Dana Corp., Union Sign New Contract

Dana Corp. became the first major transportation industry parts supplier to conclude master contract negotiations with the United Auto Workers, it was announced Saturday, Dec. 5.

The Dana Master Contract, which closely parallels GM's settlement was agreed to in principal Friday, Dec. 4. The contract covers more than 10,000 employees in 23 UAW units in the 17 Dana operating facilities in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, and Pennsylvania, jointly by M. E. Lantz, director.

This announcement was made and Emil Mazey, secretary and of industrial relations for Dana, treasurer of the UAW, and director of the Dana UAW department. Both men indicated that the contract is the most equitable agreement ever negotiated in the transportation parts industry and congratulated all those who contributed to the final settlement.

Ken Kuzon, spokesman for the local Dana plant indicated that the Master Contract, as well as the local contract, await ratification by Dana's union members. A ratification vote will be taken Saturday, Dec. 12, for both contracts. A tentative agreement was reached Dec. 1, according to Kuzon, on the local contract.

Terms of the settlement will be made public after ratification of the agreement by the local Dana UAW units. Dana Corp. in Chelsea has two UAW units, both members of Union Local 437, a shop and maintenance unit, and an office and clerical unit.

With a tentative agreement which spokesmen from both sides have found fair, there is no possibility of a strike at the local Dana plant, at this time, Kuzon indicated.

JV Cagers Down Dundee In First Game

Chelsea's Junior Varsity cagers opened their season on a high note, Friday night, Dec. 4, by defeating the Dundee Vikings, 45-41.

Both teams were cold from the floor, as Chelsea made only 18 baskets out of 59 shots, and Dundee 17 baskets out of 63 shots.

Chelsea got off to an early lead on the strength of Mark Policht's shooting, and John Mann's rebounding, taking a 26-16 half-time score to the locker room.

Bulldog cagers could manage only six points in the third period, as Dundee cut Chelsea's lead to one point at the end of the quarter.

Kiwanians Host Wives at Holiday Party

Forty Chelsea Kiwanians, their wives, and guests observed their annual Christmas party at Bill Cone's in Jackson, Monday evening, Dec. 6.

President Walter Zeeb livened up the party with a presentation of special gifts.

A musical group from Chelsea High was entertained at dinner, and later returned the favor by providing after-dinner entertainment. Tim Ortring, Jill Flintoff, Carol Dietle, Randall Seitz, and Keith Pfeifle sang a number of Christmas songs. Tim Ortring then led the assembled group in the singing of Christmas carols, as Jill Flintoff accompanied on the piano.

A drawing was held for the winners of the centerpieces, and plants that were used for decorations.

Next week will be the "Kids' Christmas Party" hosted by Kiwanians at the Congregational church.

Varsity Cagers Maul Dundee, 70-47 in Opener

Chelsea's varsity basketball team opened its season with a very satisfying 70-47 win over a stunned Dundee team Friday evening.

Dundee opened the game by getting the first basket but Ron Sweeney tied the game with a short jump shot when Chelsea got the ball. Dundee countered with three free throws to lead, 5-2, with about two minutes gone in the game.

Sweeney then scored another two points, and Howie Treado scored on a short hook shot to put Chelsea ahead to stay.

The tenacious Bulldog defense held Dundee scoreless for the remainder of the first quarter, while the Bulldog offense finished strong, with 13 points.

Both teams opened up in the second quarter, but Chelsea continued to pull away by outscoring Dundee, 17-13. As the second quarter progressed, the smaller Bulldogs demonstrated their superior rebounding by getting two and three shots at the basket each time they shot.

Sophomore Jeff Schmidt got an offensive rebound, and scored just before the horn sounded to send the teams into the locker room, to increase Chelsea's lead to 30-18.

A determined Dundee came out shooting in the third quarter. Every time they began to close the gap, however, the poised Bulldogs pulled away.

Dundee had their best period in the third quarter, scoring 18 points, but the confident Chelsea team outscored them, 23-18. George Cameron led the scoring in the third quarter scoring six of his nine points.

The fourth quarter was a close repeat of the third quarter, with Dundee making the final challenge. With about six minutes remaining in the game, Dundee cut Chelsea's lead to 13 points, Chelsea quickly countered with three straight baskets.

The hustling Bulldogs showed much poise and confidence as they completely controlled the ball game. Wayne Welton did an exceptional job of "quarterbacking" both the offense and the defense. Ron Sweeney and Howie Treado led the scoring with 22 and 11 points, respectively. Jeff Hughes

Bulldog Cagers Lose to Panthers

Chelsea varsity basketball team took a 60-55 loss from Stockbridge Tuesday evening in a non-league game played on the home floor.

Ron Sweeney poured in 24 points for the Bulldogs in a losing cause and Howie Treado added another 10 points to the attack.

SANTA CLAUS hears the Christmas wishes of Radine Cheever, who is in the second grade at North school, at his station in front of the Chelsea Post Office. Santa arrived Saturday afternoon, and rumor has it he will return this week, and next. Radine was one of many local children who turned out to see the jolly old man when he came to town.

Wrestlers Pin 35-18 Defeat On Tecumseh

Chelsea wrestlers met Tecumseh Thursday, Dec. 3, pinning their opponents in four of the first five matches. The Bulldog wrestlers took the match by a score of 35-18.

At 98 pounds, Jon Marzec, in his first varsity match, pinned his opponent in 1:54 of the first period. Mark Montagne followed with a 1:28 pin in the 105-pound class. At 112, sophomore Pete Stall was pinned. Mike Spence came through with a third period pin at 1:19.

Captain Jim Wencel, wrestling at 126, pinned his opponent in 2:29, while Larry Jones, in the 132-pound class, lost a 6-2 decision.

Sophomore Tim Lancaster won at 138 with a 4:35 pin.

Chelsea ran into some trouble at this point, as Captain Gary Montagne was pinned, and Bill Kushnau lost a 7-4 decision, at 155.

Doug McDonald, at 167, ended up with a 2-2 draw.

Chelsea put the contest away, however, as Randy Seitz won a 9-2 decision at 185, and Rod Branham pinned his heavyweight opponent at 192.

Coach Richard Bareis indicated that he was very pleased with the performance of the young wrestlers. He noted that some of the more seasoned wrestlers needed much more work before they would be ready to take on experienced competition. He pointed out that Chelsea takes on an improved Dundee squad tonight, Dec. 10, at Dundee, and that Chelsea will host a fine Holt team next Tuesday, Dec. 15.

Holt, in addition to being one of the highly rated Class B wrestling squads, has John Hogarth, who is the Michigan state 165-pound wrestling champion. This match should give Chelsea wrestlers an idea of how they rate against good competition.

Chelsea is, at this time, planning a double dual wrestling meet for Jan. 2 Haselett, along with Chelsea, will meet and Coach Bareis hopes that either Belleville, Adrian or Romulus will fill out the four-team meet.

David McLaughlin Begins Practice of Law in Jackson

David C. McLaughlin, former resident of Chelsea, was admitted to the State Bar of Michigan, Tuesday, Nov. 24. McLaughlin is the son of Russell A. McLaughlin, a long-time resident of Chelsea, now of Houghton Lake, and Mrs. Jean F. McLaughlin, of Port Lauderdale, Fla.

Swearing in ceremonies were conducted at the Jackson County building in the Court Room of the Honorable John C. Dalton, Circuit Judge, with fellow Circuit Judge Gordon W. Britten at his side.

Attorney Alexander C. Perlos moved for admission of McLaughlin. The two Judges sitting en banc for the occasion granted the motion.

The young attorney was graduated from Chelsea High school in 1962. He earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree from the University of Michigan, and more recently he was graduated from Wayne State University Law School, where he obtained a degree of Juris Doctorate.

