Cagers Squeak Past Late Rally By South Lyon

Chelsea's Bulldog basketball team traveled to South Lyon for their victorious encounter with the Lions, Friday night, Jan. 8.

The smaller Bulldogs, who won the game, 66-64, quickly took charge and ran the score to 14-2 before the Lions could get untacked and begin to score consistently. At the end of the first quarter, Chelsea still led by a score of 16-8. Jim Wojcicki led the Bulldog surge by connecting on three long basket shots while Jim Hercules added two baskets of his own.

The second quarter found the Lions outscoring the Bulldogs, 20-14, as they made numerous trips to the free throw line. Ron Sweeney kept the Chelsea team going with his scoring and fine rebounding. Tom Lixey, came off the bench and provided Chelsea with some fine defensive plays, and also added a basket.

Starting the second half with a narrow margin of 30-28, the fired-up Chelsea team quickly showed its superiority. Chelsea opened up leads of 10 and 12 points, as Wojcicki and Sweeney led the surge. Chelsea closed the third period leading, 49-38.

If the third quarter was a repeat of the first quarter, the fourth quarter surely was a repeat of the second quarter. Midway through the fourth period, Chelsea still led by as much as 13 points on the strong play of Howie Trede and Wayne Welton. With Wojcicki, Trede, and Hercules all in foul trouble, South Lyon narrowed the margin to only one point with a minute left in the game. Clutch free throws by Welton, Hercules, and Wojcicki kept the Bulldogs ahead and preserved the victory.

South Lyon was led in scoring by Jim Wiseman's 18 points, followed by John Gelardi's 11 points. The much taller Lions dominated the boards, out-rebounding Chelsea, 37-25, but the Bulldogs turned in the best shooting night of the year, shooting 42 percent from the field, and 71 percent from the free throw line. The Bulldogs showed good balance, with Wojcicki leading the way with 17 points. Ron Sweeney had 12, Wayne Welton, 11, Howie Trede, 10, and Jim Hercules netted 8 in his first start of the season.

Chelsea now owns a 3-3 record, (3-2 in the league) and is looking forward to entertaining the Saline Hornets this coming Friday, Jan. 15, at home.

Novice Debate Team 4th in State Tourney

Chelsea's Novice Debaters ended in a six-way tie for fourth place at the Novice State Championship Debate Tournament which was held Saturday, Jan. 9, at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

The session included four debates, followed by a championship debate between the top two schools. Thirteen schools competed in the tournament.

In the six-way tie for fourth place with Chelsea were teams from Jackson Parkside, Taylor JPK, Dearborn, Lansing Waverly, and Royal Oak Kimble.

On the same day, at the University of Michigan, the annual Gold Cup Tournament was held for varsity debaters. Jackie McClain, and Chick Lane, attended this tournament and debated in the "Switch Sides Cross-X" division. They had a 3-1 record at this tournament, but did not qualify for special awards. There were 56 other teams at the tournament.

In losing efforts for Chelsea were Dale Poertner, at 105; Randy Seitz, 167; and Rod Brannham, heavyweight.

Chelsea's wrestlers traveled to the Western Invitational Tournament Saturday, Jan. 9, and finished in eighth place in the overall standings. Vandercook Lake won the tournament, and Dexter was runner-up. Dexter's Dave Trapp won the award as the Most Valuable Performer.

For Chelsea, Mark Montange won the 98-pound championship, while Jim Wencel took a fourth place award at 119 pounds.

Although they did not place in the final standings of the tournament, Dale Poertner, Keith Kargel, and Doug McDonald did provide some excitement for the Chelsea fans. Dale won his first varsity match at the expense of the number one seeded wrestler at 105. Dale also won his second match before suffering defeat in the semi-finals.

Keith Kargel won his first match with an 11-0 decision before losing to the number one seeded wrestler. In consolation Keith provided his most exciting match, when he camp up with a 2-0 overtime victory.

Doug McDonald won his first two matches, one by a pin, and the other in a come-from-behind decision before losing in semi-finals.

Cheer Up, Even the Judge Has Troubles

All has not gone smoothly at the Courthouse this past week. Under the program initiated by Judge Patrick J. Colin, the three judges of the 14th District Court will exchange benches for the first few months of this year.

Sitting in Chelsea is Judge Henry D. Arkison, formerly of the Court in Ypsilanti. Judge Arkison has been plagued with truck accidents since his coming to Chelsea.

Monday morning, the power failure that affected the rest of the village held up Court proceedings for close to an hour as Village crews tried to restore power to the community. None of the electric machines in the office, nor the lights in the Courtroom would operate, so the seat of justice in Chelsea rested temporarily in the dark.

Tuesday afternoon, shortly before closing, as bookkeeper Mrs. Diane O'Jack left her office briefly, leaving a good deal of money on her desk, she closed her door behind her, unwittingly locking it. The door had never had a key—to the remembrance of the workers at the Courthouse—and officials at the Court indicated they had never been able to lock it before. Just how the door locked soon became a secondary issue to the fact that the coat, car keys, and purse of Mrs. O'Jack, and the coats of the women working in the office were locked behind the mysterious door.

To compound the issue, the door hinges were inside, so the door could not be removed from the hinges. And the windows to the room cannot be opened, and are too large to arbitrarily consider breaking.

Locksmiths from all over the area were phoned to no avail. It was finally decided to try to dislodge one of the lovely old wooden panels in the door in an attempt to unlock the door from the inside. This was accomplished by Stan Koneski, janitor at the Courthouse, and Frank Mead, bailiff.

Judge Arkison never did get the coffee that was locked into the bookkeeper's office, which he had requested, but everyone at the Courthouse was able to get their coats, and lock up the Court, and go home for the evening.

Police Officers Nab Escapee From Prison

In police action, this week-end, Chelsea Patrolman Peebles and McDougall apprehended an escapee from the Jackson State Prison Sunday evening. Police officers received a call at approximately 9:45 p.m. from the Michigan State Police Post 41 in Jackson to the effect that a prison escapee was seen getting into a car at a Standard Station on the corner of Airport Rd., and I-94 at Jackson, and that the vehicle was headed east.

The subject, Jesse Alexander, 37, had been serving a 3½- to 15-year sentence from Wayne county on a charge of breaking and entering at night time. He was spotted by an off-duty prison guard, who saw him getting into the car. Alexander had made his escape from inside the prison wall earlier that evening.

Driver of the vehicle in which Alexander was riding was 19-year-old James Yeon Herrst, 7840 Third St., Dexter. He had taken his girl friend home to Jackson, and had stopped for gasoline before leaving the city. He was then approached and asked if he could take a hitch-hiker east-bound. He was driving a blue Dodge Coronet.

