

Major Face-Lifting Operation Underway in Downtown Area

Community pride is hard to define but easy to see. Recent efforts by the Chelsea Businessmen's Association to restore and improve the appearance of Chelsea's Central Business District are evidence of pride and concern for the community.

The idea of renovating the Main St. area in Chelsea originated with the Comprehensive Development Plan which appeared in June of 1969 after two years of research, analysis and planning by the Village Planning Commission, chaired by Dr. J. V. Fisher, and the Planning Consultants, Parkins, Rogers & Associates, Inc., of Detroit.

Financial assistance for the plan was provided by the Federal Government under the Urban Planning Assistance Grant Program. The long-range growth plan was designed to serve as a guide upon which village development could be based during the next 20 years.

In the "Commercial Land Use Analysis" section of the plan, the authors point out that "the future of Chelsea's Central Business District depends upon the quality of renovation and development which will take place in the next few years. An environmentally pleasant shopping area will encourage people living outside the village to travel to Chelsea rather than to competing shopping areas elsewhere in the region."

Suggestions made in the Comprehensive Development Plan include establishing a Historical Society and Review Board to guide the future development of the commercial area, providing adequate parking facilities behind the commercial establishments on Main St., renovation of the rear of buildings, and alleys to provide pedestrian garden walks and courtyards, and making a unified effort to create an aesthetically pleasant environment through the use of signs, street furniture and landscaping.

In the fall of 1969 the Chelsea Businessmen's Association under the direction of George Winans began organizing and discussing plans to restore and rejuvenate the Central Business District. The group sought to obtain the maximum benefits from the least possible expenditure. They knew if they proposed a wildly unrealistic scheme it would never be more than a dream on paper.

Seeking to maintain the 1800 vintage architecture and style of the village without having it appear old and decrepit, the merchants encouraged all local store owners to repaint and restore their places of business, by highlighting the existing architecture.

Jerry Pannone, chairman of the rejuvenation committee, had the businessmen meet with consultants from Louie's Decorating Service to co-ordinate color schemes and estimate costs. Two-tone paint jobs in soft shades which included the entire building and not just the store fronts were encouraged. Accenting cornices, shutters and natural brick work where possible were suggested to preserve the natural charm of the Main St. area.

Short range expectations are that most of the store owners in the district repaint their building for the present time, with future remodeling of things such as wooden shingle roofs to come later. Results so far have been very encouraging. At an average cost of about $175 per store, most merchants are making an investment in the appearance of their place of business.

A significant majority of area merchants are supporting this stage of the Chelsea rejuvenation effort. One difficulty that has arisen is the number of non-resident landlords who own buildings and do not have the enthusiasm for the project that local businessmen have.

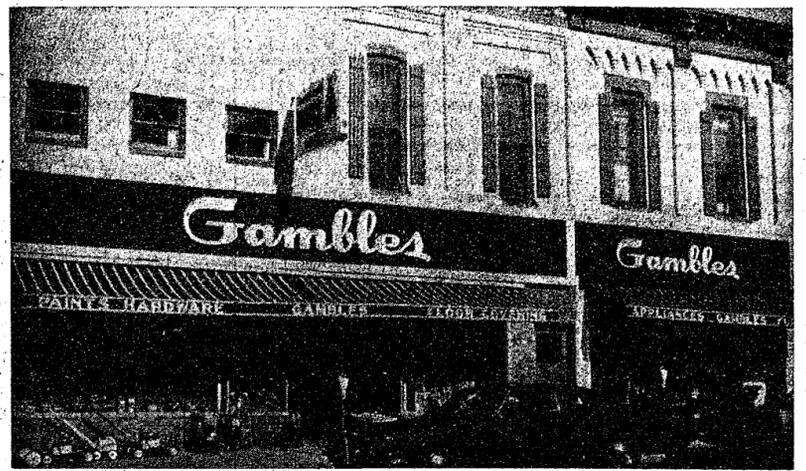

Many landlords, however, are agreeing to repaint the building they own since it is a normal, relatively inexpensive repair. Some store owners claimed that they had been meaning to repaint their buildings but just needed an incentive such as this to goad them to action.

Sam Johnson at Gambles was the first to complete his individual effort with a complete two-tone paint job and remodeling of the front and back of his store. His investment cost him about $600 but he is glad he did it. Seeing the difference a new coat of paint made to Gambles, many other merchants decided to contribute to the general beautification effort by redecorating their own business establishments.

Included in the ever-growing list of stores which are improving or planning to improve their appearance while still retaining their 19th century charm are Kusterer's Food Market, 111 S. Main; Winans Jewelry, 108 S. Main; Village Beauty Salon, 109 N. Main; Foster's Men's Wear, 109 S. Main; Chelsea Hardware, 110 S. Main; Longworth Plating Service, 110 Jackson; Western Auto, 106 N. Main; Frigid Products, 113 N. Main; Merkel's, 209 S. Main; Hilltop Plumbing, 201 S. Main; Sam's Barber Shop, 208 S. Main; Dancer's, 112 S. Main; the 14th District Court Building, Municipal Building, and the U. S. Post Office.

Store owners expect a high rate of return on their investment as the Central Business District becomes a more pleasant place to shop. In accordance with the continuing effort of the Chelsea Businessmen's Association, The Standard plans to feature a different store or group of stores each week which have undergone redecorating.

WHERE IT ALL BEGAN. Gambles rejuvenated its appearance beginning July 6 with a green and white paint job. It was the tangible beginning of a unified voluntary effort on the part of Main St. area merchants and home owners to improve the appearance of the village, especially the Central Business District. An attempt was made to capitalize on the 1890 architecture and enhance it rather than cover it up.

Use of Old School Site Is Clarified

Citizens concerned about how the property that the old Junior High school was on will be put to use attended both the Monday, Aug. 3, school board meeting and the Tuesday, Aug. 4, Village Council meeting.

The group, calling themselves the Chelsea Residential Area Betterment Society, was assured at the Village Council meeting that the property could continue to be used for functions relating to education since it is not affected by the Village Zoning Ordinance. School Board President Donald Irwin assured residents that no bus garage or gas storage tank will be put on the site of the old Junior High school. After the area is cleared of the rubble sufficient space will be provided to park school buses so they will not have to be parked on the street. Transfer of students can also be accommodated on the property, thereby eliminating the problem of students running between buses on the street.

Class of 1960 Holds Reunion

Chelsea High school class of 1960 held a reunion at Weber's in Ann Arbor, Saturday, Aug. 1. The 53 classmates and spouses who attended the reunion enjoyed swimming starting at 12 noon, and cocktails, dinner, and dancing in the evening. Dave Rowe, former class president, gave a speech at the short program, and gag gifts were awarded for various categories.

NEW CLEANING MACHINE: Chadwick Parish opens the door to his newly installed Dry-to-Dry cleaning machine made by Vic. The modern machine, which was designed and installed by R. E. Swartz and Sons of East Detroit, takes the place of the three machines formerly needed to do the job at Parish's Cleaners, 113 Park. The $11,000 investment, plus installation cost, gives Parish the most up-to-date dry cleaning equipment in the area.