McLaughlin has established his office for the general practice of law, and will be associated with Alexander Perlos, 302 Barris Building, Jackson.

Methodists Start Canvass For Funds

First United Methodist church of Chelsea begins an every-member visitation program this Sunday.

The visitation program is in conjunction with the church's Financial Crusade for underwriting its 1971 budget. Teams of selected members are serving as canvassers to see that every member in the Chelsea area is contacted during the crusade.

This year members are being challenged to meet greater financial goals than in recent years. Crusade co-chairmen, Glenn Kraai and Dr. Clarence Warren, point out that in addition to supporting a general budget, members will be asked to pledge to a new parsonage fund. A minimum of $35,000 in pledges is sought for the 1971 general budget. The new parsonage was approved by the 1970 Spring congregational meeting.

Dr. Allen R. Regan, of the National Division, Board of Missions, The United Methodist Church, is serving as Crusade Director. Under Dr. Regan's guidance selected members of the congregation are receiving instructions to aid them in the canvassing program. Three instructional meetings will be held for this purpose. All canvassers will make their pledges on Dec. 8, during a training program which begins with a dessert luncheon. All canvassing will be completed by Dec. 15, when a victory rally will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the church Social Center.

SOCIAL SECURITY DAYS: Paul G. Schaible, Jr., (left) vice-president of the Chelsea State Bank, looks on as Carol Crane of Ann Arbor Social Security Office explains his computer printout record to Earl Whitney, 14285 Old US-12, during Social Security Days at the bank last Friday, Dec. 4. Whitney, a longtime Chelsea resident, had retired from his business at age 60. He has drawn Social Security checks since he was 62. He is also enrolled for both parts of Medicare, although he confessed to having always been well, and has never had to use it. Ann Arbor's Social Security Office maintains microfilm records of all beneficiaries in the State of Michigan, which are updated every six months. They have access within 48 hours to information as recent as the current month's check. Chelsea State Bank and the Social Security Office co-sponsored the exhibit, with personal representatives at the bank on Thursday and Friday of last week, to explain the Social Security system to Chelsea residents. For those who were unable to be at the bank for the event, and who desire information or assistance, Mrs. Crane explained that they may call the Ann Arbor Office at 769-7100. Almost all Social Security business, including claims, may be handled by telephone, according to Mrs. Crane, thus avoiding the trip into the downtown Ann Arbor area.

Livestock Firm Withdraws Request for Zoning Appeal

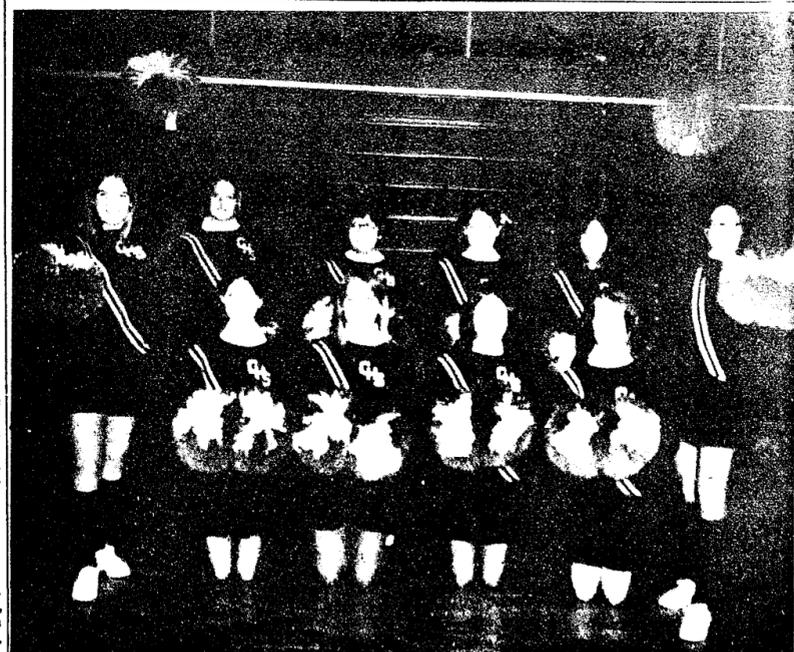

Michigan Livestock Exchange formally withdrew their request for an appeal hearing on the decision of the Sylvan Township Zoning Board, Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 2, according to Reuben Lesser, secretary of the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Originally scheduled for Friday evening, Dec. 4, the appeals hearing would have reconsidered the request of the Michigan Livestock Exchange to have permission to build and operate a livestock auction on a parcel of land on the Norman Hinderer farm on South M-52, south of the Village of Chelsea.

Pressure from local people was one of the major factors influencing the decision of the Zoning Board.

Lesser indicated that Michigan Livestock Exchange officials had said that they were considering property in Sharon township, which is directly south of Sylvan. Several 80-acre parcels of land are being considered by the company as a site for their future livestock auction.

Exchange officials gave no formal reason for withdrawing their request for an appeal.

NEW DRILL TEAM: Latest addition to the Chelsea athletic department, and a welcome change on the basketball courts during half-time are the girls in the Chelsea Drill Team. The drill team, which does dance routines to music, is led by Mrs. Philip Bareis. Miss Murphy, a student teacher at Chelsea High school, taught the girls their first routine, but since that time the girls have made up their own. The girls will give a new routine each week. Rehearsals for the group are three times each week, with each rehearsal lasting close to two hours. Members of this year's team include, in front, from left, (kneeling), Debbie Akin, Donna Clark, Peggy Kraai, Eileen Evans. Standing are Karen Johnson, Jane Ewald, Kathy Stoll, Kris Buck, Karen Reynolds, and Judy Grau.

Winter Concert Slated Monday At High School

Three Choral Groups Will Present Varied Program of Christmas Music

The Winter Concert of the high school choral groups will be presented Monday evening, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Girls Glee Club, the Madrigal Singers, and the Concert Choir of the high school will perform for this concert.

Among numbers presented by the Girls Glee Club will be such popular favorites as "Let It Be," by Beatles' Lennon-McCartney, and "Sound of Silence," by Simon and Garfunkel. Modern Christmas favorites such as "Do You Hear What I Hear?" and "I Believe" will also be presented.

Madrigal Singers, a group of 16 select singers, will present mostly Christmas favorites such as "While Shepherds Watched Their Sheep," "Gesu Bambino," "Wassail Song," and "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen."

"The Peaceable Kingdom," a large and complicated modern piece by Thompson will be the presentation by the Concert Choir. The piece is long, and is divided into seven sections.

The gala concert will end with the joint choir, accompanied by a brass ensemble, and the support of the audience in the singing of the Christmas classic, "Hallelujah Chorus."

Debaters Earn Two Trophies In State League

With the final rounds of the state debate league completed on Dec. 3, Chelsea's debate team has two new trophies added to their collection.

In the varsity competition, Chelsea debaters came in third, behind Parma Western and Greenhills school. The Bulldogs rated higher than teams from Monroe Catholic Central, Brighton, Adrian, and Springport.

Novice debaters finished second, behind Greenhills, with Parma Western in third place, and Brighton, Catholic Central, Adrian and Romulus filling in the lower positions.

Trophies for Chelsea's performance were awarded following the final debates held last Thursday.

In the ABC League, with 16 debates in, and eight debates to go, as of Dec. 1, Chelsea had the lead, with a 14-2 record. Parma Western follows with a 12-4 record, followed by Jackson with a 10-6 record. Other schools in the league include Parkside, Lumen Christi, Springport, and Homer.

All rounds are presently in Cross Examination style. This means that between each of the first four speeches, the other team has an opportunity to ask questions of the speaker for the next three minutes, which the speaker must answer. This is more difficult than the standard debate format which features four 10-minute speeches, and four five-minute speeches. In Cross Examination format, the speeches are eight minutes, and four minutes, with a three-minute cross examination session between the eight-minute speeches.