Chelsea police dispatched a car to the corner of M-52 and I-94 at 10 p.m., in search of the car. They spotted the car at 10:05, and were able to stop it at the intersection of I-94 and Fletcher Rd.

Both occupants of the vehicle were taken from the vehicle and searched and handcuffed. Herrst was held only long enough to determine the truth of his story, and released. Alexander was transported to the Washtenaw County Jail, and booked on a charge of escaping from prison. He was held until prison authorities could take him back to Jackson.

Power Failure Hits Village Early Monday

Two-thirds of the village was without power Monday morning, village officials estimate. The power failure occurred shortly before 8 a.m. Monday at the village sub-station, when the connection between Consumer Power and the Village Power blew up. Full power was not restored until approximately 11:40 a.m.

One traffic light on Main St. was affected at the start of the failure, and the second light failed while the crews from Consumer Power in Jackson were trying to restore power.

All the local schools, with the exception of South school, were involved in the power shut-down, to a partial extent.

Village Clerk Richard Harvey said that his office received an estimated 75 to 100 phone calls Monday morning concerning the situation—and that the phone lines were tied up all morning. To his knowledge, however, there was no major problem incurred due to the failure. Village homes were not without water, Harvey indicated, as auxiliary electric sources kept water pumping throughout the failure.

Harvey indicated that although the number of homes in the area with electric heat is low, that all homes with other kinds of heat depend upon electricity to ignite the pilot light, or operate the blower—hence he states there were probably some chilly homes in Chelsea Monday morning.

Mrs. David Lixey, 1008 Fahrner Rd., fell Tuesday morning, Jan. 12, on ice in her driveway, and injured her back.

High-Speed Chase Ends in Wrecked Car

Driver Now Also Facing Charge of Breaking, Entering Jewelry Store

A high speed chase through town, with lights off for a time, a near fatal pinning of a police officer between two cars, locking brakes that almost caused a crash, and an ultimate pile-up on the railroad tracks culminated a theft from Winans Jewelry Store in the early morning hours of Friday, Jan. 8.

The story, which sounds like a 1920-type melodrama, was the narration of the events that occurred Friday morning at approximately 1:15 a.m., as Chelsea Patrolman Schneider spotted a car traveling down Main St. without its lights on. Schneider followed the vehicle at very high speeds out of the village, and into the surrounding areas.

Patrolman Schneider was able to identify the driver of the car when they forced him over to the curb near Oldfield Ct. Ralph Hallau, 30, from Grass Lake, was the man who led Schneider, and his partner, Patrolman Browning at speeds of 80 to 90 mph down Washington St.

The car which Hallau was driving apparently locked its brakes on Washington St., nearly diving over the guard rail. When the Chelsea officers got out of their vehicle, however, Hallau put his car into reverse, smashing into the right side of the patrol car, almost pinning Browning between the two cars.

Hallau then took a left turn down Freer Rd., and took a right onto Dexter-Chelsea Rd., traveling at speeds close to 100 mph. When he tried to make the jog on the railroad tracks close to Bleess Elevator, however, his vehicle skidded, flipped over twice, and landed on the railroad tracks.

It was at that point that Schneider's brother, Lt. Schneider of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department radioed in that a fast westbound train was heading their way.

Fast action and co-operation between Dexter Patrolman Russell, who went to Lima Center Rd., the Sheriff's Department, and Schneider, enabled them to bring the train to a halt about 300 feet from where Hallau's car was overturned, while the Chelsea police officers were able to apprehend Hallau, and get him out of his car.

A second train, an eastbound freight, was stopped by the flares which Schneider and Browning had set out to stop the other train. It was after Hallau was placed under arrest for fleeing a police officer that the Chelsea officers discovered that he had good reason to flee. In Hallau's vehicle the officers found a quantity of watches and binoculars, which it turned out were stolen from Winans Jewelry Store. That was the first time the theft of Winans Jewelry Store which had occurred just prior to the Chelsea policemen's encounter of Hallau on Main St., was discovered.

Entrance to the store was gained by smashing the window in the front door.

Property discovered in the vehicle has been identified by Winans as property which was taken from their store in a break-in that occurred that evening. Other property taken during the break-in was strewn along the route taken by Hallau in his travels ahead of Chelsea police that evening. Chelsea police were recovering new areas of strewn stolen jewelry as late as Monday afternoon.

According to police reports, close to $1,000 worth of jewelry was taken from the store, mostly watches.

Hallau was arraigned Friday afternoon, in the 14th District Court before Judge Arkison on a charge of fleeing a police officer, and breaking and entering. He is free on $1,000 bond.

Police Chief George Meranuck indicated that Schneider's work was "an exceptionally fine bit of police work, and he is to be commended."

BRICK AND REDWOOD PANELS will be featured on the new "multi-purpose unit" soon to be built by Our Saviour Lutheran church at 1515 S. Main St., Chelsea. The structure, which will be 4,275 square feet, all on one level, will be able to convert from church sanctuary to from eight to 12 Sunday school rooms, or a fellowship hall, to meet the many demands of a small, but ambitious mission congregation of the Missouri Synod Lutheran Church. The building was designed by Merritt, Cole & McCallum, Farmington architects.

Our Saviour Lutheran Church Seeks Bids on Construction of New Building

Our Saviour Lutheran church has announced that plans are underway to construct a new church building on land which they have purchased at 1515 S. Main St., Chelsea. The Rev. William Keller, pastor, announced this week that the new building, which is being financed by the Mission Board of the Michigan District of the Missouri Synod Lutheran church, was approved by the congregation of the church on Dec. 20. The group had met Dec. 6 to view the plans which were drawn up just one year after the mission was organized in this community.

The new structure, which is to be a "multi-purpose unit," features a brick and redwood paneled exterior, and will cost close to $200,000 total to construct. Roofing will be laminated wood beams, with a hardwood deck. The interior will feature folding walls, and a moveable altar so that the area may be used as a church sanctuary, Sunday school rooms, and fellowship hall. Other areas included in the building will be a kitchen, nursery, rest rooms, furnace room, storage room, pastor's study and a narthex for overflow. There will be parking facilities behind the church. There will be parking facilities behind the church. The main structure may be broken down into eight to 12 small rooms.

Merritt, Cole and McCallum, architects from Farmington, designed the structure, which has a total of 4,275 square feet on one story.

According to the Rev. Keller, the church will be seeking bids in February of this year, with construction scheduled to begin some time in March. The congregation hopes to move into their new church toward the end of this year.

HALLAU'S CAR, which had overturned on the railroad tracks near Bleess Elevator, just missed being hit by two trains, following the 100 mph chase it had just led for Chelsea police in the early morning hours of Friday, Jan. 8. The merry chase was not tremendously helpful for the vehicle, as the photo illustrates, although total demolition of it was averted by the quick thinking of police officials, and their close cooperation. Watches and binoculars taken earlier that evening from Winans Jewelry Store were later found in the vehicle, compounding the drama of the situation.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Is there really a Department of Agriculture? That was the question put up for debate during the session at the country store Saturday night. The fellers studied the issue up one side and down the other and decided they still must be one, but it is playing dead for the duration.

