Crabbe, the opera includes three acts and a prologue. Of all Britten's operas, "Peter Grimes" is the most traditional in form, abounding in arias, duets, trios, quartets and big ensembles.

Tenor Peter Pears, who originally created the part when the opera was first performed in 1945, once again takes the role of Peter Grimes. Soprano Heather Harper plays the role of Ellen Orford, the widow whom Grimes tries to love. Also part of the original production and appearing in this one is Owen Brannigan, who sang the part of Swallow, the lawyer-coroner who casts suspicion on Grimes for the death of his apprentice.

MSU COMMENCEMENT - Jim Adams, WMSB sports director, provides live coverage of MSU Commencement exercises from Spartan Stadium, Sunday, June 14, at 4:20 p.m.

Commencement speaker will be Mrs. Esther Peterson, a national figure in the labor movement and consumer affairs. A former assistant secretary of labor, Mrs. Peterson is presently Washington representative for a nationalated Clothing Workers of America.

CHICAGO THEATRE - "NET Playhouse" traces the story of "El Teatro Campesino," a theater of social conscience, Sunday, June 14, at 11 p.m.

This theater of farmworkers came into being during the strike of the migrant farmworkers against the California grape-growers. But, soon the theater realized that it was dealing with something beyond the immediate concerns of the strike.

Often, El Teatro tells its own story eloquently through the "actos" or short, satirical skits, and through songs. The comedy in teatro is a comedy close to tears, expressing the realities faced by the Spanish-speaking American. There also is pungent and a proud past, as portrayed in a puppet play about Montezuma.

Sometimes the "actos" humor is broad satire. The program includes, for example, "Los Venidos" or "Used Mexican Lot," in which an "Anglo" woman comes to a "used car lot," where the description of each model matches stereotypes of Mexican-Americans.

JAZZ - Popular Chicago song stylist Lurlean Hunter performs on the premiere of "NET Jazz," a series of programs bringing great sounds of jazz to its viewers each week, beginning Monday, June 15, at 7 p.m. and Thursday, June 18, at 12:30 p.m.

Miss Hunter has won praise from her fellow musicians, critics and audiences for her "warm and exciting style."

CARD OF THANKS - I would like to thank my friends, neighbors, and relatives for the phone calls, personal visits, and cards sent me while I was in the hospital. A special thanks to Don Laier and Bob Ball, who finished planting my corn. Dale Hepburn.

THANK YOU - I wish to thank my friends and relatives for their prayers, cards, gifts and flowers while I was in the hospital; also the kindness shown my family then and since my return home. It was all greatly appreciated. Helen Harvey.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Geo. Washington, even with his muscular power, was in ill health during his whole life. Beethoven was deaf, yet he wrote music. Helen Keller, one of the world's greatest personalities, was deaf, mute and blind. John Milton continued to write poetry after his eyesight failed him. Homer was also blind. Robert E. Lee, defeated in war, became a great educator. Dostoyevsky, the Russian novelist was an epileptic. Hideo Noguchi, brilliant Japanese bacteriologist who paved the way for syphilis cure, had a childhood in pitiable poverty. Worse yet, at age three, his left hand and arm were badly crippled in an accident. F.D.R., a crippled polio victim was elected President four times. P. T. Barnum of circus fame had to start all over again at age 60; gained greater fame and fortune than in earlier years. J. C. Penney had horrible financial reverses in the depression but he continued, built a department store empire to expanded greatness.

Such people from all over the world, show us how to face reality. Stevenson spotlights such examples in these words: "You must some time fight it out or perish; and if that be so, then why not now, and where you stand?" BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Washtenaw County Areas Show Rapid Population Growth

Recent population statistics for Washtenaw county reveal a dramatic increase of 43 percent, or a growth of 73,560 persons, since 1960. In the entire seven-county Detroit region, Washtenaw county's growth was second only to that of Macomb county, which increased its population by a startling 55 percent.

These figures were released by a recently published report by the Planning Division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) and showed Washtenaw county's July 1, 1969 population at 246,000, as compared to 172,440 in April of 1960. In the 2,116 square-mile Chelsea area, the official village population has grown from 3,355 in 1960 to 4,000 in 1969 while the 48 square mile area of the village of Dexter, the population increase has been from 1,702 to 1,900.