A similar machine exists in Farmington. Asked why he chose to buy the 4,600-pound machine, Parish stated that it was time for a new machine and that he had "lots of faith in the community." With the use of perchlorethylene, the machine can clean, tumble dry, extract all cleaning fluid, and distill the solvent from vapor back into liquid for 40 pounds of clothes at a time.

Primary Vote Very Light in All Townships

Area township voters chose their candidates for this fall's general election in Tuesday's primary. The turnout was generally light, as was the case across the state. Dexter, Sharon, Freedom, Lima, Sylvan, and Lyndon townships were unanimous in nominating William Milliken and Lenore Romney to represent the Republican party this fall for the respective positions of Governor and United States Senator. Sander Levin was the Democratic choice to oppose Milliken.

Incumbent Senator Philip Hart, although unopposed on the Democratic ballot received a substantial number of votes. Bruce W. Neal will represent Democratic voters in an attempt to unseat Representative Marvin L. Esch, incumbent representative to the United States Congress from the 2nd District. For the State Senate, from the 18th District, Democrat George Sallade will oppose Gilbert Bursley, incumbent Republican, this fall. Thomas Sharpe will run for election on the Republican ticket for representative from the 51st District to the State Legislature.

In the contest for local offices, the breakdown, township by township, is as follows:

DEXTER TOWNSHIP
Dexter township voters will choose between supervisor John M. Tandy, Republican, in November, and Earl Dolezky, Democrat, for township supervisor in November. Dolezky won out over write-in candidate John Quigley by a vote of 144 to 63. For township clerk, William Eisenbeiser beat out Robert Devine in the Democratic race by a close vote of 116 to Devine's 108. Neil A. Frank was unopposed in the Republican slot. He received 165 votes. For township treasurer, Winifred C. Aberdeen (D) received 203 votes, while Mildred Hackney (R) received 182.

Arthur Dolezky, unopposed Democratic candidate, received 182 votes for Dexter township trustee, while Gary Albrecht gained 165 Republican votes. Harvey G. Fischer gathered 171 votes as the Republican candidate for constable. Dexter township voters cast 128 votes to Democratic candidate Dorothy Hunawill for District II County Commissioner, and 175 votes for Neil Mast, Republican. Robert Devine, Glenn Sleska, and Bill Robertson are Dexter's Democratic delegates to the county convention. Carl Lesser, Albert Ruhlig, and Gerald Straub will represent the Republicans.

LIMA TOWNSHIP
Lima township voters cast 120 votes for Edwin Coy for township supervisor on the Republican ballot. There were no Democratic candidates. Mrs. Lela Bauer will be Lima's Republican candidate for the office of township clerk in the fall. She received 93 votes to her opponent, George P. Frisinger, II. Mrs. Hilda Pierce garnered 143 votes for township treasurer. For the position of township trustee, incumbent Harold Gross, Democrat, received 40 votes, and incumbent Walter Wolfgang, Republican, received 108. Ralph Stof-

SHARON TOWNSHIP
Sharon township incumbent Supervisor Russell Fuller, received 18 votes. His Republican opponent will be Allen Alber, who received 58 votes. Duane Hessel-scherdt, Republican, received 60 votes for township clerk, with one write-in vote for Victor Grossman. Incumbent Herbert Jacob received 61 votes for township treasurer to Clinton Fisk's one write-in vote. Max D. Roedel received 60 votes for township trustee. For the position of township constable, Floyd Proctor, incumbent Republican, scraped by Walter Boike to win the nomination, 55 to 47.

FREEDOM TOWNSHIP
Freedom township election was a straight Republican contest. John C. Miller, incumbent supervisor, received 96 votes. Harold Eiseman, incumbent clerk, received 99 votes. Walter Hieber, incumbent treasurer, and incumbent township trustee Gilbert Luckhardt both received 102 votes. For the position of township constable, incumbent Luther Nagel beat out McKeever in a fairly close fight, (Continued on page three)

TAKEN FOR GRANITE? Chelsea Schools Business Manager Fred Mills examines the rock which "sprung up" around 1928 at the former site of the old junior high on East St. According to legend, landscapers attempted to dig it out so they could mow the lawn around it, but the more they dug, the more of the rock they uncovered. Dave Mohrlock was allegedly the one who unearthed it in the late '20's, and it has remained as a corner-stone since then. With the demolition of the old junior high school, some question arose about hauling away the traditional rock of Gibraltar, but at Monday night's school board meeting, it was decided the rock remains. This decision will undoubtedly bring joy into the hearts of many local abstract artists who frequently demonstrate their creativity by slopping still another layer of paint on the craggy casel. At least 1/2 of an inch of paint layers the rock's surface, concrete evidence that a long tradition of rock painting exists in the community.

Sidewalk Days Sale Slated Next Week-end

Sidewalk Sale Days are just around the corner so save your pennies for the bargains which will line Chelsea's Main St.

Sale days will be Friday, Aug. 14 from 8:30 a.m. until 9 p.m. and Saturday, Aug. 15, from 8:30 a.m. until 6 p.m.

If any church group or other organization would like to set up a refreshment booth, which they are encouraged to do, they should contact the Chelsea Businessmen's Association through President George Winans for information.

In order to make room for incoming fall stock, the merchants traditionally offer what is left from this season's goods at greatly reduced prices. Also, many new bargain items are specially purchased for the big event. A variety of merchandise will be displayed so it pays to come if you're in the market for practically anything.

Ambulance May Return To Chelsea

Chances are good that an ambulance will once again operate out of Chelsea or near Chelsea before too long. The Superior Ambulance Co. had stationed an ambulance in the former Chelsea Fire Hall until early spring of this year. At that time the village informed them that the hall had been marked for remodeling to house new offices for the Chelsea Police Department. Although the Village Administrator gave Superior Ambulance a June 1 deadline for vacating the hall, the ambulance was transferred in early March.

Since that time, Chelsea and the rest of the western portion of the county have been served predominantly by the ambulance stationed at Zeeb and I-94. In addition to this station, Superior ambulances operate out of Saline, Ann Arbor, and Ypsilanti.

Harry Hayden, manager of Wayne county for Superior, says that Superior is anticipating stationing an ambulance in Chelsea as soon as the company can find a place to house it. Superior might even build a place to house the ambulance, said Hayden.

Having an ambulance in close proximity would cut down on the response time to calls in the western part of the county. Response time averages eight minutes anywhere in the county, but runs higher in Chelsea and uncomfortably higher in Manchester. According to Manager Hayden, the average response time to Chelsea (Continued on page three)

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Have you ever seen the like of carrying on since the census folks started making their reports? Ed Doolittle allowed at the country store Saturday night that for a country worried sick over getting too many people too fast, we shore was crying a different tune these days.

Course, Ed went on, he can see why the head count is important to some folks, a politician for instant. If you was in office or running for office, Ed said, and you thought this county had 40,000 people and the census don't show but 35,000, that could be the margin of victory right over the winner. Ed was of the opinion politicians that lost votes in the counting will have to get on the stick and win em back amongst this new crop of voters from 18 to 21 that is ripe for the harvest in most states.