Ed Doolittle, that complained cause he ain't getting USDA pamphlets more than once a month these days, said they must be one cause he saw just a month or so ago where Congress had adopted a farm bill, and everybody knows you can't have farming without USDA experts. He said the last pamphlet he got told him how to tell the age of fish, and if there was anything he couldn't get along without, that was it. He said they ain't a farmer or rancher in this country except them that gets Government pay, for raising fish in their ponds, that gives a hoot how old the fish they catch is.

Farmer Jimmie was able to report there is a secretary of agriculture. He said this was so cause he saw in the papers where Secretary Hardin called for a bill a "victory for U.S. Agriculture." He said he said yes, he put like that, Ed allowed, you got to be. But Ed admitted that was the first and last thing he ever read that Secretary Hardin said.

Clem Webster said the answer to the hole matter was as plain as the sun in the sky. He said Nixon adopted a no policy farm policy when he went in office, and it was that that Department of Agriculture was set up. He said he sore about the no policy farm policy. So the President rolled out the Vice President for a speech agin somepun after ever meal ever day, and under the artillery cover he jest slipped USDA out and hid it.

What happened, said Clem, was that trying to get a farm bill thru Congress made not having a USDA look sorta odd, so the President got up in the night the middle of November, got a shovel from the shed and went out and dug up his USDA. This proved smart, Clem said, cause by the time Secretary Hardin was called on to say what he said he was set up in business and it looked like he had been there all the time and folks had somehow forgot.

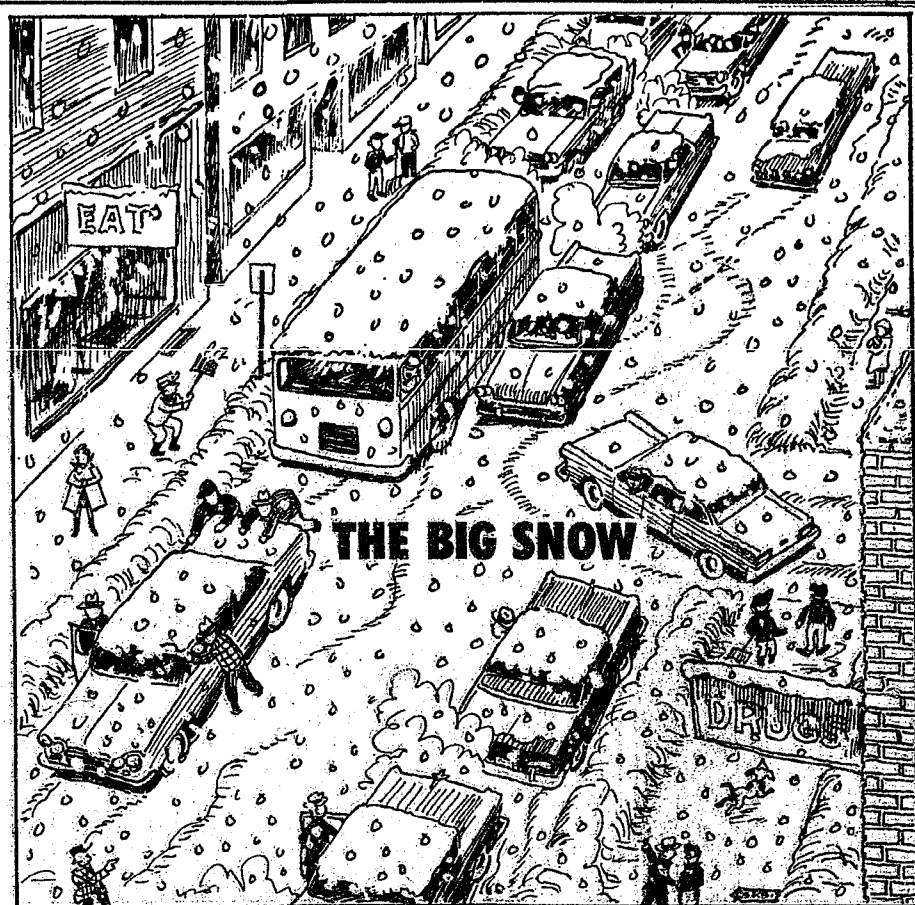

Zeke Grubb liked Clem's explanation. Zeke said it fits right in with what all them column writers said after the November election about a farm revolt. Zeke was of a mind that it didn't go unknown in the White House that most of the House seats and governor's chairs took over by Democrats was in farm country. Nixon allowed Zeke saw his no farm policy farm policy didn't work. He said he said yes, he put like that, Ed allowed, you got to be. But Ed admitted that was the first and last thing he ever read that Secretary Hardin said.

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

More Control Needed

The man in charge of regulating the sale of pesticides in Michigan thinks the state ought to get a lot tougher right now than it is in the restriction of the use of pesticides.

State Agriculture Director B. Dale Ball proposes amending of Michigan's law governing the use of pesticides, to include the licensing of all dealers who sell pesticides, and reporting of every sale of a pesticide.

If his proposals were adopted by the legislature, he says, "most of the 12,000 businesses which sell pesticides in one form or another would no longer handle the restricted materials."

Ball said scientists from his department have been working with those from other states and with federal officials to develop a model law for governing the sale of pesticides. He said his proposal "goes beyond" the recommendations of the national commission because it provides for mandatory reporting of sales of the restricted chemicals.

Specifically, Ball would like to see the legislature:

- Require development of a list of restricted use chemicals which could only be used with extreme care to prevent serious hazards to humans or the environment.
- Provide that these chemicals be sold only through licensed dealers.
- Require dealers handling the restricted use chemicals to demonstrate knowledge of pesticide laws and responsibility in handling the pesticides.
- Provide for suspension of licenses where a violation was proven.
- Require reporting of the kind and amount of each sale of a material whose use was restricted by the law.

It will cost $5 million and take five years to get fully installed, and be operating on all 65 miles of Detroit's freeway network. State officials hope to get federal funds to help pay for it. When it is completely installed,

"We chose to include reporting of sales of these materials to give us data on where and why they are used," Ball said. "We've never had access to such information."

The list of "restricted use pesticides" would be drawn up after a series of public hearings, he said. The director said the list might follow, for the most part, guidelines established on a nationwide basis.

"But Michigan would still retain the option of acting independently on any pesticide considered for the list," he said.

Michigan currently requires all commercial applicators of pesticides to be certified with the department, and the department also has authority in registration of all economic poisons, including pesticides. The department used the authority given it under current law to remove DDT from sale in Michigan.

