Monday Vote Set on Village Bond Issue

Approval Sought on $500,000 Project For Sewer System Improvement

Next Monday, Sept. 21, residents of the village will be asked to vote for a $500,000 sewer improvement bond issue.

Council members feel that the bond market is swinging in the village's favor and that if the voters approve the bond issue the village will be in a position to sell the bonds at an interest rate more favorable to the village than has been possible in the recent past.

The money would be used to alleviate overload condition in the existing sewer system. On the east branch, construction of a 27 inch main from the sewage treatment plant to Freer Rd. and Dexter-Chelsea Rd. would be the first work done.

Village Council members urge the voters to approve the proposed bond issue, so needed improvement to the existing sewer system may be made in the near future.

On the west branch it is proposed to construct the first priority portion as designed by Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout, consulting engineers for the Village sewer system.

Council Briefs

At a regular session of the Chelsea Village Council Tuesday evening present were President Fulks, Clerk Harvey, Administrator Weber, Trustees Miller, Gorton, Musbach, Dmoch, Boylan, and Chandler.

Two area Boy Scouts were present and requested suggestions on projects that they might undertake that would benefit the community.

GOP Ox Roast Held Sunday Despite Rain

If it wasn't the monsoon season out of the Delhi Metropolitan Park last Sunday, then many of the Republicans at the local, district, state and national level would be afraid it might be the forerunner of the Delhi monsoon.

The rain was consistent, although not heavy, throughout the Republican Ox Roast which began at 1 p.m. and continued until 6 p.m. officially.

Governor William Milliken spoke to the group from beneath a large umbrella, usually employed to protect people from the sun's rays, but on Sunday used as a shield from the constant drizzle.

State Senator Gilbert Bursley was on hand to enjoy the fine food and talk politics with fellow Republicans at the Ox Roast.

Congressman Marvin Esch sent representatives from his staff, but was not able to attend personally.

Other prominent political figures spotted at the gathering included State Representative Tom Sharpe, and State Representative Roy Smith of Ypsilanti.

Football Team Opens Season Friday Night at Stockbridge

Chelsea High school football team met three other schools in a scrimmage Friday night, Sept. 11 at the high school field.

The event, which started at 6 p.m. and ended around 9:30 p.m., answered many questions for coaches.

The varsity scrimmage lasted 1 1/2 hours, with Chelsea facing each of the participating teams.

Chelsea's varsity team opens the 1970 season on this Friday, Sept. 18, at Stockbridge.

Power Failure Hits Waterloo Early Sunday

A power failure that occurred in the village of Waterloo, Sunday morning, Sept. 13, left 1,287 homes without power between the hours of 12:07 a.m., and 3:40 a.m.

Tom Seelman, operations manager for Consumer Power Co., Jackson, reported Tuesday, that the failure was apparently caused by a faulty line near Waters St. and Waterloo Rd. in Waterloo.

Consumers Power rectified the problem in 83 minutes, but added that the 3 1/2 hour stretch of time in which area homes were without power, involved the time it took to find the problem, and so on.

Library Begins Winter Evening Hours Schedule

Winter library evening hours begin Monday, Sept. 21 at the McKune Memorial Library.

Valuables Lost In Bag Dumped With Rubbish

Once upon a time (or was it only three weeks ago?), Mr. and Mrs. Willard Willis, from Flat Rock, who spend their summers at Sugar Loaf Lake, and have for many, many years, decided that they should move their valuable papers, car registrations, stocks and bonds, house deeds, titles, and many other valuables, to a safety deposit box in town.

So they collected all their valuable papers, and some possessions, and put them in a big plastic bag. Somehow, they never got to the bank, and the papers were accidentally thrown out, by some well meaning soul who thought the bag was part of the rubbish disposal.

All that happened three weeks ago. With alarm, the couple discovered the error last Saturday and tried to rectify it.

They notified Lyndon township supervisor George Bauer, and village administrator Frederick Weber, and obtained their permission to search the village landfill on Werkner Rd. With the help of a dozen neighbors and friends, the Willises spent approximately 2 1/2 hours at the landfill with the Village Payloader, searching through the now deeply buried rubbish and garbage, for their valuable papers.

Despite all the help and sympathy from the village, and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Willis never found their parcel of papers.

They left their summer home at 1200 Sugar Loaf Lake this week and returned to their home in Flat Rock where Mrs. Willis is an assistant principal, in the Flat Rock Schools and her husband is employed by Great Lakes Steel. They plan to spend the winter trying to replace those papers which were lost.

Fact Finder's Report Okayed By Board, CEA

Acceptance By Both Parties Called Move Toward Era of Labor Peace

Chelsea Education Association met Tuesday, Sept. 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the UAW Hall. The meeting, which was a general membership meeting, was held to discuss the fact finder's report, and to read the report issued that day by the Chelsea Board of Education.

It was the unanimous decision of the CEA to accept the fact finder's report, and to abide by the provisions in it.

The meeting was brief, ending shortly after 8 p.m., as there were very few questions concerning the fact finder's report.

Ratification of the teacher's contract will take place, according to Mrs. Brown, as soon as the mechanics are ironed out.

Mrs. Brown commented further that "the teachers are very happy, generally, with their teaching situations in the school, and are delighted that there will be no interruptions of the school year."

WCC Evening Classes Set at Chelsea High

Washtenaw Community College registration for evening extension courses has been extended to include the school week of Sept. 21-25.

Classes scheduled for organizational meetings this week are: Thursday, Sept. 17 (Can also register Sept. 24)—Political Parties and Pressure Groups 230, a 3 credit hour course to be taught by Dean David Pollock.

Monday, Sept. 21—Fundamental of Speaking 100, a three credit hour course to be taught by Dr. David Ponitz, WCC president.

Wednesday, Sept. 23—English Composition III a three credit hour transfer course. Instructor is Jean Stock.

All classes will meet between 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. in Room 111 in Chelsea High school. Any students with questions concerning any aspect of the WCC extension program may call Mrs. Stock at 475-7851.

Police Sgt. McCormick In Hospital for Surgery

Chelsea Police Sergeant David McCormick has been in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital this past week. He entered the hospital Sunday, Sept. 13, and underwent surgery Monday, Sept. 14.

Sgt. McCormick hopes to be out of the hospital by today, Thursday, Sept. 17, and plans to be back on the force next week.

Chelsea Schools Business Manager Fred Mills and Superintendent Charles Cameron received the decision of fact finder George Roumell at his law office in Detroit at 6 p.m. Sunday evening, Sept. 13.

Copies were made for each member of the Board of Education, and the report was made available to the CEA.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held Monday night, Sept. 14 to discuss the report.

The following is the Board's decision concerning the report, and the Chelsea schools teacher dispute. It was released to The Standard, Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 15 by Business Manager Mills.

"After a lengthy meeting, discussion and a long hard look at the fact finder's recommendations as presented, and desiring to enter into an era of labor peace and tranquility in the interest of the students of the Chelsea School District, the Board of Education unanimously, though reluctantly, accepted the recommendations of the fact finder.

"This report can pave the way for a new labor-management atmosphere in the Chelsea School District. The board feels that these recommendations, while not totally satisfactory to it, can nevertheless serve as a basis for an improved atmosphere in the Chelsea School District."

The full text of the fact finder's report is printed on pages 12 and 13 of this week's issue of The Standard.

Both the Board of Education and the CEA indicated during the fact finding sessions that they felt that George Roumell was an effective, and a very thorough fact finder.

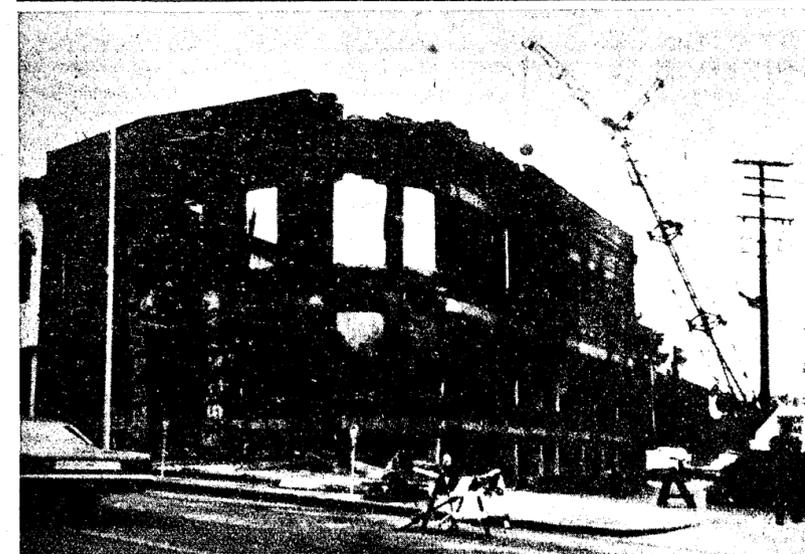

B. Wengren Wins Cross Country Mile in Detroit

Bonnie Wengren, Chelsea's lady track star, took first place in the girls division of the mile run, Saturday afternoon, Sept. 12, at Lipke Center, in Detroit, at the Lipke Invitational Cross Country meet. There were 15 other girls participating in the event.

On Saturday, Sept. 19, she will travel to St. Louis, Mo., where she will participate in a two-mile cross country run against some of the best girl runners in the country. As many as 100 girls could participate in the event.

The race will be the first time Bonnie will run two miles in a race, so it will be a good test for her racing skills.

"At last Saturday's race, Miss Wengren ran the mile in 5:33. Cross country times are higher than track times, as the participants must run over rough terrain.

BURNED-OUT BUILDING RAZED: And the walls came tumbling down as the wrecking crew came, Tuesday, Sept. 15, to the former Frigid Products building, 113 N. Main St., to knock down the remains of what was once a lovely Victorian building. A new Heydloff's Appliance store will be built on the spot, as soon as the walls come down and the rubble is moved away.

GEORGE PALMER (left), president of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, presents a Certificate of Appreciation to Earl Heller, of Heller Electric, at the Monday evening, Sept. 14 meeting. Heller contributed his time to help install the new lights at the football field and provided the fixtures through his suppliers at below wholesale cost for the Kiwanis-sponsored project. The Certificate of Appreciation is in recognition of his efforts.

More Poison?
 Some experts on pollution feel the recent furor over mercury pollution is just the beginning of a major problem.

State Health Director Dr. Maurice Reizen sums up their feelings with the statement: "I think we've only seen the tip of the iceberg with chemical pollution."

"How many other poisons such as cyanide and arsenic are floating in the water?" he asks. "Who knows?"

"One thing is certain. We can't become complacent about this problem. It's a very real threat."

Even if no more pollution similar to the mercury contamination were discovered, it still would take years to clean up the situation.

Officials say they don't have enough information on the subject to make concrete predictions.

"The best we can do is draw upon the experience in other states and countries," says William Turney, assistant chief engineer in the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

"In Sweden, for example, some biologists believe it may be tens of years before their inland lakes clear up."

Turney doubts, however, that it will take that long to clear up the mercury pollution in Lakes St. Clair, Huron and Erie and the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers, if the contaminated waters are not flushed out by a large river system. "This flushing action will act in favor of helping the problem," he said.

Gov. William G. Milliken has said the ban on eating fish from the St. Clair area may go on "for years and years and years" because of the pollution's toxicity.

Mercury has a long life inside the human body, or other living creatures once it is taken into the system.

"The metal has a half life of 70 days. This means the body expels half the mercury in it in a 70-day period. In the next 70-day period it expels half the remaining mercury, and so on.

As a result, the body never gets completely rid of it and any person on a steady diet of mercury continually is building up the amount of it in his body.

Mercury has a slow, but deadly, effect if it is built up to too high a dosage. It destroys brain cells one by one. Early symptoms involve fatigue and loss of memory. It is carried far enough, the condition, known as Minamata Disease, produces a human vegetable who eventually dies.

Rustlers Operate
 Rustlers still exist in Michigan, say state officials, though now they're going after things other than the traditional cow.

Not long ago, three men were caught stripping the weathered hemlock siding from isolated area barns.

Much of the lumber, which sells at a premium price to interior decorators, has disappeared from the area.

Ed Chandler, a drayman here from 1888 until his recent retirement, said he came to live in Chelsea in 1885, and the freight house was there then. The heavy planking and beams of the old building are still oak.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

Dear Mister Editor:
 Bug Hookum told the fellows at the country store Saturday night that high on the long list of things he don't understand in this world is insurance. He said he had thought the situation up one side and down the other about the store owner that got his shipment of clothes stole and he was of the mind that the biggest crooks in the story is the insurance company.

Bug said the big trouble with insurance is that it ain't. It is like this country's civil defense set up, it looks good and it give us a nice feeling of being protected, but down deep we all know that when the time comes it won't work. The little pig's straw house worked fine till the wolf came along, was Bug's words.

Nobody thinks life insurance protects agin dying, allowed Bug, but the idee is if we got some we can do our folks one last favor by doing it. Life insurance is pritty cut and dried, Bug said, cause a feller is betting he won't live long, the company is betting he will, and both is hoping the company wins.

The kind of insurance that's bugging Bug is where judgement is involved. With life insurance, a man is alive or dead and they ain't much question, but insurance on cars, agin getting bad sick but not dying, agin acts of God and man on property, agin being robbed or burnt out or otherwise done in by yore feller man, Bug allowed, is jest a way to make sure the insurance companies wind up owning everything and running the country.

If you got car insurance and you git in a wreck, the company either cancels yore policy or shoots yore rate out of sight so's you might as well of paid the damage in the first place. Actual, Bug said, it's getting to the place where it's cheaper fer a feller not to file a claim. If you got insurance on yore house and you file more than one damage claim ever 10 year, the company cancels, went on Bug.

The fellows were general agreed with Bug that the only thing insurance insures is that the insurance company will give their first, and if the pore feller that pays ever month gets his at all it will be the hard way, like hiring lawyers and wading through the quicksand of the court like the store owner that got his clothes stole.

Ed Doolittle put the stopper in the insurance jug, Mister Editor. He said it is true that living insurance companies, rich living Government, Government contractors and lawyers has got locks on this country, and the locks has got so many combinations till all a feller can do is hold his nose and pay his taxes and his premiums.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

 Members of the congregation of the St. Paul United Church of Christ held their last meeting in the church on Summit St., Sunday, Sept. 18, before moving into their new church building, at 14600 Old US-12. The new building has been under construction since May, 1965, and has yet some things to be done to it before it is "finished." St. Paul church has existed in one form or another since the year 1854, when a German pioneer, the Rev. Friedrich Schmid, a missionary began holding services for five area families.