Bridgewater township, covering an area of 31.06 square miles has grown in population from 1,002 to 1,500; Dexter township's 43.21 square miles has shown an increase from 1,698 to 2,100; Freedom township's 35.40 square miles has grown from a population of 1,065 to 1,250; Lima township's 85.79 square miles has had its population increase from 995 to 1,270; and the 11.11 square mile Manchester township has increased its population from 1,588 to 1,770 while Saline's 2.51 square miles has grown population wise from 2,834 in 1960 to 4,200 in 1969. U. S. District Court Decision Restores Power to Schools

A U. S. District Court ruling last week is being hailed by local school officials as a landmark decision restoring the right of public schools to regulate the behavior of their students.

Judge Talbot Smith handed down a decision in Detroit rejecting a suit filed by the mother of an Ann Arbor Pioneer High boy who was indefinitely suspended for incorrigible conduct on Feb. 19. She charged in a suit filed March 17 that his suspension "was without any semblance of a fair hearing of the type required by due process of law" and that he had been "deprived of his liberty and property without due process of law."

Chelsea Woman's Granddaughter Is Honor Graduate in Texas

Laura Wahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wahl of Corsicana, Tex., has graduated as salutatorian of her senior class of 244 students. She was recently awarded a $5,000 scholarship by the Corsicana School Board to be used at any college in the state of Texas. She plans to attend Navarro Junior College next fall where she will be a cheerleader.

Laura is the granddaughter of Mrs. Maude Fletcher of 620 N. Main, Chelsea and John Rudd of Jackson and the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wahl.

Junior High Fee

00; phys. ed. locker fee, $1.50; student lock fee, 25 cents; total, $25. This plan will also eliminate the present fees as follows: locker fee, 25 cents; phys. ed. locker fee, $1.50; science fee, $4.00; industrial arts, $4.00; home economics, $4.00; art, $2.00 per semester. From the above information, the advantage of the plan to parents is immediately evident. It will eliminate expenditures of time and effort in finding textbooks for their youngsters, as well as the necessity of paying several different fees in to the classroom teachers. The school district will also benefit from this plan in that it will save clerical time, since there will be only one single fee to collect. It will make it much easier to estimate the number of textbooks which have to be ordered in any given year.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. George Knoll called on Mr. Knoll's niece, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McGuire of Inkster Sunday. Herman Reed, of 16683 Winters Rd., Grass Lake, underwent major surgery on May 25. He is now home and doing nicely. A surprise birthday party was given for Mrs. John (Viola) Czaplak on Wednesday, June 3 at her home. She celebrated her 75th birthday with her son, Stanley, her daughter, Agnes Mullen, and her sisters and brothers from Flint and Detroit.

For the Chelsea school system, this ruling appears to mean that its decisions on student expulsion will not be able to be challenged in the courts as freely as they have in the past unless proof is furnished that the student was given no warning whatsoever.

TO BUY OR NOT TO BUY The present interest rate level is stopping some families from buying a new home. There are three considerations that bear on the matter: If you buy at today's interest rate (8-8 1/2%) and interest rates drop — you can re-negotiate or re-finance easily and inexpensively and achieve the lower rate any time you choose to do so. It will cost more to buy if you delay. This is a 25-year-old pattern. (Wages gains are seldom relinquished.) If you want 2 baths, attached 2-car garage, poured basement walls, family room, dishwasher, disposal, built-in stove and oven, carpeting throughout, adequate space in three or four bedrooms, enough closet and storage space — and you buy in a favored location with city sewer, water and natural gas, such a home will appreciate at the rate of $100 per month. (Again, the 25-year pattern.) Compare this appreciation with your present circumstance and you may begin to agree with every housing expert and make a move toward buying now! Eat hearty folks because there's more good food coming your way at greater values for your buying dollar according to an optimistic report of the Economic Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Putting food costs into perspective and relating them to the consumer sometimes meets with skepticism from the food buyers who pay regularly to the tune of the chimes of the grocer's till, nevertheless food is today's best buy, and here's why.

If you're experiencing an increase in your grocery budget it may have resulted from a shift to greater consumption, more expensive type food, the addition of more services in packaging food, and then there's the budget buster of eating out, even though it's a great break from routine, it's costly.