Traffic Snarls Studied

Electronics will go to work on an attempt to cut down on those stop and go times which plague all the freeways in the Detroit area, according to State Highway Department plans.

The department received the go-ahead to start installing an electronic detection and control system which will alert a control center instantly whenever traffic is stopped or slowed for any reason or on any lane of the freeway.

When it is completely installed, some 2,000 detection sensors will be either imbedded in the pavement or suspended above the freeway to keep constant surveillance on traffic flow. The information they feed in will be digested in a computer.

Operators in the master control center then will be able to direct immediate help to the trouble spot, and also will be able to direct traffic away from the blocked lane by activating ramp and freeway signals.

The system is important because congestion occurs daily on Detroit's freeway system, with nearly half of it experiencing frustrating stop-and-go conditions during several hours of both morning and afternoon peak traffic periods.

Nearly 13,000 stalled vehicles or accidents obstruct Detroit freeway traffic every year and block lanes for a total of 1,220 hours a year.

One blocked lane on a three-lane freeway has the effect of reducing the freeway's capacity to 57 percent of normal, so getting the lane opened up again is of primary importance, especially during rush hours when all lanes are bumper-to-bumper.

Chicago—After 105 years of operation in which it became world renowned as a marketing center, the Chicago stockyards will close next Feb. 1. Union Stockyard and Transit Co., said the step became necessary because the receipts of cattle continued to dwindle—from 2,265,000 head in 1959 to an estimated 860,000 this year. Last May, the Chicago Hog Division of the yards closed.

Corn Blight News Will Be Reported During Farmers' Week

Michigan farmers will hear the latest news about southern corn leaf blight at Michigan State University's Farmer's Week, March 22-26.

At a Wednesday (March 24) session, botany and plant pathology scientists will present late research and survey information on the current corn blight situation in Michigan.

Topics for the two and one-half hour program include: what and where are the leaf blights in Michigan; causes of leaf blight and control through genetics; choosing corn hybrids for 1971; aerial spraying—what, when and how much; can blighted corn be fed to animals? and forecasting leaf blight by remote sensing.

In addition, the MSU Department of Botany and Plant Pathology will sponsor a display in the Spartan Stadium concourse on "how air pollution can cause plant injury."

PROCLAMATION

"WHEREAS, the civic bodies and service organizations of our community and the departments of the local government recognize the great service rendered to this community by the Chelsea Jayces, and

"WHEREAS, the United States Jaycees and its affiliated state and local organizations have set aside the week of Jan. 18-24 to observe the founding of the Jaycees, and to commemorate such founding by the selection of an outstanding man in this community as the recipient of the Distinguished Service Award, and

"WHEREAS, this organization of young men has contributed materially to the betterment of this community throughout the year,

"THEREFORE, I, A. E. Fulks, president of the Village of Chelsea, do hereby proclaim the week of Jan. 18-24 as Jaycee Week, and urge all citizens of our community to give full consideration to the future services of the Jaycees."

A. E. Fulks, President
Village of Chelsea

Chelsea Group Preparing for Observance of Jaycee Week

The 51st year is really a come down. Nobody cheers. It's like the day after Christmas, or when Jan. 2 comes on a Sunday. But Chelsea's Jaycees are nonetheless celebrating with much noise and spirit the 51st anniversary of the founding of the National Jaycees. Jaycee Week, which will begin Jan. 17, and culminate on Jan. 24, will mark this event, according to Allen Johnston, chairman of Jaycee Week.

Founder's Day, which is Jan. 22, will be the day on which Jaycees across the nation will pay tribute to Henry "Hy" Giessenbier, the man who started the movement, and to the men who carried Giessenbier's spirit into their own communities, founding their respective local chapters.

It was Giessenbier who had a vision, in 1910, that young men could become involved in their communities. According to Jaycee publications, he founded the famous Herculaneum Dance Club in St. Louis, Mo., for those who felt as he did, and diligently aspired to preserve the more conservative dance steps, such as the two-step, and prevent the serving of liquor at public dances.

Giessenbier's vision spread, and today there are millions of American men who are members of the National Jaycees.

At this moment in time, therefore, in the 51st year of an ever increasing movement, the citizens of Chelsea are urged to take stock of the young men around them who are members of the Chelsea Jaycees, and appreciate them for their contributions to this community.

MINIATURE WASHER, DRYER

Some manufacturers are introducing a home washer and dryer small enough to fit into mobile homes, small apartments and other living quarters with limited space. One unit requires only two square feet of floor-to-ceiling space and no additional plumbing.

Cager of the Week

RON SWEENEY, Bulldog center, puts much spark into the Chelsea cage game. Sweeney, who is a junior at Chelsea High this year, is in his third year on the varsity team. Ron is also pitcher on the Bulldogs' baseball team, a position he has held for the past two years. His star ambition is to go into professional baseball. President of his church group, he hopes to attend college following graduation. He plans to study engineering—to give him something to fall back on when his pro-ballplayer days are over. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sweeney, 14700 Jerusalem Rd., and his four younger brothers, Rick, Randy, Rod, and Ryan.

DEN 1, PACK 415—

Den 1, Pack 415, met Jan. 5, at the home of the den mother, Mrs. Atkinson. The meeting opened with the Cub Scout Promise, then the boys sat around the table, cracking and eating nuts, and listened to Bryan Herrick and John Drexman. They related stories of American folklore characters.

On Jan. 12, all Pack 415 Cubs visited the home town animal hospital on N. Main St. Dr. Lane and others who work there showed the hospital and explained what everything was. We saw a dog prepared for surgery. It was already sleeping on the operating table. The boys could ask questions, also.

Kenneth Cobb joined the den at this meeting. Next week, the Cubs will meet at their den mother's home as usual.

DEN 2, PACK 455—

In keeping with the month's Cub scout theme "Light of the Sky," the first meeting of the year stressed the mythology of the stars for Cub Scouts of Den 2, Pack 455. The den mother, Mrs. Summer Oesterle, at whose home the Jan. 6 meeting was held, discussed the subject.

The boys then made pin hole planetariums for viewing the skies and tried them out.

A game "Flying Saucers" was played and Pat Murphy was the winner.

For the flag ceremony Jeff Boyer carried the American flag and Perry Fletcher carried the den flag. Assistants were Mike Wadyke and Pat Murphy.

Mike Wadyke was appointed the new scribe. Refreshments were brought by Jeff Boyer.

The meeting closed with the living circle.

Mike Wadyke, scribe.

DEN 3, PACK 445—

Den 3, Pack 445 met Thursday, Jan. 7, at the home of Mrs. Vern Otto, den mother. Meeting opened with the flag ceremony. Flags were carried by Tom Owens, and Chris Umstead.