The Chelsea Outdoor Nature Lab received a check for $1,034.61, Monday, Sept. 20. The money came from the U.S. Department of Agriculture for a nature lab on the grounds of the new Junior High school which is now under construction. The money is for an agreement called "Greenspan." The "Greenspan" program is designed to shift land into public recreation and similar uses beneficial to the public. The federal grant is to help the school district purchase eight acres for the outdoor lab.

A centennial farm located at 18320 North Territorial Rd., has been converted into an apple orchard by the third generation of the family. The Chelsea cent owner of the property, planted 1,000 trees on his site in 1962. Webb, a dentist, planted the orchard with homes toward retiring to the site. This is the first real crop from the apples since they were planted. The farm has been in the Webb family for more than 100 years.

 Thursday, Sept. 19, 1946—
 Remodeling done at The Chelsea Standard offices at 108 E. Middle St., were completed this week, in the 76th year of the paper. The remodeling job was started in June 1945, and involved an addition of some 500 extra feet of floor space, and some interior improvements. New equipment, ordered in 1945, was just delivered after numerous delays. The mechanical department was completely rearranged for a more complete working arrangement, and fluorescent lighting was installed throughout the plant. New office furniture, which has been on order for more than a year, has yet to be delivered.

Grade school enrollment is so large this year in the Chelsea public school that it has been necessary to arrange two half-day sessions for kindergarten, and first grade. Kindergarten has formerly been forenoon only so the decision to have an afternoon class will not influence the program for the group. It will be necessary however, to sacrifice specialized musical instruction in the first three grades as the kindergarten teacher will not now be able to devote time to do it. The problem of overcrowding in the first grade is much more complicated. The school building is crowded, and every available space for classroom work is in use. There are not enough books and instructional materials on hand for the entire grade. It is evident that the enrollment in our schools is constantly growing, and that the overcrowding is not a temporary condition. The enrollment has increased by 41 percent since 24 years ago.

Is your home going to turn into a desert this winter?
 A lot of homes will.

In wintertime, people in houses with flame-type heating wake up mornings with that stuffed-up feeling. With hoarse, dry throats. Furniture dries out and starts creaking. Sound familiar? You bet it does. The best way to stop it is with electric heat.

You see, electric heat isn't a dry or drying heat. So you usually don't need a humidifier. The moisture from bathing and cooking is all you need for natural comfort.

An Edison-Approved Electric Heating Contractor will be glad to tell you all about comfortable electric heat. He'll figure your operating cost, and explain the guarantee. And now, your contractor's offering a $100 trade-in on your old heating system. Call him for a no-obligation electric heat survey. Look in the Yellow Pages under "Electric Heating—Equipment and Systems." He'll show you how to turn your desert into an oasis.

THANK YOU Paul Maurer wishes to thank all the wonderful people who sent flowers, food, gifts, cards, candy, and their warmest wishes during his recent stay in the hospital and at home.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank all our friends and neighbors who sent flowers, food, and sympathy during our recent bereavement over the loss of our sister, Louise Hubbert. Also, thanks to North American Rockwell who sent flowers to the Methodist Home during her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cross. CARD OF THANKS Many thanks to all the people who sent cards, flowers, and gifts for our 25th wedding anniversary. You helped make it a truly memorable occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Koengeter. CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank all of our relatives, friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy. Also Pastor Morris for his comforting words during our recent bereavement.

The Family of Bertha Horning

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMER From Mrs. Ray Haide, Branson, Missouri: I remember when we made apple butter in a big open kettle right out in the orchard, stirring it with a big wooden paddle, pouring it into open-top stone jars which are sealed with hot paraffin.

We ordered coffee and rice and most of our staples from the Sears Roebuck catalogue.

When the grocery wagon came around once a week with staples and a few goodies.

When you paid your grocery bill (quarterly) and the kids received a bag of candy.

When you opened up the parlor off for company.

When the deep snow covered the fence posts.

When one took a bath in the wash tub behind the old kitchen stove.

Smelling fresh hot bread when you came home from school, hungry as a wolf.

Having the cat sit up on its haunches with its mouth open, waiting for you to squirt milk in it.

The smell of fresh-baked bread and Johnny Cake.

Boating Safety Course Scheduled To Start Sept. 21

Any skipper, first mate or interested person is urged to enroll in the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary "Basic Seamanship" course. Held weekly at Red Cross Headquarters on Packard Rd., the first class will meet Monday, Sept. 21 at 7:30 p.m.

Taught by members of Flotilla XII-19, each a specialist in his area, the course is designed to meet the needs of all boaters. Included in the course are such topics as Manuevering, Rules of the Road, Charts and Compass, Aids to Navigation, Safety Afloat and Marlinspike. A nominal charge is made to offset the cost of materials.

Your life and the lives of your family and passengers depends upon the safe handling of your craft. This is why the Coast Guard Auxiliary feels it is important for you to enroll in this class. For further information or registration, contact Commander Aram S. Walker at 434-0052 or Tom Mollett at 971-5300.

Businessmen shouldn't take the game of golf too seriously—or any other recreational game for that matter.

REV. C. WALTON FITCH

Pleasant Lake Man Seeks WCC Trustee Position

Thomas S. Roberts of 11485 Pleasant Shore Dr., Manchester, has announced his candidacy for the position of Washtenaw Community College Trustee.

Roberts is the president of Ann Arbor based Masterco Press, Inc., a publisher of business, finance and management books. Additionally, he is active as a consultant to industry in the areas of management, training and organizational planning through Thomas S. Roberts Associates.

From 1963 to 1969 he was associated with the University of Michigan's Bureau of Industrial Relations where he rose to the position of director, courses division. During this period, he was intimately associated with all phases of a wide variety of nationally known business-oriented training programs. He has also been a high school teacher in rural Maine and held posts in industry.

Roberts has been a Washtenaw county resident since 1962 and belongs to the American Society for Training and Development. In announcing his candidacy Roberts said, "WCC faces the most critical and difficult problems of a young growing institution in the coming years. Attaining the proper balance of curriculum, funding, and planning and growth policies will demand deep consideration and careful experimentation by Trustees and administrators."

"Historically, WCC has a commitment to vocational-technical or practical skills education. It is essential that this orientation not be sacrificed. Gov. Rhodes' recent state-wide study in Ohio showed that over 80 percent of the available jobs did not require college degrees, but they did require specific skills training for satisfactory performance."

"In other words, we are dealing here with the kind of education that can and should provide the job skills training most needed. As a resident of the rural area, this point is of principal importance. Many of our youth have neither the funds nor the interests required for a four-year college education. These young men and women do, however, seek a wide variety of skills training as well as the specialized training needed to deal with the increasingly complicated and sophisticated agri-business machinery and techniques. Heretofore the interests of this large group have not been represented."

"As we campaign during the coming weeks, I will present a series of statements dealing with areas such as co-operative industry training programs, salvaging high school dropouts and the financial picture in relation to our community college."

New Pastor For St. James, St. Barnabas

The Rev. C. Walton Fitch and his family will arrive Sept. 30 to take up residence in the rectory of St. James Episcopal church on Broad St., in Dexter. Fr. Fitch will be in charge of the combined parishes of St. James, Dexter and St. Barnabas, Chelsea.

Fr. Fitch was born in Washington, D. C., and grew up in Washington, Fairfax county in Virginia, Chicago, and New York. He attended Cornell University and the University of Illinois, earning a degree in history and political science. He earned his MA degree at Seabury Western Theological Seminary.

Fr. Fitch comes from Christ church, Ottawa, Ill., where he has been pastor for 10 years. During this time he was a member of the Diocesan Council four years, and served as chairman of the Advisory Commission on Armed Forces of the Diocese of Chicago. He served in the army from 1942 to 1945 spending 22 months in Europe with the 28th Division of the 112th Infantry. He was in the Active Reserves until 1963, retiring as a major from the Chaplain Corps. Prior to entering theological school, Fr. Fitch was employed for several years in the advertising department of International Harvester Co.

Fr. Fitch is married to the former Mary Squier Chapman of Champaign, Ill. Their young daughter, Emily Louise, will be attending Bates Elementary school in Dexter.

Many compliments are untruths, and that makes them even more enjoyable.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT How old is old? A 5 year-old may think grandma is old at 45. Grandma, perhaps herself, showing signs of gray, rarely refers to her gay mother at 65 as old, or even getting old. When obituaries show names of friends aged 65 to 70, often you hear, "Gee, he wasn't so old." At age 80, one often hears, "getting up there in years." Clothes are made to make one look young (excepting certain styles at times). Cosmetics create a youthful glow from head to toe. Wrinkle erasers (do they really work?), can be bought. These are physical fallacies about age to support another fallacy, "you are as old as you feel." So again, — how old is old? General Douglas MacArthur, at age 75, answered it this way: "Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old only by deserting their ideals. Years may wrinkle the skin but to give up interest wrinkles the soul." Come to think of it, his definition is good advice. (Incidentally, we like advice from time to time. Whether you agree or disagree with what you read here, write to us any time you wish.) BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone GR 5-4141.

Group of Young People Volunteer Help for Methodist Home Residents

Twenty-three Chelsea young people proved this summer that American youth are mature, responsible, caring, individuals. These people volunteered to spend hours visiting and aiding the residents of the Chelsea United Methodist Home. Some of them spent up to 10 hours a week at the Home for a period of 2½ months.

The summer program, which was sponsored and directed by Mrs. V. O. Johnson, wife of the administrator of the Home, and Richard L. Clemans, director of program service and chaplain of the Home, sought volunteers through churches, and an article in The Standard. The first youths to volunteer brought friends, and the program snowballed, as those friends became active. Volunteers worked with adult volunteers and members of the Home staff.

The volunteer program focused on the two floors of residents who were under medical care. People living on these floors needed help doing many daily tasks. The young people helped them to do these things, at the same time, visiting with them, and cheering them.

They helped the residents with crafts projects, and took them for walks and wheelchair rides in the summer air. There was much singing at the Home this summer, participated in by residents and volunteers alike. The young people soon learned some of the old favorite hymns, and the residents learned some fun songs from the youths.

Occasionally the group would get together to play games and have a party. The young people brought the residents from their rooms, and all had a gay time. Last, but certainly not least, the volunteers spent much time visiting with the residents. The visits gave both the volunteers and the residents a chance to talk and get acquainted with each other.

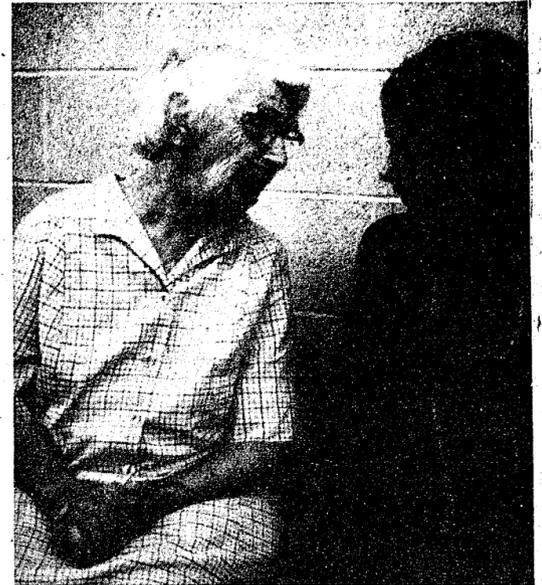

The names of the people who helped out at the Home this summer are: Joanne Schneider, Merry Hoffmeyer, Becky Clemans, Darlene Robbins, Karen Schafer, Kathryn Schafer, Diane Robbins, Brian McGibney, David Clemans, David Crissman, Jane Knott, Sheryl Cantrell, Debbie Conklin, Pam Blackwell, Cindy Turcott, Kathy Hart, Marsha McGibney, Julie Skittenhelm, Peggy Kraai, Becky Kraai, Jon Lewis, John Wagner, and Curt Umstead.

MRS. LOUISE LOFFT and Brenda Clemans match wits at an afternoon checker game. From the pile of chips in Mrs. Lofft's lap, it looks as if experience counts a great deal in this game.

BECKY KRAAI gives Albert Moehn a helping "push" around the grounds of the Chelsea United Methodist Home. Moehn was one of many residents at the Home who benefited in countless little ways from the efforts of the young people of the town.

DARLENE ROBBINS (right) listens attentively to lively chatter from Mrs. Rosella Hyslop, at one of the frequent, informal parties given at the Methodist Home this summer.

DIANE ROBBINS (left) and Mrs. Francis Lower raise a Kool-Aid toast to the bridging of the generation gap. From the expressions on their faces, it doesn't look as if it was all that difficult to do!

KAREN SCHAFER gives Mrs. Martha Morgan a summer afternoon ride in the fresh air at the Chelsea United Methodist Home. Karen was one of 23 young people from Chelsea to volunteer her time to the Home this summer, to perform just such tasks as these. This is true "service with a smile." In the background is Mrs. Gladys Hooker.

Priest Convicted of Destroying Draft Records Speaks on TV

East Lansing—"Net Journal" interviews the Rev. Daniel J. Berrigan, the fugitive priest convicted of destroying draft records to protest the war in Vietnam, on "Father Dan Berrigan: The Holy Outlaw," Sunday, Sept. 20, at 4:30 p.m. and Friday, Sept. 25, at 11:30 a.m. on WMSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television.

Father Berrigan, a 49-year-old Jesuit and poet, was one of the so-called "Catonsville Nine" who destroyed draft files on May 17, 1968, at the Selective Service Office in Catonsville, Md., by burning them with home-made napalm. Also among the nine persons arrested and convicted was Berrigan's brother, the Rev. Philip F. Berrigan, who is now serving a six-year sentence.

The two refused to surrender last April 9 to serve their sentences after their appeals had been rejected by the Supreme Court. Father Philip Berrigan was arrested by the FBI on April 21, and his brother was captured by FBI agents on Aug. 11.

In the interviews, Father Berrigan expresses the view that peaceful protests have not been effective in ending the war and that persons with respected positions in society must risk their lives and their careers in performing acts that bring them into conflict with the law. Father Berrigan also states that a person who commits civil disobedience to protest injustice is not morally obligated to submit to authorities.

RAGTIME—

Eighty-seven-year-old Ebbie Blake, a ragtime composer and performer for more than 70 years; sings, plays and reminisces with his long-time friend Max Morath on "Do You Wanna Hear Some Ragtime?" Sunday, Sept. 20, at 2:30 p.m. and Monday, Sept. 21, at 11:30 a.m.

Considered "the most active, honored, and influential living member of the original ragtimers," Blake performs some of the tunes highlighting his musical career—"Charleston Rag," "I'm Just Wild About Harry," "You're Gonna Be My Baby," "Stars and Stripes Forever Rag," "Spanish Venue" and "Lovey Joe."