Clem Wbster, that differs with Ed whenever he can see his way clear anyhow, said he was of the mind that politicians is going to find some rough going with the young folks. In the first place Clem allowed, they is more set in their political ways than us older heads. And in the second place, he went on, they don't trust politicians in the first place.

Like the fellers said the other week, Mister Editor, things is going to be interesting between now and November. With all the hot air that will blow from Washington right down into the grass roots, we ain't likely to see a break from summer heat til after the elections, was Clem's words.

Speaking of too few and too many people, Ed got the floor back to report what he had heard. He said that people is doin' a lot of things to get around the census, and he said that some of them is getting animals.

This feller at Yale University de- scribed the doubling time of the world population, reduces our chances of a future git lesser.

The way we are going now, Ed said, we will have 28 billion people in the year 2036 and we'll be doubling ever 15 year. They won't be standing on on the ball, Ed allowed, much less in place at the table for anybody.

Zeke Grubb said he was worried about the world running out of food. He said that these natives in New Guinea has learned to git nitrogen from the air they breath instead of from food. If we can do some serious work on this, allowed Zeke, and learn to live on air, the only thing we'll have to worry about then would be finding air fit to eat and paying taxes, all the Govern- ments high and low is shore to put on it.

Mister Editor, after listening to the fellers discuss the political kind of population agin the surviving kind, I can see why the populations of mental hospitals has been declining. The real bad cases ain't been caught.

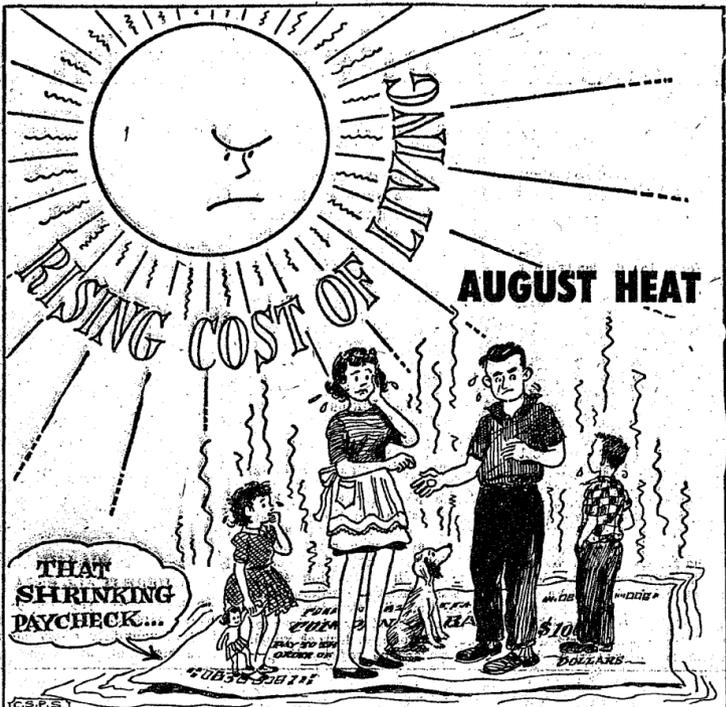

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Parochial Forgotten
 The most bitterly contested issue in the Michigan legislature in recent years has been the highly emotional battle over whether to give state funds to non-public schools.

The three-year controversy climaxed this year with passage of a $22 million allotment after the issue had divided every philosophical and political alliance in both chambers.

Strange coalitions of conservatives and liberals, Democrats and Republicans, and blacks and whites resulted with each side becoming more polarized in its position as the days progressed in the recent session.

Now that the dust has settled, however, most of the people who divided so bitterly over parochial aid are ready to forget the fight and move on to other issues.

"I don't believe the parochial issue will have any lasting effect on the way legislators work together," said House Speaker William D. Iwamoto, D-Detroit. Ryan was the leader of the parochial advocates.

"I think once everyone sees the plan in operation they will view parochial aid as just one more service to the people of Michigan," he said. "I personally think the whole thing was overplayed and people's fears will be eased when they see it in operation."

Even the defeated acknowledge the bitterness and the on and off the floor wrangling that marked the session which ended in July. But, one of the most ardent foes says, opponents hold no grudges against anyone and won't carry any over to future sessions.

"I have no animosity toward anyone and I think I can speak for others who opposed parochial aid as well," said Rep. William Jowett, R-Port Huron. "I am proud of the stand I took and still do not believe this is the best thing for the state, but I will abide by the will of the majority.

 "We fought a good fight, but we did not win," he said. "It's time to move on."

Ryan also said the amicable attitude means parochial will not be a factor in this year's elections, something that was borne out in the primary campaigns around the state.

"I just don't think parochial will have that much effect on the elections," he said. He said support or non-support of the concept will not hurt legislators at the ballot box except in extremely polarized districts.

The expressions of amicability by opponents of parochial toward its backers do not mean the opponents are done fighting it, however.

The opponents did secure inclusion in the bill of a provision that the legislature seek an advisory opinion from the state Supreme Court on parochial's constitutionality. The court has agreed to consider the issue.

The provision also says no funds can be dispensed to private and parochial schools until the court has ruled.

"Our last hope is with the court now," Jowett said. "It's in their hands and all we can do is wait for the ruling."

Boats Increase
 Michigan has the longest freshwater coastline of any state in the country and, as one might expect, also has the largest registration of motorboats.

The U.S. Coast Guard says nearly 438,000 boats are registered in the state, according to the latest available statistics. The Secretary of state's office says it expects that number to

More Boats Pass Over Mackinac Bridge Than Sail Under It
 St. Ignace—more boats go over the Mackinac Bridge than under it. That's a fact, and the Mackinac Bridge Authority has the figures to prove it.

Fare collectors at the five-mile bridge linking Michigan's two peninsulas reported that 1,205 of the 16,605 northbound vehicles which crossed the bridge in the 48-hour period starting at noon July 24 were towing or carrying boats. That's better than one boat for every 14 vehicles.

"It is expected that about the same ratio exists with southbound vehicles," said Lawrence A. Rubin, the authority's executive secretary. "Thus, during the period of the count, more than 2,400 boats went over the Mackinac Bridge—probably 10 times more than went under it."

be above the half million mark by the end of the current year. State boat registrations are good for two years and cost $5.

Figures show that aluminum boats are the most popular, with more than 160,000 of them registered. The next most popular are plastic, which number more than 80,000.

While it was once the most popular material, wood now ranks third with 70,000 registrations. There are 22,500 hulls made out of steel with other types making up 19,000.

More than 270,000 of those boats registered are under 15 feet in length while only eight are longer than 65 feet.

Use Low Heat For Best Results In Cooking Eggs
 Your eggs been tough and leathery lately? Maybe they're not being cooked right.

Toughness of the white is probably due to high temperature cooking, says Anita Dean, foods specialist with Michigan State University. A properly cooked egg has a tender white and a smooth yolk.

If cooking temperature is too high or the egg is cooked too long, the protein shrinks and makes the white tough and the yolk mealy.

So the key to proper egg cooking, according to Mrs. Dean, is to use low to moderate heat and never overcook.

The rule of low temperature cooking also applies to any mixture with a large proportion of egg, such as omelets, souffles, custards or hollandaise sauce. Hollandaise sauce and custards will curdle if cooked at too high a temperature or for too long a time.