Mrs. Otto showed the Cubs first aid for bloody nose, cuts, and heart attacks. Treats were furnished by Paul Hoffmeyer.

Steve Kvarnberg, scribe.

Michigan was the first state to establish roadside picnic tables.

SEEDY TALE

Many seeds of plants and flowers are so light, yet durable, that they can float in oceans and other bodies of water almost indefinitely. The seed of one particular tropical plant has been known to float for 143 days in rough salt water without injury. The seeds of asparagus can grow after being soaked in water for a year.

CARD OF THANKS
I'd like to thank all the friends in the Chelsea Baptist church, and the Staffan Funeral Home, especially Dr. Krause and his employees, for their kindness during the illness and death of my husband, Ollie Householder.

Too popular? Public demand for the Huron River Canoe Guides has exhausted the supply, according to John K. Sterling, Jr., Information Officer of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. There's good news, however, a new map is expected to be ready for distribution in the spring of 1971.

Dexter Continuing Education Classes Still Have Openings

Dexter Community Continuing Education Program courses to be offered during the spring term include a rather large number of classes which could easily add one or two (and in some cases three or four) additional students. These classes are scheduled so that they will "pay their way" at a certain level of student registration, and many will not quite "pay their way" with the registrants recorded as of Tuesday evening, Jan. 12, according to Mrs. Winthrop Vail, co-ordinator of the program.

Mrs. Vail reminds men, women, and youngsters of the Chelsea-Dexter, Pinckney, North Lake, and other nearby localities that there are still these few openings. The chance still exists for people to sign up for the class of their choice. However, time has grown short. People who wish to join these classes should contact the Dexter Community Continuing Education office at 4199 Loch Alpine Drive, East, Ann Arbor, immediately, or should telephone 426-3232 between 8:30 and 12:30 a.m. weekdays, as soon as possible.

For adults in the area, the following classes could service an additional few students, provided those students registered very soon. Two sections of art, one meeting Thursday mornings at St. Joseph school, Dexter, from 9:30 until 12:30, and the second section meeting on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Wyllie Middle school art room, with Mrs. Jon (Mary) Rush instructing both sections.

Beginners bridge meeting Tuesday evening for a two-hour session beginning at 7:30 at the Dexter high school; Mrs. Jack (Gloria) Brigham's caning class which meets at 1 p.m. and continues for two hours, throughout the district library; knitting, with Mrs. Patrick Duddy instructing, meets at 7:30 p.m. Thursdays at the high school; ballroom dancing class with Mrs. B. E. Walton at the Wyllie cafeteria, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays; weaving, taught by Mrs. Curtis Thompson, and meeting from 7-10 Tuesday evenings at Wyllie.

Other courses needing limited additional enrollment are: decoupage, which meets at 1 p.m. at St. Joseph school; adult co-ed recreation, meeting Thursdays evenings at the Wyllie gym; Bishop sewing classes, both I and II need a few students, with meetings at 7 p.m., Mondays for Bishop I and Tuesdays for Bishop II; landscaping, which meets Tuesdays with Versie Fraleigh at the high school; typing I which meets at 7:30 p.m. at the high school, with instructor Mrs. Jacob Haas, and typing II, which meets Mondays also at the same location, and same hour. Please note change of meeting day from that originally listed.

Also in need of a couple extra students: ceramics class, which meets Tuesday evenings at the high school; community chorus meeting Monday evenings at the Wyllie school chorus room; public speaking, which meets Monday evenings at the high school with Reginald Smith; silk screening, Monday evenings at the high school at 7; furniture refinishing, Tuesday afternoon classes, beginning Jan. 19, at Copeland auditorium, at 1:30 p.m.

Other classes in which a limited number of openings exist are school finance, taught by Dexter school superintendent James Gray on Thursday evenings at 7:30 in the Wyllie library, beginning Jan. 28; golf, with Ken Yost instructing on Mondays from 4 to 7 p.m. with locations to include the Ann Arbor Country Club and the Dexter High school multipurpose room; interior decorating class, meeting on Monday evenings at the high school.

Children's classes which may serve a few more youngsters each are: children's art, meeting at Bates Elementary school on Tuesdays from 4 to 5:30 p.m. and a second section to meet at Wyllie Middle school on Thursdays from 8 until 4:30 p.m.; charm, meeting Saturday mornings; beginning guitar, to meet at the Wyllie school band room Thursdays at 4 p.m. with Robert Egan; children's intermediate guitar to meet Saturdays from 10 until 12 noon at Wyllie school; one section of the beginning dance course, with that section devoted to second through fourth graders, and meeting on Saturdays at Bates Elementary school gymnasium with Mrs. Betty Walton; intermediate dance is also open for a few additional students, and meets Saturday mornings at 11 for an hour at the Wyllie Multi-purpose room.

Intermediate tumbling class, meeting Wednesdays from 3 to 4:30 at Wyllie gymnasium has a few openings; also boys' recreation, meeting Saturday mornings at Wyllie with Terry Walters; children's workshop in theater, meeting Monday afternoons at 4 for one and one-half hour sessions at Wyllie school, with Mrs. Suzanne Amaru instructor; Bishop sewing for girls 10-14 has a few openings, and meets at 9 a.m. Saturdays at the high school with Mrs. John Eppich.

Some of the classes listed in brochures sent out from the continuing education office have been canceled for the spring term since there was insufficient registrants to warrant the classes being held. These canceled courses for adults include: rushing, tote painting, early American stenciling, hook-crafting rug hooking), new mothers slimnastics and mothers-to-be limbering; sewing, Bishop construction of children's clothing, gymnastics, and creative writing. Children's classes which were canceled for this spring term are: Elementary conversational Spanish for grades 5-8; advanced dance; pre-kindergarten class.

Mrs. Vail announced the turnout for both the Open House, and the open registration session at the high school last Tuesday evening, Jan. 12, was extremely gratifying. The program is growing, she explained, and the Friends of the Library and the Dexter Community Schools, which jointly sponsor the program, find it is answering an increasing number of needs and providing both informative and interesting, as well as creative, avenues for people living in the western part of Washtenaw county. The two sponsoring organizations look for continued growth of the program, and are open to suggestions from students and others in the area.

One of the new items offered during this spring term is the existence of the special scholarship fund which may provide funds for the young people to enroll in a class which they might otherwise not be able to afford. Mrs. Vail encourages any student up to and including the eighth grade level to contact the schools or her if they feel they are unable to raise the necessary fee, but are interested in taking a class as listed. There is some money available to be used for this purpose.

Hollywood Television Theatre Premieres Broadway Comedy

East Lansing—The rollicking 1961 Broadway comedy hit, "Big Fish, Little Fish," comes to television on the premiere of the new monthly series, Hollywood Television Theatre, Sunday, Jan. 17 at 10 p.m. on WMSB (Channel 10), Michigan State University television.