HEALTH—

"Consultation," a series of programs informing viewers of vital and timely health topics, premieres Tuesday, Sept. 22, at 12:30 p.m. Using a discussion-documentary format, the programs cover such diverse topics as hair loss, plastic surgery, cancer, suicide and oral surgery. Each program in this "health column of the air" features advice and information from covers Ellington's activities during his profession.

BACH AND ROCK—

The New York and Roll Ensemble and the Boston Pops investigate both Bach and Rock on "Evening at Pops," Sunday, Sept. 20, at 10 p.m.

The ensemble performs some of its own compositions, including "King Is Dead," a piece written in memory of Dr. Martin Luther King. The Pops, under the direction of Arthur Fiedler, performs Mozart, Rimsky-Korsakov, the Beatles and music from "Hair." Together, the Pops and the Ensemble give special treatment to Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 5.

DUKE ELLINGTON—

"NET Festival" follows the great musician Duke Ellington on the road, into the dressing room and on stage on "Duke Ellington: Love You Madly," Sunday, Sept. 20 at 3:30 p.m. and Tuesday, Sept. 22, at 11:30 a.m.

The hour-long documentary film covers a four-week period in the San Francisco Bay area when, with his famous orchestra, he was performing at Basin Street West, a nightclub in San Francisco's North Beach; writing music for his first Sacred concert to be presented at Grace Cathedral on Nob Hill; and preparing to appear at the Monterey Jazz Festival.

The film interweaves these three principal performances with observations, commentaries, philosophical statements and reminiscences made by the Duke in his suite in the Fairmont Hotel, his dressing room at the nightclub and on the road.

Special guests appearing in the broadcast are Earl "Fatha" Hines, Dizzy Gillespie, Russell Procope, Bunny Briggs and Jon Hendricks.

SINGING—

Mezzo-soprano Sandra Finn sings Fünf Neapolitanische Lieder—Five Neapolitan Songs—by Hans Werner Henze on "Recital Hall," Wednesday, Sept. 23, at 7 p.m.

Miss Finn is a native of Flint and holds the bachelor's and master's degrees in music from Michigan State. She is accompanied on this program at the piano by Charles Greenwell. Gean Greenwell reads the five 17th century Neapolitan poems on which the songs are based.

GIFT REQUEST

The Asmat, New Guinea's former headhunters, seldom send a visitor away empty-handed. To praise an Asmat's property is to request it. The owner must then give it away to avoid seeming stingy.

The theory of never saying "no" to children leaves us a bit cold.

Conservationist Named for Area

Robert Ditson, of Grayling, has been named Area Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service at Ann Arbor. He succeeds Robert Halstead who was recently promoted to the position of Assistant State Conservationist in New Jersey. Ditson will assume his new duties in Ann Arbor on Sept. 21.

Ditson came to Michigan in 1968 and was assigned as Area Conservationist at Grayling where he was in charge of 16 counties in northern lower Michigan. Prior to coming to Michigan, he held various positions with the Soil Conservation Service in New York.

Ditson is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and has done graduate work at the University of Oklahoma. In his assignment as Area Conservationist at Ann Arbor, Ditson will be responsible for Soil Conservation Service programs in southeastern Michigan. His area consists of 11 counties including Eaton, Hillsdale, Ingham, Jackson, Lenawee, Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Ditson, his wife Joan, and two-month-old son, Michael, will reside in Ann Arbor.

The man who is always up with his work must have little else to do.

Peter Forsythe Heads Esch's Re-Election Bid

A man who is a long-time resident of southeastern Michigan, former Assistant Prosecuting Attorney for Washtenaw county, former City Attorney of Ann Arbor, and 1970 winner of the Distinguished Service Award from the Ann Arbor Jaycees, will head up Congressman Marvin L. Esch's bid for re-election to Congress.

He is Peter Forsythe, 33, partner in the Ann Arbor law firm of Forsythe, Campbell, Vandenberg and Clevenger. At the same time, Esch announced that James Riecker, Ann Arbor banker, will serve as campaign treasurer.

"Have you believed because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and yet believe."

- 1. Who was the author of the above statement? 2. To whom was he talking? 3. Upon what occasion? 4. Where may this verse be found?

Bible Verse Answers

- 1. Jesus. 2. To his disciple, Thomas, often known as "the Doubter." 3. Upon the occasion of one of Jesus' appearances to his disciples following his resurrection. 4. John 20:29.

CHELSEA MEDICENTER Sunday, Sept. 20— 12:30 p.m.—Sunday worship service.

Riecker is assistant vice-president of the Ann Arbor Bank and a former city councilman in Ann Arbor. He and his wife, Judy, have long been active in civic affairs. The couple live at 2010 Devonshire Rd., Ann Arbor, with their two children.

Esch, a Republican, is seeking his third term in the Nov. 3 election as U. S. Representative from Michigan's Second Congressional District. The district includes the counties of Monroe, Lenawee, Livingston, Washtenaw and, in the county of Wayne, the city of Plymouth and townships of Plymouth and Northville.

Forsythe has lived in this Congressional area nearly all his life. He was born in Ann Arbor, attended Ann Arbor High school, the University of Michigan, Boston University School of Theology and the University of Michigan Law School, receiving a law degree in 1963.

He served as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney for Washtenaw County, 1964-67 and City Attorney for Ann Arbor 1967-69. He was president of the Washtenaw County Bar Association in 1968-69, is a former secretary and vice-president of that organization, and is a member of the State Bar of Michigan.

Forsythe is currently a trustee for the Ann Arbor Religious Society of Friends, (Quaker), a member of the American Civil Liberties Union, Ann Arbor Rotary Club Board of Directors, National Association for Advancement of Colored People, Michigan United Fund Budget Committee and the Chamber of Commerce Human Resources Development Committee.

Honors in addition to the Ann Arbor Jaycees Distinguished Service Award include an award from the Michigan Jaycees as one of the five outstanding young men for 1970 and selection as an "All-American Family" of Michigan.

Plan Now For Control of Quackgrass

Quack grass control in corn requires pre-plant application of herbicides, reminds a Michigan State University weed control specialist.

Dr. William Meggitt recommends a split application of two pounds of atrazine per acre pre-plant and two pounds pre-emergence. This controls quackgrass and annual weeds.

Four pounds of atrazine per acre pre-plant controls quackgrass, but not annual weeds, notes Meggitt. If you don't apply the atrazine this fall, wait until the quackgrass is 4 to 8 inches tall before applying in the spring.

Before fall application, Meggitt recommends clipping and removing mature plant material. This allows a new regrowth. After application, wait at least 2 to 3 weeks before plowing.

When a total of four pounds of atrazine per acre is applied, corn may be grown the second year, says Meggitt.

Another recommended herbicide program for control of quackgrass and annual weeds uses amitrole-T plus atrazine.

With this program, apply two pounds of amitrole-T per acre this fall or, in the spring when the quackgrass is 4 to 8 inches tall. Plow 7 to 10 days later. Apply two pounds of atrazine per acre pre-emergence. If freezing weather occurs 7 to 10 days after fall application, fall plowing is not necessary, says Meggitt.

Plan Now For Control of Quackgrass

Quack grass control in corn requires pre-plant application of herbicides, reminds a Michigan State University weed control specialist.

Dr. William Meggitt recommends a split application of two pounds of atrazine per acre pre-plant and two pounds pre-emergence. This controls quackgrass and annual weeds.

Four pounds of atrazine per acre pre-plant controls quackgrass, but not annual weeds, notes Meggitt. If you don't apply the atrazine this fall, wait until the quackgrass is 4 to 8 inches tall before applying in the spring.

Before fall application, Meggitt recommends clipping and removing mature plant material. This allows a new regrowth. After application, wait at least 2 to 3 weeks before plowing.

When a total of four pounds of atrazine per acre is applied, corn may be grown the second year, says Meggitt.

Another recommended herbicide program for control of quackgrass and annual weeds uses amitrole-T plus atrazine.

With this program, apply two pounds of amitrole-T per acre this fall or, in the spring when the quackgrass is 4 to 8 inches tall. Plow 7 to 10 days later. Apply two pounds of atrazine per acre pre-emergence. If freezing weather occurs 7 to 10 days after fall application, fall plowing is not necessary, says Meggitt.

Seven Treated at Hospital After Two-Car Crash in Ann Arbor

A multiple-injury accident sent several Dexter area residents to the hospital following a two-car smash-up at the corner of W. Stadium Blvd. and S. Main St., Ann Arbor, last week-end.

Driver and passengers of both vehicles involved in the collision were taken to University Medical Center, Ann Arbor, for treatment. They included Wayne E. Spiegelberg, 16, of Dexter Township Rd., driving the car in which Steven Schultz, 19, of Seo Church Rd., Michael Johnson, 19, of Dancer Rd., and Theodor Van Deven 18, of S. Parker Rd. were riding.

Also, included in the injured taken to the hospital were Robert A. Raymond, driver of the other vehicle, and his passengers, Susan Wilkin 22, Steven Hedenskoog 25, and Susan Horowitz 21, residing on Miller Ave., Ann Arbor.

Auction Planned Saturday at Methodist Home

The Chelsea United Methodist Home has scheduled a used furniture auction to be held at the Home on Saturday, Sept. 19, beginning at 10 a.m. The Home is located at 805 W. Middle St., Chelsea.

Chests, dressers, trunks, desks, chairs, divans, iron beds, and hospital equipment are among the items which have accumulated in the Home attics over the years and which will be sold at auction.

The auction will be held on the grounds in the rear of the Home building if weather permits, indoors otherwise.

Evening Extension Courses Scheduled at Chelsea High School

Washtenaw Community College announces that some courses in agriculture and technical subjects are planned for the Chelsea extension by late fall and early winter. These courses will be of shorter duration than the normal semester.

For further information, call Andrew Ford at 971-6300.

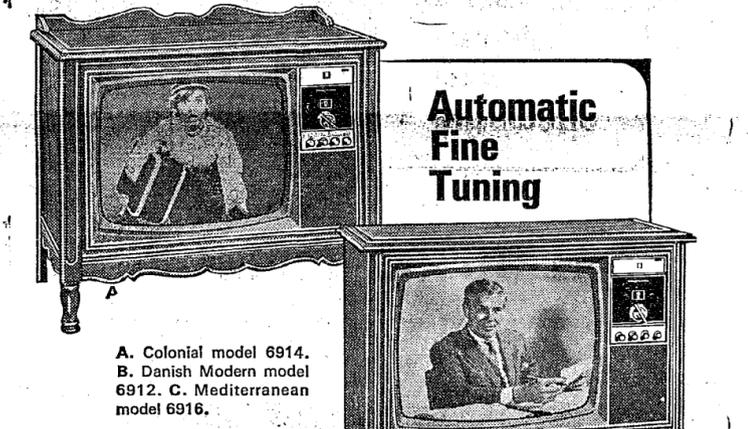

JOHN LINDOW, shown above with three great-grandchildren, Brian, Kim, and Scott Cooper, leaves Saturday, Sept. 19, with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lindow, of Phoenix, Ariz., formerly of Chelsea, to spend the winter with them in Phoenix. Lindow, who is presently living with his other son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lindow, 600 Freer Rd., will be 96 years old Nov. 16. The Herbert Lindows have been visiting in the area prior to their return to Phoenix on Saturday. An open house was held for them Sunday, Sept. 13, at the home of the Elmer Lindows. Approximately 65 friends and relatives attended the event. The great-grandchildren shown in the photo are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooper, 550 Freer Rd.

★ King of the Farm

During the 1970's as farm machinery undergoes remodeling, the "King of the Farm," the pigeon toed tractor will remain the kingpin in agricultural work and continue to keep the dinner bell of homeowners filled with promise.

In the 60's a head start in modern farm machinery design, to increase efficiency, was spurred on with the popularity of the tractor cab. The tractor, traditionally the ugly duckling of the farm was adorned with some class a hat. And with it came other changes: air conditioning, dust proofing and even sound proofing. And for safety; belts, chains and pulleys are shielded.

Farmers who have them receive a bonus of better health. For years they had worked under the hot sun with the noise of the engine that for many farmers wore down their hearing ability. So cabs give drivers added protection, even from being thrown off. Furthermore, cabs make room for luxuries.

Take the combine of the 70's as an example. This cousin of the tractor can claim many additions: power steering, comfortable seating and cab radios. This sounds more like an automobile than a farm machine. But where sleek cars pass over the land the big combines are made to work the land, and today it can be done in style.

But it's still not an easy ride. Shutting out the noise and dust can make one less aware of the outside machine functions. If an implement broke down it could take a while to discover, which for the farmer is costly in time and repairs. What the man of the land needed was a control tool to warn him of machine and malfunctions.

Thanks to the computer age and solid state systems which provide a sophisticated solid state monitoring system mishaps can be avoided. The system is designed to re-establish the operator's communication with the total working of the machine through an electronic read-out panel where a series of flashing lights pinpoint trouble.

As the decade moves on, the U.S. Department of Agriculture predicts farmers will continue to use even more machinery and less manpower to produce as much as a 20 percent increase in total farm output by 1980. Efficient, durable, safe machinery then must continue to progress to meet the needs of farmers and a consuming public.

Firemen, Wives Enjoy Steak Dinner

Chelsea Fire Department Volunteer firemen held their annual steak fry at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Packard, 127 Madison, Saturday evening, Sept. 12. Thirty-two firemen and their wives enjoyed charcoal broiled steaks, and a pot-luck supper in the Packard back yard, the rain holding off until departure time. "Crazy Bridge" was the evening's diversion. "Goof" prizes were awarded to Marvin Schiller, Les Alexander, Alice Roy, Faye Schiller, Jim Gaken, and Bob and Chris Smith.

A "good-by" card was signed by all to Dave and Marilyn Elkins, who had moved to California just two weeks ago.

Give Earth A Chance By Fighting Against Pollution

HELP WANTED—200 million U.S. citizens. Needed for all-but campaign to save what's left of the fifth. Men, women, children urged to sign up now. Full time job. Join the Union! Write for details.

This ad came from a group called ENACT, located at Ann Arbor. ENACT is short for Environmental Action for Survival, and when asked why their advertisement should be printed, ENACT members responded with a booklet called "Guideline for Citizen Action on Environmental Problems."

This booklet contains nearly 100 suggestions of ways in which individual citizens—men, women, and children—can fight environmental pollution on its strongest grounds, namely, right in the home.