High temperature, too, can cause the gray or green color on the outside of the yolk of hard-cooked eggs.

Live Steam Association Plans Show

Whoooo-eeee! There goes the steam whistle and it's time once again for the grain-threshing—and the log-sawing—and the flour and cornmeal-grinding, and all the rumble, roar and excitement of the old days of steam!!!

The Saginaw Valley Live Steam Association will meet for its 15th annual convention at the Tuscola County Fairgrounds at Caro, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 14, 15 and 16.

This Association is made up of men from all walks of life who are steam buffs and who wish to share their knowledge of, and love for, steam and the many uses to which it was put around the turn of the century. There will be 10 large state-inspected steam tractors in operation, as well as grain separator, saw mill, straw baler, shingle mill, veneer machine, Baker fans and other machines demonstrating the power and versatility of steam power.

For those who enjoy the workings and art of model engines there will be many of those on display, their proud builders and owners always ready to chat and compare notes and experiences. The children take great delight in the pony rides and the hay rides on the wagons pulled by the steam monsters.

This year a flea market will be an added attraction and exhibitors are welcome. The Association also invites anyone interested to bring gas or model engines and antique tractors or machinery.

82-68. Freedom voters cast 95 votes for Jay Bradbury for county commissioner. Delegates to the county convention will be Frank Carsons, Democrat, and Republicans Austin G. Barber, Thomas Roberts, and Elvira Vogel.

LYNDON TOWNSHIP

Lyndon township cast 50 votes to Jay Bradbury for county commissioner. Republican George Bauer, Jr., incumbent, received 30 votes for supervisor. He was unopposed. Doris Fuhrmann, incumbent township clerk, received the endorsement of the Democratic party with 44 votes. For the position of treasurer, the fall will see a closely fought election between Therese Bott, Democrat, who gained 44 votes, and Nancy White, Republican, whose 47 votes earned her the nomination over Virginia Meyers with 28 votes. Republican Norman Kaiser received 56 votes to win the nomination for trustee. Once again the contestable election promises to be exciting. Of three Republican candidates on the ballot, E. Jay Hopkins led the voting, with 51 votes. Donald Beaman was close with 49 votes. These two men will both be on the election ticket in November—only one will be elected. Robert Meyers, also on Tuesday's ballot, received 20 votes. Lyndon's candidates to the county convention are Republicans Wilma Kaiser, and Delbert White.

Byron Smiths Enjoy Vacation Trip in Alaska

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Smith, 2690 McKinley Rd., have just returned from a two-week visit to Anchorage, Alaska.

They were guests of the John Strong family there. While in Anchorage, the Smiths took two week-end camping trips. The first took them to the Kenai Peninsula and on the second they went to the Talkeetna Mountains where they explored the old Independence gold mines, which have been out of operation since 1930.

They also enjoyed salmon fishing on their week-end expeditions. This was the Smiths' first visit to Alaska and they were very impressed. Eventually, they hope to return for a second visit.

Detroit Edison's new Monroe Power Plant, now under construction in Monroe, will be the world's largest steam plant when it is completed in 1973. It will have a capacity of 3,200,000 kilowatts.

Hudson Bay covers about 450,000 square miles.

EMPLOYEE STOCK PURCHASE PLAN: J. L. William

Pyper works as a maintenance man and will retire next year with 30 years of service. Bill is the oldest seniority employee participating in Dana stock purchase plan. He and his wife, Vera, just celebrated their 22nd wedding anniversary July 25. Elizabeth Oesterle has been with the Chelsea Plant since April of 1948. Liz has been a life-long resident of Chelsea.

Auto Dealers Given Preview Of '71 Models

The 1971 cars are coming and a few Chelsea citizens have seen them already! Mr. and Mrs. George A. Staffan, 632 Flanders, were present Tuesday, Aug. 4 at the Detroit region 1971 Chrysler-Plymouth preview of new cars held at the Raleigh House in Detroit.

Staffan, representing G. A. Sales & Service, was one of 200 area dealers invited to the luncheon and business meeting. New product features, advertising and marketing plans for the coming year were discussed.

Las Vegas was the setting for the 1971 Oldsmobile preview. Mr. and Mrs. Graham Sprague, 1470 Cavanaugh Lake, of Sprague Buick-Olds-Opel, Inc., attended a four-day conference of Oldsmobile dealers in sunny Las Vegas, July 29 to Aug. 1. As guests of Oldsmobile, they attended a nightclub dinner party, hosted by the television celebrity Don Rickles. The Spragues enjoyed their stay and recommend Las Vegas as a good place to visit. When asked about the 1971 cars, "They're beautiful, but they won't be here until Oct. 1."

JCs Entertain State Officers At Tuesday Evening Steak Fry

Approximately 75 Jaycees and guests attended the Chelsea Jaycee annual Steak Fry held at the Dick Ringe home at Island Lake, Tuesday night, Aug. 4. The evening began with horseshoe pitching and a baseball game to work up the men's appetites for the grill-it-yourself steak fry.

After a short business meeting, past Jaycee president Walt Brown presented the Chelsea Jaycee Award of Honor to Walter Leonard, editor and publisher of The Chelsea Standard, for the co-operation and support he has given to the Jaycees over the years.

Leonard was made an honorary Jaycee in 1968, but in the past year his complete coverage of various Jaycee projects enabled the local chapter to win the State Community Relations Award and to place second in national competition.

Jaycee Award of the month was presented to Mitchell Zink for his fine job on the auction rummage sale. Many honored guests were on hand to enjoy the event including State Sen. Gilbert Bursley. In attendance at the event were Jaycee State President Don DeMoss, State Internal Vice-President Lloyd Wis-mer, Region J. State National Director Chuck Dean, District 29 Vice-President Dick Smith, and various area Jaycee officers and members. Also present were Joe Doering and Jim Gaken who traditionally do the cooking at the Jaycee Barbecue.

State Fair Expands Pony Tail Contest

Thirteen and 14-year-old girls who want to do up their hair in "pony-tail" style may slow compete in the popular pony-tail contest at the 1970 Michigan State Fair.

E. J. (Jeff) Keirns, State Fair General manager, said that because of the popularity of long hair, a new category for 13- and 14-year-old girls has been added this year, making a total of five classes. The other age groups are 3-5, 6-7, 8-9 and 10-12.

Pony-tail judging, one of a series of children's contests held during the fair each year, will begin at 10 a.m. Monday, Aug. 31, with registration at 9 a.m.

The fair runs from Friday, Aug. 28 through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

Rotary mowers take a lot of the work out of the task of caring for your lawn, but mowers are dangerous. Check your lawn for debris before mowing. Use a mower that is shielded down well toward the ground and remember that the whirling knife-edge blade of the mower is dangerous.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT We seek happiness in material comforts, conveniences, gains and rewards. But life seldom gives us all these things exactly as, where and when we want them. When plans and hopes go awry and disappointment follows, it would be good to remember spiritual gains. CAN offset material losses. The following quote written long ago by an unknown Confederate soldier illustrates this beautifully...