An all-star cast, headed by William Windom, Bill Bixby, Ann B. Davis, Louis Gossett, Jeff Correy, Martine Bartlett and Severn Darden, recreate the wry comedy about ambition, friendship and love—the people who make it and the people who don't.

"Big Fish, Little Fish" is produced by the same organization who last season presented the highly acclaimed drama, "The Andersonville Trial," which starred William Shatner, Richard Cassidy and Cameron Mitchell.

Hollywood Television Theatre will appear monthly on WMSB with such productions as "Montezuma" and "The Poet Game."

Other WMSB highlights include: THE MAKE-UP OF AMERICA—In spite of today's cynicism, there are some dreams left in America, some big dreams and some little ones. That's what "The Great American Dream Machine," premiering Sunday, Jan. 17 at 6 p.m., is all about.

The new 90-minute weekly series will cover the width and breadth of America, searching for and reporting on unusual personalities, art, music, contemporary problems and, most significantly, people's goals, ideas of themselves, their hopes and dreams.

The face of the American dream will change with the area and personalities explored, but some regular features, such as commentary by the controversial columnist Nicholas Von Hoffman and media critique by reporter Bob Kaiser, will appear each week.

"The Great American Dream Machine" will be rebroadcast Friday at 11:30 a.m.

Michigan is the automotive capital of the world.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Your car insurance rates are high compared with former costs. They will go higher and higher — unless and until. Car collisions will continue to mess up our streets and highways — unless and until. More and more broken bodies will be am-balanced to hospitals for hopeful repairs — unless and until. More and more people in good health will be doomed to die in disgraceful, wrecked wrecked car mishaps — unless and until.

The "unless and until" should be obvious. It means unless and until some people stop driving at insane speeds. It means unless and until people at large realize it is NOT always the other fellow who causes accidents; that they too can be blamed. It means unless and until ALL traffic violators are more harshly dealt with. It means unless and until better driving training, better driving licensing, better law enforcement comes about. It means unless and until we yell and scream in person, by phone and by letter and cause our law-makers to decide NOW IS THE TIME to take the keys away from those who can and will take our very lives. Approximately 125 people attended the Tuesday evening, Jan. 12 meeting of South School Association.

Mrs. Diana Vennkant, music teacher at South school, directed the fifth grade chorus in a musical presentation. The chorus was accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Senne on the piano. This was followed by a short business meeting.

Mrs. Senne's sixth grade room received "Drooper," the loveable trophy for having the most parents present at the meeting.

Refreshments were served following the meeting. Next meeting will be in March. A member of the State Board of Education will be present to present a program at that time.

Exhibition Basketball Game Slated

Chelsea High school is sponsoring a comedy basketball game between the world famous Harlem Diplomats and the Faculty All-Stars, at the High School Gym on Monday, Feb. 1.

The Diplomats feature some of the most talented basketball players in the country. Their comedy is performed throughout the game. They open with the Globetrotters Sweet Georgia Brown Magic Circle and end with a stuff shot with one player on another's shoulders. In addition, they play football and razzle dazzle the referees and have the fans running for cover when they bring out the water bucket during time outs. They boast one of the funniest, cleanest family shows in the country.

A standing room only, turn-away crowd is expected and it is advisable to purchase your tickets in advance.

At half-time, the Diplomats present a trophy to the winning team of the Elementary School Tournament, which starts at 7 p.m. with four teams participating.

Those parents planning to pick up their children after the game, are advised to do so between 9:30 and 9:45 p.m. The Diplomats game is scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Advance sale tickets may be obtained at the high school. Come out to see this once a year treat and support the Athletic Department's fund-raising drive. Remember, game time is at 8 p.m. at the Chelsea High School Gym.

JV Cagers Lose, 56-61, to South Lyon

Chelsea's junior varsity cage team dropped a 56-61 decision to South Lyon last Friday, Jan. 8, to give them a two win, four loss over-all record, and a two win, three loss conference record.

The Bullpup cagers got off to a fast start, and were leading the Lions by two points, 13-11, at the end of the first quarter. South Lyon came back in the second quarter to outscore the Bullpups by two points, knotting up the score at 26-26 at the half.

The third and fourth quarters found South Lyon outscoring the Chelsea JV's by three and two points, respectively.

A last "comeback" effort was tried by Chelsea, but it fell five points short as the Bullpups dropped their fourth game of the year.

Despite the fact that Chelsea lost, the Bullpups did outshoot their opponents from the floor by the slim margin of 40 percent to the Lions' 38 percent, while equaling them from the charity stripe. Both teams connected from the free throw line 52 percent of the time.

Jeff Daniels was the game's high scorer with 21 points, while Mark Policht followed with 12 points, including an eight out of 11 effort from the line. John Mann and Tim Treado, with eight points each, and Dan Bertke, with seven points, filled out the roster.

Bertke was the top team rebounder, grabbing 10 rebounds, while Tim Treado claimed the boards for nine rebounds.

Line score:
South Lyon 11 15 17 18-61
Chelsea 13 13 14 16-56

standing Young Farmer, and the Outstanding Young Man in this area at the conclusion of the dinner, Brown indicated.

BIRTHDAY BOYS in the Lantis family, who share among themselves, and the President of the United States, a common birth date, Jan. 9, are, from left, John Lantis, 17; Ed Lantis, 42; John Hafner, nephew of Ed Lantis, 22; his son, Randy Hafner, 2; and Jeff Lantis, (front) 7. The common birthday is celebrated every year by a family gathering of close to 20 people.

Five Jan. 9 Birthdays in Family

The ladies who baked the cake, and lit the candles at the birthday party held at the Ed Lantis home, 1805 Pierce Rd., Sunday afternoon, Jan. 10, had quite a job. No less than five birthdays were being celebrated at the event—all within the family.

The birthdays of Ed Lantis, and his sons Al, and Jeff, occurred on the same day, Jan. 9, the birthday of President Nixon. Also born on Jan. 9 was Lantis' 22 year old nephew, John Hafner, and his two year old son, Randy. The five man birthday was celebrated with the families of the men, as well as the Ira Lantis family of Napoleon.

A large cake was featured for the occasion, as has been the tradition in the past years.

★ Chicago Stockyards Casualty of Progress

When's the last time you saw a good western? Remember the old cattle drive? It was the background for many a shoot-out. Rustlers were a-plenty, but the herd usually got to market.

Getting beef to market was as essential then as it is today. But then things were different. We only had the railroad lines that pulled this country together and those cattle were loaded at depots scattered over the country and shipped to centrally located stockyards and slaughter houses. A good deal of those cattle were processed at the toe of Lake Michigan.

The Chicago Stockyards, during their peak a half century ago, handled more than 14 million head of livestock annually. And after a half-century slide to about two million head last year, their gates will finally close Feb. 1.