ENACT's booklet of citizen guidelines was drawn together by Drs. William B. Stapp, James Swan, and Spenser Havick, in cooperation with students Tony Abar, Chris Harg, and Fred Kingwill. While it is not possible to reprint the entire booklet, here are some suggestions from that publication for general public use:

AIR POLLUTION
Do not burn leaves or trash. Why not start your own compost pile to return the nutrients in leaves and other wastes to the soil.

When buying a new car, study details of the various exhaust control devices on various makes of automobiles. Make the dealers conscious of your concern over air pollution. Find out its information and your final purchase decision. Remember, too, that small engines cause less pollution than larger engines.

Check to see if your community has an air pollution control ordinance. If it does not, or if it is ineffective, copies of model ordinances may be obtained from the National Air Pollution Control Administration, The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D. C.

Air pollution control devices presently in use on automobiles need regular upkeep. Make sure these are checked and serviced each time your car is tuned. Automobiles presently cause about two-thirds of all air pollution in the United States, so that this environmental danger truly calls for individual attention by all citizens.

Attend your town board or city council meetings and present written or oral statements of your concern over air pollution in your community. Plan ahead. When possible, arrange car pools, do some walking, ride a bicycle, or take rapid transit instead of driving. Plan driving activity to reduce unnecessary trips.

WATER CONSERVATION
Do not use colored tissue, colored paper, or colored napkins. Dyes released by manufacturing plants making these colored products pollute streams both visually and biologically.

Why not push for a water control ordinance in your community? Check with your city engineer, and local health officials, see what they have to say about water problems in your community, and then move to help them keep your water clean and abundant.

If you belong to a church, or civic club, or to other organizations, make arrangements to have your group tour your local water treatment or water purification plant. Talk to your children's teachers, offer to help chaperone their classes on such tours.

Determine which three sources of water pollution are worst in your community. Then discuss this pollution with plant managers, city officials, and state and federal legislators. Use detergents and other household cleansers that contain a low percentage of phosphates, or use

Third Cutting of Alfalfa in Fall Causes No Harm

Yes, farmers can take that third cutting of alfalfa any time in September or October without appreciable damage or yield loss—provided the third cutting has started to flower.

"Our research since 1964 shows that cutting alfalfa in September shows this to be a sound practice," reports Milo B. Tesar, Michigan State University crop scientist. "Studies over the last three years showed there was no significant difference in the next year's yield if alfalfa was cut for the third time on Sept. 1, Sept. 15, or Oct. 1.

"Under all cutting treatments, flowering has occurred." The practice of September cutting represents an about-face from the old recommendation of "never cut in September." The recommendation was changed when MSU scientists found that adequate food storage, as measured by starches and sugars in the roots, had taken place prior to winter in September-cut crops.

"September cutting adds new flexibility to alfalfa harvest for Michigan farmers," says Tesar. "Many now have a third cutting which has not started to bloom, because the second cutting was delayed due to wet weather in late mid-July. Such alfalfa may be cut whenever flowering starts without any yield reduction or stand injury next year."

Tesar suggests farmers who take a third cutting in September use varieties that are winter hardy and preferable, wilt resistant. These should be fertilized annually, especially with potassium.

Young Michigan men in the 21 to 30 age group, inclusive, are advised that the State Police are seeking trooper candidates for enrollment in forthcoming recruit schools, said Col. Frederick E. Davids, department director. Following the graduation Sept. 11 of 24 members of the 77th recruit school, tentative plans are to begin another school in November.

Davids again stressed that the State Police Department is an equal opportunity employer and urged young men of all races to apply. A State Police officer career is a challenging and rewarding one, he said. Eligible to apply are men in the above age group who are U.S. citizens and who have been residents of the state at least a year. They must have a high school education or the equivalent.

Candidates must be at least 5 feet 9 inches tall with weight ranges of 150 to 230 pounds in proportion to height. They must be in good physical condition and meet certain vision and hearing standards. They must be of good moral character and have no serious arrest record. They may be married or single. Trooper pay begins, including time in recruit school at a bi-weekly rate of $307.20 or $8,017.92 annually. The current schedule shows pay in the trooper rank climbing to maximum in five years of $433.60 bi-weekly and $11,816.96 annually. State Police officers can retire on pensions at half-pay after 25 years of service.

Interested young men may obtain application blanks and other information by contacting any State Police post or by writing to the Michigan Department of Civil Service in Lansing.

D. 1970, at 11:00 o'clock a.m., said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the west entrance of the Washtenaw County Building in the City of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan, (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, with the interest thereon at seven per cent (7%) per annum and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sum or sums which may be paid by the underlined, if necessary to protect its interest in the premises. Which said premises are described as follows: All those certain lots or parcels of land situated in the City of Ann Arbor, in the County of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan and described as follows, to-wit: PARCEL 1: Lot number five of the addition to the City of Ann Arbor, Michigan, recorded in Liber 46 of Deeds, Page 411, Washtenaw County Records. PARCEL 2: Lot number five of the addition to the City of Ann Arbor, Michigan, recorded in Liber 46 of Deeds, Page 411, Washtenaw County Records. PARCEL 3: Lot number eight of the addition to the City of Ann Arbor, Michigan, recorded in Liber 46 of Deeds, Page 411, Washtenaw County Records. The length of the period of redemption from said mortgage is one month. Dated at Southfield, Michigan, September 17, 1970.

MOON GLOW

Strange glows and sparklings have been spotted on the moon. Some astronomers think the curious phenomena, known as "lunar transients," may result from gas pouring out of volcanic centers. If so, both water and warmth may exist beneath the moon's dry cold surface.

If you're planning a new bathroom or powder room, take a look at off-the-floor water closets before making your final choice. Such fixtures have been used in public washrooms for years because they make floor maintenance easier.

The Billion Dollar Beer Mug plays an important role in helping keep the American economy on the move, strong and dynamic. Before beer reaches the consuming public it employs 60,000 workers in the brewing industry alone and 1 million in collateral and support businesses and industries, paying $1.5 billion in state and federal excise taxes, over $2.7 billion in wages to employees, and distributors, and $1 billion for agricultural products and packaging. In Michigan and throughout the nation beer is good business.

Announcing the 1971 Duster.

The big difference in small cars.

We first introduced the Duster as the best transportation bargain in America. It still is. And we built Duster to be America's "small-enough-but-big-enough" car. And it still is.

Small car, lovers of America, your day has come.

You have more tires to kick, more doors to slam, more hoods to look under, more colors to choose from and more test drives to take than ever before.

Which leaves us to convince you that Duster gives you the most car for the money. That it's small enough, but big enough. And that, all in all, it's the ideal small car.

Room. More of it to accommodate more passengers. More of it to accommodate more luggage.

Most small cars are four-passenger cars. And when you sit in some of them, they feel like they were built for three-and-a-half passengers.

Duster's a five-passenger car. It seats five, comfortably.

Besides carrying more up front, Duster carries more in the trunk. You can stuff 15.9 cubic feet of stuff into it. (One of the new small cars has about a third as much trunk space.)

Small enough for maneuverability. Big enough for stability.

Duster's small enough to slip into about 3/4 of a parking space. Yet it's big enough to give you stability on the open highway.

It has our unique torsion-bar suspension (for better handling). And unibody construction—its strength completely surrounds you.

So Duster can handle stop-and-go city traffic as well as freeway traffic because it's the right size, the right weight and it handles.

Our small-enough-but-big-enough car has a small-enough-but-big-enough engine.

Duster's standard engine is our rugged 198 cubic inch, 125 horsepower Six. It gives you great gas mileage and a little more power than other small cars' smaller engines.

And that's a perfect combination.

Options. You have over 50 to choose from when you order a Duster.

Think of it this way. It's a convenience to have a lot of conveniences to choose from. If you're considering buying a new small car, and you have certain options in mind to go along with it, you may find Duster the only small car that offers them.

There are things like a Stereo Cassette Tape Player, V-8 engine, vinyl roof and power brakes that you just can't get on some small cars.

No doubt about it. Duster is the car for the times.

Over 175,000 Duster buyers thought so last year. And we expect more of the same kind of success with the 1971 Duster.

Before you buy a small car, look at our small car.

Duster. Built and engineered with extra care.

See the new Plymouth Duster today.

COMPLETE TEXT OF FACT FINDER'S REPORT

By George T. Roumell, Jr.

STATE OF MICHIGAN EMPLOYMENT RELATIONS COMMISSION

In re Fact Finding:
CHELSEA PUBLIC SCHOOLS
-and-
CHELSEA EDUCATION ASSOCIATION-

FACT FINDER'S REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Appearance for the
Chelsea Public Schools:
Thomas Nordberg, Chief Negotiator

Appearance for the
Chelsea Education Association:
Leonard Solomon: Chief Negotiator

Last year the Chelsea Education Association (hereinafter sometimes called "Association") and sometimes "Teachers") engaged in a strike lasting some two and a half weeks which caused litigation and was only settled in the judge's chambers. As a result of this strike and the settlement, the Teachers and the Chelsea Public Schools (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "Board") entered into a two year collective bargaining agreement covering the period from July 1, 1969 through August 31, 1971.

The aforementioned agreement contained the following section in Article XX:

"C. Contract Reopeners. Should either party so desire, the following provisions of this Agreement may be opened and negotiated or renegotiated for the second year of this Agreement.

1. Article II - Association and Teacher Rights.

2. Article V - Teaching Hours, Conditions, and Class Load.

3. Article VI - Department Chairmen.

4. Article IX - Professional Days.

5. Article XII - Probationary Procedure.

6. Article XVI - Professional Compensation (Including Appendix B-1, B-2 and B-3).

7. Article XVIII - Grievance Procedure.

8. 1970-1971 Calendar.

Pursuant to the Article XX (C) quoted above the contract was reopened with negotiations centering around financial matters.

Unfortunately the parties were not able to resolve their differences and were forced to resort to mediation. Upon the failure of mediation they have now turned to Fact Finding. The Fact Finder held the first hearing on Friday, August 28, 1970 at which time it became clear to him that the parties were on a Titanic course and that a strike again seemed inevitable.

In regard to the issue of a strike, all concerned, as well as the Public, should recognize that a strike is not a one sided affair. It takes two to cause a strike. So the fact that Teachers go out on strike does not necessarily mean that the Board is the cause of the strike. But it does mean that there is the inability to reach agreement whether caused by one or the other party, or perhaps both.

Neither the Board nor the Teachers desired a strike in the school year 1970-1971. But on August 28, 1970, as already mentioned, it seemed inevitable because, as just one illustration, the official Teachers' demand at that time would have cost the Board $1,258,000, whereas the Board's offer would have meant an expenditure of $1,064,000, or a difference of $194,000. This is only for salaries and does not include other demanded benefits.

Much to the credit of the Teachers and the Board no strike occurred as both parties were willing to put their best foot forward in Fact Finding to establish their respective positions and attempt to reach an agreement based upon a Fact Finder's report.

This is a recognition by both parties of the desire to give the Public and the Chelsea School District labor peace and permit children to return to school as scheduled.

The statutes of the State of Michigan, when there is failure to agree, encourage the use of Fact Finding rather than strikes in the public employment field. The Board should recognize, and so should the Public, that when the Teachers chose the course of Fact Finding it becomes the responsibility of the Board not to make a Fact Finding process an exercise in futility by ignoring the report and recommendations even if said report and recommendations may not be to the liking of the Board. Ignoring of the report and recommendations will only invite a recurrence of last year's strike with all the accompanying problems thereof, including extra unnecessary expense to the Board.

Likewise, the Teachers should recognize that there is no guarantee that a report and recommendations will fulfill their demands. The point is that Fact Finding is a peaceful means of resolving a labor dispute and both the Board and the Teachers as well as the Public should give the process a chance to work by trying their best to accept the result.

As things now stand to this date the Board and the Teachers are attempting to make the Fact Finding process work. Their presentations have been excellent and have been marked with complete candor and fair presentation of all available facts.

The above background is given so that not only the parties but the Public will understand the approach of this Fact Finder and the obvious importance of this report and recommendations to the future of education in the Chelsea School District. The Chelsea District is at the crossroads. It can continue to be a Michigan rural-urban district which has a past record of excellence in producing fine young Americans who have done well in life both academically and otherwise. Or the District can find itself plagued by financial crises and labor strife which can only produce mediocrity.

Pure and simple the issues here are financial. A Fact Finder does not pull a report and recommendations out of thin air, nor does he engage in his own philosophy or fantasies. He tries to follow recognizable criteria. Here there are three applicable basic criteria. One is the past and present bargaining history of the parties. Two is the financial condition and ability to pay of the District. Three is a comparison with what other school districts in the surrounding areas as well as in the State are paying in terms of salaries and in fringe benefits to their teachers as well as in providing other conditions of employment.

There are two aspects to the bargaining history criteria as applied to the Chelsea situation. When the parties entered into the existing collective bargaining contract last fall they agreed to a two year contract. There is much merit to a two, or even three year, collective bargaining contract in public education. It is understandable that in the early stages of collective bargaining there was a reluctance to enter into more than a one year contract on the part of the Board and Teachers. There was this same reluctance in private industry in the early days of organization. But as collective bargaining matured in industry, the contracts became of a longer duration. The wisdom of the longer duration was to permit the employer more flexibility that long range financial planning permits. This same approach is developing in Michigan public education. Yearly contracts leave Boards with little ability in long range financial planning. Thus the wisdom of longer planning has been recognized in more and more school districts. Apparently Chelsea is one of these school districts.

However, this recognition in Chelsea has been somewhat limited because of the reopening provided for salaries and other matters. In fact the Chelsea reopening is broader than usual.

Nevertheless, the principle of a two year contract has been established by bargaining history between the parties. This Fact Finder recognizes this wisdom and treats this situation as a two year contract as contrast to negotiations involving a new contract. Therefore, in such a situation, the bargaining history criteria would dictate that the Fact Finder should not pioneer any new concepts but should make any necessary adjustments within the purview of the reopening clause.

As applied here this approach is best illustrated by the resolution of two basic conflicts between the Teachers and the Board in the proposed salary schedules. Not only are the parties in their official positions before the Fact Finder $194,000 apart on salary schedules (Teachers demanding $8000. (BA minimum) to $13,680. (MA maximum) and Board offering beginning BA at $7250.), but whereas the current contract has two schedules the Teachers are demanding three additional schedules, or what sometimes are called "tracks", to wit, BA plus 15; MA plus 15; MA plus 30. Whereas the present contract has a salary schedule which reflects a written index, the Board's offer ignores the index. In support of their position the Teachers say that it is their desire to have more tracks to give more benefits to those who have gone on to obtain additional education. In support of its position, the Board says we never agreed to an index - that's just the way it worked out last year.