At a cross examination style tournament held Saturday, Dec. 6, at Ann Arbor Huron school, Chelsea's varsity team went 2-6, while the novice debaters went 5-3 for the day. Dan Gaunt took the third place speaker's trophy. He was third out of a field of 92 speakers.

Police Have New Plymouth Patrol Car

Rotation time has come for the Chelsea Police vehicles! According to Police Chief George Meranuck, the newest addition to the Police fleet is a 1971 Plymouth, specially equipped police vehicle. The department gets a new car every year, replacing the two-year old vehicle which they have, up until this time, leased.

In the past, the chief indicated that the department always leased their cars. With the introduction of the 1970 automobiles, however, the village decided to purchase their vehicles, and trade them in every second year. At present the Chelsea police fleet is composed of a 1970 Ford, and the latest addition, the 1971 Plymouth.

The new car has many new police extras, according to Meranuck. It will take speeds up to 140 mph.

Village Registration Lapse Notices Sent

Notice of registrations recently mailed to voters in the Village of Chelsea apply specifically to general village elections, and should not be confused with elections in the township. Village Clerk Richard Harvey announced this past week. Notices are sent to those who have not registered and voted in a village election in the past two years.

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

In one of its most significant actions this year, the House in Washington has passed legislation which makes a major attack on the problems of unemployment and under-employment.

The Senate passed a similar version to my bill, The Comprehensive Manpower Act, earlier. A conference committee composed of House and Senate members are now attempting to resolve the differences in the two bills.

This bill is a major reform of the array of training programs that have grown in uncoordinated fashion during the last decade. It brings together into a streamlined package existing manpower training and employment services throughout the country. The most exciting advance is the Job Bank, where modern computer techniques are used for job placement.

Major provisions of the bill include:

(1) The identification of national pockets of unemployment resulting from plant shutdowns or changing economic conditions; the development of cooperative programs between national organizations and private industry, and the development of training programs for servicemen nearing release from military service.

(2) Development of a national job computer bank which will match the unemployed with available jobs. This is a unique feature of the legislation, which holds great promise.

(3) The development of job service employment programs within federal, state, and local governments to help the unemployed find jobs.

(4) The institution of programs to upgrade the underemployed. Millions of people, by working in jobs below their capacity, are denied the skills it needs to run a giant, sophisticated economy.

This long-delayed legislation should be a major tool in our fight against unemployment and underemployment. While it is quite obviously no panacea, it brings into being programs and procedures that are more equal to the problem. One correction which should be made in conference is to insure that private employment agencies are not unduly injured by this new legislation.

Unfortunately, our legislation still does not address itself to a major need; that of coordinating manpower training programs with vocational and technical education programs in our school system. That should be the next task of Congress.

Hay Is Big Crop

Washtenaw county farmers harvested 44,000 acres of hay in 1969, according to Phil Doctor of the Michigan Crop Reporting Service. Production amounted to 108,000 tons, an average of 2.45 tons per acre.

But we know progress is bound to catch up to us sooner or later, probable soon er.

TV Not All-Powerful

When listening to many political commentators these days, one gets the idea television is an all-powerful persuader in the modern political campaign.

"Make up some good, slick advertisements and then buy all the tube time you can to air them," goes the theory of political persuasion they are expounding.

In the midst of all this there comes at least one successful candidate who didn't put all his eggs in the television basket this year. In fact, aides to the candidate say another instrument they used was the "single most effective advertising device" they had.

That candidate is Gov. William G. Milliken, and the instrument which he used so successfully was an eight-page, color rotogravure section which was inserted in the state's larger newspapers just before the election.

Milliken forces printed and distributed 2.5 million copies of the eight-page, tabloid size piece of literature.

Chances are, you saw a copy of it, with a color portrait of the governor on the cover, inside pages devoted to brief biographies of the Milliken family and running mate James Brickley, and a section outlining their positions on issues ranging from education, to crime.

Mill Creek Committees Gathering Data

Mill Creek Research Council Board of Directors and committees concerned with the future study of the proposed Mill Creek Park by the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority, met Dec. 3, at the home of Leonard McCalla.

Plans are being made for local residents to attend the Dec. 10 meeting of the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority Board of Commissioners meeting. This December meeting will be the Authority's regular monthly meeting, and there will not be time to discuss the park proposal.

However, the research council hopes to request time on the agenda of their Jan. 14 meeting. Research Council hopes local people will plan to attend.

Committees are busy it was reported at the meeting. Several carloads of people had planned to visit the Stoney Creek Park area on Sunday, Dec. 6, as a part of their effort to learn more about the park. The Stoney Creek park is most like the proposed park on Mill Creek. The purpose of the visit is to see how it has affected that area.

Mill Creek Research Council members are circulating petitions of opposition to the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority's plans for a park on Mill Creek in Lima township.

AG IS BIG INDUSTRY

Only one of every 25 Michigan families operates a farm, but these farms contribute an estimated $1 billion annually to the state's economy—second only to the manufacturing industry, points out Dr. George Dike, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Personal, Mister Editor, I agree with Bug that they still is room in this old world for us to pull together to help one another. Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

"A lot of people knew the governor had a lot of programs on which he was working," explains one aide.

"But they didn't know the 'humanizing' aspects of him—his war record, his family and things like that.

"We also had the problem that his record was spread over a lot of areas, and you just can't lay that in front of the voter in a 30-second television spot," he said.

The supplement was printed on a crash staff after it evolved from staff meetings. The printing was held up one week because Milliken didn't like the first version put together and a quick reworking job had to be done.

But the final result pleased Milliken and his aides and, they feel, was the "single most effective advertising device they used."

"Television is the big glamour item right now," said another aide. "I think some people have forgotten the purpose of political advertising whatever form it takes."

"That purpose is to communicate with the voter, to catch his attention and get your message over to him," he said. "If you do a more effective job of that than your opponent, you're probably going to win."

Beebe Fights On She may be out of her seat in the Michigan State Senate, but she is the only woman who has sat in that body the last four years isn't going to roll over and play dead.

"I may die with my boots on, but I won't quit," vows Mrs. Lorraine Beebe, a Dearborn Republican whose defeat was attributed mainly to her staunch support of abortion law reforms.

"They can't keep me quiet by voting me out of the Senate," she said.

Mrs. Beebe says she'll concentrate on the women's rights field, possibly by co-ordinating the various groups in Michigan and channeling their efforts together.

"I've gained a lot of knowledge about the way things really work in the legislature in the past four years, and I certainly hope to use this experience," she said. "I want to tell the women of Michigan what's happening here."

Mrs. Beebe feels her defeat was "a real slap to the women of this state."

"It is totally unfair to have an all-male Senate telling the people of this state what they can eat, how much they can get paid and how fast they can drive as it would be to have an all woman Senate doing those things," she said.

"I believe that in their hearts, women are seeking some form of liberation," she said. "I can sense a restlessness, an uncomformableness in them. There's a big world out there that needs the talents and abilities of women. That is why Beebe isn't quitting."

Monday, Dec. 14, representatives from Albion College and the Lansing Business University will be in the Board of Education room. Albion will visit the school during the third hour, and Lansing Business University will occupy the room during the fifth hour.

Sgt. Clifton Loveland Chosen For Crew in SAC Competition

U. S. Air Force Sergeant Clifton D. Loveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy D. Loveland of 1001 Grass Lake Rd., Grass Lake, has been selected to participate in the Strategic Air Command's (SAC) elite combat competition at McCoy AFB, Fla., Nov. 15-20.

