Dimes Drive Kicked Off With Dinner

Kick-off dinner for the 1971 March of Dimes campaign was held Monday evening, Jan. 4, at the Moose Lodge in Ann Arbor. Chelsea representatives at the affair included Mrs. Thomas Slater, Mrs. Robert Updegraff, and Mrs. Art Steinaway.

Mrs. Lveyn Sells, chairman of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the March of Dimes, conducted the introductions.

Thanks were expressed to Moose Lodge No. 1263, Chapter 890, who donated the use of their hall and kitchen for the affair, as well as to Walter Leonard, editor of The Chelsea Standard, for his contribution of mailer inserts for the drive. Cap, Inc., prepared the mailers and was also thanked as well as those who donated the food for the dinner.

Roman Philipp of Romanoff's Catering donated the roast beef for the dinner, while the Old German Restaurant gave the cole slaw. Quality Bakery and Holsum Bread contributed the dinner rolls. The Brown Jug Restaurant served the rice pudding dessert.

Girl Scout Cadet Troops No. 561 and 596 did all the set-up work, serving and cleaning for the dinner, at which 60-70 guests appeared.

Steve Koeff, M.D., professor of pediatrics and communicable diseases at the University of Michigan Medical Center, presented a speech on the fetus of the unborn infant. His talk centered on ways by which present doctors can detect and correct the causes of birth defects long before a child is born.

Also on the program was a film entitled "Decision," which described a family's dilemma deciding what action to take with their child who was born defective.

The dinner closed with a song which was written for the campaign by a teen-age boy in Phoenix, Ariz., Bob Siegel, and was sung by two girls from Ann Arbor, Susie Parker and Susie Johnston.

Penn Central Gets Ticket for Blocking Three Crossings

Penn Central Railroad officials were red-faced Wednesday morning, Jan. 6, when a morning train coming through Chelsea at 6:26 a.m. blocked three major crossings in the area for more than a half an hour.

The delay was apparently caused by switching, as no reason could be given by the Jackson office of the railroad when asked. The tie-up, however, which occurred at rush hour, caused many persons to be late for work.

Patrolman Schneider who was present at the scene ticketed the company for blocking a railroad crossing for more than five minutes. The blocks occurred at the Hayes St., Cleveland St., and Main St. crossings.

PAUL FRYSSINGER, associate of realtors Ebber, Frisinger & St. Amour, has been admitted to the Ann Arbor Board of Realtors. It was announced this past week. Paul is a graduate of Chelsea High school, and received his Bachelor's degree from Michigan State University, and his certificate in Real Estate from the University of Michigan. Paul and his wife, Kathy, and son, Scott, live at 725 S. Freer Rd.

JCs Preparing To Observe Jaycee Week

Allen Johnson, Chelsea Jaycee member, has prepared the following statement to better acquaint the community with the function of the Jaycees. Johnson is the chairman of Jaycee Week, which is to be held this year from Jan. 17-23.

Says Johnson, "A task force of energetic and civic-minded young men is at work in your community. Here, as in 5,700 other communities, the Jaycee organization prompts young men to an active role in the affairs of the city, state and nation.

"You might have first noticed the Jaycees through their work with the young, and in sports activities, or perhaps through their efforts to petition for a local bond issue. Regardless of the project, however, there is an energy and enthusiasm backing every Jaycee project which makes them a combination hard to beat.

"Jaycees take on each new project with their own members, ideas, labor and follow-through, hence the individual Jaycee gains knowledge and experience not gained through his occupation or profession, thus broadening himself as well as helping the community.

"Local residents benefit from this Jaycee training in addition to the visible civic improvements forged by the Jaycee task force.

"This pool of talent is available to Chelsea for appointive or elective positions. . . men who have benefited from efforts of scope and purpose, men with public speaking ability, polished by constant debate for community causes, men who have tremen-

Holiday Rest Puts New Life In Cagers

After playing the first five games of their season in a 15-day period, Chelsea Bulldogs cagers welcomed Christmas vacation and a much-needed rest. With the quick change-over from football to basketball, and the rapid pace of December, the Chelsea varsity team found itself weary, and in need of rest.

The double loss Friday and Saturday before Christmas also had its effects.

After taking most of the next week off, the Bulldogs returned to a fiery practice on Monday, Dec. 28. Then followed three consecutive scrimmages with groups from Leslie, Britton, and Ypsilanti.

The scrimmages showed that the rest was just what the Bulldogs needed as they came back with much hustle and fared very well against all three groups. The scrimmages allowed the team to work on a few new things and to brush up on some old ones. They also gave the Chelsea cagers a chance to look at different styles of play.

With the return to school, Chelsea looks forward to the new season. The New Year has promised even better things to come as the Bulldogs get ready to travel to South Lyon for their encounter on Friday evening, Jan. 8.

Skating Rink Now Open at Veterans Park

Chelsea Village officials have announced that the ice skating area located behind the Veterans Park on N. Main St. is now open for skating, subject to weather conditions. Joint co-operation between Dana Corp., and the Village Council resulted in the grading of the area last year. The area is now being maintained by Village work crews.

There have been many requests for benches, shelters, and barrels for warming fires at the rink. Because of vandalism and destruction of barrels placed at the site earlier this year, however, the Council is reluctant to provide more conveniences of this sort.

Village officials appeal to all citizens to take an active part in controlling this type of activity. Citizens are urged to make an attempt to talk to any person doing this activity to discourage him. If this fails, it is asked that they be reported to the proper authorities so that the action of a few will not spoil the recreation area for all the citizens of Chelsea.

In the near future, the village hopes to place benches and other conveniences in the ice skating area. How these are taken care of by those who use them will determine how this and other recreation areas will be improved, added to, and maintained in the future.

CATHEDRAL CEILINGS, and walk-out windows highlight the attractive apartments, the latest extension of the Chelsea Methodist Home. Designed specifically for retired couples and individuals who wish to continue to lead independent lives, but be close to the Home to take part in activities planned there, the apartments are ideally situated for the elderly.

16 New Units Completed in Chelsea Village Apartments

Sixteen new units of the Chelsea Village Apartments, a part of the Chelsea United Methodist Home, have been completed and are ready for their new residents, according to V. O. Johnson, administrator at the Home.