But the parties entered into a two year contract. They agreed on two schedules. The Board signed a contract which actually had a written index. Since the Fact Finder is attempting to maintain the integrity of the two year concept and since he is only recognizing the reopening for the purposes of making adjustments, he is denying the request of both the Teachers and the Board.

Obviously the Teachers who state that the strike last year did not involve economics were willing to sign a contract for two years with only two schedules. The only purpose of the reopening was to economically adjust these schedules. Since the parties themselves agreed in free and open negotiations to two schedules there is no reason to change absent unusual circumstances.

Likewise, no one required the Board to sign the contract with the index in it. But the Board did and apparently did it freely. As the Teachers point out the index is important because it maintains a uniformity in increment increases. This argument has other because frequently in salary schedules there are attempts to obtain high minimums and maximums at the expense of the middle grouping of teachers. The index system avoids this.

Absent any persuasive claim that an adjustment in the index system should be made as a result of reopening contract, there is no reason in the middle of a two year contract to change an index system which the parties freely agreed to.

The other facet of bargaining history supports the above result, namely, that the Fact Finder should be and is guided by what the parties either in negotiations or as a result of a strike, finally agreed to in signing a contract.

Thus, either on the theory of maintaining the integrity of a two year contract or looking to the past bargaining activities of the parties themselves, it is clear to the Fact Finder that he must recommend the continuation, at least for the duration of this contract, of the two track salary schedule and the accompanying index.

Furthermore, the bargaining history criteria, as just discussed, will be applied to recommendations concerning other issues in dispute between the parties.

Not only have the Teachers demanded increases in salaries but they also have demanded increases in fringe benefits, the hiring of two additional teachers in art and physical education in the elementary schools, class size reductions, increase in compensation for department chairmen, and increase in extra-curricular pay. These demands plus other demands obviously have economic implications to the school board's budget. In order to arrive at a reasonable report and recommendation, the Fact Finder must, with such demands, apply the financial condition and ability to pay criteria to the Chelsea situation. This means an examination of the District's finances.

Though the official positions of the parties indicate that on the salary schedule alone they were $194,000 apart, there were indications during Fact Finding that consideration might be given by either party as to other possible salary schedules. But it is emphasized in this report these considerations were only hypothetical and not commitments on the part of either party. Thus, for example, if the Board were to offer somewhere in the neighborhood of a beginning B.A. of $7,300 with an M.A. maximum of $12,489 the costs of teacher salaries would be $1,097,000. This cost would include the additional salaries which were not required last year of three additional teachers that have been hired this year. The Teachers suggested that perhaps a $7,500 B.A. minimum on their 1:71 index which would amount to M.A. maximum of $12,825, plus the extra track, would amount to a cost of $1,128,000. The difference between these two approaches would indicate a spread of $31,000.

Now look at the Board's budget in connection with these possible hypotheticals. Certain basic facts about the Board's budget must be understood. As a result of increased valuation of the property in the Chelsea School District, the District based upon its present operational mill levy of 22.20 will receive approximately $88,000 new monies over and above last year's revenue. In addition, as a result of the state aid formula, the District expects to receive an additional $9,847. This is in the neighborhood of $98,800 additional revenue. The District began the July 1, 1970 fiscal year with the general fund equity of $240,281, and with $215,474 cash in the bank. As of September, 1970 this cash in bank had been reduced to approximately $141,000 as a result of paying certain salaries that had been accrued and other expenses during the summer.

Based upon the new revenues and a prediction as to the collection of delinquent taxes the District in its budget has suggested that it will have estimate revenues of $1,953,339. As far as expenditures are concerned, based upon the District's original offer, plus the adding of three teachers and a capital outlay of $94,794, the District predicted a current surplus of $36,559 ($1,953,339 revenue minus expenses of $1,916,740). The District has suggested that as a matter of fact the surplus will be more in the neighborhood of $24,569 because of the added costs brought about by the Supreme Court decision as to free text books and supplies which cost is estimated in Chelsea at $12,000.

It should be noted that if the hypothetical suggestion made by the Board of a raise of $7,300 to $12,483 the Board in effect would have a zero surplus balance, or for the current year may have spent between seven and eight thousand dollars more than it received. If the hypothetical advance by the Teachers would be followed the difference between the original offer of $1,064,000 and $1,128,000 is approximately $64,000, and would mean that the Board would have to spend approximately $85,000 to $40,000 more than it received this year.

There are two other relevant facts. No new additional millage was voted by the citizens of the Chelsea School District in the school year just completed. To their credit, the school district's citizens did, on January 26, 1970, renew 10.98 mills for the period of two years by a decisive vote.

The second fact is that it was obvious that there would have to be increases in Teacher's salaries during the current year to keep pace with the economy as well as with other surrounding school districts, and also based on the history of bargaining between the parties. The Board's own exhibit shows that for the last four school years the B.A. minimum has been increased each year by $500, and between the 1967-68 and 1967-68 school years was increased $800. As far as the B.A. maximum and maximum increases in the past four years have been even greater numerically. Thus, the obvious conclusion based on the Board's own history and the experience of other surrounding school districts, the Board could only reasonably expect to make increased salary offers. It is also suggested that, as a matter of fact, to use the B.A. minimum as an example, the official offer of $7,250 is a mere $350 over last year's $6,900 which is at least $150 less than the Board's pattern of settlement for the last three years. It is, therefore, suggested that the Board in its budget, should have planned for even higher salary increases than it did.

In analyzing the Board's budget there is the nagging question of where does the Board go from here and what is the financial future of Chelsea education. Even taking the Board's present budget and based upon the hypothetical suggestion of about $1,097,000 for Teacher's salaries, the Board ends the year spending slightly more than it receives, and there is no question that its funded equity will be reduced. Next year they will probably have to be salary adjustments. Yet, there is no indication where the Board is going to get the money. State aid will not solve the problem because in the current year state aid only accounted for $9,847 in new money over last year's receipts. Increased property valuation may be a solution but here again the increased valuation only accounted for $88,000 new money. This is not enough to offset obvious increased costs not only in professional salaries but in other areas of expenses in running the Chelsea School District.

At the Fact Finding the Teachers recognized the financial problems of the District and to their credit even though the correction emphasized the financial plight of the district. But the Teachers responded that on a comparison basis the Board's offer is far too low. Even though hypothetical, the Teachers point out that the hypothetical salary is more in keeping with the comparison districts.

The theory of the comparison criteria is that the Public in the same locale, or similarly situated geographically, political divisions should pay comparable wages to their public employees absent unusual circumstances. One of the disadvantages of the comparison criteria is that sometimes parties are in dispute as to what districts should be compared. A good example is here in Chelsea. From a geographical standpoint Ann Arbor is about as close to Chelsea as Milan or Saline. The Ann Arbor salary schedule for 1970-71 runs from $7,700 to $12,700 at the B.A. and $8,800 to $15,100 at the M.A. The Teachers would suggest a comparison with Ann Arbor.

The Board, on the other hand, would suggest a comparison with Stockbridge and Manchester, districts which the Teachers refer to as traditionally low paying districts. For example, both Stockbridge and Manchester at the M.A. level in 1969-70 were paying approximately $10,730, where at the same time Chelsea was paying $11,799, or about $1,000 more even though the B.A. minimums were about the same. The real comparisons perhaps should be with Milan, Saline and Dexter, nearby school districts, and perhaps Dundee, a district in the same athletic league with Chelsea.

The reason why these would be fair comparisons is because these districts compared favorably with each other in the 1969-70 school year as well as in previous school years. This indicates that they are good weather-vans for Chelsea. The State Equalization Value (S.E.V.) behind each child in Dexter ($17,010), Dundee ($15,009) and Milan ($12,653) is less than Chelsea ($20,527). Saline's ($28,000) is more. The operational millage in Dexter (23.72) is more than Chelsea (22.20). Milan (16.53), Dundee (16.95) and Saline (22.07) have less operating millage. It would therefore seem that the comparison suggested is reasonable because of the way these four school districts have kept abreast of each other over the last three or four years in terms of salary and their property valuation and millage relationships.

Here is what the comparison of the four districts just mentioned with Chelsea showed over the last two years from a salary standpoint. During the 1968-69 school year the salary schedule comparisons were as follows:

B.A. Base	B.A. Maximum
Dundee $6,600	Milan $10,825
Saline 6,500	Dundee 10,100
Milan 6,400	Saline 10,000
Dexter 6,400	Dexter 10,000
Chelsea 6,400	Chelsea 9,150
M.A. Base	M.A. Maximum
Dundee $7,100	Saline $11,500
Saline 7,100	Dundee 11,300
Milan 7,000	Dexter 11,200
Dexter 6,900	Milan 11,175
Chelsea 6,900	Chelsea 10,300

Thus in the school year 1968-69 Chelsea was in last place in all categories as compared to the other four districts.

The parties then began bargaining for the 1969-71 contract with a salary schedule for the school year 1969-70. It should be emphasized that though there was a two and a half week strike the Teachers and the Board were settled before the strike. As a result of collective bargaining the parties reached a settlement which resulted in the following comparisons for 1969-70:

B.A. Base	B.A. Maximum
Dundee $7,000	Dexter $11,000
Saline 7,000	Milan 10,850
Dexter 6,900	Chelsea 10,750
Milan 6,900	Saline 10,690
M.A. Base	M.A. Maximum
Chelsea 6,900	Dundee 10,550
Saline $7,600	Dexter $12,800
Chelsea 7,590	Saline 12,250
Dundee 7,500	Dundee 12,000
Dexter 7,400	Milan 11,900
Milan 7,400	Chelsea 11,790

Though Chelsea still was in last place on B.A. base and the M.A. maximum the District made substantial movement at the B.A. maximum and the M.A. base. Furthermore, even at the M.A. maximum Chelsea percentage-wise and numerically-wise made the biggest jump. In other words from 1968-69 to 1969-70 Chelsea at the M.A. maximum went from $10,300 to $11,799 for an increase of $1,499, whereas Saline went from $11,500 to $12,250 or an increase of $750. The same comparison can be made with Milan, Dundee and Dexter. It is obvious that Chelsea in the 1969-70 year began a process of catching up with other comparable districts.

After reviewing the entire situation, including the bargaining history, the financial ability and the comparison criteria, this Fact Finder hereby recommends as the salary schedule for the school year 1970-71 appendix B-1 which is attached up with other comparable districts.

Presently Dexter is unsettled but Dundee, Milan and Saline are settled. Based upon the Fact Finder's recommendations the comparisons with the three settled districts would be as follows:

B.A. Base	B.A. Maximum
Dundee $7,500	Milan $11,800
Saline 7,500	Chelsea $11,622
Chelsea 7,450	Dundee 11,600
Milan 7,350	Saline 11,500
M.A. Base	M.A. Maximum
Chelsea $8,195	Saline $13,300
Saline 8,100	Dundee 13,200
Dexter 8,000	Milan 12,800
Milan 7,900	Chelsea 12,740

An analysis of the new comparisons would show that at the B.A. minimum there is some improvement but as a matter of fact the B.A. minimums are very close together. At the B.A. maximum Chelsea maintains its relative standing below Milan as it was in 1969-70, but above Dundee and Saline as it was previously. At the M.A. base it moves forward and goes to the top, but this is not unusual because Chelsea last year made a big jump at the M.A. base over the previous year. The jump this year is the result of the index system which the parties negotiated last year. (If the Board didn't negotiate it, they permitted it to be written in the contract, and which this Fact Finder, in the interest of consistency, is not going to change just as he is not recommending additional tracks.

At the M.A. maximum Chelsea is still last but the gap between Chelsea and Milan is only $60. Ann Arbor salary schedule for 1970-71 runs from $7,700 to $12,700 at the B.A. and $8,800 to $15,100 at the M.A. The Teachers would suggest a comparison with Ann Arbor.

The Board, on the other hand, would suggest a comparison with Stockbridge and Manchester, districts which the Teachers refer to as traditionally low paying districts. For example, both Stockbridge and Manchester at the M.A. level in 1969-70 were paying approximately $10,730, where at the same time Chelsea was paying $11,799, or about $1,000 more even though the B.A. minimums were about the same. The real comparisons perhaps should be with Milan, Saline and Dexter, nearby school districts, and perhaps Dundee, a district in the same athletic league with Chelsea.

The reason why these would be fair comparisons is because these districts compared favorably with each other in the 1969-70 school year as well as in previous school years. This indicates that they are good weather-vans for Chelsea. The State Equalization Value (S.E.V.) behind each child in Dexter ($17,010), Dundee ($15,009) and Milan ($12,653) is less than Chelsea ($20,527). Saline's ($28,000) is more. The operational millage in Dexter (23.72) is more than Chelsea (22.20). Milan (16.53), Dundee (16.95) and Saline (22.07) have less operating millage. It would therefore seem that the comparison suggested is reasonable because of the way these four school districts have kept abreast of each other over the last three or four years in terms of salary and their property valuation and millage relationships.

and sometimes takes on the characteristics of the bull fighter's red cape rather than cold, hard facts.

Even though, without a change in the budget, there might be more current expenditures and current revenues, Chelsea is not in deficit financing. Furthermore, there is a good possibility that Chelsea, even following the Fact Finder's recommendations, can actually live within its current revenues and not spend more than the current revenues. These last two statements will now be explained.

The Teachers maintain that in fact the Board is overlooking about $11,000 in revenue because the tax delinquency is $70,000. The Board has suggested that, based upon their experience, they should only collect about 80 percent, or $57,000. The Teachers suggest that there should be a higher rate of collection. It is hard to predict which position is correct. The Fact Finder suggests that the Board is a little low but not by very much in their estimate as to this revenue.

Another area that the Teachers point out is the area of capital outlay. The Board has committed itself during the current year to a capital outlay of $94,794. This capital outlay includes repairing the track, paving the parking lot and tearing down the old junior high school, and a substantial expense for boilers. For five of the last six years the capital outlay of the Board was as follows:

1969-70	$27,358
1968-69	$33,168
1966-67	$21,310
1965-66	$23,070
1964-65	$31,400

Only in 1967-68 was there a figure for capital outlay of over $54,000 and in that year the capital outlay was $104,523.

This Fact Finder cannot quarrel with the capital outlay or the reasons for the outlay. Neither do the Teachers. But the Teachers do point out that the average capital outlay for five out of the last six years was $29,229. This is the Board's budget. This year the capital outlay is 5 percent of the budget.