Sergeant Loveland is an airborne radio operator on the hand picked team that will support the B-52 Stratofortress bomber crew from the 320th Bomb Wing at Mather AFB, Calif. He was selected on the basis of his technical skill, proficiency and outstanding performance.

Fifty-five SAC aircraft and crews, along with three Royal Air Force (Great Britain) teams, will be competing in the "world series of bombing and navigation."

SAC's newest bomber—the General Dynamics FB-111—is making its debut in the competition. Two of the supersonic bombers and two man crews will match their bombing and navigation skill against 24 B-52, 29 KC-135 Stratotanker and three British delta-wing Vulcan bomber crews.

Each bomber team will fly two scored missions and will be judged on navigation, coupled with simulated bombing from both low and high altitudes. Tanker crews will fly one mission, vying only for navigation honors.

The crew with the highest point total in combined bombing and navigation will win the coveted Fairchild Trophy. The Saunders Trophy will go to the tanker team compiling the most points in navigation.

"Bombing targets" for the bombers will be located near Wheatley, Ark., and Arcadia, La., and accuracy of simulated bomb releases will be computed by mobile radar scoring units.

Sergeant Loveland graduated in 1965 from Grass Lake High school and attended Jackson Community College.

His wife, Hazel, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil F. Walz of 3940 Portage Rd., Grass Lake.

FAMILY MAN

Incentive Payments To Be Made In April on 1970 Crop Wool Sales

Payments will be made beginning about the first of April on marketing of wool and mohair in 1970 and reported by Jan. 31, 1971. So reports Raymond Girtach, chairman of the Washtenaw County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, who reminded producers that the 1970 marketing year under the wool and mohair program ends Dec. 31.

Wool payments are based on the difference between the incentive price (72 cents per pound for shorn wool marketed in 1970) and the average national price for markings during the year. Wool and mohair sales made after Dec. 31, 1970, will not be eligible for payment until early 1972.

Incentive payments are made through ASCS county offices to all producers who file applications and present the necessary sales receipts and other records.

Girtach reminded producers that sales documents must show all details of the sale were completed during the current marketing year—including passing title to the buyer. There must also be a record showing either actual delivery or transfer of control of the wool or mohair to the buyer. The buyer's total purchase price must be clearly stated, also.

Proof of ownership for at least 30 days is an important requirement, the ASC committee chairman said.

To be eligible for payments, producers must own for at least 30 days the livestock from which the wool or mohair was shorn and the unshorn lambs on which they apply for payment. Records must be presented which clearly

Sadly missed by his wife, children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. 25

Revolutionary New Treatment Found for Sickle Cell Anemia

Detroit—As many as 3,000 Michigan residents and 68,000 persons nation-wide who have a killer blood disease could benefit from a medical breakthrough by a team of scientists from Wayne State University and Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Sickle cell anemia, a hereditary disease which originated in Africa, affects black persons almost exclusively. Half of its victims die by the time they are 30, few live beyond 40 and many are invalids long before death.

Medical experts estimate that in every 500 black persons suffers from the disease and that nine or 10 percent of all blacks carry the genes for the disease in their chromosomes.

But Dr. Robert M. Nalbandian, former WSU associate professor of pathology now with Blodgett, says the team has found that a common chemical called urea, produced in the human body and easily synthesized, can arrest the disease and prevent recurrences.

Normally round red blood cells in an afflicted person "sickle," or become elongated, blocking the flow of blood and causing a variety of symptoms: swollen hands, feet and limbs, paralysis and other deterioration.

The team has developed a method of treatment with urea that has proven successful but is not yet available to all diseased persons.

The scientists also have developed a fast, inexpensive blood sample test to identify those who may have the disease, a quick method of stopping the painful symptoms of an attack which develop when sickle blood cells stop normal circulation and a daily treatment method to control the disease for penitence a day.

Patients with sickle cell anemia require frequent hospital care during attacks.

Dr. Nalbandian and the Wayne State team used a model developed by Dr. Makio Murayama, of the National Institutes of Health, which gave a molecular theory of what causes red blood cells to elongate in sickle cells anemia.

Using the model, the researchers sought an agent which would stop the molecules from joining together. They discovered that a waste product of the liver, urea, when used with a compound called invert sugar, not only would break up a sickle chain of molecules, but also would keep them from rejoining.

Each time a person suffering from an attack was treated, he returned to a normal state within two days.

In one case, the patient had required a week of hospital care a month for a year. That patient has not returned to a hospital in the six months since treatment started.

In 25 cases which have been treated, not one has had another attack, although none are cured of the disease.

Dr. Nalbandian emphasizes that further proof and testing of the procedure is essential. But the team has molecular proof of its theories at every step, and Dr. Marion L. Barnhart, a WSU electron microscopy expert, has taken photographs of blood samples before and after treatment that support their work.

"This is the first time," Dr. Nalbandian said, "that a disease has been understood well enough, thanks to Murayama, that effective therapy was designed theoretically at the molecular level and proven successful."

Financed in part by the Michigan Heart Association the team is hoping funds from other sources will be made available for further research into their revolutionary and life-saving work.

Dr. Nalbandian has worked with the Army and Navy on some parts of the research, and both plan to use the blood sample screening procedures developed by Dr. Raymond L. Henry at Wayne State. Dr. Jeanne Lusher, a WSU assistant professor of pediatrics, hopes to establish a similar program at Children's Hospital in Detroit.

Post Office Lists Hours for Holiday Period. Postmaster Richard Schuales states that during the month of December and on Jan. 1, the following instructions on the provision of week-day and week-end window service shall apply.

Normal window service shall be maintained on weekdays, Monday through Friday at the Chelsea Post Office. This means that the normal opening and closing hours will not be expanded, unless necessary.

On the first two Saturdays immediately preceding Christmas Day (Dec. 12, and 19), window service will be provided as prescribed. Stamp, parcel post and combination windows will be opened for a period not to exceed 8 1/2 hours.

Christmas Day, Dec. 25—No window service will be provided. New Year's Day, Jan. 1—No window service will be provided.

Postmaster Schuales also wishes to remind patrons that all greeting cards require 6 cents postage sealed or unsealed. Since virtually all greeting cards weigh less than an ounce, the first-class and third-class rates, are, in effect, the same.

Thus, the post office notes, all greeting cards bearing six cents postage which are undeliverable as addressed, shall be forwarded if a new address is available. The Department stresses the importance of a return address to insure that undeliverable cards will be returned. This allows mailers to keep their address lists up to date.

Postmaster Schuales also wishes to announce that the Christmas period provides an excellent opportunity to use ZIP Code, particularly in return addresses, and an ideal time for customers to advise their once-a-year correspondents of their correct address and ZIP Code numbers.

Army Deserter Arrested By Chelsea Police

An Army deserter, and a soldier officially "AWOL" were successfully returned to the sheltering arms of Uncle Sam this past week by Chelsea police officers.

Marion Armstrong, 17-year-old soldier from Manchester, was arrested Thursday evening, Dec. 3, at the home of a girl friend. Chelsea police had been alerted the evening before by the 5th Army from Fort Riley, Kansas, where the young man was serving.

Following a tip from a local resident, the police went to the home of his girl friend, and made the arrest.

Armstrong, who had deserted the night before, was taken to the Washtenaw County Jail to await Army officials.

Earlier that day, at 12:45 a.m. on the morning of Dec. 3, Patrolmen Peebles and Schneider of the Chelsea Police Department had been alerted by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, who were acting on a tip they had received concerning another Army deserter who had been AWOL since Oct. 13 from Fort Riley.

Peter Steven Miller, 20 years old, had been granted a leave on Sept. 30, to extend until Oct. 13. Miller had changed the notation on his leave papers to read that his leave was from Oct. 30 until Nov. 30.