"I asked God for strength that I might achieve, I was made weak that I might learn humbly to obey... I asked for health that I might do greater things, I was given infirmity that I might do better things... I asked for riches that I might be happy, I was given poverty that I might be wise... I asked for power that I might have praise of men, I was given weakness that I might feel the need of God... I asked for all things that I might enjoy life, I was given life that I might enjoy all things... I got nothing that I asked for but everything I had hoped for; almost despite myself, my unspoken prayers were answered... I am among all men, most richly blessed." DESTROYED AIRPLANE which crashed Aug. 1 near 11062 Goodband Rd., severely burned pilot Ray D. Greenfield. The swampy area into which it dropped was probably responsible for saving the 39-year-old Detroit pilot from burning to death. He is in critical condition at the University Hospital Burn Unit.

Airplane Crashes in Lyndon

Ray D. Greenfield, a 39-year-old Detroit man, is still listed in critical condition at the University of Michigan Hospital Burn Unit where he is being treated for first-, second- and third-degree burns suffered Saturday, Aug. 1 when the single-engine Piper Cherokee airplane he was piloting grazed the tops of trees and crashed to the ground on a farm on Goodband Rd. in Lyndon township about six miles north of Chelsea.

Apparently Greenfield had mistakenly landed at a private airfield owned by Mrs. Chris Fitzsimmons at 11062 Goodband instead of a small airfield near Gregory in southwestern Livingston county which he was seeking.

When he found out he had landed in the wrong field, Greenfield, with three passengers accompanying him, attempted to take off. After the plane failed to gain enough altitude, the three passengers got out and Greenfield said he would fly on to Gregory and send a car back for them, Sheriff's Deputy Joseph Swope was told. Greenfield then attempted another takeoff, but after going about 1,000 feet, he still was not able to gain enough altitude, possibly because of taking off with a tailwind, witnesses reported. As the plane was about 50 feet off the ground, Greenfield swerved the craft and avoided one group of trees, but slammed into the top of a second set, Swope said. After hitting the trees, the plane dropped straight to the ground, witnesses reported. It landed on the edge of a swamp and caught fire, but Greenfield managed to knock open a door and escape. Deputy Swope said the airplane was completely destroyed.

Louis Fitzsimmons, who was visiting his mother, witnessed the crash and drove a truck into the field to help the victim. Officials from the Federal Aviation Agency were called to investigate.

Grease Fire Damages Stove At Restaurant

A small grease fire Wednesday morning, July 29, caused minor damage to the stove at F & M Fine Foods, 104 N. Main. Bessie Sharp, owner of the restaurant, attributes the cause of the flame, which was confined to just the interior of the gas oven, to grease pattering from a meat loaf she was baking for the noon meal.

When Mrs. Sharp saw and felt the heat from the flames, she panicked momentarily, but dutifully turned off the burners, called the fire department, and took the meat loaf out as soon as possible to avoid further grease aggravation. By the time the fire department arrived, at 11:10 a.m., the flame had burnt itself out, but there was excessive smoke in the restaurant. With the help of the fire department's big fan, the smoke was cleared out in a few minutes so Mrs. Sharp could remain open for the noon time crowd.

In spite of the smoke which poured out of the kitchen, customers at F & M kept right on eating and ordering their meals. Also Mrs. Sharp said that the meat loaf had not been damaged by the fire, in fact it wasn't even cooked and had to be baked for dinner.

The fire weakened and warped the stove somewhat and it will probably have to be replaced, Mrs. Sharp noted.

AGRICULTURE

by GARY A. KLEINHENN
Michigan Farm Bureau

★ Farmers Need
Freedom To Operate

A "gentleman" recently made the comment, "I just don't like farmers because of those lousy government subsidies." Well sir, farmers don't like them either. His eyebrows rose.

A lot of people are surprised when they hear this because the facts aren't known and it makes it difficult for the man on the land to carry the burden of this governmental stigma.

Let's make it clear, farmers stand on this platform. "We oppose the compensatory payment provisions of the Agricultural Act of 1965," so reads the 1970 national policy book of the American Farm Bureau Federation representing nearly two million volunteer member families which include three out of every four farmers who belong to any farm organization.

Of the literally hundreds of farm crops, only three: cotton, wheat and feed grains, states the AFBF, should remain as they are. A rapid transition to a free market system for these individuals would be counting disaster.

Support for this idea comes from neighboring Canada which says subsidies have failed to help farming become more viable. A Canadian federal task force on agriculture indicates in a 476-page report that the free market system is needed to stimulate demand in Canada's market and potential markets, to help farmers switch to the most marketable crops or to move out of production altogether.

To be sure, farming needs freedom. And the Wall Street Journal agrees. "The overhaul should start with recognition that the Federal Government has not in fact been running a rescue operation for family farmers but instead has been trying to manipulate the workings of a major industry down to the finest detail. In view of its monumental lack of success in this effort, it might begin letting the industry run more of its own affairs."

The Journal editorial continues, "The costly control apparatus could and should be largely dismantled, over a transition period of five to ten years. Larger farmers should take over more of the market, but elimination of price supports and the like would free resources that could help cushion the change for smaller operators."

Broom Stick Polo Contest Planned
As Feature at Fair

The Chelsea Community Fair Board invites boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 17 to participate in a Broom Polo pony contest.

Mrs. Jerry Satterthwaite, daily activities chairman, explains the event as a polo game using brooms as mallets. Those who wish to enter the contest, to be held Thursday, Aug. 27, at 1 p.m. at the Fair, should contact team captains Janet Sibley, 475-8575, or Becky Van Riper, 475-8421.

Drinking drivers are involved in 25,000 of 55,000 auto fatalities according to the National Safety Council.

SNOW IN JULY: Wandering reporter Don Turner's camper was caught in a snowstorm as he headed back on the Denali Highway toward southeast Alaska. At Mile 63 on the highway, the weather was so bad his journey was temporarily called off.

Variety of Accidents in Area Reported to Sheriff's Dept.

Recent accidents reported in the area at the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department office include the injury of pedestrian Dennis E. Bauer at 11:20 p.m. on July 20 at Jackson Rd., near Wagner, in Scio township. Bauer was crossing the road apparently with his back partially to traffic. Due to his hearing condition, he did not notice the vehicle which Carl Clyde Clark was driving until it was too late. Clark did not see Bauer in the roadway due to Bauer's dark clothing. Although he attempted to swerve at the last second, Clark could not avoid striking Bauer with the left front of his vehicle. Bauer was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital by Superior Ambulance. Both driver and pedestrian are from Ann Arbor.

On Aug. 1 at 12:30 p.m. in Sharon township, John A. Harrison of Clinton and his passenger, Carl J. Woodward, also of Clinton, were driving south on M-52 near Pleasant Lake Rd. Harrison stated there was an object in the roadway which he swerved to miss on the right-hand side as there was a vehicle coming toward him he didn't want to hit. Harrison's car ran off the side of the road into a ditch throwing Woodward out of the passenger's side of the vehicle. The injured passenger was taken to Chelsea Medicenter.

Also on Aug. 1, at 11:45 p.m., in Lima township, Dewey G. Harris of Detroit, lost control of his vehicle while driving east on I-94, near Fletcher Rd. Harris stated he thought he saw something in the roadway and when he hit the brakes his vehicle went out of control and rolled over. The injured driver was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital by Superior Ambulance.