The Board knew that it would have to give salary increases compatible with the districts that apparently it was comparing itself with and not compatible with Manchester or Stockbridge which were low paying districts. Nevertheless, the Board chose to make abnormally high capital outlays. It is again emphasized that no one can question the need for the outlays. The only point is if the Board wanted a strictly balanced budget (assuming its budgetary figures are accurate), perhaps if it could have spread the capital outlay over two years it could have had a balanced budget and still pay the salary recommended herein. As things now stand it is possible that the Board will have to spend $20,000 to $25,000 this year more than it will receive. If the Board in planning its budget for this year had only spent $60,000 for capital outlays which still would have been a substantial increase in outlay, the Board could still have paid the recommended salaries and had a currently balanced budget without any other budgetary changes.

At this point the Fact Finder does not want to be guilty of second guessing the Board. Regardless of what he said, probably if sitting on the Board, he would have spent the same amount of monies on capital outlay because there was a need. But the point is that preparing budgets is not an exact science. There is always flexibility. The Fact Finder believes that there are monies to at least pay the suggestion made by the Board which would cost $1,097,000 without having to spend in excess of current revenues. He, in addition, believes that in a budget of almost $1,954,000, $20,000 to $25,000 can be obtained to pay a competitive (as compared to comparable districts) salary to Teachers.

The Fact Finder believes this for several reasons, the least of which is that budgets are rarely exact. It should be noted that in the following school years the Board began the school year with the following cash reserves:

1969-70	$83,393
1968-69	-$316. (Negative balance)
1967-68	$88,296
1966-67	$30,247
1965-66	$21,888

Yet, the Board by its own evidence, for 1970-71 has a cash balance of $147,091.

The so-called Form B's from 1965 to the 1969-70 school year also show some interesting figures. The general fund equity has varied during this period from a low of $47,000 to its present all time high of $240,281. This by the way is an increase from a general fund equity in 1968-69 ($134,472) or $105,709. The above financial history illustrates that budgets are not exact. It does illustrate that the Fact Finder is confident that by budget review the money can be made available to pay the recommended salary.

Thus, it is hard to suggest that there is deficit financing even though the current expenditures may exceed current revenue when the general fund equity almost doubled itself in one year and the District has the highest cash reserve to begin the school year that it has ever had in the last five years. Even the most successful businesses sometimes lose money in a given year and yet are profitable in previous or succeeding years. Furthermore, as already stated, a review of the budget certainly can find the money that is needed to meet the recommendations.

However, to the Teachers, the Fact Finder does point out that the general fund equity will be reduced this year because Chelsea is in a tight financial situation. This explains the rationale for the salary schedule he has recommended.

One of the arguments made by the Board in support of its position is the fact that there is a working condition in Chelsea that is advantageous to the Teachers and unusual for the area which, if eliminated, could produce more revenue to the Board. This condition is the fact that in the middle school and the high school Teachers teach only five out of seven class periods, and thus have two preparations during the day. According to the Board if this was reduced to six out of seven, ten teaching positions could be eliminated from the budget. In support of this argument the Board points out that in Saline the Junior high teachers teach five out of six sixty-minute periods but in the high school teach five out of six fifty-five minute periods. In Milan the teachers teach five out of six fifty-five minute periods. Both in Saline and Milan the Teachers have a short home room duty. In Dundee secondary teachers teach five out of six fifty-five minute periods.

To some extent the Fact Finder has recognized this argument in the salary schedule because he believes it does have a value to the Teacher. This may explain his arrival at the number of $7,450 for the minimum B.A. rate and maximum M.A. rate of $12,740. This is about the same discount factor that the parties gave in bargaining when the same situation existed in 1969-70. The Fact Finder will not give any further weight to this argument except, as already mentioned, for two reasons.

The parties themselves gave only a limited weight to this factor in arriving at their 1969-70 salary schedule. Furthermore, at least in the high school there is no more pupil contact than in Milan, Saline and Dundee. The Teachers in the high school meet five classes a day as they do in Milan, Dundee and Saline. If anything, the Chelsea students get a greater advantage because the Teachers are permitted more time to prepare. This is something that has value both to the Teacher and to the student. Based upon the Board's own schedule this year the Fact Finder doubts whether there is really any serious thought to changing this situation. The fact that the Saline classes are fifty-five minutes and the Chelsea classes are fifty minutes is of little consequence. A good teacher can obviously teach as effectively and as much material in fifty as contrasted to fifty-five minutes. In fact, from an attention span aspect the fifty minute class may be more desirable. The fact that the Saline teacher for example is actually required to be in school fifteen minutes longer a day than the Chelsea teacher because in Saline they have a short home room is of little consequence. The Chelsea teacher has as many pupil contacts and theoretically should be better prepared because he or she is getting two periods of preparation a day. If anything, the Chelsea Teacher with this type of schedule is making a stronger commitment to education because of better preparation. The main thing is not a question of quantity but quality. Fifteen minutes a day is hardly worth arguing about.

Finally, to again emphasize a point, this condition existed in 1969-70 and yet the parties negotiated the increases which resulted in the relative salary schedule improvement of the Chelsea Teachers as compared to Saline, Milan, Dexter and Dundee.

Of course, the nagging question of the financial future of the district is ever present. This is a problem which the Board must wrestle with. Next year there may be some increased revenue as the result of increased valuations and perhaps increased state aid. But the Public should know, at least as an outsider views the District's finances, there may be a need for additional millage because there will be increased costs next year. There is one school district in the County which is paying far more than any of the comparisons. This alone may cause some pressure for increases next year both in the comparable districts and Chelsea which will mean additional monies. Chelsea does pay a comparable operating millage. Yet its millage is below several nearby school districts including Ann Arbor, Willow Run, Dexter and Ypsilanti.

Again the decision as to millage is up to the Board and the Public. But the Public should know what the condition is and what the future does hold. A long, hard look must be made at the District's finances if it is going to survive.

The present recommendations are within the comparisons. They do not create deficit financing but only force the Board to again review its budget. They recognize that a school district's finances that a question of looking at the picture for several years. Certainly a school district that has an increased general fund equity and is entering the school year with the largest cash reserve it has had in the last five years cannot, in the truest sense of the word, rely on a deficit financing argument. Finally, if the Board was willing to undertake an unusually high capital outlay program it is inconceivable that it was doing so at the expense of not paying its Teachers a salary which would be competitive with comparable school districts. After all the Board in the past has paid a competitive salary with Dundee, Saline, Milan and Dexter.

Because the Fact Finder recognizes the seriousness of the financial situation in Chelsea he has emphasized putting the money into the schedule rather than elsewhere. This will be reflected in his other recommendations which now follow.

The question of increased fringe benefits is also one of economics. In this area the dispute between the parties centers around the insurance program. Presently the Board is providing each Teacher with $150 to be applied at the Teachers' option to either Blue Cross-Blue Shield, or one of the insurance programs of the Michigan Education Association. The basic area of the Teachers' request is that additional monies be paid for those Teachers who are carrying family plans. The Teachers point out that many industries pay for the dependent coverage. They point out that many school districts do the same. After considering the various arguments it is the recommendations of the Fact Finder that the $150 per individual Teacher be continued but in those cases where the Teacher is also carrying a family or dependent plan the Board contribution should be increased to $350 per year. Article XVI Section II entitled "Fringe Benefits" should now read as follows:

"A. The Board agrees to provide the sum of $150 per year per teacher to be applied to insurance coverage at the teacher's option as follows, provided however, in the case of a teacher having either a family or dependent plan, the amount of contribution shall be $350 per teacher per year:

1. Individual or family Blue Cross-Blue Shield of the type presently in use, or

2. Toward one of the M.E.A. insurance or annuity programs.

B. The above program shall begin in September and continue for twelve (12) months for Teachers employed on or before the beginning of the school year and such monthly contributions shall begin with the first month of employment for teachers employed after the beginning of the school year and shall continue for the balance of the aforementioned twelve (12) month period."

gained in 1969, they apparently put a value on each of these extra duties. There is no evidence that they were wrong. It would seem that with the tight budget, the fact that the parties did bargain these rates, and the fact that the Teachers will get an automatic increase there is no justification or any persuasive arguments for any increases percentage-wise in Appendix B-2. For these reasons the Fact Finder will not recommend any such increases.

There is one area of demand that has economic consequences which is most important to the Teachers. When put to the test, the Teachers at the Fact Finding hearings made it clear that they would rather take less salary and get two additional Teachers in the elementary schools, teaching physical education and art because they believe in the necessity of this program for the elementary school children of Chelsea. The response of the Board was that the curriculum was a decision of management and can not be bargained about.

The Board has made its position quite strong. Likewise, the Teachers in the interest of education have made their position quite strong. However, the Fact Finder does not believe that this decision is his to make. The question of whether the parties can bargain about this subject may best be resolved in another form, namely, the Michigan Employment Relations Commission unless it can be shown to the Fact Finder that the Commission has already decided the point. This was not done here.

Therefore, in preparing the salary schedule he has not made any discount for hiring two additional teachers. Instead he is not recommending the adding of the two Teachers. However, the Board should not breathe easily on this recommendation. Consideration should be given in the overall financial review which would be undertaken in Chelsea for future planning as to whether such a program can be instituted even though not this year. It may be that this issue may have to be taken up with the voters. It may be an issue that may cost up to one-half mill but it may be worth it. There were many teachers, many of who were residents and taxpayers of Chelsea, who made the point that this program is needed in Chelsea. But as the Fact Finder has stated, this question of what should be included in the curriculum and how it should be financed will be left to the Board, but it cannot be ignored in the future by the Board.

Furthermore, the Chelsea elementary Teachers cannot argue that they are not getting sufficient preparation periods. Their preparation periods compare favorably with those of Dundee, Milan, Dexter and Saline. If they did not, then the issue may be a different issue than the one presented.

There is a final reason why the Fact Finder will not make a recommendation as to the hiring of two additional Teachers. This certainly was an issue in the fall of 1969 and yet the parties negotiated a two year contract not covering the point. There was also a strike at which time this could have been made an issue. But the Teachers chose to sign a two year contract and come back from a strike without any protest and a physical education specialist. In line with the Fact Finder's views on bargaining history and his desire to maintain the integrity of the two year contract and observing what the parties themselves did, he is not recommending the Teachers' demands as to art and physical education in the elementary schools. Again he emphasizes, however, that the Board should take note of this problem because it will not go away and will return in the 1971 negotiations.

Apparently, according to the testimony produced at the Fact Finding hearings, a basic reason for the 1969-70 strike was the issue of Teacher evaluation. As a result of the strike the parties agreed to include a Teacher evaluation program which resulted in Article XI of the current contract. During the administration of the contract a question arose as to whether teacher evaluation applied to extra-curricular positions. There is a dispute about this which has now been submitted to arbitration. The Teachers' position at the present time is that as a result of the re-opener, this matter should be clarified regardless of the outcome of the Arbitration procedure. The Board suggests that the parties should rely on the arbitrator's decision.

However, the Fact Finder believes that there is merit to the Teachers position that the matter should be clarified. He is therefore recommending a clarification so that evaluation can also apply to extra-curricular positions. The arguments made by the Board objecting to evaluating extra-curricular positions are not persuasive. It may be difficult to evaluate an extra-curricular position because the period of activity fluctuates as compared to the routine classroom situation. Nevertheless, it can be done. Furthermore, the Board is not prejudiced by being required to evaluate extra-curricular positions. An evaluation certainly cannot help but result in some improvements in the quality of education given the students. For the reasons just stated the Fact Finder will recommend that this subject be covered in extra-curricular evaluation.

In the contract, the parties in Article IX, Paragraph B, provided for professional days. The teachers have asked for an increase in the professional days over the seventy-two (72) now provided for eighty (80), the Board has offered seventy-eight (78) days. The demands are specific as to certain departments and then the demand is that the unused days be placed in a bank to be used by other departments.

The fact of the matter is that the seventy-two (72) days last year were not used. Only about half of them were used. Therefore, there is no need for any additional days except in one situation. One department was left out of the designated departments last year. This was the guidance department. Therefore the Fact Finder is recommending that two days be allotted to the guidance department making available a total of seventy-four (74) professional days.

As to the issue of the bank, there is merit to having a bank. If one department does not want to use the days then another department that needs the days should be able to use them. After all, the Board did commit itself in the contract to seventy-two (72) days, and was prepared to offer seventy-eight (78) days. Certainly, the Board recognized the possibility that all or a good proportion of the seventy-two (72) days, and for that matter the seventy-eight (78) days could be used. The fact that the Fact Finder has recommended seventy-four days (74) does not add to the burden as it recognizes a need in a given department.

There is no use in having professional days if there cannot be a possibility of their use. Therefore, the Fact Finder believes in the bank idea. But to recommend a bank there must be some safeguards for the Board. There must be a limit to the number of days a department can draw from the bank. Therefore, as an added paragraph to Article IX, Paragraph B, the Fact Finder is recommending the following language:

"In the event that any of the aforementioned professional days have not been designated for use by the appropriate grade levels or departments as of February 15, 1971, they will be placed in a bank. Any grade level or department shall have the right to request their usage, up to a total of two (2) additional days over the grade level or department's allotment, subject however to all the provisions contained in this Article IX, Paragraph B. A record of the use of such bank days and the number of remaining days, shall be kept by the superintendent's office which shall render information as to its status upon request."

It is very clear that this same regulation that has been developed under Article IX should apply to the bank provisions. The parties have one year to experiment with the bank. If it is abused by either party then of course both parties should recognize that such abuse will be subject to negotiation in the fall of 1971.

The parties had an issue as to Board rights and Teacher rights. The Fact Finder has pointed out, however, that this is a reopener of the contract. He is interested in maintaining the integrity of a two year contract and to encourage the use of a longer duration contract concept in Chelsea. Therefore, absent any persuasive arguments he is not inclined to grant either the request of the Teachers or the Board as to Teacher rights and Board rights. The Fact Finder believes that the present language in the contract has served the parties well. For this reason he recommends no change to Board Rights or Teacher rights.

There were several other issues between the parties, but none of these issues were briefed by either side and only raised at the hearing. The indications were that these issues were actually solved between the parties or are relatively minor. For these reasons the Fact Finder is recommending that the present language continue as to those issues and any other issues which have not been covered in this report.

There has been suggestions made in our State Legislature from time to time that Fact Finders and Arbitrators (in the case of compulsory arbitration) should place blame for any strike if one should occur. The present law does not require such a function on the part of a Fact Finder. However, the Public in Chelsea should know the views to some extent of this Fact Finder, because he senses that the Public in Chelsea desires labor peace. Of course the parties have the absolute right to evaluate this report from their own points of view. It is dangerous for a Fact Finder to comment on his own Report and Recommendation. Recognizing this, the Fact Finder does raise this question. If the Teachers reject the Report and Recommendations are they in effect saying that they want more than they have been able to negotiate in the last three years in comparison with other comparable school districts? And are they saying this when it is obvious that the School Board's budget is indeed tight? Furthermore, wouldn't the teachers be rejecting as to other areas the very contract that they were willing to sign and agree to for a two year period, for, as this report indicates, in many of these areas there are no reasons to change the existing language? The issue of the art and physical education specialists in the elementary schools is a difficult issue. But this is an issue that can be best put to the voters for more millage or referred to a curriculum study committee with hopes that the problem can be resolved by the following year.