Since 1957-59, over a decade ago, food costs have risen roughly 2.7 percent each year. Looking at it collectively, this is a 34 percent hike in 13 years of bartering with the neighborhood grocer. Today, for each member of your family you can estimate a $511 total per year cost for sitting at the dining table. But wait a minute... America's buying power, greenback for greenback, is unmatched in food value anywhere in the world.

Although expenditures for food did increase during the '60's, the increase was less than the gains in personal income, the USDA reports. Now, more money is being made, which means less dollar output at the market. In fact, disposable income, the money available after taxes, is on the increase. It's up a whopping 68 percent! It skyrocketed from $1,846 in 1957-59 to $3,099 in 1969.

But the clincher is that as a result of the increase in pay, the percentage of income paid to the grocer slid downward throughout the '60's.

There's more. In 1957-59 consumers spent only 20.6 percent of their earned cash for the acquisition of foodstuffs. In relation—1969 evidenced a further reduction to 16.5 percent, a 4.1 percent dip despite a decade filled with rising incomes and rising costs for non-food products.

The food bill cut allows you to raise your family's standard of living by spending a larger piece of your income pie for other goods and services.

SOUTH ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NOTES

LIBRARY— Book circulation for the school year for children and teachers was 20,000 which included 213 new books and four sets of encyclopedias. Boys from Mrs. Nance's and Miss Weber's rooms took care of the chairs and the girls from Mrs. Senne's room acted as library aides.

KINDERGARTEN— Room 3 Teacher: Mrs. Bower Reporters: All the children We all enjoyed our trip to the Chelsea Greenhouse. Mr. and Mrs. Zeeb gave us each a lovely plant. It was fun to see how flowers stay so small and grow to be so many different colors and shapes.

Room 1 Teacher: Mrs. Michelson Reporter: All the children Some people have unusual pets. Steve Botsford brought his lamb into our room. Bob and Toby think it's a neat pet. Curtis Copin has his baby ducklings in school. We compared them to our chicks that hatched and watched them swim in an old fish pan. We've seen kittens, puppies, a pony, big cats, dogs, and a pig. To do you ever see a salamander eat a toad? We did—they were in our terrarium.

Room 8 Teacher: Mrs. Morgan Reporters: All the children Our class visited the Chelsea Milling Co. It was a hot day, and we enjoyed the refreshments that were served when we arrived. Before we started the tour our guide told us about the people who started the mill, and how they got the name Jiffy-Mix. We saw excellent slides showing process and machines that are in operation in the mill. The slides helped us to understand what we saw as we went on the tour. It was an enjoyable and educational experience.

as well as make them. We have made maps of the area round the school. We are also studying the map of Michigan and the globe. We all enjoyed making hand puppets out of paper sacks and colored paper. We used our puppet stage to present plays about our favorite fairy tales. We are now looking forward to our picnic and hike on June 19, Room 10. In Math we are beginning to do some work with multiplication and division. We are continuing to review regrouping in both addition and subtraction. During Michigan Week we made booklets about Michigan which included information about the state flower, tree, bird and Indian tribes that settled here. We also made a booklet about plants and recently took both booklets home and added them to our home libraries. Weekly Reader sent us 20 pictures of fantastic creatures. It is interesting to learn about them. Have you ever heard of a wallaby or an axolotl? We recently drew seascapes. We also made paper bag puppets and presented the plays of Little Red Riding Hood, The Three Little Pigs and Cinderella to our classmates. We are looking forward to summer. Have a nice summer, everyone!

During Michigan Week we made a map of our state and found how to tell the four directions—north, south, east and west. Miss Baur, our music teacher, helped us sing for the Senior Citizens. It was such fun to sing with them and celebrate with Kool-aid and cookies. Barbara Ashley and Holly Jones both became 6 years old last month. All of us hope everyone has a fine, safe summer!

Chief Gaken knows a lot about fire stations. He told us about not playing with matches, too. Mrs. Zeeb and some other ladies at the greenhouse showed us all around. They even cook the dirt! Our woodwork is noisy, but it's fun, if you don't hurt your thumb. Summer will soon be here. Our teacher said we could visit her.

SPY PLANES LOST The Pentagon reports that nine of the Air Force's small fleet of SR-71 spy planes were lost in crashes in the last four years. The 2,000-mile-an-hour intelligence collector plane was developed in the early 1960's as a successor to the U-2 spy plane.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS AS HEARD BY HEARD

Whose News Is News? Although it has not been titled as such, there seems to be some kind of a war on the press. The extent of it is so great that even the Wall Street Journal recently felt it was a proper subject for the front page.

viewpoint from the opposing side, and include these views in their reporting of the matter, they become sensation-seeking hack writers.