At the scene of Dewey Harris' accident, William A. Fuqua of Detroit, lost control of his vehicle a few minutes later, skidding into the car of Donald J. Strattow of Mt. Prospect, Ill., who was parked off the roadway assisting subjects injured in the previous accident.

On Aug. 2, at 3 p.m. in Sylvan township, James A. Kirk of 208 E. Middle, skidded in an attempt to avoid hitting an animal that ran in the way of the Honda 175 motorcycle he was driving on Kilmer Rd., near Kalmbach. Kirk was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where he is recovering from a broken knee.

Also on Aug. 2, at 3 a.m., in Lyndon township, on North Territorial, near Island Lake Rd., Donald Heck of Michigan Center, reached down to get his cigarette lighter which had dropped on the floor, causing him to lose control of his vehicle and fall to stop in assured distance.

On Aug. 2, at 5:24 p.m. in front of 13436 North Lake Dr., in Dexter township, Mesclue F. Davis of Ann Arbor drowned.

Dana Corp. Little Leaguers Face All-Stars Team Tonight

Dana Corp. is the champion team in the Little League this season with an almost perfect 7-1 record. Tonight, Aug. 6, they will take on the All-Stars, a team composed of four players from every other team.

Dana, coached by Hank Orbring, combined good pitching and outstanding hitting to run away with the league title. The All-Stars will be coached by George Heydlauff, Gary Cattell, Bob Kelly and Tom Morrison who all did a fine job coaching Little League teams this year.

Dana suffered its only defeat on July 27 at the hands of Frigid Products who upset them 8 to 6 in a well-fought hitting contest.

Undaunted by the previous night's defeat, Dana bounced back to blitz the Palmer T-Birds, 18-0, on July 28. Mike Fouty and "Moose" Murphy were credited with the shut-out which sent Dana on its way to three consecutive victories. If the T-Birds had been able to rout Dana in this game, they could have tied Dana for the championship instead of ending up in second place with a 6-2 record for the season.

Dana Corp.'s next two wins came on Aug. 3 when they defeated the Chelsea Jaycees, 12-6, and then on Aug. 4 when they downed Murphy's Barber Shop, 13-5, to wrap up the championship spot for themselves.

Against the Jaycees, Dana's Moose Murphy was the hitting star with a double, a triple and a home-run. Mike Fouty, the winning pitcher, also smashed a four-bagger. In their final game, Dana's Gary Wellnitz outpitched Murphy's Barber Shop pitcher, Kevin Kelly, in a good game. Murphy's Barber Shop earlier had won two consecutive games to give themselves a third place

4-4 standing in the league. The first victory came on July 27 when they defeated the Chelsea Jaycees by a score of 7 to 1. Murphy's came up with some good pitching as Kevin Kelly and John Daniels held the Jaycees to only two hits. Jeff Weber and Jamie Boyer led the Murphy hitting attack.

On July 28, Murphy's Barber Shop routed Frigid Products, 14-6. John Elliott smacked a triple for Murphy's Barber Shop, and Matt Heydlauff brought in two runs for Frigid Products with his triple.

Frigid Products did manage a victory at their next game on July 30 when they outran the Jaycees by a score of 4-3. It was probably the best showing of the season for the unlucky Jaycees who ended up in last place with an 0-8 record.

The Palmer T-Birds won three consecutive games on July 30, Aug. 3 and Aug. 4. They defeated Murphy's Barber Shop, 10-2, with a big rally in the second inning when the T-Birds brought in seven runs with the help of errors by their opponents. Dave Alber was the winner's leading hitter, and Brian McGibney was the pitcher for the victorious T-Birds.

In a well-played game for both sides, the Palmer T-Birds defeated Frigid Products, 8-6, on Aug. 3. This kept the T-Birds in contention for first place, but put Frigid Products in fourth place with a 3-5 record for the season.

Although the T-Birds won their last game on Aug. 4 against the Jaycees, they still couldn't surpass Dana Corp. who had also been victorious that evening. Palmer T-Birds routed the Jaycees, 16-3, in that last game with Mark Burnett leading the T-Birds in hitting by collecting three hits, including a grand-slam home-run. Dave Schaible and Jeff Sweet also hit well for the T-Birds. Both Dave Alber and Don Morrison pitched well for the T-Birds. Mike Kozminski led the Jaycees in a losing battle to gain at least one win for his team.

G. A. Sales Leads T-Ball League at 6-1

G. A. Sales & Service marched on toward first place by solidly winning their last three games in succession in T-Ball League play. They first defeated Chelsea State Bank on July 27 with a 16-8 victory. Steve Dresch belted a four-bagger and Mike Eisale hit a triple for the winners. In spite of Brian Kallish's three home runs, Chelsea State Bank still went down to their first of three consecutive defeats.

G. A. Sales' next game on July 30 resulted in a 22-10 victory over Spaulding Chevrolet. Still going strong, G. A. Sales' next triumphed Chelsea State Bank, 48-10, in their game Aug. 3. The high score was boosted by the mighty bat of Steve Dresch which produced three home runs for G. A. Sales. With this victory, G. A. Sales earned a 6-1 standing to lead the T-Ball League. Their final match will be tonight, Aug. 6 when they will meet Spaulding Chevrolet at the high school.

In other games, Spaulding Chevrolet routed Chelsea State Bank on July 28 by 37-6 with Doug Bowen supplying six hits for the winners. Spaulding then went on to smash Chelsea State Bank, 58 to 10, in their final meeting Aug. 4. Gary Ringe and Mike Wood each slugged seven hits for their winning team.

The high score set a new record for T-Ball play. It also gave Spaulding Chevrolet second place so far in T-Ball standings with a 3-4 record. Chelsea State Bank is third out of three teams with two wins and six losses.

The recently-created "Northern Line," consisting of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern railways, has 25,000 miles of tracks running into 18 states.

Blaess Elevator, Burgett Capture Softball Crowns

Behind Bill Pidd's superior pitching, the Blaess-Elevator team captured the "fast-pitch" softball championship. Dana was the only team to defeat the hard-hitting Blaess players.

Pidd was untouchable when he hurled his first no-hitter a week ago. Other teams finished in this order: The Pub, second; Dana, third; Wonderland Lumber, fourth; Zion Church, fifth; Grohner & Dunlavy, sixth; and A & W from Dexter, seventh.

R. O. Burgett ran away with the slow-pitch softball league, going undefeated. The rest of the league finished in the following order: Gambles, Independents, St. Paul Church, Chelsea Lumber.

TEACHER TOPICS

In response to many inquiries from the community regarding education in the Chelsea schools and a contract settlement, the Chelsea Education Association (CEA) will make available information through this new column.

The Chelsea Board of Education and the CEA are now trying to reach a settlement on re-opened items in the present contract.

Reaching agreement on a new contract or on re-opened parts of a multi-year pact involves the complex collective bargaining process. Collective bargaining is primarily made up of three steps: NEGOTIATION, MEDIATION, and FACT-FINDING. In some cases, compulsory arbitration is added.