He was arrested at the home of his sister, Beatrice Dobbs, of 621 N. Main St., where he had been living.

Miller was taken to Washtenaw County Jail, where he was held for military authorities.

Family Fight Results In Court Decision On Assault, Battery

A family fight which took place Wednesday evening, Nov. 27, resulted in an assault and battery charge for the husband, and cuts and bruises for his wife.

Chelsea police, acting on a complaint received Wednesday evening, went to the home of Leveda Yost, 310 W. Middle St., where her husband, Richard Yost, of 1385 Delaware St., Ypsilanti, had come to see her. The couple, who are separated, had been fighting. Mrs. Yost was beaten about the head, and had to be taken to Chelsea Medical Clinic, where she had several stitches in the right side and rear of her head.

Mrs. Yost pressed charges of assault and battery against her husband, who appeared this past week before Judge Patrick J. Conlin in the 14th District Court. He pled guilty, and was fined $35 fine and costs. He was placed on 90 days probation.

CHELSEA DRUG. WE ARE GLAD TO OBLIGE. Because a pharmacy is intimately involved with health, the service it most provide goes much beyond any possible profit motive or advantage over a competitor. The best example of this pharmacy ethic is the cooperation between ordinarily competing pharmacies when time is an urgent factor. Although we usually have most prescribed drugs in stock, or can get a medicine delivered to us the same day, we occasionally must have it that same hour. When this happens we will ask another pharmacy to "oblige" us and let us borrow from him the needed drug until we can replace it. Other pharmacies will follow the same procedure in getting an urgently needed medicine from us. The health of the customer must always be the primary concern of every pharmacist. YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts. 24-HOUR PRESCRIPTION SERVICE 101 N. MAIN ST. PHONE GR 5-4611

Student Products from Continuing Education Classes Will Be Shown

On Saturday, Dec. 12, at the Wylie Middle School in Dexter, residents of Dexter, Chelsea and Pinckney and all the intervening locations will be able to view products completed by many of the students from classes of the Dexter Continuing Education Program. The program is a relative newcomer to this area, and has found enthusiastic and interested reception among residents of this western section of the county during its brief life-span.

The displays will be available for men, women and children to observe on the same evening that one of the continuing education classes presents a special stage production, "The Silver Thread" at Wylie school auditorium.

Included in the display will be some of the art pieces from Mrs. John (Mary) Rush's adult art classes; products of the book-binding class headed by Mrs. Gerald (Helen) Carter, as well as the work of students from the arts and crafts for home decoration class, which several instructors share. Country tin painting will be exhibited by students of Mrs. Herbert (Dorothy) Abbott's class in that subject, and Leo Heinzman and his students in the upholstery class will be putting some of their prize workmanship on display. Knitting from Mrs. Patrick (Lori) Doody's students, and some special products of Mrs. Winthrop (Betty) Vail's students in the Bishop Sewing I class will also be exhibited Saturday night.

Mrs. Jack Brigham has been instructing classes in caning and in furniture refinishing this year, and several samples of her students' work will be on display, in addition to some of the work from the rushing class of which Mrs. Carl (Bobbie) Willoughby was the instructor this fall.

Prof. Phillip Davis and his students from the fall photography class will be showing some unusual and colorful shots to those attending the exhibit.

Just in time for the Christmas season, students from Mrs. Rhoda (Ruth) Arnold's "Flower Making and Christmas Ideas" class will be displaying much of their work.

From among classes for which children may register, student efforts will also be displayed at the giant exhibition at Wylie school. These will include products from the children's knitting class headed by Mrs. Doody, and from the children's art classes which Jeff Spaulding instructs. Articles from students of the children's Bishop sewing class headed by Mrs. John (Linda) Eppich, will also be shown.

During the intermission time of the stage production, students from the square-dancing class led by Conrad "Connie" Eichorn, will present a demonstration of their skills. There will also be techniques demonstrated in tap, ballet and acrobatic dancing during the evening, from classes directed by Mrs. B. E. (Betty) Walton.

In addition to exhibitions and demonstrations of the students in classes now nearing completion, there will also be items displayed by teachers of classes to be offered for the second semester, beginning the week of Jan. 18. These will include Mrs. James (Ann) Penkins' decoupage class, a weaving class headed by Mrs. Currier (Margaret) Thompson, a ceramic class which Mrs. Farhad (Tina) Kazemli will instruct, and Mrs. James (Ellen) Farr's classes on Bishop clothing II and Bishop children's clothing construction.

Interested prospective students in any of the areas mentioned above are invited to take the time to stop and view the colorful displays.

TODAY'S THOUGHT. BY LOUIS BURGHARDT. Ben Franklin said, "A good newspaper and Bible in every house, a good schoolhouse in every district, and a church in every neighborhood; all appreciated as they deserve, are the chief support of virtue, morality, civil liberty and religion." Newspapers are published everywhere. Every individual person must determine his or her extent of appreciation. Nearly every home has a Bible. Too few are read; hence unappreciated by the many who own a Bible as a mere possession. Schools are in every district. They and their purposes simply can not be appreciated when small but determined militant minorities successfully shackle the ideas and ideals of the majority of students and teachers. Churches are seen in every neighborhood. They can not be appreciated when people absent themselves from devotional participation and refuse to change patterns of daily conduct. Isn't it obvious that if virtue, morality, civil liberty and religion are to be supported, a lot more people will have to change their thinking, attitudes and actions? Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

Regarding the proposed Metropolitan Park for Lima township. I think every citizen and especially every taxpayer in the Chelsea School District should be concerned.

If they take 4,087 acres (which is the amount they want) out of Lima township and off the tax roll, the rest of us will have to assume the taxes from that portion.

With the struggle we are having to keep our schools going, and taxes rising every year, I don't know why we should take on this extra burden for something that is not needed in Washtenaw county, and especially in Lima township. They have told us it would cost over $5 million a year to acquire the land and maintain it as it is not self-supporting.

This land they would be taking is some of the best land in Washtenaw county. Not only that, but there are thousands of acres of land in the outlying area that is tile drained into Mill Creek which will be damaged or ruined by damming Mill Creek, and backing the water up.

I am concerned because one-half of our farm is in Lima township, but the entire farm drains into Mill Creek.

Mr. Laidlaw from the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority said that the government was taking land out of production every year but that is an altogether different situation.

They take a small amount of land out of production from each farm that co-operates with the program temporarily to regulate crop production, but they still have the land to fall back on when they need it for production.

It may be needed sooner than we expect, with the population growing as it is and if we have a couple of years of drought such as we have had in years past, also with some of the pests and diseases that have come up in the last two or three years such as the cereal leaf beetle, alfalfa weevil, the corn leaf blight, and who knows what next.

To take this good farm land out of production permanently I think is a crime and a mistake that I think will be deeply regretted some day. Not only that but many homes will be destroyed which are so badly needed today. I believe there are some 90 homes in this area.

Many of these people have worked a life time to acquire what they have.

At the meetings we have had the people have voted unanimously to fight this project.

David Bacon, Mrs. Virginia Denham, and Mrs. Margaret Sias and the other members of the executive committee of the MCRC and those who have volunteered to work on the different committees are working hard, and spending a great deal of time to get the facts and data together. Let's all back them up 100 percent.

If we are going to do something, now is the time to do it.

I think it is the duty of all of us to write to our Senator, Representative, or the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners to express our objections.

We have a good prosperous community around Chelsea. Let's try and keep it that way. We need these good farms and homes in this area for the welfare of the community.

We need the property in this area on the tax rolls to help support our schools. We need the primary money from the children in this area for our schools.

They told over the radio the other day that there were 10 million people hungry in the United States today.

What could it be in 10 years from now or even 20 years from now?