If the Teachers accept and the Board rejects the Report and Recommendations wouldn't the Board be saying that they do not want to pay the Teachers the competitive salaries that they have been willing to pay them for the last three years? Wouldn't the Board be saying that it is not willing to again review its budget or recognize that the finances of a district have to be viewed over a longer period of time rather than on a one year basis? Wouldn't the Board be saying that it is perfectly conscientious to increase the expenditures for necessary capital outlays but it is not conscientious or fair to increase expenditures for competitive Teacher salaries?

Again, to emphasize the point to the Public the Board does have financial problems. This report has indicated that in the next year the Board may have to come to the Public with these financial problems. And it will be important to the Public that serious consideration be given to the Board's pleas and needs for the reason that education must continue to grow in Chelsea so that Chelsea can keep abreast of its neighboring school districts.

The Public, the Teachers, and the Board should recognize one other factor. At least in the last two years the Board and the Teachers through the auspices of the Michigan Employment Relations Commission have had the benefit of top labor specialists. They have had expert labor mediators. Regardless of what might be thought of the present Fact Finder, they had in 1969-70 the services of one of the nation's foremost labor specialists, Dr. William Gould. They have experienced one of the longer Michigan Teacher Strikes. It is about time that the parties take a long hard look at their relationships; at the district finances, and attempt to enter an era of labor peace and tranquility.

This has happened in many other districts. In the year 1970-71 even though Michigan School Boards are faced with increased teacher demands and inflation there has been less teacher strikes in Michigan than previously. There have been less requests for Fact Finding than previously. Districts that have experienced strikes previously are now able to enter into collective bargaining agreements even without mediation.

It is hoped that this report can pave the way for a new labor atmosphere in the Chelsea School District. Already a collision course has been averted because of the good faith of both the Board and the Teachers and their honest attempts to rely on peaceful means of settling their disputes. Let us hope that this report and its recommendations, which may not be viewed with enthusiasm by either side, can nevertheless serve as a basis of this new atmosphere in the Chelsea School District.

EXHIBIT I ARTICLE XII PROBATIONARY PROCEDURE Extra-curricular Duties

E. The Superintendent and/or the respective building principal and/or the Athletic Director shall evaluate in writing all persons holding the same extra-curricular position for less than two years at least two times during the year; once approximately two months after the activity begins and once approximately 90 days before the end of school. If the extra-curricular duty is seasonal, one evaluation shall be made no later than three (3) weeks after the beginning of the season and the other shall be made no sooner than ten (10) days later.

F. As soon as possible following the evaluation the evaluating administrator shall confer in private with the teacher concerning his performance in said duty, at which time the written evaluation containing all job-related deficiencies shall be signed in duplicate by the administrator and the teacher one copy to be placed in the teachers file the other to be retained by the teacher. Should the teacher request assistance the evaluator shall either personally furnish help or assign someone capable of advising the teacher as to how he might improve. The teacher at his option within one week time, may file a written rebuttal to be placed with the evaluation in his personnel file. In no event shall the second evaluation be made prior to the aforementioned conference on the first evaluation nor shall the second evaluation take place prior to ten (10)

Letters to the Editor

Goose Lake Defended

Dear Editor: I would like to give the people of Chelsea a factual report of what went on at Goose Lake. The report given in the Aug. 14 issue of your paper was lacking in some aspects.

I am 19 years old. I have lived in Chelsea most of my life, graduated from Chelsea High school, and have attended church and Sunday school regularly. I went away to college where the "enlightening" began. I was exposed to more people, attitudes, beliefs and ways of thinking than there are lids of grass in any city, park or junkies' hand. I came home and took a full time job which I have held for four months. Here again I have been exposed to more views of life and ways of thinking. I have not been swayed or forced to change my thinking. I have been allowed to discover that there are other ways to look at things, and different opinions held by different people.

I have learned to understand and respect other opinions and beliefs, not to condemn them. As one goes through life and meets more people he learns to accept what once may have been unorthodox behavior. I have told you this so you will realize I am not a lazy, shiftless, good for nothing "hippie."

What happened at Goose Lake was an experience that everyone who was there will remember forever. For the most part they will be good memories. The whole idea behind rock festivals is so beautiful. I do not see how anyone could object. The main purpose is to get people together, to enjoy something as some single unit made up of thousands of individuals; who act and think as individuals, but still come together and form a bond of love between themselves.

This particular rock festival was the most successful held since they began. There were no serious incidents. One girl was hurt on the slide, which could have happened at any other time, any other park, or on any other slide in the world. Just because it happened that week-end at Goose Lake everyone condemns the entire festival. One boy fell from a light tower near the stage, but no one knows, or apparently cares, if he was "high" or simply fell, or tripped over a cord. These were unfortunate accidents, which happen anytime thousands of people gather, anywhere. There were hundreds of cuts and bruises, sunburns, insect bites and other minor injuries. Most of, and possibly all of them can be connected with drug use, but there is the same chance they were not. The Open City was kept busy with those who experienced bad trips, over-doses, and severe withdrawal. The good thing was that they had a place to go without fearing more trouble with the law. They were trying something, finding out for themselves, experimenting, or going on with a habit they have had for years. But they were allowed to do it on their own, with no interference, with help available if they needed it. We were in a restricted area and allowed to be free.

The main objection to the festival was the drug traffic and the nudity. Let it be known, no one was forced to do anything. It was such a relaxed friendly atmosphere one really began to wonder if he was in the same world he left outside the gate. Every person was warm and open with every other person. Everyone smiled and greeted you, answered your questions and asked them. Everyone was anxious to talk to and learn about the other. The drugs were sold like peanuts and popcorn at ball games. They were made available. There were stands set up in the back of cars, on tables, everything ready and waiting for those who wanted it. And if they wanted it no one condemned them, because no one knew the reason they wanted it. No one objected because as long as no one bothered or endangered anyone else it did not matter what they did.

This has been used as an argument thousands of times, but stop and think about how many members Alcoholics Anonymous has, or how many people are dying of lung cancer because of habits they had to support. How many illegitimate babies, divorcees, or prostitutes are there? All of these are the results of habits which had to be supported.

The second point of friction was the naked participants. The first and most practical reason for this was the unbearable heat. Those who went swimming preferred to put dry clothes on when they finished. What could be more natural and unpretentious? Being naked bothered no one, no one suffered any serious traumas about it. Nothing could have been more simple and natural, and that is what we were looking for, simple truths.

Another area of concern seems to be that of the disposal of wastes. The lavatories were as clean as the public rest areas in most places. Due to the large number days after any help requested has been rendered. G. Notice of failure to retain a person in his extra-curricular position during his first or second year will be based on the first evaluation, and any other material or information coming to the attention of the evaluator or any agent of the Board.

of people using them, the sanitation department had quite a job. But they performed their job well. They did as well as they could, which was all we expected.

The alleged violence on the grandstand fence was simply an attempt to improve the view. The problem was eventually corrected.

A blind person walking through the crowd would have been impressed, for the most part, with what he heard. If there was a collision one could hear "Excuse me," if questions were asked they must be preceded with "excuse me," or "sir" or some other polite form of address. As will happen when one gets in any group consisting of more than two people, there were those who used foul language. But that again is something one accepts, not condemns, and can feel free to work to change.

The whole festival was simple and beautiful. Everyone there helped the other guy, it did not matter who he was or where he came from. Warnings were given about the drugs which contained poison. When we left the park young people at the gates warned about taking anything out of the park, about watching how you drive because the police were out in numbers, and thanking you for coming and hoping you had a good time.

As a young resident in Michigan I am proud that my state carried off the first successful rock festival. I am looking forward to the next festival being bigger and better and even more successful. By "getting together" now, when we become parents, job holders, taxpayers, voters, legislators, leaders, and builders of our country, it will be a natural thing to work with and for one another.

For us, today, Goose Lake is where it's at. We "the People" did groove, we enjoyed the music, we did not mind sleeping on the ground, those of us who were lucky did enjoy the "lovely grassy campgrounds," but the others slept on the sand. As far as the concept of "earned" being forgotten, everyone there had to have money for something. And I feel safe in saying that the majority earned it. Enlightened.

Letter Answered . . .

The accompanying letter is in response to an article The Standard ran the week of Aug. 13. The original story was a description by someone who attended the Goose Lake Rock Festival the week-end of Aug. 6-7-8. The writer of the earlier article did not "condemn" the affair, as such, he was merely disillusioned with what he saw at the event, and tried to record his impressions accordingly. Everything which was mentioned in the article, entitled "Goose Lake Style" the writer saw with his own eyes, he did not make up at his typewriter.

In response to this letter, there are a few things which the writer of the original would like to add. These are not "facts," they are only thoughts, but they are thrown in for the benefit of the person who wrote the letter to The Standard, or anyone else who is interested.

There is, above all, one line in the letter, which is echoed throughout the letter, which bothers us. That is: "The whole idea behind rock festivals is so beautiful I do not see how anyone could object." That, in our opinion, is a very dangerous way to think.

There is a vast difference between the idea behind something, and the way in which that idea is implemented. History books are full of "good ideas" which have captured the hearts and minds of masses of people, which, when in the hands of a good leader, have been used to control, manipulate, or extract money from the well-meaning, but unaware masses. There are many good ideas which we could name that have been used to manipulate people. The Christian Church has a long history of abuse, and controls, and many fine examples of good ideas that spelled "bad practice" for many people. That's how 19 women were burned in Salem, and countless Jews, and "heretics" were killed in Spain. There are only the extremes, but there are many more everyday examples of a good idea, put to bad use.

There is another, less simple way in which that way of thinking is dangerous. It has to do with expectations. When the idea behind a movement is beautiful that does not mean that everything in that movement must be beautiful, and accepted without question. There is the danger of looking at something only halfway, ignoring the bad aspects, because it is such a great thing in theory. Hence, people frequently fail to see things that are wrong, or out of place in a movement, because they are committed to the idea before the actual practice of it starts. That is why so many revolutions in the world, which have in reality been led by reasonably amoral revolutionists, have been able to interest and incorporate the efforts of so many people. For a movement to be really beautiful, it must be beautiful not only in theory, but in practice. And, if we must say so, there have probably been very few truly beautiful movements in the history of all mankind.

Another point to which we alluded in our original article, but about which we'd like to say a bit more, now, is the idea of peer group pressure. There is in the current hippie movement a tremendous polarity. It exists almost to the point of narrow-mindedness. If one doesn't dress like a hippie, he is not "hip," he is a member of the "pig society," he is, at the very least "straight," and not worth listening to. If a fellow doesn't at least smoke grass, he does not know what the world is really like. This, too, is a dangerous way to think. For a generation that is so concerned with opening the eyes of the rest of the world, it has a tendency to forget to look at that world beyond the revolutionary stereotypes it has already formed. Hence, there is for the young person, for the person just newly exposed to the "hip" world, a fantastic tendency to conform: to smoke the grass, or take the pill. Our feeling is that there shouldn't be this atmosphere among "free" people.

There are many other things which one could say concerning both Goose Lake and the above letter, but we will stop here. The "writer" of this is not a fascist pig. The writer is a young person, one who is not captured by the youth cult, is at least intrigued by it. If the young people of this nation could pull off a truly beautiful, mind-liberating revolution, it would be one of the greatest things in history. It would favorably compare with the action of Jesus Christ when he got a few hundred people to believe in him.

All that this writer asks is that you reorganize your thinking. Listen again to the songs by Dylan, especially late Dylan. Let's preach a little less "polarity," and a little more "union." Let's not alienate the "straight," or "pig" world. Let's listen again to both sides, and look as hard at the hippies, as we do at everyone else. Maybe then the entire world can go places.

COLORED POLES New Orleans—E. C. King, President of the American Wood Preservers Association, told members colored utility poles will soon appear on the American landscape. He said that by 1975 half the nation's multi-millions of poles will feature new designs and color.

No one is interested in the paid you had the other day.

For And About Teenagers. MOTHER THINKS IT IS WRONG FOR A GIRL TO CALL A BOY... THE WEEK'S LETTER: I am 15 years old and in the ninth grade and I have a problem. I talk one hour on the phone to my boyfriend and my mother does not approve of the time. My mother thinks it is wrong for a girl to call a boy. My mother is old-fashioned. She said I cannot date until I am sixteen. Other girls date at twelve years of age. OUR REPLY: Your mother is right about the telephone, in both instances. If you cannot cut down on the time of your conversation, most likely you will find that you cannot talk on the telephone at all. You are abusing a privilege. Keep your calls short. Consider the fact that someone may need to call your home, in an emergency situation. The telephone is a convenience, for every member of the family. It is selfish for any one person to monopolize it. Your mother is not old fashioned, but sensible. She is not concerned what others do—you are her concern and her responsibility. She might possibly let you date before you are sixteen—if you show her that you have a sense of responsibility. You don't show too much if you see nothing wrong with calling up a boy to talk on the phone for an hour. If you have a teenage problem you want to have discussed or an observation to make, address your letter to "For and About Teenagers," Community and Suburban Press Service, in care of this news paper. # Get Started Right in Your Retirement Years

Life doesn't stop offering new and exciting experiences at either age 21 or 65.

But you may need to develop new interests and decide on new routines if you are over 65, says Mrs. Helen Fairman, home economist with the Co-operative Extension Service in Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe counties.

Most people, young and old, are aware of certain characteristics of increasing age: income tends to decline, the body begins to lose strength, house mortgages may be paid up and fixed payments, such as social security and insurance, end. Many durable goods are already purchased, and tax exemptions broaden.

These and many other considerations are a part of the new life of retirement. It is not necessarily less life—just different. And it requires different planning, the home economist emphasizes.

Perhaps, for the first time in your life you will have more time on your hands than you've ever had before. Mrs. Fairman suggests trying a daily or weekly time schedule in which certain hours of the day will be spent in specific ways. If you are newly retired, such a schedule may help you avoid an aimless sort of existence, provide for some sort of variety and give you something to look forward to until you are accustomed to your new role.

Approaching retirement is a good time to take a new look at yourself, too. A bit of personal inventory may help you find some new interests in life. Retirement can mean time to pursue those special projects and hobbies you have been putting off for so many years.