The new addition brings to 24 the number of garden-type apartments designed for retired couples or individuals who desire independent living, but want to be close to the Methodist Home to take part in the activities offered there.

Residents of the Chelsea Village Apartments may use the shuttle bus service offered by the Home to go into downtown Chelsea every morning for shopping, and errands, as well as the buses which go into Ann Arbor shopping areas every other week, and the bi-weekly trips to local areas of interest.

A utility area in each of the eight unit complexes is provided for residents to do laundry, and other errands without having to cope with stairs, or the elements.

Residents may eat in the Chelsea Methodist Home dining rooms, provided they make reservations in advance, and purchase their meal. Any other recreational activity sponsored for the residents in the Home is open to those in Chelsea Village.

There are no governmental monies in this project, Johnson said, hence the apartments, which have very attractive interiors, rent for a competitive apartment rate. The apartments, as well as the Chelsea Methodist Home, are owned and operated by the Retirement Homes of the Detroit Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church, Inc., a non-profit organization.

According to V. O. Johnson, the project was started under the direction of the Rev. John Fall, former administrator of the Home. The first units were completed in October, 1969.

Chelsea's Jaycees are sponsoring a program from now until Feb. 10 to encourage support for the American Prisoners of War in North Vietnam. They are urging residents of this community to take action, joining the thousands of deeply concerned Americans, to aid the release of American POW's.

Break-in Found At Plastics Plant Monday Morning

IPSCO Plastics, Co., 20401 Old US-12, was the scene of a break-in during the early morning hours of Monday, Jan. 4. Victor Schwartzberger, production manager, reported the incident to the Chelsea police after he came to work and found that an unknown person had broken a small plastic window to the rear of the building, and unlocked a casement window to gain access. The thief took $52 in cash from the office, mostly small bills from a small metal box in Schwartzberger's desk, and tampered with every other desk in the office.

Evidence was found to indicate that the thief had tried to get money from a vending machine, but was unsuccessful.

Chelsea police are still investigating the incident.

Postal Patrons Asked To Remove Ice So Carriers Won't Fall

Postmaster Richard Schaules asks patrons to please check their sidewalks, steps, and porches for slippery and icy conditions. On several occasions the past few days city mail carriers have slipped and fallen, suffering painful injuries.

Postmaster Schaules suggests if patrons do find that icy conditions exist in front of their residences, a little calcium chloride or sand sprinkled over the surface would do much to solve the problem and possibly prevent serious injuries to the carriers, and enable a more efficient delivery of the mails.

An experiment in mass communications is going on at Chelsea High school. Two Chelsea High school students, Dick Jennings, and Jackie Schiller, have constructed a photography exhibit in the high school lobby, just beyond the main entrance.

The exhibit, 33 photographs which depict nature scenes or people, are accompanied by a questionnaire. The questionnaire is for the students, and other passersby, and asks such questions as "What mood or emotion does this picture arouse in you?" or "If you could keep several of these photographs, which ones would you choose, and why?" and "What things does this picture remind you of?"

Purpose of the poll is to determine what kinds of pictures appeal to people, and ultimately, what motivates them.

According to Jennings, the exhibit is part of a project he and Miss Schiller are conducting for

Many Activities Planned To Aid Dimes Drive

Canisters, Mothers March, Bowling Tournament Will Help Raise Funds

March of Dimes time is here once again. The first evidences of needed money to aid and prevent polio and birth defects appeared this past week. "Dime Boards" and those little canisters which collect loose change for the drive have been distributed to all local businesses and other public places.

Mrs. Mitchell Zink, Mrs. Ed Greenleaf, and Mrs. Dan Eder, Chelsea Jaycees, were responsible for this aspect of the drive, according to Mrs. Arthur (Anne) Steinaway, Chelsea's general chairman of the 1971 March of Dimes campaign.

Don McKinley, proprietor of The Pub, was the first to report that his dime board was filled. His report came in before midnight Wednesday, Dec. 30, barely 24 hours after the board was put up.

Mrs. Thomas Slater is responsible for the annual newsletter, which will be sent to all local businesses and organizations, while Mrs. Audrey Bongo has prepared the community mailer which will be sent to community residents.

Mothers March, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Diane Loring, will be held Sunday afternoon, Jan. 31, from 1 to 4 p.m. This annual event, which has been held on Friday evenings in the past, will be held during daylight hours

Chelsea's Boy Scouts will sell peanuts on one week-end in February to support the program. James Branham is chairman of this project and a date will be announced at a later time.

As in the past, all mailed donations may be sent to the Chelsea State Bank, in care of the March of Dimes. Checks may be made payable to the March of Dimes.

General treasurer of this year's campaign is Mrs. Robert Updegraff, president of the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary. General chairman co-ordinating the efforts of community citizens and auxiliary members is Mrs. Arthur Steinaway.

Chelsea's Jaycees have carried out the March of Dimes campaign in Chelsea since the early 1960's. According to Mrs. Steinaway, this is one of the most important community service projects carried on in Chelsea. The most significant factor, she indicated, is that so many people are willing to help make the drive a success.

Wrestlers Lose in Three Team Meet

Chelsea's wrestlers, unable to compete with Adrian and Belleville High school teams, both Class A schools, finished last in the triangular meet held last Saturday, Jan. 2, at the high school.

Final scores for the day were Adrian 57, Belleville 47, and Chelsea, 28.

The meet was supposed to be a round robin, but because a fourth team cancelled, and a substitute was not found in time, it became three team triangular meet.

Chelsea's winners were as follows: Mark Montange, at 98 pounds, scored two wins by falls. Jim Wencil scored two wins by decision at 119, while Bill Kushmaul wrestled his way to two draws at 155.

Larry Jones picked up a pin victory at 126, and Larry Montange had a decision win at 145.

Although Chelsea performed rather poorly, Coach Bareis indicated that the experience gained by the younger wrestlers was well worth holding the meet.

Chelsea will wrestle Milan at home this evening, Thursday, Junior Varsity at 6:03 p.m., Varsity at 7:30. The Bulldogs will appear on their new mat.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

After giving the local, state, national and world situations the quick once over at the country store Saturday night, the fellers was general agreed they must be better ways to start a year off.

A resolution was passed unanimously offering early retirement for that baby that allus takes the place of that old bearded feller at the end of the year in the newspaper cartoons.