I think it would be much more enjoyable to have a good dinner and take a ride through a nice well-kept farming community than to go to the park with an empty lunch basket.

Sylvester Weber.

All of Michigan's farmers could be seated in Michigan State University's Spartan Stadium (capacity 76,000), yet one of every four Michigan citizens derives some part of his income from agriculture, notes Dr. George Dike, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Oil Your Sewing Machine Regularly

To keep a sewing machine in good condition, clean and oil it lightly after eight hours of use, said Bernetta Kahabka, clothing specialist with Michigan State University.

This may mean daily cleaning and oiling or oiling every two or three weeks, depending on how much you use the machine.

Clean the tension discs, take-up, bobbin case and the surface of the machine with a soft cloth. Use a lint brush to clean the feed dog and the bobbin case area.

After cleaning, apply a drop of sewing machine oil to the motion parts in the bobbin case area.

"But make it the smallest drop possible and be sure to use sewing machine oil," Miss Kahabka said.

"Household oil has gummed up many a machine because it is too heavy. After oiling, always sew a few lines of stitching on a scrap fabric to remove excess oil."

JAPANESE TEA PARTY: Mrs. Paplowsky's fourth grade class at North Elementary school took an imaginary trip to Japan this past week, for an afternoon attendance of a real Japanese-style tea ceremony. As a culmination of a Social studies unit on Japan, the class held a tea party in the ancient Japanese tradition. The students wore the mats they sat upon, out of newspapers. The hats worn by the boys were fashioned from construction paper. The shoe-less fourth graders sat on the floor, and drank tea, and ate rice. According to North School principal, Robert Benedict, every fourth grade class studies several different coun-

Red Cross Repeating Popular 'Voices from Home' Project

The "Voices from Home" project started by the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross eight years ago will be repeated during the coming holiday season, Mrs. James O. Mason, chairman, announced today.

Offered as a public service, the project enables families of servicemen to send 15-minute taped recordings of greetings to men in service at bases in this country or overseas. Tapes are "cut" at the Red Cross Operations Center on Packard Rd., and sent out at no cost to the families.

Last year tapes were sent to servicemen in Vietnam, Germany, Korea, the Philippines, Cuba, Turkey and to various bases in this country. Families from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Saline, Whitmore Lake and Dexter were among those participating.

Mrs. Mason announced this procedure for making a recording: A member of the serviceman's family calls the Red Cross for an appointment. The family is advised to prepare notes on what is to appear on the record ahead of time. Some families read messages or letters and other greetings, and often when there are small children, they recite something learned in school. Many families accustomed to singing in the home sing Christmas carols for the recording.

"The recordings are done in private," stated Mrs. Mason, "so that families need feel no embarrassment over the personal nature of the message."

pared for mailing while the family is present. A card is enclosed for the serviceman to give his reaction to the project. Cards returned to the Red Cross last year were high in praise of the plan, Mrs. Mason said.

The Red Cross Center near Buhr Park on Packard Rd., Ann Arbor, telephone 971-5200, will begin accepting appointments for the project this week. Appointments will run through Dec. 15.

Pre-Schooler Eating Problems Require Special Attention

If your pre-schooler takes longer than 30 minutes at a meal, he may be dawdling for extra attention, says Mrs. Helen Fairman, extension home economist for Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe counties.

"The 'hurry and eat your dinner' which his parents shout at him is better than no attention at all." The specialist recommends giving the child a little extra affection at mealtime.

Sometimes meals are too exciting. The child is caught up in the mood brought on by charged conversations among adults and older children. Encourage a calmer, but still friendly atmosphere, the home economist suggests.

A child who snacks all the time will be less likely to eat good meals, Mrs. Fairman says. If this is the case, simply reduce the number of snacks, the child eats, and eliminate them entirely an hour before meals.

District Winners Named in Wool Sewing Contest

District 11 winners of the 1970-71 Make It Yourself With Wool contest were selected Saturday, Nov. 21, from a group of 23 girls in the Sub-deb (10-13), Junior (14-16), and Senior (16-18) participating in a fashion show at the Hillsdale County 4-H building at the fairgrounds.

Jennifer J. Walkup, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Walkup of Litchfield, modeled a seal brown, modified shirtdress with inverted back pleat made from a Vogue designer pattern in Heller doubleknit, to win the Senior division. Jennifer is a Junior at MSU, majoring in Retailing of Clothing and Textiles.

Senior runner-up was Marcia Gilbert, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Gilbert of Hillsdale, wearing a top-stitched mid-length pant suit. Marcia is a freshman at Kellogg Community College.

Pamela Hall, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Hall of Ypsilanti, was the Junior division winner with a wool three-piece, burnt plaid, cape-vest pants outfit. Pamela is a sophomore at Ypsilanti High school.

Runner-up was Sharon Stout, daughter of Mr. Dorman Stout of Clayton, wearing a cape styled suit outfit.

All fabrics used had to be made of 100 percent wool loomed in America.

Miss Walkup and Miss Hall will participate in the junior and senior division of the state competition, which will be held at Michigan State University, on Dec. 12. Winners in the state level will go on to the national event to be held in Las Vegas, Nev., Jan. 19.

An introductory offer to people who have never owned a Chrysler.

We want to introduce as many people as possible to the finest-designed, best-built Chryslers we've ever offered. So we're coming through with the Royal.

A brand-new series of Chryslers. At a new low price. $112* less than any other Chrysler series.

Coming through in a big way.
Royal is every inch a Chrysler. Uncompromisingly full-sized.
It's also a bigger car than our chief competition, Buick LeSabre and Olds Delta 88.
With a roomier interior. And a bigger trunk.
A matter of inches.
Our new 360 V-8 is ten cubic inches bigger than the engines on Buick and Olds.
More important, especially in a car this size, our engine comes through with more horsepower. All on regular gas.

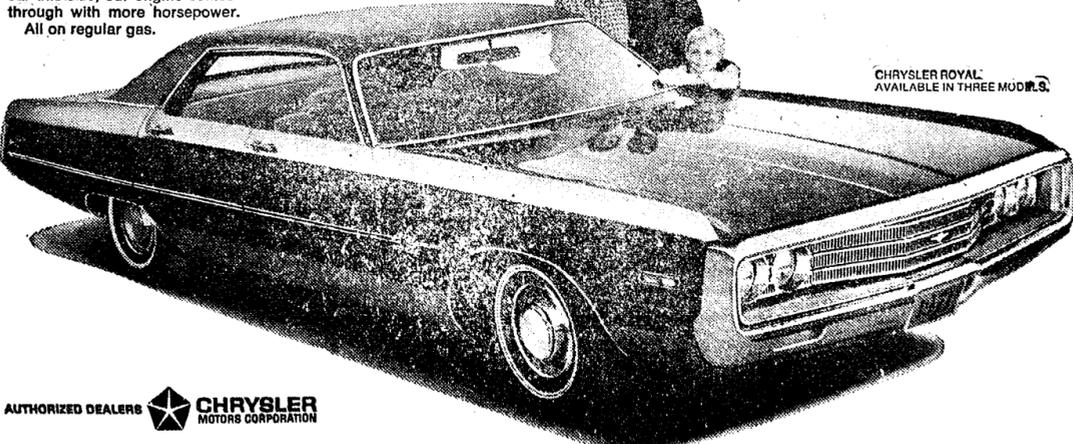

A difference of opinion.
LeSabre and Delta come with coil spring suspension systems. The Royal uses torsion bars.
They'll tell you coil springs are better. We'll tell you torsion bars are. Who's right?
Well, we urge you to try them both and make up your own mind.
It is interesting to note, however, that GM does use torsion bars on two models: one of the most expensive Cadillacs, and the most expensive Oldsmobile.
Now are we coming through?