Looking back it was a rugged and romantic era, but progress chipped away at the usefulness of the central or terminal stations as in Chicago. It began with refrigeration when processed foods could now be sent great distances. It also began with the development of trucks, better roads and highways that limited dependence on the railroads. And it began with the mass media; telephone, teletype and radio to disseminate market information to buyers and sellers to markets. Furthermore, farm information to aid buyers and farms became more mechanized, larger and fewer in number.

These new styles created change. According to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago's Agricultural Letter, today less than one-fifth of cattle and hog supplies are purchased by meat packers through the old central markets.

When slaughtering plants moved to buy direct from the farmer, they brought with them an overpowering bargaining advantage. The individual farmer, has little strength to equalize this edge as his production has little influence over the total livestock supply. The lone farmer, furthermore, can rarely afford the expense and time to keep attuned to accurate market prices.

But farmers are finding some of the answers in joining together in marketing co-operatives for collective negotiation and fairer prices. And farmers are working to insure their rights in the marketplace through federal legislation.

Even though the perils of the old cattle drive may be over, the pitfalls of unfair competition must still be guarded against.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority is charged with the responsibility for providing recreational facilities for the people of urban southeast Michigan. Instead of devoting energy and money toward developing a park in western Washtenaw county which is 55 miles from Detroit, not wanted and 10 years away, HCMPA should buy Detroit's Mayberry Sanitarium. Mayberry has 900 acres of beautiful rolling, wooded land. Adjacent are 300 acres which are also available. This 1200-acre property is 35 miles closer to those who need it most, is immediately available from a willing seller (City of Detroit) and could be enjoyed at once.

There is nothing in HCMPA's enabling act which requires that they build only water-oriented parks. If this tax supported agency is truly interested in the public good it will negotiate with the City of Detroit and acquire Mayberry. The alternative for this land is another speculator's another speculator's anonymous congested housing development. To lose it for the public would be a tragic loss of a made-to-order green space, close to the people who would benefit most.

Virginia Denham.

To the Editor:

In response to the letter in last week's Standard from Dave Wood, we would like to commend him for his forthright stand on war and the draft.

We agree with him that "the draft and the war must be ended." We urge all who believe this is true to support the Michigan Council to Repeal the Draft 612-A S. Forest, Ann Arbor) and to write your opinions to Senators Hart and Griffin and Representative Eech at once.

Congressional hearings and debate on this important question of draft repeal are expected in February or March since the expiration date of the present law is June 30, 1971. President Nixon is said to favor some change but not repeal—so better write him also.

Ben and Louise Donaldson, James and Coralee Hoffmeyer, Ray and Jane Schairer.

To the Editor:

In behalf of the Washtenaw County Chapter, March of Dimes, I would like to thank the citizens of Chelsea for their support. Because of the efforts of volunteers and the generosity of contributors, Chelsea has been outstanding in helping to banish polio and more currently, the battle to fight birth defects through the March of Dimes.

One of our most stalwart supporters, has been the editor of The Chelsea Standard, Walter Leonard, who has donated thousands of inserts for our mailers through the years. His contribution of materials, time and labor has been considerable and his involvement in our cause has been most appreciated.

Many people are not aware of the goals of the March of Dimes. Washtenaw county not only assists its post polio patients but is concurrently working toward avoiding the tragedy of the child born defective. We have a large professional and public education program aimed at alerting parents to the known factors which may produce a less than perfect child. We support research both locally and through the Salk Institute in California and together with grants from March of Dimes chapters, throughout the State, support the March of Dimes Treatment Center for Birth Defects at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Chelsea and all the communities in the county have been the recipients of March of Dimes. Miss Karen Leach, a Chelsea student, was awarded a scholarship in 1969-70 by the Washtenaw County Chapter, to attend Eastern Michigan University. Free films and literature are available to alert parents to the known factors which may produce a child with a birth defect. A county-wide rubella clinic which offered vaccination for the three day measles was sponsored by the March of Dimes.

This is your March of Dimes. Your community chairman is Mrs. Arthur Steinaway. Won't you volunteer your time or donation to her?

Most sincerely,
Terry Martin,
Executive secretary.

To Chelsea:

For the past three years I have watched Chelsea close itself off from many of its younger people. Proud of them, yes. Love them, yes. But all too often not going out of their way for them except when it reflects positively on the adults.

Some examples: I arrived in Chelsea as the theatre closed down, driving more of our young people to Ann Arbor or elsewhere just to see a movie. I watched a small group try to start a youth center; no real help materialized and the idea died aborning. Just last fall I watched Halloween held two days early on a rainy, cold night for the convenience of a very few adults. When I asked why, the excuses I received were ludicrous. Many "protections" from the Jaycees were absent from street corners because it was bowling night while the man in charge stood on his porch because it was raining.

Now in a roundabout fashion I discover there will be no Baccalaureate Service this year. Because "more and more do not come," "so kids can get out after jobs sooner," "we can conduct services for our young people in our own churches." All plausible and acceptable excuses. Still I see a continuing breakdown in morality in our world, and hear it berated by so many adults. I see drug abuse multiply in Chelsea, and hear it berated by so many adults. I see families give everything to their children but faith; faith in anything.

I am well aware that the Baccalaureate Service can be dull, and that there are those who do not attend. I am well aware that one ceremonial shot at anyone is not enough. Still, it is something. It is an attempt. It is some type of reaching out, some type of demonstration to our youth that there are people who believe, who are concerned who do give work and time for them. As a minister, as a Christian, as a parent, as a man I am sickened to see one more expression of concern and love thrown because it is not convenient, profitable, or fun.

Dan Keim,

NO BLAME FOUND

Secretary of the Army Stanley P. Resor has dismissed allegations by a soldier-defendant who charged Gen. William C. Westmoreland with over-all responsibility for the actions of his troops in the alleged Sonny massacre. General Westmoreland, now Army Chief of Staff, "had no knowledge" of the Sonny case "until many months after he returned to the United States" from Vietnam, the Army said.

EASY WAY TO APPLY TIRE CHAINS

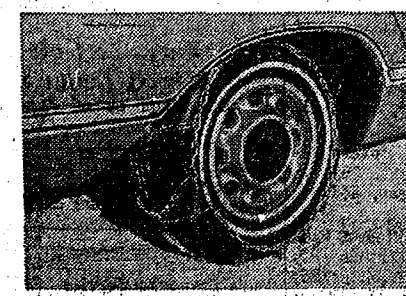

With a little "know-how" and practice, it can be done in 6 minutes, without a jack and without getting your clothes dirty.