They ain't no way, allowed Bug Hookum, that the little feller can make it thru 1971 without some relief. They is too much for one year to handle in 12 months, was Bug's words. Ed Doolittle was of a mind that the problems of 1971 begin with the job of sorting out the problems, and he said he would start with Vice-President Agnew.

Ed, that cares Abe Lincoln's picture in the back of his watch, is a close to a 100 proof Republican as you're liable to run across. Mister Editor, but he is of a mind that President Nixon would do well to put a muzzle on Mr. Agnew.

For instant, went on Ed, he saw the feller papers where Agnew had let up some on newspapers and television, and was calling in a recent speech for more bulling in the Republican party. After hearing Agnew for the past two year, allowed Ed, he is convinced the place to start on the problem is to get Mr. Agnew off the roast beef and peas tour and put him in charge of somepin silent like polishing all the Senate cuspidors. Fer sure, said Ed, as long as he is allowed to run loose where he can git his picture took and his speeches reported, he is going to be fer unity what wild onions is fer a milk cow.

Clem Webster didn't set out to take Mr. Agnew's side, but he told Ed that the Vice President is jest part of the sorting out problem. What we really got to figger out if we expect to get that baby through the year is what is the Nixon Doctrine the papers keep talking about. Clem has took it for granted that Mr. Nixon, after seeing how Mr. Hickey got chopped down, he don't have no doubt that the Vice President is follering orders.

They is more than Agnew facing this country in '71, broke in Zeke Grubb, and one project is to plan a celebration in case our boys even raid a prisoner camp in Vietnam and actual find prisoners there. After the President give out medals and told what a success this first raid was, Zeke said the Nixon Doctrine must be that nothing succeeds like failure. If we was to git some prisoners out this year, said Zeke, we had ought to do something that would put that greeting for the fellers back from the moon in the shade.

Personal, Mister Editor, recalls the time the water told me the water was dirty, the feller was jest dirty.

Yours truly,
"Uncle Lew"

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Sales Tax Productive

The state income tax receives the lion's share of attention in consideration of the state's tax structure over the past few years, but the sales tax remains Michigan's best revenue producer.

The 4 percent charge on all retail sales in the state brought in $738 million in fiscal 1970. In second place was the income tax, which produced $607 million.

This puts Michigan among the majority of states, 134 in all, which rely on sales tax to pull in more revenue than any other. In 14 states the income tax is the best revenue producer. Two states, New Hampshire and Louisiana, receive the most revenue from either of the two taxes. In New Hampshire the motor fuel tax is a number one, and in Louisiana a beverage tax imposed on all oil and gas drilling is the best winner generally.

Though it ranks seventh in size among the states, Michigan was fifth in tax collections for fiscal 1970.

New York was the leader with $1.1 billion in revenues, and California was second with $55 billion. Illinois and Pennsylvania were the other two states ahead of Michigan, which pulled in $2.3 billion altogether.

Eleven other states, including neighboring states Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin, were over the $1 billion mark.

Total state revenue collections for all 50 states was $47.9 billion, a 14.9 percent leap from the previous year.

Michigan was one of only five states which kept the tax revenue increase below 5 percent during the fiscal year. Illinois had the biggest increase, 48.8 percent, as the result of its adoption of an income tax for the first time.

Fewer Forest Fires
Damp weather which prevailed over Michigan this fall had at least one beneficial effect in the forest: it cut down on forest fires.

As a result, according to the Department of Natural Resources, forest fire losses in the state dropped by 110 acres in 1970 to 6,493 acres. A total of 1,386 fires were reported.

Robert J. Compau, chief of the Division's forest fire division, gives much credit for the low toll to "exceptionally wet weather" in the fall which held forest fire down to only 35 acres from the first week of September through the end of December.

As is true in most years, this year's forest fire hit the state hardest during the spring, destroying nearly 5,100 acres by the first week in May, he said.

From mid-April through early May, forest fire damage ran about 1,000 acres a week, with most of that toll triggered by careless spring debris burning.

At the end of the forest fire season, losses stood at 994 acres in the Upper Peninsula, as against 392 acres in 1969.

Losses in the northern lower peninsula totaled 2,951 acres in 1970.

Capt. John Plants Appointed Michigan State Police Director

Capt. John R. Plants, 44, commander of the executive division of the Michigan State Police, has been appointed director of the department with the rank of colonel effective Dec. 30 by Governor William G. Milliken.

He becomes the ninth director of the State Police and succeeds Col. Fredrick E. Davids, 56, who retired in October. At the retirement of Davids, Milliken had named Lt. Col. Melvin G. Kaufman, 52, deputy director for field services, to serve as interim director.

Plants, who has been executive division commander since 1960, joined the department March 22, 1948. He served first at Bay City before transfer in 1950 to the East Lansing post where he was granted military leave later the same year. On return to duty in 1951 he was assigned to Detroit, then was transferred in 1953 to East Lansing headquarters to serve on the governor's detail.

In 1955 he was assigned to the operations division at East Lansing where he was promoted to corporal the next year. He was again assigned to the East Lansing post in 1960, followed by reassignment the same year to the governor's detail as its commanding officer. He then was promoted to sergeant in 1961.

Plants was transferred to the personnel division in 1963 to organize the planning and research section and was promoted to lieutenant in 1965.

The Executive division was reorganized in 1966 and Plants was promoted to Captain, commanding the new unit. As set up, the division included the planning and research section, to which he had been assigned, and the data processing and governor's detail sections. As a department representative, he was very active in the establishment of the Michigan Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) five years ago.

Plants earned a bravery award in 1950 as a trooper in responding to a family trouble call in Clinton county during which a fellow officer, Tpr. George R. Banny, was shot and killed.

The new director was born May 5, 1926 in Detroit where he graduated from high school, later receiving a bachelor of arts degree in public administration in 1957 from Michigan State University. During World War II he was in the Army Air Force for 24 months, four of them overseas, and then served another 12 months during the Korean War Period.

Plants and his wife, Barbara, have two sons, Jack, 15, and David, 12, and a daughter, Karen, 8. The family lives at 1478 Sylvan Glen Rd., Okemos.