Embarrassing questions.
Ask your Buick or Olds dealer about options. An electric sliding sun roof?
Or a stereo cassette player available with a microphone?
In reply, all you'll get is a red face.
Royal, on the other hand, lists both of these features on its long option list.

Built and engineered with extra care.
The Royal body is a single solid unit. Unitized with over 5000 individual welds.
The competition uses bolts to mate the body to the frame.
On a test drive, you probably wouldn't notice any difference. But the differences are there.
Our Unibody is stronger for one thing. It also stays tighter longer. So there is less chance of welds and seams opening up and forming rust pockets.
Another thing to remember is that Royal has no body bolts to work free and rattle after, say, a year or so of driving.

A car for people ready to move up.
Chrysler Royal. An introduction to Chrysler luxury and quality.
Coming through at a price you can afford.
That's our offer. Welcome to Chrysler.

An introductory offer to people who have never owned a Chrysler.

We want to introduce as many people as possible to the finest-designed, best-built Chryslers we've ever offered. So we're coming through with the Royal. A brand-new series of Chryslers. At a new low price. $112* less than any other Chrysler series.

Coming through in a big way.
Royal is every inch a Chrysler. Uncompromisingly full-sized. It's also a bigger car than our chief competition, Buick LeSabre and Olds Delta 88. With a roomier interior. And a bigger trunk.

A matter of inches.
Our new 360 V-8 is ten cubic inches bigger than the engines on Buick and Olds. More important, especially in a car this size, our engine comes through with more horsepower. All on regular gas.

A difference of opinion.
LeSabre and Delta come with coil spring suspension systems. The Royal uses torsion bars. They'll tell you coil springs are better. We'll tell you torsion bars are. Who's right? Well, we urge you to try them both and make up your own mind. It is interesting to note, however, that GM does use torsion bars on two models: one of the most expensive Cadillacs, and the most expensive Oldsmobile. Now are we coming through?

Embarrassing questions.
Ask your Buick or Olds dealer about options. An electric sliding sun roof? Or a stereo cassette player available with a microphone? In reply, all you'll get is a red face.

Royal, on the other hand, lists both of these features on its long option list.

Built and engineered with extra care.
The Royal body is a single solid unit. Unitized with over 5000 individual welds. The competition uses bolts to mate the body to the frame. On a test drive, you probably wouldn't notice any difference. But the differences are there. Our Unibody is stronger for one thing. It also stays tighter longer. So there is less chance of welds and seams opening up and forming rust pockets. Another thing to remember is that Royal has no body bolts to work free and rattle after, say, a year or so of driving.

A car for people ready to move up.
Chrysler Royal. An introduction to Chrysler luxury and quality. Coming through at a price you can afford. That's our offer. Welcome to Chrysler.

★ Sorrowful Crisis
Legalize marijuana? Arguments for legalization include the fraud that the weed is non-habit forming. Habit forming or not, the argument is absurdly irrelevant when one considers the drug loads its victim in a deadly mass querade to join an even longer line of losers using more destructive drugs.
Sorting out the losers was done by a non-profit research group who studied 6,500 addicts. The federally financed program revealed that "25 percent of the addicts followed an invariable four-step sequence toward addiction. They began with marijuana and advanced to amphetamines, or 'speed.' Then they began using barbiturates, and finally they became heroin addicts. The other 75 percent skipped one or two of the steps; the study found, but none went directly to heroin without first using one of the other drugs."
But campaigns to ban the pusher are pointed in the right direction although somewhat misguided. The professional pusher, the stereotyped slinky con man peddling slow death in a package, is a murderer; however, the study reveals that although the pusher may instigate dope use, it is the users themselves who feed the flames of this sorrowful crisis.
Friend or Foe?
The National Observer report of the study states, "Fifty-four percent started using narcotics because a friend of the same age used them. Another 30 percent were started by older friends. Pushers accounted for just 14 percent, and the remaining 14 percent began for reasons other than these."
If this is true, then it appears that many of our youth must further learn to think independently—to act on their own initiative rather than to run with the crowd.
Providing them with the right ammunition is a project of the Michigan State Police. Acting Director Lt. Col. Kaufman says that the need is great, as he reports that there is probably no school in Michigan where some student has not been involved with the use of marijuana. The MSP's current objective is getting the right information to students about damaging drugs through a liaison program with schools.
And these programs will include rural Michigan. Regardless of what people want to believe, our rural communities are not immune.
Tiger Outfielder Mickey Stanley went through the entire 1970 season without making an error in the outfield. His perfect 1,000 fielding average led the American League.

NATIVITY SCENE was also featured at the Thursday evening performance by the boys of St. Louis school. The Rev. Father Pegoraro Germano constructed the scenery for the little scene, and all the costumes were made at the school. Pictured above are Kevin Reeside, who was an angel; Joe Vitale, as St. Joseph; and Donald Verstraite, as the Blessed Mother.

Students from St. Louis School Entertain Medical Center Patients

Students from the St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys entertained patients at the Chelsea Medical Center with a Christmas program Thursday evening, Dec. 3. The Rev. Father Umberto Mellare, musical director of the school, conducted the school band, and was responsible for the delightfully varied program which the boys gave.

The band played musical selections and the choir sang Christmas carols. One of the favorite selections given was "The Twelve Days of Christmas," in which the choir held up cards which they had made which represented each of the 12 days.

Ponta Gary played "I Silen- Michigan ranks first among states in production of dry edible beans, red tart cherries, blueberries, Eastern White winter wheat, cucumbers for pickles and hothouse rhubarb, according to Dr. George Dike, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

zic," on the trumpet, and also narrated the nativity scene, which closed the program. The scenery for the little skit was made by the Rev. Father Pegoraro Germano. All the players were in costumes made at the school.

DONT SHOCK PLANTS
Tap water runs pretty cold during winter, so it's best to use water at room temperature to avoid shocking your plant collection. Use enough water at the same time each day, to leach harmful salt accumulations out through the porous sides of your clay pots.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER:
"I have a big problem about my ex-boyfriend. I am 17, so is this boy. When we were courting, he would tell me he loves me. I have a cousin who doesn't like me. She would get this boy behind my back and ask him how he felt about me. He would tell her he really didn't care for me. When I asked him about it he told me he said it because he didn't like for anyone to know who his girlfriends are. When we are together, he acts as if he loves me, but when she is around he doesn't. I love him, but I don't think he loves me. Another cousin, a boy, told me my ex-boyfriend told him that he really cared for me. I still don't believe it. We broke up sometime ago and he has another girlfriend. She still looks at me as if he likes me, but we never say anything to each other. What shall I do?"

OUR REPLY: If you get back together again, be your own judge in the matter of whether or not he loves you or likes you and how much. Don't have people asking him for you. Some boys do resent people always asking them, "Do you like so-and-so You can tell, by his attitude, by the things he says and what he does, how he really feels about you."

SUNDAY'S SERMON

It is easy for most of us to see what is "wrong" with the world in which we live. Newspaper headlines, television programs, the events of our daily lives frequently remind us that things are far from perfect.

What we tend to forget is that the world has never been perfect. And yet, it has never been without hope. Hope is an eternal promise, spoken eloquently in the life and teachings of Jesus centuries ago.

Hope is found in the universal message of God's love for all mankind. Therein, too, is truth, as solid as the unchanging story of that One Solitary Life upon earth.

Turn your thoughts to God. See what goodness surrounds you everywhere. Find faith with yourself, for yourself, and you will not despair that all is not perfect around you.

Some handy information about new phone rates within Michigan.

They're simpler.
With the chart below, for instance, you can figure out what it will cost to call any number in the state. Any number outside of your local calling area.