Learn to enjoy the commonplace in life—observe a beautiful sunset or a small child at play, says Mrs. Fairman.

Don't let yourself become too dependent on your family for entertainment, but try to work out a life of your own. As far as you are able, prove that you are an asset to your community.

Keeping physically fit is the best way to insure many happy retirement years. Your doctor should be one in whom you have full confidence. Visit him regularly, advises Mrs. Fairman, even if you are feeling good. He may be able to dispel unfounded fears, or spot diseases early enough so that they may be cured or controlled.

Don't forget to look after your hearing and eyesight, too. If you are having trouble hearing, the Speech and Hearing Clinic at MSU and the Michigan Association for Better Hearing, both in East Lansing, are important sources for information. The Department of Social Welfare's Services for the Blind is available if your eyesight is failing. If corrective measures such as hearing aids and glasses are necessary, wear them with an ease of satisfaction that you are helping yourself.

Physical exercise, suited to the individual, and a good diet are also important to your well-being, points out Mrs. Fairman.

You can improve your relations with others by developing both your conversational and listening abilities. Also learn to be generous and avoid self-pity. Interest and affection for others is one of the best uses of your time and talent. It will also earn you much satisfaction and probably more consideration from others in the future. Try to make new friendships, as well as restore old ones. Personally, don't let yourself down. "You've accomplished a lot in your lifetime and you can still handle some responsibility," the home economist says. "You can keep on learning and you can always look your best."

"And, just because you can't remember everything doesn't mean old-age is just around the corner. You have much more to remember than when you were young. Give yourself a little help and make some notes as reminders."

"Use the present to develop your own philosophy of life," she stresses. "It is essential to discover for yourself the unique and special purpose of your own life to live fully, confidently and serenely in the years after 65."

For further information, two publications, "Before 65" and "After 65" are available from the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service office in Ann Arbor.

Ground beef may contain fresh ground beef and up to 30 percent fat, in some states. However, ground chuck must be fresh meat from the chuck and cannot contain more fatty tissue than normally expected in the meat from which it was prepared. Most ground beef is from trimmings plus frozen boneless beef that may be domestic cow beef or imported beef. Many consumers could not afford ground beef if it had to be entirely from steer beef.

4-H Clubs

GREEN CLOVER

Green Clover 4-H club will hold its first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Alice Lampe, 8090 Hiron St., Dexter. This will be held Saturday afternoon, Sept. 26, with starting time at 2 p.m. All members will register for the various projects for the next 10 months. The 4-H calendar year begins Oct. 1, so winter and summer projects will be selected. The emphasis this season will be on "Citizenship" and "Learning to hold good business meetings."

Young people, please call 426-8266 before Sept. 26, so needed project books may be ordered.

GINGHAM BELLES

Gingham Belles 4-H club had its first meeting of the year Tuesday, Sept. 15, at the home of Mrs. William Clark. 19 members, and co-leaders Grace Penhallegon, and Barbara Clark were also present. Mrs. Fremont Boyer, who will also lead this year, was unable to attend last night's meeting.

The following people were elected to office: Sharon Schiller, president; Beth Clark, vice-president; Karen Romine, secretary; Martha Blanchard, treasurer; Chris Boyer, historian; and Suzanne Morrison, corresponding secretary.

The club decided to hold a bazaar again this year, and plans will be completed at the next meeting.

Everyone is to be working hard, trying to decide what projects they would like to work on this year. The work, party, and meeting schedule is being filled out.

Next meeting is Tuesday, Sept. 22, at the home of Barbara Duerr on East St., at 7 p.m. Barbara Duerr and Cathy Clark are responsible for refreshments.

Karen Romine, secretary.

Mrs. Jane Rickerman Injured in Ann Arbor Postal Vehicle Crash

Mrs. Jane Rickerman, 1500 Pauline Blvd., Ann Arbor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kalmbach, 476 Pierce, was injured in a traffic accident Monday afternoon Sept. 14 in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Rickerman, an employee of the Ann Arbor Post Office, was going east on Anderson St., when her Post Office vehicle collided with a car being driven north on Ferdon by Carol M. Mattice, 1915 Woodbury Ave., Ann Arbor.

The impact sent the Post Office vehicle reeling off the street and rolled it over. Mrs. Rickerman suffered cuts on her forehead and chin, both of which required stitches. The cuts were caused when Mrs. Rickerman's glasses shattered, sending glass into her ears and mouth. The Post Office vehicle was totally demolished.

Mrs. Mattice was also injured in the mishap. She suffered a broken collarbone in several places, and must remain in bed for several weeks.

Jane Rickerman went back to work for the Post Office Wednesday, Sept. 16.

Wool Sewing Contest Entries Are Still Accepted

The Grand Tour is the grand prize in the "Make It Yourself With Wool" competition, now in its 25th anniversary year.

Win at the national level and off you go via KLM Dutch Airlines for an unforgettable vacation in the fun and fashion capitals of Europe. Other prizes include college scholarships, U. S. Savings Bonds, sewing machines, stunning accessories, luggage and toiletries. And, there are all kinds of prizes offered at district and state competitions, too. State winner in the competition receives a free trip to the national finals to be held in Las Vegas, Nev., Jan. 19.

Mrs. Gerald Plumb, 11 Sterling Rd., Jonesville, 49250, will serve as district director of District Two for the "Make It Yourself With Wool" competition in Michigan. Mrs. Lawrence G. Boettner, state director of Bridgewater, has announced.

Mrs. Plumb's district includes Hillsdale, Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe, and Washtenaw counties.

To enter "Make It Yourself With Wool," a girl must make a 100 percent wool suit, coat dress or pants; outfit from fabric loomed or knitted in the United States. She must model her own garment before judges and appear in fashion shows beginning at the district level.

The competition is open to all girls who accept its rules. Girls compete with others in their age group: Juniors with Juniors (14-16) and Seniors with Seniors (17-21). Michigan has a Sub-Deb division (10-13, however Sub-Debs do not proceed beyond the district finals.

Mrs. Gerald Plumb is the contact for any girl between the ages of 10 and 21 who is interested in entering the competition. Mrs. Lawrence G. Boettner, state director, 10630 Austin Rd., Bridgewater, 48116 is also handling competition entries.

St. Mary Altar Society Elects New Officers

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mary Altar Society was held Wednesday, Sept. 9, with 22 members present. The Rev. Fr. F. Wahowiak led the group in an opening prayer.

Annual reports were presented by the various committees. Serving on the September altar committee are Mrs. Paul Harkerd and Mrs. Clarence Wood.

Mrs. Kathleen Chapman, contact lady, reported on correspondence received from the Council of Catholic Women. The magazines and Christmas cards donated by the members were given to the Head Start Program and a home for children in Pontiac. Used gift wrapping paper, ribbons and yarns are also needed.

Mrs. Dennis Guinan reported for the Good Samaritan Committee at the June monthly meeting. Announcement was made of a new branch in Ypsilanti. Furniture for the needy is needed at this branch. The next meeting of the Good Samaritans was to be held Tuesday, Sept. 15, 9:30 a.m. at the former Holy Ghost Seminary in Ann Arbor.

The new slate of officers was presented by Mrs. Richard Bruck. They are president, Mrs. Henry LaRose; first vice-president, Mrs. James Gakken; second vice-president, Mrs. L. D. Guinan; secretary, Mrs. Henry Rybka; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Paul; executive committee, Mrs. George Staffan, Mrs. John Cook, and Mrs. Paul Harkerd; parliamentarian, Mrs. Frank Warywoda; historian, Mrs. Loretta Doll.

Nominations were unanimously accepted by the members. Fr. Wahowiak presided at the installation of officers.

The meeting ended with a closing prayer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Richard Bruck and her committee.

Loren Koengeters Honored Sunday on 25th Anniversary

Mrs. and Mrs. Loren Koengeter, 3015 Fletcher Rd., who were married 25 years ago on Sept. 3, 1945, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary, Sunday afternoon, Sept. 6, as the guests of their children, Mrs. and Mrs. Gary Hopkins, and Donald and Robert Koengeter, all of Chelsea.

The Koengeters had dinner at Schumm's restaurant, with family and the attendants from their wedding, some of whom came from quite a distance. They were Mrs. Edmond Pietz, Wayne, and her husband, and family, the Rev. Alton Koengeter, and his wife and family, from Tripoli, Ia., and Armine Kuhl and Alton Grau, both of Chelsea, and their families.

Following the dinner, they had an open house at their home, for 140 guests.

District Officer Makes Inspection of VFW Auxiliary

The annual inspection meeting of VFW Auxiliary No. 4076 was held Monday, Sept. 14, in the Rebekah Hall with 18 members and six guests present. Also present was Ida Hefflin, Sixth District president, who was inspecting officer. Other guests were from Newport and Ann Arbor.

Joan L. Piatt and Iva Lee Fullerton were initiated into membership.

A gift of $5 was voted to be used for indigent patients at Battle Creek hospital, for their Christmas. The yearly quota was voted on and paid. The money is to be used for hospital work and the National Home, in the Department of Michigan.

The national president, Mary C. Costone will be making her official visit to Michigan on Oct. 23. This will take place at Lincoln Park.

Cards will be sent to the Gold Star Mothers of local Auxiliary for Sept. 20, which is "Gold Star Mothers Day."

The Sixth District meeting will be held Sunday at Erie. Several Auxiliary members from Chelsea are planning to attend.

The following committee was named for the September social meeting: Joanne Clouse, chairman, assisted by Gail Bauer, Nina Matthews, and Joanne Warywoda. The social party will be held at the home of Mrs. Clyde Matthews.

Jaycee Auxiliary Plans Busy Fall Season Schedule

Jaycee Auxiliary held their September meeting, Tuesday night, Sept. 15, at the home of Mrs. Robert Updegraff. Guests present were Mrs. Dan Scott, Mrs. Richard Stoll and Mrs. Henry Laughlin.

Minutes from the last meeting were read, and final reports given.

Jaycee Auxiliary members, and their husbands, have been invited, along with other chapters in the district, to the Stockbridge Auxiliary Charter Night. To celebrate the event, there will be a dinner party at the Inn America in Ann Arbor, Oct. 3.

Two Jaycee Assistance projects were set for October, the October meal for the Jaycees, Mrs. Mitchell Zink, chairman, and the Jaycee social, which Mrs. Dan Eder will chair.

Fall meeting of the local district, Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary, will be Sept. 29, in Hudson. It was decided to donate bingo prizes for three months to the Chelsea Medicenter. Mrs. Walter Brown volunteered to purchase and wrap the 10-15 cent gifts.

Mrs. Art Steinaway, state Auxiliary president, asked for donations for the School for the Retarded near Grand Rapids. They have converted a former Army barracks, and treat people for 31 weeks to 75 years. They are in need of many things.

At the last Michigan Jaycee state meeting, the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary received a plaque for their participation in collecting Betty Crocker coupons. With their coupons collected, Michigan Jaycees have purchased their 11th kidney machine.

"Girl of the month" award went to Mrs. Mitchell Zink, for outstanding service during the month of August.

Mrs. Richard Cail was installed as a new member. The meeting was concluded with a "white elephant" sale. Each member or guest brought three items to the meeting to auction off. Mrs. Henry Laughlin was auctioneer.

Next meeting will be Oct. 20. It will be a masquerade party at the home of Mrs. Walter Brown.

Club, Social Activities

CHILD STUDY CLUB

School Bells Ring for Adults In Continuing Education Dept.

September has arrived and children all over Michigan are returning to school. But public school is no longer just for children. Programs for adults, and specifically for adults 16 and over who missed the chance to complete their eighth grade education, are provided by the Continuing Education Department of the Ann Arbor Public Schools.

Registration for classes in Basic Education is scheduled for Sept. 21, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., in room 211 at the Jones Building, 401 N. Division, Ann Arbor. Persons interested in returning to school are encouraged to enroll at this time, although enrollment is open throughout the year.

Classes will meet twice a week on Monday and Wednesday evenings, beginning Sept. 23, from 7 to 10 p.m., in room 307 at the Jones Building. Additional classes may be held if there is sufficient demand.

Instruction will be provided in the basic skills of reading, writing, and arithmetic with emphasis on everyday, practical problems such as learning to read newspapers, to read street signs, to read menus, to make grocery lists, to budget income, to write letters, to fill out application forms, and to answer classified ads. These short term objectives often motivate students to undertake more academic subject matter which is also provided.

Classes are friendly and informal. Students are placed in small groups and individual help is given when needed. As students acquire new skills they progress from one level to another.

A variety of teaching materials are used, such as workbooks, charts, films, records, group discussions, and guest speakers. Field trips are also planned with a visit to the public library an annual event. While there adults apply for library cards and are given reading lists for adult interests.

Classes are free. According to Kenneth Greer, director of the Continuing Education Department, Ann Arbor Public Schools, the federal government and the local school district pay for books, materials, and all other expenses.

Classes are available to all citizens of Washtenaw county as there is no residence requirement. However, for people living outside of Ann Arbor, it is helpful to have some means of transportation.

Greer points out students completing the Basic Education classes are eligible for the high school completion classes. These classes are also available this fall and are free for those students working for high school credit.

For further information call Mrs. Eugene Burnstein at 769-0534 or the Continuing Education Department at 761-4024.

Dingman Bound Over to Circuit Court on Bad Check Charge

Better Knowledge Leads To Decline in Summer Food Poisoning Cases

Eat Lansing—The number of summer picnic poisonings has diminished because the housewife has educated herself with newspaper and magazine articles on better food handling, says a Michigan State University scientist. Meal preparation and eating habits have also changed.

Food poisoning is no longer seasonal, according to Dr. Richard V. Lechowich, Michigan State University food scientist.

"Beef, fowl and pork, in that order," adds Dr. Lechowich, "are among the most vulnerable foods to the bacteria, 'Clostridium perfringens,' which lurks in soil, water, foods and in the intestines of many people."

A good rule to follow, he says, is "When in doubt, throw it out!"

Howard Miller Likes His Fords

Howard Miller, 405 Wilkinson, Chelsea, likes his Fords! He has one Ford that is 58 years old, a 1912, and a 42-year-old, 1928 Ford, which he formerly serviced at the former R. S. Kingsbury Ford Sales & Service in Dexter, where Miller started working in 1929.

A recent addition to the Miller Ford collection, is a brand new 1970 Ford pick-up truck.

UPHOLSTERING CAN BE FUN

Upholstering furniture can be fun, saves money, too. Upholstery fabrics are available in a variety of fibers and weaves. A fabric with a balanced weave will wear longer than a brocade or highly textured fabric. Cotton, nylon fibers are durable, and fabrics made from them usually will give long satisfactory service.