NEGOTIATION, the first step, is a series of give and take meetings. Here each side bargains for attractive terms of employment. Often parties cannot reach agreement on several issues. When such lack of movement occurs, either side may request a state labor mediator.

MEDIATION begins when the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC) sends a mediator to the school district. The mediator's job is to draw a compromise solution from the dispute. He does so by separating the parties and carrying proposals, counter-proposals, and his own suggestions between the sides.

In the Chelsea school's situation, a mediator was requested by the CEA on June 27. Leo Cadwell, mediator from the Detroit MERC office, began mediation on Tuesday, July 21, at 2:30 p.m.

In this first meeting, held at the high school, Cadwell heard the areas of differences before adjourning the parties to separate rooms. In the discussions which followed, each side explained its position to Cadwell. After the second meeting was set for the following Tuesday at 7 p.m., this initial session ended.

By July 28, Cadwell had studied the case and the parties met in attempts to reach agreement through the mediator. In this five-hour session, many issues were discussed, but the major economic points remained outstanding. Both sides indicated that fact-finding should be entered into, and on July 29, the CEA filed with MERC for the appointment of a fact-finder.

FACT-FINDING It will be the role of the fact-finder to call for a public hearing in our school district. At this public hearing, each side will present evidence, witnesses, and arguments to support its position on the unresolved issues. After hearing the case, which may take several meetings, the fact-finder leaves to study the case.

Within 30 days, the fact-finder must present each party with a report proposing a workable solution to the dispute. It is a solution which both sides should be able to accept. If the fact-finder feels that a settlement might be reached before issuing a report, he may take on the role of a mediator before completing fact-finding.

BINDING ARBITRATION. As mentioned earlier, compulsory or binding arbitration may also be used to end the dispute. In this process, unresolved issues are presented to an arbitrator who hears both sides in the same manner as a fact-finder. The difference between binding arbitration and fact-finding is that the arbitrator's decision is final and must be accepted by both parties.

The CEA requested, at the July 13 School Board meeting, that two unresolved grievances be submitted to an arbitrator. The School Board has not formally answered the Association's request for binding arbitration. It should be noted that binding arbitration is the final step in solving most grievances under terms of the present contract. One of the two grievances, waiting to be heard by an arbitrator, is in regards to John Schaffner's position as head basketball coach.

Jackson County Fair Opens Sunday, Aug. 9

With less than one week remaining before opening day, the Jackson County Fairgrounds are a center of organized activity, with workmen busy putting the finishing touches on the display buildings, checking electrical connections, erecting directional signs and clearing the grounds for the many rides and games which will arrive later in the week.

These work crews have been hard at work for weeks to be sure that each harmoniously colored building, the 20,000 flowers, the fountains and waterfalls, the children's barnyard, the roadside park and the 1890 Main Street are ready to greet you and your family when you visit the fair.

At the same time, in hundreds of homes throughout the surrounding community there are men, women, and children working equally hard preparing their displays and exhibits or making final last minute plans for the operation of the many eating areas manned by various civic and church groups. Because that's what a county fair really is, a giant community get-together.

So, as you can see, Michigan's most beautiful fair is readying itself to welcome the thousands of visitors who will come through its gates Aug. 9 through Aug. 15, and with many new and innovative improvements for the convenience of the fairgoer, and the always well maintained and clean grounds, everyone will go home saying what visitors to the fair have been saying for years. The Jackson County Fair, "It's something else."

School Will Be Buying Used Books Instead of Selling This Year

Instead of selling books this year, the high school will be purchasing used books from students. The book store will be open on Aug. 18, 19, 20 and the school will pay cash for good, useable textbooks. There should be no writing of any kind in the books, and those with loose pages or covers will not be acceptable.

The following books will be new this year, and cannot be sold to the school: Government; French I and French II; Algebra II; General Biology; Chemistry.

Watch The Standard's next week for price announcements. Industrial use of electricity, called the most refined and ready-to-use source of energy today, normally accounts for about half of all of the electricity sold by the Detroit Edison Co.

ENJOY YOUR SUMMER LIVING

There is too much good fun to be had during the summer months to let it be interrupted because of carelessness. If you will follow the good advice in this bulletin you will have a more pleasant summer.

AVOID OVEREXPOSURE TO THE SUN

A good protective cream, plus a sensible going slow at first, is the best way to avoid a sunburn. Tan slowly and safely. This year we hope you will not have to buy anything to relieve the pain of a bad sunburn. We have many good sun protection products.

DO NOT OVER-EXERT IN HOT WEATHER

Heat or sunstroke are really dangerous. Drink plenty of water especially when perspiring very heavily. This will avoid dehydration. Keep a normal diet and do not either overdress or underdress.

BWARE OF FRECKLES AND BLOTCHES

In later years the cute freckled faced youngster is likely to become the leathery faced man and in turn this can develop into skin blotches. Blotches could be the beginning of a skin cancer and should be checked quickly if they occur.

HAVE A GOOD TIME

We hope our little message of advice helps you to a happier summer whether it be just at home or on a well-earned vacation. We carry a complete stock of vacation needs.

MT. MCKINLEY: A postcard shows the majestic highest peak of Mt. McKinley which Don Turner tried to land on with Bush pilot Don Sheldon. Inclement weather prevented them from gaining access to the 20,320 ft. glacier top in the week that Turner was there.

PARK ENTRANCE: The entrance to Mt. McKinley Park is marked by this large sign where Don Turner reports that it is like a big zoo except the animals run free and the people are restricted as to where they can go. The 87-mile long road through the park, marked a welcome relief for Turner who had been travelling on the Denali Highway, whose boulders make it a challenging obstacle course.

ICE PEOPLE
Within the frigid Arctic region live a million people, mostly Eskimos and reindeer herdsmen of Siberia and Europe.
Detroit Edison's gross plant investment rose to above the $2 billion mark early this year, and is expected to exceed $3 billion by 1973.

Turner Attempts Flying Visit To Mt. McKinley Glaciers

Don Turner dates his sixth letter July 19, from Paxson, Alaska. He writes:
Dear Readers:

Since my last article telling about my adventure to the Pribilof Islands and the fur seals, I haven't traveled very far, but have been fighting the weather somewhat.

I left Anchorage on July 6, headed down to Palmer in the Matanuska Valley, then actually west to the small community of Talkeetna some 80 miles from Palmer. There I contacted the Talkeetna Flying Service. Don Sheldon, the owner, is a famous bush pilot.

You see, I wanted to fly to Mt. McKinley for some close-up pictures of the mountain. Mt. McKinley, the highest mountain on the North American continent, is quite a fascinating subject for many people throughout the world. Quite a number of people from different parts of the world try to climb the mountain each year and the mountain has claimed a number of lives of those who have challenged her highest summit of 20,320 feet.

Don Sheldon flies a Cessna 180 equipped with wheels and skis and lands on the glaciers at an elevation of 7,500 feet. He ferries skiers, climbers and sightseers to that altitude and supplies their base camp by landing at that level.