There are over 400 varieties of cheese, but most of these are variations of only 18 different types.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER:

"I am a girl 16 and I have a problem. There's this one certain guy I like very much. I have a feeling he doesn't even know I exist. He is very good looking. Please tell me how I can get his attention without him knowing it. He really sends me. I don't know if I should say 'Hi' to him or what. He doesn't say 'Hi' to me. But he does speak to other girls. What do I do?"

Our reply: By all means, speak to him. Say "Hi" everytime you see him. If you speak to him, and are friendly, he will certainly know that you exist. There is no guarantee, however, that he will like you as much as you like him. Therein lies your challenge. He isn't likely to be too impressed if you tell everyone you like him. If you smile, and speak, when you see him—he knows that you like him. If he knows that you have told everyone that you like him, quite possibly he might be embarrassed or indifferent. Play straight. Be friendly. Be patient. Be natural. Your chances of success will be much higher.

If you have a teen-age problem you want to have discussed or an observation to make, address your letter to "For and About Teen-Agers," Community and Suburban Press Service, in care of this newspaper.

Cager of the Week

WAYNE WELTON, junior at Chelsea High school, is this week's spotlighted cager. Welton, who has played basketball on various Chelsea teams since the seventh grade, is on the varsity team for the second time this year. He plays guard for Chelsea. Co-captain of next year's football team, Wayne is also a member of the baseball team. He likes to swim, hunt, and play golf. When asked what his career ambitions include, he claims to aspire to playing professional baseball—before becoming a lawyer. He is president of the North Lake MYF, and a member of the Student Council. A resident of Chelsea all his life, he lives at home with his mother, Mrs. Warren Welton, 10261 Joslin Lake Rd., and his younger sister, Jodi, and brother, John.

Cars Damaged In Parking Lot At High School

Linda Marie White, 11005 Pleasant Lake Rd., Manchester, reported an unusual traffic accident to Chelsea police Monday, Jan. 4, from the parking lot of Chelsea High school. She had lost the keys to the parking lot to find that her car, a 1970 green Pontiac, had been smashed into by a car that was parked just behind her's when she left it!

The second car, belonging to Mrs. Mildred Wooster, 11470 Waters Rd., had not been driven since early in December when Gary Wooster, 18, had lost the keys to the vehicle, and had left it in the parking lot. Wooster's car was a 1966 grey Chevrolet.

Patrolman Peebles, who was called to the scene of the accident, indicated that evidence led to the assumption that a third car had crashed into Wooster's car, which in turn slammed into the White car.

Damage to the White car consisted of a smashed up trunk area, while the Wooster car had a broken right headlamp, and the hood was sprung. The front end of the Wooster car was badly damaged.

There was no evidence that either car had been driven recently, but Patrolman Peebles remarked that the entire parking lot was a sheet of glare ice.

Two Elderly Persons Suffer Fractures in Falls at Their Homes

Stumbles have sent two of the community's elderly residents to the hospital this past week. Monday evening, Jan. 4, Kelly Light, 72, who lives at 118 E. Middle St., fell in his apartment at approximately 6:40 p.m., fracturing his left shoulder. Herman Hoskins, who lives in the apartment just below Light's heard his fall, and his cry of pain. He ran up to help, and notified the police. Chelsea police then notified Superior ambulance who took him to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment.

The next morning, Tuesday, Jan. 5, Mary Weinmann, 65, 408 Wilkinson St., fell in front of her home, breaking her ankle. She was aided by neighbors, who called the police, and sent for Superior ambulance. She also was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment.

Two persons have served as park superintendent since the opening of Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford on May 30, 1948. They are Park Superintendent Charles A. Damm, appointed in 1968; and David O. Laidlaw, director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority and park superintendent from 1948 to 1968.

Musical Documentary Salutes Banjo Artist Earl Scruggs

East Lansing—Fanfare salutes banjo great Earl Scruggs in a lively and very musical documentary, "Earl Scruggs: His Family and Friends," Sunday, Jan. 10 at 10 p.m. on WMSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television.

Bob Dylan and Joan Baez are among the guest performers in this musical study of the man who is generally acknowledged as the world's greatest banjo player. Scruggs is also the man who, with remarkable virtuosity and inventive physical modifications of the five-string banjo, is credited with having elevated it from the "strutting" category to the level of an important solo instrument in American music.

To Americans at large, Scruggs is best known for his composition, "Foggy Mountain Breakdown"—the "Bonnie and Clyde" theme. But wherever country music has been popular, Scruggs has been among the stars for more than two decades.

To illustrate where he has been, musically, and where he is today, Scruggs is presented in performance with various artists with whom he has been associated. Comprising the list are the Morris Brothers, who gave Scruggs his first break on radio; guitarist Doc

Watson; country music king Bill Monroe; the Byrds, a folk-rock and country-rock group; and the two giants of the folk music world, Dylan and Baez.

With one exception, the performances are informal, taking place in living rooms or backyards. The exception is a segment filmed at the Grand Old Opry in Nashville, Tenn., with Scruggs and Monroe.

HI-YO SILVER!
"A fiery horse with the speed of light... a cloud of dust... and a hearty Hi-Yo Silver! The Lone Ranger rides again!" The golden age of radio comes to life on "Those Thrilling Days of Yesterday," Sunday, Jan. 10 at 12:30 p.m.

The Lone Ranger—idol of millions. George W. Trendle, producer and originator of the "Lone Ranger," describes how he first created the famous masked man in an interview with Prof. Edgar Willis of the University of Michigan.

Two technical members of the Lone Ranger radio family, Fred Flowerday and Ernie Winstanley, demonstrate the sound effects that made radio drama so believable.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

A recent Minnesota Supreme Court decision and a Michigan State Civil Service Commission ruling would appear to indicate that the public will be given more protection against strikes by public employees.

The Minnesota court recently upheld a Minnesota state law prohibiting strikes by public school teachers and threw out a settlement reached with 1,800 striking Minneapolis teachers last April.

The court abrogated a salary agreement and ordered the school board to recover seven days pay the teachers had received while on strike over a salary increase.

At about the same time, the Michigan State Civil Service Commission approved a rule change giving it power to withdraw recognition of state employees' unions in case of a strike or "sick-out."

The commission said the new rule could be applied to more than 26,000 of the state's 46,000 workers who belong to employee bargaining organizations.

A commission spokesman said the rule was designed to maintain uninterrupted service to the public while providing equity for classified employees.