According to the story on this subject by the Wall Street Journal, newsmen were being accused by those who opposed the nomination of Judge Carswell to the Supreme Court by the grounds that they were writing that the nomination could not be stopped.

Some bureaucrats who are determined that school kids should be bussed, take great umbrage when the press reports many parents are opposed to the idea. By also reporting the position of these parents, this is considered indisputable evidence that the writer is biased.

Perhaps the problem is that newspapers have been too generally in their conduct. It would be interesting to see what the reaction would be if just before election, newspapers generally printed what the candidate for re-election said he would do and stand for in the last campaign, with a full report of what the candidate actually did, or said, on each specific issue. Naturally, the reporting of such facts would quite often be instantly assailed as completely biased.

Perhaps there is a medium of need for what might be called "truth in news." But where does this start?

It would be much easier, more effective, and make the newsmen's job much more simple if everybody who seeks coverage of their ideas, or actions would first of all tell the media the truth.

A common habit among bureaucrats is to call in the press and espouse their ideas. If the newsmen then print their position word for word, the newsmen are hailed as great, statesmanlike, objective journalists.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Parental Example Modern parents too often believe that it is sufficient to send a child to the "right" church and to the "right" school. They are careful to select only the "best" whenever the child has a need. But they forget one of the most important things of all—the value of good example.

Point a child in any direction and more than likely he will soon fall back and follow in the footsteps of the parents. Because children find the things they see more impressive than the things they hear, "Don't do as I do, do as I say do," is a wasted admonition.

Children may recognize that their parents may do some things quite differently from the parents of their little friends. The things that parents often do are considered by children to be adult prerogatives. They think not in terms of what is good and what is bad in the adult world, but more of the fact that adults have the freedom to do things children cannot do. Parents often make it worse by responding to a question with, "It's different. I'm an adult. You're a child."

How is your parental example? Evaluate. Ask yourself what kind of a face you present to an impressionable child.

Michigan Traffic Death Toll for May Declines

Michigan had a provisional count of 197 traffic deaths in May, showing a decrease for a fourth month in succession compared to corresponding months last year, the State Police reported.

The May toll was 42 or 17 percent below 239 charged to that month in 1969. The May high of 240 was set in 1968, the low of 49 in wartime 1944. Average for May was 206 for the five years 1965-69.

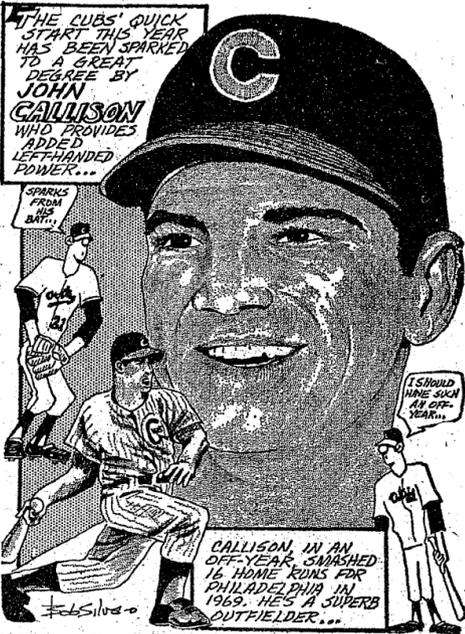

Included in the May count was the provisional total of 20 deaths occurring during the 54-hour Memorial Day week-end. During the 78-hour observance a year ago there were 34 deaths.

The May deaths brought the state's traffic toll for the first five months this year to 799 which was 77 or nine percent less than 876 in the same period of 1969.

SPORTS CORNER

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER:

I am 12 years of age. I like a boy who is 10 years old. We attend the same school. He is in the 5th grade and I am in the 7th. My girlfriends tell me that it is o.k. to date a boy two years' younger. But, the boys in the 5th grade class don't seem to think so. They call my boyfriend and me crazy. They tease him every day in school. What is the answer? I like this boy very much and he likes me. Although my mother is against my dating at 12, I have a tendency to sneak and I think this is terrible. But, if I tell her, she gives me a sermon on my grades, which has nothing to do with boys. Please tell me if it is O.K. to go out at the ages of 12 and 13. All of my other friends sneak out on dates at this age, so why shouldn't I do the same? I think this letter is the most of my questions on dating right now.