And the rates are more fair.
Look at the chart again. Notice that you're now charged for "each" minute you use the phone. (Before, you'd pay for no less than 3 minutes. Whether you used them all or not.)

Four things determine what you pay:
How far you call within Michigan.
How long you talk.
Whether an operator calls the number or you dial it yourself.
The time and day.

Also notice that you're given discounts for dialing direct rather than using an operator.
Both of these changes were made for one reason. People should only be asked to pay for what they use. Fair? Fair.

Handy cut-out for future reference.

TEACHER TOPICS

A STATE OF POETRY
By Lyman Johnston
8th grade math teacher

Kentucky was basking in a lush Indian Summer on Nov. 7th, as my wife and I attended the 1970 meeting of the Kentucky State Poetry Society in Jenny Wiley State Park near Prestonsburg. Yes, you read it right—a math teacher attended a meeting of poets! I am an out-of-state member of the Kentucky Society. I have had a life-long feeling for poetry which has been showing up in a desire to write and to create my own poetry. In a few years, as I retire from teaching, I shall have become so immersed in poetry as to never realize the usual low feeling that comes with retirement.

As one crosses the bridge at Portsmouth, over the splashing Ohio River, one notices a subtle change in the atmosphere—the whole idea is different. One can never adequately explain Kentucky. One can only see, understand and know the beauty that is Kentucky. Shortly, we entered Gretnah, the home town of Jesse Stuart, teacher, poet, author, world traveler on tour for the U. S. Department, and humanitarian. Here, we entered Leslie's Rexall Store where every one of Jesse Stuart's books still in print may be found, on sale. We purchased a few more of his works in prose and poetry. Next, we lunched in a small cafe at a table next to the table of the local constable, enjoying the delightful accent of the local Kentuckians all around us. And, then, we moved on to the scene of the Poets' gathering place in the shadow of two great Kentuckians, two great Americans: These are Daniel Boone and Jesse Stuart. Jesse was the main speaker at the gathering of poets, this in spite of the fact that a new grandson had just been born to his daughter and son-in-law in New Orleans. I had a chance to visit with Jesse as he autographed his poem, "Kentucky Is My Land." We discussed the ordinary things one mentions when visiting with an acquaintance. He wondered that I had never gone into school administration. And, I replied that I had always preferred the vigor of the classroom. He said that, after many years as an administrator, he had returned to the classroom prior to his retirement from education.

We talked of our Scottish forebears, he informing those around us that the "T" in the name, Johnston, implied Scottish and not English heritage. All the Kentuckians I met that day were proud of their heritage from the British Isles. I think he detected my feeling of being overwhelmed in the presence of a celebrity. In his own special way, though, he helped me around this obstacle through his own feeling for all of humanity. For, this is Jesse Stuart!

At the ceremonies following the banquet, which was originally called a luncheon, we heard poets render poems and ballads, some with music and some without. Much of the music was centered on the heritage of Kentucky and of Appalachia. After nearly four hours of food and entertainment, we reached the yearly poetry awards given in 14 categories. I didn't win an award—but didn't care. For I had just passed through an unforgettable experience that can never be duplicated. I heard inspired poets speak out for saving the grandeur of Appalachia from the strip miner. On this one theme, they wrote so many of their poems and their from the colleges and universities ballads. I heard young professors of Kentucky express themselves on making poetry come alive for all Americans, on bringing poetry to youth as a replacement to drugs and violence, and for preserving the heritage of Kentucky, of Appalachia, and all of America. I saw college students win awards in poetry. And, I saw students win awards as leaders in the field of poetry in their schools back home. Some were officers in poetry groups in their local schools. This was really something worth witnessing. One 14-year-old had written a poetry book. I had him autograph a copy for me. Somehow, just being in Kentucky can lead one to a poetical attitude. Look out any window—you see a poem. For, all of Kentucky is a poem.

Kentuckians write about every facet of Kentucky and of life in Kentucky. The Kentuckians I was privileged to meet were a type that, were they to pull a Coho salmon from Lake Michigan, they'd stop and write a poem about the experience. Were they to see the Mackinac Bridge at night or in a heavy storm, they'd have material for a poem. And, were they to sit on the shores of Gitchee Gumee, they'd think and write about Hiawatha; or even Paul Bunyan. Basketball is "big" in Kentucky—and Kentucky poets write of basketball. Were football the big event, they'd write of football in the way of the poet. Truly—Kentucky is a "State of Poetry!"

As I see it, the arts (painting, poetry, drama, music, and dance) are just as important as the subjects usually termed as academics. Whether a man writes a poem, develops an intricate dance routine, builds a bridge, invents a light bulb, flies to the moon, finds a cure for the incurable, or discovers hidden facets of the human mind, each solves his problem in somewhat the same manner. He concentrates deeply, allows the problem to slip into his unconscious (subconscious) mind on tiring, and finally discovers the solution arising within his consciousness in due time ready to grow to full maturity. A scientist is somewhat of an artist. And, an artist is a scientist at heart, developing his ideas and his style into his own kind of science. I think that we miss much in teaching those subjects which feed the mind and almost forget those which feed the inner mind. Certainly, music and the arts deserve the break we insistently and consistently give to academics and to sports! There's nothing wrong with a person who'd rather take a picture of a bounding buck than shoot him through the heart!

TESTING MATTRESS
Most mattress shoppers feel a mattress with their hand or sit on the edge of it to test it out, or base their decision on whether the cover (ticking) looks pretty. The only sure way to test a mattress, says a leading manufacturer, is to kick off your shoes, lie back, and stretch out. Your back will tell you more than your hands.

MAIL PROBLEMS

Mailmen in the United States complain about dogs, but things could be worse. Egyptian mailmen are sometimes nipped by camels, mailmen in Brazil have been bitten by jaguars, a Tongan Island mailman was killed by a shark, and Afghanistan suspended rural deliveries a few years ago because leopards ate the mailmen.

Contrary to popular belief, sawdust does not make soil turn acid enough to worry about. No sawdust, except that from walnut wood, has a toxic effect on soil—and sawdust mulch holds water well.

TIPS for your TOP from

TODDY and FRAN

Are you dreaming of a wig for Christmas? If not, why not? There's nothing that will last you into next year with more wearability. Nothing that, given to you ahead of time, will stand in better play for the present season when emergencies seem to pop up most often. And we seem to be least often prepared for them. No need to face them with a grooming problem if you have a wig to pop on! Look your best at the drop of an invitation. Let our expert fit you now and you can wrap the receipt and sign it from Santa Claus for the tree.

Village Clerk Will Register 18-Year-Olds

Chelsea Village Clerk Richard Harvey announced this week that in accordance with the ruling of the Attorney General of this state, Frank Kelley, he will be accepting registration of those residents who are between the ages of 18 and 21 years old.

Harvey indicated that he received this past week a letter from Robert M. Harrison, Washtenaw County Clerk, directing him to do so. Harrison cited the Nov. 30 proclamation by the Attorney General, which stated that under the prescriptions of the Federal Voting Rights Act, Michigan must abide by the Federal ruling concerning the vote for 18-year-olds, rather than the decision reached by the people of the state.

The Federal Voting Rights Act, which gives to all 18-year-olds the right to vote, is still pending a Supreme Court decision. Unless that law is declared unconstitutional by Jan. 1, Gov. Milliken, on the advice of Kelley, has informed U. S. Attorney General John Mitchell of Michigan's intention to conform to the federal law.

Michigan voters turned down "Proposal B" in their recent November elections, which if followed would have extended the vote to 18-year-olds.

Harvey indicated that registration of 18-year-olds must be kept separate from the 21-and-older file, pending the decision of the Supreme Court. Voters of that age may register any weekday, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., with Harvey, whose offices are at the Chelsea Electric & Water office, on E. Middle St.