The commission rule includes a clause which allows it to impose all union dues in case of an illegal strike.

In recent months, Michigan's biggest problem with public employee strikes has been with public school teachers.

In 1947, the legislature passed a law specifically prohibiting strikes by public employees, including anyone "in the public school service."

But the 1965 legislature, controlled by Democrats, repealed that section of the law and added several other sections, including one spelling out the right of public employees to join a union and bargain.

The amended law appeared to outlaw strikes by public employees but repeal of the section specifically prohibiting such strikes has muddled the waters and has led to numerous teacher strikes.

Neither the Minnesota Supreme Court ruling nor the Michigan Civil Service Commission rule affects the actions of Michigan teachers.

But there is some feeling in the Capitol that they portend a trend in public unhappiness with teacher strikes that may ultimately lead to a tightening of the law to prevent teacher walkouts that not only have brought sharply higher taxes to Michigan residents but also, many persons believe, have led to creating an atmosphere of disruption and disregard for authority which is spreading to students.

Determined efforts of former Gov. George Romney and several commercially-minded legislators appear to be paying off for Michigan in increased value of Michigan products.

The United States Commerce

Department has just released a report that Michigan has moved into second place, behind California, in the value of exports to foreign countries.

The department reported that last year Michigan exported $2.6 billion worth of manufactured goods, a close second to California's $2.7 billion. Illinois and New York are third and fourth.

In recent years, several legislative groups have visited European and Far East nations in a concerted campaign to encourage foreign countries to buy more Michigan products and to determine what Michigan products are most desired by other nations.

The Department of Commerce and the Department of Agriculture have been very active in these trade missions.

Michigan's greater role in foreign trade is a good example of what can be accomplished by close co-operation between the legislature, the executive branch of government and state departments directly affected.

Early arrival of winter has turned the spotlight on another public service which people expect and pay for through taxes.

This year, the state highway department has budgeted $12.5 million for winter maintenance of the 9,221 miles of state highways.

In addition, of course, individual counties and cities also contributed large sums for keeping highways clear of snow and ice.

It takes 1,200 big trucks and 61 huge snow blowers to keep Michigan highways passable in winter. In addition, 370,000 tons of salt will be spread over highways in the next few months.

Keweenaw county, Michigan's northernmost county, naturally leads all 83 counties, recording more than 15.6 feet of snow last winter. First place in the lower peninsula—and exceeding 11 other counties generally considered in the snow belt in the upper peninsula—went to Manistee county along the shore of Lake Michigan.

Several months ago, a Republican senator disclosed that federal food stamps, intended to provide food for poor families, were being used by college students, for whom they were not intended.

Attention to the situation was called to the attention of the state welfare department, which reported that stamps were being distributed under federal government rules.

The situation got out of hand and a few days ago, the Department of Social Services tightened the rules under which stamps could be obtained. As a result, there has been a drastic cutback in the number of college students obtaining them.

Widest use appeared to be at Mr. Pleasant where about 700 Central Michigan students were paying as little as $1 or $2 a month and obtaining from $50 to $100 worth of groceries.

The new rules specify that the parents' income, rather than the students' income, is the criteria under which stamps may be obtained.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

How many New Year resolutions did you hear people make? How many, if any, resolutions concerned individual action for the good of society as a whole instead of improvement or gain for self?

For example—how many people promised to change their goals? To lessen an interest in quantity of personal possessions and strengthen quality of character in dealings with other people? To replace dislikes and hatreds with acts and evidence of love for their fellow man? To strive for agreement and union as a replacement for stubbornness or contrariness? To abstain from retaliation for alleged or actual wrongs by others? To tell the truth instead of seeking excuses for errors with the use of false or idle words? To decrease doubts, despair and fear—and increase hope and faith? To seek strength and calmness through daily prayer instead of occasional pleadings to Heaven when earthly props fail?

These are the sort of resolutions that only you can make for yourself. No one else can make them for you. And certainly no one else can keep them for you. Are they worth while? Only you can answer that... May we mention again that your comment by letter, phone or person is always welcome—and appreciated—be it pro or con... Sylvan Township Resident Dies Dec. 31 at Medicenter

Letter-Writing Campaign Asks Help for POWs

write to their families or to receive letters from them.

Letters to the government of North Vietnam, urging the release of American POW's is one way to aid the government's attempts to reach a settlement on the issue.

According to the Chelsea Jaycees, if each citizen of Chelsea and the surrounding area would just take a few minutes out of his busy schedule and copy the sample letter, below, or write one of his own composition, the Chelsea Jaycees could send tons of letters to North Vietnam. The letters should be addressed to Ton Duc Thang, Office of the President, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam. Writers are asked to address and stamp their letter with 13 cents postage. These letters may then be dropped in the Post Office Lobby, and at the Stop & Shop Supermarket, where there will be special boxes provided for this purpose.

These letters will be picked up at regular intervals until Feb. 10 when they will be taken to the Jaycees winter board meeting in Warren. They will be given en masse to the Michigan Commission of POW's who will send them off to North Vietnam along with many other letters from other areas.

A sample letter that could be written would be as follows: "I am very concerned for the American prisoners of war who are now being detained in your country. The American people are becoming increasingly concerned for the well-being of those men and find it impossible to justify the North Vietnamese refusal to abide by the Geneva Convention Agreement which was signed by North Vietnam in 1957. Many hundreds of families have not known for years whether their loved ones are dead or alive, and as a concerned American, my fears mount daily for the health, survival, and safety of those in captivity.

"I urge you to immediately release the American prisoners of war for their return to their country and their families.

"Sincerely,
"Your name."

Cars Damaged In Crash at M-52 S. Main Corner

Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 5, at 3:15 p.m., an accident occurred at the corner of M-52 and Old US-12 which resulted in no injuries, but much damage to both vehicles. Mrs. Ray H. Peffers, 15 Chestnut Dr., was driving a 1968 Buick north on M-52 when, crossing the intersection, she hit a car driven by Victor Newberry Pease, 53, 2607 Hampshire, Ann Arbor. Pease was driving a 1968 Dodge Dart on Old US-12, when, failing to yield right-of-way to Mrs. Peffers, he entered into the intersection to make a left turn. He was hit broadside by the Peffers car.