Our reply: You are too young to become interested in dating. If you like the boy, then be friends at school, but don't be sneaking around to have a "date." You have indicated you don't want to sneak. If you start now, eventually your school grades will suffer because you will have the erroneous opinion that dating and having fun is all there is to life. It is not. As far as the teasers are concerned, they'll be around for a long time—until they become interested in dating and are eligible to be teased themselves. Talk to your mother about having a coke and potato chip party some week-end.

If you have a teen-age problem you want to have discussed, or an observation to make, address your letter to "For and About Teen-Agers," Community and Suburban Press Service, in care of this newspaper.

Senior Citizen Forum Set for June 12

Congressman Marvin L. Esch (R-Mich.) announced today plans for his annual Senior Citizens Forum, Friday, June 12.

Once again, Esch will sponsor the Forum and will participate fully in all activities. For the convenience of area residents, two separate meetings will be held, one in Monroe and one in Ann Arbor.

Said Esch, "This is a special activity we carry out yearly to hear directly from our older people about their needs and problems. At the same time it gives us a chance to pass along the latest information about governmental programs for Senior Citizens."

"I cordially invite all Senior Citizens to attend," Esch said. "These will be relaxed meetings with everyone having an opportunity to express their views and ask questions. It should be an enjoyable time as well as an informative one."

Esch will speak at both gatherings on national legislation that is of special interest to older people and will also comment on major national issues of more general public interest.

Byron E. Goetz, regional commissioner, Social Security Administration, will speak on the retirement years, fixed income and Social Security. Dr. Walter Strompek, Director of the Department of Adult Health for the State of Michigan, will speak on medical services and hospital reform.

There will be two opportunities to attend the Forum. Residents of Monroe and Lenawee counties may wish to attend the session at the Monroe YMCA, 1111 W. Elm. It will be held from 10 a.m. until noon, Friday, June 12 in the Multi-Purpose Room.

Residents of Washtenaw, Livingston and Wayne counties may want to choose the afternoon session from 2 to 4 p.m., June 12, at the University of Michigan North Campus. The meeting will be held in the Commons Room at the lower level at the North Campus Commons.

Esch and both speakers will participate fully in both meetings.

Police Federation Encourages Flag Uniform Insignia

Following the Feb. 2 proclamation of President Richard M. Nixon on the appropriateness of local police department officials wearing the U.S. Flag as a uniform insignia, the American Federation of Police began to encourage its members to add the insignia to their uniforms.

Police Chief George Meranuck stated last week that his men have been wearing the insignia since September of 1969. He stated, "We originally began wearing the flag as we were a little disappointed in the general attitude of people in regards to showing respect for the flag and hoped that because we enjoy the respect of Chelsea's citizens, it would increase their respect for the flag."

Thus the reasoning for the Chelsea, Police's donning of the flag differs slightly from that of some other law enforcement departments. Chief Meranuck commented that, "some departments in the South began wearing the flag emblem because a number of policemen were being assaulted and they felt that citizens would have respect for the flag, if not for the policeman himself."

PREPARE PAINTING SURFACE
Proper surface preparation is the key to a really professional looking paint job. All surfaces on which paint is to be applied must be absolutely clean and smooth. Loose dirt should be removed with a dusting brush and all rust on metal surfaces should be completely eliminated with the aid of a wire brush and steel wool. Roughened surfaces should be smoothed with sandpaper.

Rep. Thomas Sharpe Tells Candidacy for Re-Election

State Representative Thomas G. Sharpe (R-Howell) announced today that he will be a candidate for re-election to the Michigan House of Representatives from the 51st District.

"There is a great deal of unfinished business pending in Lansing," Sharpe stated in making his announcement. "Many critical matters will demand the utmost in experience and ability from the legislature."

"I have been working for some years to gain greater adequacy and equity in the financing of education by shifting a substantial portion of the tax burden from property owners to taxes that are more fairly distributed and more closely related to ability to pay."

"I intend to continue my efforts to see this needed change brought about without loss of local control in education."

"This is an extremely crucial time where the issue of maintaining domestic order is concerned, particularly in terms of the violence, vandalism and arson seen recently in university communities."