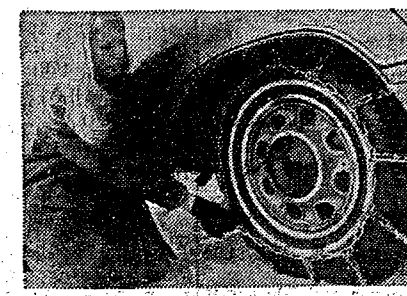

STEP NO. 1 Spread the chains on the ground behind the rear wheels to remove tangles. Hooks should be to the rear. Reinforced chains are best and the projecting teeth or cleats should be facing up.

STEP NO. 2 Gather the chains behind the tire so they won't catch the fender, and attach the end links to the "chain applier," a simple spring steel wire that is easily slipped onto the tire.

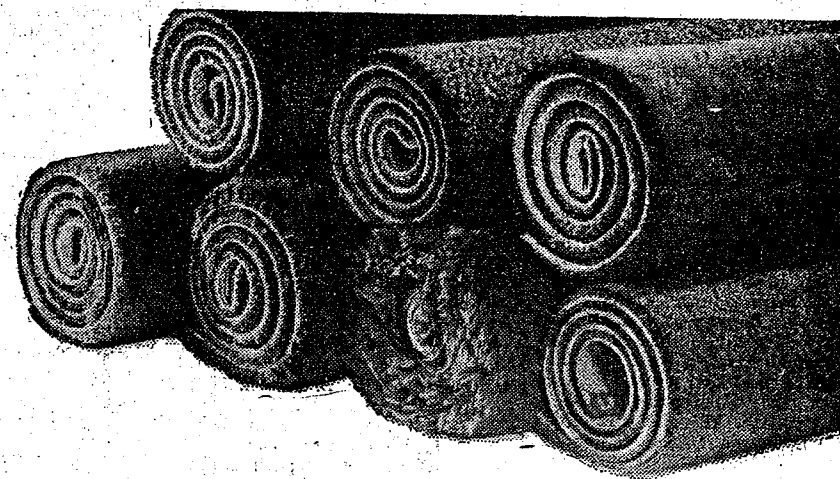

STEP NO. 3 Drive the car forward about one wheel revolution, so that the carrier carries the chains around the tire.

STEP NO. 4 Remove the applier and fasten the inside hook first, then the outside hook. With a little practice the inner hook can be fastened by "feet" without getting under the car.

Dance Cancelled When Chaperones Fail To Appear

Much has been said about the plight of Chelsea's youth. The most recent criticism has been aimed against Chelsea High school. Citing a Christmas dance which had been cancelled without notice, one reader recently queried why this had happened.

Charles Lane, principal of Chelsea High school, when approached this past week for a reason for the cancellation, indicated that he was the culprit. Lane had been notified by the high school janitor that although it was 8:20 p.m. and the dance was scheduled to begin at 8 p.m., not one chaperone had yet appeared. The band, and a number of youngsters had turned out by that time, but there was no sign of any adult supervisors. Lane then ordered that the dance be cancelled.

The dance had been scheduled for Dec. 22, the last day of school. The schools had been closed that day, however, due to hazardous driving conditions. Unfortunately, two of the three chaperones, staff members at Chelsea High school, arrived at 8:25, but by that time the dance had been officially cancelled, and some of the young people had already left for home.

School officials indicated that no make-up dance has been scheduled at this time.

It was discussed about what to put under "What I would like to do" on the "Members Plan and Evaluation Sheet." There were some very fine suggestions of going to Minnesota. Fabrics and watching a demonstration or going to watch a model show.

The workshop was adjourned and refreshments were served.

Washington Report

by Congressman

MARVIN L. ESCH

Football, that great American tradition, is a demanding and punishing game; but Washington's bruising political infighting does not take a back seat to it. In football the rules are spelled out for players and spectators. In politics, there are no rules and anything goes. Lately, to score points and gain a publicity advantage on an opponent, we have seen vital legislation scuttled by influential lawmakers. It happened recently to the Manpower Act, a job training bill aimed at assuring trainees a productive role in the economy.

The House and the Senate passed different versions, neither of which was basically the proposal of the Administration. The House bill, however, contained enough provisions satisfactory to the Administration that I am confident it would have been signed. There never was any doubt that the Senate version was headed for a veto. I did not sign the conference report when it became clear that report would be substantially the Senate bill.

The President's veto message properly pointed out nearly 44 percent of the total funding could go for dead-end jobs. Furthermore, the same Senate bill added several piece-meal programs while the House and the Administration had sought to co-ordinate and consolidate all those programs.

that have in the last decade shot up "like topsy."

Senators in that House-Senate Conference and some House members as well, had seized this opportunity to make some political gain by emerging with a bill so distasteful to the President that he would have no choice but to exercise his power of veto. The same Congressional partisans followed through on their game plan by using the floor of the Senate as a forum for their attack. It was here that they could wage a battle to their liking and questioning for all the nation to see the President's dedication to a strong manpower program.

True, the leaders in this artful piece of deception had their hour in the Senate and grabbed their headlines; but they failed in their attempt to override the President's veto. Now it's up to the 92nd Congress to start from scratch with a new bill. Hopefully, it will initiate the badly needed reforms that will make sense of our manpower policies. We can add a prayer too, that the incoming Congress will abandon the course set by its predecessor of putting off necessary legislation.

State Jaycee Auxiliary Executive Board Hosted By Chelsea Group

Thirty state officers and 11 guests attended the State Executive Board meeting of the Jaycee Auxiliary, which has held Saturday, Jan. 9, at the First United Methodist church in Chelsea.

The event, which was hosted by the Chelsea Auxiliary, was an all-day affair, one of two yearly general business meetings which are held outside of the annual state meeting.

Chelsea Jaycee president, Art Steinaway, welcomed the ladies to Chelsea in the morning, and samples of Jiffy Mix, and a Jaycee area map were given to each person present.

Mrs. Art Steinaway, State Jaycee Auxiliary president, indicated that the meeting was a general business meeting, and that much state Jaycee Auxiliary business was accomplished.

On Saturday's agenda was discussion of the new state constitution, and a final report on the General Mills Coupon collection for the Kidney Machines was also given.

A procedure outline for presenting the letters written on behalf of the American POW's was drawn up. These letters, which are being written by residents across the state to be sent to Vietnam, will be collected at the Feb. 19-20 meeting of the Auxiliary, which will be held in Warren.

Also discussed was the Mandatory Education Bill for handicapped children. Plans to establish a permanent mileage committee for keeping track of the number of miles each local is away from the state meeting sites were revealed. No specific action was taken.

Also on the agenda was a discussion of the Unified Donor Card which the Kidney Foundation is sponsoring. The card is to be carried on the person of those wishing to donate their eyes or other organs upon the event of their death. This card would be filled out, and carried in case of accidental death. The Kidney Foundation is urging that the State Jaycee Auxiliary sponsor this program.