Both vehicles had to be towed away from the scene of the accident. Pease was found at fault for failing to yield right-of-way, according to the police report.

Fifty-five percent of the world's merchant fleet can now reach Michigan via the St. Lawrence Seaway.

★ Healthy Living

Even though governmental limitations have been placed on the use of DDT the debate to use or not to use still flourishes, but is diminishing, as its safety and usefulness to mankind becomes more understood.

The World Health Organization in an informally released report erases conjecture that DDT is harmful to human life. It says, "The safety of DDT is so great that despite its use by billions of people over the past 25 years there has not been a single fatality due to this compound alone. In the peak year of the malaria eradication campaign none of the 130,000 'spraymen' employed nor any of the 535 million inhabitants of treated houses then exposed showed, or subsequently have shown, adverse symptoms as a result of exposure to the insecticide."

Considering that DDT does not take human life but enhances its quality the report declares: "The persistent insecticide DDT had already by 1953 been credited with saving 5 million lives and preventing 100 million illnesses. It was its safety records, cheapness and availability which allowed the possibility of global malaria eradication to be even considered."

"Since the initiation of the program, DDT has reduced the annual malaria mortality rates in India from 750,000 down to 1,500. By September 1968, it was estimated that out of a total of 1,716 million people living in the original malarious areas of the world, 1,359 million live in areas where malaria has either been eradicated or where malaria eradication programs are now in progress. DDT still remains essential for this campaign, it is still the cheapest synthetic insecticide available, and its safety for human use remains unchanged."

In answer to those concerned with the observed disappearance of a limited number of species of raptorial and fish-eating birds in some regions the report stated, "It is unjustifiable for these countries to deny the use of DDT to countries where it means the difference between human health and sickness, and between life and death, particularly since DDT as grams has caused no observable side effects on their wildlife."

Overheated Stove Brings Call for Fire Department

An overheated wood cooking stove in the rear lean-to of the Ellis Crayton home at 220 North St., was the cause of a fire Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 30. The fire call was received at 2:58 p.m., and the Fire Department responded by sending three trucks to the scene of the fire.

Elisha Borders, a neighbor of the Crayton's put in the fire call. Mr. and Mrs. Crayton, and one son, were home at the time of the blaze.

The fire was confined to the rear of the house, causing partial smoke damage to the rest of the residence.

There were no injuries as a result of the fire.

Mulching for Soil Protection Done With Variety of Materials

By John Layher
Soil Conservation Technician

If the lawn you seeded this year failed to grow and the eye we washed rills in your graded lawn, perhaps the use of a mulch applied to the surface of the soil would be the answer to your problem.

The mulch may be straw, grass hay, netting made of paper or jute, burlap, filament fiberglass anchored with asphalt emulsion and asphalt emulsion alone. Wood chips and saw dust may also be used. Probably the most economical for the average home owner is the use of straw or grass hay. This is applied to the surface of the soil at a rate of 1 1/2 to 2 tons per acre, or about 100 pounds (2-3 bales) of dry straw or hay per 1,000-sq. ft. of area. A rule of thumb on mulching is to mulch three straws deep. For small areas this may be done by hand and the mulch held in place by tying down with twine, loose soil, or open meshed fiber material. For larger areas, use of a weighted disk harrow set straight to push the straw into the ground may be used where slopes will allow its use. Wood chips may be blown onto the soil at a rate of 6 to 9 tons per acre and usually don't need to be tied down.

Farmers can apply the straw and hay mulch with a power take-off manure spreader. Manure applied at a rate of 4 to 8 tons per acre makes a good mulch. This is a good thing to use on the hill-sides after row crops have been planted to help prevent rilling. In between the corn or soybean rows. It is a good idea to use this method.

Bad Weather Brings Need For Good, Comfortable Boots

Most people hate to think about bad weather. But foresight in picking boots to cope with the problems means you'll be happier with your purchase. Bernetta Kahabka, clothing specialist at Michigan State University, gives these shopping facts and care tips:

Children's boots are generally classed "as over-the-foot or over-the-shoe. Most over-the-shoe boots are rubber lined with cotton or nylon fleece or vinyl lined with vinyl foam. Both types are warm enough for winter and comfortable for fall and spring too. For extra winter warmth, look for an outside fur cuff or inside pile cuffs. All closures should have full gussets, behind them to keep out rain and snow.

Most women pick over-the-foot boots strictly for fashion. Most vinyl boots are flexible enough to get into without a closure. But leather boots should have a zipper or gored closure.

Winter boots are sometimes lined with wool shearing, Miss Kahabka says. But the most common lining is acrylic, polyester or polypropylene pile. These man-made piles shouldn't mat. Some are treated to prevent odor and mildew. For more comfort in spring and fall, women like lighter weight boots lined with nylon fleece weight boots lined with nylon fleece.

"Vinyl and leather vie for the spot as most popular boot material," Miss Kahabka explains. "Each has its own advantages and disadvantages."

Leather has built-in "breathability," a rich texture and grain. It's more expensive than vinyl. Many leathers are waterproofed. But since the leather must be cut and sewn, the boot themselves are water repellent, but not waterproof. Water may still get in through seams and closures.

Miss Kahabka suggests mild soapuds for cleaning leather. When they're badly soiled, paste wax plus buffing is best.

Enters Guilty Plea To Assault & Battery

Charles Bongo, 53, 409 W. Middle St., was arrested Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 5, on a complaint of assault and battery, filed by his wife, Audra.

Bongo appeared in the 14th District Court before Judge Arkinson Wednesday morning, after spending the night in jail. He pled guilty and paid $79 fine and costs, and is on six month's probation, after which he was returned to the arms of his family. Police Chief George Meranuck handled the arrest.

Suede requires a special brush, rubber sponge, gum eraser or commercial suede cleaner. Fine sandpaper or an emery board will restore the nap to suede. Minor rock salt stains come out with clear water. But badly discolored boots should be taken to professionals.

New finishes which prevent drying and cracking reduce the need for special leather care.

Vinyl is scuff resistant, relatively inexpensive and can imitate the appearance of many leathers. Some vinyl boots are constructed just like leather boots. Therefore, they have the same problem of water coming in through seams, unless they're sealed with waterproof tape.

Other vinyl boots are molded in one piece, so they are waterproof.