He agreed to take me along so I could make pictures of the snowcapped peaks and the huge glaciers as well as the climbers and skiers. But old man weather pulled a no-no. I was posed for a week ready to go at a moment's notice if the weather was right, but every day Don Sheldon and I started out in the Cessna 180 and we could go just so far and the fog, snow, and storms turned us back at the same spot. Violent wind gusts bounced the small plane around somewhat and at times it was just a bit uncomfortable as we were just a few feet above some of the lower mountain peaks and some of the down drafts seemed to drop the plane several feet, something like being in a fast elevator.

But Don Sheldon, the pilot, is one of the best in the business and knows every mountain peak in the area so I decided not to have been uneasy. On one occasion after flying several miles up the glacier to find it fogged in, we came back a different route and flew over what Don called "Moose Meadows." Here I could see moose in any direction I looked. "Eight" "Big" fellows stood in one herd so I could photograph them all at one time as we skimmed along over them. They seemed not to be afraid of the plane and just stood looking up at us. Moose Meadows is so far removed from civilization that few hunters get in to that area which probably accounts for their great number.
After a week at Talkeetna with the rain beating down on my camper roof, I was about ready to climb the walls. So I gave up and drove around on the other side of Mt. McKinley over the Denali Highway that connects with the Richardson Highway at the village of Paxson.

The Denali Highway runs for 163 miles from Paxson to the Mt. McKinley National Park entrance and is a real rough gravel road. I think it should be renamed "The Boulder Highway" as it is made up of rocks, some the size of a car wheel with smaller rocks clunked in around the big ones and a little finer stuff spread over that. The thousands of vehicles that go over this highway each year grind up the fine stuff on top with the wind blowing it away, leaving only the rocks sticking up to a height of about six inches. This is what one bounces around over for 163 miles. The maintenance crews are doing their best to make it as smooth as possible but they don't have much they can smooth out.

Don't let me discourage anyone in driving this highway, it's not so bad if you slow down to 25 to 30 miles per hour and duck as many rocks as you can you will make it. From the entrance of the park to the far end is 87 miles of smoother road which is maintained by the Federal Government. That probably accounts for it being in better condition.

Upon reaching the park, I found it raining as hard as on the other side and hundreds of people were in the park looking for the mountain that just wasn't there. Since May the mountain has been visible from within the park only twice, so I guess this is a bad year to see it.

I spent four days there looking for wildlife, and saw quite a bit, considering the weather. I saw several big moose herds and caribou, seven large grizzly bears, and lots of bird life. Mt. McKinley National Park is like a big zoo, only the animals run wild and the people are restricted as to where they can go. Some of the big Toklat, grizzly bears are mean, and have mauled several people in recent years so you have to get special permission from the National Park Rangers to hike in the mountains. You are not allowed to carry any firearms, while in the park, and a bear gets after you, you have had it unless you can outrun him. One crossed the road in front of me one day and I shot a fast Polaroid picture as he went running by. (See picture.) It was raining hard at the time so the picture didn't come out too plainly as I shot through the windshield of the camper.

At the far end of Mt. McKinley Park, in fact a mile beyond the park boundary, is a privately owned camp called Camp Denali. This camp is one I would recommend if one wants to get away from it all. It is remote, but so well situated on a high slope that you can get one of the best views of Mt. McKinley of any place I know of. Camp Denali gets its name from the nature word "denali" meaning "the high one" as they call Mt. McKinley. Camp Denali is owned and operated by Ginny Wood and Celia Hunter. (See picture.) These two ladies are real naturalists and can lead your party anywhere you want to go in the area with the answers to anything you want to ask about the area. They seem to carry an air of the true Alaskan pioneer.

The camp is not modern and you are housed in these small cabins with no plumbing or running water, but they are comfortable. (See picture.) You carry your own water and you can rent what is known as a tent from where you can do your own cooking or you can eat your meals in the dining room where they are served family style. Good, wholesome food. There is no electricity or any motors running to remind you of civilization, no telephones, or juke boxes, only a ham radio for emergency use. So if one wants to get away from it all, I suggest you contact Camp Denali.

I had quite a chat with Ginny and Celia and they told me all about the camp and what you can expect while there. Someday I hope I can go back and spend a week or two there. The address is Camp Denali, Box D, College, Alaska.

After wandering around the park in the constant rain, I finally gave up and headed back over the Denali Highway and to my surprise I ran into a blinding snow storm at mile 68 on the highway. The ground was covered with snow and it snowed so hard I couldn't see to drive and had to stop several times. (See picture.) I am headed now for southeast Alaska and will include that in my next article.

Your wandering reporter,
Don Turner.

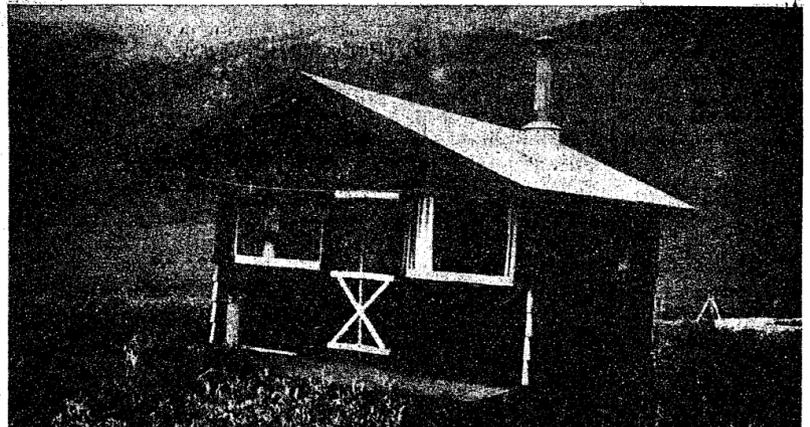

CAMP DENALI OWNERS: Ginny Wood and Celia Hunter are the owners of Camp Denali, a camp Don Turner recommends if you "just want to get away from it all." Ginny and Celia are two rugged Alaskan ladies with the air of true pioneers, according to Don Turner.

ALASKAN GRIZZLY: Don Turner is able to snap a quick shot of the dangerous Toklat grizzly bear in front of his camper at Mt. McKinley Park. The rain and general bad weather made good photography difficult.

CAMP DENALI: Don Turner's stop at Camp Denali just outside of Mt. McKinley Park, impressed him with its fine view of the mountain. He hopes to return there someday for a longer visit.

THE PRESIDENTIAL SUITE: One of the comfortable cabins at Camp Denali which lacks modern conveniences such as plumbing and running water. But Don Turner found the camp a nice escape.

John S. Dickson Joins Navy as Part Of 'Tiger Company'

John S. Dickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis F. Dickson, 623 Flanders, was among the 70 Michigan men who were sworn into the Navy on Wednesday, Aug. 5, at Tiger Stadium during ceremonies preceding the Detroit-Washington game.

Dickson, a 1968 graduate of Chelsea High school, will be part of "Tiger Company" as the Navy group will be known throughout recruit training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.

Following the game, designated "Navy Night" by the Detroit Baseball Co., the members of the Tiger group departed by bus for the Naval Training Center.

The group was the sixth annual Tiger Company, of which two have become honor companies.

Magician Mark Wilson brings his "Magic Land of Allakazam" to the 1970 Michigan State Fair. It will be a daily Grandstand feature during the fair, which opens Aug. 23 and runs through Sept. 7 at the Fairgrounds in Detroit.