"Our very system of attempting to support autonomous institutions of higher education with tax dollars is on trial today, and a total re-examination of the relationship between such institutions and our representative state government is very much in order."

"That re-examination will require judgment on the part of the legislature that can be gained only through years of experience with this problem."

"Our war on pollution, our struggle to protect and preserve our environmental heritage, has scarcely begun. Yet through the last few years, an understanding of the enormity and complexity of this problem has been gained in state government, and we can hope that past mistakes of attempting over-simplified solutions will not be repeated."

"Our struggle against the use and abuse of narcotic and dangerous drugs, largely initiated in just the past two sessions and involving a multi-pronged assault through tighter enforcement, better education and more extensive research, is already regarded by experts as one of the best in the nation."

"Perhaps most important, since all else is dependent upon it, firm legislative support for law enforcement and law enforcement agencies must be maintained."

"We live in an age of change and crisis, an age of glaring inconsistencies. We live in a time when property is burned and destroyed and policemen are assaulted in the name of 'peace.'

"The legislature must set an example beyond suspicion, if respect for the law is to prevail. I will be the first to respond to any complaint, from any citizen I serve, that certain laws are inequitable or outdated or inadequate, the first to work for needed changes in our statutes."

"But until the law is changed, it exists to be enforced and obeyed. This and this alone is what permits the unique degree of individual freedom we enjoy in this nation."

"The greatest inconsistency of our day lies with those who break the law in the name of gaining greater individual freedom. The fact that we are a government of laws, and not of men, is the very essence of our freedom."

State Sen. Gilbert Bursley Tells Candidacy for Re-Election

State Senator Gilbert E. Bursley has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election from the 18th Senatorial District which includes Washtenaw and the eastern half of Lenawee county.
"The challenges facing Michigan in the 1970's are going to demand much constructive legislative action. I want to be a part of that action," said Senator Bursley.
"I have previously introduced bills on important and controversial subjects. Many have been enacted into statutes but some will require additional legislative sessions before becoming the law of the state.
"Unfinished business in which I am very much involved includes property tax limitation tied to K-12 educational reorganization; abortion law reform; a viable mass transit system in southeastern Michigan; environmental legislation covering water, air, pesticides and population; intergovernmental relationships in crowded south-eastern Michigan; improved coordination between institutions of higher education and bank holding company regulation."

Decoupage Art Enjoying Revival Of Popularity

All fine art must have for its beginning a craft, but not all crafts develop into art. According to Webster's International Dictionary, "Decoupage is the art of decorating surfaces with paper cut-outs." So decoupage starts with the craft of cutting and, depending on the skill with which it is executed, and the artistry with which it is applied, the work may well become a piece qualified as fine art.

A decoupageur enjoys the same poetic license as any artist and may exaggerate, minimize, add to or subtract from the original design with which he starts to work.

While decoupage can present a challenge to the trained artist, it is inviting to the neophyte because of the easy availability today of materials with which to work. It is an art dating back hundreds of years in Europe, but is currently enjoying a renaissance in this country. Articles on decoupage in Arts and Crafts periodicals are appearing with greater and greater frequency, likely due in part to its adaptability to a variety of surfaces from the lowly basket purse to the elegant "scriban" or secretary.

Examples of various decoupage techniques may be seen at Jackson Community College's display rooms in John George Hall, 512 Wildwood, Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 3 and 4. The exhibit will be open from 12 noon to 8:30 each day and feature works of exhibitors from Jackson, Adrian, Albion, Lansing, Okemos and Grand Rapids.

Bone Gives Clue to Meat Tenderness

Meat buying baffles many consumers.

An easy clue to tenderness is the shape of the bone, says Anita Dean, foods specialist at Michigan State University. Use bone shapes as a guideline to separate the tender cuts from those less tender.

Bones shaped like a T, rib bones and wedge-shaped bones are indications of tender cuts. The T-shaped bone is found in T-bone and porterhouse steaks, the rib bone in rib steaks and standing rib roasts and the wedge bone in sirloin steaks.

A round bone and a bone shaped like a 7 or like a Y tell you the cuts are less tender. They come from the working part of the animal. The round bone appears in round steak and arm roasts. Chuck steaks and roast will have a bone shaped like a 7 or a Y. These are the cuts that should be braised—cooked covered, with moisture added.