Stretch vinyl boots, which usually have a patent finish, must be cut and sewn, so they are only water repellent. This type is best for spring and fall, because the only lining is the vinyl's knit backing.

You can wipe vinyls and other synthetics clean with a damp cloth dipped in mild soapuds. Then dry them with a soft cloth.

Michigan snowmobilers this season will again find facilities to put them on the "right track" at state forests, parks, and game areas shown on this map. Awaiting them at state forests in northern Michigan are 30 permanent trails which wind through about 700 miles of scenic backwoods country. For state park goers, there are 25 other snowmobile trails which will route powersledders over 130 miles of outdoor splendor. Also in the offing are good-sized "scramble" tracts for snowmobilers at Porcupine Mountains State Park, Brighton Recreation Area, Dodge No. 4 State Park, Proud Lake Recreation Area, and Waterloo Recreation. When snow cover is deep enough (4 inches or more), snowmobilers may also seek out 10 scramble sites covering about 20,600 acres in these state game areas: Allegan, Shiawassee River, Dansville, Gouardneck, Minden City, Murphy Lake, and Rogue River. They will find 50 miles of marked trails at Barry, Shiawassee River, Flat River, Port Huron, and Rogue River state game areas. Powersledders may gain more information on snowmobile trails at state forests and parks by obtaining free directories for those areas through the Department of Natural Resources' Publications Room in Lansing. They also may request free individual maps of state forest and state park trails through that same office. Those seeking individual maps of scramble areas and snowmobile trails at state game areas should contact the DNR's Wildlife Division in Lansing. Because of limited supplies, the DNR is urging snowmobilers to request maps for only those few particular areas in which they are really interested.

Snowmobile Here To Stay

Nearly one-half million persons are expected to spend a record-high $133 million on snowmobiling this winter in Michigan, according to Automobile Club of Michigan. "Michigan will have 205,000 snowmobiles in use by this spring, which will be more than a 50 percent increase in the number of vehicles registered by last spring," states Jerry E. Fisher, Auto Club's touring manager. He adds that Michigan dealers expect snowmobile sales to climb 20 percent above last year's mark when over 60,000 machines were sold. Currently, there are more than 130,000 registered snowmobiles in Michigan, and major distributors across this state expect that 75,000 new machines will be sold by spring. "Safety and shortage of areas where snowmobiles may be used will be major problems this winter despite the enthusiasm about this mushrooming sport," Fisher states. Fisher points out that 19 persons lost their lives in Michigan snowmobile accidents last winter, compared with 13 who died during the 1968-69 winter, the first time official records were kept on snowmobile deaths. Last winter, 13 persons died in collisions with other vehicles on state roads, five persons drowned when machines broke through the ice, and another death occurred when a snowmobiler hit a wire strung across the gate to a ball field. Snowmobiles have been a growing source of irritation to many private property owners and sportsmen. Snowmobilers running recklessly across private property, ruining lawns, trees and disturbing farm-lands were a major reason for recent state legislation (effective January, 1969) regulating these machines. Some sportsmen claim that the snowmobile is used illegally during deer season, and when lakes are frozen these machines are overrunning once remote fishing spots. "Despite complaints," states Fisher, "snowmobiles are here to stay and the economic impact across the state has been notable." Sales tax on snowmobiles sold in Michigan since 1965 has amounted to $4.68 million. Last week-end in Michigan during a 15-week snowmobile season. Auto Club points out that the average cost of a snowmobile is $900, although inexpensive models cost about $600. The more luxurious model, with sliding canopy, room for two on a front seat, variable-speed transmission, heater and even a cigarette lighter can cost up to $2,500. Above the cost of machines, the average snowmobile enthusiast will spend a minimum of $100 for clothing. Snowmobilers must wear special clothes since temperatures drop dramatically at high speeds due to the "chill factor." On a day when there is no measurable wind, the temperature is at zero (F), and the snowmobile travels 25 miles per hour, the actual temperature on exposed skin is 45 degrees below zero. Clothes that are warm for skiing, hunting or ice fishing are usually inadequate for snowmobiling. It is recommended that the novice consider these items and costs: boots, $20; one-piece suit (avoid two-piece) $75; mitts, $10; helmet $17 to $25 (recommended for high-speed machines), otherwise a hood or cap with ear flaps for under $10 is adequate; goggles, $4; face mask (wool), $4; thermal underwear, $12; socks, $3; and sweater, $25. (Children's clothing is between one-third to 50 percent less, depending on quality.)

Auto Club advises all snowmobilers to keep these simple safety rules in mind during the winter before starting out on any trip: —Avoid illegal use of roadways where most snowmobile deaths occur. —Know trails and stay on marked trails. —Carry area maps plus a compass. —Be aware of state regulations in the Snowmobile Law. —Stay off ice on lakes and streams if conditions are not ideal. —Avoid alcohol. —Never travel alone. You usually can't walk out of forests in an emergency if snow is deep. —Carry safety gear such as snow shoes, flare gun, first aid kit, axe, extra fuel, new spark plugs, tools for minor repairs and rations.

Jane M. Faist, David Diesing Wed Saturday at St. Paul Church

Miss Jane Marjorie Faist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Faist, 130 Clardale Ct., became the bride of David Alan Diesing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Diesing, 108 Clarke St., Scottville, Saturday afternoon, Jan. 2, at St. Paul United Church of Christ. The Rev. Warner Siebert officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Linda Cole, Flint, presented the vocal solos, "The Wedding Prayer," and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length designer gown of pale ivory, worsted and silk, trimmed with crystals and small pearls. Her gown featured a fitted bodice with a high banded neckline, and a yoke effect on the front, fashioned from beads. The long, slim sleeves of the gown ended in circular satin cuffs, and a repeat of the bead trim. The softly gathered skirt was met by an attached chapel train. Her matching bridal hat of worsted and silk with bead trim was attached to a shoulder-length veil of silk illusion, and she carried a white satin muff, accented with three white roses, and clusters of ivy in a cascade effect.

Miss Lynne Faist, sister of the bride, attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a gown identical in style to that of the bride, in burgundy velvet with a white satin yoke and circular satin cuffs. Her headpiece was a matching velvet camelot hat, with Mo-line veil attached, and she carried a muff of matching burgundy velvet.

Miss Susan Orr, of Olio; Mrs. Dennis Whitlock, St. Johns; and Miss Linda Sawdy, cousin of the bride from Grass Lake, were bridesmaids. Their costumes were the same as that of the maid of honor.

TIPS for your TOP

TODDY and FRAN

There's an even chance you'll start the new year with a Christmas gift of money stashed away. The less it is, the harder it'll be to decide what to use it for that really shows — that is lasting and worthy of the sender — a reminder of the gift and the giver after the money is long gone. Obviously, we have a suggestion: a gift of beauty — like a body permanent, a "frothing", a youthful bleach, a hide-grey-hairs tint. Bring that Christmas money in and let us give you the most for it, a more confident you for the New Year.

UNIT PRICING POPULAR

Unit pricing is proving popular in grocery stores and supermarkets. The system enables the grocer to tell customers how much the product costs per unit—per pound, ounce, pint, quart, or whatever. Usually, both the per unit and package price are given for each item. Various methods are used to give the information, including computer-printed gummed labels, large printed cards, shelf tags, posted lists and calculator wheels.

Michigan's public roads and streets would go around the equator more than four times.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The January meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the Sylvan Town Hall with 10 members present on Jan. 5.

A very interesting report was given on the Christmas Gift Shop held at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Ruth Chriswell told of the setting up of the gifts, the open house and of the three days the patients may come and select their gifts or if unable to come down to pick out their gifts, how the gifts were taken to the rooms for the selection.

A discussion was held on money-making projects and it was voted to have another bakeless bake sale.

It was announced that the next district meeting will be held Jan. 24, in Dundee.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be on Feb. 2, at Sylvan Town Hall.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I can certainly appreciate Mr. Pearson's feeling about the destruction of property made by snowmobiles.

Aren't there laws governing the use of them and if so where are the village police when snowmobiles are racing up and down our streets at late hours?

I observed one within the village limits, after midnight, turn around on a newly-seeded lawn. Luckily the new evergreen plantings were not in its path or they would have been destroyed. This lack of utter disregard for it is hard for me to understand other people's property.

I am all for having fun with snowmobiles but please Chelsea police see that they are made to stay within their lawful areas provided for their use.

An Irate Chelsea Citizen.

To the Editor:

Regarding the proposed Metropolitan Park for Lima township, I want to give the people the results to date of the petitions we have circulated among the property owners in the outlying area around the proposed park whose land drains into Mill Creek and will be affected by backing the water up for a park.

There are 145 property owners who have voluntarily signed the petition, representing 18,495 acres. These people are all very much opposed to it.

The land in Lima and Sharon townships is fairly level and that is why the damage is so tremendous and far-reaching.

This is only one of the reasons we do not want this park. There are many other reasons why we should defeat it.

The Mill Creek Research Council and the members of the other committees who have volunteered, are doing a wonderful job collecting facts and data, so let's all do what we can to support them. This park would be too much of a blow to our community for us to stand for and the sooner these park authorities pick up their glad rags and get out of here we will be better off.

Sylvester Weber.

Dear Editor:

Monday, January 11, I will refuse induction into the army. This decision has been a hard one, but after long and careful thought, I have come to believe that all wars, especially the Viet Nam War, are wrong.

As a conscientious objector to war, I could request and probably receive exemption from military service. There are several reasons why I have decided not to apply for conscientious objector status or some other deferment (such as student deferment).

One reason is that, realizing that the whole system of deferments discriminates against non-whites and the poor, I do not feel that I can ask for any special status.

A second reason for not applying for conscientious objector status is that my belief is not that I should not be drafted, but that no one should. I am challenging not only the right of the draft board to induct me, but also its claim that it has a right to induct anyone.

I know that many good friends do not agree with what I'm doing (and also that many do agree), but there comes a time when we must make hard decisions based on what we believe. I'm sure that all my closest friends will realize that I am not condemning others whose consciences may lead them to make different choices. I have many friends in the military (most of them against their will); I do not feel that my action is disloyal to them or to my two classmates and my former trackmate who have been killed in the War. I feel that what I am doing is loyal to them and to the over one million other people who have died in that war. I don't doubt the sincerity of the many good people who feel that the best way to end the War is to support what the U.S. military is doing in Southeast Asia, but I do strongly disagree with their opinions.

We can no longer say that we are forced to pay taxes for war or that we are forced to go into the army. Although it is a hard choice, we can refuse to contribute to war. We must take full responsibility for our actions.

Many changes must be made. The draft and the War must be ended. We never had a peacetime draft before 1948 and we don't need one now. Many of our grandfathers fled from Europe to escape the draft. How sad it is that now many of us must flee to other countries or be sent to prison for the same reason.

There is so much more that I want to say, but there is no room. If anyone wants to talk with me about any of this, or if anyone wants to go with me and a small group of friends and family to my induction refusal, please feel free to give me a call. Dave Wood

To the Editor:

"Can someone answer a few questions for me?"

We have lived in this community for several years, and have been told the Christmas dance at the high school was a high-light of the holiday season for the students. Maybe even a new dress for the girls.

What happened this year? The band was on hand, and had to be paid. The young people were there, looking forward to a pleasant evening. The dance at the last minute was canceled.

Chelsea has little to offer except school activities. Can't we please keep them going?

Mrs. Robert Dirlam.

"The Place To Go For Brands You Know"

Santa Visits Brownie Troop

While Brownie Troop 247 was making Christmas cookies Dec. 9, Santa Claus appeared. He was as round and merry as ever. In his pack he had a toy for each Brownie. Everyone had a chance to sit on Santa's knee and tell him her Christmas wish. The Brownies gave Santa some of their freshly baked cookies to take back to the North Pole.

The Brownies worked on clay projects, which they painted and varnished Wednesday, Dec. 2.

On Dec. 4 they took an exciting trip to a horse stable. One horse got frisky and threw Kathy Brown. She was scared but not hurt by the incident. Katie Donkin's horse behaved very well. Lanie Meyer's mother supervised the riding while Alisha Noah's mother and Colleen Lyle's mother served hot cocoa. Susie Staffan brought the cocoa, as it was her birthday.

The next project the Brownies will tackle is to earn money for their Scout knives. Knife safety will be discussed, and there will be soap carving.

Mothers who helped bake cookies were Mrs. Herrick, Mrs. Ray, and Mrs. Meyer.
